Murray Fires Back at Lewis Statement

WASHINGTON — (P) — CIO President Philip Murray today accused John L. Lewis of "rumor mongering" and "lack of responsibility."

He made the accusation in denial of a statement by the United Mine Workers chief yesterday. At that time Lewis said he had heard that Murray had agreed to a "pusillanimous compromise" on Taft-Hartley Labor Law repeal.

Lewis, in a message to all senators, said he had heard reports that Murray and AFL President William Green had agreed to "four oppressive amendments" for inclusion in a new law.

Referring to Lewis as a "rule-ruin" union official, Murray said the mine workers' leader's statement contained "false and malicious libels" concerning him and Green.

A spokesman for the AFL yesterday also denied Lewis' statement. While the inter-union row went on a small but potentially troublesome revolt against the plans of Senator Taft (R-Ohio) to retain most of Taft-Hartley brewed in Republican ranks.

So far the rift hasn't given Taft any real concern. But it appeared certain to be a major issue for a party policy conference of all the GOP senators on labor legislation.

The Republicans arranged their new way while Senate debate on the administration's labor bill and counter measures halted temporarily.

Senator Elbert D. Thomas (D-Utah), sponsor of the Truman bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley Law, said the opening gun in the debate yesterday. He spoke for four hours, and then the Senate set the bill aside and agreed to take up the State-Commerce-Justice Department appropriation measure. (See MURRAY, Page 10)

Stolen Car Recovered

Before it was ever reported stolen, Sheriff G. H. "Skinner" Kyle recovered the Ford convertible coupe owned by W. D. Potter, Pampa, and apprehended its driver—a Pampa, AWOL from Camp Chaffee, Ark.

Kyle and two of his deputies were parked on the roadway near Sie's Barn at 12:30 a.m. Sunday, when the Ford passed by, headed north. They noticed it come to a quick halt and a man jump from it. Suspicious, they chased him, finally bringing him down about a block and a half from the coupe. The man denied he had been in the car.

Back at the parked coupe Kyle learned the man had wired the ignition to start the motor, but was unable to unlock the steering mechanism, causing him to bring the car to a stop when he couldn't turn the wheels.

At the Sheriff's Office the man gave his name as J. D. Bybee, Pampa. Further investigation revealed he had left Camp Chaffee about 10 days ago, without leave and in company with another Pampa, Clarence Scarborough.

Scarberry, also AWOL, was picked up by Kyle at 5 p.m. Sunday in the Empire Cafe. Kyle said Scarberry was not with Bybee when he was picked up Sunday morning.

Military authorities at Camp Chaffee have been notified, the Sheriff's Department said this morning.

Bonus Bill Delayed as House Quits

AUSTIN, (AP) — The House adjourned until 9 a. m. tomorrow less than 15 minutes after meeting today. Rep. Jimmy Horany charged the action was taken as a means of delaying and killing his $400,000,000 veterans bonus bill which was due to be considered.

The on-the-surface reason for adjournment was lack of a quorum needed to do business. It takes 100 members to provide a quorum. The vote on adjournment was 40-33.

"This is the second week in a row they have done this same thing to beat the veterans bonus bill," Horany said angrily.

A filibuster this one against the bill — threatened in the Senate.

Horany said the House "under ordinary circumstances would have waited 15 or 20 minutes or even half an hour so enough members could get here to form a quorum."

Rep. Miller B. Walker of Beaumont was also disgruntled about the House's quitting. He had hoped to bring his $300,000,000 veterans small business and home loan bill to a vote.

"This (adjournment) is going to backfire on them. It's going to look bad to the people when they read about it in the paper," Walker said.

Senators voted 21-7 yesterday to bring up from the bottom of the Senate.

Water Route Work Begins

The city's new water supply route along Highway 70 began taking shape yesterday when 400 feet of pipe was lowered into the first 1,500 feet of ditching.

Ditching operations began Monday afternoon by the ParkOwen Construction Co. The concrete pipe began to be lowered into position and sealed together at the joints as soon as the huge ditching machine gave workmen enough clearance to go ahead.

By quitting time the steel teeth of the ditcher had bitten into 1,500 feet of ground along Highway 70 and the 400 feet of pipe laid in its bed.

This morning rains halted operations on the water main, both ditching and pipe laying.

The new main originates three miles south of town on Highway 70 (The Clarendon Rd.) where pipelines from three wells will send it into the booster station.

Berlin Issue May Reach Showdown

PARIS — (P) — The big Four foreign ministers met today in what may be the showdown on the Berlin issue.

The foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union met at the pink marble palace at 3:30 p. m. (8:35 a. m. (CST)). Before the meeting the three Western ministers mapped their strategy.

For the first time since Thursday the big four meeting was to be an open one. This means a full account of the discussion will be given correspondents after the meeting breaks up.

It is expected the ministers will explain the positions on Berlin which they set forth in the three secret sessions.

Since yesterday each delegation has been studying two rival projects for restoring unity to Berlin. One was submitted by U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, the other by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky. Britain and France support the American proposal.

Each plan was an elaboration of the drafts submitted by Acheson and Vishinsky Friday when the council went into closed session in the hope of working out a suitable compromise.

Russia and the West disagreed at the closed meetings. There is little likelihood of their agreeing today.

A high French official said that

McMahon, whose committee is conducting an inquiry into charges by Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) of "incredible mismanagement" against AEC Chairman David E. Lilienthal, had written Johnson observing he had heard reports that "the armed forces are somehow involved" in that investigation.

Colleagues said that if the Senate-House Atomic Committee lets him, Hickenlooper may attempt to prove that about a score of persons whose loyalty has been questioned at one time or another are still holding key jobs in the AEC setup.

In addition, they said Hickenlooper probably will try to show that loopholes in security regulation—and lapses in enforcement of the espionage laws—have obtained some vital information.

