ALL GERMAN ARMIES STOPPED, SAYS RUSSIAN

Boy Rescued From Log In McClellan

A 12-year-old boy, who said his name was Odell and his home McClellan, nearly lost his life in Lake McClellan about 9:30 o'clock last night. He was rescued by Virgil Howell.

Staff Sergeant Held In Slaying

WICHITA FALLS, July 7 (AP)—Paul Wells, 38, was held on a murder charge today after Harry A. Glenn was shot to death attempting to capture a gunman lurking in the shrubbery at a friend's home.

Wells said he was staff sergeant at Fort Sill, Okla., that his home was in Tulsa, and that he had a wife and child at Lawton, Okla.

Glenn, chief clerk for the Continental Oil company here, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Hall of Houston and two of Hall's sisters, Lillian and Mrs. Nina Carlton of Amarillo, returned from a fishing trip early yesterday and had started to enter Miss Hall's house when a man was seen in the shrubbery.

Glenn approached, grabbed the prowler, and was felled by pistol shots.

District Attorney Z. D. Allen took a statement, witnessed by newspapermen, from Wells, in which the robbery of C. G. Johnson a block from Miss Hall's home and Glenn's slaying were related.

The statement said Wells hid in the shrubbery after Johnson had been held up, that he was grabbed by the throat and then cried: "Turn me loose. I have a gun and will shoot."

After Glenn was shot, E. F. Hall chased the gunman two blocks, asked a motorist to keep up the hunt and returned to see if others of the party had been injured.

Police opened the search and a half hour later, Police Captain Ed McDonald said, Wells was found lying in an alley with a bullet wound in the heel. Johnson said he fired several shots at the man who fled after the holdup.

Adolf Hitler Told To Go To Hell

CLEVELAND, July 7 (AP)—Adolf Hitler has been told to go to hell with the compliments of the second division association of A.E.F., James L. Sykes of Pittsburgh, president of the association, told members at a banquet here tonight.

The banquet closed the annual reunion of the 62nd company, third battalion, sixth regiment, United States Marine Corps.

The group's charter, Sykes said, was composed at Coblenz, Germany, in May, 1919, during the A.E.F.'s German occupation.

Joachim Von Ribbentrop, Nazi minister of foreign affairs, at the direction of Hitler demanded that the group return its charter to Germany.

"The second division," Sykes wrote in his letter of reply, "has walloped the best divisions of the German army every time it has faced them."

"In answer to your request, you can go to hell. If you want that charter, come over and get it yourself—if you can."

The marines faced the Germans in Belleau Wood in 1918.

528 Persons Killed In Holiday Week-End

(By The Associated Press)

Violent death overtook 528 persons throughout the nation during the long Independence Day week-end.

As the country went back to work today (Monday), it counted among the dead 384 victims of traffic accidents, 14 more than the average for an ordinary Friday, Saturday and Sunday in July.

U. S. Naval Forces Occupy Iceland

WASHINGTON, July 7 (AP)—Forces of the United States navy arrived in Iceland today.

In accordance with an understanding between President Roosevelt and the prime minister of Iceland, naval forces moved in to supplement and eventually replace British forces which have been stationed there to insure the adequate defense of that country.

Mr. Roosevelt informed congress in a special message of this far-reaching step in America's foreign policy.

Mr. Roosevelt said the United States could not permit "the occupation by Germany of strategic positions in the Atlantic to be used as air or naval bases for eventual attack against the western hemisphere."

At the same time, he said this country had no desire to see any change in the present sovereignty of those regions.

Iceland was a sister kingdom of Denmark which eventually became virtually independent except for retaining allegiance to the king of Denmark.

After Germany overran Denmark, Iceland separated the last tie. The United States already has taken similar steps to insure that Germany will not occupy Greenland.

Mr. Roosevelt told congress that occupation of Iceland by Germany would constitute a serious threat in three dimensions:

"The threat against Greenland and the northern portion of the North American continent, including the islands which lie off it.

"The threat against all shipping in the north Atlantic.

"The threat against the steady flow of munitions to Britain—which is a matter of broad policy clearly apparent to the congress."

There was no indication of just what naval forces had moved into the north Atlantic island nor whether they would be supplemented by troops.

Mr. Roosevelt did not indicate, either, whether similar action might be taken against other possible stepping off points for a possible German attack on the western hemisphere.

But he has spoken of dangers which might be inherent in any Nazi control of such points as Dakar on the west coast of Africa and the Cape Verde and Azores islands, which are Portuguese, and the Canary islands, which are Spanish.

Along with his message to congress, Mr. Roosevelt sent to Capitol Hill the text of the letters exchanged between himself and the prime minister of Iceland.

Mr. Roosevelt received a letter from the prime minister on July 1 and replied the same day.

It was in line with an understanding reached in this exchange that the navy went into Iceland.

Peaches And Fresh Vegetables On Food Stamp List

Families in Gray and other Texas counties benefiting from the department of agriculture's food stamp plan can obtain fresh peaches and fresh vegetables during July. These items have been added to the list of surplus foods obtainable.

The Surplus Marketing administration has announced also that fresh grapefruit and apples on the June list have been dropped from the surplus for the current month.

Complete list for July in all stamp plan areas includes: Fresh oranges, fresh peaches, fresh vegetables including potatoes, pork lard, all pork (except that cooked or packed in metal or glass containers), corn meal, shell eggs, dried prunes, raisins, hominy (corn) grits, dry edible beans, wheat flour, and whole wheat (graham) flour.

Fighting Flares On Peru-Ecuador Border

QUITO, Ecuador, July 7 (AP)—A two-day flareup of border fighting and bombing raids between Peru and Ecuador was reported by frontier dispatches to have died down today.

Ecuador charged Peru with political and military aggression in the century-old frontier dispute.

Advices reaching Guayaquil said there had been no fighting since last night, and military officials said Ecuador would send no reinforcements because frontier detachments and local reserves could handle the situation. A medical detachment will be sent to care for the wounded.

The Peruvian press denounced Ecuador for the "aggression" and said Ecuador was trying to start an international scandal in border fighting to present the boundary question as "a problem interesting all the Americas."

Gathering crowds paraded the capital streets, waved Ecuadorian flags and chanted their national anthem in front of a statue of Simon Bolivar, the liberator, as their government ordered the army to hold the southern frontier.

Steadily-mounting reports from the south told of two days of sporadic garrison battles, artillery shelling of frontier towns by Peruvian troops, and Peruvian bomb raids on Ecuador's military outposts.

After a hurried session of President Arroyo Del Rio's cabinet last night, the ministry of defense issued a communique blaming the outbreak on a penetration of Ecuador territory by Peruvian soldiers and civilians, and declaring:

"This action of the Peruvian armed forces, due to the form in which it has been carried out, can not have a merely accidental nature but constitutes an aggression of political character and an attack prepared from the military viewpoint."

AFL Workers Urge Board To Mediate

(By The Associated Press)

Failure of the management and a union at an ammunition plant to settle differences which led to a strike threat gave the defense mediation board an urgent job today.

AFL's Chemical Workers union at the Alton, Ill., plant of the Western Cartridge company asked the board yesterday to take supervision of bargaining negotiations. Fred Olds, AFL organizer, contended the company was stalling, but management spokesman said progress was being made.

Olds said later at a union mass meeting that the workers' representatives were willing to resume negotiations without waiting for the board to act, if the company would bargain in "good faith." There was no immediate indication whether the mediation board would accept the offer.

The union had planned to strike last midnight, but held off when the mediation board persuaded both sides to continue bargaining.

The company holds $8,468,000 of contracts for ammunition, a necessity of war with which President Roosevelt said recently the United States was poorly supplied.

Involved in the dispute are 550 employees of the plant's smokeless powder division. In all, the firm employs 6,500.

The union wants recognition as bargaining agent in the smokeless powder division, a 25 cent increase in the minimum wage of 80 cents an hour plus adjustment in other wage brackets, and a union shop.

Fears of defense officials that there might be another work stoppage in soft coal mines were ended yesterday when CIO's United Mine workers and Southern Mine operators signed a new two year contract.

The contract provides a basic $7 a day wage for 150,000 miners of the area, the same as Northern operators already had agreed to pay. Under contracts which expired in April the pay was $6 in the North and $5.60 in the South. The Southern operators tried vainly to continue the 40 cents a day differential.

While the negotiations were going on Southern miners worked for $6.60 a day. The contract, however, was retroactive to April 1, so each will receive an extra 40 cents for each day worked since then.

Unpaved Streets Rough After Rain

Pampa's unpaved streets are in bad condition but there is nothing the city street department can do about it in station. All available equipment has been used on dry days to smooth the streets but the heavy rains have made them worse.

It has been impossible to pull the dirt out of the ditches to allow water to drain and as a result water has been standing in low areas.

"If we had a couple of weeks of dry weather we could pull the ditches and level the streets," Bush Haggard, street superintendent, said today, "but with rain falling every few days it is impossible for us to get into the ditches."

Marines Reject Whizzer

DENVER, July 7 (AP)—Byron (Whizzer) White, Colorado All-America football star who played with the Detroit Lions professional football team, volunteered for enlistment with the marine corps but was rejected because of color blindness, the marine corps recruiting office disclosed today.

FDR PLEDGES WORK AND LIVES

Rotarians To Hold District Meet Here

The new district governor of Rotary International, 127th district, will vary the schedule of the annual district assembly by having three instead of one of these meetings. Pampa will be the location for one of the sessions, to be held from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., July 23, at which Cal Farley, of Amarillo, newly-elected district governor, will preside.

Perry Everett Of McLean Air Corps Sergeant

Visiting his parents and friends in McLean now during a 20-day furlough is Sergeant Perry Everett, Jr., 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Everett of McLean. He arrived in McLean June 25.

Sergeant Everett has just completed a 22-week course in airplane mechanics at the air corps technical school, Chanute field, Rantoul, Ill. He was sent to Chanute from Randolph and will return to the "West Point of the Air" on July 14.

Every two weeks a new class is organized at Chanute. There were several from Randolph at the Illinois school.

Perry Everett graduated from McLean high school in 1936. On November 4, 1939, he enlisted at Amarillo in the U. S. army, sent to El Paso, and later to Fort Sam Houston and Randolph field. He was in the 3rd radio intelligence company at Fort Sam Houston. His present outfit is the 45th school squadron, Randolph field.

