

Carter 'considering' draft

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter, in what would be an abrupt reversal of administration policy, is said to be considering asking Congress to authorize peacetime registration of draft-age youths.

Administration sources said Tuesday they believed the proposal came from within the White House staff.

It comes amid unrest abroad, manpower problems in the military and a renewed defense orientation on Capitol Hill.

White House officials declined comment Tuesday night.

It was not known whether Carter would accept the proposal or include it in his State of the Union address to Congress tonight, said the sources, who asked not to be identified.

White House officials said in July that the administration "is opposed to registration," contending "it is not necessary to impose this burden on our nation and its youth."

All branches of the military fell short of recruitment goals for fiscal 1979, for the first time since the draft ended in 1973. But Defense Department officials concerned with manpower problems said Tuesday that the Pentagon had sent no staff papers recommending a renewal of registration to the White House.

Defense Secretary Harold Brown told Congress last summer. "We don't propose to go to registration, let alone the draft, until we are convinced that other methods won't do the job."

But senior military officers, particularly Army generals, have said peacetime registration is necessary to insure the nation enough military manpower to fill out regular forces in an emergency.

These officers, noting that the Army National Guard and Reserve are below strength and largely unprepared for early deployment, have said U.S. security could be threatened if the country lacked effective standby draft machinery in the event of a Soviet attack on Western Europe.

Gov: Let's play hardball

TINA McCLOY
Of the News Staff

AUSTIN (Special) — "If U.S. grain sales are to be used as a weapon and a factor in foreign relations, then we need a 100 percent embargo on all items going to Russia," Governor Bill Clements told a group of farmers and ranchers attending a Texas Farm Bureau leadership conference in Austin Tuesday night. "If we are going to play hardball with the Russians, then you in this room, and I, certainly know how hardball should be played, and I am ready to play with the Russians and cut them off 100 percent," Clements said.

grain to Mexico.

After an unsuccessful grain year, Mexico plans to use the American grain for livestock, Clements told the farm group.

"As their economy improves and as their trade balance improves, which they will, this is a natural avenue for Mexico to move into," Clements said. "And who is in a better position to have this mutuality with Mexico than our Texas farmer? And that is exactly the direction in which we should be moving," he said.

The governor, stressing the need for thinking in terms of crisis management, criticized the Carter

September to consider initiative and referendum, tax relief and surveillance of the illegal drug industry.

Before introducing Clements to the conference delegates, Chaloupka announced TFB, along with American Farm Bureau Federation and the Kansas Farm Bureau, earlier in the day filed secondary boycott charges against International Longshorman's Association, and its Texas locals to stop union interference with grain shipments to Russia.

Charges were filed in the Houston office of the National Labor Relations Board, which will begin an immediate investigation of the situation. If the board

Urges sales to Mexico

The governor also said he thinks food production in this country, especially grain production, is a part of and a very significant factor in our well-being, and our economy in our productivity.

"There is no sector of our economy that is more efficient in production than the American farmer. And certainly he has to be a factor as our government considers its relations with other governments," Clements said.

The Texas governor met yesterday with Martinez Dominguez, governor of Nuevo Leon, to discuss the sale of some six to eight million metric tons of U.S.

administration for not sharing with the American public the more critical aspects of the Middle East situation.

"The very aspects that I'm talking about which have a complete sense of instability are also the problems we talk about when we discuss the energy crisis," he said.

Clements then reminisced a tour he and several Texas farmers including Carol Chaloupka, took in September of 1979 to the Soviet Union and other communist countries.

The governor also emphasized his intentions of calling a special legislative session in August or finds reasonable cause to believe a law has been violated, Chaloupka said.

The TFB president also indicated he will petition for a federal court injunction to stop the union's activities.

"The grain the union is refusing to load is that which President Carter has asked the unions to load under the existing agreement between the Soviet Union and the U.S. government," Chaloupka said.

"There is a legal commitment under that agreement to deliver eight million metric tons of wheat and corn in 1980," the Farm Bureau president concluded.

FBI uncovers thefts at Dallas International

DALLAS (AP) — Airline employees may be responsible for almost $1 million dollars worth of baggage thefts at the nation's largest airport during the past four years, a federal prosecutor said.

"FBI agents have recovered merchandise worth almost $1 million," said assistant U.S. Attorney Gerhard Kleinschmidt, after he secured indictments from a federal grand jury Tuesday.

"We don't know how many other items were taken, but it is apparent that massive thefts from freight shipments were taking place at the airport," he said.

The indictments name six former airline employees and a seventh man, accused in separate thefts totaling $250,000. The items taken range from a $39 pair of shoes to a $170,000 jewel shipment, according to the indictments.

One former Braniff Airways employee, who ran the air freight receiving office, was charged with mail fraud in connection with a $12,000 payment the airline made on a loss claim submitted on a race car engine.

The indictments name three other former Braniff employees, former workers for American and Delta airlines, plus a Farmers Branch businessman.

Kleinschmidt said the FBI entered the investigation last summer, at the request of Braniff officials.

The indictments cover a wide range of alleged thefts.

The largest single theft mentioned in the indictments occurred at Delta Airlines. Former employee William Cordell Abshire, 39, of White Settlement, is charged in the taking of a $170,000 shipment of diamond rings enroute to a Dallas jeweler.

Undercover FBI agents posing as thieves purchased some rings from Abshire, Kleinschmidt said, and used a search warrant to recover more than 500 rings from the man's home.

Delta officials said Abshire was fired after the theft was reported.

Two indictments name James Vern Cox, 33, of Dallas, former head of Braniff's air freight cargo receiving office at D-FW. Braniff officials said Cox resigned after the investigation began.

He is charged, along with two other Braniff employees, with stealing various pieces of electronic equipment, including the April 1976 theft of a weather radar system destined for a customer in Abilene.

The indictment further alleges he took a set of golf clubs being shipped from Nevada. That same indictment also accuses Andre Safford, 36, of Lewisville.

Ambassador: Shah safe in Panama

By The Associated Press

Panama's ambassador to Washington said he was authorized to "categorically deny" a statement today by the Iranian Foreign Ministry that deposed Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi was being held by Panamanian authorities in preparation for his extradition to Iran.

"Everything is quite normal in Panama today and I don't know the reason or the sources for the Iranian report because there is nothing to it," Ambassador Carlos Lopez Guevara said in a telephone interview with The Associated Press in New York. He said he had just spoken by telephone with top government officials in Panama City and that he was authorized to "categorically deny" the Iranian statements.

"We have granted the shah asylum. And under the basic rule of asylum he will never be returned to any country where there is the death penalty." More than 700 persons have been executed in Iran by firing squad for crimes against the state since the shah left Iran last January.

"This is ruled out — we have granted him asylum and we will stick to it," Lopez Guevara said.

Earlier, a Panama army spokesman denied the shah was in custody. "No, it is not true," said the duty officer at the headquarters of the national guard when asked about the report.

A man who answered the phone at the home of President Aristides Royo said he knew nothing about the reports. And Mark Morse, a spokesman for the shah who was contacted by telephone on Contadora, said Pahlavi and his entourage knew nothing of any change in his situation.

An Iranian government announcement relayed by the official Pars news agency and Tehran radio said Panamanian President Royo had informed Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh that the shah had been detained.

