Senator Kennedy Urges Action on Segregation

Condemnation Assisted Asked of 59 Nations

By RICHARD H. GROWALD
United Press International
BELGRADE (UPI) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., today urged legislators from 59 nations to support a resolution condemning racial segregation, which he called "legally wrong, morally wrong, and bad for humanity."
The President's youngest brother defended the administration's civil rights record and said the United States would solve its Negro problem as it did those of other minority groups, including his Irish ancestors.
"Neither I nor the President of the United States would hold the positions we do if America had not taken down the sign that said 'no Irish need apply,'" he said.
South Viet Nam's Mme. Ngo Nhu, an outspoken critic of administration policies toward her regime who met Sen. Kennedy for lunch Saturday, remained in the background today, contacting delegates and giving them her side of the Vietnamese Buddhist dispute.

100 Trash Men Strike For More Pay In Dallas

DALLAS (UPI)—More than 100 garbage collectors and perhaps as many as 200 struck today for higher pay and demonstrated peacefully at city hall.
The city employs a total of about 700 garbage collectors.
Nearly all of the strikers were from the service center in the northwest sections of the city and garbage collection there stopped.
City officials said it was near normal everywhere else. Mayor Earle Cabell had warned garbage men that they would be replaced if they struck. He said there was no lack of common laborers to (See DALLAS, Page 3)

Royal Family Is Expecting New Arrival

LONDON (UPI) — Queen Elizabeth is expecting a child due to be born next year, Buckingham Palace announced today.
The queen is 37 years old. The last of her three children, Prince Andrew, was born Feb. 19, 1960.
With the announcement, it was stated that all of the Queen's engagements were being cancelled following the end of her current holiday at Balmoral, Scotland, next month.
The announcement gave no indication of the date beyond the fact that the child's birth was expected next year.
"Both the Queen and (her husband) the Duke of Edinburgh are, of course, very happy about it," Cmdr. Richard Colville, press secretary to the Queen, told newsmen.

Public Support Sought by JFK On Tax Cut Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy will speak to the nation on radio and television at 5 p.m. CST Wednesday in an effort to rally public support for his big tax reduction program, the White House announced today.
Kennedy will appear on all major radio and television networks for what was described as a presentation of "his views on the tax bill as it comes up for action in the House."
The President's request for air time was a new step in the administration drive to have Congress enact his $11 billion individual and corporate tax cut plan this year so it can take effect in 1964 and 1965.
Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said he thought the President's address probably would run about 15 minutes.
In a speech last week, Kennedy insisted that the tax bill must be passed this year as insurance against a possible recession.
Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon earlier today called the measure "a matter of vital national concern."

Cox May Not Try for Elective Post in '64

By KYLE THOMPSON
CORPUS CHRISTI (UPI)—One thing stood out like a sore thumb during the week end's Texas Republican Executive Committee meeting — a definite cool opinion toward Jack Cox, the party's gubernatorial candidate in 1962.
Cox wasn't at the meeting. He said business commitments would not allow him to come.
The most often-heard complaint against Cox, a former Democrat, was his apparent refusal to be closely identified with the Republican party during the 1962 campaign.
More Independent
Some party workers complained that Cox seemed almost to go out of his way to avoid appearing with the other GOP candidates; that he ran more as an independent than a Republican.
Party officials denied there was any movement afoot to dump Cox. One official said Cox had turned down an offer to seek the U. S. Senate seat now held by Democrat Ralph Yarborough.
Others said they hope Cox will actively seek the nomination to oppose Connally for re-election as governor.
But the rank-and-file members, the ones who must do the grassroots work for the party, were almost openly unhappy with Cox.
May Not Run
The feeling may have filtered through to the Houston oilman. One source close to Cox said that Cox had about decided not to seek any elective post next year.
Another impression is that the Republican party expects to make big gains in state offices in the 1964 elections—especially if Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., is the party's presidential candidate.
Most felt that Goldwater would sweep Texas, carrying many lesser candidates into office with him.
Sen. John G. Tower of Wichita Falls and Rep. Ed Foreman of Odessa both attended the meeting and said they believed that with Goldwater at the head of the ticket, the Republicans would make impressive gains.

The fair, which continues through Saturday, includes the perennial midway, military displays, exhibits of farm products, art and commercial displays.
The Ice Capades show will open with performances at 9 and 9:15 p.m. today.
The Pan American Expedition and Livestock show starts Thursday. Tomorrow the quarter horse performance class will be judged from 9 a.m. to noon and 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. The steer sale will be held at 3 p.m.

Rains Continue To Fall in Pampa

The overcast skies that have hovered constantly over Pampa for over a week dropped 22 of an inch of rain in Pampa yesterday and lowered temperatures to 60 degrees last night. Yesterday's high reached 73 degrees, according to the Panhandle Amateur Weather Forecasters network.
The Pampa News rain gauge showed .29 of an inch today.
Since Sept. 7, Pampa has received almost seven inches of rain. The few days of sunshine last week partially dried the fields and encouraged area farmers to crank up their tractors and oil their drills to start sowing wheat, but today's overcast skies dimmed their hopes of starting wheat sowing soon.

