

Charter Members Note American Legion's 50th Anniversary

By BETH LEWIS
News Staff Writer

50th years ago tomorrow the American Legion was born. Not in America, of course, but overseas, at Paris, France.

It has been charged that whenever as many as two Americans find themselves in the same foreign country, one will pick up a gavel and the other will address him as "Mister Chairman."

However, there were 1,000 of these GIs of 1919. They were probably homesick, it is true, but their motivation went deeper than that. After one had fought and seen one's comrades die for a cause they believed in, it was natural that survivors should desire to commemorate the joint experience.

So these American soldiers, thinking over the past and looking forward to homecoming, pledged themselves to support throughout their lifetimes the government for which each had offered his future. Thus began the organization of veterans known as American Legion.

The date was March 15, 1919. The final shiploads of returning veterans arrived back home at last, family reunions spread like measles, the men settled into civilian existence. But the purpose that had gripped them in Paris never wavered. They set about repeating the experience in their home towns and cities, drawing other returnees to them like metal to a magnet.

Pampa veterans were organized in 1920, forming Kerley-Crossman Post No. 334, named for two deceased comrades, George Kerley and Abner Crossman. Both men died from influenza, not living to be sent overseas.

Crossman Died at Camp Travis, Kerley at Fort Sam Houston.

The Post's charter was presented at a Charter Night ceremony Dec. 28, 1921.

Charter members were: Walter Purviance, Frank John Thomas, Edwin S. Vicars, Edgar Lee Reaser, Lewis O. Cox, Claude E. Cary, Raymond E. Wall, Grover C. Morris, Joseph Frank Denton, Robert T. Mitchell, Artie O. Sallor, James A. Pearson, Jeff David Lard, Roy

H. Pipkin, James Woodworth.

Dr. Purviance was commander. He had been in general practice here several years before the war in which he served in army hospitals. He was stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Waco, Tex., and Fort Riley hospitals before being ordered overseas. He was serving in an Army hospital in France when the Armistice was signed.

According to his wife Dr. Purviance in general practice was a "bedside doctor" of the old school. He built the Purviance Clinic here and had a wide clientele. But he was always the family-doctor type, driving off into the country or offfields where a baby was expected, and remaining there all night if need be, until the birth was accomplished.

Dr. Purviance continued to practice as before when he returned from overseas, retiring only two years before his death in 1938. A community-wide "Dr. Purviance Day" had been observed to honor his 50th year of practice.

Edgar S. Vicars, 608 Buckler, was stationed at several camps in the United States, but never got overseas. He was under sailing orders, however, when the war ended.

Jeff David Lard, a corporal in Co. A, 11th Engineers, landed at Brest, France, early in the war after training at Camp Bowie. He served overseas one year. A carpenter, he resides at Kingsmill Cabot Camp.

Roy H. Pipkin, 1032 Charles, still resides here. He retired a few years ago but, according to Mrs. Pipkin, "was so miserable" that his doctor permitted him to go back to work. He now operates a filling station at 300 S. Starkweather.

The late Judge Claude E. Cary was perhaps one of the few soldiers who served in the Balloon Corps. He was assigned to Camp John Wise, San Antonio, on first enlistment and later trained at Central Infantry Officers Training School, also at San Antonio.

The Carys were a large family, the eldest four sons all enlisting for World War I.

Walter Scott Cary was on the first ship carrying American troops overseas to land off the shores of France. Brothers in the service included Joseph Lester Cary, of the Ambulance Corps, and Royal E. Cary.

The Carys came to America in the early years of this century. They were from Bristol, England. "The English" Carys all spell the name without the "e." According to Tracy Cary, son of the late county judge, "The Irish spell it 'Carey'."

Kerley-Crossman Post, beginning with 15 members, now has 250 on the rolls. Included are most of the surviving veterans of the first World War, together with a task force of

OF UNDERSEA LIFE

Speaker Describes Blue, Green World

A beautiful blue and green world where strange fish and other marine life meet you on equal terms or go sliding past as though you, the diver, were another fish, was described last night at the final meeting for the season of the Pampa Knife and Fork Club.

The speaker was Col. John D. Craig, explorer, deep sea diver, adventurer and danger hunter.

Mother Ocean, as Col. Craig referred to the vast area of water which comprises 71 per cent of the world, holds mysteries of existence that have barely begun to be solved.

"Man has thought of himself as an earth dweller almost exclusively," said Craig. "Yet the ocean contains 92 per cent of all life and most of the food that the body requires."

Even 16 per cent of petroleum comes from the bottom of the sea, it was noted.

Manganese, salt, iron and cobalt are among the food elements as well as the vitamins contained in the algae, which we know as the green scum that forms on stagnant water.

The vastness of the ocean is seldom considered by earth-bound man although its average depth is two and one-half miles.

"If the earth were submerged, the sea would cover Everest and leave a mile of water to spare on top."

The speaker paid his respects to the intelligence of certain under-water life, including the lively porpoise and the whale. The porpoise has been trained by deep-sea divers to perform rescue operations and other underwater chores until "sometimes he forgets he isn't human."

In closing his address Craig played tape recordings of conversations in which porpoises (See SPEAKER, Page 3)

Snow, Light Rain Falls in State, More Expected

By United Press International
An inch of snow mixed with light rain drifted down on the Dalhart area today, the first sign of the widespread rain expected to make the weekend wet for all parts of Texas.

Light snow fell on Pampa early today and continued up to forenoon. Little accumulation was expected, however, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau in Amarillo. Travelers warnings were issued.

The Dalhart snow came early in the day under overcast skies and temperatures in the low 20s. Childress reported a light, cold drizzle, "not enough to wet the sidewalks," but more was predicted.

Rain was due in isolated areas of the state beginning today and was to spread over most of the state by the time swing.

After a slight warming trend Thursday all areas of the state, except North Central Texas, expected cooler temperatures today, tonight and Saturday.

Temperatures climbed into the 50s and 60s over most of the state Thursday with 70 degree readings recorded in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

ROSE FOR A QUEEN — E. E. (Pinky) Shultz, president of Pampa Noon Lions Club, presents a bouquet of red roses to the Lions Club Queen, Miss Jan Autry, center. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Autry, 1901 N. Banks, Miss Autry will compete in the District 2T-1 queen contest in Amarillo April 17 and 18. First runner-up in the Pampa High School contest was Jan Wallace, Pampa High School junior, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wallace, 1833 Banks. Second runner-up (not pictured) Carolyn McKinley, a high school senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McKinley, 1809 Grape. Miss Autry is also Pampa's contestant in the Miss Irish Rose contest in Shamrock Saturday. She was elected to represent Pampa by Pampa High School Student Council and is a PHS senior.

Decision Announced After Leaders Meet

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon today announced he had decided to deploy the Sentinel antiballistic missile (ABM) system on a "substantially modified" basis of an unmistakable defensive design to guard against nuclear attack or missiles fired accidentally by the Soviet Union or Communist China.

Nixon issued a formal announcement on the ABM just before a news conference and after a two hour meeting with bipartisan congressional leaders.

He asserted that the Sentinel system as inherited from the Johnson administration had been modified "so that its defensive intent is unmistakable."

"It will be implemented not according to some fixed, theoretical schedule, but in a manner clearly related to our periodic analysis of the threat," he declared.

Senate Approves Nuclear Treaty

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nuclear nonproliferation treaty has won approval of the U.S. Senate—a step observers interpreted as the biggest hurdle for the historic arms agreement.

Of the other two superpowers Britain, a party to the treaty, has ratified but the Soviet Union has not. But Moscow strongly favors the treaty, and now that the United States has approved it, the Soviet Union is expected to follow suit within a few months, along with many smaller nations.

The Senate approved the treaty 83 to 15 Thursday, after rejecting all efforts to restrict its meaning with American reservations and understandings.

But Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he

—The concept on which the Sentinel program of the previous administration was based should be substantially modified.

