

Pampa Churches To Observe Easter Worship Of Prince Of Peace

While death falls from the sky as Nazi planes bomb Greek and Yugoslavian towns, and thousands of men seek to kill their fellowmen as Allied and Axis armies clash in Europe and Africa, Pampans will reverently join in the observance of Christendom's most solemn day, the resurrection of Our Lord.

In a land where peace and goodwill still exists, millions will turn to worship the Prince of Peace, and pray that the mass murder on the Continent will soon end.

St. Matthew's Today is Maundy Thursday and will be observed at St. Matthew's Episcopal church with the celebration of Holy Communion at 7:30 o'clock tonight and a brief address by the Rev. E. J. Snell, pastor, on "The Constitution of Christian Character."

Tomorrow, Good Friday, will be observed with a meditational service on the seven last words of the Cross, from noon to 1 p. m. at St. Matthew's.

The annual Easter egg hunt for children will be held at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon on the Episcopal church lawn. All members of the church school under 12 years of age are invited to attend.

For Sunday, the services will be Holy Communion at 8 a. m., church school, 9:45, and Holy Communion and sermon at 11 o'clock.

Holy Souls Tenebrae services will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight at Holy Souls Catholic church, following the 8 o'clock service this morning, a solemn high mass and the procession of Blessed Sacrament to the repository where adoration will be observed during the day and night.

Holy Hour will be observed from 11 o'clock to midnight tonight. On Good Friday, mass of the pre-sanctified will be held at noon, and the Tre Ore observed until 3 p. m., followed by the stations of the Cross at 7:30 o'clock that night. Mass will be said at 6:15 o'clock Saturday morning, at which the solemn blessings of the church will be invoked. This will be followed by a high mass at 8 o'clock. On Easter Sunday, masses will be at 6, 8, and 10 a. m., with the high mass as the second of the three. Singing at all services during the Easter observance is by the children of Holy Souls school, directed by Sister Mary Catherine.

At 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Radio Station KFDN will present the last episode of "The Living God," titled "The Resurrection," with Peter De Cordoba as the voice of Jesus. Holy Hour, a novena to the Blessed Virgin Mary, will be held at the See CHURCHES, Page 6

Turkey Fears Attack; Moves Population

Situation Appears Brighter For Allies In Greece

Fears of an imminent German attack on Turkey, neutral ally of Great Britain, were seen today in a Turkish government announcement that it had been "found advisable" to remove a considerable part of the population of Istanbul.

The announcement followed only a few hours after the Rome radio broadcast a report that Germany's ambassador, Franz von Papen, ambassador to Turkey, had reiterated "the assurance that Germany has no intention of attacking Turkey."

Istanbul lies on the European side of the strategic Bosphorus, link between the Dardanelles and the Black sea. It is less than 100 miles from German-occupied Bulgaria.

Nazi blitzkrieg forces have already slashed down through Thrace in Greece alongside the Turkish frontier.

Greece's own struggle against the Germans took on a slightly brighter aspect as military quarters in Athens declared that her army remained intact "to deal a decisive blow at the German invader with Allied support."

Battalions of British flame-throwers, tanks and armored cars newly arrived from Africa were reported rushing north today from Erez, the port of Athens, for a decisive battle with Adolf Hitler's blitzkrieg legions.

As the five-day-old battle of the Balkans neared a showdown, unconfirmed rumors circulated in Budapest that Belgrade, the bomb-stricken capital of Yugoslavia, had been entered by Nazi troops.

Advices reaching Bern, Switzerland, one of the few remaining outlets of uncensored news in war-ridden Europe, said British transports and supply ships were bringing fresh reinforcements into southern Greece ports.

German press dispatches indicated the British expeditionary force—estimated at 300,000 men—was massed in the vicinity of Mount Olympus, 60 miles southwest of Salonika, near the Aegean sea coast.

Other reports said the British were completing a new defense line stretching across the Greek peninsula from a point south of Salonika to the Albanian port of Chimara, on the Adriatic sea.

The Budapest newspaper 8 Ora Ujseg (literally "8 o'clock News") said Nazi troops racing across Yugoslavia had established contact with Italian forces in Albania.

Barron To Play Bruch Concerto On Program Here

Robert Louis Barron, violin-playing conductor of the Amarillo Philharmonic, will play the Bruch concerto with the Amarillo orchestra when it appears at the Pampa High School auditorium in a concert at 8 o'clock on the night of April 21.

Here Mr. Barron will play the brilliant G minor concerto for violin and orchestra by Max Bruch, the prolific German composer. It is a concerto that Mr. Barron has performed in public nearly 100 times over a period of 28 years.

Pampa will also be represented in the concert, with Fred Burdick and Carl Adams, cellos, and Anton Romanoff, violin.

Mr. Barron was just out of knee pants when he first performed it in Chicago in the spring of 1913. In the following season he performed it a dozen times on an extensive tour of the Middle West and East.

Measles, chicken pox, and mumps are still playing havoc with attendance at local schools, according to principals. The high school and junior high school have not been hit so hard.

It is estimated that nearly 25 percent of the pupils attending grade schools are ill. Schools will close this afternoon for the Easter holidays and not reopen until Tuesday.

By that time, principals believe, the epidemic will have abated somewhat.

One school principal said today that out of 55 pupils in the first grade rooms in his school, only 19 were present today.

Another principal reported that fourth grade pupils were hardest hit. Number of contagious cases under quarantine are fewer now, Dr. N. L. Nichol, city sanitation officer, said today.

Governor Demands End Of Ford Strike

DETROIT, April 10 (AP)—Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner called on the Ford Motor company and the United Automobile Workers (CIO) today to accept "without further delay" a three-point proposal for settling the eight-day old strike at the company's Rouge plant.

He issued a statement in which he said that in the interests of national defense and preservation of law and order he was submitting a "practical and fair" plan with the knowledge that it does not satisfy the desires of either the company or union.

The plan: "All employees shall be returned to their jobs without discrimination, at once, including five of the eight men whose discharge precipitated the strike. Because of an agreement the Ford Motor company made with me not to reopen their plant during mediation, I am asking James P. Dewey, to arbitrate the cases of the other three men—Ray Pilon, Jack Wilkie and Andy Dewar."

Survivors are the widow; five daughters, Mrs. L. H. Parker, Ponce City, Okla., Mrs. R. L. McKinnon, Ardmore, Okla., Mrs. W. L. Flint, Omaha, Neb., Mrs. F. E. Martin and Mrs. J. C. Move Started To Appoint Garner To U. S. Senate

SAN ANTONIO, April 10 (AP)—A move to promote the appointment of former Vice-President John Nance Garner of Uvalde to fill the vacancy in the United States senate from Texas caused by the death of Senator Morris Sheppard gained momentum here today when prominent Democrats joined to a move to urge Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel to appoint Garner.

While some doubt was felt as to whether the former vice-president, now enjoying retirement at his Uvalde home, would accept the appointment, leading spokesmen pointed to the experience of Garner gained through a life-time spent on the national political scene and stressed his conservative nature.

Ralph Morrison, railway president and hotel operator here, voiced his sentiments in favor of Garner as a Texas senator. "Based on his practical common sense and experience in Washington, as well as his knowledge of how to get things done and get actica," Morrison said, "it would be impossible for the governor to appoint a man—if he had the choice of the whole United States—who could do the country as much good as John Nance Garner can," he declared.

Frank C. Davis, attorney who headed the Garner delegation in the state Democratic convention last year, declared such an appointment would "not only be a compliment to the state but a well-deserved honor to Mr. Garner."

Approached on the idea, Al Buchanan, prominent Southwest Texas oil operator, termed it "great."

Dies Reported Candidate For Senate Seat

Rising Vote Of House Favors Governor

AUSTIN, April 10 (AP)—The Texas house of representatives today adopted a resolution requesting Governor W. Lee O'Daniel to resign and accept appointment as United States senator in succession to Morris Sheppard, who died yesterday.

The resolution, which declared the governor should make his services available to Texas and America in a national capacity "in this hour of national peril," also requested that he announce as a candidate for the senatorial elective term ending in January, 1943.

It was adopted by a rising vote, which Rep. Dallas Blankenship, of Dallas, who was presiding, first announced as "unanimous." On an objection, Blankenship ordered that the journal show merely "adoption."

A few "Yipees" and some hand-clapping punctuated the reading of the resolution, of which Rep. Mark Halsey of Lubbock was the author.

The resolution said the governor could perform an "inestimable service" by obtaining national enactment of his far-sighted program to end strikes and labor violence in defense industries and adoption of President Roosevelt's announced program for full federal payment of social security obligations.

"In these perilous times, Texas, as the nation's greatest democratic state desperately needs as its junior senator in the United States senate a seasoned and fearless statesman, who can command national respect and attention," it said.

"Governor O'Daniel is the best beloved and most popular governor this state has ever known since the untimely death of Stephen F. Austin, and by reason of his statesmanship, ability, courage and mastery of oratory and debate has become a national figure."

Asserting he favored the resolution but thought it reminded of "the tactics of Senator Joe Hill" and was "premature," Rep. Egan Favors of Pampa moved to lay the resolution on the table subject to call but the motion was not acted upon.

A suggestion by Rep. Jack E. Love of Fort Worth that the section relating to strikes be eliminated, on grounds the house should not try to influence the votes or policies of a United States senator, also was lost in quick moves for adoption.

Rep. Halsey asked Favors to apologize for the "comparison with the gentleman across the hall," which Favors did.

Senator Hill, in the last session, was an outspoken critic of the governor, and in this session has accused him of violating the constitution in not promptly submitting to the senate certain appointments.

Blankenship cut short the flurry of exchanges among Halsey, Love, Favors, and others, by ordering a vote.

Most representatives got to their feet, but some remained seated. "The resolution is adopted unanimously," Blankenship announced, banging his gavel.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—Selling waned in today's stock market as an attempt was made to get the bid back on its feet but such rallies appeared were feeble at the best.

There was a fall of 1.8 points in the Associated Press average of 60 stocks in the four preceding sessions. In line with that some thought at least a technical right-about was a possibility.

Dealings were negligible throughout, with transfers for the full proceedings around 350,000 shares.

Among better performers most of the day were U. S. Steel, General Motors, Sears, Roebuck & Co., Eastman Kodak, Phillips Morris, Consolidated Edison, Chrysler and American Smelting.

