Nazi Planes Begin Bombing Greek Towns

(By The Associated Press)
German warplanes have already begun bombing Greek towns from bases in Bulgaria, it was reported today, as Adolf Hitler massed 500,000 troops on the frontiers of Greece and Turkey and signs pointed to an imminent showdown.

Yugoslav leaders gathered in Belgrade amid forecasts that she would capitulate quickly to Nazi demands that she join the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo alliance.

In yielding, Yugoslavia presumably would open a new avenue for an expected German invasion of Greece.

Indications that the "zero hour" might be near were seen in these factors:

1. The steady southward movement of Nazi troops through Bulgaria, under way for 10 days, suddenly dwindled to a trickle.

2. German staff officers were reported to have disappeared from Sofia, the Bulgarian capital, and headed for field headquarters at Plovdiv—40 miles from the Greek border, 80 miles from Turkey.

3. Thousands of German and Bulgarian warplanes were placed for action, including siren-screaming Nazi bombers exploited with terrifying effect in western Europe last spring.

British sources at Istanbul quoted a Greek army officer as saying German planes had raided the town of Dede Agach in Grecian Thrace—likely striking-point of a German attack.

Belgrade dispatches said Russia had promised Turkey she has nothing to fear from Soviet Red armies massed along the Danube, if she decides to fight on Greece's side.

Reports reaching New York said Generalissimo Franco of Spain had rejected flatly as "inconsistent with Spanish honor" a German demand that Spain give territorial facilities for the flight of Nazi planes to Italy's hard-pressed forces in Africa.

The British naval command announced a British submarine had torpedoed and sunk a heavily-laden Italian troop ship of 9646 tons in the Mediterranean area. The exact location was given.

Official German comment on the United States British-aid bill included this declaration in an unprecedented manner. "Mr. Roosevelt is an unrepentant man. Let him send one convoy and . . ."

deCordova Named City Secretary

W. C. deCordova was named by the city commission at its meeting yesterday as the new city secretary, to fill the vacancy left by the death on March 2 of W. M. Craven, who occupied that post for seven years.

Salary of the new city official was set at $200 a month, the same as the amount paid Mr. Craven. When Mr. deCordova will take office was not definitely set by the commission, but it was stated that he would begin his work within a short time, possibly a week or two.

Although the title is simply "city secretary," the work consists of a great deal more than that, for the secretary is also charged with the assessing and collecting of city taxes.

Mr. deCordova, veteran of World War I, is a member of the local post of the American Legion, and has been distributor for the Sinclair Refining company here since September, 1925. Steve Matthews, city manager, said.

Two changes have been made in the city tax office recently. On Monday, Miss Johnie Fodge was transferred to the water department, Mrs. Jewell Shackelford, former water department clerk, is now in the tax office.

Announcement of the appointment of the city secretary ended a barrage of applications made to the city officials. More than 50 had made direct application to one or more of the city commission members, while a great number had "obliquely" hinted they would not turn down the job if it was offered.

I Heard . . .

William L. White, newspaper correspondent who recently returned from Europe, saying that England stood a 90-40 chance of winning the war. He spoke at Shamrock last night, sponsored by the Shamrock Booster club. He said that next to planes England needs ships. He also revealed that outside of Spain there wasn't a country in Europe, unless it was Poland, that faced starvation.

FDR SIGNS BRITISH AID BILL

President Roosevelt puts his signature to the lend-lease bill as an undisclosed number of the biggest army and navy bombers were reported poised for flight to Great Britain waiting for the bill to become law.

Deficits Outlawed By Sooners In Vote

By SCHUYLER ALLMAN
OKLAHOMA CITY, March 12 (AP)—Oklahoma has endorsed emphatically a constitutional amendment intended to outlaw state deficits—a plan which one congressman proposes to apply to the federal government.

Gov. Leon C. Phillips, debt-hating conservative who marched into office two years ago pledging economy for a state saddled with debt, saw his program approved in yesterday's special election by a two to one vote.

Even before the results became known, Rep. Wesley Disney (D-Okla.), predicted Oklahoma's action would touch off a nation-wide movement.

The Sooner congressman declared he would introduce an amendment to the federal constitution, modeled after the Oklahoma plan.

"For unless we head off this orgy of spending," said he, "this country is headed for trouble that will adversely affect every citizen."

"Phillips said he was not trying to play 'national politics' although he appreciated Disney's suggestion.

"I have advocated for Oklahoma," he added, "a form of government which I think would be good for other units of government, both larger and smaller."

Product of some of the state's best legal minds—both lay and legislative—the amendment was referred to the people by the legislature at a time when the state debt had mounted to about $32,000,000 in 10 years.

It provides that the legislature cannot appropriate in excess of the average income for the three previous fiscal years without first levying new taxes to pay the bills.

It applies an automatic brake to spending when the state is over-appropriated monthly to each division of government. Warrants could not be issued for any department in excess of actual cash on hand.

To prevent drastic reductions in operating costs and salaries in slack taxpaying periods, Phillips proposes to freeze current income taxes and make them available at the first of the new fiscal year.

Also approved was an amendment setting up a co-ordinating board of control for state institutions of higher learning, and a referendum lifting the present $30 lid on old age pensions.

Chinese Labor Expert Speaks Here Tonight

Col. M. Thomas Tchou of Shanghai, China, labor department executive in the Chinese government, and former secretary to General Chiang Kai-Shek, will address Pampanians tonight at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

He will be the third speaker in the Pampania Rotary club's institute of international understanding, speaking on the subject, "An Impoverished World."

White Imitates Eerie Sounds Of Sirens, Bombs In Shamrock Lecture

On the fighter planes of the Royal Air Force depends the British empire for its chances to win the war. Within a few weeks the anticipated invasion of England will begin. If Hitler can drive the fighter planes of the British out of the air, you might as well write the light little tale off the books.

This was the salient comment of William L. White, foreign correspondent for 40 U. S. newspapers, CBS broadcaster, and son of William Allen White famous Emporia, Kas., editor, in a talk made last night at Clark auditorium in Shamrock.

Mr. White also declared that sending England planes and ships and other material without men to operate them was like sending them the rolling stock of a railroad without the workers.

Speaking informally he addressed the crowd of 500 persons as though he were simply talking in friendly conversation to a few friends in a room.

He referred to cordite bombs falling as "when the stuff is bouncing around," used "grand guy" as a term for a British air force officer he knew.

U. S. Thanked For Passage Of Measure

Prime Minister Calls It 'Inspiring Act Of Faith'

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt sent to congress today a request for a $7,000,000 appropriation to carry out a "fixed policy of this government to make for democracies every gun, plane and munition of war that we possibly can."

In a letter to Speaker Rayburn, transmitting detailed estimates of the budget director for the $7,000,000 expenditure, Mr. Roosevelt asserted:

"I strongly urge the immediate enactment of this appropriation."

The chief executive declared that America has felt that "it was imperative to the security of America that we encourage the democracies' heroic resistance to aggressions, by not only maintaining but also increasing the flow of material assistance from this country."