Tehran radio, monitored in London, said the Foreign Ministry had "confirmed this report, while a spokesman of the Panamanian president denied such a report. A spokesman of the deposed shah denied the report of the detention of the traitorous shah and said he is asleep in his rented villa in the island of Contadora."

Later in the day, Ghotbzadeh issued a statement saying the Panama government was awaiting documents from the Iranian government to be used in a trial in Panama for extradition proceedings. Panama and Iran have no diplomatic relations and have not signed any extradition treaty, Ambassador Lopez Guevara said.

The "just action" by Panama "will be effective in reducing the current international crisis and Iran's view is based on the fact that such a crisis is solvable only by peaceful means and understanding," the Ghotbzadeh statement said.

Gold 'rush' depresses price

HONG KONG (AP) — The drop in the price of gold, which began Tuesday in Europe and New York, continued today in Hong Kong. The metal dived $209.65 an ounce to close at $624.74.

Gold closed at $834.39 an ounce Tuesday in Hong Kong. It opened today at $685.48 and kept dropping throughout the day.

Dealers said the drop was accelerated at the closing of the market by report — later denied — that Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi was arrested by the Panamanian government.

Gold closed, at $682 Tuesday on New York's Commodity Exchange — $143.50 lower than Monday's close.

Bullion slipped to a low of $679 at one point during trading. At New York's Republic National Bank, which quotes a cash price for bullion, gold closed at $690, down $130 from Monday's late price.

A similar round of profit-taking hit other precious metals. The price of silver dropped $10 on New York's Commodity Exchange, closing at $34 for a contract for delivery this month.

The dollar was strong in trading around the world until late trading in New York, when it faded against the currencies of Britain, Canada and Japan.

Gold began coming down early Tuesday when London's five major bullion houses fixed the price for morning trading at $763, well below New York's top prices.

Gold ended trading Tuesday in London at $705 an ounce, 16 percent lower than Monday's closing price of $838.50. In Zurich, bullion fell to $733 from its all-time peak there of $850 Monday.

Gold dealers on both sides of the Atlantic said the price was driven down because of selling by speculators who had ridden the market roller-coaster of recent weeks and were cashing in.

"It was inevitable," said New York broker James Sinclair. "A break of this magnitude is more than a simple correction. It could signal a period of long price erosion because professional traders should now be supplying bullion to the market."

"How low can gold go? We figure no lower than $600 or $620 (an ounce) before the basic political and economic factors reassert their influence on the market."

Two injured Miami students released

The Hemphill County Sheriff's Department today confirmed Mary Grantham, 15-year-old Miami High School sophomore was the driver of an automobile which was involved in a fatal accident late Saturday. Miami basketball coach and drivers education instructor, Edward Francis, was killed.

According to the sheriff's deputy on the scene, the southbound automobile went into a skid as a result of icy roadways, crashing into an oncoming vehicle. Miss Grantham and another passenger, Kim Crouch, 15, Miami, were admitted to a Canadian hospital for treatment of injuries sustained in that accident. Both students were dismissed Tuesday.

"It was nobody's fault," the Hemphill sheriff's deputy said, "it was just one of those terrible things that can't be helped."
Funeral services for Mr. Francis were conducted Tuesday in the

5,000 year sentence assessed

AUSTIN (AP) - The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals today ordered a lower court to take a new look at the case of a Waco man given 5,000 years in prison in the stabbing death of his 92-year-old grandfather.

Eddie Ray Harris had pleaded insanity in the June 11, 1973, death of Bunk Robinson, Nettie Norman, Harris' 85-year-old great aunt, was also stabbed to death that day, but Harris was not charged.

Harris was 26 at the time of the slayings.

Harris claimed the court's charge to the jury at a pretrial competency hearing was improper.

U.S. intelligence suspects nerve gas used in Afghanistan

WASHINGTON (AP) - U.S. intelligence sources say there are indications the Soviets may have used death-dealing nerve gas against anti-Marxist rebels in five areas of Afghanistan.

The sources, who declined to be identified, said the evidence is not conclusive enough to permit an open accusation by the United States. But they said U.S. intelligence specialists give credence to descriptions provided by a number of Afghan refugees, including a defecting army officer.

This development comes less than a week after U.S. intelligence sources told The Associated Press the Soviet army had brought chemical decontaminating equipment into Afghanistan.

According to the new reports, the gas apparently was contained in bombs dropped from airplanes. The bombs were said to have burst in the air, spewing the gas in vapor form.

This vapor caused vomiting, breathing difficulties, bowel eruptions, blindness, paralysis and then death, the sources said. There was no estimate of the number of deaths.

U.S. specialists said the effects, as described by the Afghan refugees, correspond to known results from a Soviet nerve agent called Soman. They believe the same kind of nerve gas was used against Laotian tribesmen resisting communist forces in Southeast Asia.

One intelligence report suggests the lethal agent was used against Afghan rebel tribesmen as early as last August or September in the Panjshir Valley northeast of Kabul. Russian advisers were serving with the Afghan army at that time, although the full-scale Soviet army movement into Afghanistan did not come until late last month.

Sources said the other four incidents reportedly occurred last week near Faizabad and in Takhar Province, both in northeast Afghanistan where rebel resistance has been stiff; in Bamian Province, west of Kabul; and near Jalalabad, which lies close to Pakistan.

In telling the AP about sightings of Soviet chemical decontamination equipment in Afghanistan, U.S. specialists suggested it might be used to clean up affected areas so they could be occupied by Soviet or Afghan government troops after a gas attack.

Gen. David Jones, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told Congress about a year ago that, under Soviet military doctrine, "the basic principle is to achieve surprise by using massive quantities of chemical agents against unprotected troops or against equipment on terrain to deny its use."

U.S. intelligence sources said the Soviet troops in Afghanistan are equipped with FROG battlefield missiles, which they said can be used to hurl chemical warheads as well as either high-explosive or nuclear weapons.

Another oil slick drifting to Texas

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) - Discovery of another big oil slick drifting just south of the Texas coast has prompted the U.S. Coast Guard to resume its daily reconnaissance flights over the Gulf of Mexico.

The slick covers 9,000 square miles, according to Coast Guard Capt. Gerald Hinson, coordinator of federal anti-spill efforts in Texas last summer.

He said the slick is 150 miles long and 60 miles wide, and was spotted by aerial surveillance Sunday. However, he said the slick is just where scientists had predicted and was not endangering the Texas coastline yet.

"We're concerned about it from the standpoint that it's there," Hinson said, "but there is no immediate threat to the Brownsville area. I want to make that clear."

Garland boy, 10, suicide victim

GARLAND (AP) - Ten-year-old Michael David Miller said he was lonely and longed to be with his father.

Tuesday he turned on a tape recorder at his home, told of his loneliness and desire to be with his father.

Authorities said the boy then took the same pistol his father had used to take his own life less than two years ago and shot himself in the head.

Robert Miller, 35, the boy's father, used the same pistol May 6, 1978, to kill himself at a Garland motel, according to police records. Officers said the cheap revolver found beside the boy's body was the same one they returned to the Miller family following the father's death.

It was the second time in the past week that a young boy in the Dallas-Fort Worth area died of a self-inflicted gunshot wound. In the other, an 11-year-old Arlington boy shot himself in the head in a school restroom while a terrified teacher and some classmates watched.