—The safety of our country requires that we should proceed now with the development and construction of the new system in a carefully phased program."

—This program will be reviewed annually from the point of view of (A) technical development, (B) the threat, (C) the diplomatic context including any talks on arms limitation."

Nixon said his planned "measured deployment" was designed to fill three objectives:

—Protection of our land-based retaliatory forces against a direct attack by the Soviet Union.

—Defense of the American people against the kind of

CITY GETS GOOD NEWS

Fire Credit Doubled On Pampa Insurance

Pampa's fire insurance credits have been raised to ten cents, up from five cents, according to the State Board of Insurance.

Based on the new 1969 rating by the board, this means an additional 5-cents will be applied to fire insurance policies held by Pampans.

The additional credit was given to Pampa because it experienced a lower percentage of fire losses during 1968.

The effect of the reduced fire loss also means that each individual owner of a fire insurance policy will receive a reduction of five cents per dollar premium cost in 1969.

City Manager Charles Hill said today that through the efforts of Fire Chief Finaco Dyer, an itemized listing of all fires and loss amounts was filed from the State Insurance Board for the first time.

Through a review of these records, Hill stated, it was found that approximately $4,500 worth of losses was incorrectly charged against Pampa.

He added that the fire chief's efforts were significant in realizing the reduction of the fire loss record, which raised the credit from five cents in 1963 to ten cents for 1969.

The net losses of $58,000, the city manager stated, reduced Pampa's five-year net fire loss from $360,000 to $327,000.

FOR ANNUAL CELEBRATION

Dusty Shamrock to Turn Green

SHAMROCK, Tex. (UPI) — Normally the Texas Panhandle town of Shamrock wears a dusty red coat. But Saturday it will be green!

A visitor who just happens through the small town of 3,113 will wonder if perhaps the "green men from outer space" have landed as the natives join more than 40,000 visitors in the "wearing of the green."

It will be St. Patrick's Day in Shamrock Saturday, a couple days ahead of the usual March 17 celebration. Celebration sponsors felt more people would be free to attend during the weekend. Theme of this year's celebration is "Irish in Orbit."

Everything is green during the day — from the newspaper of the Shamrock Texan, a weekly newspaper, to the downtown decorations. Almost all of the celebrants dress in Irish costumes.

Crown Queen
The quiet stop along Route 66 will suddenly become a center of attention. Banquets, parades and dances — all to be highlighted by the crowning of Miss Irish Rose 1969 — began Friday night and continue through Saturday night.

For the past 31 years the town with the Irish name has been putting on the green for St. Patrick's Day. Shamrocks have been flown in from the banks of the River Shannon in Ireland to be given to the crowd as souvenirs.

Chips of the blarney stone, enclosed in little cellophane bags, will be given as favors at the kickoff banquet Friday night. Television personality John Ry Faulk will be guest speaker.

Registration begins Saturday morning, and townspeople as well as visitors will be wearing green top hats, white pantaloons and green, laced dresses.

Beards Green
A few of the men-folks' beards have been dyed green. But nobody thinks this a bit of malarky. The bank's bookkeepers steer away from red ink in their ledgers. And some storekeepers send out statements printed in shamrock shades.

Even the postmaster has a busy day — mailing self-addressed letters sent to him earlier by Irishmen across the nation wanting a post-marked letter from Shamrock on St. Patrick's Day.

Opening the festivities will be "Donegal Shenanigans," a jug-

Pampa Residents To Visit Festivity

Pampa will be well-represented at the annual St. Patrick's Day celebration in Shamrock Saturday.

Miss Jan Autry, Pampa High School senior, will compete with other area colleens for the title of Miss Irish Rose. Miss Autry is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Autry, 1901 N. Banks.

Local entries in the parade, scheduled to start at 11 a.m., will include the Top O' Texas Demolays, Pampa Antique Car Club and Leather 'n' Lace Riding (See PAMPA Page 3) ing of the beard-growing contest. A Shamrock Colleen will be crowned at noon by Miss Irish Rose 1968, Stacy Fransen of Clinton, Okla.

Also included in the day-long festivities will be an old fiddlers' contest, dances, exhibits, free lunches, professional and amateur rodeo events and a small carnival for the children.

Mayor to Speak
Mayor R. L. Roberts — it'll be Mayor O'Roberts Saturday — will welcome the visitors.

The green-clad Shamrock High School band will lead the parade, playing "My Wild Irish Rose." The parade will include bands from Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, several floats, riding clubs, special autos and comic entries and the Colleen candidates.

The annual festivities began in 1938 when an Irish band director, Glenn Truax, decided a town with a name like Shamrock could capitalize on it. The celebration ranks second only to the St. Patrick's Day celebration held in New York City.

School Trustees
Research Use of Drugs, Alcohol

Pampa school board trustees and school administrators are researching student use of drugs and alcoholic beverages and expect to announce a board policy on their use at the April 10 school trustee meeting, Superintendent Dr. James F. Malone said today.

"We are expecting a directive from the Texas Education Agency on this very thing," Dr. Malone said. "The local administration is collecting a file of other school district policies on students' use of drugs and alcoholic beverages. It can be anticipated the school board will establish a very definite policy at the next board meeting April 10."

Crawford Martin, Texas attorney general, stated school boards in Texas must have an established policy concerning drugs and narcotics to expel a student for drug abuse. He also said a school board must conduct a hearing on violations, and if its actions are reasonable, incurs no liability for its actions. Martin's report further stated state court charges will be used only as evidence and will not necessarily determine a board's action. The board may not legally suspend or expel a student only on the basis of an indictment for narcotics offense.

STATE TROPHY WINNER — Brenda Wilson, first place winner in the Distributive Education Clubs of America state notebook contest, displays her top place trophy won recently in Dallas. She will represent Pampa High School DECA Chapter at the national contest in Atlantic City, N. J., May 1, 2, and 3. To finance her trip, DECA students of Pampa High School will sell candy in downtown Pampa and Coronado Center all day Saturday. Clinton Forbes is chapter sponsor of the PHS club which won first place in the state DECA contest for grooming and citizenship.

The student must be entitled to a fair chance, to prove his innocence at a hearing.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has recommended the Soviet Union and the United States ratify the treaty simultaneously to avoid "insofar as possible misunderstandings which might otherwise arise." The treaty, first major arms control agreement since the 1963 pact banning nuclear tests in the atmosphere, would bar the Soviet Union, the United States and Britain from sharing their nuclear weapons and secrets with other countries. The Deer Creek trail, made possible by a Gray-Pampa Foundation grant, was installed last summer.

Jehovah's Witnesses Hold Circuit Assembly in Dumas

All local meetings and activities of Jehovah's Witnesses in Pampa will be suspended weekend in favor of the "Make Wise Use of the Remaining Time" semi-annual circuit assembly to be held at the Moore County Community Building in Dumas.

Regal, the presiding minister of Jehovah's Witnesses, said 50 of the 800 delegates would be from Pampa.

"Just because the local meetings are suspended does not mean Jehovah's Witnesses are on vacation. Rather they will be attending 15 hours of Bible study, which will include the ministry school, service meeting, Bible lecture and Watchtower Study, which are customarily held locally," reported Regal.

The highlight of the assembly will be Lester M. Dugan's discourse, "Law and Order — When and How?" Dugan has been a minister of Jehovah's Witnesses since 1932 when he was ordained.

Since then he has served as a traveling minister since 1947 and as a district supervisor since 1959. He has had considerable experience in managing large assemblies of Jehovah's Witnesses, serving as department head at the International Assembly in New York City where 252,000 attended, Regal said.

All local activities will resume Tuesday, March 18, at the Kingdom Hall, 17th and Coffee.

FUR HEAVEN'S SAKE

MILAN, Italy (UPI)—A husband does not have to pay for his wife's fur coats, a Milan court ruled.

The court ordered Mrs. Gabriella Sorgato to pay 3,737,000 lire ($5,980) she owed a furrier. It ruled her husband, Giulio Sorgato, had no obligation to pay because a wife's debts are binding on the husband only if they are contracted "to meet the needs of the family."