Secondary rails took an upward step in the bond division. Major commodities turned higher. Cotton futures, on late trades, were up 40 to 65 cents a bale.

Eighteen persons received certificates for completing a course this week. The 18th person, whose name was left off the list released yesterday, was Mrs. Ray E. McKernan.

Share Of Fortune To Depend On Blood Test

PAWHUSKA, Okla., April 10 (AP)—U. S. District Attorney Whitey Maury said today a blood test would be made in an effort to determine whether Jack Rogers, 39-year-old truck driver, is of Indian heritage and may share in the $225,000 estate of the late Mo-se-che-he, wealthy Osage Indian.

Rogers' blood will be compared with that of Mr. and Mrs. Bellesario Fierro of San Antonio, Texas, who Rogers contends are his parents.

Rogers, widow of Mo-se-che-he, must prove there is at least a trace of Indian blood in his veins before federal law will permit him to share in the estate.

Evidence presented in county court hearings on the estate contends that Bellesario Fierro is of Yaqui-Apache extraction and that the Fierros reared Rogers.

However, Ralph Barney, Pawhuska attorney representing 15 other claimants to the estate, declares Rogers is a foster son of the Fierros. Rogers testified that before coming to Oklahoma, he used the name of Albert Fierro.

British Admit Best Tactician Captured

CAIRO, Egypt, April 10 (AP)—The British acknowledged today that one of the six generals captured by a German-Italian force at El Mechili, Libya, was Lieut.-Gen. Sir Richard Nugent O'Connor, one of the best tacticians in the British army.

Wavell, commander-in-chief of the British forces in the middle east.

The war office at first gave out the name of the prisoner as Lieut.-Gen. Sir Victor O'Connor, but later corrected it.

In a radio broadcast Feb. 9, Prime Minister Winston Churchill singled out O'Connor and Lieut.-Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson as the two men responsible for carrying out Wavell's offensive which drove the Italian forces of Marshal Rodolfo Graziani out of Egypt and eastern Libya.

FDR Asks Power To Take Over Foreign Ships Lying In Ports

WASHINGTON, April 10. (AP)—President Roosevelt asked congress today for broad statutory authority to take over any "foreign-registered" vessels lying idle in our ports.

This authority, he said in a message to the legislators, should be subject to the payment of just compensation.

Although the chief executive had asserted Tuesday that he would recommend legislation to permit the purchase or charter of 39 Danish vessels which have been taken into "protective custody" by the coast guard, the language of his message today was not limited to the Danish ships.

The President cited a provision of the merchant marine act of 1936 which authorizes him to requisition or purchase any American-owned vessels in time of national emergency or when the national defense makes it advisable. The section provides for a method of compensation.

"There does not appear," Mr. Roosevelt asserted, "to be any comparable provision with respect to foreign-owned vessels lying idle in our ports."

"In view of the growing shortage of available tonnage suited to our national needs, I am satisfied, after consultation with the heads of the interested departments and agencies of the government, that we should have statutory authority to take over any such vessels as our needs may require, subject, of course, to the payment of just compensation.

"It is obvious that our ultimate defense will be rendered futile if the growing shortage of shipping facilities is not arrested."

Ships in American ports include two German and 28 Italian vessels which have been taken into custody on grounds of sabotage or attempted sabotage. Berlin and Rome have protested the seizures.

Informed persons predicted congress would grant the requested authority and that soon thereafter the President would use the acquired ships in some form helpful to the British.

Mr. Roosevelt told his press conference Tuesday, this government had the right to declare the 39 Axis ships forfeited to the United States but could not turn them over to the British under such a procedure. However, their addition to the United States merchant marine might permit the release of some American vessels.

Whether any steps were planned which might result in the purchase of the Axis vessels, the message did not hint. But nowhere in it was there a reference to Denmark alone or to any specific country of its ships.

The legislation which Mr. Roosevelt

Navy Blimp Crashes Near Lakehurst Base

LAKEHURST, N. J., April 10 (AP)—The L-2, a naval training blimp, crashed in a cedar swamp 300 feet south of the Lakehurst naval air station at noon today. None of its crew of four was injured.

Lieutenant Henry F. Burfield, in command of the craft, said damage from the crash appeared to be confined entirely to the fabric.

The blimp was making a test take-off when the accident occurred. Eyewitnesses said the craft had just cleared a grove of pine and cedar trees bordering the swamp when it seemed to stand still in mid-air, nose down and disappear.

"Family Good Times" Topic Of Baker Program

At the regular meeting of the B. M. Baker Parent-Teacher Association this week in the school auditorium, Rev. Newton Starns of the Harrah chapel Methodist church gave the opening prayer after which Ken Bennett led the group in singing "America."

Miss Bernice Lorsch, chairman, introduced Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, who was in charge of the panel discussion on "Family Good Times." Mrs. Hunkapillar presented Miss Josephine Thomas, W. F. Savage, and H. A. Yoder, who took part in the panel.

Mrs. Hunkapillar stated that members of each family should plan their lives so that they will be more relaxed, more at ease, and have more time together. The family should play together and then it will stay together.

Mr. Yoder spoke on "Good Times in the Home." He stated that one should leave worries out of the home as much as possible. There should be more play in the home as it is the natural center of play and play is the natural center of the education of the child.

Mr. Savage discussed "Good Times in School." He compared the present day schools with sugar coated pills. Years ago the schools were like bad medicine as no one really enjoyed school, but still he had to attend just as he had to take medicine.

Mrs. Hunkapillar asked that each person answer the question, "How much time do I have with my family? Do we have a good time during the time we are together?"

During the business session with Mrs. J. E. Beard in charge, Mrs. Henry English gave the following report by the nominating committee: Mrs. J. E. Beard, president; Mrs. B. B. Hayes, vice-president; Mrs. Bill Coffee, secretary; Mrs. J. M. Deering, treasurer; Mrs. Annie Daniels, historian; Mrs. U. S. Seay, City Council representative; and Mrs. J. B. Mayes, County Council representative.

Because of a tie on the room count, a collection was taken and Miss Verdie Denton, Mrs. Annie Daniels, and Mrs. B. G. Gordon's rooms each received an award.

After the breakfast the group will go to the church for the regular class meeting.

Members of Young Business Girls class of First Baptist church will have an Easter breakfast Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the Schneider hotel.

Queen Elizabeth Sees It Through-- And Wins Her Subjects' Hearts

Queen Elizabeth "can ask simple, human questions which her husband, George Windsor, never will be able to do." Above, the King looks on as Her Majesty chats with a woman welder in an aircraft factory.

LONDON—This war has done things for Queen Elizabeth. When she was crowned during Coronation Week, she was putting it bluntly, stouthead, dumpy, and certainly not chic.

And because sophisticated, glamorous Wally Simpson was still fresh in the minds of the commoners, she had two strikes against her when she took over the job of being Britain's Queen.

But then, under the shrewd, guiding hand of former Queen Mary, who now lives in retirement in a small South England village, things began to happen. She began to diet, and gradually the pounds melted from her. She put herself in the hands of a smart hairdresser and got a new dressmaker: first Molyneux, then Hartnell.

And although she did not emerge overnight as a ravishing creature, she did acquire a smooth appearance.

Even then it was not the sleekness you'll find on the women of New York's Fifth Avenue. For despite the guidance of dress experts, the Queen still remains addicted to two-piece suits, dresses of pale blue and pink trimmed with fox.

This was one step towards popularity. Yet it still was nothing more than physical transformation. And for a Queen, or anybody else, to achieve a great personal following in a democracy, she must have something to give out. And that is what Elizabeth did. It was the turning point in her career.

It happened shortly after war was declared. The King and Queen were touring the shipyards of the Clyde-side. They passed between lines of British workers, who had momentarily stopped work to greet the royal couple.

Suddenly the Queen stepped out from the party and walked to a ship-builder and his son. She held out her hand, and the man took it with embarrassment because Elizabeth had on new dove-grey suede gloves. But she insisted and then asked, turning to the old man's son, "How long have you been working?"

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By ALICIA HART
Time and the ability to stick to a plan are more important than money to the woman who wants to be smartly turned out but who has no intention of trying to claim a place on so-called "best dressed" lists.

She prizes the extra amount of free time which allows her to examine several remnant counters to find just the right bit of material for a blouse that will lift her suit out of the so-so category. She realizes that a unique buckle, shoes which are chic as well as comfortable, a hat that is at once flattering and smart, or suit material that looks soft and yet will hold its creases often cost more in time than in money.

As a result, she never makes plans for a wardrobe hurriedly. She does not expect to get everything within a few days. Right now, she knows pretty well what she wants for spring. Long before the stores are crowded with Easter shoppers she will have spent a great deal of time tracking down the best clothes available at what she can afford to spend.

Meanwhile, she will not have forgotten that the better her figure, the more becoming the new clothes will be. She thinks that it makes more sense for a woman to devote a lot of time for six months to getting rid of bulges than to go on, year after year, constantly searching for clothes to conceal or minimize the bulges.

If she decides to take off a roll here, a bulge there, she admits frankly to herself that this again is more a matter of time than of money. She knows that the deluxe, practically painless way to reduce is to go to a figure salon to be massaged and to do exercises under the watchful, sympathetic eye of an exercise expert.

However, since her budget won't allow any such luxury, she makes up her mind to do exercises at home for fifteen minutes every single day. Rain or shine, company or no company, she does special routines to correct her figure defects for fifteen minutes every day. In addition, she sticks to a diet—a sane, non-starvation one, of course—but a diet nevertheless. At the end of six months, she no longer has bulges to worry about.

Greeks Say Main Army To Strike At 'Right Time And Right Place'

ATHENS, Greece, April 10. (AP)—The Greek army remains intact "to deal a decisive blow at the German invader with Allied support," Greek military sources declared today, despite the entrainment of some forces in eastern Greece.

The fate of the forces cut off by the swift Nazi drive to Salonika still was obscure, but they were reported holding out late last night. "The main Greek army will strike at the right time and the right place," the military informants reiterated confidently.

"The battle for Greek independence, first won on Mount Pindus—where the Italian attack from Albania was thrown back last October—will be repeated again on Greek mountains where in past centuries invaders have been stopped."

