Ban Issued On Public Lists Of Selectees

Names of Gray county selectees will be no longer available to the public or to newspapers, under an order issued today by General J. Watt Page, state selective service director. The order prohibits local draft boards and state headquarters from making public the number of men to be inducted into the nation's armed forces.

"We have received orders from headquarters," General Page stated, "that such information now is of value to the enemy and will not be made public by state selective service officials. It has been placed in the classification of restricted information which means it is confidential."

"All I am permitted to say at this time is that the calls from now on will be very heavy—heavier than those for January which were the heaviest to date."

Up to the present, the quotas of men immediately drafted into the armed forces have been freely published by state and local boards.

Later, headquarters officials said future quotas which local draft boards would be asked to furnish would be from three to five times larger as previous calls which have ranged from approximately 1,000 to 8,000 men in Texas.

27 Families On Goodfellow List To Be Adopted

Although the number of families registered with the Goodfellows as eligible for Christmas baskets is less than half this year than the figure of a year ago, the organization today was asking Pampans to overlook anyone.

There are 52 families on the list, of which 25 have been "adopted," leaving 27 families yet to be adopted. The Goodfellows are anxious that all be adopted, also, that more names be furnished the registry desk, which opened today at the city hall.

The same procedure as in the past is followed. All names of families are cleared through the office of Mrs. Willie Baines, county case worker. This is done to eliminate duplication. Persons who have names of families to submit can turn in the names to the case worker, who in turn supplies the registry desk with the list.

From this list, names of families are "adopted." The registry desk, handled by a half-dozen members of the American Legion auxiliary, will be kept open today and tomorrow, and if needed, on Wednesday also, date of the distribution of the baskets of groceries and other Christmas gifts.

LeFors Asked To Give $500 To Red Cross

Bill Watson and Mrs. W. C. Breining are asking residents of LeFors to give $500 to the emergency Red Cross War Relief fund. The LeFors gifts will be included in the Pampa quota but LeFors will be credited with all amounts given.

The LeFors gifts may be left with Mr. Watson at the Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber company or at the Hank Breining Service station. Mr. Watson and Mrs. Breining hope to raise the amount by Tuesday night. LeFors passed its quota in the regular Red Cross drive in November.

Pampa airplane pilots raised $27 for the fund here yesterday when they gave all money for rides to the Red Cross. A strong wind hampered flying or the amount would have been greater, pilots said.

Chairman Bob Posey, in charge of Pampa's drive to raise $5,200, hopes to report Pampa over the top by Tuesday night. Up to Saturday night Pampa's total had reached $4,415.56.

"Not only the army but civilians are aided by the Red Cross," Chairman Posey pointed out today. "Disaster comes to civilians as well as to armies. Although Pampa has never had to call on the Red Cross for aid, that time may come and we will be amply repaid for our efforts in aiding the Red Cross."

Workers who have not turned in their gifts are asked by Chairman Posey to do so immediately. "Let the Red Cross check for Christmas."

Hitler Fires General And Names Self

(By The Associated Press) Adolf Hitler's "attitude" firing of his army chief, Field Marshal General Walther von Brauchitsch, with the fuhrer himself taking personal command, invoked a flood of speculation today on what Germany might do next.

The least will be a straining effort to check the headlong retreat in Russia and the most may be a new German stab in another section of battle-torn Europe—perhaps a drive through Spain against Gibraltar with a view to establishing German power in French North or West Africa for a smash at the British in the Middle East via Turkey.

An attempt at invasion of Britain also was a possibility. A privately circulated Spanish news letter reaching London said that "if Hitler is not to be defeated in North Africa, Spain will come into the war." It asserted that "plans are now mature and all that remains is for the button to be pressed."

The letter added that German military and air staffs were conferring with officials in Madrid for two weeks. A bridgehead in Spanish and French North Africa, Gibraltar might save the collapsing Axis fight in Libya or carry the war to a new zone, such as Dakar, French West Africa port facing the South American bulge.

The latest official word from the Libyan theater was that British mechanized patrols had penetrated 150 miles into Tripolitania, the western section of Libya which lies next to French Tunisia. Armored patrols, however, were far out ahead of the main body, pushing westward into Tripolitania, already more than 450 miles into Libya from the Egyptian border. Complete destruction of the German-Italian foe was the ultimate objective.

The German announcement yesterday that von Brauchitsch had been ousted from the army command said that Hitler's "intentions" were guiding him by the implication was that retreat in Russia and the blitz in France. A British foreign office commentator said that Hitler "evidently is relying on that curious and rather mystic reputation which he hitherto has enjoyed as a means of restoring confidence and contentment of the German people and the German armed forces."

He said that von Brauchitsch, Hitler had found his "scapegoat" among politicians but among soldiers. The German communique still clinging to its reports of breaking "numerous Soviet attacks," but a Russian general on the Moscow front declared that the full force pursuit of the Germans had only begun. The officer, Lieut. Gen. Vasily Ivanovich Kuznetsov, called the present situation "the beginning of the rout."

The Russian reports, official and unofficial, told of an unbroken sweep in which scores of villages were being recaptured, notably 35 towns in a single day on the Tula front, south and southwest of Moscow. The German siege of Leningrad appeared to be touched by the Russians had to crack. But the British radio reported today that even that front had been broken by a Russian night attack with tanks 15 miles southeast of the city. This put Germans around Lake Ladoga in danger of being cut off.

Hitler's dramatic removal of von Brauchitsch, effected Dec. 19, but officially disclosed only yesterday, followed an admission Saturday through Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels, that Germany was up against forces "superior in men and materials." Goebbels and his master pleaded with the German people to give up all manner of warm clothing for the Germany army.

The three developments—the appeal for clothing, the admission of inferiority and the removal of von Brauchitsch—stressed indirectly the power drive of the Russians. The Soviets were rolling up new gains in what appeared in London to be not a German retreat but a rout. Russians said German casualties in Russia now totaled 7,200,000.

Keep Car Locked, Wilkinson Advises

Police Chief J. B. Wilkinson had a word of warning for Pampans today. His advice was to "lock the stable before the horse is stolen." By which he meant that Pampans should use every precaution against theft.

The chief urges car owners to keep their cars in their garages and to lock the garage doors. With tires on the "no sale" list, thefts are liable to be numerous unless every possible precaution is taken. Car owners are also warned to keep the car turtle backs locked. Car doors should also be locked whenever the car is parked. Pampa store owners are also given warning to be sure their doors are properly locked. It is an easy matter to break a glass and enter a store. The Suttle Grocery on North Cuyler street was entered Sunday morning and $3.75 in cash and 15 packages of cigars taken. Entry was gained by smashing the glass in a back door and turning the lock.

80 Troopships Put Out Host Of 150-Man Barges

Six to eight Japanese divisions—80,000 to 100,000 men—strove for a real foothold on the island of Luzon today 150 miles from Manila and were met by a valiant defense in which American and Filipino troops "more than held their own."

An estimate from the war department at Washington doubled previous estimates of the Japanese invasion strength carried toward the Philippine beaches by 80 troopships under strong naval and air escort. The motherships put a host of 150-man barges into the water and these swarmed toward the shore through the shallows and surf under a hail of defense fire and into a maelstrom of hand-to-hand and tank combat on the beaches.

"Some of them succeeded in getting ashore," said the war department communique. "The attempted invasion is being met with fierce resistance by American and Filipino troops."

The Washington statement placed the point of assault in the vicinity of Agoo on the innermost shore of Lingayen gulf, Agoo island is but 130 miles from Manila. Whether United States air or naval forces had gone into action against the invasion armada was not stated either at Manila or Washington. Counting its naval escort and supply ships, the Japanese invasion fleet numbered perhaps 100 vessels. Manila's official report said that heavy guns shattered one landing spearhead.

