That Asks Location Of Voting Boxes In Election Saturday

FINLAND REPORTED TO BE FIGHTING RUSSIA

Judges To Be Ones Named Last April

Mann, O'Daniel Favored To Lead Ticket Here

Deadline for casting absentee ballots in the United States senatorial race is tonight, County Clerk Charlie That warned today. Tomorrow will be too late for those who will be absent from the city on Saturday, which is election day.

Election judges appointed by the commissioners court in April will conduct the election but the judges have not yet notified the county clerk where their voting boxes will be located. He has asked that location of voting boxes be furnished him immediately.

Voting will be allowed from 8 a. m. until 7 p. m. Eligible to vote will be anyone in possession of a poll tax or exemption receipt.

Business houses selling beer, wine and liquor will not have to close on election day, according to a recent ruling by the attorney general's department.

Twenty-three names will appear on the ballot.

Election judges in Gray county will be:

R. W. McDonald, precinct 1; Charlie Burton, precinct 2; Morris Knorpp, precinct 3; W. J. Ball, precinct 4; D. M. Davis, precinct 5; Ern Jones, precinct 6; Jess Goad, precinct 7; Ernest Vandenberg, precinct 8; L. R. Taylor, precinct 9; Bert Curry, precinct 10; L. R. Frank, precinct 11; Irving Cole, precinct 12; C. O. Gilbert, precinct 13; N. M. Kite, precinct 14; George Briggs, precinct 15; J. R. Posey, precinct 16; T. J. Coffee, precinct 17.

The senatorial race in Gray county warmed up considerably this week when Governor O'Daniel and Congressman Lyndon Johnson visited the Panhandle, but not Pampa. Gerald Mann is the only man to date who has visited Pampa. Johnson was scheduled to speak here, but if he was here nobody The News could contact knew about it. Both candidates spoke in Amarillo the first of the week.

Gerald Mann is still leading the field in Gray county, according to a poll of voters and a survey of stickers, although more O'Daniel stickers are blooming daily. Pollster observers say that if you can get a man to put a candidate's sticker in his car you can bet that he will support that candidate. Mann stickers here out-number O'Daniel stickers two to one, although the O'Daniel stickers are increasing daily.

It is the general opinion here that Mann will lead the county, trailed closely by O'Daniel, and that O'Daniel will be elected second.

Only 2,246 poll tax receipts were issued in Gray county this year. Exemptions will bring the county's voting strength to about 2,500 it is estimated.

The vote in the county Saturday is expected to be between 1,500 and 2,000.

Harrison Rites Held

GULFPORT, Miss., June 25 (AP)—High and low in Mississippi's public life joined national leaders for the funeral here today of Senator Pat Harrison, who rose from newspaper carrier to president pro tempore of the United States Senate.

The funeral train bearing the body of Senator Harrison, who died in Washington Sunday following an abdominal operation, arrived early today.

Late News

HELSINKI, June 25 (AP)—Finland's government will tell parliament in an emergency session tonight what measures the nation will take "against Soviet aggression," it was authoritatively stated late today. In Berlin an authorized spokesman said Finland had already declared a state of war with Russia.

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator, announced today he is considering a loan to the British government.

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—The Columbia Broadcasting System reported it had been informed by its Stockholm correspondent that Sweden had announced officially she had granted the right of transit to a definite number of German troops from Norway to Finland.

LONDON, June 25 (AP)—Reuters (British news agency) reported in a Jerusalem dispatch that 30 persons were killed and many injured today when planes bombed Damascus, now held by the Free French and British. Reuters said the planes were German.

Panhandle Gigantic Sea Of Mud Today

AMARILLO, June 25 (AP)—The Texas Panhandle, ordinarily at this season beginning to bristle with harvest activity, today is a gigantic sea of mud.

Grain fields which a few weeks ago gave promise of one of the best yields in years, were water logged. Rains that fell during the first half of June cut the Panhandle's expected harvest from about 38,000,000 bushels to approximately 31,000,000 bushels, the U. S. crop reporting service estimated. The reduction was caused by wind and rust that accompanies the unseasonable wet period.

Furthermore the weather man gives little promise of cessation of the precipitation. Last night's rain was general over the whole area ranging from showers to a four-inch cloudburst at Adrian west of Amarillo.

The picture of the ranchers is just the reverse to that of the grain growers. Ranges are landscaped with deep green forage and brimming tanks. Cattle over the entire section are sleek and well-rounded.

Bomb Sight Workers Vote To Strike July 1

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—In a move that would tie up production of such important defense implements as bomb sights and automatic pilots, 5,000 employees of the Sperry Gyroscopes company voted last night to strike July 1.

Black Rust Causes Heavy Wheat Damage

AUSTIN, June 25 (AP)—Farmers took advantage of several days of sunny weather to catch up on harvesting small grains, planting and cultivating of row crops, the United States department of agriculture service reported today.

Further delays had been caused by heavy general rains at the beginning of last week. In most of the western two-thirds of the state operations were continued, but rains checked progress in the eastern third, from the lower valley to the Red river valley, the survey showed.

The full extent of black stem rust infestation of wheat became apparent when heavy rains and wind caused the weakened straw to break down. As soon as it was possible to enter the fields of wheat, oats and barley, harvest was begun and pushed as rapidly as possible.

Wheat yields were severely reduced in some areas and the quality was much lower than had been anticipated. In the south Panhandle harvest was expected to start this week, with combining to be general in the entire Panhandle by July 1.

Yields of barley were very heavy. Yields of oats varied from fair in central Texas to heavy in the north-west. About 20 per cent of the rice acreage remained to be planted; that already planted was doing well, the marketing service declared.

Tractors were running long shifts everywhere possible to prepare plant or replant the remainder of the corn, sorghum, sudan and peanut acreage and to cultivate fields badly in need of working.

Floods destroyed considerable acreage of row crops in north and east Texas, and it was feared it would be too late for replanting when the bottom lands could be reached again, the report asserted.

Earlier corn made good progress, except in east Texas where moisture was excessive. Grain sorghums were maturing in south Texas. Loss of hay was reported from many areas due to heavy rains.

Floods Paralyze Traffic In Mexico

BOCAS, San Luis Potosi, Mexico, June 25 (AP)—Service on the mainline of the National railways between here and Laredo, Texas, was suspended by emergency repairs early today after flood waters paralyzed traffic.

Mine Owners Expected To Sign Contract

(By The Associated Press) Strategists of the CIO United Mine Workers appeared confident today that southern Appalachian yards and producers would accept the union's proffered two-year labor contract before a July 7 deadline, and thereby avert a threatened tie-up of the mines.

After the UMW policy committee served notice yesterday of the deadline, John L. Lewis, miners' chief, told reporters 12 of the 73 operators' associations which make up the southern producers war conference had "acquiesced" in the contract, with only the Harlan County (Ky.) Coal Operators' association declining to meet the union's terms.

In general, the contract offered the southern mines was the same as signed last week by northern operators. Both provide for basic wage scales of $7 a day—an increase of $1 in the north, and $1.40 in the south.

The 140,000 southern miners produce about 150,000,000 tons of coal a year.

Eleven San Francisco Bay shippers continued to be seriously hampered by a strike of AFL and CIO machinists, but some hope of speedy settlement of the 47-day-old dispute was expressed in advance of union meetings.

The navy, seeking to get work back into full swing on $500,000,000 worth of defense orders in the yards, met indifferent success yesterday in its efforts to enroll machinists in civil service.

The machinists, who had been receiving $1 an hour and double time for overtime, demand $1.15 and continuation of the double pay for extra hours. All 11 yards now have signed a master agreement which calls for $1.12 and time and one-half.

On another California defense front, however, working conditions were approaching normal after a bitter strike which was ended only by action of United States troops. Last of the soldiers were withdrawn yesterday from the North American Aviation plant at Inglewood.

In Washington, house leaders gave the right-of-way to legislation which would cloak President Roosevelt with broad authority in preventing work stoppages in defense plants. Under the proposal, he could use troops to protect workers who attempted to comply with a presidential request to return to the jobs.

A strike at the Premier Worsted mill at Bridgeton, N. J., was attributed to a jurisdictional dispute between CIO textile workers and the industrial trade union. The mill, with 250 employees, holds $1,000,000 in defense contracts.

Woman In Jail Here Yells For Freedom

Persons walking or working within a block of the west side of the city here were startled this morning by a world-at-large in no uncertain terms that she wanted out of the jail and she didn't mean quietly. Finally officers got her quieted by informing her that they would take her to the county and put her in a dark cell.

The woman, arrested in a South Pampa cafe about 2:30 o'clock this morning, was charged with disturbing the peace. She has not been brought before Recorder W. C. deCordova.

Fire Extinguished By Department

The south Pampa fire station, located on South Cuyler street, while the Cuyler street under pass is being constructed, justified its opening this morning when an alarm was received from 535 South Ballard street, just three blocks away.

The truck was sent to the address and water from the booster tank extinguished a fire behind a stove. Little damage resulted.

A truck from the north station was also dispatched but it was stymied by a train at the Frost street crossing.

Biddle Home Looted

GERMANTOWN, Pa., June 25 (AP)—Friends making a routine call at the closed home of U. S. Senator General Francis Biddle to see that everything was undisturbed found burglars had ransacked closets, cabinets and sideboards and carried off $150 worth of knickknacks and a valuable collection of old coins.

'Driller's Corner' Crowded As Of Old

Have you noticed when you walk downtown, particularly in front of cafes, the unusual number of men?

That fact has been mentioned by many and they have wondered why they were. The answer is oilfield workers.

Pampa has slowly but gradually during the past month taken on boom day color as oil field workers who have been absent for months or years have returned to drill the hundreds of new wells for which locations have been staked during the past months.

Drillers, tooldressers and rough-necks who were in Pampa years ago have returned. Many newcomers also appeared as companies have been sending in drilling crews and the news of increased drilling in the Pampa area and in the entire Panhandle have been circulated in other fields where there is less activity.

Merchants have noticed the influx of oil field workers. Business has shown marked improvement this month and prospects are that activity will continue.

The east needs, oil, good gravity oil, and where can better oil be secured than in the Panhandle? No-where, is the answer.

More than 100 new locations were staked in the Panhandle oil field during the first two weeks of this month. During recent years that many locations were not reported in two or three months.

