TURKS SHOW SIGNS THEY'LL FIGHT HITLER

Nazi Hordes Rush Toward Greek Border

(By The Associated Press) SOFIA, Bulgaria, March 3—Reports filtering into Sofia from the provinces today said the entire country was filling up with German troops moving swiftly southward toward Greece and southeast toward Turkey. The vanguard of these troops already has reached the Greek frontier—44 one point only 65 miles from vital Salonika—and it was understood here that Bulgaria probably would break off diplomatic relations with Bulgaria by mid-week.

King Boris III was said by a highly reliable source to have given British Minister George W. Rendel no encouragement to remain here when the two conferred last night. Previously, Rendel was said to have informed the king that break probably would come tomorrow and that a state of war "undoubtedly" would follow.

Rendel has been given a free hand by the British government. (Sofia itself rapidly took on the aspect of a military camp today, with hundreds of Nazi officers arriving hourly.)

Members of the local Fascist organizations, their hands upraised in the Nazi salute, headed for the German legation, which was surrounded by German armored troops. Hundreds of shouting and cheering Bulgarian Legionnaires paraded through the streets.

Crowds taking a holiday promenade on this sixty-third anniversary of Bulgaria's independence watched the Fascists parade silently.

The Turkish naval ministry closed the Dardanelles—strategic strait forming one of the links between the Black sea and the Aegean—to ships save those with special permits and carrying Turkish pilots. Turkish naval units were reported steaming toward the narrow passage.

Almost every country in southeastern Europe reacted swiftly to the rush of events which followed Bulgaria's formal adherence to the Axis alliance Saturday and occupation of the kingdom by Nazi soldiers.

The kaleidoscopic Balkan picture included these developments:

1. An authoritative report from Zagreb that neutral Yugoslavia, a nation created as an outgrowth of the World War, would become the fifth nation to join the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo alliance.
2. Unconfirmed reports from Negotin, Yugoslavia, near both the Rumanian and Bulgarian frontiers, that British warplanes had bombed the rich Rumanian oil field center at Ploesti, long occupied by German forces.
3. The arrival of British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and General Sir John G. Dill, chief of the imperial staff, in Athens from Turkey.
4. A report in Istanbul that Germany had asked Turkey to offer to mediate the European war during Eden's visit there but that Britain had refused to consider mediation when sounded out by Turkey. Berlin scoffed at the report.

The arrival of German mechanized forces at Bulgarian towns just short of the Greek frontier, was interpreted here as apparently bringing embattled Greece face to face with the alternative of suing for peace with Italy or calling for further British aid—in the form of land forces.

British bombers already are operating in Greece and the eastern Mediterranean within easy flying distance of Bulgaria and Rumania.

Reports in Negotin said heavy explosions had occurred in the Ploesti oil fields and that big fires had been started. These reports, noting that several fleets of unidentified planes had flown high over the town in the direction of the oil fields, at-

BRITAIN'S ANSWER TO HITLER'S NEW SUBMARINE THREAT

Britain pits a new-type warship, the Corvette, built largely in Canada, against Hitler's submarine threat. Here is one of them, center, protecting convoy in foggy Atlantic.

A Corvette is very much like a destroyer. It is smaller and slower, but it carries same weapons and rides, see above, just as roughly. Britain will soon have many of them.

890 Millions Appropriated For Farmers

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—A bill appropriating $890,824,037 for the 1942 farm program and other activities of the agriculture department was sent to the house today by its appropriations committee.

This total was a reduction of $4,927,934 from the budget estimates and a $193,023,502 cut from the appropriation for the current year.

A technical change in manner of financing parity payments was responsible chiefly for the large size of the latter reduction.

The bill means that $1,420,977,559 will be available to the department next year by virtue of permanent appropriations, re-appropriations, power to borrow from the reconstruction finance corporation and authority to make contracts for $162,000,000 in parity payments. The over-all total for the current year was $1,447,001,051.

The committee proposed that the usual $212,000,000 for parity payments be made available, but, instead of providing actual cash, it followed President Roosevelt's suggestion that only $50,000,000 be appropriated and that the department be given authority to make commitments for the remaining $162,000,000.

The president suggested in his budget message that he and the department have the power to use this money at their discretion, but the committee at the last minute eliminated that provision, without comment.

Parity payments, designed to raise farm prices to a level where farmers will have the same purchasing power they had from 1909 to 1914, have never been included in the president's budget until this year, but congress nevertheless has appropriated such money for the past three years.

At the same time, the committee made four suggestions to the department for future consideration:

1. The report said the committee had been "impressed" with the "evident overlapping and duplication of work" by department sub-divisions which frequently results in excessive expenditures.
2. Criticism was directed at the practice of "June buying"—a practice the report described as using unspent money during the last month of the fiscal year for supplies, alterations, and repairs. The practice was described as "reprehensible."
3. The committee said that the rural electrification administration had furnished information regard-

'On To Austin!' Rally And Parade Planned

The Harvester basketball team, regional champions, will dedicate their game with Turkey here tomorrow night to Coach Odus Mitchell, and the high school will dedicate an "On To Austin!" rally and parade tomorrow afternoon to the team.

The Harvester band in full uniform will lead a parade of students and fans through the business district tomorrow afternoon, it was announced today by Doris Taylor, president of the high school student council. There will be a rally on the streets, with songs and yells. Tomorrow night, the band will play before the game and at intermissions, and student leaders will lead the crowd in yells. Miss Taylor said. The student council is conducting a campaign today and tomorrow to pack the gymnasium for the Turkey game which will also serve as an "On To Austin!" rally.

The team will leave Wednesday afternoon for Austin to compete in the state tournament there this week-end.

"We will dedicate this game and every one we play in Austin to Coach Mitchell—just as we did in the regional tournament," the Harvesters announced. "And when we play for him as we did Friday and Saturday nights we can't lose, they promised."

Student council members today were urging fans to attend the game, and "to show the boys and the coach that we are behind them." Proceeds of the game will be used to send the team to Austin. The first game will start at 7 o'clock and the second at 8. It will be Pampans' first opportunity to see a regional championship team play.

Dust Bowl Still Exists, Says Witness

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Despite more moisture and better conditions in the arid plains section, the nation still has a dust bowl. The agriculture department is studying how to assist farmers in the area to have a permanent subsistence. Milton Eisenhower, land use planning coordinator, told congress.

His statement was made before a House Appropriations subcommittee which considered the next fiscal year agricultural appropriation bill. The bill and the hearings were sent to the house today.

"The drought damage was not nearly so extensive this year as previously," he said, "but, when the next dry spell comes, there will be as much dust bowl as there was before."

Representative Lambertson (R-Kan.), committee member, remarked he had heard nothing of the dust bowl for two or three years, but that the agriculture department used conditions there in connection with appropriations for the land-use program.

"The fact is," declared Lambertson, "you are really trying to buy much of that land and take it out of production now. We haven't got Phil Ferguson (former representative from Oklahoma) here now to emphasize the new grasses that are going to grow out there. Do you know from your experimentation whether you are going to be able to develop grasses that will make the dust bowl come back to vegetation again?"

Eisenberger replied everything was being done under all programs not only to get appropriate conservation practices adopted in the area, but to get as many acres back to grass as possible.

Dr. J. T. Jardine, director of research, said many calls still were coming to the department asking about regrassing in the area.

Turkey Sees 'Battlefield' In Bulgaria

Greece Will Have To Pay, Swear Angry Nazis

(By The Associated Press) Turkey and Greece were declared to be speeding border defenses today as German armored troops overran Bulgaria and raced to the frontiers of Britain's allies in the Balkans.

The Turkish general staff met in a day-long secret session at Ankara as fresh Turkish troops were reported moving out of Istanbul toward the Bulgarian frontier.

Unconfirmed reports said Nazi U-boats assembled at the Rumanian naval base in Constanta had arrived at Bulgarian Black Sea ports, within 120 miles of the Boporus, eastern gate of the Sea of Marmara.

Athens dispatches said Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden was discussing with Greek leaders the question of rushing British aid for Greece in the event of a Nazi assault.

In Rome, Fascist Editor Virginio Gayda declared the British have already begun landing strong forces at the Greek port of Salonica.

Dispatches from the troubled zone reported this development and said Turkey had called up all naval reservists, rushed warships to the Dardanelles and barred passage of that strategic waterway between the Black Sea and the Mediterranean to all ships without a permit.

Nazi legions, swarming across pontoon bridges spanning the Danube, were reported to have quickly established positions at four Bulgarian towns within rapid striking distance of Greece or Turkey.

Field Marshal General Sigmund List, commander-in-chief of Germany's Balkan armies, was said to have established headquarters in Sofia.

As the Nazis' fateful march developed, speculation arose that Adolf Hitler would bring immediate pressure on Greece to seek peace with Italy or face a German invasion.

In Sofia, capital of Bulgaria, British Minister George W. Rendel informed King Boris III that Britain would break off diplomatic relations with Bulgaria, probably tomorrow. A state of war, he said, "undoubtedly" would follow.

Hundreds of German officers were reported arriving in Sofia hourly.

Authoritative quarters in Ankara disclosed that Turkey has mined the Dardanelles and taken "full defense precautions."

Turkish officials withheld comment on the question of mobilization, but the government-controlled Turkish press chorused a prediction that Bulgaria would soon become a battlefield.

A newspaper closely connected with the Turkish foreign office said Bulgaria's army would be used to counter Turkish troops and avenge the action of the German army which will be conducted against Greece.

German mechanized forces swarmed into four Bulgarian towns just short of the Greek frontier, apparently leaving Greece with the choice of suing for peace with Italy or calling for further British aid—in the form of land forces.

W. M. Craven Dies; Funeral Held Today

Funeral services were conducted at 1 o'clock this afternoon in the First Presbyterian church for W. M. Craven, 64, who died in a local hospital yesterday morning of an extended illness. The Rev. Robert J. Snell, pastor of St. Matthews Episcopal church, and the Rev. Robert Boshen of the Presbyterian church officiated.

The body was taken overland to Tulla, by the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral home.

Mr. Craven came to Pampa in 1919 from Tulla to take a position as bookkeeper for the Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber company. Seven years ago he was named city tax assessor and collector, and city secretary. In addition to those duties he served as registrar of births and until a year ago was city recorder.

Although in failing health for more than a year, Mr. Craven was active in his duties until two months ago when he was first confined to his home. He had been in the hospital for several weeks.

Offices in the city hall were closed all day today and courthouse offices were closed from 12 noon until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Survivors are the widow, a daughter, Mrs. E. K. Hulsey, Tulla; a brother, J. T. Craven, Morgan; a sister, Mrs. E. B. Lane, Lindsey, Okla.; and a grandson, Kirk Hulsey, Tulla.

Pallbearers were John V. Anderson, A. Barton, Roy McMillen, Rute Thompson, Steve Matthews, and Kirk Hulsey of Tulla.

Celebration Dedicated To Richard Ellis

WASHINGTON, ON - THE-BRAZOS, March 3 (AP)—Gathered to celebrate the 105th anniversary of the declaration of Texas independence, more than 10,000 Texans yesterday heard speakers urge they dedicate themselves to preservation of a heritage of freedom.

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel declared that the heritage from the forefathers of Texas "can be preserved only by the faithfulness, the statesmanship, the integrity of Texas of 1941."

