Tehran accepts U.S. proposal to end crisis

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Iran's chief hostage negotiator said today the Tehran government generally accepts a secret Algerian proposal for ending the U.S.-Iranian crisis.

The negotiator, Behzad Nabavi, told a news conference in the Iranian capital the Algerian mediators had offered a guarantee that their proposal would work. But he gave no details of the proposal and guarantees, saying only, "This subject has been studied and has been agreed upon generally."

Nabavi, who is minister of state for executive affairs, refused to say explicitly whether he meant that a breakthrough had been made or was imminent in the stalemate over the 52 captive Americans, who have been held for 431 days.

The Algerian plan presumably replaces an Iranian one rejected by the Carter administration whereby the United States would have been required to deposit $24 billion in the Algerian central bank as a guarantee that Iran's financial demands would eventually be met.

Nabavi's remarks came a day after a confusing statement by Iranian Prime Minister Mohammed Ali Rajai aroused new speculation that progress was being made toward resolving the crisis.

Rajai said in a television interview in Tehran that Iranian revolutionary leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini had authorized acceptance of a proposal from Algeria "to solve our problem with the United States."

But the Farsi-language words used by Rajai could have been translated as either that Algeria "guaranteed" to solve the problem or "undertook" to solve it, and there was no official English translation of what he meant.

"Today Nabavi told reporters, 'The Algerian government has said in its proposal that it is ready to accept the undertakings of both sides, in other words Iran and the United States can empower the Algerian government with their undertakings.'"

Asked when the hostages might be released, Nabavi said, "When the conditions of the Majlis (Iranian Parliament) are met by the U.S. government and when the Iranian government obtains enough assurance that the U.S. government's undertakings will be carried out." He also repeated Iran's threat to put the Americans on trial as spies.

There was no immediate public reaction by the Carter administration to Nabavi's statements, but on Tuesday night White House press secretary Jody Powell reported that Algeria delivered "additional questions" from Iran Tuesday on the last American proposals. He said a reply was being sent to the Algerians early today.

U.S. officials who asked not to be identified said the signals from Iran suggested the U.S. and Iranian governments had reached "agreement on some basic principles" to settle the hostage dispute.

But Powell said Tuesday's communication from Iran provided no basis for "any sort of conclusion about when or even if we will have an agreement."

The chief point being discussed between the two governments apparently was the amount of money to be put in escrow in Algeria by the United States as surety for Iranian assets frozen in U.S. banks and the foreign holdings of the late Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi which Iran is demanding.

Iran demanded that the United States deposit $24 billion, and the United States reportedly offered to put up about $12 billion. The money would be delivered to Iran when the hostages were released.

Meanwhile, U.S. officials in Washington reported the hostages have been transferred to secret locations, and some of them may be in jail. The officials were skeptical of a report from Rajai's spokesman Sunday that the Iranian government control of the 49 hostages held by the Islamic militants who seized the U.S. Embassy in Tehran on Nov. 4, 1979.

The other three hostages had been held at the Iranian Foreign Ministry, and the State Department had been able to communicate with them there by telephone. But they were moved to an undisclosed location on Saturday.

Weather

The forecast calls for partly cloudy skies today continuing through Thursday. The high for today will be 55 degrees with overnight lows at 25 degrees. Winds today will be 10 - 15 mph continuing through Thursday. The high for Thursday will be 52 degrees.

U.S. cautions against optimism

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Iran appear to have narrowed their differences on ending the hostage crisis, but U.S. officials caution that a quickened pace of negotiations between the two countries does not ensure a breakthrough in the 14-month stalemate.

However, one official, who asked not to be identified, said agreement has been reached on some "basic principles" and that Iran is prepared to revise its demand that the United States provide $24 billion in financial guarantees as its price for releasing the 52 captives.

White House Press Secretary Jody Powell, who attended a hastily convened meeting at the State Department Tuesday night, urged caution.

Meanwhile, in a news conference today in Tehran, Iran's chief negotiator in the hostage crisis, Behzad Nabavi, said Iran has sent Iran its own proposal to try to break the stalemate and has offered some kind of guarantee that its proposal would work. He did not disclose details of the proposal.

Although Nabavi said Iran generally accepts Algeria's proposal, he refused to say whether a breakthrough was near in the negotiations to free the hostages.

Asked about signs of new Iranian flexibility, Powell said only that Iran asked questions about the latest U.S. proposal and added: "There is no basis to judge where this will lead. We would all be well advised not to jump to overly optimistic conclusions. I don't think we can reach any sort of conclusion about when or even if we will have an agreement, based on what we have here tonight. I don't think there's any basis to be optimistic or certainly not more pessimistic than we were. At this point we're just going to have to wait and see where this will lead us."

Another official, who asked not to be identified, said there is no reason as yet to believe the hostages will be freed before President Carter leaves office 13 days from now.

One official, however, said the new information was "significant enough to take with a degree of seriousness." Another added: "I think we're a couple of steps further down the road."

The fresh movement involves the key issue of what will happen to the more than $8 billion in Iranian assets which Carter froze 10 days after the hostages were seized.

The Carter administration has proposed to deposit part of these assets — perhaps several billion dollars' worth — in an escrow account controlled by a neutral country, probably Algeria, to be released to Iran once all the hostages are freed.

The administration has explained to Iran that it cannot legally deposit the entire amount because some of the assets are subject to claims by American banks and corporations.

However, officials noted that even if agreement is reached on this point, the two sides still would disagree over Iran's demands for the return of the wealth of the late Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi.

Nonetheless, the new developments Tuesday night were the first sign of movement in the standoff since Iran disclosed its $24 billion demand 2½ weeks ago. And they came a few hours after Iranian Prime Minister Mohammad Ali Rajai told Iranian Television that Iranian leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini had authorized the government to accept unspecified guarantees by Algeria "to solve our problem with the United States."

Legal action threatened over Haig-Nixon tapes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon's lawyer, threatening legal action, says he told President Carter it would be illegal to turn Nixon tapes and documents over to Senate Democrats for Alexander M. Haig's confirmation hearings.

The lawyer, Herbert J. Miller, said he told the president in a letter Tuesday that Carter already had violated the law by asking federal agencies to search for the information requested for the hearings on confirmation of Haig's nomination to be secretary of state. The hearings begin Friday.

"I told him it was highly improper and illegal — I don't know if I used those words," Miller said in a telephone interview. "It is a misuse of the power of the White House."

Senate Democrats have asked for tapes and papers involving Haig's role in Nixon's Watergate defense, wiretapping of Nixon aides and reporters, the decision to bomb Cambodia during the Vietnam war, and other issues. Haig was White House chief of staff under Nixon.

The National Archives' counsel, Steven Garfinkel, said Miller threatened Tuesday morning to take court action to halt the archives' search for the material. Miller had taken no court action by 3 p.m., so the search started then, Garfinkel said.

Planning committee appointed to examine school's 'scope'

By DEBORAH BRIDGES Staff Writer

The "full - scope" of the Pampa Independent School District will be studied by a long - range planning committee, appointed by Darville Orr, school board president in the regular board meeting Tuesday afternoon in Carver Center.

Orr assigned board member Dr. Robert Lyle as committee chairman. Kenneth Fields and Phil Vanderpool were designated as committee members. Orr stipulated he would serve as an ex - officio member of the committee.

"The committee will have the responsibility to look at the full scope of the district," Orr said. This would include a re-evaluation of classroom facilities, teacher requirements and particularly the pupil - teacher ratio within the district's elementary schools.

"We want to look at the pupil - teacher ratio in the elementary schools," the school board president said.

"We made a commitment about two years ago to keep no more than 20 or less students in the elementary classrooms — especially first through third grades — in order for students to receive better instruction and more individual care," Orr explained.

Elementary classrooms now are full, Orr said. One teacher may handle a class with as many as 29 students, he said.

The school board president said the committee will evaluate the best way to reduce the student - teacher ratio to 20 - 1 by assessing the availability of classroom space, projected growth and the cost of the growth. Then committee members will discuss their recommendations with the school district superintendent, he added.

The committee is necessary in determining the most effective use of the school district's tax dollars, Orr said.

"We're going to really get down to the nitty gritty of what we need to do and how we're going to do it," the school board president added.

McLean man dies when truck flips

A McLean man was found dead in his overturned pickup truck two miles east of Lefors on Texas Highway 273, by a local ranch foreman early Tuesday, according to Texas Highway Patrol officials.

THP trooper Johnny Carter identified the dead man as Darrell Truman Hutchison, 32, of 420 Donley in McLean.

Carter said the 1977 Chevrolet truck driven by Hutchison was traveling east on Texas 273 near the Red River - North Fork bridge, 2.3 miles east of Lefors, when the vehicle apparently left the roadway on the left side and struck a cement guard rail.

The truck was airborne for 100 feet, flipping over in the air, when it landed, overturned once more, landing on its roof, the trooper said.

"It came to rest 200 feet from where it left the roadway," Carter said.

He said it appeared Hutchison, who was pinned in the vehicle, had died instantly.

The time of the accident has not been determined, but Carter said he believed it happened sometime after midnight probably close to 1 or 2 a.m., Tuesday. He said Hutchison was last seen in Pampa about 9:30 p.m. Monday.

Hutchison was pronounced dead at the scene of the accident by Lefors Justice of the Peace Margie Prestidge.

Born on June 7, 1948 at Wheeler, Hutchison had been a resident of McLean since 1973. He married Connie Morris in 1973, also.

Hutchison was a roughneck for Diley Drilling Co.

Survivors include his wife and six sons, Conrad, Dewayne, Robert, Darrell, David, Toby and Willie, all of the home; his mother, Mrs. Opal Hutchison of Wheeler; one sister, Mrs. Juanita Sugart of Wheeler; three brothers, Hershel and Eugene Hutchison of Pampa, and James Hutchison of Kingfisher, Okla.

Second former area woman found dead

A second young woman with ties to this area was found dead in her home this week, police authorities said today.

Mrs. Cheryl Surber Herbert, 26, born in Hereford and living in Ontario, Calif., was found dead at her residence at 1103 E. Ladey in Ontario Friday.

Mrs. Tracy Waterfield Neilson, 20, formerly of Canadian was found dead of multiple stab wounds at her residence in Moore, Okla. Monday. Moore police are currently investigating that homicide and said there were no suspects in custody at press time today.

Ontario, Calif. police officials are continuing their investigation of the death of Cheryl Herbert at this time.

"There were no signs of a struggle or any violence at the residence," Ontario police officials said today.

"We are waiting for information from the pathology laboratory to determine in which direction to proceed with the investigation."

Although it is not that unusual to find a body in a town this size (85,000), the circumstances in this case are unusual," Ontario police officials said, referring to the lack of signs of a struggle or violence.

Mrs. Herbert was born Aug. 31, 1954, in Hereford and was a housewife in Ontario, Calif.

Services will be conducted at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in the Texola, Okla. Baptist Church with the Rev. Robert Shugart officiating. Burial will be in the Shamrock Cemetery under the direction of Clay Funeral Home.

Survivors include her husband, Steve, of the home; one daughter, Jaimie, of the home; one sister, Mrs. Cathi Adams of Wellington; two brothers, Dr. Jerry Surber of Malibu, Calif.; Jackie Surber of Glendale, Calif.; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Surber of Shamrock; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D.H. Surber of Shamrock.

Cabinet nominees tell administration's hopes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect Ronald Reagan's Cabinet nominees are outlining for Congress the incoming administration's hopes to cut taxes, deregulate business, shore up Social Security, export more food and go slow on negotiating an arms limitation treaty with the Soviet Union.

The issues discussed during confirmation hearings Tuesday before five Senate committees were a general reflection of the themes played by the incoming president during his campaign. There were no surprises and there was no hint that any of those nominated would run into trouble being confirmed.

The process of translating broad campaign rhetoric into more specific proposals was continuing today with two more Cabinet nominees scheduled for confirmation hearings.

However, there was the prospect of some fireworks at the hearing for James G. Watt, Reagan's choice to be Interior Secretary. He is strongly opposed by environmental groups and among the witnesses scheduled to appear at his hearing was just-defeated Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., now chairman of the Wilderness Society.

A confirmation hearing also was scheduled today for Andrew L. Lewis Jr., Reagan's choice as Secretary of Transportation.

At Tuesday's hearings, Defense Secretary-designate Caspar W. Weinberger told the Senate Armed Services Committee he expected Reagan to wait at least six months before trying to renegotiate the SALT II treaty with the Soviet Union.

He also said there would be "at the very least, severe administrative problems" in rolling back the peacetime draft registration initiated by President Carter.

The House and Senate met jointly Tuesday to formally certify the electoral college votes electing Reagan and Vice President-elect George Bush.

Union bargaining with Chrysler opens

HIGHLAND PARK, Mich. (AP) — The United Auto Workers union began bargaining today on a proposed wage freeze at troubled Chrysler Corp.