Officers Will Not Change Story

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—City and county officers stuck by their guns today in the argument over who killed a man the Federal Bureau of Investigation says robbed a Texas bank.
Cleveland County Sheriff Bill Porter said Jack Francis Cooper, alias Jack Starr, apparently shot himself.
Oklahoma City police said Cooper was murdered in the secluded field six miles south of Will Rogers Airport where his abandoned car and $2,600 in cash were found last Monday.
Cooper's body was discovered in mid-week about one-half of a mile from where the car was located.
Porter said the final decision will be made by the Cleveland County attorney, and medical examiner. Porter planned to present the evidence to them today.
The FBI hasn't said who it thinks pulled the trigger which sent a bullet smashing into the area around Cooper's head.
However, the FBI has said two cashiers at the First State Bank of Rice, Tex., where Cooper lived while as a boy, have identified the 23-year-old Mesquite, Tex., man as the bandit who robbed that bank of more than $9,100 last Aug. 21.
The FBI said the $270 found on Cooper and the $2,600 found in the trunk of his car were of the same denomination taken in the bank robbery.

Borger Youth Injured In 'Cycle Mishap

Mike Holloway, 11 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Keller of Borger is still in critical condition today in St. Anthony's Hospital following a pedestrian-motorcycle accident at NE 24th and Folsom Rd., in Amarillo, about 6 p.m. yesterday.
Hospital authorities reported the boy is in the "surgical and intensive care unit" of the hospital and his condition is "still critical."
The boy was injured when he ran from behind a parked car into the path of a racing motorcycle, driven by Danny Masten, 16, of Phillips, according to witnesses. Masten was treated for minor cuts and released from St. Anthony's yesterday.
The cycle races were conducted to aid the family of a motorcycle rider who was recently killed.

Mexicans Celebrate Independence

By United Press International
Bullfighting, singing, dancing speeches and parades set the background today for Texans of Mexican descent to celebrate Diez y Seis de Septiembre — Mexican Independence Day.
Actually such celebrations as fiestas, dances, and concerts over the weekend jumped the gun on today's festivities.
San Antonio held a big reception at the Guatemalan consulate Sunday. A dance and musical program was held later at Municipal Auditorium.
Mexican Undersecretary of Labor Santos Coy, representing Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, was to open the "grito" ceremony today at San Antonio. "Grito" means "cry" or "yell" and once it is proclaimed, celebrants can yell anything they wish.
The first "grito" opened the revolution that resulted in Mexico's freedom from Spain.
San Antonio has the largest Latin-American population in the state. The city will celebrate through Sept. 20.

Ecumenical Council Debate Church Role

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The Ecumenical Council will start its second session this month with debate on one of the weightiest and most controversial items — the nature, role and organization of the church, it was announced today.
The council secretariat said in a communique that the draft "de ecclesia" (about the church), a source of heated debate last year, would come up in the first working meeting of the session Sept. 30. The session opens the day before with a public ceremony.
The original draft of "de ecclesia," prepared by the theological commission under conservative Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani, drew widespread criticism from liberal council fathers during the first session last year.
Official communique at the time said a number of speakers described the document as "too juridical" and said it failed to place enough stress on "the powers of the college of bishops and the function of laymen" in church life. Others said the document should be adapted to modern reality, "avoiding any expression that could shock" present-day politicians.
The Vatican was reported planning to invite the major non-Christian faiths, including Jews, Buddhists and Moslems, to send observers to the second session of the Ecumenical Council opening in St. Peter's Basilica Sept. 29.

Students Enter School Without Incident Today

By WILLIAM O. BRYANT
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Negro students entered three integrated Birmingham schools without incident today in the wake of a church bombing and street violence that cost six lives.
A force of 1,400 policemen, state troopers and battle-equipped National Guardsmen was ready for action in the tense atmosphere of this racially-troubled city.
But only city police appeared at West End and Ramsay high schools and Graymont elementary school as the Negro pupils began their first full week of integrated classes. The schools were integrated by court order last Wednesday.
A dynamite-stick bomb shattered the 16th Street Baptist Church at 10:22 a.m. CST (12:22 p.m. EDT) Sunday, killing four young girls in a basement Sunday school class and wounding at least 20 other persons. The church was filled with 400 worshippers.
Two other Negroes were shot to death in the hours of street violence that followed.
At West End, this morning Patricia Marcus and Josephine Powell arrived shortly before classes began at 8 a.m. CST (10 a.m. EDT). There were no crowds anywhere near the school.
Police and newsmen at the scene talked in subdued tones about Sunday's church bombing. Only city police were on duty. The girls were brought to the school in a cream-colored station wagon occupied by three Negro men. Last week, as they left the school grounds in another car with only a Negro driver, a brickbat shattered the right front window of the car.

Sex Barrier Is Broken at A&M

COLLEGE STATION (UPI) — Women—152 of them—have broken the sex barrier and enrolled in Texas A&M University to give that state previously all-male institution its first regular semester female students in recent history.
The registrar's office reported today that enrollment, which will continue through Saturday, Sept. 21, had reached 7,817 compared with 7,890 at the same time last year.
Of this number, 152 were women, including 149 who are married. The other 12 are daughters of employees of the university.
The last legislature approved a measure which permits admission of women to the school provided they are wives of students or relatives (wives or daughters) of school employees. Any qualified woman may enroll in the graduate school.