Courthouse Trees Ruined By Storm

Cracks made in the trees by the ice storm of last winter cost the court house lawn two of its finest trees in the heavy rainstorm Saturday.

In that is the theory of Lee Harris, courthouse custodian, as Pampans commented on the two umbrella catalpa trees, which the storm Saturday slashed ruthlessly.

All of the limbs of one of the trees were splintered and put on the ground, although only one was broken off entirely. Two of the limbs on the other tree were smashed.

Replacing of the trees will not be done until autumn, Mr. Harris said, as it would run up too much of the lawn to dig them up now.

General Gets Riled Up At Remarks Of Passing Soldiers

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 7 (AP)—Boisterous greetings to shortsleaved girl golfers brought some 1,200 soldiers back along a hot, 150-mile trail to Memphis today to make amends to their general.

Several units of the 35th division passed through Memphis yesterday en route back to Camp Robinson, Ark., after participating in Tennessee war games.

Lieutenant General Ben Lear, second army commander, was going to a Memphis course as the troops rolled by. Several girls clad in shorts also were playing and called to them, setting off a noisy demonstration.

General Lear, army sources said, considered the troops conduct "a severe breach of discipline" and immediately stopped the column, remonstrated with the officers and directed that the convoy be allowed to continue to Camp Robinson and then be sent back here at once.

The soldiers had no sooner reached camp last night than they were ordered to re-fuel and about-face to Memphis.

It was understood that the column and its officers would face General Lear here this afternoon for possible further disciplinary action.

Campaign For Aluminum Being Planned

Patriotic residents of this community will be given an opportunity to aid national defense by contributing scrap aluminum.

State Rep. Ennis Favors, as the highest elected official of this area now living here, has been named chairman of the aluminum collection campaign which will take place during this month. A house-to-house canvass is scheduled.

Bins for containing the scrap will be constructed on the city hall lawn. It is hoped that every person in Pampa will contribute one aluminum article.

The Defense Guard, Boy Scouts, veterans' organizations and all service and social clubs will be asked to cooperate in collecting the aluminum. The office of production management, William S. Knudsen, director general, has requested, P. H. Guardia in his capacity as director of the office of Civilian Defense to help remedy a temporary shortage of aluminum in national defense production by conducting a nationwide campaign for donations of used aluminumware.

The campaign is now being conducted all over the nation under the point direction of the office of production management and office of civilian defense.

The government is arranging for sufficient aluminum production to meet defense needs. In the meantime, scrap aluminum in large volume is required to prevent a slow down in the defense program. Aluminum so salvaged, after proper treatment can be used for defense purposes, and will also be used to free new aluminum for airplanes.

By virtue of a priorities order effective June 10, no aluminum so collected may be used for non-defense purposes.

Under direction of state, county and municipal governments and the defense council of the District of Columbia, an attempt will be made to canvass every house in the nation to ask housewives to donate their aluminumware which can be spared without replacement.

Wyand 'Delighted' With 'Friendliness' Of Pampa People

Texas is the 39th state in which the Rev. Fred B. Wyand, Williamson, W. Va., minister, has preached. The Rev. Wyand preached his first sermon in the state here yesterday at the First Methodist church. He and the Rev. W. M. Pearce, regular pastor, are exchanging pulpits for the month.

Asked if he liked Texas and what he thought of the geography of the country, the Rev. Wyand said: "Of course, to really know the state, one has to see it, but I think Texas has everything. I am delighted with the friendliness of the people, and with the weather."

He attended the Anvil Park rodeo at Canadian and said it was "pretty good."

"What I have seen of Texas, I really like," the minister said, "I like the open spaces of this part of the state."

The Rev. Wyand, who is a Kiwanian and a World War veteran, has preached in Kirksville, Ontario, Canada, and the following states: West Virginia, Illinois, Wyoming, Minnesota, Maryland, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, Montana, New York, Washington, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, North Carolina, Georgia, Florida, and Ohio.

Water Runs Over Spillway At Lake McClellan First Time

Lake McClellan is full of water for the first time since its construction. Water started running over the spillway yesterday following the heavy rain Saturday night.

Water was still pouring into the lake this morning and the stream of water running over the spillway, which was only a few feet in width at first, is widening until nearly half the spillway is under several inches of water.

Hitler Silent; Million Killed And Wounded, Say Reds

(By The Associated Press)

A Russian spokesman said late today that Adolf Hitler's invasion armies had lost nearly 1,000,000 men in dead and wounded in 16 days of blitzkrieg attack, and a Moscow communique declared Soviet Red troops had stemmed the Nazi onslaught along the entire front.

The Soviet spokesman, Vice-Commissar of Foreign Affairs S. A. Lozovsky, estimated German casualties in the first 12 days at 700,000 and said the Germans' daily average loss was 60,000.

Lozovsky said the fighting was growing in fierceness, but that Russia felt no lack of manpower.

Previously, the Russians had estimated about 2,500,000 troops were thrown into the original attack on the U. S. S. R. frontier.

Meanwhile, Hitler's high command was silent on reports that Nazi columns had "broken" the Stalin line—presumably in the Ukraine sector.

The official German news agency said Nazi troops in two weeks' fighting had captured nearly all the territory Russia acquired since Sept. 1, 1939—including the western Ukraine, Western White Russia, Bessarabia, northern Bucovina, Lithuania and Latvia.

Altogether, the news agency said, the seized territory is larger than the Germany of the Treaty of Versailles or about 182,000 square miles.

A Moscow bulletin said Russian defenders had driven the Germans back in five key sectors of the 2,000-mile battlefront.

The Soviet high command said Russian troops had seized the offensive in heavy fighting from the Baltic to the Black sea, smashing the Germans along the Berzina river and hurling back a Nazi drive aimed at the north flank of the Stalin line.

DNB (official German news agency) asserted German troops had "broken" the line, which runs 75 miles deep in some places. No details were given.

Equally vague, the Berlin radio said German columns had pierced the line at several points.

The Russians reiterated officially that the Germans were using wood-and-canvass tanks to pad out their panzer columns, described as self-propelling and carrying machine guns.

Red army scouts, it was said, discovered the subterfuge when they stopped a Nazi tank column moving up to the front and noted with amazement that "the body of one of the tanks unexpectedly ebbed in under the pressure of the elbow of an officer who leaped aboard it."

In the column, the Russians said, only one of the 20 tanks were genuine.

The German high command said Axis troops had captured Cernautin, capital of Sovietized Bucovina, in a drive toward the Russian Ukraine. Rumanian and Hungarian troops, allies of Germany, were declared to have reached the outer Dnepr river, while in nearby Bessarabia, German-Rumanian forces were reported "in a progressive advance" after repulsing Soviet counter-attacks.

By contrast, a Red army bulletin said that in the Bessarabian sector "the enemy, suffering very heavy losses, was thrown back to his previous position."

A Moscow communique, proclaiming success everywhere for the Red armies, declared heavy losses had blunted the German drive to the east, and that German attempts to cross the Dnepr river near Brobrusk, on the central front, had been repelled violently.

Describing bitter fighting along a river—apparently the Berzina—a Soviet communique declared the Germans threw fresh reserves into the battle and "crossed to our shore at a cost of tremendous sacrifices."

Counter-attacks with bayonets, Russian troops "threw the German Fascists back across the river, inflicting heavy casualties," the communique said.

"The bodies of several thousand Fascist soldiers remained on the field of battle, and many more perished in the river."

Native State Societies To Meet This Week

To make plans for the club's participation in the All-States Labor Day picnic to be held here September 1, members of the West Virginia club will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the district court room.

Natives of Virginia are asked to meet with the West Virginians, as natives of Wisconsin will be guests of the Michigan club at 8 p. m. July 10, at Patrick's; and Nebraskans will be guests of Missourians at a meeting to be held Friday in the district court room.

Texans will hold their meeting Thursday night.

Kansans are to meet tomorrow night in the county court room.

A committee of the Missouri club is to meet tonight to plan Thursday's meeting. Mrs. D. V. Burdon, Missouri club vice-president, will be in charge of the committee meeting tonight.

Other state club meetings scheduled: Pennsylvania, July 11, county court room; Ohio, July 18, district court room; Illinois, July 14, Knotty Pine Inn; Iowa and Colorado, July 17, district court room; Arkansas, July 11, district court room.

W. R. Frazee, general chairman of the picnic, said that it was the aim to have every state represented in the picnic.

"Not every state club could build floats for the Fiesta but all can bring baskets to the picnic," he said.

U. S. Stake In Asia Can't Be Abandoned, Says Paul McNutt

WASHINGTON, July 7 (AP)—Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt said today that America's stake in Asia was "far too real" to be abandoned "in order to appease the political machine which now happens to be in power in Tokyo."

His address, emphasis in serving notice that this country would resist any Japanese attempt to raise a military barrier between America and the Far East, was prepared for exercises of the Washington Chinese colony in observance of the fourth anniversary of the outbreak of Sino-Japanese fighting.

McNutt warned that a German conquest of Russia might bring Japan into outright military collaboration with the Axis, and declared China and the United States must take action now to prevent the "unification of the totalitarian battlefront" across all Europe and Asia.

"The time has come to act," he said. "Events have come to a head. They have brought us into a new unity. China and America must each shoulder its fair share in putting down this 'old disorder' which seeks to subjugate the free people of the world."

MONTGOMERY WARD

MATCH-MAKING CLOTHES WILL MAKE WEEKEND COMPLETE

The "mix-and-match" wardrobes are becoming increasingly popular with summer weekenders and vacationists. Instead of trying to assemble shorts, slacks, shirts and separate skirts which harmonize with one another, many a shopper is buying sports clothes which have been designed to go together, matched by experts for fool-proof mixing.

The wardrobe shown above, for instance, of featherweight ticking denim, in midly blue and midly blue and white stripes, includes solid blue slacks and skirt, striped shorts and jacket. Also included are a flared, striped skirt and jerkin, striped overalls and sailor jacket. The striped pieces can be switched around to suit the owner's whim of the moment.