Hospital move goes to court

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Black and Mexican-American women will be forced to turn to midwives if Bexar County is allowed to move maternity services from a downtown hospital to the county hospital 11 miles away, says a Justice Department attorney.

Daniel Searing told U.S. District Judge Adrian Spears in opening arguments Tuesday that the indigent women already face transportation problems, which would be worsened by such a move.

The Justice Department has filed a lawsuit seeking to stop the county hospital district from relocating the services now located at the decaying Green Hospital downtown to the Bexar County Hospital in far northwest San Antonio.

The suit alleges that the relocation will discriminate against the poor Mexican-American and black women, who are concentrated near downtown and have used Green's facilities for generations.

Emergency facilities will be retained at Green.

Mexico lauds Clements for spill stand

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Gov. Alfonso Martinez Dominguez of Nuevo Leon, Mexico, says Gov. Bill Clements established himself as a "good friend of our country" by refusing to blame Mexico for the offshore oil spill last year.

Clements said Martinez Dominguez's trip here Tuesday — the first state visit by a governor of Nuevo Leon to Texas — would be followed by visits by the governors of three other northern Mexican states.

Clements visited the four states — Nuevo Leon, Coahuila, Tamaulipas and Chihuahua — in 1979.

"We will have other visits in the not distant future and on a continuing basis," Clements told a news conference.

He added that Martinez Dominguez would come to Texas again soon to look at recreational and amusement areas.

The news conference at the Lorenzo de Zavala State Archives and Library Building climaxed a day in which the two governors toured the Capitol and the Lyndon B. Johnson Library, ate lunch on the University of Texas campus and met privately for about an hour.

In welcoming ceremonies in the Senate chamber, Clements said he hoped the meeting would show Washington how to treat foreign neighbors as equals.

Martinez Dominguez responded by stating he would never forget that Clements had stood by Mexico during the outcry over the Mexican oil spill that flowed onto Texas beaches.

Clements proclaimed Tuesday as "Texas-Nuevo Leon Friendship Day," and Martinez Dominguez said he would see that a similar resolution is adopted in his state.

A 19-gun salute and standing ovation from some 500 spectators greeted Martinez Dominguez's arrival.

Young children waved small Mexican flags from the balcony, and the Mexican governor waved back.

"I am hopeful that these meetings and discussions between the people of Texas and the people of Mexico will serve as an example to our leadership in Washington of the need and benefits of dealing with our neighbors in a setting of respect and equality," said Clements in a speech translated into Spanish.

Iranian in Texas 'ordered to scheme'

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) — An Iranian student has told police he was asked to take part in an alleged scheme to pass forged checks for the good of his country.

"They appealed to my patriotism, they talked me into it for the good of Islam, my country and my leader," police quoted Gholam Reza Pakyari as saying following his arrest Monday.

Pakyari, a 23-year-old student at Texas Southmost College, was charged with trying to pass a forged check and jailed in lieu of $20,000 bond.

The student said persons in Houston asked him this summer to open a bank account and deposit the questionable checks, said Brownsville police detective Tony Hess.

Hess said Pakyari had deposited checks totaling $13,000 since December on an account of the National Bank of Kuwait in the Pan American Bank of Brownsville. The Kuwaiti bank had an account with the Irving Bank and Trust Co. of New York.

After placing the funds in a Pan American account, most of the money was then transferred by check to other accounts, Hess said.

EVER STRIVING FOR TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Let Peace Begin With Me

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. For only when man understands freedom and is free to control himself and all he possesses can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by a government, with the right to take moral action to preserve their life and property and secure more freedom and keep it for themselves and others.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guide expressed in the Coveting Commandment.

OPINION PAGE

Maybe the American people will awaken

America enters the 1980s beset with what appears to be some substantial economic problems, many stimulated by the current energy shortage. The economic problems, as frightening as they appear, are not so bad when compared to the woes of other nations. The relative prosperity experienced by Americans especially in the 25 years following the Second World War, makes the current situation seem all the worse. But now is not the time to listen to doomsayers. They have, with few exceptions, been wrong in the past. This is especially true regarding gloomy predictions about the availability of oil.

Yes, there have been predictions about the final depletion of our oil resources for more than one hundred years. The list includes:

- In 1886 the U.S. Revenue Commission suggested synthetics be produced since U.S. oil availability was questionable.
- In 1885 the U.S. Geological Survey suggested California would not be a major oil producer. In 1891 they made an equally inaccurate prediction about Kansas and Texas.
- In 1914 the U.S. Bureau of Mines forecast that future oil production in the U.S. would be only 5.7 billion barrels.
- In 1920 the U.S. Geological Survey claimed the country had almost reached its domestic production peak.
- In 1939 the Department of Interior predicted domestic oil supplies would last only 13 years longer.
- In 1947 the chief of the Petroleum Division of the State Department stated that sufficient oil could not be found in the United States.
- In 1949 the secretary of the interior claimed that the end of the U.S. oil supply was almost in sight.

Obviously, dismal predictions concerning oil continue to be made. If one believes the experts, gas lines should already be forming at local stations. Statistic-wielding bureaucrats tell us that the United States has only a ten-year supply of crude oil left. The more pessimistic forecasters claim the nation will end the new decade immobile and in the dark. Fortunately, this current batch of soothsayers are likely to be no more accurate than their less-than-optimistic predecessors.

Even by today's data, this nation has about 50 years supply of oil and gas. The United States Geological Survey, the official government source for such data, estimates that America has at least 134 billion barrels of oil left, with a high estimate of up to 222 billion barrels. Natural gas estimates are of a similar magnitude. Importantly, these are the official estimates, and officials estimates have always been low — very low.

Independent oil producers, the genuine entrepreneurs of the industry, believe there is a lot more oil out there than the bureaucrats suggest. Their publication, Petroleum Independent is amazingly optimistic about the possibility of better use, of already discovered oil — better ways of bringing more to the surface — and the potential of discovering new and bigger oil fields. They think that modern technology has made more oil available from deep wells and offshore fields than was thought possible only a few years ago. With a healthy profit motive to spur them on, nothing seems able to stop these wildcaters from getting America the oil it needs.

The hitch is: politicians and bureaucrats are now trying to cut back on the profitability of the oil business. Past dreary predictions were disproven when a vibrant profit-seeking oil industry rushed forth to discover and produce more oil than the politicians dreamed possible. Now, at a time that America should be stimulating its oil production, the government is passing laws that have the opposite effect. Ironically, this may be the first time predictions of disaster come true, but only because the country has turned to the pessimists to formulate a national policy.

What this nation needs is an economic environment that will make offshore drilling safe and profitable, one that will stimulate hardnosed businessmen to squeeze every drop of oil out of a well before putting on the cap. Unfortunately, this is not the policy of the government. There is, however, reason to believe the American people will awaken. After all, the Department of Energy already costs more than the combined profits of the seven largest oil companies. And it's not producing any oil. Eventually the people will wake up — they've got to.

Forget merit...

Since 1967, the Office of Education has spent almost $950 million to aid the nation's developing colleges. So far, not a single college has graduated from the program, nor can federal officials note any sign of progress from the 800 colleges receiving federal funds.