LONDON, March 12 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill formally thanked the United States today for passage of the British aid bill, which he termed a "New Magna Carta . . . an inspiring act of faith."

With a United States military mission in the gallery—he later received the Americans in a private room—Churchill solemnly read the following statement to the house of commons:

"The lease and lend bill, as the house is aware, became law yesterday when it received immediately the signature of the President (cheers)."

"I am sure the house would wish to thank the United States on behalf of the nation, our deep and respectful appreciation of this monument of generous and far seeing statesmanship (loud cheers)."

"The most powerful democracy, has, in effect, declared in solemn statement, that they will devote their overwhelming industrial and financial strength to ensuring the defeat of Nazism in order that nations, great and small, may live in security, tolerance and freedom (cheers)."

"By so doing the government and the people of the United States have, in fact, written a new Magna Carta which not only has regard to the rights and laws upon which a healthy and advancing civilization can alone be erected but also proclaims the present and example the duty of free men and free nations, wherever they may be, to share the responsibility and burden of enforcing them."

Navy cheers marked the close of Churchill's statement. Although the floor of commons was filled there were only eight men in the gallery—members of the United States army mission here to coordinate American-British air plans. They were in uniforms.

War Flashes

(By The Associated Press)
Yugoslavia was reported today to have agreed "in principle," under heavy Nazi pressure, to join the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo alliance—thereby losing a new avenue for an expected German invasion of Greece.

Usually reliable quarters in Belgrade said, however, that Germany would be asked to grant a transition period for Yugoslavia so that she might adhere to the Axis without internal discord.

ATHENS, March 12 (AP)—Italians using the biggest force they have thus far employed, attacked at six different points in Albania yesterday after careful artillery preparation, but all thrusts were repulsed, Greek military dispatches said today.

MADRID, March 12 (AP)—Foreign Minister Roman Serrano Suñer said today no one should doubt "the unshakable firmness" of Spain's "friendship with Germany." The two countries, he declared, are struggling for a single cause—a new Europe.

'BOMB-SHOCKED' BABY SOBS AT SOUND OF RAID SIREN

This bomb-shocked baby's terror-tautened nerves send her in fits of uncontrollable sobbing today at the sound of an air raid siren. Doctors in the peace of a rehabilitation center in England's quiet countryside are seeking to cure her hysteria. Children are the principal sufferers from bomb-shock—the wracking of tender nerves from concussion and terrific blasts. A common effect is to deprive victims of the normal sense of balance, so that often they have to learn to walk all over again.

Temperature Drops To 25 Degrees Amid Snow Flurries

It's due to be warmer in the Panhandle tomorrow—but that was slight comfort today to Pampanians as snow flurries swept the streets and the temperature dropped to 25 degrees.

This mark was only two degrees above the overnight low. Tuesday's maximum was 56, minimum 23.

Snow, swept by a strong wind, started falling here at 12:16 o'clock this morning.

Early this afternoon the temperature was 25, and a north-northeast wind was blowing at 27 miles an hour.

The official U. S. Weather bureau forecast for West Texas: mostly cloudy with intermittent rain in southwest portion tonight and Thursday; colder in extreme southwest portion tonight; warmer in the Panhandle Thursday.

Chain Store Taxes Upheld At Hearing

AUSTIN, March 12 (AP)—Studying conflicting claims on a bill to repeal the state chain store tax, members of the house taxation committee today awaited a final hearing before acting on the proposal.

Opponents presenting their side of the story at a second hearing last night contended the license was a "fair and just" tax and that out-of-state chains were the only ones opposed to the levy. Previously, advocates charged the law was punitive.

"The big chains are not bearing their share of the taxes," Sam Hanna of Dallas, secretary of the Texas Wholesale Grocers association, declared. He said he was speaking for home-owned chains and single unit retailers and wholesalers in the state.

Reciting figures on sales and profits of five of the larger systems, Hanna asked "with such a record, should Texas be so benevolent as to relinquish this tax that is now being collected?" Chain tax payments in Texas last year totaled $703,805, he said.

Among others appearing in opposition to repeal were Harry Shufford of Tyler, wholesale grocer; G. H. Lasater of Tyler, retail grocer; H. C. Burroughs of Dallas, retail druggist; and P. M. Brinker of Dallas, vice-president of the National Association of Retail Grocers.

W. H. Wadsworth of Dallas, tax accountant, declared chain stores paid higher taxes per 1,000 square feet of floor space than independent merchants.

DENVER, March 12 (AP)—Caleb F. Gates, Jr., had scaled Alpine and Colorado peaks without injury. But he arrived on crutches to become acting chancellor of Denver University.

The former assistant dean at Princeton explained: "It's humbling. I tripped over our bulldog and broke my ankle."

Bigger Calf Show In 1942 Predicted

A bigger and better Gray County Junior Livestock Show for 1942 was predicted last night at the Pampania Chamber of Commerce monthly banquet, attended by Future Farmers of America and 4-H club boys of Gray county who annually make the show possible.

The more than 100 members and boys dined on choice steaks from one of the calves entered in this year's show and purchased by the Board of City Development.

Milton Morris of the agriculture department at West Texas State college at Canyon, who was to have given the principle talk of the evening, was unable to be present. He was taken to the hospital a few minutes before he was scheduled to leave. Attending physicians reported that he had acute appendicitis.

Byron E. Lopp of Albuquerque, N. M., in Pampania conducting a sales school, replaced Mr. Morris and gave an interesting talk in which he congratulated the club boys on their activity and advised them to continue and expand their program.

"Our actual land frontiers are settled but the future holds the greatest promise that any generation has faced," Mr. Lopp declared. "You young men who will be the cattle-

Organ Recital To Include Numbers Used In Schools

John Josey, to be presented Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the First Methodist church by Upsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority in an hour-long organ recital, will play numbers which will be of interest to the school children of Pampa.

A majority of the numbers will be those included in the public schools music repertoire for the pupils to be able to recognize. It will be of benefit to the students to hear these musical scores as written for the pipe organ in comparison to those heard weekly in record orchestras.

Beta Sigma Phi extends a special invitation to those children interested in good music as it is one of their aims to be a part in stimulating an interest in music in Pampa and the surrounding community. The concert is free to the public.

Mrs. Kermit Lawson, Miss Margaret Stockstill, and Miss John Hodge are in charge of arrangements for the recital.

Mrs. David Hostess At Kingsmill HD Club Meeting Recently

"Lawns should be smooth and without ditches, well covered with grass and groups of shrubs at the corners," Mrs. Nat Lunsford stated at a meeting of Kingsmill Home Demonstration club in the home of Mrs. M. G. David recently.

She also pointed out that flowers and shrubs are used to tie the house to the ground and make it look at home.

"Use shrubs with foliage the year around if possible and place tall shrubs at or near corners of the house and the low ones under windows and at doorsteps. Use trellises to shade the west windows; place them back three to five feet to permit air and light to come into the window.