Incidentally, one of the smartest mix-and-match weekend wardrobes includes dinner clothes as well as travel and sports togs. It's of silk shantung and consists of a skirt and tailored jacket, shorts, shirt, halter top and floor-length skirt. You can travel in the skirt and jacket, of course. And these two pieces, plus the other four, will see you nicely through any weekend at anybody's country house or terrace apartment in the city.

Accessories For Living Room Topic Of Wayside HD Club

Wayside Home Demonstration club members met recently in the home of Mrs. Billie Greene to discuss "Accessories for the Living Room," with Mrs. Julia Kelley leading the discussion.

Mrs. Kelley pointed out that the members must work and plan to make their homes more attractive for their families. Foot stools add to the comfort as well as pillows, small tables close to chairs, divans, book ends, magazine holders, shelves for books and what-nots, pot plants, scarfs, chair protectors and slip covers to cover worn furniture or for protection to new.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served to Mrs. Dye, a guest, and Mrs. L. Taylor, R. R. House, Julia E. Kelley, J. S. Fuqua, W. F. Taylor, Wood Osborne, Norman Walberg, Lowell Osborne, and the hostess.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. H. B. Taylor, Jr., on July 11 at 3 o'clock.

Monthly Group Meetings Held By Women's Council

Women's Council of First Christian church met in groups recently beginning the new year's study on "Christianity and Democracy in America."

Mrs. Frank Meers was hostess to groups in the home of Mrs. Walter Nelson. Mrs. I. S. Marlin, group leader, presided over the business session. Mrs. E. E. Elkins, who gave the devotional, presented the lesson study, assisted by Mrs. Marlin, A. A. Tiemann, and Tom Bunting. Eleven members and one new member, Mrs. J. B. Mayes, attended. The next meeting will be a breakfast at the church, with Mrs. Jessie Sowers presenting the lesson.

Mrs. Ben Garber, new leader of group two, was hostess and presided over the business session, during which announcements were made that Mr. and Mrs. Chase, missionaries, would speak in the church July 19. Also that while doing summer canning, members would set aside a few cans for the orphanage at Dallas. Mrs. Claude Lard gave a preview of the year's study and led the lesson, assisted by Mrs. Roy McMullen. Mrs. W. L. Parker presented the devotional. Constance Lou Garber and Mr. Finley, who recently moved here from LeFors, played violin duets and Phyllis Ann Parker gave a reading. Thirteen members and three guests were present. A surprise shower for Mrs. Parker, the retiring leader, was presented in a huge firecracker. Mrs. Garber was assisted by her daughter, Constance Lou, in serving refreshments, carrying out a patriotic scheme.

Eleven members and six visitors, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Norris, Mmes. Reagan, Dan Welton, A. L. Randall, and H. Hill of Berger attended the meeting of group three in the home of Mrs. Joe DonCarlos. Mr. Norris conducted the installation of officers. Mrs. Della Hearns presented a program on the recent International Conference of Christian churches at St. Louis, assisted by Mmes. C. L. Thomas, D. V. Burton, Hal Suttle, A. Gilliland and N. A. Purdy.

Mrs. Burl Graham presided over the business session of group five, meeting in the home of Mrs. R. E. Allen. Mrs. Elmer Whipple presented the study outline for the year and the topic for the day, "The Democratic Way of Christian Life." "Christian Imperatives of Democracy" was Mrs. Allen's devotional topic and Mrs. Graham led the lesson discussion. Mary Francis McMullen gave "The Disciples and Democracy" and Phyllis Ann Parker gave two readings, "Panhandle Panorama" and "The Usual Way." Billy Batton played a clarinet solo, "Mighty Like a Rose." Twelve members, two guests, and three children attended this meeting.

85 Killed In Movie Theater In Mexico

GUADALAJARA, Mexico, July 7 (AP)—At least 85 persons were reported killed and 11 injured seriously last night when lightning struck a crowded motion-picture theater, causing the audience to stampede for the exits.

Most of the victims were trampled in the struggle to escape from the building, which caught fire and collapsed. Authorities estimated that 2,000 persons were in the theater when the lightning struck, dealing the midst of a heavy wind and rain storm.

Firemen, police and soldiers aided in removing bodies to the city morgue, which was stormed by several thousand frantic citizens seeking to learn the whereabouts of relatives. Whole families were reported to have perished in some instances.

First accounts said all lights in the theater went out shortly before the lightning struck. The audience was sitting quietly waiting for the show to be resumed when the lightning hit near the stage with a blinding flash.

In the ensuing panic many of those in the balcony leaped over the rail to the first floor in an attempt to escape.

British Sewing Booms—But Needles Are Needed As Steel Must Be Used

There's hardly a woman in Britain today, from Queen to scullery maid, who hasn't taken up sewing. Above, Queen Elizabeth in her parlor, sewing for servicemen, with wives of members of the royal household and women members of the household staff.

By ROSETTE HARGROVE LONDON, July 7.—There's a threatened shortage of sewing needles in Great Britain—a direct result of the war. And once again needles are every British sewing basket.

Needles are made of steel, and steel supplies cannot meet this nation's increased demand for needles of every description. There's a gradual disappearance of razor blades, too, but most women think that's a man's problem.

The war-born sewing boom is due to two reasons: women are making clothes for the forces out of patriotism, and for themselves and their families out of necessity. They are making their own clothes because of reduced incomes and higher prices in ready-to-wear garments. Proof of this is that March fabric sales were up 21 per cent over last year's figures.

Sewing bees have sprung up all over the country, and the more or less private sewing bees of the suburbs are all working like mad.

ORGANIZATION AIDS BOMBED-OUT FAMILIES

Largest non-professional sewing organization is London's War Work-Organization. Maintained entirely by public subscription, its main object is to help British women in straightened circumstances. Workers are given paid employment to make clothes for the different organizations with which the committee is collaborating.

These clothes are then supplied by the London County Council to women and children who have been bombed out of their homes. Several boroughs have made contributions to the workroom's funds, which is maintained by voluntary contribution entirely.

Started over a year ago, under the presidency of Viscountess Mersey, the workroom has since its inception enabled women to earn a little extra money to make ends meet. Presiding over the destinies of the workroom is Lady Hearns, who is tireless in her efforts. "It was she who, right from the beginning, decided that the standard of work should be the highest."

"I wanted every woman and child who was made a recipient of our work to be proud to wear the clothes," she declared. "We are especially particular that every detail should be perfectly finished and the cut as good as in any West End model."

EMPLOYEES HAVE LEARNED A LOT

One of the workers, Miss Liddard, formerly a highly-paid cutter in a large store, has been there since the beginning and only missed a day—when she was bombed out.

Several of the women employed in the workroom told me that they had learned so much since they had joined it that they were making their own as well as their children's clothes. "Better than any ready-to-wear things that we used to buy," they added proudly.

All over England women who, before the war, used to declare that they "had no patience for sewing" are now making quite a few clothes for their families. Others are turning out trunks and boxes stowed away in attics and closets, and tackling transformations they never would have attempted before.

Warden Lawes Of Sing Sing Retiring

OSSING, N. Y. July 7 (AP)—On a bleak winter day 21 years ago an automobile bearing a grim-visaged passenger drove through the grounds of a great cluster of gray buildings on the Hudson river.

It was the Christmas season and although New Year's eve was near, the man in the car was far from gay. He was Lewis E. Lawes and the scene was Sing Sing prison, where he was about to become the new warden.

His mission—to tame the riot-wrecked prison where sometimes there were as many as 20 crush-outs a year—was a tough one, but the tall husky warden fulfilled it. Now, at 57, he is retiring.

Behind him is a record of 36 years of service in New York state penal institutions and 21 years at Sing Sing; ahead of him writing, lecturing and "many causes which have long interested me."

He submitted his resignation Thursday to John A. Lyons, state commissioner of correction, asking that his retirement become effective July 16, when he will be eligible for a pension of $6,000 a year.

In his tenure, he has been responsible for 36,750 prisoners but only two violent escapes occurred.

During part of the Revolutionary War the Liberty Bell was hidden in a church at Allentown, Pa.

Flying Instructor Dies In Car Crash

SAN ANTONIO, July 7 (AP)—Unaware that his parents were lying in a San Antonio undertaking parlor, six-year-old Richard Carroon sobbed out his heart in a hospital today for his pet fox terrier which disappeared from the scene of an automobile wreck that took the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carroon of Tulsa, Okla., south of here Sunday.

The boy was one of three injured, one seriously, in the fatal head-on collision on Highway 66 early Sunday. So great was the grief of the boy for his pet that hospital authorities broadcast a request that the pet, if found, be brought to him.

Richard, who was suffering from contusions of the back, was expected to be released from the hospital today for the trip back to Shelbyville, Ill., the former family home, where funeral services for the parents will be held.

Carroon, 37, civilian flying instructor at the Sparten School of Aeronautics at Tulsa, and Mrs. Carroon, 32, were almost instantly killed in the crash. Mrs. Kingsley F. Poon of Harlandale, a San Antonio suburb, was reported in serious condition in a hospital here today. Her husband, driver of the car which collided with the Carroon machine, was in less serious condition.

M. A. Carroon, of Tyler, Texas, brother of the flying instructor, and who was traveling in another car ahead of the Carroons on a vacation trip, said he would leave with the bodies some time today for Shelbyville, where funeral services are to be held Wednesday.

Cotton Exports At New Low

WASHINGTON, July 7 (AP)—Changes in the government's foreign trade policies on cotton were being urged in some official quarters today as a result of sharp losses in foreign markets, particularly Canada and other countries not cut off by the war.

With cotton exports at the lowest level since Civil War days, some agriculture department officials, particularly those most concerned with cotton production control programs, are urging that the government take more positive steps to hold markets long accustomed to using this country's cotton.

Mrs. Blankenburg Will Represent Kingsmill HD Club

Kingsmill Home Demonstration club members met recently in the home of Mrs. O. G. Smith with Mrs. Nat Lunsford as hostess.

A cake demonstration was given with Mrs. D. L. Lunsford making a red devil food cake and Mrs. Smith, an orange date cake. Mrs. Smith also demonstrated the making of a yellow angel food cake.

The cakes were scored and served with food drinks.

In the business session the group voted to send Mrs. P. F. Blankenburg to the short course at Gilligan Station on July 12.