German troop-carrying motor vehicles were "systematically machine-gunned" by British bombers and fighters in the Kilkis and Polycastron areas, north of Salonika, an RAF communique said, although bad weather conditions interfered with air operations. German casualties were described as heavy.

Bridges in the Axioupolis zone came in for particular attention, it was said.

The German high command said Greek troops fighting east of the Vardar river "captivated and laid down their arms" yesterday morning.

Strong Greek defenses in this area are situated along the Bulgarian frontier at Rupal Pass and further to the east on the Nevrokop plateau, all of which were sliced off by the Nazi drive down the Vardar from Yugoslavia to Salonika.

"Despite the difficult position which thereby was created for our troops in eastern Macedonia, their resistance was unshaken and they maintained their lines, according to information received during the afternoon," a Greek army communique said.

"The possibility of a Yugoslav retreat as well as the cutting off of Greek forces in Macedonia and Thrace had been foreseen by the Greek command," the Athens radio declared. "The decisive battle will be given where strategic conditions demand it. The war goes on and will go on."

The Athens radio took the view that the loss of Salonika "without fighting, as a result of the retreat of the Serbian army, does not constitute defeat for our soldiers." "The heroic defenders of Greek soil will continue the epic struggle and face both invaders effectively," it said.

President Taft was the first American president to use his own motor car, and President Harding was the first one to learn to drive.

Spirited Senate Floor Controversy Reported In Making

WASHINGTON, April 10. (AP)—A spirited senate floor controversy was reported in the making today over the most effective manner of expanding trans-Atlantic air service in preparation for a period of stiff international competition expected to develop after the war.

The dispute already has led to several heated sessions of the senate appropriations committee which decided, after hearing a variety of expert testimony, to recommend subsidization of a second airline to Europe in addition to that operated by Pan-American Airways. The decision was made by a 14-13 vote.

The proposed new service would be operated by American Export Air Lines, subsidiary of American Export Lines, which is now operating a steamship service to Portugal and has long had plans for an airline.

Witnesses before the committee were reported to have been virtually unanimous in predicting that the war would be followed by an era of violent competition among the trans-oceanic airlines of many countries.

They forecast that technical advances and energies now concentrated on military aviation would then be employed in a mad scramble among leading nations for domination of this rich commerce.

General Marshall To Inspect Texas Bases

FORT SILL, Okla., April 10. (AP)—General George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the United States army, left here by airplane today for Abilene, Texas, after an 18-hour visit at Fort Sill.

He was expected to reach Abilene about 11 a. m., visit the 45th division at Camp Barkeley briefly, go to Brownwood, and spend the night at Fort Sam Houston.

Before leaving, General Marshall termed the death of Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas "A great loss to the nation."

Marshall said he was "pleased and impressed" by the training program at Fort Sill. Early today he saw the entire 18th field artillery regiment work out a firing problem.

He said he expected to be back in Washington Sunday after visiting Camp Beauregard, La., and Camp Shelby, Miss.

BRITON SEES SON FOR FIRST TIME

Memorable picture is made as British soldier on leave greets infant son for first time. Fatally is shown in Queen Charlotte's Maternity Hospital, one of those "adopted" by Bundles for Britain, American war relief organization.

OPERA BOMBED

ence of Wilhelm II, was damaged, as well as some valuable art objects. It was not learned immediately whether any of the states library's approximately 3,000,000 volumes had been lost or damaged in the fire, which was said to have been brought quickly under control. The state opera building offered a sad sight, however. While this part of the city apparently suffered from incendiaries only, official announcements said explosives struck two hospitals and apartment houses in other districts, killing and wounding a number of persons. Fifteen British bombers were reported to have been shot down by night fighters and anti-aircraft guns on their approach and the Germans said they believed more were caught on their way back. The Germans said Nazi warplanes have sunk nine ships totaling 49,000 tons in the last 24 hours, and have damaged a destroyer and five merchantmen aggregating 28,000 tons. LONDON, April 10 (AP)—British air raiders dropped "powerful high explosive bombs" in the center of Berlin last night and started large fires, the air ministry announced today. Overnight attacks also were made on an aluminum plant in German-occupied Norway and a radio station in Denmark, the British declared. They acknowledged the loss of eight planes in these operations and in daylight assaults yesterday on Breslau and other targets, but declared 11 German bombers were downed in heavy attacks last night on the English midlands and northeast.

TURKEY FEARS

nial, Hitler's high command still insisted that Greece's "lost army" of the east--trapped by the Germans' lightning thrust down the Vardar river valley to Salonika--was capitulating. "Completely isolated Greek forces east of the Vardar are surrendering unconditionally," a Nazi communiqué asserted this morning. German war correspondents said the break through the Greek Metaxas line was one of the war's hardest assignments for Nazi panzer columns. Stuka dive-bombers attacking for six hours, as well as artillery, played an important role, they said, but the decisive break came when flame-throwers, grenadiers and infantry stormed Greek defense bunkers. On the western front, the war in the air continued with unabated fury. British RAF night raiders unleashed a three-hour assault of Berlin, showering quantities of "powerful high explosive bombs" in the heart of the capital and destroying Hitler's headquarters and the state opera house on Unter den Linden--in Berlin's downtown Broadway. Opposite the state opera, the top floor of the Emperor William I palace was hit, and the Prussian state library was damaged by fire; and Bellevue castle, the guest house where foreign statesmen are entertained by Hitler, was hit by bombs. Dense smoke hung over the German capital this morning. In suburban Potsdam, the facade of the one-time residence of Wilhelm II, the German kaiser during the 1914-18 World War, was damaged. The Germans said they bombed Newcastle, Birmingham, Ipswich, and Southampton, in England; and the British acknowledged a violent assault on a northeast English town (apparently Newcastle) in which 34 persons were killed and 90 wounded. In the Balkans, the Greek high command denied an assertion by Hitler's high command that the Greek army had surrendered after the fall of Salonika. "Despite the difficult position of our troops in eastern Macedonia, their resistance was unshaken, and they maintained their lines," a communiqué said. And the Athens radio announced defiantly: "The decisive battle will be given where strategic conditions demand it. The war goes on--and will go on." The Greek government spokesman acknowledged that the "lost army" of the east was fighting without immediate hope of help from western Greece. To the north, Premier Mussolini's high command had asserted that Italian troops were pressing deeper into Yugoslavia in a drive to join Nazi columns slicing across Yugoslavia from the east. German mechanized forces were reported to have reached the reaches of Tetovo, 23 miles west of captured Skopje and only 15 miles from effecting a junction with the Italians near the Yugoslav-Albanian frontier.

O'DANIEL

gressman Dies, chairman of the committee investigating an American spy ring, was elected to the House in the election regardless of O'Daniel's temporary appointment. "Through the investigation, Dies has received enormous publicity. In brief sessions before adjournment yesterday, both legislative branches adopted a free conference committee report on a bill allocating $89,200 to water conservation, reclamation and river flood-control districts as follows: Neches $12,000; Guadalupe-Blanco $15,000; upper Colorado $3,000; lower Concho $2,000; Panhandle $5,000; Peace $6,000; lower Neches $10,000; upper Colorado $3,500; Red $5,000 and Sabine-Neches $4,000. The house approved a proposed constitutional amendment permitting construction of a $2,000,000 state building to house government departments now occupying rented office space outside the capital. The senate finance committee wiped its slate clear of all but one major appropriation bill, reporting the departmental allocation. The measure earmarking $28,285,253 for governmental operation the next biennium. A bill permitting the board of directors of the Texas College of Art and Industries at Kingsville to displace one of its members $50 a month to serve as secretary-treasurer was sent to the governor by the house. A proposed amendment to the constitution, San Antonio, waiving irrevocable penalties on state property taxes delinquent before July 2, 1940, was debated but not acted upon by the senate.

BARRON

In 1919 he played it with the Portland, Ore., symphony; in 1929 with the Stockton, Calif., symphony; in 1932 with the Oregon State symphony; in 1935 with the San Francisco symphony, and in 1938 with the Santa Barbara symphony. In between times he performed the same concerto with piano accompaniment in scores of concerts. When he was in Portland he was rehearsal soloist with the symphony for one season. The orchestra presented five guest soloists, and it was Mr. Barron's job to rehearse in the guest's place. He learned five major symphonies in one season and played each several times in rehearsal. STRIKE might arise before the NLRB election. "Both parties, likewise, agree to do all in their power to expedite the holding of the labor board election.

Governor Murray D. Van Wageningen of Michigan expressed renewed hope for a quick end to the strike at the Ford River Rouge plant near Detroit.

Federal mediator James F. Dewey announced, meanwhile, that direct conferences between company and union representatives have been discontinued for the present.

Although details of a proposed new contract between soft coal operators and CIO United Mine workers were reported unacceptable to some mine owners, Dr. John R. Steelman, director of the United States conciliation service, declared:

Steelman asserted that operators whose mines produce 50 per cent of the tonnage in the Appalachian area, or 38 1/2 per cent of the nation's output, were willing to meet the union's demands for increased wages.

The federal conciliator also said he expected that operators in outlying areas would join in the agreement, thus accounting for 68 1/2 per cent of the U. S. soft coal tonnage.

Knudsen said legislative action to prevent strikes should be considered "only as a last resort."

John Lord O'Brien, counsel for the office of production management, seconded his chief's recommendations, remarking that "the longer I live, the less faith I have in compelling people to render service and the more faith, I have in co-operation."

After hearing the OPM officials and Secretary of Labor Perkins, who also said she felt legislation was not necessary to end strikes in defense industries, the committee recessed until Tuesday.

Knudsen told the committee he favored a "cooling off period" in labor disputes, preferably to be established by collective bargaining agreements or through the labor department's conciliation service.

However, he said that "if it can't be arranged in any other way" such a waiting period should be required by law.

Let's Reconsider

Officers Probe Alleged Poison Case Near Dallas

DALLAS, April 10 (AP)—A possible poison murder was being investigated here of Cecil E. Adams, 28, of near Rockwall.

The young man was found unconscious and only partially clothed at the side of a road near Garland two hours before he died.

In his shirt pocket was a pencilled note which read: "We hate to force this down him but we followed him all day and knew he had a good day collecting so we got the money and left him here for some one to find."

The note was unsigned. Dallas and Rockwall county officers were cooperating on the case.

