40 MILES OF SHELL PIPE LINE BOWS OUT

Tommies Hurl Back Germans in Battle

PARIS, Dec. 12 (AP)—British troops were disclosed today to have repulsed an attack by three divisions of Nazi troops in the first reported direct engagement on the western front between British and Germans.

Military dispatches said the British threw back the Germans Sunday in an attack south of Buschdorf, near the Moselle valley, in the sector recently taken over by British "Tommies."

The British reported no dead, wounded or prisoners.

GENEVA, Dec. 12 (AP)—Reports circulated in League of Nations circles today that France would reject the League of Nations' 24-hour ultimatum calling on her to accept mediation of the Russian-Finnish war.

Consequently league leaders pressed the committee considering Finland's appeal for aid to draft a report condemning Russia as an aggressor and sought practical means for ejecting Russia from the league.

Officials said it was possible the league assembly might be called for a night session to pass on the matter.

Wife Tries To Curb Husband's Thirst!

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Dec. 12 (AP)—A house wife complained to Assistant Police Chief Hal Phillips her husband wouldn't quit drinking and asked Phillips' advice.

In an effort to curb her husband's thirst, she said, she already had: Hit him with a broom. Locked him out of the house. Left him.

She Was Alone On Christmas Eve

Holiday gaiety only brought more unhappiness to Alice. But there was a surprise for her in Santa's pack.

NOW SINGS

You have heard Ernestine Holmes, above, member of an old Pampa family, play the piano so brilliantly you figured she must be a prodigy, but you have never heard her sing in public.

Only 45 Families Seek Goodfellow Christmas Cheer

At least 300 families are expected to be on the list of "adoption" by Pampa Goodfellows this Christmas, but families have been slow to call at the office of Mrs. Willie Baltes, county case worker, where names are first cleared for the Goodfellow desk that will be established Friday in the city hall.

Only 45 families to date have called at the office of the county case worker for this purpose. With Christmas only 13 days distant, Mrs. Baltes today was urging families to hurry their calls, so that all could be provided for this Christmas.

On December 30 the annual "White Christmas" is to be held at Pampa schools assemblies at which time students will bring canned goods to school. These will be collected by the Salvation Army and distributed with the Christmas baskets.

The Red Cross is sponsor and the Legion co-sponsor of the Community Christmas tree to be held December 24, when toys repaired by Pampa firemen, and other gifts, will be distributed to children of Pampa's "less chance" families.

6 Fenders Damaged As 3 Cars Collide

Six badly dented fenders was the principal damage in a freak accident on Mary Ellen street yesterday afternoon in which three cars were involved. The accident was investigated by Ray Dudley, city traffic officer, who made a report to Chief J. I. Downs.

Wasson Appointed Deputy Constable

Appointment of O. E. Wasson as a deputy constable, to assist Constable George Inman of precinct 20 in the 10-day period, December 20-30, was confirmed by the county commissioners at their regular meeting yesterday. Wasson is to receive $4 a day as pay, the order states.

Students To Sing Operetta Friday Night

'In Old Vienna' Features Gay, Romantic Tunes

With a cast of 92, the annual Pampa Junior High school operetta, "In Old Vienna," a two-hour show, will be presented at 7:30 o'clock Friday night in the high school auditorium.

Rehearsals started a month ago. Tickets went on sale yesterday by members of the Leaders club of the school.

The operetta, presented by the school's music department, will include solos, duets, trios, and five choruses, the latter composed of burghers, waiters and waitresses, gypsies, tourists, and Viennese maidens, all in Continental costumes.

Plot of the operetta deals with an American pickle manufacturer and his advertising agent in Europe, and their association with gypsies and an English countess.

In the principal roles are Bobby Joe Dunham, as the proprietor of the Peter Piper Pickle company; Jonas H. Pennington; Ernestine Holmes as June Pennington, his daughter; Harris Lee Hawkins as J. Jennison Jones, advertising agent; Jim Bob Aulds as Jigo, Hungarian gypsy; Marion Hoover as Iona, a gypsy; Neely Joe Ellis as Arthur Crawford, young American artist; Evelyn Aulds as Lady Vivian Delancy, an English widow; Sammie Taylor as Hans Maier, proprietor of the Wurtzelpreter; Mary Jane Davis as Louise, a waitress; Billie Wilson as Capt. Kinaki, chief of the detective bureau; John Robert Lane and Marvin Haney as Bumski and Rumski, his sleuths.

Music of the operetta is directed by Miss Madge Sears and Miss Winifred Wiseman, while C. T. Hightower, speech instructor, has charge of the students in the speaking parts of the play.

Proceeds of the operetta are for the benefit of the music department and the cafeteria of the school, and for charitable work of the Parent-Teacher association.

Orchestra Will Play Concert Next Sunday

The Pampa High school and civic orchestra will give its first concert Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

The orchestra, organized at the beginning of the current school term, has been rehearsing for several months. The personnel of the group is composed largely of high school students, several students and a number of adult musicians of the town.

The program will be about 45 minutes long and will be played without intermission.

7 Cash Prizes To Be Awarded

If there's only a wreath on the door or a candle in the window, the Pampa Garden club wants every home in Pampa decorated for Christmas, according to Mrs. James B. Massa, in charge of the club-sponsored Yule activity.

Announcement of the prizes was made today. As was the case last year, there will be three sets of prizes. Cash prizes will be $10, $5, and $3.50 for the first, second, and third prize winners in each of the three districts into which Pampa has been divided. There will be a grand prize of $20.

First, second, and third place ribbons will be awarded churches and schools, three in each division. Pampa clubs will be asked to vote 100 per cent for entry into the contest.

A service committee of the club yesterday was on duty from 3 to 7 o'clock in the afternoon at the Southwestern Public Service company, where there is available suggestions, lists of workers who will make decorations, including a sign-painter, and other information pertaining to the contest.

'Drunk Driving' Subject Of Jaycee Film This Week-End

Sponsored by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce as a part of their activity in safety, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer photoplay, "Drunk Driving," will be presented on Friday and Saturday afternoons and at night at the LaNora theater.

Death Causes Oil Hearing To Adjourn

Rep. Carl Mapes Of Michigan Dies In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 12 (AP)—The Congressional committee which met here yesterday to hear testimony on the Cole bill which would authorize federal control of the petroleum industry decided to adjourn its hearing today following the sudden death of Rep. Carl E. Mapes (R-Mich.).

Rep. William P. Cole (R-Md.), author of the bill, and chairman of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce sub-committee conducting the hearing, announced he would accompany the body of his late colleague back to Grand Rapids, Mich., leaving at 1 p. m. today.

Rep. Mapes, 64, who was in good health yesterday, was found seriously ill at 5:45 a. m. today by employees of the Roosevelt hotel, who had been notified by the telephone operator that the telephone connection was open.

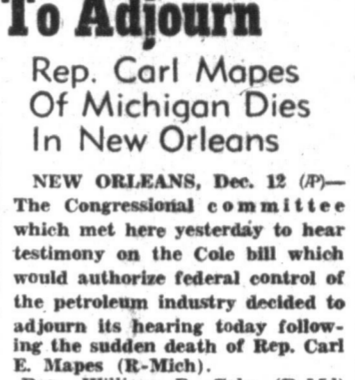

The Congressman was dressed and said he was suffering pains of the heart. A nurse and doctor were summoned, and the Congressman gained some relief. He suffered another seizure at 6:45 a. m. however, and died suddenly at 7 a. m.

"I wish I was at home" were his last words, according to Rep. Cole, who said the other members of the sub-committee, Reps. Kelly (D-Till), Pearson (D-Tenn) and Wolverton (R-NJ) would return to their homes or to Washington unless they proceeded to Grand Rapids.

Maps took a leading part in yesterday's session, closely questioning Colonel E. O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas Railroad commission, on the effect he thought Illinois production might have on the marketing of Michigan oil.

Thompson and Jerry Sadler, Texas Railroad commission member, expressed pronounced opposition to the bill which was recommended by President Roosevelt and Secretary Tamm.

AN ANGEL? CHRISTMAS SEALS

Help to Protect Your Home from Tuberculosis

Does the figure above look like an angel? A critical woman wrote Rockwell Kent, artist who designed this year's Christmas seal for the National Tuberculosis association, that it did not. To which Kent replied, "how do you know?"

The Gray County Tuberculosis association, headed by W. E. James, president, is conducting the annual sale of Christmas seals in Pampa and Gray county now as a part of the national campaign against tuberculosis.

Berlin Elected API Chairman

George Berlin, in charge of the production department of the Skelly Oil company here, was elected chairman of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute at the annual meeting and party last night at the Southern club when nearly 500 couples danced to the music of Lloyd Wells and his orchestra and saw the Kathryn Duffy revue, "Hello Beautiful."

