12-Year-Old Boy Admits Shooting Cousin And Aunt

PAWNEE, Okla., Aug. 5 (AP)—A 12-year-old farm boy sobbed his sorrow today, County Attorney Horace Ballaine said, for slaying an eight-year-old cousin and preparing for a picnic and seriously wounding an aunt he accused of telling lies about him.

The boy, L. E. Goddard, Jr., was held in the county jail here. The cousin, Goldie Janice Bacon, died yesterday five minutes after being struck in the chest by a blast from a shotgun. Her mother, Mrs. Homer Bacon, 34, was in a critical condition and physicians said she may lose an arm.

Ballaine and Sheriff Roy L. Owens gave this account of the tragedy: The boy took down his foster father's shotgun and told his mother that Mrs. Bacon and Goldie Janice "have been telling lies about me." His mother tried to stop him, but he ran across fields, lugging the gun.

The farther I went, the madder I got," he said later at the back door of the Bacon home where Mrs. Bacon and Goldie were folding freshly ironed clothes. Mrs. Bacon's mother, Mrs. Ollie Armitage, 73, was lying on a divan in the dining room.

"I didn't hear a sound when he stepped up on the porch," Mrs. Ballaine said.

Compromise On Road Bond Fund Proposed

AUSTIN, Aug. 5 (AP)—Governor Coke R. Stevenson today urged a compromise which would terminate the controversy over disposal of a surplus in the county road bond fund, asserted he believed he knew of one and invited discussion with persons closely interested.

His statement was interpreted by observers as a trial balloon to obtain reaction and determine whether a special session of the legislature this fall would obtain results to justify the expense.

The recent record-breaking long session ended with the house and senate in a deadlock over re-enactment and revision of the law under which income from one-cent of the state gasoline tax has been applied to service certain county road bonds. The appropriation of this revenue for the purpose expires August 31.

Stevenson said county officials had informed him that unless the action was remedied and the state enabled to continue paying principal and interest on the bonds, a chaotic situation would ensue in a vast majority of the counties and county tax rates would have to be raised.

In his first formal statement since he took over the governorship yesterday, he reviewed the history of the controversy, said he was aware of both the plight of the counties and many ad valorem taxpayers and advocated permanent settlement of the problem.

"The primary objections of this legislation were two-fold: "1. To relieve the ad valorem taxpayers of the counties of the burden of paying off these bonds as they matured and to shift the burden of financing the state highway system to the gasoline tax, which is a road users' tax.

"2. To give the counties financial relief and to speed the time when the counties would be free from all road debt and could place their lateral road financing on a cash basis.

"During the first years the bond servicing plan made the effect of the gasoline tax was not large enough to provide payment in full by the state of all maturing principal and interest.

Amendment To Service Bill Voted Down

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—The senate rejected today a proposal to limit the service period of army selectees to a maximum of six months beyond the originally set one-year term.

The proposal was offered by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) as a substitute for pending administration legislation which would permit draftees to be held in service for a maximum of one and a half years after completing the one-year training period.

When they were inducted last year, selectees and national guardsmen were scheduled to serve only one year. The army high command recently urged indefinite extension of that period.

Taft's proposal, which gave a clear test of opposition strength for modification of the pending administration plan, would have permitted the army to retain national guardsmen and reservists for not more than one extra year. Regularly enlisted men could not have been retained beyond the termination of their enlistments.

Taft's plan also would have authorized a regular standing army of 800,000 men. He said these, plus selectees, national guardsmen and reservists, would provide for a total force of 2,000,000.

The house agreed, meanwhile, to see AMENDMENT, Page 6

BULLETS END COUPLES' ROMANCE

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan H. Blackmon, victims of a double shooting. Blackmon, a captain in the Administrative Corps of the 111th medical regiment at Brownwood, Texas, fired a bullet from a .25 caliber pistol into his wife's back, then turned the gun on himself, according to witnesses. Mrs. Blackmon died in Camp Bowie station hospital and her husband is in critical condition.

Two Bank Employees Robbed Of $76,000

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Aug. 5 (AP)—Four gunmen, wearing dark sun glasses, held up two employees of the First National bank on a local street today and escaped in a black sedan with a pouch containing $76,000 in currency.

Aiming a sub-machine gun and pistols, the quartet confronted Ralph Rheinfels, 37, a teller, and Lewis Heiney, 65, his guard, about 8 a. m. (CST) as the bank employees approached the post office a block from the bank to send the money to the federal reserve bank in Philadelphia.

The gunmen quickly disarmed Heiney and grabbed the bag. They fled across the Delaware river bridge into New Jersey. Police said the car apparently was one stolen in Easton, Pa.

The money, which was insured, was in five, 10, and 20 dollar bills. Ernest Olschewsky, caretaker for a camp along the Delaware river about five miles south of Stroudsburg, reported to police that the quartet transferred to another car there about noon after menacing him with the machine gun and threatening to abduct him.

The automobile used in the hold-up was left at the Pennsylvania end of an unused railroad bridge across the river after the gunmen apparently had doubled back into Pennsylvania. The men then walked across the bridge and fled in another car hidden on the New Jersey side.

Chinese Army Massed Along Burma Road

Pincer Move On Kiev Continues From 2 Directions

German Panzer forces have driven a new 70-mile-deep salient into the heart of the Soviet defense system between Moscow and Leningrad, the Russians acknowledged today, and Berlin reported that the 45-day campaign had developed into two vast battles of annihilation.

Nazi military dispatches said the encirclement and destruction of large Red army forces south of Kiev, the Ukraine capital, was well under way and indicated that a clean-up in the bloody Smolensk sector, 230 miles west of Moscow, was in its final stages.

Adolf Hitler's field headquarters reported that Red army units attempting to smash their way out of a trap in the Ukraine had been "annihilated."

The communique also declared that in "a widening break through the region 100 kilometers (60 miles) southeast of Smolensk, a new enemy power group was partly annihilated and partly destroyed."

