BREVITORIES
Musings of the moment: "Contact" has been a word of expansion meaning since the advent of aviation. It has been made a verb, adjective, and adverb in popular usage as well as a noun. But, nevertheless, it is a good word. Without contact of problems and solutions there could be no invention. The great natural laws have existed since the beginning of time, but it took contact with brilliant minds to produce radio, talking pictures, telescopes, anti-toxin and other modern miracles. . . . You may have great ability, but without contact it will never be of any use to your club, to your church, or to your town. You may know what your city and county governments need and you may have a strong opinion about state-wide issues, but your genius will be lost unless you go to the polls. . . . And if you go to the polls without a poll tax receipt, the clerks will laugh at your dumbness and deny you the voting privilege. Be sure to go to the court house and pay your poll tax before the dead-line, January 31.

Cattle men of our acquaintance are enormously disgusted because numerous radio singers have for months been crooning "good-bye little dog-gie." The singers could perhaps be excused the mispronunciation of the word if they had any understanding of its meaning. But the cowmen have had a hunch that many of the singers thought the term meant "good-bye little Pdo" or whatever the name of the cowboy's canine happened to be. In deed, the popularity of so-called cowboy songs with many an old-time muddin' ditty thrown in, and sung with a drawl accent, has added nothing to the cow man's self respect.

Definitions of "doggie" have been somewhat confused but Bob Campbell offers one which probably clear up the subject. Bob says that a doggie is a calf whose mother has deserted it and whose father has run off with some other cow. But this doesn't indicate how the word originated. One explanation is that motherless starving calves, or starving Chinese children, are likely to have swollen stomachs. Such

"Three Little Pigs" is a very pretty name for a screen feature, but Uncle Sam would probably say, in terms of surplus control, that they should have been twins.

We don't mind how many initials are used in the new deal, but we wish they would be careful in juggling those figures and naughts around.

With adult education becoming popular, high school students with exams cannot look with hope to the future any more.

TEXAS SENATOR FLAYS LONG'S POLITICAL TACTICS
WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—A formal protest against the election of Senator Overton (D., La.) was filed with the senate today by the women's committee of Louisiana, shortly after the committee headed by Senator Connally (D., Tex.) had submitted a report condemning political conditions in the state. Shortly after the Connally report had been submitted, describing Louisiana political conditions as "vicious," "abhorrent" and "fraud upon the rights of citizens," the women's committee filed with Vice President Garner its protest against Overton's election. The committee, headed by Mrs. Hilda Phelps Hammond, contended that Overton's election was "accomplished by the use of fraud, coercion, intimidation and corruption."

Officials said the protest would not constitute a "contest" in the sense in which it was used by the Connally committee. A senate contest can only be filed by an opponent, they explained. The reconstruction corporation ceased its gold purchases abroad at noon yesterday. Jesse H. Jones, chairman, in a brief statement today said that all gold purchases initiated abroad will be completed and that certificates of mints or assay offices for domestic newly mined gold issued prior to midnight last night will be honored.

Comptroller General J. R. McCarl has ruled that the government's action in setting up an emergency housing corporation was unconstitutional and as a result the corporation's activities have been brought to a complete standstill. The comptroller's ruling, made to Secretary Ickes, has tied up a fund of $100,000,000 allocated to the corporation by the public works act. The comptroller said that clearance projects and low cost housing through the country. Ickes is president of the housing corporation as well as secretary of interior.

Charlie Thut to Seek Re-Election As County Clerk

Announcement of his candidacy for re-election as county clerk was made today by Charlie Thut. In placing his name before the voters of Gray county, subject to the democratic primary of July 23, Mr. Thut said that he based his candidacy on his familiarity with the records and procedure of the office and with the property and public records of the whole county. Nodded for his courtesy, and his close attention to the details of his office. Mr. Thut is one of the best known members of the Gray county official family.

NEW THEORY ADVANCED IN KILLING HERE

Possibility That Smith Did Not Do Shooting Will Be Probed By Grand Jury.
Possibility that J. M. Holloway was slain Saturday night by someone other than W. M. (Murphy) Smith, who is charged with the murder, was being discussed here today. Study of the angle at which the shot was fired has revealed factors which must be considered along with the partially paralyzed condition of Smith. Holloway was struck at the base of the neck by a shotgun charge, and his young son was so close by that blood spattered over the boy. A question that has interested prosecutors is whether Smith, in his nearly helpless condition, could have taken the position from which the gun apparently was fired. One theory is that Smith was handed the gun immediately after the shooting. Circumstances surrounding the shooting will be probed by the Gray county grand jury, which will resume deliberations tomorrow. It was summoned Saturday before the shooting, although it had adjourned to January 24 earlier in the week. A card game in which liquor and quarreling figured is said to have preceded the shooting. Holloway had threatened to "clean this joint out," according to officers, and had left his son, armed with a knife, at the house on South Hobart street to "hold these cases."

When Holloway shortly returned, reputedly armed with a tire tool, his son ran out of the house. The boy's actions attracted the attention of two city officers, Wilson and Holmes, who stopped to investigate. The boy ran back into the house and another man came around a corner of the house, armed with a pistol. The city officers disarmed him, but while they were about it, a shot was fired inside the house. When the officers went inside, Holloway was sprawled dead upon the floor at the entrance to a room. Smith, a dazed look upon his face, was holding the shotgun while leaning against his bed. The room had been dark, officers believe. Possibility that another man known to have been at the house not long before the shooting may have been in the room with Smith was a disputed point today.

Westbrook Given Confidence Vote

AUSTIN, Jan. 16 (AP)—The Texas relief commission gave a vote of confidence to Lawrence Westbrook, director of relief administration today after Charles E. Taylor said there were "whisperings" that a movement was on foot to replace him. W. A. Brooks, Jr., of Dallas told the commission that he understood there was a conspiracy forming to remove Westbrook and make D. B. BARROW AND HIS CIGAR-SMOKING 'MOLL' IN MANY DARING ESCAPES

DALLAS, Jan. 16 (AP)—Clyde Barrow, leader of the band which shot several guards and brought about the escape of Raymond Hamilton and a half dozen other convicts from the Eastham prison farm in deep South Texas, has been sought throughout the middle west for three years for murder and robbery. Officers have been close behind him dozens of times but each time he has fled just in the nick of time. His means of escape almost invariably has been a Ford V-8 coupe or sedan. He speeds away from the scene of a crime and, after crossing a state line, abandons his automobile. Officers find it later and the machine shows signs of having been driven hard. On a seat and on the floor the officers find bandages, hairpins, sandwiches, full supplies of first aid equipment and an assortment of pistols and rifles. Bonnie Parker, two-gun, cigar-smoking companion of Barrow, has been implicated in almost as many crimes as her partner. She started

'BOYS' CLUB CONTEST' ALLEGED TO BE ILLEGAL
WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—The federal government filed suit in the District of Columbia supreme court today against the Standard Oil company of New Jersey charging violation of the oil code and asking an injunction against the company to prevent it from giving premiums. The action was filed on behalf of Secretary Ickes, the oil administrator. Hearing on the suit was set for January 30. The suit was the first to be filed against a major oil company for alleged violation of the code. The specific charge was that the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and its subsidiaries had inaugurated a "boys' club contest" and had refused to accede to a request by the oil administration to discontinue the practice. In the contest, coupons were alleged to have been given to children who in turn distributed them to friends, relatives or neighbors to be presented one at a time by adults to standard stations and dealers. Prizes were to be given to the boy or girl credited with the greatest number of coupons turned in his or her name. The complaint further cited that since January 3 the Standard by radio programs had advertised the contest over various stations. "The defendant has announced its intention of continuing the said contest and has refused to discontinue the same."

F. E. Leech Asks Combined Office Of Gray County
F. E. Leech, county tax assessor, today authorized the announcement that he would seek the combined office of tax assessor and collector of Gray county. His name will be on the ballots of the democratic primary of July 23. The offices of the assessor and collector will be combined beginning next term. Mr. Leech through his duties as tax assessor has become very familiar with the properties of the county and his experience qualifies him for the combined office. He promises to give his full time and attention to the office if elected, and to serve to the best of his ability and knowledge all the taxpayers of Gray county.