NEW CENTER — Pictured is an architect's model of the new visitor's center to be erected this summer in historic Nauvoo, Ill., by the Nauvoo Restoration, Inc., a non-profit corporation sponsored by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon). Nauvoo was founded by Mormons in 1839.

GROUND BREAKING IN MAY

Church Plans To Construct Center In Historic Nauvoo

SALT LAKE CITY — A further step in making historic

Nauvoo, Ill., a noted tourist mecca was taken with the announcement recently of construction of a new imposing two-story Visitors Center scheduled to begin this summer.

The announcement was made by Dr. O. LeRoy Kimball, president and chairman of Nauvoo Restoration, Incorporated, a non-profit corporation sponsored by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon).

Groundbreaking is scheduled for May 24, with prominent national and Church officials participating.

The two-story structure, 155 foot square, will be constructed in red brick typical of other buildings of the Nauvoo period. It will be on a 16-acre plot at the intersections of Main St. and Young, Partridge and Hibbard Streets.

Planned for the new Visitors Center will be two theaters, a large library of data about Nauvoo, a lecture hall, lounges, and administrative offices, all designed to tell the historic story of the founding of Nauvoo by the Mormons in 1839. Many of the activities of the Saints in Nauvoo period of 1839-1846 will be recorded for tourists.

"The new Visitors Center will be on a site which provides a panoramic view of the restored community and the Mississippi River as it winds around the knoll the city is built on," says Dr. Kimball.

"In the Nauvoo Visitors Center we will orient the tourist to the city and show him a 30-minute film about Nauvoo and its history. After the film the visitors will board buses which will take them to the points of interest throughout the city."

Plans for the new Visitors Center were drawn by Steven T. Baird, Salt Lake City architect.

Dr. Kimball also discussed some plans for the further restoration of the old historic city of Nauvoo. These will include restoration of the Seventies Hall, shops of tanner, blacksmiths, wheelwrights, wagon makers and some of the more interesting and important trades of the day. He said tradesmen will actually be working in the shops using tools of the Nauvoo period.

Also under consideration is a partial restoration of the Nauvoo Temple on the original temple site. When it was completed, it was one of the most imposing structures in America. The partial restoration is planned for the near future.

Dr. Kimball said he envisions eventually construction of a Nauvoo Temple Square similar to the famed Salt Lake Temple Square.

Nauvoo is expected to attract nearly half a million tourists a year by 1974, he said. Nearly 150,000 visitors registered there last year.

Dr. Kimball explained that the new Visitors Center will greatly increase the tourist potential of Nauvoo, which will in turn provide opportunity to tell the story of the Mormons who built up the city under the Prophet Joseph Smith. At the peak of Mormon activities

Rev. Seago Sets Fear of Gospel Topic for Sunday

H. DeWitt Seago, pastor of First Methodist Church, has chosen as his sermon topic for Sunday morning, "Are We Afraid of the Gospel?" His Scriptural reference is from St. Matthew 23:16-25.

Two children's choirs will be featured at the 8:45 a.m. service, as the Carol and Concord choirs sing "Father, Teach Us How To Pray" by Florence Jolley, and "How Shall the Young Secure Their Hearts" by John Dahle.

Featured at the 11 a.m. service will be a vocal solo by Mrs. Malcolm S. McDaniel. She will sing, "Lord, How Long Will Thou Forget Me?" by Ranzini. The Sanctuary choir will sing the anthem: "Holy Art Thou" from the opera "Xerxes" by G. F. Handel.

Tracy Cary, organist, will play "My Heart is Filled With Longing" by J. S. Bach as a prelude and "Postlude in F Major" by Ashford as a postlude.

The moon does not disappear completely during an eclipse. The moon passes through the earth's shadow, which can't hide the moon completely.

Hager to Discuss Life's Newness

"Newness of Life" is the sermon topic for Rev. Martin Hager, First Presbyterian Church pastor, at both the 8:30 and 11 a.m. a.m. worship services this Sunday. Rev. Hager will use Romans 6:1-11 as his text. Ruling Elder Bill McDonald will serve as the pulpit assistant for both worship services.

At the 11 a.m. worship service, the Chancel Choir, under the direction of Mrs. William J. Mackey, will present the Anthem, "A Gladsome Hymn of Praise" by Lovelace. Mrs. Fidelia Yoder, church organist, will present "Thou Art Near" as the church Offertory.

At 4 p.m. the Communicant's Class will meet in Calvin Hall. The Junior High Fellowship will meet at the home of Susan Wilson, 2214 Aspen, at 5:30 p.m. The Senior Highs will meet at the Fel't's at 916 Christine at 6 p.m.

WHAT LENT MEANS TO ME

By W. H. TUKE

To me Lent is a period of sadness and mourning, yet a time to be humble and thankful. It is a time to meditate the agony, the horror and the sacrifice of the death of Jesus Christ. However, if we keep a good Lent we can fully appreciate the joy of Easter.

For some the Lenten season is a time to give up a pleasure or a luxury. This has great merit but for me, I prefer the opportunity to erase bad habits and replace them with good habits.

It is a period to concentrate on the patience, understanding, forgiveness, love and tolerance that Jesus displayed on the Cross. During Lent I especially try to be more tolerant, less critical of others and show more concern for the unfortunate.

The general confession in our prayer books states, "We have left undone those things which we ought to have done; and we have done those things which we ought not to have done; and there is no health in us."

Lent is a period to concentrate and practice things that we should be doing in an effort to develop habits which will build more character.

Our Bishop Quarterman has impressed on us the importance of discipline and duty during the Lenten season. Lent can be a kind of moral New Year. If we can keep our resolutions for six weeks, perhaps we can keep them for the rest of the year. At least our moral character will be strengthened.

To me Lent means a period to be spent in meditation, discipline, self improvement and to be more understanding. It is an opportunity to live a better life on this earth and to prepare for the life in the world to come.

Nazarenes Plan Area Convention

Nazarene church school leaders and pastors of congregations are expected to take part in a two-day Church School Convention to be held at the First Church of the Nazarene in Plainview on Thursday and Friday, March 20-21.

Rev. Charles Spicer, pastor of the local Church of the Nazarene, will attend from Pampa.

A similar convention for Nazarene churches in the eastern part of the West Texas district will be held at Wichita Falls on Monday and Tuesday, March 17-18.

Both conventions are sponsored by the West Texas district which has 99 Nazarene churches. Dr. Lyle E. Eckley, Lubbock, district superintendent, said he expects all of the churches on the district to take part in one or the other convention.

A leading speaker will be Dr. Kenneth Rice, Kansas City, Mo., executive secretary of the Department of Church Schools. He will speak Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

One emphasis of the convention will be directed toward the finding and training of new teachers to help handle increased enrollments in Nazarene Sunday schools. The denominational goal is 33,000 new teachers.

Dr. Rice will head a group of 11 visiting leaders in church school work, the majority from denominational offices in Kansas City, Mo.

Czechs Have 18 Church Groups

PRAGUE (UPI) — Eighteen churches are recognized and allowed in Czechoslovakia, according to the Socialist party newspaper Svobodne Slovo.

Largest is the Roman Catholic Church, followed by the Czechoslovak Church, which was founded in 1920 as a reform movement within the Roman Catholic Church and now claims about 500,000 members.

Protestant churches include the Czech Brethren (reunited Calvinists and Lutherans after 1918), with 260,000 members; the Church of Brethren, 15,000; the Silesian Lutheran Church (no figures available); the Methodist Church, 8,000, and the Slovak Evangelical Church with 400,000 followers.

Other small church groups are the Seventh Day Adventists, Baptists, Unitarians, Old Catholics, Christian Assemblies, the New Apostolic Church and the Jewish religious community.

Scientists to Study 'Substance' Sermon

"Will God indeed dwell on the earth? behold, the heaven and heaven of heavens cannot contain thee; how much less this house that I have builded?"