UAW President Douglas A. Fraser arrived at Chrysler headquarters and said he welcomed the announcement by Chrysler that, unlike Ford Motor Co. and General Motors Corp., it was temporarily freezing new car prices.

The company has proposed to the union that wages and fringe benefits be frozen at present levels until the expiration of the current contract in September 1982, an action Chrysler says could save $600 million.

After meeting with the Chrysler Loan Guarantee Board Tuesday in Washington, Fraser said wage concessions and additional government loan guarantees would not be enough to keep Chrysler afloat unless the nation's "absolutely devastating" economy improves.

Today's negotiations are a linchpin in the automaker's latest plan to stave off bankruptcy by coupling $1.5 billion in cost-cutting measures with $400 million in additional federal loan guarantees.

The cost-cutting elements would include both a union willingness to accept lower wages and concessions by banks holding outstanding Chrysler loans.

During a 4½-hour session Tuesday, the federal Chrysler Loan Guarantee Board met with Fraser and other UAW leaders, as well as with Chrysler officials and some of the automaker's creditors.

Before going along with the firm's request for additional loan guarantees, the board is insisting that Chrysler win major concessions from the union and its suppliers and lenders.

Treasury Secretary G. William Miller, who heads the board, said after Tuesday's meeting "it's terribly important" that Chrysler's new financial plan involve "accommodations" by all parties.

Miller said Chrysler's cash situation will be "tight" during the next 30 to 45 days, but said the company won't run out of money during that time.

"If outside economic conditions do not improve, Chrysler doesn't survive," Fraser told reporters after the meeting.

He said interest rates, now running at about 20 percent, not only keep customers from buying new cars, but make it impossible for dealers to finance inventories.

The prime rate, has begun to decline from a record 21.5 percent and Miller said he does not expect current high interest levels to last indefinitely.

One bright spot in an otherwise gloomy picture is improving Chrysler sales. Figures released Monday showed Chrysler sales up nearly 20 percent from Dec. 11 to Dec. 20 over the same period last year. By contrast, overall auto sales were down nearly 22 percent for the same period.

Chrysler is asking the UAW for $600 million in wage concessions through September 1982 and is asking its lenders to convert about $570 million in unguaranteed loans to preferred stock, a concession that would save the company about $100 million in interest.

In addition, it seeks a price freeze from suppliers.

About 70,000 Chrysler workers eventually will have to vote on any arrangement worked out by UAW leaders and the company.

State judge watches as girls enter school

BUCKEYE, La. (AP) — With a defiant state judge standing by, three white girls returned to all-white Buckeye High School today in defiance of an order by a federal judge who wants them to attend a racially integrated school.

State District Judge Richard Lee and his lawyer, a constitutional expert, showed up before the opening of school. The girls arrived a few minutes later and went straight inside without comment. Unlike two previous days this week, no law enforcement officers were there to escort them.

Lee said the girls could attend classes despite U.S. District Judge Nauman Scott's order that it violated his desegregation pupil assignment plan for Rapides Parish.

Scott has threatened to fine anyone who interferes with his orders.

Lee told reporters: "I will obey any order served on me, whether it's from a federal court, a state court or a city court."

U.S. Attorney Ransdell Keene filed papers with Scott in Shreveport late Tuesday asking that Lee be held in contempt of court and fined $1,000 a day.

On Tuesday, Lee had said he was undecided whether he would go to school today to ensure that the girls are admitted.

"I'm getting old, and that's a long drive for me," Lee said. Lee, 44, lives in Alexandria, 15 miles away. Scott ordered last summer that Rapides Parish public schools be more broadly desegregated and reassigned 108 of the 7th and 8th graders at Buckeye High to attend Jones Street Junior High, which is 54 percent black. The junior high school is in Alexandria.

To get around Scott's order, the parents of three of the reassigned students — Michelle Laborde, 13; Lynda McNeal, 13; and Ramona Carbo, 12 — gave custody of their daughters to friends living in the new Buckeye attendance zone.

Disclaiming racial motives, the parents maintained that they didn't want the girls bused to classes far from their homes.

The judges' tug-of-war began when Lee approved the custody move and Scott, calling it a "sham," took the case away from Lee's state court.

Accused woman hit it off with Scarsdale doctor

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP) — Dr. Herman Tarnower and Jean Harris hit it off immediately when they met at a dinner party 14 years ago, a defense witness testified in the trial of Mrs. Harris, who is accused of killing the millionaire developer of the Scarsdale Diet.

Leslie Jacobson testified Tuesday about the pair's first meeting in 1966.

"They really enjoyed each other. It was really the start of a wonderful relationship," Mrs. Jacobson said.

Defense lawyers are seeking to show that Mrs. Harris loved Tarnower so much that she never could have killed him in a jealous rage over another woman, as prosecutors charge.

Defense attorneys contend Tarnower, 69, was shot three times in an upstairs bedroom of his Purchase, N.Y., home March 10 as he tried to stop Mrs. Harris from killing herself.

Mrs. Jacobson said the while Mrs. Harris dated only Tarnower during the 14 years after they met, she was aware the doctor saw other women.

"She wasn't happy about it," Mrs. Jacobson said, but added that the 57-year-old former headmistress of The Madeira School for girls in McLean, Va., had "never really felt that there was another woman who was a decided threat."

The prosecution contends it was Tarnower's relationship with Lynne Tryforos, a 37-year-old divorcee, that prompted Tarnower to end his affair with Mrs. Harris and drove her to murder.

But Mrs. Jacobson said Mrs. Harris "loved him very much" and had resolved that Tarnower's other affairs were "something she was going to have to live with."

Former students of Mrs. Harris' at Madeira and at the Thomas School in Rowayton, Conn., which she once headed, also testified on her behalf.

Madira students dedicated their 1980 yearbook to Mrs. Harris, after her arrest on murder charges.

School for girls in McLean, Va., had "never really felt that there was another woman who was a decided threat."

The prosecution contends it was Tarnower's relationship with Lynne Tryforos, a 37-year-old divorcee, that prompted Tarnower to end his affair with Mrs. Harris and drove her to murder.

But Mrs. Jacobson said Mrs. Harris "loved him very much"

Firemen killed as building collapses

BOSTON (AP) — Firefighters dug through the rubble of a fire-gutted Back Bay brownstone office building early today after two floors collapsed without warning, killing two firefighters and trapping two others for three hours, authorities said.

At least nine firefighters were injured Tuesday in the collapse of the five-story building overlooking the Public Garden and the Ritz-Carlton Hotel.

About 60 people clambered out windows and fled down fire escapes after the blaze began at 3 p.m. An hour later, when firefighters believed the flames were under control, the middle floors of the building collapsed.

One firefighter stumbled out onto a fire escape and began shouting. "It's all fallen in!"

Rescue workers, hampered by a rain of burning debris, did not reach the two survivors, who were conscious but pinned by the wreckage and the body of another man, until about 7 p.m.

It was not until three hours later that the body of the second victim was pulled from the still-burning wreckage.

The dead were identified as Paul Lentini, 32, and James Gibbons. The brick building housed a shoe store, a real estate office, a headquarters for school volunteers and other offices.

The fire department's arson squad was investigating the cause of the blaze.

"Former Gov. Francis Sargent, who has an office in the building, was among those who fled the offices."

"I was on the telephone and heard some muffled shouts. I didn't pay much attention, but then I felt this sudden blast of heat," Sargent said. "I don't know where it started, but it came up the elevator."

There was no immediate estimate on damage to the building, which appeared to be a total loss.

Man accused of taking son's paralysis money

RIVERHEAD, N.Y. (AP) — A 56-year-old man has been charged with stealing the $215,000 his teen-age son won in an out-of-court settlement after being paralyzed in a sporting event.

Robert Steen, an unemployed computer engineer, allegedly used the settlement in the negligence suit to buy a sailboat and electronic equipment, the office of Suffolk County District Attorney Patrick Henry said Tuesday.

Steen was arrested Monday on an indictment charging him with grand larceny. Steen, who is separated from his wife and lives in Lloyd's Harbor, was held in the Suffolk County jail pending arraignment today.

Steen's 19-year-old son, Peter, of Huntington Station, was injured in July 1977 in a lacrosse game sponsored by the Town of Huntington. A neck injury left him with movement only in his hands.

He sued the town for $10 million and, in a settlement in August 1979, the teen-ager received $350,000. After legal fees and other expenses, young Steen received $215,037.

The district attorney's office said Peter Steen told his father to deposit the award check in a bank. The father allegedly took off with the money two weeks later, Henry charged.

Steen allegedly used the money to purchase a $55,000 sailboat and thousands of dollars worth of electronic equipment.

'Frankenstein' bombs on Broadway stage

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Benny, Will Rogers, W.C. Fields, Fanny Brice and other vaudeville stars didn't really become famous until they had "played the Palace."

But "Frankenstein" died at the famous Broadway theater this week.

There was a shiny new lock on the stage door after Sunday night's opening and closing of the ballyhooed play representing the latest reincarnation of the 1816 Mary Shelley horror story.

"It's all dark," growled a burly workman blocking visitors to backstage. "Ya know what I mean?"

"It's all over," Terry Allen Kramer, one of the producers of the show, said after an unsuccessful last-ditch effort at resurrection Tuesday.

She went through a frantic but futile series of meetings and telephone calls trying to line up an additional $400,000, much of it for advertising and promotion to overcome bad reviews, in hopes of staging a Lazarus act for Tuesday evening's scheduled curtain.

The bomb by "Frankenstein," the first play to open on Broadway in 1981, was of atomic proportions.

Leo Stern, a publicist for the show, said the production costs, originally budgeted for $1.25 million but eventually approaching $2 million, probably made "Frankenstein" the most costly non-musical flop in the history of the Great White Way.

"It closed for the same reason most shows close, no business," Stern said.

Missing detective's body found in tire

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Police Detective Ray Tate dropped from sight when he went to investigate the disappearance of a 22-year-old machinist. A day later, a farmer stumbled on a patch of blood-soaked soil and found Tate's body and two others stuffed in a huge tractor tire, authorities say.

The man Tate was seeking still is missing. Police have arrested a suspect in the case, 37-year-old Thomas W. Simmons of rural Van Buren, who had been jailed in the 1970s for kidnapping, theft and assault. Simmons, held on four complaints of kidnapping and one of capital murder — which applies in case of more than one death or the death of a policeman — was arrested Tuesday at his job as a laborer.

The arrest came a short time after Simmons went to a branch bank and deposited a check written on the account of the missing man, Larry Price, according to Wayne Hicks, assistant Van Buren police chief.

Simmons was traced after a bank bookkeeper, Hicks' wife, Wanda, noted his license number when he went to the main bank to try to get the check back, officials said.

Suicide gun matches one killing Iowa family

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — A gun found by the side of a man who committed suicide in South Dakota has been identified as the same weapon used in the deaths of his wife and five children in Delmar, authorities say.

The determination leaves no doubt that Gene Gilbert killed his family, Gerald Shanahan, head of the Iowa Division of Criminal Investigation, said Tuesday.

Gilbert then drove to his father's house in Yale, S.D., and used the gun on himself, police said.

Meanwhile, a Sioux Falls, S.D., television station reported that the weekend incident was the second case of violence in the Gilbert family. Television station KELO said 40-year-old records indicated that a coroner's inquest ruled the first wife of Gilbert's father killed her two children and herself.

KELO said Guy Gilbert's wife, Hazel, 32, killed the couple's son, Ronald, 4, and daughter, Norma, 8, before taking her own life in 1940, according to records of the inquest.

The bodies of Gene Gilbert's wife and children were discovered after Gilbert's body was found Saturday night.

Shanahan said that while ballistics tests on Gilbert's .38-caliber revolver were not complete, there was no doubt that the weapon was used in both incidents.

Russian actress denied U.S. visa

MOSCOW (AP) — Zoya Fyodorova, the Russian actress who landed in Stalin's prisons after she fell in love with an American naval officer in World War II, said today she had been denied a visa for another visit to the United States.

Miss Fyodorova, 68, said she was told by Soviet authorities Monday that she could not make her fourth trip to America because "your daughter in America has behaved badly."

"They said they had no complaints against me personally," she told The Associated Press. "They said it was all because of my daughter. They said I could try to apply again for a visa in six months."

Miss Fyodorova had hoped to leave for the United States Feb. 19. She said she was stunned by the refusal of the visa.

Miss Fyodorova's daughter Victoria, who lives in Connecticut with her American husband, said Tuesday that her mother had told her by telephone of the visa denial.

The daughter came to this country in 1975 to meet her father, Jackson Tate, a retired admiral who died two years ago. She married an American airline pilot, Fred Pouy, the year she arrived and became a U.S. citizen. They have one son, Christopher, 4.

