Battle Begins Before Abrams Leaves Zone

SAIGON (UPI)—The heaviest fighting on guerrilla approaches to Saigon in 10 days erupted before Gen. Creighton W. Abrams' departure today for Bangkok to discuss war strategy with President Nixon.

In Bangkok, White House sources said the President

Police Use Dummy Trying To Catch Killer

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—Police put a bare department store mannequin in a wooded gully in hopes the killer of an 18-year-old university coed would return. But when a young man came to the scene he escaped the trap.

Washtenaw County Sheriff Douglas J. Harvey revealed the happenings of Saturday night in a Monday night news conference. He also promised "new information" regarding the slaying of the girl in the gully.

Harvey said a police stakeout team laid a department store mannequin in the wooded ravine where Karen Sue was found Saturday night—and that somebody came and fled.

A young man came on foot. He turned off Huron River Drive and looked into the leafy glade where the girl's body had been and the dummy now was. "There was a cry of 'halt' and plainclothes officers broke from the bushes. Whoever the stranger was, he was fast. He ran across the road and into the bushes and he got away," Harvey said.

"Yes, we did pull a trap—it didn't work."
There are five Michigan police agencies investigating the eight killings in the twin city university area, which includes the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor and Eastern Michigan University seven miles away at Ypsilanti. Karen Sue was a freshman at EMU, barely one month in residence.

would accompany his Vietnam commander and Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker back to the war capital for a brief visit Wednesday. Nixon's official spokesman would not confirm the report.

Spokesmen for Abrams' U.S. Military Command said at least 70 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese soldiers were killed in four clashes northwest of Saigon Monday—the heaviest combat in the capital's defense ring for 10 days.

Six GIs died and 51 suffered wounds in the fighting 28 to 35 miles from the city on a favorite guerrilla infiltration route from Cambodian bivouacs.

The Bangkok disclosure of Nixon's visit said he would arrive about noon, the same time 750 more U.S. 9th Infantry Division soldiers will be flying home under his plan to withdraw 25,000 men by September.

He would be the first President to visit the South Vietnamese capital. In two visits to Vietnam, former President Lyndon B. Johnson stopped at Cam Ranh Bay, a secure base on the central coast.

According to the White House sources in Bangkok, Mrs. Nixon will make the trip with the President, becoming the first First Lady to visit a war zone since Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt toured the South Pacific in the waning days of World War II. U.S. military sources in Saigon said Nixon, Bunker and Abrams would be discussing first and foremost the six-week lull in Communist attacks across Vietnam, something Abrams' command has interpreted as only temporary.

Ted's Probation Officer Will Treat Him Equal

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI)—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy can expect no special treatment while on probation, according to his probation officer.

Mrs. Edwin Tyra of Edgartown, probation officer of the Dukes County District Court, said Monday Kennedy "will be treated just like any other probationer."

Kennedy pleaded guilty Friday to leaving the scene of an auto accident in which a young secretary was killed on Chappaquiddick Island off Martha's Vineyard. He received a suspended two-month jail sentence and was placed on probation for a year. His driver's license also was suspended for a year.

Mrs. Tyra, a mother of two grown children, said she contacted Kennedy concerning his reporting dates. The dates are "a private matter and, just like anybody else, reached on an individual basis. I see no reason—and neither did he—why the senator would be any different," she said.

"He also has permission to leave the state at will, but that's not unusual" when a person has a job in another state, she added.

She said Kennedy may report "by letter, with a phone call or in person."

The 37-year-old Democratic whip has given no indication when he would decide whether to resign his Senate seat. In a television speech Friday night, Kennedy asked the voters of Massachusetts to help him make that decision.

He denied any "immoral conduct" with Miss Mary Jo Kopechne, 28, who was killed in the accident, and said he was not under the influence of alcohol when his car plunged off the bridge. But the resulting controversy prompted him to consider resigning, Kennedy said.

Mars Photos To Be Seen On TV Today

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Tiny Mariner 6 took pictures of Mars 58 million miles from earth today in a new American epic which a geneticist said could lead to the greatest breakthrough yet on the origin of human life.

The 850-pound unmanned spaceship recorded and stored television images of the planet every 37 minutes as it neared Mars after a flight lasting more than five months.

Mariner 6 obeys the command of the Caltech Jet Propulsion Laboratory on schedule, the pictures were to be transmitted to earth starting at 3:35 p.m. CDT this evening and flashed on home TV screens.

Dr. Norman Horowitz, Caltech biology professor and chief of the JPL Bioscience Section for the space probe, was super-cautious as to whether man will learn this year if Mars even has the environment to make some form of life possible.

"Mariner 6 and its twin spacecraft, Mariner 7, flying toward Mars five days behind it, carry not only cameras but instruments to measure Mars' temperature from its equator to its polar cap, the density and content of its atmosphere and the all-important presence or absence of water in liquid form."

Horowitz told UPI he would not hazard a guess at the greatest odds whether there is life on Mars but that the eventual knowledge "could be the greatest breakthrough in the history of genetics," he said.

DIDN'T BUDGE — Michael Flaherty, 19, 716 N. Nelson, found that the truck in this picture didn't budge when his car slammed into the rear of it. The accident happened at about 7:45 this morning in the 1300 block of Alcock. Flaherty was treated and released at Highland General Hospital.

Evidence Mounts: Moon's Seas Were Created By Lava, Dust

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—The evidence is mounting that the moon's great desert seas were created by lava spewed from a molten interior and later covered with rock dust and glass beads that probably fell like rain drops.

On the basis of preliminary findings from the Apollo 11 lunar expedition, Dr. Harold C. Grey, Nobel Prize-winning chemist, said he was reconsidering his idea of 20 years that the moon was a cold, dead body.

Scientists today turned to the start of a series of tests to try to help resolve one other nagging question about the moon—whether it harbors life.

Doctors working in the same Lunar Receiving Laboratory building where Apollo 11 astronauts Neil A. Armstrong, Michael Collins and Edwin E. Aldrin are living in quarantine prepared to expose lunar material to a colony of germ-free mice to see if they will be infected by any moon organisms.

The astronauts, scheduled to be released from their life of isolation Aug. 11, were spending their time in quarantine "porting" in detail on their flight, relaxing with an occasional ping pong game and watching television.

One telecast they watched Monday night was a 90-minute news briefing by 10 scientists reporting on the initial examination of more than two dozen rocks and two plugs of moon dirt brought back by Armstrong and Aldrin from the Sea of Tranquility.

Dr. Eugene A. Shoemaker, a lunar geologist from the California Institute of Technology, said he was convinced the astronauts' landing site and all the other seas on the moon were formed by great lava outpourings.

"The evidence is overwhelming that the maria (seas) are built up by lava flows," Shoemaker said. He said Apollo's rock samples contained gas bubbles like those found on

Top News In Brief

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says that if Republicans don't accept his plan for a short extension coupled with tax reform, the income tax surcharge will be dead "at 12 o'clock midnight, Thursday next."

Additional rains of up to one-half inch fell late Monday on areas of the mid-Atlantic states hit by up to six inches of precipitation Sunday and Monday. Storm-tossed waters of Lake Michigan claimed three lives and three persons died on rain-swept highways upstate New York.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Western Airlines flights in 14 Western states were canceled for today after 2,000 aircraft mechanics went on strike at midnight.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Hoping to stem the flow of drugs into the United States from Mexico, Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., has proposed the creation of an international drug commission.

KAMPALA, Uganda (UPI)—Thousands of African Roman Catholics crowded into Kampala today in anticipation of Pope Paul VI's arrival Thursday—the first visit to Africa by a Pope.

AUSTIN (UPI)—Gov. Preston Smith, faced with the down to earth problem of financing a $5.8 billion state budget, looked to the stars Monday and called for a special medal to honor the Apollo 11 spacemen.

Plan Would Call For Hike In State Taxes

AUSTIN (UPI)—The governor, the House and the Senate, all appear ready to present their own version of the state budget for the next two years.

Gov. Preston Smith outlined Monday his ideas on the state's two-year budget. His call for a $5.8 billion spending plan came before a joint meeting of the Texas Legislature at the opening of its special session.

Within four hours, the House Appropriations Committee met and approved without debate a $5.749 billion spending bill of its own. This amount, however, was expected to be increased to an amount higher than the governor's recommendations when it reaches the House floor.

Rep. U.S. Healy, D-Paducah, chairman of the committee, predicted the Senate would pass its

Scientists Want To Begin Study On Moon Rocks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The notion that Apollo 11 might have brought a moon plague back to earth is frustrating geologists and other physical scientists aching to get to work on those priceless rocks now quarantined in the Lunar Receiving Laboratory at Houston.

Said one geologist: "All I need is a hammer and a hand lens and a couple of minutes to tell me things nobody ever knew before about the moon."

He'll have to wait until the biologists are satisfied.

At the moment, all the physical scientists can do is look at the rocks through a window and make guesses. Some of them consider this nonsense. The moon, they figure, is a far more sterile environment than a body could hope to duplicate on earth.