This verse from I Kings is part of a Bible Lesson-Sermon titled "Substance" to be read this Sunday at First Church of Christ, Scientist.

One of the selections to be read from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is:

"The everlasting I AM is not bounded nor compressed within the narrow limits of physical humanity, nor can He be understood aright through mortal concepts. The precise form of God must be of small importance in comparison with the sublime question, What is infinite Mind or divine Love?"

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

REV. J. W. DOKE
FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH
"NO ONE CALLS ON ME"

This complaint is perhaps the one most often made by disgruntled members of a congregation. They may be referring to the minister, or various members, or the whole congregation.

They often continue: Everyone visited me before I joined. Now that I am a member they have stopped. It looks as if all that they wanted was my name on the church roll and my money . . .

It is evangelistic calling that is urged in the Bible. Our association with a church is far more than "name on the roll." The Bible states that the church is Christ's body (Ro. 12:5; 1 Cor. 2:27; Eph. 5:23). Therefore, your relationship with the Church is, in fact, your relationship in the body of Christ.

In the early Church new members didn't sit at home waiting for someone to visit. They themselves had to go "into all the world." This responsibility of these early Christians is ours also. You heard of Christ's salvation, and of his body, the Church, because someone else told you of it. Now it is up to you to tell others! You receive no calls? You don't need them! You have heard the Good News of Christ and have united with his Body.

The folks who first called on you with the news of the Church now have a right to expect you to join them in making calls on yet others outside of Christ! The Lord demanded this in his last instructions when he said to us, "Go therefore and make disciples of all nations" (Matthew 28:19). How can you or I sit home waiting, when so many are lost around us? Calling is a two way street. You say that this member who called twice before you joined hasn't called since. Tell me, how many calls have you made in his home?

Friendship and fellowship were not the only reasons why you united with the church. Fellowship is important and it is enjoyable. But church membership also deals with salvation and the worship of God and our service for Christ. There are those who actually withdraw from the church life because they do not like the preacher, or someone slighted them, or they were not made to feel welcome.

We do not join the preacher! We do not merely join other members. We are added to Christ.

If you base your salvation on your minister, then you should leave if he fails. But if your salvation is based on Christ, the pastor's weakness or another's failure to speak, or any human shortcoming will never cause you to cut yourself off from the Lord.

Someone passed you on the street without speaking? Why didn't you speak? For those who love Christ, calls and continual attention are not of vast importance. They will see the need that others have for their Lord. Their hearts will ache for the lostness of men.

What is so important about a call on me when so many others are without salvation? Is time spent in my home by callers as vital as the unending tasks for the Kingdom of God that need to be done, and that all should be doing?

My Christian friend, the next time you hear (or say), "No one calls," remember these thoughts. Perhaps you can remind the speaker (or yourself) that there is more membership in Christ's body than constant attention by others. It is to us today that the Savior says, "Go!" It is to the lost that we are sent. You were lost, but now are found.

Don't plead for visits. Go visiting!

Our Capsule Policy

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Firm Stand At Notre Dame

Students at Notre Dame, University at South Bend, Ind., have been told what to expect if they resort to violence in a campus confrontation with the administration, the police — or anybody else.

The word was: Immediate suspension — maybe expulsion — from the university community. It was delivered by the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburg, C.S.C., president of the university, in simple, forceful language.

In a letter addressed to Notre Dame faculty and students after a campus demonstration in mid-February, Father Hesburg expressed the official position of the university on student-faculty violence as a means to attain an end. In one word, the position was: abhorrence.

Father Hesburg said he has discussed the matter with many student and faculty leaders of university life and that he believed he had a mandate from the community to see that:

"1) Our lines of communication between all segments of the community are kept as open as possible, with all legitimate means of communicating dissent assured, expanded and protected; 2) civility and rationality are maintained as the most reasonable means of dissent within the academic community; and 3) violation of others' rights or obstruction of the life of the university are outlawed as illegitimate means of dissent in this kind of open society. Violence was especially deplored as a violation of everything the university community stands for."

The letter continued: "Now comes my duty of stating clearly and unequivocally what happens if... May I begin by saying that all of this is hypothetical and I personally hope it never happens here at Notre Dame. But if it does, any one or any group that substitutes force for rational persuasion, be it violent or non-violent, will be given 15 minutes of meditation to cease and desist."

"They will be told that they are, by their actions, going counter to the overwhelming conviction of this community as to what is proper here. If they do not within that time period cease and desist, they will be asked for their identity cards... Those who do not have or will not produce identity cards will be assumed not to be members of the community and will be charged with trespassing and disturbing the peace on private property and treated accordingly by the law."

Judgements on the degree of violations will be made by the dean of students, Father Hesburg said, adding: "After notification of suspension, or trespass in the case

Whose Hand On Skillet?

Turnabout is fair play in the battle of the sexes as in any other kind. If women can invade fields once considered the domain of men, men can counterattack in areas once considered "women's work."

At one university, one such battleground is the home economics department. Bowling Green (Ohio) State University is experiencing an increase in the number of men taking home economics courses and even has one student — a 200-pound tackle on the football team — majoring in the subject.

Home Ec., of course, is not the bake-a-cake, sew-on-buttons business it once was. Modern Home Ec courses fit into the requirements for certain other majors.

Nutritionists are often biochemists. The fields of family and child development reach into areas of psychology and involve more men than women.

of non-community members, if there is not then within five minutes a movement to cease and desist, students will be notified of expulsion from this community and the law will deal with them as non-students. "Most universities are subjected, willy-nilly, to such intimidation and victimization whatever their goodwill in the matter? Somewhere a stand must be made."

"I only ask that when the stand is made necessary by those who would destroy the community and all its basic yearning for great and calm educational opportunity, let them carry the blame and the penalty. No one wants the forces of law on this or any other campus, but if some necessitate it, as a last and dismal alternative to anarchy and mob tyranny, let them shoulder the blame instead of receiving the sympathy of a community they would hold at bay. The only alternative I can imagine is turning the majority of the community loose on them and then you have two mobs. I know of no one who would opt for this alternative — always lurking in the wings."

"... We can't allow a small minority to impose their will on the majority who have spoken regarding the university's style of life; we can't allow a few to substitute force of any kind for persuasion to accept their personal idea of what is right and proper. We only insist on the rights of all, minority and majority, the climate of civility and rationality and a preponderant moral abhorrence of violence or inhuman forms of persuasion that violate our style of life and nature of the university."

There is no divine assurance that the university will survive as we have known and cherished it — but we do commit ourselves to make the effort and count on this community, in this place, to uphold the efforts that you have inspired by your clear expression to community concern.

"I truly believe that we are about to witness a revolution on the part of... the general public for much that is happening in higher education today. If I read the signs of the times correctly, this may well lead to a suppression of the liberty and autonomy that are the lifeblood of a university community. It may well lead to a rebirth of fascism, unless we, ourselves, are ready to take a stand for what is right for us... History is not consoling in this regard. We rule ourselves or others rule us, in a way that destroys the university as we have known and loved it."

We hope Father Hesburg's formula works.

EAGLE ROCK — Television opened new paths in the world of music. It permits female singers a range from high C to very low V.

My wife wanted a lavallere for her birthday. But when I got to the store, I forgot what to ask for. But, fortunately, I spotted a salesgirl wearing one. "What do you call those things?" I asked, pointing, "and where do you get them?" "Falsies," she replied with a flaming blush. "Try lingerie, third floor."

In a sense, Governor Wallace was the victor in the last election. He received over nine million votes. That means that OVER NINE MILLION Americans voted against secret government by the stooges of the Council on Foreign Relations. When you consider that this was the first time Americans have had a chance to vote for someone who wasn't picked out for them by our secret government, it was an enormous step forward.

Looks like the Democrats are still ahead in the matrimonial sweepstakes. Nixon's daughter got Ike's pretty, curly-headed grandson, but Jackie got Onassis.

