SAM BRASWELL in Clarendon News—We believe in individualism but when members of a profession prove that they are unable to protect the public from public sharks operating under the protection of "Achilles" so-called it is time for somebody to rebuke the profession.

W. MAX WADE in Groom News—The growth of a city is merely winning newcomers. When strangers come to Groom how long does it take them to feel that someone is interested in them. If they move here to begin work, how many months elapse before the rest of us make them realize that they belong to Groom?

DAVID WARREN in Panhandle Herald—When Uncle Sam drives an individual out of business by selling below cost of production, who pays the taxes of the "evicted" business man. Ask us an easy one. The consumer is the "last man." He pays it.

HONEST BILL MILLER in Spearman Reporter—The Reporter wants to know who is the biggest LIAR in Hansford county. We will pay $5 to find out about this matter. The $5 will be paid for the best story submitted to the Reporter for publication on or before January 15, 1935.

W. H. GRAHAM in Parwell Tribune—Some folks are continually talking about other people. Doesn't it make you tired? And then some folks are continually talking about themselves. Doesn't that make you even more tired?

JODOK in Friona Star—Someone has said something to the effect that "poets are born, not made," and it occurs to me that some of them are neither born nor made, and I think it is the same with humorists. But by far the greater number of our present day humorists are unknown to the public outside their own small circle of intimate associates.

CHAS. A. GUY in Lubbock Journal—The unending business of the newspaper are more the less as here, as if their sacrifices were made during wartime in a hospital near the front.

The politician refers to the wives and mothers of the nation who in too many cases have felt the bitter sting of the economic lash for three or four years.

J. C. ESTLACK in Donley County Leader—We often hear people say that politics are mixed up with which some of us have to deal almost every day, and on which they base condemnation. The idea of politics being driven out of the general scheme of life, is a dream. Anything in which the general public, or even a part of them, participate has politics mixed up in it either factional, personal, commercial or some other brand. This is equally true whether it be preachers, lawyers, doctors, teachers, newspaper men or any other profession or trade. More especially is this noticeable in the small towns, though generally regarded as of a petty nature.

THREE GUESSES

HOW OLD IS BELGIUM'S RULER?
WHERE IS GOVERNOR'S ISLAND?

I HEARD—
Asked in two Berger business places yesterday where the mayor could be found and neither place could even tell who was mayor of that thriving city. Believe it or not, it is true, and I heard is not trying to run in competition with Ripley.

CHIEF OF POLICE SHOT SIX TIMES, CASHIER IS INJURED

ATOHISON, Kan., March 12 (AP)—Four machine gun bandits robbed the Exchange National and Exchange State banks of approximately $21,000 here today, wounded Chief of Police Willard L. Linn, who was shot six times, and fled with nine bank employes as hostages, all of whom were released later.

Ed Iverson, cashier of the Exchange State Bank was beaten on the head during the holdup and fell from the robbers' car as it sped out of the city. He suffered a fractured skull.

The two banks, associate institutions, are located in the same building. Miss Addie Matlock, Miss Mary Low, and George Wolf, assistant cashier of the Exchange National bank, were the last of the hostages freed. They were released 4 1/2 miles south of here.

A report of a woman seen in a local hotel this morning who puffed at a big black cigar lent strength to the suspicion that the robbers were led by Clyde Barrow, southwestern desperado, and his companion, Bonnie Parker, Bonnie Parker is an inveterate smoker of "big black cigars," according to police descriptions.

The robbers gained entrance by knocking off the lock of a side door, and part of the gang waited inside for employes to arrive. A porter, Sam Overstreet, saw one of the men in the bank and phoned police. Working hurriedly, the robbers scooped up only what money was in the cash tills.

Kindergarten In Madrid Is Fired

MADRID, March 12 (AP)—Radical laborers set fire to a Catholic kindergarten full of children today but civil guards arrived in time to stop the attack, save the children and arrest two of the mob members.

The children were thrown into a panic. The furnishings of the school, in the conception district, were considerably damaged. Guards went into action several times when extremists stoned street cars. They dispersed several groups in hand-to-hand battles when attempts were made to overturn street cars in the Las Dentas and Diego Leon districts. Several were arrested. A street car battles were the first serious disturbances in the strikes.

25 Arrested Here During Week-End

Officers of Pampa had an unusually busy week-end. Most of those arrested paid fines promptly and were released.

Thirteen persons were arraigned in Justice James Todd Jr.'s court. Two were charged with vagrancy, two with drunkenness, and one with disturbing the peace. In Justice W. S. Baxter's court, five were charged with vagrancy, two with drunkenness, and one with disturbing the peace. City police officers made 12 arrests. The activity followed one of the quietest weeks of the year.

Burning Awning Is Extinguished

The fire department made a "half-block" run about 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning and extinguished a burning awning in front of the Singer Sewing Machine shop at 104 West Foster avenue. The damage was light.

The fire apparently started from a burning cigarette tipped into the awning by some "fun-loving" passer-by. The blaze might have been serious if the fire had worked in and not out of the awning. Chief Clyde Gold urges Pampans to be a little more careful.

Deaths Follow Altercation When Officer Is Knocked Down; Other Is Stabbed

STAMFORD, March 12 (AP)—Two brothers, victims of gunshot wounds received in an encounter with officers here Saturday night, were buried in the same grave Sunday afternoon.

They were Alton E. Salter, 25, Jones county farmer, and John

Lost to Army

Lieut. Otto Weinecke, above, killed in an a.m. crash near Bartles, O., was born in New York November 7, 1901. He had been flying since 1923 and was stationed at Mitchell Field when called in to the mail service. A crash near Cheyenne, Wyo., airport took the lives of Lieut. A. K. Kerwin, left, formerly of Cheyenne, a passenger, and Lieut. F. L. Howard, Shreveport, La., pilot, on a night practice flight. Pictures of the wreck were forbidden by army officers.

