

Senate Nears Vote on T-H Law Repeal

Pampa News

VOL. 47—NO. 305 (12 PAGES) PAMPA, TEXAS, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 15, 1949

Four Amendments Expected to Pass

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate neared the voting stage in its labor debate today after five days of speech-making.

Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois said an amendment to require unions to bargain in good faith would be taken up first.

It is one of four bipartisan amendments to the administration's labor bill, which would repeal the Taft-Hartley Act and replace it with an enlarged version of the original Wagner Act.

Approval of the four amendments was expected without much opposition. The changes, which would make the administration bill somewhat more like the Taft-Hartley Act, would:

1. Require unions to bargain on request. The administration bill would apply this only to employers.

2. Require union and company leaders to sign non-Communist and non-Fascist affidavits — unless the union or the company itself effectively bans Communists and Fascists from its leadership, in which case no affidavits would be required.

3. Require unions and companies to file financial reports.

4. Guarantee "free speech" in labor relations as long as neither union nor management makes statements containing any "threat, express or implied, of reprisal or force—or offer, express or implied, of benefit."

Whether action on all four amendments would be completed today depended on how many senators speak on them.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), one of the administration bill's major opponents, said he expected today for proposals to be approved to four, after which the Senate will begin a major scrap over "national emergency" strikes.

Steelworkers Open Fourth Wage Round

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — The CIO-United Steelworkers Union opened its drive for a fourth round wage increase today in contract negotiations with U. S. Steel Corp., largest steel producer in the nation, and the union meet at 1:30 p. m. to discuss pay increase and other issues involving about 175,000 employees in six subsidiary companies.

Talks will get underway against a background of slackening consumer demand and lagging production.

While the negotiations actually involve only 75,000 U. S. Steel Corp. employees, the entire union membership is involved. Wage settlement with "big steel" almost always cuts the pattern for the entire basic industry—and sometimes the nation.

Other basic producers will open their negotiations with the union later. The Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp., No. 4 producer, has scheduled talks starting June 21. The possibility of a strike hangs over the contract proceedings. The current contract, with another (See STEELWORKERS, Page 12)

Texas Flood Death Toll Reaches 11

By The Associated Press — North Texas today counted 11 persons dead and thousands of dollars in property and crop damage from a series of vicious storms and flash floods.

Meanwhile, the thunderstorms that caused them moved into Central Texas where they became more fierce. Reports from that section said the moisture would be beneficial to growing crops.

Rains last night soaked a 95-mile strip from Waco south to Austin. Farmers said the rain was just what their corn fields needed.

The Weather Bureau said Central Texas could expect more weather like that today.

Forecasters said it might turn out to be a fine day in the Dallas area where a major flood rose out of cloudburst up to 10 inches Monday night. A follow-up storm yesterday added to the damage.

While North Texas mopped up yesterday, a wind and rain storm damaged store buildings and broke windows at Dayton, in the coastal area near Houston. Strong winds and heavy rain caused damage at Jacksonville in East Texas.

After the North Texas storms, flood warnings were issued for the Trinity River lowlands. A crest of 37 feet — nine feet above flood stage — was due at Dallas today, but levees were expected to hold the water.

Constable C. C. Smith estimated flood damage to Garland, northeast of Dallas, at $1,000,000. And Dallas County Sheriff Bill Decker estimated damage to farm land at $500,000 to $700,000.

Mary Vasquez, 15, of Fort Worth was the 15th person listed as a victim of the storms. He was killed when he touched (See FLOODS, Page 12)

Reports Made On Gulf Wells

According to reports from the Land and Geological Department, of the Gulf Oil Corp. in Amarillo, Gulf-Harbaugh in Ochiltree County is drilling ahead at 7,333 feet. It had been reported earlier by an unofficial but reliable source that the well was coring in oil sand and other than it was drilling ahead at 8,588 feet.

James Smith to Head Booker Post

BOOKER — (Special) — James Smith, Jr., has been elected commander of the Booker American Legion Post.

In the meeting Monday night, other officers elected were Warren Clark, vice commander; Lowell N. Bowdle, adjutant; Gerald Forgey, finance officer; David Stollings, chaplain; O. R. Collins, historian; L. Dean Carnes, service officer; James Cook, child welfare officer; and Sam Payne, sergeant-at-arms.

Defeated Germany Is World Capital of Postwar Optimism

By HAL BOYLE
BERLIN — (AP) — Here in defeated Germany is the world capital of postwar optimism.

There is uneasiness in Washington, Paris, London and Moscow. There appears to be less uneasiness here.

The biggest single impression a postwar visitor gets now is that the defeated are not so worried today as their conquerors. They see better times.

For the current international tug-of-war over the fate of his country has given back the average German something he lost when his nation collapsed in military and political chaos in 1945.

He has regained a feeling of importance, world dominance because he has the knowledge that here where East and West once met in victory they now meet in mutual fear. And he knows that he is the keystone of that fear.

He is enjoying the odd pleasure of being courted from two directions simultaneously instead of having to fight simultaneously in two directions.

And this is a flattering gift of peace indeed to a nation that in a single generation lost two wars, bids for itself in the classic military dilemma—having to fight here and aft at the same time.

Three years ago, when I came here, the victors' prevailing philosophy, left over from wartime unity, was:

"Germany is trying to divide the Allies — split them into two camps."

Today the underlying feeling appears to be:

"We must win the Germans to our side."

No longer do the conquerors say they can't afford to let themselves be divided by the vanquished. Tacitly accepting that division now, they court the conquered. In defeat Germany is today more united than the nations who whipped her.

For she knows what she wants. She wants to be Germany again.

In a way, Germany is on the auction block. But who can buy her? The muscular military power of Russia, the old neighbor enemy to the East? Or the strong boy of the Western World—America? Probably neither can do so permanently.

Hollywood Travel Agency Is Busy

By ROB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — "I want to be in Rome day after tomorrow. Get me there."

A request like this wouldn't throw Ray Cardillo, whose travel agency gets many Hollywood stars where they want to go. After 17 years of it, nothing surprises him.

"Most of my trade with the stars is spur-of-the-moment," he commented. "For instance, I learned about the Bob Hope tour about three days before he was to leave."

He referred to the comedian's tour of the nation earlier this year. The two air jaunts touched on 80 cities and ran up a transportation bill of around $100,000.

And there was a hitch, explained because Singer Billy Farrell had to fight simultaneously in two directions.

The Hope junket was the biggest thing Cardillo has arranged. He has also fulfilled star requests for hotel reservations in Long Beach, 20 miles distant. Nothing is too big or too small.

But there's one consolation for the actors: their trips are almost always deductible from their income tax. They can be charged off by doing some appearances, interviews or business negotiations.

Cardillo has detected a trend in the travel habits of the stars: "They used to all go to Tijuana, or whatever it was in vogue at the time. Now they seem to want to get away from each other."

He has to get used to the travel habits of the stars. For instance, Bing Crosby and Jimmy Durante will not fly. Frank Sinatra always does.

Most popular destination is New York. Most frequented vacation spots include Sun Valley, Palm Springs and various guest ranches in the West.

They (the Russians) are manipulating deeply-felt sentiments for peace and freedom by applying a Soviet version of Adolf Hitler's technique of the big lie. This constitutes ideological hegemonism and ideological blackmail.

YOUR NEWSPAPER— SERVING FREEDOM BY SERVING YOU

FREE PRESS: Your newspaper serves freedom by serving you—but it has to be free, itself, to do that. Throughout American history, the press has waged ceaseless war on those who would shackle it. From John Peter Zenger, the pre-revolutionary War printer whose seditious trial was the first great victory for a free American press, to today's publishers and editors, a free press has been the watchword of American journalism. Conscientious newsmen are constantly alert to even the most subtle or carefully disguised attack on that freedom, carrying the fight at times to Congress and the Supreme Court.

