Democrats Lose Senate Leaders

By JACK BELL AP Political Reporter

Democrats lost their top senatorial leaders but retained control of the Senate in late counts today of election returns. A Republican tide of votes that pushed President Truman's "Fair Deal" program further in the background and raised questions about his foreign policies apparently fell short also of giving the GOP control of the House.

Warren Given Heavy Victory In California

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — A smashing vote over Democrat James Roosevelt today elected Earl Warren a third term as California's governor today.

Returns from heavy balloting pointed strongly to election of fast-rising young Rep. Richard M. Nixon (R) to the U. S. Senate. He interpreted the vote as a mandate to continue his fight against President Truman's foreign policy.

His opponent, Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas (D), refused to concede. The former actress, a 100 percent new dealer, was warmly endorsed by President Truman.

Returns from 10,297 of 18,408 precincts gave Douglas 537,998, Nixon 777,076. Republicans seemed assured of retaining their 12-11 margin in Congress, if not increasing it. They had elected seven congressmen and led in six other districts. Democrats elected six and led in four other races.

A ballot measure to legalize gambling was snuffed under by Warren's return to another four years in office was never in doubt. Roosevelt, eldest son of late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, failed to challenge the popular chief executive in even

With only one race undecided, the trend of returns indicated the Senate will line up in January with 49 Democrats and 47 Republicans. This would be a net gain of five seats for the Republicans over their present membership.

The defeat of Senator Forrest Donnell of Missouri, lone Republican member to be beaten, seemed likely to prevent a possible tie with 48 members from each party. In case of a tie, Vice President Barkley's vote would retain control for the Democrats.

Republicans picked up seats in Idaho, Illinois, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Utah and California but trailed in Washington in the undecided race.

Late returns from voting gave Rep. Richard M. Nixon, Republican, a senatorial race victory over Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas, Democrat who was praised by President Truman for her support of his foreign policies.

The left only Washington's race between Senator Warren G. Magnuson and Republican Walter Williams yet to be decided among Senate contests. Magnuson held a substantial lead with half of the state's votes counted.

The GOP needed a net gain of seven to win Senate control. With 34 House races still undecided, Republicans had gained eleven seats net. The GOP needed to unseat 46 Democrats and keep their present membership for House control in the 82nd Congress.

The adverse turn of the Korean war, opposition to the President's domestic program, criticism of his foreign policy decisions and reaction to Communist-in-government charges were variously credited with bringing the Republican victories.

Republicans won smashing individual victories in a sweep that knocked Senators Scott W. Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic

Walter E. Rogers

Texas' Democrats In, Even in Pampa

By TIM PARKER Associated Press Staff

The Democrats' traditional hold on Texas had slipped a few notches today. But they're still in control.

Rep. Ben Guill of Pampa, Texas' first Republican congressman in more than two decades, almost won his way back into office. He lost by only about 2,000 votes to Democratic nominee Walter Rogers, a fellow townsman.

The Republicans won a seat in the Texas House of Representatives — for the first time in 16 years. The GOP victor was Edward T. Becker, 37, Dallas's house builder, who won over Democrat Walter J. Reid, 68, special Dallas police officer.

The Guill-Rogers race in the Panhandle brought out the greatest outpouring of votes for a non-presidential general election in that district's history.

Guill, a 41-year-old real estate broker and World War II veteran, won the post in a special election last May 6. He pulled more than 8,000 votes in a top-man-wins election which saw the Democratic vote, totaling about 28,000, split among ten candidates.

Rogers, 42, former Pampa district attorney and city attorney, ran fourth in the May 6 election. He ran second in the first Democratic primary July 22 and then defeated Mrs. Altavene Clark of Amarillo in the Aug. 26 runoff primary. His campaign for election was his fourth this year for the same office.

Except for Dicker's victory and Guill's good showing, the usual Democratic landslide prevailed. Popular Gov. Allan Shivers led the procession of Democrats back into office. Republicans had offered only token opposition for most offices, preferring to concentrate on a few races.

Rogers is not an administration Democrat. He campaigned against civil rights legislation, FEPC, and federal control of the oil-rich oilfields. In his victory statement early today the slender attorney said:

"I am deeply touched by the faith and confidence the good people of this Panhandle have shown in me by the tremendous vote given me. In deepest humility I am joined by my wife and children in thanking the people."

"My energies and efforts will be fully devoted to the problems of preventing another war." Guill called Rogers about midnight to offer his congratulations and asked him "not to forget the good people who didn't vote for you."

In his concession statement at 11:25 p.m. last night Guill said the unusually heavy vote he drew "constitutes one of the most outstanding moral victories of our time."

Remaining Ballots Shouldn't Cut Lead

In an almost photo-finish race for the 18th District congressional seat, Atty. Walter E. Rogers defeated his Republican opponent, Representative Ben Guill, by a margin of 2,007 as more than 44,000 Panhandle voters flocked to the polls. It was the district's heaviest vote in history for a general off-year election.

Over the district Rogers polled 23,199 while Guill amassed the vote of 21,192.

These were the results of 28 counties, eight complete. Guill received more votes in the district than any other Republican ever has in a congressional race.

Late returns from some of the district's outlying boxes were still coming in today and will, when tallied with the others, change the overall totals, but election officials in Amarillo said the remaining votes were not strong enough to turn the tide to Guill.

By 11:30 last night a total of 43,917 votes were counted, giving Rogers the 2,007 lead. Although he won over the district, Rogers failed to carry Gray County, Pampa and even his home box, Box 10. The totals for Gray County showed Guill polling 2,535 to Rogers' 2,577. In Pampa, Guill led by 1,888 to 1,520 vote. The county's largest box, Pot. 10, where both voted, gave Guill 568 to Rogers' 400.

Rogers won his heaviest support in the southern part of the district — the cotton country — but lost the heavier populated areas of Gray and Potter Counties.

The final count in Potter county this morning gave Guill 566 to Rogers' 4512. The first returns came in dribbles but in a matter of minutes started flooding tabulating rooms in Amarillo and Pampa. News-men working the election were kept on the jump continuously as the battle wore on. The leads were up and tuck with Guill leading early in the evening, then a jump to Rogers and then back to Guill. But by 9 o'clock Rogers went ahead, his margin slowly widening as the tense minutes rolled by.

Rogers was called by Radio Station KPDN at 10 o'clock and made a statement at 10:22. At that time his margin was not as wide as it was near midnight. He said:

"I am sticking with my platform on which I have stood since March. I am humble and grateful for the confidence shown in me by the people of this district. I shall take my old platform of last March along."

U.S. May Demand China Withdrawal

LAKE SUCCESS — (AP) — The United States may ask the United Nations Security Council today to demand the withdrawal of Chinese Communist forces from Korea.

The council meets in emergency session at 10:30 a.m. EST to take up Gen. MacArthur's charges that the Chinese Reds are fighting alongside the North Koreans.

The U. S., it was learned, has prepared a resolution including the order for Red withdrawal, but its introduction may be delayed by two factors:

1. A need for further consultations with other delegations in order to present a unified front against expected Russian obstruction.

2. The probability that the council will be tied up in a procedural wrangle over inviting Red China to send a representative for discussion of MacArthur's charges.

At every previous council session dealing with Korea or China, Russia's Jacob A. Malik has demanded that a representative of the Communist Peiping government be invited. He is expected to repeat that demand today. The council already has asked the Reds to appear Nov. 15 to present charges that American "sealing off" of Formosa constitutes aggression.

An informed source said the United States is not averse to hearing what the Reds have to say but wants the council to "summon" them to explain their conduct — not "invite" them to participate in discussions.

If the question of Red Chinese representation is settled, and if last-minute consultations show other delegations in favor, the U. S. plans to introduce a resolution which would:

1. Call on all governments to refrain from assisting the North Koreans. This repeats an earlier demand which Russia vetoed in September.

2. Specifically demand the withdrawal of alien forces now fighting alongside the North Koreans. It will leave no doubt that the Chinese Reds are meant.

3. Request the UN Korean commission to consider all questions relating to the Korean-Manchurian border.

Deceased Nominee Winner in Voting

FORT DAVIS — (AP) — A deceased nominee for the office of county judge in Jeff Davis county received all but six of 170 votes cast yesterday. As a result a special election is to be called.

The former nominee was Dr. C. E. Eaton, popular and widely known physician who died Oct. 26. Jeff Davis is located in Texas' sparsely settled Big Bend country.

Dewey Wins Third Term as Governor

Dirksen Beats Demo's Lucas

CHICAGO — (AP) — Scott W. Lucas, the Democratic majority leader, has lost his Senate seat to Republican Everett M. Dirksen.

Returns piling up today showed Dirksen had scored a decisive win. His margin was more than 150,000.

Moreover, he set the pattern for a Republican sweep of major state offices in Illinois.

Dirksen, 54, who spent 16 years in the House in Washington from 1933 to 1949, campaigned against what he termed administration "bungling." He also opposed further Marshall Plan lending on grounds that it was "piling money down a rat hole."

The new senator-elect had a huge vote advantage in the usually Republican downstate area. But the big surprise was the close race he ran against Lucas in the traditional Democratic stronghold of Cook County. Chicago Mayor Louis, son-in-law of the Truman administration, was unseated after 16 years in Congress — four years in the House and two terms in the Senate.

Teas wellled in the eyes of the tall, thin senator when he read a statement acknowledging defeat to reporters in his Chicago hotel suite.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey won his third term as governor of New York in a smashing election victory today. He defeated the Democratic incumbent, Gov. W. Averell Harriman, who rode to victory on the Democrat-Liberal ticket.

The rout of New York state Democrats was virtually complete except for the reelection of Sen. Herbert H. Lehman, the 72-year-old veteran congressman who rode to victory on the Democrat-Liberal ticket.

More than 5,250,000 persons voted a record for an election in a non-presidential year. There were 147,512 registered and eligible to vote.

Dewey defeated Rep. Walter A. Lynch, 56-year-old Democratic Liberal candidate, by a plurality of about 500,000 votes.

With 9,668 out of 9,706 districts in the state, Dewey had 2,767,225 votes to 2,245,285 for Lynch, who came out of the relative obscurity of a Bronx congressional district to make the race.

In the senatorial contest, Lehman, in 9,686 districts, had 2,621,754 votes to 2,258,939 for Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hayes, who broke down of exhaustion in the closing days of the campaign and met death in a hospital bed.