"Her life is zero without Chris and me," Mrs. Pouy said of her mother. "OK if they don't like me but they don't have to punish her."

She said one visa official told her mother Soviet authorities were upset about Mrs. Pouy's book "The Admiral's Daughter," which related her mother's wartime affair, her eight years in Soviet prisons and the difficulties the two women had in seeing the American officer. The book was published here in 1979, and her mother has not visited — or applied for a visa — since then, Mrs. Pouy said.

She also said her mother told her "everyone was refused a visa" that day, speculating that there may be a new freeze on exits from the Soviet Union.

"They're taking her away from me again, after 35 years," sobbed the daughter.

Mechanics find crack in frame of Dallas bus

DALLAS (AP) — Mechanics discovered a hairline crack in the frame of one of the city's 69 Grumman-built buses, but Dallas Transit System managers said they have no plans to take that bus, or any of the other Grumman vehicles, off the streets.

"We're not intending to take any of these out of service," said DTS general manager Cliff Franklin. "There's no safety problem at all with the bus."

"There is a small crack that I would liken to a fracture in your arm that you wouldn't discover without an X-ray," he continued. "The bus with the hairline fracture will be put back into service and monitored frequently for any growth of the fracture."

If the frame were to crack all the way through at the fracture, "the only thing that would happen is the bus would drop five or six inches," said Franklin.

The buses, named "Flexibles" by the Grumman Corp., were taken completely out of service in New York City when cracks were discovered in the A-frames, which support the bus transmissions and engines.

Monday night, Grumman officials agreed to repair cracked frames on 637 New York City buses and Franklin said similar work will begin in Dallas on Jan. 26.

"This process will be handled in our bus shop by a team of Grumman people who will remove the frame and replace it ...," said Franklin.

Franklin said repairing the Flexibles buses would last through March. There are 520 buses in the DTS fleet.

Stabbing victim's pickup truck sought

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Bexar County officers today hoped to find a pickup truck missing from the house where an elderly grandmother was stabbed to death.

The body of Norma W. Logan, 77, was found behind a bedroom door of her home early Monday, a large, bloody butcher knife lying nearby, sheriff's investigators said.

Although the woman's home had not been ransacked and her purse was found unopened on a nearby bed, investigators said they were not ruling out robbery as a motive for the slaying.

They broadcast a description of Mrs. Logan's 1967 red and white Chevrolet pickup truck that neighbors said usually was parked in the driveway.

Troy Magee, 28, the woman's grandson, told officers that he and a friend arrived at the house from Karnes City where both are employed at a photography shop. The grandson said he planned to pick up some clothes and return to Karnes City.

Magee said he found all the 1980 in recording world: The year Lennon died

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer

John Lennon, 40, was shot and killed in December 1980 outside his apartment house in New York, sending fans all over the world into shock and grief. There were memorial vigils, services, concerts and get-togethers, as people paid deeply-felt tribute to the former Beatle.

The two biggest recordings in 1980 were the "Call Me" single by Blondie and "The Wall" LP by Pink Floyd. Both went to No. 1 on the best-selling charts where they stayed and stayed.

Disco, punk, heavy metal and rock 'n roll all hung in through 1980, none capturing the scene. The music record and concert business stayed depressed in 1980. The industry fought counterfeiters. The Rolling Stones said "Emotional Rescue" had a device to make genuine records and tapes distinguishable from counterfeit. It seemed that every music maker who could made a movie.

"What a Fool Believes," performed by the Doobie Brothers and written by Kenny Loggins and Michael McDonald, won Grammys as record of the year and song of the year. Billy Joel's "52nd Street" was album of the year. Joel and Dionne Warwick won for best pop vocal performances. Rickie Lee Jones won a Grammy as best new artist.

Best rock vocal performance Grammys were won by Donna Summer and Bob Dylan. Dylan, now singing only Christian songs in concert, also won a gospel-music Dove Award. His "Slow Train Coming" album was named best gospel album by a secular artist. David Shire,

Novel holds reader's interest

AS SUMMERS DIE. By Winston Groom. Summit. 319 Pages. $12.95.

Winston Groom's first novel, "Better Times Than These," was a stunning story about the war in Vietnam and the men who fought it.

It was a memorable book — and a tough act to follow. Some writers whose first novels are praised have difficulty coming up with a second good book. Not Groom.

His new book isn't as powerful as his first — but then it doesn't deal with war. It is, however, just as well made and the story it tells is entertaining and holds the reader's interest to the end.

The story is Willie Croft's. It's 1960. Willie is 43 and his life is in a comfortable rut. An attorney, Willie has a practice of sorts in a southern coastal town called Bienville. Willie doesn't handle the big cases. Rather, he earns a modest living by representing drunks, vagrants, two-bit bandits. Although he has never married and drinks a bit too much, Willie is relatively happy with his lot in life.

But then things change for him — drastically. His black cleaning woman asks him to represent her aged mother. The mother lives, and has lived for many years, in a house from which some members of one of the wealthiest families in Bienville suddenly want to evict her. Why?

It seems there's a good chance there is oil — lots of it — in the land under the old lady's house, and the Holt family wants that oil. Unfortunately, for them, the father of the present-day Holts gave the land to the woman. He also left behind some other surprises for

RAVES FOR GRIFFITH
SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — How good is the rookie guard of the Utah Jazz, Darrell Griffith?
"He's playing some of the best basketball I've ever seen by a rookie," commented opposing coach Stan Albeck of San Antonio. "He is relying on his great jumping ability and he's so natural. He has made the Jazz a much stronger team."

Atlanta assistant-coach Brendan Suhr had this comment: "He jumps over people and physically he's one of the five best guards in the league. I definitely think he's the Rookie-of-the-Year."

70, and Norman Gimbel won the Oscar for best movie song, "It Goes Like It Goes," from "Norma Rae."

The Country Music Association named Barbara Mandrell entertainer of the year. "Coal Miner's Daughter" soundtrack album of the year, "He Stopped Loving Her Today," sung by George Jones, written by Bobby Braddock and Curly Putman, single and song of the year. Emmylou Harris and Jones were named best vocalists.

Bruce Springsteen had his biggest year, with "The River" LP, "Hungry Heart" single and four-hour concerts selling big. A resolution in the New Jersey legislature proposed making his "Born To Run" the state theme song.

Michael Jackson got four hit singles from his "Off the Wall" LP. RCA pressed 250,000 eight-record sets of "Elvis Aron Presley," selling for $69.95. On the third anniversary of Presley's death, a statue of him by sculptor Eric Parks went up in Memphis.

The Police toured 19 countries, including some cities which had never seen live rock before. Pink Floyd, without a big hit since 1973, had a two-city tour, Los Angeles and New York, where roadies built a wall, 30 by 210 feet, of 340 cardboard bricks, on stage before intermission and tore it down after. South Africa banned Pink Floyd's "The Wall," which demonstrators had started to use.

Bobby Short, Deborah Harry and Willie Nelson made jeans commercials. A jeans company sponsored Elton John's concert, attended by 400,000, in New York's Central Park.

Before the election, Loretta

Lynn was for Carter. Frank Sinatra for Reagan and James Taylor for Anderson.

The first children's record went platinum in 1980, "Mickey Mouse Disco," and the Chipmunks were back, releasing "Chipmunk Punk," with the son of the late Ross Bagdasarian consulting. Sinatra celebrated his 65th birthday with a cookout on his California ranch. Mel Tillis sang,

"No One Here Gets Out Alive," a biography of the late Jim Morrison and Bette Midler's "A View From a Broad" sold well. Sammy Davis wrote autobiography No. 2, "Hollywood in a Suitcase." Rolling Stone published "The Beatles" in November. George Harrison wrote "I Me Mine," which sells for $355.

David Bowie went on Broadway as "The Elephant Man" and Linda Ronstadt was the ingenue in "The Pirates of Penzance." Biggest hit to open on Broadway in 1980 was "42nd Street," music by Harry Warren, 87.

Marie Osmond started a TV comedy series, Toni Tennille a late afternoon talk show and Shaun Cassidy the series "Breaking Away."

But movies were the big thing. Kris Kristofferson was in "Heaven's Gate." Frank Sinatra in "The First Deadly Sin." Dolly Parton and Deborah Harry made movie debuts, in "Nine to Five" and "Union City," which had music by Blondie lead guitarist Chris Stein. Neil Diamond debuting in "The Jazz Singer," and Paul Simon in "One-Trick Pony" starred and wrote the songs.

Harry Nilsson wrote the music for "Popeye," Queen for "Flash Gordon" and the Who for "McVicar," which starred Roger Daltrey. Willie Nelson was in "Honeysuckle Rose," Art Garfunkel in "Bad Timing" and Ringo Starr in "Cavemen," which had a script of 14 words.

"The Last of the Blue Devils" showed a reunion of Kansas City jazzmen. "Urban Cowboy" had a country soundtrack. Sissy Spacek played Loretta Lynn and LeVon Helm her father in "Coal Miner's Daughter."

"Fame" was set at the New York High School of Performing Arts and had two hit singles by Irene Cara. "The Competition" had two young classical pianists fall in love. New-wave acts played the soundtrack of "Times Square."

Gilda Radner made "Gilda" and Bette Midler made "Divine Madness." The "No Nukes" movie starred Jackson Browne, the Doobie Brothers, James Taylor, Carly Simon, Bruce Springsteen, Chaka Khan, Crosby, Stills and Nash, Bonnie Raitt.

Some of the soundtracks did better business than the films. There was "Roadie" starring Meat Loaf, "Can't Stop the Music" with the Village People, "The Blues Brothers," which also included Aretha Franklin, James Brown, Ray Charles and Cab Calloway, "Xanadu" with Olivia Newton-John, and "The Idolmaker" with Ray Sharkey.

Rumors persisted and were denied that Bob Marley was dead. Andy Gibb broke his ankle on TV, on an obstacle course run by celebrities. Merrill Osmond, 26, cut short a European tour because of heart trouble.

Country singer Slim Whitman started being heard again in America, live and on records, thanks to an LP collection of his old records sold on TV. Johnny Cash marked his "first 25 years as a singer" with a TV special. George Burns, 83, cut "George Burns in Nashville." Willie Nelson told 40,000 fans listening to 12 hours of country music at his eighth annual picnic — the biggest July 4 celebration in Texas — that it would be the last.

Jazz greats Ella Fitzgerald and Count Basie toured Europe. Al Hirt put together a 17-piece Al Hirt's Big Band from Dixieland and went on the road. Woody Herman said he'd settle down with his herd in New Orleans for some 30 weeks a year and just tour summers.

Benny Goodman and Teddy Wilson appeared at the first major jazz festival in Japan, in Tokyo. The Montreux-Detroit Jazz Festival debuted in Detroit, announced take two for 1981. World premiere of Dave Brubeck's mass "To Hope! a Celebration With Music," was given by the Cincinnati Pops Orchestra on the pianist-composer's 60th birthday.

Cher ended her romance with Gene Simmons of Kiss, formed Black Rose with guitarist Les Dudek and went on the road as group vocalist. Wayne Newton agreed to buy the 20-story Aladdin Hotel in Las Vegas, saying it'll be the first major hotel owned by a performer. Neil Sedaka had a hit single that was a duo, with daughter Dara. 16, "Should've Never Let You Go." The Boomtown Rats, their Dublin Dome concert canceled, got to perform a "homecoming" concert after all, in a castle owned by the Guinness family. Group bassist Pete Briquette married Akron singer Jane Aire in Dublin. Graham Nash became a U.S. citizen.

Gary Numan said he was making his last tour. But it was more common to hear from artists who'd been absent a while, like John Lennon and Yoko Ono and their "Double Fantasy" album. Dave Edmunds and Nick Lowe in Rockpile, Peter Noone in Tremblers, Smokey Robinson, Marianne Faithfull, Captain Beefheart, Joni Mitchell, Jeff Beck, Cliff Richard, Dusty Springfield, the Glaser Brothers.

Tom Petty, the J. Geils Band and Bob Seger finally achieved stardom in 1980.

Releasing first solo records were Ronnie Spector, Grace Slick and Jimmy Hall. Peter Criss took off his Kiss makeup and started a solo career.

Gilda Radner, 33, married rock guitarist G. E. Smith, 28, in New York. Donna Summer, 31, married Bruce Sudano, 31, lead guitarist of her band, Brooklyn Dreams, in Los Angeles. Karen Carpenter, 30, married Tom Burris, 39, real-estate developer. She sang "We're in Love," written by her brother Richard, during the Beverly Hills ceremony. Patti Smith married Fred "Sonic" Smith in Detroit. Lou Reed married Sylvia Morales in New York.

The Bee Gees sued the Sugwood Group for more than $91 million, charging unpaid royalties. Donna Summer sued Casablanca Records for $10 million and signed with Geffen Records. MCA Records sued Steely Dan to keep them from taking their record to another company.