Attending were Mrs. J. C. Payne, C. P. Bastion, P. F. Blankenburg, J. R. Combs, M. G. David, D. L. Lunsford, C. T. Nicholson, O. G. Smith, Chester Williams, W. H. McBride, H. M. Proper, Nat Lunsford, members; Mrs. H. G. Chandler, a new member; Mrs. Russell Cartwright, Mrs. J. E. Jones, and Miss Fay Walker, visitors.

A farewell handkerchief shower was given as a courtesy to Mrs. David, who will soon move from Pampa.

The next meeting of the club will be held July 22 with Mrs. Chester Williams as hostess.

250 Register At Canadian For Reunion

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
CANADIAN, July 7—Misses Georgine Henson, Charlotte Alice Tubb, and Ruth Studer, grand daughters of pioneers in this section were busy with typewriters registering guests at the old timers' get-together in the Abraham building Saturday. Two hundred and fifty registered during the day.

This is an annual affair one day of the Anvil Park Rodeo. Lunch was served to all those whose residence within four hundred mile radius of Canadian for the requisite number of years to be classed old timers, some of these came here in the 80's, but many were of the generation born here.

Five contested in the old fiddlers match after lunch, Walter Sipes and Mr. Blue tying for first place.

There was a dance for those enjoying the older forms of the art at the Abraham building both Friday and Saturday nights.

The modern dances were held each night in the city auditorium.

Cowmen met here who had not seen each other in many years. Ed Smith used to be a cowhand in this country fifty years ago and hadn't been back in all that time 'til this week. He now has his own ranch on Ute creek over in New Mexico.

Charley Jones, now ranching in Oklahoma, had been away almost as long.

Hon. N. P. Willis, attorney of Pampa, was the distinguished guest speaker for the old timers Saturday noon. Mr. Willis lived in Canadian when a boy and began his practice of the legal profession here.

Mr. Willis is a brilliant speaker and reminisced in a pleasing manner of incidents of his childhood in Old Mobeetie and his boyhood in Canadian.

He told of his father, Judge Frank Willis, deceased, receiving appointment from the governor of Texas, Hon. O. M. Roberts (for whom Roberts county was named), as first district judge of the newly created thirty-fifth district, composed of what is now 25 Texas counties and Green county, Oklahoma. It required three months for the family to travel from their home in Montague county to their new location in Old Mobeetie, in the summer of 1881.

Judge Willis read a roll of pioneers of Hemphill county, now deceased, which included early bankers, merchants and cattlemen. A good many in the audience have been here since the 80's and many more in the 90's.

He closed his address by reciting his poem which begins "Ship west of Kansas City and considerably south..." and is a glowing tribute to the lure of the Texas Panhandle.

HITLER

 16-day-old struggle came from Moscow and Berlin, one thing seemed clear.

Adolf Hitler's invading armies, according to reports edited by the Nazi fuhrer himself, still were fighting mostly on the fringe of the vast Soviet hinterland after battering through Sovietized "buffer" states. A German military commentator admitted frankly the Russians remained at their posts longer than the French did in the 1940 campaign in the west.

LaGuardia Claims Gotham World's New Center Of Fashion

NEW YORK, July 7 (AP)—Mayor F. W. La Guardia, energetically fashion conscious since Hitler took Paris, today proclaimed New York City "the fashion center of the world from now on."

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt assisted the mayor at city hall ceremonies inaugurating a campaign to make the American republics alert to New York creations.

Asserting that a public with taste in dress was necessary to create a fashion center, Mrs. Roosevelt said the Works Progress Administration projects had elevated public taste.

"I am quite sure that WPA projects dealing with art, literature and drama, have helped create a nation than can today say of New York City that it is the fashion center of the universe," she said.

Priest Sets Up Loan Fund, No Handling Charges

KANSAS CITY, July 7 (AP)—Mgr. J. W. Keyes learned several of his parishioners were in financial trouble caused by high interest rates on small loans.

With a personal donation of $5,000 the Catholic clergyman established an agency from which members of his flock may borrow small sums, paying no handling charges—no interest.

In its first week's operation, the agency has made eight loans ranging from $25 to $250.

Hound and Fleas Cause Office Evacuation

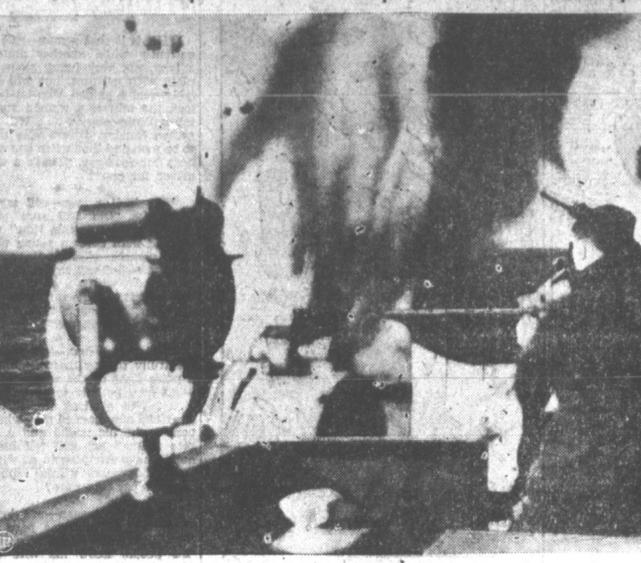

TULSA, Okla., July 7 (AP)—One week after adopting a hungry hound dog, Joseph T. Laney, city purchasing agent, has evacuated his office—temporarily, he hopes.

"First we thought it was the itch," said Laney. "Then we found millions of tiny fleas crawling all over us."

If spraying hasn't cleared the fleas away today, an exterminator will be called in. Meantime, the office will remain evacuated.

The Bible now can be purchased for as small a sum as ten cents.

Numerous Amarilloans Get Soil Payments Of More Than $5,000

WASHINGTON, July 7 (AP)—Farmers and land owners in Texas received more than 9,000 payments of $1,000 or more for agricultural conservation and parity price adjustments in 1939, the Agricultural Adjustment administration told congress today.

The state's figures were included among 43,454 payments reported to congress, under provisions of the A-A requiring submission of names of all persons receiving $1,000 or more.

Additional millions of payments, the A-A said, were made in amounts below the $1,000 figure which must be reported. They included 5,756,240 under the conservation program, and 5,475,000 under the price adjustment program.

New Champion Crowned

In the article below, last in a series, Tommy Fisher, 1940 All-American and International Soap Box Derby champion, tells how he gained the crown last year at Akron—a chance some Pampa boys will have when the national finals are held at Akron on August 17 this year, following the third annual Pampa News-Pampa Lions Club Soap Box derby here on July 17-18. In the picture above Tommy is shown with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Fisher of Detroit, receiving the M.E. Coyle trophy from Mr. Coyle, general manager of Chevrolet.

Soap Box Racing Champion Tells How He Gained Crown

In the articles I have written so far I have tried to tell everything I know about building a Soap Box Derby racer. There were a lot of little details that I had to leave out because if you wanted to tell everything about building a racer it would take a big book.

The only important things that I haven't told Derby car builders is a couple of little secrets that my brother Fred, and myself figured out between us and kept quiet about until after I had won the Detroit News race.

Heavier Oil
 Now every boy who builds a car has his own pet idea that he thinks will make his car a winner and one idea that Fred and I had, I think, really made my car just the tiniest bit faster than Chuck Olmsted. Chuck was the boy who finished second in Detroit and he had a really swell car.

Our idea was to use a heavier oil than we had ever used before in any of our race cars. We tried it out a hundred times on the Derby Hill track and so before the race began, I knew that my car had something that I didn't think any other car had.

In my first two cars that I raced in 1938 and 1939 and in Fred's winning car in 1939, we used a real fine penetrating oil, like kerosene, in our wheels. We thought that was the fastest kind there was.

Then, we were fooling around out at the hill one day and I ran my car down the hill with just regular motor oil in the bearings. The car ran swell and it seemed a lot faster. We timed it with all different kinds of oil in the bearings then and we finally decided to use an oil called "K-V Light."

You can get it in pint cans from the Keystone Lubricating Co., in Philadelphia. It is about the same as S.A.E. 10 motor oil, which you can get at any gasoline station, and I would advise boys to at least give this kind of oil a try. It is really light oil but we called it heavy because it was three times as heavy as the oil we had used in our other racers.

Another thing we did before each heat in Detroit was to clean the wheels out real good with kerosene. In Akron, they don't allow you to do this, so I made some felt pads which fitted over the bearings on the inner side of the wheel and kept the dirt out.

Cleaned Wheels
 You should practice driving your car as much as you can. Fred got to know Wilbur Shaw when he was in Akron in 1939 and that's what Mr. Shaw told him, so I practiced and practiced until I knew exactly what my car would do.

Don't put a lot of fancy stuff on your car. It may make it look prettier but it won't make it faster, and the real idea is to win the race and not a beauty contest.

Another thing that can help you is to really go into training for the race. I went to bed early and was real careful what I ate both before the Detroit and Akron races. You can't drive good if you don't feel good.

Smith Named Chairman Of Bar Directors

William Jarrel Smith of Pampa, president of the Gray County Bar association and 18th district director of the State Bar of Texas for 1940-41, was elected chairman of the board of directors of the State Bar of Texas, at its annual convention, held Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Dallas.

There are 21 directors on the board of the State Bar, each representing a district. The directors hold office for one year, 1941-42.

Gordon Simpson of Tyler, whom Mr. Smith succeeds as chairman of the board, was elected president of the organization, succeeding J.W. Brewster of Temple.

Attending the convention from Gray county were Bud Martin of Wheeler, 31st district attorney; Arthur M. Teed, past secretary-treasurer of the county bar association; County Attorney Joe Gordon; John V. Osborne, and Mr. Smith, all of Pampa.

U. S. Ships Arriving In Middle East At Rate Of One A Day

WASHINGTON, July 7 (AP)—Although Germany has marked part of their route verboten, United States ships bearing lease-land cargoes were reported today to be reaching the British middle east command at the rate of almost one a day.

Deliveries of munitions from tanks to bombers have been accelerated to this schedule in less than 60 months, for it was on May 9 that the Maritime Commission disclosed that arrangements were being made to start the first shipments.

