Sharp Cut Made in Number of German Factories to Be Removed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, Britain and France today announced a sharp cut in the number of factories to be removed from Western Germany.

All or part of 159 plants are to be removed from the reparations list previously agreed upon. Expanding on the announcement from the State Department, Secretary of the Army Royal told a news conference that a further three-power agreement will be made public soon prohibiting some German industries entirely and restricting others as a war-preventive measure.

Royal said this agreement will also ease present limitations on 10 industries. For one thing, German shipbuilding will be removed from the prohibited list.

Royal said Germany will welcome the decision to retain all or part of 159 plants previously scheduled to be knocked down.

Commission Meeting Hour Is Changed

The Pampa City Commission will meet from now on at 1:30 p. m. each Tuesday instead of the former 10 a. m. meeting time, the commissioners decided yesterday.

The new time was adopted for the greater convenience of both the commissioners and the public.

Yesterday's short meeting was devoted almost wholly to accepting the first water well south of town and paying contractor's bills.

Rodeo President To Give Dinner

W. D. Price, president of the Top o' Texas Rodeo and Horse Show Association, Inc., will entertain committee chairman and the Board of Directors at a ranch-style banquet tomorrow night in the Palm Room of the City Hall.

Beginning at 7:30 p. m., the dinner will be followed by a directors meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Eventual Passage of School Bill Forecast

AUSTIN (AP)—The first of the Gilmer-Aikin school bills entered the fifth round of its House floor fight today.

It had withstood a flurry on amendments offered by opponents on four previous days in the past two weeks.

The new dining hall at Camp Kiowa is expected to be completed by May 15, two weeks before the opening of the summer camping season.

The dining hall will overlook the lake and Scouts will have exclusive swimming and boating privileges on the lake.

Once-in-a-Century 'Black Eclipse' of Moon Provides Gigantic Sky Show

NEW YORK (AP)—The moon made astronomical history last night.

In a "black eclipse," the planetarium said, there have been several full eclipses of the moon since then, the last one in 1945, but none of them black.

In a normal eclipse, the earth is squarely between the moon and the sun.

The earth's shadow touched the moon at 8:28 p. m. (CST), and darkened it at 9:28 p. m. (CST).

Showdown Vote Slated Late Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—A fight over Naval aviation swirled today in the House around a record peacetime $16,000,000 Army - Navy-Air Force bill.

Backers of a bigger Naval aviation force want to add about $300,000,000 to the bill to give the Navy more wings.

Compromise Sought on Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—House and Senate tried today for a quick compromise over the $200,000,000 difference in their foreign aid bills.

Chairman Kee (D-W.Va.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee figured the matter could be settled swiftly.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said it might take two or three days.

The Economic Cooperation Administration, which runs the recovery program, asked for a $5,880,000,000 bill and that is what the Senate voted: $1,150,000,000 of it to tide ECA over until June 30, $4,280,000,000 for the next year, and contract authority up to $150,000,000.

The House kept the $4,280,000,000 for next year intact.

However, the House tossed in an investment guarantee feature which might mean an extra $275,000,000 in private aid.

Under the plan, the government would grant private business certain guarantees up to that figure for investing in European recovery projects.

Admission Of Israel Up Again

NEW YORK (AP)—Britain and the Arab countries are expected to make a last futile gesture for another day against immediate admission of Israel as the 59th member of the United Nations.

The General Assembly was called for a 10 a. m. (CST) session at Flushing Meadows Park to decide whether Israel's membership should be acted upon by the 58 member nations without further preliminaries.

The Assembly's 14-nation Steering Committee already has recommended direct action on Israel's application, but British and Arab spokesmen indicated they at least would make an effort to send the application to a committee for full discussion.

There appears to be no doubt that the delegates would vote to place the bid directly before a plenary meeting of the Assembly.

U. N. officials were so sure of Israel's approval that they have erected extra flag poles for the Israeli flag in the circle before the Assembly Hall in Flushing Meadows and before U. N. headquarters at Lake Success.

President Chaim Weizmann of Israel is due to arrive in New York by air this morning. He will be on hand when the Assembly finally votes — probably some time next week.

Labor Demand On Upswing

The local office of the Texas Employment Commission is having a brisk labor demand, L. P. Fort, manager, said this morning.

"We can use approximately 16 additional men today, besides those we have already placed," he said.

The recent need for oil field labor has resulted in a great improvement in the labor situation in Pampa. The commission is receiving orders from both small and large firms, which accounts for the fact the commission is actually looking for men.

Pampan's Father Buried Today

Funerary services were to be held this afternoon at Dallas for J. A. Dosier, 79, who died in a hospital at that city at 3:45 p. m. yesterday.

Jeeps 'Trail-Blaze' Way to New Well

The trip was arranged by the Chamber of Commerce, and it was composed of members of a special committee appointed to see if the trip could be made from Pampa to the well over the site of the state-platted Highway 70, which would run from Pampa to Perryton.

The special committee, composed of 13 persons, will meet at 4 p. m. today to draft an official report on the trip.

