

Greek Boy Adopted By Pampa Group

The Acquilla and Priscilla Class of the First Christian Church of Pampa has "adopted" Nikolas Dimitrakopoulos, 10-year-old Greek boy through Foster Parents Plan for War Children, 55 West 42nd St., New York City.

Mrs. Erwin C. Thompson, 1313 Terrace, as group secretary, is the official "foster mother" of the little boy, who was orphaned during the war years.

The local class sends $15 per month to take care of the small boy, and must send at least one letter. Mrs. Thompson told The News the group is planning to send boxes of clothing as well.

The tragic history of "Nikos," as he is called, is that his father, a soldier, was killed by a mortar shell in 1944; and one day shortly afterward his mother disappeared. It is believed she was executed by the Germans, according to information received from Foster Parents Plan. There is one brother, John, who is in an orphanage.

Nikos lives with relatives, making six in a one-room "house." The man of the house cannot work because he has tuberculosis; and his wife makes a meager subsistence of $30 a month—described as "grossly inadequate for the support of the six members of the family."

The record on this orphan says: "Nikos has short brown hair and brown eyes. He is in third grade but he is not especially fond of school. He is especially attached to his cousins whom he adores. His favorite game is ball. He is kind-hearted."

and is sad whenever he thinks of the past. Mrs. Thompson said of the organization which seeks help for such children: "I think it is a wonderful idea." She said that if other people are interested, they may contact her, or the organization at the address given at the head of this story.

New Series Talks on Atomic Information Problem Stated

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A series of "exploratory" talks is being arranged to attack the controversial problem of what atomic information the United States should share with Britain and Canada.

President Truman announced yesterday the discussions would be aimed at setting up long-range cooperative atomic plans for the World War II atomic partners in a couple of highly important fields:

(1) Exchange of scientific and technical information and (2) supplying of raw materials.

The President's statement, delivered to his weekly news conference, noted that atomic arrangements made in January 1946, with Britain and Canada are "limited in scope and duration." Now, "it is necessary to consider the future."

One agreement, involving the sharing of the Belgian Congo's uranium supply, reportedly will expire within the next few months. The United States is largely dependent upon the Congo and Canada for its supplies of uranium—the material that makes the A-bomb work.

Mr. Truman's statement was his first public utterance on atomic energy since the ultra-secret Blair House conference July 14, at which the issue of sharing information first was discussed by top state, military, Congressional and atomic leaders. It was at this conference that

75 DPs Being Rounded Up

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rep. Walter (D-Pa.) said today that 75 Hungarian citizens are being rounded up by immigration authorities for being in this country illegally.

Walter told reporters the Hungarians are all displaced persons and that some of their papers were forged by a passport ring in Paris.

Walter is chairman of a House Judiciary subcommittee in charge of immigration. He said there is no suspicion regarding the character of those being rounded up. He added that there has been no indication that they are subversive or undesirable.

He said their fault was that they apparently were overly anxious to enter this country.

He said most of the 75 are now under detention at Ellis Island, N. Y.

Walter said those involved obtained Hungarian passports to enter five South American countries. Their entry visas to these countries, he said, were forged, including seals and official signatures.

Walter said the Hungarians then obtained transient visas for the United States, supposedly to permit them to stop over en route to South America.

All the American transient visas, he said, are valid, but all of the persons have long overstayed the time permitted them. Transient visas are good for 28 days.

Another Act Added To Divorce Grounds

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—When a man with a pretty wife refuses to hold her on his lap, that's grounds for divorce.

That was Superior Judge Frank G. Swain's ruling as granted when Dorothy Lee Radford, a divorcee from Charles Radford, aviation executive.

She testified Radford shoved her off when she tried to sit on his knee while they were watching television. Didn't even say "Down in front."

General Approval of Senators Given Truman's Choice of Clark, McGrath

Texan Would Fill High Court Place

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman's surprise choice of Atty. Gen. Tom Clark for the Supreme Court and Sen. J. Howard McGrath for attorney general gained general approval of senators today.

Although the President told his news conference yesterday Clark and McGrath hadn't finally agreed to the shift, there seemed little doubt the two will accept.

Clark, 49-year-old Texas lawyer, would fill the court place left vacant by the death of Associate Justice Frank Murphy.

Moving into Clark's place would be McGrath, 45-year-old chairman of the Democratic National Committee, former solicitor general and former governor of Rhode Island.

Friends said that once he is confirmed, McGrath will resign as Democratic chairman. That would City, who has been serving as M. Boyle, Jr., formerly of William leave the post open for a $30,000 executive assistant to a $30,000 yearly salary.

Observing that the President had bestowed a great honor on him by offering the place, Clark said:

"It is with humility that I approach it. Such a position is the greatest challenge that can be placed before a lawyer. I hope I am worthy of the honor the President has paid me."

McGrath said he wants to talk to his family and friends in Rhode Island before he decides finally. Involved was reported to be an understanding about his Senate successor. Most politicians think that if Gov. John O. Pastore, some recent brushes with the attorney general.

Senator Kem (R-Mo) criticized the illness of Carol Ann McClelland, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luke McClelland, 805 N. Somerville, who was definitely diagnosed as polio at the West Texas Polio Clinic yesterday at Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McClelland, 332 Sunset Drive, uncle and aunt of Carol Ann, received the diagnosis here yesterday.

Carol Ann was taken to Plainview Tuesday night in a Duenkel-Carmichael ambulance. Her illness was not then definitely diagnosed as polio.