Dan Williams, in charge of the production department of the Danziger Refining, Inc., of Pampa, was elected first vice-chairman and W. P. Price, head of the Huber company, Borger, was named second vice-chairman. Chairman Berlin named Charlie Alford, assistant to the division superintendent of the Humble Pipe Line company, Pampa, secretary-treasurer.

Retiring officers were Walter Bery of the Sinclair-Prairie Oil company, chairman; Dan Williams and George Berlin, vice-chairmen; and Cleve Huff of Cree & Hoover, secretary-treasurer.

Music in the Lloyd Wells manner kept the dance floor crowded throughout the night. The popular leader of one of the best orchestras that has ever appeared in Pampa played nearly every instrument in his orchestra and also sang several selections.

WPA Worker Crossing Line In Car Hurt

Line 'Standing On End' In Wichita Falls Section

WICHITA FALLS, Dec. 12 (AP)—A rumbling series of explosions blew out nearly 40 miles of the Shell Pipe Line company's 10-inch main connection near here shortly before 8 a. m. today.

Early reports indicated only one person was injured, not seriously, when sections of the pipeline gave way. The line extends from Wink, Texas, to Chicago, passing through Northwest Texas.

No cause was given for the explosion, but an employe at the Oklahoma pump station said the line was being cleaned by a scraper rammed through the pipe by compressed air.

The injured man was Roy H. Brinkley, Wichita Falls WPA worker, whose automobile was caught by one of the blasts where the line crosses under U. S. Highway 370 ten miles south of here.

Windows rattled and houses were shaken in the vicinity of Henrietta, 16 miles southeast of here, when long sections of the line burst out of the ground and wild explosions witnessed to be "standing on end."

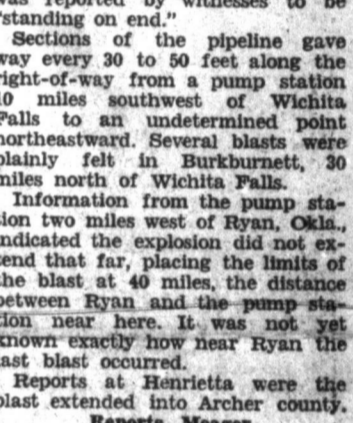

Sections of the pipeline gave way every 30 to 50 feet along the right-of-way from a pump station 10 miles southwest of Wichita Falls to an undetermined point northeastward. Several blasts were plainly felt in Burkburnett, 30 miles north of Wichita Falls.

Information from the pump station two miles west of Ryan, Okla., indicated the explosion did not extend that far, placing the limits of the blast at 40 miles, the distance between Ryan and the pump station near here. It was not yet known exactly how near Ryan the last blast occurred.

Nervous Thieves

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 12 (AP)—Thieves broke into a warehouse during the night, stole 20 cases of whiskey and probably as an afterthought—two cases of nerve tonic.

Christmas Carols Through the Ages

The query followed the proposal of Dr. W. D. Bradford, board chairman, that regulations be adopted which would ban issuance of licenses to roadside dealers in an effort to curb auto crashes and deaths due to use of intoxicants.

One member of the board, E. W. Crouch of McGregor, stated he was under the impression the legislature did not contemplate confining permits and licenses to incorporated cities and towns only.

The Waterworks Dedication

Pampa's newly-completed $250,000 PWA waterworks extension project will be displayed to the public Thursday when the revamped system officially will be dedicated to the people of Pampa.

City officials are stressing the point that everybody is invited to attend the dedicatory program which begins at 10 a. m. Thursday at the new Ward street pumping station.

It is the public's chance to view the new and adequate system that has replaced a system which was not big enough to take care of Pampa's growing needs. The public should take advantage of this opportunity to become informed on just what Pampa has in the way of water facilities.

Following the actual dedication program Thursday morning, the public is invited to inspect the system from one end to the other. Waterworks employees will be in attendance all day to take visitors through and to explain the mechanics of operation.

It will be a highly educational tour for any taxpayer who is interested in learning where the city's portion of the construction costs went, as well as what the PWA grant helped to build.

Mayor Ed. S. Carr will deliver the principal dedicatory address. Walter L. Collard, Fort Worth PWA representative, also will speak on the program. Congressman Marvin Jones is expected to attend and to speak.

The dedication Thursday will mark the conclusion of a city-sponsored program which was begun a year ago—a program which has presented Pampa with a system which is one of few in the Panhandle producing a water supply that has the approval of the state department of health.

It is YOUR water system. Why not attend the dedication ceremonies Thursday morning, and then look around and see what makes it tick?

LABOR UNDER THE LAW

In its decision yesterday reinstating the anti-trust indictments against the Chicago milk industry the Supreme Court explicitly refused to pass upon the question whether the labor union involved was exempt from the anti-trust statutes.

We seem to have set aside this function of the government in protecting people in the right to work and in place of it are assuming the responsibility of the government furnishing a worker a job.

If the government would assume the original responsibility, as set forth in the Declaration of Independence and Constitution—that each man had the right to the pursuit of happiness—and it was the duty of the government to protect him in this right, then there would be no need for the government furnishing employment.

Because the states and federal government have neglected to perform their duties in protecting man's right to work, the United States government and the State of California are now making artificial work. There would be no objection to this, if they did not invariably pay the workers more per unit of production than workers can get working privately.

The right of a man to be protected in his right to work is a most important right. It is something that should be thoroughly discussed and analyzed by every instrumentality that makes any pretense of educating on social, humanitarian and political lines.

locals of the new construction trades union in 20-odd states. That barely scratches the surface, as he figures more than two-thirds of the 3,000,000 building trades workers in the United States are unorganized.

NAVY BATTLES LACK OF CO-ORDINATION The navy's top-heavy destroyer trouble arose not because any particular designer made a blunder, according to reliable information, but simply because the set-up in the department hasn't been co-ordinated.

There are two distinct legal questions concerning the responsibility of unions which in the present case are in danger of becoming confused. One is the question of what the law actually is; this will be for the Supreme Court eventually to determine. The other is the question of what the law properly ought to be.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The man who is heading up the C. I. O.'s drive to organize the building trades is Dennis Lewis, who looks enough like John L. so that you'd know they are brothers but not enough like him to be classed as his double.

Dennis Lewis is stocky and muscular, like his brother, but is rather less beetle-browed—both physically and emotionally. Born in Colfax, Ia., 50 years ago, he is an ex-coal miner, a war veteran (six months with the A. E. F.) and from 1924 to 1930 was director of mines and minerals in the governor's cabinet in Illinois.

Sharing The Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles

LOST OUR ANCHOR—LOST OUR GOD The reason we have so many unemployed and those who are employing people so discouraged is that we have lost our anchor. We have lost our God. We lost it, from a legal standpoint, 26 years ago. The anchor and the God that we used for a century and a quarter before that time was the anchor, or the God, of the equality of rights of all men.

In 1913, we departed from this anchor, from this God. We established a double standard of rights. At that time, we ruled that it was not right for big producers to combine for restraint of trade, but it was right for labor and agriculture to combine to make things scarce. We, thus, established a double standard of rights. We did this by the Clayton Amendment to the Sherman Anti-Trust Law that permitted labor unions to combine to restrict other people from having rights to learn and to work and to produce and farmers to do the same without violating the Sherman Anti-Trust Law.

At the same time, we established a double standard of rights by saying that big producers should contribute to support the government and the little producers should not contribute to support the government. We thought we could establish a double standard of rights, but the law of compensation cannot be violated without paying a penalty. The little fellows are supporting the government by higher costs for goods, by lower wages and by being out of jobs. They are paying infinitely more to support the government than they would have paid had the uniform rule of equal rights for all been continued as it was prior to 1913 under the law.

We, in a way, also established a double standard of rights when we permitted banks, under the Federal Reserve Act, to synthetically manufacture credit.

These three double standards of rights that we made legal a quarter of a century ago, will eventually lead us to so much poverty and misery that we will be glad to establish a dictator hoping that he will lead us out of this double standard of rights.

We should remember that by the law of averages few dictators establish a single standard of rights. Probably the nearest approach to it was Cromwell when he established a Bill of Rights and Washington, when he helped establish the Constitution that set forth, as its anchor—its God, the equality of rights of all men.

RIGHT TO WORK There seems to be two interpretations of the right to work. One is that somebody or the government should furnish an individual a job.

The other idea of the right to work is that when an individual finds a job that it is the duty of the government to protect him in this right to work.

We seem to have set aside this function of the government in protecting people in the right to work and in place of it are assuming the responsibility of the government furnishing a worker a job.

If the government would assume the original responsibility, as set forth in the Declaration of Independence and Constitution—that each man had the right to the pursuit of happiness—and it was the duty of the government to protect him in this right, then there would be no need for the government furnishing employment.

