Mine Chief Says Industry Overproduced

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 450,000 members of the United Mine Workers start a week-long strike Monday to underscore John L. Lewis' lecture in economics to the nation's coal industry.

Lewis told the industry yesterday it has overproduced badly and the shutdown will help eat into the huge, 52-day supply of coal already mined.

"This period of inaction," he said, "will emphasize a lack of general stability in the industry and the dangers which will accrue therefrom if current harmful practices are not remedied."

"The miners are required again to protect affirmatively the human and property values inherent in the coal mining industry."

Lewis said the strike will be a good thing all around. Some mine owners agreed. An industry source at Pittsburgh said: "Many coal producers will be glad to see a shutdown. It has been all out and little income recently because of supply backlogs."

But there were dissenting opinions.

President J. Allee Schaefer of the American Retail Coal Association, said "Lewis is violating terms of the present contract by calling out miners prior to the expiration date."

As for the miners, their reaction was summed up by one UMW member who said: "John L. has always been right for us before, hasn't he?"

The strike comes on the eve of crucial negotiations for a new contract. By reducing the 65,000 tons of stocked coal above ground, the federal decontrol act will make more effective any new "no contract, no work" strike he might call in July.

The present industry agreement expires June 30.

Negotiations for a new coal contract are under way.

RED OFFICERS BEAT BACK LOOTING MOB

BERLIN (AP)—Four fist-swinging Russian officers today beat back a looting mob of 200 railway strikers who had invaded the American sector headquarters of the Soviet-controlled Berlin railway.

Later, on U. S. military government orders, Western police guarded the entrance of the five-story building as a result of a Soviet Commandant Alexander Koltikov's official complaint against the "hoodlum mob."

Meanwhile, rail strikers grimly picketed the building. A strike spokesman said they intended to prevent anyone of the headquarters staff from reporting for work today.

The mob had invaded and occupied the building late last night, but retreated shortly after midnight when the four Russian officers suddenly arrived.

The Russians, angered by the sight of the mob ripping pictures of Prime Minister Stalin and Lenin off the walls, pitched into the strikers with their fists and drove them to the ground floor of the building.

The mob withdrew after the arrival of 100 American sector German police, dispatched to the scene by Brig. Gen. Frank Holey, American commandant in Berlin.

He said the Russians had four power recognitions to use at the headquarters for the direction of East German rail traffic outside the strike area in West Berlin.

Some 14,000 employees of the Soviet-controlled reichsbahn have refused to work since May 21 unless demands for West mark wages, union recognition, and job security are granted.

No serious injuries occurred in last night's fighting.

The commando squads from UGOW, West Berlin union, overpowered several East German guards and brandished a captured stock of pistols.

The strikers held the building for about an hour. Then the four (See RED, Page 6)

Bulletins On X-Ray To Be Mailed

Members of the local chapter of the National Secretaries Association will meet a 6 p. m. today at the Red Cross office to address bulletins for the second annual chest X-ray in Gray County.

NSA members also will complete the files for the County Tuberculosis Association.

Bulletins will be addressed to occupants of rural post office boxes. There will be 1,915 bulletins sent to residents of Albrecht, Groom, Jericho, McLean, Laketon, Hoover, Lefors and Kingsmill.

NSA will have the responsibility of the registration for the chest X-ray program which will begin in Pampa June 25. Members of the association will register residents to be X-rayed but will ask assistance from other volunteers.

Frank Wilson, chairman of this year's X-ray campaign, will meet with the secretaries tonight to help arrange the schedule for registration.

Last year more than 4,800 Gray County residents took advantage of the county medical and tuberculosis association's sponsored chest X-rays. More than 60 people were found to have tuberculosis or some other chest disorder.

The state health department's mobile X-ray unit will spend July 6 and 7 at McLean, X-raying residents of that section of the county.

City Delivery to Be Expanded

The city delivery of the Pampa Post Office is expected to be expanded June 15, W. B. Weathered, postmaster, said.

Residents in the new delivery area must have their houses numbered correctly and a suitable mail receptacle or door slot before the delivery commences, Weathered added.

The proposed mail delivery expansion includes: east and west sides of the 100 block of N. Faulkner, east side of 100 and 200 N. Sumner, west side of 700 N. Dwight, east and west sides of 900 N. Doucette.

"We have just received approval from the Post Office Department for the delivery," he said.

Other sections of Pampa will be taken into the delivery as soon as they meet the requirements of the department.

MURDER INDICTMENT

HOUSTON (AP)—Albert Edwards, 36, warehouse foreman, was indicted yesterday by the Harris County Grand Jury in the fatal shooting of his estranged wife and a steel mill foreman.

Mrs. Betty Lou Edwards and Frank Walker were slain May 28 after their automobile was forced to the curb near here.

Drains Along Railroad Line Being Sought

City, county and State Highway Department officials laid initial preparations today to stop flooding waters from engulfing the Southwestern section of the city around W. Wilks every time a heavy rain overflows the dry land lakes one-half mile west of town on Highway 60.

City Manager Dick Peplin disclosed late this morning that he and county officials will seek a meeting next week with Santa Fe Railroad Co. engineers in Amarillo to discuss cooperation between the railroad, city, county and State Highway Department.

Two plans for draining the water were set up tentatively this morning by G. K. Reading, resident highway engineer for Pampa, and Peplin.

The first plan calls for construction of drainage structures under the Santa Fe mainline, west of town, to carry the water in a northerly direction and into another lake. The second, and more desirable plan, is to construct a drainage ditch between the tracks and the highway to drain the water west to Red Deer Creek.

Peplin said the drainage is also vital from a health standpoint and that immediate action will be asked at next week's meeting. The railroad company, he indicated, would be asked to bear part of the expense. Also meeting with the group will be Guy Lott, district engineer in Amarillo.

FIVE IN FAMILY DIE

NORTHVILLE, Mich. (AP)—A 34-year-old mother and four of her seven children perished here early today in a fire that destroyed their two-story frame home.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bitter resentment against John L. Lewis seethed today among senators trying to get rid of the Taft-Hartley Law's emergency injunction provision.

Those lawmakers claimed privately that the United Mine Workers' chief, in ordering a week's shutdown of the coal pits, probably killed any chance for scrapping the section which calls for court orders to halt strikes threatening the national welfare.

Some senators who favor the Taft-Hartley Law figured Lewis' action strengthened their position all along the line.

Word that Lewis had ordered the miners out of the pits for a week starting Monday reached the Capitol yesterday while the Senate was debating the administration bill to repeal the T-H Act.

Neither that bill as drafted nor a compromise version backed by

Agents William J. McCarthy and Daniel F. Garde on July 18, 1947 that:

"Lionel Bertram, head of the Cultural Committee of the Communist Party, has been successful in using well-known Hollywood personalities to further Communist Party aims. Fredric March being one of the persons who came under his influence. The informant further advised that he was satisfied the subject (March), who is active in the Communist infiltration of the motion picture industry, is a Communist Party member along with Edward G. Robinson, Paul Robeson, Dorothy Parker, Donald Ogden Stuart, Ruth McKinney, Alfred Maitz, Alvah Bessie, Dalton Trumbo, Millen Brand and Michael Blankfort."

Another part of the report said: "Confidential Informant T-6 advised in December, 1947, that Fredric March and Canada Lee were two outstanding Communist Party travelers connected with the Institute for Democratic Education, Inc., along with Daniel L. Marsh, president of Boston University; Clyde R. Miller, a professor in the Teachers' College of Columbia University, and Norman Corwin of the Columbia Broadcasting System."

There was nothing in the report to indicate who the informants were, beyond the symbols used. Nor was there anything to indicate how reliable they were or how much credence the FBI placed in what they said.

In labeling the report on him most absurd, March said that "he is not me and my wife, too."

First Car Impounded

The city impounded its first car for overtime parking at 10:58 a. m. yesterday.

According to police reports, the car was driven by C. W. "Bill" Kennerly, 736 Barnes, and was parked just west of the Brown Derby Cafe. The car, Chief of Police Louie Allen said, was given a parking ticket at 9:41 a. m. and was towed to the city barn at 10:58 a. m.

It was still in the barn this morning waiting to be claimed by its owner.

According to provisions of the ordinance, Kennerly will be assessed a $3 towing fee, plus a $2 fine before he can have his car returned to him.

Up until noon today there was no attempt made by Kennerly to release his late model Dodge sedan from the car pound at the city barn, Allen said.

Holley Rites Tomorrow at 10

Funeral services for R. G. Holley, who died unexpectedly from the results of a heart attack yesterday, will be conducted at 10 a. m. tomorrow at the Lefors First Baptist Church, with the Rev. Dan Beltz, pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. A. G. Roberts of the Keltan Baptist Church.

Holley, 69, operated a dry goods store in Lefors until four years ago, when he retired because of poor health. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Jessie Holley, one daughter, two sisters and two grandchildren.

Burial will follow at Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

Palbearers will include Leland Peden, Ernest Everhart, Alva King, Frank Wall, Ollie Everhart and Edgar Brown.

ACCIDENT ENDS WILD CHASE—Two desperados, fleeing with a hostage, were captured by four farmers with shotguns near Morrowville, Kans., when their motor car crashed into a washed-out culvert. The three, shown in a Marysville, Kans., hospital where they were taken for treatment of critical injuries, are, left to right: Allan Hartman, 30, of St. Paul; Carl Blstrom, 26, and Bill J. Beatty, Jr., 21, Tekamah, Neb., the hostage. The capture of Hartman and Blstrom ended their wild, 75-hour flight across five states after they allegedly had killed a Minneapolis patrolman during an attempted robbery. It was not learned immediately where or how Beatty joined the fleeing men.

Statewide Decontrol Back In House With Senate Okay

AUSTIN (AP)—The issue of statewide decontrol was back in the House today with Senate approval.

The Senate passed finally the House measure late yesterday, 25 to 3, with two amendments after a six-hour filibuster was abandoned.

The House must either accept the Senate amendments or ask for a conference committee to work out a compromise.

Senator Jimmy Phillips of Angleton, who spread the session's sixth filibuster over two days in fighting the bill, said he would again filibuster any conference report on the matter.

One of the Senate amendments empowered cities to reestablish rent control with the Governor's approval if they find it necessary to cope with a housing shortage.

Phillips' prolonged debate had centered on a charge that the amendment was unconstitutional—that the federal decontrol act specifically provided that controls, once abandoned, could be returned only by federal legislation.

If the amendment were unconstitutional, the Senate took no chances of it invalidating the act of the bill. Another amendment rewrote in exacting language a provision already included in the bill by the House to preserve every part of the bill not specifically found invalid by court action.

Phillips yielded the floor at 6:25 p. m. yesterday for a vote on his motion to postpone a motion on the bill until Aug. 31. The motion lost, 20 to 5. He had held the floor in debate for four hours through the afternoon, for two hours the preceding morning and for 45 minutes the day before.

An attempt to put on an amendment that would have left decontrol authority up to city councils in areas where there are military installations was defeated, 17 to 11.

Senator James H. Taylor of Kerens, A. M. Aikin, Jr., of Paris and G. C. Morris of Greenville joined in pleading for adoption of that amendment.

Senator Kyle Vick of Waco, Senate sponsor of the decontrol bill, fought the amendment. "The war has been over four years and it's past me to do away with controls," he argued.

"Some people are going to be homeless as a result of this high pressure by property owners," he said. (See DECONTROL, Page 6)

Local Watch Repairman Succumbs

James Calvin (Jimmy) Wheeler, 56, died of a heart attack about 5:15 p. m. yesterday in the jewelry repair shop at his home, 1224 E. Francis. Mr. Wheeler was found by his wife, who is office nurse for Dr. Walter Purviance, Rose Building.

The victim, who was born Sept. 29, 1892, at LaFayette, Ga., is well known here. For a number of years he operated a jewelry repair shop in the old Fairview Drug. He came here from Dallas 22 years ago.

He leaves, besides his wife, Mrs. Estelle Wheeler; his mother, Mrs. T. R. Wheeler, McKinney, Texas; two sisters, Mrs. W. W. Wallthall and Mrs. Charles Shipman, both of McKinney; and three brothers, F. N. and Tom R., both of Dallas; and J. B., of Fort Worth.

Services will be conducted at the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Chapel at 2 p. m. tomorrow. Dr. Douglas Nelson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will conduct the ritual. Burial will be at Fairview Cemetery.

Palbearers will be Francis Hukill, Bob Morris, J. M. Fitzgerald, Jim Miller, J. T. Scarborough, and Leo Little.

Wind, Rain and Electrical Storms Hit Most of Texas

By The Associated Press
A 70-mile wind struck the Laredo, Tex., area during a brilliant electrical storm early today.

Trees, signs and fences were blown down and at the Laredo Airport a plane was overturned.

Heavy rain and hail also battered the South Plains last night, bringing further damage to wheat and cotton.

Highways were blocked near Olton, a train was stranded near Quitaque, Olton and Muleshoe were hit hard by hail and a near cloudburst struck Lubbock.

Streets at Hale Center were flooded and rains ranging from an inch to two inches fell throughout the area. Winds at Lubbock were 58 miles an hour.

The Fort Worth and Denver Train No. 101 was stranded at Quitaque, waiting for the line to clear of high water.

Grasshopper Plague Hits Grain Belt

DENVER (AP)—A new grasshopper plague is threatening the grain belt. To keep it from happening, an aerial task force will take off next week from Sheridan, Wyo., loaded with 'hopper poison.'