"We should conserve the moisture in the soil around trees and shrubs through the long hot and dry summers," Mrs. A. R. Walberg said. "It is better to soak the ground thoroughly, than sprinkle lightly each day. She stated in cultivating trees and shrubs it is better to use a spading fork than a hoe and to loosen the soil to the depth of six inches. A two-inch mulching of well-rotted fertilizer is best for the breeding of plants and shrubs. The moisture in the soil. A good spray for insects on our plants is one ounce arsenic of lead and two gallons of water; add one ounce of lime to make it stick to the leaves."

Mrs. C. W. Moot gave a summary of the yard training school held February 21. She stated that trees are used to screen unsightly places and as wind brakes and for background. Group the trees in odd numbers such as three, six, and seven. Be sure and not live them up and avoid placing them to exclude light and air from the windows. The walks and driveway are placed for use only. If possible have them slightly curved as they are more attractive. Native rock and gravel look more natural than cement in building walks, she added.

Mrs. O. G. Smith, president, presided over the business session in which all members paid into the education fund. Mrs. S. E. Elkins gave a report from the Council and plans were made to sew for the Red Cross the last of the month. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. G. G. Frasier. Refreshments were served to Mmes. O. G. Smith, Chester Williams, C. H. McBride, C. T. Sullivan, C. W. Moot, W. C. Nichol, Nat Lunsford, A. R. Walberg, N. B. Cude, D. L. Lunsford, S. E. Elkins, and J. C. Payne, new member.

Central Baptist Society Meets In Circles This Week

Weekly meetings of the circles of Women's Missionary society of Central Baptist church were held in the homes of members.

At the meeting of Lottie Moon circle in the home of Mrs. Charles Hunter, Mrs. C. A. Jones, chairman, led in the opening prayer and Mrs. H. E. Johnson presented the lesson from Samuel: 14-24. A prayer by Mrs. John Browning preceded the discussion of King: 1-11 by Mrs. C. A. Jones. Next week's lesson will be taught by Mrs. Frank Jewel and the book is to be, "Mecca Beyond."

Present were Mmes. John Browning, Mark Gunnels, H. E. Johnson, C. C. Miller, J. R. Young, M. C. Mercer, C. A. Jones, E. A. Harris, E. T. Umphries, and one visitor, Mrs. L. C. Umphries, and the hostess.

Mrs. Satterwhite conducted the Bible study when Vada Waldron circle met in her home. Seven members and two visitors, Mrs. Bell McNab and Mrs. R. W. Page of LePors, were present. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Jeff Dye on the Wilcox lease.

Mrs. R. E. Warren, Jr., was hostess at the meeting of Lydia circle which was opened with the song, "Ready," and prayer by Mrs. W. T. Broxson.

In the business session conducted by Mrs. Clyde Ives, the circle decided to send a box to the Buckner's orphan home nursery and to make layettes for the Red Cross.

The study of a mission book was started and Mrs. Ashton Bailey taught the lesson from "The Life of Basil Lee Locket." Following a prayer by Mrs. S. W. Brandt, refreshments in the St. Patrick motif were served to Mmes. Clyde Ives, Dale Hughes, R. E. Warren, Jr., S. W. Brandt, Floyd Russell, W. T. Broxson, Pat Mitchell, Joe Myers, Ashton Bailey, C. A. Erwin, Roy Brown, E. O. Baldwin, Garland James, Jack Hughes, Al-Jen Williams, L. O. Roemfeld, P. P. Hayes, members, Mmes. Paul McMullen, H. M. Potter, Jimmy Herring, and Mahon Hilburn, visitors.

Clever Social Entertains B-PW Members, Guests

A covered dish dinner was served to members and guests of Business and Professional Women's club Tuesday evening in the city club rooms when a monthly social meeting was held.

In the brief business session which preceded the social hour, Ruth Griggs was appointed chairman of the On-To-Lubbock state convention on June 7 and 8.

Mabel Gee, chairman of the Red Cross garment committee, asked each member making or buying garments to contact her as the items must be turned in to her by March 27. A letter was read from Miriam Colman, state executive secretary, saying that all annual reports must be given to the district chairman by April 1 and to the state chairman by April 15.

Andrew Fowler stated that the jury service bill will go to the legislature next Tuesday and asked that each member write the representative, urging that the bill be passed. The finance committee planned a dance to be given the latter part of the month.

Social committee chairman, Rowena Wasson, was assisted by Ruba McConnell, Allie Huckaby, Mary Fleming, Hazel Snow, Blanch Dressler, Jones, Maurine Jones, Mayme Counselor, Ida Mae Jones, and Blanche Anderson in conducting the Who Know's party.

Tables were decorated with the signs of the zodiac and each guest was seated according to the month of her birth. After the dinner, horoscopes were read by Mayme Counselor.

LEARN THE TRUTH ABOUT BOWEL WORMS

The signs are misleading. Nobody is sure to escape. Worms can make real trouble.

Anybody, anywhere, can "catch" roundworms! So watch out for these signs in your child or yourself: uneasy stomach, nose-picking, loss of weight, itchy seat, nervousness. Get Jayne's Vermifuge if you even suspect roundworms. It expels stubborn worms, yet acts very gently. If there are no worms, it works just as a mild laxative. Jayne's is America's best known proprietary worm medicine; scientifically tested and used by millions for over a century. So, play safe! Insist on Jayne's Vermifuge.

Two Groups Of Horace Mann P-TA Meet At School

Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar was guest speaker at the meeting of Horace Mann Parent-Teacher association's study group and room representatives at the school recently.

"Ships That Sail the Seas," from the February National Parent-Teacher magazine was the first topic discussed by Mrs. Hunkapillar. In this she pointed out how dependent we are on other countries for products and they in turn are dependent on us for things their countries do not produce. Our main object should be to maintain international relationship and understanding. If we are to maintain these, we must understand and respect their racial customs and standards of living.

"War—What and Who Causes It?" was the second subject Mrs. Hunkapillar discussed. In this she gave several reasons for the causes of war; some of these are: racial prejudices, social misunderstandings, profiteering, and rulers gaining power. In summing up her talk, Mrs. Hunkapillar stated that we are all indirectly responsible for war.

Mrs. H. M. Stokes, president of the P-T-A, introduced the guests from other schools, and Mrs. C. W. Hays presented the speaker.

Pampans Presented At Annual Ball Of Ko Shari At Tech

Two Pampa girls, Miss Carolyn Surraat and Miss Heidi Schneider, were presented to an audience of approximately 350 college students and townspeople, at the annual ball given by Ko Shari club of Texas Technological college. The young women were among the 31 pledges honored by the club.

The girls entered the ballroom from a huge white fan of marabou tipped with red ostrich feathers and descended six steps where they were met by their escorts. The background for the fan was a silver-white curtain and a metalene backdrop.

Miss Surraat, who was escorted by her brother, Bob Surraat, wore a charming pink frock with bands of silver on the skirt and at the waist. She carried carnations.