Pennsylvania Supports Duff

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — James H. Duff won election to the U. S. Senate today, gaining added stature as a Republican presidential possibility in 1952.

"Big Red," who has been Pennsylvania's governor for the last four years, trounced the Senate's number two Democrat, Francis J. Myers, by 125,000 votes in near-record balloting. That swept Duff's hand-picked mate for governor, John S. Fine, into office.

Backslapping, handshaking Duff supporters cheered the governor as he walked into GOP headquarters at Harrisburg shortly before 3 a.m.

"How are you, Mr. President?" "Not yet," cautioned the 67-year-old Duff. He would say no more when quizzed about any presidential aspirations. The Democrats had maintained that Duff intended using a Senate seat as a springboard for a campaign for the presidential nomination in 1952.

It was a clean sweep for the Republicans in this important state, long considered a GOP stronghold.

In addition to electing Duff and Fine, the nearly 3,500,000 voters who cast ballots selected: (A) GOP candidates for lieutenant governor, secretary of internal affairs and for judgeships on the state supreme and superior courts; (B) A Republican majority in both state houses, and (C) two additional Republicans for the U. S. House, upping the GOP strength from 18 to 20.

TOP 4-H YOUTH—Bob Craig shows off his prize club calf, an Angus-Herford cross, that he will show in the 1951 Junior Livestock Show. Craig is one of the top 4-H Club members who is being honored this week in connection with National 4-H Achievement Week. Though only 14, he promises to be one of the top club winners of the future. (News Photo and Engraving)

Young 4-H Club Member Gets Education With Stock

Many times the youngest members in 4-H Club work are among the best, mainly because they haven't any fixed opinions as to methods of feeding and care for their projects.

This is the case with Robert Craig, 14, of Kingsmill. Bob has been in 4-H Club work only two years, yet he has made great strides of accomplishment in this length of time.

He started out in the fall of 1949 by feeding two pigs for the Pampa Junior Livestock Show. He placed fairly well with one of his pigs, but the other was sifted out. This didn't discourage him.

Last spring, Bob bought one calf from Lloyd Riggins of White Deer to be fed out for the 1951 spring show. He paid $45 for the calf. This money, he made by working for his father who does custom combining.

Two baby beef calves are about as easily cared for as one, so Bob figured he may as well get another, if he could get some money. A calf was located for him at Weimer Tolbert's, east of Pampa, but Bob still didn't have the money. So, like all good businessmen usually do, Bob went to the bank. Floyd Imel, president of the Citizens Bank and Trust Co., was quick to come to Bob's aid. Imel talked to him about plans for feeding the calves and gave the youth some good advice, the like of which he has given to many other boys who are just starting out. Such advice as, "It is always a good policy to borrow money if it will make you money 'and' no one can ever get very far ahead unless someone else has enough confidence in him to back him financially."

Bob got his $50 payable when he sells his club calves next February at the Top of Texas Junior Livestock Show. Probably the experience of floating a loan was worth as much to him as the use of the money.

Today, Bob has two outstanding show calves that will probably gross him $500 at show time.

One of the calves is a Hereford and the other an Angus-Herford cross which was secured from the Weimer Tolbert Ranch. During the months of August and September, this calf gained 125 pounds, which is an average of over two pounds gain per day. It is not wholly good luck that these calves are doing so well. Young Craig has always responded very quickly to advice on methods of feeding and caring for his calves. When a suggestion is made by Foster Whaley, assistant Gray County agent, and director of the county 4-H Club for boys, Bob always takes heed.

Money for feed and expenses of caring for the calves is made by working for neighboring farmers.

It is Bob's plan to use part of the money received from his show calves to purchase a registered Hereford heifer. This will give him the start he needs in the registered cattle business.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. York Craig of Kingsmill.

Pampa Minister Speaks as Scout Fund Drive Open

SHAMROCK — (Special) — The Shamrock Boy Scout finance drive got underway here Thursday morning at 9:30 with a kickoff meeting at the Dixie Cafe. Rev. E. Douglas Carver of Pampa was the keynote.

Shamrock chairmen, team captains and workers were given instructions for collecting funds. No definite total has been set, but at least it is hoped that a minimum of 10 percent of the population can contribute.

Funds will be collected simultaneously in the 15 counties of the Adobe Walls Council area. They will be used to further expansion and improvement of Camp Ki-O-Wah, provide Scouting for more boys, provide more professionally-trained Scouters for leadership, and maintenance of adequate records of advancement of each boy in the Scouts in this area.

Winfred Lewis is the Shamrock community chairman; O. J. Walker, advance gifts chairman; and Huey Cook, Jack Griswold, Earl Gobble, Bobby Hill, and Mrs. Earl Gobble, team captains. Gerald Mayfield, Shamrock auto parts dealer, is a member of the Adobe Walls executive board, which determines the budget for the area.

Green Is Youngest President

DALLAS — (AP) — The youngest man ever to head a professional baseball league — Howard Green — becomes president of the Big State League Dec. 1.

The former sports writer, who resigned professional baseball in Abilene in 1946, then for two years headed the Class D Longhorn League and since 1949 has been president of the Class C Gulf Coast League, was named top executive of the lasting Big State at the annual meeting of the circuit here yesterday.

He will have the job of president-secretary-treasurer with J. Walter Morris, who has been president of the league since its inception three years ago, being named president emeritus.

Green will continue as president of the Gulf Coast League, but will not accept any other executive job in baseball.

Green, 29, bought an interest in the Abilene club in 1946. He did it because he felt that needed baseball. It had been in the West Texas-New Mexico League but folded in 1939.

Partnering with Green were Dr. James P. Bridges and George Steadley. A working agreement was formed with Brooklyn of the National League.

Green sold his Abilene interests in 1948 and went to Pueblo, Colo., in 1949 as business manager of the Western League club. He returned to Texas this year to form the Gulf Coast circuit.

The Big State League directors voted to give a testimonial dinner for Morris at the schedule meeting of the league in Texas, Kan. in January. It will be on the occasion of Morris having reached his fiftieth year in baseball.

The league, with six of its 1950 clubs announcing ready to start in 1951, voted for a 151 game schedule to be played in 115 days, opening April 10 and closing Sept. 3. Last year the circuit played 118 games in 110 days.

The status of Greenville and Sherman-Denton is in doubt and these franchises may have to be turned back to the league. Texas, Ark., Wichita Falls, Gainesville, Temple, Waco and Austin announced ready to go in 1951.

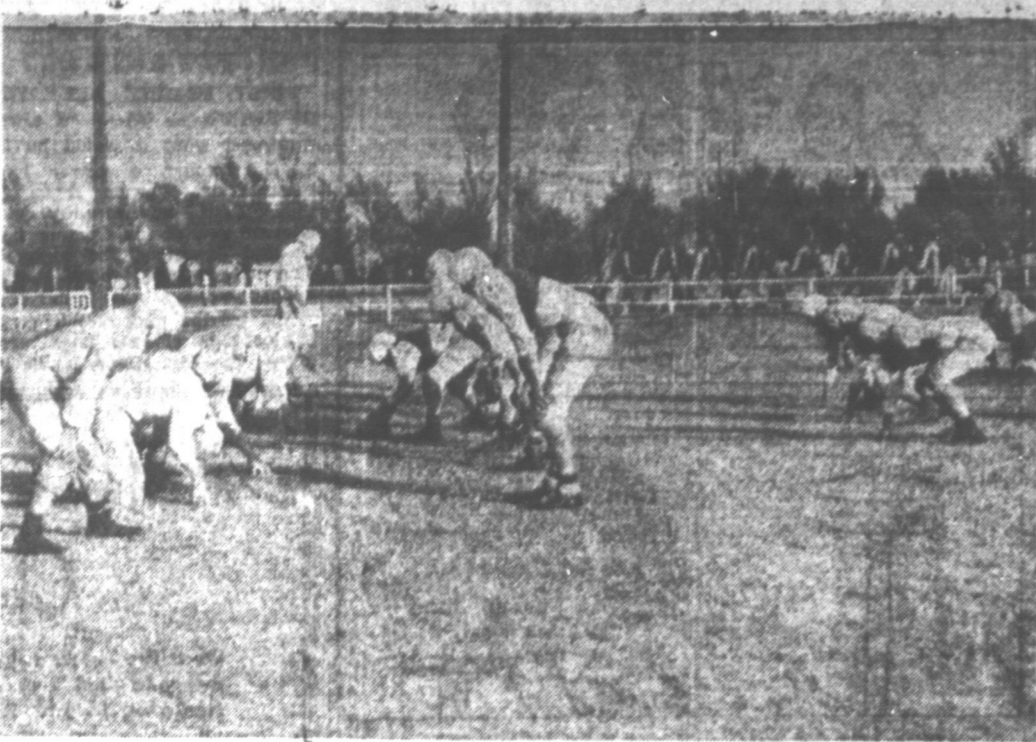

George Schepps, owner of the Greenville franchise, wanted the league to decrease his franchise fee for the purpose of selling it and to substitute his Corpus Christi franchise in the Rio Grande Valley League for Greenville in the Big State. He wants to put Greenville in the Class C East Texas League.

He told the club owners he had made a proposition to the corporation that formerly operated the Greenville club to take over the franchise if they would pay debts against the club but this was not accepted.

Opposition to Corpus Christi came from the Big State League was voiced because of added travel. Schepps said he would pay any difference in costs created by the added mileage but Claude Lee of Texas-Kan. said this was not the major problem — he explained that the ball players would object to the long trips by bus.

Tip Newell, president of the Sherman-Denton club, said the present owners of the franchise would not operate it next season. "We believe we can make a good trade with somebody to operate it," he added, and explained that Sherman-Denton was dealing with a major league club and an individual who was not named.

Greenville's name, Sherman-Denton were given until the National Baseball convention at St. Petersburg, Fla., in December to decide whether to continue in the league or give up their franchise.

HARVESTERS PREPARE FOR SANDIES—The Fighting Harvesters are set to run off a play in Tuesday's practice. The Harvesters meet their Sandies Saturday afternoon in Amarillo Memorial Stadium. It's the first conference game for Pampa in District 1 A.A. (News Photo and Engraving)

Harvesters Polish Their Offense for Sandstorm

Pampa B Team Plays Amarillo Here Friday

The Fighting Harvesters have never defeated an Amarillo eleven in the Sandie home park, and Tuesday afternoon the Panpans must of had that in mind as they continued their fired up practice for the Sandstorm Saturday afternoon in Memorial Stadium.

