

Dallas Man Admits Jewel Theft at Perryton

Girl Also Held as Suspect in Case

PERRYTON—(Special)—A former Dallas private detective and his girl friend are being held here, and in Dallas, charged with the $150,000 jewel theft on Dec. 7 at the Otis Burk drug store.

Sheriffs Ray Phagan and Bill Decker identified the man as Lloyd Edwin Roberts, 24, Dallas, who once worked for a Dallas collection agency.

Last night Roberts' girl friend, Margaret Zundel, 25, of Perryton was arrested as a suspect in the case. The case was not closed but kept open for further investigation.

Roberts talked freely to deputy sheriffs, reporters, Pinkerton Detective Agency operators and admitted the theft of the jewels. The jewels were found in an underground silo south of Perryton

Roberts' roommate, Roy Shelton, Shelton told officers what he knew of the case yesterday.

Phagan was returning Roberts to Perryton today.

In the meantime Roberts gave this story of his burglary and theft of the jewels to deputy sheriffs and Dallas reporters:

He broke into the store primarily to knock the knob on the safe. When he failed to open the safe he looked around and found the same cases of jewelry that had been left there by two jewelry salesmen.

Roberts stayed in Perryton until Sunday, hid most of the jewels, hopped a bus for Dallas, taking some of the loot with him. On Tuesday he flew to Amarillo and returned to Perryton by bus for another load of jewelry. He went back to Dallas by plane yesterday.

The jewelry, including mounted diamonds, was the property of The Tynes Co., Dallas and the A. Edward Fisher Co., New York.

Miss Zundel led officers at Perryton to the underground silo where the jewels were hidden.

Girl Scout Is Rescued After Four-Day Wait in Wilderness

LONGVIEW, Wash. — (AP) — A plucky Girl Scout who had waited patiently in a wilderness cabin four wintery nights for her rescue was resting today in a warm hospital bed.

A physician said 16-year-old Ruth Aberle of Kelso was responding quickly to nourishment and needed only a few days of rest before rejoining her family for the holidays.

Her safety has been almost a Christmas present to this entire Southwest Washington area. Ruth said herself last night "I never thought I'd be a Christmas present."

The search had been the most extensive for a missing person in the history of Cowlitz County. Businessmen, loggers, stevedores, boys and girls — even housewives — had joined the hunt. Some of them had risked their jobs to remain in the woods. Townspeople at Kelso lined the roads and cheered when the ambulance drove out of the mountains toward the hospital here.

The girl had disappeared from a group of teen-agers cutting Christmas trees Sunday. Since then, while half a thousand men combed the mountain country northeast of here, Ruth had been alone and without food in the snow and rain. But when found yesterday she calmly identified herself and said "will you take me home?"

Later she told Rescuer Charles E. Smith "I knew I'd get out. I wasn't scared. But I hope no one else ever gets lost."

Smith and his son, Phillip, had started over a mountain to join the main search party when they saw the girl in a clearing. She was returning from getting a drink at a creek, near the small 12 by 12 foot square hut where she had curled up to sleep four previous nights.

As soon as Ruth identified herself, the younger Smith fired a gun three times. This she heard by a group of Kelso boys who had moved beyond the previous search area. They relayed the signal back to the main camp 10 miles away.

Meanwhile, young Smith took off on the run toward the nearest telephone—four miles—and notified police. His mother called the Cowlitz County sheriff's office here and an ambulance was sent toward the road nearest the girl's scene.

The sturdy physical health of the girl kept her on her feet until she reached the ambulance. (See GIRL SCOUTS, Page 12)

One Charged In Assault

A fight between an employe and his superintendent yesterday morning resulted in one man being sent to a hospital and another to County Court to answer aggravated assault charges.

Lee Miller, district superintendent of the Southern Petroleum Exploration Co., four miles west of town, is a patient in the Worley Hospital.

His physician could not be reached for comment, but reliable informants said today that his condition was not serious. In addition to numerous bruises, Miller's cheekbone was reported to be chipped.

Max E. Crocker, a pumper for the company, was fined $25 and costs in County Court yesterday afternoon after pleading guilty to the charges.

Sheriff G. H. Kyle, who made the arrest yesterday, said that the fight was a result of a fancied grievance of Crocker's.

Truman Says He and 'Ike' Good Friends

KEY WEST, Fla. — (AP) — President Truman today made it a matter of record that he and General Dwight D. Eisenhower are "good friends and always have been."

Apparently concerned about stories out of Key West that he regards the former Army chief of staff as a candidate for the presidency, the Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters:

"The President wants it to go on record that he and General Eisenhower are good friends and always have been."

Ross himself described the stories as "souped-up" and said he knew of no intimates with whom the President has discussed the possibility of Eisenhower becoming a candidate.

The White House reaction came after Eisenhower, now president of Columbia University, said he was not a candidate, no matter what any one thinks, and will not be talked into becoming one.

"Does the President regard General Truman as a candidate?"

'Can America Maintain World Supremacy?' Speaker Asks

By MARY FORRESTER
News Society Editor

"Can America maintain her world supremacy?" was the heretofore question put to members of the Knife and Fork Club last night by forceful Mrs. Paul Whitney, who delivered an address in the Senior High School Auditorium. Her topic was "Educational Profit and Loss."

Mrs. Whitney, an accepted authority on youth and its problems, said her question was based on historical facts. No world power, she said, has ever remained supreme through great crises, and America may be an exception only if the people of America are able to recognize the danger signals and are willing to do something about them.

The speaker, whose life is dedicated to youth, said that, in her opinion, the way to strike at the ill of the nation, and at the dangers threatening it, is to work through the young people of the land. "There," she said, "is the America of tomorrow."

Mrs. Whitney did not make a single statement — she was fully prepared to back up her advice with facts and figures acquired through her own work with youth. With her long record as teacher and youth counselor she has made a thorough study of the lives of children and their problems. She said that youth is inclined to hide its heartaches and bury its problems — to keep them well hidden from adult eyes — and that unless parents and teachers are able to ferret

Bigger Cargo Anticipated

Anticipating a Christmas rush of airmail, Central Airlines announced today it is closing temporarily one of the three passenger seats on their four flights through Pampa. The policy was announced by Keith Kahle, official of the company.

The Post Office Department has agreed that the plane may leave terminal to terminal mail if load conditions should be such as to advise it.

A spokesman at Pampa Airport said this morning the volume of mail has increased perceptibly in the last week, due to Christmas movement of mail and packages.

The average daily volume of mail sent out over the last five days is 30 pounds. The average daily volume of mail received over that period is 25 pounds.

Central flights through Pampa terminate at Amarillo, go eastward to Northern Oklahoma and then back into Fort Worth.

Friendly Miami Residents Disappointed In Slow Progress Toward Laketon Road

MIAMI — The people of this friendly Panhandle town have had their feelings hurt and are disappointed.

The disappointment stems from a promise made them by the Gray County Commissioners' Court that the Laketon-Miami road would be built if they passed their share of bonds to build the road from Miami to the Roberts County line.

Roberts County passed that $150,000 bond issue late in 1948. The money was to be used on the 75-25 cooperative basis with the State Highway Department for building the road and another farm-to-market road leading to Highway 70, the Pampa-Perryton road.

Part of those bonds have already been paid off and still there is no paved road leading to Laketon.

When they passed the bond issue, Roberts people envisioned a blacktop all-weather road so they could get to Laketon or Wheeler without having to come three quarters of the way to Pampa

Truman Says He and 'Ike' Good Friends

This was learned Wednesday afternoon after a reportedly reliable rumor reached The Pampa News office that a feeling of ill will against Gray County was existing in Roberts County over permitting the road controversy to come and go without action taken by the County Commissioners' Court. Following up the rumor The News sent two reporters into Miami to interview businessmen and residents.

County Judge Woody Pond told the reporters that Roberts County didn't want to start any controversy with their neighboring county, but that the people have been disappointed in failure to get the road clear and contracts let after they (Roberts County) had voted their bond issue and have already made two payments on it.