The attending physician here believed she had a mild case of polio or spinal meningitis. However, a 2-hour test at Plainview yesterday showed she has a mild case of polio.

Carol Ann is the first Pampa child to be stricken with polio this year. Gray County had a total of 26 cases during the summer and early fall of 1948.

Man Freed On Bond

O. J. "Woody" Woodley, charged in the killing of Pat Fisher, Wednesday night in The Flats, was released at 3:30 p. m. yesterday from the County Jail after posting $3,500 bond.

The body of the slain man still lay in the Duenkel-Carmichael morgue today for lack of definite arrangements.

Fisher was reported to have been a veteran of World War I, but no discharge papers could be found among his personal belongings in his room.

When the clothing of Fisher was searched Wednesday night, only a knife, matches, a few papers, and some small change, were found.

Truman to Spend Weekend in Hideaway

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman will spend the weekend in "Shangri-La," presidential hideaway in the Catoctin Mountains.

The White House announced today that the President and members of his staff are driving to the retreat this afternoon and will return Sunday afternoon.

2,000 Japanese Face Criminal Charge

TOKYO—(AP)—A shipload of 2,000 Japanese, repatriated from Russia this week, will face criminal charges for halting the ship's captain before a "peoples court" aboard ship.

Charges were filed against the 2,000 today. The charges, built up by the committee, include intimidation, obstruction of official business and robbery.

Illness Is Definitely Diagnosed

The illness of Carol Ann McClelland, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luke McClelland, 805 N. Somerville, was definitely diagnosed as polio at the West Texas Polio Clinic yesterday at Plainview.

Bike Prizes Are Planned

Three cash prizes will be awarded for the first, second and third best decorated bicycles in the Top of Texas parade, George "Pinkie" Vineyard, bicycle chairman, said this morning.

The bicycle entries will follow the wild Indians in Wednesday's parade, which will begin at 4 p. m., he said. The children with their brightly colored bicycles have been asked to meet at S. Ward at 3:15 p. m.

"If the Pampa children show the same interest in decorating their bicycles for the rodeo parade as they did for the recent Montgomery Ward sponsored bicycle parade, the bicycle section of the parade will be one of the highlighting events," Vineyard said.

Unknown judges will be stationed throughout various sections of the city to see how the young cowboys and cowgirls appear on their decorated bicycles.

Pact Ratified

PARIS—(AP)—The upper house of the French Parliament ratified the Atlantic Pact, 284-20, early today.

The lower house had previously ratified it. The treaty now goes to President Vincent Auriol for formal ratification.

ARMED GAMBLING PLACE RAIDED—Hands up raised with their faces showing various degrees of emotion, persons in an armed gambling-house at 1 Maple Shade, N. Fast-Talking Witness Heard Second Day by Senate Probers

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senators investigating the activities of "five percenters" took fast-talking John Maragon behind closed doors again today for more questioning on matters described as "plenty hot."

Maragon, dapper former bootblack who gets into the White House, spent more than an hour with the investigators at a hush-hush session yesterday. Afterward, his secret testimony was rated "plenty hot stuff" by a Senate source.

Opinion Held In New Secret Ballot Law

AUSTIN—(AP)—The new secret ballot law applies alike to general, primary and local option elections, Attorney General Price Daniel ruled today.

Only areas where voting machines are used are exempt, said the opinion requested by Dist. Atty. A. C. Winborn of Houston.

The interpretation was asked on the law passed by the 51st Legislature, providing for a detachable ballot stub to be deposited in a separate box for possible identification purposes in cases of election challenge.

The attorney general also ruled that pertinent provisions of the law apply in elections submitting Constitutional amendments for approval or disapproval of the people.

In the case of city elections, the opinion said, all supplies should be paid for by the city and the city clerk is required to perform each act in a city election that is required to be done by the county clerk in general elections held in the county.

The law also applies to school trustee elections in independent school districts, with expenses to be paid by the districts. In independent districts having fewer than 500 scholars, it is the duty of the county judge to prepare all ballots, tally lists and other supplies, the opinion said, in districts with 500 or more, the duty falls upon the school board.

The attorney general also said it was advisable to follow procedure (See OPINION, Page 2)

Hot Weather Is Just Too Much

ATLANTA—(AP)—The hot weather in Atlanta was apparently just too much for a 21-year-old girl early today.

Clad in slacks, nothing more, she jumped into an ice delivery truck and almost caused the driver to wreck the vehicle.

Shortly before, police said, she had turned in a false fire alarm and brought firemen from every downtown station speeding to the scene.

Patrol Lt. Billy Jay and Patrolman L. M. Kennedy said the girl gave her name as Anna Warren of Blue Ridge, Ga. When the officers stopped the ice truck, the girl borrowed a towel in an effort to lift the uncovered portions of her hot weather costume. She was charged with disorderly conduct.

A high of 95 degrees was a forecast for today after yesterday's 94.

Mexicans to Work in Texas This Year

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Signing of an immigrant workers agreement between Mexico and the U. S. today means that Mexican harvest hands at last may work legally in Texas.

Formal signing was scheduled for 11 a. m. in the Foreign Office. Final drafts of the accord were finished last night for the formal signature by U. S. Charge D'Affaires Leslie A. Wheeler and Manuel Tello, acting foreign secretary of Mexico. The pact will be ratified by an exchange of notes between the two countries next week.