Another undefeated Harvester eleven traveled to Amarillo to play, and after the mid-afternoon game, the Sandies squeaked out a narrow 2-0 victory.

Coach Tom Tipps had his grad-students working on offense and defense in Tuesday's drills, but the boys weren't making body contact. Rough scrimmages was all that.

De Wey Gudney and Sid Mills shared the quarterback position, with Jimmy Hayes, Elmer Wilson and Carl Kennedy taking the reins. Jimmy Young, Harold Wilson, and Billy Davis worked behind Mills.

It's a Pampa-Amarillo match this week, with the Guerrillas tussling with the Yannigans at 2:30 Friday afternoon in Harvesters Park, and the Reapers go to Amarillo to play Horace Mann Thursday afternoon.

The Guerrillas will be without the service of their first string quarterback, Billy Cox. He broke his collar bone last week and is out for the season. Cox will be replaced by Glen Harris.

JIMMY COOK, Pampa left end, will be playing his first game against a Sandie eleven Saturday afternoon. Cook is a dangerous pass receiver and he tips the scales at 158 pounds. The 6-foot junior played two years with the Reapers and one with the Guerrillas before moving up with the Harvesters. Jimmy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Cook, Route 1.

TOLLIE HUTCHENS, 5 foot, 10 inch center, is also playing his first game against a Sandie eleven Saturday afternoon. Hutchens shares the pivot position with Gerald Matthews. Tollie is a junior and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Hutchens at 721 N. Hobart. He played with the Reapers and Guerrillas before moving into the Harvester squad.

Cowboys' Ace Played With Fighting Irish

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

Add Wyoming to the team's bringing back the single wing like an election repeater.

The Laramie side last fall became noted for something vastly more than its wide assortment of nicknames: Buckaroos, Cowboys, Pokes, Punters, Rough Riders, Waddies, Wranglers, etc. They're paced by a phenomenal tailback with almost as many tags, Tailwind and Boom Boom, among them. His square mauler is Eddie Talboom, and his is an extraordinary story.

Talboom certainly knows how to pick his spot, so well that he really ought to be a handicapper of horses. Wyoming's Wonder Boy surely knew when not to go to Notre Dame, as any old Irishman will tell you.

Talboom is considerably better than a green hand.

This no doubt will be news to the younger fry in South Bend, but Talboom is not only a native of that bustling manufacturing city and seat of learning, but he also played freshman ball with Notre Dame in 1941, or nine years ago. He's having quite a college career.

It could be that the then young Talboom didn't like the way Frank Leahy threw those 43 words around the way he parted his hair, or something, for that was The Master's first year at Notre Dame.

Anyway, Coach Leahy and the Irish saw no more of Tailwind Talboom following spring practice of 1942, after which he went into the Army.

When Boom Boom Talboom was discharged from the armed forces, and got around to playing college ball again, he headed west with Bowden Wyatt and his handpicked staff. Coach Wyatt had assisted Brig-Gen. Bob Neyland at Tennessee since being an All-American end there in 1938. Obviously, he also knows not only how to pick 'em, but find 'em, and the way to deliver 'em as well.

Talboom, the handsome father of three boys, weighs no more than 157 pounds, so takes a little long way.

He is practically a one-man two-platoon system. He calls Wyoming's plays, runs, passes, punts and converts.

Sophomore Talboom led the Skyline Six in total offense and scoring in 1948. Wyoming lost only to burly Baylor leading the nation in scoring last term, and it was Junior Talboom who set the tempo.

This trip the all-conquering Cowboys avenged their only reverse of last fall edging the bell-ing Baylor Bears, and Senior Talboom has a healthy lead over the country's individual scorers. This despite the fact that, due to a half in the 44-0 rout of the New Mexico Lobos who tackle Army, Nov. 11.

Wyoming blew in with Eddie Talboom, the South Bend Tail-

George Sauer Isn't One To Concede Grid Defeat

WACO — (AP) — A rarity in coaches — one who never says the opposition is going to be too much for him — is George Sauer of Baylor.

The former Navy mentor had this to say today regarding his game with Texas Saturday: "I realize we're the underdogs but I believe it's going to be quite a football game."

Texas comes here leading the Southwest Conference and heavily favored to sweep through to the championship and the host spot in the Cotton Bowl.

Baylor has a 5-2 record, having lost to Wyoming and lowly Arkansas. Before the season opened the Bears were relegated to the cellar by the general vote. But today they are tied for second place and could go into a tie for first by beating Texas.

In their last two appearances they have shown enough that mighty Texas is regarding them quite warily.

The biggest surprise of the season was Baylor's 27-20 victory over Texas A&M. Most critics rate A&M in the class with Texas. Last week the Bears beat Texas Christian 20-14. It wasn't too difficult.

Sauer never has said his team would lose any game on the schedule. For instance, when Baylor was to play Mississippi State, he remarked: "Sports writers over there are saying Mississippi State is glad to have a 'breather' between Tennessee and Georgia (Mississippi State had beaten Tennessee) but I'm just going to wait until the ball game is over before I can agree with that."

Baylor beat Mississippi State 14-7.

Sauer could hold the crowd down here Saturday if he issued the usual statement of the coach of an underdog team: "I don't see how we can stop them."

But he isn't and there'll be a capacity turn-out of 44,000 in the Baylor Stadium to see what Texas can do to a team and a coach who don't think they can be beaten at least until the game is played.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK — (AP) — Now that peace has descended over the amateur hockey world (remember that fuss about the 1948 Olympics?) Tommy Lockhard is looking for a sponsor to help carry out the rest of his big idea. Tommy, a persistent as well as a talkative gent, wants to develop a few first-class hockey players right in the United States. They're not coming from the "open" class teams, made up of imported players, nor from the "senior U. S." group. . . the latter class has displayed a complete lack of professional prospects even though the champion Bates Mill team of Lewiston, Maine, is going to Europe to shoot for the World Amateur title this winter.

Muhlenberg's football team devoted four hours to a drill on forward pass defense one evening last week, working until 10 p.m. after dark preparing for Saturday's tussle with Lehigh. . . Next morning drummer Bill Brandt encountered Karlton Batt, a defense halfback with a singularly appropriate name, and remarked: "You look as if you had tossed around a lot in your sleep last night." . . Batt replied his eyelids apart and cried: "No, sir, it was Lehigh tossing. I was just trying to get there and knock the ball down."

Rice Owlets Roll Past Aggie Frosh

COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — The Rice Owlets rolled up 440 yards on the ground and used three fumbles, an intercepted pass and a blocked kick to beat the Texas Aggie frosh, 52 to 7, last night.

It was the third straight loss of the season for the Aggie Frosh.

McNeil Moore and Bill Gaskamp were the Owlet stars, with each scoring twice. Other scorers were Denny Masters, Blois Bridges, Kory Johnson and Bobby Warren.

Rookie of Year

By JACK HAND
AP Sports Writer

Big Walt Drope, Boston Red Sox first baseman, has been voted rookie of the year for 1950 in the American League.

Drope outdistanced the opposition with 15 votes from the 24 man committee of the Baseball Writers Association. Ed (Whitey) Ford, New York Yankee south-paw pitcher, was second with six. Chico Carrasquel, the Chicago White Sox shortstop sensation, was third with two votes. One writer failed to vote.

Boston recalled Drope from Louisville in early season when Billy Goodman was injured. The hulking 27-year-old giant from Moosup, Conn., who flopped in a 1949 trial, came through in terrific fashion.

Drope started hitting in sensational style and never stopped. His long distance power earned him the fans' vote as first baseman on the league all-star team in July.

Playing 136 games for the Red Sox, Drope collected 180 hits for a .323 average. He slammed 34 home runs and tied teammate Vern Stephens for the league lead with 144 runs batted in.

DENTON — (Special) — The North Texas State Eagles can clinch a tie for the Gulf Coast Conference football championship Saturday when they play the University of Houston at Houston.

The Eagles' amazing 35-6 win over the Trinity Tigers last Friday put the North Texas at the top of the conference heap. Only a 7-7 tie with Midwestern mess their loop record.

NTSC's easy victory over Trinity tabs the Eagles as favorites to knock over Houston's Cougars Saturday. Trinity has already defeated Houston, but it is probable that the South Texas will be vastly improved for the NTSC game.

The Cougars showed strength two weeks ago when they crushed previously undefeated Wichita, 40-4. They rested last week and Coach Clyde Lee scouted the Eagles.

Coach 'Odus Mitchell's Eagles now have a season record of four wins, two losses, and one tie. Defeat was by Kentucky, No. 8 in the nation, and Arkansas. Houston has won two and lost four.

Houston will face one of the nation's most explosive offensive eleven Saturday. The Eagles boast an impressive 400 yards per game average in total offense and have yielded only 202 yards per game to their opponents. NTSC has scored 188 points to opponents' 128.

26 Teams Hit Maples Tonight In Amarillo

AMARILLO — (AP) — Twenty teams hit the hardwoods here tonight as the sixth session of the Texas Woman's Bowling Association tournament gets under way.

Included in the field will be teams from Beaumont, Borger, Dumas and Amarillo. Last night Faye Neubauer of Amarillo crashed through for a 548 series that boosted her temporarily into the Class B singles lead. She replaced Mary Ruth Robertson of Big Spring, who rolled 545 last weekend.

Two other Amarillo women moved into a possible playoff position when Millie Godeay and Virginia Moore teamed for 877 and second place in Class D doubles.

final week of the season. The Astoria, N. Y., youngster, then 21, pitched and won the final game of the World Series from the Phillies. Only an error by Gene Woodling kept him from going the route.

Carrasquel, purchased by the White Sox for $35,000 from Brooklyn's farm system, ousted the veteran Luke Appling from the shortstop job in spring training.

The spry 22-year-old oldster from Venezuela hit .283 in 141 games. He played an outstanding game at shortstop, probably next to the Yanks' Phil Rizzuto in defensive ability.

Sawyer Is Named Manager of Year

Eddie Sawyer

NEW YORK — (AP) — Affable Eddie Sawyer, a former college professor who never played an inning in the big leagues, today was voted baseball's "Manager of the Year" in a nationwide poll conducted by the Associated Press.