At Logan in northern Utah, the shock was declared to have been the heaviest ever felt. Plaster in houses cracked.

At Pocatello, Idaho, 185 miles north of Salt Lake City, a resident reported a window in his house broken.

The shocks also were felt at Blackfoot and Idaho Falls, Idaho, the latter about 300 miles north of here, and at Boise, Idaho, 400 miles to the northwest.

120 KILLED AS JAPAN'S CRACK BOAT CAPSIZES

TOKYO, March 12 (AP)—Japan's newest scorpion of the seas, the Tomozuru, a torpedo boat with an armament greater than most ships twice her size, was wrecked mysteriously today with the probable loss of 120 men.

The navy declined to describe the disaster immediately, but it was almost certain that the Tomozuru had capsized off the Sasebo naval base in heavy weather.

The ministry announced the ship had been found, after being missing since early morning, "badly damaged and drifting, many of her crew believed drowned."

The vessel, of 527 tons, was regarded as carrying one of the heaviest armaments ever conceived for a ship her size.

It was reported that on her fatal trip, in connection with maneuvers off the naval base, she carried 120 officers and men—far above her complement.

The Tomozuru was completed only February 26. It is a new type, outside the range of the limits of the London naval treaty, because the tonnage is less than 600.

The Japanese recently completed three such ships. It is understood 18 others are building or projected—each carrying three 5-inch guns and considered equal in fighting power to older and smaller destroyers.

It had been reported that vessels of the Tomozuru class were fitted with special apparatus to prevent capsizing.

SHOCKS BREAK BANK WINDOW PANES IN CITY

TWO BUILDINGS SWAY AGAINST EACH OTHER

SALT LAKE CITY, March 12 (AP)—Schools in this city were ordered closed today as a precautionary measure as earthquake shocks continued to shake the city. School officials said none of the institutions of learning was damaged except cracking of plaster, but the students were dismissed to prevent possible loss of life should a more severe tremor occur.

An earth shock that moved office buildings, stopped clocks and cracked windows and plaster in the city, was felt over northern Utah, southwestern Wyoming and southern Idaho this morning.

Office-bound residents stopped in Salt Lake City streets to watch the buildings sway. Householders reported swaying chandeliers, rattling furniture and clattering dishes.

A cloud of dust arose as the Ezra Thompson building and the Tribune building adjoining it rubbed walls. In the Continental bank building two windows were cracked, and cracks appeared in the plaster of the Cliff building, another tall office structure.

The first shock was felt at 8:05 a. m. (Mountain Standard time), followed by a much heavier one. Another slight shock was reported at 8:32 a. m.

At Logan in northern Utah, the shock was declared to have been the heaviest ever felt. Plaster in houses cracked.

At Pocatello, Idaho, 185 miles north of Salt Lake City, a resident reported a window in his house broken.

The shocks also were felt at Blackfoot and Idaho Falls, Idaho, the latter about 300 miles north of here, and at Boise, Idaho, 400 miles to the northwest.

Rock Springs, Wyo., to the east, and Provo, Utah, to the south, also experienced the shocks.

FIRST TEST VOTE ON BONUS IS SUFFICIENT TO OVERRIDE A VETO

DOUG FAIRBANKS, SR., AND MARY HAVE PATCHED UP DIFFERENCES AND ARE NEAR RECONCILIATION

Reunion Is Practically Assured In 2 or 3 Months; Both Will Continue Making Movies; Doug To Return Soon

By ALBERT W. WILSON

LONDON, March 12 (AP)—Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., and his wife, Mary Pickford, have practically patched up all their differences and are near a reconciliation, the Associated Press learned from indisputable sources today.

Fairbanks is planning to return to the United States in two or three months—as soon as he has finished a picture-making contract in Europe.

Hollywood's most famous couple may reunite as soon as he lands, but it seems more likely that it will be two months after that before they are reunited.

The couple would be reunited today if the divorce action of Lord Ashley against his wife—naming Fairbanks as co-respondent—had not caused an unforeseen delay.

While the terms of the settlement were not stated, Doug apparently has given up his plans that he and Mary should quit working. His work here is expected to satisfy her, but both will continue making movies.

"It is just a matter of time now," the Associated Press informant said, "but reconciliation will require several months."

By more than the two-thirds vote necessary to override a presidential veto, the house today approved immediate consideration of the Patman cash bonus bill. The roll call vote was 313 to 104.

Immediate consideration of the $2,000,000 measure got under way after it was agreed that two hours of debate be equally divided between the proponents and opponents.

Representative Fish (R. N. Y.) controlled the opposing hour and Representative Patman (D. Texas) that for those who favor paying the bonus with United States notes.

"Everybody knows what the result is going to be and we might as well do it here and now," said Cannon (D. Wis.).

The senate attitude toward the proposal is not clear.

A White House veto has been promised if the legislation is enacted.

House leaders said bonus advocates could not enlist two-thirds majority to pass it over a veto.

Both the emergency and permanent air mail legislation of the administration, meanwhile, was in controversy. The first, now before the senate after house approval, would set aside funds for the army to carry the task temporarily. The second undertakes establishment of an entirely new arrangement for private carrying of the mail.

In the house, Representative Kelly (R. Pa.) said the bill would continue the "proposition that causes us all our trouble." He referred to a provision to pay carriers by space available for mail.

In the senate, Senator Logan (D. Ky.) objected to provisions barring the transfer of a contract from one company to another, as well as the limitation of route extensions to 100 miles, as too rigid.

It was noticeable during the debate on the motion to consider the bill that none of the democratic leaders spoke in opposition.

