Woman's Will To Continue

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK (AP)—My mother-in-law had a wise old saying:
 "A woman convinced against her will is of the same opinion still."
 In my twelfth year of marriage to this dear lady's daughter, Frances, I am beginning to understand the truth of this saying.
 For the more you try to change a lady's mind the more you change your own.
 I discovered this, rather late in life. I must admit, after my wife started having an affair with brown. I am referring to brown, the color.
 One morning Frances announced to me suddenly at breakfast:
 "Black has gone out of my life."
 "Who me?" I asked. I always say "whom" to my wife now because every time I say "who" she accuses me of being ungrammatical.
 "Anything black" she said. "I'm not going to wear anything black anymore. It has gone out of my life forever."
 Frances blushed out at first in dark blue. I liked that. Then one day I came home and found her dressed in a flappy new look suit. And under the blue jacket was a brown blouse—a very brown brown.
 "Donate it to a rummage sale," I suggested. "Brown is for woodchucks. It's duller than a kitchen knife."
 "Is that so?" queried my haughty. "Well, brown has come into my life to stay. I like brown."
 Then began the busy business of making me like brown, too. First, my clothes—brown as the feeling you have when you ask the boss for a $5 raise and all you get back is a $10 explanation.
 Next came the problem of furnishing the second bedroom in our apartment. The original idea was that it was to be a kind of bargain basement library and workshop for me, a refuge all my own.
 The other day Frances came home and showed me the fabric samples. The draperies were to be a deep sea green drowned in a heavy rust brown. The easy chair—a cerise brighter than

How Free Is Free Speech? Question Tackled Again

By JAMES MARLOW
 WASHINGTON (AP)—Once more the U.S. Supreme Court has tackled the question: how free is free speech?

It ruled Monday in favor of a Catholic priest found guilty of disorderly conduct for what he said at a turbulent Chicago meeting.
 There was turbulence inside and outside the meeting. Outside the priest was greeted with cries of "God damned Fascist."

When he got inside, looked around, and didn't like some of those there, he threw a string of words like "almy seum" and "Jews."

The ruling in his case is not final because:
 There is no absolute answer that will fit every situation in the future; and the present court or a future one may decide differently in a different case. This is what happened:
 On the night of Feb. 7, 1948, the Rev. Arthur Terminiello, an Alabama priest then under suspension by his bishop, went to a meeting in a Chicago auditorium.

The meeting, sponsored by the Christian Veterans of America, was called by Gerald L. K. Smith, one-time Huey Long lieutenant. He described Terminiello as the "Father Coughlin of the South."

Outside a milling mob of 800 to 1,500 people picketed the meeting and they howled at Terminiello when he arrived.

Inside were 800 more people, some of whom Terminiello apparently didn't like, for, as the mob surged around outside, he told those inside:
 "Now I am going to whisper my greetings to you, fellow Christians. I will interpret it. I suppose there are some of the scum got in by mistake... and nothing I could say tonight could begin to express the contempt I have for the almy seum that got in by mistake."

Then he spoke about "some Jews," called Francisco Franco of Spain the "savior of what was left of Europe," and quoted Gerald Smith as saying Mrs.

a baby left too long in a July sun. The couch—brown, brown, brown, brown all over.
 "You'll love it, rover boy," said Frances. "I even have a name for the room now. You can call it your brown study."

Israel Herman Said 'No' to Andrei Gromyko

PARIS (AP)—Israel Herman said "no" to Andrei A. Gromyko. Herman is a jewelry supply dealer from Cleveland, Ohio. He crossed the Atlantic as the odd-man passenger on a special flight carrying Gromyko and other Russian officials from New York to Paris, enroute to Moscow.

He said "no" when Gromyko offered him a drink of whisky. Herman was a little airsick at the time and Gromyko came by his seat to make the offer.
 "I turned him down," Herman said after landing. "I didn't feel like drinking."

The Ohioan's introduction to Gromyko came Sunday just before the plane took off from New York. There had been a mixup in Herman's plane reservations. Finally an Air France official said maybe Herman could be fixed up.

When Herman walked in with his luggage Gromyko said he was glad to have the Ohioan aboard.

Eleanor Roosevelt was a "Communist." There was excitement in the hall. One man called Terminiello a "God damned liar." Another jumped up and yelled "kill the Jews."