Streetcar Takes Over Far West Does Not Want Commies, Says Filipino

By SIGRID ARNE

For several years Carlos Romulo of the Philippines has spoken for the yellow and brown people of the Far East.

He's done it at the United Nations public pits "Sands of Iwo Jima" before the cameras in July.

Type casting to end all type casting — Sydney Greenstreet in "The Fat Man." The Dan Dailey bust-up with his wife is their third. This one will stick.

Jack Gifford bets that Lauren Bacall's baby doesn't cry. He just whistles.

Giesca Marshall, secretary to Maximova for 17 years, just moved into a villa at the Garden of Allah to complete her biography of the famed star.

Video realism: An expectant mother, Jean Rouverol Butler, will play the role of an expectant mama in Carleton E. Morse's TV show, "Slice of Life."

Columbia will co-star Glenn Ford and William Holden in "Cable to Arabia," story of the oil industry in Arabia and the Middle East. Ann Harding returns to the stage this summer in "Yes, My Darling Daughter" at the Cape Playhouse at Dennis, Mass. David Niven has three lawyers working to help him break his contract with Sam Goldwyn. Movie contracts are hard to get — and hard to get out of.

He has always said, and now he repeats, the Far East does not want communism. "They want," he said, "an end to colonialism and a chance to build the sort of comfort the Western world enjoys."

But in the light of what is happening now in China, he's afraid the Western nations haven't caught the implications for the whole world.

"The Communist sweep through China has tipped the world political scales heavily to the left — and we're in a world battle of ideas," he said.

"Maybe it was correct, to put Europe first. I think communism has been stopped in Europe. But it's of minor importance now. The policy of 'Europe first' won't work any longer."

Asia still has no over-all plan to get together, to fight for one another — like the inter-American mutual aid treaty, or like the North Atlantic Pact. There isn't even official talk of such a plan.

All Asia appears to be in revolt against colonial rulers. It was part of the magic of Japan's cry of "Asia for Asiatics."

But does it mean that an "Asian bloc" in world affairs that could line up 15 to 19 votes on all issues, as the Latin-Americans line up even their votes? Such a bloc might even trade votes with other world blocs for personal advantage.

European colonial rulers have always dreaded the formation of an independent Asian bloc.

Romulo thinks Asia could be the life-saving "third force," a combination of powers which could referee the battle between democracy and communism, and perhaps prevent the battle of ideas from becoming a battle of guns.

He points out that the Asian Communists outside China have had little luck in Burma, Thailand, the Philippines. In Indonesia, the Republics, Romulo says, took time in their war with the Dutch to contain their own Communists.

Guide Spots Honeymooners By Shine on Their Shoes

BY THEIR SHOES HE KNOWS THEM as visitors, but unmarried, sightseeing "salesman" Earl S. Mink (right) peddles his tours to two visitors to Washington, Roberta Smith and Al Metzler of New York, on a Washington street corner. Holding hands is encouraging, but new shoes would have spotted them as honeymooners.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Honeymooners always wear new shoes and persons who carry umbrellas are poor sightseers.

Not only that, Washingtonians are almost always in a hurry and sightseers aren't very good sightseers, either.

Those suggests of incidental truth come from a highly successful practitioner of applied psychology, Earl S. Mink. He's a super-sightseeing salesman.

Summer and winter, Mink stands on the sunny busy corner in downtown Washington and sells guided tours of the nation's capitol to visitors. An infallible method of distinguishing visitors from residents, and then properly classifying them, is his key to a very profitable business. His average is only one-half of one mistake per 100 "approaches." This fraction of an error occurs when a resident happens to pass by shepherding two or three out-of-towners.

Honeymooners are his best customers. He claims he can spot them almost before they turn the corner. When he sees a couple holding hands he immediately looks at their feet. If they are both wearing new shoes, they're honeymooners. It's infallible, he says.

And the chances are they'll take his deluxe $8.50 tour, which includes a private limousine ride of 50 miles to all the points of high interest and a boat ride up the Potomac.

"The young man's pocket will be full of money which his father gave him as a wedding present," Mink explains, "and at that stage of married life they won't care how they spend it."

He says that there are many obvious signs which mark the visitor. "They'll amble along. When they come to a corner they will pause and look up and down the street before deciding which way to go. There's always the camera and map. And they will be scrubbed and freshly pressed."

Mink can do better than unerringly pick out the visitors on a crowded street, he can tell you exactly how many days they have been in town. He proved this ability by picking out a half dozen before they passed, estimating how many days they'd been in town and then stopping them and checking his figure. He didn't miss one.

"Mostly I can tell by how fast they walk," he explains. "The first day they poke along. Next day it's a little faster, and you can tell by how much of the 'lost' look they've lost."

He says that practically no visitor walks along the street as fast as the average Washingtonian, however.

For some reason which Mink can't explain, visitors who are carrying umbrellas or who are smoking pipes just aren't interested in buying a guided tour, even the $2.50 one. Unless business is very slack, he doesn't even approach such persons.

Next to honeymooners his best set of customers are family groups — mamma, poppa and the kids. But it's the sightseeing families who worry Mink the most. He says that they will invariably start running out of money before the trip is over.

"The parents have probably been saving up for years to bring junior and his sister here to see the White House and the Lincoln Memorial, only to discover that they haven't saved up quite enough. It's pretty tough to get by for less than $10 a day per person. And that's staying in the average hotels, and skipping night clubs and expensive restaurants."

It's all set for Paulette Goddard to play the title role in "The Helen Morgan Story." Records of the famous torch singer's voice will not be used for song sequences in the picture because the arrangements are dated. Another singer will dub the tunes. Dick Powell is planning a half-hour dramatic show over television this fall. He'll be the first big-time star to do a 13-week series.

Wallace Beery's protege, Lucille Bannister, is going ahead with her memoirs of Wally despite violent objections from the Beery family.

Vocal coach Sid Franklin was brought from Florida to New York by Nick Schenck to ready his daughter, Marty, for her radio singing debut. Contrary to general belief, movie baron Schenck approves of Marty's career and has faith in her talent.

Burgess Meredith is working on an adaptation of Frederic Wartham's book, "Dark Legend," for the stage. He also has the film rights. Xavier Cugat will star in a full-length technicolor film for the government of Uruguay.

Peggy Cummins heads for London right after "Gun Crazy" to star in "My Daughter, Joy," for Gregory Ratoff. "The Glass Menagerie" gets started in St. Louis this summer before Jane Wyman returns from London. A double bill will work in Jane's place in the long show.

A good role can make a difference department: One of the points of argument between Evelyn Keyes and Columbia, when she was suspended recently, was her violent objections to the indifferent wardrobe assigned to her last film. She wanted glamor but didn't get it.

"Mrs. Mike," the wife of a Canadian Mounty's wife — and her wardrobe for this one consists of beaverkin parkies!

Someone asked Ruth Hussey if her young son, Robbie, would be an actor. Ruth replied: "Of course. He was in 'State of the Union' with me. That's why I had to leave the show." Another war film coming up. Rethe winter, but the type of visitor changes.

"The winter visitors are employers — employees take vacations in the summer — and people who are retired," Mink explains.

Arms for Europe May Cause Full-Fledge Congress Fight

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The closing weeks of the present Congress may be churned by the first really first-class row on major foreign policy since the cold war began warming up two years ago. The issue is arms for Europe.

What actually happens will depend on decisions Secretary of State Acheson must make immediately after he returns here from Paris. The stage, meanwhile, is being set by Undersecretary of State Webb, Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and others.

Two weeks ago Acheson sent word from the Paris Foreign Ministers Meeting that action on the North Atlantic Pact and arms aid should be speeded to strengthen his hand in dealing with Russia. Webb promptly conferred with Connally and other Senate leaders; but he failed to get the treaty debate scheduled ahead of action on the labor bill.