Debbie Boone and Gabriel Ferrer had their first child, Jordan Alexander Ferrer.

Carol Lawrence, 45, and Robert Goulet, 46, sought a divorce after 17 years, two children. Anita Bryant, 40, and Bob Green, 48, were divorced after 20 years, four children. Angie Dickinson, 49, and Burt Bacharach, 51, sought a divorce after 15 years, one daughter. Molly Gibb filed for divorce from Robin Gibb in England after 11 years and two children.

Paul McCartney was jailed in Tokyo for nine days after marijuana was found in his suitcase at the airport, released with no charges filed. John Phillips was charged in California with heading a pill-pushing ring. Donald Henley was charged with giving cocaine to a minor.

Led Zeppelin announced it "could not continue as we were" after the death of drummer John Bonham, 32, in Windsor, England. AC-DC announced Brian Johnson as lead singer after the death of Bon Scott, 33, in London, from alcohol poisoning. The Marshall Tucker Band put Franklin Tullie on bass following the death of Tommy Caldwell after a car accident.

Other deaths during the year were: composer Richard Rodgers, 77, cancer, New York; conductor Annunzio Paolo Mantovani, 74, long illness, Tunbridge Wells, England; big-band singers Dick Haymes, 61, lung cancer, Los Angeles, and Jane Froman, 72, heart attack, Columbia, Mo.

Jazz pianist Bill Evans, 51, bleeding ulcer, New York; song and dance man Eddie Jackson, 84, stroke, Sherman Oaks, Calif.; and Bobby Van, 47, cancer, Los Angeles; Lillian Roth, 69, torch singer, stroke, New York; operetta singer Jessica Dragonette, 75, heart attack, New York; be bop singer Babs Gonzales, 63, cancer, Newark;

John Jacob Niles, 87, folk singer 2nd folklorist, Lexington, Ky.; pianist Henry Byrd, called Prof. Longhair, 61, rock 'n roll pioneer, heart attack, New Orleans; Bob Nolan, 72, prolific composer and co-founder of the Sons of the Pioneers, heart attack, Costa Mesa, Calif.; Arvilla Gray, 74, blind guitarist and street blues singer; Red Sovine, 61, after a traffic accident, Nashville;

Film scorers Arthur Kleiner, 77, heart attack, Hopkins, Miss.; Adolph Deutsch, 82,

Palm Desert, Calif.; Jerry Fielding, 57, heart attack; Toronto, the latter two both winners of three Oscars.

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Many letters in your column deal with marital problems that seem to be caused by lack of communication. We'd like to suggest an inexpensive, practical and loving way to learn to communicate. The experience is called "Marriage Encounter."

* During the last 12 years, over a million couples have gone on a "weekend" as it is called. It lasts from Friday through Sunday afternoon. A six- to eight-member husband and wife team that includes either a rabbi and his spouse, a minister and his spouse, or a priest, presents a series of talks on how to restore life, excitement, love and trust as well as honesty and openness to a marriage.

Abby, the world offers instant divorce as a solution to the problems of communication and commitment. Marriage Encounter showed us a doorway to happiness that we thought was found only in fairy tales.

JON AND MARY, MONTCLAIR, N.J.

DEAR JON AND MARY: I have had sufficient reports in praise of Marriage Encounter to know that it's well worth recommending. Age is not a factor. Couples who have been married 30 years and longer have benefited along with those in their 20s.

It is not a cure for deeply troubled marriages — it's a revitalization for marriages that have become stale, unromantic or dull.

For details, contact the church of your choice.

DEAR ABBY: In regard to the woman whose husband makes love with his socks on: When my husband and I were first married, he would frequently come home for lunch to satisfy his appetite (and mine), which, I confess, was not restricted exclusively to food. He had only an hour, so he never had time to take his socks off. It got to be a standing joke with us.

Now 11 years and three children later, nothing has changed. Who has time to bother with socks? Besides, impromptu rendezvous are usually the best.

SOCK IT TO ME IN PITTSBURGH

DEAR SOCK: On the other hand (or foot), to some, anticipation is more enjoyable than realization.

* DEAR ABBY: We've been going round and round about something at our house, and you've been elected to settle it. Our 17-year-old daughter is going with a very nice 18-year-old. Rick is polite and respectful, and not wild like some, but, Abby, his jeans are so tight it is downright indecent! It is embarrassing for me to look at him. My husband agrees with me that something should be left to the imagination.

We told our daughter to tell Rick to get a larger size, but she says there's nothing wrong with tight jeans — all the kids wear them that way. Do they? And are we square to be offended? What should we do?

TWO OLD SQUARES

DEAR SQUARES: Tight jeans are in, but when nothing is left to the imagination, they are offensive. And if you're square, I'm in all four of your corners.

...

Do you hate to write letters because you don't know what to say? Thank-you notes, sympathy letters, congratulations, how to decline and accept invitations and how to write an interesting letter are included in Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Abby, Letter Booklet, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Lilli Palmer's book well developed tale

A TIME TO EMBRACE. By Lilli Palmer. Macmillan. 342 Pages. $12.95.

Sophie Reinhold lies dying in a hospital bed. She is given an injection of morphine to ease the pain. Sophie is addicted to morphine, and the injection sends her into glittering bliss. In this state, she decides to "write" a book about her life.

The title of Sophie's "book" is "A Time to Embrace," which is also the title of the novel, written by actress Lilli Palmer. The story is set from the beginning of the 20th century through the rise of Hitler and World War II.

It begins when Sophie's father, a German merchant named Johannes Berglund, journeys to Constantinople. There, he arranges the purchase of 16-year-old Amina, one of nine daughters of a Persian rug merchant. Amina and Berglund marry. They live happily in Berlin until Amina's death during childbirth.

In view of Amina's sudden demise, her father offers Berglund another daughter.

Yasmin, at no extra cost. Berglund accepts, but the marriage is an unhappy one, and Yasmin returns to Constantinople shortly after the birth of their daughter, Sophie.

Berglund remarries, and Sophie is raised by Anita, her step-mother, whom she adores. But Anita suffers a nervous breakdown, and Sophie is sent away to school in London. These events have a marked effect on Sophie's life, which does not improve with time.

Lilli Palmer has skillfully created Sophie as a passive character who chooses to let events, rather than her own actions, determine the course of her life. Her morphine addiction destroys two of her marriages. She marries again but this marriage, too, is broken when she helps her mother commit suicide. Yet, despite all this, there is still something about Sophie that makes people love her.

"A Time to Embrace" is a well-developed, thoroughly interesting novel with vivid characters and settings.

Gentle touch for winter skin care

By Florence De Santis

NEW YORK (NEA) — To keep a clear, glowing complexion under the winter conditions of cold outdoors and steam heat indoors calls for a gentle, consistent treatment. Slathering on creams can actually cause more harm than good, according to dermatologists.

For 85 years, Frances Denney has been creating skin care products, and Carol King, their beauty adviser, says the basics of skin care apply in winter just as during other times of the year. First comes the right cleanser, which should be mild and suited to your skin. If you prefer soap, fine, but be sure it's suited to your skin, that you rinse the skin very well and that you use lukewarm, not hot water; hot water does far more to "dry" skin than soap does.

Cream or lotion cleansers are recommended for removing makeup and for especially dry skins; use twice, to assure thorough cleansing, tussling off carefully each time. A creamy cleanser may be used alternately with soap and water — no reason to insist on the same method all the time. A grainy cleanser, such as Frances Denney's gentle scrub made with finely crushed walnuts, can be used once a week to liven the complexion tone.

Carol King says any cleanser should be followed by a mild freshening lotion as the first step to moisturizing. The "Denney pHormula ABA" (Acid Balance Control) helps the skin restore its pH balance quickly, relieving the dry feeling.

Moisturizing, not greasing, is the aim of good lubricants today. The cream or lotion softens skin while keeping in its natural moisture. You don't slather on a moisturizer. Apply cream or lotion lightly, allow a few minutes for the skin to absorb, then apply again. If the skin takes that in, too, then you need it. If not, tissue off the excess. Reapply during the day for continuous protection.

State legislature eyes reduced property taxes

(EDITOR'S NOTE - The 67th Legislature will spend big, probably $26 billion worth, but it also will devote a lot of time to taxpayer worries. This story, one of a series on legislative prospects, explores dollars-and-cents issues.)

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Storm clouds of tax revolt are beginning to darken the Texas sky, and the 1981 Legislature will be seeking ways to pacify angry taxpayers.

Soaring home values and the state's first experience with assessment of property for taxation on its full market value resulted in 1980 tax notices that sent many homeowners into shock.

Tax protest groups organized in Dallas, Corpus Christi, Victoria and several other cities.

Besides hunting a satisfactory means to lower homeowners' property taxes, the Legislature also will deal with:

- The recurrent plea by counties for a one-cent local option sales tax to help them meet rising budgets without tax increases.
- Better management of state revenue, including the millions of dollars from occupational license fees which state agencies spend with little or no legislative control.

-Appropriating $26.3 billion for 1982-83 operation of universities, mental hospitals, prisons, parks, health and welfare programs, public schools and regulation of businesses and professions.

There might also be attempts to raise taxes on oil and gas production and to boost the nickel-a-gallon gasoline tax, the nation's lowest.

Gov. Bill Clements suggested a gasoline tax increase to help cover the growing cost of highway construction but backed off when he learned legislative leaders did not support it.

"There's not a lot of enthusiastic support for it. There's not even a lot of lukewarm support for it," said Rep. Bob Davis, R-Irving, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Davis said the "sexiest issue" will be a constitutional amendment to reduce property taxes by exempting a larger portion of a home's value from taxation.

A constitutional amendment needs a two-thirds majority in each house, and voters would make the final decision.

Rep. Wayne Peveto, D-Orange, father of the new Property Tax Code which levies property taxes on a home's full market value, says he will offer two alternative constitutional amendments.

One, he said, would allow each local government to exempt up to 27.5 percent of the appraised value of homesteads from taxation.

The other would authorize the Legislature to grant a 27.5 percent statewide exemption.

Peveto said he is most concerned with the shifting of tax burden from businesses, whose property appreciates slowly, to homes, where reappraisals have shown tremendous jumps in value.

"I just don't want to see this shift take place. If we don't do something, people are going to be very, very upset," he said.

Rep. Lee Jackson, R-Dallas, is carrying the Dallas City Council's proposal to allow cities to cut 20 percent from the taxable value of a homestead.

Davis doubts lawmakers would accept a sweeping statewide reduction in taxable values.

"If anything is going to happen, it is going to have to happen on a local option basis," he said.

Davis, like Gov. Bill Clements, wants to use the state surplus - which Clements optimistically estimates at $1 billion - for tax relief.

But what kind of tax relief?

Paul Wrotenbery, the governor's budget director, is unimpressed with Austin-mandated school tax cuts, with state reimbursement of revenue losses.

"You send money down that never finds its way to tax relief," he said of Texas' experience with that approach in 1979-80.

Davis favors a half-cent sales tax cut, worth about $700 million, in 1982-83, but acknowledges it lacks the "political pizzazz" that Clements wants.

Clements is looking at two dozen tax relief approaches, but Wrotenbery says he hasn't settled on one.

Rep. John Sharp, D-Victoria, is recruiting co-sponsors for a tax relief proposal that would work like this:

Counties could impose a sales tax of one-fourth of a cent on the dollar. Cities could boost their sales taxes by three-fourths of a cent. But they also would have to reduce property taxes on homes to a level that would cover only their bond payments. School districts that voluntarily reduce taxes to the bond payment level would get state money - estimated at $237 million a year - covering their revenue losses.

"We've got to give some substantial tax relief to homeowners in a hurry because if we wait, we are going to have an explosion like they did in California," Sharp said.

Davis says of Sharp's bill, "I wouldn't say it is ready for embalming, but I suppose you could probably characterize its condition as grave."

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby persistently denies money will be available for any tax cuts after the Legislature tends to all state government spending requirements.

Counties, meanwhile, want a no-strings-attached one-cent sales tax.

Sam Clonts, executive director of the Texas Association of Counties, said county government costs are rising but "we are about to reach a political maximum on ad valorem taxes."

Davis opposes new local sales taxes, saying they would deprive the state of flexibility to raise its own sales tax when oil and gas tax income declines.

Sen. Lloyd Doggett, D-Austin, says the Legislature could enlarge the general revenue fund and improve control by requiring all agencies to place their money in the state treasury.

Shields named worst dressed

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Mr. Blackwell, the fashion designer, says he's outraged that actress Brooke Shields has become a sex symbol at 15 and has named her the worst-dressed woman of 1980 for trying to dress too much like an adult.

Miss Shields looks like "a Halloween trick without the treat," Mr. Blackwell said.