He spoke on a program which included addresses by former governor James V. Alfred, now a federal judge, and Brigadier W. G. Gilks of the Salvation Army, national chaplain of the American Legion.

The celebration, staged in Washington state park, was dedicated to the memory of Richard Ellis, president of the convention which on March 2, 1836, declared Texas a nation.

The governor enumerated the principles set out in the declaration of Texas independence, then declared: "If it was worth the lives of our forefathers to obtain these precious privileges, it is worth our lives to preserve them."

"Ours is a heritage which must be preserved as well as enjoyed, as well as revered; ours a history which must be projected into the light of a new and yet brighter day."

Judge Alfred sketched the life of Ellis, then said the world today faced the same problems the oppressed province of Texas faced in 1836.

Brigadier Gilks, discussing the role of religion in the progress of civilization, asserted that the history of a free people inevitably is closely linked with the history of their spiritual growth.

Call Off Your Dogs! Here Comes School Census-Taker

Mrs. Lillian Blythe, attendance officer and census enumerator for the Pampa school system, today began her duty of taking the 1941-42 school census. Assisting Mrs. Blythe in the work will be Mrs. Claude Lard.

It is important that everyone of school age living in the Pampa independent school district, which comprises the northwest quarter of Gray county, be registered because the local school system received approximately $22 state aid for each person of school age listed, except L. L. Sone stated today.

Eligible to be registered are children who become six years of age prior to September 1, 1941, and who are under 18 years of age on the same date.

Pampa at the present time has slightly more than 3,600 students of school age registered.

"It is to the advantage of everyone residing in the district to welcome the enumerators and answer their questions," Mrs. Sone said today. "If anyone knows of children of school age who have not been counted, Mrs. Blythe or her assistant should be notified."

Pampan Hurt As Car Overturns

M. S. McDaniels, 521 N. Frost, today recovering in a Pampa hospital from injuries suffered when his car overturned on U. S. Highway 60 two miles west of Pampa late Sunday night.

He suffered three deep lacerations of the scalp and two other smaller cuts on the side of his head. The attending physician said his condition this afternoon was favorable.

The accident occurred when a tire on the sedan blew out, as Mr. and Mrs. McDaniels and Mrs. R. P. Weeks were returning from a trip to Amarillo and Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. McDaniels, accompanied by Mrs. Weeks, had been in Amarillo Saturday where the McDaniels purchased a new automobile. They drove to Lubbock and were en route home when the accident occurred.

Mrs. McDaniels was driving the new automobile home, immediately ahead of the sedan driven by Mr. McDaniels.

A Duenkel-Carmichael ambulance took Mr. McDaniels to the local hospital. Mrs. Weeks suffered only minor injuries in the accident.

Ground School To Be Organized Tonight

Pampa's first ground school under Civil Aeronautical Administration sponsor will be organized tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the high school building. F. A. Hall, local pilot and licensed CAA ground school instructor, will be in charge.

The course is open to anyone in this section of the Panhandle but only to young men and women between the ages of 19 and 26 who pass a physical examination will be eligible to compete for free scholarships.

Ten of the young men and women completing the course will be selected for the free flight scholarships. Others taking the course may take the flight course at their own expense.

The program is being sponsored by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce with the Pampa school system in charge of the ground school.

Deadline for taking the physical examination is 6 o'clock tonight. Dr. Malcolm Brown is official CAA examiner for Pampa.

FSA To Help Solve Migration Problem

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Congress learned today that a special committee investigating interstate migration would recommend an attempt be made to solve the problem through a vast administration program.

Committee members have reached the conclusion, congress was informed, that only by an "enlargement" of FSA's rehabilitation loan program can additional thousands of families be kept from joining 4,000,000 migrants already on the march.

Tolan described the FSA loan program as "the cheapest government relief program short of complete neglect, and one which demonstrates its benefits within a year of a client's participation."

Only a hand clenched about a chair, a mouth drawn and distorted, show that the mild-looking young man at right, R. L. Hawkins 27-year-old carpenter, is facing inquiry into his killing of the man he found with his wife Staring intently ahead, that wife, Winnie Jean Hawkins, left refuses to look at her husband as he turns apparently to catch her eye, while Leslie Thompson, brother of the slain man, glares at Hawkins from the seat just behind him at inquest in Los Angeles.

It Takes Leather To Make Halbert Shoes

CANYON, March 3 (AP)—Part of the hides of two kangaroos and two pigs were needed, but Charles Halbert, six-foot-ten-inch center on the West Texas State college basketball team will journey to the national tournament at Kansas City March 10-15 with a new pair of cowboy boots.

Halbert didn't have any boots because his feet were bigger than any standard last—size 14.

An Amarillo saddle shop maker turned them out to order.

Wheat Specialist Flies To England

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Thomas D. Campbell, the mass production wheat specialist who gave Soviet Russia expert advice for the first five-year plan, will fly to England this week on a mission shrouded in secrecy.

A rangy, grey-haired Montanan, Campbell has spent the last month here, calling frequently at the White House for confidential talks with President Roosevelt, and conferring with a number of top-ranking administration officials.

He insisted, however, that he could not discuss the purpose of his trip abroad.

Furniture Topic Of Wayside H. D. Club Program

Wayside Home Demonstration club met recently in the home of Mrs. J. S. Fagua to discuss furniture needs.

Mrs. Julia Kelley gave a discussion on cleaning, upholstered furniture, mending scarfs, finishes and polishes.

"If you have a piece of furniture that has a water spot on it," Mrs. Kelley said, "you can remove it by first rubbing the spot with camphorated oil, place blotting paper over the spot and then apply heat by placing a warm iron on the blotter."

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Kelley and members. Misses L. E. Taylor, R. R. House, Hal Nelson, Doyle Osborne, A. B. Carruth, Wood Osborne, Harold Osborne, Billie Greene, Lowell Osborne, and the hostess.

The next meeting of the club will be in the home of Mrs. R. R. House on March 14 when the program will be on yards.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By ALICIA HART The very best thing to do when you have a cold is to take the doctor's advice and stay in bed until you get rid of it.

If it isn't possible, however, the next thing you can do is to figure out a way to make yourself reasonably presentable before you let anyone outside the family see you. It's enough of imposition to subject others to your coughing and sneezing without subjecting them to a red-eyed, shiny-nosed, swollen-lipped appearance also.

FRESHENING HAIR WITHOUT WASHING Thanks to a new dry shampoo mitt, it's a simple matter to freshen up your hair, even though washing it is against the doctor's rules.

Simply sprinkle the toweling mitt with the special dry clearing powder that's packed with it, rub the powder into the mitt, put mitt on your hand. Now grasp a lock of hair close to the scalp with your gloved hand and rub briskly, working out to the ends of the hair. Repeat until every hair has been pulled through the powdered mitt from scalp to tip.

Take off the mitt, shake it to remove the powder, turn it inside out and put it on again. With the clean surface, go over each lock of hair to remove every trace of powder. Finish with a thorough brushing. With your hair clean and free from oil—if not beautifully set—you can turn your attention to your slightly swollen face.

First, rinse your eyes with a soothing lotion, then put hot pads on them for a few seconds. Your natural inclination will be to use ice cold pads. But don't. Warm ones will decrease the swollen areas. Cold ones won't.

DON'T COVER STALE POWDER By all means use a makeup film to keep powder in place. Rouge your cheeks lightly. If you have to use a handkerchief constantly, apply indelible lipstick and apply it ever so sparingly. Forget about mascara or other eye makeup.

What ever you do, don't put layers of fresh powder on over stale powder the day you can't possibly look your best when you have a cold, but you certainly can look neat and clean. Removing old makeup and putting on new foundation and powder presently will help to maintain a nice and sane appearance.

Art Is For Everybody, Says Morris Davidson, Noted Teacher, Who Thinks It Should Not Be Restricted to a Few Professionals

(A noted figure in contemporary American art, Morris Davidson occupies an eminent position as a teacher of painting, conducting classes in New York and at Rockport, Mass. In addition he is the author of two books, "Understanding Modern Art," and "Painting for Pleasure," widely used in colleges. He believes art is for all—not just a few professionals as in the article below, written exclusively for NEA Service and The Pampa News, he tells why—and how—Mr. and Mrs. Average can benefit from painting as a hobby.)

By MORRIS DAVIDSON NEW YORK—Art is not for clever kids. Many years' experience in the technique of painting has brought me to the conviction that the art of painting should be a common cultural activity for intelligent people and not a specialized craft restricted to trained professionals.

Not that I want to destroy professionalism; but on the contrary, I want to raise the quality of professional painting by providing an informed amateur public. That public should be so informed through experience that it will seek out the work of the really creative artist instead of playing the passive role of obediently patronizing the unimaginative craftsman publicized in newspapers and magazines.

If you want really to enjoy fine painting you must go through the experience of trying to make your own pictures. The camera is not a substitute. It is an avoidance of the issues.

The old saw, "You don't have to be a chicken to know a good egg," remains true as regards eggs. And you don't have to be a professional musician to appreciate concerts and symphonies—or play an instrument.

To recapitulate, there are two reasons why any one should paint. First, it gives one a deep satisfaction to exercise the eye, the brain, the imagination. Second, it gives one a sound appreciation of the work of artists instead of leaving one dependent upon the whims and prejudices of critics.

And now I will conclude with 12 rules for the hobbyist:

1. Don't worry that you can't draw

Painter Morris Davidson as he sees himself.

a decent likeness of your grandmother, or even a straight line. The natural ability to draw what is before one indicates nothing more than an aptitude for coordinating your hand and your eye. What counts is the ability "to see pictures," the grouping, and interrelation of things. This is a faculty that can be developed.

2. Don't go in for velvet jackets. Leave that in Hollywood; and remember that a vacant room with space to move about is much more satisfactory than a romantically cluttered up studio.

3. Study great paintings, their structure, but don't try to copy them.

4. Work with a group for friendly criticism, and alone for wrestling with problems.

5. Remember it is hard for the amateur to sustain a warm interest in his painting if he works less than twice a week. One evening and one afternoon is a good arrangement.

6. Learn the grammar of painting—composition, line, color—before

"Rosabel in Red Trousers" is the title Morris Davidson gave this picture. He assures amateurs that natural aptitude in you try to create the poetry of painting.

7. Beware of the teacher of painting who is so "not in his way" that he insists that the student must imitate the master without question. Let aesthetic principles be your only restriction.

8. Don't niggle—meaning don't get absorbed in trifling details and kill all freshness by a laborious repainting.

9. Don't scumble—the habit of rubbing a thin bit of pigment over a color in a last minute effort to modify it. Remember bad color generally results from timidity.

drawing is less important than the ability to "see pictures" in the grouping and interrelation of things.

10. Don't expect to be an artist over night. If you can achieve a soundly composed painting in a year you will be doing well.

11. The unrestrained praise of spouse and friends sometimes works havoc with the part-time painter. Beware the thought you are mysteriously linked in spirit with Paul Gauguin. Your painting may be neat, it may even be competent, but chances are it is not great art.

12. Postpone visiting modern galleries until you have familiarized yourself with the traditional schools of painting and the natural outgrowth of one from the other.

Helpful Hints For Housewives

Turn pancakes ONLY once. If turned several times they will be flat and tough.

Dip your cookie cutter frequently in flour to prevent it from sticking to the dough.