Adding these together with what he has called "wasteful" administrative practices may sum up Hickenlooper's case of "incredible mismanagement" against Lilienthal as AEC chairman.

The Senate-House committee remained split today, however, on whether to let Hickenlooper go ahead with his plan of calling attention to commission employees whose loyalty has been questioned, without naming them publicly.

He did that yesterday. He asserted that a man once suspended after an FBI investigation produced a 50-page report containing "serious derogatory information" on him, later was reinstated and aided in drafting a top secret report to the Senate-House committee.

Hickenlooper labeled this only as "Case A," but Lilienthal protested that a man once suspended after an FBI investigation produced a 50-page report containing "serious derogatory information" on him, later was reinstated and aided in drafting a top secret report to the Senate-House committee.

because of the deadlock each side wants open meetings now to put its arguments on record.

Informed sources said the four ministers bogged down during the secret talks over the use of the veto in any four-power supervision of Berlin's city government.

These sources said the Russians want to restore the Allied Kommandatura, as it existed before the blockade.

This would mean wide Kommandatura powers and the veto right for each of the four occupying nations on all of that body's decisions.

Army Wants No Part of Atom Control

WASHINGTON — (P) — Secretary of Defense Johnson said today the military establishment does not want control of atomic energy developments.

He added in a letter to Chairman McMahon (D-Conn.) of the Senate-House Atomic Committee:

"I intend to see to it that this attitude is maintained by the military establishment."

McMahon, whose committee is conducting an inquiry into charges by Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) of "incredible mismanagement" against AEC Chairman David E. Lilienthal, had written Johnson observing he had heard reports that "the armed forces are somehow involved" in that investigation.

28 KNOWN SURVIVORS REPORTED

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico — (P) — A plane jammed with Puerto Rican men, women and children bound for the United States crashed in the Atlantic early today and 47 persons are missing and feared dead.

Officials said 75 persons, including a crew of five Americans, were aboard the two-motored C-46 plane. The U. S. Coast Guard reported 28 known survivors.

Nineteen of the passengers were small children or infants, and 19 were women. One American crewman, Al Cockrell of Pittsfield, Mass., is reported missing and feared dead.

The plane left San Juan a few minutes after midnight and two minutes later radioed back requesting permission to make an emergency landing. Then nothing was heard from it. Officials said apparently it had trouble gaining altitude because of an adverse wind.

The Coast Guard announcement said 28 of those aboard had been rescued by 5 a. m. CST—almost six hours after the crash. The bodies of two adults and a child were recovered.

The airline's agent in San Juan said those aboard included 53 adults, 10 children between five and 11 years of age, five children (See CRASH, Page 10)

Sanitary Inspector Named Here

R. M. Mundine, Jr., formerly with the State Food and Drug Division of the Texas State Department of Health, yesterday took on new duties as chief city and county sanitary inspector.

He is replacing Ray Salmon, who resigned his position at the beginning of the year.

Mundine has served with the Brazoria County health unit at Freeport, Texas, and as chief sanitarian for Longview, Texas. He assumed his new duties yesterday after conferring with County Judge E. Parker and City Manager Dick Peppin.

Mundine has been in public health work for five years, working for a short time with the State Food and Drug Division immediately following his discharge from the Army. At that time he returned to his former position with the State Health Department.

Later he was transferred to various positions throughout the state by Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer.

The new inspector was born and reared in Taylor, Texas, and attended Texas Tech College at Lubbock.

His wife, who at present is visiting her mother, Mrs. E. A. Nickerson at Amarillo, will join him here at a later date.

Mundine said this morning he is favorably impressed with what he has seen of Pampa and is looking forward to working with citizens and merchants here.

The health department is planning a broad health, educational and cooperative program and revisions in the present filing system, he said.

Drunk Skunk Busy Getting Skunk-Drunk

CORSICANA — (P) — There's a drunk skunk in the Trinity River bottoms today. What's more he imbibed freely as a trio of officers looked on.

Sheriff David Castles, Liquor Control Board Inspector R. T. Bailey and Deputy R. E. Jones were destroying a homebrew still. The bushy-tailed fellow with the distinctive odor toddled up and began helping himself.

The officers gathered up their evidence and left. The way that skunk was drinking, they figured, he'd be skunk-drunk in a few minutes.

The event is open to boys between the ages of 8 and 16. A $1 entry fee will be charged and all entry fees must be in by 6 p. m. Friday. H. B. Taylor, Jr., club secretary, said.

The contestants will be divided into three age groups. Those 8, 9, and 10 years old will compete Saturday afternoon; the 11, 12, and 13-year-old group will compete Sunday morning; and the remaining division, the 14, 15, and 16-year-old group, will compete at the final go-round Sunday afternoon at Recreation Park.

A calf for each boy will be let loose in the arena. Thus, if there are 15 boys entered in one

Unemployment at New Post War Peak

WASHINGTON — (P) — Unemployment jumped 273,000 in May to a new post war peak of 3,288,000.

The Census Bureau, reporting this today, commented that "ordinarily unemployment drops between April and May and the increase this year was, therefore, contrary to seasonal expectations."

The new high in unemployment is 68,000 above the previous top reached last February. Unemployment had declined slightly in March and April.

The bureau said that despite the increase in unemployment more people had jobs in May than in May of last year. There was also a rise in employment from April to May.

It said one reason the number of job seekers — outside of farming — rose faster than the number of job opportunities was because school age youths turned out for summer or post graduation work.

Because of the seasonal upswing in farming, employment moved up, climbing 875,000 in May to a total of 58,694,000—slightly above the same point last year.

Farm employment alone increased 1,154,000 in May. Jobs in non-agricultural pursuits dropped 279,000 to a total of 49,720,000.

This left the net increase of 875,000 in employment.

The bureau found an optimistic fact: There was an increase in the number of full-time jobs, meaning those good for 35 hours work or more weekly.

"Approximately 2,000,000 more persons in May than in April were working full time," it said.