Terminiello argued that his conviction of disorderly conduct was contrary to his right to free speech under the first amendment to the Constitution. And Monday the court upheld him, saying:

Freedom of speech cannot be curbed merely because the speech stirs people to anger, invites public dispute and creates unrest.

Since policemen everywhere will act as they think necessary in any situation, the Supreme Court decision doesn't mean that tomorrow someone won't be jailed for talking as Terminiello did. Then that case may start up through the courts for a decision.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK (AP)—It is harder to photograph a dog than a king. "Kings hold still," says Frank Noel.
 Noel is the world's greatest living authority on how not to get a dog out of Italy. He became a master in this branch of knowledge by spending his spare time for a month trying to wrestle his pooch out of Rome, and failed.
 "It is much easier for a man to leave Italy than it is for a dog," he said.
 Noel is a wartime Pulitzer prize-winning photographer.
 The Noels have based in Rome for the last three years. One day their Italian maid gave them a puppy.
 The puppy quickly became known as Rubinetto, which can be translated as "faucet."
 When he got home leave recently, Noel had little trouble making arrangements for himself and his wife. But Rubinetto he couldn't have been more trouble if he were solid gold and wrapped in a canvas by Raphael.
 "It took all my spare time for four weeks to get and fill out all the necessary forms," said Frank. "I had to get five copies of a veterinarian's certificate stating that he had given the dog rabies shots. Each of the copies had to have five different official stamps. That meant standing in line in front of five windows."
 "It was also necessary to have five copies of a certificate giving Rubinetto's value. The vet took one look at him and put down $10. And I had to attach ten pictures of the dog, five full face and five profile. The profile shots had to include the tail."
 "And you ever try to get a dog to hold his tail still while you took his portrait? Try it if you want to waste a year some afternoon."
 The Noels were so impressed with all this formality they put the dog's passport papers in a safe deposit box.
 "And that is why we had to leave Rubinetto behind," said Frank. "The day we sailed all the banks were closed by a nationwide strike, and we couldn't get his papers."

All active Reserve Officers of the Chemical Corps are eligible to attend this school and may make application through their local Organized Reserve Corps Instructor's Office located at the Post Office Building here at Pampa, it was announced.

Motor Vehicle Production Sags

DETROIT — (AP) — Motor vehicle production sagged again last week as labor troubles halted more assembly lines.

The factories built 86,327 passenger cars and 19,772 trucks. In the preceding week the turn out was 103,133 cars and 23,200 trucks. Continuation of the Ford strike will cut further into the industry's output this week.

The auto makers built 538,123 units in April. That was the best month's volume they had reached since before the war. They expected no difficulty topping the figure this month. But the numerous assembly line interruptions, climaxed by the Ford tie-up forced a revision of their planning.

Half way through May the factories have built 231,000 vehicles. Much more overtime than currently is planned would be needed to bring the May total even close to the April postwar record figure.

In planning to make 1949 their biggest production year, the car makers expected to build close to 3,500,000 vehicles by July 1. They probably won't come quite up to that figure. However, Ford and Chrysler have no model changes over in the final half of the year and the changes of other manufacturers are not likely to cause much assembly line interruption.

Thus the final six months' volume could be well above the normal total.

A few similar cases have been reported. Dr. Phoebus Berman, hospital medical director, said a study will be made to determine whether it would be possible to separate the twins by surgery.

Fair Enough - Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

of course, was familiar with Brocky's habits and affairs. In 1942, a new rebellion flared and Tobin sent to Cincinnati the late Joe Padway, his general counsel and a rapacious old labor-faker, to square things around. The case was settled quietly and, for irony, the court ordered that the lawyers be paid $20,000 of which Padway got $5,000.

In October, 1947, Brocky passed, as the sweetly mournful euphemism has it, away. Recently there came up for trial in the Cincinnati Court of Common Pleas a suit by a lady named Mrs. Gloria (Bobby) Farrell, age 39, a whilom floor show danseuse in tap and acrobatics. She asked to be declared the widow of Brocky Farrell and she further wanted $60,000 as her portion of Brocky's estate.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

The New York Athletic Club has a summer clubhouse on Travers Island. I think I will have to suggest that in the winter time they open at least a card club in Florida, as most of our bridge playing members go down there for the winter. However, the prodigals have all returned now.

in at one of the tables at the club and my partner was Archie C. Mayo.