BACKSTAGE IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—Washingtonians are just about as bad off as good as Californians when it comes to that gag about "today's weather is most unusual; it's the first time it's been like this in years." I've just finished wading back from High Johnson's press conference through fog as thick as a soup (knowing you've never waded thru pea soup either I'm sure I won't be contradicted), and my own next-office neighbor had the crust to brand it "extraordinary." We've been here 12 days now, have seen the sun itself three times, have been suspicious there was such a thing as the sun four other times, and have enjoyed Old Sol for a full day just once. The rest of the time it has been drizzling, foggy, or so gray and damp that you could float a ship in the air. Now I know where they get the expression "battish p gray."

Judging from what I read in the papers, we could use a "little of this moisture back in that part of the country." Unfortunately that's one thing the government can't "blot"; it may be that if they could spend a million or so in the process of getting rain we'd have it back here. For I think Uncle Sam's got just about all the costly items he can think of in the budget now, and would like a few more suggestions. Or maybe the Great Rainmaker has all His moisture machines making fears for the republican party. Why not, as a last resort, try holding an All-Western Rally and Mutual Admiration Day for the Grand Old Party? The tears would be a little salty, but who knows, maybe that kind of moisture will do away with putting salt in your baquet dough?

WHO'S WHO

Oldest in point of service among justices of the United States supreme court, Willis VanDevanter, of Wyoming is rated as one of the ablest members of the nation's highest tribunal. He is shown above in a new photo. Classed as a conservative, even as a reactionary, he is respected even by the liberal leaders, for the extent of his legal knowledge. Possessing an active and keenly analytical mind, he is one of the hardest-working members of the supreme bench, though at 73 he is in frail health. A power in Wyoming in its territorial days, he became a territorial aide, was appointed to the circuit court by Roosevelt, and by 1910.

CUBAN TAKES OFFICE AMID BOMB BLASTS

HAVANA, Jan. 16 (AP)—Carlos Hevia, 33-year-old secretary of agriculture, was given the oath of office as president of Cuba at 11:15 a. m. today by his father-in-law, Dr. Juan Federico Edelman, president of the supreme court. Swept into office amid rioting wild disturbances yesterday, the 33-year-old Annapolis naval academy graduate inherited all of former President Grau San Martin's problems and his own leftist tendencies provided others. Sporadic outbreaks, including two bomb explosions, disturbed the capital during Hevia's first night in the palace. Feeling ran high after demonstrations around the palace in which three supporters of Grau were slain. One of the moanest muddles before the new president was the Cuban Electric company situation, intensified during the night when a subordinate employe assumed control of the American-owned concern under the government's authority, suspending the general manager and 66 others. Linked closely with this problem, raised when the government took over the concern's plants after violence by strikers Sunday, was that of recognition, which seems to be among Hevia's prime objectives. Hevia said that no property can be confiscated without previous compensation—according to the provisional government's statutes.

Many To Assist In Sponsoring Charity Dance

An executive committee to assist Chairman Julian Barrett in preparing plans for the President's ball on the evening of January 30 was announced today. H. L. Polley is chairman of publicity and advertising. Mrs. Ruba McConnell is in charge of arrangements at the ball, which will be the Pin-Mor. Jack Cunningham will be assisted by J. M. Collins in charge of ticket sales. A. M. Teed will solicit civic club cooperation. Frank Kelley was appointed to secure an orchestra. Bert Curry will write the auditorium for the radio broadcast by President Roosevelt. Most of the necessities for the ball will be donated. Funds will be solicited to take care of other expenses so that all receipts of the ball can be given to the Warm Springs foundation, fostered by Mr. Roosevelt to combat infantile paralysis in this country. The ball will last from 10 p. m. to 2 p. m. The president's program, which will introduce outstanding entertainers of the nation, will begin at 10:15 p. m.

6 PAROLES; 1 PARDON

AUSTIN, Jan. 16 (AP)—Six general paroles and one conditional pardon were granted today by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson to Texas convicts. The conditional pardon was authorized for Arthur Fulton, Midland, Bell, McLennan, William and Hill counties, burglary and theft, 19 years, convicted in June, 1930.

SENATOR SAYS 18TH AMENDMENT, REPEALED BY RICH, WILL RETURN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas, co-author of the eighteenth amendment, today chose the fourteenth birthday of the dead law to predict in the senate that "it will inevitably return." Declaring to his colleagues that a new campaign to bring back national prohibition already is under way, Sheppard asserted in an address from the floor repeal had been brought about by organized propaganda financed by the rich to escape taxes. "In repealing temporarily the eighteenth amendment," he said, "the American people demonstrated that at times propaganda is more powerful than principle in this republic."

2 Guards Shot As Ex-Partner Makes Escape

Raymond Hamilton And Five Other Prisoners Escape From Texas Prison
HUNTSVILLE, Jan. 16 (AP)—Clyde Barrow of Dallas, Texas' most notorious desperado, today ambushed a working party at the Eastham prison farm, 45 miles from here, laid down a machine gun barrage as a convict working in concert with him shot two guards and freed his former companion, Raymond Hamilton, and four other long-term convicts. Barrow thus regained a companion in crime and made good Hamilton's boast when sentenced recently that "there is no prison that will hold me; I'll be back with Clyde before you know it, and hell will never catch us." Two others, a man and a woman reported to have been Bonnie Parker, who has been with Barrow all of the three years since Barrow and Hamilton launched into criminal careers, aided Barrow in shooting down the guards at the isolated prison farm and freeing Hamilton and the others. Hamilton, under sentences totaling 263 years for murder, bank robbery, and other crimes, was being herded with other prisoners to their daily farm toil this morning when, without warning, the guards, Major Crowson and Olan Bowman, were shot down with a fusillade from a partly covered ditch near the Eastham farm headquarters. Bybee Escapes Too. Trusting to the accuracy of the machine gun marksmanship and aided by pre-arrangement, Hamilton and the four other convicts, dashed immediately toward a parked sedan and roared away towards the north. Barrow and his companions raced away from the scene in their usual means of escape, a Ford V-8 coupe. The prisoners who escaped with Hamilton were Henry Methvin, serving ten years; Joe Palmer, 25 years; W. H. Bybee, serving a life sentence, and J. B. French, 12 years. The other prisoners in the group made no effort to escape, despite the fact all are desperadoes. Within a few minutes after Barrow and his companions had laid their successful ambush and fled the scene the alarm was spread throughout Texas and hundreds of peace officers were on the highways. They knew they had desperate and willing men killers to cope with. Officers Guard Highways. Major Crowson, more seriously wounded than Bowman, was rushed to a Huntsville hospital where he was operated upon in an effort to save his life. Before he was put to sleep, he said: "The break happened at 7 a. m. Bowman had taken a squad of 17 men to the woods, but they had not begun to work. KINGMAN, Ariz., Jan. 16 (AP)—Greta Garbo, film star, and Rouben Mamoulian, director, who registered at a hotel here yesterday as "Miss Brown" and "R. Brown," who checked out today and drove east on a highway leading to Needles, San Bernardino, Los Angeles, and Hollywood. WILLIAMS, Ariz., Jan. 16 (AP)—Greta Garbo and Rouben Mamoulian, her director, traveling as "Mary Jones" and "Robert Bonji," left only dust and doubt behind them across northern Arizona today. Whether the Swedish film star was a bride, as Hollywood rumors hinted, or intended to become one, remained unanswered. The couple, definitely identified after they had registered under their assumed names at the El Tovar hotel, Grand Canyon, fled from all who sought to question them. They sped westward toward California, after passing through Williams last night, in an automobile driven by a negro chauffeur. Scores of amateur sleuths who joined in attempts to solve the mystery, if any of the incognito trip were forced to confess failure. At the El Tovar hotel, "Mary Jones" and "Robert Bonji" were registered as from Santa Fe, N. M. No record of a marriage license was found in Santa Fe or in Arizona. In appropriate costumes, Miss Garbo and Mamoulian were discovered at Grand Canyon by a national park official who attempted a friendly conversation. The flitting couple returned at once to the hotel, where they had taken a suite of three rooms, changed into traveling clothes and departed.

Long Supporters Detained In Jail

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 16 (AP)—Arrested in a midnight police raid on the parish registration office, C. S. Barnes, registrar of voters for the parish of Orleans, and ten other members of the Huey P. Long political organization were detained in jail for ten hours today before securing their release on habeas corpus writs. Voters registration books in the city of New Orleans were forcibly wrested from members of the Huey P. Long political organization when Registrar of Voters Barnes was placed behind prison bars by city police and a civil district judge ordered his removal from office, placing deputy sheriffs in charge of the registration records. Barnes, an appointee and supporter of Senator Long, was arrested with 10 other men shortly after midnight when police raided his office in the city hall.