At 10:15 the caravan arrived at the end of the state work that has been scheduled, and then the hard "pull" began.

The group arrived at the fork of Alternate A, which was traveled alongside Chicken Creek, which is four miles this side of the river.

At 12:20 the group stopped along the Chicken Creek, which is four miles this side of the river. They ate lunch there.

At 1:00 the group arrived at the river. At this point Frank Culbertson, Joe Key, and E. O. Wedgeworth flew over and dropped a few chocolate bars.

The return trip was made by pack roads, while the trip to the well had been made by following the Highway Department's stakes.

40 Added to Rolls of CC

The top team, composed of Floyd Imel and Bob Clements, brought in 20 of the 40 members.

Imel and Clements were awarded new Panama hats for their efforts. Members of the runner-up team, George Newberry and Roy Lewis, were presented with pastel shirts for their work.

Monthly meetings will be staged so business and professional men will have the opportunity of becoming members of the Chamber of Commerce, he added.

Anyone knowing of new business concerns, business men or professional men should notify the Membership Committee, so these people will have the opportunity to join the civic organization, Sullivan concluded.

Man Given 99 Years in Wife's Death WICHITA, Kans. — Ben H. Langford, scion of an oil-well pioneer family, today stood convicted of murdering his divorced wife.

A jury last night found the 39-year-old Tulsa man guilty after two hours and 42 minutes of deliberation and sentenced him to 99 years in prison.

He was arrested shortly after his former wife, Mrs. Lafon Langford, 34, was found shot to death in her Wichita Falls home last Jan. 3.

Langford's attorneys who rested their case without calling a witness, have two days to file a motion for a new trial.

Ben, Jr., was brought from Pittsburg, Pa., to testify as the state's star witness. He had been living with a relative since his mother's death.

The state called a number of witnesses, ranging from a gun expert to relatives of the family.

Langford pleaded innocent to the state's contention that the state failed to rule out the possibility of suicide.

Langford's attorney, J. W. McQueen, said that the license having been used.

Need for and Benefits Derived From Boys' Clubs Told Jaycees

Boys' clubs are primarily for organized, Thomson went on an immediate drop in juvenile delinquency has been noted. He used as an example a club he helped organize on Chicago's tough West Side.

After the club had been in operation a year, a Chicago insurance company was able to reduce its plate glass insurance in that neighborhood by 25 percent. And executives of a railroad whose trucks passed a block from the club/said they had noted a reduction in car window breakage that amounted to $20,000 in that same year.

Wherever a boys' club has been organized, Thomson went on an immediate drop in juvenile delinquency has been noted. He used as an example a club he helped organize on Chicago's tough West Side.

The recently organized Round-up Club, however is providing a partial solution, he said, but it is necessary that the responsible people of the community take an interest in it.

The Amarillo boys' club, he said, is getting a large building from the airfield to use as a gymnasium, and the Waco club recently built its own building. Through radio appeals, he said, the Waco club raised $35,000 in three days, and carpenters, electricians, plumbers, and stone masons donated their services, so that the building now could not be duplicated for three times its cost.

Jack Nimmio, chairman of the special Carnival Committee, announced that the club's Board of Directors had approved the idea of having a carnival this year. Plastic Label for Babies Is New Identity Safeguard

By EDWARD H. HOFFMAN
KANSAS CITY, Mo. — (AP)— A new plastic infant identification bracelet is being hailed by hospital authorities as the most outstanding step in 30 years toward ending one of mother's paramount fears—the possibility of not getting her own baby.

Hospital personnel fear misidentification of infants, too, and have employed many means to guard against it. Best known of these is the head system in which lettered boards are strung on a waxed cord bracelet placed around a baby's wrist or ankle.

Almost universal is the practice of footprinting the newborn. Some institutions use the head of an adhesive plaster strip bearing the mother's name, in addition to footprinting. But footprinting is slow and messy in a delivery room, where identification usually is made in order to be positive.

The new plastic device provides a simple identification system which can be completed in the delivery room immediately after the baby is born. A Kansas City plastic concern, both of Amarillo, and John Cook of Denison, Thomson, of Fort Worth, is director of boys' clubs in a six-state region that includes Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Royall Says Unification Not Working

WASHINGTON — (AP)— Unification of the armed services in the present form is worse than no unification at all, Secretary of the Army Royall said.

"This country is less prepared than if the act never had passed," Royall testified before the Senate Armed Services Committee. He expressed "serious alarm."

He advocated centralized authority strong enough to let the secretary of defense, with the approval of the President "make the Marines part of the Army or the Army part of the Marines."

He warmly backed a pending proposal to have a chairman for this group who would be chief adviser to the secretary of defense and the President upon all military matters.

Von Stroheim Still Dislikes Movie Actors

HOLLYWOOD — (AP)— Erich von Stroheim, the famed "man you loved to hate" of the silent screen, is back in Hollywood and as cantankerous as ever.