Officials estimated it would be at least two weeks before the first Mexicans could leave for the United States. The Inter-secretarial Commission of the Mexican government must decide where workmen may be recruited and open offices. Forms of contract must be supplied and requests received through the U. S. government for the number of workers needed for various areas.

Cotton picking has already begun in the Rio Grande Valley, which is anxious to have legal immigrants. The first immigrants may not arrive before the end of the harvest in that area, but should be in time for cotton picking in more northern counties.

Borger Boy Receives Prize For Best Built Derby Car

Bobby Yeager, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Yeager of Borger, walked away with the coveted Xacto Tool Chest for the best constructed car in the Soap Box Derby here.

The announcement was made at the Lions Club luncheon at the Methodist Church yesterday, and the boy was among those present.

The big prize was donated by Shell Oil Co. It is designed for travel.

Scores and scores of other prizes were awarded the happy boys. They ran in value to over $1,000, not counting the all-expense paid trip to Akron, Ohio, which goes to the city champ, Jerry Doggett, 1515 North Somerville. He will receive the trip from The News.

J. D. Kite Rites Held at McLean

Funeral services were held in McLean yesterday morning for Joseph D. Kite, 70, a resident of McLean for 20 years.

Kite had been living in Borger for the past year and died there in the North Plains Hospital Tuesday.

He was born June 1, 1878, in Arkansas and lived in McLean from 1928 to last year. He was a retired farmer.

Services were held at 10 a. m. yesterday from the First Baptist Church of McLean, with the Rev. S. R. Jones, pastor, officiating.

Burial under the direction of the Clayborn-Womack Funeral Home, was in Hillcrest Cemetery.

Fallbearers were: Olie Kunkel, Charles Nicholson, H. W. Brooks, Boyd Meador, John Dwyer, and Clyde Willis.

In addition to his wife, Elizabeth, of Borger, Kite is survived by six daughters, Mrs. Ruby Nelms, Mrs. Dobbie McGowan, and Mrs. Marie Ellis, all of Borger; Mrs. Leona Batten of Walnut Grove, Calif.; Mrs. Beulah Kunkel of Courtland, Calif.; and Mrs. Nettie McCutcheon of Walnut Grove; by three sons, E. L. of McLean, N. W. of Walnut Grove, and Thurman of Borger; and by 26 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Four Comic and Scary Characters Join in Rodeo Booster Activities

Frankenstein, Mortimer Snerd, Baboon Man and Rochester scared but delighted thousands of prospective Top of Texas Rodeo attendees yesterday on the second booster trip advertising the fifth annual show.

Comic and scary characters were Bob Addington, Slim Follwell, Ben Odgen and J. E. Maguire, wearing rubber masks.

The 60 boosters were as well received at Sayre, Okla., as anywhere on yesterday's trip. Approximately 2,000 residents of Sayre crowded around the two special booster buses and three cars to see the 30-minute preview of the Top of Texas Rodeo.

Featured entertainment yesterday included the Top of Texas Square Dancers, Rhythm Queens "Porky" Parkinson and the Sunset Ramblers. Yesterday's trip was sponsored by the Rotary Club. Fire Chief Ernest Winborne headed the boosters in his red fire car.

One of the featured attractions of the final booster trip tomorrow will be the Top of Texas Rodeo, alias the Squeaky Door Four. The barbershop quartet is expected to keep its squeaks squeaking to chime in with the cowbells and horns, used by the boosters.

Three compensation suits were settled yesterday in 31st District Court for a total consideration of less than 4,000 before Judge Lewis M. Goodrich.

Largest of the three awards went to M. Roberts from the Texas Employers Insurance Assn. in a combination of two suits. Roberts was granted $1,750. The suits were combined by agreement of plaintiff and defendant.

Robert was injured on two different occasions while working for the Moran Bros. Co.

Judgments for $1,000 each were handed down in favor of Houston S. Byman and John B. McKinney from the Standard Accident Insurance Co. The men were employed by the Walco Construction and Engineering Co. when they were injured on the job.

This morning Justice Goodrich granted a divorce to Edna Fern Lundford from Emmet H. Lundford on charges of cruelty. They were married in July, 1943 and separated in December, 1948.

(Continued From Page One) — Clark in the 80th Congress for which he said was the attorney general's failure to prosecute vigorously Kansas City vote fraud cases.

Kem wouldn't comment on the possibility that he would renew his attack on the present cabinet member.

In any case, indications were in the Senate will confirm the appointments within a relatively short time after they are sent to it officially.

Senator Kerr (D-Okla.) called them "fine appointments," "both of them are good men," agreed Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.), House Speaker Rayburn, a fellow Texan, and Clark would make a "great justice."

The President's action in linking the two jobs together was regarded generally on Capitol Hill as advance notice that if another Supreme Court vacancy occurred while he is in the White House, McGrath can be expected to fill it.

Clark, a Presbyterian, was appointed to fill the only place on the present court that had been held by a Roman Catholic. Thus there will be no member of that faith represented.

But McGrath, as a Catholic, steps into a high place in Mr. Truman's administration. And there seems little doubt that it given the charge again. The President will want to put a Catholic on the court.

Mr. Truman told his news conference yesterday that he doesn't think the religious choice of an appointee had anything to do with the qualifications of a Supreme Court justice.

Scouts Used In Scheme

An effort to use Boy Scouts of Pampa in the sale of purses and billfolds by a man from Gilmer, Tex., was halted yesterday when the nature of the boys' employment was learned.