In the Far East crisis, meanwhile, American warships were revealed to have arrived in Brisbane, Australia. The navy department in Washington announced that the U. S. heavy cruisers Northampton and Salt Lake City had arrived there on what was formally described as a "training cruise to the South Pacific ocean."

Coincidentally, the British announced officially that large numbers of British and Indian troops, including RAF personnel, have arrived at Singapore.

Dispatches from Saigon, French Indo-China, said a large and well-equipped Chinese army was reported massed on the Burma border, ready to cross at a moment's notice to join British forces in a new offensive against Japanese attacks against British Burma or Malaya.

Strenuously opposing the agricultural adjustment administration wheat quota system put into effect for the first time this year, the farmers last night also went on record against "all government interference with agriculture in this state," announced Chairman Audley Boak, former master of the Pennsylvania Grange.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

The darkly suntanned girl takes with a large grain of salt all of the advice about letting the first fall dress be a black one. If she intends to keep right on taking sun baths through September as well as August, she'll think twice before getting a black dress. Smart as it is, black seldom is really flattering to suntanned arms and throats.

This year her first fall dress might well be brown or green. Both of these colors are important. The second fall dress, purchased when the sun is fading all so rapidly, may be black.

With suntanned skin and a brown dress, one of the brownish copy-right lipsticks and matching brownish-red nail lacquer are excellent ideas. With electric blue, red makeup that is bluish-red rather than yellow-red is something to consider. Nail polish always ought to harmonize with lipstick.

GRADUALLY LIGHTENS HER FACE POWDER Naturally, the smart woman sticks to her dark suntan powder until her coat of suntan has disappeared. From time to time, as the suntan fades, she lightens her face powder by adding a bit of last winter's supply to the present, dark, summer shade. Not until her complexion is black to its natural shades does she put aside dark powder.

If she wants to continue to look tanned after her skin has become slightly beached and therefore a bit yellowish, she uses liquid powder in a suntan shade for a few weeks—or until her face and throat are white again. This is a trick that caught on last fall.

It is reported that 248 different factories help build one Flying Fortress bomber. Of this number, 193 factories supply the many standard items and small parts.

Figures compiled by the Public Roads Administration from 25 states show that over 55 per cent of the driving done in personal automobiles is business purposes.

Mrs. Smith Works In An Important Arsenal For U. S. Defense—It's Her Own Kitchen

Uncle Sam isn't going to have to worry about Mrs. Smith—no matter what kind of an emergency comes. She'll be doing her part, not dramatically and not with any publicity fanfare, but just as a matter of course.

Mrs. Smith hasn't yet found a place for herself in the national defense picture—that is, no place easily recognized as important to national defense by those who think a woman can't serve her country in these times unless she is learning to fly a plane, drive an ambulance, or weld in a factory.

But Mrs. Smith is quietly doing, right at home, the things Uncle Sam has told her will help the country prepare for any kind of emergency.

She has checked over the family's eating habits and found places where the Smith diet isn't up to what Uncle Sam says is "adequate." So she has figured out ways of giving the member of the family who doesn't like milk his share of milk, and is seeing that another eats less meat and more vegetables.

She doesn't just plan adequate meals, put them on the table, and say "take it or leave it." Not any more, for she figures that her family's health in one of the things she can safeguard. She is putting her mind to safeguarding it.

She has canned quart after quart of vegetables and fruits from her garden in preparation for the winter ahead.

Putting away FOR RAINY DAY Her husband is making more rights now than he has made in years, but Mrs. Smith isn't finding new ways of spending his money. She has made out a budget in which savings have a place, and she has subscribed to the scheme of saving now for the income tax that will have to be paid in 1942.

Never much of a seamstress, she is taking sewing lessons now, for she figures it may be just as handy in the next few years to be able to run a sewing machine as an ambulance.

And she is a member of a parent-teacher group that already is planning to see that the poor children of the community are fed enough to go to school this fall with full stomachs, clothed well enough to be unashamed of the way they look.

You haven't seen her picture on any of the society pages as the leader of any new group of women who are dedicating themselves to national defense.

For she is busy organizing her own household today, but when Uncle Sam asks more of her—she'll be right there.

Experts See Philippine Army Giving U.S. "Bristling Front" On Japanese Frank

By THOMAS M. JOHNSON
NEA Service Military Writer

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Many an American has just heard with surprise that besides an army in the Philippines his country has a Philippine army. In fact, the latter is considerably larger than the former.

"LITTLE BROWN BROTHER" MODERNLY EQUIPPED AND AMERICAN-TRAINED, HAS BECOME EFFICIENT SOLDIER

For every white American soldier in the islands, there are nearly ten of the brown men whose fathers not long ago were fiercely fighting those who insisted on "civilizing 'em with a Krag."

Today, not with Krag, but with Springfield and other standard American arms the "little brown brother" is ready to stand beside his civilizer to defend the islands against invasion. The native army of the Philippines is trained to do it, needing only a little more shakedown, which it is about to get. Its soldiers are loyal, brave, largely ardent Christians, and to fight fiercely against attacking Japanese.

TAUGHT SOLDIERS PAINFULLY
They are so nearly 100 per cent ready to do it because of two dreamers who are also very practical men, one American, one Filipino. Douglas MacArthur, lately the only American Field Marshal, commanding the Army of the Philippines, persuaded President Manuel Quezon that majority expert opinion was wrong, and the islands could be defended.

Right behind them is our Asiatic fleet whose excellent submarines are counted on to delay any attackers until the now diminished Pacific fleet comes pounding the 5,000 miles from Hawaii. Until the fleet gets there and perhaps afterward, a heavy responsibility for holding the islands against invasion falls upon the little brown brother who has turned soldier and sailor, too, and may turn fighting man.

Dusty Columns Of Uncle Sam's Soldiers Moving To Louisiana

(By The Associated Press.)
Dusty columns of troops moved irresistibly today toward the plains and wooded areas of East Texas and western Louisiana where giant maneuvers involving 500,000 men will be staged under conditions simulating actual warfare.