Then at Little Rock, Ark., Saturday President Truman, after praising a Foreign Relations Committee report okaying the treaty, asked also for enactment of arms aid. Tuesday, however, Senator Connally said that while he expects the treaty to go through he does not look for arms bill action this session.

There, as of the moment, the matter stands. The next move, officials here believe, is up to Acheson.

Congressional leaders see the problem partly in terms of a piled up back-log of legislation; Acheson looks at it, from a diplomatic view point, as foreign policy. Some Congressional critics raise the question, "Can we afford that particular piece of foreign policy now?" State Department officials reverse the emphasis: "Can we afford not to buy it?"

The arms program has been developed in about the same manner President Truman's administration has employed in the past on such matters — the administration's line is laid down and Congress is asked to approve.

This method grew out of bipartisan work between the Roosevelt administration and Congress on the United Nations. It evolved through the period of war-end economic aid to Britain, France and other nations, and the early friendlier period of relations with Russia.

When the cold war began to warm up the administration presented Congress with the Greek-Turkish aid program to bolster the Western power position in the Mediterranean. That was voted after an argument. The Marshall Plan followed the same pattern, and so did Senate and House resolutions calling, in effect, for formation of the North Atlantic Treaty.

All these pieces of foreign policy legislation have had one thing in common. The government has gone out on a limb, more or less committing itself to a course of

HIGHEST BIDDER TO GET HISTORIC FORT

DALLAS — (AP) — Historic Fort Travis will be sold to the highest bidder.

One are the frowning big guns that guarded the entrance to Galveston Harbor for more than 50 years. The War Assets Administration announced it will open sealed bids on the site June 27.

The emplacements, the gun pits and the underground chambers for storing ammunition remain at the site of the southern tip of Bolivar Peninsula. Those underground chambers have served as hurricane shelters.

"Whoever buys the site must agree to allow access to these rooms should a hurricane threaten," Col. Karl E. Wallace, regional WAA director, said.

The site includes about 97 acres of land and 27 buildings.

"It would make an ideal recreation center," Wallace stated.

"The location, both on protected water and open Gulf, would lend itself to a wonderful development."

The fort's site was bought by the government in 1898 from Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Adams for $36,000. Other parcels of land were added.

"At one time the fort boasted one of the strongest coast defenses in the country. It had an estimated dozen big guns, capable of firing from seven to 12 miles. The fort was rehabilitated during the second world war.

Many motorists have a poor sense of right and wrong, says a traffic expert. And a poor idea of right and left.

Margaret O'Brien's awkward problems are a good excuse to revive that story about a movie mother who showed up at a studio casting office with a gangling daughter in tow.

The casting director, who expected a tiny tot, expressed surprise and said:

"Isn't she a little big for her age?"

"Well," yelled the mother, "she is rather tall. We just couldn't stop her from growing. But we have kept her MIND back!"

Stand Taken by Educators Should Not Be Overlooked

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

We should overlook this importance of the positive stand taken by 20 outstanding educators regarding the teaching about communism in our schools.

These educators — who include General Dwight Eisenhower, president of Columbia University, and Dr. James B. Conant, president of Harvard, have given in effect this verdict:

"The principles of communism should be taught — but not advocated — in American schools. Communists should be barred from the teaching profession.

These controversial views were contained in a report prepared by an educational commission appointed by the National Education Association and the American Association of School Administration. The purpose was to study teaching changes advisable in view of political tensions.

The point is that a teacher can impart information objectively about communism, or any other ism, without advocating it. Objectivity, therefore, is the key to the problem. The report states the case like this:

"Young citizens should have an opportunity to learn about the principles and practices of totalitarianism, including those represented by the Soviet Union and by the Communist Party in the United States. The study should be accurate and objective, and should make use of basic official documents. Teaching about communism or any other form of dictatorship does not mean advocacy of these doctrines. Such advocacy should not be permitted in American schools."

The ideological complexion of our country a dozen years hence may well depend on the manner in which the current educational program is handled. We certainly can't solve our problems by hiding under a barrel. We must get out and face the issue.

Despite her engagement announcement, Elizabeth Taylor's marriage is quite a way off. She won't become Mrs. William Pawley, Jr., I hear, until her 18th birthday next Feb. 27.

Horrifying thought: A 50-cent candy bar designed to last through roadshow-length movies will be displayed soon in theater lobbies.

Time marches on dept: Darryl Hickman, who played the little brat with Shirley Temple in "Kiss and Tell," will play her boy friend in the sequel, "Kiss for Corliss."

M-G-M, Warner Brothers and Fox will fight it out with folding money for the screen rights to "Oklahoma!" just put on the market. The final deal is expected to involve a price of around $1,000,000, plus percentages, on a 10-year lease basis.

Do as your doctor advises—and for quick relief from the burning itch, keep handy a jar of soothing Resinol Ointment. Used by many nurses, and proved invaluable to mothers for over 50 years.

Hedy Lamarr is trying to sell practically anyone on doing a film biography of Lola Montez. Mae West has a play based on the same theme in Del Monte sight: Ann Sothern playing golf in ankle-length skirt, floppy hat, long-sleeved blouse and gloves. Reason for the get-up was to avoid sunburn for her next technical film. Even ice cream bars wear falsies in Hollywood. Good Humor bars sold by Jack Carson for scenes in "The Good Humor Man" are made up with a plastic cover to keep them from melting under hot studio lights.

Talking about a certain lah-dah-dah choline who married a big bankroll, Arthur Prince said: "I understand she has a library filled with Morocco-bound comic books."

Gregg Sherwood, who left the Broadway musical, "As the Girls Go," because she didn't have a speaking part, was telling some friends that the only time she ever got a chance to ad lib was in the movie, "The Naked City."

"But you played the corpse in that picture," someone scoffed.

"I know," admitted La Sherwood, "but in one scene I wigged."

HUMAN, TOO

Whenever writers get together over a short beer, the talk turns to the Big Bad Hollywood studios — taking all, giving nothing. Sometimes they are right, sometimes not. Listen to Story Agent H. N. Swanson:

"One day writer Wilson Colison walked into our office and said: 'M-G-M just made a book of mine called 'Maise'. I hear it turns out well and they plan to make more pictures about the character. They own all rights, but it would be kind of nice,' he added wistfully, 'if I could get something whenever they use the character.'

"We went to see Floyd Hendrickson who for 25 years has been father-confessor to the Metro lot in addition to being head of the legal department.

"We explained that this was no hardship case (actually Colison was loaded) but we were putting it entirely on a basis of fairness. He listened gravely. 'You realize, of course, the author sold out lock, stock and barrel. We don't owe him anything — but I'll see what can be done.'

The studio finally agreed to pay Colison half of the original purchase price for each picture made.

"Colison died soon after, but to date his widow has collected on a dozen sequels. You may call this a pretty little Hollywood Fable, but we feel it is just another time when we heard a corporation's heartbeat."

A doctor observes that our noses are becoming sharper. We still think it's a good idea to keep them to the grindstone.

5 doctors prove this plan breaks the laxative habit

If you take laxatives regularly—here's how you can stop!

Because 5 New York doctors now have proved you may break the laxative habit. And establish your natural powers of regularity. Eighty-three per cent of the cases tested did it. So can you.

Stop taking whatever you now take. Instead! Every night for one week take 2 Carter's Pills. Second week—one each night. Third week—once every other night. Then—nothing. Every day; drink eight glasses of water; set a definite time for regularity.

Five New York doctors proved this plan can break the laxative habit.

How can a laxative break the laxative habit? Because Carter's Pills "unblock" the lower digestive tract and from then on let it make use of its own natural powers.

