World Watches And Waits For 'Big Lift'

New Phase of U.S. Defense Strategy Being Displayed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Operation Big Lift that begins tonight is more than just a troop exercise.

It is a dramatic demonstration of a new phase in U.S. defense strategy that promises to permit reductions in both American forces and expenditures overseas.

Big Lift, which involves the movement of 16,000 troops from the United States to Germany within 72 hours, is expected to be followed next year by similar exercises in the Pacific and Middle East.

The significance of the airlift was pointed up by Deputy Defense Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric in a major policy speech Saturday night in Chicago at the annual conference of United Press International editors and publishers.

Gilpatric said national defense was entering the "new phase" when shifts could be made in overseas deployments without impairing military strength or support for U.S. allies.

Projects U.S. Power
Calling attention to Operation Big Lift, he said the exercise "will demonstrate our ability to project our military power far more quickly over far larger distances than has ever been the case in the past."

"By employing such a multi-base capacity, the United States should be able to make useful reductions in its heavy over- (See DISPLAYED, Page 3)

On Federal Court's Decision

Announcement on State's Next Move Expected At Press Conference

AUSTIN (UPI)—Gov. John Connally was expected to call a press conference today or Tuesday to announce the state's next move in the wake of a decision by a special federal court that Texas' congressional districting setup is unconstitutional.

State Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has said the 2-1 split decision will be appealed.

U. S. Dist. Judge James Noel, who dissented in the ruling, said "it is my feeling that the state will fight the decision up to the Supreme Court."

Connally, to prevent an at-large election of all 23 Texas members of the House, would have to call a special session of the legislature and lawmakers would have to pass a new redistricting law by Nov. 4.

Quick Action Necessary

Noel said the Texas constitution provides a reapportionment law cannot take effect until 90 full days following legislature adjournment. Counting backward from the congressional election filing deadline of Feb. 3, 1964, a new legislative act would then have to be passed by Nov. 4.

Noel said, in effect, the decision would have only three days to pass such a law. The decision was made effective Nov. 1.

Secretary of state Crawford Martin said he saw no special session for reapportionment. Martin said Connally would probably make known the state's next move either today or Tuesday.

In Houston U. S. Dist. Judge Joe Ingraham, who ruled with U. S. Circuit Judge John R. Brown that the current laws for the congressional districts are void, told United Press International that the ruling does not affect the Nov. 9 election.

Explains Special Election

"The special election was called to fill a seat that stood for election in 1962," Ingraham said. "In my opinion, the ruling does not affect that at all."

However, other opinions raised the possibility candidates for Homer Thornberry's 10th District. (See CONFERENCE, Page 3)

Fall Results In Death Of Pampan

Mrs. Jim Johnson, 1830 N. Faulkner, died Saturday about 8:30 a.m. after she fell from a horse while riding near Midwest City, Okla.

Mrs. Johnson had been visiting her sister, Mrs. W. R. Brannon of Oklahoma City when the accident happened. Mrs. Johnson had her foot in the stirrup when her horse moved, throwing her off balance. She fell and hit her head, according to E. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Dr. Carver said doctors reported Mrs. Johnson's injury had aggravated a condition that resulted in her death, but the head injury was not severe enough to be the cause of death.

Funeral services for Mrs. Johnson were held this afternoon at 3:30 in the First Baptist Church with Dr. Carver, officiating. Burial was in Memory Gardens under the direction of Duenkel - Carmichael Funeral Home.

Mrs. Johnson was born June 20, 1926 in Alma, Ark. She was a member of the First Baptist Church and was employed by the Robert E. Lee Junior High School Cafeteria.

She is survived by her husband, Jim, one son, Larry, a member of the Harvester football team; two daughters, Anna and Leola, both of the home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fay Bearden of Ozark, Ark.; one sister, Mrs. W. R. Brannon of Oklahoma City; two brothers, Hall Bearden of Houston and Jack Bearden of Wichita, Kan. Pallbearers were Pernal Scrogens, James Tipson, Norman Henry, Alvin Reeves, H. J. Johnson, W. L. Veale, Weldon Trice and J. W. Flynt.

Delegation To Talk To State Commission

Representatives from the Chamber of Commerce highways and transportation committee, a city official and Gray County commissioners will attend a hearing of the State Highway Commission in Austin at 10 a.m. Thursday.

The delegation will include Paul Crouch, chairman of the C of C highways and transportation committee; Fred Thompson, co-chairman of the C of C committee; Herschel Wilks, plant manager of Celanese; Boyd Taylor, attorney, representing Cabot Plant; Mayor H. R. Thompson, representing the city; County Judge Bill Craig and Clyde Organ, Joe Clarke, J. M. McCracken, and Truitt Johnson, county commissioners.

"We plan to explain the necessity of widening the highway because we recognize the fact that the present traffic count is overloading it," Crouch said.

According to Crouch, money for improving roads will be appropriated in the annual budget in January, 1964 and Thursday is the day scheduled for Gray County to have its hearing before the highway commission.

Scranton Willing, If Offer 'Sincere'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania is willing to accept an "honest and sincere" draft for the 1964 Republican presidential or vice presidential nomination.

That was the position Scranton took Sunday in a television interview in which he said he was not interested in running for President or vice president.

But he said in reply to a question that he would accept either nomination if he was "honestly and sincerely drafted." He added that he believed such a draft was a thing of the past, however.

Scranton also endorsed the idea of debates between GOP presidential contenders and spoke out strongly in favor of a public accommodations provision in any new civil rights law.

Changed His Mind

The Pennsylvania governor, who said early this year that President Kennedy could not be defeated in 1964, said that he had changed his mind considerably since then.

He said the civil rights con- (See SCRANTON, Page 3)

Parliament Opening Delay Sought by Home

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Lord Home, first peer to head a British government since 1902, sought today to delay the opening of Parliament until he can move from the House of Lords to Commons.

Home spent the weekend attempting to patch the split in the Conservative party caused by the battle to succeed ailing Harold Macmillan, who retired Friday, selecting Home as his replacement.

Home won all but two of his opponents for the cabinet, including former Deputy Premier R. A. Butler, who had been considered the favorite to succeed Macmillan.

Those who refused to serve were Iain MacLachlan, co-chairman of the Conservative party and leader of the House of Commons, and Enoch Powell, former health minister. Both led the revolt against the selection of Home, but neither gave a reason for not joining his cabinet.

"I am sorry they did not feel they could accept office," Home said Sunday. "It does not mean the party is split. I have no doubt they will give me the most loyal support."

Home was reported considering asking Queen Elizabeth to delay the resumption of Parliament until after Nov. 7, when he will run for election in the House of Commons.

Labor has opposed such a delay — Parliament now is set to reconvene Oct. 29 — but the Queen has the right to set the date. Labor leader Harold Wilson said such a request would be "an impertinence."

Home, a 60-year old Scottish peer, could remain in the House of Lords and still serve as premier, but he would not be able to function effectively. Peers cannot appear in Commons and it is in the lower house that the policy debating and decision-making takes place.

Hurricane Stalls 100 Miles Off-Shore

CAPE HATTERAS, N. C. (UPI)—Hurricane Ginny stalled 100 miles off the North Carolina coast today and battled a destroyer escort adrift with 10 persons aboard with howling winds and 40-to-50-foot seas.

Winds of about 90 miles per hour were reported near the center of the storm, seventh of the season and the first to threaten the eastern coast of the United States.

Hurricane winds of 75 miles an hour extended out 60 miles in all directions from the center of the storm, which boiled up Sunday night and sent gale winds and high tides crashing against North Carolina's storied Outer Banks.

A late Washington Weather Bureau advisory located Ginny about 100 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras.

In this same vicinity the disabled destroyer escort USS Fogg was adrift after its low rope snapped two days ago. Ships and planes searched through blinding rain for the stricken vessel.

"With just 10 men aboard they're probably just doing their best to hang onto the rails in 40-to-50-foot seas," a Coast Guard spokesman at Portsmouth, Va., said.

