'MR. X' IS MYSTERY WITNESS

WASHINGTON — AP — Senate investigators of Communist spy activities arranged a hush-hush meeting behind closed doors today to question a mystery witness they call "Mr. X."

Senator McCarran (D-Nev.), chairman of the Judiciary Subcommittee conducting the inquiry, refused to give the slightest clue to the man's identity.

Subcommittee aides said the witness summoned to the secret session (9:30 a.m., EST) is "in danger of his life" and cannot be named "because of his connections abroad."

McCarran said only: "If he wasn't important, he would not be brought before us; if he was not very important, he would not be brought before us in closed session."

The witness was called in connection with hearings on a bill by McCarran which calls for the deportation of any alien found to be engaged in subversive activities against the United States. It also is designed to strengthen the immigration barriers.

The bill, McCarran has said, (See MR. X., Page 7)

Eisler Is Stowaway on Polish Ship

WASHINGTON — AP — Immigration Commissioner Watson Miller said today a stowaway aboard a Polish ship at sea has been "positively" identified as Gerhard Eisler, missing alien Communist.

The 55-year-old Eisler, facing two possible jail sentences in this country, disappeared last week from his New York home. He was free on $25,000 bail.

The liner Batory, which sailed from New York six days ago, later radioed that a German stowaway aboard identified himself as Eisler. The ship, owned by Gdynia-American Shipping Lines, Ltd., is due at Southampton, England, Saturday.

Miller told reporters "we have a positive identification." Eisler, also awaiting deportation proceedings, has been trying to get out of the country for a long time. Neighbors reported they had not seen him around his New York apartment since late last week.

The Justice Department has been investigating his disappearance and Scotland Yard detectives were waiting for the Batory to dock at Southampton.

Eisler has admitted being a Communist, but denied being the No. 1 Red in this country—as alleged before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The U. S. Court of Appeals at Washington refused recently to upset his conviction on a charge of concealing Communist connections in an application for a passport. (See EISLER, Page 7)

Wheelchair Is Needed by Agency

The Salvation Army here is in need of a wheelchair, to be loaned to an aged lady who cannot get around because of a broken limb.

Maj. Bernice Lyons, officer in charge, said if anybody would like to loan such item, he should contact the Salvation Army post, either by phone or personally. The Army will pick it up, she said.

Everybody's Getting Into the Act—The 'Whistle Stop' Act

By The Associated Press. Main event we will stage to keep passenger service on the line. Basham called for a group of townfolk to go to Austin Monday to seek a hearing before the Railroad Commission.

Whitney, Walnut Springs, Hico, Ireddell, Dublin, De Leon, Gorman, Carbon, Cisco, Moran and Albany and Stamford are served by the branch line.

Now about Electra's mourning. The Railroad Commission reversed an earlier decision and told the FW&DC to go ahead and make Electra and several other towns "conditional stops."

The railroad said it didn't get enough business at these places to make regular stops worth while.

So tomorrow, Mayor T. Leo Moore and some of Electra's citizens are going to hold "whistle stop memorial day."

Moore is resorting to his last court of appeals—a public opinion. They're going to stage a big party when the crack Zephyr stops. A couple of bands will be on hand, so will the VFW and

Truman Report Blames Russia With Failures of United Nations

WASHINGTON — AP — President Truman pledged his administration anew today to full support of the United Nations despite "disappointment" at that organization's failure to achieve greater security for the world.

He submitted to Congress a report on the U.N. which placed blame for the failure on Russia. At the same time he cited the development of the North Atlantic Treaty, now awaiting Senate ratification, as a means of bolstering the world organization.

Of America's role in the U.N., Mr. Truman said: "We have taken the lead in many fields of international relations. We can be proud of what we have done."

His report, including a letter from Secretary of State Acheson, covered the year 1948 and reflected the bitter political conflicts which divided Russia and the West during those 12 months.

Acheson declared that both "hope and disappointment" marked American participation in the U.N.

"The hope," he said, "grew out of the continuing feeling that the principles and purposes of the United Nations Charter offer the best basis of a peaceful world with international justice and respect for individual, human rights and that most members of the organization are working loyally in that direction.

"At the same time there was disappointment because of the failure of certain states to observe their obligations under the Charter on matters which seriously affect the maintenance of peace."

On this latter point, Mr. Truman added: "If the United Nations as a security organization has disappointed us, as the secretary of State (See TRUMAN, Page 7)

Canadian Bus Driver Hurt

CANADIAN — (Special) — Mrs. Bruce Seitz, driver of a Canadian school bus was injured seriously and two high school students received minor injuries in a hill-top collision with a pickup on a country road northwest of Pampa Tuesday morning.

Don and Tom Schaeff, high school students, suffered cuts about the head and face.

Three other students in the bus, Glenda Warren, Christine Schaeff, and Kenneth Warren, were not injured.

The crash occurred about three-quarters of a mile from the Bruce Waterfield place at a point where neither driver could swerve from the rut.

Norman Burton, driver of the pickup, was not injured.

Chris Schaeff, father of Don, Tom, and Christine, brought the Schaeff boys to Canadian Hospital following the accident; and R. A. Flowers and Mrs. C. H. Duncan brought Mrs. Seitz to the hospital.

Mrs. Seitz was still in serious condition Wednesday with chest injuries. Don Schaeff suffered a gash on the head which required seven stitches; and Tom suffered cuts about the head and face.

The boys were released from the hospital Tuesday.

The school bus, a Ford two-door sedan, is not owned by the Canadian school district, but is operated by Mrs. Seitz on a contract with the Roberts County common school district where the Schaeff and Warren families live.

Takes Lots Of Training For Campers

Oh! What a lot of basic training a Girl Scout must go through to be able to go to summer camp. Scouts have all sorts of preliminary activities to wade through before becoming eligible for camp.

The 14 sixth-grade Scouts of Troop 24 yesterday finished up their requirements so they will be able to attend Camp Sullivan June 2.

A one-pot meal at the city park climaxed the training. The Scouts build a fire, under the direction of their leader, Mrs. C. D. Herring, and cooked vegetables, American chop suey, bread twigs and prepared stuffed celery and "homies."

When the girls first decided they would like to attend camp this summer they learned all the safety rules connected with camping, took a nose-bag hike, read and mastered what to do when they learned what food to take and how to handle a knife and hatchet.

On one of their preliminary hikes, they were taught how to read highway signs and follow "C" Scout trail signs.

A series of outdoor meals came next. Scouts were taught how to construct and build fires for various kinds of meals. Then the favorite of most Scouts, the tin can stove or buddy-burner operation, was mastered. The girls prepared hamburgers and one-eyed Egyptians. Now the only thing holding up the Scouts' summer camp is the arrival of summer.

D. F. Russell, 59, a resident of Pampa for 19 years, died at his home in Ada, Okla., yesterday morning following a heart attack.

He moved to Pampa in 1929 and was employed by the Gulf Oil Company. Bad health last year resulted in his retirement and he moved to Ada.

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at the Ada First Baptist Church.

Born in Arkansas in 1891, Russell is survived by his wife, Maude E. Russell, Ada; four daughters, Mrs. W. A. Merrell, Pampa, Mrs. Joe Gillon, Fort Worth, Mrs. Muriel Deaton, Pampa, Miss Nita Jo Russell, Ada; two granddaughters, Candice and Bill Merrell, Jr.; and two brothers, C. O. Russell, Borger, and R. Rent Control Hearing Set Next Tuesday

The pros and cons of rent control have four and one half days to build up their arguments to present to the City Commission at 2 p. m. Tuesday for lifting or retaining rent controls in Pampa.

The commission set the hearing last week and ordered legal notices to be published for the required ten days, or more, beginning on May 5.

The hearing date came on the heels of the presentation of 20 petitions bearing 435 signatures requesting the commission to petition the Governor to approve rent decontrol in Pampa.

Both renters and landlords will be given their chance to speak for or against the decontrol at the hearing. According to the decontrol law, the city governments must determine that a need for rent control no longer exists in their respective communities. (See RENT CONTROL, Page 7)

Senior Exams Scheduled

The final examination schedule for the 1948-49 Pampa High School Seniors has been completed, Frank Wilson, principal, said.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday will be the last days of book learning for many of the students. The examinations have been planned to consume one and one-half hours and the Seniors grades must be in the office by 9 a. m. Friday, May 20. Seniors are not to be at school except when taking exams or rehearsing for vespers service or commencement. Conflicts between exams must be adjusted by the teachers involved.

Tuesday, English examinations will be given from 1:05 to 3:35 p. m. and bookkeeping, trigonometry and shop examinations will be given from 2:40 to 4:10 p. m.

Sciences, civics, history and economics tests will be presented Wednesday morning and mathematics, home economics, Texas history, music, language, commercial law and algebra II Wednesday afternoon.

Thursday morning journalism, sociology and speech examinations will be held and secretarial training and mechanical drawing finals in the afternoon.

Cities Service Plans Barbecue

The Panhandle Division of the Cities Service Oil Company will observe its founders day Saturday at Lake McClellan at which time service pins will be awarded to 10 employees.

A barbecue will be served at 4:30 p. m. In case of rain the picnic will be observed at Welfare Hall, Production Camp.

J. A. Cleverley, assistant general production superintendent, Bartlesville, Okla., will award 25-year service pins to W. C. Hutchison and Lee Coble; 15-year pins to L. F. Batson, Roy Dawson, LeRoy E. Cool, Orval Batson, Earl Griffin, R. E. Engle and S. W. Jones; and a 10-year pin to Francis W. Cobb.