(By The Associated Press) "At one point Japanese destroyers and transports were driven off by our heavy guns and that landing was prevented," it was announced. "The Japanese communique from the Manila headquarters carried the accolade for the mixed forces now bathed in battle where the China Sea foams into Lingayen Gulf: "Our troops are behaving well."

It was announced officially that tank combat figured in the new battle. The Japanese included a barge-landed Japanese tanks was not clear. More than 6,000 miles from this new maelstrom of battle, an ominous shutdown of radio broadcasting at San Diego was ordered by the headquarters of the fourth intercept command at Los Angeles. Whether this resulted from an air raid alert was not stated. The radio broadcast was lifted at 3:45 a. m. Pacific coast time after it had been broken in the Pacific.

Across the China Sea British defenders of Malaya were reported in Singapore to have held their line on the western side of the peninsula but to have withdrawn another 45 miles toward Singapore on the east coast. The British garrison at Hongkong was pictured in dispatches from both British and Japanese sources as putting up an heroic but well-nigh hopeless resistance against the Japanese forces over-running that fortress lale.

The Rome radio announced the Japanese had replied to the Dutch and Australian occupation of Portuguese Timor by themselves landing on the coast of New Guinea, half-Dutch, half-Australian island north of Australia. There was no confirmation of the report. Portugal's dictator, Antonio Salazar, facing Axis displeasure for allowing Timor to fall into anti-Axis hands, hurried his colonial minister off to the Cape Verde Islands to coordinate defenses between Portugal's soldiers, with naval support, had been landing on the island.

The developing thrust against Luzon, the largest island, caused a certain uneasiness on more than one score, for it obviously indicated that the Japanese considered themselves more than equal to any naval or aerial attempts to smash the invasion fleet. Otherwise, service men here said, it would be suicidal to mass such an amount of shipping into a huge target for the guns of warships and the bombs of warplanes.

A distinct possibility of an all-out land, sea and air battle was there fore envisioned. The U. S. Asiatic fleet, which has been operating in Philippine waters, is believed to be intact and ready to contest any major Japanese operations. Similarly, the U. S. forces are still in being, with the high traditions of Capt. Colin F. Kelly to live up to. And General Douglas A. MacArthur has long been confident of the ability of the land forces to repel a full-scale invasion attempt.

The capital found some assurance in the fact that one previous Japanese attempt to land at Lingayen was hurled back into the South China Sea with heavy losses. However, there were other things about the Philippine situation that were disquieting. Capt. Colin F. Kelly to live up to. And General Douglas A. MacArthur has long been confident of the ability of the land forces to repel a full-scale invasion attempt.

Advices from Manila indicated that the Japanese had been able to land at the Philippine situation that were disquieting. Capt. Colin F. Kelly to live up to. And General Douglas A. MacArthur has long been confident of the ability of the land forces to repel a full-scale invasion attempt.

Brauchitsch's Fall Creates Sensation

(By The Associated Press) BERN, Switzerland, Dec. 22.—Field Marshal General Walther von Brauchitsch, who led the German armies victoriously through France, across the Balkans and into Russia, was tumbled from a hero's pedestal today by Adolf Hitler's momentous decision to assume personal command of his legions.

The fuhrer's stroke, taken at an hour when he himself declared Germany's battle was fast approaching its "culminating and turning point," created a sensation when it was disclosed last night in dispatches from Berlin.

Observers in this neutral capital, seeking an explanation for a move which they believed must have not only profound causes but vital consequences, saw these possibilities:

1. That the German reverses in Russia—which Berlin has disowned as a strategic withdrawal to winter holding positions—actually are so serious that Hitler has lost faith in his army command.

2. That a serious rift has developed between German army leaders and Nazi party chiefs on a question of strategy.

3. That the whole maneuver is a feint—a piece of Nazi trickery designed to distract the attention of Germany's enemies from some new move now in the process of making, such as an invasion of England, an attack upon Turkey or a thrust through Spain toward Gibraltar.

Hitler himself gave no clue to the real reasons for his move, though some quarters attached significance to his prefatory statement that "the campaign in the east has assumed proportions which exceeded all past notions."

In announcing that he had replaced von Brauchitsch, Hitler gave only this cryptic explanation: "The vastness of the theater of war, the close connection of the conduct of land operations with the political and economic war aims, and also the numerical size of the army compared with other parts of the armed forces, have induced the fuhrer to follow his intuitions and to influence in the strongest possible manner the operation and equipment of the army and to reserve to himself personally all essential decisions in this sphere."

Oklahoma Sends Gift To Defenders

HONOLULU, Dec. 22 (AP)—To Hawaii's defenders today from residents of Oklahoma came a gift of $634 in canteen funds as a memorial to Lieut. Robert Markley, 21, who died in action at Hickam field during Japan's surprise attack on the islands December 7.

Lieut. Col. William A. Jenna, recreation and morale officer for the Hawaiian department, said the money was collected through the offices of the Oklahoma and the Times of Oklahoma City and forwarded here with this message: "In memory of Lieutenant Markley, killed in the attack on Hickam field December 7, we are cabling herewith $634. This is a gift of Oklahomans who hope that it may bring an added touch to Christmas for our boys of the sea, land and air force based at Honolulu. "Please buy cigarettes and other such things which men enjoy. "Signed, Walter M. Harrison of the Oklahoma and Times."

War Flashes

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 22 (AP)—All but five men of a crew of 36 survived the enemy submarine attack on the tanker Emidio, the captain of the ship said today as he and his men were landed at Eniwetok by a consular cutter.

He described the Saturday morning landing and shelling of the tanker as the "most ruthless thing I've heard about." Three of the ship's lifeboats were shelled.

Music Program Given By Woman's Club At Canadian

Special To The NEWS
CANADIAN, Dec. 22—Mrs. H. S. Wilbur was hostess to members of Woman's club at a program of music.

Mrs. George L. Bader discussed the "Oratorio, Its Meaning and History," beginning with a definition as a composition consisting of solos and concerted pieces, theme usually taken from the Bible, with orchestration and trumpet music. She stated that the first oratorio was composed by Cavalieri and performed first in Rome in 1600 A. D., which was shortly after the death of that composer. Mrs. Bader carried the subject through the centuries, concluding with the works of Gilbert and Sullivan, English composers.

Mrs. Uel D. Crosby gave a history of "The Messiah." She gave much interesting information of the composer, Handel, particularly his life during the few years preceding his composition of this classic, a task which he completed in three weeks of unremitting effort, scarcely eating or sleeping during the entire time.

"The Messiah" was first performed in London in either 1742 or 1743 and, while its popularity was not immediate, it is now performed in part or its entirety both at Easter and Christmas in many places over the world.

Handel, who died in 1759, had been blind for several years prior to his death but always was able to play his own compositions on the organ.

Mrs. Crosby had the complete score of "The Messiah" on records made by the London Symphony orchestra, these being loaned to her for this program by Emil F. Myers, Amarillo. A half dozen of these records were played.

Mrs. W. A. Pite sang one solo number from the oratorio with Mrs. Bill Fiewelling at the piano, and Mrs. Crosby sang the solo, "My Redeemer Liveth," with Mrs. J. M. Carpenter accompanying at the piano.

Winter Begins But Weather Stays Warm

Winter began officially in Pampa yesterday, even though the weather was a long way from being cold. Yesterday's maximum temperature was 62 degrees, minimum 50. Traditionally, Dec. 21 is supposed to be the shortest day in the year, but Sunday here did not make that. The sun rose at 7:52 a. m., set at 5:34 p. m., which did not make the day outstanding on the basis of length of daylight.

Operator Changes Tune

MANILA, Dec. 22 (AP)—The Filipino operator at General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters has changed his tune, now that the Japanese have attempted a major invasion of the Philippines. "United States Army forces of the Far East," he used to inform callers. Now he answers with the single striking word: "War." In 1940 railroads had 72,000 trucks in operation, more than the total number of locomotives in use.