Senate Denounces Alabama Incident

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The bombing of a Negro church in Birmingham was denounced in the U.S. Senate today by Democrats and Republicans who called for swift punishment of those responsible for the crime.
One Republican, Sen. Jacob K. Javits, N.Y., demanded a speed-up in Senate action on civil rights legislation as a result of the Sunday violence, which took the lives of four Negro girls.
Senators denounced the bombing as a "national crime," "disgraceful," "outrageous" and "utterly reprehensible."
Javits touched off the angry round of reaction when he arose in the Senate to denounce the attack. He said that Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace "cannot escape some responsibility for it."
Others Criticize Bombing
Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., Republican Whip Thomas H. Kuchel, Calif., and Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., followed Javits in attacking the bombing.
Mansfield said the bombing was reprehensible... there can be no excuse for an occurrence of this kind under any possible circumstances.
The Senate Democratic leader said, however, that "this outrageous action does not represent the feeling of a great majority of the citizens of Birmingham or of Alabama or of the United States as a whole."
"This is something that no one can condone," Mansfield told the Senate, and it "has set back the difficult course on the road of race relations."
Fulbright endorsed Mansfield's statements and termed the bombing an "outrageous, disgraceful occurrence."
He said the Senate should take up its own bill rather than wait as now planned for the House rights measure. The Senate bill is expected to be reported out of the Senate Commerce Committee soon.
Javits got up to speak out on the Birmingham situation when the Senate convened at 10 a.m. to resume debate on the nuclear test ban treaty.
He said he wished to identify himself with the "eloquent" warning by Dr. Martin Luther King that unless the federal government acts the "worst racial holocaust" in the nation's history may follow.

Superintendent Relates Bombing

By Mrs. Mamie Grier
Sunday School Supt.
Of The 16th St. Baptist Church
As told to UPI
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — It was horrible, just horrible.
One minute, a typical Sunday school day. The next, window glass and debris flying everywhere, people screaming and practically stampeding in their effort to get out.
When we got out on the street we found many of the injured, blood streaming down their faces, walking about as though in a daze, waiting for the ambulances.
Someone told me my husband had been hurt and taken to the hospital. I rushed there but they wouldn't let me in. They wouldn't let anyone in.
It was such a brutal thing. All those children. They had just started reassembling for closing prayers. I was upstairs and they were so quiet downstairs you could hardly hear them.
Then came that explosion.
I haven't been downstairs yet. I suppose I'll have to sometime. But I doubt I'll even be able to go back to the church, at least today.

Dear Abby.... Call Your Neighbor's Attention To His Lawn

DEAR ABBY: I am the young attractive neighbor lady about whom WORRIED WIFE wrote. I am trying to get a sun tan, so naturally when the sun is hottest, I take sun baths in my back yard. Now, everyone knows that if you sprinkle our lawn in the hot sun you'll burn up your grass. My neighbor goes out and sprinkles his back yard when the sun is blazing just to get his eyes full of me while I'm out there taking my sun bath. I assure you, his wife has nothing to worry about as I don't appreciate an audience. Can you suggest a way to get my message across to him?

SUN BATHER
DEAR SUN BATHER: Call your neighbor's attention to the fact that his lawn is getting brown right along with you. And suggest that he hold off the sprinkling until both you and the sun have disappeared.

DEAR ABBY: Recently my seventy-three-year-old father was taken to the hospital with a ruptured gall bladder which required emergency surgery. As they were wheeling him into the operating room, his last request to mother was, "Don't bother to save the newspapers for me — just tear out the pages with DEAR ABBY and I'll read them when I get home." We are happy to report that he is well on the road to recovery now and almost all caught up with his reading. It is our belief that your column somehow tends to create a measure of confidence in the older generation.

Very truly yours,
R. C. T.
DEAR R.C.T.: You've made my day. And please remember me affectionately to Papa.

Demonstrators Protest Student Rally in New York

NEW YORK (UPI) — Violence broke out in Times Square Sunday when thousands of anti-Castro demonstrators gathered to protest a town hall rally by American students who traveled to Cuba at the expense of Fidel Castro's government.

Two groups of anti-Castroites were thrown out of the meeting, while others scuffled outside with a police force including mounted patrolmen with steel helmets.

Eight persons were arrested on charges ranging from disorderly conduct to felonious assault.

Thousands of spectators were attracted to the site. A Cuban representative said that 3,000 anti-Castroites were present.

The scuffling broke out at about 1:15 p.m. EDT as those attending the rally were filling into Town Hall, which had been rented for the occasion.

The rioters broke through police barricades, turned over trash barrels, and threw handy missiles at their opponents.

Missionary's Life Is a Rugged One

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Roman Catholic missionaries, whom Pope Plus VI called "the apple of our eye" in his first broadcast as Pontiff, still have a hard and often dangerous life even in this age of satellites and jetliners.

The International Fides Service, official information arm of the Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith, which deals with missionary work, says "rugged missionary life is still the real thing."

"For foreign missionaries there is still painful separation from home and loved ones," Fides said.

"There are still many places where missionaries must make long journeys on foot or horseback or by motor-cycle and car over roads that hardly deserve the name. Hospitals, leprosy and other institutes of charity must be staffed by missionaries, men and women, whose only motive is to imitate the charity of Christ."

"Children and others must be taught in schools of all levels. The social teaching of the Church must be broadcast far and wide. And all these things must be done in the name of Christ and to make Him known. Always and everywhere the apostle must reach out to the individual sheep so as to bring him into the true fold."

What Fides did not mention was the loss of life and other dangers that sometimes accompany the job. During past years in certain parts of Africa missionaries have been killed.

And in Sudan, even today, anti-Church action, including expulsion of Roman Catholic missionaries, continues.

The hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church has a tremendous respect for the men and women who go into sometimes uncharted areas to try to bring their faith to the people.

And now, more than ever, these problems are understood. The reason is that missionary bishops and archbishops had their chance to speak out to all the hierarchy of the Church during the Ecumenical Council. Of the 2,600 Church fathers attending the Council last Fall, about 600 were missionary workers, who were able to point out the special problems they face.

In the second session of the Council, opening Sept. 29 in St. Peter's Basilica, they will have the opportunity to continue this, particularly since there is a particular schema which deals with missionary work. This was

Guadalupe Park To Be Ready By Late October

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An Interior Department survey on the possibility of a Guadalupe Park National Park in West Texas should be ready by late October or early November, Rep. Joe Pool, D-Tex., said Sunday.