A LOOK AT THE BOOK

By DR. BOB JONES

Choose Ye This Day

"God is on our side," said the counsellor to the statesman. "I am not eager to have God upon my side," he replied. "My concern is to be sure that I am on God's side." The man who takes his place upon the side of Almighty God is the man who chooses victory and immortality. "He that doeth the will of God abideth forever" (1 John 2:17). God's plan shall be perfected. God's will shall be performed. "The battle is the Lord's" (1 Samuel 17:47). The triumph shall be His and the man who puts himself on the side of the Conqueror will share in the glory of the conquest.

The man who does God's will has at his command all the omnipotence of Deity. Charles Haddon Spurgeon, the great preacher, declared once,

"Luther's strength lay in the way in which he laid the burden of the Reformation on the Lord. Continually in prayer he pleaded, 'Lord, this is Thy cause, not mine. Therefore, do Thy own work: for if this Gospel does not prosper, it will not be Luther alone who will be a loser, but Thine own name will be dishonored.'"

Queen Elizabeth once said to a merchant whom she sent abroad in her service and who was worried about what would happen to his business in his absence, "You mind my business and I will mind yours." The man who is busy about God's business most successfully takes care of his own. The life that is successful is the life that joins itself to the program of God. Our prayer should not be for God to go with us but rather for grace to go with Him. Enoch did not choose a path and invite God to join him. Enoch sought out the direction in which God was going and joined himself to Deity. Enoch walked with God. It is not the business of the servant to plan the journey. It is not the business of the soldier to order the campaign. It is the servant's business to follow the master and the business of the soldier to obey the orders given him by his commanding officer. The successful life is the life planned and directed by God.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Vitamin E Intake Not Cause of Itching

Q—Taking vitamin E daily has given me such relief from the arthritis in my fingers but could this vitamin cause a severe itching on my arms? I am also taking Salutensin for high blood pressure.

A—Recent studies indicate that vitamin E eliminates the side effects from taking the cortisone-like drugs. It would not cause your itching but the Salutensin might.

Q—How long should I continue to take mephenesin and Butazolidin for arthritis? Which is better for arthritis pain — an infrared heat lamp or an ice cap? Is cranberry juice of any value for arthritis? Will walking make my arthritis worse?

A—Have your physician work out the smallest maintenance dose of mephenesin that helps you, then continue to take it indefinitely unless side effects (drowsiness, dizziness, headache or weakness) develop. Butazolidin is a more powerful drug and must be taken under careful supervision because it may cause waterlogging, a skin rash, vomiting or other unpleasant reactions.

Heat is usually preferred to cold packs but recent studies indicate that massaging the involved joints with ice cubes helps some victims. No item of diet has any special beneficial effect on arthritis. Walking should be restricted if the joints of the lower extremities are very painful. An arthritic joint can be exercised too much as well as too little. The right amount in each case must be decided by a physician after carefully considering individual factors.

Q—I have heard that there is a plastic hip operation for arthritis. Can they guarantee the results? What do you think of the shots they give in the joints for arthritis?

A—There are several operations for arthritic joints. In selected cases, the results are often remarkable but in the practice of medicine and surgery the results can never be guaranteed. One of the chief reasons for this is that no doctor can guarantee the full co-operation of his patient. Injections of hydrocortisone into an arthritic joint often give complete relief. The injections must, however, be repeated at varying intervals.

The Nation's No. 1 Killer

By PAUL HARVEY
After generations of miners have breathed bituminous coal dust and some of them have been suffering from it, suddenly it's a federal case. Why?

40,000 miners in West Virginia have always known about the disease which results from breathing coal dust, pneumoconiosis. They call it "black lung." Symptoms are shortness of breath, heavy breathing.

Now, all at once, West Virginia's miners are refusing to work, demanding that the management or the state or the federal government do something about black lung.

It is VISTA antipoverty volunteers who triggered this strike, focusing attention on the hazard, dramatizing the danger.

Now the West Virginia Black Lung Assn. is collecting money from the miners, mobilizing demonstrations, demanding more benefits for stricken miners.

State legislators, unwilling to "take sides against sick men," have hastened to approve increased pensions for victims of black lung.

The federal government is considering tough new health and safety laws.

Neither is this column going to "take sides against sick men." West Virginia has quite enough uninvited outside advisors advising.

But I confess some consternation at the newsreel pictures of striking miners smoking cigarettes.

Here we have the irony of a man surfacing from the mine, lighting a cigarette and protesting, "Management is making me breathe bad air!"

This, of course, is just one example of the manner in which we are all inclined to expose ourselves to health hazards voluntarily.

A Senate labor subcommittee is considering appropriating money for researching a cure for black lung. Announcing the hearings, Sen. Harrison Williams (D. N. J.) said, "The trouble with the United States is that it 'overreacts' after tragedies, rather than providing sufficient preventive efforts."

I did not call the recent headlines from West Virginia "overreaction"; he did.

I hope the fur results in reduction or elimination of the hazard, if that is possible. But "providing sufficient preventive efforts" in this one instance, while neglecting whole cities gasping for air, is a Band-Aid for a cancer.

Any time an employer fails to provide us with pure air to breathe, we are ready to fight. Yet voluntarily we contaminate the air we breathe with an assortment of tars and toxics.

We drink and smoke and speed and stunt airplanes and climb mountains and hunt lions and ski precipitous slopes.

Yet if the plant manager allows one unguarded band saw in the factory, we'll shut him down!

I wonder if we will ever become righteously indignant about our nation's number-one killer — ourselves.

Question Box

QUESTION: What are the specific provisions of the Liberty Amendment? Which states have ratified it?

ANSWER: The proposed Liberty Amendment provides:

"Sec. 1. The Government of the United States shall not engage in any business, professional, commercial, financial or industrial enterprise except as specified in the Constitution."

"Sec. 2. The constitution or laws of any state, or the laws of the United States shall not be subject to the terms of any foreign or domestic agreement which would abrogate this amendment."

"Sec. 3. The activities of the United States Government which violate the intent and purposes of this amendment shall, within a period of three years from the date of the ratification of this amendment, be liquidated and the properties and facilities affected shall be sold.

"Sec. 4. Three years after the ratification of this amendment the 16th article of the amendments to the Constitution shall stand repealed and thereafter Congress shall not levy taxes on personal incomes, estates, and—or gifts."

The proposed amendment is not yet up for ratification. Seven states have adopted resolutions, asking Congress to support the amendment which would require submission to the states either by a constitutional convention or by vote of both houses of Congress, and then ratification by three-fourths of the states. States which have approved the resolution are: Wyoming, Texas, Nevada, Louisiana, Georgia, South Carolina and Mississippi.

THE GLOBAL VIEW

Tunisia's Bourguiba: Voice Of Reason in the Mideast

By LEON DENNEN

Foreign News Analyst
NEW YORK (NEA)—In the volatile Middle East conflict there is still time for objectivity and moderation despite the escalation of Arab terrorism.

Another round of a major Arab-Israeli conflict imminent—or inevitable—as those now pushing for an "imposed peace" by the great powers seem to believe.

These are some of the conclusions reached by Samuel Merlin, director of the Institute for Mediterranean Affairs in New York, who has a new book entitled "The Search for Peace in the Middle East."

President Nixon's foreign policy advisers and the Russians—if they really want to stave off a second wave of warfare—will do well to read carefully Merlin's study of the complex political, social and cultural problems that keep the Middle East in perpetual turmoil.

Although a citizen of Israel and a former member of Jerusalem's parliament (Knesset), Merlin sees the Arab statesman, Tunisia's President Habib Bourguiba, as one of the Moslem leaders likely to hold the key to Arab-Israeli negotiations.

Not that Bourguiba knows the secret of instant diplomacy. An Arab nationalist, he can hardly be suspected of pro-Israeli sympathies. But he is one of an influential group of Moslem leaders who counsel moderation in the Middle East.