A recent GAO report determined that the program has been so mismanaged, and so flagrantly wasteful of the taxpayers' money, that Congress should abolish it altogether. Some schools have been unable to account for millions of dollars. Among those who could locate receipts was one college's consulting firm, which charged the government for a vice-president's lunch at a topless bar.

When Frederick A. Will, director of the grants management division in the Office of Education, decided to "blow the whistle" and call for an inquiry, HEW investigators began probing into the sex lives of two of his employees.

Will took his case to Congress, telling a Senate subcommittee that he received very little support from his HEW superiors in his attempt to clean up the aid program. He was actually instructed by them not to speak to reporters.

Will told the subcommittee that about 400 grants "were dumped on us in the last month of the fiscal year." The merit of the grant applications was not the primary consideration. "The interest was in getting the programs funded, and not getting in trouble with Congress for turning back $120 million in funds."

Class dismissed.

Coming up throughout 1980 are important deadlines for filing and paying federal taxes. Miss one and you can get socked with interest charges and penalties. Here are some key days to remember.

All Individuals
By January 16, pay the final installment of your estimated tax for 1979 — if you are required to make estimated payments. You can skip the last payment by filing your final tax return for 1979 by January 31, paying any tax with that return.

By April 15, file your 1979 income tax return and pay any tax still due. You can use Form 4868 to file for an automatic two-month extension, but you have to include a payment of any anticipated tax due.

April 15 also is when a declaration of estimated income tax for 1980 must be filed, if you are required to do so. Interim payments in 1980 must be made by April 15, June 16 and September 15.

You also have until your 1979 return is due (April 15, or later if extended) to make a 1979 contribution to an individual retirement account (IRA).

Homemakers
By January 31, file Social Security tax statements for wages paid — $50 or more in cash in a quarter — to domestic or household workers in the fourth quarter of 1979. Pay any tax due. Quarterly statements also are due April 30, July 31 and October 31. Also by January 31, give workers W-2 forms showing 1979 wages and the taxes you withheld or paid.

Employers
By January 31 you should:
— Give W-2 forms to employees, showing wages paid and taxes withheld in 1979.
— Give retired workers and profit-sharing recipients W-2P forms, if any taxes were withheld from their 1979 benefits.
— Give Form 1099R to recipients of lump-sum payments for your company profit-sharing or retirement plans.
— If your firm is subject to unemployment tax, file your 1979 return for that levy. If you've kept up periodic payments and don't owe a balance, you can wait until February 11.
— File a quarterly statement for income and Social Security taxes withheld from workers in the 1979 fourth quarter. Pay any balance due, including your share of the Social Security levy. Returns also are due April 30, July 31 and October 31. Interim payments must be made if quarterly taxes for all workers, plus your share of Social Security, are over $200.

If by the end of the first or second month in a quarter, the total accumulates to between $200 and $2,000, then a payment must be made by the 15th of the following month or first business day thereafter. If the total accumulates to $2,000 or more, a deposit must be made within three banking days after the close of that "quarter monthly" period — the 7th, 15th, 22nd and end of each month.

By February 29, file copies of the W-2 and W-2P forms you gave your employees.

On April 30, unless you have received a new W-4 form from employees who are exempt from paying federal income tax, resume withholding from their wages.

In November, ask employees to file a new W-4 form, if their exemption status is likely to change in 1981.

Also remind all eligible low-income employees to file Form W-5 for 1981 if they want advance payments on their earned-income credit.

Corporations
By March 17, file a 1979 income-tax return or request an extension and pay at least half of any estimated balance.

By April 15, pay 25 percent of estimated 1980 taxes. Payments also are due on June 16, September 15 and December 15.

By June 16, pay any tax balance still due on 1979 income.

Farmers and Fishermen
By January 16, estimate your tax for 1979 and pay it in full. File the final return by April 15. Or skip the estimate, complete your final return and pay any tax by March 31.

By January 31, give employees W-2 forms and file your quarterly return on the income and Social Security taxes you've withheld. Other quarterly returns are due April 30, July 31 and October 31.

Manufacturers and Retailers
By January 31, send an annual statement — form 1099 — to whom you paid dividends and interest totaling $10 or more in 1979. Also send statements to those receiving certain rents, royalties and other income totaling $600 or more not subject to withholding.

By February 29, file returns showing to whom you made such above payments in 1979.

Other Groups
By January 16, executors must pay the final 25 percent of estimated 1979 estate-income tax. By April 15, file the return for 1979 and pay the first installment of the estimated amount due for 1980. Other installments are due this year on July 15 and October 15.

By April 15, partnerships must file returns for 1979. Also by April 15, trustees must file 1979 trust-income returns and pay tax.

By September 2, operators or owners of trucks weighing 26,000 pounds or more must pay a federal use tax for the year ending June 30, 1981.

Caution: Individuals or firms that figure taxes on other than a calendar-year basis must adjust deadlines to the comparable dates in their fiscal year.

No politics for Carter

by ART BUCHWALD

"Is this Mr. Eldridge Winkler, chairman of the Flatbottom, Iowa, Democratic Party?"

"Yes, it is."

"Just a minute. The President of the United States of America would like to speak to you."

"Eldridge, this is Jimmy Carter. I am calling you from the White House, which I am unable to leave because of all the worldwide crises that are preventing me from campaigning during this election year."

"Yes, sir, Mr. President. It's very kind of you to take time out from your busy schedule, which must be consuming every minute of your day. Can I ask what you're calling about?"

"I just finished a meeting with the National Security Council concerning Iran, and I'm going into another meeting with the secretary of state over Afghanistan, and I was wondering how things were going in Iowa."

"Of course not politically. I don't believe the President should get involved in politics at a moment like this. It's beneath him."

"If you say so, Mr. President. But why did you call then?"

"I was just thinking about you and all the loyal supporters in Iowa who did so much for me in 1976 when I first started running for the highest office in this land."

"You mean with all the things you've got to worry about, you've had time to think about Iowa?"

"I always think about Iowa. I can never forget your amber waves of grain and your corn which is as high as an elephant's eye. It reaches right up there into the sky."

"Now that you mention it, Mr. President, the people in Flatbottom would like to ask you about all that grain and corn. Why on earth did you put an embargo on food to the Soviet Union at this time?"

"Can you keep a state secret, Eldridge?"

If this leaked out, our whole foreign policy could be in jeopardy."

"Of course, Mr. President."

"The Russians can't be trusted."

"When on earth did you find that out?"

"About three weeks ago. They don't know what it is to keep their word. I'm glad I discovered it during my first term as president. It's given me a whole new insight into Soviet-American relations."

"But what do you do with all the grain and corn you told us to raise for the last three years?"

"Eldridge, I'm going to say one word to you now, but I don't want you to tell anyone where you heard it."

"I'm listening, Mr. President."

"Gasohol!"

"Gas-a-what?"

"Gasohol. I want all the farmers in Iowa to take all their grain and soybeans and corn and make alcohol out of it. Then I want you to take that alcohol and pour it into your fuel tanks. Then I want everyone to get in their cars and drive around with their headlights on and show the Soviets we mean business when they invade Afghanistan."

"Anything you say, Mr. President. Would you like to know how the Iowa caucuses are going?"