That there is good news tonight for both the superstitious ones and those who prefer "not to take a chance." Tomorrow is really a safer day than last Friday was or than next Friday will be, according to the following AP story:

CHICAGO — AP — Are you superstitious, or do you think superstition is a lot of bunk? Well, the National Safety Council made a survey to find out how superstitious people are about Friday the 13th.

The result? Friday the 13th was 17 percent safer than the two Fridays preceding and the two Fridays after that date.

WASHINGTON — AP — President Truman told his news conference today he still sees a need for a four billion dollar increase in taxes to avoid a deficit and retire part of the public debt.

He believes in and has been practicing rigid government economy, he said.

He wants to apply between two and five billion dollars toward the public debt.

Answering reporters who asked whether he still felt a four billion dollar increase is necessary, the President first said that would be worked out when the amount of the deficit is determined. Later he said he did not expect any change in the tax program he proposed last January.

On other subjects, the President said: He had no reason to comment on a report quoting him as telling a veterans committee that "there are too many Byrds (meaning Senator Byrd, D. Va.) in Congress." He said the conversation he had with a delegation of the American Veterans Committee was confidential.

Asked if this indicated a "purge" of Democrats opposed to some of his program, Mr. Truman said he is not interested in a purge. He added the people take care of that.

His position in favor of repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act has not changed. Asked to comment on reports that some labor leaders are willing to make concessions in the labor legislative dispute, he said he had not decided.

NEW YORK — AP — Israel's admission as the 59th member of the United Nations has finally been approved. A simple flag-raising ceremony today winds up the formalities.

The General Assembly approved the Israeli application last night by a vote of 37-12, with nine countries abstaining.

The decision was followed by an Arab walk-out, but some of the Arab countries' representatives returned for a late night meeting, indicating that the protest was ended.

Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Sharet took his seat as a regular delegate immediately after yesterday's vote. He delivered a formal address on Israel's general foreign policy.

Sharet, however, took no part in debate last night on the first issue to come up after Israel's admission. This was a proposal to postpone action until next fall on the Dutch-Indonesian dispute. Israel abstained when the assembly voted 43-6 approving the deferment.

A Puff of Wind Blew Her Away

Adelaide Rudolph of Cleveland, Ohio, is old and weighs only 99 pounds. Her friends have often humorously predicted that a puff of wind would blow her away one day. That's just what happened. On a windy, rainy night she hurried to catch a bus, the wind caught her umbrella and lifted her off her feet. She fell to the pavement and suffered a broken collar bone and a black eye. Here in the hospital, Miss Rudolph worries only about missing her 91st birthday party, while Sister Alice fixes her hair.

Little Guy Can't Tell Which Way Wind Blowing

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — (AP) — The little guy, any little guy on this day of May, 1948, wet his finger and held it up to see which way the wind was blowing. He couldn't tell.

High in the sky he saw a bird flying. "The dove of peace — maybe, maybe," he said to himself. He wanted to think it was. He couldn't be sure. He trudged along, eyes straight ahead.

Russia and the West were going to end the Berlin blockade and talk of settling things. But they had been talking of that off and on since the war and things hadn't been settled yet.

Knowing the nature of man, he couldn't be sure they ever would be and he thought: "I wonder if they'll ever be settled in my lifetime or anybody's lifetime, now or hereafter."

But deep tides were running all over the earth, tides of people and ideas, changing the lives and ways of people, tides that were lapping closer to the shores of the world he lived in.

In China communism was rolling over 450,000,000 people, over 100,000,000 people in Russia and Siberia, over more millions in Eastern Europe, trying to get through the edges of Western Europe.

And here and in Western Europe people were banding together to build dikes of steel and planes and men in uniform to stop the Eastern tides.

But struggle, struggle, struggle. Man is an animal and struggles to survive and this is a natural thing. But couldn't they struggle without eating one another? All he wanted was less showing.

Even here at home, he struggles. Here it was a struggle of words between Democrats and Republicans in Congress, arguments, wrangling, denunciations, politicking.

The little guy smiled again, thinking suddenly of "Lippy" Du-rocher of the Giants and he began to grin.

"People go to baseball games to have a good time, and even there there's struggle. Think of all the scrapes Lippy's been in. And the fans pay their good money so they can call people names."

Spain Called Problem for Europe to Solve

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson said today that Spain must go a long way toward restoring basic civil rights before it can hope to be admitted into the family of free European nations.

Acheson told a news conference the United States considers the issue of relations with Spain an international family matter in which European agreement is needed. For this reason he said the United States will continue to abstain from voting in the United Nations General Assembly on a resolution to return ambassadors to Madrid.

Acheson referred to the Franco regime as patterned after Fascist Italy and Nazi Germany. He said it is still Fascist.

The secretary's review of policy toward Spain followed up criticism of the State Department's stand by Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) and ranking members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Observing that he had opposed the American position of agreeing to the 1946 act, Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) earlier told a reporter:

"In the first place this action was totally inconclusive. Secondly, our designation of an ambassador is in no sense approval of the government to which he is accredited."

Senator Brewster (R-Me.) told a reporter he is informed that full relations can be reestablished, Spain may be in the market for 300,000 bales of American cotton and 30 million bushels of American wheat.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — Write a hit song — and there's $30,000 to $35,000 in it for you. And everybody in America today seems to be trying to write a hit song except me," says Manie Sacks, the man behind many a disc jockey.

Manie knows better than to try. The odds are too high. As head of artists and repertoire for Columbia Records, Sacks selects the songs for a firm which mints some 53 million phonograph records a year.

After a quarter century in the music industry, Manie, a small, sensitive-looking man of 43, is convinced there is no formula for turning out a hit tune. "Anybody who tells you he can write a sure hit is as crazy as a guy who says he knows how a horse race is going to turn out."

Besides reviewing the grist submitted by professional song publishers, Manie and his assistants look over 100 to 150 songs by amateurs each week.

"Only one or two a year by unknown writers turn out to be worth recording," he said. A current example is "Riders in the Sky," written by a Western forest ranger and popularized by Burl Ives, the folk singer.

"The ranger ought to make $30,000 from it," said Manie. "Anyhow he can quit looking for fires."

Sacks has noted a distinct change in the public's music tastes since the war. "They aren't interested in loud music, jam sessions or any kind of music that plans away from the melody itself," he said.

"Be-bop hasn't a chance. It's a fad. I can't understand it, and I don't know anyone who can explain it and make sense."

The record market is in a slump and buyers are becoming more selective. "They don't just want a record anymore," Manie grinned. "They want a production. Along with the dance band music they want singers or a choral group — at least some extra gimmick."

Today any record that sells to 250,000 customers is highly successful. Only five or six records a year make the real hit class — a million or more. And they last only four to six months at the top.

"One of the reasons the industry is off is that too many song writers are turning out tunes as if they were hotlers or cigarets — on a mass production basis," said Sacks.

When you buy Barconrate, you buy preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for any printed diet or for vitamins to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while taking this preparation. Barconrate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for weight reduction.

Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barconrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoons a day. That's all there is to it. The very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to take off ugly fat.

Return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 56 pounds
Here is what Mrs. L. J. Bryant, P. O. Box 64, Whitesboro, Texas, wrote us: "I want to tell you what Barconrate has done for me. I weighed 268 pounds when I started taking it. I now weigh 212."

"I have taken my dress size down from size 44 to 44 and never felt better in my life and everybody tells me how much nice I look than I did."

"I am still taking Barconrate as I want to get my weight down to 160 or 170 pounds."

Consumer Income Falls Third Month

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Consumer income dropped in March for the third consecutive month, falling three percent below the peak reached last December. It was still four percent above March, 1948.

The Commerce Department said March consumer income fell two billion dollars below February to an annual rate of $214,300,000,000.

Declines in wages and salaries and in receipts of owners of farm and unincorporated businesses were chiefly responsible. They were partly offset by increased unemployment compensation payments.

"The term consumer income," means practically all income received by individuals as distinguished from income received by corporations.

The department said payrolls showed in March the biggest drop so far in 1948, but that the coal mine "holiday" caused the fall to be greater than in January and February.

Layoffs and shortening of the work week in many manufacturing plants accounted for most of the reduction in wage and salary receipts in March.

Wage payments by manufacturing concerns turning out durable goods — refrigerators, washing machines and the like — fell in March below the level of the same month in 1948, marking the first time that had happened since early 1946. Wages in non-durable goods industries were about the same as in March last year.

Payroll declines also occurred in construction, farming and trade.

The department said jobless benefits have offset nearly one-third of the drop in worker earnings.

Another factor was the beginning of veterans' bonus payments by Louisiana.

For the first three months of 1948, consumer income was at an annual rate of $216,700,000,000 compared with $219,600,000,000 in the fourth quarter of 1947.

For March, non-agricultural income totaled $192,100,000,000 at an annual rate compared with $194,100,000,000 in February. Farm income flowed at a $21,700,000,000 clip in March against $22,300,000,000 in February.

Annual rates set out by the department represent dollar totals for each month, adjusted for seasonal differences, and then multiplied by twelve.

Real East-West Struggle Is About to Begin, Says Mayor

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The hard-boiled anti-Communist mayor of Western Berlin, Ernst Reuter, says the agreement among the big four to lift the blockade of the German capital marks the "real beginning of a tug-of-war between the East and West."

Reuter means, I take it, that we are about to see the start of a great struggle between Russia and the Western Allies for control of all Germany.

Wes Gallagher, AP chief of bureau in Germany, reports that many international observers there believe victory for the West would shatter the Red iron curtain. The reason is that Eastern Europe traditionally as depended heavily on the Reich for necessities which it is doubtful Russia alone can provide.

