Three Men Shot In Dairymen's Riot

CAMDEN, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP)—Three men were shot and numerous others bruised today during a disturbance at the dairymen's League milk plant here, which had been picketed by sympathizers of a dairy farmers union strike.

Deputy Sheriff Lyle A. Jones said the shooting occurred as a milk truck driven by Frank Rice of Hillsboro, N. Y., was entering the plant.

Jones said fifty or sixty pickets rushed the truck and dumped its milk. A 15-minute skirmish followed during which stones were hurled and shots fired. Spectators and farmers were bruised.

A fan in the "wolf" section at Road Runner park last night let out a mighty roar, "there he goes, Red!" just as Red Hay, Lamesa pitcher, was about to throw to the batter. Red stopped his motion and started to throw to first. It was a balk and the final Outler run of the game crossed the plate.

Schedule For Drivers Tests Changed Here

Gray county motorists who apply each Thursday for drivers license examinations will now have two hours less in which to take the tests as a result of speeding up the work on account of a cut in personnel of the Texas Highway patrol.

C. D. West, Texas Highway patrolman, who with Byron L. St. Clair is stationed at Pampa, will become the most striking plan of British-French action to help Poland in event of war over Danzig.

Many suppose the British, French and Polish general staffs, quietly devising a new European strategy, have worked out a plan for virtually continuous round-trip raids on Germany.

Germany's own "blitzkrieg" (lightning war) theory of air attack might be met with sudden, devastating raids on German plane and munition factories.

Starting from French bases, British and French planes would lose their bombs over Germany, fly on to Poland, refuel and reload with bombs, and make another raid over Germany on the way back.

Big bomb and gasoline reserves for French and British planes are believed established in Poland.

Because most experts agree the initial phases of "the next war" will be fought in the air, and because to get land forces into Poland would tax her friends with a difficult strategic problem, Britain and France probably would concentrate on air force assistance.

Boys Sentenced To Ten Days In Jail

Leatan Hawkins and Robert Lee, charged in connection with the theft of tubes and batteries several months ago from the Wilcox warehouse here, each was sentenced to ten days in jail when they entered pleas of guilty in Judge Sherman White's county court yesterday.

Pearl Taylor, of the South Side rooming house, also entered a plea of guilty of selling liquor without a license and was sentenced to 60 days in jail. The Taylor woman was sentenced after a plea of guilty when her case was called in county court yesterday.

Only Five Boys At Scout Review Board

Only five Boy Scouts attended the Gray County Board of Review last night in the city hall. They passed tests for 10 merit badges to be presented at the next Court of Honor.

Examiners at last night's board were Dr. C. H. Schukley, chairman, Vaughn Darnell, H. A. Yoder and Fred Roberts, council executive.

Borger Civic, Business Groups Say They Will Support Picnic

Borger and Pampa will assume equal responsibility for the success of the Community picnic, now in its third year, to be held on Labor Day on the Pampa-Borger road seven miles east of Borger.

Civic institutions of Borger will support the picnic 100 per cent, it was announced at a joint meeting between Pampa American Legion officers and representatives of various civic groups of Borger held yesterday afternoon in the Borger chamber of commerce.

Present were representatives of the Borger Legion, V. F. W., Jaycees, Chamber of Commerce, Garden club, American Legion Auxiliary, Book Review club, and Music club.

The meeting was opened by Homer Frewitt, secretary, who explained that the picnic is held for "the kids and the kids who want to be young a,ain." Bob Lindsey announced that plans were under way to close up Borger the day of the picnic. However, closing of the schools will depend on action of the school board tomorrow night when the proposal to postpone the opening of school from Monday until Tuesday will be discussed. The Borger newspaper, the Borger Daily Herald, will publicize the picnic to the fullest extent, it was said.

Last night, the Community picnic steering committee met and decided to give away a car and take out rain insurance on the picnic. Pampans interested in concessions are asked to contact Paul Hill.

An old timers dance will be held the night of Sept. 4. In charge of this dance will be Mrs. H. H. Heiskell.

John Cobb Sets New Speed Mark

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Aug. 22 (AP)—Fur broker John Cobb of London flashed through the measured mile in his powerful automobile today at 369.23 miles per hour.

This is the fastest man has ever traveled on land.

Cobb's "Railton Red Lion," a turtle-shaped comet, which pounded across this dry lake bed at a heretofore undreamed of speed, must complete the return journey within one hour to qualify for a new record.

The present mark is 357.5 M. P. H., established here last year ago by Captain Geo. E. T. Eyston.

Cobb was clocked at 369.23 M. P. H. for the north run, the fastest man has ever traveled on land. This mark far exceeded the clip the record-holder, Captain George E. T. Eyston, quickly maintained for the same run last September. Eyston's average for this lap was 356.4 miles per hour.

Cobb, beaming with confidence, climbed into the turtle-shaped comet and started the necessary return jaunt to make the record official amid a cloud of salt, but he stalled the motors shifting to high gear and the three-ton machine coasted to a stop approximately one mile short of the measured mile.

With only nine minutes of his available hour remaining and no new tires available, Cobb decided to forego another run.

Under the new schedule, Pampa examiners will be in Wheeler from 9 to 11 each Wednesday, in Canadian from 2 to 3:30 the first Wednesday in each month, in Miami from 9 to 11 the first Thursday of each month.

In Pampa, the previous examination hours were from 11 o'clock Thursday morning to 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

J. L. Pingenot, Jr., who has been stationed at Shamrock for the past two years, and who has been one of the officers holding the tests here each Thursday, will be transferred to Childress.

FDR Plans To Be First Angler To Troll Gulf Stream

ABOARD U. S. S. LANG AT SEA, Aug. 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt decided today to try what he thought was an innovation in fishing—trolling down the gulf stream from Canadian waters to the Virginia Capes.

The President told reporters that so far as he knew, no one ever had followed for fishing purposes the warm current which sweeps up from the south. He planned to troll both from the cruiser Tuscaloosa and small whale boats, if the weather permitted.

Mr. Roosevelt felt he had no idea what kind of fish he might catch—if any.

Convict Poses As Guard To Escape

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 22 (AP)—A long-term convict posed as a guard to lead two other long-termers to Governor from the state prison early today.

The three fugitives walked boldly through one of the prison's main gates with one of their number dressed in civilian clothes and bearing a forged pass which got them past a veteran guard unnoted.

Only the observant eye of a negro convict working nearby outside the walls revealed the ruse. He recognized them and promptly notified officials, but a quickly organized search brought no trace of the fugitives.

The search turned to St. Louis when it was learned an eastbound freight train passed near the prison within a few minutes after the trio walked out at 6:40 a. m. Warden Tom Scott said he believed they had boarded the train.

Pampa Delegation One Of Largest At Perryton's Fete

Perryton, Aug. 22.—Pampa roared into Perryton this morning with one of the largest delegations attending the 20th Birthday party of the city and Ochiltree county's Golden Jubilee.

