Kennedy Dedicates $46.7 Million Dam

HEBER SPRINGS, Ark. (UPI) — President Kennedy dedicated a new federally financed $46.7 million dam today and defended such projects against charges that they are "boondoggles" and a waste of tax money.

Russians Have Not Changed Stand on Berlin

NEW YORK (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk has found that despite its more cordial approach to East-West negotiations, the Soviet Union has not changed its stand on the potentially explosive Berlin and German issues, U.S. officials said today.

Rusk, in the course of a long discussion Wednesday night with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, found the Kremlin still standing firm on its demand for eventual liquidation of the Allied position in Red-encircled West Berlin, the sources said.

However, Gromyko was reported to be approaching these and other subjects in a relaxed manner with no indication the Kremlin plans within the foreseeable future to whip up another crisis such as those which in recent years have threatened to trigger nuclear war.

Rusk and Gromyko touched on the problems of Berlin and Germany in the course of a three-hour dinner-conference Wednesday night at the East 67th Street headquarters of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations.

PLENTY OF PRECAUTION

LONDON (UPI) — When Post Office workers heard ticking inside a package marked "live bomb" Wednesday night, they called police, who called firemen who called bomb disposal men, who dumped it into a bucket of water, then gingerly opened it. Inside were an alarm clock and a horseshoe.

Valachi's Evidence Is 'Convincing' to Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Underworld informer Joseph Valachi is offering "convincing evidence" that a secret gangland government menaces the U.S. society, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said today.

McClellan is chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee which has been listening to Valachi's lurid description of the Cosa Nostra crime combine. With the hearings recessed until next week, McClellan gave a short appraisal of the testimony to date.

He noted that much of the testimony by ex-hoodlum is "not especially new." But, he commented, authorities in New York and elsewhere are currently following up leads from Valachi's narrative of gangland warfare of the 1930s.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S. D., the top Republican member of the subcommittee, said he began the hearings feeling somewhat skeptical about Valachi as a witness but had come to believe that his testimony was essentially solid.

McClellan said he hoped to "expedite" Valachi's testimony when the squat Cosa Nostra alumnus returns to the witness table next Tuesday.

He said he believed another day or day-and-a-half would complete the testimony unless Valachi, currently serving two long jail sentences on narcotics counts, proved to have a lot of information on narcotics traffic.

through floods and to leave untapped the energies of the nation's streams and rivers.

He said water developments ultimately pay for themselves, serve homes and farms and factories and produce "billion dollar" benefits for all.

"These projects protect and create wealth — new industries, new income, new incentives and interests," the President said in remarks prepared for dedication of the Greers Ferry Dam and Reservoir here.

The presidential speech was the first of two in Arkansas today. The second was scheduled this afternoon at Little Rock where Kennedy's appearance had produced advance rumblings over the racial segregation issue.

Kennedy went to Arkansas primarily at the invitation of Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways & Means Committee, who piloted the administration's $11 billion tax reduction bill to House passage last week.

Other Democratic members of the Arkansas congressional delegation also accompanied Kennedy to his state in what amounted to a replay of last week's 10,000-mile Western "conservation tour" during which Kennedy saw projects similar to Greers Ferry-dam.

When I review the dividends to be gained from this kind of investment, when I consider the kind of project — I can't understand those who would denounce this kind of work with such phrases as 'pork barrel' and 'boondoggle'."

White Kennedy did not single out anyone by name, his statements apparently were aimed at congressional economists — including some members of his own party—who have been highly critical of such projects.

The President acknowledged that federal resources are limited and "all proposed projects" must be carefully screened with insistence upon "a proper ratio of each program's cost to its benefits."

But he said that "you will not find the members of the Arkansas delegation supporting waste and inefficiency in government whereas they support projects such as the one being dedicated today."

"There will always be opposition to these projects," Kennedy declared. "TVA was called a 'white elephant'—Grand Coulee was considered part of the 'pork barrel'—Hoover Dam was thought to be a 'blunder'—but they continued to operate for the good of the country—and so will the projects in this state, long after their critics are gone."

This was the first of two scheduled stops for Kennedy in the state, the second being at Little Rock to address an afternoon throng at the Arkansas livestock exposition grounds.

It was the Little Rock speech trip that produced advance racial rumblings, which the White House and local civic leaders sought to discount.

Two area officials of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) protested in a telegram to Kennedy that the Barton Coliseum at the exposition grounds is "the worst segregated institution in the state."

But White House leaders said they were assured there would not be any segregation of Kennedy's audience. And it was planned for him to speak outside the coliseum grounds.

The segregationist Arkansas Citizens Council has urged Arkanians in a newspaper advertisement to spurn Kennedy's visit.

But William Mitchell, president of the Little Rock Chamber of Commerce, promised "true Southern hospitality to our most distinguished President."

The sources said both Lodge and Harkins, chief of the U.S. military mission here, concurred

in the general outline of the report to the President. A White House statement said McNamara and Taylor "reported their judgments that a major part of the U.S. military task can be completed by the end of 1965."

Difference in Views These were the differences in the Lodge and Harkins viewpoints, the sources said:

Lodge was said to feel that although there may have been harmful effects on the war effort so far from President Ngo Dinh Diem's crackdown on the Buddhists, he views the political situation as serious and believes it could hurt Viet Nam's war potential if continued.

Harkins, the sources said, took the position in his talks with McNamara that the war effort was going well. He was understood to believe that the four-month-old political crisis has had no real effect on the war effort.

Even before Lodge arrived several weeks ago to replace Frederick S. Nolting as ambassador, U.S. civilian officials here had been giving greater attention to the political than to the military situation.

Doubt Popular Support Many of these officials — perhaps even a majority—doubt that the present government can command sufficient popular support to achieve a complete victory over the Communists.

The military viewpoint is that things are going well on the battlefields and that the United States should do nothing to disturb the Diem government.

While Lodge has not openly entered into a controversy that he inherited, he was known to feel that the political aspects of the war cannot be separated from the military ones, and was said to have this feeling known in his talks with the defense secretary.

Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa offered a counter solution to the proposal to sell wheat to Russia during his speech before the Society of Petroleum Engineers, AIME, Panhandle section, Tuesday night in Borger.

The U.S. Representative from the 18th Congressional District, suggested the United States "sell this surplus to other nations in the free world. They could then sell to Russia and Red China, make a profit off the sale and help their economy."

He told the group the U.S. has "claimed for years it would not trade with Russia and now that we have a chance of making a profit we are going to change our stand."

In his 7:30 p.m. speech, the congressman supported the tax-cut bill now before the senate and told the group "we need it to make free enterprise work."

Lodge Concerned Over Political Crisis in South Viet Nam

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge expressed more concern over the effects of Viet Nam's political crisis on the guerrilla war than did his military counterpart, Gen. Paul Harkins, in their talks with Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, informed sources said Wednesday.

McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, reported to President Kennedy in Washington Wednesday on their findings in Viet Nam.

The sources said both Lodge and Harkins, chief of the U.S. military mission here, concurred

in the general outline of the report to the President. A White House statement said McNamara and Taylor "reported their judgments that a major part of the U.S. military task can be completed by the end of 1965."

Council Debate Is Continuing

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Joseph Cardinal Ritter of St. Louis told the Ecumenical Council today that a revival of "preaching the word of God" is the "indispensable basis" of any other reform of the Roman Catholic Church.

The American prelate, one of the council's liberal group, said that all of the reforms under consideration—such as those in the liturgy and organization of the church—depend on getting back to sound and dynamic preaching of God's word.

He said unfortunately preaching today is often done in a "desultory manner," as if it were incidental to the liturgy.

Augustin Cardinal Bea, head of the secretariat for Christian unity followed Cardinal Ritter with a plea for more accurate study of biblical texts, which are being cited by council speakers as well as in the document now under debate on the nature of the church.

In all, 20 council fathers spoke at today's fourth plenary meeting of the second session. Debate continued on the introduction and first of four chapters in a document entitled "De Ecclesia" (about the church).

The "De Ecclesia" document may become an authoritative source on such topics as the primacy of the Pope, the authority of the bishops and the relation of non-Catholics to the kingdom of God.

Wednesday's discussion of the introduction and the first of four chapters of De Ecclesia sparked a brisk debate on the relationship of the Pope to the

Weatherman Is Enthused By Moon

By United Press International ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — The normally staid U.S. Weather Bureau here enthused over the brightness and position of the moon Wednesday night sent the following note on its teletype wire:

"Hey everyone...look at that moon...to the east...wowiee."

Casualties Are Reported Heavy

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (UPI) — The armed forces today overthrew President Ramon Villeda Morales in a pre-dawn coup followed by bitter fighting. Heavy casualties were reported.

Sharp clashes were reported between army troops defending the president. There were "many" dead and wounded on both sides, according to informed sources.

Heavily armed regulars swarmed through the city, surrounded the presidential palace and seized public utilities.

The coup came off only 10 days before scheduled general elections for a new president. Villeda Morales would have completed his six-year term a week from next Sunday.

At 10:30 a.m., seven hours after the coup, the situation was still fluid. Civil guard units were reported as backed into the central jail building and resisting fiercely.

Rumors circulated that a military junta had been formed with armed forces chief Col. Osvaldo Lopez Arellano at the head. This could not be confirmed immediately.

Villeda Morales was reported a prisoner in the palace with his family.

Cars with Red Cross emblems raced through the city to pick up the dead and wounded. Most of the casualties seemed to be among the civil guard, which was defending Villeda Morales.

The coup here was the second carried out in Latin America in the past eight days. The government of Dominican President Juan Bosch was toppled by a military coup last week. Bosch was arrested and sent into exile.

Air force planes flew low over the city and, through loudspeakers, blared calls for the people to remain calm. The army said it dominated the situation, but frequent fighting was reported.

A military coup had been rumored as imminent for several weeks. Only Wednesday, the Washington Post said a coup could take place within the next 48 hours.

The Post said Col. Armando Escalona, air force chief, had asked the United Fruit Co. for its help. But in subsequent statements, both the State Department and United Fruit said they were ignorant of the reports.

The Los Angeles Dodgers won the second game of the World Series today by the score of 4-1 to take a 2-0 lead over the New York Yankees in the best-of-seven series.

Johnny Podres went 8-1-3 in innings before being removed from the game with one Yankee on second.

The Yankees started a rally in the ninth but reliever Perranoski shut off the meager effort. Podres is given the win and Al Downing was credited with the loss.

The series moves to the west coast for the third game on Saturday.

500 Attend Grand Opening

About 500 Pampans watched a ribbon cutting ceremony and heard welcoming addresses of city and Chamber of Commerce officials at the formal opening today of the Gibson Discount Center, Pampa's largest independently owned retail store, located at 2211 Perryton Parkway.

Herb Gibson, owner of the multi-store chain of retail outlets, received the welcome from Mayor H. R. Thompson, J. C. Roberts, chairman of the C of C new business greeters committee and John Wortman, chairman of the C of C merchants activities committee.

The store features year-round air conditioning, parking space for 300 cars and 15 departments including home and beauty aids, complete drug supply, prescription service, housewares, soft goods, shoe department, automotive, hardware, jewelry, toys, sporting goods, paint, small appliances, men and boys' wear and toy department.

One of 92 stores in the Gibson chain, the store employs 35 people and offers all new, guaranteed merchandise and name brands direct from the manufacturer.

Emergency Power To Be Given Ben Bella

ALGIERS (UPI) — President Ahmed Ben Bella, his troops already occupying the headquarters city of insurgent Berber tribesmen was expected to be given emergency powers today for further action against the rebellion.