When asked what he thinks of actors, he replied: "They are ungrateful, egotistical (censored)."

He explained his views on their lack of gratitude: "You can do everything in the world for them—and they won't even send you a penny postcard at Christmas. I know, as a director, I have made many of them famous overnight, and have never heard from them afterwards."

About actors' egotism: "They have to be egotistical to be able to make faces in front of 50 machinists, electricians, cameramen, directors and assistant directors. They have to be able to say to themselves, 'I can do this better than other people.' Otherwise, they are not actors."

Try Style-Switch With Spring Togs

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

One habit which tends to become more pronounced as we grow older is that of clinging to a certain clothes style. Women who appear year in and year out in different versions of the same basic style are apt to become typed in other people's minds. Moreover, a new costume which so closely resembles an old one, is apt to escape the notice which new duds should attract.

Another argument for a switch of pace in clothes you wear is that change is a stimulus. Ringing in a complete style-switch in a spring outfit will not only help to nudge the wearer out of her rut but will stir more flattering comments from her friends.

If tailored suits are favorites, and you have a closet full of them to prove it, let your new outfit be styled along softer lines. Take a fling at a dressmaker suit, a redingote, a print dress-and-jacket combination. On the other hand, if feminine frou-frou is your dish, pull a switch with a suit or dress-coat ensemble styled along simple, tailored lines. Work the same switch on your new hat. If the hats which you habitually wear are flower-bedecked, look for a new one which depends for its appeal on a daring brim line or on simplicity of detail.

Firemen's Auxiliary Honors Former And Present Presidents at Tea

The Firemen's Auxiliary honored its retiring president, Mrs. C. L. Mason, and its new president, Mrs. Homer Doggett, with a tea in the City Club Room at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

Tall, white candles in crystal holders, and a centerpiece of daisies and yellow acacias decorated the lace covered table. The Easter motif was carried out in the room decorations.

Lime-green punch, minis with yellow flowers and green leaves, toasted nuts, and a white cake with pale green icing and yellow rose buds were served.

Mrs. Lester Mason, Mrs. Homer Doggett, and Mrs. Ernest Winborne, presided at the door. Mrs. Roy Prescott registered the guests in the club scrap book.

The welcome address was given by the outgoing president, Mrs. Mason, who also introduced those who provided the afternoon entertainment.

On the program were: Margaret Humphries who sang, "One Alone," accompanied by Mary Beth Wright; Jan Doggett who played two numbers on the saxophone, "The Lost Chord," and "Star Dust," accompanied by Miss Eloise Lane; Jo Dee Harden, Dorothy Meers, Charlotte Allston, who sang "Cuanta Le Gusta," and "And the Angels Sing," accompanied by Helen Kay Wilson; Dorothy Meers who played a violin solo, "Donkey Serenade," accompanied by Charlotte Allston.

Mrs. A. W. Ferguson presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. C. A. Winborne served the cake. While guests were being served several numbers were played by Helen Kay Wilson and Charlotte Allston.

Special guests were six members from the Police Auxiliary: Mmes. J. O. Dumas, J. B. Conner, E. G. Albers, Jr., T. S. Nichols, E. J. Robertson, P. C. Wynne.

I. He has a pet theory in living, namely, that it is more important to build human beings than to build structures or machinery.

Arthur takes bridge very seriously and plays in a great many tournaments. His contract on today's hand was four spades, but that did not stop him from trying to make an extra trick.

West's opening lead of the six of diamonds was won by East with the nine-spot. East returned the jack of diamonds, which West trumped with the four of spades. West now led back the three of hearts. Jarmel won this trick in dummy with the ace of hearts.

He then led a spade from dummy and took the finesse. Now he laid down the ace of spades and dropped the king. A diamond was led to dummy's ace and a diamond ruffed in Jarmel's hand, which established a good diamond in dummy on which he was able to discard his losing heart.

Crocheted Potholders

By MRS. ANNE CABOT

Here are two cute potholders that are almost too pretty to use. The white honeymoon cottages have embroidered windows, door, flower boxes and gardens and a red crocheted roof. Actual size picture of each cottage is included with the crocheting instructions, which are simple as can be. Adorable love birds swaying cozily on a cherry bough are embroidered on simple 6 1/2 inch rounds of single crochet. Embroider the designs in variegated pink and blue, yellow, green, red and brown cotton on a brown or ecru background. You'll want to make a pair of each of these holders for "thank-you-for-a-pleasant-visit" gift, a kitchen shower party, church bazaars or to sell for extra "pin money" for yourself.

Pattern Nos. 5917-5844 consist of complete crocheting instructions, material requirements and embroidering directions.

WE, THE WOMEN

BY EUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

The secretary who doesn't realize that it's important for her to make a good impression on the boss's wife often finds herself losing a job and wondering why. Here, then, are a few rules for getting along with the boss's Boss:

One. Be businesslike on the telephone. She'll be critical of you if your voice coos or your manner is flippant.