The Pampans, headed by Dr. C. H. Schukley and his Chamber of Commerce Goodwill committee brought their high school band, directed by A. C. Cox, which marched in the mammoth parade and then played in the massed band concert. Pampa trippers marched or rode in cars behind their band.

At noon many of the Pampans joined hundreds from other points in the Panhandle at the old timers barbecue which was served persons who came to the Panhandle prior to 1900.

The program for the rest of the day was to include a baseball game, amateur rodeo, bathing beauty contest and dances.

HAVE THEY REALLY BURIED HATCHET?

Is Adolf Hitler, shown left as caricatured by a Belgian cartoonist, by announcing a treaty with Russia trying to tun a bluff on England, France and Poland by announcing a treaty with Russia? Is he trying to scare them to the extent that they will hand over not only Danzig but the rest of Poland without firing a shot? Is Stalin, right, dictator of Russia, trying to bluff England and France into believing that if they do not meet the terms of his mutual assistance pact, he will not help them if they go to war with Germany? "Yes" was the answer to all those questions in the inner circles in Washington, London and Paris, Associated Press dispatches today indicated. Furthermore they believed the treaty doesn't mean a thing.

An informant in Rome, Berlin's axis partner, reported the pact would contain three main points—a pledge by each country to abstain from aggression against the other, an undertaking by each to remain neutral if the other were attacked by a third party; and a provision that in case either commits an act of aggression the other may denounce the accord.

Hitler Expected To Ask All Of Poland

BERLIN, Aug. 22 (AP)—The moment "chance striking" between Germany and Russia was seen by Germany today as having the effect of accelerating Nazi determination to regain not only "war lost" Danzig but all the rest of present-day Poland which once was Austrian or German.

From the German viewpoint the outlook shes up this way: Poland is now "surrounded" by German troops from the eastern border of Slovakia via Bohemia and Moravia up to the Baltic.

Germany moreover has non-aggression pacts with all other neighbors of Poland; meaning they will not attack Germany in case she decides to move into Poland.

The dream of England and France that Russia might join them in the event of an attack of Poland by Germany is held here to have been shattered.

England and France may regret that their military mission told the Russians what they have to offer in a military way toward an alliance.

The pressure upon Rumania to come within the Rome-Berlin axis orbit will probably be increased greatly now in the knowledge that Soviet Russia still looks longingly at Bessarabia.

Japan's flirting with a military alliance with Germany and Italy is at least temporarily ended.

Adolf Hitler definitely said in his Reichstag speech on April 28

Pact Not Nearly So Important As It First Seemed

ROME, Aug. 22 (AP)—The proposed Soviet-German non-aggression pact will contain a provision permitting its denunciation in the event either party commits an act of aggression against a third country, a reliable informant said today.

The pact, this informant said, would contain three main points:

1. A pledge to abstain from aggression against one another.
2. In case one party is the victim of an attack by a third party, the other will remain neutral.
3. In case either commits an act of aggression, the other may denounce the agreement.

An informant in Rome, Berlin's axis partner, reported the pact would contain three main points—a pledge by each country to abstain from aggression against the other, an undertaking by each to remain neutral if the other were attacked by a third party; and a provision that in case either commits an act of aggression the other may denounce the accord.

France stood alert with an unestimated number of reservists added to the standing army of 700,000 as the import of the Russian-German action was being weighed.

In some pro-Soviet circles the agreement as outlined was regarded as not necessarily incompatible with an alliance among England, France and Russia.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP)—Observers close to the state department expressed belief today the proposed new non-aggression treaty between Russia and Germany would be in effect the same as a pact already in existence and therefore "not so important as it first appeared."

After receipt here of unofficial information on what the new treaty would contain these persons also expressed opinion it does not rule out the conclusion of a pact of mutual assistance between Soviet Russia and Britain and France.

In some quarters it was believed Germany was delighted to announce a new agreement at this time because of its possible effect in forcing a settlement of the Danzig question, Russia, it was thought might also expect to make diplomatic gains by the announcement in that she might frighten Britain into accepting her demands before conclusion of the pact of mutual assistance.

Count Jerzy Potulski, Polish ambassador, discussed the situation with Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, today. Secretary Hull is due back from vacation tomorrow.

The present non-aggression pact between Germany and Russia was signed in 1926 and was extended in 1933 by the Hitler government and the pact is still in effect.

Domestic Crude Demand Estimated

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP)—The Bureau of Mines estimated today the September daily average market demand for domestic crude oil at 3,510,700 barrels.

This is 11,200 barrels less than the estimated August demand but 3 per cent more than the actual September demand last year.

Total crude demand, the bureau said, will be 105,320,000 barrels for the month.

It estimated September domestic demand for motor fuel at 49,100,000 barrels, or about 7 per cent more than the actual demand in September, 1938.

Motor fuel exports, it said, likely will total 4,000,000 barrels, 200,000 barrels less than the August forecast. It estimated crude oil exports at 6,400,000 barrels.

Officers Trying To Locate Parents Of 2 Exposed Children

Pampa city and county health authorities today were endeavoring to locate the parents of two children who attended a Presbyterian encampment, which closed near Albuquerque, N. M., last Saturday.

Dr. Roy A. Webb, county health physician, said he had been notified today that one case of infantile paralysis had developed in a child which attended the camp.

"We would like to have the parents of the Pampa children get in touch with us immediately," Dr. Webb said, "in order to forestall the possibility of other victims of the disease here."

Oil Cut Recommended

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 22 (AP)—David B. McConnell, head of the Minerals Division of the State Department of Conservation, said he would recommend that next month's oil allowance be cut below the August allocation of 241,602 barrels daily.

Practically all Louisiana wells are now shut down for a 12-day period, until August 29, in line with action of other states seeking a boost in crude oil prices.

IRENE CASTLE IS TOAST OF TOWN

Irene Castle thought her friends' suggestion that she appear in a play was a fine idea. And here she is, with her dancing partner, Alex Fisher.

In fact, her elation was such that it verged on dangerous extravagance. For example, her role in Noel Coward's "Shadow Play" requires that she wear an impressive collection of gems.

Have you noticed that in hot weather your digestion and elimination seem to become torpid or lazy? Your food sours, forms gas, causes belching, heartburn, and a feeling of restlessness and irritability.

These are some of the symptoms of biliousness or so-called "Torpid Liver," so prevalent in hot climates. They call for calomel, or better still, Calotabs, the nausealess calomel compound tablets that make calomel-taking a pleasure.

Calotabs give you the effects of calomel and salts combined, helping Nature to expel the sour, stagnant bile, and washing it out of the system. One or two Calotabs at bedtime with a glass of water—that's all. Next morning your system feels clean and refreshed, your head is clear, your spirits bright, and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish and go about your work or pleasure.

Genuine Calotabs are sold only in checker-board (black and white) packs, each bearing the trade mark "Calotabs." Refuse imitations. Trial package only ten cents, family package twenty-five cents, at your dealer's (A.D.).

MODERN MENUS

We are now in the "plump" of the tomato season. They are easiest to eat at home than most vegetables because unlike other vegetables they are acid foods.