Because the states and federal government have neglected to perform their duties in protecting man's right to work, the United States government and the State of California are now making artificial work. Next assignment of the starring role went to Barbara Stanwyck. Through some oversight, however, she was allowed first to appear as the tawdry part in "Baby Face." The picture proved a shocker for the purists, and it was plain that Miss Stanwyck would not be readily accepted on the high spiritual plane of "The Miracle."

But there was a long delay while the studio cleared its world title to the property, and by that time talkies were being born and all pictures had to have dialog. So a script was written and casting began. Loretta Young was the first formally-announced choice as the nun, but something happened to delay production, and soon afterward Miss Young left the lot.

At the last minute, it would be decided that a new script was required. Or the budget would have to be revised. Or Reinhardt suddenly would become unavailable.

Pettengill

Democratic Congressman From INDIANA

Barber's Itch Hoosier barbers are no doubt super-hygienic. But they have a new kind of itch. Their palms itch and the only cure is fifty cents.

This disease is an interesting case study of the malady which has the whole world by the tail with a downhill pull. It is monopoly in a microcosm. The first barbers chorin waxes for our old friend "general welfare." That is as sure-fire as mother and the vine-clad cottage. The dear old public must be protected from dandruff's deadly dangers.

It was then discovered that the higher hygiene requires colder clippers. The shops, it was claimed, must now charge more. And so that the dear public may not be endangered by less expensive haircuts, it was provided by law that any craftsman who charges less than the price agreed upon by the state's majority will be put out of business by the politicians.

So it has come to pass that in the same city in which General Motors, titan of industry, was found guilty of violating the anti-trust laws, a hair barber serving a tiny farming community is now threatened with the loss of his license and livelihood. The South Bend barber's crime is that he charged his customer only 25 cents whereas he would have been a virtuous citizen had he demanded 50 cents.

It is of no point that the scissors were scalded, the brush bristles were bleached, the customer walked out of the shop with a quarter still jingling in his pocket, with which he might buy for his children two quarts of milk which otherwise he could not. The barber's offense is that he did not take from his customer the things they have stolen, I am for.

Our best efforts, as individuals and as a united people must continue to be directed toward the eradication of every man, woman and child a chance to realize the promise of American traditions and ideals.

PAUL V. MCNUTT, federal security administrator.

You and Your Nation's Affairs

RUNNING WITHOUT A BRAKE By WALTER E. SPAHR Professor of Economics, New York University

Not many people would choose to ride in a car from which the chief brake had been removed. Yet it is precisely on that kind of a ride that the people of this country are taking on. The brake that has been removed is the gold standard.

That standard is the people's automatic control over the government's use of the public purse. If, under a gold standard, the government should attempt to issue an inferior paper currency, the people would apply the brake by turning in their gold, and the paper could not circulate except at a discount which would reflect its value in terms of gold.

Today, the people cannot express their preferences as between gold and an inconvertible paper money, there is no important brake on the use of this paper, and there is no genuine testing of its value. When such a test was made, even in restricted form during the period roughly from March to September, 1933, our inconvertible paper money showed a depreciation of 38 per cent in terms of gold. Since devaluation of the dollar on January 31, 1934, there has been no way to test the value of our domestic currency in terms of gold for the reason that a free gold market does not exist.

For the people of the United States these testing grounds are now closed. The people are being taken for a ride in a machine made chiefly of an inconvertible paper money and a greatly overvalued silver, with no impor-

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 12.—It seems a long, long time since a man named David Selznick bought a story called "Gone With the Wind" and declared it would make it into a movie. Compared with some other enterprises, though, about which less was said, this picture is practically a quickie.

The Family Doctor

Dr. Morris Fishbein

Studies of the diets in this country indicate that there is a decreasing use of cereals containing the whole grain and a steady rise in the consumption of cane sugar.

The more refined white flour has steadily gained in popularity because of its many advantages, particularly its stability in commerce as contrasted with the whole wheat flour. A similar attitude exists in the Far East in relationship to polished rice which is not as good a food as the unpolished rice.

The protective foods in our diets include milk, green vegetables and fruits. Milk and the green vegetables are excellent sources of calcium and vitamin C, but they do not rate high in their content of vitamin B1.

When people eat quantities of food which contain plenty of vitamin B1, they do not need to worry about a shortage. If people ate plenty of other seeds besides those of the cereal plants—namely, beans and such seeds as beans and peas—they would increase their vitamin B1 supply.

Vitamin B1 is a water-soluble vitamin. When beans and peas are cooked, much of the vitamin may be dissolved in the water. When the water is discarded, the vitamin B1 is lost.

The southern negroes' diet, which includes plenty of whole cornmeal and pork and sweet potatoes, supplies more vitamin B1 than that of the average person who eats more fancy foods.

Experts in the field of food have given consideration to measures which might be taken to increase the vitamin B1 in our diets. It is possible to encourage the use of unrefined cereal products, such as whole wheat and oatmeal, and to shift in metropolitan areas, where our population seems to respond to educational efforts emphasizing the high value of vitamin B1 in under-milled cereals.

Forecasting Station To Be At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Dec. 12.—Fort Worth today was designated as headquarters for the largest weather forecasting region in the south.

The new set-up here, involving a shift in meteorologists, will become effective December 18, bringing to the city a weather staff of 28 observers and office employees, the largest in the South and one of the most important bureaus in the United States.

The bureau changes were announced today by Henry F. Adams, who has been named meteorologist in charge of all of the weather station activities. Cook will be transferred to Lake Charles to take charge of a new line-man station being established there to serve a large area in Louisiana.

25 Republican Members Of Congress Give McNutt Chance After Roosevelt

EDITOR'S NOTE—An interesting article has just been published by Everett C. Watkins, Washington correspondent of the Indianapolis Star, in which he interviews 25 Republican members of Congress on the probable nominee of the Democratic party for President and 25 Democratic members of Congress on the probable choice of the Republicans as their standard bearer. The News believes its readers will be interested in the highlights of Mr. Watkins' article which follows:

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—That the 1940 Democratic presidential nominee will be either Franklin D. Roosevelt or Paul V. McNutt, is the forecast of expert Republican prognosticators—and, Republicans will make their choice for Presidential candidate between Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg or Senator Robert A. Taft, in the opinion of Democratic topflight political observers. Twenty-five Republican members of Congress, representing 17 states extending in the North from coast to coast, were asked to risk their reputations as political forecasters and, as neutral observers, state who, in their opinion, the Democrats will nominate in their national convention scarcely seven months away. They qualify as expert forecasters since all of them are experienced in politics and accustomed to sizing up a political situation. They did not speak as partisans

—they spoke as observers. None attempted to suggest whom the Democrats should nominate; they name which candidates they think the Democrats will nominate. They have formed their opinions by talking with Democrats from different parts of the country, from reading the newspapers and a general knowledge of the political situation. Hailing from the several states, these members of Congress represent a cross-section of Republican opinion about who will win the Democratic presidential nomination. Ten predict Roosevelt. Of the 25 Republican senators and representatives in Congress interviewed, 10 of them have a definite opinion that President Roosevelt will be nominated for a third term. While 10 forecast Roosevelt's re-nomination, seven other Republicans are equally certain that the President does not desire to be named and that he will not be named. Five of these seven are definite in their opinion that Mr. McNutt will become the Democratic standard-bearer. Four others are certain that the nominee will be "McNutt, if not Roosevelt."