Further—Carter's Pills contain no habit-forming drugs.

Break the laxative habit . . . with Carter's Pills . . . and be regular naturally.

When worry, overeating, overwork make you irregular temporarily—take Carter's Pills temporarily. And never get the laxative habit. Get Carter's Pills at any drugstore for 32¢ today. You'll be grateful the rest of your life.

Scouts Clean Up Rodeo Grounds

Four Scouts of Troop 16, while doing their good turns yesterday, proved they are living up to two Scout laws—A Scout Is Trustworthy and A Scout Is Helpful.

Wayne Nolan, Don Ellis, Floyd Stephens and G. W. Yeargain went to Recreation Park yesterday afternoon and raked and burned trash that was under the grandstand from the recent Roping Club rodeo.

Later four Scouts of Troop 14 arrived to assist. They were Ronald and David Mullins, Bunky Fannon and Pete Kilpatrick.

Scouts handled concessions at the rodeo and the "helpful" Scouts found plenty of soft drink containers, cigarette packages and pop corn boxes. However, the Troop 16 Scouts believe they covered debris that had been strewn about under the grandstand during the first annual Texas Rodeo and Horse Show four years ago.

University of Houston Mascot Not Cooperative

DALLAS — (AP) — University of Houston students tried to arrange a wedding between their mascot, Shasta, a cougar, and Tom, a male of the same species at the Marsalis Park Zoo here. But Shasta has been unimpressed by the old college try. She sleeps through games. The ash-blond cougar was furnished a veil, a cake and other wedding trimmings for the ceremony that was planned. She was put into the cage with Tom, a 12-year-old cat. Shasta is three. Perhaps the disparity in their ages had something to do with it. Tom liked Shasta's looks but it wasn't mutual. After a few gestures, Shasta swatted Tom on the side of the head. Jim Buchanan, an engineering student from the university, said he hoped Shasta would change her mind. "We sure could use another mascot," he said.

Bachelor Wants Warm-Hearted Texan as Bride

ORANGE — (AP) — A 40-year-old Alaska bachelor wants a warm-hearted Texan girl for a bride.

He is Harold Ames, World War I veteran, who now is a civilian electrician living at Mountain View, near Anchorage.

He wrote to The Orange Leader, asking for help. Ames spent six weeks here while in the Navy.

"I am sure that in all of my travels," Ames wrote, "I never have met more charming girls than live in and around Orange."

He said he has a good job and owns his own home, but would like to have a wife to "greet me at the door when I come home from work."

In casting about, Ames wrote, "my mind turns back to those lovely Texan girls, so would you please help me find a girl that would like to be an Alaskan bride."

League to Probe Child Labor Talk

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — Appointment of a League of United Latin American Citizens committee to investigate reported violations of child labor laws had been approved by that organization's General Assembly.

A resolution calling for the closing session of the 20th annual LULAC convention Sunday.

Another resolution calls for laws regulating employment agencies and establishing responsibilities of labor contractors, including sanitation and resting places for checking stations along routes.

The group also approved a resolution protesting the setback situation and directing a copy of the resolution be sent to the secretary of state, attorney general, director of immigration, the Presidents of the United States and Mexico and Governor of Texas.

Federal Judge Aids Texas Youth

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. — (AP) — Through the kindness of Federal Judge Richard Duncan, a 19-year-old Corpus Christi, Tex., boy was sent home instead of to a federal reformatory.

The youth is Joseph Clarence Elder. His 20-year-old brother, Forrest Darrell Elder, didn't fare so well. Forrest Elder and another Corpus Christi man, James Clarence Jones, 26, probably will be sentenced in Kansas City next month on a guilty plea to a charge of transporting a stolen car across a state line.

The trio was arrested near Springfield, May 30 in a 1941 Hudson sedan stolen earlier in Houston, Tex.

Joseph Elder said he didn't know the car had been stolen although the three previously signed a statement saying they all knew.

However, Judge Duncan placed the younger Elder on three years probation, told the U. S. marshal to buy him a bus ticket and give him $3 for food, and the youth to report to the federal probation officer in Houston.

Whiten Footwear To Save Leather

White shoes like white gloves owe their smart look to immaculate freshness. The slightest smudge which might never be seen on darker footwear will show up with disarming clarity on white shoes.

Second argument for keeping white shoes clean is that regular cleaning actually prolongs the life of the leather. Usually a single application of cleaner is all that is needed to whisk off a film of dust that oily soils the whitening on the surface of leather.

When shoes are permitted to become heavily soiled before cleaning, however, there is danger that dirt will be ground into the leather itself. This means that you will have to use harsher cleaners and more scouring action to remove dirt — which tends to wear out the leather.

To clean white leather properly, stretch shoes over shoe trees. This will avert any tendency of dampened leather to shrink. Another anti-shrink precaution don't dry white leather in direct sunlight. Use any type of cleaner sparingly. If one thin application doesn't clean up surfaces, use a second thin coat.

Tan Pale Legs For Flattery

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

"The reason I am embarrassed to appear in a bathing suit is that I hate to bring my legs out in the open. Without stockings, they look so white and imperfectly seem so much more glaring in the sunlight," writes a reader who complains of a not uncommon problem of the mature woman.

It is true that legs need the flattery of sheer stockings to veil any defects that may annoy a woman as she grows older. However, these annoyances needn't keep a woman from taking her place in the sun.

A good sun tan is as obliging as stockings for camouflaging many of the imperfections which can be hidden by a flattering film of color.

So, if you're headed for the beach for a summer vacation, why not get a good start on a tan beforehand in the privacy of your backyard?

You can deepen leg color without exposing face or arms if you prefer to keep these areas shielded. Ten or 15 minutes a day usually is sufficient exposure for a gradually built-up tan. If skin is not tawny enough to suit you when you slip into that swim suit, you can deepen the tint and achieve a natural-looking effect that other women will envy by using a color-deepening tint designed for faking a tan.

★ WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Chances are about three-to-one that the modern girl sometime during her life will wind up as a combination housewife - career girl, says the Women's Bureau of the Labor Department.

Those are the odds. So what are you doing to make sure that your teen-age daughter will be able to handle both jobs successfully?

She probably has some ideas of her own as to the kind of job she wants. And you are probably making provisions for her to get the necessary training for her career — whether that means sending her to college, to a business school, letting her go into nurses' training, or whatever it may be.

But are you doing anything to help her prepare for the role of housewife?

In order to manage both a career and a household a woman has to be able to do both jobs efficiently and with as little wasted effort as possible. Since girls don't as a rule, learn a great deal about practical home-making in school training them for home-making is a job mothers should take over.

MANY MOTHERS OVERLOOK THIS ASPECT

Yet it is surprising how many mothers neglect that part of their daughters' training. They believe that they have done everything they should for their teen-age daughters in the way of marriage preparation if they help them to be popular by getting them pretty clothes or letting them entertain.

Such mothers don't worry over the fact that their daughters may go into marriage knowing absolutely nothing about child care, cooking, managing a home, decorating, or entertaining graciously.

That's not so bad if a girl is going to be able to spend all her married years learning how to be a home-maker. If that's her full-time job she can take her time and muddle through her work, even though she isn't very efficient at it.

But it's a different story if a girl has to be a home-maker after working hours. Then she hasn't the time to learn by the trial and error method.

So, since the odds are in favor of your daughter's combining marriage and a career sometime during her adult life, you really owe it to her to give her some sound and sensible training in the job of home-making.

If you want to get the most kick out of a bridge game, men, play opposite your own wife.

Members present were Mrs. Naomi David, Peg Haas, Thelma Cruise, Audrey Robison, Betty Kemp, Anna Latman, Johnnie Donaldson, Hazel Welker, Imogene Crudington, Tyker Simms, Jean Burks and Pearl Schneider.