The target of the 30-plane armada will be 1,500,000-acre stretch in Wyoming and Montana which the U. S. Department of Agriculture calls the worst grasshopper nesting ground in the country.

The job will take about 30 days. The goal will be to wipe out a big, hungry, growing army of migratory 'hoppers. If left alone, this army would soon become as formidable as the one that gobbled $250,000,000 worth of crops in the Northern Plains states a decade ago.

Grasshopper plagues occur about once every ten years. "They have been growing in numbers the last three years," says Jim R. Dutton, chief of the USDA grasshopper control division. "If we didn't do something right now, next year would be tough."

"But we're going to do plenty. We don't intend to ever allow grasshoppers to reach plague proportions again."

The USDA doesn't know why the sparsely-vegetated areas to be "bombed" with poison happens to be such a notorious breeding ground.

But the worst armies of 'hoppers that ever attacked the grain belt came from there—the big, tough babies who have been responsible for some of the worst agricultural catastrophes in history.

When they hatch out, the 'hoppers eat up everything in the immediate neighborhood. Then, when their wings develop, they take off in swarms for croplands where the pickings are better. In plague years, these little Wyoming and Montana conifers have devastated crops from the Canadian border to Texas.

Pampan on Survey Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Rowher have received word that their son, Arthur L., has joined the United States Geological Survey and May 15, flew from Washington, D. C., to Alaska.

Arthur received special leave from the Smithsonian Museum. On his flight, he went by Minneapolis and Anchorage, Alaska, to Fairbanks, Alaska. Several days later, they flew north to the survey base camp on the Coleville River. From this point, Mr. Rowher, his assistant, and cook will be flown by ski plane to separate lakes to zone the Mississippian limestone of the Brooks Mountain range, paleontologically and stratigraphically.

The party will stay until the snow and ice gets too bad next fall.

Traffic Expert's Hair Turned White Tallying Auto Deaths

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Staff

AUSTIN — (AP) — A white-haired expert at the Texas Department of Public Safety headquarters here spends most of his waking hours figuring out why Texans get killed in auto accidents.

Ten years ago N. K. Woerner, chief of the department's statistical division, had blond hair.

"Now it's not even gray, the 41-year-old statistician said. "It's just plain white."

Woerner's figures show that 2,098 persons were killed last year in motor vehicle accidents on Texas streets and highways—an all time high. Another 60,000 persons were injured.

"That's why my hair is white," he said. "It's no fun to sit around here every day and juggle figures about people getting killed and maimed in automobile accidents. But we have to know what causes these accidents so we can work toward preventing them."

Woerner gets full backing from his boss, Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the department, and numerous safety associations and law enforcement agencies. He wishes he had the support of every driver and pedestrian in the state.

"Accidents don't just happen," Woerner declared. "They are caused."

"In every accident involving vehicles traveling in opposite directions, someone was on the wrong side of the road. Every intersection accident means that there was a right-of-way, stop sign or signal light violation.

When the causes of accidents are known, then steps can be taken to prevent accidents—or at least lessen them. That's where Woerner's figures—along with those of his four full-time assistants—come in. Traffic flow, relative speeds, concentration of enforcement, the frequency are some of the variable factors in accidents which make the statistics important.

Right now Woerner is worried about the high percentage of accidents on rural highways—not inside city limits.

"My wife gets after me every morning," Woerner says. "She says I'm so busy reading the paper to find out about accidents that I don't know what I eat for breakfast."

Woerner figures that 73 percent of all persons killed in auto crashes last year died on rural highways. The statistician laid down his pencil and put it in his pocket.

"During 1948, a total of 1,495 persons were driving or walking along rural highways. Crash, bang, blooie! They never got where they were going. They ended up in the graveyard."

There were only seven mornings out of 365 days in 1948 when Woerner read his paper without finding a fatal traffic accident. The gory figures ranged from single fatalities to 19 bodies left along the highways one July Sunday.

Woerner has a theory as to why 40 percent of the fatal accidents in rural areas occurred on Saturdays and Sundays.

Rural highways on weekends are made more hazardous by the many city drivers who flock to the country for picnics, fishing, and trips to nearby towns to visit friends and relatives," he said. "These drivers, accustomed to 30-mile-per-hour speeds, are not skilled in operating their vehicles at rural 60-mile-per-hour speeds. As a result these operators too often make the wrong decision or find themselves in a position where they lack the time to act."

Woerner found that one half of the fatal accidents on rural highways are the result of head-on collisions or a car running off the roadway.

"A complete system of divided highways would eliminate the head-on accidents," he said. "Bridging all highways with a brick wall would eliminate the run-off-roadway accidents. These things cannot be in our day, but we can and should drive as if they did exist."

Woerner does not agree with the advice that "to stay alive you must watch the other driver."

"This is a wise procedure," he says, "but we find that 63 percent of the rural fatal accidents involved only one vehicle."

Another factor Texas often overlooks, Woerner said, is the economic loss from motor vehicle accidents. The pocket-book drain in 1948 was $83,226,975.

"Just think of that," Woerner said. "Take that much in pay-

Epsom Salts Seep Into Drinking Water

TEMPLE — (AP) — Something new has been added to drinking water here—epsom salts.

Water Supt. N. E. Trostle confirmed the suspicions of many that something was different. He blamed an uncapped salt-water well, or possibly rainfall concentrated in area where the soil is rich in these minerals. Epsom salts is used most frequently as a laxative.

Trostle left hurriedly for Austin. He thought the State Board of Water Engineers may be able to help.

checks and you could buy 10,000 cy of intersections, and parking five-room houses at $7,500 each, 10,000 refrigerators at $250 each, 10,000 electric ranges at $200 each, 10,000 pairs of men's shoes at $15 each, 10,000 men's suits at $85 each, 10,000 radios at $25 each, and 1,239 automobiles at $2,000 each. That's a wad of dough."

If you are still unconvinced after glancing at Woerner's statistics, he suggests this:

"For visible evidence of the loss from accidents, notice the wrecked car graveyards scattered all over the state. Then visit your nearest hospital and see the patients who are trying to mend broken arms, legs, pelvis bones and necks. Then a few moments in your nearest cemetery will reveal the real loss that no amount of money could repay."

Texas Oil Output Up

TULSA, Okla. — (AP) — Thanks to healthy increase in Texas production, the nation's daily average output of crude oil increased by 18,840 barrels during the week ended June 4, the Oil & Gas Journal reported.

The Texas spurt — 13,375 barrels to 1,897,750 barrels — made the total daily average production 4,924,965 barrels.

Other sizeable increases included New Mexico, up 4,615 barrels to 134,440 barrels; Louisiana, up 3,225 barrels to 505,475; Mississippi, up 2,780 to 109,380; Kansas, 3,330 to 289,200, and Wyoming, 3,600 to 124,900.

The Eastern area increased 850 barrels to 62,300. Indiana gained 600 to 25,600. Florida was up 25 to 875. Kentucky added 100 to 24,300. Colorado gained 100 to 66,200. Montana was up 300 to 27,300 and Utah increased 150 to 800.

The largest declines were in Oklahoma, down 5,100 barrels to 428,000; Michigan, off 3,900 to 38,400, and California, 4,300 to 934,900.

Illinois fell 600 barrels to 176,400 and Arkansas dropped 350 to 79,900.

Rheumatic Heart Disease Is Leading Killer in Ages 10-25

AUSTIN — The disabling and often fatal disease of children, rheumatic heart disease, is one of the leading causes of death among children and young adults in the age group 10 to 25 years.

Unfortunately, there has been developed for this disease no vaccine such as we have for smallpox, diphtheria and whooping cough, but by recognizing the early symptoms and obtaining a competent physician's diagnosis and treatment, some of the damaging results of rheumatic heart disease can be prevented or moderated.

The state health officer, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, says that "in general the early symptoms of rheumatic fever are pain and swelling in the joints of the knees, ankles, elbows or wrists. The pain is felt usually in one of these joints, and spreads frequently to the others. Often a doctor's examination of a child who becomes irritable and cross without apparent cause, cries easily, and develops nervous habits, will disclose the presence of rheumatic heart disease."

Predisposing causes to this serious illness include frequent chilling, living in damp, stony quarters, poor diet, frequent colds, and sometimes scarlet fever or other infections caused by certain streptococcus germs. All such conditions should be avoided if at all possible.

Protection of children against rheumatic heart disease, should include a thorough physical examination by a physician at least once a year; a well balanced and nourishing diet; sufficient rest and sleep, and dressing at all times in accordance with the temperature of the room or playground. Consult a physician at once if any symptom suggests that this disease may be present or in the process of developing.

Texas Shows Big Jump in Factories

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Manufacturing in the four states of Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas took a big jump in the eight year span from 1939 to 1947.

This is shown in a report of the Census Bureau giving comparative figures on value added by manufacture in the four states.

Value added is the amount by which the value of manufactured shipments exceeds the cost of materials and supplies and thus is an index on manufacturing.

The report shows that in the four states in 1947 the total value added was approximately $3,000,000,000, compared with $800,000,000 in 1939. This was a 275 percent increase, the report said, compared with 29 percent for the country at large.

Texas led the four states in total value added in 1947. The Texas amount was $1,715,900,000; Arkansas had a total of $288,600,000; Louisiana $82,200,000; and Oklahoma $340,500,000.

Arkansas, however, led in percent. The Texas gain was 280 percent, Louisiana's was 250 percent and Oklahoma's 235 percent.

For Arkansas the report covered 7,124 manufacturing units employing 296,600 workers at a local salary outlay of $73,500,000. The larger industry groups and their respective value added included: petroleum and coal $386,000,000, food $380,000,000, chemicals $234,800,000, machinery except electrical, $129,800,000.

The Louisiana report covered 2,387 units employing 132,100 workers who were paid $308,900,

Moscow Ready to Take Major Hand in China Development

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Moscow at long last apparently is getting set to take a major hand in the development of a China that rapidly is coming under control of the Chinese Communist armies sweeping down from the North.

This far, the Russians have maintained a studied hands-off attitude. Now, however, a responsible East European diplomat in Paris says Soviet Deputy Premier Molotov has been placed in charge of Russia's policies in the Orient. This informant predicts an early shift in Moscow's attitude of "aloofness" toward the Chinese Reds.

Molotov's appointment in itself would lend support to this forecast, for he is Stalin's right hand. As a matter of fact observers have been expecting just such a development in Russian policy towards China. The time has come to start organizing that vast country as the keystone of Red influence in the Orient.

Heretofore Russia has played a very cautious game. She brought Manchuria within her sphere of influence, and then seemed to be most punctilious in her relations with Mao Tse-tung, the hard-boiled and efficient leader of the Chinese Communists.

Moscow's caution may have been due largely to the fact that Mao is a powerful leader and has exhibited Nationalist tendencies which don't fit in with Russia's edict that the sovereignty of Communist nations must rest with her. In short, there has been much speculation abroad whether Mao was developing into another Yugoslav Tito who would refuse to recognize Moscow's supremacy.

Whether this does indeed represent Mao's attitude remains to be seen. He is a good deal of an enigma. He got his start as a revolutionist back in 1911 in the rebellion which overthrew the Manchu dynasty. He holds that the peasants and not the working proletariat should form the basis of the Chinese upheaval. Pursuant to his idea he always has practiced fierce expropriation of holdings of landlords and the redistribution of land to the peasants.

However—and here is the puzzle—when critics say his party is out for agrarian reform only (as I myself have been told in China) he explodes: "Make no mistake about it. Ours is a party of communism." In any event, it will take a

Wound Doesn't Hold Bullfighter Back

JUAREZ, Mex. —(AP)—A deep horn wound didn't keep Rafael Rodriguez, 20-year-old bullfighter, from pleasing the aficionados here.

Rodriguez was wounded high in the left thigh near the groin by his first bull in a corrida Sunday afternoon. But he finished the fight—so skillfully that the crowd awarded him one of the bull's ears.

The young matador went back into the ring, despite the wound, and killed his second bull as well.

Gold Production in Texas Tops 1947

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Value of gold, silver, copper and lead ores mined in Texas in 1948 topped the 1947 total by more than $25,000, the Bureau of Mines reported.

Production in 1948 was valued at $75,611, compared to only $50,478 in 1947. This included 37 fine ounces of gold, $1,995; 3,064 fine ounces of silver, $2,774; 23 short tons of copper, $982, and 170 short tons of lead, $60,880. Counties with producing mines were Culberson, Hudspeth and Pecos.

LODGE HOME—This new home of the Knights of Pythias at the corner of N. Nelson and Aleock was dedicated last week. The building, estimated at a value of $15,000, was built over a period of months with the cooperation of a group of local business firms and of the 81 members of the local order. After a period of inactivity, the Pampa chapter was reorganized in 1938. It meets every Thursday evening and there are four auxiliary orders in the local organization.

North Texas Income Tax Refunds High

DALLAS —(AP)—North Texans have been getting more income tax refunds this year, says Kirby Jackson, assistant collector.

He said refunds in the area were about $11,500,000 higher during the five months beginning Jan. 1 than they were during about the same period last year.

"Refunds during the first five months of this year totaled $39,869,866 as compared with $28,301,797 during this period last year," he said.

Many Prizes Go to Those In Parade

Several valuable prizes will be awarded for the best and most originally decorated bicycles in the bicycle safety parade to be held here a week from Saturday, June 18, under the sponsorship of Montgomery Ward.

All bicycle riders, young and old, are eligible for the parade. All contestants must register with Don Ormsen, manager of the Sports Goods Department at Ward's.

The parade, being sponsored by Ward's, the Chamber of Commerce and The Pampa News, is being held in the interest of safer bicycle riding in this community.