Government troops Wednesday night entered Tizi-Ouzou, where the rebellion broke out Sunday, and occupied it without firing a shot. There has been no bloodshed in any of the encounters between Ben Bella's forces and the rebels, and neither side appeared anxious to start any.

But there were indications the rebels planned a guerrilla campaign against the government.

Ben Bella, who already has wide powers as president, premier, and head of the dominant political party, asked the National Assembly for more and was not expected to be denied.

Insurgent leaders Col. Mohamed Ou El Hadj and former Vice Premier Hocine Ait Ahmed withdrew to Michelet, another town their forces control near Tizi-Ouzou in the mountains east of Algiers.

They sought to rally their supporters to continue the fight against Ben Bella's one-man rule. The Kabylia Mountain district, home of the Berbers, has been a center of opposition since Ben Bella began consolidating his power several months ago.

Col. El Hadj, a respected veteran of the war against France, told a crowd in Michelet that Ben Bella has turned the Algerian revolution "into his personal profit."

Ireland Pushes For More Control

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Ireland called on the great powers today to follow up the Moscow test ban treaty with a new agreement to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons to countries not now possessing them.

Irish External Affairs Minister Frank Aiken, in a speech prepared for delivery to the General Assembly, declared:

"We must at our peril use all the influence and power at the disposal of the United Nations to close the door of the nuclear club now, no matter how insistently aspiring members may demand admission. If we can prevent it, there must be no fifth member."

Aiken, long a proponent of U.N. action to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons, directed his appeal specifically to the United States, Russia, Britain and France—the four nuclear powers— "to take immediate steps, inside and outside the Geneva conference, to promote the agreements required to restrict the spread of nuclear weapons."

"Without specific mention of Communist China and predictions that it soon may have nuclear weapons, Aiken said:

"No apprehension that, in spite of our collective efforts, some other state may in future come to possess nuclear arms should be allowed to stand in the way of the erection now . . . of the strongest possible moral and legal barriers to the production, possession or control of nuclear weapons by additional states."

Aiken was the opening speaker in today's assembly policy debate, which included representatives of Australia, Hungary, Turkey, Sudan, Nationalist China and Ecuador.

Rhine River, Once Blue, Is Polluted by Progress

By WELLINGTON LONG
United Press International
BONN (UPI) — Once it was blue, and between the white-caps it reflected the proud castle towers and steep vineyards on its banks.

Whitcaps it still has, but beneath them the Rhine is a brown, soupy flood.

It has lost most of its reflecting quality.

The famous Rhine inns still serve their salmon specialties, but the salmon now is brought down in ice from Scandinavia.

The eel served in the inns is still taken from the Rhine. But before they reach the table, they have to spend four weeks swimming in a tank of well water to wash out the smell of phenol.

Price of Progress
That's one of the prices of progress. The Rhine is the world's busiest river, with more than 7 million tons of shipping working its surface. The much larger Mississippi is undeveloped by comparison.

Railways and highways run along its banks, linking the great industrial concentrations that interrupt the forests or vineyards every 20 or 30 miles.

All these products of modern civilization and a higher standard of living eliminate wastes, and they wind up polluting the river with phosphates and salt. The river moves along at a steady five miles per hour, carrying all that salt with it. Low man on the totem pole is Holland, where the salt is finally dumped.

The United Nations Economic Commission for Europe (ECE) last year looked over the situation. It decided, among other things, that 65 per cent of the waste going into the Rhine is from industry, 30 per cent is from neighboring residential communities and only 5 per cent from the ships plying the river.

The sum of this report and those by other researchers is that pollution of the river increases despite all efforts to restrict it, although the West German Ministry of Health claims the rate of pollution has been stabilized in this country.

Protection Steps

The riparian states of Germany, Switzerland, France, Luxembourg and Holland have formed the International Commission for the Protection of the Rhine Against Pollution to coordinate their efforts.

In Germany, six of the 11 federal states are organized in a similar commission.

The Allies insisted, after the war, that the new Germany have a weak central government, and strong state or provincial governments. The idea was to prevent another Hitler seizing power in the national capital and thus at one stroke in the nation. But it has some interesting side effects. One is the problem of dealing with public health, including river pollution.

The Constitutional Court a year ago declared unconstitutional a law giving the federal government certain executive powers in the field of river control. Dealing with river pollution, said the court, is strictly a matter for the states. So when several members of parliament asked the Federal Minister of Health for information on the fight against Rhine pollution this summer, it took six weeks to prepare the answer because the Minister had to ask the six state governments concerned.

Five-Year Plan
A committee representing six states replied they are following a plan calling for investment of 2.5 billion marks ($825 million) during the next five years in filter and purification plants.

The Rhine flows through Lake Constance, bordered by Austria, Switzerland and Germany, and this inland sea too is changing because of pollution.

Debate

Liberal bishops object to one sentence which says Jesus Christ entrusted his church to "Peter and the apostles."

This implies that Peter was separate from the apostles in exercising his authority over them, while in fact he was one with them, the liberals maintain.

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

Morale has an important effect upon a school and its program. High morale creates an attitude which leads to an enthusiastic and efficient operation. This is normally true of any organization.

In a school with good morale teachers and students seem to solve problems with a minimum of disturbance. If the morale is poor, minor problems build into major difficulties.

Morale is complex in that it involves all areas of the school program. It also appears to be contagious. One unhappy group tends to create other unhappy groups. The reverse is also true. Satisfied individuals and groups tend to influence others to feel the same.

If this attitude is so important we should consider its makeup and how it develops. The many components of morale are closely related and therefore overlap considerably.

The students, staff, and parents should feel they belong to and are an important part of the organization. In this way they become personally responsible for its successful operation. This brings about a pride in themselves and the school.

Individuals who know that their opinions are seriously considered feel important. They begin to have respect for their own ability. Others respect them. There is a strong feeling that the quality of the school program is a result of their efforts.

Students can be given the opportunity to participate in a student government or other similar activities. Sports also play a major role. In addition, students will be deeply affected by their success in learning. It is only natural to feel good about something in which one is successful.

Teachers need to feel that they are professionals. Their opinions should be solicited and used. They should take on important responsibilities. They must be respected.

Parents should be given the chance to plan and be responsible for certain school activities. They should become aware of the quality of the school program. They must be convinced that the school is continuously improving and that they play an important role in this growth.

In an organization morale is a reflection of the administration. The school principal's approach and attitude influences the approach and attitude of teachers. Parents and students will also reflect these attitudes. Morale depends upon feelings of individual worth and cooperation.

Actually morale is a result of every aspect of the school's activities. They cannot be separated. Individuals and the groups to which they belong must feel a

Mudshell Controversy Hits New Commission

AUSTIN (UPI)—The new Parks and Wildlife Commission, created this year by the state legislature, is embroiled in its first public controversy—over whether to allow mudshell dredging in Galveston and Trinity bays.

Two members of the legislature lodged complaints at a public hearing on the issue Tuesday. Both Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston and Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston asked commissioners to delay the hearing, contending the general public had been caught off guard.

Schwartz was not allowed to speak before he had to leave the meeting to catch an airplane. He had asked to be heard while commercial mudshell producers were giving testimony.

After a sharp exchange with commission chairman Will Odom, the senator complained that only mudshell dredgers and oyster fishermen were prepared for the hearing.

"People not represented" — "The one million people who have an interest in the recreation of this year" were not represented," Schwartz told newsmen.

The mudshell producers contended that present dredging areas are depleted and that a shortage of the oyster shell deposit threatens Gulf Coast cement, petrochemical and construction industries.

Eckhardt, representing eight fishing and sportsmen's groups, said the four mudshell producers seeking expanded dredging areas in the bays had "launched a massive attack against the oyster fishing industry."

He sought a continuance on grounds his clients "had no way of knowing they would be forced to defend the very life of their industry."

He Leaves Meeting — When his request to delay the hearing was denied, Eckhardt also left the meeting. He turned presentation of his case over to Jack E. Walker of Baytown, secretary of the Bayshore Rod and Reel Club.

"We are not urging the shell business cease," Eckhardt said, "but do contend that dredging should be sharply limited and regulate to avoid damaging live oyster beds."

The mudshell controversy was inherited by the new commission from the former Game and Fish Commission, which was combined with the state parks system this year.

Nikita Tells Russians Of Wheat Failure

MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev frankly told the nation Tuesday about the extent of this year's harvest failure, but assured his citizens they will have enough bread this winter if they do not waste it.

"On the condition that we economize on bread, we will have enough to normally supply the population," he said in a Sept. 26 speech published for the first time Tuesday in Izvestia, the government newspaper.

"If we spend bread thriftily" he added, "the available resources will be sufficient for the normal supply of the population."

Some speculation that this meant Khrushchev was turning down further grain deals with the West, including a $380 million purchase from the United States, was rejected by authoritative sources here.

In disclosing for the first time publicly that the Soviet Union had purchased millions of tons of grain from Canada and Australia, Khrushchev apparently was seeking to reassure the population.

Despite the drought and cold weather that caused the poor harvest, there have been no shortages of bread here, although flour sales have been cut off and farmers have been warned not to feed bread to livestock.

Reports from Washington said: the Soviets were seeking an additional 200 million bushels of American grain. This would be the biggest Soviet-U.S. business deal by far since the end-of-World War II.

Cold Start for French Fries

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
You won't believe it, but it's true, astonishing, revolutionary — and it works. You can French-fry potatoes better by placing potatoes in skillet and pouring COLD pure vegetable oil over them instead of placing into heated fat.

Little or no spatter, no smoke, no special equipment such as fryer basket, deep fryer and thermometer, no preheating of oil and practically no odor. They are tender, crisp and golden brown. Results of this new "cold start" method were judged better than conventional method by a group of critical home economists.

FRENCH FRIED POTATOES THE "COLD-START" WAY

Note: Both fresh raw potatoes and packaged, frozen, French-fried potatoes are recommended for this method. For the frozen product, of course, step one is eliminated.

DIRECTIONS:

1. Pare potatoes. Cut as for French fries, into strips approximately 1/4-inch wide. Dry well.

2. Put potato strips in single layer in large skillet.

3. Pour in just enough pure vegetable oil to cover them, and stir.

4. Turn heat to medium-high. If electric skillet is used, set at 350 to 375 degrees.

5. Stir occasionally to keep potatoes separated.

6. Cook 15 to 20 minutes, depending upon brownness desired. (Frozen potatoes take about 10 minutes.)

7. Turn off heat. Remove potatoes with slotted spoon. Drain on paper towels. Salt and serve.

FOR A SECOND BATCH:

Oil will not be too hot to give good results. Just put in potatoes and turn on heat.

After cooking, leave oil in the cooking utensil until it cools to room temperature. Then pour into a bottle or jar (with a tight-fitting lid). Store in refrigerator until used again.

FRENCH FRIES started in cold oil—tender, crisp and golden brown.

While serving a meal, soak pots, pans, and skillets in thick soap or detergent suds to loosen grease and food particles.

When cooking outdoors, rub the barbecue grill with suet or salad oil to keep the meat from sticking to the bars.

AND HOW! Salmon-macaroni salad for Indian Summer enjoyment.

STRETCH That Can Of Salmon for Nutrition, Ease

Canned salmon is expensive, unfortunately. But there is no waste, and every bite is loaded with top-grade protein. Furthermore, it is the favorite fish of many people.

first."
SALMON MACARONI (Serves 6)
8 ounces elbow macaroni
2 tablespoons lemon juice or vinegar
2 tablespoons salad oil
2 teaspoons grated onion or 2 tablespoons chopped chives
1 1/2-pound can salmon, drained and flaked
2 pounds fresh peas, shelled and cooked
1 cup sour cream
1/4 teaspoon salt
Freshly ground black pepper
1 pimento, minced
1 tablespoon chopped fresh dill, or 1/2 teaspoon dry dill weed
Cook macaroni according to directions on package. Drain and rinse well in cold water. Toss lightly with lemon juice, salad oil, and grated onion or chives and pile into serving bowl. Make a well in center and fill with flaked salmon.
Surround the salmon with a ring of cooked peas. Garnish with wedge of lemon and chill until ready to serve.
Toss at table and serve with a salad dressing made by combining sour cream, salt, pepper, pimento, and dill.