Unlike President Nasser of Egypt, he believes the conception of a Pan-Arab nation stretching from the Persian Gulf to the Atlantic is an illusion. "Arabism," in Bourguiba's view, will succeed only after it casts off "its backward-looking, negative and destructive forces" and turns to a progressive and humanistic vision blended with Western civilization.

Bourguiba startled the militant Arab leaders in 1965 when, during a tour of the Middle East, he told a gathering in Jordan that the existence of Israel is a fact of life and a historic reality.

He also told the Palestinian refugees: "The policy of all or nothing brought us only defeat in Palestine and the sad situation in which we find ourselves today."

He warned that it was a grave error to reject compromise.

Nasser castigated Bourguiba as a "traitor" and Tunisia was eventually forced to resign from the Arab League.

But Tunisia's president, despite repeated attempts on his life by Arab terrorists, continues to advocate a policy of moderation in the Middle East.

His cautious offer of his good offices to bring together representatives of Israel and Palestinian Arabs for peace negotiations has so far not been heeded, Merlin says, adding, "But the day may not be far off when both parties will avail themselves of this opportunity."

In Merlin's view, enlightened Moslem statesmen like Bourguiba, in co-operation with the Moslem leaders of Iran and Turkey, are in a much better position to influence moderate Arabs in Egypt and Jordan than the big powers or even the United Nations.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Wright Investors' Service cautions investors against rushing into the market at this point, although "commitments may now be made very selectively in high-quality, proven growth stocks." The firm points out that large stocks still exist. These can be accounted for in part, the firm says, by observing that during inflationary periods almost all corporations show good profits, but "the greatest profit improvements during those periods are usually produced by companies which under poorer economic conditions are only marginally profitable."

Goodbody & Co. points out economic conditions are only marginally profitable. Goodbody & Co. points out that "business news—liberally sprinkled with price-hike announcements—continues to be bullish." Nevertheless, the firm notes, the market continues to remain in suspense "as to what monetary restraints of disinflation will be applied next and when and to what degree the brakes will start to grab." A conservative investment course is wisest at present, the firm feels.

E.F. Hutton & Co. notes that institutional activity recently has been more along the lines of switching than aggressive buying. Fractional changes recorded at the close for the most active issues attest to a near balance between buying and selling pressures, the firm says.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Nixon Administration has embraced the idea that the cities need higher quality education than the suburbs. It has embraced the idea, but is not yet ready to put up the money required to make urban schools superior to those in surrounding, wealthier communities.

The inhibiting factor is the same which kept the Johnson Administration from fully living up to the promise of a breakthrough in federal aid to the education of the poor: THE Vietnam War. Although former President Johnson kept insisting that the nation could afford guns and butter, the fact is that the cost of fighting in Vietnam put severe limitations on spending for domestic programs. Because of those limitations, Johnson skipped a major leap forward in education spending for the poor, one which would have helped urban schools leap-frog in quality.

Not once since the 1965 law was passed providing for federal aid to elementary and secondary schools has Congress put up all the money promised in the legislation. White House requests consistently fell short of the goals. In testimony before the House Education and Labor Committee this week, Secretary Robert H. Finch of the Health, Education and Welfare Department (HEW) endorsed "wholeheartedly" the concept that "urban education must be made superior to suburban education

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Some television shows, like "Laugh-In" or "Peyton Place," make a big splash and get lots of publicity. And of course a network likes that. But probably nothing brings more peace of mind, more contentment, to a network than those quiet series that just roll along year after year, delivering the ratings with no fuss, little temperament and sure-handed construction.

Lawrence Welk's show on ABC-TV is, for example, one of those quiet series. Aside from the fact that it is very professionally done, many intellectuals who poke fun at the maestro probably don't like to think that the income from Welk's program helps ABC-TV put on its better specials. "My Three Sons," on CBS-TV, is another quiet, long-running hit, with Fred MacMurray quietly going through his lines, and the whole series so expertly harmless that one sometimes forgets it is even on the air—until the ratings come in. "Family Affair," also on CBS-TV, is another show that is rapidly developing into a quiet old reliable. It has been right smack in the middle of a well-publicized Monday night lineup—with "Gunsmoke," Lucille Ball, "Mayberry R.F.D." and Carol Burnett the other entries—yet it has its own delicate, soft-shoe way that has captured a huge audience.

One of the real sleepers on television is NBC-TV's "Daniel Boone," on Thursday nights, kicking off a highly successful network lineup that also includes "Ironside," "Dragnet" and the Dean Martin Show.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Eleanor Roosevelt's portrait is the latest to be shunted to a lesser place of honor in the White House. A painting of the former first lady that used to hang on the wall outside the state dining room has been moved to the East Lobby on the ground floor. A portrait of President Herbert C. Hoover now has a prominent place on the wall of the red-carpeted staircase leading to the grand foyer.

PAT ATTENDS CIRCUS
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Pat Nixon went to a "command performance" of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus Thursday afternoon with 6,000 underprivileged children. Mrs. Nixon, wearing a canary yellow white-trimmed coat, walked into the packed arena and was greeted with the roar of wildly squealing children. When the curtain went up, Mrs. Nixon found herself holding several sticks of cellophane wrapped pink cotton candy, which she handed out to the little orphan children, and she was surrounded by tots, mostly black, who kept her busy opening their Cracker Jack boxes.

Education Today

By FREDERICK H. TREESH
United Press International
Suddenly you're a school superintendent confronted with evidence that the use of drugs is spreading in your junior and senior high schools. What are you going to do? Have the police warn of the legal consequences? Call in doctors to tell horror stories of the ravages of drugs on mind and body? Ask teachers and parents to moralize about drugs?

Turn Off Students
Chances are any of these approaches will turn off the students you are trying to keep from turning on. Threats or sermons rarely reach today's teen-agers.

As awareness of the magnitude of the drug problem grows, school officials in tree-lined suburbia as well as urban districts realize the dilemma they face. There is no proven effective way to communicate about drugs. But there is a new approach that may hold promise. It employs the gaming and simulation technique that has had stunning success in motivating previously unteachable students. And it requires students to make decisions about drugs without threats or sermons.

15-Hour Course
Lockheed Missiles and Space Co. has developed a 15-hour course called "Drug Decision" that puts teen-agers in the role of crisis managers. In dazzling multi-media sound and color, they see, in effect, a drug disaster threaten to overwhelm their own community.

The student is given the facts he needs to know about the physiological and psychological effects of a variety of drugs, the nature of narcotics traffic and the probable results of the options open to him. The information does not come in lecture form. It is presented by actors and animation in multi-media motion pictures and slides projected simultaneously on three screens. "We specifically are avoiding the emotional or 'preachy' approach to the narcotics problem," said Dr. Rudolph C. Plowth, Lockheed's manager of educational systems in Sunnyvale, Calif. "Research has convinced us such an approach may alienate students more than it informs them."

West Texas State Plays Tonight In NIT

By MIKE WESTER
CANYON, Tex. (UPI)—Dennis Walling, who took over the faltering West Texas State University basketball club two years ago, does not like to waste time.
Therefore, in those two short years, he has built the Buffaloes into the team that will plunge into the National Invitation Tournament tonight.
Walling has taken a club to New York that can fast break with the best, but one that can also put the ball on ice when it feels it must. It will be the first time the Buffaloes have been in a post-season tournament since 1942.

"The school played in the NIT 27 years ago and was billed as the world's tallest team," Walling said. "This year we probably could be billed as the world's smallest—our tallest boy is only 6-foot-6."
"We feel we have a real good chance. We're not over optimistic, but we're not scared either."

Walling said he didn't think height would be such a major factor in the tournament.
"Three-fourths of the teams entered are Eastern teams, and they like to run and shoot. This is our type of game, too, so we feel we can stay in the game with them. It certainly encourages us."
Walling is completing his second year at the helm of West Texas State basketball. After a 10-11 record last year, the Buffs will enter the tourney with a 18-7 mark—giving Walling a 28-18 record for two years of rebuilding.