Representative Isabella Greenway (D. Ariz.), close friend of the Roosevelt, voted for consideration.

POSTOFFICE ROBBED
MART, March 12 (AP)—The Mart postoffice was robbed early today of about $100 in stamps and about $200 in cash which was taken from a safe.

AN EXPLANATION?
LAMESA, March 12 (AP)—Three members of the Lamesa high school basketball team, which lost to Athens in the finals of the state tournament at Austin Saturday night, were sent home today with the measles. They were George Sturdivant, Jimmie Britt and Jude Smith.

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—Senator McAdoo (D. Calif.) today introduced a bill authorizing the postmaster general to make contracts immediately with private operators to carry the air mail for 90 days.

WHILE medical men differ on many points, they agree that fresh vegetables are the best source of supply for vitamins. As a general rule the leafy vegetables have the largest vitamin content.

Malnutrition is the result of a lack of vitamin A, which is a promoter of growth. This is particularly necessary to children, especially those that are a little backward, and a shortage of this vitamin is likely to cause or make them susceptible to ailments. Strong beans, cabbages, carrots, corn, Swiss chard, beet greens, lettuce, green peas, spinach and tomatoes contain this vitamin.

No Doctor Can Compound a Better Spring Tonic Than Fresh Vegetables. Irritability and in extreme cases scurvy result from too little vitamin C. It is to be found especially in cabbage, and the cooked root crops. To regain or to assure health, fresh vegetables are essential, and there is no better way to provide them than growing them in your own garden. Plan early this year, so that they may have real green heartiness on your table next summer.

CAPONE'S NAME INJECTED INTO TEXANS' TRIAL

Six Charged in Theft Of Government Bonds

SAN ANTONIO, March 12 (AP)—The name of Al Capone was brought into the trial of Z. D. Bonner, John H. Cunningham and four others as testimony was begun in Federal court today on charges linking them with the alleged disposition of $46,700 worth of stolen government bonds.

The testimony including Capone's name was immediately stricken when defense attorneys objected.

The name of the former Chicago beer and vice baron was injected when Harry N. Royster, wealthy sportsman-aviator, testified as a government witness.

Royster was asked to give the substance of a conversation he said he had with Cunningham, a prominent local attorney, here in June or July, 1932.

"I had been in Dallas," Royster began, "and saw some bonds supposed to have belonged to Al Capone."

Leonard Brown, attorney for Bonner, objected to this line of testimony on grounds the witness was voicing conclusions of his own. He was sustained.

Royster testified he told Cunningham that if he could find a certain man he could buy the bonds referred to at a price below the market price.

Editor's note: Here is a new and timely feature on planting and care of flowers, shrubs, and vegetables. It will appear frequently with local and general suggestions of merit. Watch for it.

GOOD fresh vegetables from the home garden, taken from the ground not over an hour before cooking, make the best health tonic in the world. Even modern science has not produced a better one, and a doctor will tell you, that for your health's sake you cannot do better than to grow your own vegetables, then eat them.

This is an interesting reflection during times when every nickel counts, and it makes the time spent in growing a garden for economy seem worth while—for good health is no small goal to attain, and if it can be reached through the simple tasks of gardening, surely there is no one who will neglect it for such little effort.

While medical men differ on many points, they agree that fresh vegetables are the best source of supply for vitamins. As a general rule the leafy vegetables have the largest vitamin content.

A UNI-CAMERAL BODY

When Young Democrats of West Texas in convention here last month passed a resolution advocating a uni-cameral body for the Texas legislature to be composed of 36 members, conservatives of the party shook their heads. Reform in the state government is not their idea of good politics.

But evidently the idea has met with some commendation for not long ago, Dale Miller in the Texas Weekly, commended the youths for their action and cited the need of such a change.

Just recently Senator Norris of Nebraska, a fairly elderly man, made a similar proposal for the Nebraska state legislature. He would substitute the bi-cameral body in Nebraska for a single body of from 30 to 50 men.

Senator Norris believes that bi-cameral legislature is unwieldy and not always responsive to public opinion; so he would abolish it boldly, install a simpler mechanism in its place—and, he believes, in that way create a more efficient and representative state government.

How far he will get with this program remains to be seen. Senator Norris has a way of hanging on like grim death until he gets what he wants. He never seems to get tired of fighting for sweeping changes in government.

How far the young Democrat leaders of West Texas will get with their proposal also remains to be seen. It is likely that the resolution will be brought up in the state convention in Dallas in May and there a lively fight is in prospect.

Senator Norris' proposal reveals that the plan of the youngsters here wasn't such a "half-witted" idea as conservatives charged.—Lubbock Avalanche.

AIR MAIL SERVICE EXPECTED TO BE RESUMED BY WEDNESDAY

AIRMAIL BILL FACING A VOTE BEFORE NIGHT

REPUBLICANS WANT TO DEBATE CRISIS IN AVIATION

THE AIRMAIL SITUATION
Army orders all mail planes grounded.
Congress speeds hearings on new airmail bills.
New "fair weather" schedules being drafted.
Resumption of curtailed airmail expected by mid-week.

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—The sky was empty of planes flying the mails today, just three weeks after the army took over the job.

The order grounding the planes made no mention of the ten deaths that have occurred since President Roosevelt cancelled the private subsidies and turned the airmails over to the army but it followed within a day of the president's statement that death in flying the mails "must stop."

Major-General Benjamin D. Foulis, chief of the air corps, directed the order to all airmail zones, calling upon them to:
"Suspend immediately all carrying of the airmail until your personnel and equipment are in position and ready to initiate the schedules furnished you in radiogram."

The order specified that no airmail flying should be undertaken until authorized by headquarters of the air corps.