Mayor R. J. Bean, contacted by phone, reiterated Judge Pond's feeling that the people were disappointed, but were not actually at the "mad point" about the road.

This is an association of advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers of the nation to verify paid circulation figures.

Cotton Farmers Approve Controls

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Cotton, the South's major crop, will be grown and marketed under rigid government controls next year.

Producers of the crop voted in a 20-state referendum yesterday to approve an Agriculture Department proposal to invoke prewar marketing quotas as a means of preventing the production of unmarketable surpluses.

Quotas on cotton were last in effect in 1941. They were voted for the 1942 crop, but were suspended because of war conditions.

Cotton is Dixieland's third big crop to be put under strict government control. Growers had previously voted for quotas on peanuts and burley and flue-cured tobacco.

The department's cotton program is designed to hold plantings to 21,000,000 acres, or about 23 percent less than was planted this year. This reduction is expected to result in a crop of about 12,000,000 bales compared with about 16,000,000 this year.

Nearly complete, unofficial reports from the referendum gave 558,422 votes for cotton quotas.

Parity is a legal standard for measuring farm prices, designed to be equally fair to producers and those who buy his products.

The size of the majority favoring quotas was larger than some farm leaders and department officials had expected. Reports of widespread grower dissatisfaction with acreage planting allotments had led them to believe the opposition would be stronger than it turned out to be.

Perhaps influencing the results is a promise of a house cotton subcommittee to ask Congress to change the control law so as to correct reported inequalities in planting allotments. Some farms have been asked to cut their acreage as much as 80 percent.

City-County Tax Survey Plan Studied

The city of Pampa and the county are a little closer to agreement today on county participation in the city's tax survey records.

The county contemplates putting the same system of property appraisal based on construction cost into operation over the entire county that the city and the Pampa Independent School District adopted two years ago.

As part of its price for giving the county access to the records it spent nearly $6,000 in acquiring and two years in maintaining, the city asked county participation in certain activities of the Health Department.

Dairy inspection, milk purity tests, meat inspection, and blood tests for food handlers were cited as activities the city maintains but which directly bear on county health.

At a meeting yesterday attended by County Judge Bruce Parker, County Auditor Ray Wilson, City Manager Dick Peppin, and Chet Lander, superintendent of Highland General Hospital, a proposal was made that the hospital laboratory facilities could be used for such chemical tests.

The proposal has to be approved by both the city and county commissioners, but it has two distinct advantages:

First, it will involve no cash outlay on the county's part, since the hospital laboratory must be maintained anyway.

Second, the city's budgetary expenditures will be reduced.

Texas Gives Big Majority

(By The Associated Press)

Texas farmers joined the growers of other cotton producing states in saying decisively they want government marketing controls to hold down threatened surpluses of the vital crop.

With only two small cotton growing counties in Texas still out, the returns of Thursday's special vote on 1950 marketing quotas show 90,745 in favor and 14,861 against.

Of the 105,606 ballots cast, 85.9 percent approved the national control program designed to hold plantings to about 23 percent less than this year.

U.S. STEEL HIKES PRICE

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Big U. S. Steel Corporation hiked its steel prices about $4 a ton today.

Other top basic steel producers are expected to follow.

However, Congressional investigators are trying to head off a general steel price increase because they say it threatens American's economy.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), chairman of the joint Congressional Economic Committee, said he expects the committee to approve a probe of big steel's action after Christmas.

O'Mahoney declared the price raise is unjustified and will have an inflationary effect on the nation's economic system just when business leaders should be struggling to hold the lid on prices.

Watching the developments silently is the consumer. He'll ultimately have to pay more for hundreds of articles if a general price increase develops.

How much will such things as autos increase? No one knows but guesses range from $7 to $60.

And will the price increase result in more wage demands from the CIO United Steelworkers? That seems almost certain.

Big Steel's action has been expected ever since the industry ended a 2-day strike Nov. 11 by agreeing to give $100 monthly pensions, including Social Security, and to pay half the cost of a five cents per man hour welfare program.

U. S. Steel President Benjamin F. Fairless said the new prices (See U.S. STEEL, Page 12)

Grade Students Entertain Lions

Forty-two youngsters from Sam Houston School left a little Christmas spirit at the Lions Club luncheon meeting yesterday as the paraded in attire in white robes with yellow bows, singing "Silent Night."

Directed by their music teacher, Mrs. Roy Sullivan, the children sang Christmas favorites including a medley of familiar tunes ending with "Jingle Bells." The Lions chimed in on "Jingle Bells" and clinked their glasses with their forks.

The first number presented after Sam Houston Principal J. Aaron Meek introduced the group was "Holy Night" from Brahms' The Lionel selections included "Jesus is Born," "An Old Christmas Song" and "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers."

The chorus sang "We Wish You a Merry Christmas" as their concluding number. Cynthia Duncan, 11, accompanied the group.

Santa's Sallies

Christmas-conscious J. C. McWilliams almost could have been mistaken for Santa Claus yesterday. Saw him marching down the street with an arm load of packages and a big cigar. However, soon realized it couldn't be Santa, for he doesn't smoke.

Mrs. Gordon Rice, Mrs. W. E. Hinton and Mrs. Robert Coley were certainly dressed for Christmas Wednesday night at a Yuletide party. They were wearing red and green dresses and had on holly corsages.

Notice that Jim Arndt and Cliff Braly have matching bandages except Jim's is over his eye while Cliff's is below his eye. Wonder if they picked up their bruises when they were doing their Christmas shopping. It's getting to be quite a rick staggering through the heavy mobs doing last-minute present buying.

Only four more days, kiddies. The long-awaited Christmas treat at the LaNora Theater will be staged at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday. Members of the Lions Club are going to meet at Ideal No. 2 at 2 p.m. Sunday to sack the treats.

If Pampa High School isn't the prettiest decorated high school in the state this year, it won't be the fault of the woodshop students. A larger-than-life size figure of Santa going down the chimney was installed yesterday afternoon on top of the High School. Also, huge candles are being put in place today at either side of the entrance.

Pampan Is Officer in Association

R. M. Mundine, Gray County sanitary inspector, was elected secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Water Works Association last night at a meeting in Canadian.

Other 1950 officers elected include Leo Dacus, Spearman, president; and J. D. Mabery, Perryton, vice president. E. S. Lowry, Pampa, secretary, and Ed Hollis, White Deer, president, served as president of the association during 1949.

The association, which was organized a year ago, meets the third Thursday of each month at various member towns to discuss water and sewage problems.

About 28 water workers attended last night's meeting. Towns represented included Pampa, Spearman, Shamrock, Perryton, White Deer, Miami and Higgins. Pampan attendees included Ed Hollis, Peter King, J. R. Murray, R. D. Pinkston, Mundine and Lowry.

Hollis was named group leader for the coming year. He will act as secretary. (See PAMPAN, Page 12)

Otis Douglas To Ark. U.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. — (AP) — Otis Douglas, 38-year-old trainer for the Philadelphia Eagles, today was hired as head football coach for the University of Arkansas.

John Barnhill yesterday was relieved as head coach and elevated to the post of director of athletics for Arkansas.

Naming of Douglas was recommended to officials of the university this morning by Barnhill who suggested a salary of $12,000 for three years for the new coach.

The Athletic Committee of the Board of Trustees and other school officials unanimously accepted Barnhill's recommendation but did not announce salary figures. (Turn to sports page for other details.)

Jam, Jelly, Makes Personal Gift

STOCKING STUFFERS—Homemade jellies, jams and marmalade make wonderful Christmas gifts.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer
A glass of your homemade jelly, jam or marmalade, be-ribboned and tinselled, makes a wonderful Christmas greeting.
Perhaps you want to make some now for Christmas giving. Then use these sure-fire recipes which have been carefully tested.
Begin with apple jelly, always a favorite. Apples are cheap and good.