Demand for more houses has increased noticeably during the past few weeks. Every day from three to six families visit the Pampa News seeking houses and rooms. Real estate men report houses and rooms in great demand.

O'Daniel Complains Truck Was Rocked

ABILENE, June 25 (AP)—Two rocks which Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel said "rained down" on his sound truck midway during his address here last night were enroute today to Homer Garrison, director of the department of public safety in Austin, for investigation.

After his speech, the governor disclosed the rocks with scurrilous notes attached, pelting his sound truck as he was reading a circular described as literature of the Communist party attacking him and Rep. Martin Dies.

Capt. R. B. Butler of the state highway patrol, who is traveling with O'Daniel said one of the stones missed the governor by about 18 inches.

One of the notes bore two signatures, and the other six.

Drive To Collect Aluminum Started

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—The soldier as well as the citizen is going to do his bit toward supplying aluminum needed for defense industries.

An army-wide drive to collect and salvage scrap aluminum was announced by the war department today, following the call issued last night by Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia, civilian defense chief, for a civilian drive to collect aluminum scrap.

The war department said that the army quartermaster corps had established a system under which all of the metal scrap will be collected and sent through regular commercial channels to defense industries where it is most needed.

FDR To Recommend Price Legislation, Claims Henderson

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Leon Henderson, price control administrator, expressing belief "our honeymoon is over" as far as voluntary price control is concerned, today said that President Roosevelt would recommend mandatory price legislation to congress at the proper time.

In testimony before a house appropriations subcommittee which was made public today, Henderson said that up to last February the informal methods of regulating prices had been effective.

"There was a most remarkable acceptance on the part of the people who make prices, business people, of the necessity of keeping prices down," Henderson said, "and we got a glorious increase in production."

About that time, however, he said, the shortage of shipping began to make itself felt, tonnage rates went up and prices on imported commodities increased. These developments were followed by drives in basic industries for wage increases and by pressure on the markets, particularly food markets, as a result of demands growing out of the land-lease program.

Reds Bomb Helsinki In Long Attack

Successes Will 'Baffle Imagination' Declare Communists

(By The Associated Press) Finland was reported to have joined Germany in the war against Russia today after Soviet planes raided Helsinki and southern Finland in reply to German raids that were reported to have left Leningrad in flames.

An authorized German spokesman in Berlin said Finland had formally declared war and that fighting was going on in full force.

Many Finnish civilians were reported killed and the city of Lappeenranta set afire.

A military spokesman in Berlin declared German successes "baffling the imagination" were achieved in the first three days of the war on Russia and would be announced as they came.

Before the Finnish declaration was announced in Berlin Helsinki made a sharp protest to Russia against what it called the unprovoked attack and said the Soviet assertion that German troops had attacked Russia through northern Finland was a deliberate lie.

Pravda, the Communist party organ, warned that "the world will be amazed by the forces which the Soviet people in its indignation and patriotic wrath" would hurl against Germany.

Reports from Turkey said Russians were offering little resistance in the eastern Rumanian province of Bessarabia and that a German parachute division was in readiness to attack Odessa, Russian Black sea port.

On the land front, the Germans said the war was going so well "great successes" could be expected. Deep thrusts of flame-throwing Panzer columns into Russian territory were claimed.

The Russians acknowledged they had been unable to halt three powerful German drives on the central and northern fronts. In the south, Ankara reports said German and Rumanian troops had occupied Cernavoda, capital of Bucovina province, and Chisinau, capital of Bessarabia, both taken over from Rumania by Russia a year ago.

The Russians bombed Warsaw, Danzig and Rumanian Constanta to match German assaults on Ukraine cities and claimed they destroyed 381 German planes while losing 374.

Germany reported sinking two British freighters and setting big fires in Liverpool in raids against England.

Britain kept up her heavy bombing of Germany and the German occupied coast in an attempt to relieve some of the Nazi pressure on the Soviet army.

British reports said a greater tonnage of bombs had been dropped on Germany during the past two weeks than in the entire month of April.

A heavy air offensive was said by the British to have paved the way for new advances of imperial troops attempting to wrest Syria from Vichy French forces. The British were said to have retaken Merdjayoun from the French and to be attacking within 12 miles of Beirut, Lebanese capital.

French reports told of counterattacks which recaptured Djenez, south of Beirut and checked British forces driving on the desert town of Palmyra.

Communists To Help Now, Say Officials

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Defense officials predicted today that one by-product of the Russo-German war would be an end to Communist-inspired strikes in United States defense industries.

Communist leaders, these officials said, must now conciliate their interests to lie with the opponents of Germany, whereas until the Nazi thrust into Russia last weekend exactly the reverse was true.

One authority forecast that not only would Communists cease strike agitation but would go to the other extreme to speed up production of armaments. "They undoubtedly will begin to argue," he said, "that workers unwilling to put in 85 hours a week are unpatriotic and fascist."

Hot In Miami

MIAMI, Fla., June 25 (AP)—At 3 p. m., yesterday Miami's official temperature was 90 degrees, equalling the heat record for any June 24. Came thunderstorms at 6 p. m., the temperature was 82, equalling the low record for any June 24.

Leahy Calls On Soviet Ambassador

VICHY, Unoccupied France, June 25 (AP)—Admiral William D. Leahy, United States ambassador to France, called today on Soviet Ambassador A. E. Bogomolov for the third time in three days.

More Volunteers Needed For Red Cross Work

Each Tuesday and Thursday afternoons between 2 and 5 o'clock the Red Cross production room in the basement of the postoffice is open. An extra table for cutting was placed in the room Tuesday and one table is low enough that workers may sit on a chair to cut garments. There are many bolts of material to be cut into garments. If there are those who would like to learn to knit, an instructor will be there to teach and issue yarn to all those wishing to knit for the Red Cross. Some new colors, which will be interesting to knit, have arrived. Many boxes of yarn have just been received and knitters are asked not to delay in getting their yarn. The room is cool these warm days. High school girls are asked to wind skeins of yarn into balls. Thirty dresses were cut Tuesday and a number of skeins of yarn were rolled into balls. The following people were present: Mmes. W. G. Kinzer, De Lea Vicars, Clara Meikle, Tom Bunting, Robert Louvier, C. C. Cockerill, O. Russell, L. L. Davis, D. F. Osborn, and June Guill, Sara Ann Russell, Anna Laura Allen, and Evelyn Bunting. Mrs. Osborn and Mrs. Davis supervise the cutting and Mrs. V. L. Hobbs and Mrs. Vicars have charge of the knitting. More volunteers are needed to cut and sew garments so that Pampa will have its quota when shipment is due.

NEW OFFICERS OF ESTER CLUB

New officers of the Ester club who were elected at a regular meeting of the organization yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Harold Baer are Mrs. Jess Clay, upper left, president; Mrs. Elnor Kretzmeier, upper right, vice-president; Mrs. Emory Noblitt, lower left, secretary; and Mrs. Hulle Beard, lower right, reporter. Mrs. Clay is a past noble grand and is now a right supporter to the noble grand, while Mrs. Kretzmeier is noble grand. Mrs. Noblitt, who is a past noble grand, has been re-elected for her third term as secretary. Mrs. H. M. Cone, who is conductor, was re-elected to the office of treasurer.

Officers Elected By Ester Members Tuesday Afternoon

Mrs. Daphna Baer entertained Ester club members in her new home with Pearl Castka, Elsie Poronto, and Fairs Baer as co-hostesses Tuesday afternoon.

The tables were attractively decorated with pansy geraniums.

Eita Crisler presided over the business session with Elsie Cone leading in prayer. Those reported ill were Gladys Rupp and Lois King's husband. All Rebekah members are asked to be present at the hall Thursday night for a special occasion.

New officers elected were Ethel May Clay, president; Elnor Kretzmeier, vice-president; Lily Noblitt, secretary; Elsie Cone, treasurer; and Fairs Baer, reporter. Those on the committee for the new year books are Fairs Baer, Della Key, Elsie Cone, and Pearl Castka.

A linen shower will be given at the hall Thursday evening for the orphans home in Corsicana.

After games were played, refreshments were served in the club colors, pink and green, to one visitor, Mrs. Kretzmeier, of Kansas, and the following members: Dorothy Voyles, Lily Noblitt, Elsie Cone, Elsie Poronto, Leona Burrows, Leola Polowell, Sannie Sullivan, Cora Lea Baer, Pearl Castka, Eita Crisler, Ethel May Clay, Daphna Baer, Elsie Poronto, Elnor Kretzmeier, and Fairs Baer.

NEW PRESIDENT

Audrey Fowler, above, newly elected president of the local Business and Professional Women's club, was among the officers installed Tuesday evening at the Schneider hotel by Hattilu White, of Amarillo, president-elect of Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs. Mrs. Fowler, who is retiring, vice-president of the Pampa club, also is district chairman of jury service for women.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By ALICIA HART

The dull look is what smart women strive for these hot summer days. They know that shiny effects and highlights here and there on the face do not make for a cool, calm appearance.

They do not use oil or cream on their eyelids during hot weather. They blot their lipstick with cleansing tissues and so make it dull rather than shiny. They remember to powder their faces often.

If your skin is naturally oily use one of the non-greasy liquid foundation lotions under makeup. Or use liquid powder. Plan to wash your face with soap and water more than once or twice a day. Find an oil-less, indelible lipstick to use instead of the shiny, greasy one you liked during the winter.

In clothes as in makeup, the dulled-out ones seem to look cooler than those of shiny fabrics. Clutter fits more interestingly against winter backgrounds. For instance, heavy, gleaming satin is smart in an evening gown for winter dances, but dull, more frothy materials seem better for dresses in which you dance on the terrace of the country club or on the open air roof of a hotel.

Elaborate jewelry and fussy hair ornaments also are out of keeping with the summertime mood. Featherers may be chic in the coiffure in January, but in June fresh flowers are smarter. No more than three pieces of jewelry seem to be quite right with summer dresses, day or evening. One clip, one bracelet, and a pair of earrings or one necklace, a ring and a bracelet are fine, but a bracelet, earrings, a necklace, and several rings make the wearer look not as cool as she might.

Hair and nails are exceptions to the rule for dullness. Your hair just cannot be too bright and shiny. And smart nails always shine—whether they are covered with lacquer or just buffed and buffed.

