BREAK EXPECTED

Hanoi Delegate Returns Home

PARIS (UPI)—The key member of North Vietnam's delegation to the Vietnam peace conference flew home to Hanoi today amidst speculation he was carrying secret American proposals to break the deadlocked talks.

Le Duc Tho, the seventh-ranked Hanoi Politburo member who is considered the real power in its delegation here, left Paris' Le Bourget Airport on a Soviet Aeroflot flight. He will stop in Moscow and Peking before arriving in Hanoi.

Tho sought to still speculation about the importance of his trip and told newsmen at the airport the visits were "routine."

Political observers noted that each time Tho had returned to Paris since the talks on Vietnam opened last May, there had been perceptible shifts in Hanoi's stand.

His departure follows the confirmation last week that North Vietnam and the United States are in secret contact outside the framework of the much-publicized four-party conference.

The white-haired Vietnamese diplomat expressed pessimism, however, about the current talks.

Asked whether he thought there had been any progress in the first three sessions of the full-scale negotiations, Tho replied bluntly "no."

"President Richard M. Nixon is following the same policy as his predecessor, Lyndon Johnson," he said. "Therefore, there has been no progress."

Tho added that for movement in the talks, the United States must withdraw its troops from South Vietnam.

He was seen off at the airport by his delegation, headed by Minister of State Xuan Thuy, members of the National Liberation Front delegation including deputy leader Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, and the Soviet ambassador to Paris, Valerian Zorin.

East Germany Places Ban On Ground Travel

BERLIN (UPI)—The 1,038 members of the West German electoral college will ignore East Germany's ban on their ground travel to West Berlin and fly there for their scheduled meeting March 5, Western officials said today.

West German government spokesman Guenther Diehl said in a radio broadcast today the meeting will take place as scheduled. Diehl rejected East German claims that West

HAS EYE ON WEATHER

President Extends His Stay In Florida

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (UPI)—With an eye on the weather, President Nixon extended his stay in sunny Florida until this afternoon, missing a White House meeting of the Urban Affairs Council.

He was expected to take off for Washington at 2 p.m. CST today with his two weekend companions and consultants, Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, assistant to the

Liberals Pleased At Nixon's Acts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—After three weeks of watching the Nixon administration, the reactions of some congressional liberals range from pleasant surprise to downright amazement.

It appeared to be more than the traditional "honeymoon." Last week alone the President: —Embraced the principle of free trade.

—Stopped work on the widely criticized antimissile system.

—Served notice he will actively pursue desegregation of Southern schools.

—Recommended ratification of a treaty to keep nuclear weapons away from the "have not" nations.

—And opened a drive to sweep politics out of the post office.

"I am pleasantly surprised," said Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D. of the new administration. "I can't fault the man, I like both the deliberate pace and the prudent, thoughtful approach he has been giving to difficult questions. I fully expect a rather constructive and satisfactory relationship between the White House and Congress."

But Nixon has left himself enough room for maneuvering to satisfy conservatives, particularly those of his own party. Few Republicans feel he has abandoned any of the principles outlined in his campaign.

President for national security affairs.

By staying in Florida most of Monday, Nixon passed up a scheduled meeting of the Urban Affairs Council today. The council session was to be headed by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, who also presided over a Saturday meeting of the panel.

Governor's Views

There had been speculation in New York that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would take up with the President directly a number of the governor's views on federal assistance to cities and states. Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler told reporters here that Nixon already was quite conversant with Rockefeller's views.

The Chief Executive flew to Florida Friday night after an unusually busy week at the White House.

Ideas developed at Key Biscayne undoubtedly would be converted into working papers, instructions to U.S. representatives along Nixon's five country itinerary, and discussed under more formal circumstances back at the White House during the next 12 days.

Other Developments

In other weekend developments: —Nixon signed his first piece of legislation as President. The item (HJR 414) was a supplementary appropriation of $36 million for mandatory unemployment compensation payments to ex-servicemen and former federal employees.

—The President sent one of his special assistants, Robert J. Brown, to Mississippi today to investigate the need for emergency housing and other assistance due to recent tornadoes at Hazelhurst and a butane gas explosion at Laurel.

—Nixon laid out special tasks for a number of departments and agencies. He asked the Budget Bureau to speed up public announcement of statistics, particularly important to business, labor and planning economists.

Snowfall Snarls Business And Industry in Northeast

After-Effects Cause Struggle for Millions

By STANLEY W. DARDEN

NEW YORK (UPI)—Business and industry were at a virtual standstill in the northeast today as millions of persons struggled with the after-effects of the worst snowstorm in the area in eight years. The toll of storm-related deaths mounted steadily.

The New York and American Stock Exchanges were closed for the day as were all commodity exchanges in New York City. Many businesses stayed closed for the day or operated with skeleton staffs. Bus, rail and air transportation were hopelessly snarled.

President Nixon noted the Washington weather and stayed in the President's Urban Affairs Council at the White House was canceled when Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of

New York and urbanologist Daniel P. Moynihan of Boston were unable to get to Washington.

In New York City, pedestrians walked down the middle of main avenues normally crowded with traffic. Only an occasional car or bus was seen on Fifth, Madison and Lexington Avenues in the midtown area. Sidewalks around large office buildings were the first to be cleared, but large drifts remained in the roadways.

As residents began to dig out of up to 20 inches of snow in the New York area, reports slowly filtered in to police agencies of hundreds of persons being stranded in snow blocked automobiles for up to 15 hours before being rescued.

Numerous calls for emergency assistance for heart attack victims were received by police and firemen. No immediate

Gabby Hayes Dies Of Heart Ailment

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Gabby Hayes, the cantankerous character actor who played the "durn tootin'" sidekick to Hopalong Cassidy and Roy Rogers, died Sunday at the age of 83.

He was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital a week ago for treatment of a heart ailment. Funeral services will be private.

Hayes usually appeared in Westerns as an irascible but lovable character dressed in baggy pants, a plaid shirt and a floppy hat with its brim held up in front by a huge safety pin.

