

Astronauts Begin Hectic Round Of Celebrations

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Big Town blasted off in thunderous welcome today to America's men from the moon.

Apollo 11 astronauts Neil A. Armstrong, Michael Collins and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. rode the route of Lindy, Ike and MacArthur up Broadway to start a 20-hour day that would take them from the concrete canyons to a state dinner with President Nixon tonight in Los Angeles.

It was the public's first real glimpse of the space men since they returned from the flight that put Armstrong and Aldrin on the surface of the moon July 20. New Yorkers made the most of it with cheers, billowing ticketape and tons of shredded paper and an outpouring of official oratory.

"We have honored many voyagers before—men who sailed around the world, men who flew alone across the ocean," said Mayor John Lindsay in City Hall ceremonies.

"But today we honor three men who forged the first link between the earth and the stars... for that victory New York thanks you and the world thanks you."

The sun bathed the city through its usual pall of smoke and haze and temperatures were in the 80's. Thousands of people began lining up hours before the astronauts arrived. Space was at a premium in the windows of the towering buildings that line the Broadway financial district.

Drums went bang, cymbals clanged and bugles blared away along the route. They weren't all in great tune and the echoes against the buildings jarred the ears, but it was all for the space heroes and a foretaste of noisy celebrations still to come.

Next stop: the Windy City and a royal Chicago welcome.

American flags hung as a canopy from buildings along Broadway. And each street lightpole bore a small U.S. flag, an orange-and-white New York City flag and a dark-blue flag of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

"I've never seen so many cops," said 9-year-old Joe Cappolano Jr., of Huntington, W. Va., as his father jockeyed for space on the thickening street.

The hawkers were out as usual, selling souvenir pennants and buttons and chanting, "First men on the moon."

Consumption Of Water Hit High Peak Yesterday

Water consumption hit its peak for the year in Pampa yesterday when 7,639,400 gallons were pumped during the 24-hour period ending last midnight.

B. M. Wofford, city utilities director, attributed the heavy usage of water yesterday to the current hot spell which sent the mercury in Pampa soaring to the 102-degree mark.

Yesterday's total gallonage was 40,500 gallons above the next highest day for 1969 water consumption on July 15 when 7,598,900 gallons were pumped. Wofford got out his calculator and figured per capita consumption yesterday, based on a population of 25,000, at 305 gallons for each resident. That would be the equivalent, he stated, of around 25 bathtubfuls of water per person.

Commissioners Still Playing Fire Deal Cool

Gray County Commissioners today delayed action on the proposed fire contract with the city of Pampa.

The proposal would up the current rate of $5 per mile and $50 per fire run (not to exceed $100) to $150 per run, with no mileage charge, for one vehicle used in a fire or an emergency. The contract calls for the charge not to exceed $300 for any one run.

Commissioners have had the proposal under consideration since last October and must make a decision to accept or reject the Pampa City Council's proposal by Jan. 1.

A letter was directed to be sent to the Texas Highway Department urging completion of improvements to Highway 273 through the city of Pampa. The necessary improvements would be from Highway 60 South on Cuyler and Barnes Sts. to the Fort Worth and Denver Railroad underpass for three-quarters of a mile.

The engineering firm of Merriman and Barber were authorized to draw up specifications to replace a bridge in Precinct 4, located on the Johnson Ranch. The bridge recently collapsed when an over-loaded truck passed over it. When the specifications are approved, bids for construction will be released.

Travel expenses were okayed for Gray County Agent Foster Whaley to attend the National Association of County Agricultural Agents to be held in Atlantic City, N.J. Sept. 21-25.

Whaley, one of seven Texans, will receive a Distinguished Service Award from the national association.

Commissioners authorized advertising bids for oil and gas leases on school land owned by the county in Gaines County. Gray County owns approximately 6,000 acres in south Texas, most of which are already under lease.

In a final order of business, approval was given to a bill of $1,050 for travel and expenses for the 13 witnesses, who appeared at the recent Tom R. Vessels' re-trial in Houston. Witnesses were paid two cents per mile and $8 per diem.

The predicted high for today should have carried Pampa into its third day of 100 degree temperatures as Pampans sinner in the summer's hottest weather.

Texas' torrid heat wave enveloped a full three fourths of the state with 100-degree weather Tuesday. Another scorching day was promised for today.

