THE DRILLER'S LOG
By JUD ANDERSON

Oil men in the Panhandle have long watched the tidelands battle between the states and the federal government, but have never worried much since there was little that directly applied to them. Developments recently, however, might change a few opinions. Perhaps the Panhandle can stir a few more.

Ellick Bots, prominent "Consulting Pumper" has studied the situation carefully and proposals he offers would seem to extend the battle lines. But, his suggestions would seem to lead to more peaceful negotiations.

But, here in the letter he addressed to his congressman in which he outlines his plan:

"For the purpose of saving time all around and enabling the forces of progress to continue on their way without cluttering up the tracks with tiresome details, I wish to make a proposal in regard to the Tidelands affair."

"This wish on my part is inspired by reading of the various moves in Washington to find what is a compromise position as between the States vs. the Federal establishment. On the one hand we have a group of sovereign divisions of the Union which began about the year 183 B. I. (meaning before I knew it) possess and hold certain lands extending outward from their stern and rockbound coasts and the idea finally got fixed in their heads that they were the owners. Conversely, and on the other hand, the Federal people who were hired in the first place to act as a kind of manager on such affairs as needed to be handled on behalf of all the states, outgrew their bristles a few years ago and now want to be cut in on various enterprises, especially those which have been going along pretty well. So they argue, and very forcefully too, that they really own the tidelands on account of, (a) the states have no battleships to defend them with and, (b) there was nothing said in the Declaration of Independence, the Dred Scott Decision or the Missouri Compromise stating a contrary position.

"Now, personally, I don't like to see people wasting a lot of time trying to reach a foregone conclusion and have to do it all over again in a few years. As I read the suggestions which have been made it seems that it is mainly a division of the gate receipts that is fascinating the compromisers. I have no doubt at all that in a short space of time the federal boys would become dissatisfied with their cut and want to renegotiate. If they set the boundary out in the water at three miles or 10 miles or any other distance the time would be sure to come when somebody would get a whopping big field on the wrong side of the line, from the Federal viewpoint, and they would claim the surveyor's chain had stretched due to salt water action or that the measuring had been done during a storm and would insist that it be conducted over with new and improved instruments.

"My proposition to short-cut all future bickerings is very simple and requires only a decision of the Supreme Court, retroactive to 1850, that being the year of the Drake well. It would declare that all oil produced below sea level is the property of the Federal government and that the title to all oil sands so situated is firmly vested in Washington, D. C.

"The scientific basis for my remedy is that anything below sea level is tidelands. We know that there is water down there and that it is usually brine, similar unto the ocean. Furthermore, I can produce a book written some years ago by an eminent geologist which testifies that in some oil fields there is a distinct rise and fall of the water in the oil sand, coinciding with the flow and ebb of the tides. What more does a court need to convince it that the stuff below sea level is hooked up with the ocean.

"According to my researches this theory would take in practically everything in the United States except in the Rocky Mountain states where they begin their measurements at one mile up. That land is nearly all Federal property anyway, so it wouldn't affect the general result. There are a few other spots as in Pennsylvania, northeastern Oklahoma and eastern Kansas, and a few fields in North Texas where it would be found that the pay sand is above sea level, and it is fortunate that this is so. We are firmly wedded to the theory of private ownership and free enterprise, which is the keystone of our Constitutional system.

"Thus, free enterprise can take its stand around Wichita Falls and Nowata and Bradford et al., and continue on its taxable career. It might be a little crowded and rations just a little scanty, but if we put a fence around it like a wild-life preserve, and charged tourists to peek in and watch free enterprise at work, it could be made to last as long as the oil fields therein which were being exploited, depleted and used for the private enrichment of the operators.

"I figure that by this forthright attack on the problem, the Federal government would become possessed of paramount rights over 99 percent plus of all the oil in the U. S., which I believe all would concede would be a fair deal all around. It could easily hasten the day when we would be in line for a reverse ECA and a loan from Mexico to

Octane Rate On Ethyl Gas Is Increased

NEW YORK — (Special) Signaling the end of the last post-war shortage which has restricted improvements in gasoline quality by some oil companies, Ethyl Corp. has increased the required antiknock rating for all gasoline sold under the "Ethyl" trademark. Octane rating has been increased to 86.

New minimum standard was made effective by a 90-day notice mailed today to 189 oil companies using the trademark. H. W. Kaley, Ethyl vice president who issued notice, said that the Sept. 20 date was "legal requirement according to agreement" and that "actually most of these companies are already meeting these new specifications as a result of recent improvements in quality of premium gasoline."

"The last previous increase in Ethyl's standard was reversed," Kaley said, "when shortages of metallic lead limited the company's production of antiknock compound. Ample supplies of this product are now available and there is no reason to forecast any future restriction."

"Change by Ethyl from ratings according to the motor test method of recognizes present industry acceptance of the research method as superior for predetermining the performance of cars on the road," Kaley said, "particularly for the new model engines which are designed to take full advantage of premium gasoline quality."

"An exemption of three octane numbers is to be made for certain areas in the Rocky Mountain Plateau," Kaley also announced. "This," he said, "sets Ethyl's minimum standard for these areas at an 83 octane number. Freedom from engine knock at sea level and in high altitude areas would be the same under these conditions."

Honey-Colored Oil Produced in Alaska

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The world's largest oil claim, on the northern shores of Alaska, has produced a honey-colored oil that smells like gasoline and will pour at 70 degrees Fahrenheit below zero.