Use firm, ripe tomatoes, medium in size, free from decay. Pack them either hot or cold in glass jars or tin cans. Hot tomatoes need considerably shorter processing than those packed raw.

WATCH PURITY OF UTENSILS In tomato canning use the right kind of utensils. To keep the natural tomato color and flavor in juices, use knives of stainless steel and avoid kettles of copper, brass, or iron. And, of course, never cook or even let cut tomatoes stand around in galvanized iron utensils. They'll take up zinc from the pan and become poisonous.

COOKING RULES FOR TOMATOES Now is the time to stock your shelves with tomato juice. Also follow these rules: As short a time as possible from the vine to the container. That's an important rule for tomato juice. So work with only 1 to 2 gallons at a time, and do not let the tomatoes stand around between operations. After a preliminary washing and trimming, cut the tomatoes into small pieces. Simmer the tomato pieces until they soften.

Then put that at once through a fine sieve. A cone or a bowl-shaped sieve is best to get as little air as possible into the pulp. Reheat the juice at once—just to boiling. Then pour it into sterilized jars. Add 1/4 to 1 teaspoon of salt to a quart if desired. Seal immediately. The juice in the glass jars will need no processing. Or pour the hot juice into tin cans, seal immediately, and process for 5 minutes in a boiling-water bath. Do not leave head space in either jar or can.

These who buy commercially canned tomato products will, after January 1, 1940, have Federal standards to help them. On that date, standards of quality and fill of container will go into effect for all canned tomatoes, tomato puree and tomato paste that enters into interstate commerce. These standards recently were established by the Secretary of Agriculture by authority of the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act of 1938.

Hitler

That his one-time offer to content himself with Danzig and a German-controlled "corridor" through the "corridor" to East Prussia died when Poland rejected it.

Hitler is highly unlikely in the German view that Hitler now will be inclined to accept Poland's readiness—such developments as the result of last night's momentous developments—to agree to these "sine qua non" terms.

There is no doubt the average German now has been led to believe the Poles won't fight.

Still further, the man in the street in Germany today believes neither England nor France now will come to Poland's assistance.

He professes to feel there is no other course for the western powers except to stand by inactive.

Just what the fate of the Polish part of the Ukraine would be in the event of Germany's marching into Poland is difficult to predict.

One would have to know more about the terms of the impending German-Russian pact.

It is not inconceivable, however, that Germany would be content to take the rich agricultural lands of the former German section and arrange so favorably a trade agreement with both Poland (such as remains) and Soviet Russia that she also would obtain additional rich raw materials of the Ukraine.

And you should storm that poor little village.

The official German news agency called the Siegfried line "a new German miracle in comparison with which the great pyramids are children's toys."

Although the effect of the new agreement would have on Germany's promises to Japan under terms of the anti-comintern pact could not be known immediately, German sources stated "You may be sure that angle has been taken care of."

Italy also is a signatory of the anti-comintern pact.

Solons Probe Work Of Silver Shirts

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP)—A witness before the Dies committee testified today the Silver Shirts organization was denied use of auditoriums in Los Angeles when it was openly active there from 1933 to 1935 because it was attacking "Jewish communism."

The statement was challenged promptly by Rep. Voorhis (D-Cal.) who declared "the reason you could not get a hall was not because you were attacking Communism but because you were attacking the Jews."

The witness, Henry D. Allen of Los Angeles, gray-haired explorer of mining lands in Mexico, described the aim of the organization as being to "rid the federal government of Jews and Communists" and he said he still was in sympathy with its objectives.

"Most of the auditoriums in Los Angeles are owned or controlled by Jews," Allen declared.

"We had to use a false name to get our people together and when the Jews learned it was to be a Silver Shirt meeting, the use of the hall was cancelled."

"Surely you don't mean to imply," Voorhis put in, "that speakers against Communism can't get a hall in Los Angeles if they live in that community and I know that isn't true. The reason you couldn't get a hall was not because you were attacking Communism but because you were attacking the Jews."

join Britain and France in a tri-power mutual assistance pact which has been under negotiation for more than two months.

It was pointed out Russia now has a non-aggression agreement with Italy providing the pact would become void in the event one of the signatories committed aggression.

Such a clause, it was said, might be included also in the German-Russian pact.

If this should prove to be the case, the present situation might not be greatly disturbed. There was fear in some quarters, however, the pact might not be such it would exclude Russia from the British-French front.

Warsaw, Aug. 22 (AP)—Official Poland, surprised by Berlin's announcement of negotiations for a non-aggression pact with Soviet Russia, maintained a reserved attitude today, but it was reported that Germany's latest move "has absolutely no change in Polish policy."

Official comment was withheld until full details of the pact are available.

Regarding the problem of Danzig, however, Polish circles emphasized Poland's present policy has never involved any question of seeking or expecting the assistance of Russia.

Shushan Accused By State Of Bribery

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 22 (AP)—Bribery was today in state court against Abe L. Shushan, Robert J. Newman and Norvin Trent Harris, indicted yesterday by the federal grand jury here on mail fraud charges. They were to appear today to answer to a contempt of court rule for failure to furnish records in a $400,000 bond refunding deal of the Orleans levee board.

The affidavits were filed by Assistant District Attorney Albert Gramzin, Jr., in criminal district court just before a three-judge court was to assemble to hear the contempt proceedings.

Two others were charged with bribery along with Shushan and the two members of Newman, Harris and company, investment house which handled the bond refunding in 1936-37.

The others charged were Henry J. Miller, accountant, and Herbert W. Waquespac, former member of the levee board alleged to have accepted a bribe of $46,489 from the other four for use of his influence in promoting the refunding transaction.

Miller and Waquespac likewise were indicted for mail fraud yesterday in the indictments returned by the federal grand jury in connection with the widespread investigation of Louisiana corruption.

U. S. Jury Again Indicts Annenberg

CHICAGO, Aug. 22 (AP)—M. L. Annenberg, millionaire publisher and six others were charged by a federal grand jury today with conspiracy to defraud the government of $137,727.36 in taxes, penalties and interest on the income of the Consensus Publishing company, a racing record service.

The 43-page indictment, covering the years 1929 to 1936 inclusive, was returned by the same grand jury which Aug. 11 accused Annenberg, publisher of the Philadelphia Inquirer, of failing to pay $5,548,384 in income tax, interest and penalties.

The new charge was one of the "several" which District Attorney William J. Campbell said would follow the $5,548,384 indictment, the largest criminal tax case on government records.

The six co-defendants indicted with Annenberg were: William Molasky, St. Louis, president of the Consensus Publishing company; Jules Taylor, New York, manager of the Interstate Brokerage company, New York City;

Arnold W. Kruse, Chicago, secretary of the Cecilia company, Annenberg's chief holding corporation; James M. Ragen, Sr., Chicago, general manager of Nationwide News Service;

Japs Fuming Over Public Shooting

SHANGHAI, Aug. 22 (AP)—Japanese military authorities and Chinese officials of the Japanese-backed local government were reported today to be fuming over possible "isolation" of the Shanghai international settlement, apparently as the outgrowth of a police shooting scrape.

