Israelis To Elect New Parliament

SURROUNDED BY the fellas she loves, blue and brown eyed Susie, the South Fire Station's Dalmatian, is in the height of her glory. Susie doesn't go on fire call and she won't attend the Fireman's Ball Thursday in the Moose Lodge, but she couldn't care less as she is loved, petted and teased by, from the left, Capt. Don Hendricks, Finis Gee, Arthur Clark and Otis Cochran. (Staff Photo)

A DOG NAMED SUE

Dalmatian Lives It Up At South Fire Station

By DORIS E. WILSON News' Staff Writer

A dog named Sue lives at South Fire Station, 1010 S. Barnes. She's a beautiful black and white Dalmatian with a blue right eye and a brown left one. For the past 12 years, there's just been Susie and the fire fellas at South Station. Consequently, there was a little friction when a girl-type reporter called at the station one day this week to do a story on the fire dog.

picture with Susie as the center of attention. In fact, she seemed the happiest when the girl-type reporter began to gather up pencil, notebook and camera to leave. There was just a trace of a smile on Susie's lips and her tail wagged happily. Susie was given to the firemen when she was 7 months old and for the past 12 years has kept a 24-hour vigil at the station. She is the object of a lot of love, affection and teasing. And she loves it! According to the firemen, Susie can tell the difference between the station's business telephone ring and the fire phone ring. When the business phone rings, she couldn't care less. But when the fire phone rings, she gets very excited. Susie doesn't go on fire calls. The new equipment is too streamlined and the fire fellas never did take time to train her. "We're usually in too big a hurry," Captain Don Hendricks explained. So she waits patiently at the station until truck and crew return. Woe to anyone who tries to enter the station while the fellas are gone. She guards it well. When they do return, there is Susie to count noses and wag a happy welcome to them. When the day and night crews exchange shifts, Susie is restless until each of the four-man crew is present and accounted for. Uncannily, she can pick out the fireman who is to do the cooking for the week. She stakes out a claim on him. And if she isn't fed by 2 p.m., she will stand directly in front of the cook until he comes through with the food. Twelve-year-old Susie is getting "stove up" with arthritis these days and spends most of the time sleeping on an ottoman by the television set. But she still has enough pizzazz to chase cats and run next door to the G.G. Shepherds, when she smells their dinner on the table. There is a beaten path leading from the fire station to the Shepherd's front door. It's not that Susie is not well fed, but, then, cookies and candy are a welcome treat even on a full stomach. Susie comes by her fire-station residence naturally. Her father was a Fire Dog at Central Station in Houston. So she feels perfectly at home at South Fire Station, where she is the object of affection and attention from the two shifts, captain Don Hendricks, Finis Gee, Arthur Clark, Otis Cochran and the other crew captain, A. W. Ferguson, Floyd Steele, T. D. Snow and Wesley Stucker. They have some tall tales to tell about Susie, but some of them are just a little too tall for even a dog-lover to believe.

TEA Accreditation Team Inspects Local Schools

A six-member accreditation team from Texas Education Agency began its three-day inspection of all Pampa schools today and will submit its findings in a report to school trustees in November. TEA team members who toured Pampa schools today with Supt. Dr. James F. Malone and other Pampa school administrative officials were Bill Jay, chair; James Burns, Mrs. Emma Dora Halle, Mrs. James Stokes, Miss Ida Nell Williams, and Raymond Holt, all of Austin. After the three-day inspection here, the team will be reassigned by TEA to another school in this area. Dr. Malone said. This visit is Pampa's first official accreditation visit by this team and the second TEA examination since 1967. In the 1967 examination, directed by H.E. Phillips, the TEA team listed six major areas in which the Pampa school district did not fully meet accreditation standards. The first area of criticism was the "imbalance of educational opportunities between the two junior high schools." Phillips stated in 1967. Since then, more courses of electives have been added to both schools to equalize the educational opportunities, Dr. Malone said. The 1967 team recommended the elementary school curriculum include a planned program of physical education. This year, in grades three through six, in all elementary schools, certified physical education teachers work with the children on a planned program. The third major criticism was lack of coordinated instruction among elementary schools and from the elementary to secondary level. This is being eliminated by the employment of elementary and secondary coordinators who are working with Mrs. Marjorie Gaut to coordinate all instruction. Mrs. Gaut is director of all educational services, Dr. Malone said. The fourth major criticism, inadequate science facilities, remains questionable. Dr. Malone said, but the new high school science wing to be constructed and some remodeling on the junior high levels would show the TEA team, the school district is working on its problems. School officials answered the fifth criticism, lack of centralized instructional media resources, by establishing room or corridor libraries in all