THE MODERN CONCEPT OF GOVERNMENT

One of the reasons why the New Deal often seems confusing is the fact that only now are we beginning to bring our idea of government into line with economic changes which took place several decades ago.

We started as an agrarian nation, in which the great mass of citizens always could earn their living on the land if the government only would leave them alone.

Now we are trying to bring ourselves up to date. If the effort makes us giddy now and then, it is no wonder.

Edward A. Filene, the Boston merchant, recently pointed out in an address before the American Academy of Political and Social Science that our delay in the accomplishment of this job led inevitably to the creation of that "invisible government" against which reformers used to argue so hotly.

Someone, he remarks, had to control the tangle in human relations which resulted when our agrarian order changed to an industrial order. We did not believe that was a job for the regular government; so an invisible government took shape to do the job, and it did it badly, because no one understood precisely what had to be done.

The visible government, meanwhile, continued to try to keep its hands off all the developments of a rising industrialism. In doing so, as Mr. Filene remarks, it found that by keeping its hands off it forever was finding its hands full.

And he adds:

"Because it refused to deal with the causes of strikes, it was kept busy with their effects. Because it did not deal with the problem of unemployment, it had to deal with the plight of the unemployed. Because it had nothing to say about the distribution of wealth, it constantly was confronted with crises caused by inadequate distribution, which some stick-in-the-mud traditionalists still refer to as 'overproduction.'"

What is happening now is simply that we have come to realize the necessity of a new relationship between government and industry. This does not mean that the industrialist is going to get soaked, or that a bureaucracy of busy-bodies is going to run our factories and our salesrooms and our banks.

It just means that we are getting squared away so that a full reaping of the incalculably rich fruits of a great industrial era at last will be possible.

EDITORIAL COMMENT ON MONEY MESSAGE FAVORS AND OPPOSES

The New York Times (Dem.): "Uncertainty about the president's intentions has been slowing down enterprise and clouding the business outlook. It has now been largely removed by Mr. Roosevelt's plain indications of what he hopes to do."

The New York Herald Tribune (Rep.): "The things that the president has to say—the things on which he is specific and definite—are on the side of reassurance. It is the things which he leaves unexplained, or which he implies in broad general terms, that will give pause to those who read his message with care. These hints may constitute an astute political gesture."

The Philadelphia Public Ledger: "The general purpose is clear—to make an end of the prevailing depression and to build a monetary and financial structure which will move effectively with the future shocks. The country will work with the president and congress to see it through."

Kansas City Star (Ind.): "The business world accepts the president's latest statement as, on the whole, a reassuring and conservative announcement of policy."

Oklahoma City Times (Ind-Dem.): "The unequivocal declarations for sound money will lay by the heels the fear of printing press money."

Houston (Tex.) Chronicle (Dem.): "The president's announced plan to stabilize the dollar on a devalued basis is a harbinger of sounder conditions."

San Francisco Chronicle (Rep.): "It is a middle-of-the-road course, which is certainly good politics, and is probably good policy."

---ICKES (Continued from page 1) time it although requested to do so," the complaint charged. "The defendant... is unlawfully disregarding and disobeying the provisions of the oil code and the national industrial recovery act in transactions in or affecting interstate or foreign commerce in petroleum products and unless restrained or enjoined... will continue to do so."

The criminal penalties provided in the national recovery act for code violations were termed in the complaint "inadequate" and it was further stated unless injunctions were granted the purposes of the recovery act would be "obstructed and the public interest endangered and jeopardized."

ICKES, in a statement after the suit was filed by attorneys acting both for the oil administrative board and as special attorneys for the attorney general, said he considered the prohibition against giving premiums as provided in the code applied as far as he was "concerned to big companies and small ones alike."

Oil officials of the interior department said the code provision upon which the suit was based was written into the code at the insistence of the Standard company.

COMMITTEES, OFFICERS FOR YEAR ELECTED

CONTEST IS STARTED IN DIVISIONS OF SOCIETY

ORGANIZATION for the year was effected in the four Methodist missionary circles yesterday afternoon, when members met in divisions indicated at a recent executive board session.

Circle one chose Mrs. A. L. Patrick chairman, Mrs. W. L. Frazee assistant chairman, Mrs. Harry Hoare secretary-treasurer, Mrs. E. W. Lane, her assistant, Mrs. Gaston Foote study leader, and Mrs. Lloyd Roberts Outlook agent.

Circle two chose Mrs. Nell Bever as hostesses at Mrs. Evans' home. Mrs. Patrick gave the opening prayer and Mrs. J. M. Turner, acting organizer, spoke on the organization of a missionary society.

In addition to the officers, a telephone committee including Mrs. J. G. Noel, Mrs. W. B. McArthur, and Mrs. Lewis Robinson, and a transportation committee including Mrs. Patrick, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Bever, and Mrs. C. R. Nelson, were chosen.

Mrs. Roberts was a new member. In addition to those named, Mrs. R. B. Fisher and Mrs. Jim Sackett were present. Members voted to meet in homes of members this year.

Spring Suits To Loom in Easter Parade of 1934

BY MARY E. PLUMMER.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—This year's Easter parade will be primarily a spring suit turnout.

Half a dozen types paraded today at the home of Mrs. R. E. McKernan, 1206 E. Francis, at 2:30. Some were "ensemble dresses"—a dress and jacket giving a suit effect.

Then there was the two-piece tailored suit, simpler of shoulder line than last spring, and more closely fitted to the figure. At the waist the jackets were fitted in slightly. Some of the skirts had an inverted kick pleat.

The three-piece suits were a three-quarter length swag coat, skirt and hip-length belted jacket. Often two pieces were checked or plaid tweedy wool, with the third piece in plain color.

When the ensemble is four-piece, the outer coat usually is full-length. Another suit variation is a checked skirt worn with a dark, belted jacket over a white jersey zipper-front blouse. Jackets and blouses have elbow sleeves. A scarf matching the skirt is worn accent type.

Skirt another type: A dark skirt, a knitted striped over-blower with short sleeves, and a dark scarf. These scarfs are seen in almost every suit collection. So are checks, plaids, and leather belts.

An added convenience in the form of a reversible jacket marks some of the ensemble dresses for late spring wear.

CHILD WELFARE MEET PUT OFF PENDING VISIT

Council of Clubs Is Postponed To Next Week

Anticipating the visit of a worker from the state department of child welfare, a meeting of the Pampa Council of Women's clubs called for Thursday morning will be postponed until the following Thursday, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, president, announced today.

The called meeting was planned to discuss sponsoring a child welfare board in this county. Since the expected visitor will be able to give full information regarding the project, it was decided to await her arrival.

Clubs in the council have discussed the plan since the regular council meeting on Jan. 5. At that time Mrs. W. H. Davis, welfare chairman here, presented the aims of child welfare organizations, and recommended that women's clubs in this county sponsor a movement for a county board.

Approval of the plan has been voted by practically all the separate clubs since that time.

The postponed council meeting will be at 9 a. m. Thursday, Jan. 25, according to present plans.

FEW RESERVATIONS ARE OPEN TO THOSE WISHING TO HEAR JOSH LEE AT BAW BANQUET

PUBLIC INTEREST IN THE SPEAKER IS WIDE. SPREAD

RESERVATIONS are open for a few more visitors to the American Association of University Women's banquet Thursday evening, when Josh Lee of Norman, Okla., will be the speaker, it was announced this morning by Mrs. J. B. Massa, president.

In addition to club members and their guests, a limited number of places were reserved for Pampans who are interested in hearing Mr. Lee. Reservations must be made by 10 a. m. Wednesday.

Mrs. J. A. Meek is in charge of reservations. Club members and guests, as well as others who desire to hear the noted speaker, are urged to call her as soon as possible, and certainly before 10 a. m. tomorrow. Speaker Well Known.

Mr. Lee is to speak in humorous style of current events and present-day celebrities. Many who have heard him in former appearances here or in other cities wish to take advantage of this opportunity, and others who know him only by reputation are eager to hear him.

As speaker, writer, and teacher of public speaking, he is known throughout the southwest and in many other parts of the nation where he has appeared on chautauqua and lyceum programs.

His appearance here will feature the annual founders' day banquet of the A. U. W., observing its seventh birthday.