What effect the cancellation of all airmail service, even though temporary, would have on American business which has come to rely upon the swifter means of mailing, was a moot question. Postal officials, prominently notified by airmail zone commanders of the changed situation, struggled to give the fastest possible train routes to stacks of airmail shuttled back to them by Sunday's order.

The interruption of service is not expected to last for more than two or three days. Maj-Gen. Foulis hoped to have a modified "fair-weather" schedule ready by Wednesday.

An emergency airmail bill, providing funds for temporary army operation, faced a senate vote before night, although considerable debate was in prospect. Some republicans accepted the entire situation as political, and wanted to debate it.

An amendment prepared by Senator Vandenberg (Mich.) would prohibit the use of emergency funds except where pilots have been trained in blind flying and carry equipment for such flying.

Whitey Walker Given Another 99-Year Term

BRYAN, Tex., March 12 (AP)—After being formally sentenced today to 99-years imprisonment for robbing Caldwell's Jewelry store here, three escaped Oklahoma convicts will be turned over to Marlin authorities for trial on indictments charging them with the $41,000 robbery of the First State Bank there.

A district court jury which had been considering testimony in the $10,000 jewelry store hold-up case since Saturday afternoon, returned convictions yesterday against W. J. (Whitey) Walker, Irvin (Blackie) Thompson and Ray Johnson, the Oklahoma desperadoes.

The jewelry store was looted of cash, diamonds and watches last December 14 by three men who, in escaping, took with them Mr. and Mrs. John S. Caldwell, the proprietor and his wife, and left them tied to trees some distance from Bryan.

The three outlaws took the life sentences calmly. Walker made some whispered remark to Thompson, after which both grinned. They had reason to think little of the sentences, for all three are under sentences to life imprisonment in Oklahoma. State's attorneys had asked that they be given the death penalty for the jewelry hold-up.

TEXAS JUNIOR CHAMBERS WILL SEEK DELINQUENT TAX PAYING

FORT WORTH, Mar. 12.—"Stop additional tax levies by paying back taxes now" was the slogan adopted here today at the outset of a statewide program to encourage liquidation of delinquent taxes, which is to be sponsored by the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A committee composed of Junior Chamber leaders over the state was appointed to direct the educational campaign which will be conducted during the week beginning March 19. Every avenue to public contact will be employed in an attempt to sell delinquent tax payers on the necessity of paying back taxes to forestall additional levies when the next legislature meets in Austin, Victor Bouldin of Mineral Wells, chairman of the Junior Chamber tax committee announced.

The governor has been asked to set aside the week of March 19 as "Delinquent Tax Week" and every mayor in the state will be requested to issue a proclamation in his city asking citizens, where possible, to meet their unpaid tax obligations. Persons financially unable to pay their taxes will not be included in the special request, Mr. Bouldin said, but those citizens who are able, and who have neglected to send in their checks, will be appealed to for assistance to the state and local treasuries.

The chairman pointed out that there are over 125 million dollars in delinquent taxes in Texas today. If this were paid, he said, the state and local governments could operate for a whole year without levying any ad valorem tax.

"Unless some of these old past due taxes are paid up it appears certain that our next session of the legislature will see greater tax burdens placed upon us in an effort to make up for the loss of the past few years," he said. "The Texas Junior chamber of commerce realizes that something should be done immediately to reduce the outstanding tax debt and has adopted this method of showing the public why back taxes must be paid to save Texas from a situation that will endanger the future welfare and development of the state."

He pointed out that the program would not touch on reform measures and that the Junior Chamber would not take part in any political movement for collection or assessment of taxes.

'CRUDE' SAYS ANDY MELLON OF TAX CASE

'I'LL BE VINDICATED' SAYS EX-MAYOR OF NEW YORK

Income Tax Suits U. S. pushes preparation of more tax suits.

Mellon calls suit against him "crude politics."

"Mellon same as anyone," says attorney-general.

"I never dodged taxes," says James J. Walker.

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—The justice department, cracking the income tax whip over the heads of Andrew W. Mellon, former Mayor James J. Walker of New York, Thomas S. Lamont of Morgan and Co., and Thomas Sidlo of Cleveland, O., pushed preparation of a score more suits today.

More than 40 tax experts are engaged in the special task of preparing the suits, similar to those naming Mellon and the others. Among the material at hand for their study are reams of testimony taken in the senate banking committee's investigation of stock market and financial practices.

The 78-year-old Mellon, member of three republican cabinets, barked back yesterday at the justice department with a charge that the department was playing "crude" politics.

He charged the use of "innuendoes" by the justice department and the employment by some one, unnamed, of a "character-sweeping" campaign against him. Instead of evading income tax payments, he asserted, he had always given the government the benefit of every doubt.

Cummings' first response, when reporters told him of the statement, was:

"It would be manifestly unfair to differentiate between Mr. Mellon's case and others of a similar character."

The justice department chief also was informed of the first response of former Mayor Walker in England. The erstwhile New York chief executive said:

"They are doing their duty and I welcome it as an opportunity of vindicating my character."

Mellon's charge of "unfair and arbitrary" was applied to the manner in which the justice department had handled his case. He said he felt that he, "like any other citizen," should be given proper notice in the manner provided by law. He said no charges of tax evasion had

BOY'S SLAYER ELECTROCUTED

Self-Confessed S. Carolina Killer Goes To His Death Singing Old-Time Hymn.

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 12 (AP)—Robert H. Wiles was electrocuted just before dawn today at state penitentiary here for kidnaping and killing Hubbard H. Harris, Columbia school boy.

The 49-year-old mechanic went to this death with a hymn on his lips after making a full confession and taking sole responsibility for the crime.