Storm Moves Slowly

The weather bureau said Ginny would likely continue its slow progress during much of today. "Hurricane Ginny is expected to move very slowly during the next 12 hours, probably towards the east-northeast about 5 miles per hour. Intensity should remain about the same during the next 12 to 24 hours," the weather bureau said.

Storm-wise residents of this battered island strip which is situated in "hurricane alley" remained calm today. Most decided to wait and see what course the hurricane — seventh of the season — would take before moving out.

But Coast Guard and other military agencies in North Carolina and Virginia went on an alert basis. One squadron in the 5th Naval District at Norfolk put all aircraft in hangars and pilots stood by to fly other aircraft out if the storm worsens. Tides ranging up to three feet above normal flooded lowlands in the Pamlico Sound area in North Carolina and Norfolk and other Virginia ports had tides ranging up to a foot above normal.

Storm Is Erratic

"If the hurricane starts moving to the northeast as forecast he tides should not rise much higher," the weather bureau said but it warned residents of the outer banks and Pamlico Sound-area to remain alert since movement of the storm is "rather erratic."

The weather bureau said highest winds of 90 m.p.h. were near the storm's center and hurricane force winds extended about 60 miles in all directions. Gale winds extended 250 miles to the northeast and 200 miles to the southwest.

Hurricane warnings were displayed for the vicinity of Cape Hatteras and gale warnings and a hurricane watch extended from Nags Head to Cape Lookout.

Gale warnings extended from the Chesapeake Bay to Myrtle Beach, S.C.

Operation Starts At 12:01 Tonight

By PRESTON MCGRAW
FT. HOOD, Tex. (UPI)—The United States assembled troops, fliers and planes from Texas to Maine today to show the world that it can put 16,000 Army and Air Force men with supporting aircraft in Germany within 72 hours.

The project, whose code-name is Operation "Big Lift," begins one minute after midnight tonight when a C135 jet transport takes off with 70 men from the 2nd "Hell on Wheels" Armored Division in Ft. Hood, Tex.

The 2nd Division will supply 13,000 of the troops. Transport planes will take off from four air bases at intervals ranging from 35 minutes to an hour until a total of 14,500 troop-tankers and infantrymen from Fort Hood and artillerymen from Fort Sill, Okla., are in Germany.

To Have Support
The moment the first C135 takes off from Bergstrom Air Force Base in Austin, Air Force support planes will start taking off for Europe from Dow and Loring Air Force Base in Maine and Myrtle Beach AFB, S.C. The Air Force contribution to "Big Lift" is 1,500 men.

The support planes, including about 100 rocket-firing jet fighters, will cover the 2nd division when it tries to stop an "attack" on West Germany by an enemy division.

Another U.S. Division already in Europe will play the role of attacker.

In addition to the jet fighters, 42 other planes including reconnaissance aircraft and C130 cargo planes with mechanics and repair facilities will fly to Germany.

The troop-carrying transport planes will take off from Bergstrom AFB, James Connally AFB at Waco, Tex., Sheppard AFB, Wichita Falls, and Gray Army Air Base, next door to Ft. Hood.

Destroyer Sighted By Search Plane

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (UPI)—A Navy destroyer escort adrift in Hurricane Ginny with 10 men aboard was spotted today by a search plane about 150 miles east of Cape Fear, N. C.

First reports radioed back by the Navy hurricane hunter plane indicated the USS Fogg appeared to be riding out the storm, the center of which was about 100 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras.

This would put the disabled vessel about 100 miles to the southwest of the hurricane's center. Winds up to 75 miles an hour extended 60 miles out from the hurricane's center, according to a 7 a.m. CST Weather Bureau bulletin.

A Coast Guard spokesman in Portsmouth, Va. said earlier the 306-foot Fogg was drifting without steering power following the break Saturday of its tow line. It was being towed from Norfolk to a Texas mothball fleet.

The Navy in New York said the Fogg had drifted about 40 miles to the southeast of the area where it was last sighted Sunday.

The Navy said a Coast Guard ocean-going tug, the Chilula, would be the first vessel to reach the scene—probably in mid-afternoon. An attempt to reconnect the Fogg to the tug would be made after the weather subsided, the Navy indicated.

use are already in Germany. The first units will start moving out by dusk at 8 p.m. CSF from Ft. Hood to the air bases. The troops will move out, board planes and take off by a schedule as precise as that which governs the launching of a man into space.

When the troops arrive in Germany, they will have a couple of days to get tanks out of storage. An advance party of 472 men arrived in Germany Saturday to establish communications and set up a headquarters.

It will take from 10 hours and 25 minutes to 31 hours and 25 minutes for troops to reach Europe, depending on the type of plane they ride and the route it takes.

Dallas Residents Granted Hearing By Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court today granted a hearing to 122 Dallas residents who are fighting to block construction of a new jet runway at Love Field municipal airport. The court will hear arguments on the case some time before the end of the term. Later it will hand down a written opinion.

The high court refused to consider another appeal by some of the same complainants on June 25, 1962.

The appeals acted on today were from several adverse actions in both state and federal courts. The high court agreed to look at the state court decision but not that of the federal court.

Following the U.S. Supreme Court's denial of review in the first case, the plaintiffs filed suit in federal district court in Dallas. The city and some of its officials then obtained an order from the Texas Supreme Court barring continuance of the federal action.

The state court said all the legal points had been decided in the first case. As a result, federal Dist. Judge Sarah T. Hughes dismissed the federal suit.

Meantime the 5th Court of Civil Appeals found the complaining parties in contempt for not obeying the Texas Supreme Court order, fined them a total of $14,700 and ordered their attorney, James P. Donovan of Dallas, to jail for 20 days.

The petition to the U. S. Supreme Court said, among other things, that the Texas Supreme Court had usurped federal judicial power.

Claim Approval Lacking

The original complaint had argued that Dallas sold eight separate issues of Love Field airport revenue bonds totaling $16.4 million without proper approval by the taxpayers at an election. In addition, the complaint said the runway was being constructed in violation of both state and federal laws.

The Civil Aeronautics Board is considering a plan to have one regional airport serve Dallas and Fort Worth. The CAB will decide whether a single field will serve the area best or to continue the present air traffic at Love Field and Fort Worth's Greater Southwest International airport, 12 miles away.

A CAB examiner conducted hearings on the regional airport plan in both Texas cities and in Washington. A recommendation is not expected for several weeks.

District Nine Altrusa Clubs Enjoyed The Western Atmosphere of Conference

By ALETHA DAVIS

The Coronado Inn was decked out in West Texas style for the "Mighty Ninth Roundup" of Altrusa International which was held Friday through Sunday forenoon.

Over 100 delegates from the Ninth District which includes Texas, Mexico and Guatemala, were honored by the presence of Mrs. Lucile Alexander, president-elect of Altrusa International and official representative.

The conference theme, "Focus on 'Mighty Ninth' on Service," was carried throughout the conference with Mrs. Aileen Aiken of Dallas giving a strong appeal to Altrusans to "make patriotism fashionable again" during the noon meeting held Saturday. The recommendation was made by Mrs. Aiken that the Altrusa Clubs in District Nine make a definite commitment to Freedom's Foundation. The move was seconded and carried by an unanimous vote, as one of the most important transactions derived from the conference. Other important business was the newly revised Classification Guide. Miss Etta Jane Butler,

Governor of District Nine, introduced Mrs. Alexander who explained the details to the delegates, as the International Classification Chairman.

Social meetings included a breakfast held Saturday morning, Participation Awards Luncheon, Chuck Wagon Dinner and the Governor's Banquet which ended the formal activities of the group.

Winners of the Pronto Prizes drawn at the Saturday morning breakfast and luncheon were by Mrs. Joella Terrill Butler, past-governor, and Mrs. Helen Hooker, Governor-elect of District Nine.

The chuck wagon dinner enjoyed Friday night held true to the tastes of West Texans. An authentic chuck wagon was assembled in the Starlight room which was transformed into the "South Forty" for the dinner.

Arrangements of yucca and white chrysanthemums held in white cowboy boots, trimmed with blue, carrying out the Altrusa colors dominated the setting.