Authoritative officials with knowledge of the lease-land program's progress revealed yesterday that between 20 and 25 American-flag ships were now sailing each month for Egyptian ports via either the Atlantic or Pacific routes to the Red Sea.

This was the first specific information on the subject. It tended to bear out the guarded testimony given to a senate committee recently that a "huge amount" of lease-land material had been shipped to the middle east, to China and to India.

The shipments going to Egypt must pass through a zone in the Red Sea which the Germans have declared an area of active operations in their counter-blockade of British arms. The United States has not recognized the Nazi proclamation of the area, and the American-flag ships apparently have been negotiating it without loss.

HEADS ROTARY

Cal Farley of Amarillo, is the new district governor of the 127th district of Rotary International, which includes Pampa. He will preside at a district assembly to be held here July 23. The new district Rotary chief was born in Saxton, Ia., in 1896, played professional baseball, was second baseman for St. Paul in the American Association in 1922. Before this, however, he was in the A. E. F. won the welterweight wrestling championship at the Interallied Games in Paris in 1919. In 1923, after playing a season with the Amarillo club of the Panhandle-Pecos league, he took over a fire shop and married Miss Mabel Fincher.

Sports broadcasting and boys' work are Farley's principal hobbies. He has been president of the Mavericks, Amarillo club for underprivileged boys, since it was founded in 1933.

Defense Production On Schedule Or Ahead, Says NAM

NEW YORK, July 7 (AP)—Defense production is "on schedule or ahead" throughout the country, according to a survey by the National Association of Manufacturers.

The machine-tool bottleneck of last January has been largely eliminated, but skilled labor and materials still are needed, the association reported yesterday on the basis of telegraphic reports from 16 major industrial areas.

While 63 per cent of the manufacturers queried last January disclosed shortages of machine tools, only 29 per cent named this an obstacle as of last May.

The report put the "extent of the United States commitment to date for defense" at $51,575,000,000 of which $40,889,000,000 is to come from general funds, $7,000,000,000 from the lease-land act and $3,706,000,000 from British orders.

Here is the spending schedule: 1940—$1,584,000,000. 1941—$17,000,000,000. 1942—$23,000,000,000. 1943 and later—$9,991,000,000.

What The Seas Mean To The Earth

Of the whole surface of the earth, more than 70 per cent is water; less than 30 per cent is land. The oceans of the world are its greatest highways. On them, above them, under their surface, move the bulk of the world's vital commerce.

We of the United States, who happen to inhabit one of the greatest and choicest of the world's land masses, often think we are more or less independent of the sea. To Britain, to Scandinavia, to Chile, the sea is the breath of national life. So it was to us in the early days when we were a narrow ribbon of colonies along the Atlantic coast.

The great struggle of 1914-1918 was, in one very important sense, a struggle for control of the sea. With such control in British hands, we felt at least that it was in hands unlikely to oppose our own aims and interests. We saw to it that it remained that way.

Now again control of the sea, present and future, is being contested on a broad scale, with a new element entering—control of the air above the sea. No longer is there any sea control without control of the air above it.

The United States now has every reason to believe that it has the greatest navy in the world. With the new bases in the Atlantic and Pacific when they are completed and equipped with air strength, we should be in an effective defensive position against any single nation.

Unfortunately the world has gone beyond that, for a new technique has sprung up, of international conditions linked by common governmental ideals as well as interests. A coalition of Germany, Italy, France, Japan, and a host of smaller conquered nations is more than a possibility.

Against such a coalition, no country, not even the United States, can build a sea power that will guarantee security. That is why such a coalition must not be allowed to develop.

And that is why the "after-the-war" problem must include some sort of a solution providing that the seas, common property of all the peoples of the world, must be free.

Behind The News

The Pampa News Washington Correspondent: WASHINGTON, July 7.—Of all the headaches in Washington today, the man with perhaps the most thankless job in the whole defense set-up is Leon Henderson, administrator of OPACS, the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply.

All the man has to do is keep the prices of everything, including rents, from getting too high, and protect consumers in their wants after military demands are met. The object of all this is to prevent profiteering and inflation which in the last war ran costs up about $15,000,000,000 more than they should have been and helped bring on the crash.

This sounds noble in purpose if ever anything did but the OPACS theory has run into the hard cold fact that the business conception of keeping prices down is to keep them down on everything except the particular animal, vegetable or mineral kingdom items which the fellow you're dealing with happens to be interested in.

When the idea for OPACS was first announced by the president last April, it was thought that its purposes were so meritorious there would be no trouble securing cooperation of manufacturer and merchant. Consequently, the agency was set up by executive order and without legislative authority.

Common Ground

This column contends there can be no satisfactory progress until we measure the shares of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given equal right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

MRS. ROOSEVELT'S SOLUTION TO WAGE QUESTION? In a recent issue in the Clearing House, Eleanor Roosevelt says, "I think that perhaps the only answer to the wage question is collective bargaining between management and organized labor."

It will be remembered that I offered Mrs. Roosevelt $100, if she would set down an impersonal, universal rule by which wages were to be determined, if they were not to be determined on a free market basis. The above is her answer. She gives no impersonal, universal rule.

She cites no place in history where collective bargaining has been operated successfully for any length of time. Germany and Italy had collective bargaining and they went totalitarian. France had collective bargaining and it did not last. The United States has had more collective bargaining the last few years than any time in its history and it has had more unemployment, and less increase in wealth and more debts than any time in its history.

Collective bargaining, without any impersonal rules, is just force, leads to civil war and eventually to so much poverty and misery that the whole structure collapses. It is nothing but the caste system. Those that are in can keep others out.

Collective Bargain Only Option No union group will make a contract that is a bargain on both sides. Civilization and progress are based on responsible agreements for both parties to the agreement. To insist on collective bargaining, that gives the workers an option to work if they see fit and binds the party to employ them, if they want to work, in preference to anyone else, is to divide our citizens into classes. All citizens who have a right to make a contract, must also be responsible. Collective bargaining of this kind retards the accumulation of capital, gives the man without ability as much to say as the man with ability and thus does not permit each man to reap the fruits of his labor. And to the degree that each man does not reap the fruits of his labor, it is robbed, disheartened and discouraged and loses his initiative.

It is certainly a calamity when people, like Mrs. Roosevelt who poses as being a friend of man, will advocate action without principle. She is advocating the same kind of tactics that Hitler, Stalin and every dictator advocate—force. There can be no peace unless people agree to principles by which they will abide.

It seems if Mrs. Roosevelt has any light on the subject she likes to talk about and is really interested in the welfare of America, she should not put her candle under a bushel. She should let her light shine so that other people would know how to arrive at a fair and just wage. She uses words that are as "sounding brass and a tinkling cymbal."

Certainly if she really knew anything about what she is talking about she would let her light shine.

MY TARIFF FRIENDS

I propounded the question as to whether cows would give more milk if we had tariffs than if we did not, to my two tariff advocates. One of them answered that cows do not have tariffs, they have calves.

The other one said that self-respecting cows would give more milk if they had tariffs. It just shows how advocates of class legislation—which is all that tariffs are—are obliged to divert the question and evade by wise cracks and clever remarks.

Certainly cows would give no more milk if there were tariffs. And it is milk and beef and hides that we want from cows and not dollars. It makes absolutely no difference whether milk sells for a penny a quart or $1 a quart, other than to those who are in debt, if all other things are exchanging on a free market value.

And the country should not be run to make it especially easy for those people who have gone in debt. They have gone in debt for the purpose of making a profit and if their judgment was wrong as to relative values, the whole system of arriving at values by a free market should not be set aside to protect the errors in judgment of people seeking a profit.

The Nation's Press

THE ROOSEVELT BOYS (Chicago Tribune) As commander in chief, Mr. Roosevelt has made each of his four sons a commissioned officer. One is a captain of marines, one is a captain in the air corps, and two are naval ensigns.

James, the marine, has been gallivanting about Europe and the near east, delivering letters. Elliott, the flying captain who doesn't fly in O-Taws on what is described as a mysterious mission. Franklin Jr. is serving on a destroyer and appears to be the only one who is drawing his pay in return for the kind of service expected of a member of the armed services. John "feels strongly against killing," his mother says, and has weak eyes, but he has just been given a post in the naval supply bureau.

What the effect of this nepotism upon the morale of the armed forces may be we do not know, but surely it cannot be beneficial. Hundreds of thousands of Guardsmen and other hundreds of thousands of conscripts are getting their military training the hard way. They draw private's pay, wear private's clothes, and eat what is served at the company mess. Most of them are just as smart and many of them are just as well educated as the Roosevelt boys. It is even possible that many conscripts share John's diversion to killing.

There are a few government economists and thinkers in Washington who say that what the country needs is a good inflationary boom. Let prices rise, they argue. Let's have a good old inflation such as Germany had after the last war. The middle classes may suffer, but it's the only way the government can pay off its debts with cheap money, and in that manner get the country out of the hole. This is held by no few men that they talk about it only in private.

THIS MAY MAKE YOU FEEL BETTER, BUT WE DOUBT IT

Around Hollywood

BY PAUL HARRISON NEA Service Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD, July 7.—Behind the screen: One who'll profit from the Russo-German war is Charlie Chaplin. A Soviet representative immediately bought "The Great Dictator" and he indicated that Stalinland will be wanting many more American pictures than were acceptable before.

Speaking of the big scrap in Eastern Europe, a prominent Hollywood executive tangled his metaphors thus: "The war between the Nazis and the Reds proves that although birds of a feather flock together, sometimes they fall off their perch and lock horns."

Then there was the producer who called in a writer the other day and bawled him out for putting stale phrases into the mouth of a character. The writer insisted that was just the way such a character would talk—in platitudes. "Well, all right," said the producer. "But you better think up some fresh platitudes."

Michele Morgan knows just about all the English words now, but she's still a little hazy about usages. Called her agent Friday and said, "I am going out of town for a day or two. I will be back in a couple of weeks."

After several days of reading in the gossip columns about his romance with Virginia Gilmore, Director Fritz Lang wired his press agent: "Truth may be stranger than fiction but publicity is stranger than either of them."