Hitter held all Eastern Europe and the Balkans in the itching palm of his hand. Why? Because industrial Germany over a long period had built up an economic structure under which she supplied agricultural countries with manufactured articles, and took from them in turn the agricultural products which the Reich didn't produce itself.

This arrangement wasn't just something that happened. It was the result of a carefully worked out plan. Germany cultivated the relationship and maneuvered so that the small nations would be forced to confine themselves to agricultural pursuits and complement the Reich's growing industrial strength.

So Hitler was master of the rolling fields of grain and herds of his satellites. They had no alternative but to do what he said.

Most of these satellites now are under Russia's control. Thus the question arises as to how far she can go in supplying the industrial necessities.

If Moscow could gain control of Germany, the problem would be solved for the Soviets.

Methodist Church Issues Report

NEW YORK — (AP) — More than 750,000 new members have been added to the rolls of The Methodist Church during the past ten years, it was reported Monday.

The figure was given by Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, of St. Louis, president of the denomination's Council of Bishops, in a statement issued here by the church.

Ten years ago, the statement noted, The Methodist Episcopal Church, The Methodist Protestant Church and The Methodist Episcopal Church, South, merged to form the present Methodist Church.

A gain in membership from 7,856,000 to 8,631,000 since that date was reported.

Other gains reported included: church property value, up from $704,117,000 to $1,077,449,142; and the total received annually for all purposes, up from $80,848,997 to $196,435,168.

The number of churches dropped from 46,255 to 40,397, largely because of local mergers.

Study Resumed On Europe's Citrus Needs

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Agriculture Department is resuming a study of citrus marketing prospects in Europe and North Africa.

Started last winter, the study so far has covered the United Kingdom, France, Belgium, Norway, Denmark, Sweden, The Netherlands, French Morocco, Algeria and Tunisia.

It will be extended to Spain, Italy and to other parts of North Africa. The study is being made by J. Henry Burke, marketing specialist of the department's Office of Foreign Agricultural Relations.

Preliminary studies were said to show that there is a potential demand in Europe for 25 to 30 percent more citrus fruit and citrus products than before the war. But there was said to be little immediate prospect of improving the market for United States products because of a shortage of dollar exchange.

Most governments participating in the European Recovery Program prefer to use their recovery dollars for other things. Shipments of citrus presently are confined to Belgium and Switzerland.

"The United Kingdom is purchasing from the United States large quantities of orange juice concentrate for maintenance of its child health program but plans to develop other sources of supply to conserve dollars," the department said.

Tests Entered in Texas City Suit

HOUSTON — (AP) — Burning cigarettes will not readily ignite ammonium nitrate fertilizer, nor the bags in which it was packed, according to government tests following the Texas City explosions of 1947.

The report of the tests was introduced in evidence by the plaintiffs against the government as the $300,000,000 liability suits entered their third week, before Federal Judge T. M. Kennerly.

The cigarette tests were made by A. C. Hutton, of the Bureau of Standards in December, 1947. They showed that wet ammonium nitrate would burn flamelessly close to the area where the cigarette lay, according to Hutton, but that dry ammonium nitrate fertilizer was even less susceptible to the cigarette's glow.

Rioting Arabs Clash With Legion

DAMASCUS, Syria — (AP) — Rioting Arab civilians clashed with Trans-Jordan Arab Legion forces in the so-called Nablus triangle of Palestine.

A dispatch from Amman said 80 of the civilians were wounded severely. More trouble is feared.

The trouble was reported to have arisen from Arab resentment against the surrender by Trans-Jordan of part of the more than 100-square mile triangular tract to Israel.

Carthage was founded in Africa, near Tunis, by Dido, sister of Pygmalion, King of Tyre. It was burned in 146 B. C. and rebuilt in 19 B. C.

U.S. Navy Gets Classier by the Day; Now Has Sleek Flying Hotel

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff

You get tired sitting in the biggest transport plane at get up and take a long walk.

roll upstairs and downstairs. Like a hike far back to the tail.

the Navy's Lockheed Constellation on show tour. The Force's Giant B-36 was for bombs. The Constitution was made for people.

one hundred and eighty people in it Monday from Denver to Dallas and get a load of commercial airiner of the.

is plushy and roomy. Two complete decks with two coning stairwells. Stow a pull-car, freight car and flat in the vast fuselage and you'd enough room left over for passenger bus.

and the 92-ton silver ship on wing and its other wing tip rise 189 feet—18 stories—the air. Its four mighty engines whip up three times the of a diesel locomotive. And fly 5,000 miles at better 300 miles per hour.

he air's thin here at Denver. "Commander William H. Burnett, boss, says, "I use jet assistance on the ff. We don't really have 's just additional insurance. all, it cost $15,000,000 to develop and build the Constitution."

The propellers whip up a hurricane out there on the end of the runway. Collins—tall, handsome Navy ace who bagged nine Jap fighters in the war—stands around supervising on the flight deck. Pilot and co-pilot sit at the top of the nose. Ten feet behind are two flight engineers who man two big panels of instruments; a radio navigator and a navigator. Collins has a regular crew of 12.

The jet assistance—called JATO—consists of three metal cylinders of chemicals, snuggled together out on each wing. Every time they are used, it costs the navy $2,000.

"Takeoff power," the pilot, Lt. Comm. Lou Burnett of Oklahoma City, calls by interphone to Flight Engineer Henry Gettle of Santa Fe, N. M.

"Aye, aye, sir, takeoff power," Gettle replies, and thrusts the four throttles forward.

Burnett releases the brakes. The Constitution rolls down the 8,000-foot runway.

Seventy, eighty, ninety-five miles per hour and Burnett feels the wheels leave the ground.

"JATO," he calls, and the co-pilot, Lt. Comm. Don Shay of Albuquerque, flicks an overhead switch.

Instantly streams of white steamlike vapor hiss from the metal wing cylinders and the great ship is caught in a tremendous burst of added power.

Burnett hauls back on the stick and the Constitution noses breath-takingly into the sky. And Shay, on command, hits another switch, bringing up the landing gear. JATO power lasts 15 seconds, covering the 14 seconds it takes to swallow the wheels.

"Those are the 14 crucial seconds of flying," Collins says.

Now you are really flying—reclining in a fine, soft, chair, admiring the soft grey and blue decor of the enormous top deck cabin and the pretty Wave, Peggy Tubb of York, Pa., who operates a telephone switchboard at the front of the cabin.

Another Wave, green-eyed Kay Langdon of Salem, Ore., brews coffee in the compact, well-ordered galley with facilities for turning out 300 hot meals at a time, in flight.

Down on the lower deck, D. L. Tolleson, aviation metallsmith chief, tends the hydraulic systems of the sky monarch. The plane has three hydraulic systems—if one goes out, the others can take over. It's the same with electrical systems.

Tolleson, slim veteran of the Pacific war, is pretty happy. His home town is Petrolia, Tex., 17 miles northwest of Wichita Falls, and the pilot has promised to fly over the tiny town. Tolleson writes a message on several big photographs of the Constitution. The message advises the finder to turn the pictures over to Tolleson's father, F. C. Tolleson, trucker and service station operator at Petrolia.

Tolleson bundles up the pictures and makes his way toward the tail of the ship. He has to crawl the last few feet—through a tunnel. At the end of the tail, he opens a little trapdoor. Then he puts on headphones.

Suddenly Pilot Burnett calls that Petrolia is beneath—and Tolleson drops the pictures through the trapdoor, saying: "I sure hope they get to Dad."

Three hours out of Denver, the Constitution is over Dallas.

When the wheels touch, there is no shock—no shriek of burning rubber as in the landings of other big planes.

There is no feeling of contacting the earth at all—only a red light glowing suddenly in front of the pilot to tell him the wheels are on the runway. It is that smooth.

It is estimated that more than 1,500 cities in the United States have installed parking meters.

Psychologists Worry About Themselves

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — What worries me about psychology is that they worry about themselves.

And, particularly, I am worried about the stage of life at which they worry over different things. For days and days I have been mulling over a worry timetable presented recently at the Midwestern Psychological Association meeting in Chicago.

It was a composite picture of what 103 elderly psychologists had worried most about at different ages. It left a lot of questions unanswered in my mind.

At 18, the survey showed, these foragers in the pastures of the brain are most concerned over idealism and personal development. At 20 they are in a blue funk over their personal appearance.

Come the ripe old age of 25, and what is the fledgling psychologist fretting most about? Why, sexual morality.

At 26 the psychologists bend their ids and egos to the task of making a good impression on people.

It is perhaps completely normal that at 31 they should be most interested in their personal business or professional success. But why, at 33, are they most worried over job security?

Well, they jog on to 38 and are doleful over their health. They hit 41 and mope over their political convictions. At 42 they have finally decided whether to vote Democratic or Republican—or go all out for Henry Wallace—and it is marital difficulties that plague them most.

And at 45 life has cut them down to their last two big worries. This is the year they pine over giving up their unfulfilled ambitions and turn again to their health. For the rest of their days nothing frustrates them more than how their uclers are faring.

This worry table is rather disillustioning. It shows these fearless explorers of the mental jungle find no tigers therein that the average bank clerk or bus driver doesn't meet and grapple with. It makes psychologists so dull and ordinary.

162 Piano Students From 7 Towns Are Auditioned

One hundred two students of seven music teachers at Pampa, McLean, Borger, Phillips, and Spearman participated in the National Piano Playing Auditions held here five days ending Tuesday.

The auditions, sponsored by the National Guild of Piano Teachers, were for a total of 637 memorized pieces or musicianship phases, such as scales, chords, etc., as prepared by the pupils who presented them.