MISSIONS IN INDIA IS PROGRAM SUBJECT OF COUNCIL DIVISION

A study of mission in India was conducted by group four of First Christian Women's council in a meeting with Mrs. Dick Robinson recently. Mrs. Ivy Duncan opened the program with a tribute to the late Mrs. Harry Marbury, who was a member of the group.

Mrs. H. C. Schoolfield conducted the devotional. Mrs. Ed Massey was lesson leader. Topics were as follows: A Story of India, Mrs. C. E. Hutchins; Biography of Mary Kingsbury, Mrs. Duncan; Biography of Mary Graybill, Mrs. Roy West; The Cure, Mrs. C. E. Riggins; A Life That Was Saved, Mrs. Emory Niblett; Indian Churches, Mrs. C. E. Hutchins; Biography of Mary Kingsbury, Mrs. Duncan; Biography of Mary Graybill, Mrs. Roy West; The Cure, Mrs. C. E. Riggins; A Life That Was Saved, Mrs. Emory Niblett; Indian Churches, Mrs. C. E. Mrs. C. O. Drew has returned from Muskogee and Tulsa, Okla., where she spent the past three weeks visiting relatives and friends.

Portrait Painter Is Also Clerk To House Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—The house appropriations committee is availing itself of the internal trouble of its own over the matter of its unofficial portrait painter.

The artist is James P. Scanlon, who also happens to be the committee's official clerk. He's an expert in helping draw up bills totaling billions for government expenditures. And in his spare time he paints with oils.

Here's the trouble. Scanlon is planning to do the portrait of Chairman James Buchanan of Texas. Portraits of past chairmen now hang on the committee wall, most of them costing between $300 and $1,000.

Scanlon says emphatically he is not doing the portrait to adorn the committee room. Several members of the committee say he is whether he wants it that way or not. Certainly it would save the house some money.

Dr. Splawn No Longer Opposed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—The 21 railroad brotherhoods of the United States and Canada which have protested confirmation of Dr. W. M. W. Splawn of Texas as a member of the interstate commerce commission today withdrew their opposition before a senate committee.

J. A. Farquharson, representing the trainmen, told the committee that their opposition to the Texan had been based solely upon the fact that in 1927 he served as a member of a board of arbitration which denied pay increases in western territory although granting them in eastern and southwestern territory.

"We did not agree with Dr. Splawn then and we do not now," Farquharson explained. "However, our complaint has been withdrawn because we probably never have found our country in such a state as it has been in the last few years and we believe it better to cooperate than to oppose."

NEW EXTENSION COURSE TO OPEN HERE ON MONDAY

A new course in extension work from West Texas State Teachers college will start next Monday at the beginning of the second semester. The spring course will be in abnormal psychology.

It will be taught by J. L. Dufloy, who has conducted the class in social ethics which 33 students are completing with examinations this week-end.

Information about the new course may be secured from Mrs. Sam Irwin, and students may enroll this week or Monday. The group will meet each Monday afternoon at 8:15. The course is open to those who wish college credit, and also to auditors.

PROFIT IN LOSS

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP)—Andrew Lindsay believes it pays to be used, and can show a net profit to prove it.

A jury here awarded Charles N. Stepp damages of $1 and costs in a case based on an automobile accident. On awards of less than $5, the law provides the costs cannot exceed the damages.

Thus, Lindsay won the court $2. He claimed witness fees of $2.10 however, and expects to pocket the ten-cent difference.

Mrs. Carson Watt, has been ill with measles.

Mrs. J. A. McNauly, Mrs. Irene May and daughter, and Mrs. J. L. Noel of Spearman visited here Thursday.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Sargent have revived announcement of the arrival of a daughter, born Wednesday evening.

Mrs. E. A. Davis and son, Junior, have returned after spending several weeks with her parents in South Texas.

T. B. Parker has returned after several weeks' business trip to Oklahoma and Kansas.

Portrait Painter Is Also Clerk To House Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—The house appropriations committee is availing itself of the internal trouble of its own over the matter of its unofficial portrait painter.

The artist is James P. Scanlon, who also happens to be the committee's official clerk. He's an expert in helping draw up bills totaling billions for government expenditures. And in his spare time he paints with oils.

Here's the trouble. Scanlon is planning to do the portrait of Chairman James Buchanan of Texas. Portraits of past chairmen now hang on the committee wall, most of them costing between $300 and $1,000.

Scanlon says emphatically he is not doing the portrait to adorn the committee room. Several members of the committee say he is whether he wants it that way or not. Certainly it would save the house some money.

BAMBINO SIGNS CONTRACT FOR $35,000 WAGE

SIGNS SAY RUTH WILL SOME DAY MANAGE YANKEES

BY EDWARD J. NEIL, Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16 (AP)—Baseball can rest calmly now until the major league clubs head southward. Babe Ruth has signed his 1934 contract at a wage of $35,000.

All precedent was swept aside for the most stirring winter event baseball has had to offer in the 14 years Ruth has been with the Yankees.

In the first place the Great Bambino, shading 40, came to terms peacefully enough, in strange contrast with his customary salary bouts with Co. Jacob Ruppert.

Secondly, he took a cut of $17,000 from the $52,000 salary Col. Ruppert paid him last season, amiably and willingly, adding to the suspicion of the experts that, despite demerol, Ruth some day will manage the Yankees.

"I have no understanding of any kind with Ruth for the future," Ruppert said, while the Babe scribbled his signature in the big brewery the colonel owns on Third avenue. "The future will take care of itself. His contract this year, which is agreeable to both of us, is as a player. He tells me he is in better shape than last season and that he hopes to play in at least 100 games."

"We have a manager for the Yankees—Joe McCarthy—for this year and next. He is in complete charge and I am satisfied to have him on the job. That's why I gave him a long term contract."

McCarthy has two years to run on a contract that calls for $35,000 a year. It was considered significant that the Babe, when offered $25,000 as an opening bid by Ruppert, countered with a request for $35,000, which the colonel promptly accepted.

The equanimity with which Ruth took the slash, despite his belief that he will play better ball this year than he did for $52,000 last season; the fact that Ruppert asked

Ramblers' Coach Is 'Stunned' By Cheers of Irish

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan. 16 (AP)—The cheers of 1,400 "Irishmen" were ringing in the ears of Elmer Layden, Notre Dame's new football coach today, following a tumultuous welcome given him at the annual banquet tendered the team by the St. Joseph valley alumni.

Layden told the record breaking crowd assembled in the university dining hall last night that he was "stunned" by the reception accorded him.

"All I can say, all I can promise," he said, "is that my associates and I will do our all to keep up the traditions of Notre Dame, in sportsmanship first and in football victories second. I know we have your cooperation."

Seated with the new head coach, who hails from Duquesne where he built up a powerful football machine, were members of the famous Notre Dame "Four Horsemen" team of 1934 of which he was one of the "horses." They were all there except Adam Walsh, "Rip" Miller and Ed Hunsinger.

NEW MONETARY IDEA MAY NOT AFFECT J. DOE

Economists Predict a Temporary Price Increase

By J. R. BRACKETT, WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—What would happen to the $10 in Mr. John Doe's pocket under President Roosevelt's plans for devaluing the dollar?

The answer, most experts agree, is virtually nothing at all for the present, but any number of things in the future.

As to the present, the $10 bill in Mr. Doe's pocket has been worth a certain weight in gold, but since abandonment of the gold standard he has not been able to get that gold. The president's plan would make it worth less gold, and formally prohibit its exchange for gold.

But, although the pile of gold behind Mr. Doe's $10 might be reduced in height and placed beyond reach, the bill in his pocket can still be handed in for ten one-dollar bills, 40 quarters or 100 dimes. That is, if he wants to carry that many.

Mr. Doe's second immediate concern is what will happen to prices. Nearly all economists agree there will be at least a temporary price rise. But after the opinion ranges from belief the rise will be only short-lived to predictions not only of a long term rise but also a new ability by the government to make prices stable.

Mr. Doe is further interested to know that devaluation will mean a profit of several billions to his government, and, thus, indirectly to him. If the legal 23.22 grains of gold in a dollar should be reduced to half that amount then the government has two dollars with half as much gold in each one.

The profit is new money, created by the simple bookkeeping operation of writing up the price of gold, or, in other words, reducing the amount of gold in the dollar. To the extent that his money is used, there is some inflation. It will be only credit expansion if used to retire government bonds.

him to manage his Newark club for the experience involved; and the additional facts that the Cincinnati Reds got nowhere in their effort to acquire him as a manager, all indicate that the Babe's last great baseball ambition will be satisfied here, where he has gained his greatest glory.