You see Mayo was the trial lawyer for the Third Avenue Transit System for several years. As a youngster he had infantile paralysis which left him with a bad leg.

There is a rumor going around in the club that Archie was writing a book on bridge. I have not seen it yet, but I have learned just don't double Archie when he reaches a game contract. For example, today's hand is one of the difficult ones he had to make recently.

West cashed the ace of diamonds and continued with the ten. The king was returned, which Archie trumped in dummy with the eight of clubs. Two rounds of clubs were taken, and then he led the six of spades, finessing the queen. He cashed the ace of spades and trumped the three of spades. He returned to dummy with a club and trumped the last spade.

Now Mayo had an accurate count on the East hand. He knew East had six diamonds, four spades and two clubs. This meant the playing members do down there could only have a singleton heart. So to protect against it being the singleton queen Mr. Mayo laid down the king of hearts and then led the jack of hearts and when West played low, he confidently took the finesse, making his contract of five clubs doubled.

Friends Distrust Gossipy Remarks

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

The girl who waxes sarcastic or resorts to gossip in order to capture an audience can use better methods of attracting attention.

The sarcastic or gossip-relaying Miss is apt to gain an unsavory reputation for maliciousness which will make her friends distrust her or fear her tongue. The best substitute for a sarcastic or gossipy remark about a person, if you ever feel inclined to make one, is a statement of praise or flattery.

As a rule, the more information you can gain from reading, studying or listening to the talk of intelligent people, the less need you will have to resort to petty gossip. The better informed you are, the easier it will be for you to engage in smooth, effortless and impersonal conversation.

It is a well-established fact that the girl who gossips, who "embroiders" her stories, or who builds up sensational rumors as facts, is the one who has limited conversational resources.

By Nelson Too Busy to Retire

NEW YORK — (AP) — Byron Nelson is so busy as a retired pro golfer that he hasn't time to become unretired as much as he would like.

That sounds a little like a post-man being too busy pleasure walking to find time to carry the mail, but in the tall Texan's case it is just about true. His exhibition schedule is so heavy he just can't take time out for many competitive events.

He had planned this year to take part in more events than he has competed in the last couple of years, when he limited himself to two or three events. The National Open was one possibility, and the PGA another. He won't compete in either, and his only definite tournament appearance as of now will be the Colonial Open at Fort Worth the first week in June.

"I had planned to play in the National Open if exhibition dates I had that week could be switched," he said during the Goodall Tournament at New Rochelle over the weekend. "However, the committee had made such elaborate plans for the exhibition I just couldn't back out."

Fort Worth to Play at Home

FORT WORTH — (AP) — The Fort Worth Ball Club will carry out its Texas League home schedule at La Grava field where a $1,000,000 fire swept away the main stands Sunday.

Club officials said Monday all thoughts of using any other park in Fort Worth had been abandoned. No further games will be transferred.

The club is at San Antonio for two games but will return to Fort Worth Wednesday to open a series with Houston.

"We'll stick to our home grounds and do the best we can with what we have left," President John Reeves said.

Williams Bout Off

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Champion the Williams' lightweight title bout with Mexico's Enrique Bolanos, scheduled for May 26, has been postponed. But a new date probably will be set today.

Dr. Francisco Bravo, California Athletic Commission physician, announced after examining Williams yesterday that the champion is suffering from bursitis of the right shoulder joint. The malady is an inflammation of the sac containing fluid which lubricates the joint.

Senators Can Lose

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Held to five hits, the Detroit Tigers capitalized on the wildness of Walter Masterson and Forrest Thompson to score four runs in the last two innings and defeat Washington, 4-2 last night. Johnny Ligon's single with the bases loaded in the ninth gave the Tigers their margin of victory.

No Boy Loses in Soap Box Derby

The championship trophy is awarded to Donnie Strub, Akron, O., the 1948 winner of the All-American Soap Box Derby, by T. H. Keating, general sales manager, Chevrolet Motor Division. In addition to the trophy, Strub won the four-year college scholarship first prize. The Derby is co-sponsored by Chevrolet and America's leading newspapers.

The twelfth annual All-American Soap Box Derby this year is expected to set a series of new high records in the number of boy contestants, the number of sponsoring cities and the number of people participating in some way or another in this great youth activity.