"I am guilty," he said. "I did it and I ready to pay for it. No one else was in it at all."

Wiles walked boldly into the electrocution room, greeting officers and witnesses with a cheery "good morning, gentlemen."

He made his confession, said he was "ready to go" and as the headpiece was adjusted started singing "Praise God from whom all blessings flow."

The death current cut short his song. Wiles was pronounced dead at 6:08 a. m., four minutes after the first shock.

The Harris youth was lured away from his home and hammered to death with an iron bar on his 15th birthday, 2 days before last Christmas.

Wiles said he intended to extort a $1,000 ransom from the boy's father, a well-to-do grocery chain executive but his plans were upset and he killed Hubbard in an old farmhouse near the city.

ever been made against him by the treasury.

Mellon also struck back at what he called "irrelevant references" by Cummings to the Aluminum Company of America as a "Mellon controlled corporation" which is a "one hundred per cent monopoly in the producing field."

"What this has to do with my income tax is not apparent," said Mellon, adding that he and all the members of his family owned less than a majority of the corporation's stock.

Frenchman Says Amateurs Could Beat Best Pros

NEW YORK, March 12 (AP)—Paul Fretet, a member of Suzanne Lenglen's touring troupe of professionals in 1926, but now again an amateur entered in the current U. S. indoor tennis championships, believes "the two best pros" in an open tournament.

The black-thatched Frenchman selects as the two outstanding amateurs, Fred Perry of England, holder of the U. S. singles title, and Jack Crawford, of Australia, winner of the 1933 Wimbledon and French championships. At the top of the pros he ranks William T. Tilden, II, and H. Ellisworth Vines.

"Crawford and Perry are Vines' masters at any time, I believe," Fretet said today, "and either one of them, provided he is playing his best, can beat Tilden."

Fretet, who is 32 years old, prefers amateur to pro tennis, and he favors an open tournament.

It means something—

Perhaps the best type of machine ever built for moistening tobacco. Recently perfected from a model built in our factory and now used in the manufacture of Chesterfield Cigarettes.

This picture shows the machines used to remove the stems from Chesterfield tobacco.

THIS most modern way of moistening tobacco for stemming—first used in the manufacture of Chesterfields—opens up the pores and puts the tobacco in condition to remove the stems.

The tobacco is put into the wire baskets stems down and enters the long steel ovens where the steam comes up from below, softening the stems without wetting the rest of the leaf.

The stems are removed by stemming machines of the latest type.

Everything that modern science knows about, or money can buy, that can make a milder cigarette, a cigarette that tastes better, is used in making Chesterfield.

Why Greta Garbo Fascinates Many

One is either fanatically for or violently against Greta Garbo. There seems to be no fence for movie fans to ride. Since Valentino, though a comparison between the two would be odious, no cinema player has had so much influence on those persons who like her none, and admire her some but not much, understand why, to her devotees, no woman on the screen can compare with Garbo?

Sufficient grounds for their case lie in "Queen Christina" now showing at the La Nora theater. Garbo appears in every scene in the picture except one. The Garbo admirers watch with casual interest as the picture opens. They see her laugh out loud for the first time on the screen, and that is interesting because the laugh is as unusual and human as her voice. It may be said that Garbo talks as Eve would have talked—as a woman who learned to talk from listening to the voice of Love itself.

Then love comes to Queen Christina. Garbo and John Gilbert do not go into a "clinch." Garbo simply looks at everything in the room, caressing, furnishings so she can "memorize everything in this room—I expect to live much in this room in the future." Soon after, forces begin to frustrate her love. Then those flickers of pain that make her face beautiful, sad, mysterious, start to work their old spell. They appear momentarily in her eyes, lips, forehead, eyelashes, near her nostrils in her cheeks. Garbo is never so beautiful as in Christina, never so great an actress. John Gilbert has not been so satisfactory since he last played with Garbo. The script of the picture is worthy, but the plot is rather inane—Garbo rises above both. Few plays have lines that are as well-written. The photography is the best that has come out of Hollywood. Best shot: the closing scene when a closeup of Garbo occupies the whole screen and her face-filled, grief-stricken face gradually fades away.

Texas Poloist Stars in Game

LOS ANGELES, March 12 (AP)—The optical almanac which has kept Cecil Smith, seige gun of polo, out of the saddle for several weeks apparently has done his shooting no particular harm.

The Texan played in his first game Sunday since he was stricken by the optical almanac. He led his team to a 10-0 victory over the team of the riding and hitting ability which has made him one of the three 10-goal players of the world. His team defeated another quartet led by the brilliant Capt. C. T. I. Roark, 15-8.

Smith scored four goals but his work in setting the ball up so that his mates could score was outstanding.

Judith Lane

By JEANNE BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: Judith Lane and her fiancé, Norman Dale, have been helping Tom Bevins prepare to dam the Rio Diablo river in western Texas. Judith is Bevins' secretary, and Norman is the partner of the law firm that handles Bevins' affairs in the city of Houston, where Bevins' engineering and building business is centered. Judith is inspired by a certain storm, has decided that an auxiliary dam is necessary—and Judith has watched Norman's quiet efficiency, getting the Rio Diablo settlers to pieces of safety.

Chapter Five
JUDITH'S CHOICE

Judith thought of this a few nights later. They had left part of their men to assist the natives in rebuilding their adobe homes, others were carrying fresh supplies from the nearest Gulf Port town, the county seat of Rio Mar.

As time to clear preliminaries advanced, the Rio Diablo dam, Big Tom had chartered a trawler and with Judith and Norman was heading for Galveston, from where they could motor to their homes in Houston.

The two men were packing the deck with after dinner cigars while Judith watched the moon rise, then, turning watched it lay shadow patterns on the deck, angles, quadrangles, squares and quadrilaterals.