Iron Contributes To Potato Color Change
By GARNOR MADDOX
Q—Why do potatoes sometimes turn dark in spots when I boil them?
A—Experiments at Cornell University proved that it's the iron in a potato that causes it to discolor after cooking. The researchers found that iron is not evenly distributed in the stem end. That's where, after cooking, darkening occurs, they explain.
Q—My son practices football violently, even on hot afternoons. Often he gets headaches. Is this normal?
A—The normal, healthy athlete can become conditioned to a hard training grind in about one week, if the schedule allows for gradual adjustment.

First A General, Then A Salad, And Now, Great Caesar Chip Dip

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Caesar used to be a Roman general, but now he seems to have become a popular American salad. Going one step further, Miss L., a home economist, implies he is a dip also. "Please try my recipe for Caesar Dip. I just invented it. Wonderful with corn chips, either those rippled ones or the newer very thin type. I've found that the flavor and consistency of corn chips adds to enjoyment of my Caesar Dip. Potato chips or pretzels are good, too."

Everyone seems to like dips of one kind or another. So let's try this new one.

CAESAR DIP

Foreign News Commentary

In hot and dusty Jakarta this week the price of rice had doubled over that of two months ago.

In two years the cost of living had tripled and a months pay for the average Indonesian could be expected to last less than two weeks.

None of this seemed likely to be of great concern to Indonesian President Sukarno who long ago proved himself a man of nine lives so far as Indonesians were concerned and who early proved to himself that in a world dedicated to peace, the role of swash-buckler has many advantages.

But both the price of rice and Sukarno himself were of concern to the United States.

Suspicion Mounts
There was a mounting suspicion that Sukarno intended to eliminate not only Dutch and British influence from Southeast Asia but U.S. influence as well.

As a ruler of a newly independent nation, Sukarno has enjoyed the best of three worlds. In Indonesia he has been named president for life. The Soviet Union built his military machine and the United States sustained him economically.

"Without United States help, the Indonesian economy wouldn't last five minutes," remarked a British diplomat a few days ago.

Taking Over Business
In his mind were the fire-ravaged ruins of the British Embassy and the British women and children flown from Indonesia when Sukarno loosed rioters against British installations in Jakarta as part of his confrontation against formerly British-held Malaysia.

In his mind also were the British business houses taken over by Sukarno on the claim it was to prevent their seizure by labor unions.

To the British it had the unpleasant ring of events leading up to Indonesian take-over of West New Guinea from the Dutch.

Sukarno never has been a man to permit logic to interfere with rhetoric. And so it was not especially surprising that he denounced independent Malaysia as a British neo-colonial plot to surround 100 million Indonesians with some 10 million Malaysians.

Luck Running Out?
It followed also then that Sukarno should describe as a "blessing in disguise" his action in cutting off trade relations with Malaysia which normally takes about 27 per cent of all Indonesian exports.

In the end, he said, it would make the Indonesian economy stronger.

With Indonesian-trained guerrillas menacing its new borders in North Borneo and Sarawak, the immediate future of Malaysia is not a particularly happy one.

New Mexico To Share In Apollo Shot

ALBUQUERQUE (UPI)—New Mexico's share of the project to put a man on the moon will be about $10 million, according to an official of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

James C. Elms, deputy director of NASA's manned space-flight center in Houston, said here Tuesday White Sands will play a major role in the forthcoming Project Apollo.

Under the Apollo program three men will journey to the moon, with two of the three descending to the moon's surface. The third man of the trio will remain aboard the spacecraft orbiting the moon.

One of the safety factors of the Apollo project includes the use of a Little Joe II rocket. A test firing of the Little Joe II at White Sands last August was "successful" Elms said.

Elms said upcoming tests at White Sands will be one to simulate an emergency just as the rocket is fired. Other tests will involve development of propulsion systems.

Testing facilities are scheduled to be constructed by NASA in the White Sands area to duplicate the moon's airless environment, Elms said.

Several rocket stands equipped with vacuum chambers will be built by NASA on the 90-square-mile range.

Elms told the gathering the moon projects are of a peaceful nature and his agency hoped they would remain so. He cautioned that the U.S. must be prepared to explore space alone if other countries refuse to cooperate.

How Color TV Gets That Way

NEW YORK (UPI) — Millions watch it, but few understand what makes their color television sets light up in color. The secret lies in the color picture tube—a "Fancy Dan" that sports a mask and handles three guns with precision and accuracy.
Each gun fires a beam of electrons through a mask behind the TV screen. The screen you see is actually 1,871,000 (m) phosphor dots divided into three groups of 337,000 dots, one group each for each primary color—red, blue and green. When struck by the beams, the dots light up and blend into every color of the rainbow.
"The trick is that each gun must fire its beam so as to hit only its group of 337,000 dots," says Clyde Hoyt, staff engineer for RCA Victor, which makes the picture tube in all color sets. "In short a red gun works with the red dots, a blue gun with the blue dots, and a green gun with the green dots. The mask is used to keep the electron beams in perfect alignment with their targets."

SUBMITS DRAFT BILL

ROME (UPI) — Interior Minister Mariano Rumor submitted a draft bill to the Italian Senate today to increase the power of the police in arresting prostitutes.
He said there has been a rise in the number of venereal disease.
The measure would permit authorities to arrest women "soliciting in a scandalous way or in the presence of minors under the age of 18." It would also enable the police to report prostitutes to health officials for venereal disease examinations.
A bill passed by both houses of parliament in 1957 closed Italy's 1340 legalized brothels.

Besides looks, ride and power - what's so special about it?
(it's so reasonably priced)

Kind of leaves the high-priced cars some explaining to do, wouldn't you say? Long and luxurious—with a fresh-christened look that almost makes you feel somebody should be breaking a champagne bottle on its prow. Richer roomy interiors with subtle new blending of colors and fabrics. Like the ultra-soft vinyl upholstery in the new Impala Super Sport Series. And the foam-cushioned front and rear seats and door-to-door carpeting, now standard in all models, including the modest-priced Biscaynes.
A choice of seven engines, no less, with output all the way up (say when!) to 425 hp.*

And a choice of four smooth transmissions—from automatic* to 4-speed Synchro-Mesh*—to go with them.
And underlying it all, the unique feel of Chevrolet's Jet-smooth ride—something some of the expensive makes would dearly love to claim for themselves.

Matter of fact, the most important and noticeable difference between this beautiful new 1964 Chevrolet and the high-priced cars is the price itself.
Let your Chevrolet dealer show you how much luxury that reasonable Chevrolet price now buys. *Optional at extra cost

STRIVES FOR UNITY

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—The pro-Egyptian newspaper Al Moharrer quoted U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser Wednesday as saying secret contacts have begun between unionist elements throughout the Arab world "in order to create a uniform Arab movement designed to achieve pan-Arab unity."

Nasser, according to Al Moharrer, said, "Secrecy is necessary since some Arab countries such as Syria would arrest and persecute those involved if identities were known."

TEXAS BOATING

By KENNETH CARR
United Press International
An added chore of today's pleasure craft is to serve as a towboat and it's a fairly simple operation if a few things are kept in mind. An anchor line is usually the handiest rope aboard smaller boats for emergency towing. A sturdy anchor line allows you to tow someone else as well as having it in the event you have to be towed yourself.

Not all craft should be towed the same way. Planing hulls tow at a fairly rapid speed, but displacement craft — such as sailboats and rowboats — are designed to knife through the water instead of on top of it and they behave erratically if they are pulled at too fast a clip. This type of craft must be towed more slowly.

Canoes and dinghies sometimes dart one way, then another, when they are towed. This is caused by the tow line, which is normally attached to the top of the bow, forcing the bow down into the water. The secret of success here is to tie a loop of rope around the hull about one-third back from the bow. Attach the tow line to the loop under the keel. The pull will then tend to lift the bow, and the stern will act like a "tail," keeping the towed craft on a straight-ahead course.

In any towing situation, try to have a passenger at the transom of the towboat to keep the tow line clear of your prop and to prevent the towed craft from gliding into your stern if you have to stop suddenly.

Murder Trial Hearing Is Postponed

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI)—A pre-trial hearing for Jerry Dean Henderson, 19, of Dumas, Tex., charged with first degree murder, has been postponed because the youth has not been indicted.

Solicitor Kenneth R. Downs announced the postponement Tuesday.

Henderson, a Marine stationed at Camp Lejeune, was charged with the fatal stabbing of a cab driver in Charlotte about two weeks ago. Police said he admitted stabbing the man during an unsuccessful robbery attempt. He later led police to a clump of bushes where he hid the murder weapon.

The hearing was originally scheduled Tuesday.

Henderson was arrested the day after the killing. Two other Marines and a teen-age girl were held as accessories. All three Marines had been absent without leave from Lejeune since Labor Day.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

United Press International

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The very best regularly scheduled prime-time hour on television each week is on CBS-TV on Wednesday, starting at 7:30 p.m. EDT.

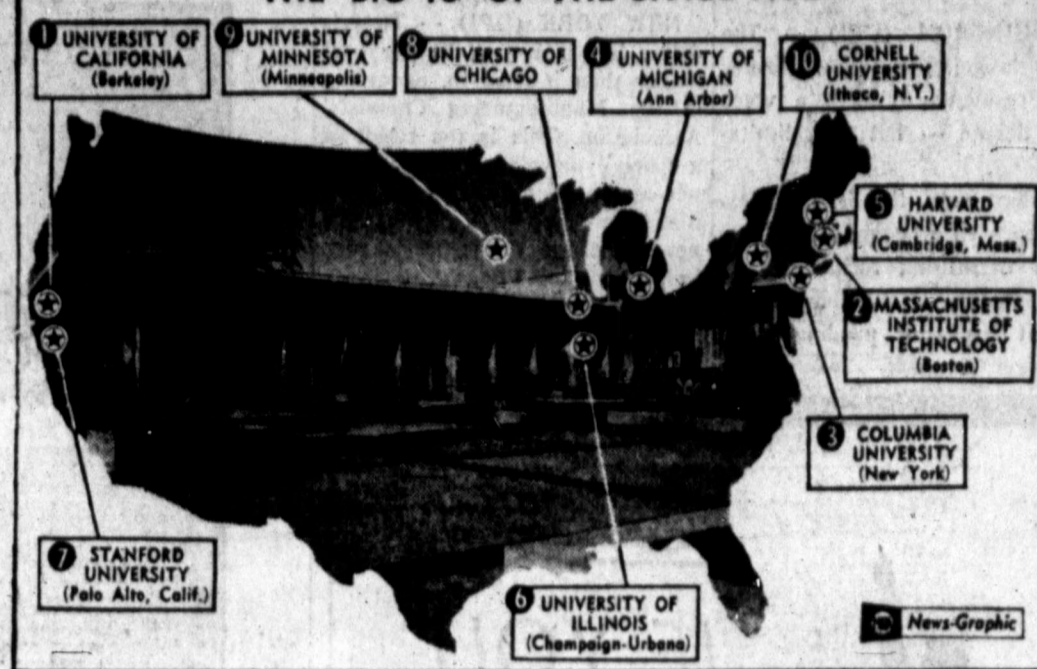

This is the hour shared from week to week in the new season by "CBS Reports" and "Chronicle," the latter a series that premiered Wednesday night and, generally speaking, deals with various aspects of man and civilization, past and present. It is much more pleasurable than it sounds.