Since its inception in 1934, the Derby has grown steadily until it is recognized internationally as the "greatest amateur racing event in the world," an important activity for boys and a deterrent to juvenile delinquency. Chevrolet is proud of its role in this important activity, and is proud to share with an ever-increasing number of sponsoring newspapers the important task of promoting the great race.

When the eager boy competitors, all champions, from their home towns, come to Akron, Ohio, every year from Alaska or Panama, Maine or California, the sponsors know that the Soap Box Derby surely is playing an important part in the lives of tens of thousands of young Americans.

The Derby teaches handicraft as do few other activities. It trains youths to understand the meaning of good sportsmanship, and to practice it not only in the Derby activity but in all their daily lives.

The national champion receives a four-year college scholarship, and the other top winners receive handsome trophies and valuable prizes, including a Chevrolet car to the second place boy.

But all the contestants, whether they place first or lose in their first heat, are winners of a valuable experience which they will cherish for life. The Derby will have provided a valuable outlet for creative talents and a stirring lesson in good sportsmanship. Thus, no boy loses in the Soap Box Derby.

Canadian Seniors Hold Assembly

CANADIAN — (Special) — The Senior class was in charge of an assembly program Thursday morning in the Canadian High School Auditorium. Charles Vignal, Senior class president, was master of ceremonies.

The program opened with "Faraway Places," sung by Bob Hernandez, Glen Bell Walker, Wesley Byars, Johnny Farnsworth, Roger Poagan and James Miller, all Juniors. Mrs. Natalie Sanders played the accompaniment on the piano.

Looking into the future, Tauna Reeves gave the class prophecy. Ellen Jones played a piano solo, "Flower Song."

Herbert Williams then read the class will, setting lots of laughs. Following the tradition of making a gift to the school, Vignal presented to the school a portable screen projector. Supt. A. H. Breazeale accepted the gift in behalf of the Louise Milom, Ruth Bennett won honorable mention as a close second.

Merit awards were presented to five students who had poems accepted for publication this year in the National Anthology of High School Poetry. They were: Pat Morris, Peggy Whitlock, MYR TIE WHITE, Ann Malloy and Louise Zybach.

A scholarship, valid at any state college in Texas, was presented to the valedictorian, and the Floyd Studer scholarship to West Texas State College went to the salutatorian.

The Associated Church Schools Scholarship, awarded to the second highest ranking boy and girl in the graduating class went to Patricia Morris and Dennis Swires.

A Bausch and Lomb Optical Company plaque for the best class student was awarded to Herbert Williams.

Two copies of the book "I Dare You," awarded by the Danforth Foundation were presented to the outstanding Seniors, Miss Peterson and Williams.

Merit awards for first and second ranking students in each high school class were presented to the following students:

Seniors: Miss Peterson and Williams; Juniors: Peggy Ramp and Winona Gross; Sophomores: Ann Malloy and Ruth Milom; Freshmen: Nancy Alexander and Louise Zybach.

Certificates of merit were also presented to first place winners in district and regional Inter-scholastic League contests.

A new award, presented for the first time this year, for the outstanding Senior musician, was the National Arion Foundation Award. The bronze medal went to Dickie Hutton, drum major, because of his outstanding service to the band.

Roger Reagan, representing the boys chorus, presented Mrs. Natalie Sanders, their director, with an end table and lamp.

Announcements were made concerning coming commencement exercises. The Senior class filed out of the auditorium and the Juniors took the vacated seats, after which Principal Harvey Traut dismissed the group.

Club Holds Ladies Night
WHEELER — (Special) — Kiwanis members from Borger, Amarillo and Sanford presented a ladies' night program at the Wheeler Kiwanis Club meeting last week.

Lieut. Gov. Carl Williams of Sanford presided over the meeting held in the Wheeler school cafeteria. Herschel Palmer acted as toastmaster for the program which included a welcome address by Homer Moss, president of the host club, a response by Cecil Smith of the Sanford club, and an address by the Rev. Gene Matthews, also of the Sanford club, pastor of the Sanford Methodist Church.

Rev. Matthews attended high school at Briscoe and was employed by the McDowell Drug Store in Wheeler before he went to McMurry College to train for the ministry. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Matthews of Mobeetie.

The spiritual life crusade held at the First Methodist Church came to a close with a 7 p. m. service Sunday.