Even the most cautious of biologists agree that, as far as vicious moon germs are concerned, the quarantine was broken before the astronauts got back to Houston. This happened when they got out of their spacecraft and before they got scrubbed and transferred to their quarantine van. Before Apollo 11 astronauts splashed down, 142 scientists of many nations had been mobilized to subject the samples they brought home to the closest scrutiny ever thought up by men.

Among these investigators are seasoned scientists of the U.S. Geological Survey who have studied every kind of rock ever found anywhere on earth. But what if there lurked in the lunar dust and rocks some microbe which, after eons of hard life on the inhospitable moon, might suddenly bloom in the lush environment of earth and destroy us all?

No responsible scientist said this was even remotely likely. But no responsible biologist would say it was impossible. Hence the current restrictions at Houston.

$11 Million Investment Loops Earth, Is Useless

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The newest commercial communications satellite, representing an $11 million investment, is looping the earth in a useless orbit today and engineers don't know why.

The Intelsat 3 spacecraft, owned by the Comsat Corp., and its 67 partner nations, was launched Friday night by the Delta rocket but was not located until Monday. It was to have replaced an identical satellite that failed in the transatlantic communications service a month ago.

The $6 million satellite was the third stage rocket motor that placed it into an orbit ranging from 147 to 2,954 miles high.

version of the spending bill and he said it probably would be $99 million higher than the House bill.

Smith's proposals represented a $694.6 million increase, much of it to finance the education bills the legislature passed during its regular session.

Smith proposed spending $1.181 billion from the general revenue fund, the only source the governor and the legislature can control. This figure marked an increase of $248.3 million over estimated spending during the current two-year period.

About $300 million of the overall increase could be attributed to education, including $155 million for teacher pay raises averaging $1,300 a year over the next two years, Smith said.

The governor recommended $28.9 million for six new educational institutions including $300,000 for the University of Texas at San Antonio, $300,000 for the University of Texas at Odessa-Midland in the Permian Basin, $2.25 million for the University of Texas at Dallas, $13.7 million for the Houston Medical School, $12.1 million for the Lubbock Medical School, and $250,000 for the San Antonio Dental School. All of these schools were created by the Legislature during its regular session.

Smith's proposals also called for:

—$1.4 million in pay raises for district and appellate judges and district attorneys.

—An $81.6 million general revenue increase for the 22 state colleges and universities, giving them a 25 per cent raise in administration funds, a 3.4 per cent faculty pay raise in each of the next two years, a 10 per cent increase in department expenses, and $575,000 to Texas A&I for the operation of its new Laredo branch. Smith said funds for organized research should be cut in half, to $4.6 million each year.

—$30 million more in welfare (See BUDGET, Page 2)

Hanoi Says Nixon Has 'New Tricks'

TOKYO (UPI)—A Hanoi broadcast said today President Nixon is up to "new tricks" in trying to further what it called America's domination of Asia during his current tour.

The Vietnam news agency broadcast from the North Vietnamese capital quoted an editorial in the official Nhan Dan newspaper that Nixon "brazenly stated that the U.S. would continue its role of a Pacific power..."

At the same time, the broadcast said, the President pledged a new American role in Asia after the Vietnam War, based on mutual trust, mutual confidence and mutual cooperation.

"However, all these allegations cannot conceal the real objective of Nixon, which is to use new tricks to continue the U.S. aggressive and warlike policy in Asia and materialize its unchanged scheme to dominate Asia politically, economically and militarily," the broadcast said.

Nhan Dan said Nixon had urged non-Communist countries in Asia to "step up the arms race and cooperate in the so-called collective defense."

Nixon Will Be First President To Visit Vietnamese Capital

BANGKOK (UPI)—White House sources said today President and Mrs. Nixon will fly to Saigon Wednesday in the first visit by an American president to the South Vietnamese capital, the occasional target of Viet Cong mortars and rockets.

There had been speculation on such a visit since Nixon set out on his seven-nation tour of Asia and Communist Romania and even today White House spokesman Ronald Ziegler refused to confirm or deny the report, saying only, "I don't have any information at all to give you."

Other sources on the President's staff said they would leave here Wednesday, probably before noon, aboard Nixon's plane, Air Force One. He had kept his Wednesday schedule free for such a trip as had Mrs. Nixon.

The sources said Nixon would go there to "visit the troops" and that Mrs. Nixon would spend her time visiting military hospitals in the South Vietnamese capital. Nixon also would be expected to confer with President Nguyen Van Thieu. Nixon earlier today was disclosed to have told the leaders of Thailand the 47,000 American troops in this country will be gradually withdrawn as the war in Vietnam tapers off. He coupled this with a renewal of his pledge to help Thailand defend itself against both external and internal enemies.

The visit to Saigon also would give him a chance to see for himself how the war was progressing. And it could give him a chance to say goodbye to 750 men of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division who are leaving Bien Hoa, 15 miles north of Saigon, on Wednesday for home.

The departing 9th infantrymen will bring to more than 7,000 the number of Americans withdrawn from Vietnam since he announced on Midway Island last month that 25,000 would be withdrawn by the end of August and more if the situation warranted.

Gen. Creighton Abrams, the U.S. military commander in Vietnam, had been expected here today but he did not attend a meeting between Nixon and his top diplomatic representative.

AT PAMPA HIGH SCHOOL

Sterling Gibson New Assistant Principal

Sterling Gibson, Pampa School District's head basketball coach, was employed Monday night as assistant principal of Pampa High School. He will replace Weldon Trice, who has resigned to accept a position with West Texas State University as an assistant dean of student life.

In a called meeting at Carver Educational Services Center last night, school trustees discussed Gibson's qualifications for the high school position and agreed he could remain as head basketball coach for the 1969-70 basketball season.

"Gibson requested he be allowed to keep his basketball team for one year," Supt. Dr. James F. Malone said. "After that year, he will have to decide if he wants to stay in school administration or in coaching. Since he was teaching four classes in addition to coaching, he will drop the classes in September and devote that time to the administrative position."

Gibson is a native of Knoxville, Tenn., and has his B.S. Degree from Texas Tech and his M.A. Degree from Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, N.M. He also attended Western Kentucky State College two years.

August, 1968, he was head basketball coach at Portales High School five years and taught 10th through 12th grade physical education at Portales 10 years.

Some of the other geologists sitting on the news conference panel were more conservative in their initial public judgments and Dr. P. R. Bell, head of the lab, said "I think it depends on who's being overwhelmed by the evidence."

The scientists agreed that one of the most surprising finds so far was the discovery of a great amount of tiny glass spheres in the layer of sand and silt-sized rock debris covering the Sea of Tranquility.

Dr. Clifford Frondel, a mineralogist from Harvard University, reported that a microscopic examination showed that the minute beads varied in color from brown to yellow to clear and he said "they are remarkably lustrous and interesting."

Burk was second in the first go around of steer wrestling and first in both the first go around and the average in calf roping which was good enough to win him the all-around cowboy award.

Fall Style Show Scheduled For August 16

All local business firms who plan to participate in the Second Annual Fall Festival Style Show and Miss Top O' Texas Beauty Pageant should get their entries to the Pampa Chamber of Commerce by Friday, Chamber manager E. O. Wedgeworth said today.

Pictures of the beauty contestants will be made from 2-3 p.m. Aug. 4 in the Chamber of Commerce offices in the Hughes Bldg.

Rehearsals for the show are scheduled for 8 p.m. Aug. 7 and 2 p.m. Aug. 9.

The second annual show will be held at 8 p.m. Aug. 16 in the Pampa High School Auditorium. Business will be entitled to sponsor a beauty contestant and four fashions for an entry fee of $10.

Businesses which are not related to fashion may sponsor a beauty contestant only for the same fee.

Kay Fancher will be master of ceremonies and will direct the show production, and Mrs. Bob Johnson, owner of Las Pampas Galleries, will be in charge of stage arrangement.

The show will feature some of Pampa's top entertainers, Wedgeworth said, and the Sue Higdon Combo will furnish cue music.

Tickets will go on sale Aug. 1 at all participating firms and the Chamber of Commerce offices. Approximately 25 local business firms have indicated they plan to participate, Wedgeworth said.

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI)—William Howard Wood, 34, of Brownsville, Tex., was one of three men who pleaded guilty Monday to the burglary of the Timken, Kan., State Bank.

That LSD 'Trip' May Have One-Way Ticket

By RON CROSS
(Third In A Series)

There is a group of drugs called hallucinogens, a type of drug that causes the user to have hallucinations.

An hallucination is something that isn't there and users imagine they see something.

There are several drugs in this group, but the most widely known is Lysergic Acid Diethylamide or LSD-25. This is by far the most powerful of the hallucinogens and the one most commonly used by young people today.

LSD produces hallucinations in a person's mind that take him on a kaleidoscopic "trip" amidst distorted images and colors, accompanied by flashing lights, colorful patterns, a trip that promises so-called "sharpened insights" into the nature of humanity.