The Japanese were said to have moved additional troops along with tanks and other mechanized equipment, into an area along the settlement border where a Briton, Sergeant W. L. Kinlich of the settlement police, killed two and wounded six of the puppet government's policemen with a sub-machine gun last Saturday.

Kinlich said he opened fire when he was shot in the back. Demands for indemnities, punishment for Kinlich and apology and assurance against recurrence of such incidents were presented last night to Cornell Franklin, American chairman of the settlement council, over the signature of Fu Si-ao, Shanghai mayor.

A Japanese army spokesman made the communication public, along with an English translation, but insisted the army had nothing to do with its dispatch.

Reports from Nankin were that leaders of the puppet government sponsored government "view the incident as an insult," and that "some agitators in Nanking are demanding that the British be driven from China and the Shanghai settlement restored to Chinese control."

English Trainmen Seek Higher Wages

LONDON, Aug. 22 (AP)—A strike on tonight of four main railroads affected Saturday work on the lines today by the executive committee of the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen.

The strike decision followed upon failure of the companies to agree to raise the minimum weekly wage from 45 shillings ($11.25) to 50 shillings ($12.50).

All labor will be withdrawn, the union announced, unless an agreement is reached before Saturday.

NEW TREATY

not exclude negotiation of a mutual assistance agreement with Britain and France.

British and French quarters, however, were gloomy over the announcement that Berlin and Moscow were coming to an understanding.

It was uncertain whether the British-French staff talks with Soviet missions sought instructions from their government.

A terse communique on front pages of morning newspapers told Russians, who have been brought up to think of Germany as a potential enemy, that Adolf Hitler was sending his foreign minister, Joachim Von Ribbentrop, here to conclude a "no war" pact.

Not a single newspaper, however, commented on the announcement, one of the most significant in the Soviet Union's history.

British and French quarters held hopes the long delayed mutual assistance pact with Moscow might still be forged.

In these circles, the belief was expressed the Soviet government was using the German negotiations to pry concessions from London and Paris.

Tientsin Ravaged By Flood Waters

TIENTSIN, Aug. 22 (AP)—Flood ravaged this great North China city today, taking a heavy toll of life and causing property damage running into millions of dollars.

Angry waters of the swollen Hai river rushed through Tientsin.

Refugees by the thousands streamed into Tientsin from the submerged areas. There was intense suffering among the city's 1,500,000 residents.

The Japanese concession was 15 feet deep. Houses collapsed. Through the night, the sky was red from fires which burned huge sections of buildings to the flood line.

The American community was as waterlogged as any American Marines whose barracks are on the southern edge of the British concession, lost a two-day battle to hold back the waters with sandbags and retreated to upper floors, taking their livestock with them.

The American consulate also took up emergency quarters in the Marine compound.

All light, water and telephone service was disrupted. Authorities were attempting to bring in food by boat.

Epidemics are feared unless the water recedes quickly. But even when the crest passes, many low-lying areas may be submerged for weeks.

Formula Designed To End Milk Strike

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP)—A compromise formula designed to end a week-old dairy farmers' strike that has cut New York City's milk supply in half was announced early today by Mayor LaGuardia.

After a five-hour conference with representatives of strikers and major distributors, the mayor announced both sides had accepted a plan to end the strike, marked by frequent milk dumpings and troop-picket clashes.

He immediately was challenged, however, by Archie Wright, president of the Dairy Farmers' union, who insisted no "definite settlement" had been made.

The compromise formula, to which LaGuardia said those having a "75 per cent stake" in the milk industry had agreed, called for payment to farmers of $2.15 a hundredweight (47 quarts), for all kinds of milk.

The strikers had demanded a basic price of $2.35 a hundredweight.

SPENDING AND PURCHASING POWER
A contributor admits that a transaction tax simply transfers purchasing power from one individual to another and does not add to the total wealth or purchasing power.

It's getting awful hard to find the news in the papers nowadays, on account of all the best space being used up for the regular announcements.

When Patience Turns To Impatience
With a patience almost without parallel in modern times, the United States government has waited nearly 18 months for settlement of the controversy between the American oil companies and the Mexican government over expropriation of the former's properties in Mexico.

The U. S. government as such has intervened as little as possible in the controversy, hoping against hope that the two parties to it would be able to settle themselves. Long-standing efforts to do this have finally fallen flat, with both sides refusing to consider further a compromise plan now revealed as suggested by the State Department itself.

The contributor's conclusion is not right that the recipients' spending increases purchasing power. He is wrong for two reasons. In the first place, no individual hoards money.

No. additional purchasing power cannot be created by these artificial methods. It has been tried hundreds of times in past history. Purchasing power comes only from one source and one source only—that is producing something that someone else is willing to trade what he has produced in order to get.

The Family Doctor Dr. Morris Fishbein
Among the most frequent of complaints which disturb great numbers of people is buzzing or ringing in the ears.

That New York chef who turned out the plaster of Paris pancakes had nothing on some brides we know. Europe can keep her war scares, reads an editorial, and we'll keep our ragged and hay fever.

California leads all other states in wine consumption. Reformers will blame it on Hollywood, of course. Most race horses travel about 55 feet a second, says a survey. Except the one you bet on...

And so they just happen to have to sandwich the news in some-where the best they kin, and the only way you kin pick it out is to read between the lines. Course I admit the newspapers is up agin a tougher proposition than they used to be.

There can be no solution today except on a basis of reason and morality. DR. NICHOLAS MURRAY BUTLER, president of Columbia University.

Government pressure should be applied equally to both parties. Neither is without fault. Neither has given enough thought to the larger aspect of the situation, to the necessity of these two great peoples living peaceably side by side in justice and unity.

The American people, and we suspect, a growing part of the Mexican people, are beginning to grow impatient that this be done. They want to resume normal, cordial and neighborly relations.

Those people who do not believe in the competitive system, invariably contend that men will keep on working for the love of accomplishment or the sport of the game. For this reason, they say it is not necessary to permit them to have the fruits of their work.

Where these people err is that the minute the man does not have the right to use the fruits of his work in a manner that he thinks will benefit society, he loses interest. When the fruits of his work are taken from him and used to encourage idleness and sloth and pauperize and barbarize people, it is just contrary to the very elements of the soul for him to continue to produce something that he believes will do harm instead of good.

As you'll want to be sure to avoid becoming a hair stylist, a short history of Guilaroff will point the way. At 17 he was "sweeping up the hair" in a New York beauty shop when the bug bit. A few years later, he was one of the help in Antoine's when Joan Crawford came in, found all the other operators busy, and went to Sydney.

Joan's hair is about an inch long now. Norma Shearer's, too, has felt the shears. Norma, the top star in the picture, has only two hair-dos. The most-Guilaroffed of the stars is Rosalind Russell, who has more costume changes and hence more coiffures than the others.

The bands'll get their money's worth out of it too because the way it looks now there won't be a new high school building for at least two years, and maybe more. All right, school board, what do you say?