Aids in Averting Big Steel Strike

Workers Organizing Committee (C. I. O.), led by President Philip Murray, above, averted a strike against giant U. S. Steel Corporation as it agreed to negotiate union wage demands for another week.

In response to questions, Knudsen said he thought it would be "all right" for congress to take over a struck defense plant if mediation failed.

He said he did not believe that legislation outlawing strikes in defense plants offered any solution to the problem of continued production.

"If you exchange a strike for a slow-up," he declared, "you wouldn't be much better off."

AFL machinists on strike against 69 San Francisco firms voted at a union meeting last night to reject a wage increase compromise offered by employers, effective during outside arbitration.

Employers said the strike of the 1,500 machinists had affected 4,500 other workmen and halted work on $7,000,000 of defense orders. The union demanded a 15-cent-an-hour increase for journeymen and employers offered a 12 1/2 cent raise.

Casswell Edward Dies At Fort Worth Home

FORT WORTH, April 10. (AP)—Casswell Overton Edwards, 90, lifelong resident of Tarrant county, ranch owner and as good a cowboy as ever roped a longhorn steer, died this morning at his residence here.

Mr. Edwards had been confined to his home since 1936 when he suffered a partial stroke of paralysis that affected his limbs and caused the loss of sight in one eye. A second stroke Sunday night left him unconscious until death at 3:20 a. m. Thursday.

Funeral services will be conducted at the family residence here Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

'Home By Fall,' Say Nazis In New Mexico

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE
 FORT STANTON, N. M., April 10 (AP)—Nazi seamen of the scuttled German liner Columbus, settled in new quarters in the southern New Mexico mountains, are looking forward to "home by autumn."
 Here under the snowy peaks of the Sierra Blancas, 412 officers and men have settled to the routine of life in an interment camp under the watchful eye of border patrol guards. Cheerful in surroundings strange to them, hundreds of miles from saltwater, the newly sunburned crew yet chafes restlessly under the bonds imposed by fate and war abroad. "We'll be home by summer," cheerfully announced one youthful seafarer.

"By autumn, maybe," interposed a shipmate.
 "Ja, home by autumn, when it will be over," amended the other, his sun-reddened face slowly falling.

"Ja, home by autumn, maybe," Captain Wilhelm Daehne, skipper of the liner now at the bottom of the ocean, slight, suave and smiling, imperturbably keeps his men busy with the assistance of his ship's officers.

To him an old story is being repeated from the days of 1915-1919 when the World War caught up with him and he spent four years in interment in Australia.

"We are legally seamen in transit," he said, smiling wryly.
 "But seamen who have no means of transit."

Would he like to be "on the other side?"
 The captain's easy smile tightens.

"Ah—." The thought went unsaid. Three weeks ago the men were transferred here from the Angel Island immigration station at San Francisco whence they were taken after scuttling their ship more than a year ago before the menace of a British warship 400 miles in the Atlantic off the Virginia Capes.

In their new home, consisting of C.O. barracks on the grounds of the U. S. Marine hospital, they are busy themselves making things ship-shape, leveling grounds, painting and between times sunning themselves in the already hot, southwestern sun.

It is said that beginner drivers are the best because they have not yet reached the point where they will completely relax their vigilance.

The time required to see and realize a danger signal and begin to press on the automobile brake is about one-fifth of a second.

Texas Solons Honor Memory Of Sheppard

AUSTIN, April 10 (AP)—The whirling machinery of the Texas legislature paused today in respect to Senator Morris Sheppard.

The house of representatives adjourned until tomorrow as a tribute to his memory after adopting a resolution lauding him as a gentleman, lawyer, statesman and patriot.

The senate planned similar action.

Chaplains of both houses mentioned the senator in prayers opening the day's sessions.

The Rev. George W. Coltrin, house chaplain, expressed thanks to God for Sheppard's "long and useful service," prayed for comfort to the senator's "loved ones" and asked for Governor O'Daniel "wisdom in the selection of his successor."

The senate stood in silent tribute soon after convening, and Senator Harold Zeck of Texarkana began preparing a resolution.

The house resolution adopted by standing vote praised Sheppard as "one of the outstanding leaders of state and nation" and asserted he left a "host of friends to mourn his passing."

It spoke of "his unimpeachable honesty and integrity" and declared he was "exceedingly well versed in the science of government."

The resolution was by Reps. Jasper N. Reed of Texarkana, Newton W. McCann, also of Texarkana, J. K. Hileman of Atlanta and Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo.

Tom Green Murder Case Reversed By Court Of Appeals

AUSTIN, April 10 (AP)—The court of criminal appeals today reversed and remanded the case of Dr. W. F. Chambers assessed a three-year penitentiary sentence in Tom Green county for conviction of murder without malice.

The state charged Katherine Mowrey died as a result of an illegal operation performed by Dr. Chambers but the appellate tribunal said the prosecution erred in reading to the jury another indictment pending against Dr. Chambers alleging a similar offense to the one on which he was tried.

DO DEMAGOGUES CAUSE OUR TROUBLE?

It looks as though demagogues are at the bottom of our trouble. Notice how Mrs. Roosevelt makes statements which tend to confuse workers and cause them to believe that "decent" wages can be established by wish, by fiat, by law, by collective bargaining. She even goes so far as to contend, that we cannot have freedom in the United States unless labor earns enough to live decently.

While she is doing this, the President is enacting laws and making speeches along the same line. His acts tend to fool the people, cause untold misery, suffering and poverty. This will eventually lead to both civil and foreign wars.

Intellectual Degeneration

"We must realize that it is very hard to save a civilization when its hour has come to fall beneath the power of demagogues. For the demagogue has been the great stranger of civilization. Both Greek and Roman civilizations fell at the hands of this loathsome creature who brought from Macaulay the remark that 'in every century the vilest examples of human nature have been among demagogues.'"

When the Administration and Mrs. Roosevelt advocate establishing wages by wish, or by fiat, or by arbitration and refuse to explain by what rule the arbitrators are to establish, they are practicing the old arts of demagogism that have destroyed all civilizations in the past.

Aid At Hand

America is a land of travelers. The wanderlust is firmly imbedded in our national character. The typical American wants to go places and see things, and he does on every possible occasion.

One unfortunate consequence of this vast amount of motor travel is our high accident rate. We skid into ditches. We hit other cars. We run over pedestrians. We collide with trains.

There is a qualified physician in this country for each 767 people, on the average. That is a higher proportion than in any other nation. Whether you're in a big city or a tiny village or driving through the open country, you can be sure a doctor isn't far away.

Behind The News

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON, April 10—Behind the latest labor disturbances at the Ford River Rouge works is a record of nearly four years wrangling with the National Labor Relations Board—covering nine principal cases at Kansas City, Chicago, Somerville, Mass., St. Louis, Richmond, Va., Long Beach, Calif., Buffalo, Dallas and Dearborn plants—costing no one knows how much in lawyers' fees, court costs and time for N. L. R. B. hearings. One case went to the Supreme Court.

The Labor Board is only a little over five years old and all but one year of its stormy young life has been marked by Ford grief. Its Ford files are voluminous, the exceptions made by the company in the St. Louis case alone filling a box as big as an old-fashioned cloak and suit salesman's trunk.

The present trouble at Dearborn is, in a way, a direct follow-up on the first Ford case, the one that got to the Supreme Court. That case began May 22, 1937, when the company was charged with interference and coercion against the employees' right to organize and bargain, and with discrimination against individual employees by firing them for organization activities.

Hearings began in July and went through the rest of 1937, a decision and order finally being handed down just before Christmas. Then followed nearly two years of wrangling, ending in a new decision in August, 1939, and the N. L. R. B. petition to sixth Circuit Court of Appeals, a month later, to enforce the order.

The court handed down its decision in October, upholding the Labor Board, whereupon the company took the case to the Supreme Court. It was only on Feb. 10 this year that the Supreme Court denied the writ of certiorari, in effect confirming the lower court's decision.

The Ford company, in compliance with court order, began to work out back pay for rehiring of men discharged for union activity, but that by no means settled the problem. On Feb. 18 the C. I. O. United Automobile Workers filed a new petition with the board, charging the Ford company with new violations of the National Labor Relations act at Lincoln, River Rouge and Highland Park plants.

Speeding up its slow motion procedure as a defense measure, the Labor Board held hearings March 24-26. Oral arguments were moved up to April 5, and if they can be concluded and the board decision handed down in reasonable time, N. L. R. B. will have demonstrated what it can do to speed up the defense effort by handling a major industry case within two months or so. That is, unless the lawyers get to work on the case and stretch it out into another four year marathon argument.

For one thing, the strike may go merrily on and every government agency dealing with labor will find itself increasingly on the spot because they are all limited in powers. While it says in the United States Government Manual that N. L. R. B. "is an integral cog in the nation's program of preventing strife and promoting industrial harmony in this period of mobilizing working forces in behalf of national defense," you will look pretty hard and not find a satisfactory answer to the question of how it can stop a strike like this one.

N. L. R. B. is limited by law to procedure best illustrated by what it has done and what it has not been able to do in the nine—now 10—Ford cases. Three of these cases are still in the courts, two await compliance by the Ford company.

CONCENTRATION

We now think it is no longer necessary to concentrate any attention to developing a true liberal government in the United States. We prefer to spend our time endeavoring to improve the rest of the governments of the world.

On the set of "Manpower," I saw "Salton" Vincent—doctored and double for many screen men—showing Marlene Dietrich how to throw a punch. Even to the sharp-eyed studio gang, it looked and sounded like a stunner. The place that got the blow, though, was the Salton's left shoulder—hit resoundingly with his right fist while his left arm made a straight jab that whizzed past Miss Dietrich's pointed chin.

PERSUASION OR FORCE

Government is force. That is the reason government should be very limited. When people use force, they should know they are absolutely right and in harmony with natural laws. It is a great catastrophe when force is used, especially when it is out of harmony with natural laws. The only time when force is justifiable is for self-defense.

Force is always dangerous. It is based on lack of reason and savors of tyranny.

BARBS

Captain of an American passenger liner reported a whale stopped his ship at sea by being caught on the bow. And that ought to stop all fishermen cold.

It's always easy to tell on which side your bread is buttered. Just drop it on the carpet.