Miss Blanch Rose Walker, missionary to China for more than 30 years, will speak at the regular morning service of the revival in progress at the First Baptist church Thursday at 10 o'clock.

Everyone who is interested is invited to attend.

HOLLY LEAVES Two types of leaves often are grown by holly trees: stiff, prickly leaves near the bottom of the tree, and spines, flexible ones at the top.

When winter comes, female mosquitoes hibernate, but the males die.

President-Elect Of Texas B. P. W. Installs Officers For Local Club

"Individual service is needed in the community, state, and nation," Hattilu White of Amarillo, president-elect of Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, stated at the installation banquet of the local Business and Professional Women's club Tuesday in the Schneider hotel.

After candles were lighted by the 11 past presidents, Miss White installed the officers and presented each with a small ribbon streamer attached to the Good Ship B.P.W.C. New officers are Audrey Fowler, president; Dalton Hall, vice-president; Madeline Murray, recording secretary; Blanche Anderson, corresponding secretary; Lillian Jordan, treasurer; and Madge Rusk, parliamentarian. Chairman are Rowena Wasson, membership; Ursula McCarty, health; Mildred Overland, publications; Jess Bumpass, education; Ruba McConnell, finance; Natha Timm, public affairs; Ann Hesekew, international relations; Letha Northrup, legislation; Vera Lard, program coordination; Mayme Counselor, social; and Lillian McNutt, publicity.

11 Presidents Preceding the installation, a program reminiscent of the activities of the club since its organization was presented with Ruth Walstad, retiring president, presiding.

Miss Willadean Ellis, accompanied by Elizabeth Atchison, sang "He's So Unusual," a song popular in 1929 when Pampa's first federated B.P.W. club was formed. A review of that year's work was given by Grace Pool, first president of the club, who attended the first international B.P.W. convention in Geneva, Switzerland. Succeeding presidents who have resumes of their terms were Pearl Mitchell, 1930 and 1931, whose year was completed by Nina McKimming; Clara Lee Shewmaker, 1931-1933; Mary Lou Downs, 1933-1934; Lillian Jordan, 1934-1935; Gladys Robinson, 1935-1936; Mabel Gee, 1936-1937; Mildred Overall, 1937-1938; Christine Cecil, 1938-1939; 1939-1940; and Ruth Walstad, 1940-1941. Lillian McNutt pretomed for Mrs. Downs, the only past president who is not an active member of the club at present. To conclude the reminiscing, Miss Ellis sang a song popular today, "My Sister and I."

Speaking for the Past President's club, Mrs. Pool announced that this group will contribute a defense bond to the local organization, whose club mother is Mrs. Katie Beverly.

Attendance Awards Perfect attendance awards were presented by Madeline Murray to Mayme Counselor, Gypsy Malloy, Letha Northrup, Madge Rusk, Ruth Walstad, Rowena Wasson, Frances Graver, Audrey Fowler, Maurine Jones, Mildred Fafferty, Clara Lee Shewmaker, Lillian McNutt, and Miss Murray. Also a past president's pin was given to Mrs. Walstad by the club.

Special guests were introduced after which Mrs. Fowler spoke briefly. Dinner was served at a large table centered with the B.P.W.C. logo on a reflector which was covered with blue delphinium. Small green and yellow streamers extended from the ship and matching candles lighted the table. Places were marked with vari-colored mint cups holding tiny vases of pinks, pansies, and other garden flowers.

Attending Members attending were Mary Fleming, Allie Huckaby, Olive Hills, Ruth Griggs, Freda Boehm, Ellen Sartor, Myrtle Simmons, Natha Timm, Mildred Overall, Ida Adams, Ruby Boss, Laura Lee Shewmaker, Audrey Fowler, Clara Lee Shewmaker, Ruth Walstad, Madeline Murray, Madge Rusk, Elizabeth Atchison, Katie Beverly, Mayme Counselor, Effie Atkinson, Mildred Lafferty, Jessy Stroup, Lanche Drescher, Mable Gee, Vera Lard, Julia Kelley, Lillian Jordan, Francis Craver, Lillian McNutt, Rowena Wasson, Miriam Wilson, Ursula McCarty, Gypsy Malloy, Pearl Mitchell, Letha Northrup, Grace Pool, Gladys Robinson, Avis Thompson, Christine Cecil, Ann Hesekew, and Iva Ekern.

It's a Long, Long Way From Home to the Battlefield

No matter where they live, British empire soldiers fighting in Syria are a long way from home. Map shows distances troops travel from various parts of the world to the war's current battlefield. These are also necessarily supply routes because soldiers' homelands are manufacturing centers. Mediterranean is practically out as a British supply route because of axis air control in western end.

Navy Airplane And Ship Bill Recommended

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—A $397,063,225 deficiency appropriation, including funds to give the navy 2,236 additional airplanes and 19 more auxiliary ships, was recommended to the house today by its appropriations committee. The measure, a "catch-all" money bill for the fiscal year ending June 30, carries funds for almost a score of governmental agencies such as $36,500,000 for the office of emergency management; $28,800,765 for the postoffice department and $51,031,450 for the coast guard—the latter amounting to replacement of the 10 cutters transferred to Great Britain and for construction of three new icebreakers for duty in the Greenland area.

The navy's share of the total was $742,465,145, of which $467,046,300 was earmarked for the 2,236 new planes. The balance included $47,000,000 for the guns and ammunition for these and other planes, and purchase of an unspecified number of 20 millimeter aircraft cannon, similar to those in use abroad. Naval officials testified deliveries of the new weapon would start at the rate of 100 a month this month and probably be stepped up to three times that number next year. They will supplant the less effective 30 calibre machine guns in many cases.

In recommending the bill, the committee said 97 per cent of the money was for purposes directly connected with preparation for national defense or for activities which directly or indirectly have felt the impact of the defense program. The total was $22,072,145 below the budget estimates.

A total of $6,852,096 was included for the justice department of which $5,000,000 was for the Federal Bureau of Investigation to permit the employment of 430 additional special agents for national defense work and related activities.

Japanese Leaders Debate In Secret

TOKYO, June 25 (AP)—Japan's leaders debated in two anxious secret sessions today the empire's course in the new situation arising from Germany's invasion of Russia and Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye later laid the results of the two meetings before Emperor Hirohito.

In some informed quarters it was believed a decision was reached, but there was no inkling of its nature. Importance was attached to the fact that after his audience with the Emperor, Konoye was closeted with Marquis Kido, Lord Privy Seal, to whom would be communicated any major matters of state.

The first of today's conferences was a joint session of the Imperial high command and the cabinet, an unusual procedure. Thereafter the cabinet met for three hours. Then Konoye went to the palace.

The United States produces approximately 57,697,000 bushels of soybeans annually.

Markets Depend On Defeat Of Germany, Declares Wickard

WACO, June 25 (AP)—Appealing for support of the administration's foreign policies, Secretary of Agriculture Wickard told a Texas farm meeting today future foreign markets for surplus American cotton and wheat depended upon the defeat of Germany and her Axis partners. "It seems plain," he said, "that any resumption of normal world trade is impossible so long as the Nazi system is operating. x x x That system is destructive of the foreign trade of nations like the United States."

Wickard said although American exports of cotton and wheat had virtually ceased, producers have not yet felt pressure of the consequent loss of markets. Government price-supporting programs, he said, were keeping farmers comparatively prosperous.

The secretary warned, however, that the government could not continue piling up crop surpluses forever. Either world markets must be reopened or further reductions in production must be made, he said. Praising President Roosevelt's leadership, Wickard declared the least Americans can do was to give him their loyal support.

"He needs that support badly. He needs it to enable him to go ahead with the boldness and courage that the times demand. He needs support in the country and in congress. He needs every bit of help we can give him. Every sign that the people are behind him now helps a lot."

Wickard spoke before a gathering of agricultural leaders called by the AAA and farm organizations to discuss plan for increasing production of nutritious foods needed by Great Britain as well as Americans.

Defense Bond Quiz

Q. What is the price of a Defense Savings Bond? A. For the smallest bond, you pay $18.75. The bond will increase in value in ten years to $25. For $75, you get a bond which will increase to $100, other bonds are in proportion. Q. What will the Government do with the money I pay for my bond? A. Your money will be put to work at once in the National Defense program to protect the freedom and safety of the United States, and of all its people everywhere. Note.—To purchase Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office or bank, or write for information to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C.

Civil War Veteran Opposed To Getting In 'Simply Murder'

GETTYSBURG, Pa., June 25 (AP)—The European war is "just simply murder" to former National Commander A. T. Anderson of the Grand Army of the Republic and "we ought not to get into it." "Fighting in '63 was fun compared with war today," declares the Civil war cavalryman from Washington, Pa. "We didn't kill anybody but the men we were fighting. Women and children were protected."

The 95-year-old soldier's views are not shared, however, by the other two Pennsylvania "boys in blue" able to attend this year's 75th state Gar encampment in this historic community where Union forces defeated Confederate troops in one of the world's bloodiest battles 78 years ago.

"We've got to get into this war," exclaims State Commander Alfred Gabriel, 95, Hazleton, who served with General Grant in the western campaign.

"We've got to get into it to preserve the principles of freedom. We've got to fight to preserve the principles of democracy that we fought for and which this nation has always stood for."

The dean of the three, tall, slender J. S. Chapman, 97, Scranton, who fought in the battle of Gettysburg as a youth of 20, can't decide whether the United States should enter the present conflict.

Canada's tobacco production was 109,000,000 pounds in 1939.

Oil Pipeline Capacity To Be Increased

BY EDWARD CURTIS TULSA, Okla., June 25 (AP)—The first step toward increasing pipeline capacity into the eastern industrial area from mid-continent oil fields came this week.

Gulf Oil corp. let a contract to increase capacity of its line from Jenks, Okla., to Dublin, Ind. The line supplies crude for refineries as far east as Pittsburgh.

The increased capacity in the 10-inch line will be gained through laying 13 loops, three of them in Oklahoma, four in Missouri and six in Illinois and Indiana.

In Kansas, attention was being paid to extending gathering lines. It was reported two concerns were planning extensions, but no contracts were let.

Lack of transportation to the east also was felt in Louisiana. The July production allowable was reduced 16,100 barrels daily from June to 303,397 barrels daily.

