Austin Pleads For Invasion Of Red Area

LAKE SUCCESS — (AP) — U.S. Delegate Warren R. Austin pleaded with the United Nations Saturday not to permit North Korean aggressor forces to take refuge behind the 38th parallel. He spoke before the general assembly's political committee after delegates overrode a Soviet bloc filibuster which threw the committee into a shouting, table-pounding chaos ended only by an unprecedented five-minute adjournment.

With United Nations forces at the 38th parallel which has separated the Soviet-dominated North Korea from the U.S.-sponsored South Korea in the south, Austin declared opportunities for new acts of aggression should be removed.

Last night's decisions Saturday relating to Korea were: The Security Council rejected a Russian demand that it call on the United States to stop attacks in Korea. Kenneth Younger, British minister of state and chief delegate, opened the main Korean debate with a demand for a unified, independent and democratic all-Korean government set up under the watch-care of a reorganized and more powerful U.N. Korean commission.

He said U.N. forces would not remain in Korea a day longer than necessary to achieve the aim of restoring international peace and security in that area. Foreign Secretary Carlos P. Romulo, The Philippines, backed Younger's stand on the point of crossing the 38th parallel in pursuit of the North Koreans. Romulo said he believed the Security Council authority had given sufficient authority.

Before the debate began, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vyshinskiy said the Russian Government will be glad to discuss the North Korean issue but invited to the debate the Soviet Koreans were aggressors against the North Koreans.

Austin repeated American declaration that the United States wants a special privilege or position in the area. "The Korean people should have the right to live free from pressure and intimidation," Austin said.

Austin called for a U.N. program to rebuild the economy of Korea and re-establish its education.

French Evacuate All Civilians From Outpost on Border

HANOI, Vietnam — (AP) — The French army at 2,300 villagers last week out of Cao Bang, isolated military outpost on the China frontier.

The big airlift to Langson, 70 miles to the southeast, was an emergency move one week after an overwhelming Vietnamese assault on the smaller neighboring post of Dongkhe.

Grabbing vital French fortress aside the best supply route between China and Northern Vietnam, is the main stopgap holding back Chinese Red army in the Vietnam rebels.

Dr. J. H. Kelley, 68, physician in Miami and Pampa for nearly 40 years and prominent civic and church leader, died at his home, 1602 Christine, at 11:45 a.m. Saturday.

Although his health had been failing for some time, Dr. Kelley had maintained his practice in the office where he was associated with a son, Dr. Frank Kelley, and with Dr. Raymond M. Hampton.

He was a member of the First Methodist Church, the Lions Club and of various medical societies. He had a record of 20 years of perfect attendance at post-graduate courses conducted by the Southern Medical Society.

Dr. Kelley was born in Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 26, 1882. He was graduated from the University of Louisville medical school in 1910 and began practice in Miami the following year. He came to Pampa in 1929.

The survivors are his wife, Martha; sons, Harry, Bill and Dr. Frank Kelley, all of Pampa; sisters, Mrs. James H. Moore, Seattle, Mrs. Claude Hall, Cleburne, and Mrs. Olan Patterson, Galveston; and brothers, La Roy and Joe Kelley, both of Houston.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Monday at the First Methodist Church. Dr. Orion W. Carter, pastor, will officiate and interment will be in Evergreen Cemetery. Burial Chamber Funeral Home is in charge.

Palbearers include D. L. Parker, Ralph Thomas, Glenn Cox, Chester Thompson, Porter Pennington, Windon Allen and Dr. M. Hampton.

Members of the Pampa and Pampa doctors will be honorary palbearers.

A White House statement said President Truman approved the settlement and congratulated both sides for their willingness to compromise their differences.

Similar terms have been rejected by the trainmen and conductors' brotherhood, whose strike threat during the summer led to government seizure and operation of the railroads since Aug. 27.

Meanwhile 18 unions representing 1,000,000 rail workers were reported getting ready to start a new wage increase drive. They have scheduled a strategy meeting here on Oct. 11.

Total Surrender Ordered; 38th Is Reported Crossed

Legislature Faces Explosive Session

AUSTIN — (AP) — Pressure is already building up for an explosive 52nd general session of the Legislature in January. The session opens Jan. 9, just a little more than three months away. All the advance signs indicate that money — where to get it and how to spend it — will be the No. 1 issue.

While virtually all state agencies have submitted budget recommendations asking for increased spending, economy forces are lining up for a last-ditch battle.

Typical of actions taken by business and trade groups at meetings thus far this year was a recommendation laid Friday before a meeting of hardware and implement men at San Antonio. Ray Souder, secretary-manager of their association, urged a "strong program of real economy" to forestall any additional tax burden on consumers.

The whole problem focuses in the deficit outlook brought on essentially by increased spending approved by the last two sessions, coupled with not enough money to meet those obligations.

Proposals for a sales tax as another would touch off a big battle as would plans to boost the levies on natural resources.

Gov. Allan Shivers has said he hopes no new taxes will be needed, especially if further crude oil production cuts can be avoided.

Allowable production was cut for October because of inadequate transportation facilities. The governor has said he will look to state-wide economy commission's recommendations before he acts.

Washington considers both these groups fit subjects for postwar trials and expects that perpetrators of atrocities in most cases will be caught and punished.

The prospect for capturing Red political leaders who actually started the aggression that the United States has formally begun on North Korea is another matter.

Officials here predict Communist big shots and as many small as can manage to do so will take refuge in Red China or Soviet Russia.