APPLE JELLY

(Makes about 12 six-oz. glasses)
Five cups fresh apple juice, 7 1/2 cups sugar, 1-2 bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare the juice: Remove blossom and stem ends from about 5-12 pounds fully ripe apples; cut in small pieces. Do not peel or core. Add 3 cups water, bring to a boil, and simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Crush with masher and simmer, covered, 5 minutes longer. Place in saucpan and squeeze out juice. Measure 5 cups juice into a very large saucpan. (With soft, very sweet apples, add juice of 1 medium-sized lemon to apple juice.)

To make the jelly: Add sugar to juice in saucpan and mix well. Place over high heat and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. At once stir in bottled fruit pectin. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1/2 minute. Remove from heat, skim, pour quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once.

What could be more Christmasy than red cinnamon candy jelly?

CINNAMON CANDY JELLY

(Makes about 4 six-oz. glasses)
Two and one-half cups sugar, 1 1/2 cups water, 1/4 pound red cinnamon candies, 1-2 bottle fruit pectin.

Measure sugar, water and cinnamon candies into saucpan and mix well. Place over high heat and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. At once stir in bottled fruit pectin. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1-2 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, skim, pour quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once.

FROTHY COCOA

Whisk cocoa with an egg beater, before serving to make frothy. Or top with a marshmallow.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service
I received today's hand from Jack Lehrfeld, of New York City, a tax expert, which he sent me in care of the World-Telegram. Mr. Lehrfeld has played a lot of bridge with Freddy Hirsch, one of the country's life masters. When the four of clubs was led by East, Mr. Lehrfeld, sitting North, started counting his tricks. He could see one spade, five diamonds and two clubs, only eight tricks and he needed nine. Therefore, he had to figure out a way to make another trick.

From the bidding he was quite sure that East, who was vulnerable, held the ace of clubs. Also the ace of hearts and possibly the queen of hearts.

If he tried to make a heart trick he would lose the timing on the hand. East would get in twice and his club suit would not be set up, and if East had a five-card club suit the contract was automatically down.

Mr. Lehrfeld decided he might have a squeeze or end play on East. With that in mind he won the first trick with the jack of clubs. Then he led a small diamond to the ace, which held the trick. The jack of diamonds was played and when East showed out, Mr. Lehrfeld did not overtake in dummy.

A small club was played which East won with the ace and returned a club. Dummy won this trick with the king. Now the three good diamonds held by East, on which North discarded two hearts and a spade.

East, who had discarded a small heart on the second diamond trick now discarded two small spades and the queen of hearts. Dummy had a small heart which East had to win with the ace and now he was helpless. All he could do was to cash his two good clubs and return a spade, which North won in his hand with the queen. The ace of spades took the last trick.

If Mr. Lehrfeld had not stopped to analyze the bidding he would not have made his contract. I feel sure many players would have made the mistake of trying for a heart trick.

Woman Driver Gets
Clipped on Jaw

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—With bruised jaw and ruffled temper, Mrs. Helen Carlisle ran into the police station and reported this story: as she pulled up at an intersection a car roared through a stop sign, missing her auto by inches.

"Can't you read?" she screamed.

Whim of Fashion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The whims of civilization are often echoed in nature.

Raccoon is out of favor for fur coats. So trappers don't catch 'coons any more. So there are more 'coons—so many that they're beginning to damage truck farms and corn fields in some sections. They're even causing trouble for the trappers themselves by following trap lines and damaging pellets of other animals, trappers mostly.

So the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service is sending 'coon pelts to factories and laboratories in search for other uses that will cut down on the little masked animals again.

A vivid thought brings the power to paint it; and in proportion to the depth of its source is the force of its projection. —Emerson

ed. At that, the car skidded to a halt. A man popped out, walked over to Mrs. Carlisle and without a word clipped her of the jaw.

Man-Made Replacement for Natural Insecticide to Make Commercial Bow

TAMPA, Fla. — (AP) — A man-made and potentially cheaper counterpart of one of the world's best-known natural insecticides for household use is slated to make its commercial bow next year.

It's a close reproduction of the natural insecticide "pyrethrum" which comes from daisy-like flowers of that name.

Natural pyrethrum — either in the form of dust of the flower heads, or as an extract of them — has been used for more than a century. It's noted for its "quick knock down" effect on mosquitoes and flies, and for its safety to humans and animals.

Until now, the United States has had to import pyrethrum from Africa to produce the bug-killer.

But recently, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine announced laboratory developments of "pyrethrin-like compounds." The pyrethrins are the active substances in pyrethrum.

A government scientist has announced that several companies are working on industrial production and that it's expected the synthetic material will be made available sometime during the 1950 growing season.

In addition to use against household pests, it's slated for action against aphids and some other crop pests in instances where a quick knockdown effect is desired without leaving a chemical residue on the product.

Dr. F. C. Bishop outlined this to a reporter at the meeting of the American Association of Economic Entomologists.

West Texas State's basketball team played in Madison Square Garden in 1942 and 1943. In 1942 they were invited to the Metropolitan Tournament in New York City losing their first game to Creighton by one point.

Scholarships Offered By Texas University

AUSTIN — The University of Texas Hogg Foundation for Mental Hygiene is offering four $250 scholarships to teachers or school administrators who will attend a 1950 summer course in elementary school camp work.

A new elementary education procedure, the school camp allows fourth, fifth, and sixth grade children to spend a week or more in the country under teacher supervision.

Students make a direct study of nature in addition to their regular classroom study. Tyler and Austin have such programs now and other Texas cities are considering the plan.

Scholarship applications must be made through school superintendents' offices by Feb. 1. A Hogg Foundation advisory committee will choose the four successful candidates.

The six-week session on elementary school camp supervision to be offered this summer at Time, Inc.'s, New York camp is the course we had in mind when we set up the grants," Foundation Director Robert Sutherland said, "but any comparable course will satisfy the requirements."

FELLOWSHIPS OPEN
AUSTIN — Two University of Texas fellowships for graduate research in petroleum engineering are open. Dr. H. H. Power, Petroleum Engineering Department chairman, announces.

Work may be started immediately after a candidate is accepted. The grant amounts will depend on the researcher's experience.

Booklet Out On Letter Shop

About $5,000 capital is required to start a small but well-equipped letter shop, according to a new publication released by the United States Department of Commerce, announced Ray L. Miller, regional director of the Commerce Department's Dallas office. This capital may be in the form of personal savings or credit, the possible sources of which are discussed in the booklet.

Entitled "Establishing and Operating a Letter Shop," the new manual is intended to show persons who are skilled in duplicating work how they may develop a business of their own in this field. However, those already engaged in the operating of such a shop may gain valuable ideas from the booklet. Capital outlay, location, pricing, legal requirements, selling, and other management problems are discussed.

The booklet was prepared with the cooperation of many persons connected with the letter-shop industry — duplicating, addressing, mailing, and mailing list services.

Recognition Not Expected Soon For Red China

NEW YORK — If Washington is to recognize Communist China it will take at least a year or two, according to the forthcoming issue of Business Week.

The magazine explains that the administration will wait for leaders to cool in the U. S. before taking action. "But lack of recognition won't stop U. S. trade with China," says the article. "That would be possible now (except for war goods) if it weren't for the Nationalist blockade."

Jap Silk Exports Still Under Prewar

TOKYO — (AP) — The Japanese government Foreign Trade Corporation for textiles says signs that the badly slumped silk business may be reviving. Export contracts for more than 8,500 bales of raw silk were signed in October, a gain of more than 1,000 bales.

Silk mill exports will reach 10,000 bales a month by the end of the year — but that will still be only one-fifth the pre-war level.

A BRIEF SYNOPSIS OF THE "FOUNTAINHEAD"

"The Fountainhead," starring Gary Cooper, was taken from the celebrated, best-selling novel by Ayn Rand.

It is the thrilling story of a young architect who fights out against complacency and tradition in behalf of his own work in which he believes so strongly. This theme is set against a lush background of beautiful buildings and interiors. In preparation for over 2 years, it promises something as pictorially thrilling as any picture of the year. Jail Promised Drunk Drivers

AUSTIN — (AP) — Drunk drivers will go to jail if the Department of Public Safety catches them — particularly during the holiday season.