Miss Schneider, who was escorted by Bobby Lewis, wore a white frock with silver thread on the bodice and carried a bouquet of bird of paradise.

Both young women will become members of the organization when they receive their initiation at Santa Fe, N. M., on the club's annual Easter trip next month.

Sixth Birthday Of Ronnie Payne Observed At Party

A party was given to honor Ronnie Payne on his sixth birthday Sunday afternoon in his home, 518 South Dwight street.

Games were played and gifts were opened by the guest of honor.

Refreshments of cake and ice cream with chocolate rabbits as favors were served after Ronnie made a wish and blew out his six candles.

Those present were Rosemary Sheehan, Patsy Bonds, Janice Isbell, Reggie Lee Farless, Jimmy Wilson, Don Gallagher, Don Jones, Kathryn Johnson, Don Johnson, Billie Cobb, Shirley Jean Baird, Elbert Earl Cannon, J. C. Hagemann, Donald Mae Fortener, Betty Jane Murray, Uerta Ruth Elkins, Oma Faye Draper, Annie Sarah Draper, Mmes. J. B. Gallagher, Hubert Cannon, Maud Murray, G. L. Sheehan, Hugh Isbell, Clyde Jones, Harold Payne, and the guest of honor.

Gifts were sent by Mary Ann Moot, Bobby Gene Bonds, and Mrs. Rufe Thompson.

Pterodactyls, living in the Cretaceous Era, were the largest of all flying creatures, some having wingspreads of 20 feet.

PLANS MEETING

As president of the Northwest Texas Conference for Education, Mrs. N. N. Whitworth of Amarillo, above, has had a large part in planning the big meeting at Canyon March 14 and 15. The conference is the largest convention which meets in the Panhandle each year. Mrs. Whitworth is head of the department of speech at Amarillo Senior high school.

Automotive Corn

The automobile industry, in producing 1,000,000 cars, consumes 500,000 bushels of corn for rubber substitutes, butyl alcohol, and solvents. This corn is the yield of 11,280 acres.

On January 1, the sun is approximately 3,000,000 miles nearer the earth than it is on July 1.

2-Way Help for WOMEN!

CARDUI may help women in two important ways: Many who begin 3 days before "the time" and take it as directed find it helps relieve pain. When taken by directions as a tonic, it usually helps stimulate appetite, increase the flow of gastric juice, and so aids digestion. Thus, it helps build energy and strength and reduce periodic functional distress for many. 50 years of use proves CARDUI's merit.

BGK Members To Sew For Local Red Cross Chapter

Plans for a frontier dance were made at the meeting of B. G. K. club in the home of Freda Barrett Tuesday evening.

A report from the Council of Clubs was presented by Miss Flora Dean Finley, and the group voted to sew for the Red Cross.

Attending were Mmes. Bill Gray, Phil McGrath, Paul Schneider, Gerald Fowler, Ed Myatt, H. E. McCarty, George Pollard, Jack Smith, Bill McCarty, Allen Evans; Misses Catherine Pearce, Mary Gaylord Bath, Lucille Bell, Flora Dean Finley, Gloria Posey, Elizabeth Mullinax, and the hostess.

Next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock the club will meet in the home of Miss Finley.

Presbyterian Women Give Religious Play At Church

McLEAN, March 12.—"Wider than the Heart," a 4-act religious play, was presented Sunday night, by Presbyterian women in the basement of the Presbyterian church in McLean.

The play was a touching story of a young girl who gave up a trip around the world to care for the poor.

Those included in the cast were Mesdames W. W. Shaddid, Kid McCoy, John B. Rice, C. O. Goodman, C. V. Hendran, and Mrs. Thomas Stanley, director.

tomorrow at 108 North Cuyler street. Miss Ola Nellis and Mrs. Kathleen Burns, owners, joined in an invitation to Pampans to visit the new shop which is bright with forerunners of what promises to be one of the most attractive collections of spring clothes ever shown here. Many of the gowns, hats, shoes, suits, and other apparel which will be on display tomorrow were still in their shipping cases today—fresh from the wholesale houses.

Miss Nellis and Mrs. Burns operated a similar shop in this same location until the latter part of December when the building and the entire stock was damaged by fire. The interior of the new store reflects the high quality merchandise handled. A color note of rose and blue is stressed in the furnishings. The modernistic ceiling and walls are in ivory and the floor is covered with a beige carpet. Fluorescent lights are used throughout the newly arranged shop. Larger fitting rooms have been arranged and the balcony storage space has been enlarged. Also a business office has been added at the rear of the building. New figurines, displays, and background in the show windows harmonize with the smartest new clothes.

Among the additions to the new store is a shoe department owned by Terry Burns. A popular line of shoes, DeLiso Debs, is being featured.

A complete ensemble including foundation garments, hose, shoes, dresses, hats, suits, coats, gloves, handbags, jewelry and other accessories, may be obtained. Low price lines in dresses are being offered also.

Nationally advertised brands are carried, such as Betsyann, Classy Jean and Jean Junior, Ann Mitchell dresses, Eisenberg dresses and suits, Dupler furs, Mosier purses, Louis Miller, Eliza, and Miss Robert's hand-made hats, Quaker stockings, and Carter's underwear and girdles.

With the local store in charge of alterations is Mrs. Bessie Stone. Ronel's store welcomes everyone's trade whether or not they live in Pampa.

GARDENING FOR HAPPINESS

To Shelve Cares, Plan A Garden; Careful Study Of Soil First Step

A beautiful path that beckons invitingly to the careworn

By HENRY FREE
Pampa News Landscape Consultant
First of a Series

In these critical days, when every mind is heavy with worry about the future, many seek an "escape" in books, hobbies, or other pleasures. One of the better ways to shelve the daily worries is to create and tend a flower garden, a peaceful haven for your evenings and weekends.

As a testimonial to the tonic value of a gardening hobby, over in beleaguered England the government recently asked its people to continue tending their flower gardens for the relaxation from war jitters this gives them, rather than digging up their plots to plant cabbages.

In planning a garden, the soil, of course, should first be studied carefully. The color and character of soil varies with local conditions. Soil which has resulted from the disintegration of limestone is an alkaline clay type—very fine grained, and consequently heavy and water retentive. This must be broken up with humus and sand.

Sandy soil—disintegrated granite or sandstone—is apt to be more or less acid, suitable for rhododendrons and other acid soil plants. Since water passes too rapidly through sandy soil, humus should be added to help it retain moisture.

Color of the soil does not necessarily determine its quality. Dark soils may have acquired their color from the rock foundation instead of from the essential humus. Iron compounds produce yellow, red, blue and often a gray soil, while humus produces brown to black colored type.

You should make the most of the soil you happen to have. Be sure to remove any stones, roots, stumps, builder's rubbish and other such undesirable material that may be upon or in the top level. Deep cultivation is necessary only if drainage is needed or if hardpan occurs in the sub-soil. Since hardpan prevents downward passage of water as well as upward passage of moisture from the lower level, hardpan must be broken up and sand added. Never plow or cultivate when the soil is too wet or too dry, since this will make the soil lumpy.