"No, Eldridge. I didn't call to talk about caucuses. I know the people of Iowa will do the right thing next week, in spite of the fact I have been busy to further my own political fortunes in your great state. Goodbye, Eldridge. I'll pray for you."

"Is this Mr. Cameron Doolittle of the Mason City, Iowa, Democratic Party? Just a minute. I have the President of the United States of America on the line."

"Cameron, this is Jimmy Carter and as you know I am unable to leave the White House, but..."

Teddy's troubled by own bill

By Robert J. Wagman

WASHINGTON (NEA) - Sen. Edward M. Kennedy is about to suffer another major setback in his bid to unseat Jimmy Carter.

The Massachusetts Democrat has been making a big thing of Carter's lack of effective leadership. For its part, the White House has been attacking Kennedy's Senate record, saying the Bay Stater has accomplished little in his 17 years in the upper house. And it has been pointing out that the man who says he will make a better leader for the Free World was tossed out of the Senate's No. 2 leadership position, that of majority whip, because he failed to do an even passable job of steering legislation through.

Kennedy had hoped to counter this argument with a glowing record as chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, a post he took over in January. Specifically, he had hoped to point to his success in getting a consumer-oriented bill through his own committee as proof of his leadership abilities.

That bill, however, appears headed for the legislative junkyard and the White House is gearing up to turn Kennedy's failure into a club with which to hammer its point home.

Kennedy's bill would allow consumers to sue corporations for price fixing. The Supreme Court in 1977 ruled that consumers cannot bring such suits under current law. Kennedy's bill, the Anti-Trust Enforcement Act of 1979, is designed to meet that objection. Kennedy made a big thing of it when he introduced the bill, calling it his first major initiative as Judiciary chairman. And he said he hoped to win quick approval for it.

It hasn't worked out that way, though. Kennedy's consumer-oriented bill not only failed to win the active support of major consumer groups, but it gained the all-out opposition of big business and its Capitol Hill supporters.

The opposition argued that the bill would subject business to all kinds of "irresponsible" class action suits and that defending them would result in higher prices to consumers because the legal costs would be passed on to them.

That argument made sense to the members of Kennedy's committee. He was able to get the bill out of committee, on a hair-thin 9-8 vote, but only after accepting several major changes.

Now, however, Kennedy cannot get the bill to the Senate floor. The major stumbling block is Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., who has threatened to filibuster if the bill does come up. This was enough to convince the Senate leadership, already planning on drawn-out battles over energy legislation and the Strategic Arms Limitation Treaty, to keep the bill off the floor.

Senate sources say that Majority Leader Robert Byrd, D-W.V., has told Kennedy he will schedule the bill only after Kennedy proves he has the votes to shut off debate. With the bill now a test of Kennedy's "leadership" qualities, that may prove impossible.

Obviously, pro-Carter senators are not going to flock to Kennedy's banner to help him pull this one out of the fire, especially since there is no groundswell of support from consumer groups. Republicans, too, are not prepared to save the day for Kennedy.

Also, Kennedy's campaign schedule will prevent him from being around often enough to gather the three-fifths vote necessary to keep Thurmond and company from talking the bill to death.

A compromise being offered to Sen. Joseph Danforth, R-Mo., would give the right to sue to state attorneys general, but would take it away from customers.

Kennedy may be willing to settle for that just to get the bill passed. But as far as the White House is concerned, that will be just as bad for Kennedy as if the bill never came to a vote. Either way, the Carter people say, it proves Kennedy isn't much of a leader on the simple things, so how can he lead a complicated world?

Even some Kennedy supporters admit that is a good question.

Tax audit hits about 1 filer in 47 each year

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the third in a series of five articles entitled "Coping With Your Income Tax." They were written to help taxpayers prepare their 1979 tax returns.

By GLENN RITT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The tax audit. It has an ominous sound, but long odds.

In the past, the Internal Revenue Service says only about one taxpayer in 47 has been audited each year.

The IRS checks about 1 of every 66 people earning below $10,000 a year.

Middle-income taxpayers, however, have a 2.4 percent chance; people earning more than $50,000, an 11.4 percent chance.

A computer will decide who is investigated and who isn't, and more than likely it will be attracted to the most unusual deductions or the most significant tax changes from last year.

Generally, to protect yourself, keep tax records at least three years. That's the time in which the IRS must start its investigation.

Short of the shock from an audit is the embarrassment following a dumb mistake.

The IRS says the most frequent errors are: Forgetting to sign your form; failing to enclose the W-2 form or other statements detailing your wages and salary; and omitting your Social Security number.

To avoid mistakes and lessen the chances of an audit, make sure to report all income correctly and take only the deductions you can justify.

Here is a list of what income should be reported:

—Wages, salaries, bonuses, commissions, fees, tips, and unemployment benefits.

—Dividends, although up to $100 can be excluded for an individual, and up to $200 for a couple filing jointly.

—Earned income from sources outside the United States.

—Interest received on U.S.

Savings Bonds, but not interest on state and municipal bonds.

—Profits, rents and royalties.

—Earnings and interest from savings and loan associations, mutual savings banks, credit unions and similar institutions.

—Income from pensions, annuities and endowments after deducting the contributions you made to your own pension fund.

—Alimony receipts and separate maintenance payments.

—The value of prizes and awards, plus gambling income.

—Refunds of state and local taxes if they were deducted in a prior year.

Major income items that aren't taxed include: Social Security benefits, welfare payments, some disability retirement payments and other benefits, workman's compensation benefits, child support, dividends on veterans' life insurance, and gifts, money or other property that you inherited.

There are several basic rules for which tax form to use.

You can file the 1040A short form if your total income is $20,000 or less as an individual or $40,000 or less as a couple filing jointly. In addition, your income cannot include items other than wages, salaries, tips and unemployment benefits. And you cannot earn more than $400 each in interest and dividends.

You must use the 1040 long form if you itemize deductions.

The IRS estimates that about 96 percent of all taxpayers will be able to figure their taxes by looking at tax tables in the booklet rather than having to do complex arithmetic.

That's a key reason that the number of people turning to professional tax preparers is down 20 percent in two years.

One rule that should come as no surprise: You must file your return no later than midnight, April 15.

If you encounter problems meeting the deadline, you can seek an extension by filling out Form 4868. Technically, a penalty equal to 0.5 percent on the tax due may be assessed for each month or part of a month that the return is overdue for a maximum of 25 percent.

This year, the IRS will have more than 6,000 people available to help an estimated 93 million taxpayers answer questions about their returns.

The telephone number about tax information can be found in the phonebook under United States government, Internal Revenue Service. Toll free numbers are found in the 1979 tax booklets.

The earlier you file, of course, the faster the refund. It could be as fast as 4 weeks. This year, the IRS estimates that three out of every four Americans will get money back.

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am writing about a problem that is perplexing to me. My husband is absolutely perfect in every respect except for one habit that I cannot seem to break him of:

Instead of throwing out empty food containers after he has emptied them, he puts them back in the refrigerator! I can't begin to tell you how many empty cartons, bottles and cans I have found in the refrigerator.

No amount of scolding, pleading or nagging seems to help. He offers no explanation for this screwball behavior. I think he's too lazy to walk to the trash can on the other side of the kitchen.

Can you, or your readers, offer any kind of a solution so that I can have a perfect husband?