Pool said he expects the report to be in favor of such a park.

"We're in pretty good shape," he said. "I think we're going to get a favorable report."

Pool introduced a bill to create the park and the House Interior Committee is awaiting the Department survey before taking action.

Pool said plans call for raising private funds to buy the land from owner J. C. Hunter of Abilene and donate the land to the government.

The proposed park would take in at least 50 square miles about 20 miles south of the Carlsbad National Park. It would cover Guadalupe Peak, which is 8,500 feet and the highest point in Texas.

not among the subjects brought up during the first session.

The late Pope John XXIII, who at one stage of his career worked for the Congregation of the Propagation of the Faith, always had praise for missionaries and their work.

And Giovanni Battista Montini, after he became Pope Paul VI, said in his first broadcast to the world:

"We are also pleased to encourage and bless from the bottom of our heart the beloved missionaries—the apple of our eye—who, in every continent, in the Church's advanced posts, are spreading the Gospel of Christ. Let them always glory in the cross of the Lord Jesus Christ (Gal. 16:1) by accepting out of love the difficulties and trials that occur, in the certitude that God's help will never fail those who live and work for him along."

Coaches Pleased With Pampa Play

After viewing the films and scouting reports on the Pampa-Wichita Falls football game, coach Dus Holladay and his staff were unanimous in agreeing that the Harvesters had done themselves proud, and that the two days of practice lost due to rain last week was the key to Pampa's tiring in the fourth quarter, allowing WF to score three times in the period and pull out a 27-6 win. Coach Brown Smith's comments were "We played a real good game for the first three quarters, then we seemed to suffer a mental letdown. You just don't let down against a team like Wichita Falls. Individually, I think Donnie Rexroad, Ricky Goodwin and Jerry Garrison were defensive standouts."

"I believe we'll do better with time. It was real good for a first game, especially against a team like that." Coach Eural Ramsey said "I thought we played a different game in the second half than we did in the first. We adjusted, and I believe it was due to lack of work during those two rainy days. The offense showed it in their faking and running their patterns. The backs were missing their holes."

"They all looked good for a while in the backfield, then they all went bad. However, with the breaks going our way, I think we would have been on the other end of the score."

Line coach Ray Howard's observations were "Our second effort was real outstanding. Boys were getting knocked down and getting up and hitting again. Due to lack of practice, our first effort was not as fundamentally sound as we'd like. Our second effort was getting us out of trouble, but against a tremendous team like Wichita Falls, we couldn't recover quick enough. Work can improve this greatly, and also our being out of position."

"Carl Johnson, Jim Arthur, Billy Quarles, the Goodwin brothers—Ricky and Jerry, and Donnie Rexroad, were outstanding in the defensive line. Jerry Garrison was real outstanding in the defensive backfield... probably the best boy defensively."

"Our boys showed a tremendous will to win. If they keep sacrificing and improving, we'll be as good as anybody. Oh yes, don't forget to mention the excellent reaction to Wichita Falls' change from single wing to T during the game, we weren't out of position for it once."

Holladay summed it up thus: "After viewing the films, and sitting back and looking at it objectively, the kids did a real fine job, particularly in the line. They were opening holes, but the backs were missing them."

"It gives us something to work on. We can be as good as anybody in the district if we iron out our mistakes — if the backs learn to run their patterns and pick their open spots, and learn to run with more determination.

"It was very evident in the film, we didn't have enough determination to go when we got tired. We realize we were giving away over 15 pounds a man in the line and more in the backfield, but we've got to learn to keep going when we get tired."

"I don't feel bad about the game as a whole, generally I'm pleased. But we haven't gotten to the point where we can't improve and get better. If we keep working with determination and enthusiasm, we're going to get a lot better."

"All in all, several bad breaks at key points made the difference in the score." Asked why the Harvesters had elected to try a run for the two-point conversion instead of a PAT kick when the score was 7-6, Holladay said simply "We play to win, not to tie."

Scouting reports indicate that Phillips, Pampa's Friday night opponent, looked very impressive in their opening game, walloping Shamrock, 34-8. "They're one of the fightingest clubs in the Panhandle," warned Holladay, "and they'll really be up for this one."

"This is one of the finest teams that has come out of Pampa in a long time," quipped Donnell Crosslin, football coach of Wichita Falls, after the game Friday night.

"Kenny Hebert is a boy that hurt us on offense, a lot more than Lott (Greg Lott of Lubbock) did in the first game last year. Lott is not in Hebert's class," Crosslin added.

Panhandle Ags Thump Adams

GOODWELL, Okla. (Sp1) — Panhandle A&M avenged last season's loss to Adams State College Saturday night by thumping the Indians, 13-6.

Coach Oscar Williams' Aggies spotted the Tribe a 6-0 lead by fumbling and allowing Al Demaree to scoop the ball up and race 52 yards to paydirt.

But by rushing effectively, sustaining 110 yards in penalties without ill effect and by warding off a flurry of aerials the Farmers captured their opening contest.

Following the Indian score Panhandle turned the trick to knot the count as halfback James Holder of Wichita Falls carried around right end from the Indian 22 down to the 2.

Then tailback Melvin Begley of Boise City, Okla., plunged across. Panhandles' final six-point game came in the third quarter when defensive guard Jim Fowler of Elk City, Okla., pounced on an Indian fumble and galloped 44 yards into the end zone.

Coach Williams praised freshman Jerry Newcomb, safetyman from Phillips, Tex., for knocking down numerous passes. Adams State attempted 30 but connected on only nine.