"She smiled whimsically, any other girl would have found poetic fancy in the delicate tracery of ship's rigging on slanting boards. It reminded her of her differences in other ways. She wondered how this would affect her future with Norman.

Marriage, she reasoned, wasn't assurance of life-long happiness. Perhaps, like the Rio Diablo, she needed a dam to control its storm currents. She might apply her engineering experience on hers, make a topographical map of the characteristic differences between her disposition and Norman's.

Big Tom would know to a cubic

"Please be serious,"

"I am, when will you marry me?"

"When, anytime, I suppose we should wait."

"Considering the importance of a perfect stenographer we'll have to give Big Tom at least a month's notice."

"Notice," faltered Judith. "But Norman, that is archaic, women don't give up their professions to marry."

"Stenographers do."

Judith thought quickly. "If only I were a lawyer like he is, a doctor, or an engineer as I wanted to be."

"Norman," she said, "must I choose marriage to you or my work?"

Judith waited for him to answer her question. Must she choose between marrying him or going on with her work? Clia had said he had comparatively little money, his father having left what property they had to Mrs. Dale.

She felt a rush of bitterness as she realized that her generous salary, coming in as a professional fee, might be acceptable where a stenographer's salary would be not.

The heavier swished through the water with a gentle undulating motion, a slow breeze hummed through the fore rigging.

"A choice?" he questioned. "No, Judith, I want you regardless."

It was a concession. Remembering Clia's picture of their social position in the city, it was a tremendous concession and it was given with such gentle generosity, it swept away Judith's arguments. It swept away Judith's arguments.

She felt she could afford to match his generosity—"If you'll be patient, while I learn to adjust myself to home life, I'll try."

"That's sporting, Judy," he responded gravely. "I don't mean to belittle your work as a business woman, I've seen enough on this trip to make me realize your importance."

"But Judy-girl, I watched you among the native children. You noticed they were suffering from malnutrition before you even looked at the Rio Diablo, and you made Big Tom wait to detail an important letter until you'd rounded out the cook and had him unpack the milk to feed the babies. I realized then you were more woman than the stenographer, and given a home you'd be contented."

Judith thought of a number of replies. She smiled into the masculine shoulder as a vision of Clia Sanford swept before her.

Clia had very definite ideas about women's place and any platitude suggesting she be confined to the home sent her barbed tongue into action.

Clia contended she knew all about matrimony because she had a thorough education with a Reno divorce decree as a diploma.

Heretofore, Judith had approved of Clia's wisdom but of course, she reasoned now, Clia hadn't been married to Norman, so—"I'll speak to Big Tom in the morning," she said.

She did speak to Bevins the following morning as they had breakfast on the after deck under an improvised awning. He didn't seem surprised, and when she commented on this he laughed.

Judith makes more plans to marry.

LADY SHERIFF TO STAY UNTIL SHE'S PUT OUT

I Would Do Just As I Did, Woman Declares

CROWN POINT, March 12 (AP)—The skeptic who believes that no woman knows her own mind, just has not met the pretty lady sheriff of Crown Point, Mrs. Lillian M. Hooley, from whose "escape proof" jail, John Dillinger, Hoosier band man, went A. W. O. L. a week ago today.

Mrs. Hooley not only knows her own mind, but she speaks it bluntly. "No," she said today, "I haven't got a thing to say" and then like a woman turned around and said plainly "I'm not going to resign. No, I'm not. If anybody wants to get me out of this office it will have to be through impeachment—and I'll fight. I'll fight." Asked if she had the opportunity to resign again and make her arrangements for the safekeeping of Dillinger, "I would take exactly the same precautions, give the same orders."

She paused a moment. Her very blue eyes looked out squarely from her weary, weary, gray face, which there is an expression of deep hurt at the tempest that has blown over her brown wavy hair.

"There was nothing wrong with my preparations and precautions. I just got a dirty break. It could have happened to anyone," she said.

She is very slim and almost girlish, this mother of 18 year old twin daughters, who a year and two months ago tackled the job of sheriff after her husband fell a victim of a mad man's bullet.

At the same time there is margin for making the tight crude market even tighter, in the opinion of several students of the situation.

If this is attained, large buyers who have been competing for oil from "outsider leases" will begin to do battle for them.

The spirited purchasers by large refining concerns of producing properties can be expected to become eager.

And areas which have merely promised production, but have lacked development interest, will be thoroughly scratched to determine their possibilities.

Of course if this situation is to be attained, it is realized that the new laws must be enforced, and the allocation of production must be on a conservative basis. In the latter connection, the disposition of crude in storage will undoubtedly play a large part.

Storage Oil

A battle to get permission from the federal administrator to take 200,000 barrels per day of crude out of storage will undoubtedly be made at the next meeting of the planning and co-ordination committee.

An equally spirited battle to urge him to keep his present order impounding this oil in storage will also be made, the argument that the margin above minimum working stocks is no more than the insurance on continuous supply that the public is entitled to will be made to him. With proration in force it is argued that some of the present flowing fields may continue to flow until they are near the end of their row and go "out" with small warning. Should this view win, and material withdrawals

PETERSBURG, Va. March 12 (AP)—Ben Chapman, fleet outfielder of the New York Yankees, informed manager Joe McCarthy he had signed his contract for 1934 and would arrive in camp on Monday. Chapman's capitation reduced the Yankees' holdout list to two—Catcher Bill Dickey and infielder Lyn Lary.

Oil Field News

With the possibility of stopping "hot oil" production afforded by approval of new laws by Governor Ferguson last week, and with spring consumption expansion just ahead, many oil men believe recovery for the oil business is at hand, says John W. Naylor in the Star-Telegram.