Kills have been worn since 1626. Scotsmen always have been known for their thriftiness.

Lots of women miss their husbands, but one in Alabama was arrested for it. She did it with a gun.

Changes or any part of them would improve the work of N. L. R. B. is a matter of conjecture and your own opinion, based principally on which side of the union tracks you live.

N. L. R. B. has been judged largely by its shortcomings. The good it has done is usually lost sight of, and in that evaluation you must bear in mind that in five years it has handled 22,000 cases, every one a potential strike, involving nearly 7,000,000 workers. It has held 3800 elections—roughly 10 per cent of its cases. The other 90 per cent have been handled by consent and agreement of employer and employees, without action by the board.

Courts have upheld the board better than they have sustained many other government administrative agencies. N. L. R. B. has an 8-to-1 record here and the Supreme Court, where three of its claims have been denied and 24 approved, with or without modification. It has a 5-to-1 record in the circuit courts. Whatever is cockeyed about N. L. R. B. would seem to be in the law which created it and gives it life.

Around Hollywood

By LUCIE NEVILLE

NEA Service Staff Correspondent. HOLLYWOOD, April 10—Stunt men are grumbling that a guy won't be able to earn an honest day's beating if directors and script writers keep phonying fights. They've long been accustomed to doing the rough work in bar-room brawls and ring bouts for stars who couldn't afford to get hurt, but now camera angles and sound are beginning to double for the stunt-doubles.

In "Reaching for the Sun," burly Albert Dekker and hard-fisted Joel McCrea have a no-holds-barred garage fight in the street outside an automobile factory, but additional scenes, except as reflected in the facial expressions of Ellen Drew, waitress in a lunch wagon, who has a counter seat at the fight.

On the set of "Manpower," I saw "Salton" Vincent—doctored and double for many screen men—showing Marlene Dietrich how to throw a punch. Even to the sharp-eyed studio gang, it looked and sounded like a stunner. The place that got the blow, though, was the Salton's left shoulder—hit resoundingly with his right fist while his left arm made a straight jab that whizzed past Miss Dietrich's pointed chin.

MILLAND KNOCKS

In "Skylark" Ray Milland gives Brian Aherne one good straight away blow that knocks him out of camera range—to land and un hurt. Aherne's audiences won't see it. Instead, there's a sound of a body crashing into a coffee table, loaded with china, which has been seen earlier in the long shots.

A trick camera shot and some makeup take the place of stunt-doubles in a night club brawl in "Time Out for Rhythm." A fist seems to be coming straight into the camera lens, then audiences will see Richard Lane—battered and bruised with makeup—easing himself from the floor.

GRANT'S CHECK FOR WAR RELIEF

Cary Grant is getting just $1 for making "Before the Fact." The other $24,999 goes to the British War Relief, which brings his donations of picture salary for the year to a quarter of a million. The first time, when Grant gave his check for Philadelphia Story, to the fund, he got so much unkind criticism that he shut up and refused to explain anything. Most people didn't even know that he had first applied for American citizenship papers as far back as 1925.

This time, the actor said people could say what they pleased, but he'd like to make two things clear: As for the first donation, none of the money will leave this country, and none will be used to buy competitive materials. It's all to be spent for American-made blankets, shoes, and clothing, American-grown food and medicines, to be distributed to England's homeless and needy.

People You Know

Preface to prayers for tomorrow, which is Good Friday. This hour, beloved Jesus, may be one of the darkest the world has ever known, but we do not forget O Lily of the Valley, O Sharon's Dewey Rose, that it is not as dark as that tear-strewn hour when You, pitifully wounded unto death, hung with bowed and bleeding head upon a splintery cross, Your blood dripping slowly to the rocks on Golgotha's dreary summit.

The mother sat in a corner of her pleasant living room looking out into her garden. She had gambled over the sight of the rambling rose vine but she felt no fear.

Mrs. Barrow passed the window and Antoine's mother only smiled remembering that once that neighbor lady had told her to her face that it was criminal to spoil a son as she had Antoine. But all mothers spoiled their children in direct ratio to their means. She had worked a great deal harder than Mrs. Barrow and had given her child more.

John Robert Lane Ties For Second Place In Ready Writers Contest

ONE NATION, INDIVISIBLE!
By John Robert Lane
('Tying for second place in the Junior High eighth-ninth grade division in Ready Writers for 1941 is John Robert Lane, ninth grade student. His essay is given below.)

When Abraham Lincoln dedicated the battlefield at Gettysburg and gave his now famous "Gettysburg address," he had no idea that those famous phrases would re-echo today. He talked of the furious struggle within. We speak of it from without. But one thing he said is our greatest problem today. Can this nation stand indivisible?

Today, when mad men are fighting to destroy this, and every other democracy, are we strong enough to rise and establish throughout all the world the true principles for which States of America stand?

This question is for you, young America. Are you going to be downtrodden by the iron heel of men who will take all and give nothing?

Answer this in your own mind and start to accomplish with skill the answer. Take note of the many blessings which America offers.

The first thing a young citizen would think of is his home. This is the one thing that shapes one's destiny more than any other factor. Nothing means more to a boy or girl than his home. A happy home can change a destiny. In this land of liberty your home life is not interfered with by the government. You listen to what you like on your radio. You play, eat, and sleep whenever you like. Without your permission your home is not used to quarter troops. It is not searched without a warrant. The land of liberty truly fits the way your home life is run.

The next vital thing America offers is education. What would our country be if it weren't for the fine schools we have? Our government would be headed by ignorant heathens.

The fine buildings we now have could never have existed. The young men and women would have no way to earn their existence. America stands alone now in the offer of free education.

And now we come to the organization that will either save or demolish the world, the church. Nothing else plays as important a part in shaping the outcome of the present situation. One of the greatest phrases ever said on American soil was freedom of religion.

When our ancestors came to the New World, they came primarily for freedom of religious worship. They established on this continent a new nation conceived in liberty. They are still striving to keep this land of liberty.

Among other things we stand for are freedom of speech and press. You aren't afraid to say what you want to or omit what you want to. If you have never thought of all this before, think of it now! Keep

Spearman Band To Lead Delegation To Pampa April 18

Pampa will be visited by the prize winning Spearman High school band and 100 Hansford county residents at 10 a. m. April 18, as a goodwill delegation comes here to advertise its second annual celebration, April 24-25.

The annual power-farming machinery show will be a new feature of the Hansford celebration.

In the two-day rodeo, $440 in cash prizes are offered. The rodeo is strictly amateur. No contestant who has received prize money at a professional rodeo is allowed to enter.

The famous barbecue king, John Snider, will provide barbecue at the noon hour, Friday, April 25.

Two dances are scheduled for the celebration. The first is to be held Thursday evening, starting at 8:30. Both modern and old time steps will be featured at both Thursday and Friday dances.

Fifteen Panhandle bands have accepted an invitation to participate in the street parade and band festival.

A law, taking effect Jan. 1, 1942, will require all scheduled aircraft over 10,000 pounds gross weight to be equipped with a device which will make a record of the altitudes at which the airplane is flown, as well as show the time and period of operation of the radio transmitter during flight.

Midget automobile racing is now a full-time occupation for about 500 American sportsmen.

Worley Pays Tribute To Dead Senator

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The death of Senator Sheppard (D-Tex.) was mourned today as a great loss to his state and to the nation. Secretary of Commerce Jones, a fellow Texan, declared the nation has lost a faithful public servant and would join Texas in mourning Sheppard's death.

"Few men have been permitted to serve so long and continuously in the national congress as Senator Morris Sheppard, and certainly few have devoted their talents and energies more unselfishly," Jones said.

Many congressional leaders were absent from the city because of the recess of both the house and senate.

Just before the house military committee resumed its hearing on the progress of national defense, it unanimously adopted a resolution expressing its sorrow on Sheppard's death.

"He was a much needed man in this critical hour," said Representative Thomson (D-Tex.) in announcing the senator's death to the house group.

Representative Worley, secretary of the Texas congressional delegation said: "As a young congressman I hope I can serve the people of my district with the same loyalty, fidelity, and diligence that marked the career of one of the ablest, most highly respected and beloved men who ever represented Texas in any capacity."

Secretary of Labor Perkins, who was waiting to testify, appeared grief stricken when she heard the news.

Texas representatives in congress commented as follows: Kilday—As chairman of the military affairs committee the senate, he accepted the full load of responsibility and is a casualty in his country's welfare in her hour of need."

Thomas—"He has been worth his weight in gold to Texas and the nation and it will require at least 8 or 10 years to replace him so far as service to Texas is concerned."

Lyndon Johnson—"The nation as well as Texas has lost one of its greatest statesmen and patriots. For almost 40 years the name of Morris Sheppard has stood for the highest principles of American democracy."

Gossett—"I think Senator Sheppard's death a great tragedy and loss for the state of Texas. His shoes will be hard to fill."

Mahon—"His powerful influence for good will be greatly missed in the coming days."

West—"His death is a great loss to the state of Texas. He was one of the finest and ablest statesmen Texas ever produced. His loss is irreplaceable."

Representative Patton recalled that he was a member of the thirty-third Texas legislature, the last to elect a United States senator for Texas, and that he had strongly supported the election then, in 1913, of Sheppard to his first term in the senate.

"He was the peer of any man in congress, and the nation has lost one of its outstanding leaders," Patton added.

Other comment: Senate minority leader McNary—"As chairman of the Senate Military Affairs committee he gave his strength in willing sacrifice to the cause of national defense."

Senator Gillette (D-Iowa)—"He was a quiet and unassuming chap but he exerted a real influence on legislation."

Senator Walsh (D-Mass.)—"He was an outstanding example of ceaseless industry and conscientious devotion to duty."

Vice-President Wallace said in a brief statement the senate would miss the kindness and hard-working ability of Senator Sheppard.

"The senate will greatly miss the most unusual gentleness and hard-working ability of the man who had served more years in the legislative branch of the government than any other individual in this generation," the vice-president said. "It is an honor to have known such a fine and capable person."

As chairman of the Military Affairs committee of the senate, he devoted all of his energy to the task of rearming America," Stimson said in a statement. "He was a friend of unfailing kindness to all who came in contact with him. His passing is a great loss to the nation."