The Boy Scout office this morning reported that a man, through a local Scouter, asked for the services of eight Scouts to distribute handbills. These boys, it was said, would act as individuals and not as Scouts, and were to be paid for their services.

As soon as it was found the boys were to sell the merchandise, the local Scout office notified the boys' parents, and their "selling" was stopped.

The Scout office issued this statement: "The constitution of the Boy Scouts of America prohibits the use of Scouts or Cubs for such commercial enterprises, and it is of course the intention of the local Boy Scout organization to abide by this ruling."

OPINION

On absentee voting, the attorney general had this to say: "It is humanly impossible for the same procedure to be followed in absentee voting that is followed where the voter casts his vote in person."

The mere fact that the absentee voter's ballot and stub are placed in the respective boxes by the presiding judge of the section on absentee voting inconsistent with the other provisions of the act, because the first sentence in Section 6 provides that "the appropriate provisions of this act shall also apply to absentee voting."

The law provides that the voter himself deposit his ballot from his ballot, when he votes in person. This is impossible when he votes absentee.

The joint chiefs are going abroad to discuss the arms program and general defense plans with European military chiefs.

Johnson led off a parade of the armed services' big guns supporting President Truman's drive for the program.

Republican members of the committee opposing the arms program talked about countering with Bernard Baruch.

Johnson emphasized his belief that in the present tense world situation the President must have more power to act quickly.

"I will not dwell on the enabling legislation for this program except to say that I consider that the powers of the President to apply our resources in the common defense of the world's peace must now be supplemented."

White Baruch's position with respect to the arms aid proposal for Atlantic Pact and other nations is not known, he has been critical of it for some time. Foreign countries have been handling the economic aid given them under the Marshall Plan.

MEXICANS

(Continued From Page One) — is expected to issue a list of Texas counties to which its nationals may go. The new accord provides that immigrants can go only to areas where there is no discrimination against Mexicans and which promise there will be none during the life of the work contracts.

This is a major concession by Mexico, which recently has not permitted its people to go to Texas to work, charging discrimination. The new pact takes Texas as a whole off the blacklist but still permits Mexico to blacklist some counties or even areas within counties.

The U.S. also conceded a point in the new agreement. It bowed to Mexican demands that workers be taken from the interior of the country, and not from border areas where Mexican cotton growers are finding it difficult to obtain harvest hands.

The U.S. also conceded that since the U.S. growers pay for workers' transportation, it would cost them more to bring harvesters from the interior.

Official estimates were that about 20,000 Mexicans would go to the U.S. this year. Last year, when Texas was on the unofficial blacklist, between 20,000 and 30,000 contract workers went. However, recruiting began earlier last year.

The Mexicans will also be available for fruit and vegetable picking and the sugarbeet harvest. Last year most of them were engaged in these activities, although some went to Mississippi Valley states as cotton pickers.

The agreement for legal immigration is also expected to act as a safety valve for the Mexican field worker's urge to go to the U.S. Many thousands—some authorities say more than 100,000—have entered the U.S. illegally, attracted by comparatively high U.S. wages. Until the signing of the agreement, they had no hope of going legally. Now that the gates are open, the compulsion to slip in illegally is partially removed.

Wages to Mexican workers in the U.S. last year averaged about $2 a week—roughly ten times as much as a farm worker can make at home.

EASY SHRIMP PREPARATION
An easy way to serve fresh shrimp for a supper dish is to cook, shell, and clean them, then saute them in butter or margarine just until they are hot. Serve them immediately with a wedge of lemon, a baked potato, and a green salad. Flavor the dressing for the salad with garlic for a zesty touch.

Maureen Hightower Marries Mr. Laurie in Darrouzett

Before an arch entwined with pink gladioli and fern, Mrs. Maureen Hightower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ham of Tulsa, became the bride of Mr. Milton Laurie, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Laurie of Darrouzett on the opening day of the new Methodist Church in Darrouzett.

The Rev. C. T. Jackson read the ceremony before the arch, which was flanked by tiered candelabra and trellis with the gladioli and fern. Large floor baskets of pink gladioli and banks of fern on white completed the altar decorations.

Proceeding the ceremony, Mr. Wilfred Watson sang "Forever and Ever" and "I Love You Truly." Mrs. Ed Huber, organist, played nuptial selections before the bride party entered and the traditional wedding marches.

Miss Shirley Laurie, sister of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor. Miss Cherry Laurie, another sister, was candlelighter. Don Ham of Tulsa, brother of the bride, attended that bridegroom as best man.

The maid of honor and candlelighter wore identical dresses of pink organza with wristlets of orchid colored carnations.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a blue crepe and lace street-length dress, a single orchid on a white Bible tied with white ribbon, and a matching accessories.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ham was attired in a blue printed sheer dress, matching accessories, and a corsage of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a printed sheer dress with a grey background, and corsage of white carnations.

A reception followed the ceremony in the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Mrs. Huber played piano selections during the reception. Mrs. C. T. Phillips and Mrs. Glen Phillips presided at the serving table and Mrs. Lattimore of Hooker, Okla., was at the bride's book.

The couple left for points in Colorado and New Mexico. They will enroll in the fall term at West Texas State College in September.

Both have attended W.T.S.C.