Mrs. H. A. Yoder, chairman of the Pampa guild, said that pupils received certificates and a pin for the work accomplished at the auditions, judged locally by Thurman Harrison, of Hardin-Simmons University. The certificates are classified as National, State, District, or Local, depending on the amount of work accomplished by the student.

Teachers who entered students are: Mrs. Willie Boyett, McLean; Mrs. Guida W. Ellis, Mrs. Theodora Turner, Mrs. Marg Brubaker, all of Borger; Mrs. Brush, Phillips; Miss Ruby Jo Wilbanks, Spearman; and Mrs. Yoder.

Results were as follows: National Gold Star for 20 pieces—June Gull, Pampa; Dicky Sliger, McLean. National Blue Star for 15-19 pieces—Norma Chapman, Barbara Nell Williams, Barbara Ruth Carter, all of McLean. Gamma Ray in Action Shown To Rotarians

Gamma rays and perforating guns in action were shown yesterday via the motion picture to members of the Rotary Club during their weekly meeting in the Palm Room, City Hall.

The program was sponsored by the Lane Well Co., represented by Russell Lindley, local manager for the concern. The program was introduced by Fred Neslage.

Jay Thompson, associated with the R. G. Hughes enterprises, was inducted into the club as a new member by former president, Mayor C. "Lefty" Huff.

Rev. E. Douglas Carver, president of Rotary, reported three Pampa Rotarians, George S. "Pinkey" Vineyard, Virgil Mott, and Travis Lively took part in the programs during the district convention of Rotary at Plainview on May 4, 5, and 6.

Senior Scouts Prepare for Canoe Trip

Thirty-four Senior Scouts and leaders of the Adobe Walls Area Council have completed arrangements to attend a 10-day canoe trip, July 17 to 27, in Canada, Paul Beisenherz, council executive, said.

Scouts to be eligible for the trip must be members of a Senior Scout unit and must have swimming and canoeing merit badges.

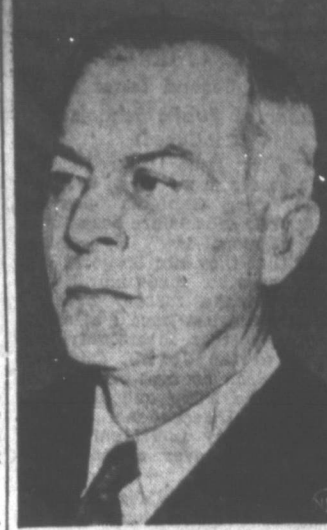

The Scouts will go to Ely, Minn., in a highway-type Borger school bus. With this arrangement, it is expected the total cost of the trip will be between $50 and $60 for each Scout.

At Ely the Scouts will be outfitted with canoes, packs and food at the canoe base, operated by Region 10 of the Boy Scouts of America. After checking through the ranger's station at the Canadian border, they will travel approximately 200 miles by canoe into Ontario.

While canoeing and fishing in the land of 10,000 lakes, the Scouts will be under the direction of trained guides.

Meanwhile, the sixth week, at Camp Ki-O-Wah, July 3-8, will be devoted to a canoe course for

Senator Wants Dirt to Fly

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Chavez (D-NM) said he wants "dirt flying" on the middle Rio Grande flood control project in New Mexico within the next year.

He expressed himself as "elated" that the Senate Appropriations Committee had backed up a subcommittee by adding $2,471,500 to the Army engineers civil works money bill for the project.

As passed by the House, the bill contained only $212,000 for planning work on the project. The Senate committee wrote in $200,000 for the Bluewater floodway, $750,000 for the Chamita Dam, $750,000 for the James Dam, and $771,500 for the Rio Grande floodway. It also allowed $38,000 for the management of the Conchas Dam reservoir at Tucuman.

Missourian Never Regretted Move

CANADIAN — (Special) — Continuing the series of programs by past presidents of Rotary in Canadian, Clay Allen Tuesday recalled the events which led him to come to Canadian.

"I don't know why I left Missouri," Allen told the local club in its regular luncheon meeting in the WCTU building. "But I will say that in the 43 years I have been here I have never regretted the move a single time. I met a bunch of nice people in a nice country and — well you'll just have to put up with me for a few more years."

He recalled his first employment — at $3 per week — in a doctor's office and in 1906 he gave up a $65-a-month job with an express firm to take a $50-a-month job with the Moody located across the street from the old First National Bank building since it was erected in 1907 with the exception of about a year and a half when the Production Credit Association, of which he is secretary-manager, was located across the street from the old First National Bank building.

Fencer Foils Thief

DALLAS — (AP) — The time had come yesterday for Mrs. E. A. Abbott of Route 1, Galveston, to compete in the Southwestern Fencing Tournament.

For three years, she had trained for this moment. If she could win here she would go to New York to compete in the national finals.

But Saturday night her foil, glove and fencing mask, $60 worth of equipment in all, had been stolen from her parked automobile. Somebody had smashed in the front window, to get them.

Other fencers heard what happened. When the competitions began, Mrs. Abbott suddenly had all the equipment she needed, including a foil from Galveston, a glove from Dallas and a mask from Rice University.

She swept the day — won all her matches and first prize in the women's foil division. She will be Texas' first representative in the New York finals.

Too Many Byrds In Congress?

Sen. Harry Byrd has drawn new ire from Pres. Harry Truman. The gentleman from Virginia has been so bold, as he went to do so often, to suggest that the country is heading toward some kind of ruin...

The President said Monday that "there are too many Byrds in Congress."

This newest intra-party fight crops from a speech made last Friday by Byrd in the Senate. Among other salient remarks he made was that in which was included a table of federal income and expenditures with the resultant deficit. If the people have not been concerned about the future solvency of the U. S., they should take a look at the following table...

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Fiscal year 1949 (ending June 30, 1950) listed in billions: Income 43.5, Expenditures 40.3, Deficit 3.2. Fiscal year 1950 (ending June 30, 1950) listed in billions: Income 40.9, Expenditures 44.3, Deficit 3.4. Fiscal year 1951 (ending June 30, 1951) listed in billions: Income 40.9, Expenditures 47.4, Deficit 6.5.

If these figures, which we have not yet heard challenged, do not indicate the direction in which the nation's finances are going, the whole system of economy as we know it has not been worth the time our American forefathers spent in building it.

British People Believed They Got Something Free

By THURMAN SENSING, Director of Research, Southern States Industrial Council

LONDON - Those who believe in specialized medicine are those who believe in state control, who believe that the state can do things better for the people than the people can do these things for themselves. They prefer the welfare state to individual freedom.

What results can they marshal to support their belief? None, that history records. It continues to be an illusive will of the wisep of wishful thinking that is all fancy and no fact.

One of the welfare measures that the welfare states always concentrate upon is socialized medicine, a complete health service for all provided at government expense. The welfare state is the promise in the platform of the present socialist government as it came into power in Great Britain.

Of course, good health is desirable for the people of any nation. Naturally, a complete health service for all is one of the ways to ensure good health.

The question is whether the particular charge or tax in connection with this service in its general budget. The further question is whether, provided it can be afforded, it is best to turn the health of the people over to the state or let the people retain control over their own health.

So far as Great Britain is concerned, the people are now finding out that they were not able to afford socialized medicine in their national budget. It is costing at the rate of $1,040,000,000 per year, or approximately one-twelfth of the total budget, far and beyond all estimates.

Prime Minister Isn't Safe From Oxford Humor

OXFORD, Eng. - (AP) - Not even Prime Minister Attlee is safe from what passes for humor among Oxford University students.

The head of Britain's Labor Government, an Oxford man himself, went into a hall at Oriel College to dine with college dignitaries. When he came out, he found the undergraduates had been working on his parked automobile.

The tires had been deflated. Signs had been put on the windshield reading "parking prohibited." One on Attlee's hat in the back seat read: "Vote Tory next time."

The prime minister's chauffeur and a detective had to borrow a pump from a taxi driver to inflate the tires.

Mayor Runs Off Utility Crewmen

DALLAS - (AP) - Garland's undertaker-mayor, Cecil Williams, has a ten-man Texas Power and Light Company crew off the job.

He said later "they were so nice about it all that we didn't have to put one of them in jail."

Williams said the men were erecting poles in a Garland addition, despite a district court injunction last week.

Albert Young, Garland manager of the TP&L, termed the whole thing "a mistake." He said the crew was really taking down the equipment, not putting it up.

Williams said he had received a tip that the men were going to erect the poles. He headed for the trouble spot with two aids.

"When we got there they had just finished unloading the poles and were working on the lines," Williams said.

"I told the foreman he and his men would have to stop. The foreman asked me - very politely - what authority I had to stop them. When I told him, he told his men to stop."

Common Ground

By R. C. HOLMES, Answering Second Letter of Defender of Public Schools (Continued)

In the last issue I reproduced a second letter from Mrs. Vertrees of Rio Oso, California, denying that "public schools are based on a denial of moral law."

In her article, Mrs. Vertrees several times states that she "does not agree." Certainly whether she or I or anybody else does not agree with moral law has nothing to do with whether it is moral or right.

That is not the case. I believe neither in majority rule or minority rule, but in Universal rule—a divine rule—in a Higher Law in a law that no man made and no man can unmake—in a law that if man violates, he will suffer the consequences.

Mrs. Vertrees says that the minority has many ways of being in the majority. She says that the majority is not a majority unless it is a majority in the eyes of the law.

I would ask Mrs. Vertrees if the majority ruled that there should be no great excepting what the government sanctioned whether she would believe that that was according to moral law.

And if she believes in majority rule as a duty of what is moral or right and wrong as she seems to do throughout her entire article, then whenever the majority changes its opinion, would she have a new commandment that is right or wrong would we not? Then again, if the majority determines moral law why should anyone want to change the moral law the majority prescribes?