The more quickly the job can be done — once the military campaign is ended — the better it will suit the major objectives of United States foreign policy.

Europe, even though it has greatly stimulated that work.

Medal of Honor Is Awarded General Dean

WASHINGTON — (AP) — By order of President Truman, the Congressional Medal of Honor was awarded Saturday to Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, missing in action in Korea.

It was the first Medal of Honor awarded in the Korean conflict.

In citing the former commander of the 24th Infantry division for "conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty," the president took the occasion to acknowledge the debt of gratitude owed to the mud-smeared, unshaven foot soldiers of the ground forces.

The specific acts for which the major general was awarded the nation's highest military decoration occurred on July 20 and 21, immediately before the fall of the city to the North Korean Communists.

The president's citation said that Dean, as commander of troops untried in combat, repeatedly risked his life as an example to his men.

MacArthur's Message Says Defeat Certain

TOKYO, Sunday — (AP) — General MacArthur today called on North Koreans to surrender "in whatever part of Korea situated."

In a broadcast to the enemy, he declared that "complete destruction of your armed forces and war making potential is inevitable."

MacArthur demanded surrender "at once" under "such military supervision as I may direct."

The supreme commander for the United Nations in his broadcast likewise demanded immediate release of "all United Nations prisoners of war and civilian internees."

The last casualty report issued by the Defense Department in Washington listed 3,959 American soldiers as missing through Sept. 22.

MacArthur made no mention of any decision by United Nations forces to cross the 38th parallel into North Korea.

But his demand that the enemy lay down his arms, whether in North or South Korea, seemed to indicate that his forces would cross the border if necessary to bring the war to an end.

MacArthur's broadcast was addressed to the "Commander in Chief, North Korean Forces." Presumably he meant Kim Il Sung, the North Korean dictator.

MacArthur called on the North Korean commander to "make adequate provision for the protection, care, maintenance and immediate transportation to such places as I indicate" of all war prisoners.

In turn, MacArthur gave his assurance that North Korean prisoners would be given the care "dictated by civilized custom" and would be allowed to return to their homes as soon as possible.

In conclusion, MacArthur said: "I shall anticipate your early decision upon this opportunity to avoid the further use of shedding blood and destruction of property."

As the call to end the war went out, United Nations forces were (See MACARTHUR, Page 2)

LEGISLATURE

This is the year the Legislature must redistrict itself to equalize representation with the 1950 census. Under a new constitutional mandate it must either do the job itself or let a board handle it.

The legislative committee of the Texas Game and Fish Association voted Friday to ask the Legislature to abolish the game, fish and oyster commission as it is now organized.

Measures to regulate or outlaw the Communist party in Texas are already being written. If congressional action on such laws is the tip-off, there won't be much of a fight on this question.

Here are some of the other suggested topics for study by the lawmakers: A constitutional amendment to double the length of the terms of district and county clerks.

A stiffer penalty for drunken driving, possibly a one-year suspension of the driver's license of a person convicted of this offense. Revision of the present insurance laws.

STEEL MAN QUILTS DALLAS — George D. Ramsay has resigned as vice president and technical advisor at Lone Star Steel Company. E. B. Germany, president, announced Saturday.

Historical Pageant Dedicated to Texas

WASHINGTON — The National Sesquicentennial Commission Saturday night dedicated to Texas the final showing of the historical pageant "Faith of Our Fathers."

Before curtain time at the closing outdoor amphitheater performance, the commission presented to Rep. Gossett (D-Texas), as a representative of Texas Governor Allan Shivers, a scroll marking observance of the establishment of the District of Columbia as the seat of the national government 150 years ago.

MACARTHUR

The North Korean army had met disaster in the south. The North Koreans had put an estimated 130,000 men into the line in a supreme bid to drive the Americans out of Southeast Korea and seize Pusan earlier this month.

Now the enemy army was broken and snafu positions in the south, or was in flight in North Korea. The bulk of its Russian-made equipment was abandoned in the field.

The South Korean national assembly in Pusan Saturday night adopted a resolution urging that United Nations forces spear on across the 38th.

AUSTIN

(Continued from Page 1) ucational, health and social institutions. The political committee debate began Saturday morning in the customary style of diplomacy. But it soon erupted and the first vote against the Soviet Union was 46 to 0 on the issue of putting the north situation first.

Vishinsky touched off another wrangle by proposing that the powerful committee, which will write the decision of the fifth general assembly on the Korean situation, invite the North Koreans to be heard.

Austin opposed this move, saying it would be absurd to hear on an equal basis with the U.N.-backed republic of Korea those "aggressors" who have "war guilt on their brows."

PRESSURE

(Continued from Page 1) that CIO steel workers will win a 10 percent wage boost — averaging about 37 cents an hour — in negotiations soon to open with the major producers of steel. This could mean a steel price boost, sending an inflationary tremor throughout industry.

The possibility exists that the victory in Korea will take some pressure off inflation. The prospect is dimmed, however, by Mr. Truman's announced decision to plow ahead with the $30,000,000, 600-a-year preparedness program.

Shamrock Seniors Slate Activities

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Shamrock High School seniors have begun plans for their final year with the Irish.

Plans, now tentative, call for a hobo day, senior week, senior play, senior trip, senior banquet and several dances.

Senior officers are Oliver McLemore, president; Kenneth Kidwell, vice-president; Joan Howard, secretary; and Harral Dannam, treasurer.