A pitcher with a wide spout is advisable for pouring waffle or pancake batter onto a hot griddle.

A speck of powdered cloves gives extra punch to creamy chocolate pudding.

Put half a cup of raisins, chopped dried prunes, or figs into the apple mixture the next time you make apple cobbler.

Cubes of stiff mint jelly give gay garnishes to chocolate desserts. The flavors go especially well together.

When a recipe calls for peanuts, often it's convenient to buy them salted. Rub off the excess salt with a damp towel, work quickly, and then use as desired.

WOMEN, here's 2-way relief! Probably the help many women get from CARDUI comes from its use as a tonic to increase appetite, aid the flow of gastric juice, so assist digestion and help build strength. Thus, it often relieves periodic functional distress. But it may also help relieve such periodic distress if you start taking it as directed 3 days before "your time." Modern facts and 50 years' use invite confidence in CARDUI.

HEARTS AND FLOWERS

A HEART-SHAPED cadalium leaf, with a lovely pink camellia in the middle of it, decorates the front of a smart spring suit of dark green crepe. The simply-tailored dress has a high neckline, edged in white pique. The full-length coat has a moderately flared hemline, softly bloused bodice. A fresh carnation is pinned underneath the brim of the wide straw hat. Interesting corsages of this type may be sent by wire.

Intermediates Have Hamburger Supper At Christian Church

A hamburger supper was served recently at the First Christian church for members of the intermediate Christian Endeavor of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Madeira, sponsors, were in charge of the event.

Following the supper, the regular weekly recreation night was observed.

Present were Marjorie Gaylor, Patty Hollinghead, Betty Cassada, Betty Marie Dezern, Vera Slusher, Peggy Eckerd, Helen Marlin, Louelle Goodwin, Maxine Bell, Wanda Gordon, Evelyn Mae Bunting, Wilma Webb, Jackie Raines, Earl Brooks, Ivan Marlin, George and Russell Neef, F. H. Meskimen, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Norris, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Madeira.

LOUNGING ENSEMBLE

The latest thing for lounging—a two-piece ensemble of rayon crepe printed with sprays of Ming roses on black, white, pale pink, or pale blue backgrounds. The housecoat has a shirtwaist top, full gored skirt, and slide-fastening closing.

Over it can be worn the matching coolie coat, broad-shouldered, wide-sleeved, full-cut, deep-pocketed, and lined with rayon taffeta. This ensemble is especially useful on weekend-trips, since the housecoat can double as a nightdress.

New Contest Of Home League Group Started At Meeting

Mrs. Fern Hogsett was hostess to members of Ladies Home League who met last week in the Salvation Army hall.

The opening song, "Sweetest Name I Know," was led by Lieutenant Ruth Lindlen with Mrs. Evelyn David at the piano.

In the absence of Mrs. Jack Smith, Mrs. M. D. Jenkins conducted the business session. A new contest, which will continue for three months, was started at the meeting. Mrs. Myrtle Moore was named captain of the blues with Mrs. Hazel Elliott as scorekeeper and Mrs. Kate Norris, captain of the reds with Mrs. Florence Yearwood as scorekeeper.

Prizes will be presented to the winning and losing captains.

Sunshine palm gifts were distributed by Ruth Lindlen.

Refreshments of coffee and cookies were served by the hostess.

Some Solons Vote Against Tax Bill And For All Appropriations

By HARRY BENGE CROZIER

AUSTIN, March 3—Some men have achieved a measure of fame as members of the Texas legislature by adhering to a strict policy of voting for all appropriation bills and against all tax bills—and they won re-nomination and election session after session with surprising ease. There are companion trends in this legislature that operate as paradoxically. There is manifest a spirit of intense frugality in the matter of increased taxes and an equal tendency toward lavish expenditures. This observation is not intended to give any indication that there is not stern resistance against high spending. There is such resistance and there are signs that it will increase. When Governor O'Daniel a few weeks ago proposed for emergency consideration an appropriation of $20,000,000 for social security spending from a general fund long since exhausted there was a legislative surge toward rapid action. And then there was a sudden halt. The $20,000,000 bill stares out at senators from the top of the calendar every morning but the will of members to enact it grows weaker day by day.

Tax Bill Being Drawn
Fate of appropriation bills that are likely to carry fairly heavy increases over the current biennium, when they come to the floor this fall in advance cannot be predicted, but there is pretty apt to be some whittling before they go to the governor. In the matter of levying taxes, however, the picture is clearer. There will be no repetition of the taxless condition of the last legislature unless the failure results from gubernatorial veto.

The legislature definitely is of a mind to vote some increased taxes and they are as definitely intent on keeping the total as low as possible. Long and tedious hearings have been concluded by the committee on revenue and taxation. Representatives of natural resource industries and other industries as well have told their stories in detail and they have been convincing.

Work is about to begin by a sub-committee of five members on an omnibus bill fashioned out of the material before the committee. No member of the small committee is likely to contend for increases amounting to as much as $20,000,000 and the consensus may turn out finally to be as little as half that amount.

Membership of the committee entrusted with the task of presenting to the main committee a tax bill is counted conservative but they are determined to derive new revenues to meet state obligations. The membership includes James E. Taylor of Navarro county, chairman; John Bell of DeWitt county; Fred Harris of Dallas county; John Lyle of Nueces county, and C. P. Spangler of Uvalde county.

No New Taxes Since '36
There have been no increased taxes in Texas since 1936 when the legislature increased the levy by about $9,000,000, of which natural resources contributed about $8,000,000. It is generally believed this time that the same sources—and, of course, that is oil, with a contribution from sulphur—will bear the brunt of the increase. Representatives of these industries, however, are prayerful and have some confidence that they will derive heavier penalties than they did before. The men who are working on the bill are striving to effect a wider spread than before.

All of this contemplates only the probabilities of legislative action. The pleasure of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel is something else again. The sales tax or transaction tax for Texas may not be dead—only sleeping.

Sales Still Rising In Texas, Southwest
DALLAS, March 3 (AP)—Continued improvement in Texas and southwestern business conditions was indicated in the Federal Reserve Bank's business review issued here today.

Steadily soaring retail and wholesale sales and a favorable outlook for agriculture and livestock were reflected in the review for the eleventh district covering Texas, southeast Oklahoma, southern half of Louisiana, northern half of Louisiana and southeast Arizona.

The bank's index for department store sales rose from 116 per cent of the 1923-25 average in December to 126 per cent in January. Dollar value of sales in January was 14 per cent greater than a year earlier.

During the first half of February, the review disclosed, merchandise distribution at reporting department stores was one-fifth greater than in the corresponding 1940 period.

Intermittent rains delayed farm work in the southwest during January, but added precipitation gave farmers and ranchmen a good "sub-soil" moisture supply—a favorable factor for wheat and small grain growers.

Stevenson Favors More Security Tax
WICHITA FALLS, March 3 (AP)—Lieutenant Governor Coke Stevenson said tonight that "it is the duty of the legislature to pass a tax bill of 10 or 12 million dollars" for the Social Security program of the state.

Stevenson was the main speaker at the 11th annual meeting of the North Texas Oil and Gas association, which was attended by 600 members including more than 60 legislators.

"When other possible sources of state revenue have been burdened," the state official declared, "natural resources, public utilities and corporations must bear the load."
"Faith, courage, and duty are needed," he said.
C. J. Tucker of Wichita Falls was installed new president of the association, succeeding D. H. Bolin.

Early Income Tax Payments Flowing In

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—The treasury reported today that early income tax payments were running 58 per cent ahead of a year ago under the new defense tax system which requires more Americans to pay taxes than ever before.

The budget calls for a 46 per cent gain, but how this expectation will fare depends on the record of the next several days when 10,000,000 taxpayers slide under the March 15 deadline for filing income returns. Less than half that number have filed so far.

Soon after the defense program began, the administration and congress looked to the income tax to help pay part of the extra burdens. Tax rates were raised; exemptions were lowered.

Only the young men called for selective service were given a "break." They were not excused from filing returns, but were granted a moratorium on paying the tax until six months after their military duty ends.

Altogether, the treasury expects 15,000,000 individuals and 3,500,000 corporations to file returns this year but only about half of the returns will show enough income to require payment of the tax.

For the average person the most important change congress made in the law was to reduce personal exemptions from $2,500 to $2,000 for family heads, and from $1,000 to $800 for single persons.

Anyone with more income than these figures must file a return. Whether he has enough other deductions to escape tax or not. This means married persons earning more than $38.47 and single persons earning over $15.39 a week must file.

Then, congress added a 10 per cent "defense tax" to all income taxes. If your tax figures at $10, you pay $11.

The "normal" individual income tax is still 4 per cent but some of the "surtaxes" which range from 4 to 75 per cent have been increased sharply.

Miami Teacher Pays One Cent Income Tax
Special To The NEWS
MIAMI, March 3—W. A. Thomas, collector of internal revenue, received the season's smallest income tax payment Wednesday at his Dallas office from Miss Clara Phillips, a Miami schoolteacher.

Miss Phillips, whose home is at Fort Worth, is teaching for the second year in the elementary department of the Miami school system. When she made out her income tax report, after figuring her deductions, she found that she had a net taxable income of 10 cents. Four per cent of the net amounted to four mills.

She enclosed a copper cent with her return. "The government owes her six mills change," rather chagrined at getting into the news, Miss Phillips said that she thought income tax was made to be paid. When she sent the revenue office that penny she never expected to hear anything about it again.

A deputy in the Dallas office said her return had been properly figured.

Shell Safety Dinner To Be Held In Pampa
Employees of the Shell Petroleum company from the Panhandle and Wichita Falls areas will gather in Pampa Tuesday night for the quarterly safety dinner. To be served at 7:30 o'clock in the Schneider hotel.

Principal address will be given by Tex DeWeese, managing editor of The Pampa News, who will speak on "Industry and Its Community Relationship."

Other talks will be made by Bob Lauder of Tulsa, Okla., safety engineer; Wallace Collins of Wichita Falls, division manager; E. Rush of Tulsa, personnel manager.

C. J. "Jack" Goldston will be toastmaster.

Blue Law Suits Jam Courts of Delaware
WILMINGTON, Del., March 3 (AP)—Delaware decided today to handle in relay the prosecution of more than 500 persons arrested for violating the state's 200-year-old blue laws by engaging in "worldwide employment" on Sunday.

Milkmen, motormen, cab drivers, delivery boys, storekeepers, clerks and radio executives were taken into custody by the dozens. Some were arraigned today and other hearings will be held daily until all have answered summons.

The penalty is a fine of $4 to $8, a night in jail, or both.

35-Mile Wind Brings Pampa March Duster
One day late, but running true to form, a typical March dust storm hit Pampa Sunday, propelled by a 35-mile-an-hour southwest wind.

The sky was cloudy today and colder was forecast for tonight in the north portion of West Texas. Maximum temperature Sunday was 69, minimum 45. Early this afternoon the temperature here was 40 degrees, and a north wind was blowing at 11 miles an hour.

It is estimated that during 1941, American motor vehicle owners will pay a state gasoline tax bill of about $900,000,000.