ANCHOVY, CHEESE SPREAD
A tablespoon of anchovy paste and a teaspoon of finely grated onion (pulp and juice) may be added to a package of cream cheese and then used for a cracker spread to serve with a tomato juice cocktail. Soften a three-ounce package of the cheese and mix in the anchovy and onion flavorings thoroughly. Sprinkle a little finely grated parsley over the spread for color, if you like.

For unexpected company it is easy to evolve a fancy dessert with a package of white cake mix, store-bought ice cream and a sauce.

"God Is Our Refuge and Strength-- A Very Present Help in Trouble..."

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

When the Hebrew poet looked into the heart of man he saw both good and evil. He saw in man an image of God that man had marred and defiled. But he saw in the heart of God only the defiled goodness of which man at his highest and best, and in his noblest aspirations, bore the marks.

He linked man with God--man in his weakness and sin and need, with God, the Perfect Being, perfect in truth and righteousness, in holiness and beauty. He found the evidence of God in the starry heavens, which declared God's glory, and in the firmament showing His handiwork; but he found the evidence, also, in man himself, in the law of the Lord, converting the soul, in the "clean fear" of the Lord, enduring forever, and in "the judgments of the Lord, true and righteous altogether" (Psalm 19).

This note of confidence in God is the deepest and strongest note in the Psalms. It reaches great heights and deep intensities in Psalm 46:

"God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore will not we fear, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea."

To get the real significance of those words, and some sense of the depth of their faith and trust in God, one must realize the situation of the Psalmist who wrote them. He was not living in a safe community, but in a little land in the midst of great, ancient warring empires. Again and again it had been overrun. Its people destroyed or carried into exile, while the Northern Kingdom of Ten Tribes had been so completely overwhelmed that it was never reestablished. The constant danger and threat were similar to those that peoples and nations have experienced within the last few years, and which, in a sense, overhang the world in an atomic age, when moral and spiritual power has not kept pace with the powers of destruction.

But the Psalmist was not lacking in moral and spiritual power. His expression of boundless faith in God, no matter what might happen, was not a figure of speech, or a matter of words, but the profound conviction of a realist.

If one wishes a parallel for it, I think it is to be found in the closing verse of Romans 8, where Paul, having listed all possible human experiences of suffering and disaster, and then all possible forces and powers, says that none of these things shall be able "to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord."

What a faith to have! How can we get it? I think only by living and communing with those who have it, and above all finding the reality of the presence of Christ Himself. To know Him, I think, is to live with Him in the pages of the New Testament, until He becomes as real to us as He was to Paul.

* WE, THE WOMEN BY RUBY MILLETT VEA Staff Writer

Every woman knows how important it is to have a husband she can "count on." But many women don't realize that men need that sense of security, too.

For instance, a man needs to know that he can always count on his wife to "do him proud"--to be a lady under any and all situations.

He needs to know that his wife can entertain graciously, and can make the unexpected guest feel welcome in their home. It's a sad thing when a husband is hesitant about bringing his friends home.

He needs to know that she can handle the job of home-making, that it isn't too much for her to cope with. That is as important to a man as knowing a man can provide for his family is to a woman.

He needs to know that she will back him up when the going is hard. The man who is afraid to worry his wife with his troubles hasn't the right kind of wife.

He needs to be able to trust her judgment when it comes to handling the children. The woman whose children know she is an "easy mark" is letting both her husband and her children down.

He needs to be able to trust her judgment in money matters. No man can feel secure if he has a wife who gives in to extravagant impulses and counts on selling him on the idea that what she did was right, when both actually know it was foolish.

He needs to know that she'll stand up for him before other people and give the world the best possible picture of him. How can a man be comfortable with a wife who is likely to "take a crack" at him in public, or just because they've had a quarrel, tell her friends what a heel her husband is?

And, of course, he needs to know that he can trust her with a confidence, whether it is labeled top secret or not, that he can count on her to use discretion in what she tells about his business.

If a man can trust his wife in those things, he'll feel secure, because he has a wife he can "count on."

Fair Enough - Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
(Copyright, 1949)
NEW YORK (AP)—Barney Ruditzky, a retired detective of the gangster squad of the New York police, has been represented as a righteous man...

Mr. Ruditzky is a partner or front for other principals in the operation of a luxury restaurant and a gambling resort in the Strip, a badlands area in Los Angeles. There Mickey Cohen and others, including an actress, who this far appears to have been blameless, were shot last week. The place is currently called Sherry's.

Two years ago, just after the murder of Benjamin or Buggy Siegel, who was running the $5,000,000 underworld hotel and gambling plant at Las Vegas, Nevada, Ruditzky was arrested. He was a confidential or undercover collector of bad debts for Siegel. This was legal activity, for Ruditzky was running a detective and collection agency, but the association of a policeman and a gangster is not a happy one.

Mr. Ruditzky said Siegel had been worried by losses of the house, operated by a mob or syndicate of gangsters with national headquarters in the East. In conversation with Ruditzky, Siegel rejected a suggestion of collusion between the winners and his dealers. "The kind of people that are winning are not the kind that would work with anybody," Siegel said.

Water Board Opposes Valley Authorities
AUSTIN (AP)—Federal creation of the Columbia, Missouri, and other valley authorities has been opposed in a resolution adopted by the Texas Water Conservation Association's Executive Board.

Washington . . . by Peter Edson

WASHINGTON (AP)—The unification of the armed services has really just begun. It is now nearly two years since Congress passed the law merging Army, Navy and Air Force into a single Department of National Defense.