Senior classmen are selling magazine subscriptions in order to build up a class fund with which to carry on these projected plans.

Last year, the seniors took a trip to many Texas historical sites. The present seniors are trying to arrange an equally interesting trip.

The letter added "that Gilbert's behaviour was beyond his physical and mental control and this fact is born out by examination by three doctors including a psychiatrist."

Gilbert was tried by a court martial on a charge that, in the presence of other officers, he refused to lead his men into position, despite a direct order. The Army theatre commander, how has the case before him for review.

Gilbert told his wife in a letter that the order, had it been carried out, would have meant "certain death" to him and his men.

The case first came to light when Mrs. Gilbert, mother of two children and expecting a third, appealed to President Truman to set aside the court martial death sentence. Mrs. Gilbert returned from Japan after the Korean war started June 25.

Ways to Get Pile After Melding

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

If your side has melded at any previous turn to play there are three methods of taking the discard pile at your disposal.

1. You may take it by putting down from your hand two natural cards that match the card discarded to you.
2. You may take it by putting down from your hand one wild card and one card that matches the card discarded to you.
3. You may take it by adding the card discarded to you to any meld that your side has on the table.

This last method is the one that causes most arguments. For some reason or other a lot of canasta players like to tinker with the game and this particular rule is their favorite for experimentation and change.

In particular they seem to like to play that a closed canasta is something special and not a meld. If they want to play that way, or if they want to play any other little rule of their own I can't stop them. However, the canasta writers and authorities have organized a national canasta laws commission which prepares laws for the canasta. We all have agreed on one set of laws for the good of the game, and the great majority of the canasta playing public has gone along with us.

Our laws are subject to change and improvement. However, we are not going to change the laws that govern taking the discard pile. To us, a closed canasta is just the same as any other meld and may be used to take the discard pile.

When the discard pile is frozen the rights to take the pile under 2 and 3 are taken away and you must have a natural pair.

As to what constitutes a frozen pack the laws of canasta are very clear. The pile is frozen if it includes one or more wild cards (whether discarded or turned by the dealer) or red treys (turned by the dealer). It cannot be frozen in any other manner. If anyone tells you this law is going to be changed he is just talking through his hat.

Any time you take the discard pile you must take all the cards in it, including the freezing card if the pile is frozen.

Finally, taking the discard pile is a privilege, not a requirement. If it is your turn to draw you always have the right to take the top card of the stock.

SIGNATURE OF A CONNOISSEUR—The controversial vat-shaped family vault built years ago by Leonce Chabreanu, 69, in the sodate Rochechouart, France, cemetery, has split the tiny town into bitter factions. One group protests the vault's propriety and talks of dynamite. But Chabreanu often takes friends there to show them the several cases of good old vintage within that he wants sipped at his funeral.

OBERAMMERGAU, Germany—The curtain went down Friday night at this year's last performance of the 316-year-old Oberammergau passion play. The play has been performed every 10 years since 1634, with interruptions only during World War I and World War II. Play officials estimated that 60,000 visitors from all parts of the world came for this year's performances. They paid some 5,000,000 deutsche marks ($1,190,000) to see the performances. The biggest group of foreign visitors were 60,000 Americans.

Trips to the Far East are rare for little girls in this country. Eleven-year-old Kay Stevens got one of those rare trips, however, and came back to the United States with impressions of smelly rice paddies and exquisite art work, but no particular desire to return. Kay, who is living here with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs.

J. O. Dumas, 1233 Garland, spent almost a year in Japan, where her father, Maj. George Stevens, is stationed with U. S. occupation forces. Kay and her mother followed the major across the Pacific to Camp Shimelphig at Sendai, about 200 miles north of Tokyo.

HAPPY COAT—Eleven-year-old Kay Stevens models a souvenir she brought back to Pampa from Japan. This bright blue coat with a large golden dragon is called a Happy Coat by the Japanese weavers. In her hand she holds a 150-year-old fan, one of her favorites. On the table in the foreground, are other souvenirs including the seven Japanese household gods. (News Photo and Engraving)

The Army post offered a fairly balanced life for a little girl. There were other boys and girls her age, amusements and entertainment of various kinds and not so entertaining — school. Kay took her fifth grade studies there. Teachers, sent over from the States, were supposed to measure up to pretty high standards and Kay said she believed they did.

Classes, however, were not very full. There were but five or six in the fourth grade and less in others. Each class had a separate row of desks, as in old country schoolhouses. Food for post personnel was obtained from one of two places — flown in from the States or grown in American-supervised truck gardens in other parts of Japan. Occupation personnel is not allowed to eat food grown in Japanese gardens because of unsanitary farming practices. In fact, Kay and her friends were not supposed to come in contact with any Japanese, except post servants. The tuberculosis rate, for example, is very high among Japanese.

There was nothing against making frequent shopping trips, however, and Kay took advantage of the comparatively low prices brought about by the currency exchange rate. She has a dozen or more fans, for instance, two of them more than 150 years old. She also has fine china, tea sets, vases, clothes, dolls, paintings, one each of several Japanese household gods and other types of gods in varying sizes. A great many of her souvenirs are yet to be shipped from Japan.

When asked if she noted any serious shortages, Kay replied thoughtfully, "Yes, comic books were awfully scarce."

One Japanese custom that impressed her was found in the native schools.