Monday Apartment Damaged by Fire Fire which badly damaged the Ray Monday apartment at the Marney apartments, 309 East Browning avenue at 9:30 o'clock last night, destroyed all Mr. and Mrs. Monday's clothes. Water also damaged an apartment on the first floor of the apartment house. The fire is believed to have started in the bathroom from a stove located too close to the wall, Chief Ben White said. The fire gutted the bathroom, destroyed part of the living room. A clothes closet, adjoining the bathroom, was also destroyed. Chief White is asking Pampans to turn out as many fires as possible when they leave the house and to see that stoves left burning are well away from walls, furniture, and window curtains. Amount of damage at last night's fire has not been determined, Chief White said today.

All-Out Aid Pledged By Oil Compact

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 22 (AP)—The Interstate Oil Compact Commission pledged today all-out aid in the war emergency and urged "fair and compensatory" crude oil prices to encourage development of new reserves.

Stressing that "we are now engaged in a world-wide war," the compact passed a resolution setting forth this six-point program:

1. Meet current and future emergency demands with the least possible waste;
2. Encourage the drilling of sufficient properly-spaced wells to meet wartime demands;
3. Regulate the operation of all wells to conserve reservoir pressure and insure the greatest practicable ultimate recovery at the lowest possible cost with the minimum expenditure of artificial energy to effect production;
4. Encourage exploration so as to maintain reserves that will enable the industry to produce without waste any expanded demands that the emergency may require;

5. Maintain adequate stocks of crude oil and its products to meet all demands; and
6. Make the most efficient use of the limited supplies of material and equipment.

"Adequate and continuous supplies of petroleum products will be required," the resolution stated. "The oil industry and the oil-producing states must furnish this supply. The different states and the producing areas within these states will be called upon to produce greater quantities of crude oil in order to meet unusual war time demands."

The resolution pointed out that under normal conditions sufficient reserves could be produced by new explorations without government control over price, adding:

"But since in the present emergency normal operations of supply and demand and competitive enterprise have been supplanted by government price control, we therefore recommend to the agencies which now or hereafter may be vested with jurisdiction over prices, to determine prices during this emergency that will be fair and compensatory and insure the ability of private enterprise to discover new reserves, to efficiently develop and produce without waste, both through primary and secondary recovery methods, and prevent the premature abandonment of wells of small or settled production."

The compact also stressed that "we further recognize the importance of not being forced, by the necessity of meeting unusual war time demands, to produce existing wells at rates of production that would result in underground waste and a decrease in the ultimate recoveries, and this can be prevented only by the discovery of reserves, which can best be stimulated and assured by a compensatory price."

"It is also necessary," said the resolution, "that the material, supplies, and equipment required to drill and complete new wells be made available if the demands for crude oil are to be adequately met without waste."

An executive committee was appointed to expend $40,250 for administrative functions which was donated by various compacting states. Previously, Oklahoma, where the compact originated, had paid those expenses.

Members of the committee are Gov. Leon C. Phillips of Oklahoma; Hiram W. Dow, Roswell, New Mexico's compact representative; J. C. Hunter, Abilene, Texas' compact representative; J. H. Alphin, El Dorado, Arkansas' conservation officer; and Andrew F. Schoepel, Topeka, Kansas' compact representative and chairman of the Kansas corporation commission.

All officers of the compact were re-elected and its headquarters continued at Oklahoma City. The officers are Governor Phillips, chairman; Schoepel, first vice-chairman; P. H. Hoffmaster, Saginaw, Mich., second vice-chairman; and Charles Orr, Holdenville, Okla., secretary.

Los Angeles buys about 2,000,000 gallons of motor fuel yearly, a lot of which is burned by the police, whose mobile fleet in 1940 chugged up nearly 10,000,000 automobile and motorcycle miles on policing jobs.

Board Of Review Tonight Postponed

Scheduled board of review for Boy Scouts of Gray county will not be held tonight in the city hall as scheduled. Executive Fred Roberts announced today.

Failure of troops to turn in cards from which board of review date is compiled has necessitated postponing the meeting, Mr. Roberts said. No date has been set.

The regular Court of Honor will be conducted the last Monday in January.

BCD Ballots Must Be Returned Tuesday

Five men are elected each year to represent the chamber of commerce members on the BCD board of directors.

RAF Attacks Jap Base In Thailand

RANGOON, Burma, Dec. 22 (AP)—The RAF attacked a Japanese air base in eastern Thailand, destroying grounded planes and gasoline reserves yesterday in the first aerial smash at the enemy forces there, it was announced today.

How many planes the Japanese had on the field was not disclosed, but the report said they were machine-gunned from tree-top altitude and none escaped destruction.

All the British planes were said to have returned unscathed.

Guard Frustrates Sabotage Of Plant

LAREDO, Dec. 22 (AP)—A guard frustrated sabotage of the central power and light company's filtration plant on the Rio Grande, District Manager Hal T. Ellsworth said yesterday.

He declared two unidentified men in a motorboat stopped their craft and ran towards the plant. The guard ordered them to halt and when they ignored the command he fired a shotgun at them, but they escaped by boat.

A chemical analysis of the water at the plant, which supplies 40,000 persons, revealed no evidence of poison.

President Signs New Draft Bill

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt signed today the bill enlarging the selective service plan while the senate heard demands that all recruiting be halted and that the nation rely entirely upon the draft to build up a war machine of 6,000,000 men or more.

Under the law, all men of 18 through 64 must register and all from 20 through 44 are liable for active military service.

Lindbergh Defended By Member Of State Board Of Education

(By The Associated Press)
After two weeks of war the Texas home-front buzzed today not only with action but with talk.
The general theme seemed to be that Texans itch to get at the opposition across the Pacific. But there were side lights to that prime objective.
Galveston Maco Stewart, member of the state board of education, stoutly urged that the name of Charles A. Lindbergh be retained in textbooks, that there be no blackout of the one-time lone eagle who later arose as an isolationist.
Stewart further proposed that the President restore Lindbergh to his army colonelcy.
Another coast city, Corpus Christi, produced the idea that many Japanese secretly welcome war with the United States because it will rid Japan of its military rule. Dr. Joe B. Hunter, former missionary, told an interviewer:

"One highly-educated Japanese, a man of considerable influence, once even went so far as to tell me that he was willing for Japan to suffer a defeat as it would bring an end to the military control of the empire."
Dr. Hunter added: "Neither the Japanese army nor navy is in any sense a pushover and can be expected to put up a terrific fight."
In a Christmas pastoral the Most Rev. Robert E. Lacey, Catholic archbishop of San Antonio, gave his blessing to America's struggle. He appended an admonition that the U. S. in future must "declare in time of peace that we will oppose unjust aggression," rather than wait until we are stabbed by an aggressor.
In Amartillo B. H. Shelton suggests "We install a siren whistle and, whatever hour we decide on, that the whistle sound and at that moment everything stop dead still and every one take off his hat and offer a prayer for victory."
In the same Panhandle city, it appears, such labels on goods as "made in Japan," and "made in Germany" are strictly poison with the buying public.
Not only that, shoppers report, buyers take a close look at every article for such taboo signs. "They are not to get my money," the patrons say.
This makes it tough on some stores because the articles already are paid for and Japan already has the money.
William Dooley's notions about the war are more personal. For 26 years Dooley served as an army private, turning down promotions as soon as they were proffered.
"I was satisfied where I was," he says, "I'm a sergeant now because I figure I can do a little more for my country as a non-commissioned officer. Since we're at war, I'm glad to take a promotion." Dooley is with the 2nd Engineer battalion, Fort Sam Houston.
If C. L. Murray of Waco had been in the Army 26 years he probably would have disposed of a World War 155-millimeter shell he had placed in his yard, just for a decoration. Murray, a war veteran, said he got the shell from another man, who apparently had picked it up at the old Camp MacArthur artillery range.
The other day Murray learned his shell might be alive. He obtained the aid of an army expert on explosives, who with police and two willing negroes got the missile to the bank of the Brazos river and rolled it in.