A dun-colored stream of 8,000 troops from Camp Bowie marched in the blazing sunlight from a lake shore near Fairfield to a new bivouac area 12 miles away as part of the relentless toughening process by which they will be prepared for the September maneuvers. Large numbers of second division troops, approximately 7,000 strong, started moving at 5 a. m. this morning from Fort Sam Houston. The first group was loaded into trucks, scout cars and command cars. Later other units swung into the 52-mile convoy, scheduled to halt at Huntsville tonight.

The remainder of the 14,500 officers and men will leave Aug. 10. That convoy will include the 38th Infantry, rear echelon division units, 10th anti-tank battalion, second division artillery and the second anti-tank battalion.

At El Paso 9,000 soldiers, mostly in the first cavalry division, began streaming out of Fort Bliss in a 50-mile convoy that must travel approximately 1,000 miles to reach the maneuver area. The largest portion of the convoy was routed through San Antonio.

However, 360 men of the 121st were to go by Balmorhea, Merton, Brownwood and Athens to Pelican, La., where the outfit will be quartered. The rest of the 121st will leave in two troop trains for Pelican, La., with one train scheduled to pass through Dallas.

Approximately 3,000 troops of the 63rd and 202nd coast artillery regiments left for Camp Barkley today after bivouacking last night between Stanton and Big Spring. The men were to remain at Camp Barkley until Friday.

Soldiers of the 45th division, 8,000 of them, were encamped in the Dallas area after a trip from Camp Barkley at Abilene.

A sweating contingent of 4,000 men marched on foot from White Rock lake on a 12-mile hike to encamp west of Mesquite yesterday. A new group of 4,000 soldiers moved in to bivouac on the lake shore.

The new group will remain in camp until early Wednesday, when they in turn will be forced to undergo the 12-mile hike to Mesquite.

Gray County Man's Nephew Arrives On Steamer West Point

Dr. Frank George Nelson of Wichita, Kas., a nephew of Harry A. Nelson, rancher living 15 miles northwest of Pampa, was one of the 400 passengers aboard the U. S. naval transport West Point, when it docked at New York Saturday.

The West Point carried U. S. consuls and other Americans home from Germany, Italy, and Axis-occupied countries.

Dr. Nelson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nelson of St. Joseph, Mo., met their son as the ship arrived in New York.

Dr. Nelson, with a consular attache, was arrested and interned in Oslo, soon after the Nazis seized Norway. A professor of languages at the University of Wichita, Kas., Dr. Nelson had gone to Oslo under an exchange professorship.

He had been in prison since December on the Nazis' allegations of suspicion of espionage, charges without any foundation whatsoever.

U. S. officials obtained release for Dr. Nelson only in time for him to sail on the West Point.

Besides being a nephew of Harry A. Nelson, of Gray county, Dr. Nelson is also related to the Severson and Hockett families of Roberts.

Garnet Briefs

NEW YORK, Aug. 5. (AP)—While spots of resistance were seen in today's stock market, new steers gave the struggle and retreated to moderately lower territory.

Trends were indefinite from the start and minus signs of fractions to a point or so were picked up at intervals and transfers for the full proceedings were around 700,000 shares.

Stocks in the backward class most of the day were Santa Fe, Southern Railway, Great Northern, American Telephone, Youngstown Sheet, Goodrich, Douglas Aircraft, Sperry International, Nucleon, Union Carbide, Johns-Manville, Anaconda and Sears Roebuck.

Consolidated Alcoa was a contrary actor, jumping to a new 1941 top, 52.15, after a low of 48.75, then General Motors, Chrysler, Texas Corp., North American, General Electric and J. C. Penney.

Bonds and commodities were uneasy. Cotton futures that morning broke about $2 a bale but cut losses to $1.10 a bale in late trades. At Chicago wheat was approximately unchanged to 1/2 cent a bushel and corn 3/4 to 1/2 in arrears.

LESSONS IN LOVE

breaches. I'm sorry, Dugan. Forgive me? The hard lines in Dugan Blake's face softened...

From what I've heard about the way you handle a horse and mallet, I'm just wondering whether we can keep up with you. Let's go.

DUGAN PERFORMS

DUGAN dragged Barbara down the hall to her uncle's room, knocked a couple of times and entered.

DUGAN, strolling past the house the next day shortly after lunch, wandered over to a group watching Sue Bishop shoot arrows at a big target 40 feet away.

Larry placed Dugan at the hard-riding No. 1 position, and instantly Dugan felt a tingle shoot through him. It felt good, sitting on a smart, fast pony again. It felt good, too, to lunge at the ball, hear and feel the meaty crack as wood connected with wood.

"I haven't been invited," he said abruptly, "but I came anyway, in defense of myself. In the first place, Hank, I've been looking for you all night to explain that Midwest proposition. You know, I might have expected such distrust and suspicion from your lovely niece, but certainly not from you."

"Come here, Barbara," she called disgustedly. "I never was any good at this stuff in school and I'm worse now. Show the folks how an expert bends this hunk of wood, will you?"

"Nice going!" Larry yelled, and Dugan grinned back. On the sidelines Barbara turned begrudging but appreciative eyes on the dark-faced No. 1 who looked as though he was part of the horse rather than a rider, as he rode off the enemy and swung his mallet with a seemingly reckless but unerring manner.

He looked from one to the other. Barbara sat, still stunned by Dugan's explosive action.

Dugan Blake couldn't resist the impulse. He found himself walking out and taking the bow from Barbara's protesting hand.

"You've got to hand it to him," Sue Bishop murmured. "The man's good and there's no denying it."

"I can't say much more right now, Hank," Dugan continued. "In a few days I'll give you the details. However, that proposition from Midwest had absolutely nothing to do with the fact that I advised you to sell that tract of land to them a couple of days ago."

Quickly fitting an arrow to the string, he sighted briefly and let fly. It smacked into the gold center. So did a second arrow. The third practically split his first two.