However, the number of full-time workers was down considerably in comparison with a year ago.

"About 1,500,000 persons with full-time jobs were working short hours — generally three or four days — during the week ending May 14 because of slack work, material shortages, job turnover, and similar factors," the bureau said.

The bureau has been devoting more attention to the number of hours worked since recent criticisms, largely from labor unions, that its total figures on employment gave an artificially good impression because they concealed much involuntary part-time unemployment.

The bureau counts as employed all persons working one hour or more weekly for pay, profit or family benefit.

Demands of Operators Meet Lewis

BLUEFIELD, W. Va. — (P) — Southern coal operators today demanded that J. L. Lewis drop two of his big strike weapons in the next contract.

The mine owners asked that the United Mine Workers rip from the contract after June 30 the clauses which he has used in every strike since World War II.

They are the provisions that miners shall work only when "able and willing" and that mines may be shut down for memorial to diggers killed in accidents.

The strike-curbing proposals were among four major changes in the present agreement which the operators tossed on the bargaining table yesterday.

The mine chief was in Washington, but he was expected to direct whatever response is made.

The Southern operators, headed by Joseph E. Moody, made the toughest demands on Lewis in recent years. And they were contained in a strongly worded statement read and discussed by the bargainers. The miners withheld immediate comment.

Canadian Has New Minister

CANADIAN — (Special) — This past week saw a switch in pastors at the First Methodist Church in Canadian.

The new appointments, announced at the close of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference in Amarillo, transferred the Rev. A. A. Kendall to Canadian. He had been pastor of the First Methodist Church at Morton for the past three years.

Rev. Joe E. Boyd, who has been pastor here for the past four years, was transferred to the First Methodist Church at Seagraves, and left Tuesday with his family to assume his duties there.

Rev. Kendall conducted his first services in the local church Sunday.

Crash Death Toll Raised to Eight

BELLEVILLE — (P) — The death toll in auto crash Friday at Waller rose to eight today.

E. L. Reid, Jr., 28, Orange attorney injured in the collision of a car and a station wagon, died today.

Reid was the last survivor of the crash in which a young Indiana couple, the parents of both, and Reid's wife, were killed.

The body will be sent to Orange for burial.

Farmers Aid In Capture Of Gunmen

WASHINGTON, Kans. — (P) — Two of three Minnesota gunmen, wanted for killing a policeman, kidnapping and robbery, were captured near here early today after their car crashed into a washed out culvert. The third gunman surrendered yesterday.

The pair was captured after one of them had limped a quarter of a mile to a farm house for help after he, a companion gunman and a man, believed to be a hitchhiker, were seriously hurt in the wreck.

Sheriff Bill Smith said one of the gunmen identified himself as Allen G. Hartman, 20, and told him his companion's name was Bistrom. Hartman said he did not know the name of the third man.

At Marysville where the three were taken, Sheriff Kale Thompson identified the third gunman as Carl Bistrom, 27-year-old former convict. The third man was identified through a Nebraska driver's license as Bill J. Beatty, 21, of Tekamah, Neb., who is believed to be a hitchhiker who had been picked up by the gunmen in their wild flight.

Hartman was the only one of the three in the wrecked car able to walk. The others were semi-conscious in the Marysville (See FARMERS, Page 10)

HST Asked To Explain Agent Escape

WASHINGTON — (P) — Rep. Velde (R-Ill.) said today President Truman "owes it to the American people" to explain why Russian Agent Andrei Schevchenko was allowed to skip the country without prosecution.

Velde is a member of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

The committee heard testimony yesterday that:

In 1944 and 1945, Schevchenko tried to get wartime secrets of jet propulsion and plane design by bribing employees of the East Aircraft Company at Buffalo, N. Y.

The employees strung him along with doctored information under the eyes of the FBI, with payoffs in cash.

The Russian left the country early in 1946. No attempt was made to arrest him.

The witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Franey of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Loren G. Haas of Buffalo.

It was Velde who popped a question that brought from jet engineer Haas a statement that he helped the FBI build an "air-tight case" against Schevchenko but his efforts were "passed off" with word that "Mr. Byrnes at the State Department says we can't touch him."

He said he got that information from FBI agents whose names he cannot now recall.

At the time of which Haas spoke, in 1945, James F. Byrnes was secretary of state. He now is in Washington law firm. To a reporter who asked him about Haas' testimony, Byrnes said:

"Never did I tell any official of the government not to arrest anyone. That is not a matter for the secretary of state but one for the Department of Justice and the FBI."

Velde, continuing, told reporters: "It is President Truman who determines the policy. It is President Truman who should make an explanation. The American people demand it."

"There may be some perfectly good reason why the Justice and State Departments refused to follow through with this case. But good or bad, the people have a right to an explanation."

Rep. Walter (D-Pa.) said he had (See HST, Page 10)

Rites Today For Donnie

VERNON — (P) — Little Donnie Woodard, who ran borrowed time into two weeks as a nation took him to heart, will be buried today.

The 10-year-old youngster lived 27 days with 70 percent of his skin burned away. Death finally came yesterday and Dr. Jack Restivo said "Donnie fought his heart out."

The nation watched the gallant battle of the boy who said "see, I don't want to die. I want to live and have a Shetland pony."

The farm boy's survival amazed physicians.

Citizens built a "Donnie Woodard fund" with thousands of dollars.

Donnie was accidentally doused with flaming gasoline on May 10 by an older brother. The two were burning weeds at the time.

Funerary services are set for 3 p. m. today and Donnie's classmates at South Lockett School will be pallbearers.

Fund Raised for Stricken Family

HAZLETON, PA. (AP) — More than $1,000 poured into a relief fund today for a West Hazleton couple and their nine remaining children after fire wrecked their home and killed five of their sons.

Steven Gaizick, a mine laborer, is in critical condition at Hazleton State Hospital. His wife and a son, Robert, seven, also are reported in critical condition, suffering multiple burns and internal injuries.