Basketball Clubs Begin Grand Tours This Week

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK, Dec. 22. (AP)—This is the period of tinsel, holly wreaths, mistletoe—and traveling basketball teams.

Sam Barry's Hoosier-flavored Southern California squad leaves today for a cross country junket that winds up Saturday night in a meeting with Long Island university.

From the Southwest comes Rice, the Rocky Mountain area contributes Colorado and Wyoming to the commuters, while Oregon State and Washington also head east. Cornell is all set for a holiday trip to the midwest. California, entertaining a barnstorming Missouri quintet tonight, Utah charges into the plains country, and Bradley Tech repays the compliment by visiting the mountains.

All in all, the coming two weeks will be ones of time-tables, field goals and free throws for various college students while their non-athletic brethren are at home absorbing mother's cooking.

Those teams not learning their geography by the practical method will either cut short their Christmas vacations to resume drills or will remain intact for such tournaments as the annual Oklahoma City affair.

Early choice in the Sooner Joust, which gets underway Friday, are the West Texas State giants, where each starter at least equals the 6-foot 4-inch height of Coach Al Baggett. Charley Halbert, center is 6-foot-10, although Capt. Price Brookfield, a half-foot shorter is the star.

As a rule conference play won't start until after the holidays. Wisconsin, Big Ten and NCAA king a year ago, is good enough to repeat in its own family circle, says Coach Bud Foster.

On the west coast either Oregon

State or Washington is expected to replace Washington State while in the Southwest conference Rice and Arkansas are favored for the title the Razorbacks held undisputedly a year ago. In the east Dartmouth seems headed for its fifth straight Ivy League flag. Long Island, Rhode Island State and City college of New York are other eastern powerhouses.

Iowa State, defending co-champion, looms as the Big Six titlist with Oklahoma and Kansas always in the running. Tennessee, as long as it has Bernie Mehen, is the choice in the Southeastern circuit. Wyoming and Colorado, this week's traveling companions, are the rivals in the Rocky Mountain's Big Seven lineup. Creighton and Oklahoma A and M. share the same distinction in the Missouri Valley.

George Washington, with big Mat Zunic pumping in the points, is expected to replace Duke as the Southern circuit champion in the Colonial's first full season in the loop.

Fifty-nine top pros and eight top amateurs will be in the thirty-six

Hogan In Thick Of Battle For $5,000 Open

HARLINGEN, Dec. 22. (AP)—Stretch-runner Benny Hogan, the little man who's always there at the finish, was back in the thick of the battle for the $5,000 Valley Open title today.

The Hershey, Pa., mighty mite takes the hard way but it only makes him the most talked-about guy in a tournament whether he wins or not.

Lean Henry Picard held to the leadership as the field swung into the stretch but Hogan's blazing 65—six under par—in yesterday's 18 holes earned the Oklahoma City professional he had a right on his hands to the last putt.

It pushed Hogan into a tie for third place with four others, all five strokes back of Picard who had a 64-7-131.

In second place, just a stroke off Hogan and his comrades, was apple-checked Byron Nelson of Toledo, who slipped to a 70 yesterday but still managed a 135 total.

Fifty-nine top pros and eight top amateurs will be in the thirty-six hole finals today.

The 60 low scorers from 36 holes will wind up the tournament with 36 more today.

Debuting with Hogan for third place were Jimmy Demaret of Detroit, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Little Rock, Ark., Lester Kennedy of Lynn, Mass., and Tony Penna of Dayton, Ohio, while four were tied at 137—Jack Grout of West Pittston, Pa., Herman Barron of White Plains, N. Y., Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N. Y., and Henry Ransom of Fort Worth, Texas.

Hogan was the man of the hour, not only shooting the low score yesterday—and also one of the three lowest 18-hole totals of the tournament—but winning himself a ton of grapefruit.

He posed for pictures teeing off with a grapefruit for a golf ball, then donated the whole business to the Valley Baptist hospital here. Benny kept a $50 cash prize.

Congressmen To Come Home For Christmas

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. (AP)—Speaker Rayburn told House members Saturday they could go home for Christmas, announcing he knew of no further legislation desired by President Roosevelt before the next session of Congress starting Jan. 3.

He assured them they would be notified by wire if their presence here was necessary.

Rayburn left Saturday for his Texas home, and the House elected Rep. Cole (D-Md.) speaker pro tempore.

In most of Latin America the school year begins in April or May and ends in November.

Bears Crush Giants 37-9 For Pro Championship

CHICAGO, Dec. 22. (AP)—Quarterbacks? The Bears had 'em. If it wasn't Sid Luckman passing, it was Bob Snyder kicking field goals. That is the success story of the two-year champion Chicago Bears—that plus a couple of backs named George Mc Afee and Norm Standlee.

The New York Giants thought the key to victory in the national football league title game was stopping Luckman. But they didn't stop him. Sid laid his passes on the line to set up the touchdowns that counted, and the Giants simply couldn't weather the storm.

While the 37 to 9 final score indicates the 1940 champions had an easy time repeating in yesterday's titular tilt, it wasn't quite a breeze.

There was, for instance, the time when the clock read 7½ minutes gone in the third period, and the score was tied at nine apiece.

The main reason the Bears were in the running at that stage was Snyder, Luckman's replacement. Bob booted three field goals—a feat no player has performed in this play since Jack Manders of the Bears did it in 1933.

Two of Snyder's field goals balanced George Franck's first period touchdown run for New York, after Tuffy Leemans had passed to him from the 31-yard line. Snyder's three-pointer gave the Bears a 9-6 halftime lead, an edge that didn't last long.

For Ward Cuff, acclaimed for many years as a field-goal booting champion, laid one between the uprights early in the third period to tie the score, and the 13,341 spectators—no one referred to them as a crowd—weren't very sure the Bears had the stuff that won 10 of 11 league games and the Western division playoff over the Green Bay Packers.

But where Snyder had been doing the work, Luckman stepped in for his share. He knifed a 23-yard aerial to Dick Plasman and a 26-yarder to Johnny Sigal, who wound up on the Giants' eight. Standlee barged over from the three for the touchdown that sent the Bears merrily on their way.

Standlee, McAfee and Ray McLean in seven plays covered 66 yards and produced touchdown No. 3, for a 23-9 lead. Luckman swung into action again, throwing 25 yards to McLean to set up the third goal-crossing play, which McAfee executed.

We're sorry
Many Christmas Long Distance calls will be delayed

We simply do not have enough long distance lines to handle at a moment's notice all the calls that flood our offices after important war broadcasts, and after 7 p.m. on almost any evening nowadays.

It is as if thousands of citizens in every community appeared at the railroad station at the same hour, hoping to catch the same train.

Even before the outbreak of war we had foreseen that delays inevitably would occur on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day. Now it appears the volume of calls will be even heavier than we had anticipated.

We have done and are doing all we can to make ready for these big rushes, but they are setting all-time records. Thousands of conversations vital to the Army and Navy—vital to the defense of this nation—go over the telephone lines each day, each night. Some of them may delay your calls. We are sure you understand. We appreciate your co-operation, your patience.

Fordham Defeat By Pitt Biggest Surprise Of 1941

By ORLO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK, Dec. 22. (AP)—Fordham's Rams were rolling along on the wave of five straight football victories. The Pittsburgh Panthers had received as many consecutive setbacks. Then came Nov. 8, a gloomy day indeed for the Rams, for the scoreboard read: Pittsburgh 13, Fordham 0.

Fordham snapped back to win its two remaining games and receive a bid to the Sugar Bowl while Pittsburgh went on to take two of its three other games. But the result of that Nov. 8 game goes down in the books as the biggest surprise of 1941.