The bewhiskered Hayes appeared in 174 motion pictures, including most of the Hopalong Cassidy films as "Windy Halliday" ("Yur durn tootin', Hoppy") and later the Roy Rogers series of musical Westerns.

George Francis Hayes was born a tenderfoot in Wellsville, N.Y., May 7, 1885. He played semi-pro baseball during high school but ran away from home at 17 to join a stock company.

US Coast Guard To Keep Watch On Soviet Fleet

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (UPI)—The Coast Guard today sent out a third cutter to keep watch over a fleet of 80 Soviet-bloc trawlers caught fishing too close to shore off the Virginia Capes.

The 180-foot Coast Guard cutter Conifer pulled out of Portsmouth this morning after 35 of the fishing trawlers broke away from the main fleet, went south and began fishing well outside the 12-mile limit off Currituck Beach, N.C., just south of the Virginia border.

The cutters Point Brown and Cherokee continued to patrol the 12-mile limit of Virginia, where the main body of trawlers maintained its position three to four miles beyond the fishing limit set by a 1966 federal law.

The Coast Guard also dispatched HC130 aircraft from Elizabeth City, N.C., to maintain surveillance over the two groups of trawlers.

"This was an economic maneuver and not a military one," said Lt. Leo Black, commander of the Coast Guard station at Chincoteague, on Virginia's north shore peninsula.

Not all of the trawlers were identified. But the Coast Guard said the fleet included Soviet, East German and Polish ships according to flags flown in the fleet.

A Coast Guard HC130 plane spotted the fleet two miles inside the 12-mile limit Saturday. A 1966 law restricts fishing inside the 12-mile limit to U.S. and certain other nations, none of them Communist.

The 210-foot cutter Cherokee and the 82-foot cutter Point Arena were dispatched from Portsmouth but by the time they reached the trawlers, the bit fleet had moved outside the 12 mile limit.

The Arena carrying 12 men and armed with five .50 caliber machineguns and one 81mm mortar, had reached the fleet Saturday. It threaded its way through 20 of the trawlers to one of five big "mother" ships, each flying the Soviet hammer and sickle flag.

Black passed by hand to the Soviet commander a written message warning him that "any violations in the future will be subject to boarding and seizure." The Russian ship was identified as the Pamorza.

Black said the Soviet commander gave no answer to the note, but radio messages from Coast Guard headquarters in Portsmouth were acknowledged by the fleet of trawlers.

Cleanup Crews Attack Beaches

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI)—Cleanup crews today attacked 30 miles of oil stained beaches, with live steam and straw. An 800-square-mile oil slick floated ominously offshore.

The vast slick from a 12-day undersea oil-well leak was breaking up into hundred-yard-wide globs, but a combination of winds and ocean currents kept it nearly stationary off the coast.

Israeli, Jordanian Troops Battle With Artillery Near Dead Sea

By United Press International

Israeli and Jordanian troops battled with artillery before dawn today south of the Dead Sea, a Jordanian military spokesman said in Amman.

The clash began shortly after midnight, the spokesman said, when Israeli forces started shelling a Jordanian position in the Ghor As-Safi area 10 miles south of the Dead Sea.

Jordanians returned the fire and the battle flared intermittently for seven hours, the spokesman reported.

The fight occurred near an Israeli potash plant that was bombarded by Russian-made rockets fired from inside Jordan Sunday, according to Israeli military spokesmen.

Negligible damage was reported after both incidents. The only known casualty was one wounded laborer at the potash works. Eshkol, in an interview with Newsweek magazine, also rejected a peace plan attributed to Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser but said Israel is "flexible" on the question of occupied territory.

Eshkol's views on the touchy issue of occupied territory were released as Egyptian and Jordanian officials prepared to discuss how a proposed Big Four conference on the Mideast could affect their future.

Jordanian Premier Buhjat Talhouni and his foreign minister, Abdul Rifal, were to arrive in Cairo Tuesday for the talks.

The talks were scheduled after the United States announced it would participate in efforts with Russia, French and British officials on a Mideast settlement.

In his interview with Newsweek, Eshkol was quoted as saying "There will be no return to the situation preceding the June (1967) war." The magazine said that by this the premier meant that Israel never would surrender control of East Jerusalem or the Golon Heights, from which troops can work. On the political front, Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol said his country is willing to negotiate with the Arabs over most of their land Israel captured in the 1967 Middle East War. But he said Israel will never relinquish control of Jerusalem or the strategic Syrian heights.

Warming Trend Expected to End

By United Press International

Southerly air flowed over Texas today, warming temperatures and triggering a few light showers in the southern parts of the state.

Early morning temperatures were nippy in the Panhandle, with most readings in the 30s and ranged into the 40s and 50s almost everywhere else.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said a cold front was moving toward the state and should enter the northern regions late Tuesday, bringing slightly cooler weather with it.

Most of the state was clear today, despite a band of light showers moving through South and East Texas, and additional clearing was expected as the showers moved out of the state to the east.

Russo Relates Story Of Plotting Murder

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The state called Perry Raymond Russo today to tell his story of listening while Clay L. Shaw, Lee Harvey Oswald and David W. Ferrie plotted in detail the murder of President John F. Kennedy.

Russo, 27, an insurance salesman, testified at a hearing nearly two years ago that in September, 1963, he had attended a party in Ferrie's apartment here in which the three—in Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's opening statement words—"discussed and refined" the plot.

Shaw, 55, a retired businessman, is charged with conspiring with the other two, now dead, to assassinate Kennedy but the charge does not allege murder.

Russo's testimony in Shaw's trial in Criminal District Court here will follow that of a state witness who said he had been hypnotized against his will "possibly 50 or 60 times" over a 15-year period.

That witness, Charles I. Spiesel, a New York accountant and tax consultant, testified he heard about 10 men, including Shaw and Ferrie, discussing ways to kill the president. He said Shaw "seemed to be amused" at the conversation.

The witness testified that he—being alarmed at the conversation—said the assassin "would get himself killed." He said Shaw then asked Ferrie, a commercial airline pilot, if "someone could probably fly him (the killer) out" and Ferrie had "hemmed and hawed and said yes."