No mention has been made by her studio of the gift brought to Jeanette MacDonald by a visiting fan. It was a sincere but ill-considered gift—a pair of slippers. For the first time in 10 years, the Redford returns to pictures. She'll repeat her stage role in "Louisiana Purchase." Victor Moore and Vera Zornina are here for the same assignment. Jimmy Stewart has returned to making so well that he automatically says "Yes, sir" to head waiters.

Theater business is fine in London, reports Paramount's manager in England, Dave Ross. Of 5,000 movie houses in England, 4,500 are still operating and four major Hollywood companies are making pictures there. Incidentally, Hollywood has $50,000,000 of assets frozen in England, Australia and New Zealand.

Frank Capra has bought the screen rights to "The Flying Yorkshireman" and expects to direct Charlie Chaplin in it. This would be possible under the new organization of United Artists, which has taken in Capra and David Selznick. Reports continue that Mary Pickford is to become an active producer in the outfit with "Coquette" as her first picture. Katie Hepburn has thought up another story idea and sold it to Metro with her own services as star. This probably will be "Woman of the Year" and seems to be a caricature of Dorothy Thompson.

Our so-called "funny bone" is located at the lower end of the bone known as the "humerus."

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim J. P. and Judy Mathews were plenty aggravated by their unpaved street Saturday night. One of the six cars stuck in the mud on that street after the big rain was that of Judy's father, J. H. Stephenson, of Houston, who with his wife and daughter, Georgie, visited the Mathews last week-end. Well, they tried to pull the car out of the mud but it wouldn't budge, so Mr. Stephenson said he'd just spend the rest of the night in it and avoid wading through the mud and water, and watch the car at the same time. That brought on another problem, because when Mr. Stephenson goes to sleep you couldn't wake him with an air raid. So the next morning they screamed and yelled at him to no avail but he kept on snoring in the locked car. Finally, J. P. was forced to break the window in order to wake him up. . . . But Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson had a lot of fun at the Canadian rodeo, at the lake and other places before they got stuck in the mud.

"Our Town," the play without scenery, written by Thornton Wilder is being produced tonight at Canyon under the direction of Kenneth Carman, who is teaching at West Texas State college this summer. Mr. Carman directed the play here a couple of years ago and the college version is as good as the high school one it is bound to be a good play. . . . I still remember how good Aubrey Green and Carolyn Supfart were in that play.

The Dogcatchers have a Strange Gal who really looks like the character of that name in the comic strip, L'il Abner. She is Betty Lou Leonard, the queen who rode on the Vermonite float in the Fiesta parade. She wore a gold dress, if you remember. Betty Lou is one of the prettiest girls in town. She is a brunette, and she looks enough like Strange Gal to be her twin, and that is a compliment. Both Strange Gal and Daisy Mae walked barefooted in the parade at Canadian, Saturday, over 12 blocks of hot-to-cool bricks, and were they the synosure of all eyes!

Everything went all right in the schoolroom and yet Miss Baker was not giving complete satisfaction as a teacher. The community gatherings, picnics, singings and school programs were inclined to be rowdy. Someone was peddling bootleg whiskey right at the school house. It was a brazen thing to do, to flaunt law and order and decency right under her nose. There were times when she would have liked to talk to Jim Brown about it. After all he was a man of the world. He might know the skunk who had so little respect for the teacher as to sell bootleg at the school house. But her pride forbade her to speak to anyone. She had to find out on her own and deal with the offender.

Shortly before the Christmas holiday Goldie came in the room in a wild state, crying and repeating over and over hysterically, "I won't sell it, I won't, I won't!" "What is it you won't sell, Goldie?" "That bootleg stuff Jim makes." The surprise of Miss Baker's not knowing that Jim was a bootlegger calmed Goldie somewhat. "He makes it every time he comes home and peddles it over in Waurika. I ain't never sold any and I told him I never would. Couple of fellows made a few dollars just now because I wouldn't."

Miss Baker decided that she'd never make a good teacher.

THE LOOKING GLASS

BOARDING THE TEACHER By Stella Hault When she had been hired, Miss Baker asked the board if they knew any family who'd board the teacher. They said she could try Mrs. Montgomery. Mrs. Montgomery lived only a quarter of a mile from the school. She was a sweet generous woman who said she had managed a time or two to keep the teacher. But she had only three rooms, had six children and another on the way. She just couldn't manage this year.

Miss Baker tried a lot of families but nobody wanted to board her. She was pretty discouraged when she saw Jim Brown harnessing up a team. Nobody had told her to go there. She just went up and asked him if he'd keep her. He said it was all right with him if his wife agreed. Goldie, his wife, was a large harassed woman, the mother of a quiet, pretty three year old. She liked the idea of keeping the teacher. It seemed Jim was away on business a lot and Goldie and Nontie would be glad to have company.

So Miss Baker was happy to think that she was wanted in one household after being refused in so many. She had a room all to herself. The plaster on the ceiling was falling. There was an organ with the bellows eaten out by mice. There was a bed, a table and a chair.

Goldie was not friendly woman. She hardly ever spoke. Miss Baker tried to make conversation during meals but it was mostly with Nontie she conversed. Goldie always seemed sad and harassed. When Jim was home he was always in high spirits. It seemed Jim was away on business a lot and Goldie and Nontie would be glad to have company.

WHY is it that a man—will listen patiently while another man tells a long, not very funny story, complete with gestures, but will invariably wear a pained, who-let-her-in? look the minute a woman starts to tell a funny story. . . . Will swear at ten Sunday drivers who happen to be men and then when one woman hogs the road say, "That's a woman driver for you?"

Why is it a man—will say admiringly, "Old Bill sure picked himself a looker this time" when an old man takes a young wife a few months after he becomes a widower—but will say of the middle-aged widow who marries again, "It looks as though she'd have sense enough to know he's just after her money?"

Why is it a man—will listen respectfully to any man's opinion on a prize fight or the world situation—but only politely to any woman's? . . . Will overlook the flirtations or affairs of a married man who happens to be his friend and a "damn nice fellow," but will tell his wife not to have anything to do with the married woman whose reputation isn't 100 per cent pure?

Why is it a man—will brag if he can that he was a poor farm boy, but will stretch a point to let people know his wife came from a well-to-do family? . . . Will keep still when forced to ride with a man he considers the worst driver in the world. But he'll feel free to offer any woman with whom he happens to be riding advice on how to park, inform her that the lights have changed, and give her any other help he can?

Why is it a man—will be impressed with the fine education another man has, but will wonder if there isn't something wrong with the woman who has more than one college degree? . . . Why is it? The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Marked stiffening of Russian resistance to the Nazi invasion and a slowing down of the Hitlerian drive are the outstanding developments at the beginning of the third week of the Russo-German holocaust. Not only has there been a hardening of the Bolshevik defense, but Moscow reports heavy Soviet counter-attacks from north to south along the attenuated battle-line, especially in the crucial center on the bloody Berezina river.

This demonstration that the Reds still possess the power of initiative is a bright spot for Britain and her allies. The fact that the Bolsheviks are able to stage any sort of offensive, after the fortnight of terrific punishment which they have undergone, is proof that their strength for resistance hasn't been shattered. It would be a mistake, however, to jump to the conclusion that the Nazi operations have bogged down. It would be equally unwise to try to form definite conclusions at this juncture as to how much the Moscow covite strength may have been undermined.

There is no doubt that the Communists' fierce opposition has retarded Hitler's invasion in marked degree, and likely will upset the German schedule, which calls for extreme speed. It is even possible that this delay may be the determining factor of the outcome of this titanic struggle.

Still, it must not be overlooked that the Nazi drive would have slowed of its own weight and exertions. The Germans have raced across a vast amount of territory. Not only are their communications extended, but since the human body cannot stand only so much, the Nazi troops must be given a breather. Furthermore, the invaders now being up against the Stalin line, they must slacken their offensive in order to consolidate their position and bring up supplies.

We are on the verge of another phase of one of the greatest, perhaps the greatest, struggles of all time. We must wait to see what happens along the Stalin line before we shall be able to gauge the trend of the conflict closely. Irrespective of whether the Russians can hold that line, they may lay the ground for an ultimate victory if they are able to interpose sufficient strength to turn the blitzkrieg into a war of attrition. As I have remarked before, if Hitler cannot win a quick victory over the Bolsheviks, he will have done himself a vast disservice by undershooting his invasion.

While the Russians are making this fresh stand, the British report a continuation of the heavy bombing of Germany and occupied territory by the Royal Air force. It's a long jump from Germany's industrial Ruhr region to the Berezina river, but the intensified British air attacks represent invaluable assistance for Russia and coordination of the Anglo-Russian efforts against Nazism.

The switching of the Hitlerian air power to the eastern front has presented the British with a grand opportunity. It is a chance which won't occur again, and the outcome of the war will be greatly influenced by the way in which the Allies take advantage of this situation.

MCPARTLAND PITCHES ONE-HIT GAME TO BEAT SLUGGERS 2-0

Oilers Get 10 Hits Off Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, July 7.—One little single stood between John McPartland, Pampa's ace lefthander, and baseball's hall of fame yesterday afternoon when the Pampa Oilers defeated the Wichita Falls Spudders 2 to 0 in the seventh inning.

McPartland gave up one hit in nine innings, a single by Hernandez, middle first baseman, while the Oilers were jumping on Pruitt for 10 hits, including doubles by Emmett Fulenwider and Homer Matney. It was Lou Frierson, however, who led the Oilers attack with three singles on four trips to the plate. Despite their 10 hits, the Oilers got only two runs.

Fulenwider has proved in his two games that he likes being hit by the Oilers. The former Amarillo Gold Star star, who has been in a hitting slump, batted two hits Saturday night and two yesterday afternoon to be hitting at a .500 clip in the two games.

Only three men reached base against McPartland, one on the hit and the other two walks. The big lefthander also whiffed six.

The Oilers scored both their runs in the fourth. Malvia was safe on White's error. Frierson singled and Fulenwider and Matney followed up with doubles which sent Malvia and Frierson across the plate.

The Oilers and Spudders play again tonight and then the Oilers move to Lubbock for two games.

Mullin Reverts To Natural Swing To Join Sluggers In Tiger Outfield

ONLY 23, HE IS NOT YET A POLISHED OUTFIELDER, BUT IMPROVES WITH EACH GAME... HAS SIZE, SPEED AND A POWERFUL ARM...