"She's awfully young to be putting herself up as a sex image and I think her mother should be totally condemned for this," Blackwell said of Miss Shields, who has starred in such sexually oriented movies as "Pretty Baby," and "Blue Lagoon." There also has been criticism of her ads for Calvin Klein jeans as being too sexual.

Her wardrobe is too adult, said Blackwell.

"It is outrageous that we don't allow youth to be young," he said. "They should be allowed to stay young as long as they can."

The acerbic designer presented his 21st annual list of the worst-dressed women Tuesday. He said all 10 of his selections seemed to "care less" about how they look.

Actress Elizabeth Taylor came in second.

"She should brush her hair and get rid of that baby-blue eyeshadow which she lays on like a layer of paint," Blackwell said.

"I don't know of one movie star who has worse taste. No one has made the list so often."

Suzanne Somers took third place. Mr. Blackwell said the star of "Three's Company" looked like "recycled spaghetti."

Actress Bo Derek, star of the movie "10," fell from first place on Blackwell's 1979 list to fourth place in 1980. Blackwell said Miss Derek looked like "a butterfly wearing her cocoon."

One surprising name on the list was that of former model-actress Princess Grace of Monaco, who in 1960 made Blackwell's best-dressed list. The former Grace Kelly was No. 9 on this year's worst-dressed list.

Blackwell no longer compiles a best-dressed list but does name several "fabulous fashion independents" every year. That list is led by actress Sophia Loren, he said.

Blackwell also praised Nancy Reagan, wife of the president-elect, as "one of the most beautifully groomed women... feminine, female perfection."

Others on his worst-dressed list, with quips respectively, were:

-5. Charlene Tilton of the "Dallas" TV series: "a pinup for Frederick's of Hollywood," a store that sells exotic lingerie.

-6. Queen Beatrix of The Netherlands: "Cinderella after midnight."

-7. Actress-singer Susan Anton: "an ad for a swap meet."

-8. Pro golfer Nancy Lopez: "a swinging fashion tragedy."

-10. Singer Marie Osmond: "Someone should unplug this Christmas tree."

Names in the news

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Entertainer Desi Arnaz doesn't believe he was once the target of an underworld murder plot, as an acknowledged mob assassin has claimed.

Aladena "Jimmy the Weasel" Fratianno, now in the federal witness protection program after testifying against several organized crime figures, describes the alleged contract on Arnaz in his upcoming book, "The Last Mafioso."

Fratianno said the late Chicago mobster Sam Giancana ordered Arnaz killed because of bad publicity given to gangsters Al Capone and Frank Nitti in the television series "The Untouchables."

The series about Prohibition-era FBI agents was produced by Desilu Productions, which was owned by the Cuban-born entertainer.

Fratianno's book says the "hit" was called off when the hired killers said they couldn't get close enough to the former husband of Lucille Ball to shoot him.

"I don't know how the hell they couldn't get me," Arnaz said Tuesday. "I always drove to the studio myself and never had a bodyguard in my life."

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) - Former U.S. House Speaker Carl Albert continues to have chest pain after suffering a mild heart attack last week, according to Oklahoma Memorial Hospital officials.

Don Brown, hospital administrator, said Albert remained in stable condition and is undergoing additional tests as physicians continue to monitor him closely.

DENVER (AP) - After facing Senate confirmation hearings, Malcolm "Mac" Baldrige, Ronald Reagan's choice for secretary of commerce, will be tested in a different arena this month.

Baldrige is to compete in the team roping event of Denver's National Western Rodeo on Jan. 15-18, the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association said Tuesday.

The Waterbury, Conn., businessman began his amateur roping career at age 30. Friends here say he probably will continue it.

"Knowing Mac, he'll still want to do some roping when he gets time off," said Bob Eidson, general manager of the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association. "It's kind of like his version of the golf game."

Baldrige, chairman of Scovill Manufacturing Co., says business colleagues are not always supportive of his rodeo activities.

"There were some raised eyebrows at Scovill when I first started competing in pro team roping," said the industrialist, adding he only has time for about seven pro rodeos a year.

The 58-year-old native of Omaha, Neb., earned $3,853 as a professional roper in the last three years.

University fights order to show film

HOUSTON (AP) - The University of Houston will appeal a federal court ruling ordering the controversial film "Death of a Princess" be shown on the UH public education television station.

Pat Bailey, the university's attorney, said Tuesday the notice of appeal has been filed with the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Austin.

The film, about a Saudi Arabian princess executed in 1977 for adultery, was cancelled shortly before its scheduled showing last May on KUHT-TV, Channel 8.

Gertrude Barnstone, a former Houston school board trustee, filed suit against the university, demanding the public had the right to see the film. Her protest was upheld by U.S. District Judge Gabrielle K. McDonald on Dec. 18, 1979.

The judge's order was set aside by the appeals court a few days later, and although most of the nation watched the program over the Public Broadcasting stations, the Houston area was blacked out.

The decision to cancel the show was made by Patrick J. Nicholson, then a university vice president. He said the program lacked balance and cited U.S. national interests and "strong and understandable objections" by the Saudis at a time of mounting crisis in the Middle East.

Nicholson since has resigned his university position.

The case has been sent back to Judge McDonald and she once again ordered that the film be televised.

In a prepared statement released late Tuesday, Leonard Rauch, chairman of the UH board of regents, called the judge's order "an unprecedented intrusion into the editorial discretion of public broadcasters."

He said, "programming decisions are the right and responsibility of the television and radio license holders, not the federal judiciary."

JANUARY

Jan. 4: In response to the Afghanistan invasion, President Carter announced a cut-off of high-technology sales to the Soviet Union, a limitation of fishing privileges, a grain embargo and a deferral of new cultural and economic exchanges. In addition, Carter disclosed on Jan. 20 that the United States would boycott the Moscow Olympics if Soviet troops were not speedily withdrawn from Afghanistan.

Jan. 14: Indira Gandhi returned to power with a landslide victory by her Congress-I Party in India's parliamentary elections. She was her country's prime minister from 1966 to 1977.

Jan. 18: Gold prices soared to $835 an ounce on the London market in trading thought to have been stimulated by concern over Iran, Afghanistan and the health of Yugoslav President Tito.

Jan. 21: President Carter and former U.N. Ambassador George Bush triumphed in the Iowa precinct caucuses, the first electoral contest of the 1980 presidential campaign.

Jan. 28: Posing as Canadians, six U.S. Embassy employees flew out of Tehran to freedom. The Americans had been given sanctuary in the Canadian Embassy after fleeing when Iranian militants took over the U.S. Embassy in November.

FEBRUARY

Feb. 2: Thirty-three inmates were killed at the New Mexico state penitentiary in one of the worst prison uprisings in U.S. history. No prison employees died during the 36 hours of murder and vandalism.

Feb. 2: It was disclosed that the FBI had for two years surreptitiously videotaped and recorded meetings between public officials — including members of Congress — and undercover agents posing as businessmen offering bribes on behalf of an Arab sheik. Six representatives and one senator were among those eventually indicted in what came to be known as Abscam.

Feb. 18: Pierre Trudeau and his Liberal Party regained power in Canada just nine months after the voters had turned them out of office.

Feb. 23: In an effort designed to end the Iranian hostage crisis, a five-member U.N. commission arrived in Iran to investigate the abuses of the deposed shah. The panel was prevented from seeing the American hostages or hastening their release.

Feb. 26: President Carter and former Gov. Ronald Reagan won the New Hampshire presidential primary. Both remained the front-runners for their parties' presidential nominations throughout the pre-convention season.

Feb. 27: Leftist guerrillas seized the Dominican Embassy in Bogota, Colombia, during a diplomatic function, taking the U.S. ambassador and a number of other diplomats and embassy employees hostage. The terrorists gradually scaled down their demands, which initially called for the release of hundreds of political prisoners and $50 million in ransom. Their last hostages were released April 27.

MARCH

March 1: The United States voted along with the rest of the U.N. Security Council to call upon Israel to dismantle its settlements on the West Bank and Gaza Strip. Two days later, President Carter termed the vote a mistake that had resulted from "a communication failure" within the administration.

March 4: The forces of guerrilla leader Robert Mugabe triumphed in parliamentary elections to select the first black government of Zimbabwe, formerly Rhodesia.

March 12: John Gacy was found guilty in Illinois of committing 33 murders, more than any other mass killer in U.S. history.

March 13: Ford Motors was found not guilty in the first criminal prosecution of a U.S. corporation for alleged product defects that led to death. The case involved the 1978 deaths of three women whose Ford Pinto burst into flames when struck from the rear by a van near Winamac, Ind.

March 14: President Carter announced a new anti-inflation program, which included cuts in the federal budget, controls on consumer credit, restraints on banks and money-market funds, fees on oil imports and a new voluntary limit on wage increases.

March 24: Archbishop Oscar Arnulfo Romero of violence-torn El Salvador was assassinated as he officiated at a mass in that nation's capital.

March 27: The price of silver plummeted, causing huge losses for speculators.

APRIL

April 2: President Carter signed legislation imposing a "windfall profits" tax on the oil industry. The tax, believed to be the largest ever imposed on an industry, was expected to bring in at least $227.3 billion over the next 10 years.

April 3: Banks lifted the prime lending rate to a record 20 percent.

April 5: Some 10,000 Cubans crowded onto the grounds of Havana's Peruvian Embassy seeking asylum. This was the first act in a drama that by September would bring 125,000 Cuban refugees to the United States.

April 14: "Kramer vs. Kramer" received the Academy Award as the best film of 1979. Dustin Hoffman was named best actor, and Sally Field was named best actress.

April 17: President Carter announced that the long-forecast economic recession had finally begun.

April 24: Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Ill., announced his candidacy for president as an independent.

April 24: A military mission to rescue the Americans held hostage in Iran was called off due to equipment failure. Eight Americans were killed and five injured in a collision between a helicopter and a transport plane during the evacuation.

April 28: Cyrus Vance resigned as secretary of state because of his opposition to the Iranian rescue mission. Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, was named the following day to be Vance's successor.

MAY

May 15: Maxie Anderson and his son, Kris, completed the first balloon flight across the North American continent.

May 17: The costliest racial disorder in the nation's history broke out in Miami after the acquittal of four white police officers charged with the fatal beating of a black businessman. The rioting left 18 persons dead, more than 300 injured and $100 million in property damage.

May 21: President Carter declared a state of emergency at New York's Love Canal, thus authorizing the government to pay for the relocation of families living in an area contaminated by toxic wastes.

May 27: South Korean troops regained control of the city of Kwangju, which had been held by rebels protesting the imposition of martial law. It was the country's worst outbreak of violence since the Korean War.

May 29: Black civil-rights leader Vernon Jordan was shot and critically injured by a sniper in Fort Wayne, Ind.

JUNE

June 6: The Senate joined the House in overriding President Carter's veto of a resolution rejecting his proposed oil-import fee, which would have increased gasoline prices by 10 cents per gallon. This was the first time since 1952 that a veto was overridden by a Congress controlled by the president's party.

June 18: The Commerce Department announced that the gross national product had plunged at an annual rate of 8.5 percent in the second quarter; it was one of the sharpest such declines ever recorded.

June 22: Japan's Liberal Democratic Party won firm majorities in both houses of the Japanese parliament despite the June 12 death of its leader, Prime Minister Masayoshi Ohira.

June 22: A month-long heat wave struck the mid-Mississippi Valley, the Southwest and the South. High temperatures and drought were blamed for the losses of 1,265 lives and $12 billion in crops and livestock.

June 22: Energy and Afghanistan topped the agenda as President Carter and the leaders of the six other industrial democracies met in Venice for their sixth annual economic summit.

June 27: A bill providing funds for draft registration was signed into law by President Carter. On July 2, he signed a proclamation requiring 4 million young men to register for possible military conscription.

June 30: President Carter signed legislation establishing a synthetic-fuels program that he predicted "will dwarf the combined programs that led us to the our interest system."

July 12: Multiple sclerosis released on grounds" by captors.

JULY

July 12: Suffering from multiple sclerosis, American hostage Richard Queen was released on "humanitarian grounds" by his Iranian captors.

July 14: Billy Carter, the president's brother, registered as an agent of Libya and revealed that he had received $220,000 from that country. In return, the Justice Department agreed not to bring charges against him for failing to report services rendered to the Libyan government since September 1978.

July 16: Ronald Reagan won his party's presidential nomination at the Republican National Convention in Detroit. What little drama occurred at the gathering centered on Reagan's selection of a running-mate; after flirting with former President Gerald Ford, Reagan decided upon George Bush, his chief adversary during the primary campaign.

July 17: The armed forces seized control of Bolivia to prevent the election of a leftist as president.

July 27: Shah Mohammed Riza Pahlavi died in exile in Egypt.