A few scattered spots in Central Texas enjoyed a brief respite from the heat Tuesday night when thundershowers popped up in Burnet and Williamson counties north of Austin. But the shower activity disappeared by morning clearing the way for another hot day in the area.

The Weather Bureau said 75 per cent of the reporting stations in Texas recorded 100-degree readings or above Tuesday.

Nixon Said To Be Gambling That American Men Want To Work

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Nixon administration's welfare reform proposal is a gamble that most American men want to work, HEW secretary Robert H. Finch said today.

"Sure, there are always those who are going to say, 'Well, given any amount of money, a guy is going to prefer to lay on his duff and drink beer,'" Finch said in an interview with UPI.

"But we are betting that most guys, just in terms of self-respect and the work ethic of his country, they want a job."

"And given a decent chance at one, they are going to get out and work. If you can't bet on that, I don't know what you can bet on."

Finch said White House mail is running 20-1 in favor of President Nixon's welfare reform proposals.

The President's proposal, outlined last week, would abolish the largest and most controversial welfare program, which provides payments to mothers and children, and replace it with a family assistance plan that would include the low-income worker as well as the unemployed.

It would provide that no family of four, for example, could fall below $1,600 a year and that the same size family could earn up to $3,920 a year and still be eligible for benefits.

He would set a federal floor of $65 a month payments to adults who are aged, blind and disabled; require the able-bodied, except mothers of preschool children, to register for work or job training; and give financial relief to the states.

The Cabinet member, who helped shape the final plan, said the internal debate was "a classical confrontation" but the final package was the President's.

closed his eyes, ignored the telephone and said: "It was what I would call a classical confrontation—not conservative-liberal, but those who recognize that the present system is just a disaster and that we had to break out of the old mold, and those who wanted to rewrite the old system."

"He said the debate was largely over the question of whether to include the working poor. In the end, they were included. During the internal debate, some argued that this was a bad time to put forth a welfare reform proposal, Finch said.

Nixon's proposal would increase the number of persons covered from about 10 million to 22.4 million.

"These are not welfare recipients," Finch said. "The big bloc of people being added are people who get up every morning and go to work. But what we are saying is that we recognize that what they are earning is not giving their children a very good shot at life."

Finch, asked what impact the proposal would have if it is approved, said: "I think clearly it is going to have the business of holding the family together, avoiding the hypocrisy that we have been indulging in, where you couldn't get help if there was a man around," he replied.

Finch said the proposed reform would work only with the other elements of the package proposed by Nixon, including the comprehensive work program and revenue sharing with the states.

"It is not supposed to fly on its own," he said.

PLANE HIJACKED
CAIRO (UPI)—Seven Ethiopian students hijacked an Ethiopian Airlines plane and forced it to land at Khartoum, Sudan, where they requested political asylum, Omdurman Radio reported in a broadcast monitored here.

The radio station did not say Tuesday whether the request for asylum was granted.

It said the plane, a propeller-driven DC3 which was on a domestic flight when it was hijacked Monday, returned to Addis Ababa Tuesday with the remaining 16 passengers and three crew members.

LONDON (UPI)—Northern Ireland (UPI)—Roman Catholics battled police today amid burning buildings and clouds of tear gas. Civil rights leaders urged them to keep fighting until Britain took control of the Ulster government.

The savage violence erupted Tuesday when Catholics hurled bricks, iron bars, and rocks into the ranks of thousands of parading Protestants celebrating a 280-year-old Protestant victory over a Catholic Army.

Police drove hundreds of Catholics back into their own Bogside District beneath the ancient city walls shortly after the attack on the parade. There the Catholics erected barricades and repelled armored cars and tear gas charges with firebombs and stones in fighting that continued into the predawn today.

It was the first time Ulster police have ever used tear gas. They tossed the canisters at Catholics after rioters broke into two gasoline stations which they flung at police and into buildings.

Clergymen and residents worked to evacuate women, children and elderly persons from endangered apartment houses.

Police said 91 of their men had been injured, 12 seriously enough to require hospitalization. Two were burned by the firebombs that at one point were bursting into police ranks at the rate of about one a minute.

More than 650 of the 3,000 men in the Royal Ulster Constabulary have now been injured in Catholic-Protestant clashes that started in October, when Catholics began demonstrating for equal voting rights and better housing.

Lennon Sisters' Dad Shot In Parking Lot

VENICE, Calif. (UPI)—William Lennon, 53, father and manager of the singing Lennon Sisters, was shot to death in a parking lot Tuesday by an assailant matching the description of a man who harrassed the family for several years.