The oil came from a test bore in the Navy's 35,000-square-mile Petroleum Reserve No. 4 in the Point Barrow area, the Bureau of Reclamation says in its first report on Alaskan resources.

It pointed out that no oil in commercial quantities has yet been found in the reserve.

'How Much in Emergency?' Krug Queries Oil Industry

By VERN HAUGHLAND
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Krug has asked the oil industry how much productive capacity it should have on hand "in the event of an emergency."

Krug also asked the industry, through the National Petroleum Council, for an opinion on the need of petroleum imports.

Walter S. Hallanan, council chairman, said in a statement that although the council's recently adopted "national oil policy" deals with the import question in general terms, Krug "felt that a more detailed and specific study was both desirable and necessary."

The policy which the council proposed that the federal government follow said imports "in excess of our economic needs will retard domestic exploration and development of new oil fields and the technological progress which is essential to the nation's economic welfare and security."

It said large-scale peace-time stockpiling of petroleum products is "unnecessary and impractical."

Calling for state development of tidelands oil and a handoff attitude generally regarding private operations, the policy added that it "should break out a vigorous oil industry could draw upon reserve productive capacity to satisfy our demands."

"It is clearly in the interest of national security that peace-time conditions which encourage the development of available reserves by private industry should be promoted," it added.

Week's Completions For Texas Top 200

AUSTIN — (AP) — Oil well completions in Texas for the past week totaled 207 new wells, bringing the yearly total to 4,034. For the same period last year there were only 3,269 oil well completions.

The Railroad Commission reported there were 13 gas well completions last week and 80 dry holes.

Of 59 wildcats drilled, 45 were dry. Thirteen oil wildcats were completed and one gas wildcat.

The total average calendar day allowable as of June 18 was 2,004,608 barrels a day, compared to 1,997,939 for the previous week.

New Mexico Well Deemed 'Important'

SANTA FE, N. M. — (AP) — A new oil well in northwestern New Mexico was described today as "probably the most important discovery on the east side of the San Juan Basin in the last 20 years."

The statement was made by Frank Barnes, geologist for the State Oil Conservation Commission.

Barnes said the well was drilled by Gardner Petroleum Company near Gavilan in Rio Arriba County.

Core tests taken between 3,417 feet and 3,435 feet were heavily saturated with disulfate and contained considerable gas, Barnes said.

The well is located in section 14, township 25 north, range 2 west.

Oil Companies Aid Education

J. L. Latimer, president of Magnolia Petroleum Co., has announced that Magnolia in cooperation with two affiliated companies, Socony-Vacuum Oil Co., Inc., New York, and General Petroleum Corp. of Los Angeles, will provide $200,000 over the next four years for scholarships and fellowships to be granted by the exploration and crude oil producing departments of the companies involved.

This supplements an annual expenditure of $40,000 per year for 20 research fellowships, inaugurated two years ago. Another $25,000 over a five-year period is being provided to Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass., for basic studies in nuclear research. One research employee is selected each year also to pursue higher academic degrees at the company's expense.

Under the new scholarship-fellowship program, selected students in various universities will be assisted in completing their courses up to a maximum of $750 per student for each academic year.

The fellowships for employees in the geological, geophysical and

Texas Co. Seeks Consolidation in Jackson Fields

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Railroad Commission set a hearing today for July 13 on the request of The Texas Co. to consolidate the Ganado, Ganado Deep, Harmon and Mayo fields in Jackson County.

The application said that the company planned "that the field rules for the Harmon field be adopted for the area and that common storage of oil from all reservoirs produced from wells on the area be permitted."

The company asked for different maximum efficiency rates of production and allocation formulas for each reservoir.

Other hearings set by the commission were:

July 13 — Discovery oil allowable, C. Smith Well No. 1, Callahan County Regular Field, Star Oil Co.

July 14 — Discovery allowable and new field designation, Bertha Moore Well No. 1, Jack County, Hanlon-Boyle Inc.

petroleum engineering departments will be at the rate of $2,500 per year for graduate work leading to a Master's or Doctor's degree.

Of the first year's $50,000 education fund to be used by the three companies, $17,500 will be used by Magnolia, primarily for fellowships, Mr. Latimer said.

Gulf Drillers Ask Reprieve

BATON ROUGE, La. — (AP) — Eight of the 13 major oil companies operating in the Gulf of Mexico have filed suit asking suspension of state leases while tidelands ownership is in dispute.

The latest are the California Co., Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Inc., and Phillips Petroleum Co., which entered suit in district court yesterday.

State mineral board officials, however, said today that rentals are still being paid by the eight firms. Board records show $2,930,000 paid in rentals so far this year, including payments from the eight litigant companies. Rentals this month were listed at $815,000.

The suits ask a declaratory judgment suspending lease rights and obligations to drill or pay rental on "gulf acreage until the United States Supreme Court rules on ownership of the tidelands, claimed by Louisiana and the federal government.

Leases by the state, which heretofore has held ownership rights,

500 Goldfish Fascinate Pup

CHICAGO — (AP) — The bank tank of 500 goldfish looked fascinating to the puppy. It turned into a pretty kettle of fish for Oak Park Police.