Two. Treat Mrs. Employer like a Very Important Person. If her husband is too busy to speak to her, explain who — and assure her that he'll call right back. See that he does, too.

DRESS CAREFULLY

Three. While it is important to dress in a manner the boss finds pleasing, it is also important to dress in a manner that is in quiet enough good taste to get by with the boss's wife.

Four. Don't discuss your personal life with the boss. It will get back to his wife, and she may resent your being on such confidential terms with him.

Five. Don't act too chummy with the boss when his wife stops by the office. That's the time to be strictly business.

If you should be tempted to hoot at these suggestions and tell yourself, "After all I'm not working for HER," remember this: IF SHE doesn't approve of you, you may not be working for HIM for long.

NEW YORK — (AP) — A meteor flamed across Southern New England last night and burst.

The world's largest insect, extinct for millions of years, had a wingspread of 25 inches.

Newsmen Seeking Handless Veteran

SHREVEPORT, La. — (AP) — Joe Kimball, World War II veteran, wherever you are please get in touch with The Shreveport Times.

The Times believes it might be able to put you on track of that artificial hand you reported taken from you car at Gladewater, Tex., April 3.

The newspaper ran your picture last night. A few minutes later the owner of a cafe at nearby Boisier telephoned that an artificial hand was left in his place a few days ago.

It is understood your home is in Dallas, but that you are expected to take a job soon with a Shreveport auto agency.

ROGER THE LODGER

By Elizabeth R. Roberts

THE PROBLEM in the city of New York, early in the year, Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, who have a home larger than they need, although the Roberts do not want to sell the house, Mrs. Roberts unobtrusively suggests to her husband that a single man would be much better than a family in the apartment Phillip came to their door in search of a house.

"He greeted me heartily and I must say, made me feel very welcome. I have had a bad habit of humming when I'm nervous or worried; I caught myself breaking into matches of The Sheik of Araby."

"Bob, having hung up the army coat and cap, led us toward the garden room; made signs to me to open the bar and officiate. A couple of highballs later, the subject of the room raised his head. "What!" exclaimed the champion of Robert's house for Roberts. "You mean you're having to choose between a cot in an ice arena, or a hotel room at your own expense? Not enough barracks on the field? What kind of an army is this? I don't see how a soldier can afford to put himself up in town."

"He can't," the sergeant said. "At least, I can't."

With my own two ears I heard him say, "Dear, I think you ought to offer Phillip either Bill's room or the guest room."

Not only did I offer him either Bill's room or the guest room, but also, feeling like an irritating puppy who offers his master a not very good bone and then insists on circling him to make up for it, I told him that our maid's apartment in the basement was empty. In another skirmish around the circle, I added that I thought twenty-five dollars a month would be sufficient rent for it. I had suggested thirty dollars as the price of either Bill's room or the guest room with connecting bath.

On the hour of inspection the sergeant noted the tub in the maid's bathroom, said the shower upstairs would be wasted on him since he preferred to soak "downstairs, too," I said, thinking he might have overlooked it and being unable to imagine so starchy a gentleman content in a basement.

"All in all," he said, "this apartment suite me. I like having a sitting room. With a boy to do the work on. I'm a housebody, yet I can't think of indicting myself on your gracious hospitality. Yes, a sitting room, bedroom, and bath of my own will make me very comfortable indeed and I shall think that I have not invaded your privacy as I might, were I to move into your upstairs."

"Don't let that hold you back," Billie urged. "In a Colonial house with ember halls, it's easy to slip on your own side. Lee and I have our make on the west side. It wouldn't bother us a bit to have you on the east side."

"Thank you," the sergeant said. "I still think I shall refuse to permit myself to risk becoming a houseguest."

"As you wish," he said.

"Roger."

ABOUT a week later, in a dining room, the sergeant moved toward the bar, vodka, and mustard.

"Billie and I were at a loss to know what, if any, our next move should be. Remembering those tray-breakfasts in New Orleans, first off I apologized for having no cook. "Think nothing of it," the sergeant said. "I take only black coffee and orange juice in the morning, anyway."

"Oh, I could manage that. I'll fix you a tray to keep in your room. Could you work a sixer?"

"Roger."

With an orange squeezer and a glass and a cup and saucer and a tooth and spoon—oh, and a strainer—you can get your breakfast any time you want it. I also added the oranges, and coffee to the tray.

The sergeant smiled at me indulgently. "We aren't used to doubling up," he said. "If you could find me a house like this I'd settle for that."

It was a Saturday afternoon and five-thirty. Rob said, "The poor devil must feel pretty strange moving in on us like this. He's such a modest fellow. Call down, dear, and ask him up for a drink."

"Whoo-hoo, Sergeant!" I dutifully called. Respectfully, too. I was now a rooming-house keeper and I knew my place.

A split second later—it's a short flight of stairs from the basement to the side entry, which also leads to the garden room—stretched out in comfortable chairs, we began to get acquainted. "You're married," Robbie said, though it was more of a question.

"Yes," with a sigh. We were impressed by the weight of his responsibilities. "I have two children. Twice."