And if that is not the case, then there must be a Higher Law than the will of the majority that does not change. And if there be a Higher Law, which I maintain is the duty of an individual to oppose both the rule of the majority and the minority that is incompatible or in disagreement with the Higher Law.

What majority does Mrs. Vertrees mean? The nearer we approach that kind of government the less anarchistic it will be and the stronger it will be, and the weaker it will eventually be.

Mrs. Vertrees says in accepting citizenship we tacitly give our consent to majority rule. Only individuals give consent. A man born in this country could of course move to another country if he was not prevented by immigration restrictions.

Because he prefers to remain a citizen of the United States, he is not necessarily giving even his consent to the laws of the country. He is only choosing the lesser of two evils.

Again his conscience might tell him it is his duty to stay here and try to get people to better understand what a just government should be.

Defend Your Terms Lord Kelvin said: "When you can measure what you are speaking about and express it in numbers, you know something about it; but when you cannot measure it, when you cannot express it in numbers, your knowledge is of a meagre and unscientific kind."

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER WASHINGTON - Dean Acheson was not talking merely of public or political consumption when he told members of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce at their annual convention here that international conditions which threatened a World War III only a year ago had "improved."

The fact is, as he has informed Congressional committees behind closed doors, only one grave crisis clouds the foreign skies. That is the Communist conquest of all of North China, and his failure to settle the dispute between the Chinese government and the Indonesian rebels.

Now, however, it appears that one of our least known but ablest diplomats, Dr. Ralph Bunche, has persuaded the Jews and Arabs to talk it out instead of fighting it out.

The combined influence of the United States with the new leadership of the enemy country, which were supported by a coalition of the Jews and Arabs to talk it out instead of fighting it out.

Russia might have made great headway in this key area had it not been for Dr. Bunche's efforts, which were supported by a coalition of the Jews and Arabs to talk it out instead of fighting it out.

As it is now, the young state of Israel, as well as her new leaders, feel grateful to the Western powers, and have lined up with the United States and Great Britain, who alone can provide the capital and recovery resources that Palestine will require for many years.

ATHENS - (3) Although guerrilla warriors still continue to gain minor successes against the American-armed and trained Greek forces in the northern mountains, Athens is gradually regaining control of this territory.

Marshall Tito's disagreement with Stalin has been a helpful factor. The anti-government faction is now receiving almost no arms and recruits from Yugoslavia, which once provided the bulk of men and materials for the Communist forces.

TEST - A forthcoming conference of Yugoslavians, Egyptians and Albanian officials, called by President Herbert Evatt and Secretary General Trygve Lie of the United Nations, will provide another test of Russia's sincerity for world peace.

Under United Nations mandate, the "Commissaires" in the three countries will be asked to end their interference in Greece. If they do, Albania and Bulgaria will take orders on this question from Moscow, the problem of this key country in the Mediterranean Basin will be on their way to settlement, according to Mr. Acheson.

KASHMIR - (4) Kashmir is only a ragged but Graustarkian voice to most of the world. But the claims of India and Pakistan to this key area also provided a danger spot, besides giving Russia a possible wedge for interfering in the affairs of this vast continent.

However, it is expected that the United Nations mission headed by Admiral Chester Nimitz will organize and conduct a plebiscite that will settle this question in a peaceful manner. The Kashmir people will be allowed to decide for themselves whether they shall join with India or the separate government of Pakistan.

The basic fact is, according to Secretary Acheson's survey, that World War III explosives have been dampened down, at least for the moment.

So They Say

Should another war be forced upon us, there would exist a more extensive scope for amphibious warfare than ever before in the military history of the United States.

—Maj.-Gen. M. H. Silverthorn, U.S.M.C.

It (President Truman's medical program) is the discredited system of decadent nations which are now living off of the bounty of the American people—and if adopted here, it would not only jeopardize the health of our people, but gravely endanger our freedom.

—Dr. Elmer L. Henderson, chairman, Board of Trustees, American Medical Association.

Truman Once Saw Family Farm Go For Mortgage Price

WASHINGTON - (AP) - President Truman once saw his family farm go for lack of money to cover the mortgage. But, in the best American tradition he has been able to buy back part of the old homestead.

The story is told in "Missouri Lawyer" written by John T. Barker, now special assistant to the attorney general. Barker is an old friend of the President and was formerly attorney general of Missouri.

He recounts in his book that prior to the depression Mr. Truman's mother, a widow, owned 360 acres about 10 miles from Kansas City. In the early 30's she mortgaged the farm for $30,000. But she couldn't pay it off.

Mr. Truman was then a senator. "Truman saw the farm go up at auction and sold for the price of the mortgage," Barker says. "A hundred banks in Missouri would have renewed the loan for him if he had asked them to do so. He did not ask because he did not want to be under obligation to any body while he was occupying the responsible position of a senator of the United States."

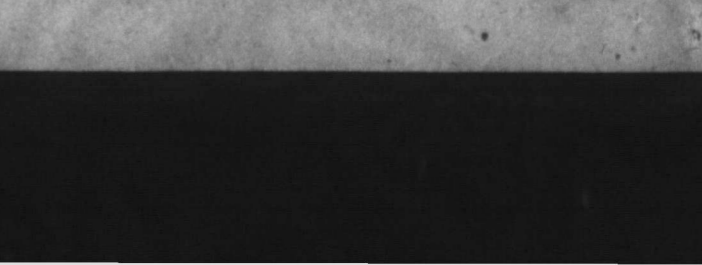

Later the President was able to buy back part of the old farm.

Lifting Blockade Won't Solve Much

NEW YORK — Lifting the Berlin blockade won't solve much, according to Business Week.

The magazine says there are four important points upon which the Western powers have no intention of weakening. They are:

1. Giving Russia a voice in the Ruhr.
2. Halting plans for a West German state.
3. Granting the Soviet's claim to $10-billion in German reparations.
4. Withdrawing occupation troops in the near future.

Yet these are all major objectives of Russia's strategy in Germany," says the publication. "Sweeping victories in China will save whatever political loss of face Stalin suffers in Germany. The Far East is rapidly becoming his backyard."

The article adds that economically, we may be doing Stalin a favor by lifting the blockade, as it allows goods to flow into protest Eastern Germany.

Pup Plugs Pipe

Allen Glisch, of the Chicago Animal Welfare League, frees three-week-old Kiki from a drain pipe after the dog fell through from the floor above. The puppy was trapped for over three hours and wagged his stubby tail for joy when he was returned to the arms of his grateful owner, James Hager, 7.

crowds, special lighting for the camera men, and a big display of the black, red and gold colors of the new West German government. The trains were plastered with placarded slogans.

The people, who had been slow to respond for days, really got into the mood. End of the blockade means for them the promise of fresh foods instead of the dehydrated stuffs the airlift had supplied them. It means more fuel, enough electric lights in their homes and an end of the street blackouts. It means that they can move between the East and West sectors of Berlin, free again from the danger of molestation by the police. It means a sense of security they have not felt for the better part of a year.

The political splitting of the city between East and West remained as deep as ever, however. Each still has its own police force, city government, fire department and other services.

So they closed the schools today, business houses planned to suspend work early, and the people thumped each other and swapped congratulations in public and informal gatherings.

The first Allied train into Berlin was halted only four minutes to get clearance from the Russians. The Russian Army officers did not even step aboard, or ask for identification papers of the passengers. They asked only for assurances that it carried no Germans, other than the train crew.

As the day wore on rail and highway traffic was reported moving "without incident."

The whole program went off with only two hitches, neither considered very serious as of now. The Russians insisted that Soviet-owned locomotives pull the trains. This the Allies agreed to, subject to appeal to higher authority.

The Soviet guards refused to allow German trucks bound from Berlin to Western Germany to go through their lines without permits from the Soviet-controlled East German administration of the Soviet military government. It appeared, however, that the Russians were making it an easy formality to get the permits.

Travelers who have passed through Russian control points unanimously said they had been treated courteously, and that the Russian soldiers on duty seemed in affable mood.

Tires Taken From Spare Racks

Four large-sized truck tires were stolen last night from trucks of the Wilson Truck Co., Tulsa, as they stood parked on the old Danciger lease, 15 miles south of Pampa.

The truck company had been engaged to haul equipment from the old lease to Oklahoma.

Workers told the Sheriff's Department this morning the tires were first missed from their spare racks when one of the drivers asked the other where his spare was. Three others looked and found their spare tires missing, too.

Two of the tires were new and two were retreads. The loss was described as: one Firestone - 900 X 20; one Goodrich - 8.25 X 20; one U.S. Royal (recap) - 8.25 X 20; and one Firestone (recap) 900 X 20.

is aimed particularly at foreign agents who come into the country under the guise of representatives to the United Nations and other international groups.

At a public session late yesterday the subcommittee was told that Dr. J. Vilfan, Yugoslavia's chief delegate to the U. N. is "the main, the top man for espionage in this country concerning the Yugoslavs."

The testimony came from Bogdan Raditsa, a former information officer at the Yugoslav Embassy in Washington. Raditsa said he broke with the government of Marshal Tito in 1948 and later reentered this country as a displaced person.

Earlier Raditsa had testified that Vilfan in Europe sent "hundreds of thousands of innocent Yugoslavs" to their deaths. The witness also said Vilfan now is "developing a secret police network" from a luxurious Fifth Avenue apartment in New York.

Raditsa called Vilfan "a member of the Central Committee for the Slovenian Communist Party."

In New York, Vilfan described Raditsa as an unimportant man whose charges are absurd.