'ELLIE' VINES BEATS TILDEN SECOND TIME

LARGEST GATHERING IN SECTION'S HISTORY SEES MATCH

BOSTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—Youth triumphed over skill, and Ellsworth Vines stood even today with the veteran Bill Tilden in their professional tennis series.

Each had two matches to his credit as the West Coast youngster and the old master traveled to Providence, R. I., for their next appearance.

A crowd of 11,500, the largest tennis gathering in New England's history, saw them fight it out last night at the Boston Garden.

The first set went to 26 games and was lost by Vines on his own errors after a thrilling battle. The match score was 13-14, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Eisen Jacobs, holder of the women's national title, was one of the spectators. "Vines ran Tilden ragged," was her comment. "Ellie is at the top of his game. I never saw him play better tennis."

Tilden took the first two matches of the series in New York and Philadelphia. Vines captured the third in Washington and the fourth last night here.

Ludlow To Fight Mickey Dunivan Thursday Night

Promotor B. W. Kelly has arranged his first fight card of the new year for Thursday night at the Pla-Mor auditorium. He has matched Odie Ludlow, sensational Vic, Okla., battler and Mickey Dunivan of Springfield, Mo., for the 10-round main event.

Borger's bad man, Pete Regal, will be back in Pampa in the six round semi-final with Dick Whittington, Wellington, Texas, slugger. Another good six rounder and a four-round bout will be on the card. The preliminaries have not been matched but it may be that Kid Stamper, Kid Hill, Smoky Brown, and K. O. Brown will be seen in the ring.

Ludlow started in the fight game at Oklahoma A. & M. college where he earned a championship. He was a member of the United States Olympic boxing team and was a sensation. He later turned professional and has had a meteoric career. He was undefeated in 1933 and he met all comers. He is a dangerous hitter and can take plenty of punishment.

Dunivan made a hit with Pampa in his last fight here. Since that time he has been training hard and has become accustomed to this altitude and climate. He is a fast stepper with an ability to flick gloves and take punishment. He is not a hard hitter but one that hits often.

The same bargain admission prices will be charged.

4 TEAMS WILL PLAY AT GYM THIS EVENING

HARVESTERS POINTING TO SANDIE GAME HERE FRIDAY

Over in Borger, the Bulldog basketball team and fans are anticipating with relish what they consider could be a possible victory over the Harvesters on the local court tonight.

Next to Pampa's, the Bulldogs had the best team at the district tournament last year, and the Harvesters beat them out by a few points, and since then they have been plotting for revenge. Borger has a smooth scoring machine, but a weaker defense. Pampa got off to a slow start on account of late-season football games. Then, the Harvesters improved quickly, but the absence of Captain Miles Marbaugh from the lineup for two weeks again slowed down the team.

Borger has shown steady improvement. The Harvesters have the best material, and the hope favors the Pampans. The local cagers hope to start clicking tonight in a manner which will enable them to smother the Sandies Friday night.

The Borger girls will play the Harvestettes, starting at 7:15 o'clock. Admission will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for students.

Borger's Bulldogs started the season with a losing streak, falling before Amarillo, Panhandle, and other teams. However, the team has been showing a world of improvement in the last few weeks and should give the Harvesters trouble. The Bulldogs gave Athens some stiff competition recently.

Coach Odus Mitchell has been working his boys at stop-speed for several days. The last two appearances of the team have been ragged, but improvement should be seen tonight. Passing, shooting,

Eastman Farm Is Ideal Setup For Escape Plot

EASTMAN FARM, Houston County, Jan. 16 (AP)—The Eastman Farm from which five convicts shot themselves to freedom, is one of six tracts of land, which Texas maintains for purposes of rehabilitating criminals. To this particular farm are sent the most desperate of the convicts when it is at all practicable to "farm" them out.

It is in East Texas, Houston county, on the Trinity river, near the little town of Weldon. It comprises 13,040 acres.

The land is black—hard to negotiate or cultivate when rain is falling, or for days after precipitation makes it boggy and sticky. Less than half of the land is in cultivation, and 1,000 acres are in the river bottoms, subject to overflow. About 7,000 acres are in timber and pasture. There are two well built camps, where the convicts are housed, on the property.

In spite of the fact prison officials consider it the best place for desperadoes, it does furnish a more or less ideal set-up for a situation where a group of convicts could lay well-matched plans to shoot themselves out. The Trinity river bottoms, in that vicinity furnish an almost impenetrable hiding place for fugitives, and general handling of the mail have been stressed in practice sessions.

Coaches McDonald and Ouse have also been giving the Harvesters some pointers on basketball game should be played. Several new combinations have been tried. New faces may appear in tonight's lineup. Borger is said to have a strong girls' sextet.

Friday night the Amarillo Sandies will come to Pampa for a return game. The Sandies defeated Pampa 18 to 16 in Amarillo last week. Saturday night both Pampa teams will open the conference season in Lufkin. The games are expected to be hard-fought. Coach Duncan's Pirates handed McAlear a defeat last week in a real upset battle.

LIFE AT LOWEST EBB WHEN MAN LIES IN BED BEFORE BREAKFAST

BY F. E. COLTON, Associated Press Science Writer. WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—A scientist has found that a man lying in bed before breakfast produces barely enough energy to keep an averaged sized candle burning.

This "one candle-power" of energy is what it takes just to keep alive, the overhead cost of running the body. It is part of the findings of Dr. Francis G. Benedict of Carnegie Institution of Washington in a study of energy consumed in physical effort, made public today.

If a man's energy production could somehow be connected to an electric wire in these early morning hours when "the flame of life burns low" it would just suffice to keep one 68-watt bulb lighted, he found.

This amount of heat-energy production represents one calorie a minute. But when a man gets out of bed and goes to work his energy production rises tremendously and so do his food requirements.

"Two jumps of sugar would run a man resting quietly for about an hour," says Dr. Benedict, "a pat of butter for one and one-half hours, and a doughnut would furnish the calories he would need for about three hours."

"Now when he begins to move about the extra (in calories) mount, just sitting up increases the cost 5 per cent, standing up 10 per cent, a brisk walk will increase it by 200 per cent, and a man working up to the limit of human endurance will increase it 1,000 per cent or more."

Makes Mirth for Conoco

Tony Sarg, internationally known artist, toy designer, and marionette showman, is the creator of a series of funny Conoco Bronze Gasoline cartoons which will appear in this newspaper during the first three months of 1934. Sarg, shown above with several characters from his marionette show "Treasure Island", was born in Guatemala and educated in Germany. News of his employment was accompanied by the announcement that Continental Oil Company will spend more for newspaper advertising in 1934 than during any previous year.

Stop shootin', Slim, we'll run 'em down with Conoco Bronze!

Few city dwellers know the getaway and speed of the jack-rabbit—but it parallels the performance of Conoco Bronze very accurately.

Instant starting, lightning pick-up are assured by a special blending of three types of gasoline. That is not all—so is long mileage, smooth performance at all speeds, great power and high anti-knock—features that will make this winning gasoline of 1933, the leader in 1934... No, there is not a premium price to pay.

Dealers Must Give Liquor Inventories For Tax Purposes

Liquor retailers and manufacturers must make a complete inventory of all floor stock of January 12, according to information received here by Ralph Kenniston, deputy collector.

The inventory is compelled by provisions of a liquor law which went into effect January 12. Forms used to make out the inventories may be secured at Mr. Kenniston's office in the Federal Building.

The information, wired to Mr. Kenniston by W. A. Thomas, collector of internal revenue for northern district of Texas, stated: "Notices are being sent out from the office of collector of internal revenue, Dallas, advising all persons having alcohol or other distilled spirits or wine on hand for sale or for manufacture to prepare a complete inventory of floor stock on hand at the beginning of business, Friday, January 12, 1934. These instructions are in accordance with provisions of liquor taxing act, which became effective on January 12."

Applies to drug stores or anyone handling alcohol, whiskey or wines.