The bald ever-smiling Sawyer, who led the Philadelphia Phillies to their first pennant in 35 years last season, edged out Casey Stengel of the World Champion New York Yankees in a close second.

Sawyer was named on 164 of the 381 ballots cast by sports writers and sportscasters. Stengel, who won the honor in 1949, received 134 votes to finish a close second.

The voting:

Eddie Sawyer, Philadelphia Phillies 164; 2. Casey Stengel, New York Yankees 134; 3. Red Rolfe, Detroit Tigers 81; 4. Leo Durocher, New York Giants 23; 5. Steve O'Neill, Boston Red Sox 5; 6. Bucky Harris, Washington Senators 4.

Oddmakers Set Odds for Game This Saturday

NEW YORK — (AP) — Odds makers have established California's unbeaten Golden Bears a 7-2 point favorite to whip UCLA Saturday at Berkeley.

At the same time, they refused to quote odds on the New Mexico - Army, Harvard - Princeton and Louisville - Miami (Fla.) tilts such as the dominance of Army, Princeton, and Miami.

Ohio State's whiz-bang attack has made the nation's No. 2 powerhouse a top-heavy 20-1-2 points over Rose Bowl - minded Wisconsin. And Notre Dame's revitalized Irish are 14-1-2 over weak Pittsburgh, while unbeaten Oklahoma rules a 13-point choice to down unpredictable Kansas.

The closest spread involves Tulane and Navy. The Green Wave currently is a slim 1-1-2 points over the Naval Academy, but this, like the rest, is subject to change.

Two Linemen Are Dropped From Arkansas Squad

FAYETTEVILLE — (AP) — Coach Otis Douglas has rocked the University of Arkansas campus by dropping two first - string linemen from the Razorback football squad. They are center Bob Griffin of Frederick, Okla., and tackle Fred Williams of Little Rock.

The reason: Failure of the players to attend classes.

Explained Douglas: "I had instructed them over a week ago that they had to attend classes. I checked and found they hadn't done so. We want them to go to school and get their education. After all, that is their primary purpose here, not football."

The dismissal came before yesterday's practice. Arkansas meets Rice Saturday.

Both Griffin and Williams are juniors. Griffin was rated highly by Douglas at the start of the season, and was nominated for Associated Press lineman-of-the-week earlier this season.

Griffin has played offensive center and defensive tackle; Williams has played offensive tackle.

HOT POTATO—One leg in the grasp of Frank Hauff and about to be pounced upon by Dave Bannerman, Princeton's Bob Unger desperately needed someone to lateral to in the second quarter of the Navy game at Tigertown's Palmer Stadium. The boom was lowered before the right halfback could pass to the teammate at the left, but he picked up 10 yards on the play.

Texas Fan Covers 6,000 Miles to Watch Football

LONGVIEW — (AP) — Fred Lawrence, Longview oilman, claims he is the No. 1 spectator in football-crazy Texas.

He is now following a four-month schedule that includes 40 games. He will have traveled more than 6,000 miles to see his favorite teams in action this year.

Griffin double-headers are an old story for the East Texan.

He travels by air, train and automobile in order to fill the ambitious calendar which he starts mapping the minute the football schedules are released each spring.

He opened the 1950 season at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas where he saw the Washington Redskins play the Detroit Lions Aug. 30.

A few days later he was in Shreveport, La., to see the Baltimore Colts-New York Yankees game. He returned to Dallas Sept. 23 for the Southern Methodist-Georgia Tech game, which he hopped a train from Longview to Austin Sept. 30 to watch the daytime Texas-Purdue tilt.

The minute that one ended, he grabbed a cab to the airport and boarded a plane for Houston to see Rice and Santa Clara battle.

Oct. 7 he was back in Shreveport for the Baylor - Mississippi State game and Oct. 14 went to Dallas to attend the Texas-Oklahoma A. and M. tilt at night.

Oct. 21 he motored to College Station for the Texas Aggie-Texas Christian game, then drove on to Houston to see Southern Methodist play Rice at night.

He will watch a game each Saturday for the rest of the season. In December he'll watch the state high school playoffs. He will wind up his season Jan. 1 by seeing the Cotton Bowl game in Dallas. Then he'll start planning for 1951.

Both Australia and New Zealand display the Southern Cross on their flags. But Australia uses five stars to New Zealand's four.

U.S. Jumping Team Makes Bid for International Horse Show Honors

WARRENTON, Va. — The U.S. team, which has been training only seven weeks in a bid for the 1952 Olympic games, closed the colorful show with a sparkling victory in the International perpetual challenge trophy.

This was the fourth victory for the U.S.

Mexico, which won nine of 11 international events last year, took only six this time — more than any of the six nations competing.

Championships in the open jumping, conformation hunter and working hunter divisions went right down to the final event.

Circus Rose took prized open jumper title, scoring 18 points to 18 for My Goodness. Circus Rose was shown by Hi-Rock farm.

In the confirmation hunter division, it was the same close scramble for points before Bright Light, owned by the Seven Stars stables, Southern Pines, N.C., beat out Long Road, shown by Mrs. C. McGhee Baxter, Shaker Heights, Ohio.

Only one half point separated Gilder, the working hunter champion, and One More Pennant, the reserve champion. Gilder is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Burke, Elmira, N.Y. One More Pennant is from the Cobham, Va., stable of Mr. and Mrs. W. Haggin Perry.

Fighting Irish Travel Through Air, Over Ground

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Shamrock's Fighting Irish have racked up 32 touchdowns in winning the District 2-A crown, a check of records reveals.

Fourteen of these have been on aerials, 16 on runs, and the remaining two intercepted pass returns.

The Irish's 32 TDs and 11 extra points total 208 for the season, with the Wellington game to come this Friday. Opponents have been able to score only 41 against the Shamrocks, and five teams did not even score, two more than anything else but quite a few teams are due to reach the "dormie" stage — clinch at least ties for district finals.

The heaviest gunning will, of course, be in Class A where 110 games are scheduled, practically all of them counting in the conference races.

There are 17 undefeated, untied teams left in the state, ten of them in Class A which also has the highest scoring and top defensive outfit all wrapped up in one. Fearshall has won eight straight and scored 335 points while giving the opposition only 14. This team has averaged 42 points per game.

The City Conference features battles between Sunset and Adanson in the Dallas District and Lamar and Reagan in the Houston District. These will virtually determine championships.

Lamar is the only undefeated, untied team in the City Conference and is considered the most powerful in the state in some quarters, and that includes Port Arthur, the acknowledged No. 1 outfit of Class AA, and mighty Littlefield, defending champion of Class A and called the best in its class again this season.

There are 11 games in the City Conference, all of them conference affairs. Adanson and Sunset are the only undefeated, untied teams in the Dallas District while Lamar and Reagan hold that distinction.

Double A District Battles to Start

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

The Texas schoolboy football campaign rumbles into its most crucial period this week with 158 games in the three divisions that decide state championships and with district titles in the balance all along the line.

Three district crowns already have been determined, all in Class AA. The City Conference has two games this week that will virtually decide champions. Class AA will be leveling up more than anything else but quite a few teams are due to reach the "dormie" stage — clinch at least ties for district finals.

The heaviest gunning will, of course, be in Class A where 110 games are scheduled, practically all of them counting in the conference races.

Britain's Premier Attlee Tells Commies to Blow Off Steam

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

British Prime Minister Attlee declares the "World Peace Congress" opening in Sheffield next Monday has been organized by Communists and fellow travelers as a bogus peace forum with the real aim of sabotaging national defense.

The premier made this statement at a foreign press association dinner in London. Despite the gravity of the charge he added that the Communists were welcome to "blow off steam," though not all foreign delegates would be admitted to Britain.

In order to understand Mr. Attlee's attitude towards such a threat of sabotage, one must know that his idea of letting the public "blow off steam" long has been among the basic policies of British officialdom. One of the best examples of its working is seen in the methods of the police force.

You can see a demonstration any fair evening at famous Hyde Park where the soap-box orators collect to deliver themselves of speeches on every subject imaginable. Police always are present — just in case — but the London "Bobby" will listen to the most extravagant ravings and offensive remarks without displaying more feeling than a grin.

Speakers can damn anybody or anything to Hades and back without getting a rise from Robert. But let the speaker change his allegations to a call on the crowd for ACTION and the constable himself takes a hand.

That's the key for police intervention — unlawful action, not hot air. And that's the key word for official intervention in any such gathering as the "World Peace Congress."

In keeping with this idea of non-interference, the Manchester (Eng.) Guardian says "it is an odd thought that while for weeks the Sheffield peace congress has been filling the broadcast program of Russia and her satellites, the prime minister's speech was almost the first the British listener heard about it." And the London Daily Telegraph observes that "it is a sign of confidence, the weakness, that the government should be without misgivings to allow this paranoic demonstration to take place."

The second all-union conference of Soviet partisans closed in Moscow October 18 by choosing a delegation of 65 which would seek visas to attend the projected Sheffield congress. The delegation included some of the most distinguished Soviet citizens. Among them were the metropolitan Nikolai of the Russian Orthodox Church, and Dmitri Shostakovich, the composer.

Mr. Attlee didn't indicate whether he had any of this delegation in mind when he said that all foreign delegates would be admitted to Britain. The day after the delegation was named the British Council of Churches refused to be represented at the congress, describing it as chiefly an instrument of Communist propaganda.

The prime minister's attitude towards the peace congress doesn't mean that the government has softened towards the Reds. The permission to "blow off steam" is routine procedure which is contingent on behavior.

Mr. Attlee can be and has been, tough in dealing with British Reds, who are labeled as the "dynamic fringe" by the Labor Party (Socialist). Names of the leftists have been purged from the Labor Party and others have been asked to resign.

As for the peace congress, the prime minister made it clear in his speech that there must be "a reasonable limit to our toleration of those who try by misrepresentation to undermine the liberties of free countries."

Q. My son is in his second year of college and is deferred until June 15, 1951. If he stays in the upper half of his class will he be deferred for another school year? If he is drafted will the government pay for his college when he gets out like they did for World War II vets?