SEVEN DEAD AND NINE INJURED IN AIR CRASH

Seven persons were dead, nine injured when an Eastern Airlines plane made a forced landing in a pine forest near Jonesboro, Ga. Capt. Eddie Rickenberg, war ace and president of the airline, was injured. Representative William D. Byron of Maryland was killed. The New York to Brownsville airliner was reported overdue at midnight when it radioed nearby Atlanta that it was within landing range. The injured passengers were thrown clear of the ship. Note the leg of an injured man at the lower left; at right, searcher to free an injured passenger.

SURVIVORS OF CRASH WAIT FOR AID

P. L. Brady, foreground, an engineer from St. Albans, Long Island, who was bound for the Canal Zone, and George Feinberg, a New York City textile man, two survivors of the Eastern Airlines plane crash near Jonesboro, Ga., await removal to an Atlanta hospital from the scene of the tragedy.

Beginning tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock workers from all the churches of Pampa will go out to take a thorough church census of the community. Every home will be visited and Pampans are urged to make a special effort to have someone at home between 9 and 12 Tuesday morning who can give the information needed by the workers.

The Pampa ministerial alliance is sponsoring this project. The Federated Council of Church Women is also cooperating. Representatives from the various churches met Sunday afternoon in the First Methodist church for instructions and assignments. Each church is to do a proportionate share of the work.

The census will be a little different this year than heretofore. This year census cards will be made out only for those folks now living in our city who have no definite church connection. A census card will be made out for each person of school age and older (six years is considered school age) who is not a member of a Pampa church. If a home has in it some who are members of a local church and others who are not, the census taker will fill out a card for those who are not members but will fill out no card for others. The following is a copy of the census card:

Name (if under 18)
Age (if under 18)
Phone No.
Address
Church member?
Denomination
If so, where membership?
If not, church preferred?
Attend Sunday school?

It is hoped by the sponsoring organizations that this will be the most complete and the most helpful church census ever made in this community. The cooperation of the families of the city is of first importance.

Census work not completed Tuesday will be completed during the week and all census cards will be turned in at the First Methodist church office at the end of the week. Distribution of the cards will then be made to the proper churches by the Ministerial alliance.

Rewriting Of Constitution Being Urged
(By The Associated Press)
AUSTIN, March 3—A West Texas legislator who thinks about 75 per cent of the state constitution should be wiped out and properly placed in the statutes instead has offered the machinery for performing the job.

Rep. Taylor White of Odessa, a business man holding his first public office, is the author of a resolution he believes could result in rewriting the constitution to meet present day needs and accomplish governmental reorganization.

It calls for a 15-member committee, five named by the governor and five by the senate president, to draft a new constitution and submit it to the next legislature which in turn could submit it to the people.

The present constitution adopted in 1876—the fifth since Texas became a state—has become outmoded, White believes.

If not, why the multitude of proposed amendments offered every time the legislature meets? he asks. There are 16 in the house this session. And almost yearly for the past two decades the people have been approving or rejecting other amendments.

"The constitution was written when Texas emerged from carpetbag rule and there is no need for that kind of a document today," the insurrectionist legislator declared.

"All we need is a simple bill of rights and the rest can be placed in the statutes. While we are at the job we can provide for court and fiscal reform and executive and legislative reorganization to meet present day needs—all in one basic operation," he believes.

White, a former instructor in animal husbandry and graduate of Texas A. and M. college, serves the biggest representative district in the state and asserts that many business and professional men share his view.

"They might throw my resolution out the window but if they do I'll offer it again two years from now, if I come back," he continued.

He thinks a unicameral legislature would be fine for Texas and ought to be considered in rewriting the constitution. He has observed Nebraska's one-house legislature at work and believes it worthy of emulation.

However, this is one of the details that can be worked out later. The big job as he sees it is to get something started and as far as he is concerned his colleagues can alter his amendment just so they pass it.

If for no other reason the constitution should be re-written because it is too wordy, he maintains.

Illustrating this point he opened a book to the constitution of the United States. It was printed on five and one-half pages.

Immediately following it was the Texas constitution—on 22 1/2 pages.

Many Attend First Service Of Revival At Calvary Baptist
A revival meeting began at Calvary Baptist church Sunday morning with the Rev. Hulon Coffman doing the preaching. Large congregations heard him at the morning and evening services, which there were seven additions to the church.

Rev. Coffman is well known as an evangelist throughout the South. He has been with the Texas Baptist Convention as missionary for the past 10 years. He will be at Calvary Baptist church for the next two weeks during which time there will be two services daily, one at 10 o'clock in the morning and another at 7:30 in the evening.

Calvary Baptist church is located at 824 Barnes street. Everyone is extended an invitation to attend these meetings.

Rev. E. M. Dunsforth is pastor.

Fewer Foreclosures Every person, every family, owning the house and land on which they live have a doubled stake in the country they may be asked to defend. All of us have a stake in America, all derive very tangible benefits from our free way of life. But those who actually own a bit of the land itself have a double stake.

Mental Preparedness The time for this has not yet come. But it may come, and it is not alarmist to suggest that we begin getting into the mental frame of mind to ride with it if it comes.

Are You Having Any Fun? Lots of people, pulling a long face, will tell you they had a pretty thin time last year, and that the slogan with which they face the future is "No Fun in 1941!"

Behind The News By PETER EDSON The Pampa News Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON, March 3.—If you like to bet a few bucks on a long shot now and then, you might care to take a chance in support of the guess that there won't be any war with Japan for either the British or the United States for some time to come.

BARBS The fur coats you see come from skimming dumb animals — and father. Enemies are friends you should be the mistake of losing. Take real good care of the present and you can trade it in on a much better future.

Common Ground By R. C. HOILES This column contends there can be no satisfactory progress until we measure the shares of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given equal right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

Common Ground

THE POOR MAN'S INTEREST IN THE INCOME TAX Most people think the poor man is not interested in the income tax, due to the fact that the poor man thinks the income tax does not affect him; that it is the kind of a tax that makes it easier for him to have a higher standard of living.

More Sacrifice Than Rich And when his income is reduced because of this, he is making a bigger sacrifice than the rich man is obliged to make. This is true because the rich man is able to buy all necessities out of what is left after he pays the tax.

Around Hollywood By PAUL HARRISON NEA Service Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD, March 3.—Behind the screen: A Hollywood mama cornered Martin Greene the other day and confided that nobody had yet recognized the genius of her 12-year-old son.

TEX'S TOPICS

THE national hat may well be swept off in a graceful salute during the week of March 12-18 to the Girl Scouts of America. That week marks the 29th birthday of the movement. . . . Today 63,000 young American girls are organized in the Girl Scouts. Their awareness to their country's needs is well shown by their acting as hostesses last summer to delegates from 13 Western Hemisphere countries.

FROM sunshine to dust in the flash of an eye. . . That's what happened Sunday afternoon as we were driving through the Oklahoma Panhandle headed for Texas. . . . On trips where you go for a little peace and quiet it is advised that you determine before hand just what's going on in the place you pick out to visit. . . . Make sure that the traffic through your room is going to be light.

Dr. Josephine Rathbone, of Columbia university, says one of reasons for scarcity of successful women executives is that business women cannot put their feet on their desks. . . . This, says Dr. Rathbone, is one of the best ways to relax—and most business women are too tense. As far as we know there is no law against women putting their feet on desks. . . . Wonder how Madame Frances Perkins would look with her feet on her desk? We can't visualize that, but can easily imagine Betty Grable, Alice Faye, or Dorothy Lamour with their tootsies on desks.

STOPPING in El Reno, Okla., yesterday afternoon we enjoyed the hospitality of Ex-Pampan Arliss Meek and his charming wife. . . . Mr. Meek, formerly an executive of the old Crystalline Co. here, still clings to the ice business in Oklahoma and likes it there very much, although he still remembers his many good friends in Pampa. . . . Paying a compliment to the people here he said that of all the places they have been, El Reno is the one that had their greatest regrets when they parted with friends in Pampa.

The War Today

By DEWITT MacKENZIE The Dardanelles, battle zone of the ages, likely will be the barometer that will tell us whether a hurricane is to sweep the Balkans and whether Herr Hitler is right in thinking that he will get calm weather for his further military ventures.

THE situation today is tense. Any Nazi threat, or suggestion of a thrust against the Dardanelles probably would let hell loose. This strait—one of the most important positions strategically in the whole world—is vital to many powers, who would like it for themselves, and at least insist that this gateway between the Black Sea and the Mediterranean remain unobscured.

WE have a position in which Russia might strike if the strait were endangered, or at least give Turkey moral and material backing in the event. If Turkey ever would fight, it would be to protect this great strait and heritage, which involves her sovereignty. So once more we come bang up against the conclusion that much depends on Turkey's attitude in the stand adopted by the Muscovites.

THE Nazi press declares that the military occupation of Bulgaria will enable Germany to prevent any British effort to "disturb the peace" in the Balkans. That is, to open up new war-front in that zone. The indications thus far are that Hitler's desire is to avoid an upheaval and it isn't unlikely that he may achieve this if he doesn't threaten to fight for himself, but only if they themselves are in danger.

THE German papers also predict that Greece, which they describe as the "unhappy orphan of the storm," will have to pay for her British alliance. It appears to be Hitler's hope that he now can squeeze the Greeks into submission by a mere threat of striking at them across the Bulgarian frontier. Authoritative sources in Yugoslavia predict that she will join the Axis shortly. That wouldn't be surprising in view of her great danger in being all but surrounded by Axis forces.

Government Claims Victory Over Dusters WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP)—The agriculture department has told congress the story of its battle with the sand dunes in Colorado, and how its studies in Texas and Georgia made victory possible. It was a victory, department officials said, that saved $5,000,000 for the United States government.

THE fight was described by Dr. Hugh Bennett, chief of the soil conservation service, when he appeared before a house appropriations subcommittee during hearings on the agriculture department appropriation bill for 1942, introduced today. The site was the John Martin dam project on the Arkansas river in Colorado.

"In building this dam," Dr. Bennett told the subcommittee, "something like 20 miles of track of the Santa Fe railroad was to be inundated. Army engineers asked the Santa Fe officials if they could move their tracks to the adjacent uplands, just to the south. They said in effect, 'we cannot move the tracks to the south because of the sand dunes prevalent in that section. The sand will be constantly blowing over the track and we will have a perpetual expense to remove it.'"

So, he said, army engineers advised a trip to the southern plains near Dalhart, Texas, to look at some sand dune control work the SCS had carried on there in an attempt to control wind erosion by leveling higher points and putting in adaptable vegetation. Seventy dunes were controlled there, Bennett added.

The Santa Fe engineers made the trip, investigated, agreed to recommend the company move its track to the south provided the dunes at Caddos (John Martin reservoir) be controlled.

DUKE TO GIVE CHAMPS SEND-OFF AT GAME

Last Mitchell Team To Be Seen In Action Against Turkey Here Tomorrow Night

A capacity crowd is expected to pack the high school gym tomorrow night to cheer Pampa's first regional championship team and give it a rousing send-off to the state tournament which will be held in Gregory gymnasium at the University of Texas, Austin, this week-end.

It will be Harvester fans' first opportunity to see a Pampa regional title quint in action, because although the Harvesters played in the finals of the regional nine times it was the first time they were victorious.

Tomorrow night's foes will be Turkey's Terrible Turks. The first game will start at 7 o'clock and the second at 8 o'clock.