The walls of the Starlight Room held blue replicas of Altrusa Club "brands" and a large sign fashioned after a corral gate was inscribed "Mighty Ninth" Ranch. Mrs. Ann Kay, chairman of the decoration committee for the conference, was in charge of decoration design and arrangement.

Pampa Shriners prepared and served the barbecue dinner and members of the Calico Capers and the Twirlers, along with students of Mrs. Jeanne Willingham, provided entertainment for the delegates and officers.

District announcements and reports were given in meetings throughout the conference.

Dr. Norman Porris of Lubbock brought the welcome from the Latin American clubs in the Ninth District.

Project reports were given from each club, exchanging ways and ideas of giving a service to the community state and nation.

In the award presentation, the Best Yearbook honor went to the Nacagdoches Altrusa Club, and Honorable Mention was given to Midland, Greenville Altrusans were honored for Best Scrapbook, with Pampa receiving Honorable Mention. The Best Club Bulletin was won by the Fort Worth club and Lufkin Altrusans received Honorable Mention. Lufkin Altrusa Club was recognized for the Best Club Chronicle, and Denton Altrusans received Honorable Mention.

Mrs. Lucile S. Alexander brought the address during the Governor's Banquet which was held Saturday night in honor of the nineteen club presidents in attendance.

In her address, Mrs. Alexander stated, "Women have always helped determine the history of the world beginning with Eve." She continued the subject, naming great women in history down through the ages, and cited leading ladies that have had a great part in history through Altrusa service all over the world, urging all Altrusans to become one of these through added effort in their club work.

Miss Jay Flanagan, registration chairman, reported in the final registration, 122 delegates and officers from 30 towns represented, including seven district and international officers which were Miss Jane Butler, Houston, Governor of District Nine; Mrs. Lola Faye Bennett, Houston, secretary; District directors: Mrs. Irene T. Hurst, Pampa; Mrs. Carol R. Hagerman, San Antonio; Mrs. Helen Hooker, Abilene, Governor-elect; Mrs. Joella Terrill Butler, Wichita Falls, immediate past-Governor and Second Vice-President of Altrusa International, and the President-Elect of International, Mrs. Lucile S. Alexander of Jacksonville, Fla.

The 1964 conference is scheduled to be held in Corpus Christi, and invitations were issued to attend.

The Pampa Altrusa Club was recognized for 100 per cent membership registration in this, the Eighth Annual Conference of District Nine.

Mrs. Lorene Locke, president of the Pampa Altrusa Club, and Mrs. J. C. Coston, general chairman of the Conference expressed appreciation for the cooperation and effort demonstrated in making the "Mighty Ninth" Roundup of District Nine a successful and inspiring meeting of Altrusans.

CAMPAIGN ON TV
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Republicans will open their 1964 presidential campaign Jan. 29 with a series of fund-raising rallies linked by closed circuit television.

Vernon Stouffer, chairman of the rallies announced Sunday that speakers on the hour-long program would include former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. William Scranton and George Romney.

Cities participating in the program will be announced later, he said.

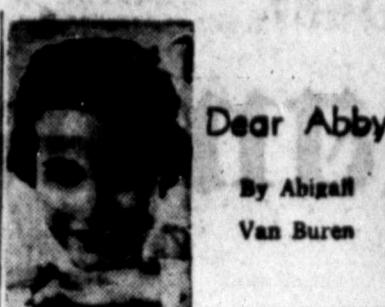

PARACHUTE MEDICINE
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Kenneth Keating, R-N.Y., suggests the United States parachute medicine and food to areas in Cuba devastated by Hurricane Flora.

"It would dramatically show U.S. concern for the people of Cuba as well as pointing up Castro's inability to care for the citizens of Cuba," he said Sunday.

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — An unidentified submarine was reported in Swedish waters Sunday night northeast of Svenska Hoegarna in the Stockholm archipelago.

The lighthouse keeper at Svenska Hoegarna reported the sighting. He said the vessel was surfaced but disappeared into heavy fog before he could identify its markings.

The Swedish navy said it had no submarines in the area at the time.

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband loves to make things. He's made ceramic ash trays and candy dishes as pretty as anything you can buy in the stores. And he can fix anything. He's only been through sixth grade but I know if he had a Do-It-Yourself dental kit he could fix teeth. (Just mine and the kids—he wouldn't go into business or anything like that.) Are such kits available? I heard they were, but when I wrote to Sears they took it as a joke.

MRS. O. J. J.
DEAR MRS. O. J. J.: Skill in dentistry is acquired through years of study and practice. Don't be sore at Sears. There is no such "kit." Fortunately!

DEAR ABBY: "The noblest mother of them all" has always been, is now, and ever shall be, the girl who cares enough about her children-to-be to marry their father-to-be before her children are conceived.

"KNEW ONE"
DEAR "KNEW ONE": Touché!!

DEAR ABBY: My wife told me that she had been railroaded into the presidency of an organization at the second meeting she attended. She said she hadn't even paid her membership dues because she wasn't sure she wanted to join the club. She also said that when her name was brought up for president, she wasn't given a chance to say she didn't want it, but was voted in unanimously by a show of hands. I don't want her holding an office in any club as she has two preschool children and two in school, which keeps her busy enough at home. She says she's afraid if she tells them she can't accept the presidency, her name will be mud in the community — which is all right with me. What do you think?

MUD'S HUSBAND
DEAR HUSBAND: Tell your wife to write the organization a letter, explaining why she is unable to do justice to the office.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "UNFINISHED SYMPHONY": Face the music, maestro, it's finished. There is NO second ending.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Elliot Janeway says to take advantage of the period of good business and of the grain traffic bulge ahead to consider the "non-merger" rails. "Their relatively high yields are generally safe," he says. "Don't speculate on projected mergers and don't take the Russian wheat deal as a guaranteed earnings bonanza. But the non-merger rails, which are in a position to benefit from the grain traffic, look cheap to us — all the more so because these are not securities that the public is or will be in or that are vulnerable to selling pressure from the institutions," Janeway adds.

International Statistical Bureau, Inc. believes operations of the nation's soft drink companies will make a "most favorable showing" during the current year. "Results for the first half of 1963 were at record levels, and sales during the summer months maintained this upward," it says.

The Value Line Investment Survey says that "savings and loan stocks are an excellent vehicle for capital gains at this time although prices are volatile insofar as these securities are new and unseasoned."

How about the door panel, getting worn near the bottom or at the front? Hall Tire Co. can put in two or more matching door panels at much less expense than you probably imagine and greatly increase the interior beauty of your car.

And, the most widely recognized place of beauty in your car, the seat covers. These can be tailored by the staff at Hall Tire Co. or you might prefer the regular seat covers offered by the firm and styled by the Howard Zink and Arthur Fuller Co. in a wide selection and price range and ranging from plastic to fabric and in combinations.

Also in the custom trim shop at Hall Tire Co., you can have a custom tailored pickup cover made or you can get that pickup seat rebuilt.

Also if you're getting a rough ride from your car. . . it could be your tires are out of balance or out of round. Hall Tire Co. can solve both of these problems for you in short order with the tire balancing and rounding machines and equipment to do the job for you "in style."

You can also get that famous Mobil gasoline and Mobil oils and greases at Hall Tire Co., where your car is their first interest. . .that's at Hall Tire Co., 700 W. Foster, telephone MO 5-5755.

WASHINGTON — Sen. Jacob K. Javits, scoring the Kennedy administration for seeking to water down pending civil rights legislation:

"Is the administration worrying about what part of its program won't pass... even though history has shown that this will get them absolutely nowhere — that appeasement doesn't work?"

LONDON — Newly named Prime Minister Lord Home, commenting on the refusal by House of Commons leader Iain MacLeod and former Health Minister Enoch Powell to serve in his new cabinet:

 seas military expenditures," he declared.

In a question session following his speech Gilpatrick took issue with a magazine article by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower saying that one division in Europe and that "is unconceivable to me today." The trip-wire concept calls for use of tactical nuclear weapons to meet any Soviet attack.