"It's nice for a man to be king in his home until the queen takes his jack."

state notes, and if we have had to take supplemental measures to meet actual or potential threats to our security, it is not because the United States has not put forth real efforts to develop the United Nations to its full stature.

"The world today is not the world we had hoped for when the San Francisco conference adjourned less than four years ago."

Acheson said the United States had taken the lead in keeping U.N. attention focused on the questions of the future government of Palestine, the independence of Korea, and the maintenance of the territorial and political independence of Greece. This country also played a "prominent part," he said, in attempts to bring peace to Indonesia.

"When exhaustive efforts failed to remove the threat to peace caused by the Soviet blockade of Berlin, we joined with France and the United Kingdom in placing the matter before the Security Council," Acheson said.

The 201-page report which Acheson sent to the President and the President forwarded to Congress dealt in detail with problems which arose before the U.N. Security Council, General Assembly and other agencies during the year.

The new Theodore Roosevelt National Memorial Park covers 58,000 acres along the Little Missouri River in North Dakota.

PRESIDENT

ment's debt now stands at about $251,800,000,000.

The President said he had exercised rigid economy and that his budget message to Congress in January called for rigid economy.

He said he discussed social security, rather than taxes, with Doughton.

Doughton's House committee handles social security legislation as well as tax measures.

Mr. Truman replied with a flat no when a reporter asked if he thought a deficit could be avoided without additional taxes.

Asked if he thought the additional taxes should amount to four billions, the President first said he'd have to see how things worked out.

But later he said he was standing by his original recommendation.

He said he did not know what the deficit would be for this fiscal year, but certainly it would be far less than the four billion dollars. The administration originally estimated the deficit at between six hundred and seven hundred millions.

This fiscal year is the 12 months ending next July 1.

He was asked if he anticipates any change in his recommendation for the four billion dollar increase. He said he did not anticipate any change and that the government ought to retire from two to five billion dollars each year.

The national debt reached a high point of $278,400,000,000 in February, 1946.

Derryberry Rites Set Tomorrow

Funeral services for J. C. Derryberry, 69, who died yesterday morning, will be held at 3 p.m. tomorrow from the Duencel-Carmichael Chapel.

The Rev. Hal Upchurch, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, will officiate, and burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Derryberry had been caretaker at Recreation Park for about two years. He had been in ill health for five or six years and entered a local hospital Tuesday for treatment.

He was born June 28, 1880, near Gainesville in Cooke County, Tex.

In addition to his wife, Nora, he is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Raymond Harrod of Lefors, and Mrs. E. L. Smith, Mrs. R. W. Lyons, and Mrs. J. W. Thompson, all of Pampa; by five sons, Clyde of Los Angeles, A. C. of Fresno, Calif., B. A. and Ray of Pampa, and Troy of Perryton; by one sister, Mrs. J. W. Parrish of Kiowa, Okla.; and by 17 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers at tomorrow's services will be: Homer Taylor, H. E. Taylor, Jr., O. W. Hampton, Wade Thomasson, Rip Barrett, and George Walters.

A soft shoulder has upset many a one-armed driver.

For several months he has had an appeal pending before the U. S. Supreme Court from a sentence of one year and a $1,000 fine. The penalties were imposed on a conviction of contempt of Congress growing out of his refusal to be sworn as a witness before the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Government Trying to Sell Program

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Truman administration will try to "sell" the nation on the idea that its new farm program would help prevent a depression.

It also will try to get across to the taxpayer the idea that the program would be less costly to the treasury than relief measures to overcome the effects of a depression.

The depression-prevention aspect of the new farm plan is being emphasized in material prepared by the Agriculture Department for answering questions being raised in letters to the government.

The administration plan would use government "production" payments to assure farmers desired returns for perishable products. It would abandon the present method of government buying of surpluses to hold up prices. It would allow prices to drop. The consumer would get perishables at lower prices when there were surpluses.

A department "question-and-answer" document on the new plan stresses the depression angle.

"What are the main features of the proposed program?" it asks.

The reply: "It is a major positive step that can be taken to prevent depression, build bigger markets for industrial goods, assure jobs for workers, maintain high-level production of farm commodities, conserve natural resources, maintain reserves for national security and strengthen the rural community and the nation as well."

The department quiz book makes a particular bid for city support.

"A fair and stabler level of income to farmers would add to the demand for the products of labor," it said. "It would make industrial jobs more secure by building a better market for manufactured goods."

The question of cost is discussed briefly. Some Congressional critics have estimated it would cost the government more than five billion dollars a year. Secretary of Agriculture Brannan has said such estimates are exaggerated, but he has said it is not possible to make forecasts as to the possible outlay.

"What would be the effect of the program on the taxpayer?" the document asks.

Its answer: "By strengthening the nation's defense against depression, the proposed program could help save the taxpayer the enormous expenses of relief and other measures to overcome the effective of depression."

"The program," it added, "is frankly on the side of preventing rather than curing a depression."

H. L. Mencken Prefers British To U.S. Films

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — H. L. Mencken, who has said harsh words about movies in his long career in American letters, has become a film fan. But he still dislikes 'em.

Recently Variety noted that the famed Baltimore writer sought movies as entertainment during his illness. I wrote him for details. He was too ill to write, but his secretary, Rosalind Lohrfinck, reported his movie habits.

Mencken has seen about 40 films during his convalescence, enough to convince him that most movies are trash. He thinks that some of the minor movies are fairly well done, but concludes that Hollywood films are bad.

The actresses are poor, he says; they all look alike and few have any talent whatsoever. On the whole, English films are better than American, he declares.

Here are some of the things he has enjoyed: "So Dear to My Heart," "Fymalion," Claudette Colbert in "Family Honeymoon," Olivia de Haviland in "The Snake Pit," Clifton Webb in "Mr. Belvedere," Goes to College, "Little Women," Robert Ryan in "The Set-Up" and Mickey Rooney in "Words and Music."

Mencken believes when he recovers he'll see an average of three films a year.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How Would You Say It?

Carley Lawson's cousin from back East and a few of us got talking when he was here visiting, and I couldn't help noticing how different he said things.

For instance, he said, "Lifting that 200-pound bag of cement almost killed me." "You mean sack of cement?" asks Carley. (That's the way we'd say it.) "No," interrupts young Elliott who'd spent a lot of time down South. "He means a 'poke of cement.'"

It was good for a chuckle, anyway. Bag, sack or poke—we know what he was trying to say. It just depends on where you are in the U. S., which way sounds right.

From where I sit, whenever we criticize someone for sounding funny to us, we ought to think how we sound to them. It's the same in choosing your liquid refreshment. I'm accustomed to a moderate glass of beer—you may like ginger ale—but who's to say the other's wrong? I'd say we're both right!

New German Constitution Really 'New'

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The new constitution for the Republic of (West) Germany is one of the most modern documents of its type in the world. It accepts obligatory arbitration of international disputes. It accepts the Nuernberg decision of Germany's conquerors that aggressive war is a punishable offense. It provides for yielding its own sovereignty in favor of international institutions such as a United States of Europe. It provides specifically, repeatedly and at length, for individual liberties which have hitherto been the special standards of countries like Britain, France and the United States. It empowers the government to join other nations in mutual security arrangements, but makes no provisions for an army and gives neither present, chancellor nor parliament the power to declare war.

The provisions for federation of the German states are comparatively loose, perhaps of interpretation except by civil war. These features represent a compromise both between the Germans themselves and between the views of the Western Allies who are sponsoring the new state. It reduces the possibility that the new state will fall into totalitarian hands, reduces the threat to France of a revived nationalistic Germany. But it may also turn out to be a weakness as the new state maneuvers in the cross-currents of the cold war. Much will depend on obtaining the voluntary cooperation of the states where federal powers are incomplete. Under present circumstances, of course, the value of the whole business depends on cooperation and methods of administration, both among the Germans and between the Allies and the Germans. The republic, depending on how the Allied occupation statute and the constitution are applied, will be either a voluntary unit, applying itself to European recovery, or a mere puppet.

Krug Urges Industry to Build Plants

LOUISIANA, Mo.—(AP)—A method by which it is hoped to save this country from an oil shortage for generations to come—by making oil out of coal—was dedicated in a formal ceremony here recently. The federal government is perfecting the process in two big demonstration plants here. Julius A. Krug, secretary of the interior, came from Washington to dedicate them.

He called on private industry to get busy on a plant of its own without delay. The plants were developed by the U. S. Bureau of Mines as the answer to a dwindling supply of petroleum and an ever-increasing demand. As for the coal supply, Krug said: "Does the United States have sufficient coal to contemplate the large requirements of a synthetic fuel industry? Fortunately, the answer is yes. This country has almost half the world's total known coal reserves." The Bureau of Mines has found that gasoline can be made from coal for 12 to 15 cents a gallon, not counting the value of by-products. Counting the by-products, the figure is given as 8 to 12 cents a gallon. This allows 15 years for amortization of the plant but no return on the investment. One plant here cost $10 million and the other cost $5 million. Krug said he hopes Congress will "promptly" pass some pending bills which would provide government loans to help finance commercial plants. To be economical, he said, such a plant should produce nearly 10,000 barrels a day. A plant of that size, he went on, would cost from 40 to 80 or even 90 million dollars, depending on the raw materials used. The process is not new. The Germans worked it out, starting in 1913, and used it extensively in World War II.

Korea Wants More Aid to Fight Reds

By JAMES D. WHITE
AP Foreign News Analyst

President Syngman Rhee of the southern half of Korea is yelling for American help to fight the Communists. They keep crossing the 38th parallel from the Soviet-sponsored half of Korea. He wants more American arms to beat them off. He asks, in a public statement, whether his government can count on "all-out American aid" in case of attack. The question is extremely important in view of a peculiar thing about Korea: The cold war has gone farther there — even sense than anywhere else — in Germany. That is, the United States and other western powers recognize Rhee's government as the legal government for all Korea.