According to Dr. Donald B. Louria, president of the New York State Council on Drug Addiction, LSD is the most dangerous of all the drugs abused in this country today.

Dr. James L. Goddard, Commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration, says "those who engage in the illicit use of LSD are playing a kind of chemical Russian roulette that can have devastating consequences."

LSD is unpredictable. Sometimes what was to have been a mild "trip" leads to permanent catatonia (A type of insanity) and what was to have been a mind-expanding experience produces instead a long-term dependency and a mental and emotional withdrawal from life that is pathetic to witnesses.

A microscopic speck of LSD can send a person on a trip for eight to 12 hours, but it may be a trip that does not have a return ticket. Some individuals, after a single dose of LSD have continued to have the hallucinations for months afterward.

LSD produces effects other than hallucination. LSD may distort the sense, produce iritating panic sensations, cause a mild individual to become violent, cause suicidal attempts, cause loss of sanity and cause a permanent change of personality.

There is no way to recognize LSD. It is a colorless, tasteless, odorless acid that is usually taken in a sugar cube.

Most adult Americans have long thought that only opium, morphine and heroin, lead to a abuse; but many useful medicines have become a menace to young and old through misuse and social abuse.

VICKI KEEN

Pampa Girl Wins Citgo Scholarship

NEW-YORK — Vicki Elaine Keen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Keen, Pampa, is the recipient of a scholarship award from the Henry L. Doherty (Cities Service Co.) Educational Foundation. Miss Keen is a 1969 graduate of Pampa High School and plans to attend West Texas State University at Canyon.

The local award brings to 283 the total number of sons and daughters of Cities Service employees who will be attending college this fall with Foundation aid. The 96 new awards to upcoming college freshmen and the 189 renewal grants to upperclassmen total $113,400 for the 1969-70 school year. Both the number of grants and the appropriations represent all-time highs.

By JOYCE LAIN
Miss Lain awards a Mercury portable, courtesy of the Royal Typewriter Co., to Mrs. Donald Tierney, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

"Please discuss paper technology. My nephew was asked by some paper companies to major in it in college."

A—The paper industry moon is hanging over a career-bright sky, but not for all types of workers. Though economists see steadily increasing demand for paper and forest products in year's ahead, labor-saving technology is expected to reduce the need for certain types of plant workers.

The ratio of such workers as materials handlers, hand-feed machine operators, packers and other laborers is likely to drop sharply by 1975 because of automation.

CAREER CONFETTI: On the other side of the moon, demand for more educated and skilled personnel is likely to increase. Paper companies seek bright young people of varied talents for many jobs ranging from forest and mill management to lab. research to the sale of the finished product. Among those with the best prospects: engineers, scientists, marketing experts, technicians and skilled workers such as electricians, machinery repairmen, instrument repairmen, pipefitters and millwrights.

Texas Flight Hijacked To Cuba

DALLAS (UPI)—Somewhere in the Texas skies between El Paso and Midland, the pilot and the copilot heard a knock on their locked cockpit door. What they thought was the stewardess, turned out to be a personal invitation to Cuba delivered at knifepoint.

Pilot Robert Green of Dallas described the hijacker as "a quiet sort of fellow who knew what he was doing. He was neat and has a moustache, no goatee and short hair."

The man hijacked the plane just before it was supposed to land at the Midland-Odessa Regional Airport.

The pilot and copilot Tom Dees of Terrell, Tex., arrived home Sunday and described the incident—the first of a kind for either man.

"We were enroute from El Paso to Midland when the stewardess brought us coffee," Green said. "After she left we slid the door shut and locked it."

"Right after she left, there was a knock on the door and I thought it was the stewardess again. I opened the door to the cockpit and the Negro was standing there with a knife and he wanted to go to Havana."

"The weather was bad at this time and I had a rough time trying to talk him out of it and getting the plane through the weather to Midland. He wanted to know how much fuel we had and I told him not much."

"I offered to go to Dallas to refuel, but he said no, land at Midland. I asked him to let the passengers off at Midland, but he said no, only the passengers who were already planning to get off at Midland could leave. But when we landed, they all got off anyhow."

"He didn't say much, just watched. He checked the fuel gauges and we took off for Mobile (Ala.)."

"He was very calm at all times. He was wearing a sports shirt and black slacks. He never raised his voice."

"When we approached Mobile he said he wanted to land at Alexandria and I told him we couldn't so he said go ahead and land at Mobile."

"At Mobile, he said he didn't want any of the plane's doors open. We were only there about 14 minutes. He watched every-

WANDA MAE HUFF, WOMEN'S NEWS EDITOR
PAMPA, TEXAS 2nd Year
Tuesday, July 29, 1969 PAMPA DAILY NEWS 9

Your Horoscope
JEANE DIXON

WEDNESDAY, JULY 29
YOUR BIRTHDAY Wednesday: Productive effort comes naturally this year, particularly where musical or artistic enterprises happen to be your specialty. Romantic and sentimental attachments tend to become intense. Give your intuition the opening to guide you. Wednesday's natives are idealists with an unconscious knack for self-protection.
ARIES (March 21-Apr. 19): Your charm Wednesday is more important than any work you do. Make full use of it. The soft-spoken technique works now. Romantic interests stir.
TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Your emotional stress lightens. Humor hits right on the core of your problems of the last several days. Begin patching up differences.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Strict observance of directions becomes essential in using tools and appliances Wednesday. Even talking while working can spoil something. Be patient with mate — it's worth it now.
CANCER (June 21-July 22): You may have to give definite answers to major proposals before you have all the facts or before you think them through. Go on your intuition. Expect an older person to involve himself and force some reconsideration.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): It does not do to let your feelings show outwardly, nor to go out of your way to get involved in other people's complaints. Take things at face value.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Follow your intuition through a mixed day; some people help while others go to some length to hinder. A new diet or beauty regime can be beneficial.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You're in charge of your own welfare; anybody will let you do anything, whether it is safe or not. Special care and thought of what you are doing is appropriate Wednesday.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Get busy with the month-end chores so that you will have full information over the coming weekend for long range studies and better planning. Troublesome people are attracted to you now, and it may be difficult to escape.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Leave purchases of technical items, cosmetics and the like for a better day. Anything you buy now will be hardly used. Your own brittle mood stirs others to more of the same — keep a little distance.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Stay on an even keel while people around you let go with their tensions. Look for home maintenance details and attend to them.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Remain with the working power that has prevailed lately. Put in a day as nearly normal as you can manage; expect no special benefit or loss. Thrift continues to be a good idea.
PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): It's fun showing strangers the town. Friends are lucky Wednesday. Your feelings may lead you to go beyond reason. Reconsider when somebody suggests that you are overly enthusiastic.

By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My best friend and her husband have two adopted children, a boy and a girl. The little girl is nearly five, and she is a very affectionate child who likes to hug, kiss, and climb all over the men who visit in the home.
The mother expressed great concern over this, and confided, "I know what her real mother was like, and that's what worries me." The implication being that the most adopted children are products of unwed mothers. They will turn out "bad" like their mothers. I am sure that many people feel that this is true, but I, for one, do not believe it. I feel so strongly about this, Abby, because I happen to be adopted, although few of my friends are aware of it. I would like to see this letter printed with your comments. Thank you.

ADOPTED AND HURT
DEAR ABBY: The causes of illegitimacy are not hereditary. Your friend is unbelievably ignorant, and I hope someone educates her before she communicates her foolish fears to her adopted children.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 13-year-old girl. I am pretty and smart, have a good figure and a nice complexion, and people tell me I have a good personality. My friend is fat, has a pimply complexion and a terrible personality, but she gets all the boys. Can you help me?

NOT POPULAR
DEAR NOT: No, but I'll bet your fat friend with the pimply complexion and "terrible" personality can watch her and listen to her and find out why the boys find her so attractive. She may not be so great, but if she makes other people think they're great, she'll win a popularity contest.

DEAR ABBY: This isn't just an ordinary mother-in-law gripe. I really do love my mother-in-law, but she does something that grieves me to no end. Whenever I have something new on, she wants to know where I bought it, how much it costs, and would I mind terribly if she got one like it since "we don't go around in the same crowd?" (It's true, we don't go around in the same crowd, but we both go to a lot of the same places, and we know a lot of the same people.) Abby, she's a darling woman, and we're the same size, and can wear the same styles, but what can I do? Of course I tell her I don't mind, but I don't enjoy going somewhere dressed like one of the Bobbsey twins. So what do you suggest?

ONE OF A KIND
DEAR ONE: I suggest you either level with her — and quit telling her you don't mind when you do mind, or else continue as you are and suffer the consequences.

The jumper, a traditional favorite, boasts a crayon box assortment of styles: the horseshoe neck, suspender straps, bib top, cut-away armholes, pleated, dropped waists, belted, zippered and the pants-jumper.