Police said today they were searching for the unidentified suspect who fired two rifle bullets into Lennon's back and another into his head as he tried to flee.

The gunman, described as "sloppily dressed" and wearing a crumpled hat, was about 30 years old; 6 feet tall, 220 pounds.

Lennon's brother, Jimmy, said: "The killer could be one of those kooks who insist, after seeing the girls on television, that one of them is in love with him. It could be one of those crank callers. There are so many kooks."

Officers said the suspect was a mental patient from Colorado. He once was arrested by the Secret Service after threatening the life of President Lyndon B. Johnson, apparently claiming the President stopped him from marrying a member of the quartet, Peggy Lennon.

Lennon was shot in the parking lot of the Marina Del Rey Golf Range where he worked as a pro.

A witness to the shooting, Watson Council, told UPI the suspect lay in wait in the lot and jumped out from behind another car as Lennon approached.

There was a brief conversation, then the man pulled a .30-06 rifle from a gunnysack and the two men began scuffling over the weapon. Lennon shouted, "No, no, don't do it. Help. Help."

"Bill broke away and started toward the entrance to the parking lot," Council said. "The man fired, hit him once, Bill staggered, ran toward a corner fence. The man fired again and hit him in the back. Bill crawled around the fence, the man ran right up to him, put the gun to the side of his head by his ear and fired again."

The gunman ran across the street to another parking lot, flung the rifle in the trunk of a car, and sped away. Council tried to follow him in another car but lost him.

Lennon gave up a milk route in the 1950s to manage the careers of his famous singing daughters, Peggy, 29, Diane, 30, Kathy 26 and Janet 22. They made their national television debut Christmas Eve, 1955, on the Lawrence Welk Show.

ASKS AIRPORT USE
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., chairman of the House Commerce Committee, has asked the Transportation Department to consider using the Bolling-Anacostia military airfield in Washington for commercial aviation.

Bolling-Anacostia lies just across the Potomac River from National Airport, one of the nation's most congested fields. Staggers said that in view of National's congestion and Bolling-Anacostia's idle runways, the department should "take a good hard look" at revitalizing it.

In 1947 fashion designers started a controversy by introducing women's dresses that reached nearly to the ankles.

Hurricane Beulah Still Blowing

HOUSTON (UPI)—The 1967 Hurricane Beulah is still blowing ill wind.

A Houston contractor denied Tuesday his firm, hired by Cameron County to clean up damage from the hurricane, padded its bills.

John Eberle, an El Paso, Tex., contractor, made the charges Monday against George Consolidated of Houston, saying he planned to file a $5,000 suit because the Houston firm owed him for his work as a subcontractor.

Lee George, president of George Consolidated, said Tuesday he neither hired Eberle nor padded his firm's bills.

"This is absolutely without foundation," George said of Eberle's charges. "The guy has never worked for us and has never rented any equipment to us. He never has worked for us."

Eberle claimed the Houston firm hired him, four of his employees and used some of his equipment during the hurricane cleanup two years ago in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

"Too much money was wasted and there was too much billpadding," Eberle told Cameron County officials.

Eberle said George Consolidated billed the county $1.2 million for the cleanup and $658,788 of that total was approved by the Office of Emergency Planning.

Eberle said the Houston firm fired him as a foreman because he refused to certify workmen were present when they were not. George said his firm did not hire Eberle and had no direct dealings with him.

"The only thing that we know about is that about a year ago we received a letter from him," George said. "He apparently worked for a subcontractor of ours. We've never had any dealing with the man."

"For some local, political gambit, he's trying to stir up something," the Houston contractor said. "I guess because he couldn't settle with the subcontractor, he's trying to get back at us."

ROTC COURSES
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Army Reserve Officers Training Corps will offer compressed courses for juniors at Harvard and Dartmouth next school year. ROTC programs are scheduled to end at the two institutions next June 30. The compressed courses and a possible two-week summer camp will enable juniors to qualify for officer commissions without the raining they would have received as seniors.

Police, Catholics Battle In Londonderry

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Downside risks seem considerably less than the upside potential from an intermediate term viewpoint, said Shearson, Ham- mill & Co.

The firm said the stock market seems to be discounting at least most of the decline in earnings likely to take place in coming months. On the other hand, it said, a sharp rally is unlikely without some dramatic development in Vietnam and the market will go through a fairly dull period to form a new base.