The warning was voiced by Homer Garrison, Jr., public safety director, who explained: "Anyone who thinks that drinking and driving can be mixed should take a closer look at the statistics. On the basis of all fatal traffic accidents in 1948, it was found that one-fourth of the drivers and pedestrians killed had been drinking. This is strong evidence that drinking greatly increases traffic hazards to both motorists and pedestrians."

Red Cars Speed Trailing Traffic

NEW YORK — (AP) — Do you dislike having other motorists jockey past you while trying to drive at a safe and steady pace? If so, don't buy a red car, advises Howard Ketchum, color and design engineer. A test of motorists' reactions showed that drivers are more impatient when trailing a red car because red is the most stimulating color—hence the greater urge to pass.

Cream and yellow colors are also stimulating, while black, blue and greens without yellow undertones are the colors less inciting to the driver in the following car, Mr. Ketchum reports.

River Navigation Held Feasible

DALLAS — (AP) — Making the Trinity River navigable from the Gulf to the Dallas-Fort Worth area has long been considered as feasible as "paving a street," Lt. Col. R. L. Jewett said.

The colonel, deputy chief of civil works for rivers and harbors, spoke at a luncheon of the Trinity Improvement Association.

The Army engineers are studying the economic feasibility of the project, which is part of the agency's overall plan for Trinity River development, he said. Congress already has appropriated money for a Trinity River navigation channel from the Gulf to Liberty, only 20 miles upstream.

Meat Prices Shade Lower

(By The Associated Press)

Meat prices edged a shade lower in most markets this week and food men said the Christmas shopping rush was largely responsible.

"Ladies dashing around buying Christmas presents apparently don't have as much time or energy—money, either—to devote to cooking," said an Agriculture Department analyst.

Many of the slight reductions this week were in beef items, trimmed two to four cents a pound to compete with pork cuts which have been lowered in price several times in the past month or so.

Some stores reduced a few pork items two to ten cents a pound but at least one large chain said pork prices had steadied after the long downturn.

Top grade eggs continued their weeks-long price decline and were being quoted two to four cents a dozen cheaper in many marketing centers as farm production held at near-record levels. During the past month eggs have dropped about 12 cents a dozen in some areas.

A few brands of coffee were boosted four cents a pound at the wholesale level this week after holding steady for almost a month.

On most produce shelves this week, snap beans, beets, cauliflower, cucumbers, radishes and squash all were somewhat lower priced. Tomatoes were marked down as good supplies reached markets from several sources ranging from the Bahama Islands to Florida and Texas and to Ohio hothouses.

Carrots were a little higher as cold weather damaged part of the crop in California. Peppers and new cabbage also were up slightly.

Farm Plan Cost Said Prohibitive

CHICAGO — (AP) — Rep. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) told the American Farm Bureau Federation that the cost of the Brannan farm plan "would be so very great that the treasury could not stand it."

Allan E. Kline, federation president, and other leaders of the organization are opposed to the plan.

Gore, in his address to the federation's 31st annual meeting, said criticism of existing farm price support programs and high food prices stemmed from "misinformation and misunderstanding, some of it deliberately fostered by people in the U. S. Department of Agriculture who berate Congress for not accepting the Brannan plan."

Pampa Harvesters to Run Into Memphis Cyclone Tonight

Green and Gold Searching For Fourth Straight Win

The Memphis Cyclones tonight will be the target for the Pampa Harvesters as they seek their fourth straight victory of the 1949-50 basketball season. Victims to date have been the Childress Bobcats, two-time losers to the Harvesters, and the Dalhart Wolverines.

The Green and Gold has not been hard-pressed in any of their games to date. The closest affair was the 49-45 victory over the Bobcats in the second meeting of the clubs. The Harvesters led all of the way in that game, though, and only in the last half was the Pack able to close the scoring gap.

Tonight's game is expected to be the toughest contest to date. The Cyclone has two returning regulars from last season's squad that won the Class A state championship. The remainder of the starting five is filled out by boys who were squadmen last season, and as such gained a lot of valuable experience and know-how.

Charles Bailey was next highest scorer for the Tigers, netting eight points. Pettie led the scoring for Wheeler with three field goals and two free throws for eight points.

The Tigers were scheduled to play Wellington at 11 o'clock this morning in their next game. The McLean girls team will play Quail at 4 o'clock.

Austin and Port Arthur Battle Today For Class AA Berth in State Finals

Expect Otis Douglas, Eagles' Mentor, to Get Arkansas Job

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. — (AP) — A new head football coach was to be named at the University of Arkansas today — and Otis Douglas, who helped build the powerful Philadelphia Eagles, appeared first in line for the job.

The Athletic Committee of the Board of Trustees was expected to follow the recommendation of John Barnhill, who is stepping aside as coach to devote full time to mounting duties of the athletic directorship.

The name of the 38-year-old Douglas has been linked with the job for several weeks. Sources close to Barnhill indicated — but would not say — he is the man where the fight is waging. The fact that Douglas was enroute West with the Eagles for their National Football League playoff with Los Angeles Sunday, however, caused some observers to speculate that Barnhill might come up with a "sleepers" as his successor. They felt it likely that the new man would be on hand here when named.

If Barnhill had settled on any one man, his decision was a carefully-guarded secret early today. He and Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, University president, were in conference late last night with booster advisers. None would comment afterwards.

Dr. Jones would say only that the new coach would be named today. The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin said yesterday that Douglas, whose title with the Eagles is trainer but who is regarded as a right-hand strategist to Philadelphia Coach Earle (Greasy) Neale, would be the Arkansas coach under a three-year contract. Douglas commented at Albuquerque, N.M., where the Eagles worked out yesterday, that he had not heard from Arkansas but would take the job if it were offered him and would use a T formation similar to the one taught the Razorbacks by Barnhill this year.

The Eagle trainer, who was head coach at Drexel Tech on the side this fall, conferred with university officials here several weeks ago, shortly after Barnhill announced plans to reorganize the athletic staff.

In four years at Arkansas, Barnhill won 22 games, lost 17 and tied three. His 1946 Razorbacks shared the Southwest Conference championship with Rice and tied LSU in the Cotton Bowl. His 1947 team beat William and Mary in the Dixie Bowl.

This year the Razorbacks won five and lost five. Purdue is the oldest rival on the 1949 Notre Dame football schedule, having first engaged the Irish in 1896.

The first Syracuse University athletic teams wore pink uniforms.

NOTRE DAME QUINTET SHORT OF MATERIAL

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — (AP) — Notre Dame is in the basketball campaign with only three monogram winners on hand.

It may seem difficult to imagine an Irish athletic squad that is short of sure-fire material, but this is the way things stand: Seven of the ten top performers of last season have been graduated.

Three lettermen — John Foley, Kevin O'Shea and Marty O'Connor — are available.

The gaps will have to be filled by new men of a quality that can't be gauged accurately until they are tested on the courts.

Thus, Coach Ed (Moose) Krause faces a future that involves a lot of hard work and a good deal of uncertainty.

O'Shea, a guard, is the new captain. He scored 232 points last season despite the handicap of a trick knee. He underwent surgery to correct the trouble last spring for the second time. How he fares this season depends on how well the knee functions.

Foley, who scored 119 points in the 1948-49 campaign, probably will start at center.

The rest of the positions are open to any and all bids who can prove their qualifications.

Among the forwards are O'Connor, who got into 20 games last season, and Dan Bagley, a junior with a fine high school record. He is making his first try in varsity competition.

The Irish won 17 and lost seven games last season. Whether they do better or worse depends on how the sophomores play. One is six feet, six; three are six, five; and three others top the six foot mark in height.

They're short only on experience.

Coyotes Face Scots Saturday

By WILBER MARTIN
Associated Press Staff
Texas Schoolboy football cuts down to championship size today and tomorrow.

Four semifinal games are on tap in Class AA and A — three today and one tomorrow.

Mighty Port Arthur, undefeated and rated by sports-writers the state's top high school football team, this afternoon takes on Austin at Port Arthur in one Class AA semifinal tilt.

Tomorrow, Wichita Falls, another club with a perfect record, meets Highland Park (Dallas) at Wichita Falls.