The new laws make the chance of eliminating the illegal production good enough that some of the refiners who have been operating on this grade of raw material are frankly saying that they will now have to obtain a fair price for their product.

Under conditions where they have to purchase their raw material at the going price they will no longer be able to slash under the competitor who plays on the square. In fact several have already raised to the market.

This would eliminate the greatest difficulty toward stabilization of the gasoline market, and remove the principal bar to further increase in crude. Charles F. Roesser, member of the oil code planning and co-ordination committee from Texas believes, the improvement from elimination of hot oil may extend to $1.00 base for Midcontinent crude, with $1.10 base for Permian Basin.

Quota Rates Seen

Not only can this price improvement be expected, but the stamping out of hot oil production, plus the spring and summer consumer gains, opens possibility of raising to a considerable degree on proration quotas, especially in severely restricted areas.

BORROWERS OF LIBRARY BOOKS SHOW INCREASE

Since 1929, Number of Readers Has Quadrupled

AUSTIN, March 12 (AP)—On the basis of statistics gathered by the Texas Library and Historical Commission, Texas is becoming book-minded.

The figures compiled from reports of librarians show that the number of borrowers as well as the number of books read, have quadrupled since 1929.

It was ascertained that 26 of 35 Texas towns and cities with populations in excess of 10,000 have tax-supported libraries. There are 26 additional libraries maintained by tax levies in towns of from 2,000 to 10,000 inhabitants.

Those libraries serve 2,188,292 persons. There remain 3,636,423 persons who must have their own books or borrow from the Texas state library.

The state library has an appropriation of $24,700 for each of the years 1934 and 1935 with which to supply immediate book needs. It spends some of the money trying to promote the establishment of local libraries.

Letters received at the state library from persons who reside in communities having no libraries demonstrate the growing interest in reading.

From West Texas came a letter from eight young persons who had been through high school, are unemployed and do not have funds with which to attend college.

"We have banded ourselves together to read and study but we have so few books. Can you help us?" they wrote.

A parent-teacher association in South Texas returned its borrowed library of 50 books to the state library. It advised that 60 families read the books, one family using 24 volumes.

"One little boy, whose mother takes in washing, read seven books," the letter said.

From the border came a letter from a blind Mexican boy. He said he had liked reading "Tom Sawyer" but asked that he be sent a book of fairy tales, if one was available in Braille. "Because my folks want me to read it aloud to them at night."

Why Hospitals Use a Liquid Laxative

Hospitals and doctors have always used liquid laxatives. And the public is just returning to laxatives in liquid form. Do you know the reasons?

The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can thus be regulated to suit individual needs. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose," a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The right dose of a liquid laxative brings a perfect movement, and there is no discomfort at the time, or after.

The wrong cathartic may often do more harm than good.

A properly prepared liquid laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin brings gentle relief from constipation. It gently helps the average person's bowels back to regularity. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative which all druggists keep ready for use. It makes an ideal family laxative, effective for all ages, and may be given to the youngest child. "I KNEW WHICH LOW-PRICED CAR TO BUY—I HELPED BUILD ALL THREE!"

READ THIS CERTIFIED INTERVIEW WITH B. V. FRIEDMAN OF DETROIT, MICHIGAN

"Let the other fellow drive without Hydraulic Brakes and a Safety Steel Body"

WE HEARD THAT Mr. Friedman practically lives in his car... averaging 150 miles a day in his business. We went out to see him.

We asked if he "looked at All Three" before buying Plymouth.

"Looked at them? . . . Mister, I've helped build All Three! But just to make sure, I drove each of the low-priced cars 100 miles."

"This cannot give the details, but I'll tell you what I saw and heard!"

So Friedman's Plymouth comes with engine mountings and individual wheel springing appealed to him. No more engine vibration . . . no more bumpy rides to the him out or injure the delicate radio apparatus he carries in his car.

And, of course, anybody who knows cars as he does is sold on Hydraulic Brakes and Safety-Steel Bodies. "I'll let the other fellow drive without them," he says, "but I'm taking no unnecessary chances."

There's not much we can add to Mr. Friedman's convincing story. But we urge you to do this—look at All Three before you buy! This is the chance of a lifetime. Don't let a low-priced car lead you to a need to be a mechanic to fix it!

WIFE OF JACK REYNOLDS, WRESTLING CHAMPION, IS INVOLVED IN SLAYING

ONE IS SLAIN, ANOTHER SHOT IN CAFE FIGHT

BARTENDER SAYS MRS. REYNOLDS WOUNDED CAFE OWNER

CINCINNATI, March 12. (AP)—A fatal fight that killed one man and wounded another critically prompted authorities to call Jack Reynolds, champion wrestler, and his wife to testify before a coroner's jury today.

After an affray in a restaurant Philip Citron, malt store owner, was found dead and James Meyers, owner of the restaurant, wounded.

Detectives said Meyers told them "I shot Citron after he shot me."

A bartender said, however, that David Polinsky, friend of the wrestler, fired two shots at Meyers.

Polinsky was held and the Reynolds are at liberty on charges of disorderly conduct. Reynolds is in

Next Scrimmage Of Harvesters To Be Saturday

The hardest week of football practice since the call was issued last month faces the Harvester prospects this week. Coaches Odus Mitchell and Argus Fox plan to work their charges at top speed until Friday in an effort to iron out glaring weaknesses and get the boys into condition for a tough scrimmage Saturday afternoon against the former stars.

The scrimmage Friday was satisfactory from the standpoint of showing the coaches where improvements will have to be made and where strength is needed. The experimental stage is past and from now until the spring training season ends there will be only work.

Although the boys have been given many plays to use against the "Exes" and to help in studies of formations, the surface of practice has only been scratched. The real work is yet to come.