Only one said "Roosevelt or Douglas," only one said Secretary of State Cordell Hull. None of the 25 Republicans believes that Vice-President Jack Garner will be nominated; two of them volunteered that Garner has been eliminated; only one suggested that a "Garner type" would be named "Roosevelt or McNutt." The collective opinion of these Republican forecasters is that the Democrats are certain to nominate one of two persons—Roosevelt or McNutt. The opinions of these 25 Republicans, stepping into the role of prognosticators of what the Democrats are up to, follow: Representative Fred A. Hartley (R., Kansas, Mo.): I don't believe there is any question but what Roosevelt will be re-nominated. I think the war situation and the neutrality law makes it a cinch the Democrats will name Roosevelt for a third-term try. I believe with some Texas war that Jack Garner became the first casualty of the new world war. Representative Ralph E. Church (Evanston, Ill.): Roosevelt. That's my guess. Representative Albert E. Carter (Oakland, Cal.): The surface indications are that the Democrats will nominate Paul V. McNutt. McNutt Dark Horse. Representative Usher L. Burdick (Wisconsin, N. D.): I think the Democrats will nominate McNutt. I don't think Roosevelt has ever had any intention of running again. McNutt, according to my observations, is Roosevelt's dark horse. Representative Thomas E. Martin (Iowa City, Ia.): Up until last August there was no chance of Roosevelt being re-nominated. Now much depends upon the war situation within the next few months. If war comes the Democrats, in my judgment, would not want to risk a change in midstream. But if not Roosevelt, then the heir apparently will be McNutt. Representative W. Sterling Cole (Bath, N. Y.): The Democrats will nominate the Hoosier (McNutt) if not Roosevelt. Representative Albert E. Austin (Old Greenwich, Conn.): The Democrats will not re-nominate Mr. Roosevelt. But who the Democrats will nominate—that's a tough question. I don't think the Democrats yet know, so I can't know. Representative Carl E. Mapes (Grand Rapids, Mich.): I don't think Roosevelt will take it. It looks like he has McNutt in training. Representative U. S. Guyer (Kansas City, Kas.): I think Roosevelt wants it and will get it. Democrats will talk about drafting him and that is the game they will play, but no third-term can be elected. War gives an excuse to talk draft. Representative James C. Oliver (South Portland, Me.): If the international situation continues to be critical, and with danger of involvement, my opinion is that the Democrats will give Roosevelt a third nomination. Representative James W. Wadsworth (Geneseo, N. Y.): I have not yet come to believe that President Roosevelt will run again. In his absence Democrats would be likely to turn to a man like Hull. The Carter Glass type of Democrat would take Hull; the Ickes would have to take him. A third term nominee cannot be elected. Will Renome Roosevelt Representative August H. Andersen, Red Wing, Minn.: I think the Democrats will re-nominate Roosevelt. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., Beverly, Mass.: I have a pretty good idea who the Democrats will nominate but I don't want to encourage that idea by mentioning his name. Representative Fred J. Douglas (Utica, N. Y.): Providing he wants it, Roosevelt will be re-nominated. If the President doesn't want it, he certainly can dictate the nominee of his party and my guess is that he would pick McNutt. Representative Daniel A. Reed, Dunkirk, N. Y.: Roosevelt will be re-nominated. The war situation does it. Representative Stephen Bolles, Janesville, Wis.: Right now it looks like Roosevelt's ever present ambition as a precedent breaker will influence him to seek and obtain a third nomination. He knows it would make him the outstanding man of the world if he could be the first President to be elected to a third term in the history of our country. But I doubt if Roosevelt could be elected to a third term because the people would see a continuation in office would lead to a dictatorship, the plague of Europe. Representative John M. Robison, Barbourville, Ky.: My view is that the administration is grooming McNutt and that he has a good chance to be nominated, provided the New Deal faction controls the Democratic convention. If not Roosevelt, it looks like McNutt. A third-term can't be elected. Representative Harold Knutson, St. Cloud, Minn.: My forecast is that the Democrats will either nominate Roosevelt or Douglas. (Douglas is a new Supreme Court justice.) Representative Frank B. Keeffe, Odikosh, Wis.: No one can successfully forecast what the Democrats will do until Roosevelt speaks. If he is receptive he can dictate his own nomination. If he does indicate he has too much respect for the third term tradition to run, and so announces, then I do not believe I could successfully forecast who would be named because there are a number of New Dealers who could be cut to fit the pattern. I do not think Jack Garner, no matter the country's interest in him, will be nominated. Roosevelt wouldn't permit that. Representative Frank Crowther, Schenectady, N. Y.: Sure. The Democrats will nominate McNutt. The build-up is for the Hoosier. I don't think Roosevelt will run. Representative Forest A. Harness, Kokomo, Ind.: I hadn't thought it would be Roosevelt but I do now. Representative Robert Luce, Wal-tham, Mass.: Roosevelt won't take the nomination. He thinks too much of his prestige to risk loss of fame by defeat that would result from an effort to land a third term. Maybe it won't be Garner himself, but I should expect the Democrats to nominate a Garner type. Representative Fred C. Gartner,

Philadelphia: It is easier to forecast the nominee of the Democratic party than it is to guess whom my own party will nominate. Until he removes himself from consideration, Roosevelt remains the leading candidate. Next to Roosevelt, McNutt looks like the Democratic nominee. See Third Nomination. Senator Arthur Capper, Kansas: My slant is that the Democrats will give Roosevelt a third nomination. Representative George H. Tinkham, Boston: I'm confused. What the Democrats will do, in my judgment, will depend upon the economic situation here, the war situation abroad. Roosevelt would try if he became dead sure he wouldn't experience an anticlimax. In a concluding article tomorrow, The News will present Mr. Watkins' interviews with 25 Democrats on their predictions about the chances of Mr. Vandenberg and Mr. Taft as the Republican nominee for President.

Buttram Opposes U. S. Oil Control

MINERAL WELLS, Dec. 12 (AP)—Frank Buttram of Oklahoma City, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, predicts that passage of the Cole bill would mean dictatorship over the oil production industry. Speaking here last night at the annual meeting of the West-Central Texas Oil and Gas Association, Buttram listed this as one of the subjects calling for the united action of the oil industry and by the public "which desires to see the industry free to continue its important place in American life." Rising taxes, the Venezuelan trade agreement and the charge of wanton waste were the other subjects. He declared there had been waste in the industry but that it was a relatively new industry and took time to develop efficient practices. The Venezuelan trade agreement, he said halves the excise tax on crude oil and fuel oil. Joe Clark of Albany was elected president of the association.

School Building Program Discussed

School board members discussed at length yesterday the new high school building program, final plans for which will be completed soon. The board was still undecided after the meeting whether to construct the building by contract or by fee.

All insurance policies on school buildings were ordered revised. Premiums will be lower next year because of a reduction in the city's key rate.

FAIRBANKS

"vacations away from home" might have been a reason for the rift.

Only a few months later, Hollywood was surprised when Lord Anthony Ashley-Copper Ashley filed suit for divorce in London against Lady Ashley, a former musical comedy star, naming Fairbanks.

Miscellaneous Charged

Later that year he won a divorce, after making charges of misconduct against the actor and his wife "at various places and various dates."

A man named Edwards, identifying himself as Fairbanks' former private secretary, testified that the actor and Lady Ashley had used adjoining bedrooms in a country home in May, 1934.

They were reported together at various French resorts and finally, early in 1935, they left with friends on a South Seas cruise. Then, in midsummer, she reached Vancouver, B. C. Doug flew from Hollywood to meet her, returned, then went east and joined her for the trip to England. They were married the following March.

The Denver-born Fairbanks early showed a liking for Shakespeare. When he was 17, his family moved to New York and he went on the stage. A newspaper critic of the period wrote of a performance with Frederick Warde that the "supporting company was bad but worst of all was Douglas Fairbanks." There was a brief interlude while he went into a Wall Street brokerage house as a salesman, but he was back on the stage shortly.

Crude Oil Production In U. S. Up 532,079 Barrels

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 12 (AP)—The daily average crude oil production in the United States increased 532,079 barrels to 3,229,590 for the week ended Dec. 9, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

East Texas production was up 195,892 to 494,997 with Texas as a whole up 508,332 to 1,568,771. Oklahoma production increased 8,325 to 431,825; Louisiana, 1,704 to 272,897; California 26,000 to 618,250; Illinois, 4,781 to 337,026, and eastern fields, 1,220 to 103,420.

Kansas production declined 15,700 to 161,500; Michigan, 188 to 64,961, and the Rocky Mountain area, 950 to 88,030.

Texas Have Insane Fugitive On Hands

EL PASO, Dec. 12. (AP)—El Paso officers had a fugitive from the Arizona State Hospital for the Insane on their hands today and wondered what to do with him.

Gov. Bob Jones of Arizona indicated that Brino Len Hanks, 37, who escaped from the hospital last Friday and was captured here Sunday, would not be returned to Phoenix.

"He would just be a $285-a-year burden on the taxpayers," Gov. Jones said. "Let them put him in an institution in Texas."

County Judge Joseph McGill of El Paso declared "That is a very unusual stand for the governor to take, it seems to me."

"Under the circumstances, I do not believe a Texas institution legally could or would take Hanks. It also is doubtful even if we had anyone willing to sign an insanity complaint whether we could obtain an insanity conviction in Texas. There are no witnesses to his mental condition and certainly we could not use his Arizona record to try him again for insanity."

State Sues Humble For Big Tax Sum

AUSTIN, Dec. 12 (AP)—The state filed suit in district court here today against the Humble Oil and Refining company for chain store taxes totaling $730,130.

The petition alleged the amount was due on 280 filling stations operated over the state by the corporation, which has headquarters in Houston.

Nurmi Driving Truck

HELSINKI, Dec. 12 (AP)—Paavo Nurmi, famous Finnish runner who has been driving a truck in removing citizens from Helsinki today he had abandoned plans to take Taisto Maki, currently Finland's outstanding distance runner, on a tour of the United States.

Mainly About People

W. D. McMillen of Pueblo, Colorado, is visiting with his daughter, Mrs. G. C. Stark, and son, Roy McMillen. Mr. McMillen is enroute home from Washington where he visited with a son and in California with another son.