The market is not likely to stage any sustainable advance until an expansionary credit cycle begins or appears imminent according to McDonnell & Co. Signs that the anti-inflation program is taking hold have appeared in recent weeks but this does not mean that tight money is going to loosen in the near future, the firm said.

The early August rally could resume after the effects of the franc devaluation wear off, said Standard & Poor's Corp. But even though a major base could be in process of formation, it will in any event take some time to complete the consolidation and set the stage for the next advance. Some allowance must be made meanwhile for the possibility that this may prove to be a false start, the firm added.

Te NEW Sieman leopard museum clockw... Then h a tribe sure to televis He happen should motion it dow tribe s they escape

Television In Review Vacation Has Unexpected Ending For Pampan's Kin

By ROBERT MUSEL
NEW YORK (UPI)—Heinz Siemann borrowed a stuffed leopard from the Nairobi museum, fitted it with a clockwork mechanism to waggle its head and promised to return it in good condition. Then he hid the leopard where a tribe of baboons would be sure to see it and turned on his television cameras.

He knew what should have happened. The baboon leaders should have made threatening motions at the leopard to slow it down or stop it while the tribe scuttled to safety. Then they should have tried to escape themselves from the unpredictable spotted slayer who is among the predators most feared by other animals. But Siemann's baboons did not act in accordance with the observation of other zoologists and thus added another mite to the knowledge of animals, which is as important to the study of the development of human society as landing on the moon as to research into the origins of this planet.

For some, summer vacations mean a trip to the mountains. For others, a lakeside fishing spot is the ideal spot to "get away from it all."

But the grandson of a Pampan went to Central America and was arrested as a spy suspect.

Twenty-year-old Randy Benham, son of former Pampan Milt Benham, now living in Monahans, and grandson of Mrs. Mina Benham, 1132 E. Browning, shared the harrowing experience with two of his University of Texas classmates this summer.

In mid-July, when their summer session at the University of Mexico in Mexico City was concluded, Randy, Foss Jones of McAllen and Dave Lefevre of Cleveland, Ohio, decided to take an excursion into Guatemala, El Salvador and Honduras before returning to their homes.

Little did they expect to be caught in the midst of the recent "war" between Honduras and El Salvador, arrested and jailed, on suspicion of espionage.

Back home now safe and sound in Monahans, Randy is regaling his friends with his eventful summer excursion.

It was midnight on July 22, when the trio of youths arrived in the village of Acajutla, El Salvador. They were tired from a harrowing bus trip and additional miles of hitchhiking.

Their main concern was finding a hotel and getting some sleep before continuing their journey.

They became aware of growing hostility when the native men became loud and threatening.

Randy recalled, "Many of them had been drinking and they were armed and restless. We caught phrases that sounded like 'let's help them leave.'"

With the growing hostility, the trio decided to forget about a hotel and hurried toward a beach. But as they ran towards the Pacific Ocean that fronts the small port village, one of the natives fired and the trio hesitated.

"We decided it might be wise to quit running and try to talk," Randy said.

The El Salvadorians herded the college students to an official, who promptly arrested them and held them for questioning.

They thought we were spies!" Randy said.

The students were saved from possible death by spying or from languishing in some prison through the intervention of a Peace Corps official who worked in the village and was one of the very few Americans remaining in the village.

Randy said most Americans had been evacuated the day before.

The situation really blackened when authorities noted their passports were stamped with Honduras visas.

"They figured we were enemy agents for sure then," Randy said.

Randy explained Acajutla boasted the only oil refinery in the tiny Central American nation and Honduran rebels had bombed it only two days before the trio of Americans wandered into the town. Randy said the Organization of American States had negotiated a cease-fire at that time but everyone was still on alert and expecting fighting to resume at any time.

When the youths entered the tiny village, they were unaware of a blackout and the tension that prevailed.

To illustrate the suspicion with which they were regarded by machete and rifle-carrying

Washington Window

By RAYMOND LAHR
WASHINGTON (UPI)—House Republican leaders appear surprisingly calm about the growing list of GOP members who covet six-year terms in the greener pastures of the Senate.

They know the Nixon administration has given first priority to gaining seven seats to win control of the Senate in the 1970 elections. They also know safe Republican congressional districts may become highly competitive and potential losses to the Democrats result when an incumbent retires or decides to seek another office.