"I'm not denying it," Barbara countered. "He's terrific—as a polo player, of course. There hasn't been a better rider on this field since Tommy Hitchcock played here five years ago."

"You'll just have to believe me, that's all, Hank. Still further, for your information, I had no intention of leaving your organization for any price. You should have known that. I was going to ask you for a three months' leave of absence. Yes, I was going over to Midwest for 90 days—with your permission."

Barbara saw the grins on the enraptured faces as Dugan walked away. Sue whispered over her shoulder. "It's about time you gave up, don't you think, before this gang discovers he can even thread a needle faster than you?"

"From one extreme to the other," said Uncle Hank, nodding in the general direction of Dugan. "What do you mean?"

"I can't tell you any more right now, but of course you don't have to listen at any time, especially since you don't particularly place much faith in me at present."

"Knowing what I do about needles and the art of threading them, I'm pretty well convinced that he can," Barbara replied gloomily.

"And if that's only a sample," Sue cracked, "just think what would happen if he were the actual product."

Hank Chase extended his hand. "Dugan, I don't know what's in the wind, but I'm a little ashamed of myself to think what I did. After all these years... knowing you since you were a kid in town"

Barbara saw the grins on the enraptured faces as Dugan walked away. Sue whispered over her shoulder. "It's about time you gave up, don't you think, before this gang discovers he can even thread a needle faster than you?"

Uncle Sam Believes Soldiers Need Walks

BY WILLIAM T. RIVES FAIRFIELD, Aug. 5 (AP)—Despite motorization of modern armies, Uncle Sam still feels a fighting man needs a good old-fashioned march occasionally.

gave him a nocturnal golf lesson which ended abruptly when he awoke to find himself upright in his bedroom, a broken brassie in his hand and a smashed vase on a nearby table.

So bright and early this morning approximately 8,000 men of the 36th division's infantry, encamped near here, began hoofing toward a new bivouac area 12 miles away.

Next morning he toured the capital city course in 83—his best score of the season there.

The dream-teacher, he insists, "I HOPE you're not disappointed in me," Dugan told Larry as he tried on the boots which had been loaned to him. "You easterners play a mighty tough brand of polo, and I'm not kidding myself, either."

It was another phase of the constant toughening process through which the division is going in preparation for two months of maneuvers in Louisiana.

The 71st and 72nd infantry brigades arrived here yesterday afternoon from their home base, Camp Bowle.

"And if that's only a sample," Sue cracked, "just think what would happen if he were the actual product."

While the trucks which brought them shuttled back to Bowle to pick up the remainder of the division, the foot soldiers began their bunion derby.

They were started out three abreast, walking on the highway shoulders to ease possible civilian traffic congestion.

"I just wanted to see how long it would take to get back to me," he said. "It took only 30 minutes."

The men hiked 50 minutes of each hour and rested 10, until they had reached their new temporary home on a lake shore a dozen miles from Fairfield.

Last night was spent in an oak grove a short distance from here, reached after a 200-mile ride in a single convoy of trucks which completed the assignment precisely as scheduled, despite the fact they rode over a route heavily traveled.

"I just wanted to see how long it would take to get back to me," he said. "It took only 30 minutes."

The infantrymen will remain in their new bivouac area, or staging area as the army now terms it, until Sunday, when they will continue to their maneuver base at Mansfield, La.

There has been much talk among the troops that the 36th division may not return to Texas. Reports have spread that it was going to Alaska or to a domestic station outside the state.

"I just wanted to see how long it would take to get back to me," he said. "It took only 30 minutes."

No one seems to know if there is any truth in the report. One officer asserts he started the Alaska rumor. "I just wanted to see how long it would take to get back to me," he said. "It took only 30 minutes."

"I just wanted to see how long it would take to get back to me," he said. "It took only 30 minutes."

House Approves Huge Tax Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—The huge $3,206,000,000 defense tax bill, which would give the government its biggest cut of the national income, went to the senate today bearing a thumping house approval, but almost immediately there was talk that it might yet undergo major revisions.

It passed the house by the lopsided vote of 389 to 30 late yesterday after it had first been stripped of a provision for requiring all married persons to file joint income tax returns. This provision had been counted on to raise about $223,000,000 in additional revenue by compelling many married persons to pay higher surtaxes.

At the other end of the capitol, Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the senate finance committee, expressed belief the senate would not seek to renege the controversial provision but would try to make up the deficiency elsewhere, possibly by revision of the income tax brackets to broaden the base. He said his committee would hear an explanation of the bill by treasury experts tomorrow and begin a two-weeks public hearing on Friday.

The base-broadening mentioned by George would be in line with President Roosevelt's views, for the chief executive told the ways and means committee he thought the exemptions for single persons should be reduced from $800 to $750 and those for married persons from $2,000 to $1,500.

As it passed the house yesterday, the bill would virtually triple the taxes of persons in the lower and middle income groups by levying a graduated system of surtaxes starting at five per cent on the first dollar of taxable income and ranging up to 75 per cent (the present maximum) on incomes of $5,000,000 and over.

These surtaxes would be in addition to the present normal income tax rate of four per cent, which was continued. But even at that, a married man earning $2,500 and having no dependents would pay $38.50 under the new plan compared with his present tax of $11.

The new yields from individual income taxes were expected to be in the neighborhood of $829,000,000.

Approximately $1,322,000,000 would be raised from corporations through surtaxes, stiffer excess profits taxes and a drastically revised method of computing them.

Besides the direct taxes on both individuals and corporations, the bill would impose almost 40 new or higher excise taxes on commodities and services to raise about $880,000,000. These levies included a $5 annual use tax on all passenger automobiles, a five per cent tax on everyone's monthly telephone bill and 10 per cent excises on a host of things such as luggage, jewelry, furs, cosmetics, business machines and musical instruments.

O'Daniel Takes Oath as U. S. Senator

O'Daniel 21st Texan, Third Governor To U. S. Senate

By BRACK CURRY
Associated Press Staff

When Wilbert Lee O'Daniel entered the austere chambers of the United States Senate as junior Texas senator, he became the twenty-first Texan to take his seat in congress' upper legislative body and the third governor in Texas' history to win election to the senate.