Nineteen attended the meeting of the Pampa Credit Grantors association yesterday noon when delinquent accounts under letters Q, R and S were discussed. The alphabet will be completed next week.

Mrs. Carl Scherer received treatment in Worley hospital for minor injuries received last night when her car was in collision with a truck on Roberts street. She was taken to the hospital in an ambulance.

Walter Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Owens, underwent an operation at Pampa-Jarratt hospital last night.

C. C. Sander of Canadian was a visitor here today.

Frank Monroe, president of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce, today thanked all persons who had contributed to the success of the 1939 Santa Day. "On behalf of the Jaycees I wish to thank business men, schools, and churches of Pampa, and the schools and persons from surrounding towns, who helped

Man Held In Theft Of 2 Automobiles

A man held in Carson county jail at Panhandle was to be brought to Pampa today for fingerprinting, following the alleged theft of two automobiles last night. The case is a Carson county one, however, and local officers did not know if charges had been filed.

In a Pampa garage today was a 1935 Ford that had been found wrecked three miles from Skellytown on the White Deer road.

Recovered near White Deer was a 1936 Chevrolet coach belonging to H. C. Boyd of Skellytown that had been missing shortly after midnight. The car had been abandoned when the gas tank went dry, Gray county officers said.

Constable Lynn Wall of Skellytown telephoned county officers here this morning, saying he had arrested a man in connection with the case and that he was being held in the jail at Panhandle.

Farmers To Elect 40 Committeemen

To elect 1940 community committeemen and delegates who will elect the county committee, Gray county farmers who cooperated in the 1939 farm program will hold two meetings Saturday.

For the Pampa community, a meeting will be held at 2:30 p. m. in the county court room. Farmers of the McLean community will meet at the Odd Fellows hall in McLean.

Gray county is divided into these two communities. The Pampa community includes all plains farms and all farms and ranches from the Lovett and the Carr-Vincent ranch north, and all farms and ranches north of North Fork.

Cupid Eliminates Negro Sixth Grade

GAFFNEY, S. C., Dec. 12 (AP)—Cupid eliminated the sixth grade at a negro school near here.

The teacher, turning back the free textbooks issued for her grade, explained:

"Every one of them has quit to get married."

There were five pupils in the grade, all 16 to 18 years old.

District Exceeds Membership Quota

With a membership now totaling 2,000, the American Legion posts of the 18th district have for the first time exceeded their membership quota, it was announced at an 18th district monthly meeting held in Perryton yesterday, in connection with the autumn convention of the Panhandle-Plains association of American Legion posts. The district quota was 1,940.

Priona was selected as the place for the next monthly meeting, but the exact date has not been chosen.

The district business meeting was held after a banquet served in the Perryton high school cafeteria, at 6:30 o'clock last night.

Attending the joint session from Pampa were Joe Roche, I. J. Huval, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kenney, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Malcol, and Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Frank.

Bids For Painting Courthouse Sought

For the first time since it was opened in 1930, Gray county's court house is to have a paint job.

At the meeting of the county commissioners yesterday, it was voted to authorize County Auditor E. C. Wilson to advertise for bids for painting the court house to be received by the commissioners at 2 p. m., December 29.

The job will be a thorough repainting of corridors, offices, stairways, on all floors of the court house, and the outside and inside of window frames.

Pirates Will Play Pampan Here Tonight

The 1939-40 basketball season for Pampa fans will be ushered in tonight with a couple of games between Pampa Harvesters and LeFevre Pirates teams. The first game called for 7 o'clock. The big game of the season, however, will be played here tomorrow night when the House of David bearded team takes the floor.

The whiskered wizards and the Harvesters will take the floor at 8 o'clock, an hour after the Pampa Guerrillas, coached by Oscar Hinger, and the Flemmons' team meet in an exhibition tussle. Admission to the two games will be 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults. There will be no reserved seats.

Coach Odus Mitchell has been working his Harvesters long and hard for the big game. He has been stressing defense and ball handling in the hope his Harvesters can break up the sensational House of David pinwheel offense which is just a lightning exchange of the ball from one player to another until an opening shows up in the defense. Then the offense strikes like lightning.

Carlisle and Bearden will be at forward posts both tonight and tomorrow night with Terrell at center and Dunaway and S. Cox on defense.

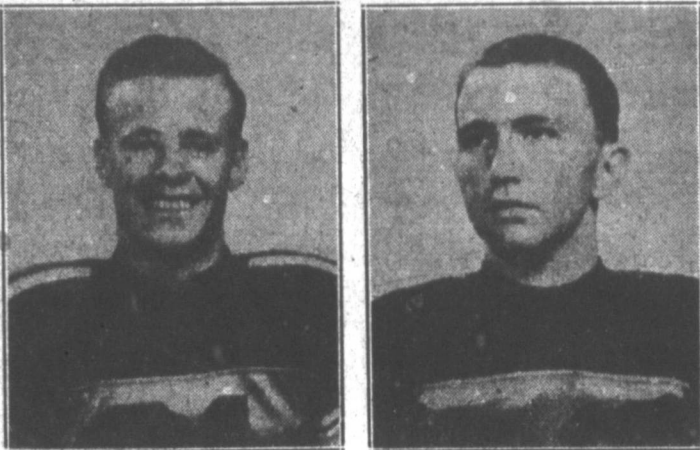

Here's something about the beards:

Pecos Finley, forward, is a 180 pound boy, 6 ft. 2 in. tall. He was selected on the All-Border conference last season that he played college ball while playing for Coach Gerry Hines of New Mexico A. & M. college of the city of Las Cruces. He was a member of that team last season when they played in the Metropolitan Sports Writers tournament in New York City on the Madison Square Garden court in mid-March.

Finley dribbles as though the ball is glued to his fingers, passes with split vision so that the home team never knows where the ball is going and sets up plays with such finesse and dispatch that it is comparatively simple for teammates Jim Neely and Bob McCollum to score. He fits perfectly into Coach Bob Rich's pinwheel offense. Despite the fact that Finley plays a roving type of game on the defense and is always on top

Harvesters And Sandies Will Play Thanksgiving

1940 HARVESTER CO-CAPTAINS

The Pampa Harvester football squad last night elected Grover Heiskell, left, and Wayne Fade, right, co-captains for the 1940 season. They are the only two lettermen returning from the first team and are of the ball-handlers, he is a remarkably clean player.

Captain Jim Neely, a six foot, three inch guard with three years' experience with Hardin-Simmons University of Abilene, Texas. He was an All-Texas conference selection the last season that he played college ball and upon graduating from that institution he took coaching job with high school at Slaton, Texas where his teams were consistent winners.

He amazes the crowd with the uncanny accuracy of his one-handed shot. For a tall lad, he is blessed with remarkable endurance, apparently he finishes a game as fresh as when he started. With Jim Neely, a perfect leader, the spearhead of the attack the Wizards continually catch the opposition off guard and are always able to get off easy set-shots from close in.

Coach Bob Rich, guard, takes his turn in the line-up. He is a former star athlete of Coach A. Y. "Bud" McCollum of Texas A. & I. college of Kingsville, Texas. He played four years of football and three

High school superintendents and coaches of District 1 of the Inter-scholastic league in session yesterday afternoon in Amarillo set November 28 as Thanksgiving Day in 1940 and on that day the Pampa Harvesters and the Amarillo Sandies will play in Amarillo and the Plainview Bulldogs and the Lubbock Westerners will play in Lubbock.

Supt. W. Atkinson of Borger was elected chairman of the District 1 committee succeeding Supt. L. L. Sone of Pampa, and Supt. O. J. Lass of Plainview was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Coaches also made out a basketball schedule for the "Big Five" conference although there was some doubt as to whether Borger would participate.

The Harvesters conference football schedule for 1940 will be:

Nov. 2—Lubbock here.

Nov. 11—At Borger.

Nov. 16—Plainview here.

Nov. 22—Amarillo here.

The Harvesters "Big Five" basketball schedule, not including Borger, follows:

Jan. 12—Amarillo here.

Jan. 18—Plainview here.

Jan. 26—At Lubbock here.

Jan. 27—At Plainview.

Feb. 2—Lubbock here.

Feb. 9—At Amarillo.

years of basketball and was selected on the All-TIAA conference his last two years.

Rich is a big six footer, weighing 200 pounds and fast. He has served three years as high school coach at Anton, Texas and two years as high school coach at Wolf-ford, Texas.

Bob McCollum, forward, and former all-conference (Texas conference) man while he attended Hardin-Simmons university of Abilene, Texas. He is a prolific scorer, always calm and collected, he directs the team flawlessly on both the defense and attack. Playing in the front line, he is the first man his teammates look for when they gain possession of the ball. He is one of the best trick-shot artists in the game. He gives the fans an exhibition of dazzling passing and showmanship unsurpassed.