Wednesday night, for instance, it looked at the French character and civilization as seen by some of that nation's writers, using dramatized excerpts as a format linked by host Charles Collingwood. Next week, "Chronicle" will offer a personal view of American history of the past century through the eyes of three octogenarians — one the daughter and granddaughter of slaves, another born in the year that Gen. George Custer made his famous last stand against the Indians, and the third a veteran of the Spanish-American War.

Wednesday night's effort was, in the French manner, sometimes witty and pointed but not particularly concerned with consistency. It did not fasten as firmly on a definable theme. Nevertheless, most of the performances were worthy. Collingwood set a civilized and urbane tone with an obvious relish and love for his subject; and the bittersweet flavor of French life was brought home, as was the intelligent French acceptance of human imperfection. The journalist Lincoln Steffens, in his autobiography, put it a little more tartly: "The French, corrupt as they are, have saved their minds."

"Espionage," a new one-hour weekly series based on real experiences of undercover agents, made its debut Wednesday night on NBC-TV, and displayed exceptional potential. The executive producer is Herbert Brodtkin, who is also responsible for "The Defenders," and the filming is done in Europe.

THE 'BIG 10' OF THE SPACE AGE

BILLIONS FOR RESEARCH—Against the background of Stanford University's new medical center, Newsmap above spots the 10 leading universities in the nation in terms of government grants for scientific research. The National Science Foundation estimates that the federal government spent $12.6 billion in 1962 for research and development and that 12 per cent of the total, or about $1.5 billion, went to institutions of higher learning. Of this $1.5 billion, about 93 per cent of it went to 100 colleges and universities; 38 per cent went to the 10 institutions shown on map. Federal money tends to go to a limited number of schools because the nature of the work demands large graduate schools and well-equipped laboratories.

TACKING—These crewmen seem to feel that it is easier to push their craft than sail it through the rough water of Lake Michigan off Chicago. As a matter of fact, they have gone far out in tacking in the World Championship Star Class Regatta to keep their entrant balanced with the wind.

Kennedy To Make Arkansas Appearance

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—President Kennedy was promised true southern hospitality Wednesday for his appearance Thursday at the huge Arkansas Livestock Exposition grounds in Little Rock.

Besides that, Arkansas' self-appointed rainmaker offered to keep the weather delightful during the President's visit, to moderate the winters at Hyannis Port and provide weather control for the entire nation. Retired Air Force Maj. Homer F. Berry of North Little Rock also wanted to make Kennedy an honorary rainmaker.

The Weather Bureau forecast sunny skies and temperatures in the 80s.

William Mitchell, president of the Little Rock Chamber of Commerce, said Wednesday, "everything is ready."

"We're certain that Little Rockians will show true southern hospitality to our most distinguished President," Mitchell said.

Workers put down an asphalt helicopter landing pad at the exposition grounds where thousands of fair-goers, school children and others were to hear Kennedy speak.

The President's helicopter, was to land very near the crowd, in an area normally reserved for parking. Officials put down the asphalt to prevent gusts from the helicopter blades from scattering rocks among the crowd.

Similar accommodations were constructed earlier at Greers Ferry Dam near Heber Springs, where Kennedy is to speak prior to the Little Rock appearance.

OIL AND FISH

PORTLAND Ore. (UPI)—Careful seismic underwater explosions in oil exploration are virtually harmless to fish, the Oregon Fish commission has reported. But the commission warned that the oil explorers must use fish scanners and avoid explosions too close to fish schools.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—"Now that it seems considerably more fashionable to be bullish, we're beginning to worry a bit about the level of the stock market," says Wall McKibben of Forbes Investographs, Inc.

"This is not from sheer contrariness but because several of the secondary indicators are disagreeing strongly with the industrial average. As of now, we are not bearish — that is we are not saying sell but we no longer see significant potential in the market as a whole. It is time to forsake the leaders and look for special values in lesser known issues of good quality," McKibben says.

Kenneth Ward of Hayden, Stone & Co. favors the paper's steel, rubber, copper, aluminum, coal, building and machine tool groups.

Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co. believes the major bull market is "still with us and that any setbacks will be temporary, providing an opportunity to buy favored equities."

Attorneys Want Slant Hole Cases Tried at Home

AUSTIN (UPI)—Two East Texas attorneys told the Third Court of Civil Appeals yesterday 70 defendants in civil slant-hole oil cases should be tried in their home county.

The state is asking millions in penalties against 70 Gregg County defendants named in 104 suits. An Austin district court turned down the request for change of venue and set the cases to be tried in Austin.

H. M. Harrington Jr. of Longview and John Ford of Kilgore argued that defendants are entitled to be tried in their home county under the law.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Cecil Rotsch contended the state has proven "the nature of the case" and is legally entitled to try the defendants in Austin.

The court took the arguments under advisement.

A facial mask for use under make-up helps create a smooth-looking complexion. In transparent jelly form, it helps constrict large pores and plump up skin so wrinkles and creases are less obvious. Before applying, cleanse skin thoroughly and then spread the mask (left) rapidly over the face and throat with the fingertips so it will dry evenly. Then apply foundation, rouge and powder (center). The result (right) is a firmer, more transparent complexion.

Face Mask Under Make-up

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Beauty Editor

In the days of the old mud packs women spent hours of discomfort, their faces covered with a thick hard shell that would crack wide open if they blinked an eyelash. More recently, masks have become lighter and less brittle and need only a few minutes to do their work.

If you plan to wear the new clear jelly mask under your make-up, spread it rapidly with your fingertips so it will set evenly. Work with an upward motion, covering all areas of your face and throat with a thin film. Smooth it carefully around the eyes. Then apply your make-up as you normally would.

For an evening perk-up, use the mask for 10 to 15 minutes and then remove it with a cream cleanser or a warm, wet towel.

Remember, though, that your facial beauty must begin with a healthy skin. This comes primarily from proper diet and adequate rest, not cosmetics of any kind. But it's a rare woman over 25, as beauty expert Helena Rubinstein points out, who doesn't need to camouflage a few lines and wrinkles. And that's why a facial mask is such a boon.

Now from a leading beauty authority comes a clear jelly facial mask that has two additional advantages. You don't have to look like a Halloween goblin even for a short time, for the mask is invisible. And it can do its firming work all day long for it can be worn under make-up.

Masks, to do the most for your complexion, should be used about once each week. They help contract pores and plump up or temporarily erase creases so that the skin looks fresh and dewy.

Dear Abby.... Maine Teenager Not A Fast Belle!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: If people wonder where the teen-age morals have gone, all they have to do is look at what they have given us to go by. What are we supposed to think when all the advertising reeks of sex, and mothers dress their daughters like little Lolitas? Who do you think are the "heroes" around town now? I'll tell you—Richard Burton, Christine Keeler and Mandy Rice-Davis. I assure you I am no prude, but I'm glad my parents equipped me with some decent morals.

I would need to call an anesthetist. I believe you are about as qualified to give advice on shaving as was my youngest son when he was 17. When I asked him if he'd started to shave yet, he replied, "Gee, Dad, I've been shaving for two years now and I cut myself both times." Respectfully,
J. L. L.

SEVENTEEN IN BELFAST, MAINE
DEAR SEVENTEEN: And to your fine letter, may I add a hearty AMEN!

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who has been married four years, wears the wedding band I bought for him but who covers it up completely with another ring?

SUSPICIOUS WIFE
DEAR SUSPICIOUS: I think he's probably covering up more than a wedding ring.

DEAR ABBY: A member of our family just came back from his vacation with a hair piece. He has been bald as an eagle since he was about 30 and he went around like that for years, then all of a sudden, at the age of 55, he is sporting a full head of hair. It isn't even his color. When he did have hair it was sandy brown, but this wig is golden brown with red highlights in it. I don't have to tell you how ridiculous he looks. When we first saw him, we thought he was joking, or perhaps wearing it on a dare, but he thinks it looks great. We love this guy and wouldn't hurt his feelings for the world, but how can we tell him that he looks terrible?

HIS RELATIVES
DEAR RELATIVES: If he wanted your opinion, he would have asked you. If you really "love" him, say nothing.

DEAR ABBY: I am puzzled as to how a lady can presume to give advice on shaving. I will be 55 on my next birthday and have been shaving since I was 17. In the past 38 years I shaved once a day, and if I had to shave a second time

Patterson Cries Over 'Sick' Rebs

AMARILLO — Pat Patterson, owner of possibly the most colorful vocabulary in the Panhandle and definitely one of the largest streaks of pessimism, opened over the telephone that the Tascosa Rebels were far from a good ball club, had been lucky in winning three games without a defeat, and should lose to Pampa Friday night.

"We could fall down in the shower and get hurt," was Patterson's bitter comment as he went over the most impressive surrounding list of casualties since World War II. "As matter of fact we did, half-back Vance Brack twisted his ankle in the shower the other day and wasn't out running yesterday. We actually ran yesterday's workouts without any wingbacks at all, and we're hurting so bad, we're trying ends, tackles, anyone alive and breathing, in the position."

"We started off the season by losing Richard Ross, the best back we ever had. Brack was doing the best he could, but nobody could really replace Ross. Then he twisted his ankle, and the other halfback, Mike Turner, is in bed with a back injury. He won't play and his sub, Burl Baker, broke his hand Monday. End Chris Simmons will probably start at right half, and we hope Brack can make it at left half."

"We're far from loaded. We've fooled around, cheated, got fumbles, I don't know how we've won, but we've won. . . I think Lubbock was five touchdowns better than us."

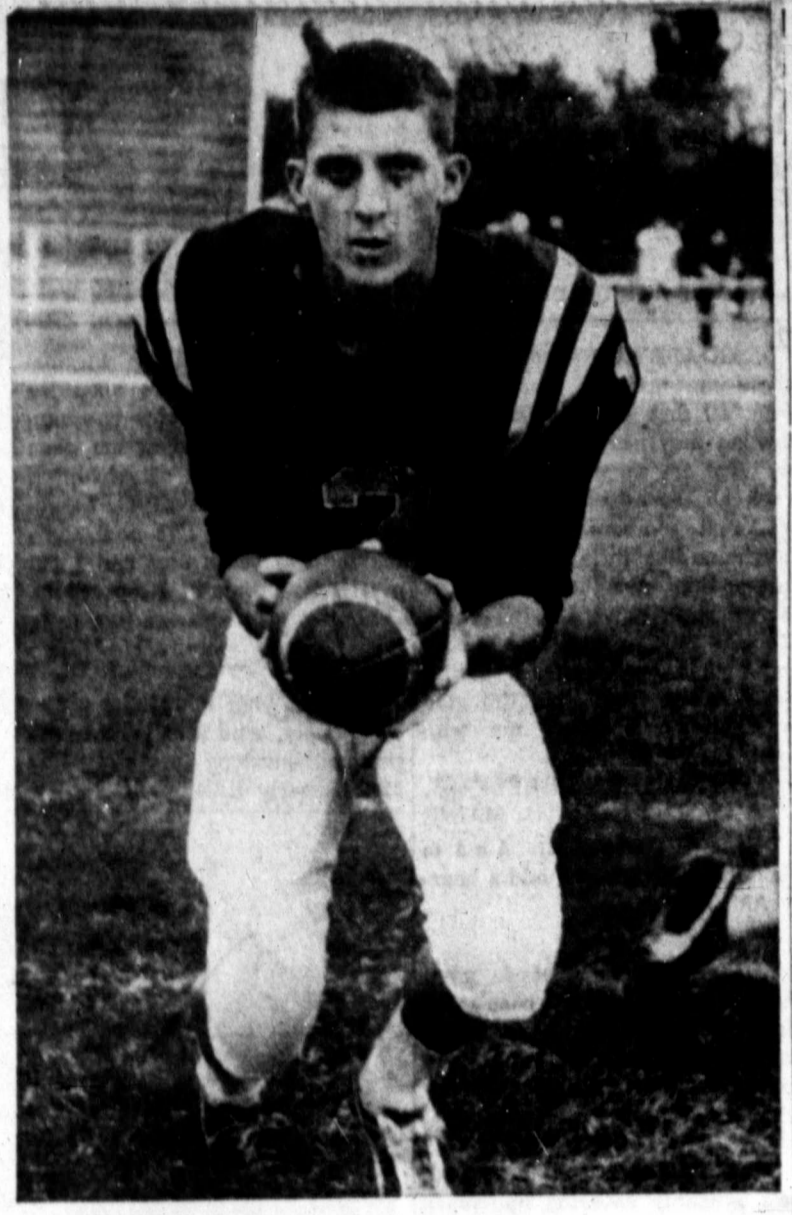

"I think Pampa will beat us. . . you think I'm kidding? You darned whistling I'm not! We lost the best back we ever had at Permian, and Pampa has some fine-looking bodies over there. That Hebert is a running son-of-a-gun! That middle linebacker, Goodwin, is the best I've seen this year. They have a fine end in Criss and two good guards. I wish we had some of their linemen, we're far from loaded."