On cross examination, defense attorney F. Irvin Dymond drew from Spiesel details of a Federal Court suit he had filed in New York seeking $16 million damages from the Pinkerton Detective Agency and a number of individuals, including a psychiatrist and his competitors, for torturing him mentally, hypnotizing him to get confidential information, turning his lights off from time to time and obtaining entrance to his apartment by posing as relatives.

The air strikes 28 miles north of the capital were designed to knock out positions from which the Communists could launch a new major offensive, military spokesmen said.

On the ground around Saigon, Allied troops found evidence of a massive Communist buildup when they uncovered 40 tons of stockpiled weapons, uniforms and food Sunday. One of the caches was the largest Communist store of heavy weapons captured in the war, spokesmen said.

Senate Schedules Open Hearing On UT Appointment

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The first of former Gov. John Connally's 169 lame duck appointments was scheduled to answer senators' questions today in the first Texas Senate confirmation hearing ever open to the public.

Frank C. Erwin Jr., University of Texas regents chairman, was to go before the Senate nominations committee for approval of a six-year term on the governing board of the largest university system in the state.

Also up for confirmation as new UT regents were Jenkins Garrett of Fort Worth and Dan Williams of Dallas.

Open Hearing

Sen. J. P. Word of Meridian, nominations committee chairman, promised an open hearing on all three appointments.

But the vice chairman, Sen. J. H. Blanchard of Lubbock, warned that action would be taken against any protest attempts by students.

"I'm not going to let those hippies, yuppies and mongrels from that campus (UT-Austin) come in here and take over," Blanchard said.

The hearing was scheduled for a small committee room just off the senate chamber that holds about 60 people. There are 13 senators on the committee.

Under a new rule adopted this year nominations hearings are open to the public unless a majority committee vote to close the doors.

Seven Approve

Preliminary polls of committee members indicated at least six favored an open session. (See SENATE, Page 3)

west of Saigon included dozens of rarely used but powerful 240mm rockets the Communists had put in an underground tunnel complex.

Another armored patrol located a buried stockpile 24 miles northwest of Saigon that included 72 mixed rocket rounds, 45 82mm mortars, 33 rocket grenades, 800 pounds of explosives and seven cases of Chinese-made hand grenades, spokesmen reported.

High-ranking U.S. intelligence sources said they expect the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong to open a general offensive in the area around Saigon prior to the three-day Tet lunar new year holiday beginning Feb. 17.

Area Residents To Discuss Plan For Farm Council

Farmers, ranchers and business men of the Pampa area are invited to attend a luncheon meeting at the First Methodist Church on Tuesday, Feb. 11, at 12 noon.

The meeting, hosted by the Pampa Jaycees, will give consideration to establishment of a farm and ranch council or agri-business club, according to Clyde L. Carruth, chairman of the Agriculture and Livestock Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

Anyone wishing to attend should call the Chamber of Commerce office in the Hughes Building for reservations not later than 5 p.m. today.

John McHaney, extension economist, Texas A&M University, will address the meeting, pointing out the importance of agriculture as a source of improving the economy of the Pampa area, Carruth stated.

Charges Filed After Fight

Police activity was light in Pampa over the weekend although local officers had their trouble Sunday night trying to persuade four Pampans to go to jail.

Officers first received a call to a local tavern where a fight was reported in progress. When police arrived they found a Mexican male out cold on the floor of the tavern. The others involved in the fight were gone.

Police later found the men, according to a Pampa police report, at another tavern and asked the four to accompany them to the police station.

According to the police report, three of the four men started cursing officers and tried to fight them.

Officers finally got them to police headquarters where the four were booked into jail.

Charged with intoxication and disturbing the peace were Robert Franklin Srader, Gary Lee Smiley, 26, of 1613 W. Euckler and Thomas Eugene Stilwell, 26, of 720 E. Craven. Charged with intoxication was Edwin Tracy Cunningham, 26, of 520 Yeager.

Evidence of Ore Found on Texas Uranium Leases

AMARILLO — Amarillo Oil Co. has announced that as of Feb. 1, its subsidiary, Amarillo Minerals, Inc., had obtained evidence of ore grade materials in drill holes on 15 different uranium leases in which it has an interest in Karnes, Live Oak, Duval and Starr Counties in the Texas Coastal Plain area.

Over one million feet of exploratory hole has been drilled on 82 leases and drilling continues at a rate in excess of 100,000 feet per month. In most cases the drilling has been widely spaced, and accurate estimates of ore tonnages and total uranium content cannot be made until closer spaced drilling has been completed.

The company has an interest in over 100,000 acres of leases in this area on which no exploration has yet been done. Not over 15 per cent of the total acreage under lease has been explored.

Plans concerning a mill in the Coastal Plain area are continuing. Exploratory drilling on acreage held by the company in Wyoming will start in the near future.

Amarillo Oil Company is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Pioneer Natural Gas Co.

Development board director: Harry Burligh, Bureau of Reclamation area engineer, Austin; and John Simmons, Sabine River Authority general manager, Orange, Tex.

Attendance is expected to reach 1200, a spokesman noted.

Hazlewood Gets Okay for Castro County Grant

AUSTIN—Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo announced he has obtained approval from Gov. Preston Smith for a Community Action grant for $73,303 in Castro County. The federal funds will be administered by the Castro County Community Action Committee in Dimmitt.

This agency has been operating in Dimmitt since Oct. 31, 1966, when the first federal grant was received for administration of anti-poverty programs and projects.

"Castro County has directly benefited from the Community Action funds and programs for the culturally deprived and poverty areas in the community," Sen. Hazlewood said in announcing the grant.

"I am extremely pleased to see the continuation of these funds for the betterment of our community," he said.

SPEED READING COURSE SCHEDULED FOR PAMPA AREA

Arrangements have been made to conduct a SPEED READING COURSE here in Pampa, to be taught in evening classes. The average person today reads between 150-300 words per minute and comprehends about 55 to 65 per cent. This course guarantees that its graduates will read at least 1,000 words per minute and with a marked improvement in comprehension. However the spokesman said, "the guarantee is a bare minimum, because the average person can increase his speed TEN TIMES with a profound improvement in comprehension and concentration."