Heat Gets Major Hoopie! Sees All-St. Louis Series

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Inventor of Law of Averages
SOMEWHERE IN THE SOLOMON ISLANDS, April 10—Egad, your baseball commentator has found in all the terrestrial globe no more restful spot than those delightful little islands where he can concentrate utterly on the major league campaign starting April 15.

Um-kum! The thought struck me while enjoying a delightful stroll between taverns that baseball dopsters generally are so unreliable because they do not resort to the various governing nature, human relations, chemistry, physics, mass action, barometric pressure, traffic and so on. Har-rumph!

Have you ever heard of a baseball dopster selecting the Cincinnati Red Stockings or New York Yankees on the basis of the law of gravity, the law of absorption or the law of continuity, the principle of which was formulated by Leibnitz?

Jove, I venture to say you haven't, yet these unmistakable factors enter into myriad phases of our day-to-day existence.

In a way, perhaps, the sports experts cannot be held too strictly to account, for the Leibnitz principle is likely to be misleading unless presented clearly, and might be the cause of numerous violent arguments among the boys in the back room.

TOAST ALWAYS LAYS ON BUTTERED SIDE

Egad, let me turn you over to Leibnitz for an instant: "According to the law of continuity, there is no break in nature, that is, nothing passes from one state into another without passing through the intermediate states." You can readily deduce . . . hak-kaff! . . . that a man may pass from Ohio to Indiana without visiting Montana, heh-heh!

But, getting back to the law of absorption. This has nothing to do with the quantity of beer or ale a pitcher like Van Lingle Mungo can consume at a sitting, which may seem inconsistent to the lay mind.

The law of absorption is best explained by Avanzini (no kin to Riz-zuto, Yankee shortstop). Let me turn you over to Avanzini for the nonce: "A falling plate encounters resistance greatest at the center, and decreases to a minimum at the margin when falling vertically."

My word! I must take issue with Avanzini, I fear!

Why does a falling piece of toast inevitably land on the buttered side? Eeaw!

SUPPOSE INDIANS START CONTRADICTING MANAGER

Shall we go on through the laws of identity, contradiction and excluded middle? (Editor's Note: You can stop any old time!)

The law of contradiction is interesting. Suppose the Cleveland-Indians start contradicting their manager! You are conversant with the rule itself, of course . . . for instance, suppose a player should state: "The manager really is NOT the manager!" Hm! Odd, is it not?

Perhaps the best law that may be cited in this sort of essay is that of De Long and Petit. This law holds that elements in the solid state (ivory, for example) have nearly the same atomic heat.

Egad, in other words, when the heat is on, July 4, which teams will be in front? Which of the nines shall withstand the temperature best?

The inexorable conclusion is a world series between the teams of St. Louis, where the heat is so intense that the steam arising from the Mississippi river actually whistles!

I am trying to have a law passed against summer baseball in St. Louis. The pitchers who have performed in St. Louis in midsummer are behind me to a man!

Perhaps we can have the season there begin on Christmas Eve and end on Memorial Day . . . har-rumph!

Hawaiian Champs Travel 5,000 Miles To Take Poke At Cleveland Glovers

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor
CLEVELAND, April 10—It's a story when nine Hawaiian boxers travel 5,000 miles for one appearance.

It is a colored squad that Cleveland is entertaining. It is not exactly a league of nations inasmuch as all the boys are of American nationality, but in race ancestry there is a considerable variety—Caucasian, Filipino, Chinese, Japanese, and others.

The boys from the flowery archipelago tackle the Cleveland Golden Gloves champions, April 14.

The show is for the fund of the Amateur Boxing "Trainers' Association of northeastern Ohio, which takes good care of its boys.

The islanders travel in style with Jack Botelho, secretary of the Hawaiian Association of the A. A. U., and two trainers, Sharkey Wright and Timo Phillips.

The trip is their reward for surviving the island trials, which played to 55,000 persons and $26,000.

The Cleveland trainers take care of all expenses for the 12 days the visitors spend here.

HAWAIIANS PASS UP NATIONAL TOURNAMENT

Hawaiians usually go to the national championships in Boston, but could not complete their tryouts in time this year. Thus the journey to Cleveland, where they make their only appearance on the mainland.

Botelho says this is the strongest Hawaiian team that has visited the mainland, and the boys from the land of liquid sunshine took two national titles a year ago.

Nearly all the boys are from the sugar and pineapple plantations. Hawaii has a good heavyweight, but he is in the navy and could not get away from maneuvers. So the islands sent two featherweights and two middleweights . . . nine in all, instead of eight, due to close decisions.

Gilbert Lowenstein, the light-heavyweight leader, hails from the army post at Schofield.

Perhaps the classiest boxer of the Hawaiian personnel is the fly-weight champion, Dado Marino.

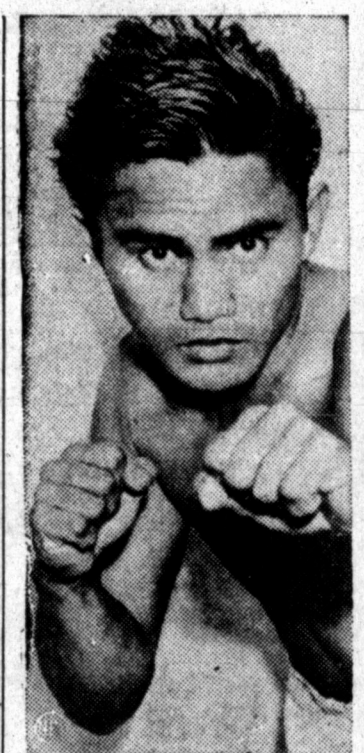

This is his second jaunt to the mainland. Johnny Manalo, another Hawaiian, defeated him in the other final for the national championship last year. He toured Japan rings last fall.

FERNANDEZ MOST TRAVELED MEMBER

It's the second trip to the states for Usuu Yasutake, the feather. He also was a runner-up in the nationals in 1940, and also made the trip to Japan.

It's the second trip for Henry Oahiro, bantam.

The most traveled member of the roster is Frankie Fernandez, light-weight. This is his fourth trip to the states. He lost a close decision to Jose Badis, Waipahu's whirlwind featherweight, wins his first trip to mainland with fists.

George Toy of Cleveland, now a professional, in the national final of 1939.

Jose Badis, Waipahu feather, and William Dias, middleweight, are enjoying their first trip. It is the second excursion for Lively Stroblin, welter, and Ben Huihui, middleweight.

Meets such as the one between the Hawaii and Cleveland boys makes boxing worth while.

Power Industry Urged To Adopt Sabotage-Combating Measures

CHICAGO, April 10 (AP)—Maj. Charles W. Leiby of Chicago declared today that "should hostilities develop," sabotage could be expected in vulnerable portions of the nation's electric power system and would be "more dreaded than bombing."

The major, a field artillery officer and the editor of "Electric Light and Power," suggested in a paper prepared for the Midwest Power conference that the power industry consider such sabotage-combating measures as these:

Development of radio systems for the quick dispatching of trouble and patrol crews, use of mobile equipment, standardization of equipment, circuit rearrangement to circumscribe stricken power areas, and priority of restoration of service.

He said that portable sub-stations, large in capacity, but small in physical size, could be mounted on trailers, barges, or flat cars for quick transportation to trouble spots. Standardized equipment, particularly turbines and diesels, would facilitate rapid replacement of damaged or destroyed units, he said.

Maj. Leiby said, however, that the industry was well prepared to meet the requirements of the peacetime defense program. The national "power pool," he said, has an available capacity of more than 40,000,000 kilowatts, with an additional 7,000,000 kilowatts capacity under contract in new plants.

Facilities vulnerable to war-time sabotage, he said, would include unattended substations, transmission lines, underground stations, and underground systems that cannot be protected as effectively without prohibitive costs as fenced, guarded main power stations and large substations.

Defense Guard To Take Physical Exams

Arrangements have been made with Pampa physicians to take physical examinations of Company D, Texas Defense Guard, First Lieutenant Carl M. Smith said today.

Physical examinations are required as a part of the enlistment in the Texas Defense Guard. Enlistment forms were signed by 20 Pampans at last week's drills. The period of enlistment is for three years. Regular drill of the company will be held at 7 o'clock tonight on the lot adjoining the American Legion hall on the west.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, headache and dizziness, evening up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, backaches and dizziness. Frequent or early passages with smearing liquid burnings sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 10 million of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Boys receiving golden gloves were Frank Simpson, Bob Sherrod, Billy Hill, W. C. Simpson, Raymond Smith, and Quinton Worley.

Joe Wayne Hill won the eight-inch trophy for the outstanding sportsmanship at the intramural boxing tournament held in McLean recently.

James Roosevelt Will Be Married, Says Newspaper

LOS ANGELES, April 10 (AP)—The Examiner says James Roosevelt and Romelle Schneider will be married here Tuesday.

The paper quoted the president's eldest son:

"We plan to have a quiet home wedding with mother present. Nothing will change that date unless something delays the mother's arrival. I have learned I am to remain at San Diego, so we decided to marry as soon as possible."

Roosevelt is a captain at the U. S. marine base at San Diego and there recently had been speculation that he might be transferred.

The Examiner reported that: Roosevelt will apply today for a marriage license, fly to Mexico City tomorrow with a film party and return Monday.

Asked if Miss Schneider, who nursed him after an emergency stomach operation in 1938, would make the Mexican flight, he replied:

"Oh, she's much too busy and excited for that. Roosevelt's recent trip to Washington was to get the president's approval of the marriage.

The couple plans to spend their honeymoon at San Diego and probably will make their home in that city, at least until the president's son is discharged from the marines.

British Admit Nazis Claims To Capture Of 2,000 Possible

LONDON, April 10 (AP)—The British war office acknowledged today that German claims to the capture of 2,000 prisoners in the Axis thrust in Libya "would not be impossible under the conditions in which the encounters have been taking place."

"The Germans, in a communique today, said six generals, two colonels and 2,000 men had been captured at El Mechili, 50 miles southwest of Derna."

The British have concentrated east of Benghazi in "an area more adapted to future operations," according to the communique, adding that in a period of several days "we have inflicted considerable casualties on the enemy."