NEW YORK, June 30.—It turns out that it was totally unnecessary for the Tigers to pay the Browns $25,000 for Rip Radcliff when Henry Greenberg picked up a rifle.

All the Detroiters had to do was to bank on their luck with outfielding sluggers.

It rarely has gone sour on them. Tyrus Raymond Cobb, Wahso Sam Crawford, Bobby Veach, Harry Heilmann, Fats Pothier, Heinie Manush, Barney McCosky and some more, and now—

Patrick Joseph Mullin. Ned Harris, who came up from Beaumont with a higher mark, was given first crack at the vacancy created by Greenberg switching from rounding the bases to doing squads right, but the West Palm Beach blond made mistakes, couldn't throw and wasn't smiling the sphere.

So Mullin, all six feet two and 180 pounds of him, was recalled from Buffalo. They practically haven't gotten him out since.

Buffaloes Beat Shreveport Twice

(By The Associated Press) Houston's pitchers were stingy with easy ones yesterday and the Texas-league-leading Buffs defeated the Shreveport Sports twice, putting the Buffaloes back in their lead in their already huge margin over the clubs.

Freddie Martin, sensational hurler who set a league record of thirteen straight wins before finally losing one, was in top form yesterday by limiting the Sports to four hits for one run in a 3 to 0 shutout in the opener. Carl Doyle gave up only five safe balls as the Buffs took the second game, 6 to 2.

Before one of the largest crowds of the season in Fort Worth, the Cats and the Dallas Rebels fought to a draw. Each took a game, by the identical score, 2 to 1.

Tulsa took the first game of the doubleheader with Oklahoma City, 5 to 4, and the Indians took the second, 4 to 3.

At Beaumont the Exporters swept two games from the San Antonio Missions, 5 to 4 and 5 to 0.

Elmer Riddle Wins Ninth Game With 3-Hit Shutout

(By The Associated Press) A popular or unpopular question a few years back, depending on how many times an hour you heard it, was "Where's Elmer?" A most unpopular question in seven National League cities today is "Who's Elmer?"—and the Cincinnati Reds are the only club which has the answer.

Besides the answer, the Cincinnati Reds also have Elmer—Elmer Riddle, the name is. The department of vital statistics says Elmer was born in Columbus, Ga., that he will be 24 years old July 31, has four brothers, right-handed, weighs 170 pounds, stands 5 feet 11 1/2 inches, began his baseball career with Wausau, (Wis.) of the Northern league in 1936 and is pitching his second season with the Reds.

What the department of vital statistics does not say is that Elmer Riddle is the hottest pitcher in the league who always has been known as a pitchers' league. He has won nine games and hasn't lost any, having achieved No. 9 yesterday with a three-hit 3-0 shutout of the St. Louis Cardinals which dropped the Redbirds three games back of the leading Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Dodgers, taking advantage of this assistance by Riddle and the Reds, got some fine five-hit pitching from their own Kirby Hoge, to top the Boston Braves, 5-2.

Rain also cut short a projected Giant-Phillies double-header after the New Yorkers had won the eighth-inning opener, 7-3.

But in Pittsburgh the weatherman didn't interfere, and the Pirates whipped the Chicago Cubs, 2-1 and 13-4.

In the American league the New York Yankees led the stage, front and center. They drew the year's top crowd of 69,948, which first witnessed a simple and impressive dedication of his teammates' memorial to Lou Gehrig and then saw those mates proceed to take apart the Philadelphia Athletics, 8-4 and 3-1.

Since 40-year-old Ted Lyons was giving the Chicago White Sox a 9-4 triumph over Cleveland, the Yanks' badge on the Indians grew to 3 1/2 games.

The Boston Red Sox posted 6-2 and 4-3 victories over the last-place Washington Senators.

The Detroit Tigers and St. Louis Browns split their double bill. A six-run blast in the fifth and Al Benton's relief pitching gave Detroit the first encounter 7-5, but the Browns got to Dizzy Trout for four runs in six innings and enough to win the second, 5-3.

Babe Hunt Also On Fight Card At Abilene Tonight

ABILENE, July 7 (AP)—Babe Hunt, a transplanted Oklahoman, who won the Texas heavyweight boxing championship, meets young and ambitious Joe Vasquez of Fort Worth tonight in a title bout which is the only highlight of the Abilene sport event is quite worked up.

Also carded was a bout between fat Tony Galento, the very unorthodox fighter, who missed ring glory by a whisker, and Kingfish Levinsky, Chicago's favorite pedler, who fought all the top-fighters with varying success.

But Promoter L. D. Thomas said last night Galento had quarreled with Levinsky and threatened not to enter the ring with him. He said Tony was also disgruntled over references to him in publicity on the fight.

Thomas had called it the "Battle of Bums." He smashed some kind of precedent by announcing he would be surprised if the fans liked the four-fund tussle between these boys whose favorite appellation in speaking of the other is "bum."

"There won't be anything to it," the promoter said bluntly. "But, anyway, the possibility the scrap will go on is what will bring out a goodly portion of the crowd expected tonight."

Hunt, who lives at Lubbock, will go into action at 196 pounds and Vandiver at 202. The bout, in which Hunt's championship will officially be at stake, according to an announcement by the state labor board commissioner, is scheduled for ten rounds.

Steers Troublesome In Canadian Roping Event

CANADIAN, July 7.—Climaxing a wild and woolly three-day celebration, the nineteenth Anvil park rodeo reached its final stages today. A muddy arena slowed the cowboys down to some extent, but in spite of this handicap, fast time was made in a few instances.

Especially troublesome today were the steers, who were unusually difficult to bring down in the single steer roping event, due to the contestants' inability to catch them in the mud holes. Wiley McCray, rodeo clown, thrilled the crowd with his antics, being exceptionally daring in his bare-handed encounters with the Brahma bulls.

Summary of the rodeo winners, high point men in both the three-day money and in the averages, follows: Saddle bronc riding, day money: First, Sylvester Roane of Elk City, Okla.; second, Whitey Stewart of Anadarko, Okla.; third, Andy Curtis of El Reno, Okla.; fourth, Toots South of Canadian; Whitey Stewart was first in the averages.

Wild mule race, day money: First, Hubert Taylor, Jr.; second, Arthur Ivey of Canadian, Tex.; third, Bud Fisher of Shawnee, Okla.

Americans Favorites In All-Star Game Tomorrow

DETROIT, July 7 (AP)—Having taken a severe kicking around for more than a year, the American leaguers are thoroughly tired of it and will be in a determined frame of mind when they tangle with their National league rivals in the ninth annual all-star game at Briggs stadium tomorrow.

It is partly for this reason, no doubt, that the Americans have been established favorites in the betting. They have become the hungry "have-nots," injured of pride, whereas the National leaguers are glutted with victories lately almost to the point of complacency.

Polo Game Washed Out But Scheduled For Next Sunday

Rain washed out the round robin polo match scheduled for yesterday afternoon. Another attempt will be made to play the game next Sunday.

Teams from Pampa, Plainview and Dalhart were to have battled yesterday afternoon with two teams playing one chucker and the third team playing the winner in the second chucker while the loser rested to play the winner of the second chucker in the third round.

Play will begin at 2 o'clock next Sunday afternoon at Recreation park.

Defense Bond Quiz

Q. Has the Government set a quota to be raised through the sales of Defense Saving Bonds?
A. No; there is no quota and no time limit. The Defense Savings program is to be a continuing effort, and both Defense Bonds and Stamps should be purchased steadily and regularly.

Q. Are "Baby Bonds" still available, or have they been replaced by Defense Savings Bonds?
A. The Series E Defense Bond is substantially the same as the previous series popularly known as "Baby Bonds."

NOTE—To purchase Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office or bank, or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C., for an order form.

China Cannot Be Conquered, Says Chinese Minister

MEXICO CITY, July 7 (AP)—Chinese Minister Dr. Ching Kien Tu in a broadcast today to his compatriots living in Mexico said China's resistance to Japan was "playing a vital role in the defense of all democracies, including the Americas."

Speaking in Chinese over a chain of Mexican radio stations on the tenth anniversary of Tokyo's undeclared war against China, he asserted: "The heroic and gallant resistance against our enemy for the past four years has proven China cannot be conquered. Our day of reckoning with our enemy is not far distant. We are manpower crippled and resources exhausted. Japan cannot carry on the fight without outside aid."

COUNTRY CLUB SURPRISE

CHAPTER VII

AT last Farmington had recognized Ann. Slowly, fearfully, as if afraid it might do the wrong thing, it had taken her in. ...

was beside him, his arm was about her shoulders, they were driving through a perfect moonlight, and that was all that mattered. ...

ANN planned for the dance for the occasion. As she sat before her dressing table that night, giving a final touch to her make-up, Sally stood back and surveyed her. ...

"You look lovely. I do believe you get more beautiful every day. And say what you will, this rest has done you a world of good. I hadn't realized how tired you were—how you look as fresh as a spring day." ...

"Which reminds me, I'm taking you to the Country Club, darling, to the opening spring formal. You will get to know everybody you haven't met. There are a lot of members in the smaller towns around and then they invite people from Richmond. It really is quite an affair. After that you won't need to worry about what people are going to say. ...

"I have you and whether you mind likes me or not doesn't make any difference. I cared at first, because she was so snooty and all, but I don't now, because I don't think she would ever like any girl you were interested in. ...

"I'm glad, darling, because I can't change her, but one of these days she'll understand all at once and ask you to tea." ...

"I hope so," she murmured, her eyes dancing. The music had stopped. People were crowding about; men were asking for dances. Ann had never known this kind of dancing, this way of being rushed, had never heard this kind of compliments. ...

At intermission she walked out on the veranda with Ken, clinging to his arm. It was chilly, but she did not even feel the cold as she stood by the porch railing looking out over the rolling fields toward Farmington, twinkling in the distance like a tiny jewel. ...

As Ann and Ken stood a moment at the entrance, watching the scene before them, there was a startled exclamation from a tall, rather handsome, middle-aged man standing in the stagline just a little beyond them. He was staring at Ann. ...