Dark Swim Suit Minimizes Size

By ALICIA HART

The woman who says she's "too old" to wear bathing suits isn't up on her fashions.

She can find as many smart suits of the cover-up type as she can styles of breath-taking brevity. Ready to give her a flattering fit is a wide variety of suits with built-in bras, elasticized midriff bands, longer, quick-drying fabrics which won't cling while wet. Such a swim suit plus a toss-on beach jacket or coat will turn her out on the beach as modestly dressed as any Miss Prim.

The woman who feels self-conscious in a swim suit because she is overweight can find fashions that will do much to minimize size. Her choice of color should be a dark one: black, navy or deep gray. The longer her skirt can be, within fashion's limits, and the less flared the slimmer she will look beach parade.

White shoes like white gloves owe their smart look to immaculate freshness. The slightest smudge which might never be seen on darker footwear will show up with disarming clarity on white shoes.

Second argument for keeping white shoes clean is that regular cleaning actually prolongs the life of the leather. Usually a single application of cleaner is all that is needed to whisk off a film of dust that oily soils the whitening on the surface of leather.

When shoes are permitted to become heavily soiled before cleaning, however, there is danger that dirt will be ground into the leather itself. This means that you will have to use harsher cleaners and more scouring action to remove dirt — which tends to wear out the leather.

To clean white leather properly, stretch shoes over shoe trees. This will avert any tendency of dampened leather to shrink. Another anti-shrink precaution don't dry white leather in direct sunlight. Use any type of cleaner sparingly. If one thin application doesn't clean up surfaces, use a second thin coat.

WASHINGTON - (NEA) - At the height of the oil shortage in the winter of 1947-48, there were some demands that the United States embargo all shipments of petroleum products to foreign countries...

Today, with the reverse situation of a U.S. oil surplus in effect, there are demands that the government ban all imports of foreign oil. That would be an equally disastrous move.

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON - There will be no more Gerhard Eisler escapes or large-scale subversive activities on the part of convicted Communist criminals in this country under a bill which the House Judiciary Committee is expected to report favorably soon at the request of Attorney General Tom Clark.

Known as the Hobbs Bill, although its chief current backer is Representative Thad Walter of Pennsylvania, it provides for more or less permanent detention of deportable criminals, if conditions make it impossible to return them to their country of origin.

This proposal has been kicking around Capitol Hill in one form or another since the start of World War II, when the threat of national security was not in the criminally or communistically inclined became serious.

It was passed in milder form by the House last year, but died in the Senate. Defeat there was due largely to administration reluctance to support the measure.

DEPORTABLE - It is estimated that there are now 2,300 deportable aliens in this country, who cannot be shipped out because of the defects of existing laws.

It is known that Russia and her satellites deliberately refuse to cooperate with us in the deportation procedure because they prefer that these Communist agents continue to do their work in the United States.

RECORD - The official files describe a few of the more glaring cases, to wit: First is the case of Frank E. Spector, born in Odessa, Russia, and now living in Los Angeles.

IN HOLLYWOOD

BY ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD - (NEA) - A young man who once worked as a 38-a-week laborer in a movie studio is Hollywood's new "boy genius."

"Or maybe," he says, "it should be boy idiot." But I'm ahead of my story. It happened not too long ago in the office of a movie financier.

He pondered his first on a heavy walnut desk as he ruminated about the stories he wanted to put on the screen. He talked about the wonderful possibilities of turning unknowns into stars.

He utilized the capabilities of young men he had gathered around him. The biggest electric sign on Broadway. They're just a few yards apart. One reads "Champion," the other "Home of the Brave."

THREAT - "The attorney general's comment on Spector follows: 'As a result of numerous refusals on the part of Russia to issue a travel document to this alien, he is free to travel in the United States and continue his Communist activities.'

MENACE - After listing the names of numerous other top-flight "Commies" still at large despite deportation orders, the report cites another kind of dangerous alien in our midst: "Joseph Bernard, alias Charles Murphy, 55, is probably a native of Switzerland. He came to this country as a visitor and stayed. In 1934 he was sentenced in Salt Lake City for five years for indecent assault. In 1943 he was again sentenced for taking indecent liberties with female children."

CAMPS - Note: The Communist Daily Worker denounces the Hobbs-Walter proposal as designed to erect "concentration camps" in the U.S., and as an "un-American nightmare and a fanatical plot to strip the rights of citizenship from the American people."

THE NATION'S PRESS WHY SO CARELESS? (The Daily Oklahoman) It seems to be the fate of David Lillenthal that no matter what official position he is appointed to, he is again accused of appearing to begin to be marked by the taint of communist smoke.

Success Secrets

By ELMER WHEELER

The way to guarantee your job is to make yourself indispensable. That's pretty much what Mr. Willie J. Brockman... (who is everybody calls Bill) did in Beaumont, Texas.

"Bill Brockman is the only woman City Manager of a city over 4,000 population in the United States. Her success-plan was to become indispensable. She started working for the city as a secretary. Next came the job of City Clerk and Finance Officer. In every organization there is usually one person who takes the trouble to learn all the 'ins and outs' of the business in the city government of Beaumont, 'Bill' was that person.

In June, 1948 the City Council called on Bill for temporary help after three City Managers had quit. Bill did the job so well they found they couldn't do without her. They called on her to stay on the job. As Manager of a city of 475,000 'Bill' has proved herself a good boss. She's provided the Fire and Police departments with new equipment, revised the parks department, and is now busy at work on new health and sanitation programs.

NEW RECORD It's the first time any independent film maker has ever had two smash hits playing side by side in Broadway theaters. But the amazing part of the story is that both pictures shaded $600,000 on budget. 'Champion' would have cost $1,600,000 at a major studio and 'Home of the Brave' at least a million.

MIKE CURTIS Gladys Parker: "OH MY GOODNESS! I DROPPED THE WRONG HANDKERCHIEF!"

Low hired him as an executive assistant on two films, "So Ends Our Night" and "Moon and Sixpence." He spent three years with the Signal Corps during the war, emerging as a first lieutenant. In May of 1947 he formed Screen Plays, Inc., with no money but lots of ambition.

Restaurant Business Is Having Indigestion

GALVESTON—(AP)—The restaurant business is having a touch of indigestion. Andrew J. Crotty, Jr., Boston, president of the National Restaurant Association, described the symptoms at the close of the Texas Association's convention. "Texans are fortunate that you have not felt the impact," said Crotty, "but street and hotel restaurants across the nation have felt a terrific drop in dollar volume, check average and customer count." The Bostonian, chief civilian food consultant to the armed forces during the recent war and head of an "in-plant feeding" concern with 65 branches scattered throughout the country, said his prescription for the restaurant operators was to go back to work, and go back to thinking. He said the industry had "gone stale" and added he was sure "the smart operator will survive this impending trouble." He said the public feeding industry "got 6 cents of the consumer dollar in 1939, 19 cents of it during the war and immediately afterwards, and now is down to 13 cents, with the downward trend continuing."

Hoover Gets Vigorous Dig At 'New Era'

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

That was a bold and challenging speech which former President Herbert Hoover made at Ohio Wesleyan University during the weekend, when he took a vigorous dig at the brand of "new era" thinking which substitutes security for self-reliance. Certainly the topic is timely, for there are few corners of the world where it isn't being discussed and in many cases experimented with. Hoover said that while "security" eliminates the risks of life, it "also kills the joy that lies in competition, in individual adventure, in new undertakings and new achievements. These contain moral and intellectual impulses more vital than even profits, for from them alone comes national progress."

This is from a man whose life is a romance of American success. He was orphaned at 10 and self-supporting by 15. He rose to the top as a mining engineer. Fame came to him for his relief administration work in Europe during World War I, and finally he was elected to the presidency. The United States has not embraced all the new era ideas, said Mr. Hoover, adding: "The reactionary notion of equal opportunity with the right of everyone to go as far as his ambitions and abilities will take him, provided he does not trespass on others, still holds in the American dream."