FRUSTRATED

DEAR FRUSTRATED: You're crying with a loaf of bread under each arm and an empty ketchup bottle in the refrigerator. If a man must have—but one flaw in an otherwise flawless character, I can think of none so harmless, inoffensive and easy to forgive as your husband's. Cherish this paragon of virtue. He's a candidate for sainthood!

DEAR ABBY: My problem may be unusual, but no more so than some of your other mail.

I am a mature young woman, and my problem concerns my height. I am 5 foot 4 inches and very slim. I would normally be quite happy with my height, but my dream has always been to be a top-notch fashion model, and I need to be 4 or 5 inches taller to qualify.

Do you know of a doctor who would be willing to give me hormone shots to make me grow? If so, I would also like to know about possible side effects, fees, etc.

I respect your advice, and trust your judgment.

EAST COAST MODEL

DEAR MODEL: I consulted an endocrinologist. He replied, "If she is a normal, healthy, fully-developed young woman, hormone shots would not help. And no ethical physician would treat her with the promise of adding to her height."

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are not up on all the social graces, and we want to know what is proper:

When a man and woman are seated and an elderly lady approaches them and introduces herself, are both the man and woman supposed to stand? Or just the man? What if the elderly person were a man?

NO NAMES, PLEASE

DEAR NO NAMES: When an elderly person of either sex approaches a younger couple, both the man and the woman should stand—out of respect to age, not sex.

DEAR ABBY: In your reply to ANGRY IN SAN MATEO, you wrote that "love generates love."

The late Martin Luther King Jr. showed us that hate generates love, too. In his "Stride Toward Freedom" (New York: Harper & Brothers, 1958), he wrote:

"I can only close the gap in broken community by meeting hate with love. If I meet hate with hate, I become depersonalized, because creation is so designed that my personality can only be fulfilled in the context of community... When I love, I restore community..."

DR. LAMB

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I've read about so many different diets and now I'm concerned as to what not to eat and what to eat and how much or how little. It seems like every book has its own version of the perfect diet. I sat down one night and read a number of diets and almost all of them contradicted each other. What's a person supposed to do?

I was wondering if there is any certain diet you could recommend for me. I'm 19-and-a-half and I'm approximately 5 feet 2 and I weigh 110 pounds. I know that may not sound too bad but instead of having the weight distributed evenly, I've got a stomach that bulges terribly and my legs are too big. Last summer I looked fine but during the winter I got depressed and ate constantly and, of course, it all just settled on me. Is it possible for me to lose all of these inches and look like myself again? I hope so.

DEAR READER — Yes, there's an unending maze of information about diets. There are a wide variety of foods so it's not too surprising that you'll run into a lot of variation in different diets that are recommended. There are some basic facts, however. We know that fat contains more calories than any other food component. That means that any diet that intends to restrict your calories should limit the fat intake. This, in turn, means eliminating butter, margarine, cream, whole milk and removing the fat from any meat which one eats, as well as avoiding preparing foods by adding additional fat as in frying.

Another source of calories that can be eliminated is excess sweets. While you're on a reducing diet and trying to limit calories, it's important to eat foods that provide bulk and water in them. That's why vegetables and fruits without added sugar are a good source of carbohydrates for your diet.

I don't think you sound too bad and I would hate to see you on a starvation diet as some young women are prone to follow. Rather I would like to see you start an exercise program.

Your description of your body build suggests that you should be walking, running and developing exercises that use calories, and that you ought to start some strength exercises to develop your arms and shoulders.

Many American women are particularly weak in the arms and shoulder area. Testing has shown that large numbers of women and young girls cannot even do a single chin-up. That's mostly from neglect and lack of training.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 3-7, "Girth Control: Avoiding The Big Middle. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. It will help you some with the kind of exercises that you ought to be doing to help reduce the size of your abdomen. Nevertheless, if you do have fat inside the abdomen, you can't expect to have a real thin waist without getting rid of the fat.

Why don't you exercise and just eliminate the excess fat, sweets and desserts from your diet and see if that isn't enough to help you gradually improve yourself without going on an overly restricted diet.

TWEEN 12 AND 20

By ROBERT WALLACE, Ed.D.

Dr. Wallace: I'm telling my story so that it might help a troubled girl. Five months ago, on my way home from work, I was raped.

I didn't want to go to the police but my parents insisted. The police were very understanding and sent me to a professional trained in this type of problem.

I now find myself pregnant because of my misfortune. I made the decision to have the baby despite all the hassles of people trying to force abortion on me.

My decision caused me to lose the guy that meant an awful lot to me.

I'm not sure I made the right choice but I know I couldn't have made it this far if it wasn't for my close friends, my family and my doctor.

There have been girls who have been raped but are afraid to tell anyone. They keep it bottled up inside. I went for help and it was the best thing I could have done.

With the guidance of God and the help of my family, I know everything will turn out fine.

Girls, if anything should ever happen to you the way it did to me, tell someone—the police, a doctor, a clergyman or best of all, your parents. — Nameless, Columbia City, Ind.

Nameless: Thank you for sharing your experience with us. I hope your advice may help some other girl in a similar unfortunate situation.

Dr. Wallace: I'm 17 and my parents have been divorced for about three years. For the last two years I have been living in a foster home with foster parents that are very good to me.

My 6-year-old brother lives in a different foster home and my 14-year-old sister lives with my mother. When we were first taken away from our parents, we were terrified. We all thought it was my father's fault, and none of us kids wanted anything to do with him.

But as time went by, I learned that my mother was equally guilty in wrecking our family.

About two months ago I started to visit my father on Sundays. My boyfriend has been taking me to see him.

At first, my mother was happy that I was seeing my father, but now she actually hates me for seeing him.

When I see my mother, she screams at me and says that I shouldn't see my dad anymore.

I was planning to move in with my mother but now I don't know. Should I quit seeing my dad and move in with Mother, or should I stay with my foster parents until I'm 18 and continue to see both my parents, hoping that Mother will settle down? — Ljsa, Columbus, Ohio

Ljsa: Naturally, the final decision is yours but I would stay with your foster parents. I think that moving in with Mother, at this time, would cause friction and tension.

For Dr. Wallace's teen booklet, "Happiness or Despair," please send $1 and a 28-cent stamped, large, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Wallace in care of this newspaper.

Gilbert is new Harvester head coach

Larry Gilbert, who served as defensive coordinator and linebacker coach for Pampa high last season, was named as the new Harvester head coach during a Pampa board of education meeting Tuesday night.

Gilbert, 34, replaces Danny Palmer, who quit the head position last week to take a similar post at Wichita Falls. Gilbert came with Palmer from Waco Richfield last season. This is his first head coaching assignment.

"We had a number of applications, but we decided to talk to our local people first," Superintendent Bob Phillips said. "The board was very definitely impressed with coach Gilbert's credentials. They felt they didn't need to go outside the school system to find a coach."

Gilbert's credentials are impressive. He was a second-team All-American offensive end at Texas Tech University and also started on the Tech baseball team. Gilbert was a three-year letterman and a two-year starter for the Tech football team, making the All-SWC freshmen team. He was a member of the 1965 Red Raider team that compiled an 8-2 record and went to the Gator Bowl.