The average graduate of this course should be able to read 1,000 to 3,000 words per minute and attain the 80 percentile in comprehension. This means, after graduation, a person should read books of average length in 45 to 60 minutes and understand, enjoy, and remember them better than ever. Those who enroll will attend ONE CLASS PER WEEK, for NINE WEEKS and will receive a DIPLOMA upon completion.

Germany

Berlin is part of East German territory.

The ban, on road, rail, and waterway access which goes into effect Feb. 15 "until further notice," does not affect U.S.-British-French air corridors into the outpost city over which Communist East Germany has no control.

Officials said they believed the East Germans, aware of this, will restrict themselves to tedious slowdown inspections of vehicles in enforcing the ban. No further trouble was considered likely.

"We take this matter seriously but there are no grounds for hysteria," West Berlin Mayor Klaus Schuett told newsmen.

The Communists, in a long-expected move, said Sunday they were barring access to West Berlin.

Storm

figures were available on storm-related deaths in the city. Thirteen persons, mostly heart attack victims, died during a 12.5 inch snowstorm here in 1964.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted gradually clearing weather later today, but with some lingering snow flurries and widespread drifting by gusting winds. And much digging out.

In New York City's Central Park the Weather Bureau reported 15 inches of snow at 7 a.m. Other parts of the New York area had 16 to 20 inches.

Not As Great

This was the greatest accumulation since the snowstorm of Feb. 3, 1961, which dumped 17.4 inches on the city. But it was not as great as the storm of Dec. 27, 1947, when 25.8 inches blanketed the city.

John F. Kennedy International Airport, where hundreds were stranded, reported 18 inches, LaGuardia Airport 16 inches, Bridgeport, Conn. 18 inches, Hartford, Conn., 17 inches.

Officials at Kennedy said the airport will not be open for air traffic until Tuesday at the earliest.

At least five deaths were attributed to the storm in New England, including three elderly persons who died while shoveling snow. Traffic accidents in New York and Pennsylvania took three lives.

The Long Island Rail Road, the nation's largest commuter line carrying 90,000 suburbanites daily into New York City from Long Island, cancelled all trains "until further notice."

The Penn Central, usually the carrier for thousands from Connecticut and Westchester County, was running trains when it could, with little regard for schedule.

Board to Call New Elections

Pampa School Board will call election of trustees for April 5 during the regular board meeting at 9:30 a.m. Thursday in Carver Educational Services center.

Candidates for the one vacancy may file until March 4, 30 days before the election, and must file with Homer Craig, school business manager.

As of noon today, no one had filed for the post of Dr. R. M. Hampton, which ends with his term of office. Dr. Hampton has served three three-year terms, but has not yet announced if he will file for re-election.

Absentee voting dates are March 16 through April 1 in the school business office in Pampa Junior High School.

Trustees will also discuss resignations, reassignment and employment of school personnel, a lunch policy for indigent children, and hear reports from Superintendent Dr. James F. Malone.

In his report, Dr. Malone plans to discuss possible sale of old school desks, insurance and annuity report, National Science Teachers' Convention, and National School Board Convention.

Bond Set for DWI

Bond of $1,000 was set by Justice of Peace Nat Lunsford for Forrest Gene Warren, 23, of Amarillo.

Warren was charged with driving while intoxicated. He was arrested by Pampa police officer Roy E. Denman about 2:35 a.m. Sunday in the 800 block of Frederic.

Senate

Seven also told newsmen before they planned to vote for Erwin's confirmation.

But the appointments would still have to go before the full senate for approval in a closed-door session.

Gov. Preston Smith has raised questions about the validity of some of his predecessor's other last minute nominations.

Smith said there was some question about when terms end for some of the posts and last week asked for an attorney general's opinion on the matter.

But Smith said he did not expect Erwin's appointment to be declared "null and void."

Connally reappointed Erwin, a close friend and political ally, to the UT board 12 days before he left office.

Active Role

Erwin, a former Democratic national committeeman, has taken a more active role in campus affairs than former regents and has been highly successful in winning more money for the university from lawmakers.

But he has raised the ire of liberal professors and students by his staunch stands against campus radicals and efforts to get legislators to increase tuition and place restrictions on the UT law school.

UT students sometimes wear "dirt nothing" buttons in protest of a speech Erwin made on campus giving demonstrators that label.

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a medication with the ability, in most cases — to promptly stop itching, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids.

Tests by doctors proved that in case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction of the inflamed hemorrhoids took place.

The secret is Preparation H. There's no other formula like it! Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: When two young people wrote to say that they wanted to get a book on SEX IN MARRIAGE and study it together, you said, "Studying a subject is sure to stimulate one's curiosity and interest; furthermore there is no point in studying the violin if you have to wait two years to practice."

A humorous quip — but it makes no sense.

I assume that you think studying about sex will lead to irresponsible experimentation. That is not necessarily so. It is curiosity about sex, based on ignorance, which is more apt to cause youth to try it out, rather than genuine education about it. It is the darkly forbidden — that which has been kept hidden, which is stimulating, rather than enlightening.

Parents can no longer keep their children ignorant about sex. Our real task is to see to it that it is presented in a mature, wholesome manner.

Sincerely,
R.S.H., Dept. of Education
The American Institute of Family Relations,
Los Angeles, Calif.

DEAR ABBY: I was glad to see that you told those 8th graders that "popularity" wasn't everything. I wish I had learned that earlier.

I started out as a homely wallflower who thought being "popular" was the most wonderful thing a girl could be. I started to smoke at 14 to prove I was "grown up." By 16 I had a reputation for being "easy" — and I earned it. I quit school at 17, and married a guy I had known four days. By 18 I was divorced, had a child, and was having affairs with married men. Wow, was I popular!

Abby, just keep telling girls to be good. Popularity isn't all it's cracked up to be. Don't use my name. I'm trying to straighten myself out.

ONCE POPULAR

Everybody has a problem. What is yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep Those Curis

To keep the curis which are so much a part of today's fashion scene curly, try using an electric curler after a day that's enough to straighten anyone's hair.