July 31: Chrysler Corp.

reported second-quarter losses of $536.1 million, the largest loss ever by a U.S. car manufacturer. All of the "Big Three" auto makers suffered record losses for the period as a result of inroads into the U.S. market by fuel-efficient imports.

AUGUST

Aug. 5: The administration announced a new U.S. nuclear strategy that would give priority to attacking military and political targets in the Soviet Union rather than destroying cities and industrial complexes.

Aug. 13: President Carter won renomination at the Democratic National Convention in New York, as did Vice President Walter Mondale on the following day. Sen. Edward Kennedy, Carter's rival for the nomination, ended his candidacy on the first day of the convention after failing to win a crucial rules fight.

Aug. 25: Independent presidential candidate John Anderson announced his selection of Patrick Lucey, the former Democratic governor of Wisconsin, as his running-mate.

Aug. 27: Military strongman Chun Doo Hwan took control of South Korea's civilian government when he was elected president by the country's National Conference of Unification.

Aug. 30: After two months of crippling labor strife, the Polish government gave in to the demands of striking Gdansk shipyard workers for the right to form independent trade unions. A similar agreement was reached Sept. 3 between the government and Silesian coal miners.

Aug. 30: Rep. Michael Myers, D-Pa., became the first member of Congress convicted as a result of the Abscam investigation. He was followed by Rep. John Jenrette, D-S.C., on Oct. 7 and by Reps. John Murphy, D-N.Y., and Frank Thompson, D-N.J., on Dec. 3. On Oct. 2, Myers was expelled from the House; he was the first congressman to be so punished since 1861.

Oct. 2: A Senate subcommittee concluded that President Carter and high administration officials had exercised poor judgment in their handling of Billy Carter's relationship with Libya. However, the subcommittee found no evidence that the president's brother had influenced U.S. policy or that government officials had acted illegally.

Oct. 5: Chancellor Helmut Schmidt's ruling coalition won a majority of seats in West Germany's parliamentary elections.

Oct. 11: Two Soviet cosmonauts returned to Earth after setting a space-endurance record of 185 days.

Oct. 17: The Commerce Department reported that the recession was over and was thus the shortest of modern times. As evidence, the department cited the 1 percent rise in the gross national product in the third quarter of the year.

Oct. 19: After 17 years of feuding, the J.P. Stevens Co. and the Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers announced a collective bargaining agreement for 10 plants. Stevens had become a symbol of resistance to unionization in the South.

Oct. 28: Beginning the final week of an acrimonious campaign, President Carter and his Republican challenger, Ronald Reagan, met in a nationally televised debate. Reagan was thought to have fared slightly better than Carter in the 90-minute confrontation.

Oct. 28: Ford Motor Co. reported a third-quarter net loss of $95 million — the largest such loss in the U.S. auto industry and one of the largest for any U.S. corporation. General Motors and Chrysler also reported huge losses for the quarter. The automakers attributed their deficits to depressed sales, consumer demand for smaller, less-profitable cars, inflation and rising interest expenses to produce new models.

the dropping of economic sanctions against Iran and the return to Iran of the wealth of the late shah.

Nov. 4: Republican Ronald Reagan was elected president by a landslide margin of 440 electoral votes; Reagan took 51 percent of the popular vote to 41 percent for President Carter and 7 percent for independent John Anderson. The Republicans also captured control of the U.S. Senate for the first time in more than a quarter-century.

Nov. 21: Eighty-four people were killed and more than 700 injured in an early-morning fire at the MGM Grand Hotel in Las Vegas.

Nov. 21: An episode of the TV series "Dallas" — which finally answered the question "Who shot J.R.?" — was viewed by more Americans than any other regular-series show in history.

Nov. 23: Italy's worst earthquake in 65 years left some 3,000 people dead and more than 200,000 homeless.

DECEMBER

Dec. 3: Poland's Communist Party issued a warning that "continuing unrest is leading our homeland to the brink of economic and moral destruction." It was feared that the Soviet Union was preparing to invade Poland, which had been suffering labor protests since summer.

Dec. 4: The bodies of four American women — three Roman Catholic nuns and one lay worker — were discovered in El Salvador. Rightist "death squads," allegedly in league with the military, were blamed for these and most of the nearly 10,000 other political killings reported in that country since Jan. 1.

Dec. 8: Former Beatle John Lennon was shot and killed at the entrance to his New York City apartment building. Hundreds of thousands gathered throughout the world six days later to honor his memory with silence and song.

Dec. 11: President-elect Reagan began disclosing the names of his Cabinet nominees. Most were categorized as moderate-conservatives.

Dec. 11: President Carter signed a five-year, $1.6 billion bill to clean up toxic waste spills and dumps.

OUT IN A NEW PACK.

That great Camel Filters taste, now in a new pack.

Inmate says he lied in charges against prison rights activist

HOUSTON (AP)— A convicted murderer who brought sexual harassment accusations against fellow prison inmate David Ruiz, the man whose lawsuit brought a sweeping federal indictment against the Texas Department of Corrections, now refuses to testify against Ruiz.

Emiliano Figueroa, 18, serving a 75-year sentence, said in federal court Tuesday he concocted the story against Ruiz because someone with official connections at the Harris County Detention Center had offered him freedom in exchange for the lies.

Figueroa, appearing before U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice, said the concocted story was to be either that Ruiz "tried to abuse me homosexually or that he tried to kill me, whichever one I invented."

"I was between a sword and a wall. If I removed the charges, I was in danger from the state. If I testified, I was in danger from Ruiz' friends," he said.

The hearing continued today.

Judge Justice said he was "not making a judgment as to whether the testimony is accurate or perjurous. I am not trying to find out what happened out there (at the Harris County Detention Center). I am trying to find out if you have a case."

Attorneys for Ruiz argued that the charges were in retaliation for the lawsuit against the prison system.

After a 161-day trial, including testimony from 349 witnesses, Justice ruled in the Ruiz lawsuit that the 17 units of the prison system violated "the U.S. Constitution and inmates are forced to live a life of 'sheer misery and degradation ... where there is physical suffering and wretched psychological stress.'"

In the 248-page ruling, Justice attacked almost every phase of the prison system, from medical care to overcrowded conditions to the lack of proper security.

During Tuesday's hearing, Figueroa said a man dressed in civilian clothes came to the detention center and, in the presence of an unnamed jail captain, told the convicted murderer to make up a story about Ruiz.

In return, Figueroa said he would receive a prison sentence on the murder charges "so it wouldn't look bad. But then I'd testify to the grand jury and they would let me go free."

Iraq claims Iranian retreat

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Iraq reported fierce fighting continuing in one area of the Iranian counter-offensive launched two days ago but claimed the Iranians were retreating on their second front 200 miles to the north.

The Iranian government claimed "fresh victories" but gave no new details. Pars, the official news agency, invited foreign reporters in Tehran to the railway station later today for the arrival of 400 to 600 Iraqis it said were captured in the fighting near Ahvaz, the capital of oil-rich Khuzistan province, which Iraq invaded Sept. 22.

An Iraqi communique broadcast by Baghdad Radio Tuesday night said Iraqi forces were battling a three-prong Iranian attack in the area of Susangerd, 35 miles northwest of Ahvaz, where Iran said its first major counter-offensive of the war began Monday.

"Our forces engaged the enemy in strength and with all kinds of weapons, inflicting on him heavy losses in lives and equipment," the communique said. "Fierce fighting is still continuing in Susangerd."

The communique claimed that in the other area of Iranian attack, the Gilan e-Gharb highlands at the northern end of Iraq's 300-mile invasion line, the "enemy is retreating, leaving behind the dead and large quantities of tanks and arms, some destroyed and some usable."

For the first time in more than a month, the Iraqi air force went into action against the Iranians in Susangerd and Ahvaz, Baghdad

Radio said Iraqi MiGs flew 15 sorties over the two cities, "scoring direct hits and causing extensive damage."

It claimed 381 Iranian troops were killed and 43 tanks were destroyed, in addition to two Iranian Phantom jets and one helicopter gunship Tuesday. It admitted 29 Iraqi deaths in the same period.

The Iranian command claimed the Ahvaz-Hamidiey and Hamidiey-Susangerd areas had been cleared of Iraqi troops, "who retreated several kilometers."

An Iranian communique said more than 1,000 Iraqis had been killed and between 1,700 and 2,000 captured in the offensive. It said 830 of the POWs were driven through Ahvaz to the cheers of thousands of residents.

No independent confirmation of the rival claims was available since Western reporters were not permitted to visit the war fronts.

Radio Tehran reported millions of Iranians went to their rooftops Tuesday night for 15 minutes of prayers beseeching Allah for victory. The broadcast said the chant of "Allah Akbar" — God is great — roared across the Iranian capital in the winter cold.

Meanwhile, Iraqi President Saddam Hussein, in a speech marking the 60th anniversary of the Iraqi army, declared that his forces would not withdraw from occupied Iranian territory until Iran's leaders recognized Iraq's "legitimate rights in usurped lands and waters."

New Mexico asks dismissal of El Paso water rights suit

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — Attorneys representing New Mexico have asked a federal judge to dismiss a suit filed by El Paso, Texas, seeking rights to tap a vast underground water table that begins just west of Texas' westernmost border.

U.S. District Judge Howard Bratton listened to arguments from both sides Tuesday and said he would take New Mexico's motion for dismissal under advisement and rule on it "as soon as possible."

Attorneys for New Mexico said the Texans don't own any rights to its water and probably never will and the suit should be promptly thrown out.

El Paso filed suit last September hoping to gain rights to the mostly untapped Mesilla Bolson reserve of southern New Mexico. The West Texas desert city said it needed New Mexico's water to avert an anticipated shortage by the end of the century.

But Richard Simms, representing New Mexico, said El Paso has put the cart before the horse in asking the court to waive New Mexico's law. He said the enforcement of the statute that forbids the export of water can only be enacted in court. He said El Paso does not have any water rights in New Mexico and is not likely to obtain any, and so it cannot ask the court to remove an embargo that exists only on paper.

After El Paso filed the suit Sept. 5, New Mexico State Engineer Steve Reynolds designated the area closed basins — forcing El Paso to file applications for water drilling permits. The city filed 326 applications.

The next step is for El Paso to go through a series of public hearings in New Mexico to determine if the wells and the anticipated 245,000 acre-feet of water a year the city would take is a hazard to other water rights or to surface water sources. In fact, Simms said El Paso's plan would lower the level of the Rio Grande.

Attorney Charles Berry, representing El Paso, said Simms' arguments were not relative to the motion to dismiss. He said whether or not El Paso has or will ever have water rights in New Mexico does not change the fact the state is prohibiting El Paso from tapping into New Mexico's underground water.

Insanity issue in Chapman case

NEW YORK (AP) — Insanity is "clearly the issue" in the case of Mark David Chapman, who has pleaded innocent to murder charges in the shooting death of former Beatle John Lennon, a defense lawyer says.

Chapman, 25, was surrounded by armed court officers when he appeared Tuesday in Supreme Court to enter his plea before Justice Herbert Altmann.

Outside the court, attorney Jonathan Marks, contending insanity was "clearly the issue," said his client would plead "not guilty by reason of insanity."

Police said today that Marks is under 24-hour guard following his report of a threat which police refused to detail. They said the lawyer would be protected by two detectives until the seriousness of the threat could be evaluated.

The lawyer withdrew his request to the court that Chapman undergo examination to determine his mental competence to stand trial. The judge, however, appointed two psychiatrists and a psychologist to examine the defendant. One of the psychiatrists is a veteran of the "Son of Sam" multiple murder case.

Pretrial hearings are scheduled for Feb. 11 and Feb. 25, with a trial date to be set at the latter appearance.

Authorities contend Chapman came from his home in Honolulu expressly to kill Lennon. Lennon, 40, and his wife, Yoko Ono, were entering their luxury apartment building Dec. 8 when he was shot several times.

Only hours before, Chapman obtained Lennon's autograph. The slaying evoked a worldwide tide of anger and mourning. Tens of thousands around the world paused for 10 minutes of silence as a final tribute to Lennon the Sunday after the shooting.

Chapman is under an around-the-clock suicide watch at Rikers Island prison.

Meanwhile, Julian Lennon, Lennon's 17-year-old son by an earlier marriage, said he would leave England to live with Miss Ono and become a rock drummer.

Lennon was quoted in the London Daily Mail today as saying, "That, at least for the immediate future, is where my music will take me."

The teen-ager, who left school last year, lives at the home of his mother, Cynthia, in the north Wales market town of Ruthin. He returned there last week after spending three weeks in New York following his father's death.

His parents were married in 1963 and divorced in 1968. Mrs. Lennon wed John Twist in 1976 and the couple runs a restaurant in Ruthin.

The newspaper said Lennon was torn between his quiet home life in Ruthin and the excitement of Manhattan.