"No, I mean it, we've been lucky. 'Course I'd rather be lucky than good, but we'll fool around and get beat three or four times this year. I'm tickled to death about one thing, though, we like to hit. They'll run over each other to get to you."

Queried about quarterback Pat Harkins, who was rated by Lubbock sportswriters as better than the great Greg Litt, Patterson snorted derisively "Lil' ol' Birdlegs? He's 141 pounds, how can you compare him to a big old boy like Litt?" When it was pointed out that Harkins had outrun, outpassed and outplayed Litt in the Tascosa-Lubbock game, pessimistic Pat "ubert enough to admit

"He's a player. He's not a quarterback, but he's a player. He'll hunt you up. . . he'll run you down. . . he'll get you. . . the rougher you play, the better he likes it. Look out for him!"

Regarding Patterson's lengthy list of "cripples" and caustic comment about his team's lack of ability, scouting reports definitely indicate that the Rebels are in fine physical shape, have great ability, and won their games through fine play and good coaching, rather than "luck."

Midland In First Place In AAAA

By ED FITE
UPI Sports Writer

DALLAS (UPI) — Midland High's Bulldogs replaced fallen Port Arthur as Class AAAA's No. 1 team, but Dumas, Denver City and Albany held onto their top spots in the United Press International weekly Texas schoolboy football ratings.

The Bulldogs' 28-13 defeat of Lubbock Monterey coupled with Port Arthur's 7-6 loss to Pasadena brought about the change in the AAAA rankings, which saw every position change from last week.

Dumas bowled over Artesia, N. M. 21-12, to stand firm atop the AAAA roost. It has ruled the past two seasons. Denver City barely held on to the AA top spot, over high-scoring Dalhart after losing to Levelland of AAA 20-14. Albany solidified its Class A rank with a 16-6 defeat of previously unbeaten AA winners.

New Teams Rated

Two new names appeared in the AAAA, AAA and Top 10 ranks and one new team moved into the select group in Class A. Pasadena and Spring Branch were the newcomers in AAAA in the fifth and sixth spots; Jacksonville and Conroe appeared eighth and tenth in the AAA, Seagraves and Pearland showed up in A in the fifth and tenth spots, and Plano edged into tenth in AA.

Disappearing from the rated ranks were Corpus Christi Ray, beaten 20-0 by Spring Branch, and San Antonio Jefferson, 19-0 loser to Corpus Christi Miller, in AAA; Brownwood, 12-6 upset victim of Stephenville and Orange, 20-0 loser to Lake Charles, La. La Grange, in AAA; George West, 20-0 victim of Sinton, and Munday, 8-0 loser to Haskell, in A, and Mis-souri City, beaten 37-20 by Katy, in AA.

Corpus Christi Miller and defending AAAA champion San Antonio Brackenridge each moved up one notch to second and third place behind Midland, while Port Arthur dropped to fourth. Below Pasadena and Spring Branch came Borger, San Angelo, Wichita Falls and Galena Park in that order.

Corsicana Advances

Nederland held onto the No. 2 spot in AAA behind Dumas, but Corsicana jumped from sixth to third with the Tigers' 28-12 defeat of Tyler High and Pharr-San Juan-Alamo dropped from third to ninth after a scoreless tie with San Benito. Bay City and La Marque each moved up four places to fourth and fifth and Graham slid to seventh while idle. South San Antonio jumped from tenth to seventh. Jacksonville earned No. 8 by beating Athens 16-0, and Conroe took tenth by its 44-0 romp past Bryan. Dalhart and Sinton exchanged places in AA behind Denver City and Katy jumped to fourth with its defeat of Missouri City. Hamlin held to fifth, followed by Stamford, Olney, Nocona, Rockdale and Plano.

Texas A&I Seventh In Small-School Poll

NEW YORK (UPI) — Florida A&M, trying to shake the bridesmaid role it inherited last season, was off to another good start today as the nation's No. 1 small college football team in the first weekly ratings issued by the United Press International board of coaches.

Coach Alonzo Gaither's Raiders, who won their 19th straight regular season game last week-end by defeating Lincoln College (Mo.), 44-0, drew seven first place votes for their high scoring performance.

Florida A&M, led most of the way in the 1962 ratings, only to give way to Southern Mississippi in the final three weeks of the campaign. Southern Mississippi has since ascended to major college status.

Delaware, ninth in the final '62 UPI ratings, whipped Lehigh, 30-0, and received two first place ballots. The Blue Hens garnered 121 second place points, 71 less than Florida A&M's 192.

Northern Illinois opened in third place, up three notches over last year's finish, with three first place votes and Lenoir-Rhyne was fourth with the help of two first place ballots.

Central Oklahoma State was named fifth in the opening ratings, down two notches from last season's finale, and Montana State is sixth, followed by San Diego State, and Texas A&I, Wittenberg and Eastern Carolina were tied for ninth place.

Wittenberg was the only school among the top 10 that failed to receive at least one first place vote.

The 35-man UPI coaches board —made up of five coaches from each of the nation's geographical sections — award points on a basis of 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 for votes from first through 10th place.

Javelinas Top LSC Running

ALPINE, Tex. (UPI) — Sid Blanks of Texas A&I and teammate James Brown lead the Lorie Star Conference in yards per carry, but total yardage honors go to two other players.

They are Rex Turner of Southwest Texas and David Smith of Sam Houston State.

Blanks has averaged 11.1 yards per carry and Brown 11.3. However, Turner has rushed for 122 yards per game. Smith leads in total offense average, including passing, with 138 yards per game. Turner also leads in scoring with 29 points.

Blanks is the top pass receiver with eight for 106 yards, followed by Roy Dozier of S. F. Austin with seven.

Dave Gilbert of Texas A & I holds a slight edge over Jon White of Southwest Texas in punting, averaging 42.3 yards to 42.1 for White.

Sporting Sidelines

by JEFF COHANE

THIS WEEK'S expiring is going to cause some changes, that's for sure. Although some of the area games and some of the district 3-4A tilts are very lopsided, some of the area games are real tough to pick, and the Ol' Swami has dug up the hardest college games that could be found. To illustrate how rough this week's choices are, there are exactly eight differences of opinion between first-place expert Otis Holladay and second-place Eural Ramsey, so you know there'll be some new leaders come this week end.

★ STRATFORD 20, WHITE DEER 14. . . . This one with a great deal of trepidation after the Bucks' coming to life last week, but comparative scores of the two teams against Lefors make the Elks a must for everyone but loyal Otis Holladay.

PANHANDLE 16, CANADIAN 14. . . . I'm really afraid of this one. . . Canadian has been getting tougher every week. . . one of these days they're going to win one and I have an uneasy feeling that this is the time.

★ STINNETT 21, LEFORS 7. . . . Hate to pick it this way, but without their quarterback and their best runner, the Buc's just don't have the strength against the undefeated Rattlers.

★ WHEELER 28, ESTELLINE 0. . . . The Top O' Texas' only undefeated team remains that way.

★ GROOM 14, CLARENDON 8. . . . No matter how Hobbin' Jack York cries, Groom is getting rougher every week, and will chalk up their first win.

★ BOYS RANCH 20, MIAMI 16. . . . Another one I really hate to pick, but with Jody Holland injured, the Warriors can't stand up to BR's tremendous depth.

★ BOOKER 18, MOBEETIE 12. . . . The Kiowas have too much strength, they've been playing 11-man games all season.

★ LUBBOCK 28, CAPROCK 0. . . . Not this week, Cowboys.

★ MONTEREY 14, AMARILLO 0. . . . Sandies won one, should quit when they were ahead.

★ BORGER 21, PLAINVIEW 0. . . . When will the Bulldogs pick on someone their own size?

★ ARKANSAS 14, TC 10. . . . Hogs bounce back.

★ WEST TEXAS 21, NORTH TEXAS 20. . . . Almost picked NT, but Terry Culley made a crack about the Houston - Baylor game.

★ TEXAS A&M 21, TEXAS TECH 14. . . . Eural is loyal, but he'll be sorry!

★ AIR FORCE 14, SMU 10. . . . Terry Isaacson's throwing too much for the Mustangs.

★ RICE 14, PENN STATE 13. . . . Nitnity Lions tough, especially on their own home ground, this could go the other way.

★ OREGON STATE 21, BAYLOR 17. . . . With all due apologies to ★ Pistol Pete, Mel Renfro is the finest running back I saw last year, and has improved even more.

★ NOTRE DAME 7, PURDUE 6. . . . A traditional, and a tossup.

★ GEORGIA TECH 14, LSU 9. . . . Ramblin' Wrecks strong this year.

★ PITT 13, CALIFORNIA 0. . . . Another traditional, I could be wrong.

★ USC 14, MICHIGAN STATE 7. . . . Southern Cal comes back fighting.

★ ALMOST FORGOT the big one, and frankly, wish I could. Despite Pat Patterson's colorful comments about his "pore little birdlegged boys," Tascosa is one of the best teams in the state. Although all three wins have been close, they have all been wins. If the Harvesters, who strangely enough, play much better against good teams than against poor ones, can come back up to the peak performance displayed at Wichita Falls, it will be close. It will be. TASCOSA 14, PAMPA 6.

★ THAT LONG, lean stringbean that goes under the alias of City Editor John Shipman feels that he is qualified to make a prediction or two, so we turn the rest of the Crystal Ball over to Honest John:

★ TASCOSA 21, PAMPA 7. . . . Tascosa is undefeated in three games and the Harvesters have yet to "break - into" the winners circle this year; do not feel that this will be the big week for the Harvesters; due to the depth of the Tascosa eleven.

★ MONTEREY 21, AMARILLO 7. . . . The Sandies have won their quota for the season, one game.

★ BORGER 28, PLAINVIEW 0. . . . Some day it is hoped that the Bulldogs will play a team that will again give them a good test, like Dumas.

★ NORTH TEXAS 21, WEST TEXAS 20. . . . Should be a close game with the boys from over Denton-way squeaking by.

★ RICE 14, PENN. STATE 7. . . . Very impressed with the Owls' showing against the Tigers of LSU last week.

★ USC 32, MICHIGAN STATE 14. . . . The Trojans met their match last week with the strong Oklahoma defense, but don't think that it will happen two weeks in a row as the Trojans are a strong team.