A. The general policy is to defer students who keep in the upper half of their class. But there is talk of altering that policy. And it is up to the local draft board to make the final decision of these matters. As of now there is no law which gives men who are now being drafted educational benefits. There is some sentiment for passing such a law, however.

Q. My dogtag says U. S. N. R. which means reserve. However, I never joined the reserves. Is my dogtag right? Am I in the reserves?

"I'd Rather Be Rice Than President," Says McLemore

By HENRY MCLEMORE

There is an old saying which goes "I would rather be right than president."

I've got a better saying. This is it. "I'd rather be Rice than president."

The Rice I mean is Henry Grantland Rice.

Henry Grantland celebrated his 70th birthday last week. No, that's wrong. Kate, his wife, celebrated it, because I am quite sure that Henry Grantland didn't know it was his birthday.

Mr. Rice walks in a world all his own. It is a world, too, he thinks people by men like himself. He's wrong, of course, but he refuses to admit it.

He believes there is something nice and genuine in everyone. He believes that the wrong people do against their natures, and if given a chance to be stand-up talk they'd be that.

This is not my opinion, all alone.

This opinion is shared by their thousands of people, from the red cap at Grand Central who grabs his bag when he comes in from covering a sports event, to men whose names are known the world over, and whose fortunes could not be put in a room unless it was a real big one.

A few men who feel this way: Eugene Grace, Bobby Jones, Bill Vorn, Gene Fowler, Pete Jones, Viles Trammell, Eddie A. F. C. C. O., Eugene Black, Pat O'Brien, Gene Sarazen, Chief Justice Vinson and the VP, Mr. Barkley, Ty Cobb, and Horace Stoneham.

He walks, plumes never touching the ground, as gently in Hollywood as in Washington.

He is the one newspaperman who was never told "This is off the record." He knows what should be on the record, and at what should be kept off.

George M. Cohan once described Mr. Rice as a "virile saint." Meaning that Mr. Rice was as tough as holding a plow handle in Tennessee (which he did when young) and as gentle and as kind and understanding as any knight who ever graced the Round Table.

Ask Bruce Barton. Ask Ben Hogan. Ask, mind you, any man who ever was lucky enough to know him. Ask Douglas MacArthur.

What I am trying to do is tell you that he is a man.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

Learn About 'Concealed Hands'

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

It looks as if I had better take time off to answer a few more canasta questions.

As a starter I will take up the so-called "concealed hand."

Whenever a player can meld his entire hand including a canasta at one turn to play and without adding any cards to melds previously made by his partner he is said to have melded out "concealed."

Q—When a player melds out concealed is he allowed to discard?

A—Yes. He may discard or not as he chooses just as he may any other time he goes out.

Q—When a player melds out concealed does he need the count for the initial meld?

A—If he melds out concealed after drawing from the stock the minimum count is waived. If he takes the discard pile and his side has not previously melded he must fulfill all regular requirements for taking the pile including the minimum count if that is his side's initial meld.

Q—May a player take the discard pile and meld out concealed?

A—Yes.

Q—Must a player who melds out concealed have a canasta?

A—Yes.

Another bothersome point concerns just what is and what is not a meld.

Q—May I meld two deuces and an ace to go out?

A—No. A meld must include at least two natural cards.

Q—Is an initial meld of ace-ace-joker-deuce legal?

A—Yes. You may meld two or three wild cards with two or three natural cards.

Q—I needed 120 and melded four deuces and two aces. My opponents said I could not do that. Who is correct?

A—Your opponents are correct. You are not allowed to meld four wild cards with only two or three natural cards.

As a finale to this article I am going to discuss one of the old timers that keeps being asked no matter how often I answer it. This problem is that of the canasta player who wants to eat his cake and have it too.

His side has not made its initial meld but he has plenty of "out" in his hand. Thus needing 120 he holds two jokers, a deuce, a couple of pairs and some odd cards. A card is discarded that matches one of his odd cards. Now, he wants to use his two jokers and one or two pairs to make his 120 count and then take the discard pile with his deuce and the matching odd card.

This double-barrelled play is specifically prohibited by the laws of canasta and is thoroughly illegal.

Miss Alice Marriott Will Review Own Book at Girl Scout Benefit

The Girl Scouts will present a benefit book review at 2:30 Friday afternoon, Nov. 10, in the parish hall of Holy Souls Catholic Church, Mrs. Harvey Nenstiel announced. At that time Miss Alice Marriott, ethnologist, will review her own book, "The Valley Below." Miss Marriott will be assisted by Miss Margaret Lefranc, illustrator of the book. Original line drawings for illustrations will be on display at the same time. The review is open to the public.

Miss Marriott is at present a member of the staff of the University of Oklahoma Museum, as well as a free-lance writer. She is a graduate of Oklahoma City University and the University of Oklahoma, and has held fellowships from the Guggenheim and Rockefeller Foundations. She has been employed as an expert in Indian arts and crafts by the United States government and by leading museums. During the war she was a field representative for the American Red Cross in southwestern Texas.

Miss Marriott is particularly interested in the place of women in Indian life, and most of her field research has been done with Indian women. She has published

"The Ten Grandmothers," "Winter-Telling Stories," "Indians on Horseback," "Maria," "The Potter of San Ildefonso," and "The Valley Below." The last three books have been illustrated by Margaret Lefranc.

Margaret Lefranc is a New Yorker by birth, a Parisian by training, and a southwesterner by choice. She received her art education in Paris and Berlin, and was a pupil of both Andre Hottel and Basil Shoukaleff. Miss Lefranc has exhibited extensively in France, and has had paintings in exhibitions in the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, the Harwood Foundation, Taos, New Mexico; the New York World's Fair, Philbrook Art Center, and the Oklahoma Art Association gallery.

Miss Lefranc's present plans include a course of art classes in Pampa. This will be a series of demonstrations and lectures on oil, water-color, and tempera painting. Still-life, figure, and portrait drawing and painting will be included. Time and place for the course will be announced later.

Both Miss Marriott and Miss Lefranc are the house guests of Mrs. Fred Sloan, Skelly Camp.

Macaroni Dishes 'Fit for King'

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Economy and macaroni go together, of course. But macaroni dishes also belong in the fine eating class.

Francisco Carlos, noted chef at the Town House in Los Angeles, prides himself on his Macaroni au Gratin. It's rich and full bodied the way he prepares it. Here's his recipe. Carlos cautions homemakers not to top the dish with grated Parmesan cheese because it would brown too much before the dish is done.

Francisco Carlos' Macaroni Au Gratin

(6-8 Servings)
One tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 8 ounces elbow macaroni, 1/2 cup butter or fortified margarine, 1/2 cup flour, 1 quart hot milk, 1/2 pound sharp cheddar cheese, 1/2 cup minced onions, 2 teaspoons salt.

Add salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. In a large heavy skillet, melt butter or fortified margarine. Stir in flour and let simmer for 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add milk, cheese, onions and salt; simmer 10 minutes. Add cooked macaroni to sauce and mix thoroughly. Place in individual casseroles. Bake in moderate oven (350 Deg. F.) 20 minutes. Serve immediately.

Here's a wonderful suggestion for the buffet supper party:

Chilled Macaroni Ham Loaf (6 servings)

One tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 8 ounces elbow macaroni, 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, 1/2 cup cold water, 3/4 cup hot water, 1 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 cup sweet pickle relish, 1/2 cups chopped cooked ham, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 tablespoon prepared horseradish, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, 2 teaspoons salt.

Add salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add elbow macaroni as water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add hot water. Stir constantly until dissolved. Combine remaining ingredients. Add cooked macaroni and mix thoroughly. Pour mixture into 9 x 5 x 3 inch loaf pan. Chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens.

WE, THE WOMEN

By RUTH MILLET
NEA Staff Writer

In any family it's the wife or mother who is mainly responsible for keeping family life cheerful, pleasant and varied enough to be interesting.

You can get some idea of how you are doing that job for your own family by asking yourself a few questions.

If your husband comes home with a frown do you get your feelings hurt and sulk for the rest of the evening, or until he apologizes for his behavior? Or do you shrug it off as just "one of those days" and decide to have a pleasant evening in spite of it?

Do you wish your home were more convenient or that you could afford some of the things you want for the house but know that at present you can't afford to spend the money for them? Do you keep harping on the subject?

Or so you figure out a way to get along as best you can at present, telling yourself that until there is money for the things you need there is no use talking about how much you need them?

NAGGING WON'T DO IT ... If you want your husband to do a repair job around the house do you keep nagging at him until he finally does it so that you will stop? Or do you wait until he seems to be in an affable mood and then ask him if he can do something about such-and-such, enlisting his help, rather than unpleasantly reminding him of his neglected duty?

If your evenings have fallen into a rather monotonous and boring pattern do you just accept them that way? Or do you go ahead and enthusiastically make plans for some family fun, keeping your own enthusiasm alive even though at first your husband may grumble a bit?

If you are entertaining guests at home do you make too big a job of it so that the whole family is made to feel in the way while you rush about getting everything in perfect order? Or do you go about doing the extra work calmly, keeping in mind that every-

Fair Enough-Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER The Buchanan Committee of the House of Representatives recently turned out a preliminary report on its investigation of "lobbying"...

Belgium ahead of Hitler's armies to impose on this country his own political prejudices. These individuals then would be exposed to personal espionage by Lipschutz's staff of gum-shoe detectives...

Who had bought these books or in what quantities? In the first place, it was none of the committee's business. The committee was ordered by Congress to investigate violations of the lobbying law...

As I have pointed out, Prof. Mark Van Doren, of Columbia University although he is chairman of the board of this Lipschutz propaganda enterprise, recently professed not to know whether it had a constitution...

It is only absurd to believe that a man of Van Doren's intelligence could be ignorant of all these matters concerning a society of which he is the titular leader. Van Doren has a long record of association with the type of organization which were exposed by the House Committee on Un-American Activities...

By BETTY KNOWLES HUNT UPSIDE-DOWN POLITICS! As the elections loom nearer and nearer, some of the speeches get more and more peculiar!

Out here in Illinois, for instance, where a Senator Scott Lucas is fighting a nip and tuck battle to hold his job as Democratic majority leader in the Senate, he seems to be making a truly desperate effort to "disassociate" himself from much of the Fair Deal, and prove that he is really a solid "conservative"...