The Harvester band will lead a parade of students and fans through the business district tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock and the band will play at the game tomorrow night. The largest crowd of the year is expected at the game. Proceeds of the game will be used to pay expenses of the team to Austin.

Coach Mitchell announced that the team will probably leave Wednesday afternoon and spend the night in Breckenridge, and go on to Austin Thursday. The first game will be played Friday. Pairings will be made tomorrow morning at Austin.

It will be the last time a Mitchell-coached team will be seen in action here, and the boys on the team plan to win the game for the coach. "Win the game for Coach!" was their slogan and battle-cry in the two games in Canyon.

Every time they went into a huddle at Canyon, and that happened a half-dozen times each game, Grover Lee Heiskell would say, "Remember we're going to win this one for Coach," and if the spectators had been where they could have seen the boys' eyes they would have seen tears glistening on their cheeks and lashes. The boys were open in their determination to "win for Coach." Now they are resolved to win the state tournament "for Coach."

Coach Al Baggett of the Buffaloes said he believed the Harvesters had the greatest team that ever won the regional. He predicted success at the state tournament.

The Harvesters won the regional championship at Canyon Saturday night, defeating Lubbock's West-erners 34 to 22 in the final game. The defeat might have been even more overwhelming if the Harvester starters had stayed in the game. When they left the court with two minutes to go they were leading by 20 points.

Throughout the game the Harvesters had smothered their foes with an airtight defense that simply permitted no shots. The West-erners made all the shots except one, but to their credit they made the few long-distance attempts the Harvesters permitted.

When the second string went in they allowed the Lubbock boys several chances from the field and they made every one of them. However, in justice to the second string it should be remembered that they did their part Friday night against Quail which had the strongest team in the tournament.

The Harvesters were two points behind three minutes to go Friday night against Quail. Then Coach Mitchell sent back his first string into the game. Previously they had been trying so hard they couldn't get going; they were choked up and jittery. The starters had shed all their nervousness when they went back into the game the second time, and they began pouring the ball through the hoop.

Mounds got away from the Quail defense and stood under the basket and Terrell shot him the ball. That broke the tie and the Harvesters made two more baskets before the final whistle blew.

Thomas (Big Ears) Dewey was the defensive star of the final game. He outshone the entire floor in grabbing rebounds, and McKin-non and Nabors found that Dewey had the ball every time they went for it. Monte also played a fine defensive game, besides scoring four points. Grover Lee Heiskell played one of the greatest games of his career; he was all over the floor in both offensive and defensive plays.

Everybody was glad to see Pat Flanagan, center, emerge like a meteor from his slump. Pat got all the rebounds that Grover Lee didn't, and he guarded the Pampa goal with devastating thoroughness. Pat looked better against Quail than he had for several games, and he showed improvement throughout the Lubbock game. You could see his improvement minute by minute.

The biggest part of the audience was composed of Pampa fans and they cheered tremendously when it was announced that Heiskell had been chosen the most valuable player in the tournament. He accepted the trophy for Pampa. Flanagan was named all-regional center. Heiskell was also chosen all-regional forward.

LAST HEISKELL TO PLAY LAST GAME

The last Heiskell, that is the last one of the H. H. Heiskell family, will play his last game in Pampa for Harvester green and gold tomorrow night when Turkey will take the floor against the championship Harvesters. A Heiskell has been on the Harvester teams for the last ten years. First there was Orville, who played football and basketball; then there was Claude, who also starred in football and basketball; then there was the youngest, Grover Lee, above, left, known popularly as "Pee-wee"

Houston And San Marcos Fives Favored

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff

The Jeff Davis Panthers of Houston look like the team to beat in the State Schoolboy Basketball tournament at Austin this week—but there are quite a few who say San Marcos can do it.

The Rattlers stumbled at first but finished the district and regional drive with a rush. Followers of the team declare it now is everal as good as that of last season when the Rattlers worked their way to the state championship.

San Marcos dropped games to Austin and Jeff Davis in the practice schedule but it was Austin the Rattlers beat out for the district flag.

Equipped with three members of last season's title team—Coers, Edwards and Jones—San Marcos has the experience and poise necessary to wade through such a strong field as presented at the state tournament.

Jeff Davis has lost but one game and the Panthers loom as all sorts of trouble for the field in the showdown Friday and Saturday.

Luck of the draw may put the two teams in opposite brackets, which would make them favorites to clash in the finals. Pairings will likely not be made before tomorrow.

Two other teams stand out in the drive to the state tournament. Mount Vernon, the East Texas power, may be the "dark horse."

El Paso high, the 1940 state runner-up, is back with another fine team. The Tigers, like San Marcos, had trouble until the chips were down. Then El Paso went to town, beating the widely-heralded Odessa team in the first round of the regional tournament and crushing Imperial in the finals.

Among the four other teams qualifying for the state tournament is Abilene, a perennial visitor to Austin. The Eagles have won their regional championship three times in four years and are unbeaten this season.

Pampa, Waco and Bloomington are the remaining three.

BAY VIEW WINS SANTA ANITA HANDICAP

Bay View turns back the finest fields of thoroughbreds in training with a wire-to-wire triumph in the seventh running of the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap at Arcadia, California, with Moland coming in second.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK, March 3.—Golfers Willie Turnesa's draft number will be coming up shortly. Right now Jack Doyle, the "Wizard of Odds," leans to the Yanks and Reds, but he's afraid the draft is going to ball everything up. Dan Cupid just called to say Don Budge has fallen hard for Allee Marble and vice versa. They say she's cut his maimed mail quota from ten to five per day. Also, Don must be thinking of other things than tennis for old Bill Tilden pinned his ears back in Fort Worth the other night. The draft has bagged Jack Naylor, ex-Columbia backfield star and he leaves for camp today.

Omigosh!

One of the best baseball writers in the game picked an all-major league color team and who do you suppose he left off? G. Herman Ruth, than whom there is none whomer.

Caught On The Fly

There were more football coaches than tight managers at the Chicago Golden Gloves tournament. The Browns have a standing offer for Rick Ferrell which may be why Rick signs those Washington contracts in national ski jumping coaches applied for the Boston College job, while more than 60 went into a mad scramble for Al McCoy's old post at Colby. Both Jersey City and Washington are trying hard to get the Tony Galento-Buddy Bess away from Philly. How come? Jimmy Fox is commuting between the Red Sox training camp at Sarasota and St. Peteg where he owns a golf course. Jack Curley, veteran boxing instructor in a new York gym, says Dempsey would have polished off Joe Louis in two heats.

Today's Guest Star

Arch Ward, Chicago Tribune: "How come no one has mentioned that the U. of Oklahoma should expect a brilliant football season now that it has signed Dewey Luster as coach?" Or that Friday night's fight was a low-lew, Arch?

Personal Mention

Judge Landis' new hat is a fifty number. During his 27 years as athletic manager at Colorado Mines, Dave Johnston has seen 13 football coaches set up housekeeping and 12 depart. The south will get a look at Tom Harmon when the Hammond (Ind.) basketball team invades that section soon. If we had had a parlay on Bay View and Big Pebble you can bet we wouldn't be banging out this dope today. Dick Bartell says Charlie Gehringer has the sharpest eyes for balls and strikes of any player in the American league. They booed Dew Jenkins when he entered the ring and boomed him after the fight. Made him so sore he wouldn't speak on the radio. Quite a popular character, Lewis.

Question Box

Did Jack Duncan, forward on the Rio Grande College basketball team, set a record when he scored 87 points against Capital City College the other night? Write Jim Porter, Jr., publicity director, Rio Grande, Ohio.

Aw Shucks

Taft Wright, the White Sox outfielder, is regaling his mates with a yarn about how he caught a quail with his bare hands this winter. The inevitable reply is, "hell, you can't even catch a fly."

COLUMBIA, S. C.—The Citadel scored 17 points to win Southern conference boxing championship.

COLLEGE PARK, Md.—Washington and Lee captured Southern conference wrestling title.

The Thompson Hardware of Pampa and the Diamond Shop of Amarillo bowling teams staged a marathon yesterday which ended in a tie, each team winning six games. The teams battled on both Pampa and Amarillo alleys. Bleakney of Amarillo blasted 235 pins for high game and 637 pins for high series. Behrman of Pampa was second high with a game of 233 pins and a series of 615 pins.

A large pennant, emblematic of the league championship, was presented to the Berger club and George Finger, president, predicted that it would remain in Berger for another year. He then invited these present to be guests of the Berger club at dinner.

In spite of the mentioning now and then of "world problems," all present were optimistic that baseball would have its best year in 1941.

The press and radio were represented by Collier Parris and Wes Youngblood of Lubbock, Harry Hoare, Pampa, Bill Freeman, Berger, Lane G. Smith, Wichita Falls and Bob Watson and Jerry Mallin, Amarillo.

Those present at the meeting were: Berger: Gordon Nell, manager, George Finger, president, C. R. Stahl, vice president and F. L. Grimes, secretary. Others: Hugh Miller, Harry Willis, R. L. Cox, Walter Ayers, Larry Gilchrist, and Bill Spivey, Pampa; Harold Miller, H. H. Lucas, owners.

Wichita Falls: Neal Rabe, business manager, Sammy Hale, manager.

Big Spring: Jodie Tate, manager, Tink Reviere, business manager and coach.

Lubbock: Billy Webb, Chicago White Sox farm executive, Chley Engle, manager, Sam Rosenthal, president, Sylvan Skibbell, Tom Miller, league statistician.

Clovis: G. A. Campbell, president, Howard Taylor, manager, R. C. Johnson, vice president, and J. F. Sellers.

Lamesa: Olin Wise, vice president, Sam Sealing, manager.

Amarillo: Bob Seeds, president, Sled Allen, business manager, Bubber Jourard, manager.

Others who were on hand were: Ned Pedigrew, the league's umpire-in-chief, George Rubenthaler, a lighting plant salesman, Joe Dobbs, of the A. C. Spaulding company, Leroy Pinkerton of the Amarillo Hardware company, and Red Norman, a sporting goods salesman.

Johnny Adams Fails To Set New Scoring Record

(By The Associated Press)

Only five points between him and a life-time dream, string-bean Johnny Adams had no alibis today for failing to set a new scoring record in Southwest conference basketball and emerged as one of the finest competitors in conference history.

Guarded closely Saturday night by Southern Methodist's Wilbur Keith, Rusty Bacus and Johnny Sebeck in a tantalizing man-for-man shoving defense, the Arkansas jumping jack—one of the greatest offensive threats the game ever knew—scored only one field goal.

Definitely off his game, a bit "tight" under pressure, he missed shots he usually made.

The Pony defenders hounded him like stray dogs.

They kept him away from the foul circle, forced him to the corners, rushed him into frequent errors.

The night before the Hogs beat S. M. U. 40-23. In the two games they pushed their season's total scoring to 646 for a new conference record. Adams made 30 points in the series, giving him a season total of 206. Hub Kirkpatrick of Baylor holds the record—210 in 1938.

The Mustangs' two losses gave them an even break in conference competition—six wins and six defeats. Tuesday night they handed Texas Christian its twelfth consecutive loss, 38-36.

Rice, a great offensive combination featuring Frankie Carswell, Bob Kinney and Tom Closs, whipped Baylor 62-60 Monday and Texas 73-64 Saturday, the latter contest setting a new conference record for total points in one game.