"Where is your family?" I asked, trying to show proper interest yet not sound nosy, as I had heard rooming-house keepers repeated to be.

"Baltimore."

"Oh, Baltimore's your home?" "No, Trenton is our home." He smiled a wry smile. "Our furniture's stored there. There was a pause while he reflected on that. Then he added, "Mary's visiting friends."

"In spite of myself I exclaimed, "Visiting! And with two little children!"

The sergeant shrugged his shoulders. "Orest in guerre," he said.

"If I should hear of a little house or apartment—" I began.

"Not too little," he interrupted. "Remember, there are four of us."

"Couldn't you double up and manage? A place of your own where you could all be together seems so much more desirable to me." I went on, bound to be helpful. "I might hear of something like that."

The sergeant smiled at me indulgently. "We aren't used to doubling up," he said. "If you could find me a house like this one, I'd settle for that."

The absurdity of an army sergeant who was unable to afford even a room in a hotel announcing that he would settle for a house like ours must have penetrated Phillip's consciousness, too, for he quickly dropped his high-sung phrases and, with embarrassingly uninhibited candor, told us something of his background. He'd also

American atomic experts have been hampered by the fact that the latest atomic warhead rockets at their maximum distance would land in inhabited areas in New Mexico.

White Deer Boy Is Put in Cast With Fractured Vertebra

Jerry Taylor, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Taylor of White Deer, who received a fractured vertebra over the weekend, was sent home in a cast yesterday from Worley Hospital.

The boy was brought to the hospital Saturday night. He told his physician that he was not sure how he was hurt. The accident could have happened in play the day before, or during a tennis game around noon Saturday, the doctor quoted him as saying.

Jerry was put in a cast and sent home yesterday, but his doctor said he is getting along well and may be up and around in a few days.

Here's Where They Are—Oldtime Movie Favorites

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Where are they now? — Where has happened to the Glenn Ford and the Ava Gardner of yesterday, the men and women whom fame has touched and then has left behind?

Recently AP Foreign Affairs Analyst Dewitt McKennis presented me with a list of his oldtime movie favorites and asked what has happened to them. Herewith are my findings about them, as well as some others who slipped from stardom:

Glenn Swanson and Eric von Stroheim, once great feuders, are back in Hollywood to do a picture together. She has been dabbling in television and he has acted in France. Sessue Hayakawa, another recent resident on France, and Ramon Novarro, lately a real estate man, have also made recent film comebacks.

Pola Negri and Mae Murray were recently in town, trying to peddle their memoirs to the studios. Beverly Bayne has been doing parts on the New York stage. Her former husband and co-star, Francis X. Bushman, acts in radio soap operas in Hollywood.

Billie Dove is married to sociable Robert Kenston. She lives here, and friends say she is as beautiful as ever. After a session as a producer here, Bebe Daniels has returned to England, where husband Ben Lyon is an executive for 20th-Fox.

Plans to Irving Asher, MGM official in London; Ann Harding to conductor Werner Janssen; Louise Fazenda to producer Hal Wallis.

Clara Bow and Red Bell live on a Nevada ranch. Colleen Moore is wealthy and retired in Chicago. Red Laroque is a real-estate man here and Vilma Banky keeps house for him. Nils Asther is a Civil Service delivery clerk, earning $31 an hour.

Texas Leads in Production Drop

TULSA, Okla. — (AP) — Another big drop in Texas production was a major factor in lowering the country's daily average production of crude oil by 186,150 barrels during the week ended April 9, the Oil & Gas Journal reported.

Texas' output alone fell 184,725 barrels to a daily average of 2,933,205 barrels, the journal said.

Other states contributing sizeable declines to the over-all loss were New Mexico, down 3,225 barrels to 131,300; and Kansas, off 12,650 to 284,100.

California dropped 900 barrels to 848,300, and Oklahoma declined 880 to 298,200.

The week's top gain was in Illinois, which increased 6,100 barrels to 180,300.

Other sizeable advances were in Arkansas 1,400 to 81,500; and Louisiana 5,400 to 495,450.

Roundup Boys Clubers Defeat Stinnett 11-3

WARREN'S WARM UP

By Warren Hesse—New Sports Editor

QUESTION: Only four players have led their league in hits for three straight years. Who were they?

BOYS CLUB: Mr. H. V. Thomson, regional director of the Boys Clubs of America, whose office is in Fort Worth, has been a visitor in Pampa for the past two days. He has come for the express purpose of aiding in the organization of the Roundup Club, and has offered many fine suggestions and ideas for building the club into an organization that can fulfill the needs of the city.

His job is to supervise the boys clubs in the Southwest, which covers six states, Texas, New Mexico, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Kansas. He was in Amarillo Monday where he settled several problems that were confronting the Maverick Club over there. With his hearty approval, the Amarillo club has purchased a large building from the airfield and is transporting it to town and placing it on a lot that the club has purchased. Mr. Thomson spoke before the Jaycees yesterday noon, and today he attended the Rotary meeting. He was a guest on the Ken Palmer sports show on KFDN last night. Afterward he attended the boxing bouts between the Roundup Club and Stinnett.