Maintain Large Force

"For the foreseeable future," Gilpatrick said in his speech, "the U.S. will maintain both large overseas deployments and significant capabilities to reinforce such military power with great rapidity. However, some shifts in the form our military presence has taken in recent decades are beginning to be practicable."

The defense official said that the United States now has the ability to deliver large quantities of logistical support aboard quickly by air and could send combat planes over oceans "in no more time than it took previously to deploy planes stationed on rear bases overseas."

Gilpatrick said that West Germany shared with the United States a primary responsibility for the central front of the Western alliance. In response to a question he said West Germany could have 26 to 30 divisions ready for action. The Germans now are close to their 12-division commitment.

During the remainder of the revival, which closes Sunday, Riddle will conduct the church choir in rehearsal and the worship services. His coming in this capacity promises to be very helpful to the music department of the Highland Baptist Church.

No charges were filed in connection with the attempted break-in which occurred about 4 a.m. Sunday.

 troversy, foreign policy, economic issues and handling of the recent railroad dispute had cost Kennedy popular support.

Scranton, who has been suggested as a possible vice presidential nominee on a ticket headed by Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, differed with Goldwater on a number of issues.

While Goldwater spurned the proposal of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to debate issues between the GOP hopefuls, Scranton said he thought such debate would be helpful to the party.

Scranton also said he would very likely have voted for the nuclear test ban treaty, which Goldwater opposed.

 Told that Goldwater considered the 1954 Supreme Court school segregation decision to be "wrong" and asked whether he disagreed, Scranton replied: "Yes, I do."

Longhorns Seek Rice Vengeance

By MARTIN LADER
UPI Sports Writer

Texas, charging along to what could be its greatest season ever, will be out to attend to some unfinished business.

Otis Disappointed In Performance Of Green 'n Gold

Coach Otis Holladay was noticeably depressed this morning, first because of the disappointing showing of the Harvesters in their 28-6 loss to Monterey Friday night, and secondly because of the sudden death of Larry Johnson's mother Saturday when she was thrown from a horse. (See story on Mrs. Wilma Johnson, page 1).

Holladay said that plans were not complete as yet, but that he expected the entire team would go as a group to pay their respects at the funeral. Johnson has seen limited action this season, performing well against Tascosa, but injuring his knee and sitting out the last two games.

Holladay's usual Monday-morning review was lacking in detail, chiefly, explained the head harvester "because there just wasn't much outstanding about the game from our point of view."

"The boys didn't play well at all, they just seemed to freeze," said the former Coach of the Year. "We were very disappointed, especially in the blocking. It was terrible."

"We had some good phases and some good individual effort, but not as a team. Phil Smith and Kenny Hebert both did well quarterbacking and passing the ball. Hebert did a fine all-around job, especially on pass defense. Rick Stewart also did a fine job in every department."

"The only standout line performances came from Terry Criss and Ricky Goodwin. Those two boys seem to get better every week, but there was a lot missing in the blocking and tackling departments otherwise."

"Physically we came out of the game in good shape. Mentally, I don't know. We're going to need a lot of work in all departments if we want to beat Plainview Saturday night."

a 14-14 tie with Rice (3-1). Texas has won its first five games of the 1963 season and now must face another tough Rice team on Saturday.

Texas, ranked No. 1 among the nation's college football teams, won a big game last Saturday night by a 17-13 score over Arkansas. Tony Crosby, who kicks without a shoe, booted a 29-yard field goal and two extra points to provide the winning margin. Tommy Ford scored both Texas touchdowns.

Face Tough Games
Second-ranked Wisconsin and third ranked Pittsburgh also will be severely tested next week. The Badgers, who escaped with a 10-7 decision over Iowa last Saturday, will be at home to fourth-ranked Ohio State and Pittsburgh a 13-10 winner over West Virginia, will play at Navy, the No. 11 team.

Ohio State suffered a let-down at Southern California on Saturday, losing, 32-3, and Navy had more trouble than expected before downing Virginia Military Institute, 21-12.

The Pitt-Navy battle very well could decide this year's eastern champion.

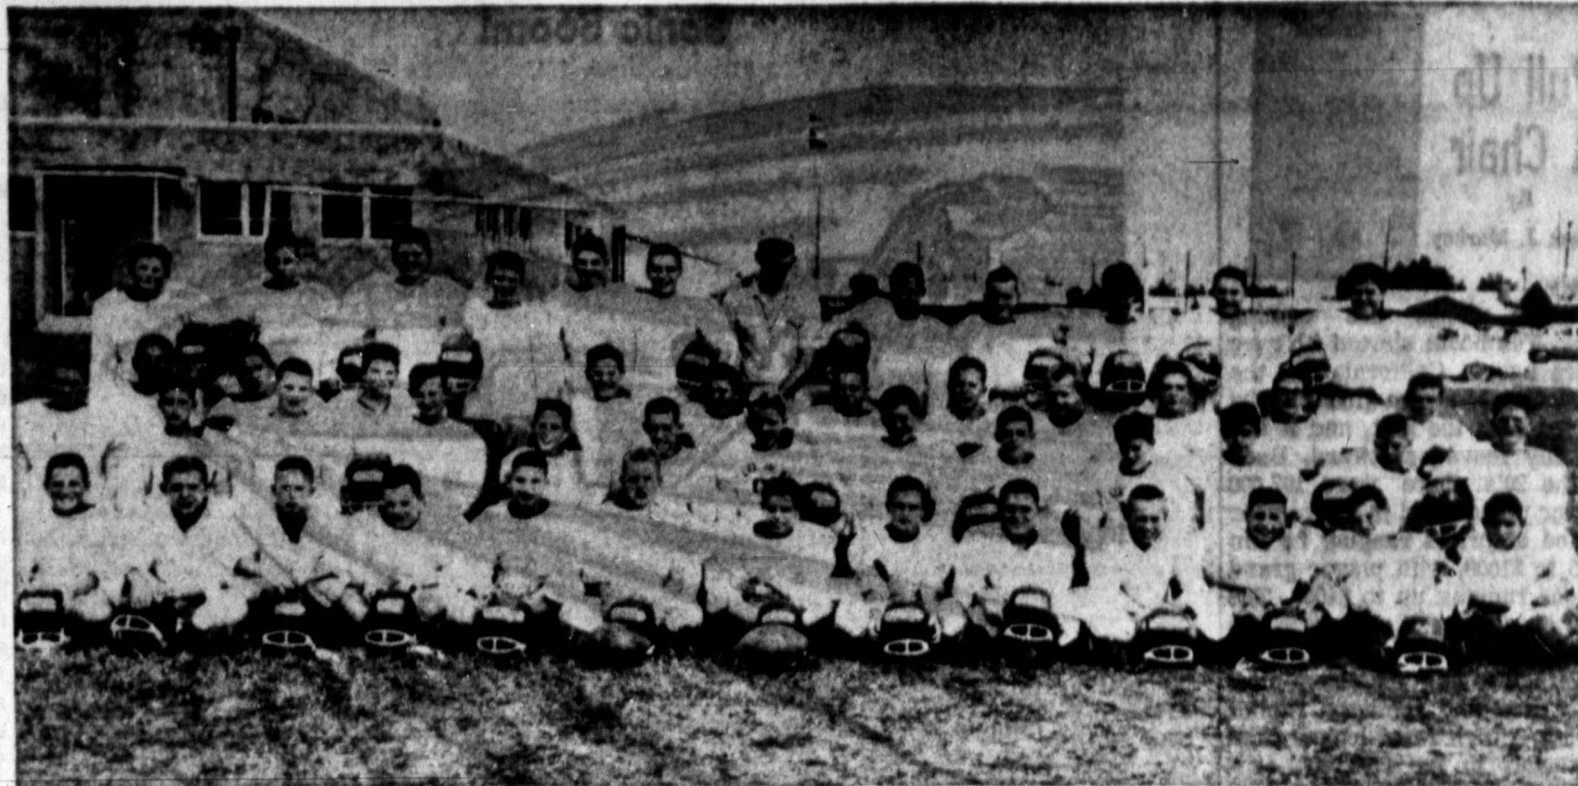

The rest of the top 10, with the possible exception of 10th-ranked Northwestern, enjoy a break against weak opponents next week.