The head mentor also cited defensive play by freshman Scott Dunham of Lefors, Tex., and sophomore Jerry Ellis of Blackwell, Okla.

Panhandle faces Southeastern State College at Durant, Okla., Friday night.

Sports Patrol

(T.M. Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.)
By STEVE SNIDER
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — It has become a cast of the tail wagging the dog in the liaison between television and major sports spectacles.

And you need a scorecard to tell which is the tail and which is the dog.

Possibly only a few crusty old-timers really care—and certainly the millions of home viewers aren't among them—but since television became such a potent force these things have happened:

World championship fights have been scheduled in late afternoon or early evening in the Western time zones to get into prime time areas for television; outdoor bouts may become a thing of the past because TV can't set aside time and gamble on the weather.

Pro football has special timeout periods, particularly with two minutes left to play, to get in a TV commercial.

In major golf tournaments, the hot shots are apt to dawdle along the way to get into range of the cameras at precisely the right minute.

Played In Drizzle
In the national tennis championships at Forest Hills last week, Friday's quarter-final matches were played mostly in a drizzle so there'd be no postponement and thereby mess up TV plans for Saturday and Sunday.

And on Sunday, the men's final was played first, followed by the women's for the first time in history—to make certain the men would get a full shot on the picture tube in the event of an over-long match.

Frequently the girls have been known to play overtime in the first match, thereby creating an unhappy situation late in the day as the men try to get their pictures on television.

In college football, the season has been opened a week early for at least two major teams to get the NCAA's national television program rolling. This season, Georgia Tech and Florida, two contenders for the Southeastern Conference championship, put their hopes on the line in the Sept. 14 TV opener.

Series Schedule Arranged
In baseball, World Series schedules are arranged so that there is no travel on Saturday or Sunday—big TV days.

And in later years, as attendance at the mid-summer All Star Game began to fall, proposals to play the games at night were knocked down because TV would be difficult to line up for prime night hours.

For these "favors," television pays a big price. Sports obviously benefit and so do the arm-chair millions. Generally, the customer who pays his way at the box-office doesn't even realize the impact of the picture box on what he's seeing in person but the impact is there and powerful nevertheless.

The so-called World Series of Golf at Akron, Ohio, won by Jack Nicklaus last weekend for the second year in a row, is a tribute to television's position. Jack won himself $50,000 in a 36-hole test "invented" purely for TV.

There was no question there of which was the tail and which the dog.

Parks Can Catch TT Pass Record

LUBBOCK (Sp1)—David Parks, Texas Tech's All-America candidate, who'd start if he never caught a pass, could set a third school pass receiving mark in the Red Raiders' opener against Washington State here Saturday night.

Parks needs just 41 yards of passing yardage to set a new career record. Halfback Bake Turner, now with the New York Jets, established the current standard of 647 yards, in 1959-61. Parks gained 209 yards as a sophomore, 399 as a junior, when he was a consensus All-Southwest Conference selection, and tied for the SWC pass receiving leadership.

Records Parks already holds are for receptions, one-season, 32; receptions, career (two seasons so far), 48; and for longest pass interception return, 98 yards against University of Colorado in 1962.

That last record is a tip-off to the comment coach J. T. King has made concerning starting Parks even if he never snagged a throw.

Parks is so good defensively that as a soph when the ball changed hands he generally subbed for Bob Witucki, an offensive specialist and as a junior he played the monster role on defense. Similar roving duties are slated for Parks this year as well.

Other evidence of Parks' versatility: (1) He led his team in punting last season. (2) He carried once from scrimmage for a five-yard gain, and (3) he threw a pass for a 27-yard gain setting up a touchdown.

Thinking back over 1962, when injuries virtually stripped Tech of two backfields, King muses that probably he should have used Parks — for two seasons the Raiders' swiftest — as a back. And Chuck Moser, who gained state championships for Abilene High with Parks playing end, maintains that Parks, during that period, was the Eagles' best ball carrier.

Buffalo Will Contend In American Football

EDITORS: This is the 14th of the prospects of professional football teams for the 1963 season.

United Press International
BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Cookie Gilchrist, a mountain of a full-back and Jack Kemp, a quarterback with a barooka for a right arm, make the Buffalo Bills authentic contenders for the 1963 American Football League championship.

In three pre-season games, Gilchrist, the 243-pound dynamo, who set a league rushing record last year, scored four touchdowns, ripped off 158 yards in 22 carries for a 7.1 yard average and caught seven passes for 70 yards.

Kemp, 27, a transplanted Californian who led the San Diego Chargers to Western Division crowns in 1960 and 1961, took over as quarterback with four games left last season and completed 51 of 93 passes for 636 yards and three touchdowns. He has connected on 33 of 53 (62 per cent) for 335 yards in three exhibition games.

Lamonica Has Improved
And the Bills have rookie quarterback Daryle Lamonica waiting in the wings. The Fresno, Calif., youngster, a Notre Dame star, has improved with each game.

Coach Lou Saban beams when he talks about his rookies—"The finest group I have seen in four years." Leading the field are top draft choice Dave Behrman of Michigan State, who doubles as the swing tackle on offense and as an understudy to center Al Bemiller; and No. 2 pick Jim Dunaway, the 265-pound Mississippi defensive tackle who has fitted in with ease.

Notre Dame's Ed Rutkowski, who signed as a free agent, and Michigan State fullback George Saimes have earned jobs in the defensive secondary.

They relieve the first four of Booker Edgerston, Carl Charon, Ray Abruzzese and Willie West. Saban says Saimes is capable of spelling Gilchrist and Rutkowski may also be called on as a running back.