Maintaining humus content of the soil is all-important. Humus improves the structure and character of the soil, increases its water holding capacity, readily absorbs the sun's rays, stimulates plant growth by freeing essential elements, prevents the leaching of soluble plant foods, and promotes bacterial action.

Mineral fertilizers need humus to be effective as plant food. Used together they increase crops from one-fifth to one-third more than when double the amount of mineral fertilizer is used.

Manure and peat moss are the best known and most widely used forms of humus. Good manure, however, is difficult to obtain. Most peat moss is of bog origin and, like manure, is very low in food value, containing about 1 per cent of nitrogen and but a trace of phosphorus and potash.

Leaf mold is an excellent source of humus, highly retentive of moisture, but it varies somewhat in its reaction upon the soil. Oak leaf and pine needle mold react definitely acid. Most other leaf molds react slightly acid or entirely neutral. ***

The compost pile answers the humus problem for the city gardener. Made up of various kinds of quickly decaying vegetable matter—sod, grass clippings, weeds, leaves and garbage—mixed with soil, kept moist, and with some commercial fertilizer added to speed decomposition and add needed nutrients, it forms an excellent humus. Alternate layers of soil and vegetable matter are placed on a basic layer of sod or some coarse material, and the pile is turned each month, restacked so that the outside parts are placed in the center of the new pile.

"Adding a green manure"—i. e., plowing under certain legumes, such as soybeans, alfalfa, the clovers and the vetches—will frequently add from 100 to 150 pounds of available nitrogen to the soil per acre, or the equivalent of 10 to 15 tons of good animal manure. Soybeans, the most valuable, should be plowed under when the beans are half grown. Previous to planting the legume seed should be inoculated with a commercial inoculant carrying the type of bacterial needed for that particular seed. After plowing under a legume, eye is planted, to add to the humus content, and it is plowed under in the spring when it is approximately 10 inches in height.

Raymond Allred Identified In Trial

AUSTIN, March 12 (AP)—Raymond Allred today was identified in district court by N. E. Lee, former Travis county deputy sheriff, as the man on whom Lee on Feb. 7, 1940, served a Caldwell county subpoena for "Russell Berry."

Lee was the second state witness in the trial of Rene Allred on an indictment charging conspiracy to commit perjury.

Raymond Allred, Elbert Hooper and Neal Powers also face the indictment, which alleges the four conspired to effect a postponement in a Caldwell county case of conspiracy against Powers set for Feb. 2, 1940.

The former deputy testified he received the Caldwell county subpoena for "Russell Berry" and was unable to locate him.

A short time later, he said, Hooper told him if he could come to Hooper's law office he could help find the witness. Lee said he went to the office and saw Hooper and another man. He pointed out Rene Allred as the latter.

Hooper, Lee testified, told him the name of the witness should be Russell Berry, and Lee said he called the late Lee O. Allen, then sheriff and obtained permission to change the name of the subpoena. Hooper then directed him to take the subpoena to a hotel room.

He went to the room and a man with latter on his face informed him he was Russell Berry and accepted the subpoena, Lee said.

Camacho Would Restrict Mexican Strike Rights

MEXICO CITY, March 12 (AP)—President Manuel Avila Camacho sent to congress last night a bill proposing restrictions on strike rights to federal government employees.

The measure would remove the requirement that such workers organize unions, and discourage affiliation with industrial and peasant unions.

As for strike rights, it proposed that walkouts cease except in cases where their legality had been determined.

Next Court Term To Begin Here June 2

Members of the district court jury commission on Tuesday completed their job of preparing the list of 200 petit jurors and 16 grand jurors to serve during the next term of district court here, which begins June 2.

The June term is for nine weeks, of which seven are jury, and the first and final weeks, non-jury.

Comprising the jury commission were Willard McAdams, Emis Jones, Roy E. Bourland, M. D. Bentley, and J. H. Casey.

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE CHANGES BASKETBALL SET-UP

Doubles Play Begins In National Indoor Tennis

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
OKLAHOMA CITY, March 11 (AP)—Doubles teams took over the coliseum's two courts at the national indoor tennis tournament today as play recessed in the singles division with only 16 of the original field of 64 players left in the running.

All eight seeded stars, including defending champion Bobby Riggs of Chicago, moved into the third round, which will get under way tomorrow.

Riggs, who ousted two home town entries, Ed Overholser and Paul Darrough, Jr., in straight-set matches yesterday, takes on Tommy Higgins, Tulsa University, in the third round. McNeill, former state municipal champion from Oklahoma City tomorrow.

Don McNeill, Oklahoma City's national outdoor champion and the nation's No. 1 amateur, will face Stanley Draper, Jr., also of Oklahoma City in the third round. McNeill stopped Dewey Allen of Ada, Okla., last night without losing a game.

Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Calif., seeded third behind Riggs and McNeill, downed his way to straight-set victories over Henry Brown of Oklahoma City and M. C. Hopper of Tulsa, Okla., yesterday and will meet George Counts, former state interscholastic champ from Oklahoma City tomorrow.

Fourth-seeded Wayne Sabin of Portland, Ore., will face Norman Brooks of San Francisco in this third-round match. Sabin stopped F. G. McMurry of Oklahoma City and Tom McSpadden of Muskogee, Okla., yesterday, losing only three games to McMurry and one to the Muskogeean.

Other singles pairings look like this: Jack Kramer, Los Angeles, Calif., vs. Cliff Williams, Oklahoma Aggies.

Bill Talbert, Cincinnati, O., vs. Bob Patterson, Tulsa, Okla.

Ed "Lefty" Brown, Waco, Tex., vs. Frank McEwene, Fayetteville, Ark.

Frank Guernsey, Houston, Tex., vs. Randall Clark, Tulsa, Okla.

Here's the way the teams lined up for the first round of doubles play today:

Ed Brown, Waco, Tex., and Robert Madden, Pittsburgh, Pa., vs. Paul Darrough, Jr., and Stanley Draper, Jr., Oklahoma City.

Don McNeill, Oklahoma City, and Frank Guernsey, Houston, Tex., vs. Crawford Bennett, Oklahoma City, and Bill Wilkins, Dallas, Tex.

Bobby Riggs, Chicago, and Jack Kramer, Los Angeles, vs. Willard Bergtrosser and Miles Beck, Oklahoma City.

Frank Kovacs, Oakland, Calif., and Norman Brooks, San Francisco, vs. Bill Hall and Ivan Berry, Edmond, Okla.

Pistol Shooters Called Most Temperamental Athletes

By GAYLE TALBOT
TAMPA, Fla., March 12 (AP)—I would say without making a thorough check that the most temperamental athletes in the world are the 400-odd pistol shooters who are engaging at present in their annual mid-winter championships on the local range.