He has been equally outspoken against the Brannan Plan, and was surprisingly joined in this position the other day by none other than Vice President Barkley, who said in a Milwaukee speech: "I am not committed to the Brannan Plan. The administration is not committed to it."

While fired Senator Lucas struggles to "disassociate" himself from such policies, his colleague, Senator Paul Douglas covers the street corners and factory gates in a sound truck, passionately plugging for both Senator Lucas and the whole Fair Deal!

It is only absurd to believe that a man of Van Doren's intelligence could be ignorant of all these matters concerning a society of which he is the titular leader. Van Doren has a long record of association with the type of organization which were exposed by the House Committee on Un-American Activities...

Top honchos of the sommersault brigade, however, go not to a "campaigner," but to a controversial "expert," Mr. Owen Lattimore, who is popping up with newer and bigger surprises each passing week. Only the other day, he was for "letting South Korea go," but after the North Korean invasion, he came out strongly for defending it...

WASHINGTON — Washington's amazing delay in making the most elemental plans for civilian protection against atomic attack, destruction and human suffering has forced many local communities to get ahead without any support or direction from the federal authorities...

President Truman has presented a sketchy plan for dispersal of federal officials, with their key employees and invaluable records, through the Maryland and Virginia countryside roundabout. But Congress has been cold to this essential plan because of the hostility of bureaucrats, politicians and employees' organizations, who want no disturbance of their present routine...

Believe it or not, warning even President Truman of an attack on the Capital by atomic or conventional weapons, such as bombs, guided missiles and rockets. Civilian Defense officials brought thousands of sirens for that purpose, but they have been sold at bargain prices to the fire and police departments and to private institutions such as hospitals...

The official explanation is that there will be plenty of time to make the necessary preparations, possibly three to five years. Officials also bank on the belief that the nations will never resort to this sort of atrocious warfare. But it is pointed out that it will require from three to five years to condition our people against unknown and mysterious disease and industrial plants, and to make clear to any enemy that the United States is atomically invulnerable...

Just because a person is suffering from some physical defect does not mean that he or she does not mean to earn a living. Furthermore, most people with physical handicaps can do a good job if they are placed in the right kind of work. In fact, some of those who are mildly handicapped in one way or another have even done well in certain kinds of sports! Many more can enjoy themselves in active games as has been demonstrated even by those who have had an entire limb amputated...

It is unfortunate still true that some of those who are badly deformed have difficulty in getting good jobs. However, many industrialists, physicians, and organizations, like the National Society for Crippled Children, are working hard on this subject, and have made great progress. The fact that so many handicapped people have performed useful work in so many kinds of occupations has helped a great deal. New methods of treatment and occupational training schedules have also successfully prepared great numbers of handicapped people to handle many different kinds of jobs well. The problem is not yet entirely solved, but further improvement is on the way.

The Low Down from Hickory Grove

I just been perusin' a piece in the paper telling how an Englishman with a medium income digs up in taxes $1.26 for each $2.80 earned. And they call a medium income from 700 to 1400 bucks a year. This group — over 9 million — is the largest group of income tax payers. And with all this for us to gaze at — we as a Govt. are whooshing along, tail over the dashboard, hardly any brakes, into the same kind of mess and mire. There in England the Govt. runs the phones, the trucks, the lights, the gas works, doctors — and putting 2 and 2 together, there is the answer and solution of the why and whereof of a mire-down nation. We, as enlightened as we choose to claim to be, we toy with the same poison — socialism.

A good sample of our toying with socialism and how it is fizzling, is in the 4 TVA states — Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi and Alabama — good and skookum states, too — where the 1950 census man says the population increase is less than half the increase in the 4 adjacent states. Interesting — but it don't look so hot for "cheap" socialist electricity.

Govt. power projects make token tax payments only — not full payments — the difference is scattered around and amongst all states. New England to New Mexico. So if you live in one of the outside TVA territory, don't feel cheery or superior — you pay just the same — you are the party of the second part, but you divvy regardless.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service The Nation's Press

ACHESON ARRANGES A NEW BETRAYAL (Chicago Daily Tribune) The United Nations security council, with the tacit approval of the United States, has invited the Chinese Communists to sit in a U. N. discussion of the disposal of Formosa, now the stronghold of the Chiang Kai-shek nationalists.

The actual question for discussion is a charge of aggression against the United States in Formosa, but the parliamentary actions made clear that this was the first round of the battle to seat the Chinese Reds in U. N. and give them the island that Gen. MacArthur has termed essential to American defense. In taking this action the security council refused to let the Chinese Nationalists use the so-called double veto to block U. N. actions to which it was opposed.

What this means is made clearer by a review of the events of the last year. That will disclose that Secretary Acheson, despite the repudiation of his far eastern policy by Mr. Truman when the President started his unconstitutional war in Korea, has by patient intrigue again imposed that policy on the American people.

Last January, Sen. Taft spoke in the senate, emphasizing the importance of Formosa to our defenses in the Pacific. Acheson rushed eagerly to refute him. He declared that neither Formosa nor Korea was needed for our defense. Acheson had already played the principal role in causing the withdrawal of our occupation troops in South Korea, a move heavily indorsed by his suspect adviser, Owen Lattimore. President Truman backed Acheson's reply to Taft at a press conference.

The South Korean republic was thus left in a sort of military limbo for six months. Acheson had kindly told Stalin that we didn't want it. No effort was made to help the South Koreans keep it. Of millions of aid voted by congress to bolster the country's defense, only $200 worth, it has been charged, was delivered. Gen. MacArthur was the supreme all-d commander in the Pacific, but he had no control over the military training mission in Korea or the intelligence operations there. These matters were run from the Pentagon.

When Russia accepted the invitation to attack, using its North Korean satellite army, President Truman repudiated Acheson's policy that had invited the attack. He started a war without the necessary constitutional consent of a plebe physical health. This includes children who have been born with cerebral palsy (spastic children) or some other birth defect. It also includes those who have epilepsy, an injured heart from rheumatic fever, and many others. Grown-ups who have lost a finger or a limb whose vision is impaired or who have any one of a number of other physical disabilities are also included among the handicapped.

Just because a person is suffering from some physical defect does not mean that he or she does not mean to earn a living. Furthermore, most people with physical handicaps can do a good job if they are placed in the right kind of work. In fact, some of those who are mildly handicapped in one way or another have even done well in certain kinds of sports! Many more can enjoy themselves in active games as has been demonstrated even by those who have had an entire limb amputated.

In the past many industrial organizations have refused to even consider the applications of those who showed any signs of deformity or physical handicap. Today the situation is much better. Many factories and offices take a real interest in employing those who have suffered some disease or injury which have left them damaged.

Early in World War II, Harvard University, in conjunction with the American Red Cross, planned, built, and shipped to England a prefabricated hospital designed to help in the study and control of the epidemic diseases which were expected to follow the air bombardments. The institution and the men which staffed it, both before and during participation of United States in the war, made a distinguished contribution to the purposes for which it had been established.

After the war, the hospital and its equipment were turned over to Britain's Ministry of Health and it has since been used as a sort of laboratory for human guinea pigs who volunteered from all over the United Kingdom to aid in the study of the common cold.

From the studies made in this institution and elsewhere, a good deal has been learned about this miserable affliction of mankind. It is now known that the cause of most, if not all, colds is a virus. At the Harvard Hospital, it was found that washings from the nose and throat taken from a person in the active stage of a cold could be diluted 100 times and if sprayed around susceptible persons would frequently produce a cold. The investigators at this hospital therefore suspect that catching a cold in ordinary life depends on receiving only a small dose of the cold virus at a time when the resistance is temporarily below standard.

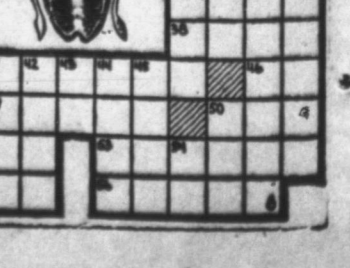

In this hospital the "artificial" colds usually lasted less than a week, which is shorter than most ordinary colds, perhaps because ordinary colds are frequently followed by the invasion of secondary germs. It was also noted that the incubation period, that is the time between exposure to the infecting virus and the beginning of symptoms, was usually between two or three days.

Another interesting discovery made at this center was that the virus causing colds will live for at least two years in dry ice containers at temperatures far below freezing. Furthermore, the cold virus could be recovered after drying on a pocket handkerchief. This last suggests that many colds may be spread by the virus being shaken into the air from a contaminated handkerchief. Also, it raises the question as to whether shaking hands by a person who has a cold will not carry the virus from one person to another.

There is still a long way to go before the disagreeable common cold will be mastered. Little by little however, the knowledge which may lead to its eventual conquest is being gathered together by painstaking studies.

aged. They try successfully to put them into work for which they are suited. This present day outlook toward handicapped persons is gradually spreading, and although the situation is not perfect, it is much better.

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

Washington.....by Peter Edson

By PETER EDSON NFA Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON (NEA) — Assurances are given here that the situation in Vietnam — formerly French Indochina — is not as bad as spot reports indicate. A French official said that the situation in Vietnam is not as bad as spot reports indicate. A French official said that the situation in Vietnam is not as bad as spot reports indicate.

Half a dozen recent developments have made such a course of action seem likely: 1—The ambush and massacre of 3,500 French Foreign Legion, Moroccan and native Vietnam troops at Cao Bang. 2—Subsequent withdrawal of the French from half a dozen forts on the Chinese border.

MOPSY Gladys Parker

3—Increased Chinese Communist arms aid to Ho Chi Minh's guerilla forces. 4—Training of Ho's army by the Chinese and their possible reinforcement by battle-hardened Chinese troops. 5—Growing resistance in Vietnam to further support of the French. 6—The long absence of France's Bao Dai as a puppet emperor. 7—The Viet Minh's "playboy" emperor now re-expressed that opinion by France, the United States and other major powers.

8—The explanation given for his absence is that he has stayed in France to be near the Paris conference, where his ministers have been and still are trying to support the French and stop the Red march down the Malayan peninsula.

This is of course a long range objective. It couldn't conceivably be done this year or next. But what Bao Dai apparently wants him to promise is full autonomy and control over his country's economy, foreign trade, custom's taxes and military forces — then build on that. Today his government wouldn't last 15 minutes if it were not for French and U. S. military assistance.

Withdrawal of French troops from northern Chinese border forts is explained now as tactical maneuvering.