Good Defensive Line
Holdovers Mack Yoho, Tom Sestak and Sid Youngelman, along with Ken Rice, switched to defensive end this year after being in an All-League offensive tackle in 1961, are Buffalo's front line of defense.

The linebackers are nine-year veteran Marv Matuszak, Mike Stratton, John Tracey and Harry Jacobs.

Hayden Fry Having Tough Job Living Up To Honor

DALLAS (UPI) — Hayden Fry is a young, crew-cut type coach who faces the unique situation of trying to live up to a losing 2-8 football season that won him "Coach of the Year" honors in a grid hotbed that boasted two of the nation's "Top 10" teams in 1962.

Darrell Royal coached the University of Texas to a 9-0-1 season, No. 4 ranking nationally, a Southwest Conference championship and a berth in the Cotton Bowl. Frank Broyles tutored Arkansas to a 9-1 record, No. 6 national ranking and a post-season Sugar Bowl date.

Yet Fry was the pick of the sports writers over Royal and Broyles last fall for his job with a Southern Methodist team that lost eight of its 10 games. "I couldn't find anything to gripe about after reviewing our season," Fry says. "We played only one bad half all fall," he added in reference to the Mustangs' 33-3 defeat at the hands of national champion Southern California after trailing only 13-3 at halftime.

Remarkable Performance
In the other nine games, an SMU team which was woefully weak on paper and one which lost five starters—including center Mike Kelsey as a heat fatality—before the starting whistle, gave a remarkable performance.

They lost, 7-0, to Maryland, 6-0 to Texas, 9-7 to Arkansas, 17-13 to Baylor and by 5-point margins to Air Force, Texas A&M and Texas Christian—in addition to upsetting Rice, 15-7, and Texas Tech, 14-0.

Chuck Cops Colonial

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Chuck McKinley, who added the Colonial National Tourney to his tennis crowns Sunday, headed for England today to compete in Davis Cup matches.

McKinley, of San Antonio, Tex., whipped Ham Richardson Sunday in the finals of the 2nd annual Colonial 6-3, 3-6, 10-8.

He broke Richardson's service in the 18th game of their final set before a standing-room-only crowd of 1,800 persons who watched in intermittent rain.

Both McKinley and Richardson, a Dallas investment broker, pleased the gallery with an almost infinite variety of shots.

McKinley was runner up last year to Roy Emerson of Australia. Emerson could not return to defend his title.

In doubles, defending champion Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox whipped Cliff Buchholz of St. Louis and Ronnie Fisher of Houston 6-3, 6-2.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP OF TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Jobs For The Unskilled

The national unemployment problem is concentrated to a high degree among the unskilled, inexperienced and untrained members of our labor force. Two recent developments in the field of federal legislation have a bearing on the prospects of these people for finding jobs.

The first is the increase in the statutory minimum wage to $1.25 an hour. This is the final step in the increases scheduled by legislation passed in 1961. It can't help but have some effect in reducing job opportunities for workers at the low end of the wage scale. You don't encourage employers to hire people by making it more expensive for them to do so. Whether the job-destroying effect will be great or small is difficult to predict in advance, and will even be difficult to assess after the fact since so many other things are always happening to affect employment.

In any case this is a step in the wrong direction. And if past history is any guide we may expect that it will be taken as a signal to begin the campaign for the next increase in the minimum wage.

Another significant event is the passage by the Senate of an amendment to the Manpower Development and Training Act of 1962. The act set up a program for retraining working people so as to qualify them for available jobs. As originally conceived this was to become a joint federal-state program in 1964, with the states paying half the cost. The amendment would relieve the states of this burden and finance the program through June 1965 wholly with federal funds.

The reason such an amendment is being proposed is that the states have shown little inclination to go along with the $0.50 deal. Only 3 states out of the 50 have appropriated the necessary funds for participating in 1964. Two interpretations can be put on this development: either the states are not convinced of value of the program, or else they believe that by dragging their feet they can force the federal government to pay the whole bill. On either interpretation, there does not seem to be a good case for doubling federal expenditures on this program to keep it alive.

One of the grounds on which Senator Clark of Pennsylvania, a chief proponent of the amendment, explained away the inaction of the states is a curious one. According to the Senator the states are suffering from "... limitations on their taxing power, as a result of the taxes which have been stolen or preempted by the Federal Government." By this theory, the federal government ought to assume an increased expenditure burden because its excessive fiscal needs have impaired the ability of the states to pay their proper share. It is easy to see where this kind of logic would lead.

The creation of new jobs for those presently unemployed will depend on the expansion of business enterprises. Given sufficient incentive and the necessary capital, business will expand production, hire people, and if necessary train them in the required skills. New government spending programs, by reducing the prospect for thoroughgoing tax-rate reform, will impede the job-creating process.

Let 'Em Daydream

Though a few voices are raised from time to time against over-emphasis on certain tribal goals set up for our youth — early dating, premature maturity, life-and-death interest in high school sports, personal popularity — it is likely that this is the American way and that the heretic — the bookish introvert — will never be more than tolerated by his less bookish schoolmates or their parents.

Be that as it may, the "odd-ball" has his uses and ought not merely to be tolerated but encouraged in his daydreaming tendencies.

The quiet, withdrawn child not only won't necessarily grow up to be antisocial or schizophrenic, he may even be of great value to society.

That is the opinion of psychologist Nathaniel Wagner of the University of Washington, as quoted by the Health Bulletin. He gives an illustration:

"If certain people had got hold of Albert Einstein as a child, he would never have developed the theory of relativity. They would have thought there was something wrong with the kid who sat around thinking so much."