The current won-lost record is the school's best since the 1951-52 team posted a 19-9 mark.
"When I came to West Texas State from Dallas Baptist College, the Buffs had just completed a 1-19 season," Walling said. "I (brought a couple junior college boys and picked up a few freshmen, and they began to mold quickly into the team we now have."

West Texas State hopes to capture its 700th victory during the tourney. The Buffs will be finishing their 49th season of basketball. The school's record of 696-423.
Walling's wonders won't lack for credentials when the ball is pitched for the tipoff, however.

Simmie Hill, 6-6 center, heads the team which Walling calls an eight-man unit.
Hill, of Midland, Pa., winds up a two-year career at West Texas State during which he has scored 1,171 points—third highest in the school's history.
Hill set a West Texas State single season scoring record of 573 points as a junior and bettered that total with 598 points this year. His 27.3 points a game average last year also is a team record.
Walling said he planned no changes in the team before tonight's game.

"We won 18 tough games with our present style of run and shoot ball," Walling said. "We'll just continue it. We try to go out and during the first few minutes feel out our opponent. Then, we will adjust accordingly."
"We'll do whatever we have to do to win. And, being able to adjust during the game to our opponent will make us a better tournament team."

Cubs Could Make Big Move in '69

Banks Durocher
CHICAGO, NL WEST
Prospectus — After finishing third the last two seasons, Leo Durocher says this is the year for the big push. His Cubs have the hitting and the defense, and the pitching is getting better every year. To top it off, they have some blue-chip rookies waiting in the wings. If everything jells, Cubs could be bigger surprise this year than they were in '67 (when they came out of nowhere to take the NL lead for awhile).

PITCHING — Ferguson Jenkins has two straight 20-win seasons behind him and will be shooting for a third. Bill Hands came into his own last season as a starter, and Ken Holtzman figures to improve on a disappointing season. Rich Nye could wind up as a spot starter and Phil Regan and ageless Ted Abernathy hold down the bullpen.
Rating: B.

CATCHING — Randy Hundley has developed into one of the finest young catchers in the game (and a good hitter, too), but backup support is thin. Promising Bill Plummer was traded to Reds. Rating: C.

INFIELD — Ernie Banks keeps rolling along (32 homers last season) and remains a fixture at first base. Youngsters Glenn Beckert (second) and Don Kessinger (short) form one of quickest double-play combos in baseball. At third, there's Ron Santo, who hits with power and consistency and is inspirational leader.
Rating: A.

OUTFIELD — Durocher is still waiting for Adolpho Phillips to put it all together (he hits brilliantly in streaks, then falls off to nothing for weeks). Meanwhile, Billy Williams (98 RBIs) is set for one outfield spot and Al Spangler possibly for another. Two rookies, however, could wind up in starting outfield. Rating: B.

ROOKIES TO WATCH — Durocher claims he has a flock of them. Top one is Jim Dunegan, 21-year-old, who hits with power.
Predicted Finish: 3rd in West.

LONG STRETCH — Pampa's John Jenkins makes the long stretch against Borger in the Harvesters' season opener. Pampa was in Anadarko, Okla. today.

Harvesters Falter, Eye Indians Next

By RON CROSS
Borger had a little bit of luck and Pampa didn't have any at all Thursday in Borger as the Bulldogs ruined the Harvesters' 1969 baseball opener.
Borger sailed through a trio of Pampa pitchers and a leaky defense to pelt the Harvesters, 10-1 before a chilled crowd of about 127.
Pampa left early this morning for Oklahoma where they meet Anadarko in a twinbill today with the first game getting underway at noon Saturday the teams will play either a single game or doubleheader, depending on the weather.
It was easy to tell that the indoor workouts the Harvesters had been forced to take the past two weeks hadn't helped any.
The hitting was off, the pitching was off, and the fielding was off. Pampa managed only three hits off a pair of Borger pitchers, three Pampa pitchers gave up eight walks and the Harvesters had four errors.
Mark Graves went five innings for the Bulldogs and was touched for all three Pampa hits and one unearned run.
Junior Steve Layton finished up and gave up no hits.

Senior Dan Carlton started on the mound for Pampa and was touched for six runs, four of them earned in two and a third in innings. Sophomore Ricky Harris pitched two outs in the third and did well and junior Doug Thompson pitched the last three innings and the Bulldogs pushed across four runs, three of them earned.

Pampa drew first blood in the first inning when right fielder Mike Stephens singled.

'Rabbit' Ball Killed By Tigers In 4-1 Win

By United Press International
In an attempt to restore some bounce to the game'sputtering offense, a "rabbit" ball with 10 per cent more recoil is being tested during a few exhibition games. Known as I-X, the ball has a new rubber core that supposedly enables it to travel farther.
The experimental ball was tried for the first time Thursday and resulted in a quick killing when a pack of Tigers pounced on the defenseless rabbit. Aided by three home runs, a double and a triple, the Detroit Tigers beat the New York Mets 7-4 at Lakeland, Fla.

San Francisco got into a festive mood for the rabbit ball one day early as National League home run champion Willie McCovey signed a two-year contract estimated at $85,000 per and Willie Mays ripped a 430-foot, three-run double to give the Giants a 4-1 victory over the San Diego Padres.

The Seattle Pilots won a doubleheader Thursday. Their first team rallied for three runs off Hoyt Wilhelm in the eighth inning and a 7-6 decision over the Angels and their B squad tripped an Oakland unit 3-2.

Cleveland and Washington continued on their current streaks, the Indians stretching their winning string to four games with a 7-0 shutout over the Chicago Cubs and the Senators dropping their seventh in a row by a 3-2 count to Baltimore.
In other camps, Bill Sudakis singled across Tom Hutton in the 10th inning to give the Los Angeles Dodgers a 6-5 triumph over the Boston Red Sox; Joe Keough had four hits and Luis Alcarad drove in three runs in highlighting a 7-1 Kansas City victory over the New York Yankees; St. Louis beat Philadelphia 5-3 as Mike Sahnnon doubled twice and singled and Vada Pinson tripled and homered; rookie outfielder Chuck Manuel singled across the winning run in the 10th inning for a 3-2 Minnesota triumph over Cincinnati; Bob Bailey and John Bateman hit back-to-back homers as the Montreal Expos walloped the Houston Astros 8-2; and the Chicago White Sox handed Atlanta a 4-1 loss as Carlos May drove in three runs.

Four Gain Tie For First After 1st Round of Monsanto

PENSACOLA, Fla. (UPI)—It may sound like a broken record; but old Mr. Runnerup himself, the almost-but-never Tommy Aaron, is tied for the lead in another golf tournament.
As incredible as it's beginning to sound, Aaron, who has often led in every round but the final ones during his nine frustrating years on the PGA tour, went into today's second round of the $100,000 Monsanto Open locked in a four-way tie with U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino, Australian Bruce Campion and young Larry Hinson.

All four shot 4-under-par 67s Thursday over the Bayside Pensacola Country Club course for a one-stroke lead over a half dozen 68 shooters, including 49-year-old Julius Boros, Dick Sikes, Dick Crawford, Jim Grant, Grier Jones and Richard Martinez.
Doug Sanders, who might have been this tournament's only three-time champion if he hadn't failed to sign that scorecard back in 1966, went into today's round two strokes behind the leaders after shooting a 69.

In the 2-under-par group with Sanders, who was decked out from head to toe in premature St. Patrick's Day green, were Jerry Abbott, Chris Blocker, Jim Colbert, Bill Garrett, Bob Stanton, Howie Johnson, Dale Douglass and Dudley Wysong.
Two-time champion Gary Brewer and South African Gary Player, making his first U.S. appearance in more than six months, headed the list at 70.

Defending champion George Archer had a 32 on his first nine Thursday but wound up with a 72—five strokes back, Ken Still, who won the Citrus last week, had a 73 and Tommy Shaw, who broke into the spotlight here last year, by leading the last two rounds, had a 71.
But the man who attracted the most comment with his name when his name appeared on the leader board was the 32-year-old Aaron.