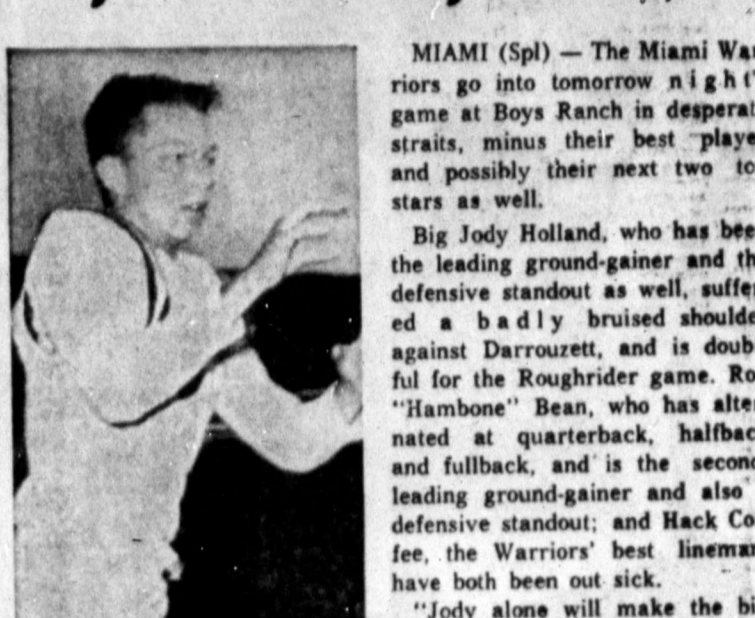

★ WICHITA FALLS 28, BIG SPRING 7. . . . Hometown boy gets sentimental.

★ AIR FORCE 21, SMU 0. . . . As usual the Mustangs looked good but lost.

★ ARKANSAS 14, TC 7. . . . A tough one to pick as the Razorbacks are good and the Hornfrogs are improving, could and may go either way.

★ PITT 21, CALIFORNIA 0. . . . This appears to be a down year for the Golden Bears and the Pitt team has looked impressive so far this year.

Warriors Without Best Players for Boys Ranch

LEWIS HOLLAND
... Little 'Un takes over

MIAMI (Spl) — The Miami Warriors go into tomorrow night's game at Boys Ranch in desperate straits, minus their best player and possibly their next two top stars as well.

Big Jody Holland, who has been the leading ground-gainer and the defensive standout as well, suffered a badly bruised shoulder against Darrouzett, and is doubtful for the Roughrider game. Roy "Hambone" Bean, who has alternated at quarterback, halfback and fullback, and is the second-leading ground-gainer and also a defensive standout; and Hack Coffee, the Warriors' best lineman, have both been out sick.

"Jody alone will make the big difference," worried coach Bill Hines, "but without Bean and Coffee, it will be disastrous. We wouldn't have much of a chance without our three best boys, and it's going to be rough enough being outnumbered two-to-one in players and giving away weight too."

Bean and Coffee had been named the outstanding offensive and defensive Warriors for their play against Darrouzett Friday night. If Jody is unable to play, he will be replaced by cousin Lewis "Little 'Un" Holland, who starred in the Warriors' second game in two nights, the loss to Mobeetie Saturday night. "Lewis was half our defense against Mobeetie, he was in on about 80 per cent of the tackles," reported Hines.

Bean will be replaced by Charles Byrum. Coffee? "Hack will just have to play," moaned the roly-poly Warrior chief. "we just don't have anyone who can replace him."

North Texas 'Up' For Buffalo Game

DENTON (Spl) — The North Texas Eagles proved Saturday night they can play football. And they better play this week.

Heartened by a 26-6 romp over Louisville, the North Texans are faced with the task of fighting West Texas State's vengeful Buffaloes in Canyon Saturday night.

"All they're talking about out there is revenge against North Texas," said Ken Bahnsen, the Eagle assistant who scouted the Panhandlers' 32-8 victory over University of Pacific last Saturday.

Warned by Bahnsen that Coach Joe Kerbel inserted his third team early against Pacific, NT's Odus Mitchell replied, "Oh, I know, they're waiting on us. They'll be sky-high for sure."

The Eagles have been the bulls-eye mark of West Texas ever since they pulled a 20-13 upset in Denton last year.

Mitchell, a head coach each autumn since his graduation from West Texas in 1925, was pleased with his team's performance against Louisville. "We really got after 'em this time," he remarked in obvious reference to the week before when the Eagles failed to hit in a 7-34 defeat at Texas Western.

"Of course you look for the good things when you win. After looking at the film once, I know there are some things we need to work on," Mitchell added.

The Eagles will welcome the return this week of right halfback A. D. Whitfield, an ankle sprain victim in the season opener.

"He could have played some against Louisville, but I didn't want to risk it," said Mitchell.

Palmer, the top money winner on the 1962 tour with $101,555, said Boros was the man to beat "if the weather continues good."

The weatherman was cooperating with ideal golfing conditions. Temperatures beneath sunny skies were near 80 Wednesday and much of the same was forecast for today.

In addition to the $26,000 first prize, the tourney features a $12,500 award for second place and $7,500 for third. The field will be cut to the low 75 players and ties after 36-holes with the survivors sharing in the remainder of the $125,000.

Oklahoma State Tackle Returns

STILLWATER, Okla. (UPI) — Roddy Cutsinger, Oklahoma State tackle, out the last three weeks with a shoulder injury, attempted to make up lost time Wednesday hopeful of being ready for the Texas football game Saturday at Austin.

Cutsinger had been written off until the Colorado game, Oct. 12, but he might beat the timetable. Oklahoma State trainers said.

Coach Phil Cutchin said he would not decide on a traveling team until after Friday's workout. He said only 24 men, his front line forces, would go "if we had to decide today who was ready to contribute to the team."

Cutchin said he hopes to scrape up a third unit before departing for Austin Friday, but said he would carry no player along just for the ride.

SWC Coaches Check Injuries As Loop Opens

By United Press International

Southwest Conference coaches evaluated injuries today in preparations for weekend games that will see six of the eight teams playing conference openers.

Texas Tech Coach J. T. King said alternate guard Ronnie Reager, who suffered a head injury against the University of Texas last week, will be out of action when the Red Raiders play Texas A&M Saturday.

King put the Raiders through a

Gary Player Early Whitemarsh Choice

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — South Africa's Gary Player shot a record nine-under par 63 in a tourney tune-up to join Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer as early favorites among the field of 151 golfers at today's start of the $125,000 Whitemarsh Open, the world's richest professional golf tourney.

Player had one eagle, nine birdies and two bogeys in setting a new competitive course record on Wednesday at the Whitemarsh Valley Country Club in a pro-amateur tournament. The previous record on the 6,807 yard, par 72-course was 66, set in 1949 by Joe Kirkwood, Jr.

Prior to Player's 30-33 performance in the pro-am, a "tired" Nicklaus and Palmer had been rated as co-favorites in the quest for the first prize money of $26,000. Many of the pros listed 43-year-old U.S. Open champion Julius Boros as the man to beat in this first annual event.

Bobby Nichols, Corona, Calif., had a 65 in the pro-am and "old pro" Sammy Sneed served notice he was to be contended with by shooting a 66 in Wednesday's event. Mason Rudolph, Lehigh Acres, Fla., and Bo Wittinger, Oklahoma, had aces as they both shot a 69.

Nicklaus, who arrived back at his Columbus, Ohio home Monday after a three-week tour ending in the Orient, said Wednesday he was still tired after two days of sleep. The stocky sophomore pro added that he has lost six pounds and is now down to the 210 advised by his physician.

Palmer, bothered recently by apparent bursitis in his right shoulder, said Wednesday he "felt good" although experiencing an "occasional kink." He added that he was playing and putt-

Dodgers Send Podres Against Downing Today

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Given a terrific lift by the sensational record strikeout pitching of Sandy Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodgers sent World Series-tested Johnny Podres against first-time starter Al Downing today in an effort to make it two straight victories over the New York Yankees.

In the wake of Wednesday's stunning 5-2 triumph in which the golden-armed Koufax set a series record of 15, the odds-makers reduced the series to even money. They established the Yankees as 7-5 favorites to win the second game, however, which would send the teams winging to Los Angeles all even at one victory each.

The Dodgers carried a "we told you so" attitude into today's second game while the Yankees—despite a healthy respect for the fireballing Koufax—were confident they would draw even today and go on to win their 21st world championship in 28 tries.

Odds Are Even

Although today's odds favored the Yankees, many experts were inclined to believe that it is the Dodgers who now have a key advantage—the advantage of sending a classic clutch pitcher like Podres against a 22-year old left-hander who will be appearing in series competition for the first time.

Podres, 31, is an old Yankee tormenter and, with his big variety of breaking pitches and change-ups, is especially difficult to hit when he is seen only from time to time. This accounts for his splendid record in World Series competition contrasted with season records in National League competition that are seldom much above the .500 mark.

Johnny will enter today's game with a 3-1 mark in series competition, including his never-to-be-forgotten 2-0 victory over the Yankees that gave the Dodgers the 1955 series and the only championship they ever won while in Brooklyn. Podres also beat the Yankees, 8-3, in that series and had them popping the ball into the air throughout most of both games he pitched.

Sports 14-12 Record

Podres had a 14-12 NL mark and a 3.55 earned run average this year.

A 22-year old medium-sized left-hander, Downing has more impressive season credentials than Podres. Brought up to the Yankees from their Richmond farm club in the International League on June 2, Downing won 13 games and lost only five. He had four shutouts and struck out 171 batters in 175 innings. Before the Yankees saw Koufax Wednesday it was fashionable in their clubhouse to say that Downing was as fast as Sandy.

But—and right now it is the big "but" of the series—Downing is a rookie in all but the purest technical sense and will be appearing in his first series game. Not since Frank Shea in 1947 have the Yankees called upon so inexperienced a pitcher to carry such a heavy load.

At the moment Koufax looms as the mighty man of this series—the mighty man of many a World Series to come, in fact.

Manhandled The Yankees

Not since the greatest days of Bob Feller has a pitcher so manhandled the slugging Yankees as did Koufax en route to his 15 strikeouts. The first five men in the Yankee batting order failed to hit a ball fairly until the fifth inning. During that amazing span when Koufax had the Yankees gaping at his down-breaking curves and swinging a full second late at his fast balls, Tony Kubek, Bobby Richardson, Tom Tresh and Mickey Mantle each struck out twice and Roger Maris fanned once. Not a single Yankee hit a ball out of the infield until Elston Howard's single in the fifth and the Dodger outfield had only one putout all day.

There couldn't have been a second guess in the Yankee clubhouse and there wasn't.

"You can sum up the entire game in one word: Koufax," said manager Ralph Houk. "He was great all the way. There's nothing you can do when a man pitches a game like that against you."

Mantle Praises Sandy As A Great Pitcher

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mickey Mantle, always quick to give credit where it's due, took his hat off to Sandy Koufax today as one of the finest pitchers he has ever faced.

"Everything I read about him was true," Mantle marveled. "And everything they told us about him also was true. What a pitcher. Still I don't feel too bad at what I did against him."

"He only fanned me twice," Carl Erskine once got me four times."

Mantle not only ranks as a prime judge of good pitchers but also knows a long-ball hitter when he sees one, because some of the tape-measure blows he's belted never have been duplicated in all baseball history.

The Dodger slugger he singled out for special comment was hulking, six-foot-seven Frank Howard, who started Wednesday's decisive four-run uprising with an eye-popping 460-foot double off the center field wall at Yankee Stadium.

