JOE H. ROTHE

COLLEGE STATION--- Joe H. Rothe has been named associate director of the Extension Service. He has served as Extension assistant director and state agent since May, 1971.

Rothe's appointment was announced July 27 by the Texas A&M University System Board of Regents. The Extension Service is the TAMU System's public service agency which provides educational assistance in agriculture, family living and consumer information, 4-H and youth, and community resource development to thousands of Texans.

Rothe has served with the Extension Service for 29 years in roles ranging from state agricultural agent to district agent, county Extension agent and assistant county agent.

"Rothe is uniquely qualified for the position of associate director of the Extension Service. He is extremely knowledgeable about the overall operations of the organization, and is highly respected both by staff members and the agricultural leadership of Texas," said Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel, director of the Extension Service.

The new associate director will fill the position vacated by Pfannstiel when he was named Extension director, June 1.

"Rothe has provided dynamic leadership in the development of Extension education programs in Texas, and has repeatedly demonstrated his ability to mobilize Extension resources and initiate and implement educational programs to meet the needs of the people," Pfannstiel added.

Exemplifying Rothe's leadership has been the success of the Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis (VEE) control program for Texas horses in the summer of 1971, continuing educational efforts on the part of Extension for the screwworm eradication program, other animal health programs, hurricane and disaster emergency preparedness programs, and in-depth educational programs.

"The expeditious manner in which Rothe has initiated and implemented these vital programs has saved Texas agricultural producers millions of dollars from potential losses, and ultimately reduced food and fiber costs to consumers," said Dr. H.O. Kunkel, A&M's dean of agriculture.

Rothe began his Extension career in 1947 as assistant county Extension agent in Lavaca County, and transferred the following year to Brown County as agent. From 1954 to 1963, he was district agent for Extension District 12, and then served as district agent for District 11 from 1963 to 1965, when he became state agricultural agent.

He received the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Superior Service Award in 1973. He was cited for "Phenomenal success in conducting and supervising educational programs to combat diseases, pests and emergencies, and in mobilizing resources to assure equitable opportunities for farmers in a growing Texas agriculture."

Rothe also was responsible for initiating the successful use of paraprofessional program aides in establishing the Intensified Farm Planning Program as a pilot effort to assist low-income farmers. Through involvement of local committees working with county Extension agents, he was highly effective in the use of production guidelines for many in-depth educational programs.

"TEXAS"

Canyon.... "TEXAS", the musical drama which plays on summer evenings, is the story of the land in the Texas Panhandle and the people who lived on it, both Indian and Anglo.

The story is told by a cast of eighty, and supporting company of sixty more - both Indian and Anglo.

Twenty members of the performing company have Indian drums in their heritage, as do eight members of the technical and hospitality crews. Though their names are Lynn, and Cook, Green and Watkins, nine have at least one great-grandparent who was a full-blooded Indian. Stan Easter, Teresa Cook and Rosemary Burkhardt each have an Indian grandparent.

Cherokee and Comanche, Sioux and Choctaw, Creek and Apache are represented in the Company.

John Red Fox leads the list. He is the grandson of the famed Sioux Chief, William Red Fox who is renowned for his interpretation of Indian characters on stage and in films. Director of the Indians for Buffalo Bill's Wild West shows, and later for those of the 101 Ranch, he appeared in more than a hundred movies; and spent his long life representing his race for audiences of all kinds. He died this spring at the age of 105. John Red Fox plays the role of the old chief in "Texas", and bases a good deal of his interpretation on the character of his grandfather.

The others playing Indian roles in the production draw on the experiences of the ancestors of cast members for their parts.

To see and Paul Green's story of the old west write "Texas", P.O. Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015, or call 806-655-2182. The season will run through August 21, nightly except Sundays, and there are many seats left on weekday evenings.

A native of Hondo, Rothe is a graduate of Texas A&M University and took other graduate courses in supervision at the University of Arkansas.

He achieved the rank of colonel in the U.S. Army Reserve.

During World War II, he was awarded the Bronze Star and the French Croix de Guerre for meritorious military service.

Rothe is a past president of the Professional Agricultural Workers of Texas.

He and Mrs. Rothe have a daughter, Mrs. Jim Chiles of Bryan, and a son, Joseph M., of San Antonio.

Travels With Martha And Tricia

Tricia Jackson and Martha Anderson finally made it to Tennis Camp at New Braunfels, Texas last Sunday after much trouble (by much, we mean $68 worth of trouble!) with their car! After they arrived, Martha was reminded of sister Mary's shenanigans when she attended camp a couple of years earlier. Two days later, following a day of vigorous exercises (huh, Martha!?) Martha showed her enthusiasm and coordination by falling out of her top bunk! Another two days of exercises and MUCH tennis, and Martha came down with bronchitis. So, they (Tricia & Martha) loaded up and came home with more trouble with their car. Needless to say Martha has been and still hasn't come out from under her pillow. We haven't heard a word from Tricia. Oh, my!

Boll Weevil Control Program

LUBBOCK -- (Special) . . .
Officials of the Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program say they are gearing up for fall spraying operations and that intensive mapping and scouting procedures already are underway.

Administered by Plains Cotton Growers and USDA's Plant Protection and Quarantine Service, the program was set up in 1964 to thwart the westward migration of the boll weevil from its overwintering habitat in the Rolling Plains. Cotton producers in a 15-county control zone area along the Caprock voluntarily participate in the program.

Plains Cotton Growers Executive Director Ed Dean, who is helping PPQ officials coordinate the control effort, says that each year, every field in the infested areas throughout the control zone must be individually mapped as near to scale, shape and acreage as possible, then colored and numbered.

"Such maps are used extensively by surveyors who enter each field on a weekly basis to determine the presence or absence and degree of infestation of boll weevils and bollworms," Dean says. "They are also used by ground personnel directing the aerial applicators and by the aerial applicators themselves as they apply insecticides throughout the area."

Dean says the general survey which will be carried out by as many as 30 to 40 survey teams is scheduled to get underway above the Caprock on Aug. 9. These teams provide the information on a weekly basis which serve as the basis for decisions in programming fields for treatment.

Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program officials emphasize that bollworm counts will be made right along with weevil counts as the surveyors work each field. Every consideration will be given to bollworm problems or potential bollworm problems when treatment decisions are made. Surveys to verify infestations will begin below the Caprock Aug. 16.

"With the possible exception of some selected fields above the Caprock, the target date for the beginning of insecticide applications is Sept. 6," Dean adds. "This delayed starting date should greatly reduce the threat of bollworm infestations which have been a concern to many producers when treatments were starting on Aug. 25, and should make possible more intensive treatments for diapausing weevils late in the operation which are actually the target of the Diapause Control Program in the first place."

Dean says that if it appears that substantial acreage can be saved from infestation and treatment by treating some early infested fields above the Caprock before this date, then such treatments may be carried out. Otherwise, treatments in such fields will begin Sept. 6, the general beginning date.

"It should be recognized that all fields cannot be treated on the beginning date; but if weather permits, all infested fields should be treated within a three to four day period thereafter," he adds.