Does it still hold in the dreams of other "capitalistic" nations? Well, Britain for one is making a great experiment in socialism. She has had some four years of socialism, going far in nationalization and even daring to socialize medicine. Another general election is due to be held by July of next year, and then the people will pass their verdict on the question of security versus self-reliance, as Mr. Hoover phrases it.

Hoover said that while "security" eliminates the risks of life, it "also kills the joy that lies in competition, in individual adventure, in new undertakings and new achievements. These contain moral and intellectual impulses more vital than even profits, for from them alone comes national progress."

More Ties Are Needed to Finish Drive

What's a matter men? Where are your ties? Your old ties should be taken to Your Laundry and Dry Cleaners by tomorrow if they are to be used Saturday at the tie sale and exchange. The ESA Sorority members will drape ties on ropes between parking meters Saturday and sell them each for 25 cents. The proceeds from the sale will be put into Gray County's phase of the American Cancer Society Drive. "The county lacks about $700 of its quota," J. Ray Martin, county chairman, said. "We hope that enough men will take their ties to the laundry — where they will be cleaned free of charge — to make our cancer drive successful."

Women, if your husbands can't seem to get around to taking their ties to the laundry for the sale, it's time for you to take over and get rid of those old ties you're so tired of seeing. Residents have been asked to leave their ties at 301 E. Francis — but if for any reason they are unable to do so they should call Mrs. R. E. McKernan, Mrs. Luther Pierson or Mrs. Roy Bourland, who will be around to pick up the ties. After the ties have been cleaned they will appear to be new. Men and boys who want to improve their wardrobe should make the rounds of the 100 block N. Cuyler Saturday and pick up a few ties.

However, if ties are not contributed better than they have been during the first two days of the week, the tie sale and exchange may be unsuccessful.

MELLO-AIRS ENTERTAIN JAYCEES

Charlie Roberts brought the "MelloAirs," a dance band quartet of which he is a member, to the Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting yesterday for a program of luncheon music. Among the selections the quartet played were: "12th Street Rag," "Peg O' My Heart," "Faraway Places," and a highly jangled version of "Sunflower From Sunflower State."

Two members of the group, Howard Sims, who plays bass, and Helen Blocker, vocalist, were absent yesterday. The others are: Irv Akst, on the piano and solovox; Bill Smith, vibraphone; Tommy Adwina, guitar; and Roberts, drummer. Jim Arndt reported that 11 Jaycees and their families delivered fishing equipment the club had collected recently to Boy's Ranch Sunday.

"The kids were just tickled to death," Arndt said. "And there are some real fishermen among those kids over there." Travis Lively, Jr., gave a short report on the Jaycees national convention in Colorado Springs last week. One of the proposals adopted, he said, was a resolution looking toward greater liaison between the national headquarters and local chapters. In speaking of proceedings in the business sessions, Lively said, "It's amazing to see a great mass of people like this from all parts of the country can work hard together for something they believe in."

Lively, Artie Aftergut, and Elmer Francis represented Pampa at the convention. In the absence of President Floyd Watson, E. A. Johnson presided at yesterday's meeting.

McCarley Taking Course on Stones

Jack J. McCarley, assistant manager of McCarley's Jewelry Store, left Sunday for a six-week course which will complete over three and one-half years of study from the Gemological Institute of America. The course, being held in New York City, comprises practical identification and grading of diamonds and other precious gemstones. Successful completion of the resident course will bring the title of graduate gemologist to McCarley. Gemology, the science of gem stones and jewelry, is a relatively new profession, and McCarley will be the first in Pampa to obtain this title. Mrs. McCarley accompanied her husband to New York.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE

BERLIN—(AP)—Americans in Germany have in some ways become the prisoners of the conquered.

They are suffering, to a degree at least, the fate of all occupation powers through history—the fate of becoming a captive of the people they captured. But the Americans are being captured on a cultural and household level rather than on a military level, by German music, beer and servants rather than by the theories of Clausewitz.

That was the impression gained by correspondents flown here by American overseas airlines on a tour of the war zones. It was confirmed by a number of Americans stationed here. The hardening of the political lines between East and West has brought a softening of the attitude between the individual American and the individual German.

The difference that has taken place on the social level can perhaps best be shown by two parties I attended here three years apart. At a farewell party in 1946 there were some frauleins present, two Russian officers but no German men. Some newly arrived American wives gave the frauleins the silent treatment all evening. The German orchestra leader taught the crowd a German song, but most of the tunes played were American.

This week the correspondent group went to another party. The band played only two American tunes. The Americans sang and danced to German songs. No Russians attended the party, but there was a fraulein or two there and several German men. The American wives danced gaily with the German men. Living isn't so lush for Americans in Germany today as it was three years ago. But they can still live more cheaply here than they can at home in terms of parties and servants.

ISLAND OF ESCAPE

By Hugh Lawrence Nelson

tain of clouds which had darkened the morning and the large part of the afternoon. The sheep raised their heads in unison, returned gradually to their feeding. Bea turned lazily in the direction they had looked and stared directly at Captain Miguel Oak. He stood in a small hollow within 10 feet of her and was returning a heavy automatic to the holster on his belt which held up stained tan pants, his only article of clothing. He smiled broadly. "Please do not move. From the house you can be seen, while I stay hidden. So, it is you who tend the sheep." "Good afternoon," Bea said. "I didn't hear you come. You're still barefooted I see." "Barefooted? You knew I visited the island?" "The potted plant you tended on the Simpatico," she reminded him, "was placed on the grave of someone named Roble—or Oak." "My younger brother, who was stupid." "Maybe it runs in the family," she suggested. "Perhaps. But why do you say so?" "Footprints," Bea said. "Very distinctive footprints, if I may say so. On the beach where the water did not reach them until I had seen. They led to a cliff where a rope had been." "You tell me this and yet you say I am stupid?" Oak held his automatic again, muzzle pointed toward the ground. "There are ways of making people forget."

FOR a moment Miss Cosgrove thought she had gone too far. She said quickly, "I'd like it better if you'd forget that phony accent of yours." The man's smile returned. "Too bad, I thought it looked good on a fisherman. But tell me more of the footprints and the dead Mrs. Warren." "You'd better tell me," Bea said firmly. Oak rubbed the beard on his chin with the gun muzzle. "Why not? I was on the cliff to the south of the cove when I heard a shot. I looked down and saw a figure in one of the caves. I used a rope I have hidden to descend from a point where I cannot be seen from the house. I found Mrs. Warren dead. While I looked, the car started to move. I hurried back careless of footprints. I reached the cliff and was hidden when you came down." "You're good at hiding. But then, you'd have to be to stay on the island without anyone seeing you." Miguel laughed at her effort to get information. "And you've been busy too, haven't you? Pulling those young people out of the water for one thing." "They remembered? It seemed easier to help them while they could still walk away, than to wait until they had to be carried." "Was it you who staked out those fish in the pool?" "Yes. A fine joke wasn't it? The poor dead fish! Four of them half in and half out of the water. And did you notice what kind of fish they were?" "I don't know much about fish," she said. "They were Remora or shark-pilot. Remora Remora to be exact. They fasten themselves to shark with the sucking disc on the top of their heads. Which makes them not only poor fish, but suckers as well. Isn't that funny, Miss Cosgrove?" She shivered. "What a comedian! I'm afraid it was too subtle for me." "Harding knows fish, though," Oak said. "And when the water ran into the pool after I broke the line, he thought that was funny, too, didn't he?" "It didn't seem to amuse him a bit," Bea admitted. "Wait a minute," she said quickly as he started to speak. "There's someone coming this way."