Hard Hit Ball

"That was one of the hardest balls ever hit over my head," Mantle declared. "It wasn't exactly a high fly, either. That ball was really traveling."

Koufax, of course, was the Dodger player most of the Yankees talked about and he had everyone's respect from Ralph Houk right on down to the batboy.

"You gotta give him credit," Houk said. "He's an extraordinary pitcher and he would have to be to strike out 15 of our hitters like he did."

Then, as an afterthought, the Yankee manager added, "chances are we'll see him again."

Houk didn't say it apprehensively; neither did he say it happily.

"It's only one game," he said, trying to rationalize. "We've lost before and we've won a few, too."

Tresh Wasn't Awed

One of the few Yankee players who wasn't completely overawed by Koufax' record-breaking performance was sophomore Tom Tresh, who spoiled Sandy's shutout with a two-run homer in the eighth inning.

"I don't think he's going to strike out 15 the next time he pitches against us," Tresh said. "You gotta see any pitcher at least once before you really know anything about him."

Not that Tresh was crowing about his homer or trying in any way to take some of the luster off Koufax' performance.

"Don't get me wrong," he said. "He's a terrific pitcher and he may even beat us again but I simply think we'll do better the next time out against him."

Newcomers Head Texas Tech Stats

LUBBOCK (Spl) — Except for three spots, newcomers dominate Texas Tech's individual statistics going into the season's third game—with Texas A&M here Saturday night.

End David Parks of Abilene, of course, is an exception. The senior is well out in front in receiving with 6 for 96 yards (best in the Southwest Conference). Another senior, fullback H. L. Daniels of Marshall, tops point-makers with 11—three field goals and two conversions. And junior quarterback Jim Ellis of Lubbock is the total offense leader, with 139 yards, all passing.

Junior Teddy Roberts of Gulfport, Miss., a Perkinson Junior College graduate, tops the punt returners, with 4 for 66 yards.

Otherwise the pace-setters are all sophomores — Johnny Agan of Albany (8 rushes for 52 yards, 5.8 (average), Ben Elledge of

Hard-Luck 'Cats Set for Panthers

CANADIAN (Spl)—"They're still trying, and they're working real hard," was coach Dwain Currie's report as the hard-luck Canadian Wildcats got set for a visit from the Panhandle Panthers Friday night.

The Wildcats really deserve the "hard-luck" appellation as they have been outscored by a total of only nine points in three games, yet have an 0-2-1 record.

Dropping a 7-0 opener to Wheeler, they battled to a 24-24 tie with Sanford-Fritch and then last week saw the extra pointer the margin of difference as they dropped an 8-6 heartbreaker to Gruver.

"The boys were high, really high for the Gruver game," said Currie. "They still have the spirit, they aren't discouraged, but it's going to be a job getting them this high again two weeks in a row."

"Panhandle is going to be up for this one too. Groom held them to a 6-3 squeaker last week and they're going to be pretty mad about it. I hope they don't take it out on us."

"With their fine quarterback, David Slagle, back in action, we have to try to stop his passing, as well as their great-running fullback, Mike Eklund. How to stop both is a tough problem."

Injuries are still plaguing the Cats somewhat, although all hands except quarterbacks Bill Krist and Kenneth Harrell will be back, leaving Bennie Eckles the sole man-under.

Rocky Lucas is still slowed by a knee injury, but will play. Halfback Keith Yarnold, out one game with a hip injury, is also not at full strength, but will see action, as will tackle Mike Henderson despite a sprained ankle.

"We looked good both ways last week," reported Currie. "We're starting to jell, although we're still making a few mistakes. I hope they can play even better... it's tough to lose like that."

"Linemen like Joe Gutierrez, Frank Robbins and Sandy Fiel are doing a fine job, and our defense is coming along a lot better. I hope Panhandle doesn't make us change that opinion."

Griffith Fights Saturday Night

SAN JUAN, P. R. (UPI)—Welterweight champion Emilio Griffith and middleweight contender Jose Gonzalez were scheduled to finish training today for their non-title 10-round fight Saturday night here in outdoor Bithorn Stadium.

Griffith of New York is favored at 2-3 over Gonzalez of nearby Arroyo, P. R.

Promoter Jimmy O'Farrell expects a crowd of at least 10,000 and a gate of at least $70,000.

Five Conference Games for 3-4A

The first big showdown of district play has taken place in District 3-AAAA and it was the Tascosa Rebels who benefited most from the spotlight game by downing Lubbock in the first week of league play.

The Rebels, picked as the pre-season district choice, went into the game a slight favorite and proved victorious in their first test, 13-8, after holding off a Westerner rally in the fourth quarter.

Tascosa doesn't have the championship wrapped up however, as they must get by the upset-minded Borger Bulldogs who have already pulled one of the top surprises in the state when they beat San Angelo 14-2 in their opening game. San Angelo at that time was the No. 1 rated team in the state.

The Bulldogs, who have lost only to two-time state AAA champ Dumas, won their first district contest last week by smearing Amarillo Caprock, 33-0. The Borger-Tascosa match is set for Nov. 15 at Borger.

Lubbock still has an outside chance at the district throne room if Borger can beat Tascosa and the Westerners, in turn, down the Bulldogs.

In other District 3-AAAA openers Palo Duro downed wireless Pampa 26-8 and Amarillo's Sandies won their first game of the year, 13-0, over Plainview. It was Plainview's 23rd consecutive loss dating back to the 1960 season.

In the only non-conference outing for a 3-AAAA member, Monterey bobbled away a 13-0 halftime lead to Midland to go down to its second straight loss, 28-13.

The Bulldogs, rated No. 2 in the state in Class AAAA, scored quickly as the second half got underway when they got the ball deep

Pistol Aims To Shoot Up North Texas

CANYON, Texas — Led by the "Pistol," West Texas State University will go gunning for its third win of the season as it takes on North Texas State Saturday night in Buffalo Bowl.

The pistol in question is "Pistol Pete" Pedro, the Buffs 160 pound halfback who leads the nation's major college rushing statistics with 319 yards gained in two games.

Pedro has been brilliant in his two outings this fall. He rolled up 162 yards in 27 carries and scored on a 52 yard jaunt against Arlington State. He came back last week to total 137 yards rushing in 12 carries for a 13.8 average, and caught one pass for 19 yards.

Industry Must Improve Says Moonshot Chief

HOUSTON (UPI) — America's moonshot chief said today industry must improve its standards before U. S. astronauts can make a successful lunar mission.

Walter Williams, deputy director for mission requirements and flight operations for the U. S. Space Agency, blamed poor industrial testing for the failure of astronaut Gordon Cooper's mercury capsule to make an automatic re-entry into earth's atmosphere.

John C. French, an assistant space reliability and safety chief, said the tests failed to adjust for handling and shipping of the delicate equipment.

Two-Day Meeting

Williams and French spoke at the conference on project Mercury that will detail everything about the highly successful venture from astronaut training to man's reactions in outer space.

Cooper, who made a 22-orbit flight, complained of crowded conditions in the space capsule and said the long countdowns sapped an astronaut's energy. He said the countdowns could be accomplished with the backup pilot.

Cooper said these bugs could be eliminated with little effort to make space flights more comfortable for astronauts.

Must Improve Standards

Williams said if astronauts are to remain safe and efficient during America's reach for the moon, industry must revise and improve the standards that the aircraft industry has found adequate for years.

He said the automatic re-entry failure that had the nation biting its nails during Cooper's flight May 15-16 was caused by accumulation of moisture in electrical circuits.

Tests did not reveal the moisture problem, Williams said, because they did not simulate completely actual flight conditions. Shop practices, checkouts, and tests must be coordinated "to lessen the chance for inadvertent steps to ruin the operation or give false assurance."

Series, Crime Hearings Are Confusing to Writer

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The World Series began this week right at a time when the current Senate crime hearings were getting really interesting.

This presented a conflict which I foolishly tried to resolve by keeping up with both at the same time.

I spent the day shuttling back and forth between the Senate press gallery, which has a television set, and the Senate caucus room, where the investigating subcommittee was at work.

In one place, the attraction was the World Series. In the other it was a hearing locally known as "sing along with Valachi."

In one place, the Dodgers were murdering the Yankees. In the other, the Cosa Nostras were murdering the Matias.

Play-By-Play

In one place, Mel Allen, the broadcaster, was giving a play-by-play account of baseball-type warfare. In the other, Joseph Valachi, the underworld informer, was giving a shot-by-shot account of gangland-type warfare.

After awhile, this began to get a little confusing. For instance, when the Dodgers were at bat in the second inning, a reporter stuck his head in the gallery and asked "Who's on first?"

"Lucky Luciano," I replied.

Actually, of course, it was "Moose" Skowron.

Meanwhile, back in the caucus room, the name of Gaetano (Three Finger Brown) Lucchese was injected into the crime hearing.

"Gee, I thought 'Three Finger Brown' was a coach for the Yankees," I told a colleague.

"No, you're thinking of 'Yogi' Berra," he said.

Hard Pressed

If I had to choose between Allen's baseball commentary and Valachi's crime recitation, I would be hard pressed.