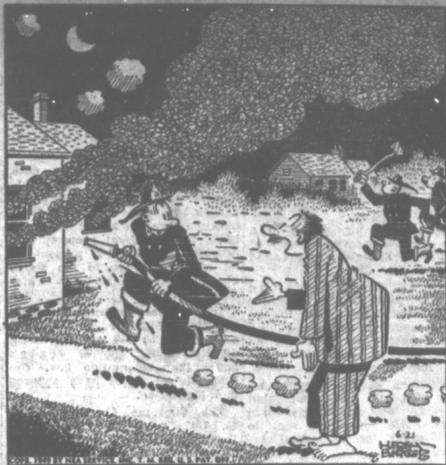

The Cocker Spaniel pup was left on display in a window of a suburban park pet shop when the proprietor locked up Saturday. So were the goldfish.

Sunday passersby noticed the pup leaping against the sides of the glass tank, barking at the darting fish inside. Finally he got a paw-hold over the edge, hoisted himself up and fell, hook, line and sinker for the fish.

Once inside things weren't so attractive. The pup clung to the tank's edge and howled. A crowd collected and police were summoned. Police Chief Thomas P. Kearin took a look and called the Fire Department. Fireman removed a transom above the door, climbed through and rescued the

Truman Takes First Step at Reorganizing

Editor's Note: This is the first of several stories on President Truman's plans for reorganizing the government.

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman now has sent seven plans to Congress for reorganizing the government.

They're important, although they're only the first in a series of plans he'll offer.

Here is an ABC on what happened and what lies ahead. There are three main points:

The study and recommendations made by the Hoover Commission; the Reorganization Act passed by Congress; the plans to be offered by Mr. Truman.

This government with 2,100,000 employees, is the biggest in the world but is less efficient than many, maybe most, businesses.

Bureaus, agencies, and commissions shoot off in all directions. Two years ago Congress created a 12-man commission headed by former President Hoover. Under the reorganization act

Texas Is Mighty Fine State, So Think The People of the West Virginia Valley

PETERSBURG, W. Va. — (AP) — Texas must be just about the best state in the union, the people of this West Virginia Valley town think.

That's because the construction workers putting a gas pipeline through here mostly come from Texas.

And townfolks sing the praises of H. C. Price and Company and the men who work for it.

When a flash flood swept down last week, this small community was cut off completely from the outside world.

Roads were cut, telephone and electric lines went down before the raging waters.

The "Texans," as they were called by everyone in town, promptly went to work. In their radio-equipped trucks and cars they hunted for dead and injured and relayed emergency messages to their central field office in Elkins.

They got their bulldozers to work and tried to patch up the roads and move some of the rock and dirt that slid down on them.

They bridged a 15-foot gap on a small road to the northwest of the town by cutting some of their 26-inch pipeline in half and nailing together planks to top it.

Mr. Truman can abolish or shift agencies created by Congress. But he can't interfere with or take away any of the powers that belong to Congress.

Husky Marine Vet Breaks Five-Story Fall for Infant

DETROIT — (AP) — Two-year-old Michael Patricia, Jr., was holding grimly to the outside ledge of a hotel window Monday. It was a five-story drop to the sidewalk below.

Blake Frey, 24, a husky Marine veteran, happened by and spotted the baby. He went into action fast. He ordered someone to run for a blanket. But it was too late. The baby started to fall.

Frey leaped to the spot and held out his arms. The 40-pound child slipped through his arms to the sidewalk. But the fall was broken.

The baby, although injured seriously, was reported responding to treatment at a hospital.

"I'm sorry I couldn't hold him," Frey apologized to the parents.

"I wouldn't say contempt. I will say that some agents wrote better reports than others. Do you think the FBI are witch hunters?"

"I think the nature of much of the material in these reports is disgraceful." Miss Coplon's attorney objected frequently during the cross-examination. But he was repeatedly overruled in a session that was almost as turbulent as yesterday's dealing with the alleged incidents involving Shapiro, a bachelor.

This testimony created an uproar during which Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves told the defendant's mother she would have to be quiet or leave the court. "Kelley asked Miss Coplon to repeat her story that she met student engineer Valentine A. Gubitchev only because he had told her that he loved her and that she felt she loved him more than any other man she had ever met. The prosecutor suddenly demanded: 'Isn't it the truth, Miss Coplon, that you and Gubitchev were assigned to the same room in the slightest degree?'"

She answered over the vigorous objections of her attorney, Archibald Palmer. "As far as I knew," she said, "I was very deeply in love with him. As far as I know from what he said to me, I thought he was very deeply in love with me."

"And that is how you felt right up to Jan. 14, the moment before he told you he was a married man?" "I did."

"Is it not the truth," Kelley asked, "that just one week prior to that date, prior to Jan. 14, which would be the night of Jan. 7, you spent the night in room 412, in the Southern Hotel in Baltimore, while registered with a man under the name of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Shapiro from 122 Burnside Avenue, East Hartford, Conn.?"

"A Justice Department spokesman identified Shapiro as an employee in the administrative procedures section of his criminal division."

Miss Coplon, whose composure on the witness stand had been remarked upon by spectators, screamed: "That's a damn lie! Why are you doing this in front of my mother?"

"You deny it?" "I deny it!" "Is it not true that on the following night, the 8th of January, you spent the night in room 1523 of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia while registered with the same man and under the name of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Shapiro?" Kelley persisted.

Miss Coplon tried to interrupt. Her mother spoke up from her courtroom seat. Palmer objected furiously. "I knew he was going to do this," cried Mrs. Rebecca Coplon of Brooklyn, N.Y., the defendant's mother. "I expected this from him."

Judge Reeves directed marshals to remove Mrs. Coplon from the courtroom. Persons seated near her said she told the marshals, "No, no, I wanted to hear all of this. I was interested and was not required to leave."