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank J. Markey

The Daisy air rifle firm, which undoubtedly supplied you with your first gun, is still supplying them to boys at the rate of 1.5 million a year. They also produce 35 million BB's a day. For the past three years they have been experimenting with a new kind of low-cost propellant that is revolutionary. It looks like absorbent cotton, but reports say it will travel faster than any low-caliber ammunition now marketed. The Daisy people say it will radically change sports shooting, and when developed for higher caliber rifles may also change the design of automatic weapons. They say one soldier could carry enough to last for months.

The pipeline industry is now considering people as cargoes. They believe rapid transit travel of the future will mean a New Yorker can walk into a subway, hop into a capsule, and be shot to Chicago at 600 miles an hour. Seemingly farfetched, but nothing is these days.

American Airlines has placed a $40 million order for 11 short-haul British jetliners. Braniff Airways ordered 12, and Mohawk Airlines bought four. You see signs everywhere in what's left of the Empire: Buy British. What's the matter with buying American for a change? Can't some of our aircraft producers supply the equivalent or better?

Country Editor speaking: "We should learn to endure that which we can't change." Now that the nation's young folks are back in school they will be happy to learn the school year averages 180 days. And while they are learning their A.B.C.'s they might also realize only 1 out of every 10 persons in Haiti can read and write.

The communications satellite Echo I, after three years, is still whirling about in outer space, logging nearly half a billion miles in orbit. The United Nations recently estimated the world's population at almost 3 billion. And speaking of billions, U.S. Senator George Smathers says about a quarter of the $2 billion a year for welfare recipients goes for rent.

Memory Lane: Remember when everyone was reading S.S. Van Dine's detective stories about Philo Vance back in the 20's? An old friend of Van Dine told us he read 2000 mystery and detective stories before he was ready to write his first one — The Benson Murder Case. They would make terrific TV plays now.

More salt is used in the manufacture of chemicals than any other basic material. We were told that 50 per cent of the nation's crude oil reserves are located in Texas. A recent survey disclosed Americans consume 2.8 billion quarts of ice cream a year, which averages out to 15.7 quarts per person. The present formula of the Catholic Mass was devised following the Council of Trent in 1570. A Miami thief reached the epitome of impertinence by calling a dog owner and asking for the stolen dog's diet.

A Texas friend tells us if you put a few sticks of blackboard chalk in a silver chest it will keep the silver from tarnishing. U.S. truck manufacturers export one out of every seven produced. Capt. Edward Dwight, Jr., is the first Negro selected to train for the "moon shot" project. Cunard officials say 815 passengers can be served simultaneously in the Queen Mary's restaurant. The U.S. owns more than a dozen islands in the Caribbean. Plans are being made to recreate the old canoe route taken on the Wisconsin River by the explorers, Marquette and Joliet, in the 17th century.

Today's smile: A little boy was given a St. Bernard dog for his birthday. He took one look at him and asked: "Is he for me or am I for him?"

OBVIOUS FACT

Rioting Will Become Worse

By GEORGE BOARDMAN, Ph. D.

When rioters smash windows and engage in looting, one specific fact becomes obvious: The rioters and looters have no respect for private property. Human beings who have no respect for private property are totally devoid of self-respect.

I would like to know something about the parents of about 1,000 youngsters who engaged in a riot in Oakland, Calif. They must be mighty proud of their offspring. Obviously the parents are irresponsible. Children who have been properly taught the private property concept do not riot or engage in looting.

Newspaper reports stated that a series of afternoon fights broke out among the juvenile patrons of a theater. The police closed the theater and the youngsters erupted into the street. A block from the theater they began breaking shop windows and jewelry watches and other merchandise were stolen. Obviously, the juveniles had paid to buy tickets to see a movie. They did not receive a refund when the theater was closed by the police. All of the 1,000 juvenile patrons of the theater were not involved in the fights in the theater. It seems obvious that the police were not able to protect the property of innocent shop owners. The rights of the movie patrons who were not engaged in fighting were not protected by the police.

The same news item mentioned an earlier brawl which involved 11 police officers who battled with 75 party goers for an hour before they were able to restore order. Apparently, the police force in Oakland finds itself unable to cope with riots and subsequent looting. Additionally, the shop owners were unable to protect themselves from looters, operating in broad daylight. They depended upon the government owned and controlled police force.

Certainly a municipal police force can do something about ending rioting and looting by juveniles but don't hold your breath. Everyone of the juveniles should have been taken into custody, even if the police found it necessary to herd them into a public park. The parents of the juveniles involved should have been summoned and appropriate fines should have been assessed. The names of all of the parents should have been made available to the press. The fines should have been assessed on a basis which would make restitution to the shop owners possible — after all they are compelled to pay for protection they obviously did not receive. The cost of the police work should have been included in the fines.

Unfortunately, rioting and looting will continue at an ever quickening pace. The private property concept does not exist in the minds of the majority of the people in this country today. No one who relishes the idea of government stealing for his support has respect for the sanctity of private property.

The more government steals from those who invest and earn, for the benefit of those who will not earn, the more rapidly does the crime and suicide rate climb. Mob rule is no respecter of per-

Question Box

We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.

Question: "If any country restricts immigration, is it not a party to disrespect of private property?"

Answer: In order to answer that question we'll have to define what we mean by private property. Private property includes man's life, his ideas, his right to make decisions, his right to take action to pursue happiness, and to own all he produces, his right to move to a place where he believes his services will be more useful to his fellowman, and thus to himself.

It is doubtful whether any individual would contend that he as an individual had a right to restrict or use force to stop another man from going on to another man's property who wanted that man to come onto his property.

And when the state attempts to do something that no individual has a moral right to do, then we either have a double standard rightness or no standard of rightness.