As a wide receiver, he set a single game Texas Tech record for receptions with 12 against Florida State as a junior. At Kilgore high school, he was captain of the football and basketball teams, all-district and all-East Texas in football, all-district in basketball, and was voted most athletic his senior year.

At the Texas high school all-star game, Gilbert was voted the most valuable player as a lineman.

Gilbert attained a captain's rank in the U.S. Air Force and received the air medal for flights over Southeast Asia in 1972-73 and 1975.

Gilbert and his wife, Mary Jo, have a son, Chris, 4.

Aggies alone at top of standings

Texas A&M stands alone at the top of the Southwest Conference basketball race, and by Coach Shelby Metcalf's standards, the Aggies are standing pretty tall.

"This may be our best team ever, defensively," Metcalf said after his team put away Arkansas, 45-39, Tuesday night to claim sole possession of first place in the SWC race.

The victory gave the Aggies a 6-0 mark, a game ahead of Arkansas and Texas Tech at 5-1. Next closest is Texas, 3-3, which dropped a 62-48 game on TV at Baylor Tuesday night. No other team is playing at .500 in the race.

"But it's too early to say who's going to win it. This is not the Iowa caucus," Metcalf said. "Our defense is carrying us right now."

In other games Tuesday night, Texas Christian surprised Houston 71-69 and Southern Methodist escaped Rice, 85-83.

Texas A&M led Arkansas most of the game. But the Aggies committed four turnovers, allowing the Razorbacks to fight back from a 24-20 halftime deficit to tie the game and finally take a four-point lead.

But with his team leading 35-32, Arkansas coach Eddie Sutton got too vocal in protesting the officiating, and A&M closed the gap to 35-34 on a pair of free throws on the technical midway through the second half.

The Aggies got the ball out of bounds after the free throws, and Vernon Smith scored after a rebound to put Texas A&M ahead to stay.

After getting a couple of more free throws, the Aggies went into a four-corner stall with 7½ minutes to play. Arkansas guard Scott Hastings fouled out, and the Aggies cruised in for the win.

"A&M has a great team and played extremely well. Their defense was very good, and A&M did a good job of executing its four-corner offense. That's the primary reason we scored only four points in the last 10 minutes," Sutton said.

TCU's victory over Houston was the first time in four seasons the Horned Frogs have pulled off back-to-back SWC wins. In beating SMU Saturday, TCU won its first road game of any kind since 1976.

"I'd be in the wrong profession if I didn't think it was because of good coaching," Houston coach Guy Lewis said in praise of TCU's Jim Killingsworth.

Wheeler girls win

WHEELER-Wheeler's Lady Mustangs overpowered Briscoe, 50-16, Tuesday night for their fourth consecutive District 2-B triumph.

Missy Wiggins and Elise Christner paced Wheeler in scoring with 16 points apiece. Beth Brown added 6, Mona Jennings and Jana Johnson, 4 each; Lynette Gaines and Tanya Rierdon, 2 apiece.

The Lady Mustangs downed only 32 percent of their shots from the floor, but zeroed in on 91 percent of their efforts from the charity stripe.

"We got off to a slow start because they tried to slow the ball down, but we finally got them to run with us and were able to pull away," Wheeler coach Charles Carter said.

Pampa trio to be feted

A baseball coach, a pitcher, and a longtime sports booster from Pampa will be honored during the 22nd annual Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame installation ceremonies and awards presentation at 2 p.m. Sunday in Amarillo College gym.

Steve Scott, last year's District 3-AAAA coach of the year, and Steve Stout, the league's player of the year, are the 1979 baseball coach and player of the year in the Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame.

Scott, Pampa's second-year baseball coach, guided the harvesters to a 19-5 regular season record. Pampa won the 3-AAAA title in a one-game playoff against defending champion Amarillo High before losing the bi-district series to Lubbock Monterey.

It was the first time the Harvesters had ever won the district baseball title.

Stout was the mainstay of the pitching staff as he compiled an 8-1 record during the regular season, losing only to Amarillo High, 4-2.

In 61 innings, the slender righthander yielded only 10 earned runs for a 1.15 earned run average. He walked 15 and struck out 69. He lost his only bi-district appearance.

Stout is the first Pampa player to be named baseball player of the year in the hall of fame since Kenry Herbert in 1967. Larry Stroud was Pampa's first baseball player of the year in 1960.

Jasper McBride is honored for his tireless efforts in promoting the Optimist Club baseball program in Pampa. McBride, who operates a family plumbing business, is an amateur league umpire who spends countless hours at Pampa's Optimist Park working with young ballplayers.

McBride, an all-around athlete at Wichita Falls High, came to Pampa in 1934 as a semi-pro baseball player. His playing days ended when he lost part of his left foot to a circulatory disease in 1945.

The Pampa trio, along with other outstandings players and coaches in other sports, will be presented with awards.

Highlighting the ceremony will be the installation of Johnny Allen, former football and track coach at Carver High; George Ray Colvin, all-time basketball great at Turkey High School and West Texas State, and Carl McAdams, an All-American linebacker two years in a row at Oklahoma University, to the Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame.

Red hot Harvesters crush Tascosa

The Pampa Harvesters continued their torrid shooting in rolling to a 62-46 District 3-AAAA victory over Amarillo Tascosa here Tuesday night.

The Harvesters canned 56 percent (24-42) of their field goal efforts and missed only one free throw in a dozen attempts to run their 3-AAAA record to 2-0.

Rebounding, particularly on the offensive, played an important part in the win as Pampa outrebounded the visitors, 14-4, the first half and 29-13 overall.

Key individual efforts for the Harvesters came from Steve Glover and Mike Nelson. Glover, a 5-9 senior guard, poured in 20 points while Nelson, a 6-2 freshman forward, put in 17 markers, and found his way inside for seven boards. Glover and Nelson typified the Harvester shooting attack. Glover hit 8 of 12 from the floor and was a perfect 4 of 4 from the foul line. Nelson sank his last four shots.

The Harvesters, even at 11-11 overall, never trailed in last night's contest. Taking advantage of poor shooting by the Rebels early, Pampa cruised to a 29-16 halftime bulge.

Tascosa, which drops to 5-15 and 0-2, hit only five of its first 20 shots for a meager 25 percent.

Also scoring for Pampa were Ronnie Faggins and Cedric Parker, 8 points apiece; Joe Jeffers, 4; Charles Nelson, 3, and Jim Agan, 1.

Parker led Pampa's rebounding chart with 8. Nelson had 7 and Damon Fleming came off the bench to grab 4.

Mike Washburn, Tascosa's 6-7, 230-pound center, led Tascosa in scoring with 14 points. Scott Milton added 12.

The Rebels made twice as many trips to the foul line as Pampa did, but downed only 13 of 24 attempts.

The Harvesters visit Palo Duro at 7:30 p.m. Friday night for another 3-AAAA clash.

Pistol Pete watches Boston win

By the Associated Press

The Boston Celtics signed Pete Maravich but it was the Chicago Bulls who were hot as a pistol Tuesday night. The Celtics, battling the Philadelphia 76ers for the best record in the National Basketball Association, announced the signing of free agent Maravich shortly after Pistol Pete watched them defeat the Houston Rockets 112-106. The Bulls, on the other hand, had all the weapons they needed in shooting a team record 70 percent from the floor in trouncing the Detroit Pistons 145-131.