Kelley resumed: "Answer my question. Did you not spend the night with Mr. Shapiro on those occasions?" "I do not know how he registered," Miss Coplon said. "I spent the night with him during which time I did not sleep or make any attempt to sleep."

"Both nights?" Kelley asked. "Both nights."

"Did you not spend New Year's Eve of this year with Mr. Shapiro, in fornication, in an apartment of a friend here in the city?" "I did not," Miss Coplon declared.

"Have you not spent nights during the month of February in Shapiro's apartment—in fact, to be specific, the 17th of February, the night before you went up to meet Gubitchev—the prosecutor demanded. "And have you not spent other nights in his apartment during the month of February?" "I have."

The 28-year-old former Justice Department analyst insisted however, that "I did not spend the night with him in fornication."

The state finished its direct testimony late yesterday. Bud Hampton and William Pope, who live in the vicinity of the shooting, testified that Pavati was shot dead as he walked toward Crook's mountain cabin in their company. He was investigating thugs in the neighborhood at the time. The killer escaped.

Crook's body was found in a shallow grave nearby a short while later. Speegle was arrested in Oklahoma City.

L. H. E. Peterson of the Arkansas State Police testified Speegle had him called to the state hospital at Little Rock several weeks ago to relate he killed the two men and had been feigning amnesia.

Physicians at the hospital reported Speegle was sane, but apparently was suffering from amnesia. He had been sent to the hospital for a mental examination.

Speegle pleaded innocent by reason of insanity. A veteran of Pacific combat, he was AWOL from Fort Lewis, Wash., when arrested.

Texas claims three leagues or approximately 10 1/2 miles because of conditions under which it joined the union. The states also proposed that they divide with the federal government on a sliding scale proceeds from submerged oil lands.

The administration bill does not deal with off-shore oil development. Legislation introduced earlier and backed by the administration presumes the off-shore lands to be federal property and provides for 37 1/2 percent of oil royalties to go to the states abutting the coastal water developments.

The federal government would get the remainder of the revenues, with 52 1/2 percent being divided among the 17 states under the reclamation law. The tidelands all states have opposed this legislation.

The Supreme Court on June 22, 1947, ruled that the Justice Department may file suit against Texas and Louisiana for title to their off-shore lands.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY AKmerica's Card Authority Written for NEA Service

I was talking to Morrie Ellis, one of the members of the team who recently won the Vanderbilt Cup National Knockout Team of Four Championship. Ellis is considered one of the outstanding players of the world today.

I was rather interested in the background of some of these great players. I found out that Ellis graduated from New York University in 1928 where he majored in banking. His Dad was a hat manufacturer, but for years Morrie was undecided whether to take on the hat business as his life endeavor. Then the war came along and he spent four years in the Army. He served in New Guinea and the Philippines.

Upon his return from the war he was married, and now his little daughter Judy is the pride of his life. He is president of his own company, called Westbrook Hats.

Morrie played today's hand as South in a recent tournament. When the dummy went down he reasoned that in order to make his contract, he would have to employ the high cards in West's hand to his advantage.

West held the opening lead of the ace of diamonds. He continued with a small diamond which Morrie trumped with the nine of spades. West led the five of spades, West winning with the king.

A small spade was returned which Morrie won in his hand. Another spade led and won in dummy with the eight spot. A diamond returned and trumped. The balance of the trump was played and West was squeezed. He had to bear down to the blank ace of hearts, so now Morrie led a small heart which West won, thus establishing Morrie's king of hearts.

the reading public. Sweet young love is too tame for today's taste. One reason may be that by the time the American newspaper reader has followed a celebrity through several marriages and divorces, he begins to feel he actually knows the celebrity.

But whatever the reasons, the big love stories of the past year were mostly continued stories. Apparently "And they lived happily ever after" is no longer a favorite ending to a love story.

★ WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT NEA Staff Writer

Is the American public getting so blasé that it is more interested in remarriages than in first marriages? Has it come to the place where it laps up the details of new marriages of much-married celebrities, and looks with boredom on stories of young lovers taking their first wedding vows? A newspaper summing up of the big romances of 1948 indicates the answer is "Yes."

Few of the highly publicized romances of the past year were first marriages for both partners. On the list were many second marriages, several marriages in which one partner was saying "I do" for the third time. And in one big romance of 1948, the marriage was a fourth try for both the movie actress wife and her millionaire husband.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Nass—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: What team is the baby of the American League?

STARTING TODAY the sport pages of The Pampa Daily News will carry a new feature for baseball fans entitled "Here's the Pitch." This is a series of articles written by the stars of the diamond for the fans in the stands. It is a big league series that will give you readers the real pitch of the game.

The feature is made up of twelve by-lined articles by twelve of baseball's biggest name players. Stan "The Man" Musial, Joe "Plash" Gordon and George Kell will tell you the inside of the game. Lou Boudreau, Hal Newhouser and Gene Bearden will tell the story of the finer points of the game, things to watch for from your seat in the stands. Johnny Sain, Tom Henrich and Joe DiMaggio each have written articles dealing with the strategy used on the diamond to win ball games and get out of tight scrapes. Thumping Teddie Williams, Birdie Tebbets and Eddie Waitkus will tell you how to get the most for your money, how to enjoy the game most from your seat in the bleachers.

For the fan that thinks that catching flies is inhumane, murdering the pitcher illegal and cutting down the runner a crime, these articles will be of much interest. You can find the strategy employed by the boys under the big top.