Lennon, who previously had planned on leaving school to study at Chester Art College, said that while he was in New York after his father's death, Miss Ono helped him get drum lessons there from a top session drummer.

Astro-Graph
by bernice bede osol

January 8, 1981

The direction you take this coming year may not be totally of your choosing. Don't resist the flow of events, because things won't be as they first seem and will work out to your ultimate benefit.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Substantial achievements are possible today, both careerwise and financially, but don't expect more from things than actual conditions warrant. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Friends have great respect for you and tend to tell you things about themselves they wouldn't tell others. Don't use what you know to feather your own nest today.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You work best today when functioning as the power behind the scene. Someone you're involved with may try to take the credit, but associates will know where the glory goes.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Where major issues are concerned, you will be in harmony with friends and associates today. In matters of small significance, you could be poles apart.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You're a good worker today, but you could become a trifle too demanding of yourself and diminish your productiveness through critical thinking.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Friends are likely to come to you for advice today, but they could resent it if you try to take over and run their affairs. Offer counsel, not controls.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) It's possible today that you can derive benefits from something that another inaugurated. Be willing to share what you have, as he or she is with you.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It's important that you enjoy yourself today, but not to the extent that you neglect your responsibilities. Keep a proper balance between work and play.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You are quite capable today of doing things that could spell personal gain, but you might also be a shade careless once your bird is in hand.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Step in and take charge today where you feel you can do a better job than those with whom you're involved. Be prepared for some small grumbles, however.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Once you begin something today, your tenacity will impel you to follow through, but don't be disappointed if you can't do all you hope to do.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Pals want to be helpful to you today, the same as you do to them. Keep in mind, however, that there may be reasons each of you can't do all you'd like to do for the other.

Pampa rally falls short against Borger

By L.D. STRATE
Pampa News Sports Editor

BORGER—Although Pampa made a valiant effort, Borger's "Mutt and Jeff" combo of Gregg Belton and Scott Hunt produced too much firepower as the Bulldogs clipped the Harvesters, 67-60, Tuesday night in a schoolboy basketball tilt.

Borger is now 17-1 on the season while Pampa slips to 9-6. The Harvesters dropped an earlier 52-44 decision to Borger.

Pampa, bothered by a fullcourt press in the early going, fell quickly behind, 6-0, and never could quite catch up, despite closing the gap to one point late in the third quarter.

Belton, a 6-6 senior, scored almost at will from his low post position, collecting 15 points by halftime and finishing with 23 for the game. He hit 10 of 15 shots from the floor, including all five of his attempts in the second quarter.

Hunt, the 5-11 floorleader and son of Borger Duane Hunt, displayed deadly accuracy from the foul line with a 10 of 10 night from there. Hunt downed five of 12 floor shots for 20 total points.

Mike Nelson paced the Harvesters with 20 points despite sitting out the entire second quarter with three fouls. The 6-2 sophomore almost singlehandedly rallied the Harvesters the third quarter by scoring 12 of Pampa's 22 points, including a driving layup that closed the gap to one, 47-46.

However, Borger led 49-46 after three quarters and never allowed the Harvesters to cut that three-point margin in the final period.

Borger led by seven, 55-48, with 6:20 to go when Pampa made its final run.

Goals by Charles Nelson and Mike Nelson closed it to three, 55-52. After Hunt scored for Borger, Terry Faggins countered with a 15-foot jumper to make it, 57-54, with 4:00 to go. The Bulldogs then scored six successive points to move out of reach.

Pampa hit 54 percent (27-50) from the floor, but foul shooting was a headache for the Harvesters. Pampa found the range on only two of nine free throw attempts while Borger made good on eight of nine tries the second half.

Borger shot 48.4 percent from the floor on 25 of 53 tries. The Bulldogs were 73.3 percent (17-23) from the charity line. Pampa was only 40 percent (4-15) overall.

Charles Nelson aided his brother in the scoring column with 12 points. Faggins added eight, Damon Fleming, five. Jay Henson and Romerly Dowdy, four each; Kirt Crouch, three; Rick Smith and Jimmy Barker, two each.

Borger edged Pampa in the rebounding department, 32-29.

Charles Nelson had eight rebounds while Mike Nelson and Henson had five apiece.

Pampa meets Wichita Falls Hersh at 6:15 p.m. Thursday in first-round action in the Wichita Falls Tournament. The game will be played in the Wichita Falls High School gym.

Borger also topped Pampa, 59-40, in the junior varsity game. Paul Prentice and Phil Jeffrey had eight points each for the Shockers.

Pampa gals fall to Lubbock Coronado

LUBBOCK—Lubbock Coronado went on a 24-point outburst in the second quarter to defeat the Pampa Lady Harvesters, 66-45, Tuesday night.

Pampa bounded to a 14-9 lead when the first quarter ended, but fell behind 33-23, on Coronado's rally at halftime.

Bobbie Skaggs was Pampa's top scorer, with 14 points. Debbie Young added eight. Jeannette Britt and Jeanna Porter, seven each; Sharolyn Salisbury, five; Lena Young and Ladina Hunnicutt, two each. Leanna Wade paced Coronado with 12 points.

A high number of fouls and turnovers hurt the Lady Harvesters. Britt, the team's leading scorer at 10.8 ppg, and Hunnicutt both fouled out.

Britt pulled down 10 rebounds before she made an exit while Skaggs and Debbie Young had five apiece.

Coronado defeated Pampa, 27-20, in a low-scoring junior varsity contest.

Angie Bailey led Pampa with five points and Vonda Williams paced Coronado with nine points.

Pampa's next outing is at home against Liberal, Kansas Friday night. Gametime is 7:45 p.m.

The Lady Harvesters defeated Liberal in an earlier contest, 53-37.

Warriors fall to Wellington

WELLINGTON—Miami was defeated by Wellington, 60-38, in basketball action Tuesday night.

Wellington jumped off to an early lead and was never threatened.

Keith Gray led Miami with 18 points while Ron Francis added eight.

Lennie Archie and Darrell Thomas had 15 and 13 points respectively for the winners.

Miami also dropped the girls' game, 40-34, when Wellington rallied in the second half.

The Warriorettes led the entire first half, holding a 21-15 halftime advantage.

Both sides will feel pressure, Landry says

DALLAS (AP) — Who will feel the pressure in Sunday's National Conference title game — the Philadelphia Eagles who have gone without a National Football League title since 1960 or the free-wheeling Dallas Cowboys who weren't supposed to get this far?

Dallas Coach Tom Landry said Tuesday nerves on both sides will be equally jangled.

"The Eagles want to win badly," said Landry. "Sometimes you play worse when you try too hard, sometimes you play better."

"We can't go into the game saying we'll be satisfied with the season even if we lose because we have done better than expected. Too much work has gone into getting to this position. We've been working since April to get here."

Landry predicted it will be the most physical game of the season. "Both teams are just one step away from the Super Bowl and it's sure not like going out for a picnic during the regular season," he said. "It will be tough and hard-hitting. I expect it to be the roughest and the toughest."

Landry said his crystal ball shows a close, possibly low-scoring game.

"I know we can't expect a lot of points against their very good defense," he said. "It will be a struggle all day. We'll have to counter their pursuit yet we know they will be waiting on the reverses. The Eagles will not be in the same frame of mind they were the last time we played when they already had 25 points on the scoreboard."

Landry opened up Dallas' attack in the final game of the regular season and the Eagles fell 35-27 although the Cowboys could not make up a 25-point edge owned by Philadelphia in the tie-breakers. Both teams finished with 12-4 records but the Eagles won the NFC East and the Cowboys had to play a wild card.

Dallas must play in blue jerseys, courtesy of Eagle Coach Dick Vermeil's decision to wear white. The Cowboys are 10-10 in blue jerseys in their 21-year history.

In counter psychological warfare, the Cowboys have pointed out that Philadelphia is 1-13 the last eight years in white jerseys.

Landry was asked Tuesday about Vermeil's statement that Dallas has the best team.

"We have a pretty good team," said Landry. "Vermeil used to coach for George Allen (Landry's former foe at Washington) and he still has a little bit of it in him."

Aguirre pours in 47 points to lead DePaul past Maine

By KILEY ARMSTRONG
AP Sports Writer

Maine Coach Skip Chappelle has a word for players like Mark Aguirre.

"Awesome" was the term Chappelle used after Aguirre — playing with a sprained ankle — scored 47 points to help top-ranked DePaul overcome a Maine team that shot 67 percent from the floor.

Aguirre, who connected on 19 of 26 shots, scored the key tip-in to give DePaul a 78-73 lead with 1:59 to play, enroute to the 85-77 victory Tuesday night.

"We fouled out 2 1/2 people on him. I never saw a player go up with so many people on him and get off his shot," said Chappelle.

DePaul Coach Ray Meyer had compliments for the Black Bears as well.

"Everyone we talked to told us that Maine was a good team," Meyer said. "They shot 67 percent from the floor. When a team shoots like Maine did, there's nothing you can do about it."

The win raised DePaul's record to 13-0. The Black Bears led the Blue Demons 30-21 with 7:26 left in the first half after hitting 10 of their first 11 shots from the floor. But Aguirre broke loose for 24 points at intermission, shooting over the shorter Bears almost at will.

Maine's Champ Godbolt equaled his career high 27 points, and fellow sophomore Rick Carlisle added 22 to keep Maine, 5-7, within striking distance. Terry Cummings and substitute Bernard Randolph each scored 12 points for DePaul.

An injury that has kept power forward Alex Bradley out for three games contributed to Villanova's 94-65 loss to fifth-ranked Notre Dame.

"I think when they're healthy, they're as good as anybody. When they get Bradley back, they'll really be tough," said Notre Dame Coach Digger Phelps.

The victory was Notre Dame's eight straight win since its loss to seventh-ranked UCLA in the season opener.

"We wanted to come at them very hard," said Tracy Jackson, who scored 20 points, grabbed nine rebounds and blocked two shots for the Irish. "Last year we were up by 15 or 16 in South Bend and they came back within one point (70-69)."

Orlando Woolridge, a 6-foot-9 senior, added 16 points to the Irish attack, including three crushing dunks, demonstrating Notre Dame's inside strength.

Mike Mulquin had 14 points to lead Villanova, which fell to 7-2.

South Alabama took a decisive 76-52 Sun Belt Conference victory over Virginia Commonwealth's Rams — but there'll be no rest for the 15th-ranked winners.

"We're going to take 'em one at a time and I'm not going to celebrate until March, when it's all said and done, and hopefully it will be the national championship."

SWC roundup

SMU snaps Longhorn jinx

By The Associated Press

Southern Methodist University completed breaking a long jinx and Baylor, Rice and Houston came out victorious Tuesday night in Southwest Conference basketball action.

The Mustangs beat the University of Texas Longhorns, 53-51, on a desperation shot by Gordon Welch at the end of overtime. The victory in Austin marked the first time that the Mustangs had beaten Longhorn football and basketball teams in Austin in the same school year since 1966.

In other SWC roundball action, Baylor kept the Texas Aggies sliding with a 53-44 victory. Rice beat Texas Christian, 57-51, and Houston slipped past Texas Tech, 73-70.

Four baskets by Dave Pehler near the end of regulation time allowed the Mustangs to tie Texas, 49-49, and send the game into overtime.

Virdell Howland gave Texas a

51-49 lead in the overtime period, but Johnnie James scored for the Mustangs to tie the game again at 51-all. After Longhorn Ray Harper threw the ball out of bounds, SMU decided to go for one shot although about two minutes remained in overtime.

LaSalle Thompson blocked SMU's last shot attempt, but Welch came out of a crowd with the ball and banked it from 12 feet away as the horn sounded. It was his only basket in the game.

"I guess you could say that was the biggest field goal of my career," Welch said.

SMU coach Dave Bliss described the last-second shot by Welch as "Christmas Day at Macy's." He added, "Gordon just threw up a prayer and hit it."

Texas coach Abe Lemons had a simple explanation for the loss. "We just don't have a good team, what can you say."

"Tonight's performance was inexcusable, but we're going to have a lot more of them," Lemons added.

Terry Teagle scored 20 points as Baylor handed Texas A&M its fourth straight loss and second straight in SWC action, 53-44.

By virtue of the four-game losing streak, the Aggies have moved from the Top Twenty into the SWC cellar.

"This is the best I've seen Baylor play. They were tough," said Aggie coach Shelby Metcalf.

Baylor coach Jim Haller said, "I think our team tonight started to become the type of squad I thought we could be when the season started."

The Rice Owls quickly brought the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs back to earth with a 57-51 victory. TCU had beaten pre-season favorite Texas A&M last Saturday night.

Ricky Pierce had 18 points for the Owls. Darrell Browder led the Horned Frogs with 17 points, but TCU coach Jim Killingsworth said Browder "shot the same shots he's been shooting but they didn't go down tonight."