Styles Progress From Conceal To Reveal

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — From "conceal" in 1909 to "reveal" in 1969, an internationally renowned cosmetics firm currently in its 60th anniversary year, has been the first to anticipate important style trends and then to create the beauty products to give millions of women the world over make-up that is always fashion-right.

For the 1969 woman of today and tomorrow, fashion loves body-conscious designs, see-through fabrics, cut-out patterns and a face-revealing "natural" look of beauty.

While there is no one "face" for Spring-Summer, says Chester Firestein, executive vice president of a cosmetics firm, just as there is no one fashion look for the season, there are certain beauty basics that do identify the romantic, young-in-spirit mood of Beauty 1969.

Faces go with fashion looks and not the time of day. For example it is the intensity of color — not the way make-up is applied — that differentiates casual daytime beauty from a casual evening look.

While fashion still makes over-statements, faces do not. Subtlety is the key beauty word of the season.

A fresh and open-look of health, energy and vitality characterizes all the faces of Spring-Summer 1969.

The most fashionable shades of eye shadow are rich but delicately muted colors that extend from lash line to browline. The newest application technique calls for a deeper shade of the same color to contour the eye hollow. Eye-liners are hushed, softer and more subtle, both as to color and application. They are newest when color-related to the eye shadow with which they are worn.

For example, blue-black eyeliner provides a beautiful and fashionable accent for pale blue shadow. In total, this tone-on-tone eye makeup effect is called the "Monochromatic Eye" look.

Fashion Lashes — newest when worn on the upper and lower lids — are now spaced to follow the natural growth pattern of your own lashes and are less dense than once was fashionable. Brows are shaped here, there and everywhere, creating the need for glowing skin color, highlighting, moisturizing and toning — here, there and everywhere! Use of fragrant lotion to soften and smooth the skin adds a sexy scent as well.

Chiffons, organdies and laces are all part of the see-through statement. In addition to necklines that plunge to there, armholes are also dipping to new depths, backs often just are not and multiple versions of the bare midriff are appearing in everything from evening gowns to sportswear. Clingy crepes, knits, jerseys and shiny-surfaced silks create slinky active sportswear as well as evening excitement.

And, of course, there is the continuing "togetherness" in the "menswear" fashion category. All things formerly his are now hers and sometimes theirs. The popular flat-surfaced gabardines, flannels and sharkskin are all stolen from the boys. Pantsuits, man-tailored shirts, coats and jackets are just some of his gear commandeered by her.

Separates are everywhere and fashion's master plan suggests putting them together around a central accessory. Designers this year have become enamored of "the right" scarf (long rather than square), the perfect pin, the appropriate shoe and the ideal belt — or better yet, the ideal belts.

Color is softer and subtler than in previous years. Pale blushes of color are newest and strongest in the peach, melon and apricot tones, while creating a fresh and vital mood in blues, pinked lilacs, yellow-greens and aquas. Traditional red, white, blue are stronger than ever this season in tri-color and bi-color combinations. Neutrals — silvered grays, ivories and chamois, act as catalysts to make pure, clear colors even clearer. Burgundy, forest green, chocolate brown and slate gray, dramatically set off white. The paler tones are smashing both as brooding backgrounds and as accents in Far Eastern and primitive-influenced prints.

Fashion and beauty trends today offer individuals a rare opportunity to express personal preferences and tastes. Actually, the wide range of "looks" evident everywhere suggests that this desire for individual expression is both the driving force and the culmination of fashion-beauty today.

A thought for the day: Irish playwright George Bernard Shaw said, "The test of a man or woman's breeding is how they behave in a quarrel."

Men Won't Make Passes At Squinty-Eyed Lasses

There is no reason why men should not continue to "make passes, at girls" who wear glasses," according to a famed beauty authority, if — more women would stop squinting and start learning how to become more beautiful with their glasses on.

If you wear glasses, treat them as a fashion accessory. Choose a style and color as you would a fashion ensemble — one which is becoming to your facial features, rather than one which may be currently in vogue but unattractive to you.

A good rule of thumb is to remember that the top part of the frame should always complement the natural line of your eyebrows. Since glasses can either magnify or diminish the size of the eyes, adjust your make-up technique accordingly. If your glasses magnify your eyes, make-up to your own facial and eye shape.

Always use soft, muted colors and powder eye shadow, remembering that any shiny skin surface will reflect the glare off the glasses.

Beautiful, easy-to-apply brush-on cake eye shadow, especially when packaged in collection form — six or eight different irresistible shades per compact — encourages women everywhere to try individualized shadow effects and combinations.

To insure the loveliest and most lasting results when applying brush-on eye shadow, beauty experts advise women to start with a dry skin surface around the eyelid area. Preferably, the area should be well powdered.

Campanella Has Another Fine Day

By MILTON RICHMAN
 COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (UPI)—The last time Roy Campanella was here was 18 years ago. He had a great day, coming up with a couple of big hits which helped the Brooklyn Dodgers bowl over the Philadelphia A's 9-4, in an exhibition game.

"It's the greatest day of my life," he said, as they wheeled him around inside the almost sacrosanct, cathedral-like hall of fame in which his own plaque had just been officially added.

official ceremony at which Bowie Kuhn, the baseball commissioner, formally inducted him; Stan Musial, Waite Hoyt and Stan Coveleski into the Hall.

A threat of rain hung over the proceedings and it actually did sprinkle a bit, but nothing could dampen the day or the occasion for the 46-year-old, partially-paralyzed Campanella.

"As a teen-ager," he said, "I never had any idea this would ever happen to me."

Without resorting to notes and it was so quiet you could hear a pin drop.

one of your teammates greets you with a hug or a kiss, then you have a little boy in you.

Campanella paused a moment. "Words cannot express all I want to say," he said, his voice cracking. "Thank you, and may my fellow members accept me for what I have done."

Unitas Remembers The Bad Days

Every athlete begins as a small boy. The day he discovers his first football, or his first baseball, or first pair of boxing gloves, is one of the most important in his life.

There was a time when Francis Joseph Unitas was a legitimate major league baseball prospect, but one day a crate fell on his foot while he was unloading a milk truck.

Aaron Wins First Pro Golfing Event

MONTREAL (UPI)—A pair of Southern gentlemen played a round of golf here Monday, with about $10,000 riding on the outcome, and at times seemed to be so polite they might have been trying to give the match away.

But Tommy Aaron, the slim, quiet, 32-year-old from Callaway Gardens, Ga.; finally got down to business on the last few holes and won the match, the Canadian Open title, and $25,000.

Sam Snead, 57, who has been at this Southern gentility bit longer, will take $14,300 home to Hot Springs, Va. Snead shot a par 72 on the Pinegrove Country Club course Monday, losing the 18-hole playoff to Aaron by two strokes.

Aaron forced the playoff when he came from six strokes back with a record-breaking final-round 64 to tie snead for first place at 273, 13 in par, after the regulation 72 holes Sunday.

Billy Casper was third, and Japan's Takaaki Kono fourth. Tied for fifth were Canadian Al Belding and 1968 Canadian Open winner Bob Charles.

A gallery of about 4,000 turned out to watch Snead and Aaron play in humid, windy weather Monday.

FOUR WINNERS OCEANPORT, N.J. (UPI)—Eddie Maple rode four winners at Mommouth Park Monday, including Restless Sis in the feature $12,000 allowance race.

SPORTS

The kid remembers seeing his dad sprawl on the living room floor of their home on Fortuna Avenue, listening to the Pirates game on radio.

"I was five years old when he brought it home from work with him," recalls John-Unitas. "My first football. It's very vivid to me. He rolled it to me, wobbling. It was too big

Snead Still Golfing Strong At Age 57

SAM SNEAD ... going strong

So many morning dew and crowing roosters have come and gone now that Samuel Jackson Snead, at 57, actually does not remember the first golf ball he saw or the first golf club he swung.

The two-story farmhouse in which Snead was born and reared stood only a mile down the road from Hot Springs and The Homestead, Virginia's famous mountain resort hotel. He was the youngest of five brothers and nearly all of them had worked at the hotel's golf courses.

I remember my first caddy job. It was a white canvas bag and luckily all the clubs were wood shafted, which made it lighter. The driver was the same height I was.

Pair Receive New Chance With Pro Teams

Nine-year-old Jim Boeke and seven-year-old veteran Bill Saul figured clothes don't make the man, and both were happy to don new uniforms Monday, to stay in the National Football League.

Boeke, a 6-1, 260-pound offensive tackle who formerly played for Los Angeles and Dallas, was obtained by the Detroit Lions from the New Orleans Saints in exchange for a 1970 draft choice.

Saul, a middle linebacker, went from the Pittsburgh Steelers to the Dallas Cowboys for an undisclosed draft choice and Dallas Coach Tom Landry was "pleased to get him because if anything happened to Lee Roy (Jordan) we would not have any experience in the middle."

Cubs, Cardinals Splurge

By United Press International
 The rich get richer and the poor lose the one-run games.