DEAR ABBY: How does a person stop exchanging Christmas gifts with folks he's exchanged gifts with for years, but hardly ever sees? I do not mean relatives. I mean people who are "friends" but not that close anymore.

I don't want their gifts, and would rather not have to send them anything, but naturally I don't want any hurt feelings.

HARTFORD

DEAR HARTFORD: Around Thanksgiving time, write them a note and tell them you are "thankful" for friends with whom you can be perfectly frank. Explain that this year you are "trimming" your Christmas gift list, and are sending cards; and unless they are very unreasonable, they will appreciate your good sense and will reciprocate accordingly.

FOR TUESDAY, FEB. 11

YOUR BIRTHDAY Tuesday: The groundwork laid last year comes into profitable use. Lessons mastered become working tools. People become more cooperative. Tuesday's natives tend to be critical thinkers, tireless workers. They are sometimes so wrapped up in their ideas that they neglect cultivation of social graces, friendships, family.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Proceed with yesterday's program. Turn on your charm. Pay no attention to any apparent faults in the manners of other people — remain gracious.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): The confident approach pays off as you pursue yesterday's activities further. Weed out the nonessential early and continue full steam ahead. Sounder physical well-being can be achieved; observe the rules.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): It gets to be a problem which advice to take. Older people are more likely to have fuller information, but less likely to understand your needs. Play it straight, but do not explain yourself to anybody.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Put your best foot forward as to personal appearance. Listen to your friends as you go about your regular duties, and pick up something helpful to your interests.

EVERYDAY TENSION? SLEEPLESS NIGHTS?
Are you edgy and always having to be "understood" by even your friends?
Well, when simple nervous tension is bothering you and causing sleepless nights you should either try B.T. TABLETS or see your doctor, or both.

B.T. TABLETS have tested ingredients which will help you overcome simple nervous tension and sleep better at night.
Your druggist has help for you in safe — nonhabit forming — B.T. TABLETS, others are enjoying the relief B.T. TABLETS can give, so why wait another day? There's a money back guarantee — so do you have anything to lose? — Yes, tension and sleepless nights. Only $1.50 at Others attending the meeting were Mmes. Hugh D. Barton, Thelma Bray, Ronald Graves, Fred J. Neslage and Bruce Pratt.

Enjoy a quiet celebration in the evening.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): — If you have kept your attitude and circumstances flexible, a long season of opportunity is coming up for profit from out-of-the-ordinary sources. Foreign travel is an increasing possibility!

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): — Use your spare time and cash to promote your pet programs. Home furnishings come up for a review. It's about time to begin spring house-freshening.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): — Get right after all the odds and ends which form a backlog. Clear the decks for coming opportunity. Find time at night for light diversion.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): — Be alert for a quick change in plans. Competitive activity builds up now. This is one of the rare times when your friends are holding a secret successfully; it's a nice one.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): — The morning is more upbeat than the afternoon for business. Taper down to a steady push to get through the long haul. Listen to what people volunteer about themselves, and you learn a profitable bit.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): — Group finances attract indications of support, optimism. The news from distant friends should be encouraging. This is the most favored evening for a small party this week.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): — The less boasting you do Tuesday the better. Stick to the simple facts, ask for what you need promptly. Talk to the point in the afternoon.

Wranglers, OC Get Ice Wins

By United Press International The Tulsa Oilers wrestled first place in the northern division of the Central Hockey League from the Omaha Knights Sunday, whipping the Knights 6-3 in Tulsa.

Meanwhile, Dallas moved more securely into second place in the southern division with a 9-3 drubbing of Memphis and Oklahoma City pushed the Houston Apollos further down in the standings with a 4-2 win.

Brian Bradley and Jim Stanfield were the big men in the Dallas win with two goals each. Joey Johnston matched that with two goals for the South Stars, but the northern division last-place team could not get its attack rolling.

Rookie Cal Swenson scored two goals to set an example that the veterans took to heart. Len Haley tallied twice in the Knights' losing effort.

The schedule is blank until Wednesday when Houston is at Amarillo. Memphis visits Fort Worth, Dallas is at Oklahoma City and Tulsa plays at Kansas City.

Ags, Baylor Eye SWC Title

By United Press International The schedule favors Texas A&M, Baylor and Southern Methodist—the three title contenders—in that order as the Southwest Conference basketball race turns into the last half stretch drive this week.

Bragan To Head Texas League Office

DALLAS (UPI)—Former big league manager Bobby Bragan was named Sunday as president of the Texas Baseball League and indicated he might bring innovations to baseball in order to liven the game.

Bragan had signed with the National League's Montreal expansion club as a coach. He had managed the Pittsburgh Pirates, Cleveland Indians and Atlanta Braves.

Bragan, whose final job "in uniform" was scouting for the Montreal Expos prior to the expansion draft, said he would take the president's post immediately.

In Montreal, Expos General Manager Jim Fanning said his team "lost a man who was one of the key men in preparing us for the expansion draft, but the move was not altogether surprising."

One innovation Bragan may try would be giving the umpires a more comfortable uniform to wear and giving the responsibility of keeping new baseballs to ballboys instead of umpires.

"I'd like to get the umpires out of the palbear suits," he said. "This sure is a switch—to be on the umpire's side."

He also said he thought the "wild card" pinch-hitter rule to be used in the Texas League this season is a "good idea."

The rule allows one batter to be designated before the game as a pinch hitter who would be allowed to bat once every inning without taking any other players out of the lineup.

"John McHale, president of the Montreal team, is the one who got me back into baseball after two years out," Bragan, 50, said.

"I regret leaving Mr. McHale, but I couldn't pass up this but I couldn't pass up this opportunity to get into the administration of baseball and Fanning said Bragan was "one of the best coaches available, and of course we're sorry to see him go."

But, SMU boasts the best one-two scoring punch in the league in sophomore Gene Phillips and senior Bill Voight and also is the only team with three men in the Top 10 as Phillips' big brother, Lynn Phillips, ranks No. 9.