Rice coach Mike Schuler had praise for both the Owls and the Frogs.

"This was a very big win for us. We played much more patient offense and we played well at the end when we had to. This is the best TCU team we've played," Schuler said.

Rob Williams scored 30 points in leading the Houston Cougars to a 73-70 victory over Texas Tech.

Eagle players predict Vermeil will ride piggyback away from Super Bowl

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

"Two more piggyback rides for the coach," says gargantuan Claude Humphrey, piano-key rows of white teeth gleaming behind an awesome black beard.

"Dallas and then the Super Bowl," he added confidently.

Humphrey, the 6-foot-5, 250-pound defensive end of the Philadelphia Eagles, and teammate Charlie Johnson, a 6-3, 265-pound middle guard, have become human conveyances for Coach Dick Vermeil over the obstacle course to the locker room after every important football victory.

"It's caused a lot of yak but it's become a sort of ritual to us — a good luck charm," Humphrey said.

"We started it after we beat Minnesota in the second game of the season. The Vikings had whipped Atlanta in the opener. We had gone 0 for 7 against the Vikes. It was our first win over a contender.

"We didn't think anything about it at the time, but we found out later that the Viking fans were in a stew over it. We got some bad writeups in the Minnesota press. Then we heard they were using the incident to fire up the Vikes for our divisional playoff Saturday."

The Eagles won that game 31-16, qualifying to meet Dallas in the NFC title game in Philadelphia Sunday, the winner to take on the San Diego-Oakland survivor in Super Bowl XV in the New Orleans Superdome Jan. 25.

"After we won Saturday Charlie and I said, 'Let's do it again — they can't tell us what to do.' So we did. And we'll keep on doing it."

In college, it's routine for winning coaches to be hoisted to the shoulders of their players or exuberant supporters. It's tradition. But, in the pros, it is regarded as gross, uncouth, rubbing defeat in the nose of the enemy.

That doesn't bother Humphrey. He repeated the act last Saturday for spite. And he and Johnson are intent on doing it twice more this year.

There is something refreshing not only about Humphrey's determination to flaunt this particular little no-no but also about the antics of other free-wheelers in the pro game.

For too many years we have been fed the notion that the pros, with their kingly salaries, are an austere, unimpressable lot who go about their business with a cold reserve. They report to the stadium like business executives with portfolios, do their 3 1/2-hour stint, then pack up and go home.

Phillips accused of tampering while seeking New Orleans job

HOUSTON (AP) — Bum Phillips hasn't exactly ridden quietly off into the sunset since being fired last week as head coach and general manager of the Houston Oilers.

Phillips has been accused of tampering with the Oiler assistant coaches Tuesday and reported to have accepted the head coaching job for the New Orleans Saints.

Phillips says he's done neither.

The former Oiler coach, fired after taking the Oilers to the playoffs three straight years, met with Saints owner John Mecom Tuesday to discuss the job, a team spokesman said.

It is no secret that Phillips, a friend of Mecom's, wants the job. "I do want the job," Phillips said Tuesday. "I think I can do a good job over there."

The tampering charge came from new Oiler General Manager Ladd Herzog, who said all six assistant coaches had asked to be relieved of the final year on their contracts, which extend through the 1981 season.

"I haven't done anything I'm ashamed of before or after being fired," Phillips said. "I'd be ashamed if I'd tampered. That's the league rules and I go by the rules."

Herzog said that as of last Friday, all six Oiler assistants wanted to remain with the Oilers.

"Then one by one they all came to me and said they wanted to leave," Herzog said. "It's too much of a coincidence."

The only assistant commenting was defensive line coach Wade Phillips, son of Bum Phillips, who said emphatically he does not want to coach the Oilers next season.

Although it was announced last week that new head coach Ed Biles have sole authority in player and coaching transactions, Wade Phillips said Herzog would have to release the assistant coaches.

"We found out that Ladd is the guy that can release us, not Ed," Phillips said.

Questions and answers

By Murray Olderman

Q. Who will be the first college football player drafted in the spring? Will it be George Rogers, and how do the scouts rate him? — B.C., Orangeburg, S.C.

Since it's a cinch that New Orleans will be making the first pick (unless the Saints trade the rights) and since that club desperately needs a quality running back (because of the disintegration of the Muncie-Galbreath combine this year), Rogers will be the logical man to choose. The Heisman Trophy winner from South Carolina is a bona fide blue-chipper. Pro scouts don't quite put him in the same class as Billy Sims as a prospect, although he grades out just as well. His appearances in the post-season games — the Hula Bowl and the Senior Bowl — might generate the same kind of excitement that Sims attracted. And Rogers, with his 4.45 speed, is bigger than Sims.

Q. I know there have been several athletes who have played both major league baseball and pro football at the same time, and several have combined careers in the National Basketball Association and the majors, but can you think of anyone who played pro basketball and pro football at the same time? — F.W., Middletown, Ohio.

One comes to mind. He is Otto Graham, who played with the Rochester Royals the winter of 1945-46 and then reported that summer to the Cleveland Browns, going on to become the most successful quarterback in the history of pro football. The most recent baseball-football star was Carroll Hardy, a defensive star for the San Francisco 49ers who also holds the distinction of being the only Boston Red Sox batter ever to pinch-hit for Ted Williams. The only active dual-sport man is pitcher Ron Reed, who once played with the Detroit Pistons of the NBA. He remains an effective reliever with the world champion Phillies.

Q. Do you think, after seeing the recent demonstration of fan support at the home games of the Oakland Raiders, that they still should be allowed to move to Los Angeles next season? — M.A., Alameda, Calif.

I hate to say it, but the way sports is going these days, sentiment has nothing to do with it. True, the Oakland fans have been tremendously supportive, even in this lame-duck season. But moving to Los Angeles is primarily a business decision, and the money figures make sense.

Block affirms strong voice for farmers in halls of government

WASHINGTON (AP) — John R. Block, chosen by Ronald Reagan to be his agriculture secretary, is spending a lot of his time assuring senators and others that he indeed will mention farmers and their virtues in the councils of government.

At his hearing before the Senate Agriculture Committee on Tuesday, Block was asked repeatedly about his prospective role in the Reagan Cabinet.

Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., who lent his muscle in support of Block's nomination, said he would have "a very difficult job" in finding ways "to satisfy the real needs" of people.

"I would hope that you would make your voice heard... so that the farmers, the consumers will know that the voice of the secretary of agriculture was heard prior to some decision" that greatly affects them, Dole told Block.

In his response, Block pledged:

"It would be my profound desire to provide a strong voice for agriculture in the halls of government. I really think that may be one of my greatest responsibilities."

Sen. Patrick J. Leahy, D-Vt., asked if Block would live up to his frequent remarks on behalf of farm exports.

"Yes," Block replied, "you can count on a very aggressive export effort."

Sen. John Melcher, D-Mont., also wanted to know how strongly Block would espouse the cause of agriculture.

Block said that when he met with Reagan recently, "I came away with a feeling that I will have considerable prerogative" in making decisions. But there will have to be "give and take" in the process.

"I don't intend to take a second seat to other members of the Cabinet," Block said.

Sen. Roger Jepsen, R-Iowa, asked what Block would say to consumers concerned that rising exports might divert up food prices.

"That's a very shortsighted thought, because farm exports are to the great advantage of everyone in this country," Block said.

Exports help provide foreign exchange to buy oil and a variety of foreign product, help build a stronger U.S. agriculture and create jobs across the country, he said.

A final decision by the committee on Block's appointment was postponed until financial disclosures and other legal papers are completed.

Melcher also was interested in Block farming operation, a 3,000-acre enterprise in Illinois that also produces 6,000 hogs a year.

Block said he did not know the exact amount of his farm's debt and explained how he and his family have an "operating partnership" that, like most larger farming operations today, use lots of credit.

Sometimes it requires $100,000 to $200,000 to cover operating expenses, Block said. But most of the debt is in land mortgages, possibly totaling $3 million to $5 million, he said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government weather analysts say scanty snow cover is endangering winter crops in the Soviet Union, Europe and China.

The Joint Agricultural Weather Facility, operated by the departments of Commerce and Agriculture, says the lack of snow cover "leaves dormant grain crops vulnerable to winterkill" in much of the three countries.

In its report issued on Tuesday, the facility said "although unusually cold weather prevails in the eastern United States, winter wheat nationally is still rated in fair to good condition."

Above-normal temperatures prevailed during the week of Dec. 29-Jan. 4 in the western two-thirds of the country, which includes the Great Plains where winter wheat is grown extensively.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Poultry production is trailing levels of a year ago, the latest Agriculture Department figures show.

In November, inspections of live poultry at slaughtering plants totaled about 1.45 billion pounds, down 6 percent from a year earlier, the Crop Reporting Board said.

Inspections of live young chickens going to slaughter in November totaled 1.08 billion pounds and were down 4 percent from a year earlier.

Production of young chickens — broilers — is expected to increase this year if broiler prices improve as forecast by department experts.

Peru's anchovy industry dies after 20 years of overfishing

LIMA, Peru (AP) — The fishmeal factories, silent and empty, dot the coastline like monuments to the anchovy, the little silver fish that for decades supported Peru's fishing industry, once the world's largest.

Because of 20 years of overfishing, the anchovy population has dropped to such a level that it is unlikely to fully recuperate.

The Ministry of Fisheries estimates some 2 million tons of anchovies are left in the seas off Peru, less than one-tenth the amount which used to supply most of the world's fishmeal.

Recognizing the problem head-on for the first time, the ministry last year banned anchovy fishing and abandoned the traditional fishmeal industry, which supplied much of the world's poultry and hog producers, in favor of food fish.

Except for a 150-mile stretch north of the Chilean border, anchovy fishing is prohibited along Peru's entire 1,400-mile coastline.

"We won't touch them for several years," Rene Deustua, the fisheries minister, said in a recent interview with The Associated Press. "No one knows if this bio-mass will someday recuperate. But what is known for sure is that the population will never again reach the levels of the past."

Deustua said the number might grow to between 4 million and 5 million metric tons, enough to permit "a very limited catch."

"We ought to have declared an anchovy emergency" when the catch dropped from a high of about 15 million tons in 1971 to 3 million tons in 1973, Deustua said. "Fishing should have been prohibited for two or three years. Now it's a little late."

Deustua said catch limits will be based on recommendations from the Peruvian Sea Institute, an independent, scientific agency.

"They will tell me the volume they believe can be fished without endangering the species and that is the amount I will authorize," he said.

The minister's approach is a new concept in Peru, where the military regime which relinquished power to a civilian government in July virtually ignored the advice of the Sea Institute for 12 years and tried to maintain the fishmeal industry at any cost.

The ministry's position has been accompanied by a cut in the fishing fleet and its return to private ownership.

The military government expropriated some 100 fishmeal plants and 1,500 anchovy purse seiners in 1973, the year the anchovy practically disappeared.

By 1979, only 33 fishmeal plants and 500 seiners were left. Just seven of the fishmeal plants were in use this past year, all of them on the southern coast. Owners are selling their seiners or converting them for use in the food fish industry.

Scientists give two causes for the anchovy's disappearance. One was the obvious overfishing. A U.N.-sponsored study by an international team of biologists warned in 1970 that the Peruvian anchovy fishery could not sustain a catch of more than 9.5 million tons a year. But the catches in 1967, 1968, 1969, 1970 and 1971 all exceeded that amount.

Water temperature also affects the population. Anchovies thrive on the nutrients in the cold Humboldt Current which sweeps northward from the Antarctic along the Peruvian coast.

But a warm current called "El Nino," The Christ Child, which originates in the Gulf of Guayaquil near the Equator, sometimes dips further south than usual, into Peruvian waters. When that happens, the anchovies die or swim south into Chilean waters.

Some figures: When Peru was the world's leading fishing nation and fishmeal was king in the late 1960s and early 1970s, annual catches of between 10 million and 12 million tons of anchovies were made.

Fishermen landed 2.25 million metric tons of fish in the first 10 months of 1980, including just 572,252 tons of anchovies. That compared with 3.3 million tons of fish - 1.3 million tons of anchovies - in the same period of 1979. A metric ton is 2,204.6 pounds.

Earnings from fish exports dropped from $364 million in the first 10 months of 1979 to $289 million for the same period of 1980.

Deustua said the vacuum created by the disappearance of the anchovy will be filled by the sardine, which has a higher economic and food value.

"The logical thing is to utilize the sardine exclusively for canned and frozen projects and to restrict fishmeal production from the leftovers of the canning process and from the temporary fishing of other species... which are abundant," the minister said.

"I don't believe Peru will be a big producer of fishmeal in the future," he said. "Our policy is directed at increasing the fishing for human consumption at home and if possible for export. All of this will be done within the framework of conserving the species."