The Chicago Cubs, leaders of the National League East since opening day, and the St. Louis Cardinals, 18-8 in July, escaped with narrow victories Monday while 20 other major league teams took the day off.

The victims were the San Diego Padres, who took a vow of poverty when they entered the league as an expansion team, and the San Francisco Giants, always rich in talent and established records for the most home runs (41) and RBIs (142) by a catcher in one season.

Stan Proud To Be In Hall

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (UPI)—When you consider that in 100 years baseball has produced only 114 Hall of Famers, you begin to appreciate what fellows like Roy Campanella, Stan Musial, Waite Hoyt and Stan Coveleski represent.

That foursome, officially inducted into the baseball shrine Monday, somehow knew what Abner Doubleday had in mind. They played the game like they owned it.

Campanella was thrice the National League's Most Valuable Player (1951, 1953 and 1955) and established records for the most home runs (41) and RBIs (142) by a catcher in one season.

That foursome, officially inducted into the baseball shrine Monday, somehow knew what Abner Doubleday had in mind. They played the game like they owned it.

Chicago's Austin Dennis also made a move, but his was only a short-yardage situation. The Bears tight end worked at offensive tackle "in case he's needed in an emergency," a team spokesman said.

There were several new faces apparent also, as Houston Oiler Coach Wally Lemm praised rookies Loyd Wainwright, a linebacker from Texas; Albert Huggins, an offensive tackle from Tennessee State; and Johnny Peacock, a safety from the University of Houston, for their performance in an intrasquad scrimmage.

Defensive back Gary Golden, a 15th-round pick from Texas Tech, and cornerback James Hawkins, a seventh-round choice from Nebraska, received only a farewell from the San Francisco Forty-Niners and Los Angeles Rams, as did San Diego Charger quarterback Mike Fain, a taxi-squad member last year.

Rain Halts Twins' Slaughter

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (UPI)—The Houston Astros were overpowered Monday night by the league leading Minnesota Twins in the annual Hall of Fame game.

A steady drizzle that began with the opening pitch dampened the occasion, for the capacity crowd of 9,970 at Doubleday Field and forced a halt after five innings. The area was under a tornado watch.

Shortstop Frank Quilici belied his weak-hitting reputation by tagging Dooley Womack for a three-run homer in the second inning and Rich Reese connected with one aboard in the fifth.

200,000 Persons See Production Of Texas

CANYON — More than 200,000 people have seen the "TEXAS" production which plays each evening in the Palo Duro Canyon. It is a spectacular musical drama by the Pulitzer prize-winner, Paul Green, and tells the story of the Plains in song and story, dance and light and sound, bringing to the audience the conflicts, the storms, the drought and the prairie fires. Audiences in this fourth season, 1969, have averaged more than a thousand people an evening, and they have come from nearby and the ends of the earth. For tickets, write to Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015.

To discover who made up the audiences, and where they came from, the staff made a survey during this second week of performances. They found one man who had come 5 times and many who had seen the show three or four times. They encountered one visitor who rode a horse in the first production ever given in the theatre who had brought his children and grandchildren down to see the place and the show. They found students from Sweden and the Avon manager from the British West Indies, a business man from Chile and a coach from Perth, Australia, a doctor and an electronic engineer from New York and a librarian from Long Island, housewives from the Panhandle and North Dakota, and Louisiana, a photographer from Mississippi and a sanitarian from Arlington, Tex.

worker from Houston and a rubber worker from Akron, Ohio, a mechanic from New York who heard about the show on a plane, a farmer from Follett and several ranchers from the area and a nurse from Hobart, a pilot from Irving and a computer operator from Detroit, Mich., a suburban developer from Hereford on his fifth visit, auto dealers, beauticians, businessmen, ministers, bankers, factory workers, telephone men, well servicers, advertising men and secretaries, railroad men and truckers, roofers and oil-field workers, barbers and chemists, professors and auditors, teachers, and a New Mexico museum manager and the TOPS Club from Amberst.

Hollywood In Review

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The advertisement in a Hollywood trade paper read: "Auditions for The Dean Martin Show
"Need 30 of the most devastatingly beautiful, bikini clad showgirls in the world. Age 19 to 25, who can also talk. One girl a show for 30 shows, bring your bikini."
The ad was completed by specifying the time and rehearsal hall at NBC.
It is just such opportunities and possibilities for a shot at stardom that fill planes, trains, buses, taxicabs and other conveyances with females headed for Hollywood and that big break in show business. Agents and producers around town such an ad is known as a cattle call.
Often they are come-ons for sleazy producers of "X" rated movies.
This particular ad is legitimate, taken by Greg Garrison who produces "The Dean Martin Show," and who needs 30 beautiful girls.
He will be lucky if he finds them in this particular instance.
"You can never tell how many girls will show up," he said. "Sometimes there are only a few. Then again we often wind up with 200 or 300 hopeful females."
Garrison must sit obediently in a chair while the hopefuls, togged in bikinis parade before him.
It's the sort of job any man would enjoy, Garrison doesn't demean it, but it is also work for him.
"Our ad made it clear we want gals from 19-25 years old. But I will bet anyone a million dollars they will range in age from 14 to 45. The first thing is to narrow the field down to the age limitations, which is fairly easy to the trained eye."
There's always the dream that one close-up on a big show like Martin's will lead to discovery by a producer or director who will promote them in movies to replace Julie Andrews.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Window on the World:
Safe, secure Southeast Asia: knowledgeable sources in Southeast Asia are linking President Nixon's current visit to that area to his October 1967, statement that Asian regional arrangements could have more teeth. And in that connection, they say the nations he has chosen to visit are very important as he seeks to widen existing cooperative arrangements through organizations such as the Association of Southeast Asian Nations and the Asian and Pacific Council. These sources say the most important government at this stage is Indonesia which so far has been reluctant to take part in any project that does not have obvious economic benefit. Nixon's job, they say, will be to convince the Philippines, Indonesia and Thailand to forget past animosities for the sake of a stable and secure Southeast Asia, both in economics and defense. These sources say that Nixon realizes the difficulties and time involved in trying to weld together neighbors of widely differing backgrounds and outlook. But they add that he seeks success in this field as necessary if another Vietnam is to be avoided.

Man Triumphs With Modern Technology

WASHINGTON — With the moon landing of the space craft Eagle, the world witnessed a renaissance of the Age of Exploration. Man, in a triumph of modern technology, has made a tremendous step toward increasing his knowledge of the earth and the universe. An age-old-dream of man came true when Astronauts Neil Armstrong and Edwin Aldrin trod the surface of the moon. Their actions marked the primary goal of the Apollo 11 mission, and the beginning of man's exploration of the world beyond his Earth. Although the astronauts stood alone on the desolate surface of the moon, hundreds of millions of people around the world shared their first moments through the mediums of television and radio. It was a triumph for our nation, and our world.

We should pay tribute to the men, both living and dead, who made this adventure possible, for this is the culmination of centuries of thoughts, dreams, and experiments. Brave pioneers manned this mission, and the free enterprise system organized and developed the technology which made it all possible.

We are indeed fortunate to be living in such an exciting age.

It was the first positive identification of a chunk of the moon and it was made Sunday, one day after the opening of the first of two boxes of rock samples brought back by the Apollo 11 astronauts.

Dr. Elbert A. King, curator of the LRL, said the rock was 3 1/2 inches long, 1 1/2 inches wide and an inch thick. It was described as a dark gray, fine-grained igneous material with some evidence that some mineral surfaces split among planes.

"There are numerous small pits in the surface of the rock which some observers here believe may have resulted from the impact of micrometeoroids at very high velocities while this rock was exposed on the lunar surface," he said.

"These pits are coated on their interiors with a glassy lining, and some of the glass appears to spray out of the craters, overlapping the surrounding mineral grain."

"This has created quite a deal of excitement here in the laboratory, as you can imagine," King said.

The rock was later placed in a stainless steel can and transferred to a radiation counting laboratory. There, King said, the gamma rays emitted from the rock will be measured to tell how long the rock had been lying on the surface and exposed to gamma radiation from deep space.

Extremely rapid cooling of a liquid material causes glass and that led to the conclusion meteoroids pelted the rock with enough force to melt some of its material, which then cooled quickly.

Many geologists have thought the moon's seas were formed by vast outpourings of lava and it appeared the first examination of Apollo 11's samples from the Sea of Tranquility added support to that theory.

Moon Rock Has Glass-Lined Pits

WASHINGTON (UPI)—That nice John Forsythe in his well-pressed suits is coming to visit us again.

The configuration of Forsythe's features and physique conspire to make him the pluperfect American male.

He looks like a junior senator from a Midwestern state, the milkman, an FBI agent, an Eagle Scout, the rising young whiz in a computer corporation, a Presbyterian elder, a colonel in the Air Force.

Atlas, for all that, he is an actor.

A good one, to be sure, but still a man who puts cosmetics on his face, steps under the arc lights and plays make-believe.