Any diplomatic solution of this impasse would involve withdrawal of such recognition by one side or another — in other words there is no apparent way to back out gracefully for anyone who might be interested. A month ago Dr. Rhee's ambassador in Washington, Chough Pyung-ok, asked for an American military aid program similar to the one which has been going to the Greek government for the past two years. Rhee wants to double his present American-equipped Southern Korean Army of 30,000 men. With the 50,000 police he has, his total force would about equal the Communist forces in Northern Korea, according to one version. There is another version, which is that Rhee's army already has the Northerners out-gunned. There are a 22-million Southern Koreans and about nine million Northerners. Some reports say that if anybody is likely to attack in Korea it is more likely to be Rhee's Southerners attacking the North rather than the other way round. This is still a matter of opinion. There is no question that Korea's tangled affairs are moving to a climax. This draws nearer as a date for the withdrawal of American troops is discussed. Only a token force of a regimental combat team remains. Russia withdrew her troops from the North some time back and turned it over to local Communists who were ready and willing to keep Northern Korea safely in the Soviet orbit. Dr. Rhee obviously wants enough military strength to repel any attack from the North, but not everyone is convinced that he would refrain from trying to re-unite Korea by force if provided with the arms he asks to defend himself. Before they grant the military aid Dr. Rhee asks, Americans

Groom Keeps Secret of Mother's Death for Bride

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — John Lamer, 24, was a little pale and nervous during his marriage ceremony, but his bride thought it merely due to the excitement of the occasion.

It wasn't until after the reception that she learned of the tragedy which Lamer had kept to himself so the affair would be a happy one for his bride, the former Constance Cronk, 20, daughter of City Councilman George P. Cronk, and their friends.

He especially didn't want his brother, Louis, Jr., an usher, and his sister, Suzanne, a bridesmaid, to know until after the festivities.

An hour before he had gone to the altar, John had seen his mother, Mrs. Esther Lamer, suffer a heart attack and die in their home.

Two others kept the secret well too. At Mrs. Lamer's bedside were her husband, Louis, and the Rev. John Sammon, who officiated at the wedding.

Pity the lowly hen—her son will never set.

Governor Aids Texas-Mexico Rail Links

SALTILLO, Mex. — (AP)—Governor Raul Lopez Sanchez of Coahuila has promised full support of proposals for establishment of direct rail and highway connections between Texas and Mexico at Del Rio.

Representatives of the Texas Good Neighbor Commission and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce reported to the Governor on discussions held Friday in Del Rio on the project.

The report was made to the Governor by Thomas Sutherland, Austin commission executive secretary and C. W. Meadows, Sr., San Angelo, chairman of the West Texas chamber's Latin American Commission.

Meadows said West Texans are anxious to strengthen their ties with Mexico through construction of new rail connections between Sonora, Tex., and San Carlos, Coahuila, and 80 miles of highway between Del Rio and Piedras Negras and Allende, Coahuila.

Governor Lopez Sanchez said construction of the highway link can be expected to be underway during the first eight or nine months of 1950, he said.

Current projects, he explained, will give modern railroad beds between Mexico City and Saltillo for connection with the proposed route from Del Rio.

The Governor explained that Mexico's participation in the rail project is dependent upon Santa Fe's construction of 90 miles of line from Sonora, Tex., to Del Rio. Highway projects now under construction will delay start of work on the Villa Acuna, Allende route although some work already has been accomplished on the latter project, the Governor added.

Meadows told the Governor completion of a highway into the interior of Mexico from Del Rio would bring 50,000 United States residents into Coahuila annually with expenditures of approximately $500,000.

The Governor made no direct reference to a proposal for the Texas and Mexican governments to purchase the international toll bridge at Del Rio and replace it with a toll free structure. He did give blanket approval to Sutherland's report on the Del Rio meeting which included the bridge purchase proposal.

Governor Lopez Sanchez also expressed great interest in a plan to make the Big Bend National Park on the Texas side of the Rio Grande into an international playground.

Washington in The Spring Is Really Something

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — (AP) — It happens every spring, as if the birds were coming back.

Flocks of people are moving through Washington in this season of the year when the city is most beautiful.

And those lighting here now are luckier than the ones fluttering in late in the summer when Congress may be gone.

The newcomers climb the high Capitol steps, although it would be easier to enter through the street level doors.

They like climbing, it seems, and posing on the steps, with the Capitol behind them, while their friends snap their pictures. And then they go on the grand tour of the place with the professional guides.

Congress is in full swing now. You'd like to see the Senate Foreign Relations Committee holding hearings on the Atlantic Pact? Walk right in and sit down. There are plenty of seats.

In the past week or so you could have seen for the asking Secretary of State Acheson talking on the pact, and former Undersecretary of State Lovett, and former Vice President Henry Wallace who wanted to be president.

The crowds spin around, trying to cram in recollections that will have to do them for a lifetime, if they don't see Washington again; the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials, the Washington Monument, the White House.

This isn't the liveliest year the Capitol has seen. The doings in Congress have been slow. But the trees are green, flow-

Boy Flies East For Operation

The seven-year-old Crowell, Tex. boy swallowed an upholstery tack Sunday. An operation failed.

A privately-owned plane took off at 7:30 a. m. Tuesday carrying Bobby. At Philadelphia he will be operated on by Dr. C. L. Jackson, Temple University Hospital, which has delicate bronchoscopic equipment. Dr. Jackson has gained renown for such operations.

ers are in bloom, girls are coming out in their summer dresses, and it's still too early to get fried by the Washington summer sun.

Pampa Oilers Snap Losing Streak With 6-2 Win

Pampa Harvesters Close Season With 2-2 Overtime Win Over Borger Bulldogs

White Sox Trim Red
CHICAGO — (AP) — The Chicago White Sox scored in every inning to hang a 12-8 lacing on the Boston Red Sox before 3,203 persons in the series opener here Wednesday. Bill Wright, replaced the sixth inning by Howie Williams, was credited with his third straight victory. Ted Williams led Boston's 12-hit attack with his seventh homer with runner aboard in the eighth.

Spain Hurls Shutout
BOSTON — (AP) — Lefty Warren Spain gained his fourth win of the season, plus his second shutout, for the Boston Braves by blanking the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-0, with a three-hit performance last night. The Tribesmen clinched matters with a five-run uprising in the first inning for Scheiderer in the first.

The Pampa Harvesters nursed a one-run lead until the final inning of a seven-inning game yesterday afternoon, and then saw the tying run filter in. Then the Borger Bulldogs sneaked the would-be winning run across in the eighth on no hits. But the Harvesters came back and scored two in the last half of the eighth on three Borger miscues to win the game 3-2.

Charley Bodine Hurls Seven-Hit Ball to End Losing Streak at Nine Straight

It took righthander Charley Bodine 181 pitches last night, but he did it. He became the first Pampa pitcher to win a ball game in the last ten tries as the Oilers downed the Lamesa Lobos by a 6-2 score. This snapped a nine-game losing streak and brought their victory total in the last fourteen games to two.

The game was a beautiful pitcher's duel for the first seven innings, neither pitcher giving up too much. But the Oilers broke up the game in the eighth inning on one hit, a home run by Homer Matney with two men on base. Ken Peacock contributed an earlier round tripper in the seventh.

Bodine was in trouble several times during the night, but always managed to wriggle out without anyone scoring, despite four fielding miscues behind him. Tonight the Oilers will meet the red-hot Abilene Blue Sox, a team loaded with Cubans. On the mound for the Oilers will be a new boy, Paul Cook, who has an on a five-day look trial. Cook has been with Lamesa, but he bought his release from them for a high price. The Lamesa players speak highly of Cook and the stuff that he has on the ball, and tonight the Pampa fans will get a chance to see him. On Friday night Howard Bass will start against these Blue Sox in an attempt to cool them off.

BODINE

Lamesa drew first, blood last night in the sixth inning on one hand on Lobo Manager Jay Haney to try and get some of his luck. It seems that it rubbed off okay. And for those of you who have been wondering about the two Mellios on the Lobo team, they are brothers, but no relation to Oscar, who spent many seasons in the American League. Ed Mellio, incidentally, was just married ten days ago.

Peacock's home run added another for the Oilers in the seventh and in the eighth Matney hit his home run after Feduniak and Ridgeway had walked, driving in the final three Oiler runs. Lamesa put on a mild rally in the ninth, mixing two hits with two walks, but Ed Mellio popped out to end the game with the bases loaded.

Indians Drop Yanks

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The Cleveland Indians snapped out of their slump last night by trimming the front-running New York Yankees, 3-2. Leftfielder Dale Mitchell crossed the plate with the winning run in the seventh inning on a wild pitch by losing pitcher Bob Porterfield.

Blue Sox Still Hot

LUBBOCK — (AP) — Behind the brilliant three-hit hurling of righthander Jerry Rodriguez, the Abilene Blue Sox licked the Lubbock Bulldogs 4-1 here last night for their 12th straight victory to move within half a game of first place.

Golfers Qualify

Golfers are still qualifying for the city golf tournament which will get started Sunday. All qualifying rounds should be in by Saturday at 6 o'clock. The course is in good shape, and will be even better by the time the tournament gets underway next week. The lake still has lots of water in it and the greens are shaping up fine after the rain the past week.