Where water is easy to get, we are apt to forget the importance of it to the lives of animals and plants. To produce a bushel of ear corn requires about 13 tons of water, and a ton of alfalfa requires something like 86 tons of water.

He will want to find out if there is high blood pressure, because this obviously tends to intensify noises. He will want to test the hearing because persons who are hard of hearing have deafness for certain tones. There may be ringing in the ears in relationship to the hearing of other tones.

It is given to no one infallibly to see the future or to know in advance the exact consequences of his acts. In this sense every human decision is a "gamble," and in this sense the President is no doubt entitled to assert that the Congressional majority which rejected his pump-priming program was "gambling" with the economic well-being of the country and "betting its own hunches."

So, when the producer is not permitted to use the fruits of his enterprise in a way that gives him joy and happiness and he believes will benefit humanity, he cannot do anything but quit producing even if he has the best of good will.

"I had to please not only the stars but the director, George Cukor, and the producer, Hunt Stromberg," Sydney was answering my question as Miss Russell, newly Guilaroffed, stepped from her dressing room.

Enough to being evenly divided that those 400,000-odd Labor Party votes could decide the issue. This was proved again last fall when Gov. Lehman, re-elected by the narrow margin of 64,000 votes, was given 419,000 by the Labor Party.

It is known that certain drugs, particularly quinine, definitely affect the ears. Sometimes the ringing in the ears may be associated with the taking of some special remedy. Behind The News Of The Day By Bruce Catton
Pampa News Washington Correspondent
NEW YORK, Aug. 22—In the old days, you began every political analysis in New York by asking what Tammany Hall was going to do. Nowadays you begin by asking what the American Labor Party is up to.

That doesn't mean that Tammany is dead, or that the Labor Party rules the roost. It does mean that an important change has taken place. Some of Tammany's decline is due to population shifts, which have made Manhattan—Tammany's one big stronghold—comparatively less important in the city's politics. Some of it is due to the New Deal.

While all of this was happening, leaders of organized labor were putting together a political machine to help President Roosevelt in the 1936 election. Elsewhere, the pro-Roosevelt work was done through Labor's Non-Partisan League; in New York an outright labor party was formed, and in the 1936 election, it gave Roosevelt 274,000 votes.

So while Tammany—out of power in New York, and in bad with the New Deal administration—languishes for lack of patronage, which is thus added to all its other woes, the Labor Party occupies an extremely important position. And it will go down the line for President Roosevelt, or any other "satisfactory" New Deal candidate, next year.

Which may easily mean that New York will go Democratic in the 1940 presidential election. Mayor LaGuardia recently sought to throw the party's support to William Herlands for the post of district attorney of Kings county (Brooklyn). Sean-dals have clustered about the controlling Democratic machine there. Herlands is an able man, formerly chief assistant to Thomas E. Dewey in Manhattan. But the Labor Party refused to follow the mayor, endorsing instead Magistrate Charles Solomon.

The disagreement reflects the fact that LaGuardia's prime concern is to break the power of the New York Democratic machine, and the Labor Party is thinking primarily in terms of national politics. Party leaders figure that they must not do anything now to build up Republican strength which, in the 1940 campaign, would be used against the New Deal.

In reaching that decision, these leaders were thinking principally of Dewey. They believe that with any other candidate running against a New Dealer, the vote in New York will be even enough so that their 400,000 votes will bring about a New Deal victory.

Last Game Of Week Here Will Be Tonight

Oilers Come From Behind To Win 9-6

The Pampa Oilers will make their last appearance on the local lot tonight until next Sunday afternoon when they return home for another series. Jodie Tate and his Lamessa Lobos will again provide the opposition, beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

Last night the Oilers spotted the Lobos four runs in the first inning and then went on to win 9 to 6. Milbert Vannoy was in trouble only in two innings and errors were particularly responsible for both situations although he walked the first batter to face him. The rookie held the slugging Lobos to nine hits, fanned eight and walked three, one of them intentionally.

Red Hay was on the mound for Lamessa and he got in trouble the first inning when Nell packed his first home run over the left field fence with Seliz, who had drawn a walk on base. The Oilers staged another uprising in the fourth. Summers opened with a double. Malvica beat out an infield single when Archibald made a sensational one-handed stab but didn't have time to make a play at first. Bailey scored Summers with a single. Bailey and Malvica pulled a double steal. Malvica scoring. Beavers fled out and Vannoy fanned but Saporito came through with a double to score Bailey. Saporito scored on Jordan's single but Jordan was trapped at second after a bad throw from the outfield.

Lamesa Rally Short

Jordan's single, a wild throw by Bates and two outs gave the Oilers another in the seventh. Bailey's single and Beavers' double resulted in another run in the ninth. Beavers went to third on an out and then scored on a balk.

Lamesa scored in the first when Spangler walked and with two away Fullenwider doubled. Haney singled and the ball went through Nell to the fence. Archibald was safe when his roller went between Saporito's legs and Wooten hit an infield single.

A ninth inning rally fell short. Millsap, hitting for Hay, was safe when Bailey and Saporito got mixed up on a play. Bailey trying to take the ball in front of Saporito. Spangler singled. Blackburn fled out. Watson singled and Spangler was trapped between second and third. Fullenwider hit his second double of the game but died on base when Saporito made a great play of Haney's high fly down the first base line.

Jordan Hits Ball

Jerry Jordan got his peppers on the ball for three consecutive singles to lead the Oiler attack. Summers and Beavers bagged a single and double each while Bailey got two singles. Fullenwider was the Lamesa powerhouse with his two doubles.

Although he let two go through his legs, Saporito came up with a couple of pretty plays, once when he made a terehanded stab of Watson.

Marshall Wins Twin Bill From Kilgore

Marshall made enough runs in one inning last night to defeat Kilgore, 9-7, in taking the nightcap after winning the opener, 11-6.

Kilgore had a 7-run lead when Marshall went to bat in its half of the fifth inning and bunched seven hits, four bases on balls and a wild pitch for the 9 scores.

The Palestine Pals rallied in the eighth with three runs to down Texarkana 5 to 3; Henderson defeated Tyler, 7-2; behind Gene Hinrich's 8-bitter; and Longview routed Jacksonville twice, 2-2, 7-2.

Tonight's schedule: Tyler at Henderson, Kilgore at Marshall, Texarkana at Palestine; Jacksonville at Longview.

Grover Austin Medalist In Top O' Texas Tourney

The entry list in the Top O' Texas Golf tournament which opened today over the Pampa Country club course, was disappointingly small, but the quality couldn't be questioned. Seventy golfers played qualifying rounds yesterday and on Thursday evening only one will be left in each of the three flights.

Grover Austin, Jr., Pampa youth, blistered the course with a sub-par 66 to record low qualifying score. Two strokes behind Austin was Jodie Bill of Lubbock, one of the tournament favorites.

Defending Champion Dale Strick of Borger turned in a 74. Paul Gore, Amarillo big name, shot a 72 while Frank Foxall, 1939 Greenbelt champion, shot a 76. Frank Mitcham of Shamrock, who eliminated Speck Stewart in the Amarillo open, came in with a 77.