This coming television season he will star in "To Rome with Love," a CBS offering which depicts John as an American college professor and widower with three children teaching in the Italian capital.

For five years Forsythe pleased viewers in "Bachelor Father," portraying a man raising his impish niece.

He returned briefly in "The John Forsythe Show." The brains behind television figured that if one grown man raising a single young female was amusing, it would be a riot if he raised dozens.

So John played the owner of a girls school.

Rueff's Monetary Predictions

Monetary policies of the United States and most other nations of the Western world will fall apart when enough people realize that what governments call money is nothing but worthless paper. Economic chaos, of course, will ensue. These are the convictions of Jacques Rueff, economic adviser to former French President Charles de Gaulle. Keynesian deficit spenders have had some good laughs at the Rueff predictions, but it's beginning to look as if Rueff will get the last laugh. (Trouble is, it's not a laughing matter.)

Rueff, stating that the bogus money system nationally and internationally is jerking in its dying "last twitches," replied to those critics in a most convincing way in a series of articles in recent issues of the Wall Street Journal. Those articles showed that contrary to the claims of his critics, much has happened and moreover that with the exception of the final act of collapse itself, it has happened just as he said it would.

With the recent and continuing gyrations of the stock market acting as an incentive to read and understand, we believe these necessarily short excerpts will emphasize the critical need for honest money if worldwide catastrophe is to be averted.

"I feel obliged to show that for eight years the sequence of developments sadly has followed the path I predicted. Nearly everything I forecast has come to pass. Only the final act is impending, but it will be the most redoubtable."

Rueff, attributing the monetary troubles of this country and most of the world to governmental departures from gold as monetary backing, and correctly seeing the primary function of gold to be a brake on governmental tendency to debase the money supply by resorting to printing press currency, then went on to list his three major predictions that have occurred.

"The system leads ineluctably to three chains of consequences: Persistent deficit in America's balance of payments as long as the global mass of credit is not reduced voluntarily and systematically at least as the gold standard would have done automatically from day to day, hence gently.

Inflation in the creditor countries without any compensating deflation in the debtor countries; thus prices slide upward throughout the zone of monetary convertibility.

"Ultimately, disruption of the system by the dollar's growing insolvency resulting from the unending accumulation of foreign dollar balances which constitute claims on gold, also disruption by generalized inflation that results."

Looking at the present chaotic state of worldwide monetary politics, can anyone doubt that De Gaulle's adviser was right?

Rueff's solution? A return to honest currencies backed by gold. Gold is the only monetary medium that ever had any real success at checking governmental appetites and maintaining an honest currency for any appreciable length of time.

Shades of 'Female Steers'

"A ghost is stalking the land," notes the National Federation of Independent Business, Inc. in its July bulletin. The "ghost" referred to is a now defunct federal bureaucracy, the Office of Price Administration, better known as OPA, which once issued a regulation ordering the slaughter of "female steers."

But bureaucracies refuse to remain defunct; they merely go into hiding until the opportune moment to reappear. "Although hanged, drawn and quartered over 20 years ago amid tumultuous applause," quipped the federation bulletin, the "spirit of OPA (the World War Two price control bureaucracy) appears to be reviving."

And, as paradoxical as it may seem, the OPA is being revived, not by the "liberal" democrats out, as one might expect, but by the "conservative" Republican ins who were elected on the premise that they would return the country to economic and fiscal sanity.

Used, ostensibly, as a "threat" by Nixon's Treasury Secretary, David Kennedy, to force a predominantly Democratic Congress to go along with the President's demand for an extension of the 10 per cent income tax surtax, the prospect of price controls, imposed by a supposedly conservative chief executive, must have the liberals of both parties laughing in high glee. The likelihood now is that, not only will the plundering surtax be extended, but that the American people will be saddled with competition-killing production-inhibiting, black market-creating price controls as well.

All those ancients (30 and over) among us may well recall price controls under OPA brought about some weird results — the order discriminating against lady "steers" being but one example among many. The chief and most harmful effect of price controls, however, may have been their encouragement to lie, cheat and wheeler-deal. In the economy of scarcity brought about by the controls, black markets flourished. Those who could afford the "black" prices were accommodated; those who could not did without. As a consequence, when attempts were made to continue OPA after the war, the government move was greeted with a storm and

The Almanac

By United Press International
 Today is Tuesday, July 29th, the 210th day of 1969 with 155 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter.

The morning stars are Venus and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1914, the first transcontinental telephone linkup was completed with a conversation between New York and San Francisco.

In 1945, B29 bombers dropped 3,500 tons of fire bombs on six Japanese cities which had been warned earlier that week.

In 1967, 129 men were killed when fire swept the aircraft carrier USS Forrestal off the coast of Vietnam.

In 1968, Pope Paul upheld the prohibition of all artificial means of birth control for Roman Catholics.

A thought for the day: Novelist Booth Tarkington said, "It really is the land of nowadays that we never discover."

Future Dims For Kennedy In Politics

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

NEA Washington Correspondent
 WASHINGTON (NEA)—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy no doubt hopes there will be some softening of compassion in the events that mark the remainder of his life.

But it is brutally plain now that there is to be almost no compassion in the consequences for him which flow from the events of July 18-19, when a young woman riding with him drowned after he accidentally drove his car off an awkward, unsafe bridge into a tiny tidal pond in Massachusetts.

At least for the immediate future, those consequences are sweeping. In the view of the most thoughtful, most expert and most fair-minded political appraisers this reporter knows, not only his presidential prospects, but his role in the Senate—and his general usefulness to the Democratic party have been deeply shadowed.

Though most of these appraisers tend to be cautious about judging the longer future, they cannot see how Kennedy can be helped by his statements or any normally conceivable new revelations about the accident and what followed it.

As everyone knows by this time, what cuts so deeply is the puzzling aftermath: Why he and his friends failed to seek help, why he waited so long to notify the police, why his original statement to the police was so incomplete and shakily founded.

That story appears to be crumbling steadily as evidence grows that, even if injured, exhausted and stunned by the new tragedy, he was always in touch with reality after it occurred—and his friends had early knowledge of it.

Says one Democratic figure who knows Kennedy well: "He just didn't measure up. . . And so much time has elapsed that it would be awfully hard to recoup now. What was needed that night was good, solid judgment. He didn't show it, and he didn't get it from anyone around him."

Adds another appraiser: "That was a crisis situation, and a man being considered for president is supposed to be just a little bit different."

It is this latter Democratic figure who believes that Kennedy's leadership role in the Senate, and hence, the whole Democratic position there, have been seriously damaged.

This man explains his view: "There has been new steel this year in (Senate majority leader) Mike Mansfield's backbone. Ted has been responsible for a large part of it."

"But now the Senate itself is going to change. It is, not just a question of how others there will look at him but how he will see himself. There could be a considerable amount of psychic damage from this event."

One veteran Democrat who is most careful about weighing the future nevertheless fears that Kennedy's response to the accident will be a haunting thing, making him enduringly vulnerable to assault from his party adversaries and the rival Republicans. Says he: "You'll never be able to put it to bed."

All the experts questioned agreed that the factor of Kennedy's judgmental behavior under severe pressure was the key. They found that they themselves, many of their friends sympathetic to Kennedy, and countless people beyond the immediate political world linked the Massachusetts accident with revived memory of another earlier event.

The day at Harvard when a much younger Ted Kennedy had a trusted friend take a Spanish examination in his stead.

There were no harsh judges among those interviewed. They see Ted Kennedy as cruelly buffeted by tragedy, as doubting how he should respond to it even while often acting with great bravery.

Perhaps most pertinent of all, some of them believe that he is frequently gripped by inner feelings of inadequacy, and that these feelings unhappily have sometimes surfaced when events have compelled him to cope with critical pressures and his inescapable link to the largeness of the demanding, relentless Kennedy legend.

Yowling For Another Bombing Pause?

Clearing House

Get something you would like to "get off your chest"? Think about the "Clearing House" in No. 11. It has been suggested there should be more letters to the Editor, that people should speak their mind. So, in the public interest, write to the Editor and "get it off your chest."

Editor:
 As you doubtless are aware, the Texas Committee of 1,000 is firmly opposed to the Texas Water Plan as presently proposed.

This opposition is not capricious, nor is it politically motivated. It is based on our sincere belief that this plan is poorly conceived; that it has been drawn with little or no study of many vital factors; that it fails to meet even rudimentary standards of economic feasibility, and that it can be the subject of wide and vicious abuse, not to mention incredible waste.

Overriding all this is the grave probability that approval of the present ill-advised and impractical plan, with its staggering increase in the public debt, could effectively bar the state from later adopting a more sensible and effective water program.

In sharp contrast to the water plan itself, which is based on many hypothetical—even mythical—assumptions and estimates of need, cost, and benefit, our opposition is supported by many of the state's leading scientists and professional men. Their views are based upon actual studies and known facts, not on grandiose claims or computer projections. Naturally we hope you feel as we do—that a bad water plan is worse than no water plan until a good one can be made ready. And we hope you lend your support to the defeat of Proposition 2 on August 5.