On paper, Republican campaign managers face the tougher job in trying to pick up 30 more seats to win control of the House than to gain seven in the Senate. All 435 of the House seats are at stake next year. Thirty-four of the 100 senate seats will be filled at the same time: 25 of the 34 are now held by Democrats.

House members are elected for two-year terms. Senators are chosen for six years and this provides easier access to statewide or nationwide publicity.

The Republican Congressional Campaign Committee newsletter a week ago carried a headline that "Sixteen GOP House Members Eyeing U.S. Senate in 1970." It named only Reps. Clark MacGregor, Minn., and William V. Roth, De., however.

PGA Tourney Faces Trouble From SCLC

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI)—A two-hour negotiation session which ended in failure left the 51st PGA golf championship today facing possible "disruption" by a civil rights demonstration sometime during play which opens here on Thursday.

While 143 star players got in their final tuneups over the lush National Cash Register course, officials of the PGA disclosed their security committee "has made full preparations for any planned disruption of play."

The PGA itself is not involved in the dispute, which is between the Dayton Chamber of Commerce and 31 local civil rights organizations. Rev. David Gilbert Sr., president of the local chapter of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), has been quoted as asserting the chamber has not "spent as much money and time and effort in eliminating poverty and helping the poor people of Dayton as they have spent in bringing this tournament to Dayton."

The threat to disrupt play in the PGA recalled a similar threat at the 1967 Masters tournament in Augusta, Ga., which did not materialize, and at the 1966 Kentucky Derby in Louisville, where National Guardsmen lined the home stretch to prevent anyone dashing onto the track.

In the tournament itself, a 72-hole test over the par 36-35-71 south course of the National Cash Register Club, defending champion Julius Boros was downgrading the possibility he could win the title again at the age of 49.

Other popular favorites include big Jack Nicklaus, Ohio's greatest contribution to the pro ranks, and Arnie Palmer, trying once again at 39 to win the only major championship which so far has eluded him. Nicklaus also has the advantage of more familiarity with the course than most of the other starters.

Cook Gets Starting Nod For Bengals-Chiefs Game

By United Press International
The "future" is here for the Cincinnati Bengals.

When Coach Paul Brown drafted Greg Cook as his first pick earlier this year, he said he was passing up players who could be of more immediate help to the Bengals because, "Cook will be our quarterback of the future."

But Cook, who's only been in the Bengal camp a little more than a week since being named the most valuable player for the College All-Stars in their two-point loss to the New York Jets, was named as the starting quarterback by Brown for the Bengals' exhibition game Saturday night against the Kansas City Chiefs.

Brown made the announcement Tuesday as the team resumed practice following a 21-13 loss to the Boston Patriots last weekend.
Bergey Will Start
Brown also said that another rookie, middle linebacker Bill Bergey, will start and call defensive signals.

The Bengals also waived three more players, linebacker Ken Herock, running back Bob Currington and receiver Alvin Scott.

The world champion New York Jets, preparing for their showdown Sunday against the New York Giants in New Haven, Conn. announced that Bill Mathis has signed a contract for this 10th pro season. Mathis had originally announced his retirement at the end of last season but was talked into joining the club because the Jets needed another blocking back.

SPORTS

The Pampa Daily News

Ewbank also continued to insist that he will play Joe Namath only a half in the game against the Giants. "Joe needs to play," Ewbank said, "but we also have to find out who's going to be No. 2, Babe Parilli or Al Woodall."
However, Namath insists he's going to stay in the game and Namath usually gets his own way.

BABE PARILLI
... second choice

Young Undergoes Surgery
Linebacker Adrain Young of the Philadelphia Eagles underwent surgery on torn knee ligaments Tuesday and will be sidelined about two months. Young was injured in the Eagles' 13-7 loss to Atlanta on Saturday.
George Seals, the Chicago Bears' 270-pound offensive guard, walked out of camp Tuesday. He left without an explanation but he apparently wasn't satisfied with the Bears' 1969 contract offer.

The Bears, who aren't exactly noted for paying huge salaries, said Seals would be subject to the usual fines in such cases—$2 for each day he's absent and $1,000 for failure to show up for an exhibition game.