The driving contest was won by B. J. Burkett of Nashville, Tenn., with an average of 201 2-3 yards into a strong south wind.

The course was in excellent shape when medal play began. The fairways had been mowed, the greens re-sanded and the tee boxes leveled.

The rough, however, was rougher than on any course in the country and the wild driving players were constantly in trouble.

A Dutch lunch was staged last night followed by the Calcutta pool in which Grover Austin was declared favorite. Tonight at 9 o'clock the tournament dance will be held with Pinky Powell and his orchestra furnishing the music. Holders of tickets at $1 will be admitted, with a lady friend.

Qualifying scores and pairings: Championship flight—Dale Strick, Borger, 74; Bud Posey, Hereford, 76; Billy Cooke, Jr., Clarendon, 73; Mark Heath, Pampa, 79; C. F. Boys Learn Much About Building Derby Racers

Percherons to Post

Pampa boys who are figuring on putting an entry into The News-Lions Club Soap Box Derby next year will do well not to hurry into construction of the cars until the 1940 rules are established.

There will be changes in the rules and possibly the type of wheels and axles, so it behooves all boys who plan to enter the races in '40 to wait until the rules are definitely established by the rules committee.

Pampa's Hugh Blevins, 1939 city champ, and Mark Bratton, runner-up in Class A at Pampa, learned a lot about soap box derby cars at the All-American Derby in Akron a week ago last Sunday.

All In Building

They learned that construction of the cars is a fine art and that split-second precision must be used because it means everything on the Derby Downs Hill on the day of the race.

When in Akron I talked with Norm Keeling, ace man of the service pit crew at the Downs, and he let loose the valuable information that too many boys pay little attention to the bottoms of their cars.

"The bottom of the car should be as clean as a whistle and as smooth as the bottom of a speedboat," Keeling said. "There must be no rough spots, nor anything hanging down—for it causes wind resistance, something you must reduce to a minimum in a race such as where split seconds count for everything."

There's a great deal to building a winning car. Competition in the national Derby is keen. The Pampa boys learned that on their recent trip to Ohio.

Many Soap Box Derby officials believe the races are becoming too fast for safety and that changes must be made in wheel regulations for next year to slow them up. When officials meet in the fall to set the new rules, the arguments will come up in favor of doing away with ball bearings and change to plain sleeve bearings.

Wheel Cost Higher

One company which charges $6.95 for wheel sets this year, is reported ready to consider plans whereby it can sell an even more efficient wheel set for not more than $4.

Cost of wheel assemblies has been one of the bad features of the Derby. Without these high-priced wheels boys do not have a winning chance. If and when the wheel costs can be brought down to the $3 to $4.50 bracket the number of boys and cars in the Derby will be more than doubled even though the age span be reduced to 12 to 15 years, inclusive—another change that is expected in 1940.

Somebody told us that the maximum speed attained by the racers on the championship hill at Akron was around 50 miles an hour. The speed there was not too fast. In every case crack-ups at Akron were caused by boys who disobeyed orders regarding the braking of their cars. One car cracked up when the boy driver had filled his stomach with chocolate sodas and pop and became nauseated while enroute to the finishing line during a test run.

After examining the car that won the All-American championship at Akron—the one driven by 11-year-old Cliff Hardesty of White Plains, N. Y.—many tried to figure out what made the White Plains type of car so fast. You know it was the same type car that won for Bobby Ballard in 1937 and which

All-Star Class B Game To Be Played At Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, Aug. 22. (AP)—The class B boys of interscholastic league football have their inning here Labor Day when they stage the second annual Oil Bowl all-star game.

The game, sponsored by Maskat Temple Shrine for its charity fund, will be the second played in the state this season. The first was at Houston when class A youngsters battled to a 6-6 tie in which several of the class B performers were outstanding with their play.

These all-star contests are for boys who have finished their high school eligibility.

Ted Weems of Rockdale, who scored the touchdown for the South All-Stars at Houston and Willie Zapala of Belville, Lewis Mayne of Cuero and Homer Pittman of Groesbeck, who starred in son's hot ground to get his man and again when he took the final out back of first. Seliz snagged a beauty on Blackburn's fly in the seventh.

Blackburn, Lamesa's new right fielder, came up with the prize play of the night when he raced behind second to take Beavers short fly.

Lubbock continued to win, taking Borger 13 to 7 while Midland dropped Amarillo twice. No report had been received late in the day on the Big Spring-Cloviss game.

Houston Downs Santone 3 To 0

The Houston herd swung up the trail into North Texas today but indications were there would be no slaughter at their expense.

The Buffaloes increased their Texas League lead to eight games last night by downing San Antonio, 3 to 0. Tonight they play the Dallas Rebels.

Fort Worth rallied for six hits and three runs in the 7th and 8th frames and overtook Tulsa for a 3-2 victory and a sweep of a four-game series.

Dallas swept a double bill from the Oklahoma City Indians, 6-0, and 7-0. Guy Cartwright drove in six runs to help Shreveport down the Beaumont Exporters, 9-6. He hit a homer in the seventh with the bases loaded.

M'Ewin Rough But Detton Takes Match

Dory Detton won his consecutive main event at the Pampa Athletic arena last night when he beat Wildcat Billy McEwin. Detton won the first fall in 20 minutes with a series of flying tackles and a body pin and the second when Referee Otto Von Ludwig disqualified McEwin at the end of 16 minutes.

The popular Detton failed to show the stuff he exhibited on his previous appearance because of a rheumatic condition developed in Europe.

Turn To Page 6 For Additional Sports

McEwin used return but the corner post in trying to pin Detton the first fall but he failed and Detton came through with some beautiful flying tackles and the body pin.

The second fall was rougher and tougher with McEwin choking persistently. Referee Ludwig broke the hold six times and then McEwin took a sock at him. When the horse wrangler got the choke hold again, Ludwig disqualified him.

Otto Ludwig, wrestler instead of referee in the semi-final, got even rougher than McEwin but he was unable to get Charlie Carr down for the count. Carr used science to show Ludwig up.

Joe Banaski, replacing George Wagner in the preliminary, went to draw with Frank Wolff. The match was clean and fast.

Skelly Wins Opener In Softball Meet

The Skelly-Schafer softball team of Pampa won its opening game in the district softball tournament in Amarillo last night, beating Phillips of Amarillo 10 to 2.

Skelly got away to a flying start and then coasted as Johnston held the opposition to five hits. Skelly got to shock for six hits and five errors proved costly. The Skelly boys played errorless ball.

Rexroat, elongated Borger pitcher, bested Amarillo's Eddy Norton, pitching for the Amarillo Times, 5 to 2.

brought his brother in a close second in 1938. Young Hardesty is a cousin of the Ballard brothers.

One suggestion was made that the rocking suspension of the car—the car body rocked back and forth sideways—may have something to do with its forward speed. However, engineers insist that side sway cannot be translated into forward speed. At Akron a week ago Sunday, many persons noticed that Champly Cliff Hardesty set up a rhythmic rocking side to side body movement while negotiating Derby Downs.