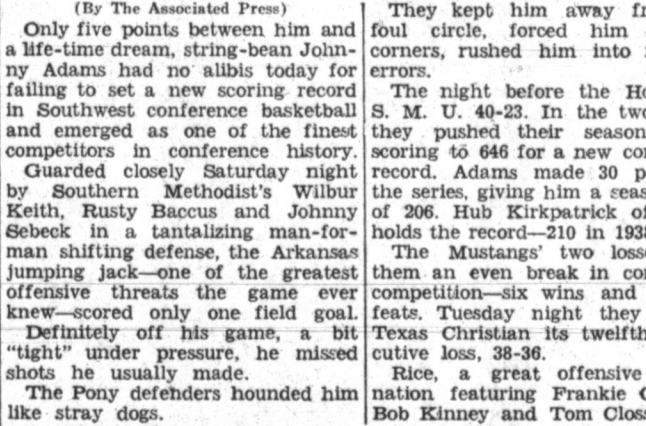

The Owls, who last season scored 607 points for a new record, scored 643 this year—one less than Arkansas. Their eight victories and four defeats (two to Arkansas, one to S. M. U. and Texas) gave them second place in conference standings.

Texas beat the Texas Aggies Thursday 42-22. The Cadets lost Saturday night to Baylor, 53-39.

Only game remaining on the schedule is the Texas-A. & M. contest Thursday night in Austin.

Behind Adams in scoring is Carswell with 175 points, Kinney with 144 and Closs of Rice with 124.

West Texas-New Mexico League To Open April 22

The 1941 West Texas-New Mexico league baseball season will open on April 22 and close on September 1, which will be Labor day. The 1941 playing schedule of 140 games was adopted at the annual league meeting yesterday in Borger.

Pampa will open the season in Borger, returning home on April 24 for the first of a three-game series with the Gassers of Gordon Nell. Berger opened in Pampa last year and fans are still talking about the game in which Lloyd Summers, Pampa catcher, blasted three home runs for Pampa's 4 to 3 victory.

Amarillo will open the season at Clovis, Big Spring at Wichita Falls and Lubbock at Lamesa.

The official schedule will not be released until next Sunday.

President Milton Price in a brief report said that the big leagues were predicting great seasons and that he couldn't see anything but a better year in the West Texas-New Mexico league.

Billy Webb, general manager of the Chicago White Sox farm system, attended the meeting and stated that of the five league meetings he has attended in the past

Basketball Experts Picking National Title Contenders

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—This is the time of the year when the basketball "experts" work harder than the boys who spend their evenings running up and down a hardwood floor trying to toss a ball through an elevated hoop.

A major part of the season's work for the players—settling their sectional championships—is nearly over. Titles that haven't already been decided probably will be this week. But the "experts" are just starting the task of picking out the teams that will compete for the various national championships.

Representatives of various sections must be chosen for the national collegiate tournament. In most cases the conference champions get first call, but occasionally there are powerful "independents" to be considered or else the champs don't want to play any more.

New York's national intercollegiate invitation tournament will run four nights at Madison Square Garden this year and plans call for wide representation usually entering The New York basketball writers have the job of picking teams for this meet. Then there's the national intercollegiate tournament at Kansas City, which brings out the mighty small-college teams. A few college quints usually enter the National A. A. U. tournament, although they seldom go far in it.

The championships of the Southeastern, Big Ten and Pacific Coast, north division circuits were decided last week with the titles going to Duke, Tennessee, Wisconsin and Washington State, respectively. Arkansas, in the South-

SERIAL STORY

DRAFTED FOR LOVE

BY RUTH AYERS

Copyright, 1941, NEA Service, Inc.

YESTERDAY: April avoids meeting Kent, and Ann is happy in her plans for the wedding. The idea is unbearable to April. She plans to go to the Burnett cabin, remain there. As she leaves, Winkie Appleman and the constable are waiting at the door for her.

KENT STEPS IN

"THAT'S her," Winkie said. "Sorry," the constable cut in, "have to serve a warrant on you." With that, he pressed a folded document into April's hands.

April had presence of mind enough to shut the front door behind her. She had on her fur jacket in readiness for Hal's arrival but even in it, she began to shake with cold and fright.

"What's wrong?" she managed to stammer.

"I'm a-suing you for personal injuries," Winkie drew out the phrase pleasantly. "Yes," he went on, "guess you ain't forgotten the night you knocked me down when you was taking Mister Kent Carter to the Pattonville railroad station."

April leaned against the door. She'd never told anyone that she had taken Kent to the train that night. She'd never mentioned the run-in with Winkie. Now with this document in her hand, she felt as if her doom had been handed to her, signed, sealed and delivered.

If Ann knew, she would start being suspicious all over again about her, April, and Kent. When Dad found out, he would be shocked. It was going to hurt him in his professional standing—going to hurt everyone.

"You can't do this, Winkie Appleman," she whispered. "You know I settled with you."

"Settled!" Winkie snorted. "Think you can injure a man, maybe permanently, and settle it on the spot for a few dollars?"

The constable's eyes shifted around, came back to her. "That's not all," he said. "Got to charge you with failure to report an accident. Pretty strong laws about that in this state."

Winkie said, "I was hurt so bad that night, I didn't know what I was doing. I wanted to call an officer but you wouldn't let me."

April turned around, saw that the front door was shut securely. Inside, the living room lamps were lighted but out here on the porch there was only the dim bulb overhead. No one in the family had seen her yet but she didn't dare chance it further.

She motioned Winkie and the constable down the steps. At any minute Hal would be here and know how to help her.

She stopped in front of the constable's car, her spirits lifting in a quick spurt of defiance.

"You can't prove anything, Winkie Appleman," she said. "This is no better than a hold-up and you can't prove a thing!"

"Oh, can't I?" Winkie sneered and twisted the shapeless brim of his hat. "I guess maybe the check would speak for itself."

THE check! What had been a blur of pain and horror to her that night in the Pattonville railroad station, started to clarify. She had opened her purse and handed a few bills and some change at Winkie. He'd whined for more. She had remembered her check book and how with a numb, shaky hand had written a check.

"Make it $10," Winkie had said. "And I won't say nothing."

April saw it all. Winkie, unscrupulous no-account that he might be, was legally within his rights.

"Very well," she said finally, "what am I supposed to do?" She heard the constable speak of posting bond, of appearing for a preliminary hearing. "What you waiting for?" the constable asked.

"Why don't you come along with me now and get booked at the station without any fuss."

An upstairs window in the Burnett house opened. Through it into the crystal air, came a strain of song from Ann. At this minute, Ann was dressing for her date with Kent. Ann's wedding day would be soon.

"Yes, I'll go with you just as soon as a friend of mine arrives," she said. "I'll go without any fuss. There's only one thing I ask. Does anyone have to know of this? Does my father? You see, and she spoke very humbly, "we're going to have a wedding in our house and the fuss, the notoriety would spoil everything."

Again, through the window, she heard Ann's lovely voice, lifting in silver notes of happiness. April closed her eyes briefly.

Winkie was speaking from the corner of his mouth. "Trying to keep it on the sly a little longer."

April shuddered and then opened her eyes quickly. A clear, masculine voice was saying—"Keep what on the sly?"

Only one voice was like that. Not Dad, not Hal—Kent Carter! "I asked—keep what on the sly?" Kent was repeating and in some way had come to stand by April, one hand steadying her.

THE constable was ruffled. "Served a warrant on Miss Ethel Burnett here," he said. "Failing to report an accident—damage suit."

Kent took the papers from April's hand. "We'll see about it," he said. "I happened to have been a witness to this so-called accident."

Winkie was whining. "You're the fellow that punched me in the face. Yep, knocked an old man down when he'd already been run over. I know you Kent Carter. Miss Ann's fella."

April felt Kent's fist double under her hand. "Please," she whispered and her face was close to his.

This was the first time she had seen him since he had returned, his sight restored. This was the first time she had been near him. She felt a headiness, a surge of joy sweeping her. For one absurd minute it seemed as if the hateful warrant, the shameful encounter with Winkie Appleman had been predestined for only one purpose—to bring her back to Kent.

Then she remembered Ann. Ann was in the Burnett house, safe, unsuspecting.

April pushed Kent aside. "Wait a minute," she began breathlessly. "I've got something to tell you all. I'll take the blame for this. It was my fault. I can see it through alone."

For the first time, she faced Kent squarely. She saw the beloved face, the eyes, clear now without the shadow of the dark glasses. "You, Kent," and she managed to make her voice hard and brittle, "you stay out of it."

She hadn't heard the door open or any sound on the steps. But something made her turn.

Ann was standing there, pale, fragile as a moonbeam. She looked first at April and then at Kent. "Whatever is the matter?" she asked.

Freight Train Stranded In Snow Storm

(By The Associated Press)

Snow, rain, hail, dust and high winds grounded some planes and stranded a freight train in a freak weather display in the western United States Sunday, but the pigeons flew through.

A homing pigeon from the C. A. Kahrs lot in San Diego, Calif., sped 260 miles through high winds, snow, rain and hail from Glia, Ariz., to San Diego to win a race. Its speed was 981.87 yards a minute—approximately 33.5 miles an hour.

Atop 10,025-foot Cumbres pass in extreme south-central Colorado, four trainmen, marooned in the caboose of their Denver & Rio Grande Western freight, fired up a cookstove and ate emergency rations of tinned food. Twelve inches of snow, piled onto 96 already blanketing the pass, stalled the train. The blizzard was the worst in that region this winter.

A North American Aviation Corp. training ship, en route to Canada, was missing between Kingman, Ariz., and Salt Lake City in rugged, uninhabited country. It was piloted by Joe S. Martinek, a veteran flier, of Hollywood, Calif. Six other planes in the ferrying party landed at Salt Lake City or Las Vegas, Nev., because of weather conditions.

A 40-mile an hour wind and six-inch snowstorm at Cedar City, Utah, prevented six light airplanes from taking off there in search of the training ship.

Transcontinental and Western Air pilots reported they were forced to climb to 15,000 feet to clear a dust storm extending from Tucuman, N. M., into southeastern Kansas. Winds reaching 75 miles an hour put westbound flights an hour behind schedule; sped eastbound planes into Kansas City ahead of time.

A moderate cold wave was predicted for Missouri and Kansas today, with temperatures dropping to the 20's and low 30's from highs of 73 at Dodge City, Kas., and 63 at Kansas City Sunday.

Kansas near Wichita got a light mud bath when rain fell during the dustier.

Californians still sloshed about. Half an inch of rain brought the total since mid-December to 23.16 inches in the Los Angeles area, more than double the normal fall.

The Wilshire area of Los Angeles experienced a sharp quake Sunday noon but no damage was reported. Locally-famous Point Firmin, near Los Angeles, slipped a little closer to the sea, and the main coast route to San Francisco moved outward as far as seven feet.

Gray County Called On To Furnish 15 Selectees In March

Gray county will be called on to furnish an additional 15 selectees this month, pushing the total of selectees to be called from this county this month to 44, the record number to date.

The third March call is for March 21. There are 14 men who will leave here Wednesday morning for the induction station at Fort Bliss, El Paso, and another group of 15 from Gray are to leave for the same place on March 13.

Fort Bliss will also be the destination of the men called from this county on March 21.