O. J. Simpson had his first workout with the Buffalo Bills and admitted he wasn't in the best of shape, but Coach John Rauch said he was still impressed with Simpson's performance.
The Boston Patriots cut four offensive players including guard Carl Singer, the teams' top draft choice four years ago. Tight end Barry Gallup, flanker Bill Murphy and Thomas Whittier, who was acquired from Pittsburgh in an off-season trade were the other players cut.

Quarterbacks Work For Oil Bowl Tilt

WICHITA FALLS (UPI)—Texas quarterbacks Gary Keithley and Jack Frampton worked Tuesday on their passing in preparation for Friday's game with Oklahoma in the 32nd Oil Bowl Classic.

Last year the Texans beat Oklahoma 39-7, mainly on passing, and this year's encounter promises to be one that will highlight wideopen passing attacks by both clubs.

Calling the signals for the Sooner state club will be Paul Rosenburg of Oklahoma City Northwest and Danny O'Toole of Oklahoma City Cassidy.

Mrs. Boddie Leads
DALLAS (UPI)—Barbara Fay Boddie of Shreveport, La., went four over par after four holes in the 69th U.S.G.A. Amateur Women's championship and decided "I'd better get busy."

She did.
The 29-year-old blonde Mrs. Boddie leads the top 32 qualifiers into today's opening two rounds of match play by finishing the qualifying rounds with a 69-78-147 after 36 holes.

Oilers Eye Colts
KERRVILLE, Tex. (UPI)—Quarterback Pete Beathard of the Houston Oilers riddled the Baltimore defense alignment with a succession of passes to Jim Burns, Charley Joiner and Ed Carrington.
Now Beathard hopes he can do as well when the real thing comes along—namely Baltimore's defense.

Hill To Start
THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (UPI)—The Dallas Cowboys announced Tuesday a major shakeup in their lineup in Sunday's preseason game against the San Francisco 49ers.
Half the offensive backfield will be different from the one that played in last week's loss to Los Angeles. Calvin Hill, the Cowboys' No. 1 draft choice

A-Giants Gain Ground In Hot Texas League

By United Press International
Texas League teams are coming down the home stretch of the 1969 season carving segments from an Alfred Hitchcock thriller to keep the suspense at its peak. Not only do six teams still have good chances for division titles, but the gap between the haves and the have-nots is narrowing.
Both division leading teams lost Tuesday night and the runner-ups gained a full game in the standings.

The Dallas-Fort Worth Spurs were the hardest hit, taking it on the chin 9-0 from the Arkansas Travelers. The El Paso Sun Kings squeaked by the Memphis Blues, 6-5 (the Amarillo Braves bombed the Shreveport Braves 11-3, and the Albuquerque Dodgers gave the Western Division edge in intra-division play topping the San Antonio Missions, 4-2.

Two Traveler pitchers—starter Ramon Hernandez (8-9) and relief specialist Bob Chlupka—limited the Spurs to just three hits in Arkansas' 9-0 win. Arkansas collected it hits, the big one a two-run homer by Luis Melendez, his fourth of the year.

Tied 1-1, the Sun Kings erupted for five runs in the top of the sixth to down Memphis and hand Tom Bradley (5-2), who went the distance, the win.

The Giants were behind, 5-3 when they scored five runs in the bottom of the sixth and went on to crush Shreveport, 11-5. Relief pitcher Mike Wysocki (5-2) got the win.

San Antonio and Albuquerque got a number of hits, but could manage few runs from them as Dodger starter Mike Mathwig (11-5) chalked up another win. The Dodgers barely outthit the Missions, 11-10.
Tuesday's action left Arkansas—only a game behind the Blues in the Eastern Division standings with Shreveport remaining 4½ games out. The Spurs' lead in the West was cut to 2½ games over El Paso, who is only three percentage points ahead of Amarillo.

PGA Tourney Still Big One Missing For Palmer

By MILTON RICHMAN
DAYTON, Ohio (UPI)

Professional golf is loaded with so many different trade-marks, nobody knows which brand to buy anymore.

There's the familiar little green alligator, the miniature black-and-white penguin, the little golden bear and the small silver what-not.

Then there's that tiny umbrella which has been moving pretty good lately also. Everybody knows that's Arnold Palmer's private trade-mark. People recognize it everywhere. They know his other trade-mark, too. He's a great golfer but never has won the PGA championship.

Arnold Palmer's conspicuous failure in this one, contrasted with his consistent success in all the others, has become his other trade-mark in much the same way as repeated failure to win the U.S. Open has become Sam Snead's.