THE SITE has definitely been selected for the West Texas-New Mexico League All-Star Game on July 2. Albuquerque holds a lead sufficiently large to assure it of being in the league lead tonight, the date set to determine where the game is to be played. The leader at that time is host to the game.

The game is being run the same this season with one lone exception: in the balloting for players the sports writers of the represented cities will be provided with one vote. Other votes go to the managers of the teams. Each all-star team will consist of 18 players. The North team will be represented by players from Albuquerque, Borge, Clovis, and Amarillo. The South includes Lamesa, Lubbock, Abilene and Pampa.

The managers of each team will be selected by the players who are selected to the all-star teams.

Organize New Hockey League

DALLAS — (AP) — Dallas, Houston and Fort Worth have withdrawn from the U. S. Ice Hockey League and will compete next season in a new circuit, the Texas Hockey League.

This was announced yesterday by Clarence Lins, president of the Dallas club.

Lins said San Antonio and Wichita, Kans., possibly will have teams in the new circuit.

Individuals at San Antonio have applied for a franchise in the new league, he said.

Whether they will get the franchise depends on whether they are able to get use of the Coliseum at San Antonio and whether they will be able to put ice into the building.

Lins said the new league would offer a more compact circuit, eliminating long road trips.

"And there is more rivalry between teams in this section," Lins went on.

"The crowds really turned out when Texas teams played. There was always a bigger crowd here to watch Fort Worth play Dallas than to watch Dallas play St. Paul."

Lins said organizers of the new circuit are negotiating with a well qualified man to serve as president of the new league.

Big Ten Defeats Coast in Track Meet

BERKELEY, Calif. — (AP) — Track and field stars representing the Big Ten defeated a picked squad of the Pacific Coast Conference, 70 to 62, last evening in the 9th dual meet between the two college athletic circuits.

That gave the Big Ten its fourth straight victory in this dual. The PCC won the first five.

The victory was an upset. The Midwesterners clinched the meet when it won the mile relay in 3:16.1.

The Big Ten quartet was Harry Cogswell, Ohio State; Bob Comer, Minnesota; Don Gehrmann, Wisconsin; and Mal Whitfield, Ohio State, running in that order.

The Coast four were Dave Henne, Oregon; Cass Bay and Larry Hoff, Stanford; and Norm Stocka, USC.

Respectable Gehrmann, best college miler in the country, showed his heels to a select field this evening in the four-lap event of the annual Big 10-Pacific Coast Conference Track and Field Meet.

Gehrmann led the first lap, then laid back the pace, but took command again in the last 300 yards. He was timed in 4:16.5, some six seconds slower than his best closing this season.

Odds Figure to Be Even as Ring Time Approaches

CHICAGO — (AP) — Jersey Joe Walcott, fighting 35-year-old father of six children, and Ezzard Charles, a belting bachelor of 190 pounds, battle for the world heavyweight boxing title (NBA version) at Comiskey Park tonight (8:30 p.m. CST).

The weatherman promised clear, cool weather to perk up general admission sales.

The two Negro contenders to retired Joe Louis' vacated crown were to weigh-in at noon (EST) at Chicago stadium.

Walcott, the aging but clever clouter from Camden, N. J., was expected to scale 184. That would give him an approximate 15-pound weight pull if Cincinnati's 27-year-old Charles came in at a likely 179.

It was expected that Walcott last night in Comiskey Park that Louis sledge-hammered the heavy-weight crown off the scarred brow of James J. Braddock.

Louis retired as undefeated champion last March.

The eight-years-younger Charles was a dwindling 10 to 13 favorite. Apparently the gamblers, like the fight writers, were beginning to minimize Ezzard's age advantage in the face of Walcott's 130-pro bout experience and two agile performances against the champion.

More and more, they recalled how Walcott topped Louis twice in their first meeting, at least a highly-debated decision only because he climbed on his bicycle in the closing rounds.

Each fighter will get 25 percent of net receipts, plus a like slice of radio and television sugar, estimated at $35,000.

For arm-chair fans, the fight will be broadcast (ABC).

Tonight's winner will not be recognized as world champion by the New York State Athletic Commission or the British Boxing Board.

The New York Commission, a non-NBA member, wants a "tournament" of contenders before crowning a world champ.

The British board will label the winner of the Bruce Woodcock-Lee Savold bout in England, Sept. 6, as the heavyweight monarch.

Then there are whispers, vehemently denied by Louis, that the Brown Bomber himself may emerge from retirement to get another whack at a big purse, especially if Charles wins tonight.

In event of a postponement, the bout will be held tomorrow or Friday.

Televising of Football Games May Sour Small Schools on Irish

NEW YORK — (AP) — We note that five Notre Dame football games will be televised over a network next fall, and it would seem a very inopportune time for such an experiment.

How many games did Frank Leahy say his team would lose this year?

Anyway from Notre Dame's point it would seem the network idea might be a good way to lose friends and alienate people.

Some of the smaller schools aren't going to like it. And some of the other big schools, for that matter.

The admittedly huge following Notre Dame has will keep a lot of people in front of their television sets whereas, could they not watch Notre Dame, they might be attending other games in their immediate areas.

Should it come up rain, or snow, or fog or some such unfavorable weather a fan might very well decide to sit in comfort and watch the best rather than brave the elements to see a couple of teams with indifferent records play.

Anyway, the experiment will be interesting, but if it also proves detrimental to the financial interests of other schools within the television areas there is bound to be a little grumbling.