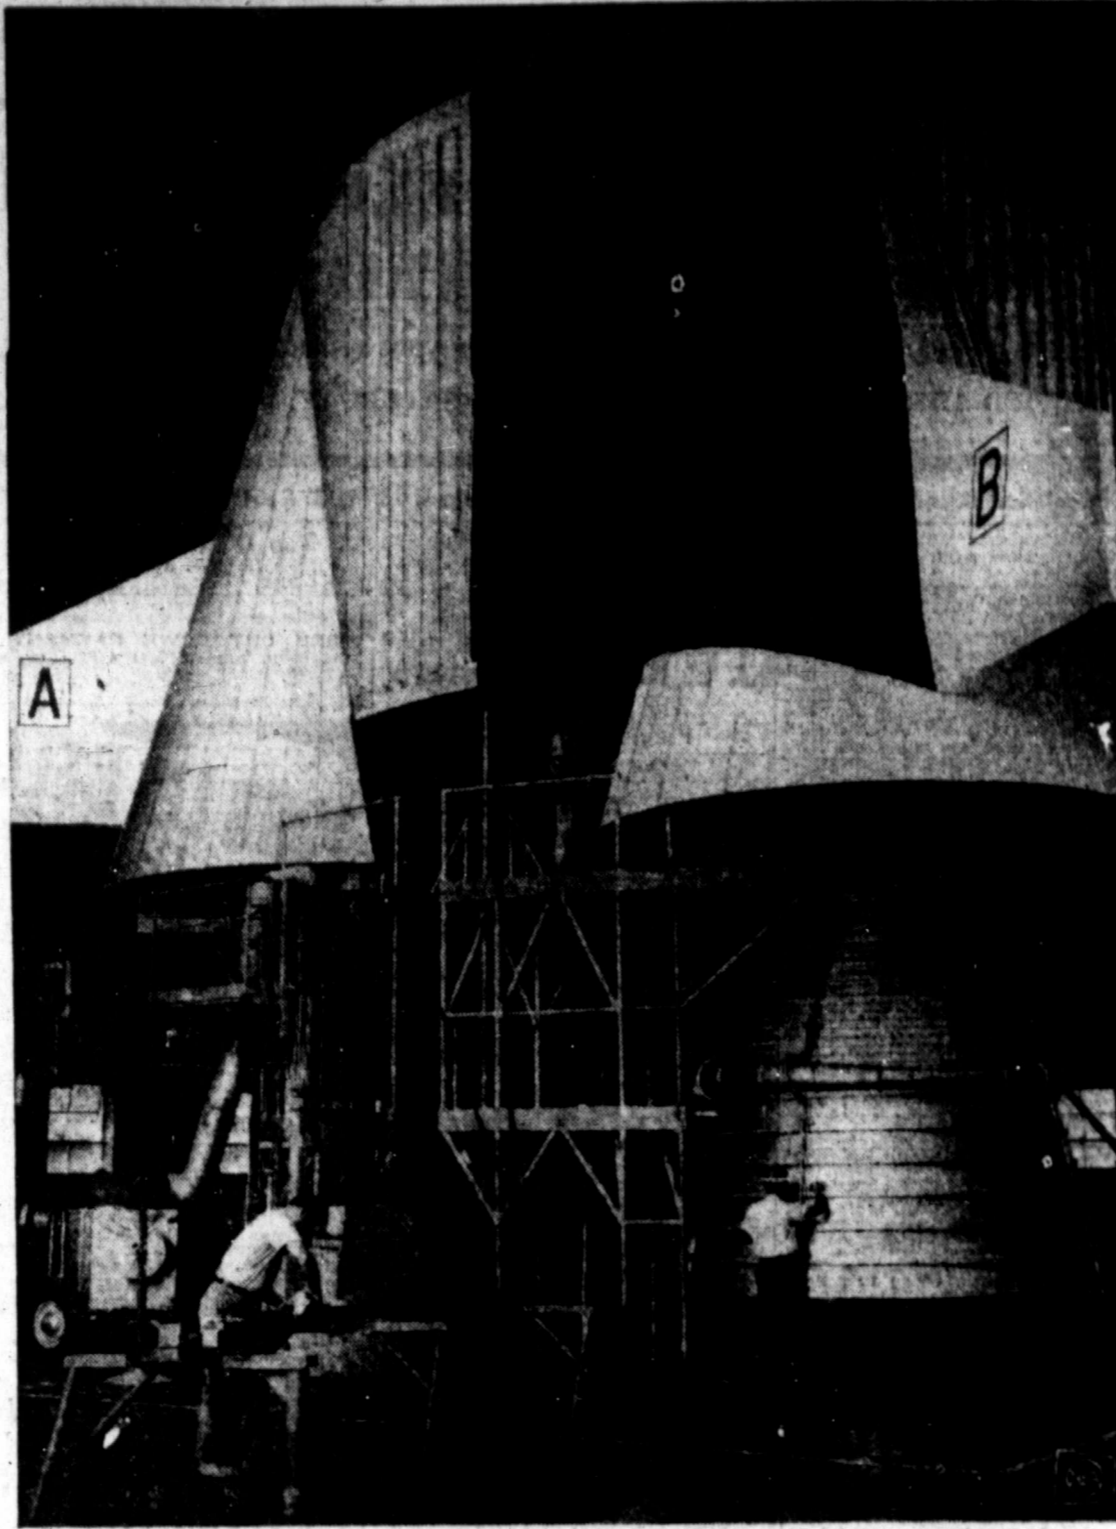

Personally, I thought that Allen had the better diction. He may bobble a word now and then, but he wouldn't be likely to identify a famous New York Street as "Pock Avenue," as Valachi did.

On the other hand, I would give Valachi the edge over Allen in the matter of phraseology. At one point, the ex-mobster described a character named Charlie Jones as being "a sort of businessman. Like he ran crap games."

Valachi was definitely weak on geography, however. He testified that he had never heard of Omaha, Neb., and that he had traveled from New York to Arkansas by way of Chicago.

If Allen can't navigate better than that, he will never make it to Los Angeles in time for the third game.

A thought for the day — Herbert Hoover, 31st President of the United States said: "A good many things go around in the dark besides Santa Claus."

MODEL OF A MODERN MAJOR ROCKET—Size of the 350-foot-tall Saturn V moon rocket is indicated by this mock-up of the business end being built at Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala. The booster, 33 feet in diameter and 138 feet long, will develop 7.5 million pounds of thrust to lift the three-man Apollo capsule on the first leg of its journey to the moon around 1970. Note fins that have been added to skirts above rocket engines. The first actual booster will be ground-tested at Marshall late in 1964.

Shooting Puzzles Caldwell Residents

CALDWELL, Tex. (UPI)—Puzzled and shocked residents of this Central Texas town of 2,204 wondered today why the Burleson County treasurer shot and killed County Judge Ed E. Bravenc and then killed himself. They grew up together.

Treasurer Joe Dan Philp shot Bravenc three times in the chest and the judge fell dead on the floor of his office in the Burleson County courthouse Wednesday. Philp fired two shots in his head and was pronounced dead at a hospital.

There were few theories on the shooting.

Philp's brother, Sheriff Reid Philp, said his brother had been depressed since a heart attack earlier this year. He spent five months in a hospital.

"There had been no trouble between them," the sheriff said. "They were acquaintances and worked together on some county business."

The double shooting was "a shock to all of us," he said.

"They apparently were fixing to retire a $35,000 bond issue, from notes on the judge's desk," said County Clerk John Tougal. "We have no idea why Joe Dan did it. It happened out of a clear blue sky."

Tougal had talked to the judge about 10 minutes before the shooting. He was in his office across the hall when five shots rang out. He found the bodies. Philp was on his face behind the half-closed door and the judge was on his back in the doorway to the inner office.

Both were family men. Philp survived by his widow, a son and a daughter. Bravenc's survivors are a widow, two daughters and a son. Funeral services were pending.

Philp had been treasurer since 1948. Bravenc served as county judge from 1947-56 and was re-elected in 1959.

Flora Raging In Caribbean

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI)—Hurricane Flora, which has claimed 25 lives in a destructive trip up the Caribbean Sea, today aimed its 140-mile-per-hour winds at the Haitian peninsula.

Forecasters said the season's deadliest tropical twister would move across the center of the Haitian peninsula this evening if it continued on its northwesterly course.

Emergency evacuation warnings were issued for low-lying areas in southern Haiti and the southern coast of the Dominican Republic, west of Santo Domingo.

Persons in those areas were warned to seek higher ground "before rising waters from the storm tides cut off escape."

At 8 a.m., a weather bulletin said Flora was about 140 miles south-southeast of Port au Prince, Haiti.

Hurricane warnings were issued for the Haitian peninsula eastward to Cabo Beata, Dominican Republic, and northward through the northwest province of Haiti. Whole gale warnings were in effect on a line west of Bahia de Neiba, Dominican Republic, to Cap Haitien on the north coast of Haiti. Gale warnings were ordered for the remainder of Hispaniola west of a line from Santo Domingo city to Puerto Plata.

Torrential rains were forecast for Haiti and Western Dominican Republic and the advisory warned of "a definite threat of destructive floods on all major rivers and streams."

Barnett Speaks At Princeton

PRINCETON, N.J. (UPI)—Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi told an unfriendly crowd at Princeton University Tuesday night that the Kennedy administration was using a "policeman's club" to force civil rights legislation on the nation.

A jeering, shoving mob of about 2,500 persons greeted Barnett with boos as he arrived for his speech to the Whig-Giosophic Society, the undergraduate debating group.

Many of those on hand for his arrival had just attended a protest rally at the university gymnasium. Organizers of the rally said it was held to protest Barnett's views against racial integration, rather than his presence at Princeton.

In his speech, Barnett charged that President Kennedy's civil rights proposals "seek to use the policeman's club and the armed might of the federal government to force certain people into the society of others who do not want them and to whom their presence is repugnant."

Flora Raging In Caribbean

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department has informed Russia that the United States still considers Nationalist China as the "legitimate government in China."

The department announced Wednesday that it had sent a note to Russia Sept. 19 saying the United States considered the Nationalist Chinese signature on the nuclear test ban treaty "valid."

Russia had protested the Nationalist signing.

CAB Hearings Continue In Brownsville

BROWNSVILLE (UPI)—McAllen witnesses today attempted to convince a Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) hearing that if a single airport is named to serve the Rio Grande Valley, it should be at McAllen.

Chamber of Commerce president Wade Terrell was the first of 20 witnesses from the city to testify.

Brownsville witnesses were scheduled to appear Friday.

Wednesday, Harlingen city manager Marshall Bingham said the deserted Air Force Base near Harlingen was an ideal spot for the regional airport. Harlingen acquired the airfield when it was deserted a year ago.

Bingham said it was a $17 million facility far superior to three other airports now in the area.

The city manager said the Air Force had invested $3.3 million for improvements at the airport which would be specifically applicable to a regional facility.

Fire Destroys Four Classrooms In Dallas School

DALLAS (UPI)—Fire swept through four classrooms of a Negro elementary school in Dallas today shortly before classes were to begin.

There were no children in the Arlington Park school, in northwest Dallas. The school has an enrollment of 371.

Firemen brought the blaze under control within 30 minutes.

The blaze destroyed four portable frame classrooms attached to the school, used for the fourth and fifth grades.

The blaze apparently started in a closet between two of the classrooms. Three of the four rooms were demolished, including children's desks. The fourth was badly damaged.

Assistant school superintendent Hollis Allen, said classes would continue as usual for all but the fourth and fifth grades. More portable classrooms were being brought to the school.

The fire broke out at about 8:30 a.m. and two alarms of fire were turned in. Firemen had the blaze under control in less than 30 minutes.

'Dog' Argument Leads to Shooting

AMARILLO (UPI)—An argument Wednesday night over a dog, police said, led to the slaying of Roy Earl Wendt, 42, and William H. Idell, 64, was jailed.

"Yes, I shot him," Idell was quoted by police, "he was coming after me with a hammer."

Officers said the wives of both men had an argument over Mrs. Idell's accusation that Mrs. Wendt had let the Idell dog get away. Mrs. Wendt told her husband of the charges and he went to the rear door of the Idell apartment where he was hot.

Police said they found a roofer's hatchet lying about 11 feet from the body. Wendt staggered 28 feet from the door and fell dead with a 22-caliber pistol wound in the head.

Questions Arise Over Employee's Salary Deductions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Robert G. Baker, secretary of the Senate majority (Democrats), said Wednesday that $50 a month was diverted for three months last year from the $483 monthly salary of an 18-year-old Senate employee from Wichita Falls, Tex.

Baker said he was convinced there was no wrongdoing.

The employee was identified as Boyd Richie, now a law student at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn.

"Nobody was out any money and all the taxes were paid on the amount," Baker told a reporter.

He said he had not been able to establish exactly how the $50 was deducted from Richie's pay or to whom it was given.

Matter Straightened Out

However, Baker said, "it was all straightened out as soon as (Richie) brought it to my attention."

Beyond that, Baker would only say: "I feel I should not comment on any arrangements which occurred between employees in which I was not involved and concerning which I do not have all the facts."

Baker confirmed that Richie then a Senate telephone page, was living with Walter J. Stewart, another Senate employee, when

APPROVES RESOLUTION

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate approved a resolution Wednesday to allow another series of "great debates" during the 1964 presidential election.

The resolution, which was sent back to the House, would suspend the "equal time" provision of the federal broadcasting law to allow the debates similar to the Nixon-Kennedy discussions in 1960. The resolution applies only to major party candidates for President and vice-president.

Stewart was called up for active duty in the Air Force for a time.

The Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance quoted Stewart $50 a month rent and that the other $50 monthly was withheld from his salary to help Stewart while he was on military duty.

Declines Further Comment

Baker declined to comment on that point beyond his general statement.

Baker, former assistant to Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, was accused last month in a court suit of accepting $5,600 for allegedly helping a vending machine company land a private contract. Baker denied the charge.

Capital Vending Co. Inc., said Baker "conspired maliciously to interfere" with a contract for a Falls Church, Va., plant.

The suit accused Baker of accepting monthly fees, and then acting in favor of another vending machine firm, the Serv-U Corp., in landing the contract.

Baker said the charges were "without foundation."