Fifth-ranked Oklahoma, which edged past Kansas, 21-18, in its last outing, should continue unbeaten in Big Eight play against Kansas State (1-4); sixth-ranked Georgia Tech, a 29-21 upset victim to Auburn on Saturday, has easier pickings against winless Tulane, and seventh-ranked Mississippi also tackles a winless foe in Vanderbilt after disposing of Tulane, 21-0.

Alabama Vs. Houston
Alabama, which shares the No. 8 position with Illinois, will be at Houston (0-5) and the Illinois at UCLA (1-4) in a Friday night contest. Northwestern will be at Michigan State.

Last week Alabama trounced Tennessee, 35-0, Illinois ripped Minnesota, 18-6, and Northwestern topped Miami of Ohio, 37-6.

In other leading games last Saturday, Maryland gained its first victory of the year, 21-14 over Air Force, on a Dick Shiner pass with two seconds to play; North Carolina trounced North Carolina State its first loss of the campaign, 31-10; Army trounced winless Wake Forest, 47-0; Syracuse tripped Penn State, 9-0; Notre Dame beat UCLA, 27-12.

Forty Niners Win Upset, Favorites Win In AFL

McHan Leads Frisco Rote's Arm Rides Over Chicago Bears Into Playoff Spot

By NORMAN MILLER
UPI Sports Writer

Success came simultaneously Sunday to Lamar McHan, who was on the scrap-heap of pro football only three weeks ago, and to the San Francisco Forty Niners, the team that ransomed him for $100.

McHan engineered the upset of the National Football League season in directing the Forty Niners to a stunning 20-14 victory that knocked the Chicago Bears from the undefeated ranks and threw the NFL's Western Division race into a tie.

This was the Forty Niners' first triumph of the season and no team in the league cheered it more enthusiastically than McHan's old team mates, the Green Bay Packers. By drubbing the St. Louis Cardinals, 30-7, the Packers moved into the first-place tie with the Bears, Green Bay and Chicago both have 5-1 records.

In the Eastern Division, there was no stopping the Cleveland Browns as they defeated the Philadelphia Eagles, 31-7, for a spotless 6-0 record. The New York Giants remained two games behind the lead by beating the Dallas Cowboys, 37-21.

Won First Game
The Los Angeles Rams, like the Forty Niners, won their first game of the year, edging the Minnesota Vikings, 27-24; the Pittsburgh Steelers rallied to beat the Washington Redskins, 38-27, and the Baltimore Colts came from behind to defeat the Detroit Lions, 25-21.

Probably no result this season, however, has staggered the league like the victory by the down-at-the-heels Forty Niners over the rough-tough Bears.

McHan, a failure with three NFL clubs (Cardinals, Packers and Colts) during his 10 pro campaigns, won the quarterback assignment because John Brodie was injured and Bob Waters was found wanting.

McHan had been claimed for the $100 waiver price when let go by the Colts three weeks ago and hardly had time to become fully accustomed to the Forty Niners' offense—such as it was.

Yet the 30-year-old Arkansas Traveler called a masterful game, handing off to San Francisco backs for a total of 192 yards to riddle a Chicago defense that had yielded a total of 380 to five stronger opponents.

McHan completed 10 of 20 passes for 141 yards and one touchdown. The Forty Niners jumped off to a 17-0 lead, surrendered a Chicago touchdown just before halftime, and the defense took over during the final half.

At St. Louis, the methodical Packers scored on each of their first five series of downs to make their "game-of-the-week" strictly no-contest. Green Bay controlled the ball for 48 plays during the first half, compared to 19 for the Cardinals, and outgained the Cards, 238 yards to 58.

Jimmy Brown set an NFL rush record and Frank Ryan threw four touchdown passes in the rout against Philadelphia. Brown gained 144 yards in 25 carries to swell his career rushing total to a record 8,390. That surpassed the 8,296 yards gained by Joe Perry of the Forty Niners.

Y. A. Tittle also completed four touchdown passes in a come-from-behind win over Dallas. The 37-year-old Giants quarterback, despite a cut over the eye that needed repairing during the game, hit on 19 of 32 throws for 279 yards.

Tobin Rote, a quarterback who loves to throw "the big bomb," fired a couple Sunday that made the Western Division of the American Football League a "disaster area."

At the same time the 14-year-veteran of pro football all but clinched an AFL playoff berth for the San Diego Chargers and made Sid Gillman a strong candidate for coach of the year honors.

The 35-year-old Rote, a former star with the Green Bay Packers and Detroit Lions in the National Football League and the Toronto Argonauts in the Canadian Football League, completed 16 of 22 passes for Sunday to lead the Chargers to a 38-17 victory over the Kansas City Chiefs. The win gave the Chargers a 5-1 season record and a 2½-game stranglehold on first place at the halfway mark of the schedule.

The Eastern Division race was thrown into a turmoil, meanwhile, when the Houston Oilers defeated the Buffalo Bills, 28-14, and the Oakland Raiders whipped the New York Jets, 49-26.

The Oilers are now tied for first place with the Boston Patriots, who beat the Denver Broncos, 40-21, Friday night, with the Jets a half-game behind them. Houston and Boston are 4-3 each and New York is 3-3.

George Blanda threw touchdown passes of 8, 20 and 80 yards for the Oilers, who struck for three touchdowns in the second period after a scoreless first session. Jack Kemp produced both Buffalo scores on passes of four yards to Bill Miller and 55 to Ernie Warwick.

Clem Daniels, 220-pound half-back from Prairie View A.M., gained 200 yards rushing — 16 short of the league mark — and scored on runs of 66, 74 and 8 yards to lead the Raiders to their crushing victory over the Jets. Cotton Davidson weighed in with three touchdown passes for Oakland. Galen Hall threw a 48-yard touchdown pass and 266 yards and two touchdowns plunged one yard for a six-pointer for the Jets.

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (UPI) — Barbara Neiland and Paula Murphy broke at least 45 class D closed-car division records while sharing driving chores at Utah's Salt Flats.

Texas vs. Owls Could Decide SWC Crown

By ED FITE
UPI Sports Writer

The high-stepping Texas Longhorns, safely past what was generally considered the biggest hurdle in the path of successful defense of their Southwest Conference football crown, this week must face a Rice Owls team which has proven a pesky thorn two of the past three years.

The Texas-Rice renewal at Austin under the lights at Memorial Stadium in Austin Saturday night will be for high stakes since both are undefeated in conference play and the winner could move on to the title.

Texas Leaps Hogs
Texas cleared the Arkansas Razorback hurdle 17-13 last Saturday night in Little Rock for the Longhorns' fifth consecutive victory and their second in league play, while Rice tossed a touchdown bomb at Southern Methodist in the final 40 seconds to pull out a 13-7 victory in the Owls' conference inaugural.

The Baylor Bears, the only other club with an untarnished league record (2-0), hit the road again to tangle with the Texas Aggies at College Station, while SMU tries for a comeback at home against Texas Tech and Arkansas takes time out from league wars to host Tulsa at Fayetteville. Texas Christian will be idle.

Owls Stun Texas in 1962
The Owls stunned Texas with a 14-14 tie last year to knock the Steers off their newly-won No. 1 national perch and would like nothing better than to do as well or better to a Longhorn team which again heads the nation's rankings.

The Owls also helped spoil Texas' fine record three years ago with a 7-0 upset, but the last time the two teams met in Austin, Texas crushed the Owls 34-7 in 1961.

Rice, which has beaten Louisiana State and Stanford as well as SMU and lost to Penn State, and Baylor and the only apparent challengers left to dethrone Texas.

Baylor, which beat Arkansas 14-10 two Saturdays ago, looks like the strongest of the two although the Bears had to stage a furious rally to overhaul Texas Tech 21-17 last Saturday night in Lubbock.