A set of 12 rules of safety are given with each entry blank, together with a set of colorful wheel discs bearing the slogan, "I Ride Safely... Do You?"

Here are the rules of safe bike riding:

1. Obey stop-and-go lights. Walk your bike across streets with heavy traffic.
2. Observe one-way streets.
3. Signal left-turns by motorists.
4. Watch for hand-signals by motorists, so you can avoid hitting them.
5. Give pedestrians right-of-way, just as drivers of other vehicles do.
6. Ride in a straight line; don't wander all over the road as you ride.
7. Watch out for cars at crossings and pulling out of parking places.
8. Do not hitch on moving vehicles, a quick turn by the driver, or a bump in the road, will mean trouble.
9. Don't carry another person on your bike—you cannot steer it properly.
10. Have a white light in front and a red danger signal at the rear of your bicycle for night riding.
11. Have a satisfactory horn to warn others of your approach.
12. Keep your bike in good condition.

To Show or Not to Show—Answer No

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD —(AP)—To show or not to show.

That is the question facing millions of American women now that hot weather is approaching. Whether 'tis wiser on the beach to suffer the stares and glances of other sun-lovers by wearing a French bathing suit. Or to stick to the non-revealing models.

The Riviera-style bathing suit invaded these shores some time ago, but its popularity has been greater among male observers than female wearers. This summer will probably tell whether the scanty panties will be accepted in the U. S.

For opinions on this momentous question, I asked some of the style-setting glamor girls of Hollywood. Here is what they say:

Babara Stanwyck—"If I had a figure like Esther Williams', I'd be glad to wear a French bathing suit. She's one of the few girls who could look terrific in them. But they're not for me—no sir!"

Esther Williams—"I don't like them for two reasons: first and foremost, they are just not flattering. Secondly, they are impractical; you can't swim in them."

Claudette Colbert—"I disapprove of them for this reason: of the many features of a woman's anatomy, the navel is one of the least attractive."

Betty Grable—"If the French girls want to show their navels, it's all right with me; but you won't catch me in one of these suits. I'll stick to the American kind."

Gloria DeHaven—"French bathing suits are fine—for the back yard. There's nothing better for sun bathing. But in public they're taboo. I wear one in the back yard, but nowhere else."

Mavis Wilson—"I can't understand why girls go out and pay money for French suits. After all, you can make one yourself out of three or four hand-kerchiefs."

Fair Enough - Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1949)

NEW YORK. — Drew Pearson has announced in a manner calculated to give the charge the maximum publicity that he is suing me and King Features Syndicate, which distributes my compositions, for libel. He alleges that I libeled him in certain statements published under my name soon after the tragic death of James Forrestal.

James Forrestal, Pearson had broadcast the false and defamatory charge that Forrestal, a brave man with a proven record for courage in mortal danger, had run "out of the back door of his house into the alley, leaving his wife to cope with a jewel robbery alone."

As on a past occasion, Pearson put himself in the position of an injured innocent in the preliminary publicity and immediately began private overtures looking toward a settlement which would permit him to dodge the question whether he is or is not a lying blackguard. He is willing to withdraw his present suit if I would apologize and say publicly that he is neither a liar nor a blackguard.

I reiterate that he is both. He complains further that he was injured in his reputation, such as it is, by my revival of a statement published years ago by his ex-mother-in-law, the late Claire Patterson, of Washington. Her paper alleged that Pearson, as a Quaker, had "theed and thour'd" his way out of the first world war. I do not know whether he did "thee and thour" his way out of the second world war. I do not know whether he did "thee and thour" his way out of the third world war.

This is the second time Pearson has sued me. In such cases it is the usual practice of defense attorneys to bring the defendant to drop the subject until the suit is disposed of least the plaintiff be given ground to charge that the further publications prove malice. In the present case, my attorneys agree with my belief that Pearson brought this suit to muzzle me. Therefore, I am disregarding the usual course.

In the first case, Pearson complained because crawling and slithering about was withdrawn by Pearson and his co-plaintiff, the Bell Syndicate, without apology or retraction and without consent or consideration. A final plea was made that I should say "something good" about Pearson in print. I replied that I did not know anything good about him. I still don't.

On that occasion, I wrote that Pearson was a liar and faker in that he had said, in a national broadcast, that Frank Sinatra came to my "apartment" at the Waldorf on election night, 1944, to attack me and not finding me in, nevertheless got into the premises and violently disarranged the furniture. As Pearson could have ascertained if he had been a reporter instead of a reckless purveyor of falsehoods, I had no "apartment" but only one room and no such incident nor any other unusual incident or disorder occurred in that room, that night nor any other night during my stay. I ascertained by direct methods which are the basic practice of all newspaper reporters, that Sinatra visited Sidney Hillman's political headquarters, which were also the headquarters of the disguised Communist Party, and returned to his own apartment at the Waldorf where he kicked up a hysterical row. A house detective used force to subdue him. Had he come to my room, as Pearson said he did, I would have thrown him out.

In the sense of the word "blackguard" as I applied it to

The Entering Wedge of Socialism and Poverty

Many people seem to think that the New Deal and socialized medicine and rent control were the entering wedge of state socialism. The entering wedge of state socialism started some 60 or 75 years ago. The entering wedge of state socialism was tax supported schools.

It makes no difference whether the governmental body that coerces people to pay taxes and attend schools is a small unit and called the board of education or whether it is the county unit or the state unit or the federal unit. About the second wedge was tax supported parks and tax supported hospitals. If a man believed in public schools or tax supported parks or hospitals, if he is at all consistent, he should believe in socialized medicine, free houses, and general price control. Governor Warren is right when he says that socialized medicine is on the same principle as tax supported schools. It cannot be consistent and believe in one and not believe in the other.

Public parks and tax supported schools and tax supported hospitals are not even good for the very poor. They are good for the poor because they teach them that they are a special class of people who are entitled to get a service in an involuntary way and do not have to pay for it.

Mr. Brannan hopes that it will not exceed present expenditures, while other agricultural economists foresee a new tax burden of from ten to fifteen billion dollars a year.

England, for instance, inaugurated a similar plan with the expectation that it would cost only fifty million dollars annually. Although the British still struggle along on a thin diet, their version of the Brannan formula now dents the London Treasury for approximately two-and-a-half billion dollars a year.

GRPE — The experimental critics, however, begin by pointing out that the retail price of perishables — meat, dairy products, fruits, vegetables, etc. — is determined only partially by the amount which the farmer receives. His low return has been its toll, as do bridges and highways built and financed under a self-liquidating system. Every hand that contributes to the marketing process and progress has its price.

Accumulating charges between the farm and the corner-grocery store include the cost of transportation, insurance, processors' take, the middleman's handling expense and the retailer's profit. WASHINGTON — Informal food experts doubt whether Secretary Brannan's novel scheme for letting prices of perishable foods fall to a demand-and-supply level and subsidizing the farmers at a higher figure will result in a sizable saving in the family budget. Their confidential analyses explain why even congressmen from urban consumers' areas are still cold toward the idea.

The cynics do not level their criticism dogmatically. Like Mr. Brannan, they admit that they do not know yet what the overall cost of appeasing both the growers and the eaters will be, or whether it will top the current charges for the straight-out parity payment system.

Car Design Is Well Frozen

FRENCH LICK, Ind. — (AP) — Car design is pretty well frozen for the next few years. There may be some minor alterations — changed grilles and trim — but no major differences currently are being planned. It appears certain that the standard automobile has just about reached its maximum dimension. It also seems certain that the car makers are not going to increase the overall weight. These are some of the conclusions of auto engineers here for the summer meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

There can be no real economic freedom unless the few men who run the largest corporations can control the flow of essential goods and determine the price at which they shall sell. — Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Again the old cry is raised: "If Congress would just pack up and go home, the country could settle down and go to work." It happens every year about this time.

Babies Find New Home

DALLAS — (AP) — Two babies — unaware their parents and four grandparents were killed in a car crash — may be given a new home here.

They are blue-eyed Steve Balyeat, 19 months, and his sister, dark-haired Patricia, 5 months. "I want to take the children," said their uncle, Charles Douglas Coppinger of Dallas. "They are all that is left to me of my family."

The infants' father, John Thomas Balyeat, 33, Elkhardt, Ind., died Sunday in the Navasota Hospital, seventh victim of a head-on collision last Friday night near Waller. Coppinger is the only brother of Mrs. Balyeat, also killed in the crash. The Balyeats were returning from Coppinger's graduation at Texas A&M when the accident happened.

The babies had been cared for at the William H. Sealy home at Houston. Early Monday they were brought to Dallas — to the Coppinger home where they'll have 18-month-old Charles William Coppinger to play with. "There's plenty of room here for Steve and Patricia," said a member of Coppinger's family. "Charles just moved into a new home last week. And he hopes very much that he'll get to keep Steve and Patricia."

Many unit leaders were polled and the results showed an almost unanimous desire for the change. By lowering the age for Boy Scouts, it was felt the boys would have a chance to get a better start in Scouting since they could begin while they were still in grade school, rather than wait until they started junior high.

Age Levels in Scouting to Be Lowered in September

Beginning Sept. 1 the age level of all three branches of Scouting will be lowered one year, Paul Beisenherz, executive of the Adobe Walls Area Council, said this morning.

Cub and Senior Scouting in the council will show great increases at that time, he said.

At the National Executive Board meeting in Boston during the latter part of May, it was decided by the Boy Scouts of America board that Cub Scouts will include boys eight, nine and ten years old; Boy Scouts 11, 12 and 13; and Senior Scouts, 14, 15 and 16.

The board, for the past several years, has considered lowering the age levels. It was at last decided that the broader experiences of boys today over the boys 35 years ago when the Scouting program was organized necessitated the lowering of the age requirements.

Senior Scouts will be called explorers and Scouts will automatically become explorers upon reaching the age of 14. The explorer program may be conducted in separate units or a crew within troops.

The change was made after study was given to the matter.

Bids Received For 'Largest Dam'

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — Mexico has four bids for construction of what she calls "the world's largest dam."

The structure will be in the Papalopan River Valley development in Southern Veracruz State—Mexico's TVA. It will be named for President Miguel Aleman, whose administration began the development.

The dam will store up to five billion cubic meters of water for irrigation, hydro-electric power and flood control.

Four corporations submitted construction bids ranging from $6 to 108 million pesos. The government calculates it should cost $7,234,428 pesos ($11,600,000), and take three years to build.

Beaumont Officer Restored to Status

AUSTIN — (AP) — Jefferson County representatives went to work to correct the enthusiasm of the Fort Worth delegation in the House.

Rep. Otis Lee of Fort Worth introduced a bill to give legal status to the Jefferson County probation officer.

It seems that when Fort Worth representatives got a bill passed raising the salary of their probation officer, they left the Beaumont officer high and dry through a technicality on population brackets.

Time and War Have Spared Home of Mental Conflicts

By HAL BOYLE

VOULLY, France — (AP) — Time and war have spared both Madame Hamel and her ancient stone chateau. And both are now weathering the peace well.

For to them it was one of the great battlefields of the campaign. Around and inside its cream gray walls raged terrible conflicts. But they were all world battles, and all the wounds were mental.

The battles were between newsmen and censors of the American First Army's press camp, which headquarters in the chateau from the story of the memorable war in Normandy went out to the world.

I went back to see the place with Ivan (Cy) Esterman of the Philadelphia Inquirer and Tom Henry of the Washington Star. We turned off the highway into a leaf-bowered lane between two old hedgerows down which the time-stained chateau has looked for centuries.

There was great excitement in the household when we rolled into the courtyard. Madame Hamel herself, a white-haired woman in her seventies, who has retained the blue eyes of childhood, hobbled out to meet us. She gave us each in turn an apple-pink cheek to kiss.

And when the rest of the family tumbled out we saw that something new had been added—two small grandsons. They were the children of her only son, Dumilly, a shy farmer of 40-odd who had spent three years as a prisoner of the Germans.

"Les correspondants!" cried Madame Hamel. "Les correspondants!"

It was a wonderful reunion. The family made us come into the living room, where still wander the ghosts of some of the finest censor-slain phrases never printed.

They gave us some wafers and wine and a few nips of rare old Calvados liqueur. Madame Hamel showed us a number of letters written to her by soldiers who had enjoyed her hospitality, and "Cy" made appropriate remarks in this impeccable Pennsylvania Dutch French.

I walked to a bright sunny corner of the room that had been the favorite working place of Ernie Pyle. There on the table was the cover of an old magazine with Ernie's picture on it, and I wanted to cross the drying mat for old times sake, and then we rode away. And none of us looked back, because it was a world in which we no longer really belonged.

Polio Cases Show Sharp Decline

AUSTIN — (AP) — Polio cases reported last week dropped sharply but the State Health Department warned that no encouragement should be taken from the decline.

Total new cases reported through June 4 were 37 compared with 72 the previous week, said Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer.

"Let's don't be too happy about that," he warned. "You can't tell about polio. There should be no let-up in the clean-up campaign against it."

Uprooted Gaza Arabs Learn In Open Air Class Rooms

ARABS—For these Arab youngsters, children of refugees, the "three R's" begin with a story about washing their hands.