Nothing hurts worse than a pain in the pocketbook, and if the affected schools think Notre Dame is giving them such a pain, they aren't going to be cheering for old Notre Dame.

We also note, this being our note day, that a Cleveland druggist has gone to a pigeon roost atop a flagpole and says he won't come down until the Indians are in first place in the American League.

The roost is three and one-half feet wide, but we'd advise the optimist to enlarge it slightly to pay space enough for a parlor, bedroom and powder room. It looks like he might be there for quite a spell.

The Indians may fool us, and climb to the top willy-nilly, but they've got to find a quick cure for a lot of injuries and ailments.

In fact, the druggist might do them more good by giving Lou

Boudreau's men the run of the store so they could dope themselves with salves and ointments and munch pills to their heart content.

And by the way, whatever happened to that Philie rooster who a couple of years ago vowed to "shave until his team won pennant?"

ISLAND OF ESCAPE

By Hugh Lawrence Nelson

THE STORY: Ben Cosgrove, an unassuming man of 40, has been living on Spruce Island, Lilly Warren, since he was 12. He has been there for 36 years. He has never seen a woman, and he has never been married. He has never seen a car, and he has never seen a radio. He has never seen a newspaper, and he has never seen a television set. He has never seen a doctor, and he has never seen a nurse. He has never seen a school, and he has never seen a church. He has never seen a policeman, and he has never seen a soldier. He has never seen a judge, and he has never seen a lawyer. He has never seen a priest, and he has never seen a minister. He has never seen a rabbi, and he has never seen a imam. He has never seen a nun, and he has never seen a monk. He has never seen a priestess, and he has never seen a nun.

Agnes said fearfully, "I've got some checking to do." Mollie Stark looked at Sillwell. "Mollie wants everyone to be happy today." Fred laughed at her. Henry Harding said, "He doesn't understand. Please leave us now, my dear. Remember there is a long future ahead of us." Mollie walked with George Bascombe toward the sleeping hut. From the expression on her face, Ben Cosgrove knew the girl was not happy about that reminder of the future.

MABEL JONES packed dirt around a setting with an earth-stained palm. Ben and Nona McGuire sat at their ease in the oppressive air and watched the woman's deft, gentle handling of the plants.

"I never got to really know much about plants till after I was married to William. He was my horse and dog husband. He had a little farm, and a home and I had them through him."

"What happened to William?" Nona asked.

"Oh, he had a fool horse throw him and step on his head," Mabel said. "So there I was with a farm and a mortgage and his name. I worked hard and stuck it out for two years. Then I couldn't stand it any more."

"Got tired being without a man?" Nona suggested.

Mabel Jones began working again. "That would occur to you," she said mildly. "But it wasn't that either. It was William's last name. Monday. Meet Mabel Montcrief. Mabel introduced. They'd repeat the name, then look at me. Sometimes they'd laugh right out and sometimes they'd just get red trying not to laugh."

Ben Cosgrove smiled, stood up and washed dirt from her orange dress. "I hate to leave good company, but I suppose I'd better get the sheep out to pasture."

"Wait a bit," Mabel Jones said.

Dams Completed

Charlie Webb has just completed construction of three earth dams on his ranch south of Laketon. Quentin Williams, Gray County soil conservationist, said two of the dams were built early enough to catch rainfall from the five-inch rain, which fell there a few weeks ago. He also has completed sloping the steep banks along about one-half mile of a gully and has seeded the banks with a mixture of pasture grasses.

The work on the Webb farm is part of a compete soil and moisture conservation plan that Webb plans to carry out in cooperation with the Gray County Soil Conservation District.

What to Do With the Remaining Years Of Life Faces Everyone, Says Pastor

The problem of what to do with the remaining years of our lives is a question all of us are faced with at one time or another, the Rev. Henry H. Tyler, Jr., told the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce at its weekly luncheon meeting yesterday.

The youthful pastor of the First Christian Church said the problem resolves itself into not so much one of adding years to our lives as one of adding life to our years.

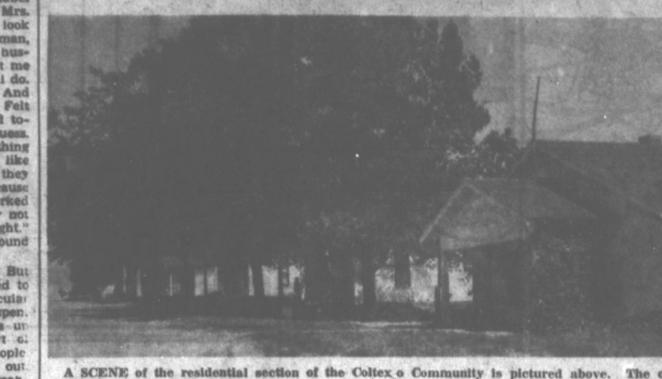

He used as an example Lord Byron, mid-19th Century romantic poet, who wrote on his 38th birthday that he was surfeited with life, he had seen and done everything, and, at an age when most men are in the prime of vigorous manhood, the poet was filled with boredom.

As another example of filling one's life with usefulness, the pastor asked his hearers to compare the 969 years Methuselah was reported to have lived with the scant 33 years of Jesus' life. Rev. Tyler said a doctor once said that a man could live any way he pleased until he was 40 years old, but then the rest of his life would be determined by those first 40 years. That could apply, Tyler said, not only to man's physical life, but to his spiritual life also; therefore man's greatest objective is to find a meaning to his life.