1. Consolidation of the three services' public relations departments into a single office under a single civilian director—William Frye—who is responsible only to Defense Secretary Johnson.
2. Merger of all three services' legislative relations with Congress into a single liaison office under Maj.-Gen. W. B. Parsons, in the office of the secretary of defense.

Common Ground

By R. C. HOLES
What is Liberty But Voluntary Competition?
I have been reading a book entitled "Liberty: A Path to Its Recovery" by F. A. Harper, who is on the staff of the Foundation for Economic Education.

The book was written to try to get more people to understand the meaning of liberty, and as the title says, a path to its recovery. Since it is published by the Foundation for Economic Education, anyone is privileged to reprint this book. It is a definite ideology. The way every good book should be: that is written with the idea of being useful to one's fellow man.

It had been the general belief, as ex-Governor Herbert H. Lehman immediately pointed out, that Mrs. Roosevelt was an unusually tolerant woman. Indeed, many of her late husband's associates at Washington sometimes complained to him that she was too broad-minded.

AMAZED — Thus Cardinal Spellman's outburst, which can have extremely serious ballot-box repercussions in the 1950 Congressional elections, amazed millions at and outside the Capital.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By ORK HOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Want to cash high society? One of the quickest ways today is to buy a famous gem or collection of jewels.

Society then will let down its barriers and invite you in just to look at her pretty jewels through a pair of lighted lognettes.

When she gave parties, it was her entrance that created more excitement than the arrival of noted diplomats, generals, or Supreme Court justices. In fact, many came to her parties only to see the diamond. She realized this, and loved to show it.

Among the financial tips of the past, the use of jewelry to widen their fame or notoriety were "Diamond Jim" Brady and J. J. Hill, the "empire builder." "Hill carried a heart-shaped emerald in his pocket as a good-luck token," said Frey. "It was quite a stake—worth $250,000. And his estate sold it at a profit."

news behind the news

WASHINGTON — The puzzling point of Cardinal Spellman's attack on Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was his charge that her attitude on educational measures now before Congress merely epitomized a series of acts and statements in which the widow of the last president, in the prelate's opinion, showed "discriminations unworthy of an American mother."

PROBLEM — Incidentally, the birth control problem may yet plague President Truman if he goes ahead seriously with his "bold, new program" for American aid in developing backward regions throughout the world.

POWERHOUSE — In view of this accumulation of unpublicized grievances against Mrs. Roosevelt, it needed only her characterization of Cardinal Spellman, now assuming the stature of a church martyr, and her opposition to federal aid to parochial schools to draw fire from the Fifth Avenue cathedral that has long been known somewhat irreverently in New York political circles as "the powerhouse."

First World War Began 35 Years Ago

SARAJEVO, Yugoslavia (AP)—Thirty-five years ago World War I broke out as an indirect result of a double slaying in this ancient town.

INFLUENCE — Mrs. Roosevelt, for instance, regarded the Spanish Civil War as a struggle between Franco reactionaries and liberal Loyalists and of course, she threw all her influence behind the latter faction.

But the church was one of Franco's principal bulwarks, if only because of the Loyalists' reported persecution of Catholic intellectuals, priests and nuns. In her private conversations during this period she frequently expressed the belief that these reports were exaggerated and no more than propaganda.

"REVOLUTIONARIES" — Mrs. Roosevelt's unofficial faculty for creating minor international difficulties was shown in a curious and casual incident about this time. Shortly after Franco's victory, she and Mrs. James Roosevelt, the late president's mother, attended an exhibit of Picasso paintings in New York City.

Health Talks

Prepared by the State Medical Association of Texas

Where does home care stop and professional medical care begin? That's a hard one to answer but perhaps a good general rule on minor cuts and scratches would be to wash the injured part thoroughly with soap and water, touch it with antiseptic, and cover it snugly. That's home care.

Immediate home care should be given to ward off the danger of infection. A thorough cleansing with soap and water, removing all foreign matter such as dirt or gravel; then an application of some mild antiseptic, then a sterile bandage. Frequently the application of antiseptic does not penetrate a deep wound and if the antiseptic is overdone it may cause tissue irritation and delay healing.

Statistics show that nine out of every ten cases of serious infections of the skin are due to small that they seem unimportant to warrant medical attention.

When Monsignor Reidy, then the church liaison man with the administration, and now a bishop at Columbus, O., learned of the White House idea, he rushed to the White House. Nothing more was heard of a birth control program in P. R., especially as FDR had election on his hands and could not afford millions of voters in such key states as Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Michigan, Maryland and Ohio — areas where this political issue may bias again in 1950 and 1952.

Don't treat a scratch or breaking of the skin lightly. If the simple home remedy is not enough, call your doctor before the infection spreads and becomes a threat to life and limb. Amputations, even death, may result from neglect of small injuries.

Chemist Settles Explosive Problem

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—The problem was explosive. The wrong answer would be the last one.

Firemen who wondered what to do about nitroglycerine which leaked down into a truck bed finally found a chemist with the answer: pour alcohol on it. The firemen did, the nitro crystallized and became harmless.

The Nation's Press

BUREAUCRACY EYES THE RAILS
(San Francisco Chronicle)
The American railroads deserve the Nation's support in their opposition to legislation now before Congress which would give the Interstate Commerce Commission new, and almost absolute, authority over the operation of the railroads.

The identical bills—S. 238 and H. R. 378—are advanced under a facade of "public interest." They would authorize the ICC to regulate any railroad, establish rules, regulations and practices with respect to operation of trains intended to promote public safety.