By COBRINNE HARDESTY
GAZA, Palestine — (NEA) —
 "We will learn our lessons, and we will go home," said little Hashim Muad, who walked with his family last summer down the rocky road from Yelma to find refuge in Gaza, 30 miles away.
 Young Hashim is one of more than 20,000 Arab children learning the "three R's" and a good many other things in buildings reclaimed from former prison or refugee camps, in tents or under the sky.
 They are the children of Arabs who fled to this area in southern Palestine from 50 or more villages to the north and east during Israeli-Arab hostilities.

 contract have been useless and, to date, fruitless.
 Bargaining sessions with Southern producers at Bluefield, W. Va., broke up yesterday with both sides calling names. Lewis is due to start separate contract talks with the U.S. Steel Corp. for its mines at Philadelphia next Monday, the day his strike begins.

The big contract stumbling block so far is this: Lewis wants more money for his 100,000,000-a-year union welfare fund — possibly through a boost of as much as 100 percent in the 20-cent-a-ton production royalty. Operators want the royalty reduced if possible, and payments out of the fund trimmed.

Boy Closes Three In Old Ice Box

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark. — (P) — Arkansas State police reported today a 10-year-old boy said he slammed shut the door of an unused ice box, causing deaths of three other children.

Police Lt. H. R. Peterson identified the boy as James (Buddy) Chesser, uncle of one of the victims.

The police officer quoted James as saying the children were playing "I-spy" when all three climbed into the old-fashioned wooden box last Friday.

Then, Peterson continued, the boy related:

He shut the door of the box and was unable to get it open. "My mother called me then to go to the store. I was scared. I ran home and went to the store. Then I forgot."

The victims were James Delbert Chastain, two, and Joyce Ann Chastain, nine, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Chastain and Shirley Ann Ramsey, six, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ramsey.

Bette Davis Answers—What's Wrong in Movies?

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—What's wrong with the movies? Free-thinking Bette Davis comes up with an answer to the oft-heard question.
"Hollywood tries to combine entertainment for both kids and adults in the same picture. The result is a movie which isn't suitable for either."
She looks less like Bette Davis and more like a vivacious Spanish dancer these days, because of her black wig for "Beyond the Forest." But when she comes across with some startling statements, you realize it's Bette, all right.
"That's what the English pictures have over American ones," she continued. "They make pictures for children only and pictures for adults only."
"Kids like any kind of picture, whether they understand it or not. But it stands to reason that the gangster and murder pictures they see have some influence on them. The movies glamorize crime and criminals, and kids are very impressionable."
"On the other hand, we don't have honest adult pictures on the screen, either. In the last 10 15 years movies have become so restricted that today it is impossible to portray true emotions on the screen.

"I'm not making a plea for dirty movies—just honest ones."
Miss Davis declared that censorship is more severe on women than men in films.
"That's a natural outgrowth of the war; the best roles are for men," she said. "This sort of thing runs in cycles."
She concluded with her idea of what movies should do, and producers might well study this:
"Movies are a combination of entertainment with teaching. If there is a moral or lesson to learn from a picture, it should be presented subtly."
"A picture should never try to tell an audience what is right or wrong. The point should be put over by the actions of the characters. The audience resents being told what to do."
Although the sun is much larger than the moon, the difference in distance is so great that from the earth they appear to be about the same size.

MOVIE FILMING—In top picture, cameraman and filming experts of Caravel Films, Inc., New York City, shoot colored, moving pictures of the Pampa News high-speed press for a place in an educational film for Cabot Companies. Bottom picture shows a high-powered generator, Diesel-operated, which Cabot rented from Dallas to make a series of pictures in the various states where Cabot has industrial operations. The "shots" of the newspaper press are to emphasize the use of carbon black in making ink used in printing newspapers. H. H. Hahn, Cabot official, is serving as a technical advisor and making arrangements for the pictures which will be released to Cabot next fall.

Other new officers named at the convention are M. D. Fanning of San Angelo, vice president; Herman Brown of Corsicana, secretary-treasurer, and Joe Cooley of Borger, Rex Jennings of Mount Pleasant, W. Hammond Moore of Temple and Melvin Sisk of Sherman, directors.

Reward for Reuther Assaults Increased
DETROIT—(AP)—A $200,000 reward was offered by the CIO United Auto Workers in the search for the assailants of Walter Reuther.
The union thus doubled its previous $100,000 reward offer in last spring's shooting of Walter Reuther—adding another like sum in the attack last May 24 on Victor.
This brought the total rewards in both attacks to $218,000, including offers from the Detroit City Council and other groups.

While Fracture Healed, Mae Worked on 'Toughest Cast'

By JAMES THRASHER
NEW YORK (NEA)—All the wise gossips along Broadway were saying gee whiz Mae West must be going crazy—ten weeks, think of it, laid up with a busted ankle, and her never sick a day of her life.

"It was the toughest cast I ever had to work with," she said, "and I've had some dandies. What did I do all that time in bed? Well, I worked on a novel called 'Joe Casanova.' You know who Casanova was? You know what a heel is? Yeah? Well, this Joe is both.

"I started him two years ago and let him lie for a while. I haven't finished with him yet. Did I read as well as you? No, I didn't read much."

The business about never being sick a day in her life was almost literally true. The first performance she ever missed in more years of show business than she cares to specify was last January in Baltimore. The doctors said she had appendicitis.

"I walked out of the hospital with a temperature of 102 and did a show," she said. "But you can't walk out on a fracture."

It's well she didn't try, for she was told that if she had taken a step after the accident she would really have been in trouble.

After that came 10 weeks in a cast, during which, along with a continuous performance of phone calls, telegrams and flowers, there was a little matter of income—or lack of it—from the hit melodrama, "Diamond Lil."

But there also was $40,000 worth of advance sales in the bank.

Whether "Lil" is a continuous performance itself or a revival is a matter of argument in the foot-light fraternity, but it has resumed again with its original cast, Miss West having discarded the one on her ankle.

"There are a lot of out-of-towners who came in to see the play, and they're still waiting," she said. "Why, three young men came all the way up here from Cuba. They've been here four weeks and they won't leave."

Miss West's vehicle is, of course, the hit of 20 years ago in which she first issued her famous invitation to come up and call. She took it to England last year for eight months in London and two more in the provinces. The actresses, a bunch of old Mae's movie fans, loved it. So did the press. Even the critic of the Manchester Guardian broke down and cheered.

Miss West admits that "maybe some of my plays were a little ahead of their time." But "Diamond Lil," she reports, gets the same reaction that it did in 1929. She hasn't changed a line or a situation, and she gets her laughs in the same places.

"My doctor tells me that my broken ankle is stronger than it ever was," she said. "He says that the Mae West glide—or whatever you want to call it—is better than ever."

Paulette Goddard claims she has no money mind, but what other star can get paid $100,000 for not doing? That's what she collected for not doing "Yellow Sky." After she was signed, tests showed she wasn't right for the role. Anne Baxter substituted.

Ray Milland, who has the fishing bug, takes off soon for Balboa and ocean fishing and then East Yellowstone and trout. Ray asked for some photos of his action scenes in "Copper Canyon." It seems his son, Gary Cooper, fan and Ray wanted to prove he can be as rugged.

Sam Goldwyn may shelve his "Earth and High Heaven," for which he paid a heavy sum. He can't get a workable script, and there have been too many other films on intolerance.

Hepburn plans Long Vacation From Movieland

By ROB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Katharine Hepburn plans to take a prolonged vacation from films. The actress finishes her MGM contract with her current film, "Adam's Rib." In October she begins rehearsals of "As You Like It" for the Theater Guild. If it's a hit, she'll be in the play most of next year, although she may return here for a picture next summer.

"I'm very excited about it," she told me. "It's the first classic I've ever done. And I love to tour with a show."

Hepburn is again co-starring with Spencer Tracy in "Adam's Rib" and it's a delight to watch them work. Much kidding goes on between scenes, as when Tracy admired her in an evening gown and commented, "she doesn't look a day over 50."

Jack Benny is responsible for getting Phil Harris his straight acting role in "Wabash Ave." When Jack heard Producer Bill Perlberg mean that he couldn't get Paul Douglas for the role, he replied, "Harris can do anything Douglas can do."

The comic talked Perlberg into testing Harris for the role and he got the job. "This is the first part I've had that wasn't all teeth and eyes," says the curly-topped bandleader.

Newlywed Mickey Rooney is slated to start preparations for "The Big Wheel" this week. His company took reels of the racing at Indianapolis Memorial Day and the footage will be used in the film. It's the story of a kid's race from hot-rods to the big race.

Be Your Age, Live Longer

AUSTIN—There is an old slang expression that would make a good slogan for living a longer and more comfortable life, and that is "Be your age." According to the state health officer, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, many persons injure their health and endanger their life through indulgence in exercises and vigorous sports unsuited for their age and physical condition.

"While a young man in prime physical condition may benefit from a fast game of tennis, older men and women have been known to collapse and suffer serious heart attacks following such a game. The same thing applies to golfing, swimming and other vigorous sports," Dr. Cox said.

"Persons of middle age should never participate in activities requiring violent physical exertion, and should confine their physical exercises to such bounds as their doctor prescribes," Cox asserted.

The state health officer suggested that all persons of middle age be examined by their physician, before planning their summer vacation activities. A vacation can easily be more exhausting than refreshing, and in such event, more harm than benefit results from the time thus spent.

Fishing, boating, hiking in moderation, and many other light recreations can be engaged in by the older people who must avoid heart strain, and it is a wise precaution to have your doctor advise you as to what sort of vacation you should plan.

Introductions Prove Humorous

An impromptu introductory program was held yesterday by the Pampa Rotary Club during its weekly meeting in the Palm Room, City Hall.

Rotarian Charlie Powell appointed one man at each table to name and classify each man around him. Some of the introductions were humorous and marked with witticisms.

Club singing was led by Virgil Mott and Rev. E. Douglas Carver presided over the meeting.

Part of New School Plan Now in Effect

AUSTIN—(AP)—Plans for putting part of the Gilmer-Aikin school program into immediate effect were announced Sunday after Gov. Beauford H. Jester signed the last two school reform bills.

State Auditor C. H. Cavness, who will temporarily administer the program until a commissioner of education can be selected, named L. P. Sturgeon of New Boston as director of the foundation school program division.

J. Warren Hitt of Austin will be assistant director; William A. Harrison, now assistant state auditor, will be audits supervisor, and P. E. Hutchison will head the program review section.

The state auditor was named in Senate Bill 116 as interim school administrator until terms of the law providing for an elected board of education—which will ultimately name the commissioner of education—can go into effect next fall. The elected board is provided for in Senate Bill 115 which does not become effective until 90 days after the end of the session.

The two bills provide for a minimum school program, a $2,400 minimum salary for beginning teachers, a new means of financing public education, and a new fund from which school districts will draw extra state aid on a basis of need.

Claud Gilmer of Rock Springs and Senator A. M. Aikin, Jr., of Paris, who introduced the resolutions in House and Senate, respectively, last session to start the long-range study of Texas education, were present at the signing.

"The purposes of this legislation are to correct weaknesses and inequities in our present system, pay our teachers adequately, provide for equalized state aid and equalized local support, and assure the people of Texas that their school tax money will be well spent," Jester said.

The total overall cost has been estimated variously from $180,000,000 to $210,000,000 a year.

Bill Amends Law As to Issuance of Special Permits

House Bill 465, amending certain sections of the highway laws pertaining to the issuance of special permits has been passed by the 51st Legislature, a report from D. C. Greer, state highway engineer, disclosed today.

The law provides that the fee shall be $5 for single trip permits, $10 for time permits not exceeding 30 days and that if equipment exceeds any of the local limitations, it must be registered for the maximum gross weight applicable to such vehicle under the law.

Because a vehicle has been registered, it does not mean that it is eligible for a permit. To be eligible for hauling under a permit, the load must be overweight or oversize and be such that it cannot be reasonably dismantled.

In order to allow sufficient time for truckers to comply with the law, June 20 has been set for the registration requirements to become effective.

Sinatra to Mark 10th Anniversary

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Frank Sinatra will mark his 10th anniversary in show business during a concert engagement June 25 at Atlantic City's steel pier.

He has asked his fan clubbers all over the world to send him post cards depicting their home towns. After he reads them, the cards will be sent to children's wards in hospitals.

Now a million-dollar industry, Sinatra has come a long way since he decided to abandon sports writing for singing 10 years ago. Gregory Peck has been reading "The Glass Menagerie" script and he may do the film after "12 o'Clock High." That would add up to a high-voltage cast. Already set are Jane Wyman as the daughter and Jack Carson as the caller. Helen Hayes and Tallulah Bankhead are being sought for the mother role.

Jack Carson is warring with Warners. He objects to being the studio's utility man while other male stars get the acting plum.

He would like to do one high comedy, one low comedy and one drama a year. But he hasn't been given a drama since "Mildred Pierce."

Paulette Goddard claims she has no money mind, but what other star can get paid $100,000 for not doing? That's what she collected for not doing "Yellow Sky." After she was signed, tests showed she wasn't right for the role. Anne Baxter substituted.

Things Just Don't Add Up On Congressional Scene

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Maybe it's my arithmetic that's bad but you can't always make it add up: what members of Congress say and what they do.

Take economy, for instance. Ever since January they've been talking of cutting government expenses. Now it's June. They're not cut yet. I'm beginning to wonder whether they'll cut at all this year.

Nobody's talked more about it than the senators. But when it came to doing something about it, they voted almost all the way down the line to spend more money than the House. Example:

For the Treasury and Post Office Departments — House, $3,072,817,908; the Senate, $3,119,065,503 or $46,247,600 more.

Labor Department and Federal Security Agency — House, $2,211,794,985; the Senate, $2,409,827,265, or $197,832,280 more.

Agriculture Department — House, $701,122,079; the Senate, $723,083,249, or $21,961,170 more.