Civic and veteran organizations in West Hazleton conducted relief drives in an effort to make it just a little easier for the Gaizick family to recover from the tragedy.

The fire which roared through their small frame home in the pre-dawn hours yesterday killed these five children of the Gaizick couple: Joseph, 11; Richard, 5; Leo, 2; Thomas, 2, and Donald, six months.

Expert Pointers Aid Manicuring

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

You can keep the salon-new look to your manicure twice as long, and halve the beauty cost, by simply heeding some professional advice on the small things.

Do you usually launch straight out into your regular chores from the manicurist's table with no drying time allowed? Manicurists have special horror of women who spend a half hour being polished and begrudge that extra 10 minutes setting time. "All you'll get for your rush is a smudged, scraped set of nails."

If you just can't spare the minutes, there is still a way. A finishing coat of special drying oil does a speed-up job. At home, you can use regular mineral or olive oil. Allow a shorter drying time and, rinse the oil off. A plain cold water rinse after the final polish coat will set the color in a hurry also.

Other home-manicure tricks: A fresh new polish coat applied directly over old chipped color will look professional and brand-new if your brush strokes are guided by the outline of the old manicure at the cuticle line. New color, overlapping the old gives a blotched appearance.

Two coats of nail polish brushed over the nail tips will add stamina and stave off the humpy-duty fate of long nails.

Last year's cotton gloves are revamped for wear with this summer's clothes by bobbing off tops to "shortie" length.

Trim Old Gloves To New Lengths

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Bob off those last year's cotton gloves which may be too long to look chic with this summer's informal clothes.

You can perform this surgery very successfully by snipping off tips of too-long gloves to "shortie" or wrist-band length. Gloves of double-woven cotton may not even have to be hemmed after the operation.

If you do want to hem glove tops after you mark the new length with pencil and follow the marking with your scissors, use a whip stitch over the raw edge that you turn in and finish off.

To make your revamped white gloves more resistant to soil—and this goes for the other cotton gloves in your wardrobe—dip them in a very light starch bath after laundering. Then press. This extra step is worth the effort it takes if you want a longer lease on the immaculate look of white gloves.

fame on the program called "So You Want to Lead a Band." Now you know I am talking about Sammy Kaye.

We are both from Cleveland, O. Sammy formed a band at Ohio University, where he studied civil engineering. His first engagement was at Danceland in Cleveland. Sammy has a new radio show and does a lot of recording. Before long we will be seeing Sammy Kaye and his boys on television.

He presented today's hand to me and said, "The boys want to know the answer to this one."

We both agreed that the bidding was all right, but not the play, which was along this line. The opening lead of the queen of diamonds held, but dummy's ace won the second diamond trick. Two rounds of hearts were taken and a diamond was trumped. Then a small spade was trumped. A small club was led and East had to win with the king. Now no matter what he returned declarer was able to ruff in his own hand and discard the losing club in dummy.

Sammy said he thought the hand should be defeated and I agreed. If East, instead of returning a spade, had banded down the king of clubs he would not have been end-played. However, we both agreed that declarer had made a clever play when he cashed the ace of clubs before trumping the third spade.

NEW YORK — The executive pension racket now gives thousands of fat cats the free horse-ride of a lien on the petty individual capital of millions of stockholders.

he earned it. So, to buy a dollar's worth of stock interest he must have earned two dollars. Now he finds that with his stock certificate he has bought a continuing debt to a lot of high-priced executives who have always paid themselves very well.

Some apologists for the system, there being no real defenders of this rapacity, would have it that in large companies the amount is infinitesimal, but that isn't so and it would be beside the point if it were so.

Now, thanks in part to the effort and superior judgment of the high-priced executives, the stock pays six percent. It will not always pay six percent and the average will be less, but that dividend is paid only after the state and federal governments have taken their many taxes.

The executive pension racket is coming to permeate all big business and the worst of it is that the men who loudly deplore the socialism of Roosevelt and Truman, out of sheer personal greed, are driving stockholders out of the private enterprise which they so dearly cherish.

Now the unions are coming up with demands for pensions for the working stiff, too, in addition to social security, to which the stockholder already has contributed half. The unions are demanding "severance pay" also, meaning a gift of unearned pay from the stockholders to each incompetent or unfit man who is laid off, and payments for illness and pregnancy. The only one who is elected to pay all this is the stockholder. He is, for the most part, a fellow earning a good salary or income and the only remaining source of that money is the profits of the company.

all this second guessing? Why couldn't the brass make up its mind and stick to it? Why didn't the general know in advance what planes were better than others? That's what they're there for. But what would you do if you were an Air Force general in the same position? Suppose somebody came along and convinced you that a new plane was better than an old one? Would you keep on building the old ones? Or would you switch to the new model, even if it cost you money? Wouldn't you be subject to even worse criticism if you didn't change over to a new model?

WASHINGTON — The amazing Charles F. Brannan has hit upon a more economical method of disposing of surplus potatoes than processing them into animal feed, industrial alcohol and flour, or selling them for a penny per hundred pounds — a program that will cost approximately $400 million for the 1948-1949 period.

Therefore, Mr. Brannan's solution of getting 'em out of sight by letting 'em rot strikes him as smart politics and economics. It is the same strategy wiseacre politicians use when they keep their gangster backers offstage while, a la Frank Hague and many others, they make a play for the reform vote.

PREJUDICE — Mr. Brannan messes to get the "potato mess" off his hands because he is afraid of this most spectacular example of financial and natural waste will prejudice the public reaping the harvest of socialism, largely caused by tax supported schools, which is socialism. Success Secrets

By ELMER WHEELER

In 1892 two students at the University of Wisconsin discovered they had a common interest. They C. W. Hart and Mr. C. E. Rice, and their interest was farm machinery. While in school they built three gasoline engines commercially with the financial backing of Madison business men. In 1900 the Hart-Rice company moved to Charles City Iowa.