The first time Palmer ever took a whack at winning the PGA was back in 1958. He was 28 then and didn't do so well. He finished 40th.

Spec Medalist

BORGER—Spec Goldman of Dallas shot a four-under par 67 Tuesday to win medalist honors for the fourth time in the Tri-State Seniors golf tournament.

The 175 contestants play match play today and Thursday and revert to medal action Friday.

SPORTS PARADE

The last time he had a crack at it a year ago, he did better. He finished in a tie for second place. But he didn't win, and that was the important thing.

The next time Arnold Palmer gets a shot at the PGA is in the first round here tomorrow. In the past he has sold all the golf titles, the PGA means most to him now because it remains the only one which has eluded him.

If anything, the PGA means more than ever to him at this particular point.

For one thing, he never has missed making the Ryder Cup team, which is a major prestige symbol among the pros. The only way Palmer can possibly make the Ryder Cup team now would be by winning the PGA. That, and only that, could give him enough points.

Then there's that other thing. Each year since he turned pro, Palmer has managed to win at least one tournament. His record so far this year is zero. Nothing. He's still looking for that first win. As a matter of fact he hasn't won a tournament in 11 months and that matches the longest non-winning drought of his profession.
Arnold Palmer, who'll be 40 feeling about winning the PGA then?

"My feeling is I'll give it the best effort I have."

Did he think his best would be good enough?

"I feel my game is good enough, yes, but the big problem is my mental attitude. I have to put my game together and keep it there for four days."

Palmer was quoted not too long ago, following a poor round, as saying, "it just ain't fun—any more." Now they wanted to know whether he had been quoted accurately.

"I think it was taken a little out of context," he said. "My exact quote was: 'It just ain't fun anymore to play like this.' That was really the way the remark was made. But if he (the writer) wanted to drop the last part of what I said that's of no great concern to me."

Palmer stuffed some of the clubs he brought with him into his locker and got ready to go out and play a few holes. "It's a tournament I've never won," he said again, referring to the PGA.
There will be many things Palmer will be remembered for. So far one of those things is never having won the PGA. It's like an annoying piece of lint on a dark blue suit.
How Arnold Palmer would love to flick it off.

Highlights And Sidelights From The State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex. — Water development leaders already are talking about another try with the $3.5 billion water bond authorization in the wake of last week's constitutional amendments elections.

Water bonds — to finance the state's share of the $9 billion Texas water plan — were defeated by only a few thousand votes out of some 700,000 cast.

Meanwhile, say water experts, the master plan is not dead. Preliminary negotiations for out-of-state water can continue, and another vote can be scheduled on the bonds in 1971. Hopefully by then, some of the major objections will be resolved.

Texas, in the amendments election, solved one of the state's pressing problems, for the time being at any rate. They voted nearly two-to-one in favor of raising the welfare aid ceiling $30 million a year, to $80 million. This will get aid to families with dependent children (AFDC) payments back to par, and save off any more cuts in the near future.

Voters also favored issuing $200 million more in college student loan bonds to continue the Texas Opportunity Plan of aid to needy youngsters bent on higher education.

Elimination of deadwood from the state constitution met strong favor. So did payments to survivors of volunteer firemen, reserve or auxiliary police and other state or local government employees killed in line of hazardous duty.

On the other hand, voters were antagonistic toward four other proposed amendments on the August 5 ballot.

They overwhelmingly rejected pay raises for state legislators and annual sessions of the legislature. They disapproved property tax exemptions for non-profit water supply corporations by a fairly strong margin and narrowly rejected lifting the constitutional interest rate ceilings on state bonds.

Defeat of the annual sessions amendment put an end to hopes of any legislators that another single-year, no-tax state budget can be passed in the current special session and accepted by Gov. Preston Smith.

TAX BILL TO SENATE—Now it's the Senate's week to wrestle with the tax bill.

House passed its $341-million version of revenue raising to balance a biennial budget and sent it across the rotunda. From comments, it is an overstatement to say senators don't like it but hearings are under way in an attempt to come up with an acceptable compromise — and that won't be easy.