Littlefield and Garland square off at Vernon today in one Class A semifinal game. Mexia and Uvalde meet at Austin in the other.

Port Arthur is a touchdown favorite over Austin and 10,000 fans are expected to turn out for the muddy battle. Heavy rains the past few days have turned the Port Arthur gridiron into a muddy mess.

Austin, which lost to Port Arthur, 35-0, in the quarterfinals last year, has won 11 games against one defeat.

Wichita Falls already holds an early season decision over Highland Park, but the Dallas club has improved tremendously the past few games. The Scots have long been known as a "playoff team" and the one-touchdown underdog tag they carry into the game may not be an appropriate tag.

Littlefield and Mexia are doped to meet in the finals of the Class A race.

Littlefield, winner of 12 games against one defeat, is a big, burly team from the South Plains, with a hard-driving back—Tommy Ballew—to spark its winged 'I' attack.

Garland is the Cinderella team of the playoff this year. The Owls have tied three games and won all three crucial encounters on penetrations. One such victory gave them the district title, and the other two came in the five-week playoff.

Mexia, undefeated and untied, has rolled over 18 opponents, including New Braunfels, pre-season favorite to win the state championship.

Uvalde is unbeaten, but tied Del Rio to win the district championship.

Meeting Date Set for Texas
DALLAS — (AP) — President J. Alvin Gardner of the Texas League has returned from the National Baseball convention and announced the date and place of the Texas League's annual scheduled meeting.

It will be at Tulsa Jan. 7.

Six of last year's managers already have been signed up. There is a change at San Antonio where Don Heffner succeeds Gus Mancuso. Houston has not yet announced its manager. Del Wilber, who piloted the Buffs last season, has gone to Columbus as a player.

Yankees, Senators Planning Big Player Swap Shortly

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Clark Griffith plans to reopen the New York Yankees-Washington Senators trade negotiations.

Discussion on the four-for-two player swap which would send first baseman Eddie Robinson to the Yankees was halted temporarily yesterday because of a misunderstanding.

While Griffith spent the day in his office at the Stadium waiting for New York General Manager George Weiss to telephone him, Weiss spent the day in his office waiting for "the Old Fox" to call him.

However the matter was straightened out last night.

Hours of sparring between Weiss and Manager Casey Stengel and Griffith and his pilot, Bucky Harris, have taken place. The result appears to be:

Robinson and another Senator, either outfielder Eddie Stewart or a pitcher other than the Nats' ace, Ray Scarborough, would go to the Bombers for first baseman Dick Kryhoski, second baseman George (Shokey) Sitrowski, pitcher Don Johnson, and a fourth player, presumably Duane Pilette, another pitcher, or an outfielder.

By finishing last but one (1950) the Brooklyn Dodgers hold the league record for fewest cellar finishes.

College Football Shows Big Gain in Attendance

NEW YORK — (AP) — Despite a marked decline in the attendance figures of other major sports, college football crowds showed a surprising 1.3 percent increase this year over the bumper turnout of 1948.

An Associated Press survey of 88 major schools disclosed the East fell 2.5 and the Far West 2.2 percent from the figures of 1948.

All other sections of the country were up. The Southwest, with Southern Methodist's weekly, rose 2.1 percent.

The 88 institutions this year played 444 games, drawing a total of 12,398,157 customers. Last year, the same schools, in 443 home games, attracted 12,005,626 fans.

Michigan, the national leader, lured a total of 583,500 fans for six games, an astounding average of 97,917.

Southern Methodist, playing in the spacious Cotton Bowl, was second in total attendance with 484,000 fans for eight games, an average of 60,500.

SWC Cagers Drop Two Games
(By The Associated Press)
The only two Southwest Conference basketball teams in action last night took it on the chin.

Bradley University defeated Texas Christian, 85-49, and Indiana turned back Arkansas, 75-50.

Four games are on tap tonight. Baylor meets Kansas State; Texas A&M plays Arizona, Rice takes on Southwestern Louisiana Institute, and Texas plays Trinity.

Lamar has already dropped one bowl decision, a 21-20 affair to Pearl River, Miss., Junior College in the Memorial Bowl at Jackson, Miss., last week.

Mississippi's football squads went coachless through three early campaigns—1896, 1897 and 1905.

By finishing last but one (1950) the Brooklyn Dodgers hold the league record for fewest cellar finishes.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Take it from Joe Lapchick, the thin man who gets thinner with each basketball game, pro basketball rules don't have to be liberalized to stop the incessant whistle-tooting. "Closer calling is what is needed to stop fouling," Joe insists. "That would get rid of the old fellows who can't run. When they get a step or two slower, they have to grabbing. . . If the referees called them close for a while, those fellows would find they weren't any good with six fouls on them in every game so they'd drop out and then we'd have young players who can go and we'd have a good game."

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Mason—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: What was the final score of the 1949 Sugar Bowl football game?

TODAY AND TOMORROW THE CLASS AA FOOTBALL finalists will be determined, and from this corner, it looks like it will be Port Arthur and Wichita Falls. The Yellowjackets appear a cinch over the Austin Maroons. The Coyotes might meet a little more trouble in Highland Park, though they already hold one 1-touchdown victory over the Scotties this season.

Most Pampa fans are, I imagine, rooting for the Coyotes. After the two fine battles the Harvesters put up against the District 2-AA champions it would add more glory to the Green and Gold's football season if the Coyotes could go on to take the state title.

Incidentally, the movies of the district game between the Harvesters and Coyotes clear up a couple of queries that arose right after the game. The first was whether or not the lateral that Billy Bookout pitched to James Self, that resulted in a 41-yard touchdown run, was illegal. The movies show that it was not a forward "lateral," and from all appearances the play was perfect.

The other question was whether or not the Pampa player's knee hit the ground before or after he tumbled early in the second period, a fumble that resulted in a Coyote touchdown. From the film the ball-carrier slipped in the mud, but fumbled before he hit the ground, and again all is according to the rules.

But one thing cropped up that was illegal that not many fans noticed. It surrounded the fake punt-pass play that scored the final touchdown for the Coyotes. The movies clearly show that the Wichita Falls left tackle and left guard were downfield before the pass was thrown, a clear infraction of the rules. But the fake play apparently surprised the officials and fans as much as the Pampa team, because it was not noted at the time. And of course, it is too late now to yell about it.

With the Harvesters seeking their fourth win in a row tonight, here's a quick rundown of the team's individual scoring to date.

Player	Fg	Fia	Ftm	Tp

Probably the happiest man in town last Wednesday afternoon was Ralph "Baylor" McKinney. Ralph took a bad beating from the Quarterback Club Monday night concerning the athletic situation at his beloved Waco school. But Wednesday's report that Woodruff was returning to mastermind the Bears again brought joy to the McKinney household, and to most of the state of Texas.

The young football coach has done a fine job at the Baptist school, and it is a good break for the Southwest Conference that school officials were able to work out an agreement that was satisfactory to both men involved. Woodruff's ability, youth and personality will continue to add much color to the Southwest Conference.

It looks like there will be an excellent catcher available in the West Texas-New Mexico League shortly. Ziggy Sears, who did the backstopping and much of the home run hitting for the Berger Gassers last season, appears to be on his way out of the Carbon Black city. The whole thing

In Platoon Argument, Little Favors Unlimited Substitution

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Lou Little asks 1200 members of the American Football Coaches Association the questions, and then answers the most important one himself.

Regarding the present free substitution when the clock is topped, which brought out the highly controversial platoon system, Professor Little says:

"After much observation and research, my conclusion, until I can be proved wrong, is that we can do any one of two things. Either we go back to the old ruling, which prevented a player's return to the game in the same period he left it, or adopt a ruling calling for unlimited substitution at all times.

"The latter rule proved workable and pleasing in the National League the past season."

Inasmuch as Little has coached Columbia for 20 years and been chairman of the Coaches' Rules Committee since 1932, the Pennsylvania alumnus packs considerable weight.

So unlimited substitution at all times is what we are most likely to have next fall.