The Japanese children are seated on low tables before slightly higher little tables. The teacher sits before the class on a small stage. Lessons are studied out loud, at the top of the school kids' voices. When it comes time to recite, the pupil mounts the stage and sings what he has supposedly learned during the noisy study period. Few of these pupils continue their education beyond our equivalent of high school.

Should poverty become too pressing for a parent, the child can be removed from school, sold as a servant to a more financially able person and be left to serve for the rest of his life.

However, should a servant become a grandparent, he is released from the servant's bond and treated thereafter as a guest in the house.

Another matter that Kay well remembered was a guest's manners at tea.

According to Kay, after the guest is served and has completed her cup of tea, she then turns her cup upside down in the saucer and looks at the name of the china on the bottom of the cup.

If the make indicates good china, all is well and the tea is pronounced fine. However, if a cheap set of china is used to serve the guest, the tea service is pronounced bad and the tea not fit to drink. The logic being, if the cup is not good, the tea has no chance of being good. She said this seemed a bit discourteous, but that was expected of guest. It was considered polite.

Wage Increases Hailed in Dallas

DALLAS — (AP) — A 10-cent hourly wage increase has been won by some 3,000 Texas Engineering and Manufacturing Co. employees, and about half the group got other benefits that add up to a total 25 cents.

CIO United Automobile Workers Union leaders hailed the raise yesterday as the first boost in the aircraft industry since the Korean war started. In another development yesterday, CIO workers for Braniff International Airways received a 10-cent general wage boost retroactive to Sept. 1. It will go to 600 maintenance workers who called off a threatened strike as the new two-year agreement was signed.

Texas Teacher Total Rising

AUSTIN — (AP) — The number of classroom teachers increased from 46,105 to 51,513 during the first year of the Gilmer-Alkin school program, the Texas education agency has reported.

Average annual pay increased from $2,689 in 1948-49 to $3,042, and school personnel with master's degrees was up from 8,563 to 10,491.

These are among the progress reports that will be studied Oct. 9 when the citizens advisory conference on education meets here. More than 300 laymen nominated by state board of education members have accepted invitations to the session.

The conference will precede the formal inaugural of J. W. Edgar as the state's first commissioner of education. It is sponsored by the state board to appraise the first year's work of the new school program, and study additional fields of improvement.

PEKIN, Ill. — (AP) — The towboat "Franklin D. Roosevelt" struck and damaged a pier on the railroad bridge on the Illinois River south of Pekin Jan. 31.

A few days ago another towboat struck the same pier and finished the job of flattening it. The boat's name? The "Harry S. Truman."

Birmingham Columnist Who Spoke Here Writes of Guilt

John Temple Graves, who was guest speaker at the Top o' Texas Knife and Fork Club dinner Sept. 19, gave Pampa and Rep. Ben Gull some out-of-state publicity last Saturday in his column, "This Morning," in the Birmingham (Alabama) Post-Herald.

Date-lining his column "Pampa, Texas," Graves stated that "Ben Gull, school man here at what Chamber of Commerce Manager E. O. Wedgeworth calls 'The Top o' Texas,' is the first Republican to be elected to Congress from Texas in 19 years."

Graves, who spoke to the local organization on free enterprise, explained the circumstances of the election of Gull and told of the incident when Gull's dog bit Walter Rogers' little boy.

"In a note of apology," the columnist wrote, "Gull said he was sure the dog was only trying to do his political duty and bite Rogers, himself."

The writer quoted a statement by Drew Pearson concerning Gull and his refusal to be a Republican regular at Washington. "No one knew, in fact," he continued, "that Gull considered himself a Republican until he ran as one last spring."

"What makes it interesting," Graves remarked in his column, "is that it produces a new form of anti-Trumanism in the South — and may work. Gull talks more against Truman than anything else."

"If Gull is re-elected, some believe his technique will take in other parts of the South, with the election of anti-Trumanite Southerners running as 'democratic Republicans.' It doesn't seem likely," Graves concluded, "but the case here is worth reporting."

Graves mailed a copy of his column to Wedgeworth along with a little note which read, "Greetings — I had a fine time." The note was signed "J. T. G."

Crime Probers Invite Chicago City Officials

CHICAGO — (AP) — Chicago's mayor, police commissioner and state's attorney have been invited to appear before a U. S. Senate committee investigating crime in Chicago and other major cities.

The committee, which opens a hearing here next Thursday, did not subpoena the officials — Mayor Martin H. Kennelly, Police Commissioner John C. Prendergast and State's Attorney John S. Boyle. However, all indicated they would appear and tell the Senate group their version of the Chicago underworld.

The city's current crime investigation is in connection with the slaying last Monday night of a former police lieutenant and an attorney. Both had been investigating crime and had offered to reveal information. The ex-lieutenant turned private investigator, William J. Drury, 48, was to have been a witness before the crime committee.

A Roman Catholic bishop and a priest, in sermons at Drury's funeral services Friday, lashed at his detractors and described him as "a martyr in the crusade of decency."

The Most Rev. Bernard J. Shell, auxiliary bishop of Chicago, said "now we have men elected to high public office who have thrown innuendos at this man, and sullied his name and attempted to tarnish his character."

Drury was discharged from the force in 1947, along with former Capt. Thomas Connelly for their refusal to tell a grand jury how they got evidence in a murder case, Connolly, along with Drury's attorney, Louis Kutner, attended the services under police guards assigned to them since the killing. They have been subpoenaed by the Senate committee.

Library's Children's Room Is 'Land of Make-Believe'

By GEORGIA SMITH

Books that hold "those far-away places" and things close to the heart of the young are within their easy reach at the Pampa Public Library.