"Oil stocks are piling up on our Gulf coast and I am sure the same situation exists in Texas," commented John J. Metzger, Jr., chief engineer for the Louisiana department of minerals. "There just isn't any way of moving it."

Some revolutionary field practices were being suggested. An eastern operator was said to be considering drilling horizontal wells into outcrops on the sides of hills, while in California it was suggested that a tunnel be driven under the sea and drilling operations carried on in large submarine chambers.

In the field, the Oil and Gas Journal reported 619 completions for the week, compared with 661 the previous week and 593 a year ago.

One company is starting a 35-well drilling program on a 700-acre block of semi-proven leases in the new Mission river pool, Refugio county, southwest Texas.

'Great Successes' Claimed By Germans

(By The Associated Press) BERLIN, June 25—An initial advantage so sharp that "great successes are to be expected" was claimed by the German high command today in the titanic struggle with Soviet Russia.

The war bulletin, again issued from "the Fuehrer's headquarters," reported every weapon in the German arsenal pitted against the Soviet forces on land, sea and in the air, but it still was silent on specific details of developments.

All warfare apparently was being waged heavily by both sides. The communique acknowledged single Soviet bombers had raided the east Prussian cities of Koenigsberg and Memel, destroying some buildings. There were fatalities, it said, but these were "primarily among war prisoners."

(Reports in Helsinki, said the Germans had bombed Russian air bases in Estonia; at Hangs, Russian-leased Finnish base west of Helsinki, and had set gigantic blazes in Leningrad, the Soviet Union's second city).

Oil Tanker Built In Three Months

CHESTER, Pa., June 25 (AP)—A record for speedy construction of big oil tankers—needed to help stave off a threatened eastern oil shortage—will be set July 7, when the 19,205-ton Atlantic Refining company tanker W. C. Yeager slides down the ways at Sun Shipbuilding and Drydock company.

The big ship will be launched three months and three weeks after laying of the keel and by August will sail on her maiden voyage from Philadelphia to Texas ports for initial loading of the 154,761 barrel capacity tanker. It usually requires six months to construct such a vessel.

FDR Promises Help To Russia

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—In line with President Roosevelt's pledge of all possible assistance to the Red army, defense officials today instituted a quick survey to determine what immediate and effective aid could be provided for Soviet Russia. The expectation was that Soviet overtures for help would not be long in materializing after Mr.

Roosevelt's voluntary statement at his press conference yesterday. When he made the promise, the President emphasized that the Soviet had not yet made any request for help. He intimated, however, that since the United States also opposes Nazi aggression, this country was prepared—if and when asked—to provide Russia with everything the nation's production capacity can supply after meeting prior defense and lease-lend commitments. The President's pledge was immediately implemented in one field when the treasury department ordered release of between $50,000,000 and $100,000,000 in Russian assets here which were "frozen" on June 14 along with the holdings of Germany, Italy and other continental European nations. Classified Ads Get Results

Exports No Drain on U. S. Oil Supply

The U. S. exported some 80,000,000 barrels of petroleum and its products in 1940, but had left for home consumption 95 per cent of total production of 1,425,000,000 barrels. Major part of exports went to nations shown on chart, all of which are still buying our oil.

4,213 Bushels Of Wheat Will Be Given USO By Ochiltree County

Saturday, June 28, is the date for another "first time" in the nation with the glory going to Perryton and their "Wheat Festival." Expected to establish a precedent for other counties of the United States to follow, especially in the wheat producing area, public spirited citizens of Perryton have announced that one bushel of wheat per capita of Ochiltree county would be turned to the nation's USO, as their contribution. There are 4,213 citizens of Ochiltree county, according to the 1940 census, and there will be 4,213 bushels of wheat given the USO to represent the largest donation of any community in the United States per capita.

Navy Criticized For Cost Figures On Corpus Field

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Criticism of the navy in underestimating original cost figures on the Corpus Christi, Tex. naval air training station cropped out during hearings on the second deficiency appropriations bill introduced today in the house. One of the items in the measure provided for a naval hospital at Key West, Fla., at an estimated cost of $800,000. Testifying before a house appropriations subcommittee in behalf of the item was Commander Organization and placing Perryton as the wheat capital of the southwest.

L. B. Combs, who said that estimates were calculated in the light of experience gained at Corpus Christi. "Well, did you boost this proportionally as our experience has proved they had to boost it in connection with your original estimates of Corpus Christi?" asked Representative Ditter (R., Pa.).

"We made modifications that were necessary; yes, sir," replied Commander Combs. "In other words, did you take that wide latitude of variable, that has come to our attention, in making this estimate?" countered the congressman. When Commander Combs answered "it is not so very wide a variation," Ditter explained: "What—in the Corpus Christi case?"

The original estimate on the Corpus Christi station was $28,000,000. Final overall expenditures totaled some $45,000,000. "Of course, we have increased very greatly the scope of Corpus Christi since the original estimate," answered the naval officer.

Palo Duro Canyon Called "Playground Of Southwest"

The Panhandle of Texas has one of the most distinctive and colorful parks in Texas—the Palo Duro Canyon. It has often been called one of the most natural phenomena in the Southwest.

It derives its name from a small hardwood shrub that grows in the recesses of the canyon, and which was used by Indians in making arrows.

Clyde W. Warwick, owner and publisher of the Canyon News, prepared an interesting word picture of the Palo Duro park for publication in West Texas Today magazine. Mr. Warwick's interesting story follows:

Palo Duro Canyon State park comprises 15,103 acres and is being purchased by funds received from admission charges into the park.

The National Park Service co-operating with the Texas State Parks board has contrived to build here the greatest playground in the Southwest. The park development provides El Coronado Lodge, the park tavern, cabins, picnic areas, hiking and bridle trails, dude ranch accommodations, and all conveniences to be desired.

In order that the works of man might not mar the beauties of nature, a portion of the caprock was removed, forming a ledge upon which the lodge is constructed. One may see from its large windows or terraces the many strange rock formations across Timber Creek, and the point where Col. Charles C. Goodnight entered the Palo Duro in 1876. Four miles away, The Light House, the best known of the many impressive formations found in the park, can be clearly seen.

Back To The Dinosaur On display in the building are fossilized bones of the Dinosaur-Phytosaur, and many other animals that roamed the plains a hundred million years ago. Indian pottery, arrow points, scalping knives, and hide scrapers; petrified and agatized wood are also found among the other relics.

The vacationist may travel the safe all-weather road from the level plains along the precipitous cliffs making horseshoe bends and curves; or ride the sure-footed, mountain-trained horse down the narrow gorges and winding trails until the comparatively level floor of the canyon is reached.

Of greater interest to the students of nature are the numerous geological features that unfold themselves in colorful splendor. The gradual processes of erosion that have formed the canyon began more than a million years ago and still are in operation today. Day by day and year by year the canyon becomes slightly deeper, wider, longer. The rock strata which may be compared to the pages in a gigantic book that are exposed; and when we descend to the bottom of the canyon we have gone back into pre-history several hundred million years.

On entering the canyon one rapidly traverses a fascinating series of varied formations. The first of these is made up mostly of caliche and chert, representing the Ice Age, known to the geologist as the Pleistocene Epoch. It was at this time that the elephant, the sabre-tooth tiger, and camel roamed the plains of West Texas.

Continuing along the highway below the rim rock one observes the sedimentary beds are still light in color, which represents an earlier chapter in the earth's history, known as the Pliocene Epoch. Rocks of the Triassic Age in the Palo Duro canyon may be recognized by their wonderful display of varied color. Purple, yellow, brown, blue and red blend and grade into each other in all the harmony of a rainbow.

Below the variegated shales and sandstones of the Triassic are the brick-red sands and shales of the Permian Age. These strata were deposited as continental sediments by lakes and rivers, and are interbedded here and there with white layers of crystalline gypsum.

The Modern Age Near Timber Creek bridge, Triassic Point, with its red sandstone layers, tells the story of the earth as it was many millions of years ago. Right at hand is the site of a dug-out used forty years ago by T-Arch anchor ranch hands while getting posts for the first fences in Randall county. The stern profile of Satania, a noted Kiowa chief, carved by nature from the cliff that bears his name, overlooks the roaring stream of the Palo Duro river.

Picnic unit No. 1 is located at the old Comanche and Kiowa Indian camp ground, where the red men left rocks that were used to grind corn, mesquite beans and meat. Starting from this point, hiking lovers will find the old Comanche Trail an interesting route to travel, leading through gardens of huge boulders, dense growth of trees and shrubs, by Indian Springs to Point Look Out, where there is an excellent view of the canyon and its tributaries.

The point of greatest human interest in the Palo Duro State park is undoubtedly the sight of Goodnight's dugout, correctly termed "the cradle of Panhandle civilization." Rocks which once formed the fireplace lie in a pile at one end. Broken poles and weathered logs are all that remain of the original camp of Colonel Goodnight, "The Father of the Panhandle."

Artists can spend thrilling moments admiring the white, yellow, green, blue, and red formations found in Sunday canyon. An interesting thirty-minute hike can be made to the Gypsum Beds, and gigantic toadstools fifty feet high capped with huge boulders weighing many tons. Here the Devil's Tombstone towers 75 feet above the canyon bed. Everywhere are peculiar formations and beds of fossilized pre-historic animals.

At the summit of the roller-coaster like road, Capital Park dominates the scene. It takes but little imagination to view it as a capitol building reproduced by nature; on the one side is the House of Representatives and on the other, the Senate Chamber.

Smoky Rock Garden is an area that has yielded many Indian relics and fossils to searchers. Many people enjoy hiking the winding trails with their huge boulders and deep tree-filled gorges, occasionally stopping to pick up beads and arrows left by the Pueblo Indians many years ago.

Nature's Life At Cow Camp, near the terminus of the gravel road, many trails branch out and canyon bird life may be seen at its best. High cliffs near-by reflect thirty shades of color changing hourly during the day; and above them are mesas on which Indians maintained lookouts. The tourist may stay at this historic old camp ground for a day, a week, or a month in comfort, with pure water, picnic tables, ovens and rest rooms available at no extra charge. Rustic lodges constructed of native materials, furnished with hand-made furniture, plus ordinary necessities are available at a very reasonable sum.