In other action, the Kansas City Kings downed the Atlanta Hawks 101-89, the Utah Jazz overthrew the Milwaukee Bucks 127-122, the San Antonio Spurs crushed the San Diego Clippers 129-109 and the Cleveland Cavaliers whipped the Washington Bullets 114-91.

Rickey Sobers and David Greenwood scored 26 points apiece as the Bulls rolled up their highest point total in four years. The Bulls and Pistons set a Chicago Stadium mark by scoring 92 points, 50 by Detroit, in the fourth quarter.

The Bulls shot 83 percent in the first quarter, raced to a 67-52 halftime lead and coasted the rest of the way.

3 Celtics named to all-star squad

NEW YORK (AP) — Three Boston players, including rookie forward Larry Bird, were named today to the East squad for the National Basketball Association All Star Game.

Besides Bird, East Conference coaches chose guard Nate Archibald and center Dave Cowens from the Celtics. Also picked for the East team in the Feb. 3 game at Landover, Md., were forward Elvin Hayes of the Washington Bullets, Atlanta forward Dan Roundfield and guard Michael Ray Richardson of the New York Knicks.

Hayes will be appearing in his 12th consecutive NBA All-Star game, one short of the career record of 13 shared by Wilt Chamberlain, Bob Cousy and John Havlicek.

The East reserves join a starting unit of forwards Julius Erving of Philadelphia and John Drew of Atlanta, Houston center Moses Malone, and guards George Gervin of San Antonio and Eddie Johnson of Atlanta. The starters were selected in fan balloting.

Astro-Graph

by bernice bede osol

January 24, 1980

Your financial prospects look encouraging this coming year because of Lady Luck's interest in your affairs. Bear in mind, however, that she won't do all the work.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) In situations where you look out for the welfare of others as well as your own, you'll come out lucky today. In areas where you're selfish this won't be true. Travel, resource, romance, luck, possible pitfalls and career for the months ahead are all discussed in your new Astro-Graph Letter which begins with your birthday. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your splendid imagination could play tricks on you today, causing you to see negatives where they don't exist. Don't be deceived by gloomy thoughts.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Financial conditions are rather unusual today in that things profitable in the past should be so again. However, new sources you're counting on could fizzle.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Try to keep a light demeanor even in serious matters today. Your chances for success are greatly enhanced if you don't get uptight.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't attempt today to alter situations which are running smoothly. The changes you institute might be counterproductive.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You are apt to be lucky for pals today, but they may not be quite so lucky for you. Take their inside tips with a grain of salt.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 2) Don't leave major decisions which could affect your career or finances in the hands of others today. You'll fare better if you personally call the shots.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you are having anyone do special work or service for you today, keep close tabs on their progress or things may not be done as you'd like.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Others will be willing to help you today, provided you don't demand that they do so. Let their actions be spontaneous.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Make it a point today to show the same consideration to family members that you would to close friends. In the final analysis, they're the most important.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) There is a possibility you could be a rather sluggish self-starter today, but once you get rolling the chips will fly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Let your normally cautious judgment in material matters have full sway today. This is not a time to take foolish gambles.

ABORTION ISSUE HAS BECOME A 'LIFE OR DEATH' MATTER to demonstrators at the Capitol in Washington. Demonstrators, including a nun and a person dressed to symbolize death, gathered on the Ellipse before going to demonstrate against the Supreme Court decision easing restrictions on abortion. The demonstrators want Congress to adopt a constitutional amendment outlawing abortion. (AP Photo)

Abortion issue gains momentum - both sides

USTIN, Texas (AP) — Backers of freedom of choice in abortions said today they will carry their arguments to political candidates seeking reelection this year.

Peggy Romberg, representing the Texas Abortion Rights Action League, told a news conference about plans for formation of local chapters throughout the state "which will urge political action at the grassroots level."

She said "concerned persons" had formed a political action committee called "Choice-PAC" to support "pro-choice" candidates in the primaries and general election.

Ms. Romberg said the organization now had chapters in Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, Midland-Odessa and El Paso. She said they hoped to have chapters soon in Austin, Amarillo and Lubbock.

"There is a relationship between welfare cost and abortion," she said, quoting statistics she said came from the Texas Department of Health and Texas Department of Human Resources.

"The fertility rate for Medicaid women (in welfare services) is now 53.7 percent higher than that of all other women in Texas," she said.

"The average cost of a first trimester abortion is $175, while the TDHR reimbursement for prenatal care and delivery of a child to a woman on welfare is $1,500. Goods and services paid for a Medicaid mother and one child run $5,000 a year.

"If a woman has only the one child, TDHR will pay a total of $91,500 by the time the child reaches 18," she said.

Wicca priest's attorney charges rights violated

PLAINVIEW, Texas (AP) — Defense attorney Travis Shelton said law enforcement officers violated Loy Dean Stone's rights when they searched his property without telling him a teen-age girl had died or advising him of his rights.

Four law enforcement officers testified Tuesday that no one read Stone his rights on Halloween 1977 after Roxanne Casa, 15, was slain while sitting in a pickup in Stone's driveway.

Stone, 50, and his wife, Louise, are charged in the shotgun slaying and both have pleaded innocent. Mrs. Stone, 49, was granted a separate trial.

The Stones are high priests in the Church of Wicca, a witches' group that believes in reincarnation and psychic powers. The Stones say they do not believe in Satan.

Castro County Sheriff Martin and Texas Department of Public Safety trooper Jackie Gunnels testified they asked Stone to hand over a shotgun when they arrived at his house near Dimmitt in the Texas Panhandle.

Then Martin said he left all five of his deputies and Gunnels at the house to "protect the property." Meanwhile, he went into town to obtain consent to search forms, which the Stones signed, and a search warrant that he never used.

Shelton confronted Martin with an affidavit he had signed to obtain the search warrant. In the affidavit Martin stated he believed Stone or Mrs. L.E. Stone — Stone's elderly mother who lived next door — had fired the fatal shot.

"This is a clear violation of the Miranda rights of Mr. Stone," Shelton said. "The Fifth Amendment test is when the investigation is focused on the defendant." Martin said he had not read Stone his rights because he "wasn't under arrest." Gunnels said he felt it was Martin's place to tell him, because he was conducting the investigation.

Both said they were invited into the Stones' house where they took the shotgun and three unspent shells. In a later search, Martin said, three spent shells and a rusty shotgun were confiscated.

The jury was out of the courtroom for the testimony, but Martin later repeated his account before the jury.

The two deputies testified they drank coffee with the Stones while Martin was gone and were not told to look for any suspects.

Stone was arrested three days later.

Martin said the Stones called him to their house about ten teenagers "harassing them" earlier that evening, but he left about 10 minutes before he heard of the shooting.

When he returned to the Stones, the sheriff said, "I noticed a man coming out toward me with a shotgun in his hand and a lady coming from a westerly direction."

He identified the couple as the Stones.

Martin said Stone told him he had fired a single shot into the air to scare some youths away. Mrs. Stone was "all excited," he said, and pointed toward two cars and a pickup on the highway that she said had been harassing them.

Before the jury returned, Shelton asked that Stone's statement to the sheriff and the fruits of the search be omitted from testimony. State District Judge John T. Boyd denied the request but asked that similar testimony be previewed without the jury.