Dr. Frank L. Turner of McMurry College, Abilene, and Bill Goodwin, ministerial student who acted as song leader for the services, said that large crowds attended the meetings and considerable interest was shown.

Syria Withdraws Her Objections
DAMASCUS, Syria — (AP) — Syria Monday withdrew objections which had blocked the construction of an oil pipeline by the American-owned, Spies-Arabian Pipeline Co. from the Persian Gulf to the Mediterranean.

The government approved an agreement allowing the company to run the line across the country on the way from Saudi Arabia to Lebanon.

Sound May Someday Control Smog, Speaker Here Says

Supersonic makers, bigger and better versions of the fire siren, may someday keep cities free of smog and dust, Dr. C. A. Stokes, director of research and development of Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc., Boston, told members of the Pampa Chemical Engineers Club at a meeting in the City Hall.

His subject, dealt with at the Monday night dinner meeting attended by chemists from the Pampa handle area, was based on recent experiments made by the Cabot Companies on the collection of smoke and fine particle suspensions by the use of sonic energy.

The same paper was presented at the regional meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers at Tulsa, May 8-10.

The Boston scientist, who is visiting here for a few days longer with friends, did not recommend blowing all the fire sirens in town when smog covers a city. Removal of the atmospheric contamination must be done at the source, he said.

Dr. Stokes spoke on sonic agglomeration of carbon black aerosols, a method developed by his company for making more economical the collection of furnace carbon blacks made from petroleum and natural gas. In operation, a huge siren is placed in an empty chamber through which the gas containing the finely divided carbon black passes. The sound produced by the siren, vibrates the particles of carbon black, just as sound vibrates the ear drum, he explained. The carbon black particles collide, stick together, and settle as larger particles. Before the sound treatment was developed by Cabot, the removal of the small particles of carbon black from the smoke was done by electrical forces in more expensive equipment.

Stokes told the engineers that another advantage of using the sonic precipitation method was that it works better than other methods for the super fine particles blacks now used to reinforce the new superior synthetic cold rubber.

The equipment used by Cabot in the development was made by Ulasonic Corporation of Cambridge, Mass. Development work is continuing on the new technique. Stokes said one of the factors still under investigation was with other methods of smoke removal.

Dairy products make up 44 percent and poultry about 13 percent of the total value of New York state farm products.

Five-Foot Shelf of Good Looks

A TOUCH on the handle — and a wide front door swings open on a prospect full of invitation.

There's a wheel that seems actually eager for the touch of your hand.

There's a broad 63-inch seat cushion, comfortably angled, soft and inviting, and only a hand's width narrower than a full-size parlor sofa.

There are narrower corner posts hardly wider than the space between your eyes, so plenty easy to see around — and there's a broad, sweeping, full-curved windshield spreading a horizon-wide view before your eyes.

There's a gas treadle that flicks into instant life the great power of a big Fireball power plant. Under the wheel there can be a Dynaflo selector lever you set once and then forget through all normal forward driving.

And wrapping it all up in one stunningly beautiful picture of top-drawer travel is modern styling in the good Buick manner — sleek lines, bright chrome, the instant identification of gleaming Ventiports.

Here's five-feet-plus of deep-seated comfort — an outlook that brings the whole landscape indoors — handsome lines that draw admiring glances anywhere — what else is needed to settle your mind on this one?

Two things, probably. A little spin with yourself behind the wheel just to take this honey's measure. A look at the price tags and a bit of mental comparisons just to prove how big a buy it is.

For both you have only to see your Buick dealer — who will be pleased to demonstrate, pleased to talk price — and pleased to take your order for surprisingly early delivery.

BUICK alone has all these features

- Silk-smooth DYNAFLOW DRIVE
- FULL-VIEW VISION from enlarged glass area
- SWING-EASY DOORS and easy access

MAYBE IS GOOD FOR FRANKIE, PAPPY... HE WANTS BE PRIZE-OKER—BETTER THIS WAY—THAN IN BAD COMPANY!

MEESTER AUSTIN—THISA PLACE, TEXAS—SHE WANTS BE PRIZE-OKER IN AMERICA?

MA'AM—IF YOU DON'T MIND ME BOASTIN'—TEXAS IS AMERICA!

NEW YORK IS BIG NOUGH AMERICA FOR FRANKIE—HE NO GO TO TEXAS!