That kind of usurpation of power by government over the Nation's fundamental transportation system is not only unwarranted on the record, it is a long stride toward the kind of Socialism which government regulates all phases of a people's life. That kind of operation, as we are currently seeing in the case of Great Britain, leads to panacea nowhere but on paper. In practice, it diminishes efficiency and prosperity while it whittles away at men's freedoms.

There is no shred of reason for the Government's sudden concern itself with safety on railroads. For many decades the Nation's railroads have been steadily and conscientiously improving the safety from rail travel and railway employment. By any statistics, railroads are by a wide margin the safest mass land transportation medium in existence.

But even if there were not true, there is no reason to suppose that railroad safety would be improved by granting the ICC blanket authority to regulate railroads, and much reason to suppose that efficiency and safety would decline under that arrangement.

There are many in government who would be pleased to supply such a result, who are anxious to step in and run things their way. Things are being run their way now in Russia, and to some extent in Britain. We have a setup, for instance where the socialist theories and their limitless self-confidence proved equal to the experience-born competence, the know-how sharpened by the keen edge of competition of the private managers.

Improving The Breed

All other species of farmers are getting their share of publicity. Deal in the form of subsidies and whatnot; so it is a trifles short of surprising that the fur farmers of America have now put in a modest bid for the greatest bill introduced by Rep. Granger of Utah in their behalf would allocate 25 per cent of duties collected on fur importations to provide funds for fur research.

This petition has come before the house agriculture committee, on the theory we suppose, that agriculturists raise fur like corn or cotton. We have never heard of growing under a row of mink or setting a parity price on simulated muskrat, but we may be coming to that. Or, perhaps, the committee might work out a subsidy bonus such those instituted by Mussolini, Hitler, and Stalin to stimulate the breeding of mink.

Barkley Hints Of Romantic Mood

CULPEPER, Va. — (AP)—Vice President Barkley hinted that he is in a romantic mood. In crowning the queen of Culpeper's bicentennial celebration Thursday he said: "While I'm in the mood — I may crown one of my own some of these days and keep her." Barkley recently stopped off in St. Louis to be a luncheon guest of an attractive widow, Mrs. Carlton H. Hadley. The incident started speculation that the Vice President, a widower, may be considering remarriage.

WELCOME TO PAMPA!

"Where the Oil Flows and the Wheat Grows"

Naturally, being Texans, we're a little inclined to brag, and being PAMPA Texans, we've something to brag about.

First of all, we boast of our Top o' Texas Rodeo, which is the second largest amateur rodeo in the world — we are confident it will soon be the LARGEST.

We are proud of our schools and churches... the Senior High school building is one of the most modern in the state; the schools offer a wide curriculum and an excellent faculty... Pampa has churches of every denomination... fine churches that mold the spiritual life of the community.

Our city is home to a great number of modern retail stores, offering a wide selection of merchandise.

We feel that you have made a wise selection in making Pampa your home.

Tickets are on sale by all Kiwanis members for the club-sponsored game Monday night between the Pampa Oilers and the Wilene Blue Sox.

The Kiwanis Club annually sponsors one of the Oilers' home games. Proceeds to the club go to the Kiwanis Softball League Club President Huey Laycock aid yesterday: "We hope to see each, not only the regular Oilers, but also other persons who would enjoy baseball once they get to the park. They would be having an enjoyable evening, and helping a good cause at the same time."

Reserve Corps Is Extended Through State

(Editor's note: Following is a description of the ORC — Organized Reserve Corps.)

The Organized Reserve Corps as presently organized in the State of Texas is a federally controlled body of qualified citizen Army officers and enlisted men who voluntarily elect to serve their country in a semi-military status during peacetime and as a full military status in the event of war.

The reserves were reorganized immediately after World War II and for many months, officers and enlisted men devoted their time to the organization without remuneration or credit. However, at the present time active members of Texas ORC units receive retirement credit and drill pay on a basis comparable to the National Guard.

In general, the Organized Reserve Corps consists of units of all ranks and services in such state of training that they may be rapidly mobilized and expanded in an emergency in accordance with the requirements of the military establishment. (ORC units such as station complements, induction stations, etc., are being organized for duty in event of emergency in the community. In addition to units which would be sent to theatres of operations.)

The units are broken down into three types and classified as either "A," "B" or "C" units. The classification denotes the extent to which they are to be mobilized, equipped and trained during the peacetime years.

Class "A" units are those designated to attain a full complement of officers and enlisted men. Class "B" consists of a full strength of officers and a cadre of trained non-commissioned officers and technicians. These units are given enough equipment for training purposes only and it is expected that they will receive and train the remainder of their enlisted men after mobilization day.

Class "C" units are organized with a full strength of officers and only very little equipment. In time of mobilization, Class "C" units will be sent to a training center where they will receive a full complement of enlisted men for training purposes. Units range in size from smaller units as a military intelligence team or Army postal unit of a few men and one or two officers to such larger units as the famous "Texas Own" 90th Infantry Division with its headquarters at Austin, and the 22nd Armored Division with its headquarters at Houston.

As of July 15, there was a total of 824 Organized Reserve Corps units located throughout the breadth of the state, with 10,174 officers and 8,500 enlisted men being assigned to them. Training of these units consists of armory meetings in the home city. Meetings range from 24 to 48 meetings per year, according to the classification of the units are scheduled for a two-week period at summer camp where the reservists have an opportunity to fire the various weapons and complete other field training which is not practicable at their home armory.