In 1901 these two young fellows built the first farm tractor ever made. It not only worked but the farmer they sold it to used it for 15 years. From this modest beginning sprang The Oliver Corporation-world famous as manufacturers of farm equipment.

The Oliver story is a typical American Success Story. But one fact should not be overlooked. It takes more than brains and ability to make a business successful. It takes what Alva W. Phelps, present President of Oliver, calls the "human element." The Oliver Corporation was not a success in recognition with its "human" employee-relations program. The big secret is that they treat their workers like human beings. Mr. Phelps says:

"We of Oliver pledge constant and sincere effort at all times to follow policies which operate in the greatest public interest. We will strive to provide our customers, the buyers and users of Oliver equipment, with the finest in farm machinery through modern engineering, quality production and real value. We will seek every opportunity to recognize the members of the Oliver organization as individuals and to provide them, through desirable pay and working conditions, with the opportunity to establish the security of themselves and their families. THE MOST IMPORTANT FACTOR in the success of any enterprise is the people who are working in its behalf. The machine alone cannot alter and improve its operation. The human element in business-never changing, always new and better ways, and striving for improvement-is responsible for continuing progress in American industry."

I see that a naughty London fashion editor named Anne Edwards reported, after a visit to America, that all our girls dress and look alike. I notice Miss Edwards visited Pittsboro, England to say this. Instead of having enough nerve to make the statement in front of my Ladies Beverly Hills Ulfit Club.

I could understand the lady making a sweeping remark like that if she were a member of the other sex. My husband, for instance, says all blondes look alike to him—it is only recently I realized he meant all blondes looked wonderful.

Any, I wouldn't be surprised if she were a member of the other sex. My husband, for instance, says all blondes look alike to him—it is only recently I realized he meant all blondes looked wonderful.

Weekend Rains Flood Colorado

DENVER — (P) — Floods along the Eastern fringe of the Rockies and through the rich Arkansas River Valley left thousands of acres of Colorado land under water today.

Rail and highway traffic was disrupted. Silt and debris cluttered the streets of several towns. Homes were isolated, but no deaths were reported.

A weekend of steady rain — unusual for the Eastern slopes of the mountains — pushed tributaries of the Arkansas out of their banks in Southern Colorado. The Arkansas overflowed but soon returned to its bank. The main East-West line of the Santa Fe Railroad was washed out at Lamar, Holly, Granada, and Bristol, Colo., and Lakin, Kans., also were flooded.

Inter-Service Fight Continues

The House Armed Services Committee took the sensible course when it decided to investigate the purchase program of the Air Force B-36 bomber. The rumors of possible irregularities are too grave to be dismissed lightly.

The stimulus for this inquiry came from Representative Van Zandt of Pennsylvania, who happens also to be a Navy reserve officer.

Here are the major matters Van Zandt believes merit committee scrutiny:

- 1. The fact that Secretary of Defense Johnson, up to the time he took his present post, served as director of the Navy for Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation, builder of the B-36.
- 2. The fact that both Johnson and Floyd Odium, head of Consolidated Vultee, played prominent financial roles in the 1948 Democratic national campaign.
- 3. The report that the Secretary of Defense Johnson, up to the time he took his present post, served as director of the Navy for Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation, builder of the B-36.

Obviously the public mind must be put at ease about all phases of a plane program considered so crucial to defense. The public is not likely to be satisfied, however, if it learns that the highest judgments of air experts led to the present heavy stress on B-36 bombers.

Unfortunately, the B-36 program already is enmeshed in Navy and Air Force controversy. The Navy, smarting still from Johnson's order canceling its super-carrier, contends the B-36 is a sitting duck and offers to prove it in a test scrap with Navy jet fighters.

The joint chiefs have barred such a test. We find it hard to shake off the notion that the Navy's proposal stemmed more from a simple desire to discredit the Air Force than from a wish to serve the country's interest.

The cold fact is that the services are still fighting their policy battles in public rather than within the family halls at the Pentagon. We dislike to think that inquiries like that into the B-36 may be inspired by service propaganda. Even then they are wise investigations.

We hope that hereafter the voices raised in inter-service bickering will not carry so clearly across the Potomac to Capitol Hill. It would be generally better for them to cease at the Pentagon doors.

Greek geographers divided their known world into two portions, Europe and Asia and the parts of Africa known to them were designated as a part of Asia.

Washington by Peter Edson

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The House Armed Services Committee investigation of the 750,000,000 cost of the B-36 bomber procurement program on B-36 six-engine super-bombers has several angles. The most important is the Air Force's cancellation of eight contracts for 470 planes valued at $500,000,000, on order from six manufacturers.

These cancellations have thrown the aircraft industry into something of a tailspin. There may be no crashes. Many of the aircraft manufacturers have other business that will keep them solvent. And the government will pay the costs of the losses caused by contract cancellations.

ISLAND OF ESCAPE

By Hugh Lawrence Nelson
Copyright by Hugh Lawrence Nelson. Distributed by Rex Service Inc.

THE STORY: Four shipwrecked members of a small movie group which lands on Spearhead Island where Henry Gough Harding is trying to establish a new Eden. They have spent the schedule of the movie. Fred Silwell, an alcoholic, is a wealthy producer. Plans are made by Lily Warren to supply him with liquor from Harding's carefully guarded stores. But George Bascombe, Silwell's aide, stabs Warren and tells her his fortune is made. Mabel Jones tells her later that Harding apparently is attracted by one of the actresses, Mollie Stark, but Mabel doesn't fear losing her own campaign to win Harding's heart.

XIII
BY the end of the week, it was obvious George Bascombe was sharing his cache with someone else beside Fred Silwell. Lily Warren went about her cooking with much clutter of pots and not too successful results. The housework suffered too as Lily was absent for long hours. Bea was not sure whether Henry Harding notified, or whether his preoccupation with his patient made him blind to mundane affairs.