The Aggies and Baylor, sharing 6-1 records in league play, each has four of its last seven games at home, but both Baylor and SMU have to go to Aggieland and that should definitely be several points in the Cadets' favor. SMU stands at 5-2.

Bears' Task Tough Baylor will be one of the three teams SMU will get at home against both the other contenders.

None of the trio meets each other this week. Baylor will invade College Station Feb. 18, go to Dallas Feb. 22 and SMU goes to A&M on Feb. 28 for the three "big games" down the stretch.

SMU gets half its road games out of the way this week, playing at Texas Tech (3-4) Tuesday night and meeting Arkansas (2-5) at neutral Little Rock Saturday afternoon on television.

Baylor wraps up half its home slate this week with Rice (2-5) coming in Tuesday night and Texas (3-4) on Saturday night. The Aggies are at home to Texas Tuesday and travel to Rice Saturday.

Phillips Leads The younger Phillips is setting the pace in conference scoring with a 23.1-point average and the full season as well with a 22.1 figure.

Voight, one of the loop's top rebounders despite the fact he is giving away several inches to most foes, ranks third in league play and fourth for the season with identical 18.6-point averages. Lynn Phillips boasts a 14.8-point average for the year, but is only 13.7 for the seven league games.

Baylor's Larry Gatewood is averaging 20.3 points in league action and 19.9 for the year, while the Aggies' boast the best scoring depth in the loop with Ronnie Peret (16.7), Elly Bob Barnett (17.4), Sonny Benfield (12.0) and Mike Heitman (13.5). Tommy Bowman (14.5) is the only Baylor player besides Gatewood near the top 10.

Baylor tightened the race last week with a 66-65 upset of the Aggies and then both went on to win later in the week. A&M 90-82 over Rice, and the Bears 71-57 over Texas. SMU beat Arkansas 84-69 in its only start.

Pampa Host To Lubbock Five Tuesday

Borger has taken over the second half lead in District 4-4A with a perfect 6-0 slate and the Bulldogs appear on their way to a meeting with Tascosa, the first half winner for the league crown.

But the Bulldogs aren't out of the woods yet with Tascosa and Pampa still in the running for the second half title.

Pampa hosts lowly Lubbock Tuesday night then travels to Lubbock Friday for a game with tough Coronado. Borger must get by Palo Duro at Palo Duro Friday and plays Coronado in Borger Tuesday. Both are tough games.

Tascosa plays at Plainview Tuesday then hosts Monterey, winners of two straight Friday. All the Rebels have to do is tie for the second half title to win the league crown outright.

Pampa must win all its remaining games, including the one with Borger a week from Tuesday and hope that Tascosa gets bumped off.

Season	W	L	League
Borger	21	5	6 0
Tascosa	21	6	5 1
Pampa	16	7	5 1
Monterey	17	11	4 2

THIS WEEK'S SCHEDULE

Casper Wins Classic

Billy Casper

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—Billy Casper, golf's biggest money winner last year and second for 1969 following his big victory in the Bob Hope Desert Classic, starts a vacation of sorts today satisfied his game is back in order.

The 37-year-old Casper, rapidly closing in as the game's biggest money winner, took the $20,000 first prize check in the Hope Classic Sunday by shooting a closing round six under par 66 that left the opposition far up the track.

Casper immediately announced he would keep a date this week to play in the Bogota Open, which is a $20,000 tourney on the Caribbean tour, then head home to San Diego, Calif., for a four-week rest.

"I'm satisfied my game is back in order now," said Casper, whose closing 66 gave him a 90-hole score of 15 under par 345 and victory in the Hope by three strokes over Dave Hill of Evergreen, Colo., who also had a closing 66 to vault past 11 other contenders.

Hill started the final round in a tie with four others, five strokes behind fourth round leader Frank Beard, who shot himself out of contention with a 37 on the front nine and then wound up at nine under 351 with Deane Beman, Bob Charles, Gene Littler, Orville Moody and George Knudson.

After Hill came Jack Montgomery, who had a closing 70, to finish all alone at 11 under 349, and Art Wall, who had a 71 for 350. Hill won $11,400. Montgomery got $7,100 and Wall $4,700.

Beard and the others at 351 won $3,175 each.

Defending champion Arnold Palmer never figured. He had a closing round 70 that put him in a four-way tie at 356. Nicklaus who won $30,000 last week in the San Diego Open, took a check for $1,350 and Palmer one for $755.

Subs Hard to Find in NHL

By United Press International A pair of executives joined the working class in the National Hockey League Sunday night.

Scotty Morrison, the league's chief of referees, was pressed into service at St. Louis when referee Vern Buffey was injured and Emile Francis, general manager-coach of the New York Rangers, signed himself to a playing contract when his team's regular goalie, Ed Giacomin, was stranded on a train by a snowstorm.

The Montreal Canadiens, who never have lost to St. Louis, stretched their unbeaten string to 12 games over the Blues by scoring three times in the final period for a 4-4 deadlock with the West Division leaders.

Morrison, a chance spectator at the game, took over after Buffey collided with Montreal's Ted Harris in the first period.

Buffey was taken to St. Louis Jewish Hospital with possible back and shoulder injuries and the game was delayed a half-hour while a substitute was sought.

There was a delay of two hours and 15 minutes in the start of play at New York because of a snowstorm and when regular goalie Ed Giacomin was one of three Ranger players unable to reach the arena Francis named himself as the backup goalie to Don Simmons.

"I signed myself to a dollar-a-year contract," the one-time netminder said after New York rallied for three goals in the final 10 minutes and a 3-3 deadlock with the Philadelphia Flyers.

Normalcy of a degree prevailed at Detroit where Frank Mahovich registered his fourth three-goal hat trick of the season and Gordie Howe added another goal in the Red Wings' 5-0 conquest of the Los Angeles Kings.

Communist Propaganda

Communist propaganda is most clearly recognized by those who have lived in and departed from Communist countries. That is, of course, a natural development, but naive Americans never seem to have heard of such people, or if they have, claim that refugees from communism could not possibly be expected to give a true account of the system in practice. Leopold Tyrmand is one of the refugees. His comments — especially on the reaction of people in the United States to Communist propaganda — frequently is published by the New Yorker magazine.