WORLD'S SECOND LARGEST TELESCOPE TO BE SENT TO TEXAS

BLOND GODDESS

A New Serial by HERBERT JENSEN

SYNOPSIS: Frank Grahame finds himself involved in a tangle concerning Janice Kent, the movie star. Janice has met with a slight accident in her motor, and Frank believes the accident was engineered by a man named Ortega, a Central American anxious to have the movie executive Myberg film a Mexican picture. Janice refuses to believe Ortega had a share in it. Spin Winslow, fellow aviator with Grahame, suggests it may be because Janice wants the lead in Ortega's film. Frank is attracted to Janice, and resents Spin's insinuations; nor can Frank forget the vulgar scene he saw peering through the window of Myberg's office, which aroused instinctive resentment in his mind.

Chapter Seven

DISAPPEARANCE
Grahame strode toward the phone. As he seated himself, he pushed his fingers through his hair.

He made an unconscious gesture about his necktie. He dialed a number that was scrawled upon the telephone pad.
A maid answered the call. No, Miss Kent wasn't at home. Oh, Mr. Grahame? Would he wait a moment, please?
He watched the little clock upon the table across the room tick away the minutes. He listened intently, wondering if the connection had been broken—but, no, there was no dial buzz.
He smiled a little ruefully, thinking that perhaps this delay was but the beginning of his knowledge of women. Someone had said that women were never conscious of time with men. Some ironical husband, perhaps.
He felt a pleasant tingling at the immediate correlation of ideas that swarmed in his mind. That Janice Kent should keep him waiting was thrilling indeed.
A breathless voice finally answered.
"This is the maid speaking again, Mr. Grahame." Her voice sounded curiously disturbed. "Miss Kent isn't at home. No, no. Don't misunderstand me. She thought you would call, and was waiting. But when I went to her room she was gone! Hello! Hello! Are you still there, Mr. Grahame?"
"Yes, Tell me. Hurry. Gone, you say?"
"Yes, gone. But she couldn't be. She was not quite dressed. But there's a jar of powder broken and spilled on the floor."
Grahame interrupted, "I'll come right out." He hung up the receiver. He waited a moment and savagely dialed a number.
"Hello, Spin? Say, Spin, get over here. Instantly. What's that? Forget it. This is serious. Just talked with Janice Kent's maid. Janice is gone. Yes, yes. Disappeared. Hurry!"
As he stepped from the doorway of his apartment house, he saw the street, headlights flashed upon him. Winslow, in his blue roadster, had hurried.
The maid said with a trace of silliness in her voice:
"I tell you Miss Kent always tells me where she will be. There may be studio calls, you know."
Grahame put his hand on Winslow's arm. "Lay off her, Spin," he remonstrated.
"You try," Winslow suggested. He watched the maid narrowly.
"How long ago was it," questioned Grahame, "that you saw her?"
She glanced at the clock on the dresser.
"Four . . . a little less. Miss Kent said she would be down for a while, then dress." She spoke directly to Grahame, ignoring Winslow. She had large eyes with long lashes; her hair was blue-black. Her mouth was a little sallow, but she was good-looking.
"She expected your call. She said—if you phoned within the next half hour—to tell you she expected to have dinner with you. Other wise she'd talk with you herself. You phoned. I came in here to tell her. She wasn't here . . . just this."
She pointed to the crystal powder jar which lay in pieces upon the rug.
"Didn't you hear it fall?"
Her glance met Grahame's, then shifted to the floor again.
"The rug is very thick."
Winslow grunted. He said: "If she went out, what did she wear?"
"She was to wear that tonight. I put it out."
"Where are the things she wore when she came in? What were they?"
The maid frowned, thinking. "A blue ensemble." She glanced around. "It isn't here. I'll look in the closet." She stepped across the room and opened a door.
Winslow, behind her, whistled thickly and muttered, "Some closet." It was a small room; row upon row of clothes stretched across it no hangers. Winslow pointed to the end of a hanger that stuck out from one of the nearer rows. "What was on that?"
"An 'on'—A coat, I think. They're all coats on this rack."
A bell rang faintly. Footsteps sounded. They looked toward the doorway of the room. A dapper little man entered. He wore a pearl gray suit, a gray shirt and tie. There was a pearl set in the ring he wore. Only the tips of his shoes showed black under gray spats.
He said, in clipped syllables, "Hello, Winslow. Hello, Mr. Grahame."
Grahame nodded. Winslow said, "Hello, Greene. How'd you get here? This isn't one of your damned publicity stunts, is it?"
Greene looked aggrieved. "Certainly not, Spin. Paula phoned me." He nodded toward the maid.
"Phone anybody else?" Winslow turned to the girl.
"Mr. Myberg. He should be here any time."
"Have you phone anybody else?" repeated Winslow.
"No."
"Did anybody phone this num-

LETTERS WILL BE AWARDED TO BOYS ON HARVESTER FOOTBALL TEAM ON THURSDAY AFTERNOON

Assembly To Be Held In Gym At One O'Clock

The awarding of letters to members of the Harvester football team of 1933 will be held at assembly in the gym on Thursday afternoon at one o'clock. The Harvester has a good year and, with the inelegibility of Amarillo, won the championship of District One. They then played Abilene and won the Bi-District, but lost to San Angelo in the quarter-finals. This ended their battle, but the spirit of sportsmanship gained by every member still remains.
Some of the players will graduate this year, but there will be a good team of boys left.

Mrs. Kemp, Senator Huey Long's candidate, was elected without opposition; Sanders was unofficially selected in a "citizens' election."

Alley Funeral Set For Today

Funeral services for Lee Alley, 58 who died suddenly yesterday morning while en route to his work beyond Skellytown, were to be conducted at the First Baptist church at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor, and the Rev. Gaston Foote, pastor of the First Methodist church, were to officiate. Burial was to follow in Fairview cemetery under the direction of the Stephenson Mortuary.

Mr. Alley, a resident of Pampa for more than six years, was a drifter. He had not previously been ill. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Frances and Norma Lee, both at home. Other survivors are his mother, Mrs. Kate Alley and a sister, Mrs. Floy Lige, both of Hillsdale, Mich.

Mr. Alley was a member of the Masonic lodge at Breckenridge. He was a member of the Baptist church here and an active worker in the Fellowship class.

Palbearers named were J. B. Jensen, D. A. Patterson, W. G. Cunningham, A. D. Ingram, E. C. Link and Lee Camp.

Burl Thomas of Laketon visited in Pampa yesterday afternoon.

Ten Frenchmen Burn To Death In Plane Crash

CORBIGNY, France, Jan. 16 (AP)—Air Minister Pierre Cot spurred an investigation today of the crash of the great mail plane Eureka in which ten persons were killed.
Five high French officials were among those burned to death when the giant tri-motored plane, flying from French Indo-China to Paris, crashed and exploded near here last night.
One eyewitness said the plane crashed through the trees on a steep hill and struck a high tension wire, causing the fire. It was flying low in a storm in an attempt to land.
The victims were:
Pierre Pasquier, governor general of French Indo-China; Emmanuel Chamis, director of civil aviation in the air ministry; Mme. Chaumet; M. Balazuc, director of technical service in the air ministry; M. Nogues, traffic manager of the Air France company; M. Larrieu, air ministry attaché; Captain Bassault, military aid of M. "No!" Both Winslow and Greene spoke together. Even the maid's lips formed the word.
Grahame said, surprised, "Well, who?"
"No—A strange voice spoke from the doorway. "We will not notify the police . . . not yet."
They turned. A man stood at the door. His head was round and bald, and sat upon his shoulders like an orange on a box; there seemed to be no neck. His figure was short and burly, and clad in black.

HERE IS HOW CHILDREN MAY OBTAIN FREE TICKET TO SEE "LITTLE WOMEN," NOTED MOVIE

KILLED IN WRECK
VERNON, Jan. 16 (AP)—W. B. Miller, 50, Okla., was killed and four other persons injured when two automobiles collided head-on 10 miles north of Vernon late last night. The drivers were Merle O. George and J. R. Drake, both of Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Baker of Mangum, Okla.
Students at South Dakota Wesleyan college have received 2,400 pounds of flour and 4,200 pounds of pork as donations for the school cafeteria.
"Uncle Bud" Russell, Texas penitentiary transfer agent, has handled 100,000 prisoners without losing one.
Sixty-four dairy herds in Iowa last year finished the year's tests with butterfat averages above 400 pounds for each cow.
Eleven million quarts of small fruits are grown annually on Illinois farms for home use and sale.
Here's a big chance for all school children to obtain a show ticket absolutely free. So look up in the attic, through the book shelf, and down in the cellar for an old copy of Louisa M. Alcott's famous novel, "Little Women." If you are lucky, and a copy of "Little Women" can be found, take it to the La Nora theater either Wednesday or Thursday and receive in exchange a free ticket to see the screen version of "Little Women," which seems to be all ten of the best pictures of the year. All school children are eligible to bring the "Little Women" books to the La Nora for free tickets.
The books obtained by the La Nora will be given to the high school library. Copies of "Little Women" are declared to be still in demand even though the novel was written by Louisa M. Alcott in 1868 and over 20,000,000 people are estimated to have read it.
The regular showing of "Little Women" will be at a preview Saturday night and on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, with a

GUARDIAN BONDED

SEATTLE (AP)—Mrs. Evelyn Pointer was bonded for one cent in superior court, and Superior Judge John A. Fryer furnished the penny. Her brother, George Butler, who is 18, wanted to join the army, but he needed a legal guardian to consent. The appointment of Mrs. Pointer was agreed upon by the government guardian district court. The bond was then arranged.