Russian Newspaper Boasts Of Treaty With Yugoslavia

MOSCOW, April 10 (AP)—Red Star, organ of the Red army, said today the Soviet Russian-Yugoslav friendship pact signed just before the outbreak of the Balkan conflict is "all the more valuable under the new conditions because the Soviet Union always fulfills its international pledges."

The paper said the pact gave "new proof to the attractive force of the principles of the peaceful policy of the Soviet Union."

"It also reflected further the strengthening position and international role of the U. S. S. R., and increases its influence on the development of international relations," the army organ added.

Red Fleet, the navy newspaper, said the spread of the war in the Balkans meant "a new front for Germany on the European continent."

"The attraction of large forces on the southeastern front may change the position on other fronts of the Anglo-German war," the paper said, adding that the action in the Balkans necessarily drew German planes and took troops away from England.

"Serious danger to Italy" also was seen from the fact that the British now have airports closer to Italian industrial centers.

The Yugoslavia of King Peter II and the government of Premier General Dusan Simovic is doomed, Berlin observers said.

Today's high command communique, devoted chiefly to a review of Balkan successes previously reported, presented a picture of terrific destruction inflicted by the Luftwaffe on Yugoslav communications and air bases.

In these raids the high command acknowledged that 19 Nazi planes were lost and reported that 36 allied planes, including 29 British and seven Yugoslav, were destroyed and a number of others damaged.

Seven allied planes were declared destroyed and five damaged in a series of lightning raids on Bosnian airports. Other Luftwaffe units, the high command said, heavily blasted Yugoslav supply trains and rail lines between the Sava and Brava rivers.

The communique said 100 pieces of artillery, several hundred machine-guns and large quantities of motor fuel, ammunition and other equipment fell into Nazi hands.

It reiterated that the Greek army isolated in eastern Greece "surrendered unconditionally."

The Greeks reported that late yesterday their trapped eastern forces still were fighting a desperate although virtually hopeless battle against the Germans.

Reynolds Due To Be Chairman Of Military Body

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Chairmanship of the senate military committee, which plays an influential role in shaping national defense legislation, appeared likely today to pass into the hands of strapping, ruddy-faced Robert Rice Reynolds, North Carolina Democrat, often at odds with President Roosevelt's foreign policies.

The death yesterday of veteran Senator Morris Sheppard, Texas Democrat who had headed the committee for several years, left Reynolds as the ranking majority member with apparently undisputed claim to the chairmanship.

Reynolds, first elected to the senate in 1932, has opposed the administration on various foreign policy issues, but usually has gone along on domestic legislation. He voted against repeal of the arms embargo in 1939 and more recently opposed enactment of the British aid law.

On the other hand, he voted with the administration for enactment of the selective service law last fall and followed his opposition to the British aid bill by voting for the $7,000,000,000 appropriation sought by the president to implement the terms of that measure.

Reynolds' record thus stood in sharp contrast to that of Sheppard, a consistent administration supporter. No less marked was the personal contrast between the two.

Sheppard, small, quiet and retiring, spoke seldom in the senate. Reynolds, a husky former track captain and football player at the University of North Carolina, is a frequent and voluble orator. His favorite theme being that congress should tighten immigration restrictions.

In a gesture of respect and tribute, the senate arranged to adjourn today immediately after meeting at noon. The Texas senator's body then was to lie in state in the senate chamber, with a military guard of honor, from 2 until 4 p. m. (Central standard time).

Vice-President Wallace and Speaker Rayburn planned to appoint 21 senators and 21 house members to accompany the body to Texas, leaving at 8:20 p. m. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon in Texarkana, Tex., Sheppard's home for 40 years.

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel of Texas is expected to appoint promptly a temporary successor to Senator Sheppard. Within 10 days the governor must issue a call for a special election to be held within 60 to 90 days.

Rusk County Girl Wins Scholarship In 4-H Club Work

COLLEGE STATION, April 10 (AP)—Miss Hera Jeanne Harper of the Minden 4-H club in Rusk county was announced today as winner of the Texas Home Demonstration association's college scholarship for 1941. It is the top honor for Texas 4-H club girls.

Other 4-H club girls receiving scholarships include Lois London of the Three P 4-H club in Fannin county and Theo Lorenz of the Speepleville 4-H club in McLennan county. Both will receive slightly smaller scholarships from the State Fair of Texas.

Other girls who did commendable work and received district honors are Leota Jackson of the Hasket club, Brown county; Myrl Emanuel of the Romary club, Liberty county; Mozelle Blanch of the Hampshire club, Jefferson county; and Marie Phaul of the Lindale club, Smith county.

Draft Registrant Driving Board Dippy With Postcards

PHILADELPHIA, April 10 (AP)—King S. Harris, 34-year-old draft registrant, apparently believes in obeying the law to the letter. Particularly a selective service regulation that he keeps his draft board informed of any change of address.

Which explains why Harris has been driving local board No. 9 dippy with his scenic postcards from San Diego, Calif., Seattle, New York City, the last one explaining:

"I am out of work and have to keep moving."

Nazis Claim 80,000 Greek Troops Seized

BERLIN, April 10 (AP)—A German military spokesman said that today Greek prisoners captured in Thrace numbered more than 80,000, but that the "final number will be much greater" since the count is not yet finished.

The Germans declared themselves ready for preliminary aerial thrusts against the British on the Balkan front.

Apparently Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering's air force has the task of "softening" the British before German ground troops tackle them at close quarters.

Dienst Aus Deutschland, commentary close to the foreign office, declared "it is self-evident that the rail line on the east coast of Greece will be one of the principal objectives of the German bombers."

This line runs from Piraeus, port of Athens, to the northern area where the British-Greek troops are concentrated, and in the German view, a few well-placed bombs would paralyze this line.

The Yugoslavia of King Peter II and the government of Premier General Dusan Simovic is doomed, Berlin observers said.

Today's high command communique, devoted chiefly to a review of Balkan successes previously reported, presented a picture of terrific destruction inflicted by the Luftwaffe on Yugoslav communications and air bases.

In these raids the high command acknowledged that 19 Nazi planes were lost and reported that 36 allied planes, including 29 British and seven Yugoslav, were destroyed and a number of others damaged.

Seven allied planes were declared destroyed and five damaged in a series of lightning raids on Bosnian airports. Other Luftwaffe units, the high command said, heavily blasted Yugoslav supply trains and rail lines between the Sava and Brava rivers.

The communique said 100 pieces of artillery, several hundred machine-guns and large quantities of motor fuel, ammunition and other equipment fell into Nazi hands.

It reiterated that the Greek army isolated in eastern Greece "surrendered unconditionally."

The Greeks reported that late yesterday their trapped eastern forces still were fighting a desperate although virtually hopeless battle against the Germans.

DOLLARS TO DOUGHNUTS

BY EDITH ELLINGTON

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Bee realizes that work has changed her appearance, that Toby and Vera really do not recognize her, that she has found in Banks a man who can help her today. She plans to help each of her friends. A man comes to supervise remodeling the department. Anthony tells her that the merchandise manager has stolen their big idea, using it as his own.

BEE DEMANDS A SHOWDOWN

CHAPTER XXVII

"WHAT do you mean, Anthony? I don't understand."

"I didn't understand at first, either!" he said bitterly. "But it's very simple. He laughed me out of his office. You and I worked and dreamed and got the samples together and—after he kicked me out, he stole my idea!"

"But he can't get away with that!"

"Can't he?" Anthony asked hollowly. "You see the men measuring for carpet, don't you? I'm still section manager. Nothing else."

"Miss Dane's been telling me what a wonderful merchandising idea it is, and how he explained it all to her at a special meeting last night. New accessories counters have been ordered. Plans are laid out—but nobody said a word to me. I suppose I ought to be thankful he hasn't fired me!"

The savage anger she had experienced once before in this department came back to Beatrice. "Are you going to stand there and let him do it? If you are, Anthony, I'm not! I worked on those ensembles, too! That's half my idea! That dirty, double-crossing—"

She hadn't known she knew such words, and Anthony hadn't known either, for he stared at her. The shock in his brown face stopped her.

"I'm sorry, I—I have a bad temper. But, Anthony, you can't let him get away with this! She stamped her foot. "Do something! Go right up to his office now and tell him. Go to Bruce Sheldrake! Come on, I'm going, too."

"I thought of that, but we can't prove anything."

"Yes, we can! We bought those hats and handbags and belts ourselves, didn't we? You signed the slips for those dresses out of stock, didn't you? What's the matter with you?"

ANTHONY picked up a salesbook. He snapped the rubber band. He opened and closed the book.

At last he said, "The fact is, Bee, I'm realizing now what a bad mistake I made. I should have listened to the old man. He wanted me to take a job in a bank. I—I've been thinking I'll go around there at lunch time and tell him I've thrown up the sponge." His lips twisted. "Banks are more ethical than stores, perhaps, and if I get a world-shaking banking idea..."

"But, Anthony—you belong here! You're valuable to this store! The very fact that he thought your idea good enough to steal—why, he must be slipping so badly he's got to steal ideas somewhere! If he were any good, if his job were secure, he wouldn't do such things!"

She grabbed his arm. "You're not leaving, you're going right up with me to that crook's office!"

"Bee, if we do that, you'll lose your job. It's all right about me. As I told you, I—I have a chance at something else."

He looked down at her, miserably. "I didn't want to use any influence I might have—I mean, the influence of friends... I've always thought pull was a shabby way to get ahead. But now that I have you, I—I've got to make more money. And I'll do anything to get a better job. But I'll take time. And meanwhile, if you lose your job—"

"The devil with my job. Anthony, come up there with me this minute!"

She dragged him to the elevator. "I think you should be ashamed of yourself, not standing up for your rights! Where's your pride, Anthony? That merchandise manager has stolen from you. And you'd take it! You'd walk out and let him get the credit for something you worked hard to create!"

The elevator operator turned around and stared. Beatrice paid no attention.

On the sixth floor, Anthony drew Beatrice into the corner near the fire exit. His face was very sober. He put his hands on her shoulders, looked squarely into her eyes.

"I don't want you to do this just for me, Bee," he said. "I'm all for it, and I'm mad clear through. But—it'll make trouble for you. Are you sure you want to?"

"Of course, I'm sure!" She patted his lean cheek. "Don't worry about me. I can take care of myself. You'd better start worrying about that merchandise manager. I'm going to kill him!"