After the fights were over he went into a meeting with several of the interested parties and gave them full information on the proper procedure for building the boys club into the working organization that it can and should be. The meeting lasted until nearly midnight last night, but much was accomplished, and with the proper response from the citizens of this city the club will be built into an organization that will be a credit to the community. It will build the character of the boys who will eventually become the leaders of the city and the state.

Over 140 boys have already entered the Roundup Boys Club and received their membership cards. Any boy who hasn't already become a member is most welcome to do so. The club is open nightly from 7 until 9 for any boy who wishes to take advantage of its facilities. The boy is under no obligation other than

Roundup Fight Lockney Here Next Saturday Night

The Pampa Roundup Boys Club won its second straight 15-minute boxing match last night, defeating Stinnett High School by a score of 11-3. The Stinnett team had previously defeated the Rounduppers by a score of 8-7. The Roundup Boys Club will fight again next Saturday night when the tough Lockney team comes to town. The fights will start at 8 o'clock. Then a week later Plainview will come to Pampa.

Officials last night were Homer Anderson and Jim Arndt. Judges were Floyd Watson and Gene Cooper and the timekeeper was Jim Levertich.

Riddle-Bell
In the first bout of the evening, Emmett Riddle met Gene Bell of Stinnett in a 65-pound class fight. These two little flyweights threw a lot of leather but neither hit hard enough to hurt the other. The dancing and weaving tactics of Riddle in the final round brought the applause of the crowd. The very close decision went to Gene Bell.

James-Kemp
In a 72-pound bout, Ronnie James met Jay Kemp of Stinnett. The fight was stopped in the first round when the left-handed blows of James hurt the Stinnett youth. The time was 50 seconds.

Fagan-Dawson
Don Niel Fagan met Larry Dawson of Stinnett in the third fight of the night at 80 pounds. Fagan won the bout with a KO after 1:30 of the second round. Fagan landed many solid blows, both rights and lefts, sending the Stinnett lad to the canvas.

Cooper-Groves
In the fourth bout of the night, Billy Ed Cooper met Robert Groves of Stinnett in an 85-pound class fight. This was a fast fight from the opening bell. Both boys threw punches, trading blow for blow. It was another close fight, with the decision going to the boy from Roundup Boys Club.

McPherson-Bodey
In a 90-pound class fight, Wayne McPherson met Calvin Bodey of Stinnett. Both boys opened with a fast first round that tired the both of them. They started each succeeding round with the same fast flurry, but quickly tired. The decision went to the Stinnett boy, Calvin Bodey.

Pitchford-Keeling
In the sixth fight, Edgley Pitchford fought John Keeling of Stinnett, in the 95-pound class. Pitchford floored Keeling for an eight count in the first round with a straight, hard right. The fight was stopped in the middle of the second round when Keeling was hurt, giving a TKO victory to Pitchford.

Wilhelm-Smith
The next bout of the evening brought together Bobby Wilhelm and Don Smith in the 105-pound fight. Wilhelm, fighting one of his most aggressive fights, had the Stinnett boy in trouble through most of the fight. The third round the Stinnett lad caught fire and shot long, looping rights that had Wilhelm in trouble.

Murray-Williamson
In the seventh fight of the evening, Dick Murray met Bill Williamson, in a 154-pound fight. This was the heaviest fight of the night, and both boys threw bruising punches. Murray floored Williamson for an eight count in the second round. The decision went to the Pampa boy.

Tollison-Rogers
In the final fight, at 145 pounds, Paul Tollison fought J.C. Rogers of Stinnett. Tollison floored Rogers in the first round for an eight count with his fast right hand. The Stinnett boy had a long reach that kept Tollison at a distance through most of the fight. Tollison countered well in the final round and won the close decision.

Wilhelm-Smith
The next bout of the evening brought together Bobby Wilhelm and Don Smith in the 105-pound fight. Wilhelm, fighting one of his most aggressive fights, had the Stinnett boy in trouble through most of the fight. The third round the Stinnett lad caught fire and shot long, looping rights that had Wilhelm in trouble.

MOBEETIE (Special) — The Mobeetie Elephants racked up another slugging victory Friday afternoon, downing Hedley by a 15-2 score. It was the brother combination of Walden Haynes, hitting, and Dale Haynes, pitching, that did the trick. Walden got three hits, one a home run. Brother Dale, meanwhile, allowed but two hits in the seven-inning game.

Parker Leads Oilers Hitters In Exhibitions

The Oilers went through a fast workout yesterday afternoon, under one of the hottest suns that they have had this far this spring. The workout was confined mainly to batting practice, with Buster Hall throwing part of the time in an effort to work the soreness out of his ailing arm, which he injured in the game against Weatherford last Saturday.

Thus far this season the Oilers batting averages are as follows, with little bundle of dynamite, Roy Parker, leading the regulars.