As long as Ho's forces numbered no more than 5,000, divided in poorly armed small bands, with one rifle to five men and the other four with bamboo spears, the French could hold mountain border forts. They were like the old American frontier forts in the days of Indian fighting. Now that the Communists have mortars and artillery, and are better trained in regimental and larger units, the French have to change their method of warfare.

The French are therefore withdrawing from the mountains to the Red River delta plain northwest of Hanoi. Here they will fight a more orthodox warfare and have some advantage.

The French now have 150,000 troops in Vietnam. About a third are Frenchmen and Foreign Legionnaires, another third are Moroccan and the rest native Vietnamese. Opposing them, it is estimated, Ho has from 150,000 to 175,000 men, armed with everything the French have except aircraft.

A special mission of officers is now enroute from France to Vietnam to train the new national army. It will be built up at first not by transfer of Viet Nam troops now in French command, but by recruiting the village defense units and local war-lords' forces. A Vietnam army of up to 200,000 is contemplated.

The big question is whether there is time to build up this force for defense against the Communists. American military assistance to Vietnam was promised right after the U. S. recognized Bao Dai last February. First shipments arrived in May. They have been fairly continuous since then.

During the Korean war, some have been fairly continuous since Vietnam to Korea. Now that the Korean war is practically over, diversions are being made in the other direction.

But sending U. S. fighting troops to Vietnam to support the French, is not now contemplated.

But sending U. S. fighting troops to Vietnam to support the French, is not now contemplated.

Kahle's Dream Comes True

Keith Kahle has planned since 1932 to give the public a feeder airline service in Oklahoma, northern Texas and southern Kansas. He is the president of the Central Airlines, the line that will operate here beginning Thursday. The line will operate day and night with the new larger twin engine ships on a route from Fort Worth-Dallas to Tulsa and from Tulsa to Amarillo via Gainesville, Ardmore, Ada, Holdenville, Okmulgee, Tulsa, Bartlesville, Ponca City, Enid, Woodward and Pampa.

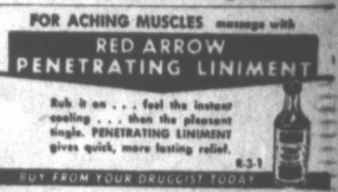

The balance of the company's system will be operated by the Beechcraft Bonanza planes for several months after which time the entire system will be operated by DC-3's.

It was only last year that the Civil Aeronautics Board changed the rule that said feeder airlines could be run only on heavy twin engine aircraft. In the late spring, it ruled that they could operate modern type, single engine aircraft on a visual daylight contact basis.

In June, the original major stockholders in Central, other than Kahle, elected to sell their controlling interests in the company to Kahle's two partners in Keith Kahle Aviation, Inc., the flight school at Oklahoma City. Details were worked out and the sale was approved to two Fort Worth oil producers by the CAB, July 25, 1949.

On Sept. 15, 1950, Central Airlines started operating with Beechcraft Bonanza planes.

Now, the feeder airline will fly twin-engine DC-3 planes.

125 Connections Available With Central Inauguration

Direct connections with 125 flights at the terminals into which Central Airlines flies, will be available to Pampans after Thursday, with the twin-engine DC-3 Douglas airliners starting their schedule here.

Complete tickets will also be available at the Central Airlines ticket office at the airport.

This agreement with the Air Transport Assn., will become effective Jan. 1, 1951. Central Airlines already has interline ticket agreements with Braniff, TWA and American Airlines.

Central Airlines DC-3 airliner schedule, is as follows:

Planes Maintained By 22 Specialists

Safety is a special feature of the Central Airlines, according to the maintenance department of the organization.

On the airline, which serves Pampa and 24 other cities in Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas, there are 22 men who do nothing but check the fleet of 11 Beechcraft Bonanzas and three Douglas DC-3 airliners.

All of this crew of 22 men are certified by the Civil Aeronautics Administration as aviation and engine mechanics. Two of them are FCC licensed radio and electrical technicians. One is a propeller specialist.

Included in the daily routine is a check of the ship after it completes the day's flying schedule, for malfunction or damage, oil and fuel consumption and a check of controls. Electrical equipment gets a thorough inspection to determine its airworthiness, as well as an engine check, brakes, doors, flight controls, engine temperature levels and fuel gauges.

In addition to this daily check, the aircraft get a 60 hour check, which includes all the daily routine plus a landing-gear check, hose and carburetor inspection, oil drain and battery check. After each 180 hours of flight time, each plane gets all the foregoing, plus an inspection of the craft's inner parts.

A statistical record of Central Airlines' shop performance since flight schedules began a little more than one year ago, shows each plane has an average of 1,450 hours in the air. Landing wheel tires have a life span of 125 hours use.

This has increased almost 100 percent since Central Airlines began serving the 25 Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas cities.

Bronze Stars Given To Two Texas Men

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea —(P)— Eighth Army headquarters announced the awarding of Bronze Stars to two Texas enlisted men of the 24th Infantry Division. They are PFC Andres R. Duron, El Paso, and Master Sgt. Gene A. Bourbon, Abilene.

DREAM CAME TRUE—Keith Kahle, Central Airlines president, has been making plans for his airlines for almost 20 years. Now, Central has a feeder service for Oklahoma, Northern Texas and Southern Kansas, which begins its run through Pampa Thursday.

Pampa Portraits Have Showing in National Exhibit

Southwestern Portrait Co., 123 E. Kingsmill, has been informed that it will be included in an exhibition of the National Portrait Exhibitor's Forum in Denver, Nov. 30 to Dec. 1 inclusive, according to Stephen E. LeBeda, area representative.

LeBeda said that 58 portraits from Pampa will be used in the exhibition.

The pictures used will be outstanding portraits taken of local citizens by the company.

None of the portraits may be submitted without the consent of subject or the subject's parents. LeBeda, along with Misses Margaret McCoy and Mary Regan who are also Denver representatives, will be in Pampa during the next few days to obtain permission of all the subjects whose portraits have been qualified.

National Portrait Exhibitor's Forum is a non-profit organization designed to encourage good photography.

SHORT STOP—It may not seem possible, but with the inauguration of Central Airlines' twin-engine, 24-passenger Douglas DC-3's, intermediate stops along Central's route will take only two minutes. This picture story of the process is ample explanation. The pilot taxis up to the landing point, the purser lowers the door, passengers board quickly, walking up the in-the-door steps and, a few seconds later, there's a DC-3 load of comfortable, happy passengers, airborne high above the earth, enjoying the supreme comfort and thrills of air travel.

Central Converts to DC-3's

The cigar-shaped 24-passenger DC-3 airplanes of Central Airlines will soon be serving more than a million people with scheduled mail, passenger and cargo.

The airline system has converted about one-half of its 4-passenger Beechcraft Bonanza planes to the day and night operation of twin-engine planes.

Some 14 cities of various sizes will benefit.

Central Airlines, a scheduled feeder airline certified by the Civil Aeronautics Board at Washington, has been operating since Sept. 15, 1949.

Merric Chase

THEY HAVE THE BAG I'M LOOKING FOR... TRY AND GET IT.

DON'T WORRY, A COUPLE OF TH' BOYS WILL PICK IT UP.

I'VE BEEN WAITING FOR THEM, BUT THEY GOT AWAY, YEAH... THEY JUST LEFT HERE.

THERE THEY ARE, LET'S GO!

HOLD IT, I'VE GOT A BETTER IDEA.

Jondie

CLEANERS, MRS. BUMSTEAD

HURRY, DEAR, OR YOU'LL MISS YOUR BUS!

I'M POSITIVE I CAN GET ON MY NEGLIGEE, MRS. BUMSTEAD

I THINK I KNOW WHERE IT IS

NO, SIR--NOBODY CAN GET ON MY BUS IN THEIR UNDERWEAR

Alley Oop

NO LIGHTER FUEL ON THIS BENCH!

WHAT'S THIS?

WHEW! THAT SURE SMELLS INFLAMMABLE! MEBBE IT'LL DO!

THERE NOW, HEH! ANY PORT IN A STORM!

NOW LESSEE WHAT KIND OF A LIGHT I CAN GET OUTTA THIS THING!

GREAT GAD! WHAT'S THAT?

Bo

THIS IS FUNNY... HERE I AM HOME AND MR. GREEN IS GOING OVER TO RAISE CAIN WITH MISS DUNN FOR DROPPING ME ON HER ROOF...

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH YOU, BO? STOP PULLING ON MY SLEEVE.

I'D BETTER MARCH YOU HOME AND LOCK YOU UP IN THE YARD.

KITTY... AT HOME! SO THAT'S WHAT BO WAS TRYING TO TELL ME!

CARNIVAL By DICK TURNER SIDE GLANCES By GALBRAITH

"Look, sis—the fellas chipped in and bought you a birthday present!"

"Shall I wrap it, or do you want to throw it at him here?"

Mutt & Jeff

THAT'S WHAT I SAID—THREE LARGE BOWLS OF SOUP! I LOVE SOUP!

YESSIR!

HEY, MUTT—DO ME A FAVOR, I WOULD BE A LIFEBOARD ONCE!

OK!

STAND BY THIS GUY JUST IN CASE...

Bugs Bunny

YIPES!

AND JUST AS THE INDIANS WERE GOING TO SCALP MY FAVORITE COWBOY, I JUMPED UP AND SAVED HIM!

YOU SAVED HIM? HOW COULD A LITTLE GIRL LIKE YOU SAVE HIM?

I TURNED OFF THE RADIO!

Red Ryder

IF ACE HANCOCK IS AT MY RANCH, LET'S GET THERE QUICK—SHERIFF!

ARE YOU STILL MAD 'CAUSE YOU DIDN'T CATCH HIM, RED?

MEBBE SUSIE JO AND LITTLE BEAVER ARE ONLY FOOLIN' US!

YOUR PRIDE AIN'T EATIN' ON YOU, IS IT, RED? HAW-HAW!

CALL IT ANYTHING YOU WANT, BUT I CAN'T STAND YOUR LAUGHIN'!

AN' IF '30,000 DOLLARS IS STILL IN HANCOCK'S POCKET, I RECKON YOU KIN SHALLOW YOUR PRIDE—HAW-HAW!