SMU, which played much of the Rice game without its speedster back John Roderick after upsetting Air Force and Navy on successive weekends, is the only other rival with much of a chance since the Mustangs have only one loss on their league record.

TCU now has a loss and a tie and Arkansas has suffered two defeats — almost insurmountable obstacles in view of the momentum behind the Longhorns' stampede.

The Aggies extinguished TCU's already-flickering hopes with a 14-14 tie at Fort Worth last week and showed signs of finding an offense that could make them more than a worthy rival to the title hopefuls.

Houston Plays Mighty 'Bama

By United Press International
Houston probably has the most distasteful task this weekend among Texas independent colleges.

The Cougars must play with mighty Alabama on the road. Houston lost its fifth in a row 20-0 to Mississippi State Saturday.

In other games this weekend, Texas Western plays Colorado State at Greeley, Colo., West Texas hosts Arizona at Canyon, Hardin - Simmons plays New Mexico State at Las Cruces, N.M., Arlington entertains Louisiana Tech at Arlington, Texas Lutheran meets Eastern New Mexico at Portales, N.M. and Austin College plays William Jewell at Liberty, Mo.

In addition, Lamar Tech is at Southwest Texas and Tarleton hosts Corpus Christi at Stephenville.

In a top game last weekend, Memphis State whipped West Texas State 29-14 at Canyon. The Buffs' mighty Pistol Pete Pedro had an injury and did not play.

In other games, Arizona State downed Texas Western 27-0; Henderson (Ark.) State nipped Tarleton 3-0, Southeast Louisiana whipped Corpus Christi 36-0, Ouachita beat Austin College 19-14, and Texas Lutheran beat New Mexico Highlands 9-7.

Crucial District Games In AAAA

By United Press International
Crucial district games dot this week's schedule among Texas schoolboy football's Class AAAA and AAA teams.

While the race has another month to run, some of the games coming up this week could virtually decide the district playoff representative.

In AAAA, for example, the winner of the Port Arthur-Port Neches game will be considered a shoo-in for the District 11 crown, the winner of the Corpus Christi Miller-Corpus Christi Carroll tilt will become a zone favorite in District 14 where Kingsville and Brownsville meet to decide the other zone leader, and San Antonio Brackenridge plays Laredo with the District 16 undisputed lead at stake.

In AAA, Hurst Bell and Fort Worth Castleberry collide for the District 5 lead and Palestine and Jacksonville meet with the District 7 title almost sure to go to the winner.

Sherman is at Richardson in a tilt to decide who contests Garland for the 7-AAAA lead and similar situations exist in 2-AAA, where Vidor plays Silsbee to leave a survivor to scrap with Orange, and in 15-AAA, where Del Rio and San Antonio Marshall will decide which one contests South San Antonio.

Ysleta Bel Air already has taken an undisputed lead in the bulky 1-AAAA field as has Pharr-San Juan-Alamo in 16-AAA.

Other crucial games this week include San Angelo at Abilene High and Odessa High vs. Midland Lee in 2-AAAA; Borger at Amarillo Palo Duro and Amarillo Tascosa vs. Amarillo High in 3-AAAA; Spring Branch High vs. Spring Branch Memorial in 10-AAAA; Galena Park at Baytown and Texas City at Pasadena in 12-AAAA; El Campo vs. Bay City in 11-AAA, and La Porte at Clear Creek in 12-AAA.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain!

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyn®)—discovery of a world-famous research-institute.

This substance is now available in proprietary or patent form under the name Preparation M®. At all drug counters.

The One and the Many

The situation seems to add up simply. There are some folks who believe that each individual must have the right to make up his own mind. But there are other folks who contend that some people can and should make the decisions for other people. If you examine these two views closely, you will see that the difference between them consists in the difference between an act of robbery and an act of salesmanship. The salesman presumes your right to reach your own conclusions. That is why he tries to "sell" you. He seeks to persuade, to demonstrate, to argue, to convince. He seeks this because he knows that finally you will decide, and once you have decided the matter is settled. But the robber doesn't bother with seeking to convince you of anything. He doesn't care what you think or what you want. He simply invokes force upon you so that HE reaches a decision concerning something YOU have. Then he acts on HIS decision with your property.

This is the essential difference between individualists and collectivists. The individual seeks to govern his own affairs and presumes that others will do the same. The collectivist may wish to govern his own affairs but, additionally, he wants to govern your affairs, too. If he were to take the trouble to inquire, he would probably discover that you don't want him prying or meddling into your aims, ambitions and potentials. So he doesn't bother to inquire. He tries to justify his action by getting a GROUP behind him. This is the collectivist. And because there are more persons with him than the one person (you) he opposes, he states that this justifies his actions, whatever they are.

This, in essence, is robbery carried to a state of legal justification. The only difference between a years. 2. There are no problems of people over 65, except those imposed by retirement, that are not shared by all other age groups. 3. Most illness and deterioration are a result of environment, and can be modified by a change in environment. 4. The term "problems of aging" is fallacious — a more accurate term would be the "opportunity of aging." 5. The key to successful aging is successful living. To arbitrarily say that once a man or woman has reached a certain age he becomes another person, and falls into a utterly different medical and financial categories than he did the day before, is to propound a fallacy and to do these people a grave injustice. The pro-Medicare arguments may be good political arguments — though even that has yet to be established — but they certainly aren't good or accurate medical, financial or social arguments.

It's An Opportunity

The controversy over Medicare — the scheme to provide certain government medical benefits to everyone receiving social security payments, whether they want them or need them — has obscured the true old age health issue, if issue is the proper word. Medicare's proponents assert or at least intimate that the elderly population is in dire straits, and that only a multibillion dollar Welfare State program can adequately help them.

Some years ago the American Medical Association set up a Committee on Geriatrics to look into the particular diseases of old age. It found, believe it or not, that the problems it was designed to investigate did not really exist! So it moved into other areas — and here are the general conclusions it came to, based on a mass of evidence.

1. There are no diseases that occur just because of the passage of a certain number of simple act of robbery and a collectivist act of legalized robbery is the elaborate means of justification put together by the collectivist.

He well knows that should you ever discover that his actions are nothing more nor less than the actions of a looter, you will not tolerate them. Therefore, he cloaks his actions within the collective, causes you to believe that your own conclusions are in error, and that you must submit to his collectivized robbery for the "good" of society.

The philosophy of individualism seeks good on the basis of individual decisions. It grants the same rights to each individual. It does not presume that by the actions of some, the rights of others can be nullified.

The philosophy of collectivism seeks good on the basis of what is pleasing to the group or the collective. It grants no rights to any individual, for it presumes that all rights reside in the group.

"Society is responsible." "Society will decide." "You are obligated to society," etc., etc.

If a philosophy of collectivism is accepted, it always has meant and always will mean a philosophy of human sacrifice. The individual can always be sacrificed for the "good" of the collective. To begin with, such sacrifices are looked upon as necessary, the unfortunate. In time, such sacrifices are looked upon as both necessary and desirable. And finally, they attain the status of the greatest good.

Self-effacement, self-abnegation, the blotting out of all individuality by total submergence in the group, is equated with the highest possible motivation.

Individualism rejects human sacrifice. Individualism is the wave of the future and is geared inextricably to civilization. Collectivism is the way of the barbarian. It is inferior to individualism and will, in time, become passe.

Player pianos are coming back. The boom started three years ago in California for the musical instrument that can be played with the feet, and it has steadily moved eastward. Back in the 20's there were 197,000 player pianos sold in a five-year period at prices ranging from $595 to $1000, with player grand pianos running up to $4000. The new ones are selling for $995 to $1295, and there are plenty of buyers. The new ones have plastic valves and synthetic rubber tubing, which lasts longer than materials in the earlier versions. But they work on the same principle as their predecessors. A bellows creates a vacuum when the pedals are pushed which causes the proper note to be played as the rolls pass over air holes to create a pressure. It's all very easy and for that reason alone people will always buy 'em.