"Bee, listen." His arms tight-

"I'll go in by myself. That way, he can't blame you."

"I wouldn't miss it for the world!" But she was touched at Anthony's concern for her.

He said, "All right, if that's the way you want it." His smile flashed. "I might as well tell you the truth. I was intending to come up here and wipe the floor up with him, just for luck, even if I couldn't prove anything. But I didn't want you mixed up in it in any way."

There was a stenographer outside the merchandise manager's office. "I don't know if Mr. Fletcher can see you now," she said doubtfully. "What is it about?"

Beatrice walked right past her and opened the door. In the imposing office, a small paunchy man sat at a large desk. He looked up in surprise. When he saw Anthony, his face hardened.

"WHAT do you want?" he snapped.

"I want an explanation of that co-ordinated clothes idea that was so rotten when I walked in here with it," Anthony answered grimly. "I want to know how it got so good, after I left, that you're going to try it out. I want to know why you didn't play square with me. And I want to know if you think I'm going to let you get away with that!"

"Why, you—you—" advised Beatrice coldly. "I happened to work out some of the details of that plan with Mr. Bradley. Those samples he brought up were things I'd selected. We have the sales slips for everything but the dresses."

Mr. Fletcher got up. He walked out from behind the big desk. His eyes were steely. "An employe of this store walked in here with an idea," he said. "He worked on it. The store likes the idea and is using it. What of it?" His voice was a bark. "What do you expect now? Flowers?"

"But you took the credit for it!" Beatrice cried. "You didn't even see that he got a raise—that his good work was acknowledged—you can't stand there and tell me this is the way such things are usually handled!"

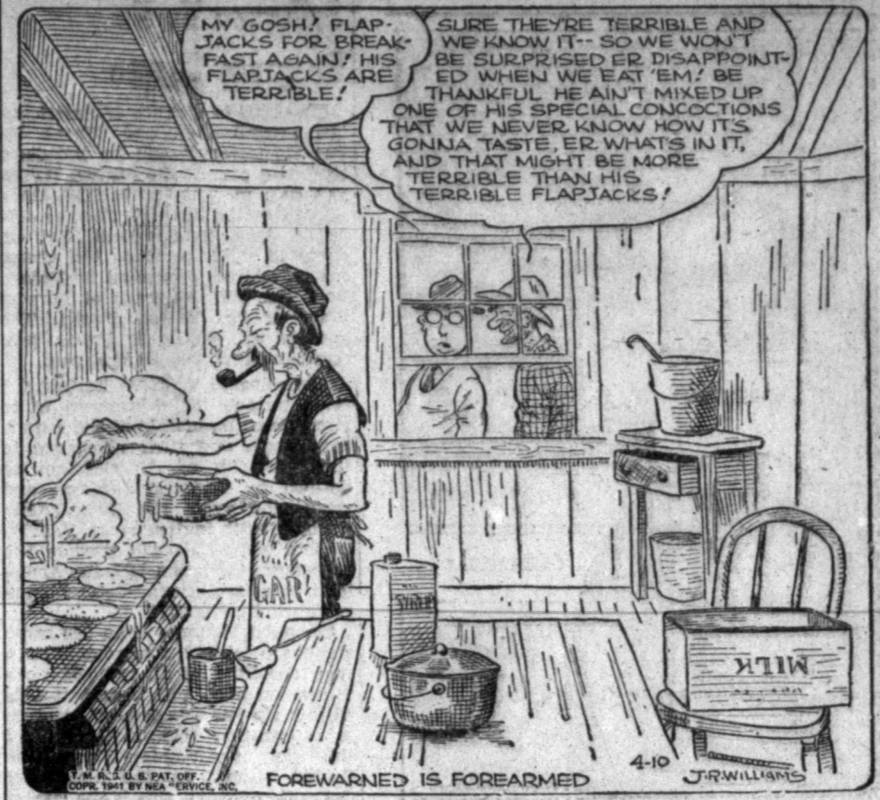

"Get out of my office!" Mr. Fletcher turned back to his desk. "Maybe you'd like to see the general superintendent about this terrible injustice," he flung over his shoulder.

"That is exactly what we'll do," Beatrice reached for the telephone. "What's more, we'll see him right here in this office."

Sheppard Gave Life For His Country, Home Town Says

TEXARKANA, April 10 (AP)—The home town folk Senator Morris Sheppard had represented in congress for more than 38 years said today he "gave his life to his country."

They were stunned when news came of his death in Washington. Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Sanderson, Mrs. Sheppard's parents, said their daughter told them by telephone late last night that he was sinking.

Rep. Wright Patman whose home is here, said the senator had appeared to be "in fine spirits and good health, although tired" in Washington ten days ago.

R. D. McCain of Daingerfield, where Sheppard once lived, had been in Washington with Sheppard recently and said that the senator appeared to be exhausted.

"He had been working nearly 18 hours a day. If ever a man gave his life to his country, Senator Sheppard did," McCain said.

Patman, informed of Sheppard's death by a newspaperman, said the senator had rendered "the maximum service for the people he had the honor to represent."

"Senator Sheppard was a very hard, conscientious worker. He was faithful and efficient. He was admired, respected and loved by the members of congress. As well as by the people generally," Patman said.

Easter Service In Palo Duro Canyon Scheduled Sunday

Many residents of the Pampa area are making plans to push the sleep out of their eyes early Sunday morning and drive to the beautiful Palo Duro state park near Canyon for an impressive sunrise Easter service amid picturesque settings.

An a cappella choir from Amarillo, directed by Miss Julia Dean of that city, will be featured on the program with sacred music. Rev. A. M. Dorsett, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Canyon, will officiate at brief religious services.

Several rehearsals have been held, and it is said that the ceremony is almost awe-inspiring. The acoustics, fixed by nature, are said to be perfect; and the singing coming up out of the colorful Palo Duro can be heard clearly by the listeners and spectators on the levels above.

The sunrise Easter service, which will begin at 6:30 o'clock Sunday morning, is sponsored by the Amarillo Junior Chamber of Commerce. Plans have been announced to make it an annual affair.

A suit for aviators, weighing seven pounds, and heated by electricity was recently tested. It is reported to keep a pilot warm at temperatures as low as 60 below zero.

SIDE GLANCES

First Ballots Cast For Rotary Directors

First ballots for the new directors of the Pampa Rotary club were cast at the club's regular weekly luncheon at noon yesterday.

From a list of the 15 high candidates, the group will be narrowed to seven, and the results announced at the next meeting.

Principal speaker at Wednesday's luncheon was the Rev. Robert Boshen, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Pampa. His subject was "The Significance of Easter."

Attendance at the luncheon was 41. A visiting Rotarian was Jim Oakes of Amarillo. Guests were R. A. Essay of Fort Worth, Green Foy and Paul Ogden, both of Amarillo, Maurice McElroy, Alva, Okla., and Carl Benefiel of Pampa.

Flashes Of Life

CINCINNATI—You can't please everyone. When the city hall clock stopped some months ago, so many complaints were received that it was finally repaired.

Then came complaints that it made too much noise striking, so it was silenced.

"And now," Councilman Herbert Bigelow told city council, "requests are coming in to have the clock strike again."

ST. LOUIS—This is a story about a Missouri mule:
It took a tow truck to move him. Only in this case it was matter over mind. The mule became deeply mired in mud and for once he couldn't, rather than wouldn't move.

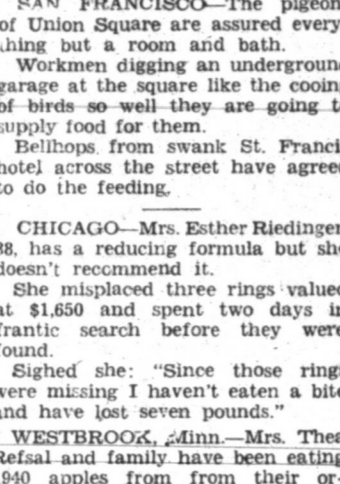

SAN FRANCISCO—The pigeons of Union Square are assured every-thing but a room and bath.

Workmen digging an underground garage at the square like the cooing of birds so well they are going to supply food for them.

Birth Of Thomas Jefferson To Be Program Theme

The fifth in a series of Americanism programs entitled "Speak Up For Democracy" will be broadcast tomorrow over Radio Station KPDM at 4:30 p. m.

The approaching anniversary of the birth of Thomas Jefferson, born in Shadwell, Va., on April 13, 1743, provides the theme for an address sponsored by Pampa Post No. 1637, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

The speaker will be L. R. Frank, past commander of the Pampa post.

According to V. F. W. leaders, the basic purpose of this series is to strengthen the morale of the American people and their allegiance to the principles of Americanism as defined by Thomas Jefferson and those who wrote the Constitution.

Absolute faith in democracy, V. F. W. leaders point out, will provide the necessary foundation to make America's present national defense program wholly effective.

On April 11, more than 300 radio stations, a total that represents more than one-third of all radio stations in the country, will broadcast this "Speak Up For Democracy" program in cooperation with local units of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

In the history of the radio industry, this is the largest chain of radio stations ever created by broadcasters for a non-commercial series of programs devoted exclusively to the public interest.

This series of program, to be heard on the 11th day of each month, derives its name from the book, "Speak Up For Democracy," a plan of action conceived by Edward L. Bernays, U. S. publicist No. 1, for the guidance of patriotic citizens who want to know how to recognize Fifth Column propaganda and how to combat the charges of incompetency being leveled at the democracies by the dictators.

Home Economists In Carson Study National Defense

Special To The NEWS
WHITE DEER, April 10.—To organize for national defense, the home economists of Carson county met in the White Deer High school cafeteria, Monday afternoon, with Mrs. Ruth Perry, home demonstration agent, in charge.

Mrs. John O'Keefe, Panhandle, was elected chairman, and Mrs. O. L. Cannedy, secretary.

Four towns were represented: Skellytown, Groom, Panhandle, and White Deer. It was voted to meet on the first Monday of each month, at White Deer.

Since examinations for military service have revealed that among the 32.8 per cent of the men registered 68 per cent of the deficiencies were caused from lack of proper diet, the National government has asked that every district organize to help in overcoming this wide-spread malnutrition.

The Carson county committee will cooperate with this project, and plans are being made to publicize proper diets and to encourage gar-