In the Nov. 9, 1968, New Yorker, Tyrmand recounted his thoughts as he watched a "peace march" in New York City:
"I felt sad looking at her. How well I know young girls of this kind, their eyes filled with the hatred of evil (this time's code signal: L.E.J.) and with the purest ideological intentions. Little girls with unclean nails who, in the end, are always poor victims of their own 'I know better how it REALLY is.' Today they pin psychedelic-Marxian buttons on their busts and carry posters on which Ho Chi Minh smiles with a tactful malice, for he knows how it really is. Thirty years ago, they marched through the streets of Eastern European cities wearing little photos of Joseph Stalin where now they exhibit the serene motto 'Make love not war.' An impressive number of them perished, just a few years later, in the abominable, verminous forced-labor camps their idol had scattered over Kazakhstan and Siberia. What a kind fate might do for their New York

Conflict of Interest

As David Lawrence, editor of U.S. News & World Report, implied in the magazine's Jan. 20 issue, the "conflict of interest" furor created by politicians when a noted former businessman is appointed to a governmental position is as povernment as can be.

As Lawrence made quite plain, anything politicians and bureaucrats do, in their capacities as politicians and bureaucrats, is automatically a conflict of interest issue. Governments (and, when we use the term governments, we mean the individuals occupying governmental positions) are utterly incapable of acting without creating a conflict of interest; without, that is, favoring some while harming others. That is the nature of the system.
Therefore, it is asinine and futile to require former businessmen entering governmental service to divest themselves of holdings in their former firms. If such appointees have an inclination to feather their own nests while in the bureaucracy, rest assured the means will be found. By way of proof, witness LBJ himself who left the federal government considerably more affluent than when he went in.

However, the automatic conflict of interest existing between politicians and bureaucrats who take, and the tax payers who are taken from, is plain and obvious. The first group gains at the second group's involuntary expense. Not so obvious is the inherent and widespread conflict of interest generated by the concept of "public" or "common" ownership of property itself. Nevertheless, the conflict, real and compelling, is there. And it is this fraudulent concept, more than anything else, that is ripping the fabric of society apart.
A single example should suffice to make the point. Tax funds are considered to be "public" or "common" property. As a result, we have virtually 200 million people

Sensing The News

By THURMAN SENSING

The Issue of Responsibility:
McNamara and the Pueblo
Reaction to proceedings in the naval court of inquiry investigating the loss of the Pueblo has not been altogether healthy. Danger exists that blame will be attached to the wrong parties.

We live in an age of permissiveness and excuses, and the weight of fashionable opinion is against holding people to strict account for their actions. Thus it is that there has been an outcry in some quarters against any stern questioning of Commander Bucher, former commanding officer of the Pueblo.
Regardless of whether Commander Bucher was right or wrong in his conduct as a naval vessel, it is only proper that the Navy determine who was accountable for a ship belonging to the United States falling into enemy hands. Accountability is a fundamental concept in the Navy and other armed services. The principle is the foundation on which accurate, faithful service is rendered to the United States.

Unfortunately, the intellectual climate of our era is such that many people try to disguise or dismiss responsibility. They give psychological or sociological reasons for not pinpointing responsibility. But a nation can't live by excuses. It has to be very sure that those who are given responsibility are held accountable and answer for mistakes if they make them.

Some of the same people who were so eager a few years ago to muzzle the military are now saying that the "Navy brass" are at fault for sending the Pueblo to sea when she was inadequately armed. They are hastening to convict the military professionals and the professional concept of responsibility. They say that the Navy should emphasize compassion, not accountability. Compassion is a virtue in its proper sphere, reserved for those who fail to carry out their orders. The defense of the United States cannot be based on sentimentality.

What is needed in considering the loss of the Pueblo is cold-eyed realism. If any uniformed officer was at fault, whether commander or admiral, that fact should be established and made public and appropriate reprimand should be made. But the public also has a right to expect that the inquiry will go beyond the uniformed personnel concerned. The question should be asked why old, ill-armed vessels are sent on dangerous missions.

The answer to that question must be sought by the Congress. But it is clear that the much-abused "Navy brass" have spent the last eight years asking for new ships. The vast majority of U.S. warships were built during World War II, and are now overage.
Though the "Navy brass" asked for new ships, to carry out assigned cold war missions such as electronic intelligence off the North Korean coast, they have not received them in adequate numbers. The reason is that former Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara fiercely resisted building a modern fleet.

While the Kennedy and Johnson administrations poured billions of dollars into political programs designed to harvest votes, they declined to construct the ships needed for the security of the United States.
Mr. McNamara allowed many elements in the U.S. defense establishment to run down dangerously. Ships were taken from the Atlantic Fleet and sent to the Pacific. Inventories of spare parts were seriously depleted, and replacements not ordered. Far from being the brilliant manager his publicists termed him, Mr. McNamara was a reckless managerial figure who allowed the overall defense enterprise to become unbalanced and weak in many respects.

It is a matter of historical record that Mr. McNamara opposed development of a nuclear fleet and rejected other programs aimed at modernization of the Navy. It is impossible for a naval court of inquiry to call Mr. McNamara to testify why he let the fleet run down, a policy that is pertinent to the Pueblo tragedy. But a congressional investigating committee can call Mr. McNamara and all other former high administration officials

Power Shift In Kremlin Soon?

ROBERT ALLEN
WASHINGTON — Some top experts here believe the next six to twelve months could see one of those sudden and sometimes mysterious changes in the Kremlin high command.
Such a power shift would, of course, have reverberations all over the world. Among other things it would greatly complicate some of the planned foreign policy initiatives of the new Nixon Administration.

In making their long-range forecasts, Kremlinologists have a good deal in common with the weatherman. Based on careful and systematic analysis of the best available data, they make judgments which can be nullified by natural events.
In that context it should be noted that free world intelligence authorities, here and abroad, have not been notably successful in the past in calling the turn on Soviet power struggles.