Senate Asks Arbitration Of Strikes

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 3.—Without a dissenting vote the Texas senate today approved a resolution asking congress to substitute mandatory arbitration and mediation for strikes and lockouts in settling labor disputes during the period of national emergency.

Behind the urging of Senator John Lee Smith of Throckmorton, a former army officer, colleagues agreed that strikes in defense industries were a threat to preparedness.

The resolution was pending from last week at which time some members asked for an opportunity to study it further on grounds it might jeopardize the rights of labor or employers.

Smith noted that since he introduced the resolution, William S. Knudsen, director of the office of production management, had recommended similar legislation. The resolution was amended to include Knudsen's suggestion.

Aroused by distribution in the house of an unsigned circular attacking the railroad commission, Rep. Howard Hartzog of Port Lavaca asked that the sergeant-at-arms determine the origin of the handbill. He pointed out that under house rules, literature distributed among members is supposed to be signed, and no distribution should be made without approval of house officers.

The house state affairs committee intended to open hearing later in the day on a bill creating a new commission to perform the oil and gas conservation duties now handled by the railroad commission.

A resolution by Rep. Taylor White of Odessa to set up machinery for the drafting of a proposed new state constitution ran into difficulties immediately and was referred to the judiciary committee by overwhelming vote. House members took the position that the proposal should not be adopted without thorough study.

The house adopted a senate resolution providing for a special legislative committee to investigate the feasibility and probable cost of fire-proofing the state capitol. Concern frequently has been expressed lest much of the old capitol building be destroyed by fire.

Refreshed by a weekend rest, senators jammed the hoppers with more bills.

Included were those appropriating $1,132,000 annually for the next biennium to finance vocational agriculture, home economics, child rehabilitation and crippled children's treatment in public schools; prohibiting employment of women in liquor package stores and authorizing state-financed medical and dental service for destitute children.

The house passed and sent the senate a bill permitting transportation by truck of defense materials even though they weigh more than 1,000 pounds, the legal limit on ordinary loads.

A resolution asking federal authorities to dredge the Brazos river at Waco was adopted by the house. Rep. Gordon Davis of Waco, the resolution author, said that the Brazos constituted a serious flood threat, particularly to east Waco.

Rep. S. J. Isaacs of El Paso introduced a concurrent resolution disapproving six civil court procedure rules promulgated by the supreme court. The resolution was sent to the judiciary committee.

English General's Grandfather Once Owned Site of Texas Cities

DALLAS, March 3 (AP)—General Sir Archibald P. Wavell, the one-eyed commander of Britain's mid-east forces, is the grandson of a man who once owned land on which six northeast Texas cities were located, a Dallas research historian said today.

Homer L. DeGolyer of Dallas said he had filmed facsimiles of letters and documents which showed that Sir Archibald's grandfather, Major General Arthur Goodall Wavell, originally owned hundreds of thousands of acres of Texas land granted to him about 1825 by the "free state" of Coahuila and Texas under the Mexican government.

This was known as Wavell's colony and extended from the Red river southward to the Sulphur river. It ran westward to about the west boundary of present day Grayson county, Tex.

In this section the present cities of Denison, Sherman, Bonham, Paris, Clarksville, and Texarkana were located, DeGolyer said.

He said that representing Major General Wavell as resident agent in the colony was Col. Benjamin R. Milam, the "Old Ben Milam" who led the Texans in the assault and capture of San Jacinto in December, 1835, a charge in which Milam was killed.

The present British general's grandfather came to the new world before Mexico won its independence from Spain, fought for Spain, but later became a citizen of Mexico after helping that country win its freedom, DeGolyer said. Transcripts of letters in DeGolyer's possession show Major General Wavell traveled extensively in the United States and Texas, and visited Nacogdoches, Tex., in 1830, the Dallas historian disclosed.

Among colonists introduced into northeast Texas into Wavell's colony by Ben Milam were Richard Ellis, later president of the convention that declared Texas a free and independent republic; Collin McKinney, for whom Collin county was later named and James Clark, the founder of Paris, said DeGolyer.

He showed facsimile of a land certificate he identified as issued to James Clark by Ben R. Milam on Dec. 31, 1830, for the land on a part

More Trucks On Way To Camp Barkeley

ABILENE, March 3 (AP)—Soldiers of the 45th division having settled themselves in Camp Barkeley following Friday's record motor movement from Fort Sill, had their first good night in ten days this morning. Muddy weather had stopped such training more than a week before their move.

Meanwhile, 660 trucks left Fort Sill early this morning for Camp Barkeley, carrying approximately 500 men and a large quantity of tents and artillery supplies and other freight. Today's movement was divided between two routes, the same as those followed Friday when more than 10,000 men were moved here.

Units moving today included service companies of three artillery regiments, company C of the 179th infantry and one company of the 120th medical regiment.

Curious crowds crowded sidewalks around the Citizens National bank here this morning while soldiers armed with machine guns and rifles guarded $400,000 to $500,000 in cash being counted in the bank preparatory to paying of the Camp Barkeley personnel tomorrow. Machine gun units were mounted on a railway overpass a half block away, on trucks across the street, and within the bank.

"The German press declared the military move put Germany in a place to prevent any British effort to 'disturb the peace' in the Balkans and predicted that Greece, called 'unhappy orphan of the street' would have to pay for her alliance with Britain. Bulgaria's parliament yesterday approved casting the nation's lot with the Axis. Twenty of the 150 members opposed joining the partnership.

It was reported in Istanbul that Germany last week asked Turkey to offer to mediate the war with Britain and that the British flatly refused to consider mediation. Berlin ridiculed the report.

In London the headquarters of General Charles De Gaulle's "Free French" forces claimed their troops in southern Libya had captured the oasis of Cufra, taking 1,000 prisoners.

This was interpreted in London to mean the De Gaulleists had control of the entire oasis district—a section of southeastern Libya approximately as large as the state of Ohio.

British forces attacking the Eritrean stronghold at Cheren were said to have broken through a mountain pass guarding the town from the north. A supporting column is fighting toward the stronghold—42 miles from the capital at Asmara—through mountains to the west.

Two trainloads of Nazi infantrymen were said to have been dispatched from Plovdiv, Bulgaria's second largest city, toward the Turkish frontier. Other units were said to be rolling into Plovdiv, which is 103 miles airline from the Dardanelles.

Air raid defense precautions went steadily ahead in Bulgaria and many citizens of Sofia, including Queen Ioanna, Crown Prince Simeon and Princess Marie Louise, left for the city.

King Boris, after receiving Rendel on the steps of the palace, conferred with the British minister for two hours last night. He was said to have told Rendel that he had chosen the course which he believed best for his people.

The tall, stooped Briton was understood to have replied that diplomatic relations probably would be severed tomorrow with a state of war "undoubtedly" to follow.

The king had conferred with the German and Italian ministers just before Rendel arrived.

About a score of 150 members voiced opposition on the oral vote and 18 of them later filed objections on the ground that "Bulgaria's entry into the pact creates many eventualities and places Bulgaria in the danger of war."

With the king's approval the parliament had forced Bulgaria to link herself to the Axis.

Walsh Attacks Bill As War Declaration

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP)—Senator Walsh (D.-Mass.) keynoted a lengthy attack on the lease-lend program today with the announcement: "I look upon this bill as equivalent to a declaration of war."

"Once in war," he asserted, "there can be no turning back. The congress will have no choice. Such a war will not be America's war. It will be a world war in which we join in world ruin."

This war view was contradicted by two supporters of the bill, Senator Smathers (D.-N. J.) and Tamm (D.-Del.).

Smathers said he was tired of "this parrot-like prattle" that war would follow. The opposition, he remarked, had used that argument a year ago when the arms embargo was lifted, and again when the selective service act was being discussed. The purpose, he charged, was "to frighten the American people," but it was not succeeding.

Tamm declared, "I am one of those who believes that this bill will not cause war."

Should war come, however, "it will be easier," he predicted, "for America to defeat a weakened Germany." The reich, he said, would be weakened by the strong British defense which the bill would make possible.

Thus, with the accent on war danger or lack of it, the senate reached its third week of British aid debate, convening an hour earlier in an effort to accelerate proceedings.

Both in the senate and out of it, there was much speculation as to whether the bill would be able to complete its legislative journey by Saturday.

Chairman George (D.-Ga.) of the foreign relations committee, said that he would "do everything in my power to bring about a vote by Saturday."

Long daily sessions might be necessary, he admitted, but he agreed with Majority Leader Barkley (D.-Ky.) that there was no reason why the bill should not be passed by the coming weekend.

Opposition leaders were of a different mind. They said there was not a chance of action by Saturday. There are more than twenty amendments to be disposed of first, and the opposition has yet to conclude formal speech-making in the general debate—a fact that has led proponents to charge filibustering tactics.

ing personnel promotions which "was not wholly accurate." The report asserted that "this regrettable series of incidents" was of "such grave importance" that it should be called to the attention of the house.

4. The committee called on the department to reexamine its many research and investigation programs because it appeared that some may have exhausted their possibilities "and should be stopped to make way for new and more pressing problems."

The bill carried the customary $500,000,000 for soil conservation payments to farmers, $68,845,130 for rural rehabilitation loans, $100,150,000 for removal of surplus commodities, $47,973,960 for sugar act payments, $25,618,684 for the soil conservation service, $18,022,455 for the forest service, and $14,596,918 for the extension service.

Supreme Court Rules Against Style Compacts

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP)—The supreme court outlawed today agreements by which manufacturers of women's hats and dresses sought to eliminate "piracy" by registering new creations and penalizing anyone copying the designs.

Justice Black wrote the two unanimous opinions, applying to the Millinery Creators' Guild, Inc. and the Fashion Originators' Guild of America, Inc., both of New York, and their members.

Black asserted that the agreements violated federal anti-trust legislation which prohibits combinations which restrain interstate commerce.

The agreements plan was defended on the ground that the copied styles were sold cheaply in quantities and that this was economically injurious to the originators.

Under the plan, a registration bureau was established where the originator of a design could register his creation.

In addition, a "declaration of co-operation" was obtained from copied styles.

This was held by the federal trade commission to constitute an unfair method of competition. The commission's order was affirmed by the federal circuit court at New York.

The justice department said members of the fashion guild in 1936 sold 38.8 per cent of all women's garments in the United States in the wholesale range of $6.75 and up and $3.99 per cent in a whole price range of $10.75 and up.

Approximately 12,000 retail dealers of women's dresses agreed to cooperate in the plan, it was added.

The supreme court ruled also that the labor board does not have power to enjoin violations of all the provisions of the statute "merely because the violation of one has been found."

Justice Stone delivered the opinion, which held that the Express Publishing company of San Antonio, should be restrained from refusing to bargain "and from any other acts in any manner interfering with" efforts by the San Antonio guild to negotiate with the company.

Justice Douglas, Black and Reed said in a separate opinion that they thought a cease and desist order issued by the board should have been enforced in full.

The labor board, in addition to directing the company to "cease and desist" from refusing to bargain, also had ordered it to refrain from "in any manner interfering with" the collective bargaining rights of the employees.

Justice Stone said that even though a company had been found guilty by the board of committing an unfair labor practice the board would not necessarily be "justified in making a blanket order restraining the employer from committing any act in violation of the statute."