At twilight there are glimpses of the deer silhouetted against the caprock rim; later the coyote's call echoes from rock to rock; and thru the night the owl's deep hooting adds to the strangeness until dawn comes with the songs of wrens welcoming a new day. A visit to Palo Duro is ended reluctantly and a traveler comes again and again finding recreation and delight each time. Whether it's for a week-end in one of the inviting stone cabins—a steak-try in a secluded picnic spot—a good home-cooked meal at the El Coronado Lodge—a ride on horseback down the many bridle trails, with a pack-burro to carry your picnic supplies; or for a drive down the colorful canyon walls to the floor of the gorge—you'll enjoy every minute you spend at Palo Duro.

No Proclamation Proposed In Plan To Help Russia

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt does not intend to issue a neutrality proclamation in the Russian-German war, Acting Secretary of State Welles announced today. American ships thus will be permitted to carry arms to Russia's Pacific port of Vladivostok. The United States thereby will take the same position with reference to the Russian-German war as it maintained during the long undeclared war between Japan and China.

Welles noted that under the neutrality act, a neutrality proclamation is called for when the president or congress "shall find that there exists a state of war between foreign states and that it is necessary to promote or preserve the peace of the United States or to protect the lives of citizens of the United States." The acting secretary then stated that President Roosevelt had authorized him to announce that inasmuch as he finds that a proclamation is not necessary in the present instance to promote the peace of the United States or protect American citizens the president has no intention of issuing such a proclamation.

RAILWAY LABOR UNION DEMANDS 900 Million Dollars A YEAR

THE labor unions have made their demands upon the railways of the United States — and through the railways upon the PUBLIC. These demands are vastly larger in proportion than any they have ever made. The economical and efficient operation of the railways is vital to the nation's defense effort. Therefore, the Western Railways present to the public the following facts:

The labor unions representing engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen and switchmen are demanding a 30 per cent increase in wages, amounting to 190 million dollars a year — although their present rates of pay are the highest in history.

Other unions representing a greater number of railway employees are demanding wage increases ranging as high as 95 per cent — averaging 47 per cent — and amounting to 580 million dollars a year — although their present rates of pay also are the highest in history.

Thus the wage increases being demanded by the labor unions amount to 770 million dollars a year, an average increase in excess of 41 per cent.

In addition, certain of these labor unions have demanded advances in their pay not included in the above figures, and more rules for the creation of unnecessary jobs.

The situation, then, is this: The total cost of complying with all the demands made would be approximately 900 million dollars a year!

The average weekly earnings of railway employees are now 15 per cent higher than in the peak year 1929, while the cost of living is 12 per cent less.

The demands of the railway labor unions are being made when the entire nation has just been asked to make a supreme effort for National Defense.

The railways cannot meet these demands without a great increase in the cost of transportation. They exceed by more than 700 million dollars the income that the railways had left after paying their annual expenses, taxes and charges in 1940.

The railways have a vitally important job before them. They need all their resources to continue adequately to serve you and contribute effectively toward the National Defense Program.

Poffenberger Suspended NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 25 (AP)—Cletus (Boots) Poffenberger's bid for a return to the major leagues was dealt a terrific blow today when the voluble Nashville pitcher was suspended 90 days for throwing a ball at an umpire.

Southern Association President Trammell Scott announced the suspension which will carry through the 1941 season—today soon after receiving a telegraphic report from Umpire Ed Hoffman.

Local elevators today were paying 81 cents a bushel for wheat, 75 cents for small amount being received. A 100 acre tract of Pampa ranch northwest of Pampa produced 1,764 bushels of wheat testing 59 and 59 with 15 1/2 per cent moisture which reached government requirement. A. A. Tiemann reported today. Heavy rain east and south of Pampa has delayed cutting which was scheduled to start this week. Some wheat is being cut with a binder and shocked because of being blown down.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—A rising movement among aircraft, in which a few other defense manufacturing shares joined, imparted a steady tone to the stock market today.

Transactions were small and widely spaced and few variations, either way, were more than minor. The turnover totaled only about 400,000 shares.

Operators shied away from taking very pronounced positions in any trading classification. They considered the next phase of the battle for Britain would depend to a large extent on the Russo-German campaign, and reports from the eastern front were contradictory to permit predictions.

Chief among advancing issues were Douglas Bonds, United Aircraft, Glenn Martin, DuPont, Eastman, Dow Chemical, Union Carbide, Santa Fe, New York Central, Southern Pacific, Paramount, Warner Bros., and Universal Pictures preferred. The last, which gained seven points yesterday, ran up five more today to a new 1941 high.

Holding to lower level most of the session were General Motors, American National, American Smelting, Anaconda, American Telephone and Consolidated Edison.

381 Nazi Planes Destroyed, Claims Soviet Communique

MOSCOW, June 25 (AP)—Trading blow for blow with the Luftwaffe, the Red air fleet reported today it had left Warsaw and Constanta in flames, raided Danzig and East Prussia, and destroyed 381 German planes against a three-day loss of 374 of its own aircraft.

Along the troop-banked battlefield, a Soviet communique declared, the Red army fighting fiercely to check Nazi drives into the Baltic states and old northeast Poland, and was holding German and Rumanian forces to a standstill on the banks of the Prut river.

The heading clash of the two largest armies in Europe was reported heavy in casualties and destruction.

German paratroopers and communications-wrecking details have been dropped behind the Russian lines, the Soviet communique declared. It alleged they were in "the uniform of Soviet militiamen" and said they would be mopped up by special units organized for such behind-the-lines patrolling.

The communique said the Germans had driven into Sovietized Lithuania in the direction of Siauliai and the capital, Kaunas; into the northern section of Sovietized eastern Poland toward Grodno, Wolkowskyk and Kobryn, and into Sovietized southeastern Poland in the direction of Wlodzimierz and Brody.

All these penetrations, whose depth was not specified, were meeting "stiff resistance," the communique said.

British Embassy Protests Against Rioting Outside LONDON, June 25 (AP)—The British government is energetically protesting against a riot outside the British embassy in Madrid. It was announced today.

Authoritative quarters declared the disturbance involving between 300 and 400 men wearing fascist uniforms "was carefully organized and staged by Germans."

"The object was to provoke bad relations between Great Britain and Spain," the quarters said. "The demonstrators were accompanied by German photographers and movie cameramen and a number of vehicles containing bricks and other missiles," the communique said.

SPUDDERS SCHEDULED TO PLAY FIRST GAME IN PAMPA TONIGHT

Oilers Even Series With Lubbock 6-1

The Pampa Oilers did everything right last night to beat the Lubbock Oilers 6 to 1 and even the series. Monty Montgomery was right and hurled six-hit ball as well as getting two hits. He was on base four times out of four trips to the plate. Tonight there'll be something new in the way of baseball in Pampa—a twilight and a night game, with Sammy Hale's Wichita Falls Spudders, and all for one admission price. The first game will be called at 6:30 o'clock and will be seven innings by agreement. As soon as it is dark enough the nine inning night game will be played.

Tonight will be the first appearance of the Spudders in Pampa. On their last scheduled appearance he rained out all games. Sammy Hale, the former Pampa player, has a good ball club and he gets in the game himself quite regularly. Neal Reab, former Amarillo Gold Sox manager, is business manager of the Spudders.

Montgomery might have had a shut out last night but he cut off a throw home from Frierson and the lone Lubbock run scored. The play at the plate might have been close but Frierson's throw after a great stop, looked like a strike when Montgomery cut it off.

The Oilers jumped on Heinz in the first inning to score three runs. Haralson opened with a single. Scott and Malvia fanned. Prather banged the fence with a double, scoring Haralson. Frierson drew a base on balls and Matney singled scoring Prather. Frierson also came home when Schlereth let the ball get away from him.

Second Oiler run, in the second, was scored without a hit. Montgomery was safe on Mahan's error and went to second on a passed ball. He advanced to third on an out and scored on Mahan's second error of the inning.

Haralson's single, wild pitch, and Malvia's single scored one in the eighth and in the ninth walks to Phillips and Smith. Castillo's error and Montgomery's second single gave the Oilers their sixth run.

Sam Malvia and Homer Matney came up with great plays last night. Matney went against the center field fence to steal Castillo's line and Malvia came in so fast from second on a slow roller that he tripped as he fielded the ball. He threw to first while lying flat on the ground and got his man. Montgomery walked five but whipped nine, including the side in the seventh. Heinz was nipped for 11 bingles, walked five and fanned five. Only extra base blow of the game was Prather's smashing double.

The New York Yankees not only are sizzling hot, they also have reached a soft spot in the schedule that may enable them to slip into first place in the American league on or before the Fourth of July, when pennant winners are supposed to become apparent.

Right now the Yanks are facing the last-place St. Louis Browns for two more games and after this series move into four contests with the almost equally feeble Philadelphia Athletics and Washington Senators.

In the same period the league-leading Cleveland Indians must tackle the robust Boston Red Sox twice and the chasty Chicago White Sox three times.

The implications of this schedule came to the fore yesterday as the Yankees slaughtered the Browns, 9-1, while the Indians were being massacred, 13-2, at Boston, reducing the margin between the two top clubs to a single game.

The Yanks looked powerful with a booming 10-hit attack that included home runs by Red Rolfe, Joe Gordon and Tom Henrich, and with Lefty Vernon Gomez pitching five-hit ball for a shutout until the ninth.

The homers, each with one on, extended the Yankees record string of circuit clouds to 19 straight games and Joe DiMaggio singled to stretch his personal hitting streak to 36 consecutive games, five short of George Sisler's record.

The Washington Senators moved out of the cellar with a 6-3 triumph over the White Sox on the effective eight-hit hurrying of Emil (Dutch) Leonard.

The Detroit Tigers nudged out the Athletics, 2-1, in a night game at Philadelphia. John Gorsica pitched nine-hit ball and batted in Detroit's first run.

In the National league the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers continued virtually neck and neck. The Cards crushed the Boston Braves, 13-1, with a 14-hit offensive and a four-hit pitching performance by Lon Warneke.

The Dodgers struck back with an 8-0 victory over the Pirates in a night skirmish at Pittsburgh to keep within a half-game of the leaders. Curt Davis held the Pittsburgh batters to five hits for his second win of the season.

The New York Giants whipped the Chicago Cubs, 3-1, and also cost the Bruins the services of outfielder Hank Leibler, who was benched for the second time in his career.

The Cincinnati Reds downed the Phillies, 5-1, with Bucky Walters pitching five-hit ball.