PLAYER AB R H OBI PCT.
Parker 11 2 19 0 1.000
Bodine 24 5 16 3 .617
Cloutier 24 5 16 3 .617

Lockwood 3 0 0 0 .000
Lockwood 3 0 0 0 .000
Chetkovich 3 0 0 0 .000
Setts 1 0 0 0 .000

The Oilers will move out of town for three games, after having played Vernon here this afternoon. Friday they play the Wartens at Clovis. Saturday they tackle the Hubbers at Lubbock, and on Easter Sunday they play the Gassers at Borger. They return home to play Amarillo here Monday night in their final exhibition game.

Then on Wednesday night the Gassers will come to town to officially open the 1949 season. A big ceremony has been planned for opening night, which will include a parade by the Hays band.

BETTER BOWLING
By BILLY SIXTY
FIRST STEP POSSIBILITY: Your first step may be the reason underlying poor footwork at the finish. With the result that you don't get to the foul line with a short slide and your body in balance. It may be that the step is too long, or you may rush into stride.

Taking the first step before you apply the pushaway of the ball also will cause the trouble. Of course, doing that is bad. The idea is to get an easy and consistent stride. You can do this by concentrating on pushing the ball away from the body just a fraction of a second ahead of the first step. Try and get the feeling that the entire body is moving forward with the push.

The body must be fully relaxed. Check the length of each pushaway as you get the ball well out in front of you. Doing that, you will pull your shoulders into a natural, comfortable position with which to finish the stride in good balance. The weight of the ball will do this for you as it goes into the backswing. You will be upright at the foul line if the pushaway is too short and the swing will have to be forced to get the ball over the line. It will then be out of control.

You can see in the illustration (four step delivery) the result of a well-timed pushaway. The top half of the body has moved forward easily and as the weight shifts entirely on to the right foot. It is at this point that the ball drops easily into its backswing.

DiMag Flies Home With Sore Heel

BALTIMORE — (AP) — Johns Hopkins Hospital surgeons prepared to take another look today at Joe DiMaggio's heel — the heel which means so much to the New York Yankees' pennant chances.

The big slugger may be here for 10 days or more. He will be lost to his club for the season curtain-raiser next Tuesday — but Joe has no thoughts of retiring from the game.

When he checked in at the hospital, shortly before 2 a.m., he said he was "dead tired" after a flight from Texas and declined to answer any questions.

It was the $100,000-a-year centerfielder's fifth trip to Johns Hopkins in two years.

In 1947, a bone growth, or "spur," was taken from his left heel. Before the 1948 season, Dr. George Bennett removed bone chips from his throwing arm. Joe seemed to be well mended until the closing weeks of last season. Then his right heel started to pain.

He finished the season, and came back to Hopkins. On November 15, Dr. Bennett removed a bone spur which had developed on his right heel.

When spring practice started last month, he flew up from Florida when he found the heel hurting again. Dr. Bennett looked at it, pronounced it in good shape, and sent him back again.

Joe's latest trouble started Saturday at Beaumont, Texas, where he bruised a thigh sliding into third base. The heel began to ache.

Dr. T. M. Girard, a Dallas specialist, gave him a four-hour examination, and then packed him off by air to Baltimore yesterday.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
ATLANTA, Ga., (AP) — Joe McCarthy is talking more freely to Southern sports writers as he takes his Red Sox home to Boston, but he actually isn't saying much more than last year.

Naturally there's a lot of interest here in big Walk Drogo, who played for Birmingham last season, and Billy Goodman, a former Atlanta star. If Drogo doesn't make good at first base, Goodman likely will get the job.

But the Red Sox manager won't commit himself too far. "Drogo looks like a sticker; he takes coaching and is a real smart youngster," Joe comments, "as for Goodman, Joe let himself get enthusiastic once to this extent: 'There's a player who could get up on New Year's morning and be ready to play ball.'

RIGHT OFF THE COBB
O. B. Keeler, Atlanta's beloved dean of golf, likes to tell about the time he took Ty Cobb to a tennis match. A player thought the umpire had erred in giving him a point and "threw" the next one. After explaining the situation, Keeler asked: "Ty what would happen in a ball game if a man slid into second in a cloud of dust and was called safe and then he got up and argued that he should be out?"

The blarney Cobb replied: "There'd be three sudden deaths. The umpire would drop dead; the manager would die of apoplexy—but before he'd take a bat and knock that player's head off."

Both Dr. Bennett and Dr. Girard said they believe time and treatment will put the star's right heel in playing shape. Dr. Bennett said he did not plan to operate.

ment was finally confirmed here last week by Secretary of State Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman.

The State Department said: "This agreement, which constitutes a final decision with regard to the removal of those plants originally selected in Western Germany, should enable both the allied recipients of reparations and responsible authorities in Western Germany to plan promptly for the effective use of the equipment to be removed and that to be retained."

Originally the total of plants earmarked for dismantling and export to countries which German overran during the war totaled about 2,000. In the past three years hundreds of these units actually have been removed from the country. The first plants dismantled were war plants.