Not since 1898, when Gov. Charles A. Culberson was elected, have Texas voters named their chief executive to the senate. Previously, in 1876, Richard Coke won the senate election after serving only one term as governor.

As Texas' fourth senatorial representative in less than half a year, Senator O'Daniel will be following in the political footsteps of some of Texas' most illustrious statesmen, shrewdest politicians, and strongest vote-getters, injecting his unique political technique of biblical quotations intermixed with pension promises and guitar strumming into the melange of antics and personalities comprising Texas' senatorial history. Highlighted by expulsion of two Texas senators from the national congress, a pugilistic contest as a major issue in one senatorial melee; a dramatic resignation at the pinnacle of one senator's career; defeats of seemingly impregnable political figures by political unknowns; appointment of the ologarian son of a former Texas president-senator-governor to the nation's highest legislative body, Texas senatorial history reads like the fictional product of the most imaginative movie writers.

The darning of Governor Culberson in calling a special session of the legislature to stop the Corbett and Fitzsimmons' prize fight on Texas soil brought him into national attention and was in large part responsible for his defeat of the senatorial incumbent, Roger Q. Mills, an older and better known political figure.

In 1913 Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey, stormy petrel of Lone Star state politics for nearly two decades, dramatically resigned the senatorship and immediately entered the senatorial contest for re-election. He was defeated by Morris Sheppard, a political unknown who in the same election bested two former governors, Campbell and Colquitt. In 1934 Bailey's son, J. W. Bailey, Jr., then a congressman-at-large, made an unsuccessful bid for Tom Connally's senatorial position.

Eighty-two years after his father relinquished his seat in the senate on March 4, 1859, octogenarian Andrew Jackson Houston, son of the hero of San Jacinto, Sam Houston, was named interim senator by Governor O'Daniel to succeed the late Morris Sheppard. Houston served from April 21—anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto which established Texas' independence—until his death June 26.

Texas senatorial succession has not run consecutively since the annexation of the state to the union in 1845. Succession was broken by expulsion of Texas senators from the senate following the state's secession from the union. On Nov. 18, 1861, Louis T. Wigfall and W. S. Oldham took their seats in the Confederate senate and served in that body until the fall of the Confederacy.

After the Confederate collapse, the state legislature, on Aug. 21, 1866, elected David G. Burnett and Oran M. Roberts to the U. S. Senate, anticipating immediate readmission to the union, but they were not allowed to take their seats.

Anomalous, one of Texas' most astute and enduring political figures failed in his ambition to represent the state in the senate. James E. Ferguson—"Farmer Jim"—to countless thousands of forks-of-the-creek voters who twice placed him in the governorship and for years accepted his homely philosophy and sparkling witticisms as political gospel—bid for the senatorial toga vacated by Senator Culberson in 1922. He was doused by Earle B. Mayfield, who in turn was bested for a second term by a young central Texas congressman—Tom Connally of Marlin.

To maintain his senatorial status, O'Daniel must shatter a Texas poliextending service of selectees for six months and of national guardsmen and reservists for a year. O'Daniel, who has a son, Pat, in training at Camp Walters, Texas, did not indicate how he would vote on proposals to extend service for 18 months.

LONDON, Aug. 5 (AP)—The Daily Mail in a dispatch dated today said that "there are reports in Washington official circles that in addition to the Duke of Kent 'another very high British personage' may be expected to fly to see Mr. Roosevelt."

"It is stated," the paper continued, "that the visitor might be Mr. Churchill or Lord Beaverbrook. The object would be to discuss closer Anglo-American collaboration."

the one cent was more than enough to meet the maturing principal and interest on all obligations serviced by the state, and the board of county and district road indebtedness made arrangements, by increasing the participation on eligible issues or by cash reimbursement, to repay the counties in full for the payments made by the counties during the lean years when the state could not fully satisfy the obligations.

"At the regular session of the 46th legislature, a controversy developed over the disposition to be made of the surplus income from the one cent of the gasoline tax after the state had fully met all principal and interest on the serviced bonds. A surplus of some $9,000,000, over and above the amount necessary to service the eligible obligations, had been accumulated over a period of a few years.

"One school of thought urged that this surplus be returned to the state highway fund for the completion of the state's primary highway system. Another school urged that the surplus be redistributed among the counties to pay maturing principal and interest on county and district obligations issued to construct purely county and lateral roads and for the construction of additional lateral roads under the supervision of the county commissioners' courts."

Stevenson then pointed out that the 46th legislature gave the surplus to the counties, and controversy over the surplus, now amounting to about $2,000,000, was renewed in the 47th legislature, the current one.

Winnie Passes On To Bovine Heaven

SHERMAN, Aug. 5 (AP)—Sherman's most widely-travelled cow passed on to the Bovine happy hunting ground this week.

Winnie, 14-year-old milk producer belonging to Mrs. Birdie Weaver of Sherman and her two daughters, the Misses Bettie and Beatrice Weaver, was estimated to have plodded more than 3,000 miles on improved highways, not counting what mileage she turned up in the home pasture.

Winnie may not have had much pride of ancestry, but give her two 'shoes' made of rubber inner tube, and she could have made a blue-blooded society heifer with in a straight cross-country march.

Winnie had been to Denver, Colo., and to Dalhart on separate trips with the Weaver family, plodding placidly along behind the "covered wagon" used by the Weavers on their year-long vacation trips. The family was also accompanied by 22 chickens and assorted dogs and cats.

Winnie had crossed the Raton Pass in winter, but she fell before the bite of a snake this week. The snake bit her on the udder, and a veterinarian's efforts were unavailing.

Despite the Russo-Japanese "neutrality" agreement, Lieut. Col. Kunio Akiyama, official spokesman for the Japanese forces in China, said at Shanghai that minor clash of Japanese and Soviet border troops occurred near Manchuria about two weeks ago.