Only Three Seeded Players In Running Of Tennis Tourney
HAVERFORD, Pa., June 25 (AP)—Only three seeded players remained in the running as the National Intercollegiate Tennis tournament started the quarter-final round today.

Top ranked Joe Hunt of Navy, second-seeded Ted Olineof of Southern California and No. 8 Dick McKee, five-foot, five-inch mite from Miami (Fla.) university, formed the trio surviving the first three rounds.

Keeping pace with them were Joe Davis of Vanderbilt, Cal Sawyer of Chicago, Frank Mehner of Utah, Bill Canning of California, and Charles Mattman of Southern California.

The Rebels had a tight squeak against San Antonio, but Burba Floyd's single, Red Hayworth's triple and George Jansco's infield hit pushed over the two winning tallies in the ninth.

The Indians moved into the fourth spot by winning 6-1 over Beaumont at Oklahoma City, the Houston Buffs broke off the Cats' six-game winning streak by winning 6-3 at Fort Worth and the Rebels repulsed the San Antonio Missions 3-2 at Dallas.

The see-saw race between the Tulsa Oilers and the Shreveport Sports for second place in the Texas league was resolved temporarily in favor of the Oilers last night when they took a 5-2 decision from the Sports at Tulsa.

The victory by the youthful and somewhat erratic Tulsa outfit caused the two clubs to exchange places. Henry Wyse, who pitched six-hit ball, was credited with his sixth win of the season.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. (Pitch-Hitting For Eddie Brieta) NEW YORK, June 25—(The Special News Service)—How'd you like to slug one out of a sand trap with a golf club worth $116.43. Some anonymous gent around town can do that, for when they auctioned off a set for the British war relief benefit at Lido the other day, he bid $1,550 for the lot.

Eddie Joseph, Jr., son of the Louis-Cornu referee, will be playing tackle for Columbia next fall. . . . And Bob Wilson, Jimmy's son, who can hit hard enough to make major league scouts sit up and take notice, is heading for Princeton.

He was on the receiving end for most of 12 rounds against Bill Brennan but cut loose and knocked Brennan out just before the twelfth ended. . . . Paul Maher of Harlingen, Texas, repeats his prediction that the Indians can't win because he claims they have a depend on Bobby Feller for 40 per cent of their victories, which would mean at least 38 wins for Master Robert this season.

Today's Guest Star
Art Rosenbaum, San Francisco Chronicle: "It was a good idea when San Jose State wrapped up its football players and carted them by plane to all games last season. . . . It was so good that San Jose won't have much left next season, because the Spartans have lost almost every veteran on the squad—to the army air corps."

Huskies Favored To Win Regatta Today
POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 25 (AP)—Given the promised break in the weather, nine eight-oared varsity crews will tie up to their stakeboats at approximately 4:45 p. m. (CST) today, ready for a four-mile race down the Hudson river to decide the 44th championship of the Intercollegiate Rowing association.

The weather is an important matter to the 72 lean, bronzed, muscular young men in the splinter-thin 60-foot shells. It's a tradition based on records that fair weather means a fast race—and that's what's expected today.

Some 25,000 spectators are expected to line the shore, ride the observation train, or view the regatta from boats anchored near the finish.

The slight possibility that the weather may disturb "form," and persistent reports that an upset may be in the making, hasn't affected the position of Washington's mighty Huskies as one of the strongest favorites in regatta history.

Narron Will Likely Catch In 'Dream Game' At Beaumont
DALLAS, June 25 (AP)—A good many observers thought Sam Narron of Houston should have made the all-star team in 1940 when he ran third for the mask job. It is a practical certainty the Houston receiver will catch in the league's sixth dream game at Beaumont on July 16 as the most consistent receiver of the year.

Of the four first-string catchers in the south, Narron stands out easily. But it will not be so simple to choose between the others for the alternate job. Al Unser at Beaumont is a great hitter, a rapidly improving catcher. Benny Huffman of San Antonio is a consistently good catcher and a very good hitter. Ed Frier, Shreveport's mainstay, is dependable, but not scintillating.

In the south the line is clearly marked between the first and second-string receivers and none of the latter are likely to be in the running.

Texas Champions To Be Determined
AUSTIN, June 25 (AP)—Before Texas sports editors and fight promoters today was a plan of Labor Commissioner John D. Reed to select state boxing champions in all divisions.

Pointing out that there are no recognized boxing titleholders in Texas at this time, Reed asked for lists of outstanding fighters and said elimination matches would be held throughout the state to determine a champion in each classification.

Army Opportunity

The army of democratic United States must be a democratic army. That doesn't mean an undisciplined army, which is a contradiction in terms. It means an army in which opportunity is open to all in proportion to ability.

Scapegoats

France has now gone all the way. The country in Europe which was, a short time ago, the freest and the most tolerant, has put into effect the same set of anti-Jewish laws which are the chief contribution of Hitler's German reich to modern civilization.

What has happened, apparently, is that France, too, has found it necessary to produce a scapegoat. It is not to the credit of French originality that they could find no other than the one with which Hitler had already presented them.

Behind The News

The Pampa News Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON, June 25.—The Farm Security Administration of your government, whose function it is to get folks to go back to the farm, is now having some new troubles trying to keep them there.

It's the defense program, of course, which is upsetting the even tenor of FSA ways. Let a defense project get started and what happens? The poorer farmers who have had tough sledding, hear the call of those "five-dollars-a-day" to be made on government jobs.

So they chase the pot of gold to the rainbow's end and when they get there—to scramble a couple of metaphors—the cupboard is bare as it always is.

What happened at Fort Bragg, near Fayetteville, is an example. The farmers swarmed in. Some of the first who could get by as carpenters got jobs. The unskilled rest had to trek back home. When the construction job was over, even the early comers were down on their luck and had to traipse back to their back of land.

That situation woke up the Farm Security people as to what was going on and since then they have been doing a good bit of missionary work among their 800,000 or more client farm-families. The gist of the FSA argument to their people is this:

Some day this defense boom is going to be all over. When it is, the bottom may fall out worse than it did in 1932. You have here your house and your land secured by a federal government at low interest on some long terms. Why not keep this as your reserve? If you have some sons and daughters who can fit into the defense picture, let them get their jobs in the industrial centers. But keep some members of the family, Uncle Charlie or Uncle Bill, or even Grandpa, on the place to make sure it doesn't run down and you don't lose your grub stake.

There is a further argument for the tenant farmers' welfare in persuading them to fit their crops in with the big vitamin campaign that goes on under the nutrition program. Raising of garden truck to sell to these army camps, instead of putting all the land in wheat or cotton or tobacco of which the country already has a surplus, is something that a good many farmers still have to be taught to do.

Farm Security Administration's appropriation for next year is still before Congress. The house version gives it $50 million, and the senate $60 million, to which will be added $170 million of Reconstruction Finance Corporation money for rehabilitation loans and such. This year, FSA has $50 million plus $200 million from RFC.

OVER-LOADED LAND PROBLEM To get the need for this program, you have to go back to the war between the states and study the war population problem. Land now under cultivation in the southeastern U. S. is as great as it was then—perhaps a little less due to soil erosion—but the population on it has doubled.

In the World War there was a big migration of labor from this area to Detroit and Akron and the industrial centers. When the war was over, they had to go back home, their silk shirts in rags and tatters, and they dammed up on the land.

FSA now has loans outstanding to some 400,000 fam-

Common Ground

This column contends there can be no satisfactory progress until we measure the shares of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given equal right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

LABOR UNIONS AND NATIONAL DEFENSE

It is doubtful whether any country where the people believe in the theory of modern labor unions or collective bargaining will put up a real fight against an aggressive nation. The reason they will not fight hard and lay down their life for their country is that the people have become so accustomed to tyranny and oppression by being bossed around by the labor union group.

When labor unions have the right to take away from a man his right to earn a living and can tell each man where he dare work, what he should get and almost what he dare read and what he dare buy, then people are not used to freedom. Then they will not fight with the spirit and heart with which they fight where people are more nearly equally free to create and enjoy than they are in a labor union dominated country.

It is undoubtedly the spirit of labor unions that caused Italy and Germany to become dictator countries. It is undoubtedly true that France did not put up the resistance and was not prepared because of the practice of these tyrannical labor union methods.

England Not Really Fighting As an illustration of the effects of collective bargaining, Stewart Henderson, member of Parliament since 1933, is quoted with the statement that man for man, machine for machine, the British are not now producing more than 50 per cent of what they produced in the World War. It is noted that England for years has been dominated by labor unions.

And this is only natural, when people come to believe that wages can be raised by collective bargaining and by making minimum wage laws and laws that force people into unions. Why should people fight? Why should people work and produce and sacrifice the pleasure of self-indulgence if wealth can be produced and wages paid by the simple method of setting wish wages by threats and intimidation.

Yes, easing up on the defense of a country is the natural sequence when a nation gets in the habit of submitting to the tyranny and oppression of collective bargaining labor groups. They are just a form of oppression and civil war and people become so hardened to their tyranny that they do not really resist when some outside aggressor threatens them.

WHO WOULD JUDGE THE FREEDOMS? It seems hard to conceive how people who have not been the beneficiaries of special laws passed by our government, can get very enthusiastic about fighting in foreign lands, to establish such men as Willkie or Roosevelt as being the final judge of what freedom and liberty mean.

Especially is this true, since neither Willkie nor Roosevelt will write any universal, eternal principle by which freedom is to be measured and judged. Both of these men are a law unto themselves.

In every case, they or their agents would have to be the judge of what was justice and what was freedom and what was liberty.

And that is just what Hitler, Stalin and Mussolini contend: that there is no eternal order of things; there are no universal, everlasting principles.

Of course, we do not want Hitler or Stalin or Mussolini, or Willkie or Roosevelt to be master of our lives. We want the law of equal freedom not only to govern the United States but all the world. The best way to get the law of equal freedom established throughout the world is to more nearly approach it in this country. Then when the rest of the world sees the great advantages that accrue to all the people when the law of equal freedom, or the universal rule is followed in this country they will be anxious to follow the law.