In a small alcove in the main library is a child's make-believe land in print. For pre-school children through the fourth grade, books and magazines written either for the children to read for themselves or full-length novels to be read to them may be found.

Stories and books about horses and various sports are most popular among the younger children, according to Mrs. Lillian Snow, library supervisor. Mrs. Snow is responsible for the new arrangement for the children's department. She gathered a few of her ideas from libraries she visited in Denton and other parts of North Texas this summer.

For a number of years, the children's department was undivided and was a constant source of confusion. Now, it has been broken down into three sections and, according to Mrs. Snow, the children get much more entertainment and come to know responsibility in the library under the new arrangement. They are allowed to select and check out the books they want.

A small, low table with child-size chairs center the alcove for the primary children. Most of the books are displayed so that the children are able to see the covers plainly, providing an easier selection.

Books of fairy tales feature pictures of Prince Charming and massive castles to invite the young reader. There are books about children of other lands and other times and tales of imaginary adventures that children have built their minds around for hundreds of years.

The library subscribes to two magazines for the little tykes, "Wee Wisdom" and "Jack and Jill" include short stories, pictures and handwork exercises. Other magazines are donated to the library.

The junior department is the largest of the three children's sections. Books in this department have been selected for children from the fourth grade through the elementary grades.

New biographies written for these age levels have recently been received in the library. They include the life stories of Lincoln, Stonewall Jackson and Thomas Jefferson.

Again, adventure stories of animals and sports, take the main interest of the children and have the most names on their "date due" cards.

Jolson Entertains 'Kids' in Korea, With Interruptions

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Al Jolson is back home from a whirlwind entertainment tour in Korea where he said he got used to interruptions while his audience grabbed rifles and shot a few Communists.

The 62-year-old mammy singer, who entertained troops abroad during World War II, described America's Korean forces as a "younger crop this time — just babies — 17 or so."

Jolson said he asked one young soldier if he knew what he was fighting for and got this reply: "Sure, my life."

When Jolson took off Sept. 10, he was expected to be permitted only to entertain convalescents in military hospitals in Japan. But he went to the fighting fronts in the told newsmen.

"I was up there singing some guys and there was a lot of noise. So I says to an fella, 'Why don't you tell those boys of yours outside to quit shooting off those rifles?'"

"Those aren't our kids," was the reply. Jolson said he had considerable trouble with medics. He said he had a cold and they kept telling him he looked sick and wanted to yank his tonsils.

Pampan Meets British Rulers And Churchill

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hallman, 507 N. Cuyler, are happier today than they have been in a long time. Friday, at 3 p.m., their son, Cpl. Clifford F. Howard, called from near London, England, and carried on a seven-minute conversation with his parents.

Cpl. Howard, who has been in the Army for about two years and served during World War II, has been in England for the past 19 months. He is with the 7805 Airborne Squadron. Howard is connected with the group that puts through official telephone calls from London to all parts of the world.

Cpl. Howard stated that he had a pass to London last weekend and went to church with a group of English citizens, including Winston Churchill. He said he spoke to Churchill and, during the course of the day, saw the king and queen of England.

Churchill to Mark 'Golden Jubilee'

LONDON — (AP) — Winston Churchill was elected to the House of Commons for the first time 50 years ago Sunday, and on Tuesday the Conservatives will give him a "golden jubilee" dinner.

He has sought re-election 16 times and suffered defeat four times.

Manpower provided 15 percent of farm labor energy in 1949; animals 79 percent, and machines only six percent. Now, machines do an estimated 92 percent of all farm work.

Hudson Raises New Car Prices

DETROIT — (AP) — More price increases for new automobile buyers were disclosed Saturday as Hudson advanced the billings for its 1951 model cars.

The new cars, soon to be introduced, will carry tags increased by $98 to $122 over the present line. The advances give the Hudson line a factory delivered range of from $1,773 to $2,339.

As in the case of all other companies increasing prices recently, Hudson attributed the advances to labor and material cost increases. The company noted, however, that over the last year and a half it had cut prices a total of from $102.50 to $240.

Gambling Clean-Up Slated by Student

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Emil Mrkonic, 23-year-old senior law student at the University of Pittsburgh and a duly elected constable on the side, says he is going to clean up alleged gambling on the university campus.

Mrkonic, revealing plans for his campaign in the Pitt News, a student publication, said the gambling situation on the campus is downright "degrading."

He declared students who take such courses as economics try to use the knowledge they get in classrooms to beat football pools.

Not long after Mrkonic announced his one-man campaign, T. W. Biddle, dean of men, declared: "I know of no pools in op-

Texas Agents Seize Three Illicit Stills

AUSTIN — (AP) — Three illicit stills were seized by Texas liquor control board inspectors in August. Two were in Marion County, one in Leon County.

Two arrests were made, and 300 gallons of mash were captured, the board said in its monthly report.

Police Inspector Lawrence Maloney added: "We haven't had any complaints of any kind of gambling at Pitt."

Cool, Damp Year For Pampa Told In Weather Data

Weather observers at the KPDN transmitter reported Saturday that the total rainfall through August added up to 20.65 inches. Wettest month of the year, so far, was July, with a total of 8.05 inches. Driest month was January which had no moisture at all.

Temperatures ran from one below zero to 100 above. Although January had no rainfall to boast of, it did have the lowest temperature. July had the highest. The largest rain to fall at one time, as recorded by the KPDN transmitter staff, was 1.87 inches, which fell Monday, Sept. 25.