I was doing nothing more harmful than a little noon hour practice shooting at the furthest point from the clubhouse and not hitting anything in particular—when all hell broke loose. The contestants came swarming out from their lunch and an excited range officer took me out of there before anything serious happened.

There seems to be a rule that there can be no practicing, or "sighting in" once an event has begun, and when these dudes heard a gun going off they naturally left their soup to see that nobody was stealing a march.

While the incident was embarrassing it brought its compensation in the form of a talk with Marvin Driver, coach of the Detroit Police team.

Sergeant Driver, a sniper with the A. E. F. back in 1918, is the proud instructor of a team that holds 30 indoor and outdoor world pistol records—the most ever set by a single team. He thinks, pardonably, that his boys are the greatest pistol marksmen who ever lived.

The extent of their accuracy, with a pistol, needs to be seen to be believed, and their instructor does not think it ever was approached by such six-gun experts as Wild Bill Hickock or Billy the Kid.

"Of course," he concedes, "those old-timers were artists at shooting a gun into action quick and getting a man at short range. But there is nothing to indicate they could have equalled the fine shooting being done nowadays."

"Never again," was Wilson's valdictory. "It's too much for me. It's up to the young fellows from now on." Wilson will be 41 next July 23.

But maybe Jimmy has been taking a few of those vitamin B-1 tablets on the sly, or maybe it's just the spring weather.

Anyway, Wilson is bouncing around like a young colt. His work in the all-star game last Sunday convinced him he still could catch when needed.

"The all-star game (in which he threw out a man at third and picked a man off first in one inning) convinced me I may have been a little hasty in announcing my retirement," Wilson explained.

Harvester Boxers To Fight Canadian Leather Slings

The Pampa High school boxing team will participate in its third dual meet of the season tonight in Canadian. Coach Oscar Hinger will take a full team of boxers all the way from 65 pounds to heavyweights with two boys in some classes.

He doesn't know how many of his boys will be in action since he received no pairings from Canadian.

Coach Hinger said he hoped Canadian would have enough boys for every weight because in his last two fights one or two boys haven't gotten to box.

Next home appearance of the Harvester milt artists will be on the night of March 21 when LEFors comes to Pampa for a return engagement.

The astronomical observatory at Peeping was established by the Tartar kings in 1280 A. D.

Districts To Be Based On Grid Areas

The Texas Interscholastic league basketball setup, after 21 years of competition between large and small schools alike, will be changed to conform to the football plan next season.

R. J. Kidd, athletic director of the league, announced the new setup after Saturday night's final game of the 1941 state tournament, in which El Paso defeated Abilene, 27 to 20.

Three state tournaments will be conducted each year, one for Class AA teams, one for Class A teams, and one for Class B teams. There will be 16 Class AA districts, 32 in Class A and 64 in Class B. Eight teams in each class will go to the state tournaments.

District Alignment Incomplete
Class AA schools will play to district championships and then pair off for bi-district clashes, winners going to Austin for the state tournament. The Class A and B schools will follow the present plan of playing in eight regional tournaments.

Assignments of teams to districts is not yet complete, but has a plan of determining district champions been specified. Schools with enrollment of over 500 will play in Class AA, schools with from 200 to 500 in Class A and schools with less than 200 in Class B.

Assumption is that the Class AA and A districts will follow closely the football setup. That would mean that Lubbock, Amarillo, Pampa, Plainview and Borger would play for a district title, winner meeting the best in the Wichita Falls area for the bi-district title.

Whether district championships would be determined by round robin play or by season's end tournaments is also yet to be revealed.

BITS ABOUT BOWLING

Big scores featured games in the Major Bowling league last night when Voss Cleaners won two out of three from Schlitz Beer, Jones-Everett won two out of three from Home Builders Supply and Cabot Prigmore took two out of three from Schneider hotel.

Workers Rescue Cat
LONDON, March 12. (P)—A blue Persian cat—hungry but uninjured—was rescued after being buried four days in the wreckage of a lodge-house demolished by a bomb at Buckingham palace.

Workers, attracted by the cat's mewling, removed pieces of heavy masonry to make the rescue.

Butter contains twice as much food value as sugar.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK, March 12. (The Special News Service)—The Phillies, who'd get first crack, may wind up with Van Lingle Mungo, via the waiver route. Ted Williams called off his feud with Beantown sports writers and gave the scribes the glad hand when he reported. Said child Theodore: "I got myself into a peck of trouble by popping off last season. No more of this loose gab for me." Billy Conn may join the navy as an athletic instructor (at $96.20 a month); his duties would not prevent him from keeping that date with Joe Louis next June. It would not surprise the boys at Havana if Larry MacPhail and Bill Terry agreed on a trade involving Dixie Walker and Harry Danning before the week end.

Note In A State Of Comma
Here's a bit of meticulous reporting in the esteemed Pittsburgh Press: "Early reports had the coach in serious condition. . . . When inquiry was made, Irwin (the coach) replied: 'I am not unconscious!'"

Caught On The Fly
Lew Jenkins has become manager, trainer and chief adviser of Eddie Carroll, Canadian welterweight champ, and will unveil him at Baltimore tomorrow night. . . . One reason Miami isn't rushing to see the Giant exhibitions is that whereas the Phillies only charged 55 cents for bleacher pews, the Giants are seeking the customers $1.10. Maybe they are that much better than the Phils, but you can't prove it. They figure Joe Louis' draft number will go up in September. . . . The Herald-Tribune is tossing a cocktail party today for Jim Crowley of Fordham and Steve Owen of the football Giants, who'll be the opposing coaches in this year's Eastern All-Star game. . . .

More About Harmon
Here's a Tommy Harmon story you'll like. . . . When he returned to the campus from those broadcasts which brought him his first real dough, he went to the pastor of St. Mary's chapel and paid up the Sunday envelopes on which he was in arrears. . . . When in town, Tommy is a regular ushar at 10 o'clock mass.

Sports Cocktail
In three years under Larry MacPhail at Brooklyn, Van Mungo was paid $27,500. He won only nine games, for each of which the Dodgers paid him $5,055.55. . . . Henry Andrews, manager of Patsy Perroni, says those Cleveland yarns that Perroni was turned down as an opponent for Joe Louis last year are a bit off key. Henry says the only time Perroni was offered a Cleveland bout with Louis was three years ago, when Patsy had a bad hand and couldn't accept. . . . The New York hockey Americans pay Madison Square Garden $96,000 for a season's rental, or $4,000 a game. . . . The Montreal Star has discovered that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh once sold mutual tickets at the Windsor (Ont.) race track.

"Turkey Bread"
Wild turkeys were sought for bread as well as meat, by the pioneers of old Kentucky. Dry bread of turkey often was used as bread because wild turkeys were so plentiful and bread so scarce, due to little land being cleared and planted.

Tunney Predicts Army Will Produce Louis' Conqueror

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 12 (AP)—Gene Tunney thinks the national preparedness program will produce the guy who can lick Joe Louis.