NO ABILITY TO PAY The trouble with the Ability-to-pay theory of taxation is that most people contend they have no ability to pay taxes. They, thus, make case legislation and exempt themselves from direct taxation. This causes extravagance in the government. It takes the capital out of the hands of those who have the most foresight. It retards the accumulation of capital. It does to every democracy just what the people are doing in the United States today. It leads people to believe that the government can support them by taxing the rich. It eventually destroys the money system and eventually regiments prices and labor.

And worst of all, it kills the soul and the self-respect of mankind.

God is no respecter of persons and when the people demand that the government start to respect persons, they have lost their souls.

Millions in this southeastern Appalachian area alone. Perhaps 25,000 to 50,000 people from these 400,000 families have already left to take defense jobs. The industrial centers have again become the frontiers to which the pioneers want to flock and its going to be a job to keep them out.

On top of this general resettlement problem is the old problem of migratory labor, which is another FSA baby that has to have its hursing formula changed by the defense colic. The old pre-war harvest hand migration of the midwest has of course been killed by the combine-tractor, but the citrus-fruit-truck farm migrations from Florida to Maine and back, and the citrus-cotton-truck-fruit harvesters' migrations from the Rio Grande to the Canadian border are essential to the harvesting of seasonal crops, and the labor supply for this job must be maintained.

The big worry now is that there won't be enough Okies to go round. Some of these sons of Okies have been tinkering with Model T Fords so long they've become pretty fair mechanics and the west coast aircraft factories are after 'em.

To keep up with the Okies as they go from one fruit farm to the other, Farm Security Administration has had to build 60 mobile camps. A Southern Railway engineer who had some experience in moving circuses helped work out the design. It combines the best elements of the circus with army transports and provides shower baths, trailers and portable mess equipment. Trouble now is getting priorities for motor equipment much of which is similar to models used by the army. Best estimate is that there are about one and a half million families of migrants in the U. S. today. That's approximately five million people but final figures will have to come from studies now being made from the last census. All the 164 Tugwelltown community projects which FSA inherited from the old Resettlement Administration, Emergency Relief Administration and Rural Rehabilitation Corporation are now practically complete.

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, June 25.—The evacuation of the E. E. F. from Dunkirk was a feat so difficult and gallantly accomplished that it will live forever in the history of Empire annals, but for Hollywood magicians it was just a routine, one-day job.

Of course it took considerable preliminary planning and building. A solid beach had to be installed along one side of 28th St. Fox's huge outdoor tank and some building fronts constructed for the background. One of the ships in the tank was converted into a fishing trawler, and a few small boats were brought in. Then Lou Witte, the studio's specialist in blasts and battles, went to work.

He planted bombs under the sand set up smoke and wind machines, and laid a network of large hoses, held down by sandbags, under the water's surface. When compressed air was shot into a hose, a roaring geyser of water rose 50 or more feet from the surface of the tank as if a bomb had fallen there.

PLAIN TO SEE A stranger in Hollywood would be utterly bewildered by a big outdoor action scene of this sort, being shot into a hose, a roaring geyser of water rose 50 or more feet from the surface of the tank as if a bomb had fallen there.

Movie cameras don't see it that way, of course. The area covered by every shot was precisely calculated in advance. As for the unnatural backgrounds, smoke will obscure part of them and some will be masked out on the film. Sky, sea and low-flying airplanes will be put in later.

Time after time, a few hundred uniformed stunt men and extras crunched through the water. They clambered into small boats. Again, they swarmed over a bridge of life boats which led out to the waiting trawler. And several times they waded into the water and floundered across the tank.

Everything was very orderly. First a wrecked German airplane a burning truck, field guns, shell boxes, ammunition cases, the soldiers moved briskly but not in panic. They had to move in precise patterns because Lou Witte's switchboard was setting off wireless charges of black powder between the groups of men. These simulated explosions of German shells and bombs, while in the water terrifying columns of water spouted among the wading soldiers.

On the first attempt at one of the most spectacular scenes, only three or four of the land mines were exploded, but there was too much noise and too large a field of action for the thing to be stopped. Production officials were in a frenzy as they stormed over to Witte's switchboard. He said he was sorry, but smoke had obstructed his view and he couldn't be sure that some of the actors wouldn't be injured. No matter to him that a couple of thousands dollars had been wasted; he wasn't going to hurt anyone.

The retreat from Dunkirk is the dramatic climax to "A Yank in

People You Know

I hope that the parade crowd at McLean today enjoys the Pampa float that took all of last night for Finis Stilwell and Jim Nalley and me to build (I'll admit I had to hold the light a lot while Jim and Finis hammered in the nails and tacks) . . . We think we know that it was really worth the effort and a night's sleep to build that float.

Yesterday when Garnet Reeves called up The News and said that Finis was going to build a float for the parade I suspected that Jim and I wouldn't get any sleep. So we took it for granted that we would help. We all had to wait until Finis got off work at 11 o'clock to start out in a borrowed truck that had seen its best days, and we felt lucky to arrive at McLean at 1:30 o'clock. . . . After that we were four hours building the float, but the waitress in the Meador cafe at McLean said, "Ain't it beautiful!" and we felt so pleased we tipped her a dime, and we invited her to ride on the high, impressive queen's throne while we took it around the block to see how it looked but she had to turn in an order of hot cakes right then. . . . That float was really a beauty. It had eight colors in it, and the paper decorations, salvaged from the Fiesta parade, were tacked on that cardboard army tank the LaNora used to advertise a picture last fall. The throne Jim built for Virginia West, queen of the Fiesta was really snazzy in azure blue and silver. On the front we had a U. S. flag and a Texas flag. . . . Anyway the sun was 30 minutes high when we got home, and I started twirling up Finis, accusing him of making old men out of Jim and me, but I think I'd rather end up an old man as a result of Finis Stilwell's enthusiasm than fester in the mediocrity of boredom. Of course now, I've never heard of any men in town staying up all night to build a float so Pampa would be represented in a parade, but does such enthusiasm necessarily demand a tolerant smile? Of course Mr. Stilwell and Mr. Nalley are comparatively new in Pampa and are unused to the way things are done or are not done here, but at the same time I think I'll just string along with their enthusiasm. It is new and refreshing, and a change.

To Fish For Bass

DAYTON, Tenn., June 25 (AP)—Merchants of this little municipality will close their doors today at noon just as they plan to do every Wednesday this summer—to fish for bass on the edge of the town.

The Tennessee Valley Authority's Chickamauga Lake, backed up to the city, has produced bass fishing to good to miss. So the merchants voted the early Wednesday closing.

the RAF" as it was made possible by Britain's control of the air (with the help of Tyrone Power as the Yank). But this and other modern war movies are inclined to show the blood and horror of combat more through flashes and impressions than by close-up shots of death and fury.

THE LOOKING GLASS

NO STOPPING By Stella Hault

The first time Hessie ever drove the Ford was a Saturday when Bud brought it around in front of the racket store where they were supposed to meet. He didn't cut the motor off. He said to Hessie. . . . "You can drive this Ford home. You'll just make it before dark. I've got business and I won't be home till late." Hessie moved over behind the steering wheel and Bud crawled out without so much as a "fare you well." Hessie drove the car off in the direction of home. It was only when she was out about a mile from town that she realized she had no idea how to stop the thing. Up to now she was supposedly too ignorant to be taught. Her chief function had been to sit in the front seat and kick the spark plug box violently. She kicked it mornings too when her dad held a cob soaked in coal oil under the carburetor and set fire to it to warm things up.

She realized that she had always been so busy kicking the spark plug box that she'd never noticed what you did to stop a car. And gears were a mystery too. There was only one way to get that car home as Hessie saw it and that was to give it so much gas going down hill that she could get up without shifting anything. So she came down the hills at a pretty terrific rate and when she met anyone she pulled away over in the sunflowers because she wanted to be sure pot to hit anything.

The sun was going down and the old car hadn't had lights for a long time. She could just make it home if she kept going and if she could get the hills in high. It was rough riding, bouncing over the little culvert bridges with such speed but she knew she could never start the car if it stopped. She couldn't kick the spark plug box and crank too.

Not knowing how to stop it, and being unable to start it, Hessie drove the old Ford home in high. Her egg bottle busted with all the bumping and vinegar ran all over things in the back.

Hessie got the car home. It went dead in the ditch between the road and the yard but that was not an accident. Hessie figured out a way to stop. She cut all the gas off a little piece down the road. It took the whole family to get it going and into the yard.

"When did you learn to drive, Hessie?" her pa asked.

"Oh, Bud lets me drive now and then," she lied. She went into the house and took off her Sunday shoes. Her whole body was tense. She was awful glad to be home.

WE have never known it to fall. The person who knows it, the fellow who is sure he can outsmart anybody at anything, the fellow who cannot be told anything, the fellow who needs no suggestions—always winds up behind the 8-ball with a dunce cap on his head. . . . Since this Panhandle country has developed into semi-swamp land, mosquito lotion is at a premium in the drug stores. . . . One Pampa dealer says he sold more anti-mosquito gas in three days last week than he had sold in five years. . . . It's an ill cloud that doesn't drop somebody good soon.

We were glad to read about plans of the Fiesta state societies for that Labor Day picnic. . . . It's right along the thought we had here a few days ago that it would be too bad to let those organizations fall by the wayside, now that they have such a firm foothold. . . . With W. R. Mr. Frazer is a tireless worker, and he believes sincerely in the good that can come from such friendly neighborliness as will grow out of the getting together of the people from the many states who go to make up the fine type of Panhandle citizenry that we have in the Pampa area. . . . "I feel fine. I never felt better in my life. I said for you to put on a wrap and come with me. Now quit stalling and let's get out of here."

Adoreen backs up against the wall. Her lips are quivering and the red spots are gone out of her cheeks. "I'm not going with you," she says.

Adoreen isn't expecting Mr. Fitzwater tonight, so she is a little surprised when she sees him at the door. She is even more surprised to see that he isn't smiling and that his face is kind of white...

Adoreen glances pleadingly at a young couple who are passing. But the couple pay no attention to her and Castaloni. It is just after she gets in the car and Castaloni is starting the engine...

"Hello, Boss," he says between his teeth. "This is Hoimon—no, Hoimon the Hoist. Yeah, I got something to tell ya..."

Adoreen doesn't know whether to be shocked or hurt. "Why, Mr. Fitzwater," she says. "What's the matter? There's no hurry."