River, harbors and waterway development — House, $688,292,270; the Senate, $751,440,690, or $63,148,420 more.

Americans Still Have Many Friends in St. Lo, France

By HAL BOYLE
ST. LO, France — (AP) — Here in this town five years ago we Americans and our allies killed many friends while trying to dislodge the enemy. Yet we still have many friends here, although our bombs destroyed their homes and many of their relatives.

It is a strange punishment in wartime that it is sometimes necessary to kill the friend you love in order to defeat the enemy you hate.

That is a lesson that people in our broad land of power can never afford to forget. Our young men came here from across the sea in the cause of freedom—prize to many St. Lo patriots the price of freedom was death.

Here in St. Lo, man paid an expensive price for the liberty that everyone craves. And if America doesn't back the freedom principle, then it has all gone for naught.

So many stay-at-home Europeans judge us too quickly, without knowing us well, without realizing we are the most morally impatient people on earth. This is our hour of power. And we are trying to use our world power, for all our human and inhuman errors, to make it as free from fear and want as we can.

We do not assume that happiness and good living are only for our people, or one class among our people. We may be noisy, but we are not deeply selfish. Many of us realize we cannot stay comparatively rich in a world of wide poverty. Our aim is to end want, but to preserve the liberty without which the wealthiest man is a pauper.

If we miss our aims ourselves, it isn't because we don't feel that all men should be free and happy. It's only in our own great land that we haven't been great enough to shape and deliver a perfect world. But it's the world we believe in with all our moral might and it's the world we try to make come true. And some day it will come true, though we don't rule the world, as no one country should.

Here, where we hurt our friends, it is good to know that some remember and forgive.

We Americans who fought to drive the German from this town will never forget. If we helped tear you apart, and Lord knows we did, we also know you belong to us in your ruins exactly as we belong to you in our strength. We are as helpless—big and powerful as we are—as you are helpless. Our courage is our common salvation.

We can rebuild St. Lo and the world—you and we who helped beat both to pieces, only insofar as we believe in each other. Only through mutual faith can we reassemble the scattered stones of our time and make a living monument to man—the inheritor of hate but also the only possible architect of order in the world.

Value of Derby Scholarship Has Been Raised to $5,000

The four-year college scholarship which is awarded annually to the national champion of the American Soap Box Derby has increased in value from $1,000 to $5,000. It was announced by T. H. Keating, general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Division, co-sponsor of the Derby. The Derby is held at Pampa by The News-Person Chevrolet, and the Pampa Lions Club.

In previous years, the second-place winner in the national event, which will be run Aug. 14-15 at Akron, O., will be awarded a 1949 Chevrolet sedan. The winner may select the model and the boys who finish third, fourth and fifth. Each year the national champion of the Soap Box Derby is awarded a scholarship to the college of his choice, said Keating. "To meet present day conditions, Chevrolet has increased the cash value of this scholarship. By taking this action we believe that the first prize will attract to the most important award in amateur sports."

A new award for the 1949 All-American Soap Box Derby champion will be this handsome gold ring, an additional symbol of the champ's victory over 40,000 contestants throughout the nation. The award is made by Bardach Bros., Indianapolis, and is similar in design to that awarded annually to the winner of the 500-Mile Race at the Indianapolis Speedway.

Box Derby ring is of gold, with the official Derby emblem in enamel mounted on the top. On each side is the checkered flag of victory, with the year inscribed at the side of the flag. The merchandise awards that go to the place winners, as announced by Derby headquarters, are: third place, a motion picture camera and projector; fourth place, a Webster portable wire-recorder; fifth place, a pair of Navy type eight-power binoculars. The Collins and Aikman award, a three-sitter traveling bag, goes to the builder of the best-upholstered car; and the Shell Oil Co. award, an Eastman Medallist Kodak, goes to the builder of the best constructed car.

At each local race, including the Pampa race, the champion will receive the W. F. Armstrong trophy, a handsome plaque depicting a Derby racing car crossing the finish line. In addition each local champion will receive, at the champions' banquet in Akron, a Bulova sweep second-hand wrist watch and a framed national finals racing diploma.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

Somewhere in Normandy—(?)—far hurts the land less than people who live on the land. And this story could just as well be titled "With the American Forces in Normandy in Memory." Because, as you come back you'll find that's all the war has come down to here. Just your own memory—bitter or sweet.

The American Army came in its pomp and passed on just as a small army with more pomp in previous centuries came and passed.

But the imprint of William the Conqueror is heavier on the land today than Eisenhower the First. And while there was a big shot here almost nine centuries ago, whereas like was here only five years ago. The difference probably boils down to the fact that vigorous William—the man who dared to cross the English Channel that Adolf Hitler didn't—was a home town boy. And all of us who came here under Ike were only military transients to the steadfast natives of Normandy.

We probably didn't really have too much to offer the Normans. They are rugged and crochety and freedom-loving individuals just as we like to think we are. They drink cider as we do.

The Normans are florid peasants who differ from Iowa soil merchants only in that they prefer the horse to the tractor and they still would rather die and go to heaven than live and retire in California. So it will always be as it has been for centuries. Hundreds of thousands of Germans and Americans and Britons fought across this soil five years ago. Normandy was choked with their noise and their weapons. What is left? The graves of those who stayed.

world a historic battlefield. But he never let himself be drawn too much into the struggle. He speaks a few words of German, a few words of English—but he still understands the language of his milk cows better than anything except his own close-mouthed family.

His land is as loyal to him as he is to it. The scars of war have been covered with lush grass and surging trees. Come back today, soldier, and you'll find it's hard to find the place you fought in. It is now only in your mind. The land has outgrown war here and forgotten it. It has healed itself, just as people, who grow more slowly and cure themselves less easily would like to. It holds no memories of what people would like to forget—and can't.

Experiment on Sex of Baby Is Being Exhibited

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. —(AP)—An experiment in the study of the possible pre-determination of the sex of a baby was a feature attraction at the American Medical Association's annual scientific exhibit. Drs. Deryl Hart and James D. Moody of Duke Hospital at Durham, N. C., exhibited charts and diagrams based on studies of human twins and experimental breeding of rats.

Hart and Moody said statistics on the human twins and the percentage of male offspring as compared to the female in their rat breeding indicate the sex of offspring is influenced by a time factor between insemination and the implanting of the male seed and ovulation (when the female egg is ripe for development).

They said they increased the number of male rats born by delaying insemination "until varying hours after the expected time of ovulation; the greater the time interval after ovulation, the greater was the percentage of males."

DOWN IN THE DUMPS—A couple of scavengers try on brand-new gas masks for size in a Chicago dump. A war surplus dealer is having two million of them burned because he can find no market for them. The masks cost the government $1.25 each during the war. The dealer paid five cents per mask last year and now has them piled three stories high in his warehouse.

Ernestine Taylor Married Recently To Harold Seay

LIFEPORES—(Special)— In a simple ceremony Thursday evening, May 26, Miss Ernestine Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Taylor, became the bride of Mr. Harold Seay of Roswell.

The vows were exchanged at the Baptist Parsonage with the Rev. Dan Beltz reading the single ring service.

Miss Ina Jean Taylor, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor, and Mr. J. R. Taylor was best man.

The bride was attired in a dress of royal blue taffeta, with fitted bodice and ballerina skirt, and white accessories.

Immediately following the wedding, the couple left on their honeymoon which included points of interest in New Mexico and the Rio Grande valley.

Mrs. Seay was graduated from Lefors High School this spring. The bridegroom is employed by the Phillips Petroleum Co. He is the son of Mrs. W. R. Seay of Roswell, N.M.

The couple will make their home in Uvalde, Texas.

Tailored valances such as these are smart, easy-to-make frames for windows. For flower-sprigged chintz valance (left), plate serves as guide for outlining half-circle scallops along edge (inset left). Elastic, slipped through pocket along back of valance, is thumb-tacked to narrow wood frame (inset center) to hold fabric taut. Heavier plaid cotton valance with padded edge (right) is nailed to frame.

Pretty Valances Are Easy to Make

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Want to frame your windows for spring with the kind of full-dress valances which decorators use?

You can, and at little expense, says Kay Hardy, author of "How to Make Your Own Draperies."

This expert, who knows all the short cuts, will guide your hand in making straight, tailored valances with a professional-looking padded or scalloped edge. For these, she says a yard or two of fabric and only the skill of an amateur are needed.

To assemble a new valance with old draperies, choose a fabric that picks up the color of drapery material. One expert suggests teaming a patterned fabric with solid-color curtains are vice versa.

The board to which finished valance is attached need be nothing more elaborate than a narrow wood frame which a husband-and-wife can make. As effective, says Miss Hardy, is a shelf set on bracket supports placed at each side of window frame.

To make valance, measure length and sides of valance board, allowing an extra inch at each end for hems. Proportion your valance width to the height of your windows—wide valances for tall windows, narrow valances for low windows. Cutting a paper pattern to follow when you snip out the fabric is advised. Using the same pattern to cut out a lining from cotton or sateen to give valance more body is likewise advised.

To outline even half-circle scallops on fabric, Miss Hardy suggests using a plate as your guide and drawing around the edge with a soft lead pencil.

If you want to finish your valance with a puffy, padded edge, says Miss Hardy, to wrap a strip of fabric about five inches wide around a narrow roll of cotton batting. Next, pull the raw edges together evenly and pin between the turned-under edges of valance and valance lining. Now, stitch the four thicknesses of fabric together, and it's ready to hang.

To attach finished valance to the board so that it is taut, you may tack the fabric to the wood.

Miss Annie Jo Hill Weds Mr. Krivokapich in Higgins

HIGGINS—(Special)— Miss Annie Jo Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther B. Hill, Higgins, became the bride of Mr. Rosko Krivokapich, Raton, N.M., in an afternoon ceremony, June 5, at the Church of Christ in Higgins.

Minister Gorin Rutherford read the double ring service.

Wagner's "Wedding March" was used for the processional and recessional. The vows were exchanged before an altar banked with arrangements of white roses, lilies, palms, and candelabra.

Miss Amanda Jean Hill, sister of the bride, wore a period gown of white frosted organdy over pink taffeta. She also had a corsage of pink and white rosebuds.

Candle lighters were the bride's cousins, Miss Karlene Weeks of Amarillo and Miss Peggy Weeks of Loveland. They were attired in pink and blue taffeta, designed with full skirts and drop-shoulder necklines.

Acting as his brother's best man was Alex Krivokapich of Las Cruces, N.M. Ushers were Jesse Weeks of Wheeler, Dale Weeks of Burkett, and Tex and Loyd Honta of Stillwater, Okla.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white lace gown, styled with a peplum cascading to the floor in the back over an ivory satin underskirt. Her veil was of white bridal illusion, falling from a crown of lace and satin. She carried a white Bible topped with orchids, rosebuds, and stephanotis.

Mrs. Hill, mother of the bride, was attired in a summer suit of rose silk shantung with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink gardenias.

A reception was held in the parsonage immediately following the ceremony.

For traveling the bride chose a suit of navy faille and chamoise silk shantung. She complemented her attire with an orchid corsage.

For the summer the couple will be at home in Denver, Colorado. The bride was graduated from Abilene Christian College, and taught in Greenville, N.M., this past year.

Mr. Krivokapich was graduated from New Mexico Agricultural and Mechanical College at Roswell, N.M. He is an agricultural instructor and athletic coach at the Greenville High School.

The Babylonians developed banks as early as 2,000 B. C.

Mrs. Mary Ann Duke Main Speaker For Bell Home Demonstration Club

Mrs. Mary Ann Duke spoke to the Bell Home Demonstration Club at a recent meeting of that group in the home of Mrs. Henry Duesterhaus, 400 N. Gray.

Mrs. Duke spoke on the relationship of a healthy mind and body, stressing that a happy mind is necessary for maintaining a healthy body.

Mrs. W. H. Noel was formally welcomed as a new member to the club. Mrs. C. E. Melton and Miss Mildred Baggerman were introduced as guests.

Mrs. Emmett Osborne gave a report on accidents in the home and stated that falls, burns, and poisoning accounted for most of the casualties.

"How to Make Money Fast," the recreation for the meeting, was presented by Mrs. C. D. Arrington and Mrs. Osborne.

Two films, "Health and Happiness" and "Something You Didn't Eat," were shown.

Plans were completed for the community party to be held Saturday, June 11, at the Bell school.

Mrs. Grace Morris gave a report on the progress of work for the past six months and a report from the Gray County Home Demonstration Council was given by Mrs. Osborne.

Those present were: Mmes.

Finds Cure for Blues!

"Mondays always gave me those washday blues till I changed to New Perk Soap," says Mrs. Harvey Chapman, 7750 Indiana Ave., Dearborn, Mich. "But believe me, Perk makes a great, big, glorious difference. A difference I myself can see in my dazzling white sheets and shirts. And Perk saves me real money, too, because Perk saves up to one-third on soap." Take a tip from Mrs. Chapman and see the way Perk gets whites really white and removes grays like lickety-split. Try Perk today!

Mrs. R. C. Heaton Meeting Hostess To Schafer Club

Mrs. R. C. Heaton was hostess to the Schafer Club recently with Mrs. J. M. Chapin as co-hostess.

Plans for the club house were discussed and a bake sale has been set for this Saturday in the Wrinkle Drug Store, Skellytown.

The next meeting will be July 7, in the home of Mrs. R. E. McAllister with Mrs. Leon Wyche as co-hostess.

Mrs. C. W. Huckaby was introduced as a new member of the club.