Toy promotion, once confined to the Christmas selling period, is now a year-round business. Recently a toy manufacturer signed with a TV station for a five-year period costing $30,000,000 to sell their wares to good little boys and girls. The show will be broadcast on TV stations in 157 market areas on a 52-week basis. And we'll bet that dad won't be able to watch the ball game when the toy program is on another channel.

Uncle Sam has $11,475,803,223 in a strong box at Fort Knox, Kentucky, the nation's depository. It's locked behind a 20-ton vault door, and no single person knows the combination. Most of the dough is in gold bricks weighing about 27 1/4 pounds, and valued at $14,000 each. Telephone announcement services have become so diverse that you can call a number now and they'll tell you where to watch for birds, and another will tell you how to cook them. Market reports, weather forecasts, movie times, and flight schedules are only a few of the things you can learn by dialing the right number. The shortest railroad tunnel in the world is near Westmoreland, Tenn., and measures 46 feet, six inches. . . . Sket shooting is an American sport, circa 1910. The word comes from archaic Scandinavian meaning "shoot". The average skeet squad is composed of five people each of whom shoots 25 shots. Highest score wins.

A recent banking report showed a slowdown in apartment house building. Look around and you'll see why. Everyone wants his own home, preferably in the suburbs. . . . The northernmost post office in the U.S. is at Penrose, Minn. Don't know if they have a ZIP code number. . . . A fellow named Rider in Michigan has an apt hobby. He collects tokens from his lines, railroads, ferries, boats, and bridges. . . . Just heard about a 101-year-old Illinois woman who has just gotten around to applying for a Social Security number. It's never too late. . . . Good news: it cost Castro $150,000 to entertain the 59 American students who visited him this summer. It's also good to know that out of the millions of U.S. students, only 59 grabbed his sucker bait. . . . The U.S. Labor Dept. says a man must earn at least $100 a week to be an executive. We know bartenders who do better than that. . . . The Outdoor Boating Club of America says the average boat owner uses his boat 24 times a year. An expensive hobby withal.

Today's smile: We know a father who told his young son that when he was young his one ambition was to wear long pants. He said: "I realized my ambition. No one wears pants longer than I do."

CIA Resumes Flying Phantom Air Force Over Cuba Reports Again Differ from Refugees

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The covert "air arm" of the super-secret Central Intelligence Agency is again flying high, wide, and out of the range of Soviet ground-to-air missiles—over Cuba. Undisputed command of all U.S. air surveillance of Cuba and along the borders of the Soviet Union has been turned over to CIA Director John McCone by the White House. No hint of this significant development has been given the public or Congress by officials of the Kennedy administration despite its jolting implications on U.S. security.

The vital Cuban surveillance mission, shared with the Air Force and Navy since last October's missile crisis, is now being exclusively carried out by the CIA's "second-rate air force," as it is labeled by top Air Force generals. This phantom CIA force, which is far from adequate to do the job, includes less than two dozen high-flying U-2 reconnaissance planes and about twelve "flying platforms," specially equipped long-range surveillance planes.

At present, CIA pilots are limited to less than a dozen high-level U-2 reconnaissance flights a month, with none passing directly over Cuba. Instead, the U-2s follow the Cuban coastline, staying over international waters and out of range of more than 600 SA-2 missiles that ring the island. All low-level reconnaissance flights conducted over Cuba by Navy and Air Force pilots during the missile crisis were halted several months ago on direct orders from the White House, despite protests by the two services that the flights were necessary to check on Soviet missiles in Cuba.

HISTORY REPEATS—As before the Cuban missile crisis, all CIA air missions in the Caribbean area or near the Soviet Union must receive advance approval by President Kennedy. This air-tight control procedure was adopted to avoid CIA operations that might cause incidents between Castro and U.S. forces. Despite vigorous denials by State and Defense Department officials, there have been periods as long as two weeks during which no reconnaissance flights were made in the vicinity of Cuba.

One of these self-imposed reconnaissance blackouts was put into effect during the nuclear test ban negotiations in Moscow. During a two-week period late in July and early August, all flights were stopped by White House orders. Hurricane Flora, the storm that hammered Cuba for five days this month, also grounded CIA planes more than a week. While Navy planes flying off the carrier Lake Champlain virtually mapped all of Haiti to obtain a complete picture of the storm damage on that island, they were banned from taking pictures of Cuba's extensive storm damage.

A YEAR LATER — Just one year ago, on Sunday, October 21, 1962, while the nation went to church and watched professional football games, Navy and Air Force reconnaissance planes circled Cuba at tree-top level, photographing Soviet missile base construction and jet bombers.

On that fateful Sunday, the CIA circulated an Intelligence estimate that between 5,000 and 6,000 Soviet troops were on the island, despite warnings from Cuban refugees that there were "more than 20,000" — a warning that proved to be dead accurate.

Once again there is alarming evidence that the CIA is underestimating Soviet troop strength in Cuba. Its latest estimate hails Russia's removal of her combat units — some 5,000 troops. This CIA report is flatly challenged by the same Cuban refugees. These reliable sources have turned over information to the CIA warning that Soviet combat units are still on the island with the modern equipment stored in caves.

While just a year ago the 82nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg, N.C., was on alert for a parachute leap over Cuba, this week in Cuba nearly 10,000 Chinese paratroopers are training in secret for action in the Caribbean or Latin America.

Basic ammunition had been issued to 82nd jumpers on October 21, 1962, and throughout the day vehicles, artillery pieces and other gear were rigged for a heavy drop. This week in Cuba the Chinese paratroopers began receiving their basic ammunition and first communication equipment.

Tension mounted at Ft. Bragg a year ago. No man knew whether war would erupt. Today, no U.S. official knows how many Soviet or Chinese troops are in Cuba or why they are there. Yet there is no tension in Washington because officials of the Kennedy administration refuse to face up to these new developments, while keeping Congress completely in the dark.

CUBAN FLASHES — Russian submarine pens are being constructed at Bahai de Nipe. Powerful fortifications also are being built there, particularly for anti-aircraft guns. . . . The number of so-called "technicians" from Red China is steadily increasing in Cuba. Intelligence now estimates they run into the thousands, and are of various categories. They are located in compounds and are rarely seen in public, unlike the Russians and Czechoslovaks who travel about freely. . . . The Castro regime is making strenuous efforts to persuade Czech technicians to remain in Cuba, of

The Almanac

Today is Monday, Oct. 21, the 294th day of 1963 with 71 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning star is Jupiter. The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1805, the English fleet under the command of Lord Nelson defeated the allied French and Spanish fleets off the Cape of Trafalgar, thus ending Napoleon's power on the seas.

In 1833, Alfred Nobel, the Swedish chemist and engineer, was born. His will provided for the Nobel Prizes.

In 1879, Thomas Edison invented a workable electric incandescent lamp after 14 months of experimentation at Menlo Park, N.J.

In 1917, soldiers of the 1st Division of the United States Army were the first Americans to see action on the front lines in World War I.

A thought for the day—Dr. Albert Einstein said: "As long as there are sovereign nations possessing great power, war is inevitable."

fering numerous special inducements.

As a result of recent hostile hit-and-run sorties and raids, the large guard force at the Isle of Pines prison has been doubled — from around 2,000 to some 4,000. There are three main concentration camps on the Isle, which is the chief prison for Castro's political enemies. . . . Raul Castro, younger brother of Fidel and head of the armed forces, has made several trips to Yucatan for meetings with Mexico's leftist former President Lazaro Cardenas. The latter owns a large estate in Yucatan, and frequently holds meetings there with Communists and foreign diplomats in Havana.

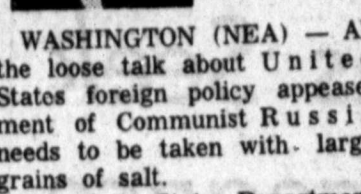

In talks with foreign diplomats in Havana, Castro is still muttering angrily over the fact that not a single Latin American Communist leader attended the July 26 celebration of his "revolution."

CRYSTAL BALL — President Kennedy is scoring a partial victory on the foreign aid authorization bill in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. The committee, which has been considering the measure for several months, will restore about half of the $1 billion cut by the House when it voted $3.5 billion — as against the $4.5 billion demanded by the President. The Senate committee will approve around $4 billion.