However, whether you do or do not agree with our position, we suggest that you note in particular the attitude of Louisiana and its reaction to the blithe (and untrue) claim that "the plan provides for importation of water from the lower Mississippi River." As you well know and as Louisianans well know, the plan provides no such thing. Its backers say it does, but it doesn't. At present the odds are fantastically high that Texas will never get a drop of Mississippi River water unless some Texan carries it home in a bottle. Why do you suppose backers of the water plan find such deception necessary?

Also, please note that the people are not being asked to vote on the Texas Water Plan on August 5 but are rather asked to vote on HJR 9, which does not even refer to the plan. The people apparently are unaware of this fact.

R. M. Dixon, Chairman
 Committee of 1,000

H. L. Hunt Writes

FREEDOM LETTER WRITERS

Recent history illustrates how effective letter-writing campaigns have been in turning the tide against communism. Examples are the defeats of Juan Bosch in the Dominican Republic and of Sukarno and his thousands of communist supporters in Indonesia.

At the time of their defeats, victory appeared certain for the communist-supported Bosch, while Sukarno had long controlled Indonesia and appeared impregnable.

Right here in Republic USA the same effective, honorable and joyous method may enable concerned citizens to make known their views to our elected and appointed officials, which, once recognized and acted upon, will make our nation safe.

The written word offers many advantages over the spoken word and the enemy is at great disadvantage trying to work with the written word. Mistakes harmful to Freedom and our Republic are subject to reappraisal days, months or years later. Correct predictions and warnings from the Truth-side put in writing can impress with their accuracy and foresight.

Letters to the Editor, when well thought out and written, then published in newspapers in cities large and small, can become known as the "Voice of the Truth-side." Letters from the Truth-side today can preserve for posterity the same precious heritage our Founding Fathers gave us when they passed to us the torch of Liberty.

Everyone who knows anyone who writes letters to editors, or can be encouraged to become interested in this useful and joyful activity can become effective in helping to encourage those standing in the forefront of the battle for Freedom and our Republic.

The Truth-side needs to organize, however loosely, and regimented wrong-side groups which are all united in their hatred for freedom and our Republic USA.

The Doctor Says

By DR. W. G. BRANSTADT

Unexplained Fever

Hard to Diagnose
 Q — Following a viral infection, I have had a low-grade fever for several months. Could this make me feel weak and exhausted?

A — Prolonged fever of 99 to 100.6 may be due to many causes. Some type of infection must be suspected. Your viral infection may not be completely eradicated or you may have tuberculosis. In some persons a low-grade fever may be due to an impairment of the heat regulating system in the brain and in a few persons a daily temperature as high as 101 may be normal. Weakness and fatigue are more likely to be due to the disease than is causing the fever than to the fever itself.

Q — After a thorough examination, my doctor says that my daily fever of 99.2 to 101.8 is psychosomatic. Is this possible? If so, what do you advise?

A — Unexplained fever is one of the harder conditions a doctor is called on to diagnose. In one series of 46 patients with such a fever, an exploratory abdominal operation revealed unsuspected infection in 36. On the other hand, there is good evidence that worry or emotional strain can cause fevers of around 101.6 in some persons. Try a short course of tranquilizer. If that brings your fever down, the diagnosis is made.

Q — My temperature is usually around 95 and rarely gets above 96. I'm always chilly. What would cause this?

A — A daily temperature of less than 96 by mouth is very rare even in persons with a thyroid deficiency, which is the most likely cause and one that would also explain your feeling chilly. In many cases, however, a low temperature is not a true reading. Since you may have slowly registering thermometer, you should try leaving it under your tongue with your lips tightly closed for a full five minutes.

Q — If I use vinegar to rinse my hair, will it help to get all the shampoo out and will it make my hair healthier?

A — A vinegar or lemon juice rinse will remove the scum if you use a soap for shampooing, but is not recommended if you use one of the new detergent shampoos. An acid rinse will not make your hair healthier.

Lawyer Tate — And the plaintiff's lawyer?

Inside Washington

By ROBERT ALLEN and JOHN GOLDSMITH

Draft Law Changes?

"No Need" . . . "No Hurry"
 WASHINGTON — The outlook for any major changes in the Selective Service Act this year is growing dimmer by the day.

There isn't the slightest chance of the House or Senate doing anything on this long controversial issue before the start of the three weeks' recess, in the middle of August. And the prospects for action are little if any better when Congress reconvenes after Labor Day.

There are several controlling reasons for this backstage situation.

(1) The draft law doesn't expire for another two years — June 30, 1971. As a consequence, there is no pressing urgency to do anything about it. There is demand in and out of Congress for changes, but no compelling pressure. With Congress facing a heavy accumulation of unfinished business, there is no inclination to tackle anything that can wait.

(2) Two months ago, President Nixon proposed six important revisions — the most notable a lottery plan. A week later, the administration's bill was introduced in the House by Rep. Leslie Arends, Ill., Republican whip and ranking GOP member of the House Armed Services Committee. But since then neither he nor the White House has done a thing about it.

(3) In the Senate, the situation is even murkier. The administration's measure still hasn't been submitted there. Apparently, none of the eight Republican members of the Senate Armed Services Committee has offered to sponsor it. This would indicate no intention to do anything there until the House has started moving.

In the House the President's six recommendations are going to remain firmly pigeonholed as far as a key member is concerned.

WHO AND WHY — Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., chairman of the House Armed Services Subcommittee on the Draft, has no intention of doing anything about them for a bluntly simple reason.

He contends there is no reason for that.

It is the veteran legislator's emphatic view that everything the President has proposed can be accomplished by executive or administrative action. No new legislation is necessary, says Hebert.

Of the President's six recommendations, five can be accomplished within 24 hours and need no legislation. The one recommendation which would necessitate a change in the law is the so-called "scrambling of birth dates." This opens the dangers to a so-called "lottery by human error," whereas a "lottery based on birth dates" could be accomplished without legislation and would provide a lottery by Divine Providence.

"I submit that Divine Providence is much more preferable than human error. Thus, if the President wants a 'lottery' of the youngest-first, all that is necessary is that he utilize the mechanism of the present law. It is as simple as that. Frankly, I was surprised that he suggested this mechanical change since I don't think it provides any greater equity or any greater fairness in the selection process."

Unless overruled by the 40-member (23 Democrats, 17 Republicans) House Armed Services Committee, Hebert does not plan to hold hearings. He is willing to conduct what he calls "briefings" by military and other authorities. But he is against public hearings because of the belief they would be used by radical, pacifist and other opponents to stage publicity-seeking demonstrations and furors.

Hebert, one-time star New Orleans newsman and editor, is the first Louisianaian to serve 25 consecutive years in the House.

More than 40 bills have been offered in that chamber for a wide range of changes in the Selective Service Act. The most massive was sponsored by Rep. Frank Thompson, D-N.J., and 20 other members. It consists of 86 pages and Thompson informed Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, that he wanted hearings on the measure.

"I will certainly consider that," said Rivers pleasantly. "And in order to expedite that, I would like very much to have you and all the co-sponsors of this very large and important bill to prepare for me a detailed explanation of every one of the revisions you propose. I am very anxious to get your views and those of every one of the 20 co-sponsors."

Thompson shook his head ruefully and replied, "That's a mighty big order, Mr. Chairman. But I'll see what can be done."

So far, neither he nor any of the co-sponsors have submitted reports. Rivers amiably says he is in no hurry to hear from them. They can take all the time they want.

PAUL HARVEY NEWS

The Gap In Education

By PAUL HARVEY

In recent years you and I have assumed that education is useful, college is necessary. Two recent generations have aimed themselves and their offspring at a college education, figuring that more school after high school is almost absolutely essential.

Dropouts were decried. Where funds for higher education were unavailable, government offered assistance. We were certain that every young American could and should benefit from acquiring an academic degree.

Now along comes a survey by Fortune magazine, which suggests the possibility that tomorrow's leaders may come from the noncollege.

The Fortune survey compares the manner in which identical questions were answered by college and noncollege young people. Examples:

Would you welcome more law and order? While 69 per cent of college students said yes, 81 per cent of noncollege youth also said yes.

Do you consider religion very important? College, 38 per cent; noncollege, 64 per cent.

Preferential sex? 61 per cent of college students approve, 41 per cent of noncollege students approve.

Reject conformity in dress, and grooming? 38 per cent college, 19 per cent noncollege.

No one question is intended to indict those who reply; the sum of all the questions and answers, however, appears to add up to the fact that students are likely in college to abandon many of the beliefs which have been considered basic to the American ethic.

It is apparent from this responsible survey, and comparisons with a similar one last October, that resistance to the draft is growing—the belief in war as an acceptable strategy is declining—and a majority of college students no longer hold either religion or patriotism to be very important.

Even among practical-minded college students, those who are mostly conservative in other things, support for war is less and lessening.