Walkout At GE Spawns Violence By Workers

NEW YORK (UPI)—Scattered violence and several arrests were reported Monday as General Electric Co. employees walked off their jobs at plants throughout the nation in a demand for higher wages. GE officials said they would try to keep their 280 plants in 33 states operating with nonunion personnel. A GE spokesman at Daytona Beach, Fla., said the strike would not hamper the nation's space program. Apollo 12 is scheduled to begin its moon voyage Nov. 14. A coalition of 13 unions representing 147,000 employees—about half GE's work force—struck at midnight Monday when their contract with the nation's fourth largest production corporation expired. Union negotiators rejected GE's Oct. 7 offer of wage increases averaging 20 to 45 cents an hour in a three-year contract. The unions have argued for a 30-month contract with higher wages and a cost of living increase. GE has made no other offer, saying its first was the best in history. Westinghouse Electric Corp., which is negotiating with several unions on a contract that expires Nov. 10, announced Monday it "expects" to increase prices on its 1970 line of products. Westinghouse is second to GE in appliance production. The announcement and the strike represent the first major tests of the Nixon administration's anti-inflation policies. Earlier this month, Nixon sent letters to 2,200 labor and industrial leaders urging them to use wage and price restraints.

Polls Forecast Sweep For Premier Mier

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israelis went to the polls today to elect a new parliament, some casting their ballots in bullet proof booths. Polls forecast a sweep for Premier Golda Meir's coalition government and its "no retreat" policy toward the Arabs. About 1.5 million persons were eligible to vote in the first national election since the 1967 Middle East War and the seventh in the nation's 21-year history. Sixteen parties covering the entire spectrum of Israeli politics were contesting the 120 seats in the Knesset, or parliament. Members are elected for a four-year term. Heavy security precautions were in effect as the voting got underway at 7 a.m. Police and the entire Israeli armed forces were on alert for possible sabotage and terrorists attempts. A Jerusalem police spokesman disclosed Monday night that agents for Arab guerrilla organizations have been canvassing homes in recent days, threatening reprisals against Arabs who vote. Those threatened reportedly included Arabs holding Israeli citizenship, as well as about 35,000 East Jerusalem Arabs who can only vote in Jerusalem's City Council race. Shellproof, bulletproof polling booths were being used in all border areas and voting times were carefully staggered to avoid having a heavy concentration of people in the polling areas at one time. Israeli soldiers guarding the cease-fire lines were allowed to cast their ballots Monday, freeing them for full-time guard duty today. Final pre-election polls Monday said Mrs. Meir's Labor party alliance and its coalition partners should capture 76.2 per cent of the vote. The alliance includes Mrs. Meir, Deputy Premier Yigal Allon, Foreign Minister Abba Eban and Defense Minister Moshe Dayan. The alliance was created in 1968 from Mrs. Meir's Mafpai party, Dayan's Rafi party, Allon's Ahdut Ayodah party and the Socialist Mafmap party. Teamed with the Labor party in the coalition government are the Herut-liberal bloc and the religious bloc. Mrs. Meir, appointed premier in March after the death of Levi Eshkol, has staked her campaign on Israel's stand that it must "secure its borders" in any negotiated peace with Arab countries. The election campaign generated little excitement in Israel. The outcome was considered a foregone conclusion and there is no personal challenge among the top leaders.

Plumbing Permits From City Must Be Paid By Cash

A change in Pampa's plumbing code was authorized by the City Council today to place plumbers on a cash basis when obtaining permits for plumbing installations. City Manager Charles Hill said the city had accumulated "quite a few accounts collectible" because of the current policy of issuing permits by telephone. The new legislation will place plumbers on the same basis with electrical contractors, it was explained. It will provide permits must be paid for on a cash basis at the time they are obtained, or plumbing contractors may place up to $50 in escrow with the City and permit costs will be deducted in advance. R.D. Wilkerson, a plumbing supply contractor, told councilmen he did not oppose the change, but thought the current code was adequate if enforced. Other business transacted today included: Approval of a request of the First Assembly of God Church to erect a canopy over an alley leading to a parking lot adjacent to the church. Approval of a request of the Highland General Hospital administrator to extend and improve Pennsylvania Ave. from Hamilton St. to the hospital property. Adoption of a resolution accepting a paving project on N. Nelson St.