OF GIRL SCOUTS

Mrs. Richard Nixon Accepts Presidency

Mrs. Richard M. Nixon has accepted the position of Honorary President of Girl Scouts of the United States of America, largest girls' organization of its kind in the world. "I shall be proud and happy to have my name listed as an honorary officer of this splendid organization," Mrs. Nixon wrote in accepting the post. "It will be a pleasure for me to be affiliated with the many fine young women participating in scouting programs." Mrs. Nixon's two daughters, Julie (Mrs. David Eisenhower) and Patricia have been Girl Scouts. She has said an effective way in which American women can help build a better society is through active participation in local programs of volunteer organizations. Of the 3,760,000 members of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., 600,000 are adult volunteers.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem may seem very petty to you, but it irritates me like you wouldn't believe. I have an 11-year-old daughter named "Rebecca," a beautiful biblical name which I have always loved. My problem is that everyone calls her "Becky." All her friends, her teachers, and even our relatives (knowing how much I hate that name) call her "Becky." I have told people right to their faces that my daughter's name is "Rebecca" and I would prefer that they address her correctly, but they call her "Becky" anyway. Please tell me what I can do besides correcting these people all the time. Thank you. REBECCA'S MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: Relax and don't make such a big deal out of it. A Rose by any other name is sometimes "Rosalie."

DEAR ABBY: Please, please print something in the paper for the benefit of people who invite friends over for an afternoon or evening and then let their small children wander in and out of the room. It's not that I do not like children. I do. I have three of my own, but when we invite people over we always get a sitter or arrange something for the kids to do, so they won't bother us or our guests. Then if someone expressly ASKS to see the kids (this seldom happens) we take him to see the kids for just a minute. When I go out for fun and relaxation, I don't care to be entertained by children. Mine or anybody else's. I don't think this problem is unique with me; but is there a tactful way to tell your hostess to please remove her child from the middle of a cocktail party. FED UP Auxiliary Members Plan to Purchase Cemetery Markers American Legion Auxiliary met recently in Mrs. Libby Shotwell's home, as members voted to purchase 12 bronze grave markers for veterans buried in Pampa cemeteries. In discussion of the May Poppy Sale, members agreed to order 1,500 veteran-made poppies for that sale. After the Council of Clubs report, the group voted to pay its pro rata share of the $16 for new carpet in City Hall Club Rooms. After minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Gladys Turner, Mrs. Shotwell gave the treasurer's report and said two needy veterans were helped recently. Cards were also sent to sick members. Mrs. Molly Butts, president, presided with Mrs. Katie Vincent leading prayer. After reports were given, the hostess served refreshments to Mmes. Estelle Wheeler, Katie Vincent, Mary Martin, Molly Butts and Gladys Turner. conversation piece, but let others do the talking. PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): You are almost certainly going to find people needing your emotional support Saturday. There are times like this when the most satisfactory experience of all is giving substantial help where it is really needed.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Anyone who has ever seen a John Wayne movie, or followed the exploits of Walter Brennan on television, knows that in the old days of the Wild West the lone prairie was teeming with bounty hunters.

These sagebrush entrepreneurs kept themselves in saloon money by tracking down two-legged varmints who had a price on their heads.

In some places, the bounty system was used to get rid of four-legged varmints as well.

The bounty hunter eventually wiped out most of the varmints in the wide open space. Then arose the problem of how to get rid of the bounty hunters.

Problem solved

That problem was solved by offering a bounty for bounty hunters. The bounty hunters soon wiped themselves out, and everyone west of the Pecos lived happily ever after.

I mention this bit of folklore because it now appears that the state of Maryland in about to revive the bounty system—but with a distinctly urban twist.

The state legislature is working on a bill that would a $10 bounty on abandoned automobiles. The bounty would be paid to anyone delivering a derelict vehicle to a junkyard. Assuming the plan is adopted, it will undoubtedly give rise to new breed of bounty hunters. And television will have material for seven or eight new adventure series.

I have in mind a reworking of the old "This Gun for Hire" theme. It might be called "This Tow Truck for Hire."

Fastest Hitch

The Hero is Johnny Uhaul, a Baltimore bounty hunter with a reputation for being the fastest hitch in the East. He once brought in a rusty Packard with three wheels missing, a feat that made his name a legend among scrap dealers on both shores of Chesapeake bay.

The thing that sets Johnny Uhaul apart from other bounty hunters is his personal code of honor. Not for him the easy life of Volkswagens pancaked on the freeways. Johnny Uhaul only goes after the tough ones.

In addition to the Packard, he has collected bounties on a Nash, a Hudson and a Studebaker.

The dramatic impact of this series springs from Uhaul's experiences while tracking down an Edsel reported to have been abandoned on a waterfront parking lot.

Senate Considers New Expiration For Inspections

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Texans have just over a month to get this year's safety inspection sticker on their cars. Next year—who knows?

A senate committee Wednesday approved a bill which would, if passed, allow for year-round expiration dates for inspection stickers. The stickers would expire one year from the date of the previous inspection. "This would schedule inspections—spread them out and get away from the long lines," a spokesman for the Department of Public Safety told the committee.

Sen. Jack Hightower of Vernon said he would propose an amendment during the full senate debate on the bill which would require the DPS to send out notices to vehicle owners when their safety inspection sticker was about to expire.

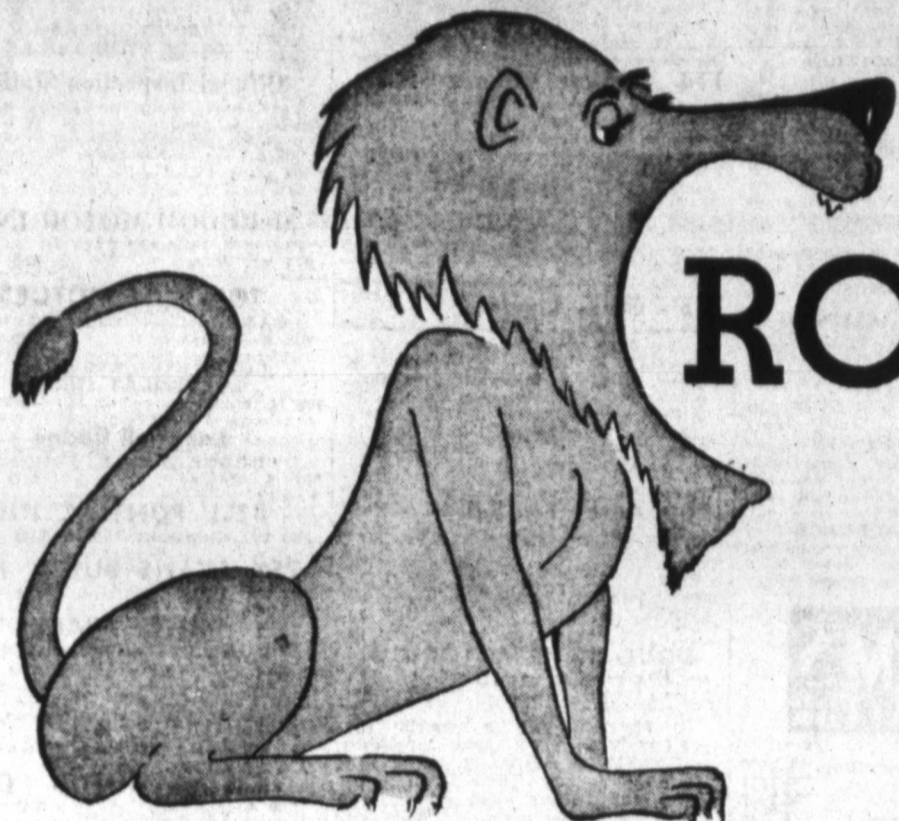

The bill would also increase the cost of the sticker to $2 and add antipollution devices to the list of items to be checked for an inspection sticker.