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—The state department advised the treasury today to "freeze" Bulgarian funds in the United States as a result of the entrance of German troops into that country.

Secretary Hull announced at his press conference that the department had submitted to the treasury information on the Bulgarian situation with a recommendation that a freezing order be issued.

The last country affected by the freezing policy was Rumania.

British Break With Bulgaria Expected Soon

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, March 3.—Authoritative British sources declared today a break in diplomatic relations with Axis-aligned Bulgaria was "imminent" and would come as soon as the situation there became either "dangerous or humiliating."

That time, they added, apparently has just about been reached.

George W. Rendel, British minister to Sofia, was said to have been authorized to sever relations "as quickly as he sees fit."

Britain shielded today her next moves in the new Southeastern Europe situation created by Germany's military occupation of Bulgaria except for indications the first step would be severance of diplomatic relations with Sofia.

Whether this action would be followed by air attacks on the Nazi legions or other military moves remained the secret of strategic charting the nation's war plans.

The arrival in Athens of Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and General Sir John G. Dill, chief of the British Imperial staff, from conferences in Turkey did much to bolster British confidence that "full preparations" had been made to face the new situation.

House Chamber Gets New Venetian Blinds

AUSTIN, March 3 (AP)—Venetian blinds on all windows in the big house chamber was the pleasant surprise in store for state representatives when they returned today from week-end trips.

Speaker Homer Leonard was applauded when he called attention to the better distribution of lighting and the reduction in glare resulting from the new equipment.

"I have a confession I must make," said the speaker, "after the venetian blinds resolution was put on my desk for introduction, I scratched out that part of it calling for blinds on the south windows only."

Fifteen thousand glass bottles sold the largest tobacco crop in its parks and open spaces of London in normal times.

Senate Asks Arbitration Of Strikes

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 3—Without a dissenting vote the Texas senate today approved a resolution asking congress to substitute mandatory arbitration and mediation for strikes and lockouts in settling labor disputes during the period of national emergency.

Behind the urging of Senator John Lee Smith of Throckmorton, a former army officer, colleagues agreed that strikes in defense industries were a threat to preparedness.

The resolution was pending from last week at which time some members asked for an opportunity to study it further on grounds it might jeopardize the rights of labor or employers.

Smith noted that since he introduced the resolution, William S. Knudsen, director of the office of production management, had recommended similar legislation. The resolution was amended to include Knudsen's suggestion.

Aroused by distribution in the house of an unsigned circular attacking the railroad commission, Rep. Howard Hartzog of Port Lavaca asked that the sergeant-at-arms determine the origin of the handbill. He pointed out that under house rules, literature distributed among members is supposed to be signed, and no distribution should be made without approval of house officers.

Walsh Attacks Bill As War Declaration

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Senator Walsh (D-Mass.) keynoted a lengthy attack on the lend-lease program today with the announcement: "I look upon this bill as equivalent to a declaration of war."

"Once in war," he asserted, "there can be no turning back. The congress will have no choice, the people will have no choice. Such a war will be a world war in which we join in world ruin."

This war view was contradicted by two supporters of the bill, Senator Smathers (D-N. J.) and Tunnell (D-Del.).

Smathers said he was tired of "this parrot-like prattle" that was "being repeated." The opposition, he remarked, had used that argument a year ago when the arms embargo was lifted, and again when the selective service act was being discussed. The purpose, he charged, was "to frighten the American people," but it was not succeeding.

"Tunnell declared: 'I am one of those who believes that this bill will not cause war.'

"Should war come, however, 'it will be easier,' he predicted, 'for America to defeat a weakened Germany.' The reich, he said, would be weakened by the strong British defense which the bill would make possible."

Thus, with the accent on war danger or lack of it, the senate reached its third week of British aid debate, convening an hour earlier in an effort to accelerate proceedings.

Both in the senate and out of it, there was much speculation as to whether the bill would be able to complete its legislative journey by Saturday.

Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the foreign relations committee, said that he would "do everything in my power to bring about a vote by Saturday."

Long daily sessions might be necessary, he admitted, but he agreed with Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky.) that there was no reason why the bill should not be passed by the coming weekend.

Opposition leaders were of a different mind. They said there was not a chance of action by Saturday. There are more than twenty amendments to be disposed of first, and the opposition has yet to conclude formal speech-making in the general debate—a fact that has led proponents to charge filibustering tactics.

More Trucks On Way To Camp Barkeley

ABILENE, March 3 (AP)—Soldiers of the 45th division having settled themselves in Camp Barkeley following Friday's record motor movement from Fort Sill, had their first good drill in ten days this morning. Muddy weather had stopped such training more than a week before their move.

Meanwhile, 600 trucks left Fort Sill early this morning for Camp Barkeley, carrying approximately 500 men and a large quantity of tents and artillery supplies and other freight. Today's movement was divided between two routes, the same as those followed Friday when more than 10,000 men were moved here.

Units moving today included service companies of three artillery regiments, company C of the 179th medical regiment, and one company of the 120th medical regiment.

Curious crowds lined sidewalks around the Citizens National bank this morning while soldiers armed with machine guns and rifles guarded $400,000 to $500,000 in cash being counted in the bank preparatory to paying of the Camp Barkeley personnel tomorrow. Machine gun units were mounted on a railway overpass a half block away, on trucks across the street, and within the bank.

Rickenbacker Better

ALBANY, March 3 (AP)—Lying in an oxygen tent to facilitate breathing, airman Eddie Rickenbacker, injured in the crash of an Eastern Air Lines sleeper plane near here Thursday, was reported "slightly improved" today by hospital attendants.

A letter the historian identified as from Wavell to Milam, written from New Orleans under the date of March 21, 1829, tells of a trip being taken by General Wavell and wife from Mexico to the United States.

Senator Passes Out Cigars

AUSTIN, March 3 (AP)—Senator Houghton Brownlee of Austin had a big smile—and a cigar—for each colleague today.

He was celebrating the birth of a grandson, the child of Mr. and Mrs. Thad Hutchison of Houston. Mrs. Hutchison is the former Caroline Brownlee of Austin.

Westbrook Pegler, columnist, who lists labor racketeering among his favorite targets, chats with Hatton Summers, chairman of the House committee studying legislative action to restrict strikes in defense industries. Pegler testified before the group in Washington.

Walsh Attacks Bill As War Declaration

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Senator Walsh (D-Mass.) keynoted a lengthy attack on the lend-lease program today with the announcement: "I look upon this bill as equivalent to a declaration of war."

"Once in war," he asserted, "there can be no turning back. The congress will have no choice, the people will have no choice. Such a war will be a world war in which we join in world ruin."

This war view was contradicted by two supporters of the bill, Senator Smathers (D-N. J.) and Tunnell (D-Del.).

Smathers said he was tired of "this parrot-like prattle" that was "being repeated." The opposition, he remarked, had used that argument a year ago when the arms embargo was lifted, and again when the selective service act was being discussed. Export Ban Lifted On 138 War Products

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Blanket authority was issued today for the export to Great Britain and northern Ireland of 138 key war products, including aluminum and aircraft parts.

The office of the administrator of export control, announcing this, explained, however, a daily check would be kept on the exports of vital commodities so the supply could be choked off if it appeared too heavy a volume was leaving the United States.

ing personnel promotions which "was not wholly accurate." The report asserted that "this regrettable series of incidents" was of "such grave importance" that it should be called to the attention of the house.

4. The committee called on the department to reexamine its many research and investigation programs because it appeared that some may have exhausted their possibilities "and should be stopped to make way for new and more pressing problems."

The bill carried the customary $500,000,000 for soil conservation payments to farmers, $58,846,130 for rural rehabilitation loans, $100,150,000 for removal of surplus commodities, $47,973,960 for sugar act payments, $25,818,684 for the soil conservation service, $18,022,455 for the forest service, and $14,596,918 for the extension service.

Freeze Bulgarian Funds, Hull Advises

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—The state department advised the treasury today to "freeze" Bulgarian funds in the United States as a result of the entry of German troops into that country.

Secretary Hull announced at his press conference that the department had submitted to the treasury information on the Bulgarian situation with a recommendation that a freezing order be issued.

The last country affected by the freezing policy was Rumania.

Supreme Court Rules Against Style Compacts

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—The supreme court outlawed today agreements by which manufacturers of women's hats and dresses sought to eliminate style "piracy" by registering new creations and penalizing anyone copying the designs.

Justice Black wrote the two unanimous opinions, applying to the Millinery Creators' Guild, Inc. and the Fashion Originators' Guild of America, Inc., both of New York, and their members.

Black asserted that the agreements violated federal anti-trust legislation which prohibits combinations which restrain interstate commerce.

The agreements plan was defended on the ground that the copied styles were sold cheaply in quantities and that this was economically injurious to the originators.

Under the plan, a registration bureau was established where the originator of a design could register his creation.

In addition, a "declaration of co-operation" was obtained from copied styles.

This was held by the federal trade commission to constitute an unfair method of competition. The commission's order was upheld by the federal circuit court at New York.

The justice department said members of the fashion guild in 1936 sold 38.3 per cent of all women's garments in the United States in the wholesale range of $8.75 and up and 63.99 per cent in a whole price range of $10.75 and up.

Approximately 12,000 retail dealers of women's dresses agreed to cooperate in the plan, it was added.

The supreme court ruled also that the labor board did not have power to enjoin violations of all the provisions of the statute "merely because the violation of one has been found."

Justice Stone delivered the opinion, which held that the Express Publishing company of San Antonio, should be restrained from refusing to bargain "and from any other acts in any manner interfering with" efforts by the San Antonio guild to negotiate with the company.

Justice Douglas, Black and Reed said in a separate opinion that they thought a cease and desist order issued by the board should have been enforced in full.

The labor board, in addition to directing the company to "cease and desist" from refusing to bargain, also had ordered it to refrain from "in any manner interfering with" the collective bargaining rights of the employees.

Justice Stone said that even though a company had been found guilty by the board of committing an unfair labor practice the board would not necessarily be "justified in making a blanket order restraining the employer from committing any act in violation of the statute."

British Break With Bulgaria Expected Soon

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, March 3—Authoritative British sources declared today a break in diplomatic relations with Axis-aligned Bulgaria was "imminent" and would come as soon as the situation there became either "dangerous or humiliating" to either side.

That time, they added "apparently has just about been reached."

George W. Rendel, British minister to Sofia, was said to have been authorized to sever relations "as quickly as he sees fit."

Britain shielded today her next moves in the new Southeastern European situation created by Germany's military occupation of Bulgaria except for indications the first step would be severance of diplomatic relations with Sofia.

Whether this action would be followed by air attacks on the Nazi legions or other military moves remained the secret of strategists charting the nation's war plans.

The arrival in Athens of Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and General Sir John G. Dill, chief of the British Imperial staff, from conferences in Turkey did much to bolster British confidence that "full preparations" had been made to face the new situation.

House Chamber Gets New Venetian Blinds

AUSTIN, March 3 (AP)—Venetian blinds on all windows in the big house chamber was the pleasant surprise in store for state representatives when they returned today from week-end trips.

Speaker Homer Leonard was applauded when he called attention to the better distribution of lighting and the reduction in glare resulting from the new equipment.

"I have a confession I must make," said the speaker, "after the venetian blinds resolution was put on my desk for introduction, I scratched out that part of it calling for blinds on the south windows only."