On the night before Lily's final day as housekeeper and cook, Bea Cosgrove was awakened by the sound of voices coming through the wall to the lower room. She sat up, saw Lily Warren's bed was empty.

"Fun and games next door," Nona McGuire said sleepily from her cot. "Do we get up and join the party or go back to sleep."

"It doesn't sound like much fun," Bea pointed out.

A door slammed loudly, the voices were still.

"Party's over," Nona murmured. "Some fun, no doubt."

Bea slept fitfully the rest of the night, heard Lily come in with the exaggerated and noisy caution of a drunk, and awoke early to see Mrs. Warren standing in the bathroom door pouring herself a drink from a full bottle.

"Good morning," Bea said.

"Nuts to you," Lily answered.

gondola-like car, five feet long and three wide, rested at the tilted platform. The heavy steel cable attached to its upper end went up and around a huge drum several times before returning down the steep hill to the car at the lower or cove end.

At 10:30, Henry Harding came looking for Bea.

"There're some things I want to send down," he told her. "You can ride down with them."

He pushed a hand truck back into the tunnel, returned shortly with several cases of whiskey. "I've a place to lock these up down below."

Bea got in hesitantly and sat down.

"Don't worry now," Harding said. "It's perfectly safe. This lever on the side opens the front end of the gondola. We used it to empty rocks in the wharf fill. It spills out the load. And you of course."

"What a salesman you'd make for a scenic trip," she muttered.

"Suppose the cable breaks?"

"It won't. It never has."

"All right. But just remember I'm not a load of rocks."

The first few feet sloped gently. Bea stifled a yip when it began to gain momentum.

She could see the lower car coming abreast. Lily Warren sat in it, her head nodding slowly with the motion of the car.

Then Bea saw the red stain down from Lily's temple. They were abreast when she could see the other side of Lily's head where the mushrooming bullet had smashed out.

To late she caught the glint of steel in Lily's lap. She had only time to recognize her own automatic before the gondola was past. She twisted around, watched the car and its occupant move up toward the terminal, watched the careless nodding of Lily's shattered head. She had to finish her trip down.

When the car finally stopped at the very edge of the dock, she sat motionless staring down at the water and at the beach beyond. She saw a wave, bolder than the others, lick up and destroy the huge bare footprint in the sand.

Kingsmill Farmer Proves Sweet Clover Will Grow

AMOS HARRIS' FARM, south of Kingsmill, has had unusually good luck with sweet clover. Last spring he used the soil conservation district's grass drill to plant 10 acres of sweet clover. About 13½ tons to the acre resulted—so this year he seeded 30 acres with sweet clover. It was the same story all over again.

Thirteen and one-half tons of sweet clover per acre sounds like a lot of green material for unirrigated land in the high plains areas of Gray County.

However, that is the estimate of County Agent Ralph Thomas on ten acres of sweet clover on Amos Harris' farm south of Kingsmill. His estimate was made after he weighed yard-square areas over the field.

Even 13 and one-half tons per acre seems a conservative estimate, as Harris cut more than 12,000 bundles that weighed between 20 and 25 pounds each.

Harris planted the clover last year, planning to plow it under later for green manure this spring. Since he did not have a tool that would turn all the clover under, he decided to harvest a crop of hay and turn under the second growth.

Harris went to the county agent's office during the first part of April last year wanting sweet clover planting instructions.

Thomas told Harris Gray County farmers have had poor luck in getting stands of sweet clover and added the best stands had been obtained by planting in snow. But Harris wasn't just about to wait for a spring snow.

Farmers' Friendship Tour Is Planned for September

PHILADELPHIA — Plans are taking shape for a good-will invasion of Europe by farmers representing every section, farm women and businessmen as associated with agriculture will make a farmers' friendship tour of France, Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Norway, England and Scotland.

Announcement of the project was made here by Graham Patterson, publisher of Farm Journal, and Pathfinder news magazine, Washington, whose editors proposed the tour. The American Express Company, New York, will have charge of the trip.

The purpose of the tour is to let American farmers and businessmen see European agricultural production, gain a better understanding of farm problems abroad, build international friendships and give farmers opportunity to judge for themselves the economic progress of the countries visited.

Cooperating in planning the tour are the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Economic Cooperation Administration.

U. S. agricultural attaches in the several countries are helping to map out the farm visits to be made.

Commenting the tour, Secretary of Agriculture Charles G. Brannan said: "Farm Journal's suggested tour of American farmers to Europe offers an invaluable opportunity for study, exchange of ideas, and development of neighborliness. Our farmers . . . will return with a greater appreciation of the importance of agriculture in international affairs, and with a greater appreciation for the privileges of American life."

4-H Youth Build Nation's Future Dairy Herds

Production of milk for human consumption is one of the oldest farm enterprises.

Yet today — because of modern scientific research and invention — it is one of the newest and biggest of all agricultural activities. There are some 27 million dairy cows in the nation. One of the objectives of the National 4-H dairy production program is the building of a successful dairy herd from an original investment in a 4-H Club calf.

Guided by county agents and local 4-H Club leaders, more than 1,800 boys and girls are participating in this "learn by doing" 1949 project. They acquire knowledge to grow fine pastures, build healthy herds and produce good, clean, wholesome milk. Not content to stop there, these future dairymen pass along their knowledge to the community by demonstrating at clubs and meetings procedures such as "Dairy Problems on the Farm," "Dairy Cattle Management," and "Care and Handling of Milk."

To further encourage 4-H'ers in this endeavor, the Kraft Foods company for well over a decade has donated awards for outstanding records. This year there will be a gold-filled medal for first place county winner, and a sterling silver medal for second place. U. S. Savings Bonds will be presented to state winners, while all-expense trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago will be arranged for 10 sectional champions. From this sectional group, six will be chosen to receive a $500 national agricultural college scholarship.