"I haven't seen the next champion yet," he declared today, "but it is certain that he is now in training."

The man who came out of the Marine corps to win the world heavyweight title speaks with added authority because he is taking an active part in one phase of the program.

As a lieutenant commander in the reserve, he has the job of coordinating the physical training of navy fliers with their flight instruction.

Tunney has a world of respect for the physical ability of the men in the army, navy and marine corps.

"The rigid physical requirements of the service today will bring out the boy who will dethrone Joe Louis," he asserted.

"The new champion will be even greater than Louis."

Game Refuge Formed

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt in an executive order, today reserved 1,008 acres of public lands in Independence county, Ark., for a wildlife refuge. The land will be used by the Arkansas State Fish and Game commission.

SERIAL STORY

DOLLARS TO DOUGHNUTS

BY EDITH ELLINGTON

Copyright, 1941, NEA Service, Inc.

All characters, incidents and organizations of this serial are entirely fictitious.

YESTERDAY, Beatrice Huntington Davenport, rich, bored, heiress to the Huntington department store millions, is furious because her guardian, old Mr. Weeming, refuses to honor her check paying for a string of polo ponies. The polo ponies are for Clarence, suave continental nobleman, formerly a fortune hunter, to whom Beatrice has recently become engaged. As a friend and associate of her grandfather, who started Huntington's, Mr. Weeming warns Beatrice that her money may soon disappear if she continues this mad spending. She makes a motion on the check, leaves. At the door, however, she hears a young, masculine voice addressing Mr. Weeming: "That girl's the world's most useless object. She should be quietly chloroformed."

CHAPTER II

AS she stood there, trembling on her tall lacite heels, the pink coat suddenly too warm around her, Beatrice Huntington Davenport knew a swift and devastating fury. She wanted to go in there and tear that unknown young man's eyes out! She wanted to slap him, hard, across his hateful, smug face.

"She wanted to scream, 'Who do you think you are, saying that I should be chloroformed? What do you know about me? Is it my fault my grandfather left me millions? Is it my fault that the money breeds envy everywhere I go? I didn't earn it, no. Perhaps I don't deserve it. But just having it doesn't make me bad, black and inhuman!'"

"You think I'm stupid and arrogant and conceited? I'm not. I'd like to work with my mind, my brain. You don't know how I've tried, sometimes, to do something—find something—worthwhile. They laugh at me! Even Mr. Weeming laughs!"

"I'm a prisoner, that's what I am. Grandfather's millions—the life he brought me up to live—keep me locked up in a little world I hate. I'm bored, do you hear? I've known that a long time but I never knew, until I heard you, how bitter it is."

"What else will there ever be? What else will I have? What am I living for? Where are the thrills, the satisfactions, the contentment they talk about and write about in books? Where's the love—the ecstatic, passionate, soul-lifting love—I see in movies, read of, dream of?"

"The impulse to rush in there and confront the owner of that scornful voice died inside her. Her anger went with it, and now there was only the fear. She felt lost and helpless and suddenly she thought, 'I hate him for making me look at my life! I hate him for tearing away the little pieces of camouflage I've managed to hide in...'"

"She turned, and peered through the narrow crack of the opened door. 'I hate him!' It was as if she had to see him—had to transfer this hatred to some concrete image."

"All she could see was a broad, gray back, sitting in the chair she had vacated. A brown hand rested on the arm of the chair—a big hand, with strong, blunt fingers. And above the wide gray shoulders she saw a tanned neck and a well-shaped head with dark hair."

"Fiercely her gloved hands curled into fists. 'I'll see you again, you—chloroformer, you!' she promised him silently. 'I'll see you again and I'll make you eat that chloroform!'"

"BUT she was almost herself again when she walked into the lobby of the Aligque. Clarence moved toward her from the discreetly lighted lounge.

"Caral!" he whispered, "You are weary, no? Come, we shall have a drink." His black eyes were tenderly solicitous, his hand on her arm gentle.

"She thought, 'How shrewd Clarence! How possible so that all could familiarize themselves with the use of weapons in training. That is one reason why more American planes have not actually been used in combat, informed sources said. These sources asserted 'the British want a pool of reservists ready to handle the equipment they are building in increasing amounts themselves, and to be prepared for any sudden flood from any source.' There are about 3000 wooden railroad ties to the mile on American railroads."

"It was asserted that American military, naval and air experts have been working here more than four months in close cooperation with the British so the empire's forces can absorb American equipment quickly. Neutral sources said: 1—Britain's naval forces are prepared to man a mosquito boat fleet to patrol the channel against any invasion and use any additional destroyers for convoy and other purposes. 2—There is a huge reservoir of pilots trained in the use of American planes and ready to fly patrol bombers described as needed for 'defense in depth of the Atlantic' against attacks on British shipping. 3—There are tank formations without tanks, machine-guns without guns and riflemen without rifles who are ready to be fitted into operating units as soon as they are equipped. 'The lack of equipment that's holding us back,' a British source said. 'The British have distributed available material among as many men

"Clarence," she said softly. "Suppose I told you I'm unhappy, bored, restless. What would you say?" "Ah, carissima." The black eyes glowed. "I would say it is time for a honeymoon."

ence! How well he understands me. He knows so much about women..." "Over her glass she asked him, 'Do you understand everything about me, Clarence? Just everything? Or only when I'm tired or not tired?'"

"He made a little gesture. 'Who can understand a woman, Beatrice? I try. I study you. I love you so, and want always to please you—'"

"You mean, you want always to be able to read me. So that you won't ask me for something at the wrong moment. So that, at the right moments, you can wind me around your finger?" She was thinking out loud. There was no resentment in her tone. It was merely an appraisal.

Clarence was in love with her. He had to be, to have given up Mimi Frothingham who had just as much money and would have been easier to manage. In a way, Clarence was amazingly perceptive. She twirled the slim glass in her fingers. "Clarence," she said softly, "Clarence, suppose I told you I'm unhappy, bored, restless. What would you say?"

"Say?" The black eyes glowed, and his hands reached for hers. "I would say my little bird needs relaxation, happiness, new scenes, love, tenderness. In short, Beatrice, I would say that it is time for the honeymoon!"

"SHE drew her hands away. 'But I don't want to get married just yet, Clarence. I—I can't really see that it's going to be any different after we're married. Except for the house at Westbury, of course. But that—'"

"A sharp little ache of disappointment stung her. Almost, she had hoped that beneath Clarence's flattery and lovmaking—beneath the polished manners, the amusing little tricks—she would find some depth to comfort her—some sympathy that would warm her, something real and strong to evoke response. "Clarence," she said lightly at last. "It's the same old trouble. Tired business men have it with

"I wish I were a girl in a five-and-ten-cent store!" she cried. "I'd live. I'd work. I'd fall in love—I'd have some real feelings, some real emotions!" "You are having some real emotions now," said Clarence, very softly. "Of course, you want to live!" His arms reached for her, and he held her tight. "With me, you shall live. I shall teach you what life is, Beatrice. I love you. I love these little hands and your bright hair and your bad little temper."