OUT OUR WAY By J. R. WILLIAMS OUR BOARDING HOUSE with Major Hoopie

NO, I'M SURE MR. FIRTH WOULD'NT OF SAID A WORD IF HE'D OF KNOWN YOU MADE IT—BUT HE SAID SUMPIN' ABOUT SPRAIN, RING-BONE, SPLINT, BOWED TENDONS, CAPPED HOCKS—HE SAID THIS HOSS HAD ALL OF 'EM!

I WISH MR. FIRTH WOULD TEND TO HIS OWN BUSINESS—I DON'T KNOW A THING ABOUT HORSES!

IT'S COLOSSAL, TWIGG—AND SO SIMPLE! ANY DAIRY IS IDEALLY EQUIPPED TO DELIVER HOT THERMOS POTS OF COFFEE TO THE HOME!

PROBLEM IS TO SET A PRICE FOR THE IDEA—I'M THINKING OF A COOL MILLION! IS THAT ENOUGH?

I'M HIGHER THAN GRANDMA'S BUSTLE ON YOUR IDEA, MAJOR!—BUT YOU CERTAINLY AIN'T GOING TO BE ABLE TO SEE ABOUT IT!—CAN'T YOU SHANE THAT PRICE TAG ONCE OVER, LIGHTLY?

OH, HE MIGHT TAKE A FEW THOUSAND OFF—

LITTLE DOC

WHACK! WHAT THE AVERAGE HUMAN BEING DOES IN 24 HOURS

WHACK!

WHACK!

Vic Finit

THE CORRECT SUM TO THE PENNY—I AM ALWAYS GENEROUS WITH THOSE, LIKE YOURSELF, WHO FILL THE WORLD WITH BEAUTY!

MY! AIN'T YOU THE ONE!

THE SWITCHER! JUST THE GUY I WAS LOOKIN' FOR!

UGH!

REALLY?

YOU GORILLA! YOU MIGHTA HURT THE GENTLEMAN!

WHAT'S THE MEANING OF THIS, YOU OAF?

WHY, SWITCHER! DONCHA REMEMBER ME? THE OL' TICK TOCK CLUB!

Wash Tubbs

GO AHEAD, YOU LITTLE DOUBLE-CROSSER... SHE ME FOR BREACH OF PROMISE, AND SEE WHAT I GETS YOU!

SET GET HIM MUCH PUBLICITY! PLECTURES BEN ZE PAPERS OF LOVELY FRENCH DANCER... ZE IDOL OF PARIS!

...TELTED BY ZE CALLOUS-HEARTED CAPTAIN EASY, RIGHT HAND MAN OF TUCOON J.P. MCKEE'S! PERHAPS THESE PUBLICITY GET HIM A HOLLYWOOD CONTRACT, BUT SET MAKE YOU LOOK VERY SAD!

HOLY SMOKE! I'VE SEEN HOW SHE CAN PLAY ON A CROWD'S SYMPATHY! THEY'D NEVER BELIEVE ME!

HIMM HATS TO TELL KOONIZ, SHE NOW DEEGCOVER, YOU USE HER TO GET ZE PAINTING FOR MCKEE'S! HE WOULD NEVER FERRISH SET FOR YOU, NOW?

Boots

LOOK! A NEW CAR!

AN' MISS PUG DRIVIN'!

PUG!

LOOK! NO HANDS!

NOW LOOK! NO GARAGE DOOR!

Mickey Finn

WAKE UP, UNCLE PHIL! IT'S ALMOST WOOD!

HUH? WHAT'S OH! OHAY!

GEE, I'M GLAD THE MAYOR WON, UNCLE PHIL—BUT I SURE WAS WIFEL CLOSER THIS DISTRICT SAVED THE DAY FOR HIM!

YEAH! IT CERTAINLY DID!

MAYBE YOU'D BETTER STAY IN BED—YOU SOUND AS THOUGH YOU'RE STILL PRETTY TIRED!

OH, I'M ALL RIGHT, MICHAEL, IT'S JUST THAT I GOT TWO NEWS AS WELL AS GOOD NEWS LAST NIGHT!

BAD NEWS?

YEAH! CLANCY HAS DECIDED TO SELL OUT!

Penny

NORA, DO YOU HAVE A PIN? I JUST SNAPPED A STRAP.

NO, PENNY.

I'LL USE BRUZ ELY'S FOOT PIN, GOSH, I WAS GOING TO GIVE IT BACK TO HIM TODAY.

HE'S A DRIP!

I JUST CAN'T BRING MYSELF TO GIVE BACK YOUR PIN, BRUZ. YOU DON'T KNOW HOW MUCH IT MEANS TO ME.

GEE, OKAY.

BROTHER, SHE'S STILL NUTS ABOUT ME.

FRECKLES

DIET OR NO DIET, THIS IS THE FINEST CAKE I EVER BAKED AND I WANT YOU TO TRY IT!

GOSH, HILDA, IT LOOKS DELISH, BUT—

NOW'S MY CHANCE!

IT WAS SIMPLY SCRUMPTIOUS HILDA!

REALLY? LET ME GET YOU ANOTHER PIECE, LARDSY!

I WOULDN'T DARE! IF THE COACH KNEW ABOUT THAT FIRST PIECE, HE'D MURDER ME!

GO TO THE COACH!

Red Ryder

IF ACE HANCOCK IS AT MY RANCH, LET'S GET THERE QUICK—SHERIFF!

ARE YOU STILL MAD 'CAUSE YOU DIDN'T CATCH HIM, RED?

MEBBE SUSIE JO AND LITTLE BEAVER ARE ONLY FOOLIN' US!

HE CAME TO KILL

by ADELINE McELFRESH

THE STORY: Aunt Maggie, a widow, is murdered after she proposes a new will, cutting off her nephew, Peter, and leaving the bulk of the estate to another nephew, Roger, father of her youthful companion, Leanna Thorne. There is an unsuccessful attempt to cast suspicion on Leanna, but Sheriff Clem Purdy and his deputy, Mart Preston, discerned it because Leanna apparently had the least motive of all for murder before the will was signed. But Sandra, Jasper's wife, and Peter still each other and Jasper denies killing his aunt. Sandra had been accused by Aunt Maggie of stealing and pawing a valuable leveller owned by Aunt Agatha, sister of the murdered woman, and during the questioning Sandra admits she did this. Jasper offers to take Sandra away, even back to New York, but Sandra says "not now." To this, Peter squeals: "If it becomes Jay in a, rick man now!"

XI
SHERIFF CLEM PURDY'S eager eyes went around the room, leaving with each person in the Thorne household the eerie feeling that his innermost thoughts had been stripped bare.

"Now then we'll get on with things quickly, because it's getting late," he said after Mart Preston had finished bringing him up to the moment. "Coroner Zimbrunsky says it wouldn't have taken a strong person to have committed this crime because Miss Thorne was seriously ill with a heart condition anyhow. She had only a few months to live at best—which is mighty interesting in view of that new will which she was going to take to her lawyer. It would seem," he added pointedly, "that the people who stood to lose the most should be the most suspected. And yet you'd have me believe that this girl Leanna Thorne is the killer. Does that make sense?"

A horrible, gnawing silence followed. Leanna dared not look up to meet the hate and suspicion that was pounding at her.

"To me it does, Purdy," Peter Thorne spoke slowly, as if he were

"You're bungling this thing pretty badly," Peter finally said angrily. "But then I guess I can't expect the efficiency of a district attorney in a country sheriff's office. Will you permit me to call in a private investigator?"

"I won't stop you," Purdy promised.

"Well, I will!" Miss Agatha was on her feet, rocking back and forth like a sparrow clinging to a twig against a buffeting winter wind. "My sister was afraid of the paper it was written on. It was merely wishes that in court could be called the work of a demented old woman. So she killed her and was leaving—"

"Oh, shut up, Aunt Agatha," Peter gaped. "For the love of Pete!"

MISS AGGIE'S outburst had ripped his Harvard accent to shreds; he sounded almost human. Leanna could feel sorry for him then, could even like him, but when he shrugged back into what she mentally called his "Quiertan-thou cloak he again became a potential murderer. Or was it any longer potential? Shudderingly, Leanna wondered.

The remainder of the night would be long. Leanna was glad when the sheriff announced his intention of leaving Mart Preston on guard, but she wondered what good one man would be if—

If what? She asked herself. If Peter decided to kill again? She waited until he had gone into the hall after Purdy before she stirred from her chair.

Sandra was waiting at the door. "I—I couldn't go with the others, Leanna," she whispered. "I'm—I'm afraid of Jasper! May I stay in with you?"

Quick sympathy stabbed at the dislike between them. Leanna nodded.

"Of course, Sandra," she said, and added: "If you're not afraid of me any more."

"You're a dear," Sandra said warmly. "After all I've— But Jasper has a gun! It's—Miss Maggie's, I think. I found it a while ago, under his pillow."

Helicopter Is Praised as Mechanized Angel of Mercy

By STAN SWINTON
WONSAN AIRFIELD, Korea—(AP)—The machine age has developed its own angel of mercy: the helicopter.

The awkward flying windmill has proven its worth in Korea. Time after time, Marine, Army and Navy helicopters have rescued pilots shot down behind enemy lines or at sea. They have taken out whole cut-off units. They have carried wounded to safety; by ambulance over rough roads would have meant death.

"Any military force without them today is back in the days

Shamrock Prepares Welcome for Legion Meet Due Nov. 11

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Shamrock is preparing a royal welcome for American Legionnaires of the Eighteenth District at the district convention here Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 11-12.

New flags are being made for the occasion and will be displayed by suspension above the main streets of Shamrock's business district. The flags are to be 3 by 5 feet in size, with a green Shamrock on a white background. Butch Rabo will make and sell the flags under a chamber of commerce authorization.

Legionnaires will see a parade Saturday afternoon, as the 40th anniversary of the opening program in the Armistice Day session. Air Force planes will roar over the parade route and there will be tanks and other army equipment in the procession.

Mayor Jack Montgomery will offer the welcome address for Shamrock, and response will be by Walter Pendleton, zone commander, of Stratford. District Judge Lewis Goodrich, Shamrock, will introduce distinguished guests.

Bill McGraw, Austin, past department commander will talk on membership.

Sunday memorial services will be in the charge of the district chaplain, Rev. Lester D. Cochran, Brownwood.

Each post in the district will be represented in the big Armistice Day parade.