State winners in 1949 were: Doyle Davis, Hart; Billy Popham, More; Billy Fowler, Lakewick.

Luxury Lima Beans Easily Grown in Small Gardens

Plant lima beans with the eye down to assist quick germination.

Did anyone ever get too many lima beans? In the market, they are a luxury crop. Even small home gardens can grow them, however, and enjoy a rich harvest from a single row, if a pole variety is chosen, and allowed to climb a fence.

The foliage is beautiful, thick and glossy green. The harvest starts late for pole varieties, but lasts until frost kills the vines. Although only the seeds are eaten, the yield for space occupied will compare well with other crops, provided the soil is well fed.

Even though your garden soil is known to be fertile, it will be well to use 4 pounds of complete plant food for each 100 feet of row planted to lima beans. All limas are tender and seed should not be sown until the ground is thoroughly warmed and danger of frost is over. They may decay in cold soil. The seeds are so large they are easily spaced and should be planted with eye down to facilitate quick growth. Tests have proved that this causes a definite increase in germination.

Bush limas are of two classes, large and small seeded; the former bearing larger beans, but fewer of them. The small seeded limas have been improved recently, and new varieties have larger beans, yet still producing them abundantly.

Small seeded bush limas mature in about 65 days, large seeded bush and pole limas in about 80 days. They have a long season of yield, and will provide beans for the table until frost kills the vines.

Bush limas do not bear well if crowded in the row. Plant the small seeded varieties a foot apart and the large seeded ones at least 18 inches apart. The pole limas may be a little closer, say 2 1/2 feet.

TEXAS LADY LOSES 47 POUNDS

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcontrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcontrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is proof:

Here is what Mrs. E. F. Bishop, Route 1, Stamford, Texas, wrote us:

"I am very glad to endorse Barcontrate, as please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for the great benefit I derived from it. I lost only 47 pounds, but also learned and felt better in every way."

It had to have a very serious operation and was told that I must lose a lot of weight

All these flowers are marigolds, native American beauties.

There's a Lovely Marigold To Fit Any Garden Need

Marigolds are among the most popular annual flowers, but few gardeners realize the wide variety for forms and colors which can be found in this ambitious flower family.

A native of America, it was taken to Europe where it soon became popular centuries past. But its great advance has been made in the last twenty years, with the introduction of many new forms and colors.

In the illustration, the small single flowers at the top are known as Mexican marigolds (tagetes signata pumila). Golden flowers completely cover the bushy plants. Varieties from a foot to three feet tall may be obtained. Below this on the left is Naughty Marietta, orange with mahogany markings; and on the right is Red Head, a single flowered mahogany red.

This group is by no means all the excellent varieties of the marigold which are available to gardeners, but it represents the principal types of this flower produced by modern breeders. These types are available in varying heights and habits of growth, and by selecting dwarf, medium and tall growing plants of various colors, a most interesting planting can be made of marigolds alone. All can be grown from seed sown directly in the garden, about the same time it is safe to sow sweet corn in your neighborhood.

While marigolds are not demanding in their soil requirements, larger flowers and more brilliant colors will be produced if the soil is enriched with a complete plant food, using at least four pounds to each 100 square feet.

Government Blamed For Storage Shortage

OLNEY — (AP) — H. C. Coleman, manager of the Graham Mill & Elevator Company, says the government should have made provisions to move out wheat stored under loans at least six months ago and should have provided storage for the big new crop now under harvest.

Coleman yesterday predicted wheat will slump to a dollar a bushel within three weeks unless the storage problem is solved. He said the government loan on wheat is $1.88 a bushel in Young County, but the market is down to $1.55 due to the huge crop and the lack of storage space.

New Tourist Court Open in Canadian

CANADIAN — (Special) — The new Riverside Courts in Canadian, owned by W. S. Newell and son, are now open for business for the accommodation of travellers on U. S. Highways 60 and 83. The new court is the outgrowth of a booster trip last January when Newell was a member of a delegation from Canadian that went with the Highway 80 caravan to the West Coast to point out the importance of 60 as a trans-continental route. Newell was so impressed with the merits of 60 and noting that the lack of tourist accommodations was hampering travel—that he began formulating plans for an ultra-modern tourist court in Canadian.

The deputies could keep working on a German settlement and enable the council to be reconvened more easily when changes for agreement are better.

Rain Wrecks Street Grading in Canadian

CANADIAN — (Special) — Stuckey Construction Company workers are busy repairing damage to newly constructed street grading that was washed out in Friday night's torrential rain.
The company has a contract for the paving of about thirty blocks in the city of Canadian, and concrete has been poured during the past week, most of which had cured enough to escape damage when the rains came.
Earl Stuckey estimated it would cost the company between $500 and $1000 to put back the grading that was ready for paving, but must now be done over.

Hospital. Hartman talked very little, Sheriff Thompson said.
The two sought men were captured by a party of farmers south of here in Kansas this morning. The third man gave himself up yesterday.
Sheriff Dwight Young of Fairbury said the capture occurred after the gunmen wrecked their car.
The pair have been sought since Saturday in the killing of a Minneapolis suburb police officer and the kidnapping of a Mandan, N.D., police officer who sought to question them. Subsequently they kidnaped five other persons but released them, too.
Young said Sheriff Smith told him the gunmen wrecked their car when they ran into a bridge washout and the least seriously injured one went to a farmhouse for help.
Young reported the farmer recognized them and his colleagues of returning to his home for a chain, had his wife summon four neighbors. They came with shotgun and guarded the men until Sheriff Smith and his deputies arrived.

its calendar for immediate consideration the House-passed measure to remove rent controls throughout the state.
But before debate began, the Senate voted to give right-of-way to important joint House-Senate conferences on financial measures. Committees on two-year appropriations for the state's departments and judiciary began their work which must be completed before final adjournment of the Legislature can be accomplished.
That left the rent issue the Senate's No. 1 business item hanging fire today.
Senator Jimmy Phillips announced several weeks ago that he would fight the measure — with a filibuster if necessary — when it reached the Senate floor.
Yesterday he said he was prepared to debate the matter "for hours and hours."
The bill, by Rep. Carlton Moore of Houston, passed the House 93-41 and was approved by the Senate's State Affairs Committee, 15-0.