In conclusion, and with particular reference to man, the pastor quoted the words of St. Augustine, Fifth Century monk, mystic, and church leader, who said: "The end of a thing is the highest it can become."

Paul West, manager of the LaNora Theater, and L. G. Eshart were welcomed into the club as new members yesterday.

COLTEXO CAMP BUILT IN 1928-30 PERIOD

Brown, and B. C. Johnson.

The Coltexo Carbon Camp is located about three miles east and one north of Lefors. It is in reality three camps — Fearless Carbon, Columbian Carbon and Coltexo Carbon, which are wholly owned or subsidiaries of Columbian Carbon Company.

Built in the period 1928-30, these plant-camps have a population of around 200. Two school buses serve this camp, a kindergarten school.

The Community Hall is the focal point of teen-age parties, club parties, small-fry birthday parties, when the citizens aren't away at Pampa. On cold days, ping-pong is played by some. The kitchen and piano are also popular.

Tennis and golf have dwindled since no court axes were developed, and extremely few could break 100 on the green. However, in 1947, the "Black Cats," locally sponsored softball team, won the pennant in the Lefors softball league. A girls' team was runner-up in its division.

The Columbian and Coltexo factories at this plant produce seven million pounds of carbon black annually. This goes into auto tires at the rate of about five pounds of "black" per tire. While Fearless makes annually about 800,000 pounds of high grade paint and ink blacks.

The company maintains a field laboratory there both in the chemical and rubber testing division.

The following families live there: N. C. Jordan, Claude Lamb.

Pampa Moose Lodge to Hold Initiation Ceremony

The newly instituted Pampa Moose Lodge will hold an initiation ceremony next Tuesday for the 89 members of the first class who missed the initiation and inauguration rites May 23.

The ceremony will be held beginning at 8 p.m. in the Palm Room of the City Hall. Candidates, however, are asked to meet at 7 p.m.

The ritual and drill team from the Borger lodge that conducted the May ceremonies will be on hand again to install new candidates.

Members of the Pampa lodge voted last night to hold a covered-dish supper in the Palm Room the following Tuesday evening, July 5.

The members were asked to bring their wives and friends and sufficient food for their party. Serving will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Bill Myers, representative of the Supreme Lodge, will show motion pictures of Mooseheart, the child city for orphaned children of deceased members, and of Moosehaven, the community in Florida for aged members.

Secretary Vincent D. Kersey read a letter from the Borger lodge, inviting all members to an open house in the Borger lodge's new building, next Thursday, June 30. The newly constructed building will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Then the doors will be closed to all but members for a dedication ceremony.

The Borger lodge will also hold a dedication banquet for members and their wives at 8 p.m. July 11, the letter announced.

Artillery Firing Is Demonstrated

The latest techniques in artillery firing procedures were demonstrated to the Pampa field artillery reserve unit Monday night by Lt. Leonard White, 1412 E. Browning.

White had just returned from taking a two-week artillery reserve course at Ft. Sill, Okla. He also told about new developments made in the various types of field pieces.

Col. Victor Gomez, unit reserve instructor for this area, also attended Monday night's training meeting of Battery C, 828th FA Reserve Battalion.

Gomez, a Philippine career officer, was captured by the Japanese in the fall of Bataan. He has been in the States on his present tour of duty about two months. Capt. Frank E. Fata, battery commander, said.

Ringtailed Monkey Is Hero of Town

FLINT, Mich. — (AP) — Bongo, a ringtailed monkey, is a hero in town here.

When a second-floor fire broke out in the Joseph Potvin home, Bongo was rescued by his master. But he wouldn't stay rescued, Potvin said.

As soon as he was free outside, Bongo leaped back into the house. Potvin, though clearly out distanced, re-entered in pursuit. He met Bongo sliding down the balustrade, in his arms his prized possession, a black cloth lamb.

Mexico Shuts Out Imports

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — Mexico has shut out imports of nearly all clothing, foods and scores of "essentials." The action was taken to protect the peso.

The peso was stabilized June 17 at 8.65 to the dollar, backed by $28,000,000 from the U. S. $22,000,000 from the international monetary fund, and Mexico's gold, silver and foreign exchange of $84,000,000.

There are prohibited 206 categories of imports nearly all from the United States. These supplement a long list of banned goods issued July 11, 1947.

The former ban failed to halt the drain on Mexico's dollars, largely through failure of enforcement. This time, Secretary of the Treasury Roman Beteta insists, his customs force, after a house-cleaning, will close the border to these dollar goods and police agents will do what they can with smuggling.

The new list includes most of a substantial upward trend.

Meat Production On Rising Trend

CHICAGO — (AP) — A rise of 500,000,000 pounds in the nation's meat production this year was predicted by R. C. Pollock, general manager of the National Livestock and Meat Board.

He reported at the board's 28th annual meeting that the 1949 estimated output is expected to be 22,100,000,000 pounds. This would average production for the five years ending with 1948, but shows a substantial upward trend.

EIGHT-OUNCE BABY A BATTLER—If your mailman brought you eight letters today, their combined weight would be about what Grace Louise Cotton weighed two days after she was born June 3 in Cleveland, O. Tiniest premature baby ever to live a week in Glennville Hospital's 41-year history, Baby Grace arrived three months early. Two days later her birth weight of a pound and six ounces slipped to eight ounces. Fighting for survival she was back to a pound and two ounces a week after her birth and doctors say she has a fair chance. Here her mother, Mrs. Paul T. Cotton, keeps vigil at the incubator in which Grace is fed, changed and given a constant supply of oxygen.