HE rushed toward Ann, catching her by the shoulders, peering into her face. She had a glimpse of dark blue eyes, straight, good-looking features, black hair sprinkled liberally with gray, but she couldn't think for he was flinging words at her. ...

"You're lovely, sweet." He caught her as she reached the last step. "Lovelier than I've ever seen you. Everybody will be crazy about you." ...

The car sped over the highway, into the Country Club driveway. The echo of laughter floated out from the clubhouse, the music of an orchestra, gay voices. So this was Farmington's society at play. ...

"I'm Jenn Ann Marshall." Anna found words at last. "But why? Who are you?" "I'm John Marshall from Richmond. I—I think I must be your father," he said. (To Be Continued)

The Canadian river has been high, especially so Friday afternoon, and Mr. Carter observed the swirling water as he rode across the river bridge. ...

His listeners expressed astonishment that a river of quicksand which is often nearly dry in summer time could support fish. ...

Mr. Carter said he remembered back when the river didn't dry up entirely, it hadn't washed off hay meadows and spread over adjoining pasture lands as it has been doing for some time. ...

He remembers catching quite large channel cats, big speckled fishes, many of them in a day. ...

Mr. Carter said it was in the early 1900s that the water sank away or evaporated, leaving the river mostly a dry sand bed and that he recalls some occasions when the receding water had left pools here and there, instead of a running stream, that one might fish with a shovel, the fish making a last stand, as it were, in these deep pools, usually near a bridge pier. ...

No doubt the boy who fished with a bent pin on a pole he cut with his pocket knife, in creeks and water holes, had as much pleasure in the effort and results as the sportsman today with modern equipment. ...

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, July 7. (AP)—A little better than a month ago, plus a slight touch of inflationary pressure, today helped the stock market to its best forward push in about a month.

The start in much better dealings than witnessed since the early part of June. At the top of the move, which came after mid-day, gains ranged from 1 to 4 or so points. Closing prices were at or near the peaks in most cases. Transfers were around 800,000 shares.

Peppercorn again was one of the liveliest in the basic list, jumping to another new high. Others prominent on the run-up were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Crucible Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Eastman Kodak, J. I. Case, International Harvester, Santa Fe Southern Railway, Chrysler, General Motors, Douglas Aircraft, U. S. Gypsum, Standard Oil (NJ), Du Pont, Montgomery Ward and Johns-Manville.

Secondary loans were out in front of a general leading bond department. Chicago wheat finished with advances of 1/4 to 3/8 cents a bushel and corn was up 1/4 to 3/8. Cotton futures held improvement of $1.30 to $1.45 a bale.

JOHN LAWS to the DEFENSE!

FBI Mobilizes Local 'John Laws' In Great National Defense Police Force

By PETER EDSON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, July 7.—J. Edgar Hoover's Federal Bureau of Investigation will spend some $16,000,000 on crime prevention and apprehension in the next twelve months, and over half of it will be for national defense work.

FBI, of course, is not the only agency that's concerned with policing the defense effort. Army and Navy have their own intelligence services and under recent Congressional authorizations, will set up their own guard, part from the regular army and marine corps work, to insure uninterrupted production of materials for the 43,000 factories working on rearmament orders. And outside the federal forces, every state county and city police organization has its own local problems of protecting defense. Under presidential order, however, early in the emergency the FBI was designated as the agency to coordinate all the civilian intelligence and national defense investigations, and from that order has sprung an amazing growth of new investigative activity.

Checks on the registration of agents or foreign governments. Investigation of alien employment in aircraft plants. Investigation of all cases involving espionage and sabotage. The making of plant surveys for defense industries.

Violations of customs laws, smuggling, passports and visas. Handling of cases where service registration investigations.

BUREAU WORKING ON OVER 100,000 CASES

Those are but a few of the crimes against defense. In 1939 there were 1600 cases in those categories requiring FBI attention. In 1940 there were 16,000. Today the FBI has over 100,000 matters under investigation including National Defense cases.

To handle this job, the FBI has a staff of 5330. Over 200 are agents, the others being clerks, fingerprint experts, laboratory technicians. The payroll is $12,000,000 a year, $4,000,000 going for expenses, the biggest item being for travel, $2,000,000 or about $1000 a year for each agent.

Headquarters of the organization are, as the world well knows, in the big, seven-story Department of Justice Building, covering a city block in downtown Washington. FBI takes a third of this space, overflows into other buildings in the District, and would like still more floor space for its expanding activities.

Nearly 2000 employees are in Washington alone. That includes only about 100 special agents, but the 1200 clerks in the fingerprint identification division are working on three shifts to keep out of each other's way.

In the field, in 54 branch offices, including Juneau, Alaska, Honolulu, Hawaii and San Juan, Puerto Rico, are the 200 agents who do the work. At the present time they have on their hands about 12,000 assignments, two-thirds of them now being national defense matters.

NATION'S POLICE ARE COOPERATING

Staggering as are these figures as to the size and activities of the FBI today, Director Hoover would be the last one to call this a National Police Force. In fact, he says the country doesn't need one.

But with defense activities assuming a constantly increasing share of the nation's attention, the need has been apparent for a closer coordination of all the state, county and municipal police work, and out of that has grown the FBI plan for Law Enforcement Officers' National Defense Mobilization.

The whole mobilization plan has been developed on a voluntary basis. Nobody has to sign up and no pressure is exerted to get any of the 150,000 John Laws now wearing badges to line up with the FBI in handling actual defense work.

While the FBI mobilization plan really embraces the rank and file law enforcement men, it is the chiefs of some 8000 local police forces—the sheriffs and the heads of state police organizations—who have been given the opportunity to sign a National Defense Pledge which automatically recruits these police heads and their organizations in active aid to the defense mobilization.

FBI EXERCISES NO COMPULSION

When the police head signs the pledge to defend the Constitution and the United States against all enemies, and safeguard the internal security and defense of the nation, he certifies that he is a cooperating officer and his name is placed on file at FBI headquarters in Washington. There is no compulsion to take orders or to assist the FBI. It is, as the FBI head points out, the democratic way of doing the defense police job. Incidentally, it tends to nullify any of the suspicion on the part of the local police officers that the FBI is trying to take over the national police job.

The whole idea for the plan is really an outgrowth of the President's request to all law enforcement officers, at the beginning of the emergency, asking them to clear all information on espionage and sabotage through the Department of Justice and the FBI.

Out of that grew a plan for a series of quarterly conferences with local police officials, a broadening of the training program of the National Police Academy and of the annual retraining sessions for local police officers, with special emphasis on the current problems of national defense.

Since the inception of this FBI retraining session, these grades and the course to the local community was inaugurated. In the last year, 421 of these local schools were held, and so successful were they that the plan was extended to provide for quarterly sessions of regional conferences on national defense. In the first quarter of this year, over 8000 local officials from some 4000 police

Pennsylvania Has Oil Boom

BRADFORD, Pa., July 7. (AP)—There's resurgence today in Pennsylvania's oil fields—the oldest in the world—in answer to demands of mechanized warfare.

Apparently doomed to slow death by vast production of western fields and depression-decline of Pennsylvania grade crude prices, fields hereabouts took on new life when war flared.

Oil wells—some dating back almost to the birth of the petroleum industry—were cleaned out and new wells sunk to add to the flow of "black gold" sorely needed by defense machines of America and other democracies.

Prior to the sudden upsurge, Pennsylvania crude prices dropped from a first World War high of $6.10 per barrel to a depression low of $1.68, making it too expensive to operate any but the best producing wells.

Now Pennsylvania oil commands a price of $2.75 per barrel, a figure which makes it feasible to start some of the old workings along with drilling of new wells.

Since hitting a low of 184 wells drilled in 1940, drilling in the Bradford area has advanced steadily. Repressing activities, by which production of old wells is stepped up, also have shown advance.

For the week ended June 28, output in the Bradford area was 38,081 barrels daily or more than half the $4,100-barrel daily production of Pennsylvania grade crude fields which extend into New York, West Virginia and south eastern Ohio.

Tydings Fights Single-Handedly Against Jackson

WASHINGTON, July 7. (AP)—Senator Tydings (D-Md.) fought single-handedly today against Senate confirmation of Attorney General Robert H. Jackson as an associate justice of the supreme court, but leaders predicted the appointment would be approved overwhelmingly.

Before the judiciary committee last week, Tydings argued that Jackson was unfitted "by character, philosophy or judicial temperament" to be a member of the high court. The committee, however, approved the nomination unanimously.

The Maryland senator argued that Jackson should have been prosecuted for criminal libel Drew Pearson and Robert Allen, Washington columnists, after they made radio statements in 1939 that Tydings had obtained work relief labor for construction of a road and a yacht basin on his private estate.

Jackson replied that where civil courts remedies were available, he believed that criminal prosecutions of the character proposed might "constitute harassment not consistent with our support of freedom of the press."

The Jackson nomination was the only business before the senate this week. The house idled today on minor legislation, but prepared to take up tomorrow a bill requiring deferment from the draft of all men who reached the age of 28 on July 1. The bill also would make it illegal to interfere with any person who wished to return to work in a

Wheat Cutting In Pampa Area Delayed

Saturday night downpour played havoc with wheat cutting in this section of the Panhandle.

Farmers reported today that it will be several days before they will be able to get into their fields, particularly in the area east of Pampa, where several heavy rains have fallen during the past week.

North and west of Pampa, where the rainfall has been lighter, farmers may be able to cut again by Wednesday but east and south it may be the latter part of the week or the first of next week before harvesting can be resumed, farmers said today.

Some farmers east of Pampa have not been able to get into their fields yet while others have been using two tractors to pull a combine.

The rain and wind Saturday night flattened wheat and harvesting will be difficult. Many farmers say they will be able to cut only one way of their fields because the grain is so flat.

strike-bound plant if the President had declared the plant necessary to national defense.

Girl, 7, Dies In Car Accident In Louisiana

LOGANSPORT, La., July 7. (AP)—Jaqueline Russell, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Russell of Logansport, was instantly killed this morning at 8 o'clock, when struck by an automobile on the Shreveport highway one mile north of town.

The car was driven by A. B. Cornburn of Vivian, who made every effort to avoid striking the little girl as she darted across the highway directly in front of his automobile. She had been standing beside the highway with her mother.

The female firefly has a much brighter light than the male.