CRASH

under two and five crew members. The agent said all the passengers were Puerto Ricans. The two-engined plane, a C-46, crashed into the sea 10 minutes after it left San Juan Airport. Survivors said it appeared to have developed engine trouble.
Two of those rescued were women, including Judith Hale of Binghamton, N. Y., stewardess. A 14-year-old boy also was saved. Those plucked from the sea and found on small islands and reefs were taken to hospitals for physical checkups.
The plane, enroute to Newark, N. J., via Miami, was operated by Strato Freight, Inc., a charter service with headquarters at Bradley Field, near Windsor Locks, Conn.
Attaches at the airport said it was raining hard when the plane took off.
The C-46, a Curtiss Wright Commando, was designed for the Air Force as a cargo craft and was used extensively in the China-Burma-India theater during the war. The maximum capacity was 50 troops or 10,000 pounds of cargo.
The plane has a span length of 108 feet. Its gross weight is 25,000 pounds. It was built for a maximum speed of 250 miles an hour and a maximum range of 2,000 miles. The DC-4, the biggest commercial passenger plane in general service in the United States, has a capacity of only 50 to 60 persons. It is a four-engine plane. One of the passengers, Juan Rivera Leon, 31, of Ponce, gave this account of the crash:
"The people were nervous, due to the great number aboard, even from the start. As soon as the plane crashed I started passing life jackets around. There were more than 60 available plus five life belts. However, no rafts could be inflated in time so none was used. I passed around only 17 jackets."
He said many of the passengers were afraid to leave the plane and go into the water.
"I stayed until the water was to my knees and then dived," he said, adding that at that time over half the passengers still were aboard.

Following action on that bill, the labor debate was to be resumed, possibly late today.
Thomas, chairman of the Senate Labor Committee, told his colleagues the T-H Law "has been taking us down the dangerous road toward government intervention and dictation in industry-labor relations."
In calling for quick repeal of the law, the Utah senator said that last November "the American people in unmistakable terms decided that the Taft-Hartley Act was a mistake."
The administration bill would junk the T-H Law as union leaders have demanded and re-enact a slightly revised version of the old Wagner Act.

Bill Paves Way For Tax Repeal

AUSTIN — (AP) — Just in case the poll tax is repealed, the House approved a voter registration procedure Monday.
It passed the bill 92-31 and sent it on over to the Senate for consideration.
"This will not become effective until either the federal government or the state of Texas repeals the poll tax as a requisite for voting," Rep. Frank Oltorf of Marlin, author of the measure, eligible voters would register every two years during the time in which poll taxes are now paid—Oct. 1 to Feb. 1. The bill carried no provisions for a registration fee.
The House voted 15-50 to put on an amendment charging a 50 cent registration fee, but the amendment needed 81 votes for passage.
A proposed Constitutional amendment abolishing the poll tax as a requisite for voting has been approved by the House and now is tied up in the Senate.

Honeymooners Go To Summer Camp

GATESVILLE — (AP) — Pvt. and Mrs. Lloyd T. Dailey of Waco, Tex., will spend a GI honeymoon in the North Camp Hood area for the next two weeks—compliments of the Texas National Guard.

Dailey reported for duty at the 143rd Infantry Armory in Waco at midnight Saturday. Sunday, Maj. Douglas Boyd, Third Battalion executive officer, decided it would be a good idea if the bride came to Gatesville.
The men of the battalion headquarters company thought so too and chipped in $24.
Monday a Gatesville apartment, rented for the duration of summer camp, became the company's wedding present for the Daileys.

YES, THERE IS A CATHOLIC ATTITUDE

...on Big Business...on the Worker...on Fascism...on Race and Color.
"But," you may ask, "what do you mean by a 'Catholic Attitude'?" After all, what has religion got to do with Industry and Labor, Wages and Profits?
Just this much, friend. Religion is more than a Sunday morning affair—it affects every moment of your daily life. Life is made up of actions, one right after the other—and these actions are either good or bad. Religion gives us the moral standards to judge whether these actions are right or wrong!
It is a question of right or wrong—it concerns religion—if an employer deprives his laborers of their just wages...if a selfish group "corners" the market and works hardships on others...if a union calls a strike that will cripple the whole country's economy.
This is where the Catholic Attitude comes in. The Catholic Church would be failing its duty if it did not apply the law of God to the many problems that beset today's world.
When Christ lived among men, they learned from Him the Christian attitude toward the social questions with which they were faced. He refused to meddle in mere politics, but He was careful to tell rulers not to exceed their authority. He warned Pilate that he had no right to commit injustice for the sake of expediency. He rebuked hypocrites who took advantage of widows and orphans. He pointed out the right use of money and the moral obligations of the wealthy.

Of course, Christ said nothing about Communism, Trade Unions, or Capitalism. These questions did not then exist. But certainly to us they are every bit as important as those on which He spoke to the men of His day. And His voice is needed now to speak with the same authority for the solution of our difficulties.
Christ established His Church to teach all men to observe all that He had commanded—to direct them in the religion of every-day life.
It is for this reason we find the Apostles criticizing the intolerance of their fellow-countrymen and proclaiming the equality of the Gentile converts. We see St. Paul writing in great detail of the obligations of masters and servants, of husbands and wives. From St. Peter we learn about taxpaying and the obedience we owe to civil authorities. The Catholic Church continues this tradition today by expressing its attitude on the basically moral problems of modern society.
You will find it well worth your while to investigate the Catholic Attitude on matters that vitally concern us all: on Industry and Labor... Race and Color... Liberalism, Democracy and Communism.