Those present were: Mmes. Leroy Allen, L. Dyer, Helen Scott, Charlie Slavens, James Masteller, Leon Wyche, R. E. McAllister, L. F. Kavin, Vernon Werth, T. A. Ingram, C. W. Huckaby, Ed Harmon, Harold Casnell, Arthur E. Gerndt, Lloyd Wells, H. W. Gentry, B. A. Wesner, Lloyd Cowart, Ann Snyder, a visitor, and the hostesses.

Mrs. Zachry Weds Mr. C. B. Haney

Mrs. Katie Zachry and Mr. C. B. Haney were united in marriage Saturday, June 4, at 7 p.m. by the Rev. E. H. Martin, pastor of the local McCullough Methodist Church.

Mrs. Haney is a graduate of Clarendon High School and received her Bachelor of Science Degree from WTSC, Canyon. For the past 13 years she has been employed in the Pampa School System.

Mr. Haney has been associated with the Humble Oil Company in the production department for 29 years. He is a member of the Board of Stewards in the First Methodist Church and a member of the Masonic Lodge.

Mr. Haney is the father of three children. Two, Marvin and Wesley, are associated with the Humble Company. Elita Frances will be a Senior in high school this fall.

At the present time, they are at home four miles south of town on the Merten Lease.

They plan an extended vacation and honeymoon in July.

★ WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

One of the worst ideas sold to modern women is the now commonly accepted notion that a woman can't afford to give up the years when her children are young to being "just a mother."

Because they have bought this bill of goods, many mothers today are doing several poor jobs instead of concentrating on doing one job well.

She regards being a mother as just one of her jobs, and on top of that either goes in for being a social light, having a career, doing community work, or taking night courses to keep her mind from getting rusty.

LOSES WHAT MOTHERS NEED

So she becomes worried and hurried, and in the rush loses the very qualities most needed in a mother, time and patience.

Some day, perhaps, women will get smart enough to realize that a woman who has children should be willing to give them the years of her life during which they need her most.

If there's any time left over, that belongs to Mama and any outside activities that may interest her. But children shouldn't be squeezed into a busy schedule just to keep Mama from feeling she is letting herself be tied down.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Did you ever see a water polo game? The best I can say for it is that it is a clean sport, but in my opinion the referee with his whistle blowing spoils the game. The players are a healthy-looking group of fine boys.

After one of the games at the New York Athletic Club, I met Francis Gosling, of Hamilton.

CRETNEY DRUG

Bermuda, captain of the Bermuda team. Having visited Bermuda several times, it was interesting for me to learn that his great aunt at one time was president of the Bermuda Bridge Club.

I recall a few years ago that A. M. Sobel, one of the National Tournament directors, and I visited the Bermuda Bridge Club. We played a few rubbers, and this is a safety play that came up. It is one which I have written up before. Whenever I write about a safety play I would like you to copy it down. Keep it in your little book, as it should be memorized for future use.

I had what we call a two and one-half spade bid. I might have elected to bid two hearts, instead of two spades, but when Sobel bid three spades, I was glad to take him to four.

West opened the king of diamonds. East overtook it and led back the six of diamonds, which West won with the queen. He continued with the ten of diamonds. Now if Sobel were to make the mistake of trumping with the ten of spades, he would lose his contract. East would overruff with the jack of spades and declarer would still have a club trick to lose.

Sobel discarded the two of clubs from dummy on the ten of diamonds. Now he does not have to lose a club trick, as it can be trumped in dummy.

How Much Sleep Does Junior Need? Wise Mothers Will Follow Advice

AP Newsfeatures
Fatigue is one of the main obstacles to efficiency in childhood, says the Metropolitan School Study Council.

The council, an organization of more than 70 metropolitan school systems, has prepared a pamphlet, "Parents As Teachers," (Bureau of Publications, Teachers College, Columbia University, 35 cents) to act as guide for parents of elementary school children.

The problem, says the council, is to see that the children get enough rest. Movies, radio, television, swing bands all stimulate and intensify their reactions. Many children think they cannot sit down to do their homeworks without the radio blaring beside them.

An only child or one who has no playmates his own age living nearby tends to be overstimulated when he goes to school and associates with large numbers of other children. More sleep than parents realize may therefore be needed. A happy disposition is hardly possible without adequate sound sleep, they say.

When a child is naughty, cross, restless, or hard to manage, the trouble may be that he is physically and nervously tired out. It is unwise and generally useless to try to discipline him when he is tired. Junior can play so strenuously and continuously that he will not eat at mealtime or will burst into tears at the slightest provocation.

The amount of actual sleep (not just hours in bed) required by the average child varies, says the council. For the 2-5-year-old, 13 to 15 hours (including daytime sleep) is a fairly safe rule. For the 6-7-year-old, 12 hours; 8-10, 11 hours, 11-12, 10 to 11 hours; 13-15, 9 1/2 to 10 hours. These figures can be shaded an hour or so either way. In practice, sleeping hours should be checked against signs of fatigue.

Some families can work out a bedtime schedule by staggering the bedtimes so as to provide the proper amount of sleeping time for each child. Children may be expected to go to bed more willingly on school nights if they are permitted to stay up a half to one hour later on Friday or Saturday nights.

Exciting experiences for the high-strung child should be avoided whenever possible. He needs more frequent rest periods than a placid child. These periods need not be long—ten minutes before lunch or after, or before dinner—but they should furnish an opportunity for real relaxation.

A warm bath before dinner; needed. A quiet period should precede the bed hour, says the council. Listening to good music; five or ten minutes of talking quietly to him after he is tucked into bed; a comfortable bed in a room with adequate fresh air, reasonably quiet, and dark as possible, are all factors to send him off to sleep. A child must feel confident in the dark, free from fear, and secure if he is going to get sufficient rest, concludes the council.

NEW KIND OF DESSERT
For a new kind of dessert, put a cup of drained canned fruit cocktail in a container, add a cup of sour cream and two cups of cut marshmallows; mix well, cover, and allow to stand in the refrigerator overnight. Serve chilled in sherbet glasses to six to eight people.

RAISINS IN SALADS
Youngsters usually like a salad if it has raisins in it. Here's a raisin-cantaloupe-banana combination they'll really go for. Pour boiling water over a cup of seedless raisins and let them stand about five minutes, then drain them well and chill them. When you're ready to serve put the chilled raisins in a bowl with a cup of grated cantaloupe and a cup of diced banana; mix lightly so as not to crush the banana. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves to six hungry young people.

JACK LOHRKE, Giants' second baseman, does a fancy dance at second base after retiring the Cincinnati Reds' third baseman, Grady Hatton (sliding) in the first inning of the Cincinnati-New York game at New York (June 6). The umpire is Frank Dascoll. The play got underway when the Reds' Frank Baumholtz hit a roller to St. Louis, who threw to Lohrke. Lohrke's throw to first was too late to catch Baumholtz. The Reds won 4-3. (AP Wirephoto)

Golfers Start Battling for National Open Crown Today

CHICAGO (AP)—Golf's most coveted prize, the U.S. Open championship, comes up for grabs today with three seasoned campaigners—Sam Snead, Bobby Locke and Byron Nelson—in featured roles.

The 6-1 betting favorite is Snead, who already this year has won the Masters and PGA. A triumph in the Open would give him the 37-year-old White Sulphur Springs tourist a professional sweep comparable with amateur Bobby Jones' grand slam of 1930.

But Slambang Sam, after a few days of looking over Edmah's treacherous acres, says Bobby Locke has the game to win in this tournament. No man is righter of the tee and he's a wonderful putter. That's what I'll win it.

A number of tournament-rough give Byron Nelson the "manly beat" tag by the same reasoning.

"From tee to green no man is more accurate than Byron," declared Jimmy Demaret with a chorus of attests from the side. Medinah's No. 3 course, scene of the 72-hole medal grind the next three days, is one to test man's accuracy and his patience.

Trouble in the form of closely unched trees and heavy rough lures down gun-barrel fairways. Tiny, lightning-fast greens offer a poor target for approaches.

The course at its present length is 6,981 yards and will be made to play longer for the after rounds.

Raise Player Limit Ruling for Benefit of Returnees

CINCINNATI (AP)—The 25-player limit may be exceeded for only 30 days by major league ball clubs holding contracts of men Commissioner A. B. Chandler reinstated last Sunday.

And whenever a team puts one of the boys into a championship game, the grace period ends for him and some other than a returned player must be lopped off the list.

Commissioner Chandler so advised club owners Wednesday. At the same time he threw some protection to the 18 men formerly outlawed for jumping to the Mexican League. He told the owners they shall not be released unconditionally, nor their contracts assigned to a minor league club, until the expiration of the 30-day period.

The 30-day period will begin on the date each player is returned to the fold of his particular club, the commissioner's office said.

U. S. 111 proved otherwise. It would appear that the teams holding the returnees' contract will have a tough time deciding the future of their one-time stars within the grace period.

Especially is that true where the one-time jumpers are making more money now in semi-pro ball or elsewhere than their old contracts provide. A few of them already are talking on coming back into the fold at the old price.

Chandler's ruling, too, would seem to give more protection to teams which have no returnees.

Jess Landrum's Bat Tops Dukes

AMARILLO (AP)—Manager Jess Landrum's three-run homer in the 10th inning gave the Amarillo Gold Sox an 11-9 triumph over the league-leading Albuquerque Dukes here last night in the opener of their three-game series.

Landrum previously had socked a grand slam four-bagger in the bottom of the ninth to knot the count at 6-6 and send the game into extra innings. The Dukes came back in their half of the 10th to pick up three when Les Mulcahy blasted a round-tripper off reliever Bob Glass with Len Attyd and Frank Stone who were running for Cliff McClain ahead of him.

Right-hander Nino Barnise had relieved starter Tom Breisinger immediately after Landrum's circuit blow with the bases loaded in the ninth. He got the first two Sox in the 10th on easy grounders to shortstop, but walked Morris Cowser and Ted Clawitter pinch-hitting for Glass, singled to left. Shortstop Jerry Folkman pushed Cowser with a one-baser off the center field fence down gun-barrel fairways. Tiny, lightning-fast greens offer a poor target for approaches.

The course at its present length is 6,981 yards and will be made to play longer for the after rounds.

Under the new rule, artificial bait licenses cost $1.00, but no general license is required for bait fishing. There are dozens of special licenses, however, for any type of fishing in different localities and these will be out after Sept. 1.

Sports clubs all over the state sponsored the Willis bill. Sponsors included the Texas Liv. & Bait Dealers Association, the Fort Worth Anglers Club and the Texas Wildlife Federation.

Bowie Wins AA Baseball Title

AUSTIN (AP)—Bowie of El Paso held the Class AA Schoolboy Baseball championship of Texas today—surprise winner over the highly favored Austin team in the final.

The fighting youngsters from the Far West edged Austin 3-2 in the first intercollegiate ever held last night to take home the big cup.

Bowie scored an unearned run in the first inning and didn't get a hit until the sixth inning. However, it was a triple by Ernesto Guzman and a fielder's choice and two wild throws later Bowie had his winning run.

Denison took third place in edging Waco 6-5. Robert Leach pitched a seven-hitter and collected a couple of doubles to drive in two runs. Leach, who had pitched a ten-inning, no-hitter to beat Marshall in the first round, fanned ten.

Braves Win Marathon From Reds in 15th

BOSTON (AP)—Four hours and nine minutes after the teams began their game last night Jim Ruskoff today lashed a mighty 15th inning base lead, hit off the wall in right center to drive in the run needed for an 8-7 victory for Boston's Braves over the Cincinnati Reds.

The victory kept the pennant defending Tribe within a whisper of the leading Brooklyn Dodgers and the second place St. Louis Cardinals.

Oilers Reinquist Basement With 6-4 Win Over Blue Sox

ABILENE (AP)—Pampa's win-hungry Oilers lost a penultimate batting power against two of Abilene's better pitchers here last night and took the series opener, 6-4.

Johnny Martin kept the Blue Sox batters in check with eight scattered hits, never allowing more than one run in any inning. One of these was a four-bagger by Bob Fernandez with none on in the fifth.

Stan Surma, Pampa third sacker, led his side's attack with four hits, including a double, in five trips, but the blows of Tooter Harper and catcher Newt Secrest did more damage.

Pampa came from behind a two-run deficit to score four times in the fourth and were never caught. They added two more in the seventh to call it a game and a scoring pitcher was banged around in four consecutive hits he allowed. Joe Nakamura took over and the little left-hander was banded around in the seventh for doubles by Homer Matney and Secrest and a single by Harper, for two runs.

Abilene drew away to a first inning lead on a walk, a hit and an error and added another run in the second on a double by Lopez who scored on pitcher Lorona's single.

The Oilers batted around in the fourth, Matney leading off with a double, Peacock following with a single and Harper singling to drive in Matney. Secrest singled to score Peacock and that was all for Lorona. Joe Nakamura handled a bunt by pitcher Martin to force Harper at third and Stringer was safe when his grounder to P. J. was mishandled. Velasquez forced Stringer at second as Secrest scored, and Surma singled to score Martin. Richardson walked to fill the bases again, but Matney fouled out to first base.

Matney opened the seventh with a double, scored on Harper's single, who went to second on the throw to the plate, and scored on Secrest's double to center. Martin and Stringer rolled out to the pitcher to stop the rally.

Fishermen Get a License Break

AUSTIN (AP)—Cattifishermen and kids under 17 get a break in the general fresh water fishing license bill passed finally by the Legislature Wednesday.