For those reservists that cannot attend summer camps, opportunities are given to take weekend training near their home. This latter type of training is named "Home Station Training" wherein the reservists report for duty on Saturday morning and remain on the same type of exercise until Sunday evening.

The executive of the Texas Military District, located in Austin, who is also the senior Army instructor for the Organized Reserve Corps, is responsible directly to the commanding general of the Fourth Army, Fort Sam Houston, for the administration and training of all the Organized Reserves in Texas.

Tensions and Conflicts In Russia Says Truman

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman last week said "tensions and conflicts appear to be increasing" within the circle of Russia's control.

There are some tensions and conflicts in Eastern Europe, and here are three examples of them:

1. The Catholic Church has thrown a time-bomb into Communist ranks by excommunicating an Catholic who helps them. This bomb will cause damage for years.
2. Marshal Tito, busy communizing Yugoslavia has been having a cat-and-dog fight with the Russian leaders and the Communists of the other European countries under Russia's thumb.
3. American government experts on Russia point out that the Communists of Eastern Europe are having economic troubles. For example: The communist world wants to build up its industries as fast as it can but still lacks many tools it would like to get from this country and Western Europe. So it would like to increase trade between East and West.

But — These same American experts brush aside any motion that there is tension or conflict in the sense of a split or quarrel among the dozen top Communists who run Russia and direct Communist world strategy.

Those 12 men, headed by Josef Stalin, are members of the Politburo.

They're the rulers of Russia. And this is what the American experts have to say about them.

First, the Americans' information isn't good enough to say precisely what happens inside the Politburo. But they have no information on Politburo splits. They may disagree among themselves on what strategy to use in any given situation but once a decision is made, they go along with it.

Some members of the Politburo who had important government jobs were relieved of them, one by one, since the war ended. Why?

To enable them, the American experts say, to devote full time to their Politburo jobs. As members of the Politburo it's their job to do the top policy-making for Russia and direct the strategy of world communism. They have their hands full, doing that.

RECORD GRADUATE
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Colleges handed out a record number of degrees — 430,000 — during the past school year, the Office of Education reported.

The Chinese used natural gas as fuel to evaporate brine for salt more than 2,000 years ago.

Water Aid Plan Offered

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A multi-million dollar water development program in the Winter Garden area on the Neeces River in Texas was proposed by two South Texas congressmen.

Reps. Bentsen and Lyle (D), who submitted the measure, estimated the cost in excess of $1 million dollars. The project would irrigate the Winter Garden section and augment the domestic and industrial supply of water to Corpus Christi.

Under the proposed plan the government Reclamation Bureau would pay for flood control and wildlife conservation. The hydroelectric, irrigation and water supply features would have to be repaid by local users.

In 1946 the Reclamation Bureau issued a tentative but unfavorable report on the Neeces proposal, asserting the benefits were not as great as the estimated cost. "The project did not contemplate delivery of water to Corpus Christi," Bentsen explained.

"There is great demand for more water there. We now believe a new study of the situation will make it economically justifiable."

Liquor Dealers Given Tax Decision

AUSTIN — (AP) — Retail liquor dealers cannot deduct federal taxes in rendering the value of their liquor stock for property tax purposes, the attorney general ruled Friday.

The opinion was requested by state superintendent L. A. Woods with reference to the Pampa independent school district's authority to assess taxes on the entire cost of the liquor to the retailer. "The value of personal property for tax purposes is determined by the fair market value of such property," said Assistant Attorney General Frank Lake, author of the opinion.

Increase Noted In Stockholders

United States Steel Corp. common stockholders of record on day 5, 1949, numbered 170,736, an increase of 2,499 since Feb. 5, 1949. On Feb. 4, 1949, there were 168,239 common stockholders, an increase of 2,185 since Nov. 5, 1948, according to a report from Dallas.

United States Steel Corp. preferred stockholders of record May 2, 1949, totaled 76,273, a decrease of 52 since Jan. 31, 1948. On Jan. 31, 1949, there were 76,325 preferred stockholders, an increase of 155 since Nov. 1, 1948.

Record Volume of Business Noted

Paid for business amounting to $5,614,604, a new record in the history of the company, was reported by agents of Southern Life Insurance Company during the first six months of 1949. The agency force set a new record for production during a six-month period, and exceeded by 14.8 percent the 48,422,755 of paid for business written during the first six months of 1948, Mr. Wood said.

Monday Deadline For Transfers

Transfers from one school district to another must be applied for by Monday, Huey Laycock, county superintendent of schools, said this morning. Parents of children who wish to be transferred must make application for transfer at the Office of Public Instruction in the Courthouse, he said.

Students in Grandview and Hopkins Schools who are ready for higher grades than are taught in those schools, also must apply for transfers.

Taxes Delinquent After Tomorrow

Noting that Saturday is the last day of the last quarter to pay ad valorem taxes, City Tax Officer Aubrey Jones said there are many taxpayers who are likely to be delinquent. After tomorrow, he said, the whole amount of delinquent taxes are encumbered with a 5 percent penalty and interest.

"A check in the mail before midnight will do the job, or a call at the office," he said. He stated that a number of people who have bought property recently have failed to either call, or write in, or bring in their address. Tax statements cannot be properly mailed out in such instances, he explained. New tax lists are now being made up.