The American assistance to Russia would be in military supplies and implements of defense, even though the Japanese-controlled press in recent weeks has been printing veiled warnings against the routing of shipments across the Pacific to the Russian port of Vladivostok.

De Gaulist Hunted By Nazis And French

VICHY, France, Aug. 5 (AP)—German police joined a French search today for a man described as "one of the most active De Gaullist agents" in Caen, Normandy.

He was said to have placed a wreath on a monument to French war dead last July 14 despite a ban on celebration of France's Bastille day, then shot his way out of police traps and escaped. A chief of police was wounded fatally.

The Paris newspaper Paris Soir reported the man actually was English. The newspaper said he was Jean Hopper, born in Kings Lynn, Norfolk, and used false identification papers in France.

Knights Of The Road Are In The Army Now

CLEVELAND, Aug. 5 (AP)—Pass the word along, boys, the wonderlust legion has shaken from its feet the dust of the winding road, and to the call of distant places has turned an ear that hears no more.

Hoboes—say not "tramp" or "bum"—are working for Uncle Sam.

For Jeff Davis, in his capacity of "king of the League of Hoboes," let it be known in an interview today that the Knights of the Road have come off the trails that lead to nowhere.

"The real bo is off the road. He's working," said the king. "In ammunition plants and on the farm. He loves farming because it means getting back to nature."

"And that ain't all. Close to 40,000 of our boys are in the army, the navy and the marines. In 1917 we had 30,000 of our boys in the various services. You can figure that we have over 100,000 of our boys in factories and on the farm."

The horizon beckons, boys, and down the tracks the whistle blows. Just over the hill there's a brand new trail—but never mind. These are the words of the kind: "This is our war, and our boys are in it."

Stevenson then pointed out that the 46th legislature gave the surplus to the counties, and controversy over the surplus, now amounting to about $2,000,000, was renewed in the 47th legislature, the current one.

Tea Classified A Civilian Necessity

NEW YORK, Aug. 5 (AP)—Tea has been labeled a civilian necessity and given apriority classification high enough to insure its continued import, Director Benjamin Wood of the Tea Bureau announced.

Wood said the office of price administrator and civilian supply had notified him of the rating after the tea association had started to worry about rubber and tin imports taking all available cargo space. He said about 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 pounds would be imported in the six months beginning Sept. 1.

Chief business to be transacted will be in regard to the sponsoring of the Pampa Flying Cadet unit. If as many as 30 young men enlist in the air corps they will be part of the unit and will stay together throughout their service.

Oilers Play At 6:30 And 8:30 Tonight In Amarillo

Rain which fell at the baseball park and not in Amarillo, necessitated postponement last night's game between the Pampa Oilers and Amarillo Gold Sox. As a result, a double-header will be played tonight, the first game at 6:30 o'clock, and the second game at about 8:30 o'clock. Last night's postponement was the 21st of the season for the Oilers. They have lost 11 games at home and 10 on the road, including five at Clovis where they could only make up two. One of the other three may be made up when Clovis comes here. Monty Montgomery is scheduled for mound duty in the first game tonight, opposed by Lefty DeCroz. Either Frank Glab, left-hander, or Al Gracy, new-comer, will get the call in the second game. Amarillo's hurler has not been named. The Oilers need both games tonight and the one tomorrow night. They are back in sixth place by a fraction of a game. Lamesa having won last night's game. One and one-half games behind the Oilers are the Lubbock Hubbers while the Wichita Falls Spudders are in the cellar. The Oilers are a few points more than four games behind the Amarillo Gold Sox and Clovis Pioneers, who last night shut out the Berger Gasers when Doug Rollins hurled one-hit ball. Berger and Big Spring are tied for the league lead 19 games ahead of Amarillo and Clovis.

Dodgers, Home Again, Hope To Fatten Pennant Appetite

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
The brash Brooklyn Dodgers are back home, hoping to fatten their pennant appetite on helpless eastern brethren, and everything is in their favor. After floundering around the west for several days they managed to return with a four-game winning streak and last night they promptly made it five by overpowering the staggering New York Giants, 11-5. The Dodgers are back in stride. Both Whitlow Wyatt and Kirby Higbe have become winning pitchers again.

Last night Brooklyn had to battle the Giants in front, 2-0, with a double and a homer in the first four frames.

Yesterday they cuffed the Cubs, 4-2, all right, but they lost the services of their keystone star, Frank (Creepy) Cresspi, who was hit in the face by a line-drive during pregame practice. If he were lost for any length of time now it would be a hard blow.

In the other National league contest John Lanning held the Reds to three hits while the Pirates plowed to a 4-1 triumph.

The New York Yankees hit the winning ball again with a 7-5 decision over the last-place Washington Senators.

A ninth-inning home run by Jimmie Fox decided a 4-3 struggle in favor of the Boston Red Sox over the Philadelphia Athletics in the only other Major league game.

Snavely Hopes To Bottle T-Formation

CHICAGO, Aug. 5 (AP)—Carl Snavely, of Cornell has been nominated as the best football coach to devise a means of bottling the powerful T-formation man-in-motion offensive. Snavely accepted appointment yesterday as head coach of the college All-Stars who will play the Chicago Bears, pro champions, in Soldier field Aug. 28. The Bears won the title last fall with the man-in-motion attack just as Stanford ran through a stiff schedule undefeated with the same type of offense.

The All-Stars will report next Sunday to Snavely and his aides—Fritz Crisler of Michigan, Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern, Babe Hollingbery of Washington State and Homer Norton of Texas Aggies.

The army air corps claims their new twin-engine, interceptor-pursuit plane, the P-38, has flown in tests faster than any other plane has ever flown, but the actual speed has been withheld.

Next in line for the Oilers was crippled Ernie Myers with four wins against four losses.

McPartland still leads the league in earned runs allowing only 32 earned runs in 168 innings. He has allowed a total of 130 hits. Included in his record of the season is a one-hit game, a two-hit game, a three-hit game and two four-hit performances.