FRANKIE! WHERE YOU GO?

NOW THEY'VE GOT THE WINNING RUN ON THIRD... AND HERE COMES THE POWER HITTER!

WALK HIM! PUT HIM ON!

IT LOOKS LIKE THEY'LL PITCH TO HIM!

NO! NO! WALK HIM!

HE SINGLES TO RIGHT... AND THERE GOES THE BALL GAME!

I KNEW IT! I TOLD 'EM!

WE'LL SHOW THEM! TOMORROW NIGHT WE WON'T LISTEN!

OKAY, ARDELL, YOU LEND PEGGY TWO DRESSES AND I'LL LEND HER TWO.

ARDELL, I AM DESPERATE, AUNT ELLEN—

IT'S VERY UNSELFISH OF YOU TO LEND PEGGY YOUR DRESSES—SHE NEVER RETURNS ANYTHING.

FOR AN EXCUSE TO FRESHEN OUR WARDROBES WITH A FEW NEW THINGS—

AND WE JUST REALIZED PEGGY'S POSSIBILITIES.

OH, BOY, WHAT A LERVELY DAY! RIGHT ON THE BEAM FOR MY NEW SPORTSHIRT!

BEG PANDON, SIR, BUT WHAT IS THAT—THAT OBJECT?

SHARP, HEY, LIVERMORE?

SURE I'M GONNA WEAR IT! WHAT ELSE?

OH, SIR, YOU SIMPLY WOULDN'T!

THIS IS SILLY!

DON'T MIND MY FEELINGS, SIR! I'M ONLY A GENTLEMAN'S GENTLEMAN!

THEY SAY THAT LETTIN' WATER DRIP ON YOUR HEAD WILL DRIVE YOU GOOFY—I'M TRYIN' TO SEE HOW LONG BEFORE I NOTICE ANY EFFECTS!

WE'LL BE VERY CAREFUL! PEOPLE ARE A LOT DIFFERENT, YOU KNOW—YOU'LL HAVE ME NERVOUS IN A MINUTE OR TWO!

OH, WHY OH, WHY DO PEOPLE TAKE SUCH AWFUL RISKS?

I HEARD THE MISSUS DOLED HIM HALF THAT SOO CLAM! DO I HANE TO RE-ENACT THE HAYMARKET RIOTS TO GET THE TEN HE OWES ME?

RIGHT! HE FLUNG HIMSELF IN ON THAT AGONY AS STEADY AS THE MAIL-MAN ON HIS ROUTE!

EGAD! WHY DO THEY RENDER BRAHMS' LULLABY FOR A GORY EPISODE LIKE THAT?

UM, I HEAR THOSE MEDDLERS—I'LL SIT THEM OUT!

"AH AIM TO BLAST YE, SHURIFF!"

"DROP THAT GUN, IDIANO LIKE!"

BOOM—BOOM!!

Scouts Prepare For Exposition

A full-day's activities have again been scheduled for the Santa Fe District Boy Scouts as they are putting the finishing touches on their exhibits for the first annual exposition Saturday.

Cub and Boy Scouts will present their skills and activities between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. on business section street corners and on the City Hall and Court-house lawns.

Acting under the supposition that Saturday will bring sunshine and warm weather to Pampa, the Scouts have the lumber for their booths and their hand-crafts for their exhibits.

Troops participating in the all-day exposition include: Troops 4, 14, 18, 25, 21, 22, 80; Packs 4, 14, 18 and 22.

Judging of the booths and exhibits will be under the direction of the Kiwanis Club Boys and Girls Work Committee.

Phony Names Added To List of Recruits

NEW YORK (AP)—An FBI plant in the Communist Party said that he added phony names to a list of recruits whom he converted into Reds.

"I recruited names," John V. Blanc of Euclid, O., testified at the federal conspiracy trial of 11 top Communist leaders.

This puzzled defense attorneys and Blanc explained: "The people don't actually exist. I turned the names in at a section meeting."

The witness said he paid initiation fees and dues for these non-existent Communists out of his own pocket. The fictitious names were added to a list of about 35 to 50 "live people" whom Blanc said he recruited.

Hollywood Product Loaded With Paying Crime Picture

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Mid-week medley: Highlights and insights in the Hollywood news. Crime does pay—at least at the box-office.