Only the Texas Football Longhorns offered the Panthers any serious opposition in the opinion of the 94 sports writers participating in the Associated Press poll. The Panthers rolled up 144 votes, 114 of which came from 38 first place tallies on the basis of three for first, two for second and one for third.

The Longhorns, a surprise winner, tying or losing, received 16 first place votes and a total of 94 points. Some of the writers just called Texas the surprise of the year, others mentioned the Longhorns 7-7 tie with Baylor, Texas A. and M. and Southern Methodist before finishing its tour of Southwest conference points.

Rice, which holds victories over Louisiana State, is going after more intersectional glory this week. Playing San Houston State at Conroe tonight, the Owls rest until Saturday when they engage Fordham at New York.

They hop over to Philadelphia Monday night for a clash with LaSalle and then are inactive until the opening conference game with Texas Jan. 7.

The Texas Aggies, who were smothered by Phillips, beat LSU and Centenary for intersectional victories. They do not have a game this week but start a tour Dec. 30 with Kentucky, then play Purdue, Bradley Tech, Oregon State and Washington university before returning home to open the conference drive against Texas.

Four conference members—Arkansas, Southern Methodist, Texas Christian and Baylor—go to Oklahoma City this week-end to play in the annual college invitation tournament.

So that America may meet any possible threat from any possible direction in the modern war of movement, the aircraft industry is rapidly producing fleets of parachute troop transports which are able to move large numbers of fully-equipped soldiers hundreds of miles a day.

Backbone of the Japanese long-range bomber attack is believed to be the twin-motored Atakatsuki 19 with a cruising range of 2,500 miles and a top speed of 220 miles an hour.

More than half of the automobiles on the highways of the U. S. have a cash value of less than $100. The average tax burden per vehicle now exceeding $60 annually, amounts to more than half of the cash value of millions of cars.

Move over Arkansas and Southern Methodist—you have to make room for Texas in the Southwest conference basketball race.

For that matter, the high and mighty Rice Owls may have to do some shifting around, too, if the practice schedule serves as a yardstick.

Because the sophomore-studded Longhorn quintet is looking mighty well, thank you, after being relegated to the cellar regions in pre-season forecasts.

Rice is living up to all expectations and Arkansas is doing all right despite loss of a couple of keymen but S. M. U., which had been figured in the top three, has been unimpressive.

The Mustangs need taller boys, if their game with the towering Phillips Oilers is a criterion of what is to come in the conference race.

Texas treated Texas Tech in much the same manner as Rice did last week, but the Owls have the best record to date, although the Owls and Longhorns have each won six games.

Rice nosed out the strong Phillips outfit which beat Baylor, Texas A. and M. and Southern Methodist before finishing its tour of Southwest conference points.

They hop over to Philadelphia Monday night for a clash with LaSalle and then are inactive until the opening conference game with Texas Jan. 7.

Remember Christmas

Just three more days and Christmas will be here. The two weeks through which Americans have just passed have contained surprise, horror, anguish, indignation and determination.

Thoughts of people everywhere were concentrated on the abrupt plunge of this nation into war—and of what the war will mean.

Now would be a good time for the people of this country, and elsewhere over the country, to take a sheet from the notebook of the people of England, where the actualities of war have already been experienced, in the matter of calm acceptance of unavoidable conditions and efforts to pursue as nearly normal course as possible.

While there can and should be no mental blackout of the war and its requirements there will be urgent need for relaxation, diversion, entertainment, home, school and group activities which will serve to relieve tension and better equip everyone for the stern work that lies ahead.

For this week it appears wise that thoughts, insofar as possible, be re-directed to holiday channels, to completing gift buying, mailing packages and greeting cards, and otherwise following a customary course, rather than evidencing a feeling of depression, worry or lack of confidence.

A special effort has been made to send Christmas gifts to young men in camps or elsewhere in military service. The same spirit that inspires this remembrance should also extend to friends and loved ones at home—especially in a year when the possibility for a truly American Christmas is still assured.

Gift merchandise in great variety is available and there is money with which to buy it.

Buy Defense Stamps and Bonds—but also buy and give Christmas presents.

It Will Start

At the very heart and center of the "New Order" which Hitler claims he is trying to build, lies a festering mass of hatred and contempt for the Nazis out of which nothing constructive can possibly be built.

A book of Norwegian cartoons "He Who Laughs—LASTS" just issued by Hans Olav and Tor Myklebust, Norway's press representatives in the U. S., tells in a fine cartoon by Johan Bull and its accompanying anecdote, a profound truth.

Two Norwegian youths were arrested by the Gestapo for hitting a German soldier. The first explained that the soldier had stepped on his sore toe, and exhibited the toe to prove it. Then they asked the other why he joined in.

"I thought it had started!" he replied.

Some day it will start. Some day the opportunity will come. And then God help the men who believed they could overrun the whole world and make the world like it.

The Nation's Press

THEODORE ROOSEVELT AND JAPAN (St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

One of the many American favors in 88 years of peace and friendship between the United States and Japan was President Roosevelt's action in assuring victory to Japan in the war with Russia in 1905, by intervening just at the moment the Japanese were growing exhausted and the czar was about to throw in powerful reserves.

This victory was a great stimulus to Japanese imperialism. Japan had been forced by European powers to give up the conquests won in its war on China in 1894. President Roosevelt wrote as follows to the British ambassador, Cecil Spring-Rice, on July 24, 1905:

As soon as this war broke out, I notified Germany and France in the most polite and discreet fashion that in the event of a combination against Japan to try to do what Russia, Germany, and France did to her in 1894, I should promptly side with Japan and proceed to whatever length was necessary on her behalf. I, of course, knew that yet government would act in the same way.

Roosevelt realized he would not bind the United States to military intervention, but he hinted later that he believed his hints to Germany and France had served to localize a conflict that might have precipitated a world war 10 years before it actually occurred. In any event, it was the victory over Russia that marked Japan's emergence as the dominant nation of eastern Asia.

So, in the pattern of treachery, Japan has gone to war against the country that introduced it to western civilization and sponsored its rise to the status of a world power.

VICTORY

(Herald American, Chicago)

By William Randolph Hearst

Well, fellow Americans, we are in the war and we have got to win it. There may have been some difference of opinion among good Americans about getting into the war, but there is no difference about how we should come out of it.

We must come out victorious and with the largest V in the alphabet.

We are not completely prepared for war. We have not got a Swiss system of universal service that we will have to have some day, since the hands are full of robbers and the sea of pirates.

But we will get better and stronger every

Common Ground

By R. C. BOILES

"I speak the same-world prayer, I give the sign of democracy. By God! I will accept nothing which cannot have their counterpart of on the same terms." WALTER WHITMAN.

WHAT CAN WE LOSE?

One of the primary causes of our trouble is the too general belief that we can lose something that does not belong to us.

It is impossible for man to lose something that he has not himself created or that is not an inalienable or divine right.

It is because people believe they can lose something that does not belong to them that we have enacted most of our labor laws. Too many people believe that one man's working and producing can cause another worker, producing in the same field, to lose something. This is not the case, no matter if ninety-nine per cent of our people believe it.

Let us illustrate. Suppose employer A hires a worker for less than other people will pay this worker for the same skill and ability. Then suppose employer B recognizes that employer A is not paying this worker what he is worth, and hires him away from employer A. Could anybody rationally say that employer A had lost anything? He had no right to employ this worker unless he could exchange with him an amount as great as any other employer would give him. When this employe quits him he has lost nothing because he had no right to the extra profit that he received from employing the man for less than he produced.

And the same rule applies to the worker who receives more in wages than other workers are willing and able to do the same work for.

No one has a right to exchange a service and receive more for it than other people are receiving for the same service. They lose nothing when they are no longer able to get this extra reward that they have not earned on a free market basis.

But it is this belief that workers hurt another employe when they work for less than has caused our confusion.