To Test Car

This was not accidental. The rocking movement did not result from roughness of the course. The body did not rock from sheer joy of racing or rocking. There was method behind that movement.

Right now in Akron they're building a duplicate of Hardesty's car and they're going to test it out on that rocking business. They'll find out whether the speed varies when it rocked and when it's not rocked. The motion set up is one similar to that of rocking a row-boat.

That reminds one: Step into a rowboat on perfectly still water. Put one foot on one gunwale and one on the other. Then rock back and forth and the boat will move forward and backward.

This doesn't mean to suggest that it's a good idea to rock the boat, but it causes one to wonder if there is any connection between rocking the boat and rocking the car that won the All-American Soap Box Derby at Akron last Aug. 13.

Cincinnati Wins While Cardinals Lose Monday

By JUDSON BAILEY Associated Press Sports Writer

Everybody is sitting back and waiting for the National League's usual September scramble, but there is a fat chance (read it any way you choose) the bunting will be stowed away this month while the contenders are cruising in the east.

The weak-sisters along the seaboard have been given a lot softer touch for the Cincinnati Reds than for the St. Louis Cardinals this season. Therefore, on the face of things, the Reds have a chance to manufacture a lead in the next two weeks which will withstand any St. Louis squall when the clubs get back home.

Whether it was an cmen depends on how you look at it, but Cincinnati pummeled the Phillies, 7-0, yesterday while the red-hot Cardinals were cooled off, 7-1, by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

John Niggeling, the 33-year-old rookie righthander Bill McKechnie picked up about a week ago, pitched seven scattered hits and seven strikeouts in earning his second big league triumph in seven days.

In contrast, Tom Sunkel and Lonnie Warneke, were shelled for 14 hits—at least one to every Dodger who went to bat. Luke Hamlin, the hot potato, burned his fast ball past all the St. Louis sluggers and shut them out until the eighth inning to snag his 15th victory.

Besides slowing down the Cardinals, the game raised the Dodgers into the first division past the New York Giants, who were subdued by Lefty Larry French of the Chicago Cubs, 4-3.

Other major league clubs were idle.

O'Brien To Open Pro Grid Career

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22 (AP)—The passing prowess that made Davey O'Brien a terror to Texas Christian football fans gets his first professional test tonight when Davy and two other Philadelphia Eagles take on the college All-Stars in a charity game at Temple stadium.

Wearing the number 8 that made his college jersey a warning sign, O'Brien will try to show the paying customers how to put an opponent behind the eight-ball.

SERIAL STORY

Murder on the Boardwalk

BY ELINEOR COWAN STONE
COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday's bill's key holder is found on the beach. He tells of fighting with a henchman, whom Christine knows to be her late cousin's butler. Christine made a dagger hidden in the wall. She wishes she had given the inspector a false name, hopes to talk to him alone.

CHAPTER VIII

CHRISTINE waited uncomfortably while the inspector gave some final instructions to his subordinates. But before she had an opportunity of speaking to him, the car in which she was to be driven to headquarters drove up, and a uniform man hurried her into it.

Christine steeled herself, tried to revive her dwindling courage. Nevertheless, she must have looked pale under the brilliant lights of the office, for no sooner were they all seated than the inspector said to an officer at his elbow, "Get the young lady a drink. She looks sick."

Christine took the water gratefully. Meantime another subordinate hurried in and put an envelope on the desk.

"They've found Mrs. Talbert's car, Chief," he said in an undertone. "Locked and parked at the end of the 27th street dock. The number checks at the State office."

Inspector Parsons glanced through the contents of the envelope. "Okay," he nodded. "Get one of the Amalgamated officials and check up on the rest of the stockholders. . . . And wait a minute—see if any of these keys open that car." He took a key holder from his pocket. "Now, Mr. Yardley, how long have you known Mrs. Talbert?"

"After a fashion for 10 or 12 years." "But—why, he didn't tell me that Christine thought."

"What do you mean by 'after a fashion'?" "I met her at a horse show where I was riding. Since then I've trained several thoroughbreds for her. But I've seen her very seldom."

"But often enough to borrow money of her?" "That's a matter of record. You can easily find out."

"I have already found out," the inspector cut in coldly. "The notary who always witnesses her papers remembers the transaction. Several years ago Mrs. Talbert lent you $20,000."

Christine listened incredulously. "In return," Inspector Parsons went on, "for a silent partnership in your firm—which, at the time, wasn't worth $10,000."

"Mrs. Talbert knew that."

"But which is now worth many times as much. Your agreement with Mrs. Talbert was unusual. At the death of either of you, your joint property automatically reverted to the other. On your repaying the loan, it reverted to you. . . . Have you repaid that loan?" "Not entirely."

THE inspector swung on Mr. Wilmet. "Mr. Wilmet," he said, "you own some Amalgamated stock, I believe?" Mr. Wilmet moistened his lips. "Why, yes—yes, I have a few shares," he admitted.

"It might be interesting to know how you voted on that merger between Amalgamated and National that went through at the stockholders' meeting yesterday?" "Well," Mr. Wilmet said nervously, "as a matter of fact, I didn't go to the meeting at all."

"You didn't have to go. Someone else could have voted your stock by proxy."

"But—why should they?" "Mrs. Talbert was interested in preventing that merger. Yet two days before the meeting, Mrs. Talbert's house was suddenly closed; the servants sent on vacation, and the telephone discontinued; and Mrs. Talbert, who owned enough stock to stop that merger single-handed, apparently went off somewhere on a trip. I believe some of the Amalgamated stockholders might know where she went and why. . . . Now when my men found you in that drug store, about 1, you said you had been attending a show from 9 until after 12 o'clock. Could you prove that?"

"No, sir," Mr. Wilmet was white, but he spoke with a spirit that surprised Christine. "Why should I expect I'd have to?"

Bill Yardley moved as if to speak; but apparently thought better of it. The inspector glanced at him with interest; but Mr. Wilmet was going on:

"And I must say, Inspector, that I resent your men's taking away the only comfortable pair of walking shoes I have. I've got bad arches, and these hurt me."

Christine remembered that she had seen the little man stumble several times after he had appeared on the Boardwalk. Now he was wriggling his small feet in their trim dress shoes in obvious discomfort; and he seemed about to expand on his grievances. But the inspector cut in:

"You'll get them back. . . . By the way, Yardley, suppose you step into the next room—and you"—he indicated Jasper. "We want a look at the shoes you're wearing."

AS Bill and Jasper filed obediently out, another officer slipped in and handed the inspector a report. "As I expected," Inspector Parsons commented after glancing at the paper. "The only prints on that dagger are identical with those Miss—Nevin, did you say the name is—made on that glass she drank from a while ago. If there were any others, someone has cleaned them off."

Christine started to say, "Inspector, my name is—"

But Inspector Parsons had swung again upon Mr. Wilmet. "Now," he snapped, "suppose you tell me why you introduced this young lady as 'Miss Grace Nevin'?"

"Why shouldn't I?" Mr. Wilmet's ineffectual chin waggled truculently. "This young lady told me her name was 'Miss Grace Nevin.' I naturally believed it was. I haven't any reason to think it isn't."