Little will compile the results of his poll in time to submit them to the meeting of his organization in New York, Jan. 11. The next stop will be the National Collegiate Athletic Association rules committee meeting at Pinehurst, N. C., five days later.

Little seconds Red Blaik of Army and Bennie Oosterbaan of Michigan when he cautions: "It is doubtful that we could go back to the old substitution ruling simply because present-day football could hardly be played under it with maximum efficiency."

"Football has so expanded the attacking front has widened almost from sideline to sideline, and the defense has spread to meet it. Limitations on certain substitutions on certain downs would result in too much confusion."

Dodgers is one who moved up from "the farm."

I hope Ziggy doesn't go. Although he caused the Oilers a lot of trouble last season with his big hit, it is always a pleasure to watch him play. Despite his size, just short of a baby elephant, he can handle himself with ease behind that plate. And when he takes a cut at the ball you can be sure it going for a long ride.

ANSWER: The 1949 Sugar Bowl game ended with the score Oklahoma 14, North Carolina 6.

"We might have fewer substitutions in the long run with unlimited substitution."

"We should keep the clock running, teams making such substitutions as they desire at their own risk within the 25 seconds allowed to put the ball in play. "The mass hysteria" of two-platoon football will level off. Next year will see more and more men playing both offense and defense, especially in later games, when the weather gets cooler. An unlimited substitution rule on fourth down, for instance, would see the offensive team sending in a kicker while the defense puts in a couple of men to run back the kick. Then, after the ball has changed hands, maybe five or six men would exchange places on the field.

"No legislation can ever equalize playing strength."

Coaches also want to know how members feel about preventing the offense from starting a play before the ball is snapped. Some coaches contend that opposing lines and teams beat the ball by a fraction of a second.

Hart, Leahy's Whipping Boy, Like All Linemen, Dreams of Role in Backfield

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — (NEA) — Leon Hart picked up the Heisman Trophy in New York, was to receive the Maxwell Trophy in Philadelphia. Then a Touchdown Club award in Washington. Is there a Nobel Prize for football?

After that the Notre Dame gladiator boy will have the professionals on his neck. He will sign a contract if the price is right.

Chances are he won't have trouble with the 132 Detroit money-bags behind Bo McMillin of the Lions, who was reported in Dallas to have Doak Walker listening attentively.

If Coach McMillin would like to know whether Hart prefers end or fullback — a role he plays in spots against Southern California and Southern Methodist — here's the answer: "Playing back is any lineman's secret ambition."

Wherever he goes the folks will like the 20-year-old, six-foot-four, 233-pound giant. He is good natured and amiable.

Hart is everybody's pal, excepting on the field. He has been Frank Leahy's pal, too, the whipping boy every coach needs.

To hear the stories, Hart has toured Notre Dame's practice field for more laps than six-day bike rider Reggie McNamara made in Madison Square Garden. "I never minded," Hart says. "The coach always had a reason for anything he did, and I understood why he put me on the run."

The budding mechanical engineer from Turtle Creek, Pa., believes this year's team was the best of the four in the long streak.

"Because it was more of a team, without a star, that's why. You would have had to be with us to know how much we pulled for one another."

"Bob Williams was so tense he moved in jerks in that Indiana opener. We all saw that, but kept talking him up, and giving him the at-tabay, and you can see how he developed into a smooth, smart player. He saw we had confidence in him, and that gave him confidence in us. When he began pulling that fourth down stuff, we loved it. Hart got his big disappointment in the SMU game when he flattened Kyle Rote.

"I finally did what I was supposed to do, and had tried to do, and felt that 'uhm' of air going out of him, and then the crowd boomed me."

His great thrill came four years ago.

"I never even saw a college game before coming to Notre Dame," he reminisces, "and when the coach told me to go in my first game, against Illinois, I ran right over Bob Livingston, and knocked him down, rushing out to left end."

Hart regrets Notre Dame never played Michigan. He just had a yen to.

Syracuse University students are represented by teams in 15 different sports.

Forecasters Put On Color Glasses

If the forecasters are right, 1950 will be quite a year. If they are right—

E. News & World Report has summed up the consensus. According to it, the people as a whole "will be better fed, better clothed, better housed, better supplied with the goods and services they want."

The figures are extremely impressive, even in an era when we are accustomed to talking glibly in terms of tens of billions. In 1950, our total spending—which includes everything spent by individuals, business and government—is expected to be nearly $267,000,000,000.

Total individual earnings, the consensus goes on to forecast at $216,000,000,000. Personal taxes and anticipated savings will account for about $34,000,000,000 of it.

Spending by government will increase by some $2,400,000,000. Private investment, on the other hand, will probably be not much greater than this year.

U. S. News also touches on the fields where most of the money will be spent. On the basis of forecasts, there will be a rise in sales of clothing and home-furnishings.

We must win the economic battle. We must make sure that the Kremlin plan for world conquest does not succeed.

COVERED MORE GROUND... The great icebergs of the glacial periods reached lower latitudes in North America than anywhere else on earth, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

In the winter, raccoons hibernate in family groups often in well-chosen hollow trees.

Fair Enough - Pegler

WASHINGTON — President Truman declined the invitation of the Gridiron Club, a social club of Washington newspaper reporters, and was present at the dinner in the Statler last Saturday night.

he was sulking and snubbing the Gridiron to get even for some ribbing of his socialist program discussed at the last Gridiron dinner last spring.

The Gridiron Club is the only society of its kind in the world. There are many imitations, clubs of state house and city hall reporters and so forth, which get up charades and other amateur theatricals once a year and ridicule government, mayors and commissioners, but the Gridiron was original and its equivalent does not exist in any other national capital, commanding, usually, and traditionally, the presence of the king, prime minister or other chief of state.

The Gridiron exists to give two banquets a year, but the purpose of the banquets is the deeper reason for the existence of the club. This purpose is to promote acquaintance between the press on the one hand and the statesmen and bureaucrats of our government and some of the representatives of other governments.

The Gridiron was organized in 1885 when the press, until then a small force in Washington, had begun to infuriate members of Congress and bureaucrats who had been caught in flagrant lies and denounced by reporters. This was the barbarian era when grafters got away with colossal swipes. It could have been thought that the exposure and the establishment of a great corps of correspondents had put a stop to graft. This has not been accomplished.

When the Gridiron was organized, Congress didn't want a press gallery and inquiries by reporters were regarded as impudence. So the early dinners were arranged in the homes of members, conventions to get both parties a little drunk and establish confidence and friendship.

formal banquets to which it is an honor to be invited. Members of Congress and others, such as lobbyists, who have tried to traffic in invitations have been quietly ostracized and it is bad form to offer a member some advantage in return for an invitation.

Maryland terrapin is a fixture and a tradition on the menu. The Gridiron's terrapin is said, by the Gridiron, to be the best rendition of this turtle surprise that there is with the exception of the version maintained at the Maryland Club in Baltimore. It is a sort of stew, apparently with truffles, seasoned with sherry.

During prohibition and again after the second flag act, the Moet and Chandon's champagne, another traditional delicacy to issue like federal aid to education before the Dixiecrat head entered a motion to have it, the Southern side would be clear out of luck and have to remain ignorant.

This trouble also applies when one of Siamese Sue's heads decides it wants to stop and look at something. It puts this policy in effect at once, and the other side is left there to wait, "gawking absent-mindedly in the other direction," as the press agent says.

Supposing the Republican head of the Bricker two-headed party decided it wanted to stop and investigate what part White House big-wigs had in shipping uranium to Soviet Russia in wartime. Wouldn't the Democratic head be embarrassed?

Boy, it's embarrassed enough as it is. But it's probably unfair to say that this two-headed turtle emblem would fit only a Republican Dixiecrat ticket. For some time there has been a suspicion that the Democratic Party itself has been operating on the two-headed principle.

The Harry Truman head wants to keep on going to the left. The Jimmy Byrnes head wants to stop and look over this welfare state before doing anything about it. It's an old political maxim that two heads are better than one, but this doesn't seem to fit either turtles or political parties.