The measure by Rep. Doyler of Fort Worth also cuts down on book work by fishermen. All they need to do after Sept. 1 is buy one and only one $1.65 license. The bill if signed by the Governor will eliminate all special lakes and regional licenses that have plagued Texas fishermen for years.

If you fish with live bait like minnows or cravdaws, you don't need a license if you stay in your home county.

If you fish with dead bait such as liver you don't need a license if you stick to your home county or any adjoining county. That's aimed at helping cattifishermen.

If you are under 17, you don't need a license at all. That's the break for the kids.

But if you fish with artificial flies or plugs you must have a license no matter where you fish in fresh water.

Willis interpreted "dead bait" as including worms. He figured any worm, no matter how lively, is dead once impaled on a hook. There isn't anything specific in the bill about worms and some day the matter of whether a worm is dead or alive may get into the high courts.

Under the law now, artificial bait licenses cost $1.00, but no general license is required for bait fishing. There are dozens of special licenses, however, for any type of fishing in different localities and these will be out after Sept. 1.

Two-Hitter by Barney Defeats Cubs, 3-1

BROOKLYN (AP)—Rex Barney pitched his first complete game of the season Wednesday, a two-hitter. The Brooklyn Dodgers subdued the Chicago Cubs, 3-1, to maintain their league leadership and run up a three-game winning streak.

Over the last three games, Brooklyn pitching has allowed a total of 12 hits, and with Barney's six strikeouts, ran the whipping total over the same span to 27.

Barney was wild in the early innings, but settled down and retired the last 10 men in order.

Lemon Pitches and Bats Tribe to Win

CLEVELAND (AP)—Pitcher Bob Lemon socked his first home run of the year last night for Cleveland and beat the Washington Senators, 8 to 3.

It was Lemon's fourth victory against one loss this season and swept a two-game series for the Indians over Washington. Paul Calvert was the losing pitcher.

NCAA Warns Schools Again About "Code"

CHICAGO (AP)—A report on member school violations of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's controversial sanitary code was slated to be given to the group's executive committee today by Clarence P. Houston, of Buff College.

Houston is chairman of the NCAA's committee, a spokesman said no list of schools under scrutiny will be disclosed at this meeting.

Offending schools may possibly be expelled from the NCAA and blacklisted on sports schedules, but action in the matter can't be taken until the complete membership holds its next annual session in New York Jan. 12-14.

Ross Rogers Maintains Lead in Women's Golf Assn.

The second Panhandle Women's Golf Association meeting of the year was held at the Pampa Country Club yesterday afternoon, with the present team leader, Ross Rogers of Amarillo, once more leading the pack in the final tabulations.

Second place was taken by the home club, Pampa. The Amarillo Country Club was third, Phillips fourth and Huber, of Berger, fifth.

Ross Rogers' net score was 804 added to a 503 in the first meet of the year, gives the Rogers team first place with a total of 907. Second place in the standings is held by Pampa with 1006, third with 1022, Phillips fourth with 1136, and Huber trails with 1148.

Play is based on the total low net score at the end of the season. The lowest number of players with a minimum of four necessary from each club determines the scoring in each event. At the end of the season the winning team will again receive the News-Globe trophy.

Three of Pampa's leading women golfers were out of the city for the tournament. Jean Duenkel, Floy Heath and Miriam Luaders were all absent.

Fifty players in all participated in the meet. The next meeting will be held at the Huber course in Berger on July 6.

With their handicaps included the scores of the Pampa team were as follows: Alice Heward, 88; Beth Heiskell, 86; Nola Fade, 88; Marg Austin, 92; Sally McGinnis, 94; and Myrtle Primrose, 97.

Mrs. Walter Sikes of Ross Rogers had low gross on the first nine holes with a 42. Miss Pat Jackson, of the Amarillo Country Club, had low gross for eighteen holes with a mighty fine 89.

The weekly golfing bracelet award went to Beth Heiskell.

In another match played yesterday, Johnny Austin, local professional, defeated Chuck Klein of Amarillo, one of the leading pros in the state, 1 up over the eighteen holes.

Cards Continue Winning Ways

NEW YORK (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals shut out the New York Giants for the second straight day Wednesday, 3-0. Gerry Staley pitched a three-hitter.

The victory enabled the Redbirds to cling within a half game of the league leading Brooklyn Dodgers, who whipped the Chicago Cubs, 3-1. The Giants sank deeper into fourth place, two games off the pace.

Rookie Eddie Kazak, in a Jekyll and Hyde performance, committed three errors at third base for the Cardinals, but was the offensive hero as he drove in one run and scored the other.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Hesse—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: Only two golfers have won the U.S. Open and PGA golf titles in one year. Who are they?

THE SPORTS DEPARTMENTS of newspapers and radio stations throughout the land are being organized for the start of baseball's annual mid-summer madness... the selection of players for the All-Star game. The game will be played at Ebbetts Field in Brooklyn this year, with Billy Southworth heading the National League team and Lou Boudreau handling the junior loop's club. But the fans will have the say-so as to the rosters of both clubs, with the exception of the pitchers.

This paper will conduct a poll for its readers to vote for the players they want on the respective teams. The poll will open tomorrow, June 10 and close at midnight, June 29. Out of the millions of votes cast all over the nation will come the eight players who will represent the National League and the eight players who will represent the American League on July 12. The moundsman will be named by the respective managers.

Players picked by the fans must start the contest, unless they are physically incapacitated, and shall remain in the lineup for a minimum of three innings. Last year 448 newspapers and radio stations aided in the selection of the players. Every state but Nevada was represented. This year's poll will approximate last year's and will include Nevada, as well as the District of Columbia and the Hawaiian Islands.

The All-Star baseball game is the only major American sports event conducted, in effect, by the fans. Players consider election to the squad the greatest honor that can come to them. The few dissenters have lived to regret their attitude.

The All-Star game was originally conceived as a charity benefit. But now it is held for the players pension fund, so there is more than honor involved for the participants.

Our poll will be open to entries starting tomorrow morning. The fans may either mail in their ballots or bring them in. Address all votes to the BASEBALL POLL, THE PAMPA NEWS. Fans will be kept up to date with the standings of their favorite players.

Fans vote for one man at each position, except pitcher, in each league. It is not necessary to vote for outfielders by positions. The three outfielders with the greatest number of votes will start the game, regardless of whether their normal position is in right, left or center.

The way that the pennant races are shaping up in both leagues this poll is sure to be a good one. All of the teams are loaded with individual stars, many of whom will be combating for the same positions on the All-Star teams. Having long been a National League fan, and it having been so long since that league has won an All-Star game, I surely hope that you fans will vote in a strong club for it this year. The National League will need lots of hitting to combat the fine pitching that the Americans are certain to get from Newhouse, Brissie, Lopat and the others that Boudreau is almost certain to pick for his mound staff.

Mail your entries in as soon as possible. To refresh your memory on the players at the various posts in the leagues, you can scan the major league box scores appearing daily in The Pampa News. Pick out the team you would like to have playing for you in each league, and mail it to us, pronto.

ANSWER: Only Gene Sarazen (1922) and Ben Hogan (1948) have won the U.S. Open and PGA golf titles in one year.

Spoon Average Golfer's Most Useful Club; Accuracy Paramount Shooting for Green

By GENE SARAZEN
Winner of Them All
Many beginners are afraid of wood shots.

Yet the No. 4 wood is much more accurate than the No. 2 or 3 iron, of which it is the equivalent in distance. The long irons are straight faced, harder to control.

The Nos. 3 and 4 woods are used for long fairway shots from favorable lies.

The average doesn't hit an exceptionally long ball, finds the No. 3 wood, or upon his most useful club. So it is important that he learn to use the club properly, so he will have the greatest confidence in playing it.

The ball is played in, or just off the center, with a slightly open stance.

Get away from the flat swing, or what we call hand travel, used in the driver.

Note the position of the hands and left knee in the illustration. The hands are in closer to the body than would be the case with a flat swing.

The knee is cocked to permit a fuller body turn.

Swing back straight away from the direction in which you are going.

Hit down on the principle of your long irons.

Because of the double eagle I scored with it to tie Craig Wood in the final round of the 1935 Augusta Masters Tournament, subsequently defeating him in the play-off, you might suspect that the No. 4 wood is my favorite club. The fact is that the No. 4 wood has always been one of my pet clubs.

Gene Sarazen... hands closer to the body, left knee cocked. The ball is played in, or just off the center, with a slightly open stance.

You are shooting for the green with these clubs, so accuracy is your main concern.

NEXT: Trap shots.

Favorites Lead in Publix Meet

CORPUS CHRISTI — (AP) — Favorites were in the semifinals today of the Texas Women's Public Links Golf Tournament.

The tournament medalist, Mrs. Jack Muller of Corpus Christi, was forced into an extra hole to survive in yesterday's third round.

Mrs. Muller climaxed an up-hill battle by catching Mrs. T. E. Knott of Seguin on the 18th hole with a winning par four. Her one-over-par five on the 19th was good enough to win the match.

Mrs. M. W. Morgan of Baytown, 1947 state champion, advanced by eliminating Mrs. G. L. Green of Corpus Christi, 6 and 5, while another favorite, Mrs. C. M. Burns of Corpus Christi, won from Mrs. J. R. Bradford, Dallas, 5 and 4.

Mrs. E. H. Wohlfahrt of Houston, 6 and 5, and Mrs. Betty Gregory of Mercedes had all she could handle in eliminating Mrs. A. R. Hancock of Gladewater, 1-up.

Mrs. Muller and Mrs. Morgan met in today's feature match.

Chandler Expresses Views On Reinstating of Jumpers

By WHITNEY MARTIN
WASHINGTON — (AP) — "It's their move now," the baseball commissioner said, "I've got the ball."

Happy Chandler was sitting in his hotel room. It was late in the morning, but he still wore his blue pajamas and a gaudy red bathrobe. Generally speaking, he looked like a chunky, healthy, sun-bronzed kewpie; and at the moment he was quite pleased with everything in general.

He hadn't had time to dress, he explained, because he had been on the telephone all morning talking to club owners, league presidents and other assorted characters as an aftermath of his announcement of the reinstatement of the Mexican jumping beans, or the ball players who had gone south of the border to play, without permission.

He was referring to the court actions filed by Danny Gardella, and Max Lanier and Fred Martin, against baseball, and trying to point out that the suits no longer can involve reinstatement. "It's only a question of damages," he said, "and there will be no more accumulated damages as they now can return if they desire. When the court denied the plaintiffs' plea for immediate reinstatement, that took the pressure off me. I couldn't afford to reinstate the men while the question still was before the courts, as that would have been a token of surrender."

"I figure it will take anywhere from three to five years for the court proceedings to be completed if they should follow through. The case now is back in the federal district court in New York."

"The date of the trial has not been set, and it may be a long time before it comes up, maybe a year and a half. Then it might take six months to try the case, and the side that lost would take it to the court of appeals, and then to the United States Supreme Court."

"The players would have been automatically reinstated after being suspended five years by that time."

The commissioner took time out to answer the telephone then resumed:

"Suppose the Mexican League had prospered," he supposed. "Who would have sued us? I intentionally made the penalty five years, for if I had made just for a year, say, the boys would have come back with their money, and other players would say: 'let us go too.'"

"I had to protect loyal players such as Ted Williams and Stan Musial, who turned down offers ranging from $65,000 to $100,000."

Chandler pondered a minute then said rather plaintively: "Baseball has had problems the last four or five years never had before. Surely I'm not to blame for these problems coming up. I'm trying to do a honest, conscientious job, without fear or favor. If I make mistakes, they are honest mistakes."

Friendly Golfers Help Mother Goose Become Mother Goose

CHICAGO — (AP) — The once despondent goose of the Riverside Golf Club's 12th hole is happy now. So are the club's golfers, who gave her a double assist into motherhood.

The goose is an old timer at the 12th, a water hole. Her gander was killed by a dog last year. This made some sympathetic golfers so sad they dubbed their drives into the water. They were even sadder this spring when they observed the good sitting on her eggs for nine weeks — five weeks over par. The eggs apparently were unfertilized, and therefore sterile.

Two rival "help the goose" committees were formed, each with the other's knowledge. Clare Crandall, Oak Park insurance man who headed one group, tossed out some eggs he found in her nest last week and substituted four live goslings which he had obtained.

The goose, returning to her nest, was delighted with what she found. So were many of the golfers, but not Kieth J. Evans.

Evans, an advertising man, headed the rival goose helping committee. Some time before Crandall's charitable act, he had taken the matter up with a Chicago naturalist. The naturalist had obtained new, fertile eggs and while the goose was taking a dip in the pond, they substituted the fertile eggs for the bad ones in the nest.

Evans then watched his project closely. He was a little surprised when the goslings appeared 10 days ahead of schedule.

A story in the Chicago Tribune Friday attributed the goslings to Crandall. Evans cried foul. Then the rival groups got together and the full story came out. Now everybody is happy again — especially the goose.

SPORTS AFIELD

Spring and summer are the periods on accelerated highway travel when thousands upon thousands of vacationists are on their way to enjoy the recreational facilities of distant places. These are also the months when another crop of wildlife is being produced and nursed along to maturity. And these are periods of great danger to young wildlife.

The motorist is in the best position to literally "give wildlife a brake" this year, according to Henry P. Davis, public relations division, Remington Arms Company, Inc.

"The vacationist is, of course, not entirely to blame," says Davis. "Young wildlife hasn't learned traffic dangers or regulations and too often very foolishly tries to cross a heavily traveled highway at the wrong time. I certainly do not recommend that a motorist endanger human life by slapping on his brakes in order to avoid a dodging rabbit, but many game animals and birds could be saved each year if the motorist would only keep a sharp lookout for wildlife, especially in good game country, and use his brakes in time enough to avoid disastrous contact."