UF Confident Of Victory, Sets Breakfast Date

Pampa United Fund officials, confident the 1969-70 goal of $90,000 will be reached, have announced a "Splash Down Breakfast" is set for 7 a.m. Monday in the Coronado Inn. UF president Gerald Sims said the drive is 90 per cent complete and that some $80,000 had been pledged toward the total figure. "We expect to be complete by Monday," Sims said. The drive's zeal has been slowed down somewhat by the sudden illness of the United Fund secretary, Mrs. Elsie Gee, who is a patient in St. Anthony's Hospital in Oklahoma City. Mrs. Gee was stricken with an apparent heart attack Friday and was later transferred to the Oklahoma City hospital, where she is reported to be in serious condition.

GATE RATE INCREASE Councilmen Endeavor To Protect Interests

By TEX DEWESE News' Staff Writer Steps were taken by the Pampa City Council today to protect the city's interests in the request by Pioneer Natural Gas Company for a gate rate increase covering 60 towns and cities in its West Texas distribution system. Pioneer has asked that its gate rate (the cost of getting gas to the city limits) be increased from 23 cents to 34 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. A hearing on the request has been set before the Texas Railroad Commission Nov. 4 at Austin. The City of Pampa governing body today authorized city manager Charles Hill and city attorney Bob Gordon to join with other cities in asking for a request that the hearing be postponed at least 25 days. The action also authorized the two city officials to make further study of the gas company's request to determine if the increase from 23 cents to 34 cents on the gate rate is justified. Hill and Gordon were asked to report back to the council and recommend what steps are deemed necessary to protect Pampa's interests. Currently Pampa and several other cities, including Amarillo, are not included in the 28-cent rate being charged. The Railroad Commission in 1963 granted Pampa's request to be left out of the established rate charge because of the relative nearness of the gas field from which Pampa was supplied with natural gas. Pampa's case has been pending with the council ever since. City officials today indicated that Pampa's gate rate (See COUNCILMEN, Page 2)

ARRIVED MONDAY Condie Goes Directly To Work On Concert

By DORIS E. WILSON News' Staff Writer Dr. Richard P. Condie of Salt Lake City, Utah, director of the Mormon Tabernacle Choir, arrived in Pampa shortly before 7 p.m. Monday and went directly into rehearsal with the Pampa Fine Arts Chorus. This is Dr. Condie's third visit to Pampa under the auspices of the Pampa Fine Arts Association. His first introduction to Pampa musical circles was in April, 1967, when he directed a performance of "The Messiah." He returned again in May, 1968, for a Pampa Fine Arts sponsorship of Brahms' "Requiem." Dr. Condie was accompanied as far as Amarillo by his wife, who went on to Tennessee to visit with a sister. She will rejoin him here Friday for the Sunday afternoon performance of the chorus. During Dr. Condie's free time in Pampa, he will be a guest of Pampa Fine Arts Board members at family luncheons and dinners, as well as a guest at several civic luncheons. Arrangements for entertaining Dr. Condie were by Mrs. George B. Cree Jr. Dr. Condie worked with the PFA Chorus Monday night in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church, where the concert of sacred and patriotic music will be presented at 3 p.m. Sunday. The tabernacle choir director painstakingly instructed the choir in musical phrasing and crescendo emphasis. He would stop now and then to impart a bit of philosophy related to music and life. One of the chorus members was overheard to remark "what a privilege it is to work, even so briefly, with him." Most of last night's work was with "Deep River" and "This Land." The choir will also sing (See CONDIE, Page 2)