Robert Lofland, utility, the youngest of the club and a six feet and four inch lad that can do things with a basketball that most players couldn't do with marbles.

He is a juggler de-luxe. He can juggle the ball at one time as he tosses every third ball over his head from a backward position. He adds spice to the act by allowing every third ball to bounce off of his head back to the act as the juggler is continue.

He has perfected a feat seldom seen in basketball as he starts a regulation basketball spinning on the tip end of his finger, he transfers the spinning ball to the end of a wrist and the ball will continue to spin as he walks to the basket and tosses it into the net.

Bob Hale, center, is six feet and four inches tall and former star for the Border conference squad when Texas Tech was the title holder.

He will keep the nets dancing all evening with a flock of one-handers from side of the court and two-handers shots from distance. Hale does everything from spinning a basketball on his fingertips, rolling it around his arms, neck and shoulders as he gives the fans a treat with his clever passing.

Bob Sims, six feet four inch guard, and former basketball player for the New Mexico Aggies. He is a defensive leech. His dribbling and ball handling exhibitions seem to please the crowd, while his phenomenal one-hand shooting and intricate passing seems to fit well into the bearded boys' system of playing.

BEARDED WHIZ

The bearded giant pictured above doesn't look like the fellow who was umpire at the Pampa Harvester-Borger Bulldog football game here last month, but he is the same one. He is Captain Jim Neely, a 6 foot 3 inch guard with the House of David basketball team which will play the Pampa Harvester cagers at the High school gymnasium Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

An exhibition game between the Pampa Guerrillas and Flemmons will be played at 7 o'clock. Admission will be 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults.

Troy Figures Up Alibi For Tie With UCLA Team

By ROBERT MYERS
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 12 (AP)—Southern California's Trojan football team began a brief vacation today, giving the Monday morning quarterbacks free rein to mull over the coming Rose Bowl battle with Tennessee and rehash Troy's 1939 grid campaign.

The fact that Coach Howard Jones' eleven backed into the Rose Bowl much in the fashion of a wounded crow-dad, (or crayfish, depending upon your accent), is discounted by ardent backers of S. C.

Their best explanation of the scoreless tie between the noble and highly favored-Trojans and the University of California at Los Angeles is simple. The Troy squad was still dead on its feet from two consecutive tough engagements with Notre Dame and Washington.

These two teams took a lot out of S. C., but Tennessee may expect something tougher Jan. 1 at Pasadena. The Delmas bunched into Saturday before the record breaking throng of 103,300.

This is intended to take nothing away from Babe Horrell's UCLA eleven. They looked every bit as much as the team at S. C. Saturday, and they still match the Trojans' undefeated record.

The Jonesmen found their vaunted three-deep strength shaken up by injuries.

By New Year's Day, however, Tennessee will find a squad rested and back in the shape; in perhaps the perfect form Notre Dame and the six other vanquished foes discovered.

Vols Trail Aggies 100 Points For First Place

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.
NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (AP)—The Texas Aggies, Southwest conference kingpins, are the football team of the year in the opinion of 116 sports editors and football experts who participated in the final Associated Press poll of the season.

Chosen for the No. 1 spot by 55 voters, the Aggies polled 1,091 points, on the basis of ten for first place, nine for second, etc.

Tennessee, second a week ago, fell more than 100 points behind with 26 first-place votes and a 970-point total, while the Vols' Rose Bowl rival, Southern California, came in with a third-place total of 891, besting out Cornell by two points.

While the Aggies were impressive all season, neither Tennessee nor Southern Cal set the world afire in last Saturday's concluding games, and that apparently accounted for the switch in sentiment. Tennessee only beat Auburn, 7-0, while the Trojans played a scoreless tie with UCLA.

Standing of the teams (points figured on 19-9-8, etc. basis, first-place votes in parentheses):

Stephen Austin Of Houston New Grid Race Dark Horse

(By The Associated Press)
The freshest of the "freshmen" in the Texas schoolboy football race carried the hopes of Houston fans today that the Bayou City would share the glory for the first time in 20 years.

Unheralded and unsung, forced to fight to the last ditch to win their own district title, the Stephen F. Austin Mustangs are in the quarter-finals of the state playoff boasting the heaviest team of the eight survivors.

Last week Austin defeated South Park (Beaumont) 37-0 in a show of power that brought attention for the first time to the Mustangs as title threats. Saturday they played Austin high, a team with a great defense and the outstanding running back of the state in Travis Raven.

Stephen F. Austin is a comparatively newcomer to interscholastic league football. The school was started only three years ago.

In the three years Austin has won 20 games, lost 8 and tied 2.

The Austin line averages over 192 pounds and the backfield 148½. Lawrence Kocurek, 168-pound full-back, is a hard runner, fine passer and capable punter. Harold Stockbridge is rated one of the finest ends to perform in Texas schoolboy circles.

If Stephen F. Austin comes through this week, the Mustangs will play the Waco-Tyler winner in the semi-finals. Waco and Tyler clash at Tyler Saturday.

In the state's other two games, Lubbock entertains Sweetwater Friday and Woodrow Wilson, the Dallas power, plays Sulphur Springs at Dallas Saturday.

Alice Marble Named No. 1 Woman Athlete

By SID FEDER
NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (AP)—Encountering no more opposition than she met on the tennis courts this year, blonde Alice Marble was named today the outstanding woman athlete of 1939 by a landslide of votes on the nation's sports experts.

Rolling up the widest margin ever compiled by a winner in the nine-year history of the Associated Press annual poll, the queen of the courts was named No. 1 on the ballots of 54 of 63 experts.

The year's Wimbledon and national champion polled a total of 161 points. Far back in second place was the U. S. women's golf ruler, Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., with two first-place selections and 55 points.

The 1939 winner, little freckle-faced Patty Berg, whose golf hopes for the year were shattered by an appendectomy, was third, with 31 points.

The voting:

Alice Marble, San Francisco, tennis.

Betty Jameson, San Antonio, Texas, golf.

Patty Berg, Minneapolis, golf.

Eleanor Holm, New York, swimming.

Dorothy Kirby, Atlanta, golf.

Betty Hicks, Long Beach, Calif., golf.

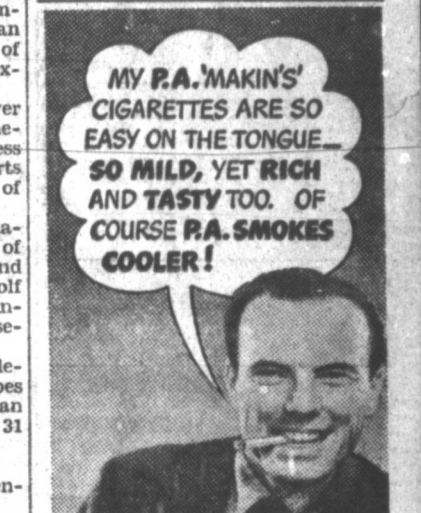

Katherine Rawls Thompson, Miami, swimming.

Elsie Crabtree, Nevada, band leader.

Marjorie Geisinger, Los Angeles, diving.

Esther Williams, Los Angeles, swimming.

Nancy Merkl, Portland, Ore., swimming.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BREITZ
NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (AP)—Attention, California! When one of our operatives inquired for Homer Norton at College Station, Tex. the other day, he was told: "Coach Norton is in Palo Alto, Cal." Nowhere was Clemson's selection as Boston College's opponent in the Cotton Bowl acclaimed more warmly than in the Beantown papers.

E. B. Iron Men (Chap. IV.)
Leo Kagan of Iowa State Teachers college was king for a day, anyway. . . . We had no sooner chronicled the fact that he was football's No. 1 Iron Man (with a record of 650 consecutive minutes) than two South Carolina Rebels popped out to knock him off his perch. . . . John Edwards, end, and Morfitt Long, center for Erskine college, have played through 19 consecutive battles, or 1140 minutes each. . . . Who's next?

British football fans now must take their gas masks to all games. Well, some of those over here smell, too. . . . Texas Christian has two sets of twins on its basketball squad this season.

Today's guest star:
Halsey Hall, Minneapolis Star-Journal: "Francis Schmidt, coach at Ohio State, is mulling ties for Columbus firm. . . . He must be careful, however; a coach shouldn't endorse anything which can be pulled tightly around the neck."

Delmar King Flays 'Tax On Poverty'

AUSTIN, Dec. 12 (AP)—Oil, gas and sulphur corporations and Governor W. Lee O'Daniel were blamed by Rep. Delmar King of Garner in a radio address today for asserted inadequate pensions paid the state's needy aged.