People are confused on this because the benefits resulting from lower prices are widely diffused and so are not noticed, while the concentrated advantage is noticed by the man receiving the advantage in wages.

This belief, that a man losing something when his fictitious wage or profit is taken from him, leads to laws that eventually bring us to a caste system as exists in India.

The Sermon on the Mount and the Declaration of Independence are both documents setting down the principle that all men are equal before God and should be equal betwixt each other, as far as rights are concerned.

No, we cannot lose a right that we never had. All rights are either inalienable, or they are rights resulting from labor, from performing a duty, from creating things.

It is of the utmost importance that we come to understand that being cut off from an advantage which never belonged to us is not a loss. A man who has his rewards lowered, whether they be in the form of profits, rents, interest or wages, by another performing the service for less, has not lost anything. He had no earned, or natural, right to this temporary artificial reward.

We cannot lose something that never belonged to us.

... do not have to get very good and very strong to knock the everlasting daylight out of Japan.

We may have some small reverses at first, but do not let that worry you—if it happens. It is not who wins the first round but who wins the last one that counts for victory.

And there is no doubt about the victory, folks—none whatever.

The worst thing about the war with Japan is that it will divide our efforts and prevent us from rendering the all-out aid to England that we were doing and planning further to do.

But we will still manage to keep Britain going with our right hand while we poke Japan in the nose with our left.

Japan has been wanting war for a long time. It has been swaggering around Asia, murdering a lot of unarmed Chinamen.

Now it is going to get a war and a real one. Fortunately we are well on our way toward a dominating and determining two-ocean navy and all-skies aeroplane fleet.

Fortunately we can manufacture ten ships to Japan's one, and the acroplanes to Japan's one. Naturally we can fly the planes better and fight the ships better.

And that means that as soon as we swing into action we will wash up the war.

Japan's attack on Hawaii is probably with the idea of keeping us on defense at home. But we will not stay at home and we will not stay on defense.

Before the war is over we will have burned up all the paper houses in Japan and sunk most of their scrap-iron battleships and put this bunch of Oriental marauders back on the right little, tight little, out-of-sight little island where they belong.

And we will have fenced them in there. Then maybe we will let them have a little oil, coal or castor oil, we cannot tell which yet.

Our main concern now is about England. This attack by Japan upon us is largely to create a diversion.

We must not be diverted any more than is necessary for our own protection.

The war is OUR war now—not only in Asia but in Europe.

We have got to win in both arenas. The European war, to be frank and factual, is going to be so easy, but we can win it will.

We will do our best to help England now, after we have washed up Japan we can concentrate on Europe and straighten things out there.

The politicians have had the war all to themselves for a long time.

It has been a windy war—a windy war. Now it is going to be a fighting war.

The American people are going to take hold. The politicians proposed the war and the American people are going to dispose of it.

There is going to be a new order in Europe and a new order in Asia, all right, all right. The American people are going to issue the order.

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 22—Behind the screen: On the late-working set of Ernst Lubitsch's "To Be or Not to Be," time-out was called for the company to listen to a presidential broadcast. The intent listeners included 300 men in Nazi uniforms—extras working in a story of the fall of Poland.

The Chinese colony here seems assured of prosperity for the duration of the war. There'll be plenty of films dealing with the Orient, and besides their own nationality they'll be called on to play most of the Japanese roles. Hardest hit thus far by military control of Southern California have been movie extra, most of whose outdoor mob scenes have been canceled.

For whatever movie business it loses in the Far East, Hollywood will gain a great deal more from South America. Right up until the Japanese declaration, German films were doing a big business in several republics, especially Argentina.

Good example of the way money is unfairly distributed on many deals in Rita Hayworth's current assignment. The producers of "Tales of Manhattan" at 20th-Fox are paying $12,800 for her services for one week. The agent who arranged it gets $1,200; Miss Hayworth gets $800; and Columbia, which holds her contract, receives $9,120.

And you'll run against things like this: a friend, whose bank account runs to five figures, was tossed out of one major hotel because he was seven hours overdue on his WEEKLY rental; another who has no bank account at all was dispossessed because he dared complain that $50 had been stolen from locked luggage in his room.

A year ago, landlords of tenements, apartments and houses, were rubbing their hands in glee; now they are blistering their thumbs turning pages of the nation's first fixed rent law.

In January, 1941, the beach at Waikiki was one of the few playgrounds left in the world away from vice waters continents. Last night, Radford E. Moley, Jr., and I were comparing Christmas cards. His, mailed Dec. 5, was from Gov. Joseph B. Poindexter of Hawaii. It said "Christmas Greetings." The picture was of the great white Iolani palace, with its broad expanse of sloping lawns, now ripped by bombs.

Mine was from a minor naval officer, whose name wasn't withheld. It was dated Dec. 6. It shows a reds and greens, it showed a native girl in grass skirt and lei, sipping out from a wooden bowl. My friend had scribbled inside: "Wish you were here." He was a member of the staff of the Arizona.

1941 STUPENDOUS YEAR IN NATION'S CAPITAL

WASHINGTON—The Greeks had a word for what has happened to Washington in 1941. They called it metamorphosis.

A year ago, Kurt Sell, Masuo Kato and I could walk into the White House and the President's press conference with no more than a grin of recognition from the men who manned the door.

Now Sell (D.N.B., official German news agency) is in "protective custody" in a Baltimore hotel room; Kato (Domei, official Japanese news agency), likewise, after spending his day in jail for being a little recalcitrant; and I have to say "friend" and prove it before I can get past a couple of bayonets into that outer White House sanctum where your only passport is a nod from the knowing secret service.

A year ago, the army, navy, White House, treasury, and bureau of engraving could get civil service and a half dozen other places were on every tourist guide's list. Today, the visiting taxpayers can't get near them without a handful of credentials.

Twelve months since, you could get a hotel room in Washington on 24 hours' notice and a plane or train in or out in less than that. Now, no matter what your red tape here is, most of it will be McLean has one of the most impressive Christmas decorations seen in years. It is a large revolving star on top of the water tower. It is made of colored lights and can be seen from quite a distance. The star was built and installed by Pete Fulbright. . . . By the way, speaking of people at McLean. The other night at the football banquet I saw Mrs. Alma Terman for the first time in several years and she has not changed a bit since she used to live at Pampa, meaning she is as handsome as ever, and still wears clothes that suit Alma Terman's personality. She is with the telephone company in McLean but painting is still her hobby, and she can be as tired as all get-out and go home and start painting and soon feel refreshed.

Did you hear any performances of The Messiah over the radio? Last night I heard the 25th singing of The Messiah from Kansas City, and it was thrilling to listen to, but no more thrilling than The Messiah as sung here last Monday night. . . . I have never heard the soloist sing that "Redeemer Liveth" sung any better than it was by Mrs. C. O. Huber of McLean whose voice I would stack up against any soprano I have ever heard. The woman I heard sing that solo last night from Kansas City couldn't hold a candle to Mrs. Huber. . . .

I saw L. L. Palmer from McLean creek in town Saturday with some of the apples he raised this year in his orchard. He still has left about 500 bushels from his bumper crop. They are of various varieties and are stored in bins for the convenience of people who call for them.

More Strikes? Shift in the character of labor disputes is becoming apparent to federal labor conciliators. Since the Wagner act was passed, most of the arguments have been organization wrangles over recognition of unions and such issues. Before that time wages disputes were most common. Now wage disputes are becoming more frequent, and while the declaration of war by Japan had an immediate effect on establishing the labor situation, a resurgence of wage issue strikes is expected, particularly if the cost of living is not pegged by price control.

Another development labor administrators fear and are trying to check is a return of the pirating of employes from one employer to another. There was a lot of this competitive bidding for skilled laborers at the beginning of the depression effort. Aircraft plants in particular were accused of raiding older establishments for highly skilled machinists. Recently, this condition has been quieter, but now with all the impetus to three-shift operation of war industries, the demand for skilled workers will increase and the old labor scouting expeditions may break out again.