That seems to be the thinking of Hollywood producers these days. At least one-third of the films now shooting here are on crime subjects. Many more are awaiting release.

Get in now before it's too late.

That's Gloria Swanson's advice to stars who are wondering what to do about television. The glamorous grandmother has had her own show in the East and has big plans for going coast-to-coast.

What's the matter with the movies? Too many stars, says George Raft.

"Back in the old days, nobody else could do a Gable role except Gable. Nobody else could do a Cagney role, or a Harlow role. Now they put anybody in anything."

Side glances... Hollywood's square dancing fad has more than one advantage. Latest one is offered by Dick Powell: "It's easier on the liquor bill; you can't drink and square dance, too!"

Movie audiences aren't so alert after all. Robert Ryan says in "Trail Street" he walked through a door in a light suit and the next scene showed him coming out in a dark one. And no one noticed it.

Little Amber Now Female Dillinger

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—From "Forever Amber" to a female dillinger. That's where three years in Hollywood have taken a little Irish girl named Peggy Cummins.

It was three years ago that I first met Peggy in an office at 20th-Fox, where she was to play Kathleen Winsor's free-loving heroine. Petite and piquish, she was fresh from England and we pondered what the future would bring her.

I saw her again this week at the studio where she is making "Gun Crazy" for the King brothers.

"They had me killing six people in the script," she enthused. "But I think it's cut down to three now."

I asked Peggy if she ever sheds a tear over losing the Amber role.

"Not so much anymore," she said. "I guess if you aren't right for a role, that's all there is to it."

In 1946, she arrived here a wide-eyed lass of 21 and plunged almost immediately into Amber. After a few weeks of filming, the picture was halted.

The studio indicated that Peggy was not suited for the part. But some insiders praised her portrayal and said the stoppage was due to poor writing and direction.

Anyway, the Cummins footage was scrapped at a loss estimated at $700,000. The unhappy film resumed with Linda Darnell as star.

Peggy was starred with Ronald Colman in "The Late George Apley" as a consolation prize. It wasn't a box-office hit. Nor was "Moss Rose," which had the unique casting of Vic Mature as an English nobleman.

After a horse picture and a film abroad with Rex Harrison, she parted company with 20th-Fox. However, she bears no bitterness toward the studio.

And, considering how "Forever Amber" turned out, maybe it's just as well she didn't get the job.

FPC Hearing Arguments on Natural Gas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hearings on a bill to prohibit the Federal Power Commission from taking jurisdiction over independent sales to interstate pipelines or the gathering and production of gas by independent operators continue here today.

Three witnesses testified yesterday before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee that operators are refusing to sell natural gas to pipelines because of fear they would come under FPC jurisdiction.

Ernest O. Thompson, Texas railroad commissioner, Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.), an oil man, and Hayden W. Head, Corps Christi, Texas, attorney for the Southern Minerals Corporation, were the witnesses.

They spoke in favor of the legislation, introduced by Kerr and Sen. Elmer Thomas, (D-Okla.). Kerr declared passage of the bill would not open the way for a change in city gas rates now in effect.

He said fear that independents might come under FPC control and that rates would be fixed at a point which would stifle production and exploration, had resulted in refusal to sell much gas to the pipelines.

If the fear were removed and gas allowed to flow, consumers would benefit from lower prices and more continuous supply, he said.

Kerr introduced the bill after the Supreme Court had ruled in effect that the FPC had jurisdiction over sales of gas to interstate lines.

FPC has issued an order disclaiming any such jurisdiction but Commissioner Leland Olds told a House committee recently he and a majority of the commission believed the FPC should exercise some control over "larger" independent sales.

Both Kerr and Head sharply criticized Olds for his change in view.

Both witnesses said the natural gas act as originally written provided that production and gathering should not be under FPC jurisdiction and that the amendment proposed by Kerr and Thomas should be adopted to make that plain.

Kerr declared that fears of Olds that prices to consumers would sharply increase were not justified. The average price of gas at the well of 3.8 cents per thousand cubic feet at the end of 1947 is only 5.7 percent of the average residential price of 66 cents and even an increase of 30 percent in price at the well would mean only a hike of 2.8 percent in residential rates, he said.

Thompson forecast that while the bill would not increase gas prices to consumers, those prices would eventually come up to the competitive level of other fuels.