"He put a finger under her chin and lifted her face until her eyes met his. There was a fire in his eyes, a dark and burning look that could not be false. Yes, he loved her. That much was true. "Kiss me, little Beatrice. Kiss me and then dare to shy you cannot have a real emotion!"

Afterward, he did not let her go. His lips against her hair, his voice husky with feeling, he said, "No more running away, Beatrice. Next week, we shall be married. (To Be Continued)

Demarec Appointed Golf Professional

NORTON, Conn. March 12 (AP)—The appointment of Jimmy Demarec of Houston, Texas, one of the nation's outstanding golfers, as professional at the Wee Burn club here was announced today by Edwin Hoyt, chairman of the Green committee.

Demarec, now on a winter tour, was expected here April 1. He succeeds Leo Mallory. Demarec captured the Masters tourney at Augusta, Ga., last year. He had been connected with the Brae Burn club at Houston.

Britain Ready To Man 'Tools' From America

LONDON, March 12 (AP)—Great Britain has trained vast skeleton formations of fliers, sailors and soldiers to man immediately a great flood of airplanes, ships and guns expected from the United States, it was disclosed today.

A vast pool of manpower, well-informed neutral sources said, is ready to pour into battle as soon as the United States opens stores of equipment under the aid-to-Britain measure.

It was asserted that American military, naval and air experts have been working here more than four months in close cooperation with the British so the empire's forces can absorb American equipment quickly. Neutral sources said: 1—Britain's naval forces are prepared to man a mosquito boat fleet to patrol the channel against any invasion and use any additional destroyers for convoy and other purposes. 2—There is a huge reservoir of pilots trained in the use of American planes and ready to fly patrol bombers described as needed for 'defense in depth of the Atlantic' against attacks on British shipping. 3—There are tank formations without tanks, machine-guns without guns and riflemen without rifles who are ready to be fitted into operating units as soon as they are equipped. O'Daniel Throws Fat Into Fire And Gets Legislature Told Off

By HARRY RENGE CROZIER

AUSTIN, March 12.—Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, who fugitive from the world of trade to twist the tails of professional politicians with such success that he became chief executive of the state—and entitled, perhaps, to a union card as a working politician—has thrown the fat slab into the fire. It's a sort of half-day station this week in the 120 day life of the legislature and the governor chose the occasion to precipitate or pose at least a possible deadlock conflict between the legislative and executive branches of the government. The legislature can keep on keeping on after the elapse of 120 days if it chooses by vote to do but at a salary per member reduced from $10 to $5 a day.

Governor O'Daniel wants immediate, responsive and favorable action in the legislature on his proposal of an appropriation of $26,800,000 to pay the old folks and sundry others entitled under the Texas spirit of benevolence to grants from the state. He wants too a tax producing measure that will return to the state treasury something like $50,000,000 a year. He made all of this plainer when he addressed the people of Texas over the radio Sunday morning in the curiously enchanting O'Daniel blending of God, mother and state.

Modest Legislature
The legislature, in which only the House of Representatives is empowered to initiate revenue producing legislation, until Sunday at least went on a course of applying the squeeze to a few natural resources and industries to supply around $15,000,000 of new revenues. They believed that social security benefits could be extended and economical government be achieved by such a step. They were as of that moment determinedly opposed to a sales tax or a transaction tax such as has been proposed by Governor O'Daniel in both of his inaugural addresses.

For all of the fact that it has consumed nearly half of its allotted time, this Forty-seventh Legislature is still a young institution. It is a virile institution. There are some road signs that have come to visibility that may indicate that some men with the qualities of leadership have decided forthrightly to enlist as professional politicians in a contest with an amateur politician—but a politician if Texas ever saw one. And a politician with more cunning and better devices than these professionals ever encountered before.

In all candor, that is the situation the governor's Sunday morning session threw the state into.

Ladders to Political Office

If the cries of conflict over paying out and getting in set off by Governor O'Daniel do not drown it out, there will be other considerations of politics in the legislature this week. In its infancy and adolescent years, Texas was committed to two year terms of offices. With the single exception of state senators, office holders had to confront the electorate every two years. Then came the era of bureau and commissions and the thought of overlapping terms. Men began to use the offices they held—whether elective or appointive—as ladders to gain other and higher offices. From the Railroad Commission, Oscar Branch Colquhoun became governor. Earle B. Mayfield, in an off year gained a term on the United States. A host of others have tried unsuccessfully to use these multiple term offices for spring boards. Last summer, everybody knows, two members of the Railroad Commission sought the office of governor in the very midst of duties they had asked the people of Texas to give them for six year terms. Next Wednesday night a House committee will consider a bill by Representative Price Daniel of Liberty that would stop this practice. The Daniel bill does not apply to legislative and judicial offices. These exceptions may give it a chance because it is not likely that the Senate of Texas would vote for a measure that would restrain its members from running for congress, attorney-general, governor or what have you in the off year that their four year tenure provides them.

Tarleton Ties Lee

STEPHENVILLE, March 12 (P).—By whipping Tyler 40-34 here last night John Tarleton gained a tie with Lee college of Goose Creek in the playoff for the state junior college conference basketball title. Two more games remain.

Both will be played at Tyler. Lee will meet Tyler there tomorrow and Tarleton plays Tyler March 15. If Tyler wins both games the playoff will go into a three-way tie.

NOW NASH AND THE "OTHER THREE"

Cost The Same!

[AND LOOK HOW MUCH MORE YOU GET]

- MOST MILES PER GALLON . . . Nash has proved by Nash, with Fourth Speed Forward, competing with other 6 and 8 cylinder cars in official Gilmore Economy Run. Good drivers get up to 30 mi. a gallon!
- MOST ROOM . . . Nash has more seating room than other low-price cars. Rear can be made up into double bed! Only Nash has body and frame welded into one unit, safer, twist-proof.
- MOST COMFORT . . . only low-price car with coil-springing on all four wheels . . . for the smoothest ride a car can have. Only low-price car offering Weather Eye Conditioned Air System.

WHICH would you rather own —one of the other low-priced cars, or—this big, exciting Nash that goes up to 30 miles on a gallon of gas?

Take your choice—now they're all in the same price class.

Go to your Nash dealer below—drive this new kind of car. See why thousands are changing to Nash—why Nash sales gains are the talk of the industry.

You'll get more miles per gallon of gas, as proved by owners' reports. A tape-measure shows it's the roomiest car. And no other can match the smoothness of its coil-springing on all four wheels—the ease of its Two-way Roller Steering—the safety of its welded body-and-frame construction.

Just finished 9,897 miles of coast-to-coast driving, averaging 25.9 miles a gallon—finest riding car I ever owned," writes J. H. P., Pawtucket, R. I. New Jersey owner, E. W. says, "Averaging 28 miles to the gallon in regular highway travel."

Why not take advantage of its overall savings of $70 to $100 a year? Drive it—and you, too, will change to Nash!