Yet an employe from the Crestview identified her as the young woman who registered at the hotel as Miss Christine-Thompson.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Wilmet," Christine said, "I did give you an assumed name. . . . I tried to tell you Inspector."

"Did you, in seed?" the inspector asked dryly. "I hadn't noticed it."

"But," Mr. Wilmet persisted, "if this young lady chooses to use a pen name, I can't see why it makes any difference to any one else."

"It makes just this difference—that it seems a singular coincidence that Mrs. Talbert's body should have been found in the very concession where you were paying her own cousin to work."

For a moment the inspector sat, studying Christine with curious attention. Finally he said, "Miss Thompson, there was a letter in your cousin's bag—a stamped, sealed, and addressed to you. . . . Perhaps you'd better read it."

He handed Christine a folded sheet of paper. "My dear Christine," the letter ran, "I am distressed by the repeated reports I get of your reckless extravagance. I have already warned you that unless you gave me reason to believe that you had learned something about the care of money, I should have no choice but to change my will—in which, as of course you know, you are named as my chief heir. I am about to take steps to make that change. Sincerely yours, Erama Talbert."

When Christine looked up, she knew that her face must be as blank as her mind. (To Be Continued)

Operation Costs Filed By Humble

AUSTIN, Aug. 22. (AP)—Testimony on well-operation costs of Humble Oil company leases to back up the firm's request for a larger share of East Texas field production drew an intense cross-examination at a Railroad commission hearing today.

After J. B. Davidson of Tyler, company accountant, submitted detailed figures on several leases, Sen. Joe Hill of Henderson asked: "In making your calculations, did you take into consideration the costs of acquisition of the leases and their current sale value?"

"No," Davidson replied. "Wouldn't those figures be necessary to determine costs accurately?" "Yes, if you wanted the exact figures on an individual lease."

Madden Hill of Dallas, former assistant attorney general and brother of Senator Hill, asked Davidson to submit work sheets on other Humble leases in the area which the accountant previously had indicated had not been "representative" or "typical."

Jerry Sadler, member of the commission who conducted the hearing continued from last week, indicated he did not know when it would conclude.

Davidson testified the average cost of drilling and equipping a well on the company's lease was $10,000. Pumping equipment, he said, cost an additional $3,500.

"Operation of a flowing well," he asserted, "costs about $1,000 a year while a pumper costs approximately $1,600."

Mussolini To Seek Share Of New Benefits

ROME, Aug. 22.—Diplomatic quarters expected Premier Mussolini today to move quickly to get his share of benefits foreseen under the imminent German-Soviet non-aggression pact.

The possible result of the pact and its implication of Soviet support for Chancellor Adolf Hitler's expansion plans are so extensive, some diplomats felt, that Duce may strive to get far more than merely Italian demands on France. In recent months, Fascist agitation for colonial concessions from France had subsided. The issues were defined by Mussolini March 26 in a Fascist anniversary address declaring problems between the two countries were "Tunisia, Jibuti and the Suez canal."

Foreign observers expressed the opinion the Soviet-German re-approchement had thrown a monkey wrench into any plan for Japanese adherence to the Rome-Berlin military alliance.

The Japanese ambassador, Tochio Shiratori, declined comment, but he was known to have asked for an appointment at the Foreign Office.

The minimum significance given the announcement of the pact by these quarters was that Russia had given up any idea of joining the British-French front which the axis powers have attacked as an "encirclement program."

Since it appeared certain the axis was as strong as ever and that the German action was taken with the whole knowledge and cooperation of Mussolini, diplomats assumed he also had assurances Italian interests would be advanced through it.

Some thought he might turn towards Yugoslavia.

Republicans May Hold Convention After Democrats

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP)—Republicans may try a waiting game to reverse custom and force Democrats to nominate their 1940 presidential candidate first.

With but one exception since the Civil war, the Democrats have enjoyed the strategic advantage of holding their quadrennial convention after the Republicans had written their platform and chosen their national ticket.

Some Republican politicians said today Chairman John Hamilton of the party's national committee might seek to delay selection of a convention date until after the Democrats have fixed theirs.

These persons said that by holding their convention last, Republicans could take more effective advantage of any dissension in Democratic ranks.

Some old-line Republicans were understood to disagree with such a course, however, contending that to hold their national convention after the Democratic meeting would be to accept a minority party role.

The Republican executive committee will meet here next month, and the question may be given a preliminary threshing then.

Definite Code Of Neutrality To Curb U. S.

By ANDREW BERDING
WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP)—The United States will find itself, in the event of a major war, with a definite code of neutrality—a far different position than it occupied at the outbreak of the World War in 1914.

The actions of the government and the people would be defined and limited by the four-year-old neutrality law, which President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull unsuccessfully sought to have revised by the last Congress.

It is taken for granted here that if a European war should start, the neutrality act would be involved, although it never has been applied to the undeclared Sino-Japanese conflict.

Once the President proclaims the act to be in effect, a tithe of regulations immediately gets under way. The most important is an embargo on the shipment of arms, munitions and implements of war.

The national munitions control board has a long list of the prohibited equipment, ranging from pistol bullets to warships. It includes civil as well as military airplanes and all airplane engines and parts.

When the World War began there was no such ban on the export of arms to belligerents.

All other commodities than arms could be freely sold to belligerents and could be carried in American ships under the present act. This is because the "cash and carry" provision, which expired May 1, has not been renewed.

Secretary Hull wants to revive the "cash" portion of this principle so as to require that goods pass to foreign hands before they could be exported to a nation at war.

He would like to modify the "carry" portion so as to prohibit American ships from entering combat areas, but nevertheless to permit them to carry goods to outlying territory of a belligerent not within danger areas. American ships could thus continue to carry merchandise to Australia, Canada, British South Africa, British West Indies, etc., even if Great Britain were at war.

Waterbury Mayor Gets 15 Years In Treasury Looting

WATERBURY, Conn., Aug. 22 (AP)—Frank Hayes, still mayor of this manufacturing city of 107,000 persons despite the fact a prison sentence of 10 to 15 years for conspiracy hangs over him, was summoned today to appear before the board of Aldermen to determine whether he should be removed from the chief executive's office.

The 56-year-old bachelor mayor, who was Connecticut's lieutenant-governor until last January, was sentenced yesterday with 22 others charged with plotting a fraud by which the city treasury was looted of more than a million dollars.

Hayes spent more than five hours in the courthouse last night while his attorney arranged to post the $50,000 bond that will insure his freedom until the state Supreme Court hears his appeal.

Meanwhile the board of Aldermen summoned Hayes and Alderman Thomas P. Kelly, Hayes' executive secretary who received a seven to 12 year sentence for his part in the plot, to appear Thursday night to face other charges. No action was taken concerning the six other city officials sentenced yesterday.

Escorted through a rear door of the courthouse early today after he had finally posted bond, Hayes was met with a barrage of boos and catcalls from the throng of a crowd estimated by police at 10,000.