"Thank you. But before I go, tell me this: Does your knowledge of languages include the meaning of the word 'remora'? It means hindrance, Miss Bea Cosgrove." (To Be Continued)

YOU DON'T KNOW MY GAL!

Vic Flint

GO AHEAD AND YUK-YUK AT MY DAILY CABINATION, MR. INSPECTOR. BUT THEY'RE STANDARD BUTT-HOLE EQUIPMENT FOR ME AS LONG AS I'VE GOT ONE QUARTER TO CLICK AGAINST ANOTHER.

WHICH, BY THE WAY, I DON'T. WILL YOU TRUST ME TILL TOMORROW, TONY?

SURE THING, MR. FLINT. TAKE A YOUR TIME.

BY TOMORROW I'LL HAVE CASHED THE $5,000 CHECK I GOT FROM BASCOM POWD. I'LL BRING A 6-NOTE AROUND FOR YOU TO CHANGE.

I WOULDN'T BE SAYING THAT, FLINT--NOT EVEN FOR LAUGHS!

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

By J. R. WILLIAMS

with Major Hoople

WHAT? OUT HERE BECAUSE YOU CAN'T GET TO SLEEP ON ACCOUNT OF SODA READING AND TURNING THE PAGES? WHY, IT TAKES HIM A HALF HOUR TO READ ONE PAGE!

THAT'S JUST IT--IT'S TH' DICTIONARY THAT BOTHERS US! WHY, HE OFTEN HAS TO LOOK UP TWENTY WORDS ON ONE PAGE!

MUST PART IS HE HAS TO LOOK UP A LOT OF THE WORDS IN TH' DICTIONARY EXPLANATION, TOO!

WELCOME HOME, CHAMP! SPILL US THE STORY! COMPLETE IN THIS ISSUE, WITH A PINCH OF NUTMEG!

DID YOU GET IN THE WAY OF A HAMMER THROWN?

EGAD! I WOULDN'T HAVE MISSED IT FOR THE BOER WAR! WHEN THEY CUT ME OFF THE AIR, THE STUDIO AUDIENCE AROSE LIKE THE PARIS POPULACE DEMOLISHING THE BASTILLE! BERT HAR-RUMPH! A FAMOUS VICTORY!

HOW'D YOU GET THAT EIGHT-BALL HUNG UNDER YOUR EYEBROW?

WOUNDED, BUT WITH THE OLD FLAG STILL FLYING!

Blondie

THERE'S NO STAMP ON THIS LETTER--IT COST YOU THREE CENTS

OKAY--I JUST HOPED TO HAVE SOME PENNIES

I'LL BET THE JOKES ON YOU--IT'S PROBABLY A BILL

I HADN'T THOUGHT OF THAT--THEY'RE OFF

THERE'S NO RETURN ADDRESS ON THIS LETTER--IT'LL WIND UP IN THE DEAD-LETTER OFFICE

WAIT A MINUTE! IT COULD BE A CHECK--GIVE ME TIME TO THINK THIS OVER

Wash Tubbs

MEANWHILE, STYMIED IN HER EFFORTS TO GET THE BANK BOOTY, MOLL PITCHER TRIES ANOTHER PLAN.

YOU UNDERSTAND, MISS, MY STRUCTURE YOU BUILD ON MY LOT WILL REVERT TO ME WHEN YOUR SHORT LEASE IS UP!

I'VE GOTCHA, MISTER!

REAL ESTATE

LATER, EASY AND BIG CALL ON LUCKY LEW KASKY.

INCIDENTALLY, HE WAS CASHIER IN DAD'S BANK WHEN THE PILCHER BOYS HELD IT UP, EASY... AND HIS LUCK FAILED HIM THAT DAY!

YEA, LEW CAME IN A FEW MOMENTS AGO, HE CROSS AS AN OLD BEAR. MAYBE YOU CAN FIND OUT WHAT UPSET HIM!

Red Ryder

I KNOW WHO YOU ARE, RYDER, AND WHY YOU'RE HERE! YOU'RE A FOOL TO OPPOSE FATHER AND ME!

STARR GOAR! THESE RECORDS OF STOLEN CATTLE WILL CONVICT YOU BOTH!

I LIKE YOUR LOOKS, RYDER! GET SMART AND PLAY ON MY SIDE!

YOU'RE WASTIN' YOUR BREATH, STARR!

BESIDES RUSTIN, YOUR GANG MURDERED THE SHERIFF AND YOU'LL ANSWER FOR IT!

...WILL HE MADDEN?

Boots

HEY, BOOTS! I JUST GOT A NOTE FROM AN OLD GIRL FRIEND--

ROO--

I USED TO RUN AROUND WITH 'ER BACK IN THE OLD HOME, YONAH! ANYHOW, SHE'S COMING HERE FOR A VISIT--

ROO. LISTEN! I HAVE SOME NEWS FOR YOU, TOO--

YOU'LL GO FOR HER, TOO, NON! WE'LL HAVE TO SEE A LOT OF HER 'SHE'S PRETTY AS A MILLION BUCKS AND JUST AS HARD TO TAKE-- LOOK, TEXAS--YOU CAN'T BE THAT DUMB!

Tex Austin

HOW ABOUT IT, DAD? DON'T I LOOK AS THOUGH I COULD HANDLE TEX AUSTIN?

GO TO IT, GAL! BRING THE LAZY-Y INTO THE HOLLISTER HOLDINGS--AND WE'LL HAVE PLENTY TO CELEBRATE ABOUT!

JUST TELL ME ONE THING, DAD... I'VE BEEN AWAY AT SCHOOL SO LONG, I'M NOT UP ON THINGS... JUST WHY DO WE WANT THE LAZY-Y?

IT'S NONE OF YOUR BUSINESS!

BETTER CHANGE YOUR WET CLOTHES, SON, OR YOU'LL CATCH PNEUMONIA--OR WORSE--

THE ANSWER, NONIE, IS

...OIL!

Bo

GEE WHIZ, WHY ALL THE RUSH TO BUILD A GACT?

YOU NEVER KNOW WHEN WE MIGHT NEED IT.

COME ON, LET'S TRY IT OUT, JUNIOR--

PHEW... WAIT! I TAKE A REST... BESIDES IT'S NOT SAFE 'TILL WE NAIL IT TOGETHER.

OH BOY!

Mickey Finn

GET OUT TO THE TITE ESTATE ON THE POINT, MURPHY--AND FAST! THEY'VE CAUGHT A BURGLAR!

OKAY!

MURPHY AND PONTY ARE ON THE WAY TO THE HOUSE, CHIEF--AND I TOLD BENNETT AND BENNETT TO CHECK ALL CARS COMIN' IN FROM THE POINT! IT'S A CINCH THE GUY DIDN'T WALK OUT THERE!

NO INDEED! IT SOUNDS LIKE THE 'MYSTERY' BURNHAM! I'LL PICK HIM UP AT HIS HOUSE IN TEN MINUTES!

WHO CAUGHT THE GUY, CHIEF? I THOUGHT THE OLD BUTLER WAS THE ONLY ONE IN THE HOUSE!

IT WAS CONRAD TITE WHO PHONED IN! HE MUST'VE JUST GOT BACK FROM HIS 'WOOD! AND PROBABLY BROUGHT SOME FRIENDS HOME WITH HIM!

PHIL--I'VE JUST BEEN THINKING! IF THIS IS THE MAN WHO HAS BEEN COMMITTING ALL THE ROBBERIES--AND AN-YOU HAD LEARNED THAT HE PLANNED TO BREAK IN HERE TONIGHT--AND AN-YOU CAME OUT HERE TO LAY FOR HIM--

CONRAD, YOU'RE A GENIUS! I'LL RUN UPSTAIRS AND GET INTO MY CLOTHES! LAY FOR HIM--

Penny

KEEP THE ORDER OF MY DANCES WILL HAVE TO BE CHANGED--

WHY, PENNY?