Both branches of Congress still have to act on the actual appropriation bill — which will mean another bitter battle. Outcome of that is a toss-up, with the inside chances favoring a compromise in the neighborhood of $3.5 billion — approximately $1.5 billion less than the $4.9 billion the President originally sought.

Edson In Washington The More It Changes, the More the Cold War Stays

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — All the loose talk about United States foreign policy appeasement of Communist Russia needs to be taken with large grains of salt. The U.S. State Department has just concluded another of its semiannual briefings of several hundred newspaper, magazine, radio and television correspondents from all over the country. It was well timed, for matters are getting pretty confused and everything needs straightening out.

President Kennedy spoke of the record. But Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell Gilpatric, Undersecretaries of State Averell Harriman and George Ball and half a dozen other top policy makers in State spoke and answered questions under a rule of no direct quotations or attribution.

The substance of their statements was released for use as coming from high government officials. So it was right from the horse's mouth.

There was a certain amount of whitewashing the reported feuding between U.S. government agencies in South Viet Nam. There was some criticism of the publicity being given Mme. Nhu. There was some nonsense about the coups d'etat in Latin America not being as bad as the ones they used to have.

But on the big issue, the sum and substance of the talks was that none of the officials thinks that Soviet Russia has reformed. Nobody thinks sale of wheat to Russia and the satellites means the beginning of a new era of expanded trade.

Nobody thinks the Russians are going to pull out of East Germany. Nobody thinks disarmament, Communist country co-operation with the United Nations or settlement of the Korea, Viet Nam, Laos and Cuba crisis is just around the corner.

It was emphasized that there is no "detente"—general disengagement or relaxation of cold war tensions.

Agreements are being sought with the Russians on minor points, without making concessions. The problem is to draw the line between illusion and reality.

The hot line for crisis communications between Moscow and Washington is open and being tested every hour on the hour.

Other possibilities for improved communications with the Russians include a civil air agreement for one or two flights a week between New York and Moscow. Opening of more consular offices in both the United States and Russia is being considered to facilitate travel. Both will require long technical talks before anything is signed.

The possibility of new explosions in Laos, Viet Nam, Cuba and other trouble spots is known to be real. There can be no relaxation of tensions with Russia under such conditions.

A detente in Europe is out of the question because Soviet Russia has no intention of abandoning East Germany and permitting its reunification with West Germany.

Disarmament will be talked about some more in Geneva and an East-West nonaggression pact may be further explored. But neither offers any real hope because the Russians will not permit arms inspection within their borders. While Soviet Russia's split with Red China is regarded as the primary reason for the Russians' apparent eagerness to improve relations with the West, American officials realistically realize that this feud between the two big Communist countries could reverse direction without warning.

Full consideration is given to the probability that if Red China and Russia should patch up their quarrel, it would mean bad news for the U.S. and the rest of the world.

For all these reasons, American policy makers seem determined not to relax on their foreign aid programs, on maintaining North Atlantic and other alliances, on keeping America's defenses strong and at the ready.

As the situation was analyzed in one summary:

"We are on the front end of large events. We do not know for sure what they will be. We do not know if they will be good or bad for us. But they will not be boring."

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: "Since you call your newspaper a Freedom Newspaper what does Freedom mean to you when you use the word?"

ANSWER: We have been using Rose Wilder Lane's meaning of freedom when she said that freedom is self-control, no more, no less. That means that you respect others equal rights to freedom. We use the word synonymously with the word liberty. However, we have never had complete freedom or complete liberty, there has always been interference with men making free choice as to their course of action, even when they have respected the equal rights of others.

Of course, man need not survive and some individuals have put their own integrity above life. Bruno declared that he accepted the Capernium system as Astronomy, and the powers that be demanded that he retract that statement. They put him in jail and kept him there for seven years trying to get him to recant his statement. He would not. The result was that he was burned at the stake in 1600. Few people would stand up under that kind of a test.

The best explanation of freedom we have heard was given by Joseph Galambos who said, "Freedom is where each and every person has 100 per cent control of his property." His property of course, meant his life, his ideas, his right to contract voluntarily, and all he produces or gets on a voluntary exchange.

That is an ideal image and we have never had that kind of freedom, but it is something that we should all strive for.

Has anyone a better definition of real freedom than that of Galambos? If so, we would like to hear it. The more we can get people to understand how important it is to respect private property and what private property is, the better off we all will be.

Pity the Poor Bachelor — His Lot Is Miserable One

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — One of the ugly blots on the otherwise shining fabric of our civilization is the shameful way we treat our bachelors.

Cruelty to bachelors is seldom discussed in polite society, but occasionally you will find someone brave enough to speak out against it.

Such a person is Margaret Mead, the noted anthropologist, who doesn't seem to care what she says as long as it shocks somebody.

Talks Openly
This courageous and forthright lady was here for a lecture recently and at a subsequent news conference she talked openly and frankly about the plight of the downtrodden bachelor.

"We persecute those who don't get married," she said. "We make them feel abnormal and force them to live in an institution — join the Army, the Navy, the Merchant Marine — or we isolate them and make them live alone. We distrust the single life."

Her remarks presumably encompassed spinsters as well as bachelors, but everyone knows that spinsters lead a pampered life compared to the dismal existence of bachelorhood.

I myself have been in the serene and secure state of wedded bliss for so long I couldn't remember how horrible it was to be a bachelor.

So I approached a bachelor friend of mine, Sam Freelander, and asked whether he felt persecuted.

Texas Liberals Seeking to Avoid All-Out Battle

By KYLE THOMPSON
AUSTIN (UPI)—The super-planned "Ralph Yarborough Appreciation Dinner" in Austin Saturday night is the first step in a plan by Texas liberals to avoid a two-front all-out fight in next year's primary elections.

The labor-liberal bloc started beating the bushes for "Friends of Yarborough" two months ago, hoping a big show of unity would scare off any serious primary opposition.

Informers say the liberals have only enough money to handle one knock-down-drag-out primary fight. They want to keep Yarborough in the U. S. Senate, and at the same time unseat Gov. John Connally.

Designs on Connally
There seems to be no question that labor-liberal Democrats have designs on replacing Connally with Houston lawyer Don Yarborough, no relation to the senator from Texas.

If the dinner, where sponsors hope to seat 6,000 Yarborough friends, is successful in shoofing off serious party opposition to Yarborough in the spring primaries, then the factions can concentrate on Don Yarborough in the governor's race.

TODAY THE BEST ADDITIVES MAKE THE BEST GASOLINES

"O. K., SKELLY MAN, WHY SHOULD I SWITCH TO YOUR GASOLINE?"

A quick one-word answer is: "Keotane" Keotane® is the additive Skelly developed to attack, head-on, one of the main causes of engine trouble—excess carbon. Carbon steals gasoline. It robs your engine of pep and power. Keotane was developed specifically to help prevent carbon build-up as you drive. We know of no other additive like it. In fact, Keotane is so different that Skelly has been granted U. S. Patent No. 2,878,109 covering its use.

Your next question might be, "How can Skelly Keotane Gasoline be different from other major brands from the same pipeline?" The answer is that Keotane is added to Skelly premium gasoline AFTER the gasoline comes out of the pipeline, and before it goes to Skelly stations.

Will it pay you to switch to Skelly Keotane Gasoline? Look at it this way. If Keotane can keep your engine cleaner inside... it can help prevent excess carbon deposits that steal your gas and waste your power... shouldn't you find it out?

Try just 3 tankfuls. Check your mileage before and after switching to Keotane. See how your car idles. Note how fast it starts. Then decide for yourself.

How can you lose? If you see no improvement in power, mileage, pick-up, starting, you haven't lost a thing, because Skelly Keotane Gasoline costs no more than other major premium brands without Keotane.

But if you do get better performance, you'll know that, today, the best additives do make the best gasolines. And we think you will be convinced—as we are—that today's best additive, by far, is Keotane.