Are you eating less and enjoying it less these days?

meat with wings on it your main staple and hamburger or meat loaf the only added attraction each week?

Fret not, little taxpayer. By scripping on yourselves and your families you will be content to know that you have put food into the mouths of moonbabes. But they didn't eat meat loaf no sir. It was nothing but the best for the astro noughts.

During their merrie flight to moondust they chomped on shrimp cocktails, beef pot roast, beef and vegetables, meat and spaghetti and soft drinks among the variety of 52 approved foods for their dining pleasure.

Do you know why you are eating less and they are enjoying it more? Because the food budget for the flyers shows they ate these goodies at a cost of from $150 to $300 for every bite they take!

Of course, the ration design specialist says the most important criteria was that the astro noughts ate what they liked and liked what they consumed. They say that eating with a spoon gave the noughts an extra psychological lift at meal times.

And every time one of them took one of those $300 bites the little feller felt the pinch.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

When the Europeans arrived in North America, 60 million bison grazed the land, even though the Indians had hunted the animal for centuries. By 1888, a census reported that only 541 bison remained in the United States. The World Almanac notes, The repeating rifle, the market for meat and skins, the desire for sport, and a strategy of starving the Indians into submission explain the near-destruction of the species.

MINIMOBILE RUNS AGAIN — Two-year-old Bobby Kohn sits behind the wheel of a child-sized Packard, built around 1930. ## The Crazy World That Is Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Odds and ends from the nation's capital—mostly odd:

Mrs. Elly Peterson, vice chairman of the Republican National Committee, was recalling some of the interesting things that have come up as she was being introduced as a speaker.

At one meeting, the lady who was to bring her on whispered, "Do you want to be introduced now, or let them enjoy their lunch first?"

Another of these functionaries warmed up for the introduction with a little speech in which she exhorted: "You've got to go out and get more members, because then we'll get better speakers."

One lady presented Mrs. Peterson as this "venerable Republican."

The best-remembered line, though, is the one from a speaker who followed her, which went: "There goes one of the finest women who ever walked the streets."

Mrs. Peterson smoothed over the speaker's embarrassment with the assurance: "At this time, and at my weight, it was a great thing to hear."

Need some reassurance following that latest shattering report on the cost of living? Try this, from a news release:

"In these times of constant inflation and rising prices it is nice to hear about a major price reduction—even though it will not substantially affect our day-to-day cost-of-living."

Mound Laboratory of Miamisburg, Ohio, announced that carbon-13 enriched to 90 percent or more has been reduced from $4,400 to $685 per gram. This amounts to a reduction of

Sex Education Readies Student For Family Life

CHICAGO (UPI) — In many school districts the mention of sex education stirs tempers, sparks debates and otherwise disrupts relations between educators and some parents.

The Chicago public school sex education program runs from kindergarten to grade 12. It's called family life and sex education.

In kindergarten the course aims to teach children to find out about themselves and their families. In grades 11 and 12, discussion concerns growing in self-understanding, living with a family, teenage marriage and family life — care of mother and baby.

Enlightening to any involved a sex education dilemma on the school front are the objectives of the Chicago program. They include:

- To strengthen the family as the basic social unit in our democratic way of life.
- To develop and implement a comprehensive and educationally sound program of family life and sex education incorporated into the regular curriculum in all elementary, secondary and special schools.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Several factors are conspiring to promote a possible technical rally in the market, says Bache & Co. First, the market continues oversold; second, the Dow Jones industrial average has retreated to a "support" level in the 820-825 zone, finally, the degree of individual carnage in the glamor stocks has reached a point where bargain hunters might find the opportunities irresistible.

Whether the market has sufficiently discounted "the bleak fundamental outlook" is difficult to determine, says E. F. Hutton & Co., but until something more bullish appears on the technical scene, the market probably will continue trending downward. If the market were to retreat to its lows of March, 1962.

The National Geographic news bulletin is always good for a bit of hot news, too. Like: "An acre of desert may support as many as 100,000 beetles, among the most abundant animal forms in arid lands . . ."

"The universe contains about 100,000 million billion stars—or about as many stars as there are grains of sand on all the beaches of the world."

"The Washington-based magazine Bioscience received a letter from Ralph A. Lewin of the Scripps Institution of Oceanography in San Diego a letter which said in its entirety: 'Everything I like is either illegal or immoral, pollutes the environment, or increases the population.'"

It doesn't complicate your life. Maverick is the simple machine—simple to own, simple to repair, simple to service, simple to drive.

It doesn't cost a lot. With prices everywhere going sky-high, Maverick comes along with a down-to-earth price—$1995.*

It doesn't have a tiny trunk. Maverick gives you 10.4 cu. ft. of trunk space—nearly twice as much as the leading import. Now the whole family's luggage can go along for the ride.

It doesn't squeeze you in. Some big people live in this country. That's why we made Maverick bigger than the imports. Lots of legroom and shoulder room.

It doesn't squeeze you out. It's great for parking, great for handling, great for zipping through traffic.

It doesn't skimp on essentials. Maverick gives you tough brakes, unitized body construction, rustproofing, and four coats of paint. Its 3-speed transmission is able to handle twice as much horsepower as the engine turns out.

Television In Review The Lighter Side

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—President Nixon's around-the-world trip, including his historic visit to Communist Romania next week, will get extended special coverage from the television networks.

Nixon left for the Pacific Wednesday to be on land for the recovery of the Apollo 11 astronauts on their return from the moon today.

After that, the apparent highlight of his journey will be his visit to the Romanian city of Bucharest—the first personal call on a Communist citadel by a president of the United States since World War II. And at least one network, NBC-TV, has announced it will broadcast live coverage—via satellite—from Bucharest, Aug. 2 and 3.

This Friday night—actually early Saturday morning—parts of the nation—there will be a live broadcast, announced by NBC-TV, of Nixon's arrival in Manila. The scheduled time is from 12:30 to 1:30 a.m. EDT.

On Sunday, CBS-TV will present a half-hour report at 7:30 p.m. EDT about the Chief Executive's Jakarta sojourn.

Tuesday, there will be a 30-minute CBS-TV program focusing on Nixon's Bangkok trip. This broadcast will be seen at 10 p.m. EDT in some areas, and at 10:30 p.m. EDT in others.

Next Thursday, meanwhile, ABC-TV will contribute an hour report on President Nixon's trip, at 10 p.m. EDT.

And a week from Friday—that is, on Aug. 1—there will be a 30-minute CBS-TV program, at 11:30 p.m. EDT, on Nixon's arrivals in New Delhi and Lahor.

'90-Minute Broadcast

On Saturday, Aug. 2, NBC-TV's live satellite coverage of the President's visit to Bucharest will be broadcast for 90 minutes, starting at 6 a.m. EDT. It will include his meeting with the Romanian president and scenes of the motorcade from the airport.

The night of Aug. 2, CBS-TV will have an hour report on the Bucharest trip, beginning at 7:30 p.m. EDT.

The morning of Sunday, Aug. 3, NBC-TV will present an hour of live coverage of Nixon's departure from Bucharest, including the motorcade to the airport and farewell ceremonies. This broadcast will start at 8:30 a.m. EDT.

The night of Aug. 3, there will be live network coverage of the President's arrival home at Andrews Air Force Base, at 10 p.m. EDT.

THE MOON (UPI)—The lunar air force disclosed today that it is investigating reports that an unidentified flying object (UFO) was sighted last Sunday in or near the Sea of Tranquility.

However, an air force spokesman scoffed at suggestions that the UFO may have been a spaceship from earth or some other planet.

"We get reports of this type quite frequently and we routinely check them out," the spokesman said. "The so-called 'flying saucers' usually turn out to have been optical illusions caused by crater gas or something of the sort."

"We have no evidence that there is any kind of life on earth. And even if the planet were inhabited, it would be ridiculous to think that the earthlings would be able to fly to the moon."

Saw Strange Vehicle

Despite official skepticism, however, residents of the Sea of Tranquility insisted they saw a strange vehicle land on Sunday and take off again Monday.

"It passed right over my head," said Mrs. Maudie Tribling, who lives in Crater 22. "I could see two weird-looking creatures peering out of the windows as it went by."

Asked to describe the vehicle, Mrs. Tribling said it "looked something like a spider with spindly legs and dishes instead of feet." She said it was "breathing fire" when she first saw it.

She said it seemed to hover briefly over the crater and then descend a short distance beyond the rim.

Mrs. Tribling's story was corroborated to some extent by Clyde Kipper, who vowed that he actually saw the vehicle land and two moonly figures emerge.

Had Glass Faces

"They were white all over and had big square backs and glass faces," Kipper said. "I couldn't tell if they were robots or living things, and believe me I didn't hang around to find out."

Kipper was asked what the creatures were doing when he saw them.

"I know you aren't going to believe this," he said, "but they were kind of leaping around and picking up rocks. Once they stopped and...I'll swear I'm not making this up...they stopped and set up a red, white and blue cloth and saluted it."