Temperatures this year have been below normal for the most part, with rainfall much above normal. With four months left in the year, as of Aug. 31, there has already been nearly as much rainfall as there was in all of 1949. The total for last year was 35.10 inches, with this year's total to now being 20.65 inches.

In July, which boasted the highest temperature and most rainfall, rain fell about 15 days out of the month.

June had the second largest amount of rainfall this year, with 3 inches; August was third with 3.60, followed by May with 3 inches. February had .47 inches, April .37, and March .12.

WILL MARRY—Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Ruff of Mobeetie announce the betrothal of their daughter, Irvine, to Jim P. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wilson of Claude. The marriage will be solemnized at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Oct. 15, in the First Methodist Church of Mobeetie.

Elizabeth Parnell and Henry H. Snell Marry in Single-Ring Church Rites

A single-ring ceremony read at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, Sept. 23, in the First Presbyterian Church of Pampa, united in marriage Miss Elizabeth Parnell and Henry H. Snell of Kress. J. P. Crenshaw, minister, officiated at the exchange of vows.

Mrs. Maurice Heard served as matron of honor, with Miss Geneva Covalt and Mrs. Evan A. Jones, Jr., as bridesmaids.

L. W. Jolly was the bridegroom's best man and Leon Miller and Doty Warner served as ushers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore traditional white satin. A double Peter Pan collar set off the high neckline of the fitted basque waist, which fastened down the back with tiny self-covered buttons. The sleeves were long and fitted and the floor-length full gathered skirt ended in a short train. Her finger-ring-length illusion veil was scalloped around the edge and she carried a bridal bouquet of a white orchid and staphenotis with white satin streamers on a white Bible.

The bride's mother was dressed in rose-beige with black accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a black crepe dress with white accessories and a gardenia corsage.

The bride attended Pampa High School and is now employed by a local law firm. She is a member of National Secretaries Association.

A small reception was given at 519 Montague, where the couple will live.

For the wedding trip to Austin, San Antonio, and other cities in Texas, the bride wore a navy blue suit with gray and white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

A pre-nuptial shower, given at 612 Sloan, honored Miss Elizabeth Parnell. Hostesses were Mrs. Maurice Heard and Mrs. Evan Jones, Jr.

ENGAGED—Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Nichols, 316 N. Somerville, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Tommie, to Bob Gage, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Gage of Pampa. Hand Made Cradle, Sea Chest Shown At McLean Exhibit

McLEAN — (Special) — The Woman's Auxiliary of the McLean Presbyterian Church held their second annual silver tea, flower show and antique exhibit Tuesday in the sub-story of the church.

The antique exhibit consisted of personally owned articles and ranged from hand carved dolls to articles of furniture, and dated back as far as 1650.

Among these were a sea chest and a hand made cradle owned by Mrs. Grady McCoy of Amarillo. The chest was bought by Capt. Lamar Gidney, Mrs. McCoy's grandfather, many times removed, and has been handed down from generation to generation for these hundreds of years. The cradle is of Honduras mahogany and babies of three generations have been rocked in it.

A christening robe was shown by Mrs. W. W. Shadid. This was elaborate with hand work and quilt made nearly a half-century ago in Syria by the mother of W. W. Shadid for his christening. The mother, now approaching the century mark, still lives in Syria and at present is blind. Several of the Shadid children have also been christened in this robe. A quilt made 100 years ago was shown by Mrs. M. T. Powell and many other unusual and interesting articles were on display.

The floral arrangements were locally grown garden flowers and consisted mainly of dahlias, asters, and marigolds.

Presiding at the tea table in the afternoon were Misses Carol Nan Smith, and Marjorie Goodman and Mrs. Bill Ferguson. During the evening Sue Glass, Pat Shelton, and June Stubblefield poured tea.

Mrs. Haskell Smith is president of the auxiliary and Mrs. Mattie Graham was chairman of arrangements for the show.

Pampa Women's Clubs Begin a New Season

Mrs. Raymond Harrah was principal speaker at the Tuesday meeting of El Progreso Club, held in the home of Mrs. Orion Carter. Mrs. Harrah, who is state department chairman of communications of Texas Federated Clubs, gave a report of the 1950 national convention held last May in Boston.

Mrs. Harrah said, "In New England we all recaptured something of that crusading faith in freedom which our forefathers had, and with which we must inspire men and women everywhere." Thirty-three foreign representatives attended, with 3,500 delegates from all sections of the United States, to discuss the theme "World Co-operation or Chaos."

"The future we cannot foresee," said a delegate from the Philippines, and all countries are at the crossroads, but tonight, at least, we are country friends." Mrs. Harrah said, "Fully half of the foreign delegates were from war-torn countries, who had come thousands of miles in the belief that they could bring a message from their people to the women of America. They valued their membership in the international clubs. To many it gives a light of hope and promise of stability in a dark future."

Mrs. Tanaka from Japan said "It is 17 years since I have been in your country and it is like entering a warm room after being out in the cold. The Japanese people, particularly the women, are very grateful to Americans for their new freedoms." Mrs. Harrah quoted the chairman of international clubs as saying, "At an international conference held in Geneva, 70 nations were represented with more than 50 percent of the delegates having skins other than white. She urged clubwomen to help end race discrimination and said "I assure you that I had a difficult time explaining democracy in the United States, and then explaining segregation here. Three-fourths of the world's population is made up of people with skins other than white."