New Welterweight King To Make His Next Fight For Uncle Sam

Red Cochrane is a bit whacked out after training four months and fighting Pritze Zivic 15

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

ELIZABETH, N. J., Aug. 5—To get the match with Fritz Zivic, Fredrick James Cochrane agreed to give the clouting Croatian a second edition within 60 days in the event he won the world welterweight championship.

Freddie Cochrane lives up to his agreements, but Uncle Sam will have something to say about the encore, though he has an invalid mother and is sending an older brother through medical school. Red Cochrane asked no exemption when he registered for selective service.

The new Toy Bulldog expects to be called the first week of September, and is even considering beating the draft to it by joining the navy.

The story of Cochrane is that of a dream come true. The O' Redhead was raised on Bond Street, six houses from where Micky Walker used to live in the Kereghthead section of Elizabeth.

As a kid he scrambled for pennies and nickels tossed by Walker when he returned home after a fight.

With other members of the neighborhood gang he sat on the mighty Michael's front porch, waiting for him to get up in the morning.

The one person in the world little Red Cochrane would like to emulate was Micky Walker.

ZIVIC JUST ANOTHER FIGHTER TO COCHRANE
Cochrane wasn't too good at other sports during three years of high school and on the lot.

He had only one thing on his mind—boxing—so he broke in as an amateur nine years ago, when he was 17.

Though he lacked height and reach—he stands no more than 5 feet 5 1/2 inches at 26—he acquired several simon-pure titles and met with some measure of success in his early days as a professional. He bumped into trouble in 1937 when he lost eight of his first nine starts, and that summer was stopped by Pedro Montanez in two rounds.

Things became so tough that Cochrane could no longer finance the education of his brother, Bill, but there is no quit in the O' Redhead, as Zivic found out in the ring pitched in the Newark ball yard the other evening.

Cochrane bounced back as a local attraction to such an extent that he established a tavern in an old rambling house on Elizabeth avenue, in Hillside, which is between Elizabeth and Newark. The family lives upstairs.

He sent his brother back to school. Cochrane saw Zivic fight five times before the Pittsburgh kid got into the more important money by twice hammering the supposedly invincible Henry Armstrong.

Zivic was just another fighter to Cochrane. After all, his top purse at Newark's Meadow Brook Bowl and Laurer Garden was no more than $250.

rounds, but Toy Bulldog is on top of the world as he sits back and reads of story-book ascension to the welter throne.

But Cochrane put Zivic in his place in Round One and kept him there in 10 of the 15 rounds. When Zivic gave Cochrane the elbows, the O' Redhead deliberately butted him two or three times. They were on even terms along that line from there on.

The fight was no pink tea at any given point, but the fact that Zivic knew exactly where he stood along that line probably eliminated a lot of rough stuff.

Cochrane jammed up his left hand as early as the third round. He says it stung badly every time he used it, but he disregarded the pain. He had only one thing in mind—the title.

Things commenced to look bad for Cochrane when Zivic finally snapped out of his lethargy in the 12th and 13th, but the O' Redhead didn't train four months for nothing. He came on to gain the upper hand as they slugged it out in the 14th and the verdict went with that round.

Cochrane is no Mickey Walker. He is nothing more than a good club fighter, but he has a heart as big as any of the great welterweight champions of the past.

Red Cochrane, who got there the hard way, is a striking example of what a courageous and persevering fighter can do with a modicum of equipment.

Harry Todd says he's pretty well fed up on tournaments

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, Aug. 5 (AP)—Harry Todd, the big blond belter of southwestern links, is pretty well fed up on tournament golf and he doesn't mind saying so.

"I've lost the killer instinct," he said. "I used to like to beat fellows eight and seven, six and five and by other one-sided scores. But now I just play golf for the pleasure of playing and winning is a minor matter. A one-up victory suits me much better."

Then Todd explained why and this and a lot more came from the nation's low score amateur as he sat on a bench in the locker room of a Dallas country club and raked the powers of goitform over the coals.

Todd, who led the amateurs in the National Open with 296, was runner-up in the Western Amateur and is rated one of the favorites for the National Amateur, said Friday to name a Walker Cup team—the elite of amateur golf that played the British each year—had robbed the game of its glitter for him.

He added that he wouldn't be playing in tournaments today were it not that it helped his business. "The zenith for an amateur golfer," he said, "is to be named on the Walker Cup team. I had a good chance to make it in 1940. I had won the Western and two matches in the National the season before. Then it was decided there would be no Walker Cup team because England wouldn't have one."

"The Walker Cup team wouldn't have had to play. My idea was that deserving golfers might be rewarded by being named on it. Now there's nothing to work for. Why should I try to be a good golfer? You'll find the entry list in this year's Amateur reflecting that sentiment."

Todd will go to Denver Aug. 11 to seek a qualifying score in the sectional round for the National Amateur but he indicated his heart wasn't in it. However, his medal score this season is pretty good for a guy who has lost interest. He boasts an average of 68.6 for 18 holes. Todd has been in golf nine years although but 24 years old, playing in three National Amateurs, but he'd turn pro in a minute if he could get a job.

Romance Stops Needles
SEATTLE, Aug. 5 (AP)—Romance stopped the needles of national defense last night at a Seattle quilt factory.

Irene Van Zandt, a 22-year-old seamstress, wanted to get married, but she was too busy at her 12-hour-a-day, seven-day-week job of sewing sleeping bags for soldiers in Alaska. So they shut down the plant for half an hour while she became the bride of James E. Sawyer, 25, a navy yard employee, under a canopy of sleeping bags.

Members of the Panhandle Water Conservation authority, federal and state officials and other dignitaries will be honored guests at the Lake Fryer program, John Coburn, concessionaire, has said.

Water ski exhibitions, featuring Mrs. George Taylor, Mrs. W. L. Parson, and Bascom White will be another thrilling highlight of the celebration that starts Saturday afternoon with a community picnic and continues unabated until late Sunday night. There will be a bathing revue, swimming, band concert, an all-girl revue, each night, and the big dance each night in the recreational building at the lake with an all-girl orchestra providing music for both the dancers and the floor show.