Television In Review

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "American democracy can be defined as government of the people most effectively heard." So writes Herbert F. Alexander, director of the Citizens' Research Foundation, Princeton, N.J., a nonpartisan organization that keeps a sharp eye on political financing. In a paper entitled "Communications and Politics: The Media and the Message," prepared for a Duke University symposium, Alexander notes: "The cost of modern communication is...high enough to drive many out of the political marketplace and, occasionally, drive some into rebellion." But, he adds: "Through drama and showmanship—often evident in demonstrations, disruptions, even violence—some of the most politically destitute of the country—the poor, the black, the students—can attract attention to their claims and mobilize support from more powerful segments of the society." Alexander, observing that more candidates are turning to professional campaign management firms, writes: "In-depth attitude polling based on market-research techniques and the use of computers are the two most popular recent innovations of political professionals. Both are important tools in deciding what and how to communicate. "Issue polling can be useful early in the campaign for deciding which issues the candidate should stress... "Computers can be used to tell a candidate whether he has a chance to win an election and what he has to do to be successful. Computers can pinpoint swing areas and swing voters and in fact program an entire campaign, including where a candidate should go, how long he should stay, and what he should do.

MICRONESIA: U.S.'s New Bastion In The Pacific?

WASHINGTON (NEA)—A new territory may be annexed by the United States within the next year. It is the group of South Pacific islands called Micronesia which the United States has administered as a United Nations Trust Territory since the end of World War II, when the islands were captured from the Japanese. "The future of world peace may depend on what happens to these islands," said Mrs. Elizabeth Farrington, the director of the Office of Territories in the Department of Interior. How do these tiny islands—more than 2,000 of them spread out over an ocean area as large as the continental United States but with a total land area of only 700 square miles and only 80,000 people—hold the key to world peace? "For one thing," Mrs. Farrington pointed out, "the United States may have to pull its Pacific defense armament out of Okinawa and the world will be watching to see if the arms are reinstated in the Trust Territory." Secretary of the Interior Walter Kicke announced last May that steps would be taken to end the trust arrangements between the United States and Micronesia. Now 10 representatives of the Micronesian congress are in Washington to discuss how the trust will be terminated. The administration bill that comes from these talks could make the islands a territory of the United States or an independent nation. The U.S. government is hoping the Micronesians will agree to become a territory, although the officially preferred term is full political partnership. Mrs. Farrington thinks this is what the Micronesians want, too. The United States has three kinds of territories now. American Samoa is an unincorporated territory where the people are nationals and the full constitution does not apply. Guam is an incorporated territory — the people are

Foreign News Commentary

Kim Il Sung, stocky, hard-lining Communist leader of North Korea, has declared his intention of spending his 60th birthday in 1971 in Seoul, capital of the South. Kim's unyielding determination to unify Korea under Communist rule and his continuing efforts to undermine the South Korean government through terrorist infiltration and propaganda were the announced reasons leading South Korean President Park Chung-hee to seek a third term beginning in 1971. Political Crisis It took a constitutional change to do it, something Park had said in his 1967 campaign he would not do, and it created something of a political crisis in South Korea. But when the returns were in, a national referendum had given Park a two-to-one majority and what appeared to be a clear mandate to stay on the job. His Democratic Republican party had not emerged with entirely clean hands. He had closed about one-third of the country's universities to still student opposition and the opposition New Democrats accused the government of buying TUNIS (UPI)—Floodwaters from 48 hours of heavy rain inundated the airport of the coastal city of Sfax and forced an end to an airlift of supplies to the isolated city, the Tunisian government said today. More than 500 persons have died and 100,000 are homeless in weeks of flooding in Tunisia.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some sports around here still play old-fashioned draw poker, but the new game in town is "withdrawing poker," otherwise known as "predictions wild." The players, usually U.S. senators, sit around a five-sided, or pentagon-shaped, table. As the game begins, each player is dealt a "White House visit" card that may, or may not, contain some information about Vietnam. Okay. So much for the rules. Now let us kibitz a hand to see how the game is played: The first player peeks at his "White House visit" card and says "I have openers. I predict the United States will withdraw 100,000 troops from Vietnam by the end of 1970." Other Players Delede Very well. Now it is up to the other players to decide whether the first player really knows something about troop withdrawal plans or whether he is "bluffing." Unless someone "raises," the first player's prediction stands, which means he wins 630 newspaper headlines, a two-minute shot on a national television newscast and an invitation to appear on "Meet the Press." Those are pretty big stakes, so the other players are not likely to "fold" even if they have uninformative cards. The second player peeks at his card, rolls his eyes upward and chops down on his cigar. "I'm raising it 50,000 troops and 12 months," he says. "I predict the United States will withdraw 150,000 troops by the end of 1971." The third player must either "sweeten" the prediction or