The answer is, in short, that the state is a party to disrespecting private property. Most of our trouble comes from the state or the majority or their agents believing that they have a moral right to do things that they, as individuals, do not have a moral right to do. We must go back to the old Hebrew concept, that God is one, God or right being a universal eternal law that cannot be changed by man.

The aim of man should be to discover these eternal laws and live in harmony with them rather than to violate them. Every time they violate them, they suffer, and possibly that's the only way most people will learn, by suffering. We have often heard it said that the wise man learns from other people's mistakes, and the next wisest man learns from his own mistakes. The history of nations is that those who initiate force by immigration restrictions or protective tariffs or any other form, are taking up the sword and sooner or later perish by the sword.

Editor:
 I am disappointed by the poor news coverage that we receive from our local news media relative to problems in our White Deer - Skellytown Independent School District. I believe that I represent the feelings of many when I ask you to print this letter telling of one problem we have in the school system.

It was a pleasure to have been one of the parents who was instrumental in forcing the Personality testing program in our schools into publication last April 6 in the White Deer News.

It was disturbing to me, after making a comparison between the revised standardized testing program as published April 4, 1963, with the standardized testing program as published Sept. 12, 1963, in the White Deer News.

In the schedule submitted to the White Deer News for publication last April, names of the organizations that prepared the test questions were listed. In the list submitted for publication in the paper last Thursday, names of the organizations which prepared the questions were not listed.

The deletions in the Sept. 12 publication program are obvious and may be intended for a number of probable reasons:

1. SRA, Science Research Associates, is one of the publishers of tests that are well known for inserted questions that indoctrinate the child for socialism rather than educate for Capitalism. 2. By deleting controversial names, deceit makes a greater inroad. 3. A probable attempt to decrease the number of objections from the parents.

I sincerely hope that parents still have enough backbone to go to their school superintendent, principal, or counselor and demand to see their child's personal cumulative file and check it thoroughly. If you will do this now, you will no doubt receive one of the great shocks perpetrated by the progressive educators. When a child completes 12 years of this testing program, the mortal enemy of our nation will then know the child's social life history and your social life history.

Editor:
 About a year ago, for the first time in Pampa, our youngsters were introduced to the fine sport of competitive swimming. Unlike most sports, age, size and sex is not the criterion; only the ability and desire to swim.

The 35 youngsters, ranging in age from 7 to 16, who comprise our team have spent many tiring hours in the Youth Center pool trying hard to improve their swimming time. For their efforts, they have had the privilege and fun of attending AAU meets throughout Texas. In order to earn money to pay their way to these meets, the team has washed cars, and tried their hand at door to door selling.

The fun these kids have isn't the only obvious benefit. Swimming from one-half to one mile a day, results in fine physical condition, and the self-discipline which comes only from hours of hard work.

How about it Pampa! Let's boost our Dolphins along with our various other teams. From watching these kids swim, I would say we have something to boast.

matter of fact

The United States made history when it took its first census in 1790. This was due to the size of the area enumerated and the effort to obtain data on the characteristics of the population. In addition, there was a precedent-setting purpose, to set up representation in Congress on the basis of population.

LOTTERY vs. TAXES
 (California Feature Service)
 We don't propose to argue here the merits or demerits of a state lottery, but we do want to enter one observation.

Opponents of the project have been quoted as saying that if the lottery is to bring the state any meaningful total, every man, woman and child in California would have to gamble $20 a year. That's a very respectable sum. But now consider:

During the year ending June 30, 1963, the State of California collected, in effect, from every man, woman and child within its borders, $188.84. That was more than a $10 increase over its per capita collection in the previous year. The total: $3,278,600,000.

And that's not all. In that same year the federal government collected $560.72 per capita, and local governments property and sales tax revenues averaged out at $169.22 per person.

To tote it all up, Californians paid $918.88 per capita. A family of three averaged $2,755 for its annual overall tax burden.

How did we get started on this? Oh, yes, that $20 lottery clout. Well.

Cold Largest Medical Factor for School Absence

The common cold continues to be the largest single factor contributing to the 19.1 days per school year the average Texas student is absent from school, according to a study by Schering Corp., a leading pharmaceutical company.

Using statistics from the National Education Association, the study reveals that Texas ranks 29th in days-attended per pupil. The best attendance record for the 1962-63 school year was set by the state of Washington with an average of 18.5 days missed. Utah was second with 11.2. The national average of school absences was 18.9.

Medical surveys indicate that children of elementary school age have five times as many colds as do adults. According to a 1963 U. S. Public Health Service report, respiratory illnesses were responsible for about two-thirds of school days lost because of acute illnesses or injuries during the 1961-62 school year.

The first onslaught of colds strikes the schools almost as soon as children reassemble for the new year. One contributing factor to this, according to research scientists, is that spread of colds like other virus-caused infections is accelerated by the mixing of populations. In fixed stable groups which are not exposed to strangers, cold-like infections tend to die-out, and do not reappear until there is contact outside the group.

The best defense against the common cold is prevention. Warm clothing should be worn, and good diets planned. Whenever possible avoid contact with a person suffering from a cold.

Medicines, of course, are important. A recent survey by a drug industry publication revealed that only one out of eight home medicine cabinets is fully equipped with products needed in common types of health situations arising in the home, such as the cold. The list of 11 "basic" supplies recommended includes: gargle, antihistamine - aspirin (such as Coricidin), cotton swabs, stomach settler, laxative, cough syrup, eye drops, decongestant fever thermometer, bandages and an analgesic.

The oil industry has spent more than $4 billion in the Gulf of Mexico since the area's first major oil field was discovered 25 years ago, Oil Facts reports.