How do you suppose that's going to come out? Political scientists will be watching the development of Siamese Sue, down in the basement of the Commerce Department building, to see if it offers any clues.

those who like champagne, was scratched. It's back again and, with the terrapin, accounts to a great extent for the cost of the feast, which, with flowers and all, comes to $20 a plate.

The opening speech in the dark of the president of the Gridiron always ends with the admonition that "ladies are always present," although the party is strictly stag, and that "reporters are never present." The only person who ever violated the rule against dirty cracks was Franklin D. Roosevelt, who was rebuked by a murmur for a nasty line on his first appearance as guest of honor. Theodore Roosevelt, during his presidency, got into a spat with Senator Joe Foraker of Ohio, and the rule against publication of remarks was circumvented, though not violated, by Bob Jones, then of the Chicago Herald and later of the Chicago Tribune, now retired and living in Florida. Mr. Jones was not a member of the Gridiron nor was he present as a guest. So, when he heard of the row he made inquiries, got the truth and broke the story as news.

Franklin Roosevelt tried to break down the Gridiron's rule requiring white tie and tails. He said he had no white tie. Lyle Wilson, of the United Press, who was on the invitation committee, said the club would buy him one. Another time, in 1938, when the Democratic organization in the Bronx counted on Tom Dewey and stole the election to the office of governor, Roosevelt demanded of the Gridiron that it sit at the head table, with the presidents of the club and the United States sit, and to make a speech. Holmes, brother-in-law of Roosevelt's secretary, Steve Early, said he would do no such damned thing. Roosevelt went to Dewey and made an excellent speech and was on his way to political recognition and two nominations for the presidency. Jim Farley spoke for the administration from a text by Charlie Michelson the Spook.

President Cleveland attended no Gridiron parties. He thought this would be an undignified occasion for a president. There seem to have been no hard feelings on either side.

Robert Lincoln O'Brien, the oldest member—who got the little gold gridiron to wear on his lapel 50 years ago, was saluted gravely and with affection last Saturday night. The next morning the members learned that another old and cherished friend and member, Cliff Barryman, the editorial cartoonist of the Washington Star, had died in the night.

Iceman Cometh and Intendeth to Stay

By SAUNDERS (AP) — The iceman is here to stay.

This assurance was given by Tom E. Rogers, El Paso, president of the Southwestern Ice Manufacturers Association, here for a convention.

He said despite electrical refrigeration, the manufacture of ice has shown a tremendous increase. In 1940 ice production totaled 22,000,000 tons. Last year it soared to 52,000,000 tons, Rogers said.

One wonders whether he puts in these chapters on sex in order to get a public audience. He seems to think that because he has a high regard for good "Grapes of Wrath" had a large sale of books, and yet its influence was anything but Christian, just as E. Stanley Jones seems to feel, if not Christian.

He never mentions the Commandments "Thou shalt not steal" or "Thou shalt not covet." Dr. Jones seems to feel, if not entirely discard the laws set down in the Ten Commandments. In fact one might get the impression that he didn't think much of the Old Testament. It was always his opinion that the New Testament was based on the laws embodied in the Commandments. Micah 6:8 states "He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?" Or according to Moffatt: "O man, he has told you what is good; what doth the Lord require of thee, but to be just and kind and live in quiet fellowship with your God?"

E. Stanley Jones' new "way of life" seems to discard this summary of the Old Testament and substitute his own way of life which does not require him to be enough of a brother that he will answer questions and explain what he means by his generalities or to spend not over two hours in order to make $1,000 available to the needy that he gives lip service to so loving.

Any man who wants to learn to know more nearly approach the Christian and Jewish way of life is always anxious to have any of his acts, that seem to others a violation of moral principles, questioned. He is always willing to attempt to answer questions in a limited period of time without evasion, for he believes that is the only way he can correct his errors.

The column invites questions on anything that is advocated or opposing. That is the only way I know of to better understand God's laws. This newspaper also invites questions on its policies, and it will attempt to answer them without evasion. To do otherwise is unbrotherly and unChristian.

What Kind of Witness For Christian Living Is E. Stanley Jones?

Probably the best way to teach Christianity, like anything else, is by example. If a man who professes to be a teacher of Christianity doesn't live with the humility and the brotherly love of a Christian, he is not a very good witness for the Christian religion. It makes little difference what one professes and what one says he believes. What really has a lasting and useful and helpful influence on other people is the way a man really lives. The way a man really lives tends to cause other people to believe that his was the way to bring about peace, good will and peace.

It is never testimony to anybody who is not sincere and frank and honest. No one can really teach Christianity who has any thoughts or beliefs that have to be shielded or faith to be sold in secret or about which they will not answer questions. The reason witnesses in court are cross examined in a witness stand is to determine if it is really testimony, or if it is in agreement with other statements they make. This is done for the reason that one truth is always in harmony with another truth. It is never contrary to other truth—they are always in agreement. If a man will not answer questions about them or if he contradicts himself, the jury has the right to doubt his testimony. They regard it as negative instead of positive.

According to this test, E. Stanley Jones or those who sponsor him or sell his books are not a very good witness for Christianity. It is always willing to answer any questions about the Christian way of living. He is not an arbitrary person. He is completely open to any and every intellectual or moral question. He never seeks to avoid truth. He never says he can see no useful purpose for answering questions. He always treats questioners as brothers and not as inferiors unworthy to be treated as honest seekers after truth.

A real Christian is not so much interested in an audience and power as he is in himself coming as nearly as possible to living in harmony with the precepts taught by Jesus. He never sets himself up in contradiction to the teachings of Jesus. He never wants to be a divider, as E. Stanley Jones does, over men. He never wants to take over property of another person without his consent, as does E. Stanley Jones by way of legislation. He never wants to establish a new law contrary to the law of Jesus and gold gridiron to wear on his lapel 50 years ago, was saluted gravely and with affection last Saturday night. The next morning the members learned that another old and cherished friend and member, Cliff Barryman, the editorial cartoonist of the Washington Star, had died in the night.

It seems to nail down once and for all the general conclusion that FDR permitted himself to be outraged and outmaneuvered at Yalta at the very moment when Washington had information that Moscow was preparing to doublecross the United States and Britain after Hitler's collapse.

It also appears to provide a devastating answer to the late Edward R. Stettinius' defense of the Yalta agreements in his posthumous book, "Roosevelt and the Russians."

ESPIONAGE — Denying that Mr. Hopkins or Henry A. Wallace had tried to influence his atomic administration on Moscow's behalf, the former head of the Manhattan project declared that he began to suspect the Reds' ultimate intentions as early as 1943, or immediately after Professor Einstein persuaded FDR to experiment with smashing the atom.

Groves said flatly that spies directed from the Russian Embassy at Washington "were seeking constantly to obtain classified data on our atomic plants, supplies of uranium and blueprints.

He did not make an honest admission of the fact that the White House was ally in the anti-Axis struggle. The resorted to the same espionage tricks exposed in Canada a few years ago.

CASUALTIES — It was at this very moment that Stalin was reeling from the news that the U. S. despite Churchill-Roosevelt pleas, information on the strength, strategy or composition of his air armada. Nor would he listen to their suggestions that he should give up the land in Russia for refueling after bombing Germany from British bases.

General Henry H. (Hap) Arnold, then head of our Army Air Force, tried in vain to obtain this essential data and landing fields, which would have permitted two-way bombing of Germany. For want of success, our airmen suffered terrific casualties on raids deep into German territory.

As dramatically depicted in "Command Decision," the targets were airplanes and ball-bearing plants which might have enabled Hitler to win the war unless they were destroyed quickly.

Generals Groves and Arnold regarded this hostile attitude as most peculiar in our great wartime partner. Naval Intelligence had even more convincing evidence that Russia would turn against us as soon as the more immediate threat to her national security was eliminated. They tried to convey their fears to higher quarters.

But the White House word was: "Don't ruffle the Russians!" So, they kept mum about their difficulties and suspicions until now.

CONCESSIONS — The Russians began their illegal and unfriendly spying into our whole atomic establishment as early as 1943, according to General Groves. The American airmen's casualties resulting from Stalin's refusal to cooperate with us occurred in the autumn of October, 1945, according to General Arnold.