When the European Recovery Program was undertaken last year the law which authorized it also empowered ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman to survey the plants to be torn down for reparations. The idea was to determine how many of them could contribute to the recovery of Europe by being left in Germany.

SHOWDOWN
900,000,000 will be too little. The Appropriations Committee said today military leaders believe that the year starting on July 1 will not see the United States at war.

The bill's actual total of $18,909,116,800 includes $2,636,301,000 in contract authorization. The rest is cash.

Before taking up the defense bill, House leaders arranged for swift passage of a $895,890,000 supplemental appropriation to the Veterans' Administration for additional veterans' benefits during the next three months.

The money was requested Monday by President Truman. He said that increased costs of the GI educational program and larger unemployment benefit payments to veterans since the first of this year make it necessary to have more.

Civil Service To Hold Exams
The U. S. Civil Service Commission today announced examinations for medical technician (general medical technology), medical X-ray technician, and tobacco inspector. No written tests are required.

The medical technician jobs are located in Washington, D. C., and vicinity. To qualify, applicants must have had appropriate hospital or clinical experience which included technical laboratory experience. Some substitution of education for experience is allowed.

The tobacco inspector positions are in the Production and Marketing Administration of the Department of Agriculture and are located in various states throughout the country. To qualify, applicants must have had experience in handling and marketing of tobacco. Appropriate education may be substituted for part of the experience.

Applications for the medical technician and medical X-ray technician examination will be accepted in the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C., until June 7, 1949; applications for tobacco inspector must be received not later than May 3, 1949.

Further information and application forms may be secured from the commission's local secretary, C. W. Stowell located at the Postoffice in Pampa or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission in Washington, D. C.

EVENTUAL
Senate approval of a proposed youth development program. The plan, intended to prevent and cure juvenile delinquency, already has received House State Affairs Committee endorsement.

Five representatives, all serving first terms, issued a statement yesterday urging the legislature to hold spending within the limits of the state's pocketbook and to steer clear of any new taxes.

They said the "ability of the people of Texas to pay taxes has reached the saturation point."

Joining in the statement were Callan Graham of Junction, attorney; John B. McDonald of Palestine, university student; James B. Pattison of Pattison, farmer and rancher; Lloyd G. Rust, Jr., of Wharton, attorney; and Walter Caven of Marshall, attorney.

The House Committee on Privileges and Elections last night approved a bill to keep the name of the Communist Party or any party whose members advocate overthrow of the U. S. government off the ballot in Texas. The bill, by Senator John Bell of Cuero, already has been approved by the Senate and now goes to the House floor.

The committee sent a bill requiring all political parties to hold primary elections to a subcommittee with no instructions on when to report back.

The Committee on Constitutional Amendments sent to a subcommittee without instructions a proposal to set up a commission to recommend revision of the Constitution. Gov. Beauford H. Jester had recommended to the Legislature that a Constitutional study toward revision was needed.

Girl Scouts Give Leader Surprise
The life of a Girl Scout executive is full of surprises, Mrs. K. E. Thornton, executive of the Pampa Girl Scout Association, said today.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Thornton was busy preparing the monthly report of the association when she received a phone call commanding her to appear at the Scout House.

Not knowing quite what to expect, Mrs. Thornton ventured to the assigned place and discovered packages wrapped and appearing to be an Easter surprise.

Eight Scouts of Troop 3 were standing around singing an organ grating song. The Scouts had embroidered six dish towels, two pot holders and two dish cloths. Mrs. C. B. Chisum and Mrs. R. C. Brown, leaders of the troop which was organized in March, said the girls made the kitchen "helps" for Mrs. Thornton working on one of the requirements of their Second Class badge.

Girls present at the presentation were Bonnie Jean Brown, Gwendolyn Burnett, Faye Butcher, Adrena Chisum, Patricia Hixson, Jo Ann Keese, Carol Sue Wilson and Mattie Lee Wright.

The blaze was discovered at 5:18 a. m. It started in a series of explosions. It was brought under control at 6:30 a. m.

Damage was estimated as high as $50,000.

The structure formerly was the Betty Jane Hotel. It was Borger's first brick and tile building.

Blue Baby May Be Operated
DALLAS—(AP)—A blue baby from Louisiana is in a Dallas hospital today for observation before physicians decide whether they can perform a delicate heart operation.

The child and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tullios Shaw, flew here in an Air Force plane from Barksdale Field.

Video Said Not Replacing Radio
CHICAGO—(AP)—Justin Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters, said it may be 10 years before television's effects on radio are determined.

Miller, just reelected to a five-year term to the $50,000-a-year office as spokesman of the nation's broadcasters, said he believes the impact of television on sound radio has been over-emphasized.

He made two points clear:
1. There is no question but that television will have some effect—a considerable effect—on sound radio as we know it today.
2. It appears unlikely that television ever will completely replace sound radio, where he expects it to retain a vital place in the nation's roster of mediums of public communications.