Behind The News In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22—The process behind the writing of official U. S. war communiques is fairly simple. Daily code reports come into Washington army and navy headquarters from commanders in the Philippines, Hawaii, and so on. Sometimes two or three reports may be received during any given 24 hours. Whenever they think they have something important to tell, these official reports are boiled down by the public relations departments of the services, checked with the intelligence sections of the general staff to make certain no military secrets are given away, and then put into the form of the terse bulletins given to the press.

President Roosevelt called the signals on the nature of these communiques in announcing the general policy of giving to the public, providing the "everything" conformed with two conditions—the news must be accurate and it must not give aid and comfort to the enemy. Naturally a whole lot of left unsaid under that latter condition, and under the first restriction, writers of the communiques are reluctant to put out anything they might have to take back later.

The actual writers of the communiques say they are working under official orders of one of these presidential passions for anonymity, but Gen. Alexander D. Surles for the army and Rear Adm. Arthur J. Fernald for the navy, put the final okay on their respective communiques before they're released. Sometimes, where a communique involves information relating to both services, they get together.

In general, the policy seems to indicate that our communiques will be straight stuff. They may not tell all there is to tell, but what they do tell won't be baloney mustarded with hokey.

Declarations of war on the United States by Japan, Germany, and Italy mark the first time in several years that the United States has been in eight wars—nine if you count the Revolution, 10 if you count the War Between the States. Only previous formal declaration of war against the United States was made by Tripoli in 1800. The catch on that statement is other nations with which the United States has fought either did not take formal action in declaring war, or were content to declare that "a state of war existed," or some such diplomatic dodge.

The president's decision to withhold from the public the full casualty lists and merely to inform the next of kin in each case is slightly different from the practice of the last war, though it is common practice in all countries engaged in the present conflict.

In the last war, there was a publication known as "The Official Bulletin," which carried casualty lists in full, and this publication was distributed to newspapers and officials of the government, and was posted in all postoffices. A little larger than business letter paper size, the Bulletin was issued by the Committee on Public Information, of which George Creel was civilian chairman. It varied in number of pages from day to day, contained all official orders on the war, all communiques, and in its first issue of May 10, 1917, the Bulletin stated its purpose was "to inform the public as fully as military exigencies will permit, on all subjects relating to the war."

Some days there were no casualty lists, on others there were pages and pages of names, including all those who died in camp during epidemics. By mutual understanding, newspapers agreed not to carry the casualty lists, but they were open to the public through the Bulletin.

This far, there has been no indication the Bulletin will be revived, or a similar publication issued for the same purpose.

SERIAL STORY

HIS CHRISTMAS CAROL

By ADELAIDE HAZELTINE

COPYRIGHT 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: The terms of Andrew Dearborn's will specifying that his secretary Carol, and five other employees, shall judge whether or not his playboy son Andy is running the business according to his father's policy of "service to the people" and Carol, who has loved Andy since girlhood, in a difficult spot. Although the will has not been found, Carol knows its terms, and her heart aches when Andy, currently involved with sleek Linda Julian, turns management over to unscrupulous Mr. Herrick, whose only idea is to make money. She knows that unless Andy shows more of the heart that has made him be kind to newsworthy Nicky and to a mongrel puppy he has adopted, he will lose the store to charity by vote of the strange "jury" his late father's will provided for. Bill Reese, in love with Carol, tells her he wants to see Andy about the toyland elevator which needs repairing, fears penny-pinching Herrick will put him off.

said as they walked down the stairs. "I remember I have a date with you," said Bill. "Yes, you have." Her lips answered, but her heart raced back to another holiday when Andy's father had brought him to the party. Andy was just back from military college then and had duty-danced with all the girls once. But he had danced with Carol twice! She could still feel the warmth of his arms. She had been wearing a cornflower blue dress, the color of her eyes. He'd said, but of course it was only his line, "You're the prettiest girl in the store, Carol!"

you can go for cocktails first, can't you, darling?" Nicky recognized her and his face clouded. With a little dart he was out the door and gone. "Why don't you take my car and go on? I'll try to join you by 4:30." Reluctantly she accepted his keys and left, sweeping past Carol's desk as if she owned the store. She had disappeared into the crowd before Andy exclaimed, "By Jove, Carol, I left that pup in the car again." He rushed after Linda. She went to the office window. From there she could see the street below and the place where Andy parked his car. Linda was just unlocking the door. She climbed in. Carol could see her hands push the keys into the ignition lock. The hands paused, then angrily switched on the engine. The car whirled from the curb as Carol's eyes followed it. Suddenly Carol gasped. She could see one of Linda's hands reach toward the back seat. The door was thrown open and Cinder was hurled to the street in the midst of traffic. Cars honked and skidded to avoid the dog. He ran back and forth crazily, dazed by the rush of wheels.

THEY found Andy in his office. "Go right ahead," he agreed. "Tell the committee it's all right." "You'll be there, too?" Bill asked. Andy smiled doubtfully. Carol felt let down. Mr. Dearborn always came. Andy should remember that. He'd enter into their foolish gaiety, and as a climax of the evening he would appear in the half-n-half costume. It had been originated by Mr. Dearborn's own sense of humor. The back of it was red velvet and white fur in the traditional Santa Claus manner, but the front included Father Time's flowing robe and a scythe.

She thought of the party again when she saw Nicky come with the afternoon paper. "Half-n-half party next Saturday, Nicky. You're invited, of course." "Sure." The boy's eyes beamed. He looked at Andy, who was standing in the doorway waiting for a paper. "You goin' be the half-n-half fella, Mr. Andy?" Andy looked surprised. "Half and half?" Then, as if remembering, "Oh, you mean am I going to wear that old suit and pass out trinkets?"

"Course! Party's no good 'thout that!" "Maybe I can get Bill to play the part." Nicky's face fell. "Aw, no, Mr. Andy. The boss's gotta be Mr. Half-n-half. Mr. Dearborn al'ays did—"

He caught Carol's warning glance and broke off. "YOU win, Nicky," Andy replied. "Yes, I will. I'll look up the suit today. I'll depend on Carol to help me collect the gadgets." "Maybe I could help you," Linda was saying behind them. "But Then Carol saw Nicky. He was running toward the dog, dodging in front of cars. Finally he reached Cinder and clutched him to his small breast. Miraculously he returned to the sidewalk, unharmed. She saw Andy now. He was still pushing his way through the crowd. He reached the curb in time to meet Nicky, put his arms around the boy's shoulders and draw both him and the dog close. Then he stared after his car, tousing Nicky's hair. They came up to the office together. Andy's lips were a grim line. Nicky was half embarrassed by Andy's gratitude.

"He didn't fall out, Nicky." Andy's voice was hard. "He was pushed out. I saw the whole thing but I couldn't get through the people to stop it. You might have been killed saving him, Nicky."

"I can't repay you for risking your life. But just as a sort of thank-you, how would you like an electric train? As a gift from me?" "Jiminy-gee! I never thought of that!" "It's urs, son. The biggest one in the toy department. Go pick it out." (To Be Continued)

NICKY TO THE RESCUE

CHAPTER VI

MR. HERRICK did put Bill off when he went to him Monday to see about repairing the old toyland elevator. "Mr. Herrick wouldn't promise anything," he told her. "Said he'd look into it. He talked about expenses and how they were trying to hold them down. He thinks he can make money by squeezing every dollar. The danger angle doesn't worry him."

"Then you'll just have to go over his head and see Andy after all." Bill shrugged ominously. "That's out, Carol. Andy happened to walk into Herrick's office when I was arguing with him. Of course, Andy didn't know what it was all about. I could have been asking for a raise as easily as begging for elevator repairs. But he didn't ask. He simply joined in and told me Mr. Herrick was in charge of all operating details."