"The young legislator, speaking on a series of broadcasts against a sales tax and constitutional limit on natural resource taxes, declared "calling it a tax on consumers does not make a sales tax anything more or less than a tax on poverty and calling it a tax on transactions does not make a sales tax change its inner character."

Pastor Hopes For Another Title Shot

DALLAS, Dec. 12 (AP)—Bob Pastor, former New York University football player who turned prize fighter with success, says he's looking for another title shot with Joe Louis in June—so he must win his fight here with Buddy Scott Friday night.

Pastor, who fought champion Louis twice, losing the decision the first time and being knocked out in the other engagement, arrived yesterday and went through a workout.

Scott, who has lost but one of 23 heavyweight fights, has been in training here several days.

All-Southwest Football Team Includes 5 Aggies

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT

DALLAS, Dec. 12 (P)—Not its historic five-man backfield, nor its All-American members, but the rising names of two youngsters taught in the vagaries of football, make the 1939 Associated Press All-Southwest Conference team memorable.

Twelve youngsters beamed when the composite selection of the seven coaches and the writer appeared, but two hard-luck boys plagued by hurts and a general inability to "get going" were forgotten.

Only last season, as a sophomore, Connie Sparks was the unanimous first team fullback choice. Connie was the driving power of that great '38 Texas Christian team that burrowed right on through the Sugar Bowl—unbeaten.

Slowed down by bruises, operating behind a line that had lost its KI Aidrick and I. B. Hale, Connie was just another good football player in '38, being shifted to end in a couple of games to bolster a sagging TCU line. Not even Connie's fine line-backing was enough to win him a vote.

Only two seasons ago one of the most sensational sophomores in college football, a boy praised the nation over in newspaper and magazine stories (finished his college career quietly—no vote cast for him).

Ernie Lahn of Rice had one of the most pathetic years in football. The big passer and runner tried, but leg and shoulder injuries made his record zig-zag like a fever chart.

Dejected in secret voting, the committee wound up with five backs, Ole Cordill, Rice Institute's great senior, and Cowboy Jack Crain of Texas, the boy who averaged 51 yards on eight touchdown runs, finishing all even on points.

3 Unanimous Choices
Both moved into a backfield that included John Alex Kimbrough, the Fullback—John Kimbrough, A. & M. (Haskell).

Second team:
Ends—Dwight Horner, Texas Christian and Howard Hickey, Arkansas.
Tackles—Barnet Pannell, Texas A. & M. and Pary Myers, Texas.

Guards—Millon Shingleton, Arkansas, and Willard Thorpe, Arkansas.
Center—Wilburn Echols, Southern Methodist.
Backs—Preston Johnston, Southern Methodist; Will Mullenweg, Southern Methodist; William Conatser, Texas A. & M., and Jack Wilson, Baylor.

Honorable mention:
Ends—Bob Brandt, Rice; Sherman Barnes, Baylor; W. J. Wimpee, Baylor; Maurice Britt, Arkansas; Roland Goss, Southern Methodist; tackles—Bob Cook, Texas Christian; Don Hager, Rice; Saul Singer, Arkansas; Willie Curb, Southern Methodist; Bennett Edwards, Baylor; Frank Marx, Baylor; guards—Bob Sherrod, Texas Christian; Ted Dawson, Texas; Charles Bailey, Southern Methodist; Charles Henke, Texas A. & M.; centers—Tommy Vaughan, Texas A. & M.; Kenneth Whitlow, Rice; Backs—Dorace Moser, Texas A. & M.; John Clement, Southern Methodist; Kyle Gillespie, Texas Christian; Earle Clark, Texas Christian; Ralph Atwood, Arkansas; Logan Ware, Texas Christian; Ray Cole, Arkansas; James Witt, Baylor.

Shamrock-M'Lean

Cage Tilt Delayed
Special To THE NEWS
McLEAN, Dec. 12—Dick Dunlap, McLean high school basketball coach, announced today that this evening's regularly scheduled basketball game with Shamrock has been postponed until some as yet undetermined date after the Christmas holidays.

Cause for the postponement is that Shamrock is still playing football, and would be unable to release certain players for the basketball game.

Next Friday, Dec. 15, McLean will open its season against Memphis here. "Express has so far been slow, and no starting team has been decided upon," Coach Dunlap declared.

SLEEP IN TIME

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (P)—Attempting to discover why the statehouse elevator was "acting queerly," Andy Swanson, chief statehouse custodian, and his assistant, Roscoe Howard, ran it from the basement to the third floor and stepped out. The elevator fell.

SERIAL STORY

5 WOULD KILL

BY TOM HORNER

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday Mrs. Benthorpe admitted ownership of the car... Helen Benthorpe and followed.

CHAPTER XXIV "In here! In here!" Flynn yelled as he leaped toward Alston's door.

There was a thin, blue wisp of smoke over the bed as they crashed through the locked door. Alston lay there, face down, as if asleep, just as Dawson had seen him before.

Dawson bent over Alston, pressed his ear close to the old man's back, but it was a futile gesture. As he straightened up, he noticed a paper, tightly clenched in Alston's left hand.

"There's nothing we can do, now, Flynn," Dawson said in a low tone. "Call the coroner." "It was not necessary. He was standing directly behind Helen Benthorpe, in the doorway. As Dawson turned away from the body, Alston's daughter rushed toward the bed, but Dawson caught her in his arms and led her, gently, to a chair.

"Dad!" she screamed, again and again, then wept, hysterically. The coroner entered on Dawson's unspoken order, made a brief examination of the body. He removed the paper from Alston's hand, read the address and handed it to Dawson. "It's for you, Captain."

Krone, the coroner's deputy, filed into the room and Ara and John, still handcuffed, followed. All were watching Dawson as he read Alston's message. Mrs. Benthorpe's sobbing was the only sound in the room.

Dawson bent, whispered to Mrs. Benthorpe. Her sobbing subsided a little. He cleared his throat.

"You all are interested in this letter Mr. Alston has left for me. It concerns all of you.

"Dear Captain Dawson," he read. "I trust my decision to solve your case for you will not upset too many of your excellent theories. It was inevitable that you should ultimately reach this final conclusion, and I have taken it upon myself to anticipate you.

"I killed Arnold Benthorpe. Any man who strikes my daughter forfeits his right to live. Helen's happiness has been my sole aim in life, since her mother died, and if killing Benthorpe will remove a cause of unhappiness I am glad I was able to do it.

"It was not difficult. I came in the rear entry, went directly to Benthorpe's study, killed him and then ran to the rear stairs. I was in the upper hall as Helen went down the front steps.

"Much of the time I was supposed to be asleep. I spent in Arnold's room, directly over the study. Your voice and those of the others were easily heard—Arnold had special openings just for that purpose—so I knew far more about the progress of your investigation than you guessed. What you did not know, or possibly overlooked, is that there is a communicating bath between Arnold's room and my own. That simplified matters considerably. It would have been even easier if I could have entered Helen's room by the same route, but her door was always kept locked.

"I chose di Torino as my most likely suspect and tried to fasten suspicion on him by finding one of his cigarettes in the passageway. But he had obliged me by carelessly dropping one there himself. "I was listening, upstairs, when he started to tell you that he had seen me, so I had to kill him too. I probably would have done the same for the girl—Ara—if she had not suggested a better way by telling you to look for the gun under Mrs. Benthorpe's mattress. You shouldn't have let her scream that so loudly. But you arrived just in time to prevent my putting it there.

"You've been searching all over for the gun that killed Benthorpe and di Torino. It will be found in my hand with three of its five shells fired. "It had hidden in a most convenient location immediately after I killed Benthorpe. . . . The laundry chute. Your man didn't find it when he searched through the clothes because I hung it within easy reach inside the chute. Even as if he had looked up, from the bottom of the chute, he could not have discovered it, unless the door on the second floor were open—and I paid particular attention that it remained closed. He might have seen it had he flashed his light up, but I doubt it. Anyway, that was one of the chances I had to take. You would have found no fingerprints on it, at any rate. "How did I hang it there? I thought you might guess when you saw me with the wire clothes hanger in my hand. Simply insert the hanger upside down diagonally in the laundry chute, push it downward, well out of sight. The spring of the wire keeps it from slipping down. Then hang the gun by the trigger guard on the hook of the hanger. "It was simple to get the gun out, shoot di Torino and return it after you had gone downstairs. If I had been caught, I would have said I was merely disposing of a used towel.

"But I've been afraid, through some trick of circumstantial evidence, that you might try to blame Helen for killing Arnold. That is why I chose this way out. "Full control of Alston Motors will revert to Helen. Perhaps she will forgive me, as she has always insisted she already had, for suggesting her marriage to Benthorpe. I urge her to make some restitution to the girl and boy for the damage Arnold has done them. "And by the way, Captain, if this case has given you any headaches, please try those sleeping pills I gave you. You'll find they are just ordinary aspirin. I will have a long, and peaceful sleep now.