U. S. AND ENGLAND ARE PREPARING FOR BATTLE IN FINANCE

BUT THEY MAY BE OPPONENTS OR PARTNERS

NATIONS COULD AGREE ON STABILIZATION RATE

By CLAUDE A. JACGER
Associated Press Financial Editor
NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—With dollars and pounds as pawns, and prosperity the stakes, Uncle Sam and John Bull are preparing for an extraordinary contest in finance—whether they will play as partners or opponents remains to be seen.

The United States is preparing to duplicate the huge British equalization fund, for which parliament has appropriated funds approximating close to $1,900,000,000 at the current rate of exchange. President Roosevelt in his message to congress yesterday proposed the creation of a $2,000,000,000 fund, to control the value of the dollar in relation to the British pound sterling, and also, if necessary, to steady the market for U. S. government bonds.

Inflationists in this country want to see the dollar decline in relation to the pound. The committee for the dollar as low as $7 to the pound. Recent rates have been between $5 and $5.50. London was happy when, a year ago, the pound was about $3.35, and it was felt in international banking circles at that time that about the highest the pound could be stabilized would be $3.50.

At the start of the economic conference last June, it was understood the British could not endure a higher level than $3.80, although they later agreed to a tentative stabilization around $4.20. What the financial world now awaits to see is whether the two giant financial powers will compromise upon a rate at which to stabilize their currencies, perhaps somewhere within striking distance of the old parity of $4.86, or whether the two giant funds will engage in a contest for advantage. So far as can be learned in sources close to the federal reserve bank, its relations with the Bank of England are most amiable, and some financial quarters believe that if a compromise could be reached, the two funds might indeed cooperate to restore world monetary stability. The operations of the two funds may be subject to much guesswork and conjecture for some time. The buying and selling of foreign exchange and gold by the British fund is shrouded in deep mystery in London, and it is assumed that the international operations of the American fund will also be con-

PAMPA DELEGATION MAKES HIT AT SHOWING OF CHEVROLET CARS IN OKLAHOMA CITY ON MONDAY

BY HARRY E. HOARE.

It would be futile to try to describe all the beauty, grace, and changes in the new Chevrolet, which made its first appearance in the southwest yesterday in Oklahoma City. Pampans will have to wait until the first car is delivered here to find out what Chevrolet has given the public for 1934.

The Culberson-Small Chevrolet company sponsored a trip to Oklahoma City to the first showing. Pampa business men, oil men, and salesmen inspected the new cars, and at a banquet yesterday were enthusiastic about the reception Chevrolet will receive. Frank Culberson, manager of the local agency, handed the district manager orders for more than 100 cars, which makes a record at the show and gave Pampa much publicity.

The new Chevrolet, with "knee action" wheels, 80 horse-power blue streak motor instead of 65 horse-power, streamlined body and more than 100 other improvements, will be in Pampa soon. The officials at Oklahoma City would give no definite date when to expect the first car. Pampa, being the sales leader, will get that car.

"Knee action" in the Chevrolet is slightly different from that of other cars. Instead of the "knee action" being open to view on the Chevrolet it is enclosed in a cylinder which makes it dust-proof. The new Chevrolet is longer—112-inch wheelbase—roomier, more powerful, and quieter than former models. The engine is placed several inches forward in the chassis and seating has been re-arranged so as to provide more space in both front and rear.

The frame of the 1934 Chevrolet has been strengthened and is known as the "YK" type. The brakes are made larger and stronger by using full cable to both front and rear.

The free-wheeling device has been left off the 1934 model but the "starter" and accelerator remain on the same pedal. Pampans making the trip to Oklahoma City were Frank Culberson, Bob Fuller, E. C. Will, Howard Neath, Earl O'Keefe, R. O. Johns, Edgar Fields, Jess Reeves, Sid Stone, Earl Talley, Bill Lewis, Lewis Bridge, Wade Thomasson, Andy Smith, Verne Webb, Max Mahaffey, Swing Williams, Roy Bourland, and Harry E. Hoare.

deducted secretly, as has the recent R. F. C. foreign gold buying. On the basis of the Washington and London gold prices of the past day or two, sterling has been far too low in relation to the dollar. What may tend to keep it down, according to foreign exchange experts, is some $1,900,000,000 in American currency that has fled abroad, and will presumably stay back now that an important step has been taken toward defining the value of the dollar.

The bringing back of this capital, most of which is now believed to be lodged in London, will require selling sterling and buying dollars, thus tending to depress sterling and bolster the dollar. The American fund will presumably sell dollars and buy sterling as this process goes on, using the sterling to buy gold in the London market.

Boy, are they out gunning! They're so mad this morning they could eat fried chicken,—or Doubt Hoover. If all came up in the house yesterday when the democrats passed a motion installing the gag rule under which to discuss the economy bill. This rule, as you may know, gets its name from the manner in which it "gags" legislative debate, and limits each side to a certain amount of time on a question.

The republicans have long sought some way to catch the president off guard, but having given that up, they've been waiting for an opening on some important measure to belittle the democratic intelligence in the congressional chambers. The economy bill was just what they had been waiting for, they claim, and after days of diligent preparation to bitterly denounce it for hours at a time in the house, the democrats came along and kicked the corners, right out from under their block house by passing the gag rule.

Unquestionably the republicans made more use of the gag rule, when they were in power, than the democrats ever will, but it does seem unfortunate that the Roosevelt Rooters resorted to a measure like that so early, when they would have won out via the regular route anyhow. It just goes the other side something to holler about, and from the way they all chimed in at the same second, there can be no doubt about the rehearsals they've had in anticipation of such an opportunity.

But I still feel like the Mother, who says "I don't care what the other boys do! Just because they commit a wrong is it any excuse for your doing the same thing?" Some mothers might even add "There's no credit in getting down on the same plane with your on-cast acquaintances!"

Now if F. D. R. can come through the house as successfully with his budget affairs (although the vote under the gag rule on the economy bill only passed by 5 votes, 197-192), he'll be in high cotton. He says he can borrow 10 billions, even though 6 billions of it will be a new debt. If he does, he'll probably wait until some of his congressmen get back into the tall and uncut, then devalue, so at the end of the fiscal year in June the books will look about 50 per cent better than we now think they will. Where there's a will there's a way! Yeah!—especially when you've got things arranged so you can say "I will" without having to see what the majority of 500-odd legislators can say about the matter!

An editorial in a Washington paper the other day lauded the Congressional Record, and called it the most interesting and diversified reading of the day. Uh huh! So is the budget if you take much time but who wants to make their hobby analyzing budgets and Congressional Records?

It must be admitted, though, an interesting prediction and a beautiful insinuation lay deep in the figures of the budget. Government statisticians prophesied (they have to in order to specially compute expected tax revenues) industrial activity at an index of 79 for the first half of 1934, compared with the existing index of 73. They've figured the second half of '34 at 91, and the first half of '35 at 105—1923-25 levels!

Jacoby Refuses To Play While Woman Remains
NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—The football and national tournament of the United States bridge association is on its final lap today, with little to choose between the two teams left after three days of elimination matches. David Burnstone, Oswald Jacoby, Howard Schenken and Michael Gottlieb had a plus of 2,050 pounds when the first half of the match—60 boards—was concluded at 1:30 a. m. The caliber of their opponents—Sidney Busnow, Walter Marlowe, Lee Langdon and E. Bachner—left the result still in doubt, however.