Mrs. Harrah continued "Fear of Russia in many countries is interfering with progress even on the non-political matter of health problems. These nations who would like to be with us are afraid to." She hailed this global organization as the world's greatest medium of democracy and peace.

Mrs. G. L. Dauner, president, introduced the speaker and out-of-town guests: Mrs. James Allen, district president, and Mrs. Martin Crews, state trustee. A dessert plate was served to Mrs. D. V. Burton, Mrs. Sam Cook, Mrs. G. L. Dauner, Mrs. W. R. Ewing, Mrs. Knox Kinard, Mrs. P. C. Ledrick, Mrs. Carlston Nance, Mrs. Hardy Pitt, Mrs. John Pats, Mrs. H. E. Pope, Mrs. Alex Schneider, Mrs. Henry Tyler, Mrs. George Walstead, Mrs. M. H. Wyatt, and the hostesses.

Miss Rebecca Breining, guest singer from Lefors, entertained the club with three numbers, "The Kiss Waltz," "Kiss in the Dark," and "It's Foolish but It's Fun." Her accompanist was Miss Zona May, a club member from Lefors.

Mrs. Fred Mullings, who has been an enthusiastic worker with the child development program, gave a report of her experiences and of what the movement is trying to accomplish. Mrs. Mullings said the subject is not new, but that a new technique has been presented. Now, she said, people are putting the long-accepted principles into practice. Experimental schools have been set up in which a child is studied instead of textbooks.

Miss Claudia Everly reported that the national convention of Delta Kappa Gamma, which was held in Dallas during the summer, was an outstanding success. Women from all over the United States attended the meeting. (See FIRST MEETING, Page 14)

IT'S NOT E-Z, I'll tell you, to fall in with all those new knick-knacks of the fashion designers—they're usually so expensive. But I should think those ornamental hose would be very practical. That's something we could whip up at home—sequins come in many colors—and wouldn't that be a good way to camouflage a "runner"?

IF PEG COULD just get "around" a little more, there would be so many interesting people to introduce in this corner. Now just the other day I ran across the most likeable woman Mrs. H. C. Wilkie—and she has the most fascinating hobby that, by the way, has become a profitable one. She raises birds, and you never saw such a display of color. There's one little orange fellow you'd love Mrs. Wilkie has them perching on her shoulder and "eating out of her hand" and that's a sight to see.

YOU ARE PROBABLY like Mr. Peg and think that "hydroponics" gardening sounds like a peach, but it's becoming so popular I believe I'll try it. You can have flowers in your living room all winter, and best of all you can grow garden vegetables in flower pots. Imagine! Celery, radishes, and such growing inches from the dinner table. I can see me now saying, "Pass the carrot sticks, dear," and so Mr. Peg throws a flower pot at me.

TWO THINGS COMING UP that you'll want to keep in mind are the Wichita Falls trip and the Barbershop Quartet show, Oct. 7. A bus will be sent to the Wichita game and reservations must be made by tomorrow. That's a good thing. And as for the Barbershoppers, it's being sponsored by the local chapter of SPEBS—that's as far as I can go ... it's a tongue-twister!

PANORAMICALLY: Those Kiwanians are constantly on a picnic—or so it seems ... they all got together Tuesday evening for a barbecue ... Speaking of food, the B&PW had a real nice gathering the same evening and served their food a la chuck wagon ... Everyone dug out her red hood garb for the occasion ... informal fun ... Young Don Matlock, son of the Spencer Matlocks, is a cute little fellow And while on the younger generation, don't you think Karen Pieratt is a miniature of her mother? ... Mrs. Frank Hogsett is well occupied with their training programs for Girl Scout leaders ... she's a capable organizer, I'm told ... Mrs. Albert Reynolds is a creditable hostess ... The mention of Reynolds reminds me how much I like the way Mrs. Wiley Reynolds wears her hair ... pulled straight up with a pert little knot on top ... Mrs. E. A. McLennan, a good worker last year in the Woodrow Wilson study club, is a nice person ... Heard of several middle-of-the-week entertainments ... one at the Alvin Bells, Crawford Atkinsons and the Chester Thompsons were also partying ... Got word of a foursome at the Dr. D. F. Bonners Wednesday evening ... they are comparatively new here but already have reaped a good crop of friends ... Just in passing, I'd like to note that the B. F. Addingtons have a perfect house for a wedding reception ... that wrought iron stairway culminating with the "in-view" landing, would make a perfect spot for the bride to toss her bouquet ... And in thinking of that old custom, don't you agree that the best part of it is watching the father of the bride-maid who catches said bouquet? ... Frank Culbertson and L. F. Miller are two who have been through that episode ... Expect to see a world of people at the Civic Club Golf tournament today ... We'll let you know what the well-dressed spectator wears ... Say, Dr. and Mrs. Sawyer wending their way through the heavy traffic ... My! 5 p. m. is my curfew ... a simple little (?) housewife doesn't have a chance against all the business world ... but then I figure I've had all day to help jam traffic and business people just have after 5.

MR. PEG CAME HOME not long ago telling of a visit in the office of a friend of ours. Their conversation was interrupted by a telephone call from the fellow's wife, and said Mr. Peg "You should have seen the way his face lit up—just like his wife was SOME-BODY!"