Clovis Keeps Losing

CLOVIS — (AP) — The Clovis Pioneers dropped their ninth consecutive game here last night, bowing to the Amarillo Gold Sox 10-5. The Amarillo team broke up a tight pitcher's duel between Luke Hamilton and the Pioneers' Mel Kramer by pushing two runs across in the sixth and then sealing up the decision with a cluster of four in the top of the seventh.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Hass—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: What player holds the WT-NM League record for runs-batted-in in one season?

RUMORS: Whenever a team runs into a long losing streak such as the Oilers have been in at present many rumors start circulating about the team, the players, the ownership, the management, etc. Some may have some basis for foundation, others may be just wild ideas of the sorrowful fans.

A string of defeats also brings about a lot of grandstand-managers and second-guessing of the managerial tactics of the manager. "He should have jerked Smith sooner" or "Why did he let Jones bat," are the comments you hear. It's just one person's opinion against another. It seems the manager never does right when the team is losing, but when they are winning he can make any move without a second guess.

Rumors are heard that the Oiler franchise is on the block. A group of local business men are reportedly interested in the purchase, but the price is just a little out of their range. That rumor is always prevalent when a team loses. Edmondson has quite a bit of expensive talent on the team at present and also owns the finest park in the league, so the price should be high. But the sale talk is still in the rumor stage.

There have been rumors of certain ballplayers being on their way out of town. That is also to be expected. As soon as a player has a bad night, the wolves start howling if the team loses. But if the team wins, nobody cares whether Joe went hitless, fanned three times and booted two balls on the field. From a fielding standpoint the team looks to be solid.

At the plate is where it has been weak of late. Most of the boys are power hitters, and have well-established themselves as such. The fact that all of them hit a slump at the same time has hurt very much. But last night's action made it look like they might be pulling out of the slump, with Feacock and Matney contributing homers to the cause. The pitching department has been hurting the most. But Bodine pitched a beautiful game last night, and may be an inspiration to the other hurlers on the team. Let's hope so.

And maybe the victory will pull some of the wolves off and quell some of the rumors that have been flying.

OFF TO SCHOOL: The future college plans of some of the

Softball Managers Meet Tomorrow

Tomorrow night at 7:30 the final meeting for the organization of the Industrial Softball League will be held in the City Courtroom in the City Hall. The schedule has been completed and will be presented to the managers or their representative, who must be present for this meeting.

Play in the league will get underway immediately, with the first half ending on July 1.

Notre Dame will open its 1949 football schedule with Indiana on Sept. 24, and close with Southern Methodist on Dec. 3.

Canadian Loses to Strong Darrouzett 9

CANADIAN — (Special) — The Darrouzett baseball team defeated the Canadian team here Tuesday by a score of 9-0 in a game featured by fine defensive playing on both teams. Neither team had scored up to the seventh inning. Canadian had gotten only one man as far as second base, and Darrouzett had never gotten a man beyond first base.

In the seventh, with nobody out, Darrouzett bunched six infield hits to score five runs. Canadian got two men on base in the final inning, but failed to score.

Batteries for Canadian were Bobbie Hernandez and James Miller; For Darrouzett Skippy Rogers and Fandergrat. Bobbie Hernandez got five strikeouts in 3 1/3; Fandergrat 1 1/3. Winner — Darrouzett (2-1); Loser — Canadian (2-4).

Canadian Loses to Strong Darrouzett 9

his credit, while Rogers had three.

Darrouzett fielded probably the best high school team yet to play on the local diamond. During the season they have had only one defeat, having lost one game to Pollett. Their win Tuesday placed them in a tie with Pollett for first place in the North half of the district; as Pollett also had lost only one game, which was to Darrouzett.

Southpaw Warren Spahn of the Boston Braves is a Purple Heart veteran. He sustained a knee injury in Germany.

Jack Wilcox Released

LUBBOCK — (AP) — Jackie Wilcox, shortstop with the Lubbock Hubbers last year and a veteran, last night was given his outright release.

George Schepps, Hubber general manager, said that Wilcox had requested it when the Hubbers were unable to place the little shortstop.

Molotov Plan Failing Against Marshall Plan

The United States is moving cautiously, and Russia by frontal attack, to see what can be done about revived trade between Eastern and Western Europe.

Official reports indicate that the damage in the East has been greater than in the West; that the "Molotov Plan" is failing among the Russian satellites.

ROGER THE LODGER

By Elizabeth R. Roberts
Copyright by Elizabeth R. Roberts
Illustrated by Mrs. G. W. Smith

THE STORY: Roger is a problem lodger at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roberts. His latest escapade was a party for three Russian cousins, and their wives. Roger had planned to cement Russo-American friendship, but the relations may have been slightly strained. However, Roger comes out of the affair with a promotion to captain.

XXVII
WITH his captain's bars, Roger also got leave to go home. "Mary would be a good deal of help to you in this big house," he said, solicitous as always of my welfare. "I think I should bring her back with me." (Bill's and the guest room were at the moment unoccupied.) Then, as usual, Roger tipped his hand. "My bitter half and two public enemies have visited my mother about long enough. Both sides are crying quits." I've got to do something about it. He considered this for a minute. I suppose he was considering it, for he knit his black brows and statted fixedly out of the window. "We could manage here very nicely with you and The Little Man. You'd like Mary," he concluded, temptingly.

Whether I'd like Mary or I wouldn't like Mary was entirely beside the point. What I wouldn't like would be shifting sides and having Robbie and me lodging and at the mercy of Roger in our own house—or, rather, more at his mercy than we already were. I was in an open frame of mind when a friend asked if we'd take in a couple, an Air Corps major and his wife. "Older people, settled and responsible," my friend said. They were older and they were responsible. Major Capner was an instructor, bald, on the round side, with a spare chin, and he said he was 38 years old. Their only child, a boy of 14, was in boarding school in Massachusetts and Molly had rented her house furnished in order to gypsy around carphones there and tuned in on a Sunday broadcast while we watched the earth slide by beneath.

I learned that Montana is pocked with small lakes and water holes; that strip farming, in winter, looks like giant zebra skins staked out to dry, with stripes running parallel for a distance, then shooting off at crazy angles as though for leg or neck.

THE wings tipped, one side and then the other. This was our signal to report. We scrambled up through the hatch and took our places, like lackeys, behind the pilots. "Where do you want to go?" the Major shouted above the roar of the motors. "Glacier Park. I shouted, pointing ahead to the shining mountains. He tipped the wings slightly to say "Roger" and, to my consternation, let go his controls, took the earphones from his head, backed out of his place, and motioned me to sit down. "NO!" I shouted. "Not me, NO!" Molly prodded from behind, the co-pilot nodded encouragingly, and Major pushed me into his vacant chair. He held the earphones while he pointed to the instrument panel. "See that line?" he shouted. "Just keep the level true to it." He pointed to a simple gauge which had a stationary line running across it. A fine line indicated the angle of the ship's position in relation to the horizon. When the ship was on absolutely even keel, it fell into position with the stationary line.

He pointed to the pedals on which he now placed my feet, pressing down first with the left a little, which dipped the port wing slightly, and then with the right, which dipped the starboard wing. "See how easy it is?" he shouted. Before I could draw breath to shout "NO," he grabbed the wheel and, pushing it down, pitched the plane straight for the earth. Raising it, he righted the ship. "Easy, isn't it?" he shouted. "All you have to know. Now, let's see you fly 'er." He placed the earphones over my head and to my ears. Then he backed away. (To Be Continued)

British Doctors Average Four Minutes to Patient

DALLAS — (AP) — Four minutes is about all the overworked British doctor can allow average office patients under socialized medicine. William Allen Richardson, editor of Medical Economics, has said.

Few patients get proper examinations, he told members of the Dallas County Medical Society. The quality of British medical care is declining, he said, because doctors have neither time nor energy to keep up with the scientific journals or take post-graduate courses. Richardson recently finished a one-month study of the British National Health Service, which since last July has paid for all medical care on a compulsory tax basis.

The average workingman likes the scheme, said Richardson, but complains about the long hours of waiting to see the doctor.

The health service is undoubtedly an improvement for the poor of Britain, he noted.

What the British should have enacted was a bill to bring good medical care to the needy — not to everyone. This would have filled the real gap — and the government could have afforded the cost.

The medical service this year is costing $1,500,000,000 a year, more than 10 percent of the national budget, he said. Without American Marshall Plan aid, the British government could not pay for it, he said.

"Extracting teeth pays better than filling them, no dentists are pulling teeth by the thousands," he said "eight million patients

Zoologists Seek Reason for Dying Fish in Mexico

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — Government zoologists said they have been unable to find out why fish are dying in the Salinillas Dam Lake in Northern Mexico.

They reported 300 to 400 fish are found dead daily in the lake. Fearing contamination may be responsible, the government has ordered residents of the area not to drink the lake water.

Drinking water is being brought by a special canal from the Don Martin irrigation system, which also feeds the lake.

Navy Will Lay Off Shipyard Workers

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Navy announced Tuesday that 10,000 workers will be laid off in 11 Naval shipyards in the United States and Hawaii between now and June 30, 1950.

The Navy said wage increases in the past year and higher material costs were important factors in the cutbacks.

Summer Season Brings Increase Of Dysentery

AUSTIN — The summer season always brings an increase in the incidence of dysentery, diarrhea and enteritis, all of which are major menaces to the lives of small children, annually causing the deaths of hundreds of Texas youngsters.

Tech Prexy Will Be Guest Speaker

COLLEGE STATION — Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, will deliver the commencement address at Texas A&M College June 3. Twelve hundred forty-four students have made application for degrees in June.

Summer Season Brings Increase Of Dysentery

The state health officer warned parents especially of the danger of disease transmission by flies. Children in any home that is not free from flies, are in danger of contracting dysentery or other intestinal diseases which may be fatal.