Indians Take 2 From Fort Worth
(By The Associated Press)
Oklahoma City gave the Cats their comeuppance at Fort Worth last night, taking both ends of a doubleheader, by the score—5 to 3.

The initial contest was a grueling 15-inning affair in which Eddie Marleau, going in as a relief hurler, worked nine and two-thirds scoreless innings and who singled and stole home for the tying run in the final frame.

The Buffs won a 6-5 victory from Beaumont at Houston, largely through the relief hurling of Glenn Gardner.

After only two days rest, Gordon Matzberger pitched a 4-1 win over Tulsa at Dallas.

Evald Pyle blanked the visiting Shreveport Sports 2-0 to enable the last-place San Antonio Missions to annex a much-needed victory.

WHERE U. S. TROOPS WILL WAGE WORLD'S GREATEST MIMIC WAR

By NEA Service

The greatest military maneuvers in history will be held this September in the areas of Louisiana and eastern Texas mapped above.

Nearly one-third of the U. S. land forces—472,000 men, 60,000 trucks—will take part in war games covering 15,000,000 acres of ground and costing close to $1,000,000.

Opponents in this tremendous make-believe battle will be the Seventh Corps of the Second Army and the Fourth, Fifth and Eighth Corps of the Third Army.

The "exercises" will be directed by the Army's G. H. Q., assisted by the headquarters staffs of the First and Fourth Armies.

Divisions of the Second Army which will take part include: the 5th, 6th, 27th, 33rd, 35th—all infantry—and the 2nd Cavalry Division.

Third Army divisions taking part are: the 2nd, 4th, 31st, 32nd, 34th, 38th, 37th, 38th, 43rd, 45th—all infantry—and the 1st Cavalry Division.

In addition, the following will take part and will be assigned to the conflicting armies by G. H. Q.: the 1st and 2nd Armored Divisions, the 1st Tank Group, the 191st, 192nd and 193rd Tank Battalions, one squadron each of 3rd Bomber Group, 22nd Bomber Group, 8th Pursuit Group, 31st Pursuit Group, and the 501st Parachute Battalion.

Today's War Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE The Germans have intensified their fresh offensive against the Red front during the past 24 hours, and there is small doubt that they are making their supreme effort at this crucial stage of the Russo-Nazi conflict.

In a case of now or never with the invaders, and the fierceness of this titanic struggle makes it clear that it rapidly is boiling down to a point where it must jell soon.

Evidence of heavy Hitlerian reinforcements is seen in the swelling of the battle on the southern sector about Kiev. The Nazis appear to be throwing special weight into this operation, which threatens Russia's communications with the Black sea and vital oil supplies.

However, there has been no slackening in the sanguinary battle in the center of the front about Smolensk, gateway to Moscow. The invaders also claim to have made another deep thrust into the Bolshevik defenses north of Smolensk at Kholm.

Berlin reiterates that the objective of all its Nazi operations continue to be destruction of the Red forces rather than the immediate capture of territory. That likely gives a fair picture of the position, for while this claim certainly serves as an excellent excuse for failure to smash the Muscovite defenses, yet concentration on destruction of the Red army is a logical development and the Hitlerian strategy undoubtedly is devoted in very considerable degree to that end.

British Squadron Reported Off Siam

SAIGON, French Indo-China, Aug. 5 (AP)—Unofficial reports for which the Associated Press could obtain no confirmation today said a British naval squadron including the 30,600-ton battleship Warspite had been sighted in the Gulf of Siam, within the horseshoe-shaped curve of Asiatic coast formed by Malaya, Thailand and French Indo-China.

In London British authorities declined, as is their custom, to comment on the whereabouts of any British warships. From this no indication could be obtained as to the value of the Saigon report.

The British censor has passed dispatches elaborating on the possibility of a British offensive against northern Finland, giving rise to speculation the British may be encouraging reports of plans for action in many theaters to keep Axis forces dispersed to meet such threats.

New Governor Likes To Ride, Hunt, Fish

AUSTIN, Aug. 5 (AP)—Coke Stevenson's number one hobby probably is riding a pony at his 8,000-acre ranch 17 miles southwest of Junction.

"I like a horse better than nearly anything else in the world," Stevenson said. "I've been riding 'em all my life."

He also likes to hunt and fish; and killed his first buck when 15 years old.

During his first term as speaker, the house of representatives presented him with a handsome riding outfit, saddle, bridle, blanket, spurs, quilt and chaps.

Texas' New Leader Friendly To Press

AUSTIN, Aug. 5 (AP)—Vastly improved relations between the press and the governor's office are expected now that Coke Stevenson has succeeded W. Lee O'Daniel as governor.

It is a well-known fact that O'Daniel has not liked capitol press correspondents and the correspondents haven't liked O'Daniel.

The reverse is true of Stevenson and the reporters.

O'Daniel as a governor never met correspondents easily and talked with them freely as most previous governors had done. A few days after the start of his first term, he terminated general press conferences, and the conferences were never held again.

Stevenson, possibly as a result of 10 years experience in the legislature, including double terms as speaker and lieutenant-governor, has evidenced understanding of reporters and their needs.

Oakland's Oldest Resident Killed On 105th Birthday

OAKLAND, Calif., Aug. 5 (AP)—Despite his 105 years, Dr. S. J. Von Hirsch was an enthusiastic walker.

So he arose early yesterday, dressed, picked up his cane, stepped into the street—and met death in the form of an automobile which crumpled him to the pavement.

Dr. Von Hirsch, who finished a medical course in the early 1800's, retired from the practice of medicine when he was 97. He was an accomplished musician, one time conductor of the New York Metropolitan orchestra, and he gave a piano recital on his 104th birthday.

"You can live long," he once said, "if you get plenty of walking, a cold bath every day, nip of liquor now and then, kiss the girls whenever you can, and smoke all you want."