Nevertheless, it is important that some U.S. experts now see the potential for a shift which would remove Alexei Kosygin and Leonid Brezhnev from their pivotal positions in the Kremlin hierarchy. That would mean a change in control of the politburo of the Communist party's central committee.
The old-guard group of Kosygin, Brezhnev and Nikolai Podgorniy have controlled the party apparatus since the dethronement of Nikita S. Khrushchev in 1964. For a number of reasons, analysts here think it may be time for a change.

This appraisal coincides with similar views conveyed to U.S. officials recently by Kremlin experts abroad and previously reported in this column.
SURFACE UNITY — While experts here acknowledge that there have been no surface signs of disunity in recent months, there is a feeling that the true picture is one of Russian leaders closing ranks after the Russian-led invasion of Czechoslovakia last year.
For the present, according to the experts, criticism of the Czech affair by other communist parties has kept the politburo together. They believe, however, that the long-range effect may be very different.

The Russian economy is believed to be chronically troubled too. Economic growth is viewed as unsatisfactory by analysts who had a hand in the Pueblo affair or who counseled against retaliation when a U.S. warship was snatched off the high seas. The full story of the Pueblo disaster and all the key figures in it should be revealed for the public. The way to get the facts is for Congress to hold open hearings. That way, the responsibility for all aspects of a dark chapter in American history will be pinpointed.

here, and — as in the United States — Soviet planners face increasingly heavy military demands.
Brezhnev is thought to be particularly vulnerable in the wake of the invasion of Czechoslovakia. By reason of his party responsibilities, he was the architect of the Kremlin's policies there.
It is believed here that, Kremlin denials notwithstanding, Kosygin may well have been ill during the recent weeks when his absence from party functions was unexplained. There is a feeling that Kosygin, now 65, may be feeling the heavy pressures of a demanding job.
Furthermore, U.S. experts are convinced there is no shortage of ambitious party leaders who would like to take over from the Brezhnev-Kosygin group. Most frequently mentioned, in that category, are the names of Alexander Shlepin, Dimitri Polyansky and Kiril Mazurov.
However, recalling Khrushchev's ascendancy from a lower echelon position, experts caution that a new party leadership might be all but unknown in free world headlines.
HARD LINERS? — Speculative reports, here and abroad, have suggested that a Soviet power shift would mean a Kremlin take-over by military minded "hard-liners." U.S. experts are not sure that would be the case.
They agree that the voice of the Russian military has been louder in Russian councils in recent months. They believe, however, that a new party leadership might move — sooner or later — away from the repressive line evidenced in Czechoslovakia.
Again a Khrushchev precedent is cited. Authorities here recall that Khrushchev had strong military support at the outset and ended up at odds with the admirals and the field marshals on the thrust of Soviet policies.
Whatever the complexion of a new Russian leadership, a shift from the Kosygin-Brezhnev group would complicate President Nixon's efforts in the foreign policy field. Even if the new Kremlin leaders were well known to leaders here there would be a different and uncertain period of transition.
The new President would certainly be advised to delay such important initiatives as a U.S.-USSR summit meeting and the start of missile limitation discussions. Given the complexities of policy making in the Kremlin, Russian leaders would probably want to delay them too.

Campus Demonstrators Are Sick-Sick Revolutionaries

By PAUL HARVEY
At long last, the psychologists are beginning to speak up. Much restiveness which bedevils us at home and abroad is so readily explained psychologically, yet up to now these scholars have been unexplainably silent.

Dr. Bruno Bettelheim broke the ice. This distinguished psychiatrist at the University of Chicago had, like the others, been disinclined to diagnose from a distance. But when the disturbed students distressed his own campus — students whom he knew personally — Dr. Bettelheim spoke out:
"Many of these demonstrators are paranoiacs, they are sick-sick, they need psychiatric care."

Dr. Bettelheim explained that their misdeeds are not necessarily mentally ill. They know what they are doing. They are purposely fomenting a revolution, using these irrational students to gain that end.
Dr. Bettelheim says probably there are no more paranoiacs around now than previously; it's just that "mass media are now giving them more attention."

The excuse manufactured for the sit-in on his University of Chicago campus was a protest against the dismissal of a faculty member and a demand that students have equal say-so in the hiring and firing of the faculty.
Nobody ever imagined that latter demand was valid, yet 200 students continued to disrupt the administration of an 8,600-student university.

Presidential commissions assigned to explain "why people riot" have almost totally ignored this psychological factor.
Indeed, the Kerner Commission blamed the rioting on everybody except the rioters!
What's misled many of these well-intentioned investigators is that the shouts of the riot leaders sound rational. There is

There is always free cheese in a mousetrap, but you don't see any happy mice there.
It is my hope that the next mayor will stand for the following—
Against putting any Lake Meredith water in the water system of Pampa.
Against any new bond issues.
Against any city sales tax.
Against adopting any ordinances that will work a hardship on little businesses.
It is impossible for any Dallas expert to bring in his brief case a solution for the problems of Pampa.
It might be that Pampa needs a breathing spell, trying to develop some conditions that will bring businesses to Pampa. It is hard for a city or an individual to borrow out of debt.
This may be too much to hope for, but we now have enough taxes and I hope that we avoid more, at least for a while.

No, No, Mr. Richnix, you are the president—you don't have to call Elbe Jay anymore for his decision. Of course, we can overlook it if you are trying to borrow money.
Did you hear about the Johnson War on Poverty? The only group who benefited was the one down on the ranch. Boy, did they pad the books. Look, how Elbe Jay made out—Pension, 25 Gees, Retirement benefits, 22 Gees, Transition Fund, 375 Gees, Annual Fund, 80 Gees. That's over half-a-million, and its only the first year! No wonder he quit!
Fringe benefits? O, yes, we have to supply the ranch with transportation. There are two limousines, a pickup truck, and 15 other ranch wagons and trucks leased from Ford Co. There are 26 secret service agents standin around the ranch to protect the owner's popularity. A military helicopter, an airplane runway, free gov't transportation, 5000 sq. ft. of office space, with staff, 12 million dollar Johnson library maintained by the taxpayers, and a communications system.
He gets free medical service, mail service and probably has signed up for the free milk program. Yessir, who says the war on poverty didn't work?