IT'S BRUZ, CARY AND EEL--I'LL HAVE TO REARRANGE IT TO BRUZ, EEL, AND THEN CARY.

BRUZ IS THE SMOOTHEST DANCER IN TOWN, CARY'S THE WORST! SHIN-KICKER, WHILE EEL'S JUST PRETTY BAD.

FROM BRUZ TO CARY IS TOO MUCH OF A JOIT, BUT WITH EEL IN BETWEEN I CAN GET CONDITIONED GRADUALLY.

Concerned about the possibility of labor troubles in the coal and steel industries as well as the manpower situation in its own plants.

In addition to these uncertainties nobody within the industry knows whether there will be enough customers to absorb a 6,000,000 unit output this year. Right now the car makers are rolling along comfortably on the crest of a seasonal buying wave.

Opening FBI Files Smears Innocent

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Some innocent people and the FBI will both suffer if secret FBI files continue to be made public.

A man accused of communism now, when there's so much excitement about it, is smeared in the public and mind and may be ruined.

The accusation of an informant in an FBI file, that a man is a Communist doesn't necessarily mean he is one or even that the FBI thinks he is.

He may or may not be. Some of the FBI information is true, some is false. It's gathered in various ways:

From regular FBI agents; secret undercover agents; and strangers who may be sane, crazy, bright, stupid, loyal or revengeful.

The FBI checks on communism to prevent spying, smash conspiracies, and be ready for a nationwide crackdown in case of emergency.

All kinds of information, true or false, go into its files.

While it remains secret, no one is hurt. But when it's thrown wide open the public can't tell what's true in this collection of trutes, untruths, suspicions and accusations.

And that's what innocent people and the work of FBI both get damaged.

At the trial of Judith Coplon, charged with spying for Russia, the judge ordered certain secret FBI information made public. The FBI said it had found it on her.

The judge did this to give her a fair trial so the jury wouldn't have to act on hearsay.

The files were opened and out tumbled the names of many people, not connected with Miss Coplon—at all but accused of communism. They made denials.

But now they're linked in the public mind with communism.

The work of the FBI suffered a blow. Undercover agents were exposed, not by their right names but by code names.

But, some of their information was so intimate that the accused people now must know it could have come from so-and-so, even though he's disguised in the files under a code name.

Turtle Is Camp Mascot

"Good Scout," a large box turtle, is the latest addition to the Tenderfoot Day Camp, which is being held at the Girl Scout House this week.

Last night an unidentified boy, who appeared to be about nine or 10 years old, rode his bicycle by the Scout House several times before he stopped and asked the girls if they wanted a turtle.

The 10-year-old Scouts of Unit 1 jumped at the suggestion and made him an honor member of their unit. However, the other three units wanted to share the turtle — so he will probably become an honorary member of each unit before the week ends.

The Tenderfoot Scouts now are looking for other box turtles so they can stage a tortoise race.

After the turtle got accustomed to the girls and the girls to the turtle last night, Day Camp proceeded and the Scouts made "Sommores," marshmallows and Hershey between two graham crackers.

Tonight the Scouts will hold a cookout, using tin can stoves.

Chief Stops Check Payment

TEMPLE — (AP) — Police Chief W. M. McDonnold says he did stop payment on a $10 check he sent the president of the Big State League in payment of a fine.

Said McDonnold last night: "Payment was stopped, is stopped and will stay stopped. Baseball officials do not fine peace officers, and that's that."

Big State League President J. Walter Morris had said earlier in Dallas that payment on the check was not stopped.

Morris assessed the fine against McDonnold for shoving an umpire after a game at Temple. McDonnold said he pushed the umpire to get him out of reach of an angry crowd.

McDonnold sent Morris a check for $10. When Morris announced that the fine had been paid, the chief of police declared:

"This foolishness has gone far enough." That's when he first said he had stopped payment on the check.

McDonnold said the fine was publicity stunt or gag. Morris said he meant business.

Western observers said the proposed east-west commercial accord involves two main factors.

1—Establishment of a four-power commission to supervise an all-German economic board dedicated to promoting East-West trade. This commission would in effect replace the wrecked Allied Control Council.

2—Russian guarantees of free transport rights into Berlin from the West in return for an agreed rate of exchange for East and West marks to facilitate trade.

Distress Wheat Loans Are Approved for Texas Area

COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — Distress wheat loans for a wide Texas area were approved Tuesday by the State Production and Marketing Administration Committee. The approval carries out a decision by the U. S. Department of Agriculture last week.

Counties approved were Clay, Archer, Young, Throckmorton, Shackelford, Callahan, Coleman, Runnels, Nolan, Mitchell, Howard, Martin, Andrews "and all other counties west and north of these."

The loan areas were announced by state PMA Director E. F. Vance.

Loans are made at 75 percent of the regular loan rate, which varies with counties. The distress loans are made on wheat piled on the ground or placed in temporary storage. But the producer is expected to build or acquire satisfactory storage within 90 days from the date of the distress loan.

Application for a distress loan must be made within 30 days after the harvest.

Under the distress loan arrangement the farmer is protected against any loss from deterioration in the quality of his wheat while it lies on the ground or in improvised storage. The grade and quality of the wheat are determined when the wheat is put under distress loan; the farmer is not responsible for any loss in either grade or quality.

More over, as soon as he puts the wheat in approved storage he can recover the remaining 25 percent of the regular loan — for a total of about $1.55 a bushel.

The distress loan program was announced in Washington June 7 by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan.

At the same time it was announced the CCC will lend up to 85 percent of the cost of storage facilities which farmers build on their farms.

Prisoners Go On Strike for Homemade Beer

RALEIGH, N. C. — (AP) — They lost their homemade beer—and 40 prisoners went on a brief sitdown strike at Central Prison today.

They laced about on their jobs in the sheet metal shop but took up their tools when Warden Joe Crawford promised to investigate their case.

The prisoners, Prison Director J. B. Moore said, complained because the man with the beer, lifer William A. Cook, was placed in solitary.

Moore said Cook made the beer from potato peelings, meal and sugar which he had appropriated.

Antimony Deposit Discovery Reported

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — An official of the Mexican Geological Institute reports the discovery of what may be one of the largest antimony deposits in the world.

The ore is in the Sierra de Conaco Mountains in San Luis Potosi state, only 7 miles from a railroad. The deposit was discovered by A. J. Martinez of the institute.

The United States uses much antimony in its metallurgical industries. Formerly this was imported from China but the U. S. Engineering and Mining Journal said in its May issue that Russia is rapidly obtaining control of Chinese antimony, tin and tungsten.

Water ran deep for hours in the communities of Vickrey, Farmer's Branch and Carrollton, north of Dallas. A freight train trampled up on washed out tracks near Farmer's Branch, but there were no casualties. For a while yesterday, all roads leading north from Dallas were blocked by high water.

Auto Industry Doubtful of Setting Record

By DAVID J. WILKIA

AP Automotive Editor
DETROIT — (AP) — If the auto industry could maintain its present production level it would roll out about 6,000,000 vehicles this year.

But apparently only a few among the industry experts believe production in the July-December period can equal that of the first half of the year. So far this year the factories have built more than 2,615,000 cars and trucks.

With more of the Ford factories back into production this week's output in the United States may go over the 130,000 unit mark. Last week the factories built more than 127,000 vehicles.

The industry, of course, is concerned about the possibility of labor troubles in the coal and steel industries as well as the manpower situation in its own plants.

In addition to these uncertainties nobody within the industry knows whether there will be enough customers to absorb a 6,000,000 unit output this year. Right now the car makers are rolling along comfortably on the crest of a seasonal buying wave.