"My bank will attest my signature. I am sound in mind, and know what I am writing. "WILLIAM ALSTON."

DAWSON was back at the desk in the study when Ara and John entered. "How about taking off those bracelets?" Douglas asked, laughing. Dawson smiled at their happiness.

"I'll give you the key, Ara, at the City Hall, when you're Mrs. Douglas. Then, if you're afraid you'll lose him, you can throw away the key." And as they turned to go, he called after them: "You'll find Nick Smith and his cab out front. Make him take you downtown." He stepped to the window to watch them go out the front gate, out into the sunshine. He smiled again as he saw Douglas kiss his bride as the taxi sped away.

"WELL, Captain, that winds up another one," Flynn said as the front door closed behind them. "Yeah," Dawson agreed. "Now maybe I'll get that vacation. But you know, Flynn, this one had me puzzled. With this suicide and written confession, we'd never had a chance in court, but personally, I'm not convinced that Alston killed Arnold Benthorpe."

Voorhis Calls Dies

Method Undemocratic

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—Representative Voorhis (D-Calif.), a member of the Dies committee, accused his committee today of using "undemocratic" procedure in preparing and making public a report saying certain consumer groups were Communist "transmission belts."

Voorhis said the report was "purely and simply the opinion" of J. B. Matthews, committee researcher who placed the report in the committee record at a subcommittee meeting attended only by Chairman Dies (D-Tex.).

"It was released to the press by a suddenly appointed one-man subcommittee before other members even knew such a report was in process of preparation," Voorhis declared.

He added that "not a single hearing has been held on any of the matters" contained in the report.

"I believe the committee is put in a very difficult position," Matthews' report had said that "a great part of the current popular and official attack upon advertising is the direct result of Communist propaganda in the field of consumer organization."

Bus Boy Wins Pool

On USC-UCLA Game

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 12 (AP)—Charles Carrande, 32-year-old "bus boy" at the M. G. M. studio cafe, is an enthusiastic fan.

He is this enthusiastic: Saturday he got an advance of $10 on his $18 salary so he could buy a chance in a $1,000 pool on the University of Southern California-University of California at Los Angeles football game.

He was pretty disgusted when he drew double zero.

It is now history that U. S. C. and U. C. L. A. played to a scoreless tie. Carrande, who is married, says he's going to apply his winnings to payments on a house he's buying.

Newsman Stick Pins In FDR, Dies, M'Nutt, Ickes, Perkins At Banquet

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—Political reporters posed the third-term question in a new way Saturday night—they crowned their quarry to President Roosevelt.

As a guest of the Gridiron club, the President heard a chorus of Democratic Bedouins gathered around a Sphinx with a Roosevelt smile, sing:

"One alone can make it known: you alone, what is your decision? Will you run? Or are you done? Must all our plans undergo revision? Will you be, eternally, the one to hold our party's nomination?"

We come to you, the way we always do; it rests with you alone. At the newspapermen's semi-annual banquet and pin-sticking spree four Republican leaders took the stage in person—to help kid President Roosevelt about his new Thanksgiving day.

After the off-the-record speed of 33-year-old Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota, the curtains parted on Alf M. Landon of Kansas, Col. Frank Knox of Chicago, Charles D. Hiles of New York, and John D. M. Hamilton, Republican national chairman.

An actor announced that they brought word from "a smoke-filled room"—they had decided to do away with the Republican convention of 1940 and draft Stassen at once as the party nominee.

Raymond Clapper, present president of the Gridiron club, suggested that "a few little items like the Constitution of the United States and the calendar stand in his way," because the governor is too young to be eligible.

The Republican leaders went in to a huddle, and then the announcer gave their suggestion: "If the President feels now as he did about Thanksgiving day, maybe he will oblige by changing the date of Governor Stassen's birth."

"Sheik Of Terre Haute" Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt, was portrayed among the Democrats gathered around the Roosevelt sphinx as

"the Sheik of Terre Haute." His song:

"Few men you'll ever see With sex appeal like me I'll get the women's vote The Sheik of Terre Haute."

Another of the wandering Democratic Bedouins, searching "the deserts for the answer to 'Is he or ain't he,'" turns out to be Vice-President Garner, who leaves with this cowboy ballad:

"I'm headin' for the White House, try and stop me if you kin. I don't have to ask permission from a smilin' Billikin Just to set the New Deal fryin' just to hear the New Deal cry. Hear the White House moan in the early morn while I'm drinkin' rock and rye."

How it beckons and I reckon that the White House long to be. To be free again, just to see again, a Democrat like me.

Rep. Martin Dies (D., Tex.), whose investigation of un-American activities took the spotlight this year, is portrayed as "Eagle Eye Finkle—the savior of the whole United States."

A group of fellow-travelers, fleeing the Dies committee, are waiting glumly to change trains, having left "the Red streamliner."

Communist Defined

Says one: "Here we are fellow travelers. Frozen out by the real Reds. Kicked out by the Nazis. And still chased as Communists."

Says another: "What's the difference between a Communist and a Nazi?"

Says a third: "A Communist can get a job in Washington."

Dies, in Hawkshaw disguise, comes in and seizes one traveler.

"I know you," he growls, "you are Fannie Perkins, Fannie the Perk."

But she replies in song:

"While CIO puts on a show, I may have my little pink hankie. But I'm not red for let it be said that my heart belongs to Frank." But "Eagle Eye" insists nothing can save her from him, and continues:

"When the New Deal is a-drooping who is it comes a-snooping? Who will hear the wildest story of a Red who's now turned tort? If I get the headlines, never mind the breadlines; In search of scandal there's nothing I won't handle. Ham Fish can't hold a candle to Eagle Eye Finkle, Eagle Eye Finkle. In my Hawkshaw disguise, hail fearless Martin Dies."

Tremble little politicians! I will make the first editions. I'm the Dies that found pies in the skies."

Another skit portrayed Secretary Ickes, as Donald Duck, quacking violently his enemies.

Announcement was made of the election of Mark Foote, Booth newspaper correspondent, as president of the club for the coming year.

Cancer Victim Fools Doctors

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (AP)—Ten months ago, doctors predicted certain death for Claude J. Bradley—death from cancer within three months.

Today, Bradley sat in his wheelchair, his mind on the future—planning his Christmas celebration at his Brooklyn home and the days to come after that.

Still smiling and jovial, the 53-year-old cement salesman explained, "I'm pretty busy these days. I'm sending out lots and lots of Christmas cards. And then I've got to plan for Christmas."

Bradley last July called in a cou-

Trial Of Alleged Wife-Killer Starts

CLINTON, Okla., Dec. 12 (AP)—Warren Abby, 58, Oliver, La., farmer who brought his wife's body into Clinton last Oct. 6 and reported she had been killed by a hit-and-run driver, went on trial in district court today on a charge he beat her to death with a connecting rod.

Selection of a jury was started after Judge W. F. Keen dismissed Abby's plea for a change of venue.

Abby's story aroused the suspicion of County Attorney Milton Keen, who investigated and found a bloody connecting rod near the scene of her death.

Abby was arrested and the fol-

Solons Outlaw Sale Of Liquor In Juarez Bars

JAUREZ, Mexico, Dec. 12 (AP)—Bars and loud music—fun-loving Juarez' stock in trade—were dealt a blow today as the Chihuahua legislature outlawed both.

Bon-vivants almost cried in their beer because the new law prohibits the sale of liquor or beer across the bars in the border state once ruled by Francisco Villa, who drank and sang with the best of them.

The chamber of deputies and the senate at Chihuahua City passed the law Saturday night but it was not made public here until today.

Saloon keepers expected Governor Gustavo L. Talamantes to sign the bill. The law would become effective on January 1. Governor Talamantes has followed President Lazaro Cardenas consistently in other prohibition measures.

The bill permits the sale of liquor in cabarets, restaurants and clubs but prohibits the playing of radios and phonographs wherever liquor is sold.

Cabarets must be built 70 meters apart and will not be permitted within 100 meters of a public building, hospital or school.

A rip-roaring border town since Benito Juarez upset Emperor Maximilian, Juarez was lavish with its red whiskey and loud music when the United States was dry. It was a mecca for tourists.

The action of the legislature is the second blow aimed at drinking and gambling—American tourists' main entertainment down here—within a week.

Texas Rangers clamped the lid on gambling in El Paso, across the Rio Grande, last week-end.

Common Sense About Constipation

A doctor would tell you that the best thing to do with constipation is get at its cause. That way you don't have to endure it first and try to cure it afterward—you can avoid having it.

Chances are you won't have to look far for the cause if you eat the super-refined foods most people do. Most likely you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines.

If this is what you lack, try crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains just the "bulk" you need.

Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and "Join the Regulars." Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.