"Millions upon millions of pounds of valuable wildlife meat are wasted annually on American highways through carelessness of the motoring public. One has only to take a drive or two through the countryside of his own section to see the serious toll taken from the ranks of wildlife which inhabit nearby forests and fields. The use of a little imagination will give you a complete picture, for this wastage is not confined to any particular area or areas. Of course, the toll is heavier in some sections than in others, but wherever good roads exist and motorists can travel at comparatively high rates of speed, the damage done to wild-life by automobile is enormous.

"In the state of Pennsylvania alone last year at least 90,000 wild animals were victims of motor traffic. This is the actual number counted, not estimated, by Pennsylvania Department of Highway employees. This represents a toll of almost 300 creatures of the wild daily! Although motor traffic in Pennsylvania is heavy the year round, this is not an isolated case. Every state in the Union has a similar problem. If it were possible to make an accurate national survey of the situation, the total loss would run into staggering figures.

"Editorial campaigns, billboard campaigns and highway caution signs would be of great help in reducing this annual loss. The responsibility rests with the individual motorist. Many of these highway wildlife casualties are, of course, unavoidable but there is no doubt that much of this enormous annual waste could be eliminated by the exercise of more careful driving.

"Spring and summer are dangerous seasons on the highways for the birds and animals of field and forest. This year, take it a bit easy, Mr. Motorist, especially when traveling through game country. Be on the lookout for crossing birds, deer, rabbits and other small animals. This summer give wildlife a 'brake'. Drive carefully and save wildlife... and maybe your own life."

Tigers Trim Yanks In 11 Innings, 3-2

DETROIT — (AP) — The Detroit Tigers cashed in on the wildness of lefthander Tommy Byrne to beat the New York Yankees, 3-2, in 11 innings last night.

The victory cut the Yanks' 6-1 lead over the second-place Tigers to four and a half games.

Byrne, who pitched for the Tigers, was 4-0 in 11 innings, striking out 10 and allowing only one run, one hit and one error.

Council of Colored Women Provides Happy Nursery Home for 20 Children

BY ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—Howard Hughes will cash in on the Ingrid Bergman-Roberto Rossellini headlines. He's looking for a new title for their Italian film, "After the Storm," with Stromboli in it somewhere. I asked him if he'd seen the picture's rushes and what he thought of them. "Arty," he said, "but good."

The nation's newest craze, square dancing, had a quick flurry of popularity in the film colony but now the lads and lassies are back to the rumba. Square dancing requires four couples for a square and, as one Hollywoodman put it:

"I couldn't find four couples who didn't hate each other." Jane Wyman's role in "Stage Fright" sounds almost as tricky as "Johnny Belinda." She plays a very bad actress who attends the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art to become a good actress. It takes a very good actress to play the role of a very bad actress.

"And," said Alfred Hitchcock, "I'll have to be a very good director to have Jane come off as a very bad actress."

SHORT WAIT Gary Cooper, in a hurry at Ciro's, telling a headwaiter: "A table near a waiter, please." Cooper and his family take off in three weeks for Aspen, Colo., where they'll spend the summer at their new lodge. The bedrooms are only six by six. "Just enough room," says Cooper, "to stretch my legs."

Joan Bennett overheard it at the Brown Derby: "Now we got two endings to the story, but the beginning and the middle have fallen out."

Members of the Argentine polo team invited Ann Sothern to be a guest at their country home this summer. Ann said she'd like to go but didn't speak the language. Cesar Romero spoke up: "Honey, you don't have to talk. All you have to do is shake your blonde hair at 'em."

Jack Carson's description of a romantic couple at a Hollywood night spot: "They were sitting sigh by sigh."

Gene Autry's horse, Champion, just auditioned for a new air show, "Adventures of Champion, the Wonder Horse." Comics Gene McCarthy and Tommy Farrell will screen test at M-G-M for "Tahiti." . . . C. B. DeMille is pounding the publicity drums for Angela Lansbury's work in "Samson and Delilah." . . . Velox and Yolanda will do a "Mr. and Mrs." TV show for Hal Roach.

BRAVING BRAVES Now it's Jimmy Stewart who will be braver than Errol Flynn. Script of "Arrow," the Western he'll do this summer, has him walking unarmed into a camp of hostile Indians and performing a long list of other daring feats. He'll play an Indian scout.

Diana Lynn is ready to accept Douglas Sirk's offer to go to Vienna to star in "Two Hearts in Three-Quarter Time."

Bob Taylor wanted to work out both himself and his new horse, Buck, for his Western role in "Ambush." Joel McCrea needed a cowhand to help herd cattle at his Ventura ranch. Result: Joel got the cowhand, Taylor is limping. Buck feels fine.

Some species of bamboo blossom only about every 32 years.

About 20 of the cutest, happiest and most friendly kiddies in town may be seen daily at 401 Oklahoma where they are kept that way by the care and supervision afforded them in a recently organized nursery school. The nursery was opened Jan. 3 after the Council of Colored Women had worked for its opening since 1945, under the supervision of Mrs. Oscar Reed, president.

"We plan to get a sewer line installed just as soon as we can afford it," Mrs. Reed said. Seven beds have been purchased or donated, but the nursery needs several more. Mrs. Fred Neelage, member of the Twentieth Century Club, has asked residents who have extra baby beds to call her. The Twentieth Century Club's yearly project includes assisting at the nursery.

Several pieces of furniture also have been purchased by the Council of Colored Women for use at the nursery. The council sponsors a general solicitation in Pampa annually for many needed improvements for Pampa's colored population. It is hoped this year's solicitation, which is now underway, will net a large enough amount for improvements at the nursery school to be completed at an early date.

"We certainly want to thank the many Pampa clubs and individuals who have assisted us in getting the nursery started," Mrs. Reed said. Each member of the council pays dues which go entirely to the maintenance of the nursery and the club elects trustees to take charge of the nursery's development. Mrs. Mabel Motley is employed full time at the nursery and prepares food for the children. Mothers are charged a small weekly fee and each mother brings a specified kind and amount of food each day so Mrs. Motley can serve balanced meals.

Some pretty hard knocks have been dealt the organization since it was started in 1945. The council first purchased a 50-foot lot with house at 401 Oklahoma. They had just started to turn it into a nursery when it caught fire and burned to the ground.

After that, the council became inactive for a time and it wasn't until recently that a surplus Army barracks was purchased and moved to the site.

Other officers of the council are: Mrs. George Dukes, treasurer; Mrs. Lucy A. Bunton, secretary; Mrs. Ruth Kendrix, historian; and Mrs. Betty Curry, chairman of committees.

Auto Plants Pass 2 Million Mark

DETROIT (AP)—The 2,000,000th passenger car to be built this year will be assembled in a United States plant this week.

It was late in July last year before that total was reached for 1948.

The figure, considered in the light of the prolonged Ford tie-up and other production interruptions since Jan. 1, gives an idea of the tremendous production tempo the auto industry has attained.

It was made possible, of course, by the more plentiful supply of raw materials and the high output volume of General Motors and Chrysler plants.

Last week, shortened by the Memorial Day shutdowns, the factories built 92,022 vehicles. This compares with the previous week's 108,542.

All the Ford plants are expected to be back in production on June 13, and this should give the industry's overall output total a substantial boost. Some industry observers are even predicting June could see a record in production volume. Current indications are the present high level output scheduling will continue well into July. By August at least some of the manufacturers may have to start evaluating field stocks again to determine production rates.

INS PRICE INDEX DROPS NEW YORK (AP)—The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index this week declined one cent to 5.7 from a week ago, and was 12.4 percent below the year-ago figure of 6.51.

This Is His 134,000th Sneeze

Ker-chool And with sneeze No. 134,000 out of the way, Michael Hippisley, 14, of London, has nothing to worry about for three seconds—until No. 134,001 comes along. He has sneezed that many times in eight days. He has been unable to attend school and can sleep only with the aid of drugs. Doctors think his sneezing may be caused by an allergy, but they haven't been able to find out the exact cause. In the meantime, it's pretty monotonous—and tiring—for Michael.

McLean Men Find Mountain Lion Hunting Mighty Rough

McLEAN (Special)—Mountain lions are not particularly dangerous, but hunting them is mighty rough, according to Bert Higgins and Charley E. Cooke after they returned from a 15-day hunting trip in the mountains of Northern Mexico. They took Higgins' plane to puglas, Ariz., and from there they rode 185 miles south into Mexico by truck. They secured the aid of two guides and a cook and went 25 miles farther into the mountains by mule train. The area they hunted over is haven for fugitives from both Mexico and the United States. There are no roads and no means of communication with "outside." Everyone on the trip carried a sawleg, just as in the old Wild West days.

There seems to be no limit to the game in those mountains, the hunters reported. They killed the deer and turkey that they and their guides could eat. Deer meat is sometimes used as bait for the mountain lions, but they seem to prefer horse, the hunters took along and plug and killed it for bait. Cooke said they intended to use dogs to track the lions but the country was too rugged and they gave up the idea.

They used bear traps, instead, and a V-shaped arrangement of tree limbs set up so the lion could not get to the bait without stepping into the trap. After the lions were trapped, the hunters roped and tied them and then choked them to death so the hides would not be damaged.

Of the two lions caught, one escaped but was found later about a quarter of a mile from the camp, still in the trap.

During the capture of one of the lions, it grabbed Higgins' life and hung on grimly, in spite of the fact that it was rearing its own teeth on the man. It was only with difficulty that Higgins was able to free his rifle.

Ordinarily, however, lions are afraid of humans and will flee if they have a chance to, Cooke said. They were not bothered by

Their First Soap

BERLIN, GERMANY—Two tiny frauleins work up a lather with the first soap received in Berlin through the CARE soap drive. German children like these have never seen honest-to-goodness soap. Bob Hope, who saw their plight when he was abroad last year, is continuing to urge support of the CARE campaign on his radio show. The drive lasts till August 1, during which time Lever Brothers will donate one cake of soap for every two Swan wrappers sent to CARE, Boston 1, Massachusetts. CARE delivers the soap to the children overseas.

ISLAND OF ESCAPE By Hugh Lawrence Nelson

THIS STORY: A violent death upsets the routine on Henry Gough Harding's Speare Island where he seeks to find a "New Eden." The victim, Lily Warren, was one of four women each of whom seek to become Harding's wife. An inquiry is in progress at which Harding presides and Ben Cosgrove, who admits only to himself that she came to the island for vengeance and not to marry Harding, is court reporter. The others do not know that the sun the killed Lily was one which was snuggled only the island by Ben.

GEORGE opened his mouth. Fred nudged him sharply. "Let him handle it, George. Shut up." Harding decided to be appeased. "We'll start with you, Mr. Sillwell."

Fred licked his lips. "All right. As near as I can remember, George, Nona and I were left at the table when Miss Firth, Miss Cosgrove and Mrs. Jones went out to begin their day's work. We sat around the table for a while, wishing we had some cigarettes. Then Nona offered to clean up the outdoors we live in, so we went there. George and I watched her work, and when we came back Nona went to the garden to join Miss Firth. George and I sat around the main room. Miss Cosgrove came down from upstairs, went into the kitchen. She poked her head through the doorway a few minutes later and asked if we wanted coffee. We didn't. Then you came in from outside and went to the tower room to change the dressing on Miss Stark's leg. George and I sat on the veranda a while and then I went to the shack to take a nap. I was still asleep when George woke me up with the news."

"Henry Harding smiled. "Thank you for a very clear report. Now Mrs. Jones."

Miss Cosgrove heard the soft sound of Fred's exhalation. She saw him relax, knew the others too were no longer in doubt as to the course they should follow. "I went right out to the sheepfold," Mabel said. "I took them up to North Knob and stayed with them until Miss Firth came to tell me what happened. I brought the sheep back with me and penned them up again."

Fred started the ball rolling. "I saw her on the hill when I went to take my nap." "I saw her too," Nona followed. "George was with me. We spoke about how her orange dress stood out so clearly."

"Oh yes. Yes. And I was working in plain sight in the garden before I joined Miss Cosgrove."

"That's right," Sillwell cut in. "I saw you bending over working. Then you straightened up and I waved, remember?"

Agnes looked at the toe of one of her shoes. She nodded slowly. "I remember. You waved."

"Was that before or after Miss McGuire joined you?" Agnes hesitated. "It must have been before," Nona said. "I guess it's clear where I was during the time. And I was with Agnes every minute after I met her until we heard of—of Lily's death." At Harding's request she confirmed Sillwell's story.

"I THINK you'll all agree," he said, "that a clear picture is emerging from the testimony. For myself, you will recall I was changing the dressing on Miss Stark's wound. She had tossed around during the night and pulled one of the stitches. It took some time to repair the damage and make her comfortable."

"We saw you go in," Sillwell said. "You were still there when I left."

"You didn't come out while I was sitting on the veranda," Bascombe testified.

"Very well then. That accounts for everyone. Let us proceed to the matter of the gun. How did it come into the possession of that unfortunate woman? I personally searched the belongings of Mrs. Jones, Miss Firth, Mrs. Warren and Miss Cosgrove when they first came ashore on Speare Island. You four later arrivals had no means, no sh—covering to conceal even so compact an automatic. Furthermore, it was not one of mine. It is a Mauser seven-sixty-five. Well worn."

"A .32 in our measurements," George mused. "That lets us out then. We didn't have anything smaller than a .38 on the Gull-wing."