"Oh, Bill! Maybe I should have let you go to Andy in the first place." "Don't blame yourself." He tried to smile it off. "I didn't get you up here for that. I really wanted to ask you about the store's half-n-half party. I'm president of the thing this year you know and the committee wants me to get Andy's permission to have it next Saturday night."

"Mr. Dearborn would have wanted us to go ahead. Why not go back with me and ask Andy now? He's in his office." Bill looked at his Santa Claus suit. "I guess it's all right for Santa to be planning a dance," he said good-naturedly. "Let's go." "Andy'll remember that his father liked the parties," Carol

Teen-Age Pirate Gang Broken Up

DALLAS, December 22 (AP)—Dallas police said tonight they had broken up a teen-age pirate gang that covered a storm sewer into headquarters cave and arsenal after three youths pleaded guilty to theft of two automobiles in which they crossed the Oklahoma-Texas line. They said five boys in the group were aged 14, 15, 16 and 18. The 18-year old boy and two juveniles pleaded guilty today before U. S. Commissioner John Davis and were released on bond. The other two were charged with juvenile delinquency and released.

This is the police story: They stole an automobile here, drove it to near Hugo, Okla., were forced by a breakdown to abandon it and hide all of a small arsenal except two pistols with which they planned to rob a motorist. But a woman who picked them up was so kind they decided not to rob her. Instead, they rode into Hugo, stole another car and returned to Dallas, outdistancing the state police in a chase. They were arrested here two days ago and were found to have an improvised cave in a storm sewer equipped with blankets, two radios, two pistols, a 22 rifle, a German army rifle, a shotgun, ten boxes of

Statistics Slightly Favor Wichita Falls Over Temple

(By The Associated Press)

A couple of teams holding 24 victories between them this season will meet at Fort Worth Saturday for the Texas schoolboy football title.

Through a campaign as wild and unpredictable as marked the first hectic years of the Texas interscholastic league, Wichita Falls' Coyotes and Temple's rugged Wildcats have marched to a slam-bang finale.

Temple arrives with a spottier record but the boys from central Texas came up the hard way—as usual. Close games dot the schedule—games in which their opponents often had claimed those intangible things known as moral victories while Temple was content with the long end of the score.

Wichita Falls' trail hasn't been easy but compared to the troubles encountered by Temple it has been something of a breeze—that is, after the Coyotes backed up and got a fresh start.

Wichita Falls lost its opening game to Masonic Home. Since then there have been but two close ones. Temple has played 12 games, Wichita Falls 13.

The Coyotes are ahead in everything except victories. They have rolled up 295 points while allowing the opposition only 32, the best defensive record of the season. Temple has scored 233 points to 40.

There is one direct comparison still keeping Wichita Falls ahead: The Coyotes beat Breckenridge 26-and Temple had all sorts of trouble winning over the Buckaroos 13-7. But all this doesn't make Wichita Falls the favorite by a long shot. Temple played a harder schedule inside the district and it is a "money team"—a team able to come through in the clutch. It is smart and has poise.

Today's War Analysis

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

Our defenders in the Philippines appear to be in the throes of the supreme test in the bloody fighting which has developed as the result of Japanese landings in force from eighty transports in the Lingayen Gulf area, a bit more than 100 miles northwest of Manila on Luzon island—a strategic heart of these straggling possessions.

The Japs, already delayed in their schedule by the strong defense of General MacArthur's forces, have struck heavily with the purpose of gaining possession before the arrival of American reinforcements across the Pacific.

Details of this great engagement are meager, and this is no time for speculation. Obviously the position is serious for the Philippines.

The news thus far is a mixture of good and bad. It is a matter of concern that the Japanese should have sufficient control of the waters about Luzon to effect such a mass landing. It is grand to hear from General MacArthur in an early report of the fighting that "our troops are behaving well." Next to this invasion of the Philippines, the great sensation of the day is Hitler's assumption of supreme command of his armies, displacing the famous field marshal von Brauchitsch.

The precise meaning of this extraordinary move remains obscure, but we are safe in saying that it was inspired by a great emergency of some sort.

One doesn't overlook, of course, that the fuhrer himself has declared he is divinely ordained to carry out his program in the world. Still, it is hard to believe that this is the explanation. Admitting genius for leadership, he might be the last to claim that his training fitted him for a position demanding the highest type of military skill, and to feel that there is no one else capable of leading his armies.

Rather, it seems to me, he is faced with a great crisis in which either, (1) he is forced to depend upon the personal hold which he has on his people, or, (2) he and von Brauchitsch have disagreed on a vital military issue.

It may be that Herr Hitler is compelled to use all his power of leadership in order to meet the reaction of his people to the great defeat suffered by German arms in Russia. That operation, which is still developing dangerously for the Nazis, certainly takes some explaining.

It is equally possible that the fuhrer wants to undertake something that his commander-in-chief felt suicidal. There are several guesses along that line. About the widest thing one could think of would be an attempt to invade England at this time of year. The German high command undoubtedly would balk at such a rash adventure, but Hitler says he is working by intuition and maybe his intuition tells him that as long as a pointed hour for a desperate blow.

Perhaps the crisis involves a military dispute regarding Russia. It might relate to a challenge to Turkey's two million bayonets in an effort to break into the Middle East. It might have to do with a drive through Spain to bring that country into the war and to open up new bases for Germany in North Africa.

Be that as may, it's my guess that Hitler is a badly worried man. There is further evidence now in the well with Germany in the language employed by the Nazi chief and Propaganda Minister Goebbels in their urgent week-end appeals to the public for warm clothing for German soldiers caught in the toils of the killing Russian winter.

Ostensibly these statements were intended to relieve suffering. Any doubt as to the grim position of the Nazis on the frozen steppes of Russia must be removed by Goebbels' blunt edict that "as long as a single object of winter clothing remains still in the fatherland, it must go to the front." Things are desperate when you strip a nation like that in winter.

But the appeals also were calculated to prepare the public for bad news of the terrible reverses inflicted on German arms in Russia and Libya. At long last Hitler has admitted that he is facing "an enemy who is superior in numbers and in material on the front" and Goebbels has impressed the public with the prospect of a long and bitter war, in which Germany cannot avoid "certain reverses."

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
(Wide World Sports Columnist)

NEW YORK, Dec. 22. (Wide World)—At long range it looks as if the New York pro football Giants had no more chance against the Bears than the Dodgers had in the World Series. The Chicago "crowd" makes it look bad for the Dough Bowl game here Jan. 4. Still, New York fans have been hollering all season because they weren't able to see the Bears. . . War regulations are tough on the football broadcasters. They can't fill in the dull spots with poems about the weather. . . Instead of having a fling at the light-heavyweight title, Billy Soose goes into the navy tomorrow. . . He'll have the rank of chief boatswain's mate. . . Tickets for the American hockey league's all-star game at Cleveland Feb. 3 will carry a "tax" of a pack of cigars, which will be sent to army camps. . . New tennis rule to come up at the U. S. L. T. A. meeting would allow players to be connected with firms selling tennis goods—but only if they're over 35 years old and have been with the firm 10 years.

Future Book

Jimmy Curran, our old track coach at Mercersburg (Pa.) Academy, says quarter-miler Jeffrey Kirk and sprinter Paul Cowie are the best pair he has had since Ted Meredith and Arthur Robinson. Both kids are heading for Princeton. . . Gerry Bauer, 18-year-old Lowell Textile student who is trying to break into the Boston Junior Olympics hockey lineup, is the kid brother of the Brutal Baby Bauer. . . Billy Bierman, Berry's son, and five of his St. Paul Academy team mates have decided to stick together in college—and they haven't agreed on what college it will be.

Today's Guest Star

Ed Danforth, Atlanta Journal: "They changed the wording on the publicity release to read 'termination of services' instead of 'dismissal', but the fact remains that Jimmy Phelan will not be head coach at the University of Washington next season. Washing-