LUIGI CASTALONI is the least bit irritated. He should have known better than to trust Spike

Lots Of Folks Still Believe In You, Lou

By ROBERT MYERS
 LOS ANGELES, June 25 (AP)—Say it ain't so, Lou. . . All those things they've been saying that you're a bum because you didn't hit big league pitching and couldn't field anywhere near as well as Speaker or even Hank Leiber. . . Sure, Novikoff, you were a flop in your first swing up there, but don't let it become permanent. You might even have been a bum, but keep on trying and prove you were just a temporary bum. . . a flash-in-the-flop-pan, so to speak. . . And don't forget, Lou, there's a lot of folks who haven't lost faith in you. Los Angeles, for instance, your home; and the Texas league and the Coast league and the Three-Eye league. . . Those people saw with their own eyes what you could do with a baseball bat, and you didn't do it with mirrors. . . Of course, it's been kind of embarrassing for some of us who said you were a great hitter to see those nothing for fours and fives in the box scores, and it is perfectly true that the Coast league is not the National league by some 2,000 miles. . . But you go on over to Milwaukee with Dr. C. Grimm, one of the best in the business, and let him work some of his uncanny psychometry on you. Its strictly Missouri mind magic and will only contain good sense, but Dr. C. Grimm is bound to help you. Then we'll see if there won't be another day for the sad Russian. . . And one thing more, Lou, if you've been trying to follow all the advice hurled at you, it's no wonder you've been imitating a cross between a swooning Muzurka and a crippled pretzel at the plate.

Gas House Gang Becomes Bunch Of One-Man Gangs

Another handy man, Frank Crespi, aptly nicknamed Creepy, stepped into Cardinal infield this season to join . . .

Jimmy Brown, above, Don Padgett, Johnny Hopp and Eddie Lake, versatile members of the St. Louis set.

By HARRY GRAYSON
 NEA Service Sports Editor
 ST LOUIS, June 25—If a bright young player comes to the St. Louis Cardinals and can perform at only one position he is practically destined to be a bench-warmer. . . For the outstanding characteristic of Branch Rickey's newest crop of Cardinals is their versatility. And it is this versatility that has proved a definite and valuable factor in the Cardinal's rise to National league leadership. . . Take Jimmy Brown. The little 29-year-old Jameville, N. C., product came to the Cardinals from their

a complete baseball team in himself. . . Then there's Eddie Lake, currently playing third base. He is just as much at home at shortstop. . . Frank Crespi, at second, can move over to shortstop. . . But the most versatile of all is the amazing Don Wilson Padgett. . . There is no need ever to keep him out of the lineup. He can catch, play first base or the outfield if need be. . . In the Cardinals' key games—those with the rival Brooklyn Dodgers—Padgett has been especially valuable to the St. Louis cause. He personally accounted for three victories over the Flatbush club. . . HERE TODAY THERE TOMORROW
 The 190-pound, 6-foot-2 Padgett came to the Cardinals from Columbus in 1937 as an outfielder after two years of previous minor league experience in the garden. Playing in the outfield all that season, he batted a neat .314. . . But next season, the ever-busy Mr. Rickey, blessed with Medwick, Moore, Martin and other outfielders, plotted a career as a catcher for Mr. Padgett. . . The young North Carolinian was willing and courageous, and gave the job a try. Throughout that 1938 season, he not only caught, but filled in at first base and in the outfield. His batting slumped in .271. . . By the time the 1939 season rolled around, he was practically at home in the catching job and slugged out a .399 batting average for 92 games. Last season he shuttled between first and behind home plate and batted .342. . . It was decided at the start of this season that Padgett was an outfielder. But when the emergency arose, the Cardinals used him behind the catcher's mask and at first base. . . But mostly Padgett is an outfielder, and he is there to stay until the Cardinals need, say, an announcer or candy butcher.

Industrialist Slain In Mexican Holdup
 MEXICO CITY, June 25 (AP)—A prominent businessman was killed and two others wounded last night when five armed men attempted to hold a mid-town bank. . . The bandits fled without breaking into the vaults of the Finance-Industry bank. . . The robbers entered the bank by a side-door and surprised a group of businessmen in conference. . . Stewart was booked with Peter Page of Princeton, former president of the Intercollegiate association, in the first match, and there was a bit of irony in that pairing; it was Page who pulled the slips from the hat in the "luck of the draw" plan used for setting up first contests. . . The defending champion, F. Dixon Brooke of Virginia, was in the lower bracket with Stewart, and he had John J. Conry, Jr., of Notre Dame as his opening foe.

Rochester International league farm as a shortstop. But since his arrival in 1937, he has played just as expertly at second base and even at third base. . . JOHNNY HOPPS AROUND
 That versatility can be tremendous asset was demonstrated when Johnny Mize, slugging first baseman, was forced out of the lineup. Despite the loss of hard-hitting Johnny, Manager Billy Southworth had at his disposal the talents of Johnny Hopp and Don Padgett. . . Hopp can do anything well, from the outfield to first base, and back again, if necessary. Padgett is almost

Season Tickets Will Be Given Water Champions

Swimming races and diving contests will be held at the swimming pool Sunday afternoon, free to the public. First event has been set for 3 o'clock, according to Oscar Hinger, pool manager. . . There will be events for men and women only at the Sunday meet. Junior swimmers and divers will be given an opportunity to strut their stuff later. . . A season pass will be presented the winner in each event. . . Competition among men swimmers is expected to be keen with Pascal Massey, Nevin Johnson, Johnny Hall and other top hand swimmers having plenty of challengers. . . There'll be eight swimming races, four for men and four for women. Events for men will include 80-yard breast stroke, 40-yard free style, 80-yard free style and 40-yard back stroke while women's events will be 60-yard breast stroke, 40-yard free style, 40-yard back stroke and 60-yard side stroke. . . In the diving contest men will have to do a jackknife, back jack, swan and two optional while women divers will be required to do jackknife, back jack, swan and two optional. . . Entries will be accepted at the pool until 6 o'clock Saturday night.

Intercollegiate Golf Meet Begins
 COLUMBUS, O., June 25 (AP)—Sixty-four of the country's golfing elite teed off today in opening round matches for the 44th National Intercollegiate championship. . . Earl Stewart, Louisiana State's 19-year-old junior, ripped two strokes off par with a 68-74-142 qualifying round to take the medal with the lowest score in the tournament's history, his mark eliminating the 143 which John Burke of Georgetown won a year ago. . . Right behind him, with a record-equaling performance, was Charley Finger of Stanford, who tacked together rounds of 70 and 73 for 143. . . Stewart was booked with Peter Page of Princeton, former president of the Intercollegiate association, in the first match, and there was a bit of irony in that pairing; it was Page who pulled the slips from the hat in the "luck of the draw" plan used for setting up first contests. . . The defending champion, F. Dixon Brooke of Virginia, was in the lower bracket with Stewart, and he had John J. Conry, Jr., of Notre Dame as his opening foe.

U. S. Fliers Killed
 HONOLULU, June 25 (AP)—Three United States Marine fliers were killed last night when their plane crashed into the side of Haleakala, huge extinct volcano mountain on the island of Maui, during a formation flight. . . The dead: First Lieut. William M. Ferris, Lakewood, N. J. Second Lieut. Werner G. Hagerman, Kansas City, Kans. Second Lieut. Clyde H. Story, whose home town was not available immediately. . . Details of the crash were lacking. . . The Great Wall of China was built about 200 B. C.

Ruth And Cobb To Tangle In Grudge Golf Match Today

NEWTON, Mass., June 25 (AP)—Babe Ruth and Ty Cobb, who have retained their famous batting habits for golf, are expected to employ them today when, after all their years of friendly bickering, they come together at Commonwealth for the first round of their "grudge" match for charity. . . During their sensational careers, which earned them honored places in baseball's hall of fame, the Babe was the game's most powerful left-handed slugger and Ty, the American league's batting leader for 12 of his 24 years, the most scientific hitter. . . Nowadays, Cobb, at 54, and Ruth, seven years younger, play golf about the same way they hit baseballs and they do it almost equally well, judging by their practice rounds on Commonwealth's lengthy par-72 course. Ty turned in a 78 and the Babe had rounds of 79-80. Experts who studied their games rated them evenly matched. . . Since both have accepted wagers with others on the outcome of today's 18-hole match, which will be repeated in New York on Friday, they appeared eager to arrange a friendly bet before going to the first tee at 12:30 p. m. (C. S. T.).

Umpire Claims Bad Boy Threw Ball At Him During Game
 NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 25 (AP)—Cliffus Elwood (Boots) Poffenberger, the bad boy from Brooklyn, is on the spot again. . . Umpire Ed (Dutch) Hoffman reported to Southern Association President Trammell Scott that the chunky pitcher threw a baseball at him during last night's game which Boots' Nashville club lost to New Orleans, 9 to 2. . . The arbiter said Poffenberger baited him about ball and strike decisions until "Finally, I ordered him from the game when his language became abusive. . . Then, he wound up and let one go that hit me in my chest protector." . . Larry Gilbert, Nashville manager who helped Poffenberger back into baseball after his suspension by the Brooklyn Dodgers, wouldn't comment. . . The Amazon, Orinoco and Parana-La Plata rivers of South America together drain an area of about 3,700,000 square miles.

Record Crowd Expected To See Conley Pitch

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
 DALLAS, June 25 (AP)—There's grey at the temples and those aging legs wobble a bit, but old Snipe Conley comes home tonight to pitch again for the club he carried to its greatest glory. . . Baseball's oldest rookie—the fellow who was throwing his spitball past batters when present day players were interested in corner lot marble games—starts his career all over again as the Dallas Rebels fight to stay out of the cellar in a hurry-burly Texas league race. . . It's been 13 years since the redoubtable Snipe, holder of the league's mightiest pitching record—19 victories in a row—worked in the uniform of the Dallas club. It's been 12 years since he played professional baseball—but the 49-year-old Conley expressed confidence today that he could still win in the Texas league. . . Conley, with a life-time professional record of 211 victories against 138 defeats, most of them compiled in 12 seasons with Dallas, gets quite a test in his debut, hurling against the young San Antonio Missions, who are to use a 28-year-old right-hander, Ben Kneupper, in the box. . . The largest crowd of the season is predicted by President George Schepps of the Dallas club. He says from the advance ticket sale he expects 4,500 to jam into the park to see Conley try the most unusual comeback in Texas league history.