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER WASHINGTON — Lieutenant General Leslie R. Groves, retired, precipitated a reaction akin to consternation in diplomatic and military circles while testifying on charges that Henry Hopkins aided Russia to obtain atomic materials and secrets during World War II.

As frequently happens, this disturbing portion of his statement was largely neglected because of a sensational and public excitement over the accusations against Franklin D. Roosevelt's personal aide. But the late President's friends, as well as Truman politicians, are far more concerned over the hitherto confidential details which General Groves revealed.

It seems to nail down once and for all the general conclusion that FDR permitted himself to be outraged and outmaneuvered at Yalta at the very moment when Washington had information that Moscow was preparing to doublecross the United States and Britain after Hitler's collapse.

It also appears to provide a devastating answer to the late Edward R. Stettinius' defense of the Yalta agreements in his posthumous book, "Roosevelt and the Russians."

WRITTEN FOR NEA There are many possible causes for "dizzy spells" of which a condition known as Meniere's syndrome is only one. More common in older people, Meniere's syndrome is used to describe a group or set of symptoms rather than a disease.

For a long time the term "Meniere's syndrome" was used loosely for several different kinds of disease of the inner ear, the symptoms of which were alike in that there were attacks of dizziness or vertigo (there is a slight technical difference), ringing in the ears and increasing difficulty in hearing.

Israel Learned God Is Everywhere

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D. Somewhere when I was a youngster I read the story of an atheist, who, in that mistaken zeal which makes a sort of religion out of atheism, had set up a sign in his home, "God is Nowhere." In letters of equal size, but when he asked his little daughter to read it, she read it, "God is Now Here."

God was there and He is everywhere. Jesus said to the Woman of Samaria that the hour was coming when men should worship the Father, neither in the temple at Jerusalem, nor in the mountain of Samaria; that God is a spirit and that they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth.

That spirit is as ever present and universal as are light and radio waves in the physical world. That men should hear the voice of God and commune with Him is much greater and more sublime but not more wonderful than the hearing of voices on the radio. The laws and realities of the spiritual world are as much a part of man's heritage through the Creator, as are the physical laws and wonders of His universe.

But men of religion, even in Israel, did not always so know God, and apprehend Him. To those of lesser faith and vision He seemed the God of Israel, but not the God of the whole world and with such limited and localized conceptions of God and worship it was easy for the people to fall into that idolatry which was an ever-present peril and a curse.

But what hope and faith were there for a people in exile cast away from their homeland and

Christian Science

"Is the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 18.

The Golden Text is: "Ah Lord God! behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and stretched out arm, and there is nothing too hard for thee" (Jeremiah 32:17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "My righteousness is near; my salvation is gone forth, and mine arms shall wait upon me; and on mine arm shall they trust" (Isaiah 51:5).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Inspired thought relinquishes a material, sensual, and mortal theory of the universe, and adopts the spiritual and immortal" (page 547).

Methodist Youth Fellowship Meeting Held in Lefors Church

LEFORS — (Special) — The Methodist Youth Fellowship held a sub-district meeting at the church on Monday. Youth present at the meeting were from Miami, McLean, Mobeetie, Groom, Pampa, First, McCullaugh and Harrah churches.

The business meeting was held first, and was followed by a program given by the local MYF. This program was opened with soft piano music by Miss Lona May. The choir members took their places as Wanda Williams and Clayda Rickman lighted candles at the windows and the altar.

Duane Hankins was program leader and announced the numbers. "There's a Song in the Air" by the choir was followed by the story of the coming of Christ from Luke 2:1-20.

A sextet with Shirley Perkins, Delena Pfeil, Wanda Vaughn, Barbara Chastain, Wanda Rickman and Rebecca Bretning, sang "Sleep of the Child Jesus." Wanda Vaughn told a story, "The Littlest Angel." Joel Ray Combs sang "Star of the East," and the choir sang another number, "Fair-est Lord Jesus." A prayer closed the service.

The group then went on a hay ride, when they drove over town will be a children's Christmas program in the sanctuary, under the direction of Mrs. Garvin Elkins, superintendent of the children's department.

At the morning worship hour, the pastor, Russell G. West, will preach.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY BEGINS IN THE HOME

'A new year --- a new life

Just as we look forward to starting a new year, the anticipation of helping to start a new life along the road to good citizenship is an exciting experience.

Let's resolve to get closer to our youngsters, the toddling infants and the teen-agers too. When we experience that alliance with growing youth we realize how fortunate we are as parents, in having the opportunity to help shape the characters of future citizens.

What better resolution--if one is needed--than to follow the five recommendations shown here.

A new life . . . a new year . . . both a challenge and an opportunity.

As Good Parents You Should:

- 1--Give the love and companionship so necessary to your child's welfare;
- 2--Attend church with your children;
- 3--Support personally the many fine organizations that provide recreation for boys and girls;
- 4--Devote some of your time to personal service in the activities that minister to the young;
- 5--Help spread good cheer and human understanding to families not as fortunate as your own.

Wise parents know that duty to their children is more than food, clothing and shelter.

They know that the home life needs to be more attractive to childhood; that wholesome recreation for their own boys and girls and their neighbor's children is the best way to prevent trouble and sorrow when the critical years are upon them.

The Story of the Savior . . . by William E. Gilroy, DD

Herod had bade the wise men return when they had found the baby, that he might worship him also, but evil was in his heart to destroy the child.

Being warned in a dream not to return to Herod, the wise men returned to their own country by another way. (Matthew 2:12.)

Then Herod's fury knew no bounds. He ordered the slaughter of all the boy babies in Bethlehem, hoping thereby to destroy the Christ-child. (Matthew 2:16.)

Lampshades Tear 'Rent in History'

READING, Eng. — (AP) — Lampshades are playing havoc with British history, Lt. Col. G. E. C. Malet, registrar of the national register of archives, told Reading University students. He lamented the custom of using "old deeds, with interesting examples of old writing and historic signatures and seals," to make lampshades. Every one of them "tears a rent, however small, in the history of our country," he claimed.

$6.1 billion for international affairs, including the Marshall Plan, arming Europe, and help to other countries.

$6.9 billion for veterans of World War II and previous wars.

Here Are Book Suggestions For Christmas

NEW YORK — (AP) — Thinking of giving someone a book for Christmas?

It is a problem, isn't it? So much depends on the choice you make. For in the task of selection you are judging the one you give the book to — and you are judging yourself.

Every year Santa Claus gets in a blue funk over what books to give famous people.

To help Saint Nick out of his annual quandary we compile a tentative list of books to give to the big and little folks on his Christmas rolicall. Here's the 1949 list — and maybe it has a few ideas for you too:

The Passionate Journey — Vice President Barkley.

A Guide to Confident Living — Harry S. Truman.

A Graveyard to Let — Guy George Gabrielson, chairman of the Republican National Committee.

The Shaggy Man of Oz — John L. Lewis.

South Carolina Bird Life — Former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes.

Growing Roses — "Cactus Jack" Garner.

It's Fun to Retire — Herbert Hoover.

What Every One Should Know About the Law — Ex-Rep. Andrew Jackson May of Kentucky.

Some Problems in Federal Taxation — Ex-Rep. J. Parnell Thomas of New Jersey.

Hypotherapy of War Neuroses — The U. S. Navy.

The Show Must Go On — Ingrid Bergman.

Horses: Their Selection, Care and Handling — U. S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

Twilight on the Floods — The New York City Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity.

I Married a Redhead — Aly Khan.

And So Farewell — Chiang Kai-shek.

I Hear You Calling Me — Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

Government Spending for Year Figured

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government will spend about $43,500,000,000 this fiscal year, which began July 1 and ends next June 30.

Of that amount about $11,800,000,000 will be spent on things strictly for home use: running the government, housing, help for farmers, education, and so on.

The rest of the $43 billion — about $31,700,000,000 — is being spent on things more or less connected with war: either past wars, defense in case of a future war, help to Europe and other countries to block communism and stave off war, and other interna-