Don't be "run down"
Keep your system supplied with plenty of vitamins and minerals—then you'll get back "pep," shake off colds

Life seems terrible when you catch cold all the time, can't sleep, don't want to eat, are "all worn out." But do you know what the trouble is 9 times out of 10?

You're Vitamin Starved!
Your need is an extra supply of those magic vitamins which nature keeps you alive and thriving. Now—thanks to modern discoveries—you can get these vitamins without taking cod liver oil. McKesson laboratories have separated the precious vitamins from the fishy oil and bring them to you in convenient tablet form.

In 3 McKesson's VITAMIN CONCENTRATE TABLETS are the vitamins of 2 whole teaspoons of high grade cod liver oil! Each tablet contains 1000 vitamins A units; 500 vitamin D. Also, McKesson's bring you important minerals (calcium and phosphorus). It will do you lots of good to take McKesson's VITAMIN CONCENTRATE TABLETS OF COD LIVER OIL with your meals this winter. Just take a couple after each meal. They're chocolate-coated—no fishy taste. Give them to your children, too. See how amazingly fast they improve—fewer colds, more appetite, better health.

Start At Once
Go down to the drugist's now and ask for McKesson's VITAMIN CONCENTRATE TABLETS. Be sure you get McKesson's because these are the ONLY vitamin concentrate tablets which also bring you minerals as well as vitamins.

WHY SCREEN'S 'GREAT LOVER' FAILED TOLD

WIVES TELL ON JOHN GILBERT; AMBITION IS BLAMED

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 16. (AP)—His arms have encircled some of the world's loveliest women and his lips have whispered to them: "I love you."

But that was in motion pictures where the script assured a happy ending.

The scenario written by reality and starring John Gilbert has not followed the approved style of Hollywood films. Four times he has been married to young and beautiful women. Each time the union failed.

When Hollywood learned his fourth wife, Virginia Bruce, had left him, filmdom asked:

"Why can't the screen's greatest lover be a success with love in real life?"

"Temperament," answered Leatrice Joy, his second wife. His first wife, Olivia Burrell, was not here to offer a reply.

His Claire, a stage favorite and the actor's third wife, said Gilbert was irritable and moody.

But his fourth wife, Miss Bruce, who with their 5-month-old daughter, Susan Ann, recently left their Beverly Hills home, said she wanted to go on record as "being the staunchest friend Jack ever had."

"I wouldn't attempt to analyze why Jack's marriages have failed," she said, "or even why we are separated at the present time. If there's anything wrong with him, it is because he is a victim of his own driving ambition. His work is his mistress."

She termed her year and one-half with Gilbert as "one of the grandest chapters in my life." She said they were incompatible—that he just didn't "fit into the domestic pattern."

Obtaining a divorce from Gilbert on August 5, 1931, Miss Claire took part of the blame herself, saying:

"He was irritable and moody. His career meant everything to him. Whatever troubles and quarrels we had, I feel it was as much my fault as his."

To all this, Gilbert shrugged his shoulders and said: "There isn't anything for me to say, is there?"

National Crude Production Up 210,255 Barrels

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 16. (AP)—Oklahoma, Texas and California, and principally Oklahoma, contributed to the flood of oil last week that shot national crude production up 210,255 barrels in daily average from 2,165,600 to 2,366,855 barrels a day, the Oil and Gas Journal says. National allowable is only 2,183,000 barrels.

Oklahoma output rose from 377,760 to 548,225 barrels a day, an increase of 170,465 barrels, attributed to the desire of producers to get their month's allowable quickly. The state's allowable is 466,600 barrels a day.

The Texas flow was 932,748 barrels, as compared with 884,000 federal allocation and 906,688 barrels average the previous week. The Journal's explanation of the increase is that some of it is "hot," or illegally produced, oil.

SPEARMAN GETS NEXT MEETING OF LIONS GROUP—PAMPANS ARE SPEAKERS IN FOLLETT SESSION

FOLLETT, Jan. 16. — Spearman was given the next quarterly session of group of Lions clubs here last night, and Frank Wendt and Fred Hoskins of the same town were elected chairman and secretary, respectively, of the same.

Entertainment was contributed by each club—Perryton's contribution was an orchestra and an initiation stunt. Miss Pearl Fox and Miss Alena Sumpter of Follett sang duet numbers, accompanied by J. F. Christy, District Secretary. Olin E. Hinkle of Pampa made the principal address as official representative of District Governor Del W. Harrington of El Paso, using "Contacts" as his subject.

Scout Executive C. A. Clark made a short talk complimenting the Lions clubs for sponsoring Boy Scout troops. He announced the nationwide "mobilization for service" to be held by Scouts February 10 at the request of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The Pampa men stopped at Miami and Canadian for Boy Scout conferences. Scouting is being re-organized in Canadian, with the Rotary club and American Legion posts as sponsoring organizations and the Rev. Fred Dawson, minister of the First Presbyterian church, as scoutmaster.

Felt Much Better By Taking Cardui

"I took Cardui at two different times for a run-down condition," writes Mrs. P. M. Deason, of Tyler, Texas. "I would get nervous and could not sleep well. This would make me feel badly in daytime. I read about Cardui and thought it would be a good idea to take it. I took eight bottles one time and six another. I felt much better after taking it and was able to sleep. If you are weak, run-down, nervous, take Cardui, for women."

LET'S HOPE IT WON'T BE NEEDED IN TEXAS

1933... 250 thousand jobless boys marching off to the field and forest camps of the C. O. C. ... 22 million people who "saw the Fair" ... wheat and cotton doing better ... millions of wage earners back at work ...

What a year that was! It left history behind it. In the telephone business, things went from bad to worse through almost all the first seven months of the year. In that time we lost about 16,000 telephones in Texas. Long distance calls were at a low ebb. Our ledgers, columns of red figures grew longer and longer.

And then ... came a turn! For the most hopeful thing that happened in 1933 was the fact that in August we stopped losing telephones. In the last months of the year we gained telephones. And while the gain was hardly a bare fraction of the tens of thousands lost during the depression, it was good to know that the long decline apparently was ended.

No one can say what 1934 may hold. But it is hopeful to know that some wages have been raised ... that better prices for wheat and cotton and oil have brought millions of dollars into Texas, ... that, almost as a unit, the nation's industry has settled itself for the long pull back.

One thing we know: In the year ahead, 6,700 seasoned telephone employees in Texas will be working with a new enthusiasm, anxious and eager to serve. Their goal will be to give you good telephone service at an honest cost.

Good ... because no retreat in standards will satisfy the demands you have learned to make of your telephone. Fair in cost ... because there is no room for excess earnings in an undertaking planned, like the telephone service, for the long pull. Charges based solely upon the cost of rendering service ... a service that must be continuous and stable ... must in the long run bring the soundest, most substantial measure of success.

What is fairest for you becomes, in the long run, the policy that is best for us.

calves are commonly said to be "dough-bellied." This word became contracted to "dobe." But it sounded too much like the Mexican word adobe and so it comes down to us as dogie (pronounced dough-gie). We can't vouch for the accuracy of this definition, but it sounds reasonable enough.

The old-time cowboy as we knew him when a boy carried his tunes in his head and in his head and the words as well, and extemporized to suit his fancy. The soothing melodies lately set to music were sung on the trail with no other accompaniment than the monotonous herd noises and, of course, he sang around the bunk house in the evening. That the loneliness of the cowboy's life lent a plaintive note to his songs was inevitable, but there was no cheap sentimentality as he sang them. Much of the "old time music" sung on western programs did not originate on the ranges and it is unfortunate that true cowboy songs are almost losing their identity. The real cowboy song had a useful purpose in calming the nerves of moving cattle and on occasion quieting excited animals being herded in stormy summer weather.

Pampa's sixth annual poultry show just closed more this community's great need of a sales and display pavilion. The growing demand for more permanent quarters for such exposition not so disputable. A permanent pavilion could be used for poultry shows, rabbit shows, trades day sales, stock judging contests, public sales, women's club achievement days, and many other purposes. It is longer convenient to use vacant business buildings because no permanent fixtures can be built, and it is not to be assumed that business buildings will always be vacant and therefore available. Although country fairs in the old sense are seemingly outmoded and abandoned by most of the larger counties in favor of regional expositions, there are a great many occasions on which the building facilities of prominent fair plants are needed. In short, the county fair is being taken up into a number of units such as poultry shows, rabbit shows, Boy Scout round-ups, and livestock sales. But these worthwhile events are home-less.