Faint Little New Moon Is Discovered

AUSTIN — (AP) — Discovery of a faint little new moon, the solar system's 30th, was confirmed by a McDonald Observatory astronomer.

Possible discovery of the nameless new satellite to the planet Neptune was announced May 1 by Gerard P. Kuiper, University of Chicago astronomer, at McDonald Observatory, jointly operated by the Universities of Texas and Chicago.

Dr. Kuiper confirmed the discovery of the satellite at the summer meeting of the American Astronomical Society in Ottawa, the University of Texas announced.

The new moon is 250,000 times fainter than the faintest star visible to the naked eye and is the faintest moon observed to date.

Its presence was confirmed from studies of photographic plates taken May 29 on the 82-inch reflecting telescope at McDonald Observatory near Fort Davis, Texas.

The new satellite is five million miles from Neptune and three billion miles from the earth, Kuiper said.

The second moon of Neptune is

Bender's Bender Didn't Do Job

GALESBURG, Ill. — (AP) — Martin Bender's bender didn't cure his hiccoughs.

Bender, 42, hicked for three days and then, in angry frustration, police said he got drunk. Police arrested him on intoxication charges, and his hiccoughs kept the other jail residents awake.

Finally Bender was taken to a local hospital. There sedatives calmed his morning-after nerves—and they're slowing up the hiccoughs. He only hics in five or ten-minute spurts now.

Jack Frost Heads For Spokane, Wash.

BUTTE, Mont. — (AP) — Look out, Spokane, Wash. Jack Frost is headed your way.

The Federal Weather Bureau chose the first day of summer to announce the weather observer with the weatheriah name is being transferred from Butte to Spokane late this week.

Frost came here last January from Glasgow, Mont. Some of the coldest winters on record followed but weatherman said it was a coincidence.

only 290 miles in diameter, 15 times smaller and 250 times fainter than Triton, the first satellite to Neptune, discovered in 1846.

Kuiper estimated that the new moon, moving in nearly the same plane as Neptune, requires two years to complete its cycle. Earth's moon completes it orbit in one month.

Vets Protest Church Action

ELECTRA — (AP) — Veterans of Foreign Wars at Electra are protesting action of the North Texas Methodist Conference which voted to pay $2,100 to the Quakers for care of five Methodist conscientious objectors in Quaker camps.

The Methodists took their action at a Dallas convention June 4. Members of the Electra Gold Star Post, No. 4145, commanded by U. L. Welch, has passed a resolution of protest.

Rev. Thomas P. Weaver, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Electra, said he voted for the allotment at the Dallas convention. "Somebody had to take care of those boys," he said.

Weaver added that two of the conscientious objectors were from Greenville, two from Gainesville and one from Dallas. All were laymen, he said.

The VFW post said copies of their protest and copies of news stories on the Dallas Methodist Convention will be mailed to VFW posts over the state.

Farmers Receive Less Than 50 Cents Of Consumer-Dollar

WASHINGTON — (AP) — For the first time in six years, farmers are getting less than 50 cents of each dollar spent by consumers for farm products.

The Agriculture Department said that the farmers' share dropped to 49 cents in April, and it estimated that the figure will be about the same for May.

The department's Bureau of Agricultural Economics said the farmer hasn't received such a small part of the consumer dollar since May, 1943. The peak of 59 cents was reached several times between November, 1946, and January, 1948.

Man Sentenced For Murder of Colorado Coed

BOULDER, Colo. — (AP) — Joe Sam Walker, 33, was sentenced Monday to serve 80 years to life in prison for the "violent, vicious, atrocious" murder of Theresa Foster, Colorado University coed.

A jury convicted Walker May 9 of killing the 18-year-old Freshman from Greeley, Colo. Her raped, half-nude body was found last Nov. 11 under a bridge south of Boulder, two days after she disappeared on a walk from the university campus to her residence.

Walker admitted disposing of the girl's body but claimed a "stocky, blond" youth killed her after he had given them a ride in his automobile.

Postal Clerk Saves Good-Sized Estate

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — For 35 years John Walsh worked here as a postal clerk. His highest pay was $2,100 a year.

Last September he died at 81. An appraisal on file in Superior Court shows he left an estate of $114,994.

Walsh was no speculator, just bought government bonds and invested in good companies, his daughter, Mrs. Frank Grimes, explained.

Men Still Believe In Aiding Neighbor

GARLAND — (AP) — When someone asked H. H. Hirsch to walk across the street for coffee, he quickly agreed.

It was a chance to get away from what was left of his radio appliance store. The Duck Creek flash flood last week had ruined his stock and expensive equipment. Hirsch was discouraged.

When he returned to the store Monday night, the shelves were stocked with new products. There was new testing equipment on the counters. Hirsch was overwhelmed. His wife cried.

The friend who took Hirsch out for coffee was T. P. Robinson, secretary-treasurer of the nearby Dallas Radio Sales and Service Association. Members of the organization had got together for the good deed.

"Back in the old days when a family home was destroyed, the neighbors all pitched in and helped build a new one," Robinson said. "Our association believes this system will work today."

There Were Fewer Drunks Last Year

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Americans apparently drank less intoxicating liquor last year. It's certain they spent less on their drinking.

This was reported by the Commerce Department, which said the total 1948 outlay for whiskey, beer and wine was an estimated $8,000,000,000. The figure was 8.7 percent below 1947, and marked the first time since 1938 that the nation's drinkers had spent less than they did the preceding year.