Several former stars who were unable to be in Friday's scrimmage will be here Saturday. They will include Don Sealbury, Wayne Kelley, Lloyd Moore, John Pafford, and others.

BORGER AND PAMPA TEACHERS PLAY HERE TOMORROW NIGHT

1935 Harvesters Will Meet Cabot Shop Quintet in Game at 7:15 O'Clock.

Pampa basketball fans are urged to remember tomorrow night and not to make any dates unless to be at the high school gymnasium at 7:15 o'clock. At that time they will see the Harvester prospects of 1935 meeting the Cabot Shops quintet. Immediately following they will see the Pampa Faculty and the Borger Faculty in a great exhibition.

The Pampa teachers won in Borger last week by two points. The game tomorrow night is scheduled to be faster and better than the game in Borger. Such well known stars of college days as Odus Mitchell, Frank Monroe, J. C. Knowles, C. S. Asker, and others will appear on the floor.

Cochman Lem Stone of the Pampa Faculty has been working his charges at top speed during the last week. The Borger quintet has been working even harder and hopes to turn the tables on the Pampans.

The games should be among the fastest seen in Pampa in years. Admission will be 20 and 35 cents.

The semi-final will have Rod Fenton, Canadian sensation, and Benny Wilson, Texas bronc buster, in the ring.

The card will open at 8:15 o'clock with Joe Bauer, "son of Kong," meeting Lobo Brown, Amarillo bad man, in a 20-minute time-limit affair. A re-arrangement in prices have been reduced to 60 cents and a portion of the south bleachers has been made into ringside seats. General admission will remain 40 cents but women and children will be charged 20 cents.

Clingman is known to Pampa wrestling fans and needs no introduction. Don Hill, the movie star, is a wrestler and his record proves it. Hill played end for the University of Southern California football team and in 1924 was mentioned for all-American end. He also competed in track and field while at college. Hill is a great tennis player as well.

Hill has eight years of professional wrestling behind him. He holds the championship of the west coast and one or two more sectional belts. He is under contract to the Gilmore Oil company as a race track driver. Recently he got a pilot's license. In the movies he played in such pictures as "Hills of Old Virginia," "Bone Crushers," "Cauliflower Alley" and others.

Fenton also had a colorful career. His latest achievement was to throw Otis Clingman in Amarillo, a feat not accomplished in a long, long time. He is a believer in the old adage, "a good defense is a strong offense" and he wrestles every minute he is on the mat. He specializes in the "drop kick," made famous by Joe Savoldi. The Canadian has a long record and is one of the strongest contenders for championship honors.

Although Wilson is a Texan, little has been heard of him the last few years. He has been cavorting in the north and east and has just returned "home." He will be making his home-coming appearance in Pampa tonight. Wilson is rated high in the middleweight class. He migrated to this section to get into the middleweight elimination tournament for a chance at Gus Kallio's title.

The card tonight is doped as the best staged in the Panhandle since the championship bout in Amarillo two years ago. The Pla-Mor management is placing extra seats for a capacity crowd.

Difference Found in Price of Army and Navy Planes

WASHINGTON, March 12. (AP)—A wide difference in prices paid by the army and navy for airplane engines was disclosed today. Congressional investigators started a hunt for the cause of the gap.

Representatives of both services had estimated the average cost at around $6,000 per motor. A statement by J. R. McCarl, the comptroller general, emphatically disagreed with that figure.

McCarl's list of contracts granted since July, 1926, showed the war department paid an average of $6,691 for 4245 engines while the navy's average cost was $8,793 for 3,158 engines.

The investigators were trying, also, to find out why two army engines which were bought on competitive bids cost an average of $4,758, while 103 obtained by the navy on competitive bids, cost $11,332.

There were some differences in the engines, the investigators agreed, but they still wanted more information.

A puzzle over "rush orders" put through in the last days of the Hoover administration was growing even more puzzling to house committees.

Mrs. Lillian Gandy has returned from Houston, where she attended the funeral of her nephew, Donald Hinesley.

The Rev. C. E. Lancaster, First Baptist minister, is in Amarillo today attending a meeting of the district church board.

Mrs. Bessie Stone and daughters, La Vere and La Nora, Mrs. Charles Chapman and daughter, Shannon, Miss Nedine Hubbard, and Miss Leo Cuites, all of Borger, visited here yesterday.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, March 12. (AP)—Stocks displayed an improved tone in the late dealings today with a number of the old-line leaders moving up 1 to 2 or more points.

Trading enthusiasm, however, was at a rather low ebb and the volume of transactions approximated only 1,250,000 shares. The close was firm.

"That's what I call a million dollar ride!"

"YOU know I thought maybe they were being a little over-enthusiastic when I first read about these new skyway style Studebakers.

"But now that I've had a ride in one, I give you my word they're even better than the advertisements claim.

"You may not think it possible, but six of us rode in that new Studebaker sedan... with loads of room for everyone.

"Why, it was just like sitting in a lounge at home. And we went over some of the roughest roads I ever saw—at better than sixty—without jostling one another or jouncing up and down or pitching forward the way you usually do in the best of cars.

"Take it from me, anyone who buys a new car this year without trying a Studebaker first is making a big mistake. Even the prices are a surprise. They start as low as $645!"

FINEST OF ALL STUDEBAKERS

Marvelously streamlined skyway style bodies of steel reinforced by steel... quadripoise suspension that cradles the action of all wheels... not just the front wheels... high-powered, sensationally economical engines... uncanny "mechanical brains" that leave you little to do but steer... stamina derived from years of triumphs in stock car and Indianapolis Speedway racing... better cars than the Studebakers which sold for $200 to $700 more last year.