Here is what the House bill does (all levies effective January 1):

- Raises the sales tax rate from three to 3.5 per cent.
- Boosts the cigarette tax five cents a pack, to 16 cents.
- Launches a new 3.5 per cent tax on telephone and telegraph, auto repairs, appliance (except washing machines, dryers and refrigerators) and jewelry repairs, parking, laundry and dry-cleaning (except self-service coin-operated) and professional entertainment services. (Included in the latter would be admission charges to professional athletic contests, night clubs, dance halls, amusement parks and scenic attractions.)
- Levies a 10 cent transactions tax on each sale or purchase of stocks, bonds, warrants and other securities, with few exceptions.
- Cuts the gross receipts tax on telephone and telegraph companies from 2.5 per cent to 1.9 per cent (which would reduce the industry's direct taxes about $5.7 million per biennial fiscal period.)

City officials are angry because, while new sales and services taxes would be levied at 4.5 per cent rate in those municipalities which levy local option sales tax, they would get none of added revenue.

One thing seems certain: what comes out of the Senate is unlikely to bear much resemblance to what came over from the House.

LOAN BONDS SOLD—First $14 million in new college student loan fund bonds were sold here last week (Aug. 7).

First National City Bank of New York and Associates was successful bidder at a net effective interest rate of 5.4162 from Tom Sealy of Midland, chairman of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System. Board administers the program.

Bonds will be formally authorized and awarded to the purchaser at the meeting of the Coordinating Board on September 2. Funds will be available for fall semester loans. About 36,000 needy Texas resident students have benefited from a total of nearly 100,000 loans since the program went into operation in 1966.

HOSPITAL AID CUT LOOMS — Texas hospitals got warning from Texas health authorities that federal building funds may be sharply curtailed under White House budget proposals.

Twenty-eight Texas applicants for Hill-Burton hospital construction aid were notified that the State Health Department received a tentative allocation indicating a "drastic reduction" in U.S. money for the state.

Tentative allotment is reportedly about $21 million for general construction and $689,000 for modernization of Texas hospitals in 1970. About $1 million would go to public health centers, according to health officials who said they hope Congress will raise White House recommendations. About $8 million was allotted Texas for general construction this year and $2 million for modernization.

FOOD-MEDICAL GRANT APPROVED — A $474,000 emergency food and medical services grant has been awarded Texas Office of Economic Opportunity and approved by Governor Smith.

Program will start Sept. 1 to supplement the existing commodity distribution program for 71,000 Texas families. It will operate in 26 counties with highest percentage of poor. Outreach, basic food stuffs and medical services will be used to counteract conditions of starvation and malnutrition among poor.

These counties will benefit directly: Austin, Burleson, Caldwell, De Witt, Falls, Fayette, Freestone, Goliad, Gonzales, Grimes, Houston, Lavaca, Lee Leon, Limestone, Madison, Milam, Newton, Orange, San Jacinto, Trinity, Tyler, Upshur, Walker, Waller and Washington.

'TREASURE' RETURNS — Last of the material recovered from the Spanish galleon sunk off Padre Island arrived at the Texas Memorial Museum in Austin Wednesday night from Gary, Indiana.

It may be a while before the inventory committee gets through with its checking of the material. Gaylord Armstrong, law partner of former U.S. Rep. Joe Kilgore (one of the inventors), said that the inventory lists and the artifacts seem to tally pretty well, but the committee will have to go through step-by-step, piece-by-piece, to make sure. Nobody is sure when that check will be made, since Kilgore is on vacation — on Padre Island — and Dr. W.W. Newcomb, head of the Memorial Museum, also is vacationing, and the third committee member, Rep. Don Cavness of Austin, is likely to be tied up with the Legislature for a while yet.

I have an ingrained suspicion of book blurbs and I might ordinarily have dismissed this one as the product of an overwrought publicist.

Shopping For Car
 By coincidence, however, it happened to arrive at a time when I was shopping around for a used car.

After observing the "principles and techniques" of about a half a dozen used car salesmen, I came to the conclusion they would indeed make great lovers.

And had Don Juan and Casanova not expired before the advent of the automobile, both probably would have won free trips to Bermuda for leading their districts in used car sales.

The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI)—While taking a course in salesmanship a few years ago, a chap named Frank Gray was visited by a rather devilish idea.

It occurred to him that the "principles and techniques" of selling could, with slight modification, "just as easily be applied" to seduction.

The ultimate result of these naughty ruminations was the recent publication of a handbook titled "Scoremanship." Or so it says in the blurb prepared by Bantam Books.

It could be embarrassing:
 NOT to know about a wedding!
 NOT to know about a death!
 NOT to know how the neighbor boy's baseball team was doing!