IF YOU HAVE caught yourself marching along main street doing your shopping, you have noticed how well the junior high band plays. Their practice in the old red brick building can be heard all over the business district, and they do very well for this early in the year. Incidentally, the open house week before last was an evening well spent. There's nothing like the pride the kiddoes have when showing off their classrooms, teachers and projects. Do you realize that the third generation is growing up and going to school here now?

PEG RECEIVED a fine letter from the far-distant country of Lebanon the other day. It was from Y. F. Francis, who is working on a pipe line there. Val said that they would be finished on the pipe line soon, but that it would be February or March before they are completed with the tank farm and loading dock. Very glad to hear from you, Val.

THESE PEOPLE WITH foresight are to be admired. Really, at this point I can't look as far as spring, but those with "green thumbs" are putting their bulbs in the ground, and miracle of miracles, the tulips will sprout in the spring. Believe that Francis Avenue has the largest group of tulip lovers because last year, that street was fairly lined with colorful little tulips paying homage to passing motorists. That's a nice street.

EVERYONE SHOULD take advantage of the opportunity and be "X-rayed" again this year. Lots of people are going to take trouble to bring this to us free of charge. It's so simple—takes just a minute—and they see right through you. That's what I worry about, though! I don't want anyone to see through my disguise as PEG O' PAMPA.

IN OCTOBER—Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Scruggs, 723 E. Browning, announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Lorraine, to James Darrel Patrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Patrick, 940 S. Schneider. The wedding will take place sometime in October. Mr. Patrick is in the Navy, stationed in San Diego.

WEDDING SET—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Warner of Pinellas Park, Fla., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Eve, to Robert K. Gilchrist, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Gilchrist of Pampa. Miss Warner attended the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, and William Smith College, Geneva, N.Y. She is employed in the library of the General Electric Company, Schenectady, N.Y. Mr. Gilchrist is a graduate of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, and is employed by the same company. The wedding will take place Oct. 28 in Schenectady.

Miss Nancy Woods, Walker Parker Wed in Groom Methodist Church

GROOM — Miss Nancy Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Woods, became the bride of Walker Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Parker, on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 24, in the Groom Methodist Church.

The ceremony was held in the center and flanked by baskets of gladioli, carnations and white aisle roses. The Rev. C. M. Ryan, pastor, read the single-ring service.

Mrs. William A. Waggoner, organist, played "Indian Love Chant," "O Promise Me" and "Tranquilize the Years" and "Always." The "Lord's Prayer" was played softly during the ceremony and traditional wedding marches were played.

Miss Laurel Knopp of Groom acted as maid of honor. She wore a white tulle gown and carried the full skirt with red roses. Her wrist corsage was of dark red roses.

Miss Evelyn Reed of Oklahoma City was maid of honor. She wore a white tulle gown and carried a dress of white net and satin. Her wrist corsage was of white roses.

Robert Summers of Amarillo was best man and usher. He wore a white tulle gown and carried a dress of white net and satin. Her wrist corsage was of white roses.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in ice blue slipper satin, designed with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and front button trim. The sleeves fastened at the wrists with tiny buttons and tapered to pointed points at her hands, and her skirt extended into a chapel train. Her right hand finery will fall from a tangle of ice blue satin and lily of the valley. Her bridal bouquet was a colonial bouquet of white roses. She wore a pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom, and pearl earrings belonging to Mrs. Robert Summers, cousin of the bride.

For her daughters' wedding, Mrs. Woods chose a kelly green gabardine dress with gray and black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses. Mrs. Parker, mother of the bridegroom, wore a dawn gray gabardine dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

A reception was held following the wedding in Fellowship Hall. Miss Pauline Parker of Tulsa, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Elaine Mote, also of Tulsa, cousin of the bridegroom, Miss Benah Shockey of Groom, and Miss Evelyn Quirk of Groom presided at the table. The serving table was covered with a lace cloth over light blue satin. The wedding cake, surrounded by pink roses, centered the table.

Mrs. Robert Summers of Amarillo acted as the bride's maid of honor. For traveling, Mrs. Parker wore a taupe gray nylon dress with green accessories. Her corsage was of white roses.

Mrs. Parker was graduated from Groom High School and attended West Texas State College, Canyon.

Mr. Parker was graduated from Tulsa High School. After serving in the Army he took a course at the University of Texas at Austin and then began work as a laboratory technician.

Grace Friend

Please give your opinion of a mother near her thirties who is married to a man near her own age who provided well for her and their three children who ran around with another fellow while her husband was working.

She finally deserted her husband and used for divorce that method this man the next day after filing.

The little children are very fond of their father who is a disabled war veteran and receives a disability pension.

The woman I am referring to thinks her first husband should contribute to her present home. Now it seems to me that after leaving him, how could she expect to live with this man and still ask her first husband to do anything for her. He tried to make her happy and keep his family together.

"Geez, what is the matter with people today?"

Worried.

Dear Worried:

Women who marry the day after they file suit for divorce are committing bigamy and are not in a position to ask any court to force their first husbands to pay them alimony.

If the woman was legally divorced, however, and has the children, undoubtedly the court would allow her a certain amount for their support. The court would have to decide the divorce case and would have to consider the grounds on which she asked for it.

It is always sad that little children have to be subjected to divorce as it undoubtedly leaves a wound upon their souls which sometimes never heals. Parents, for this reason alone, should think long before taking a step to leave up their home.

Having had the three children the woman should consider their welfare even before her own as she is the mother for their physical, moral, physical and mental.

Sinatra's Wife Wins Separate Maintenance

SANTA MONICA, Calif. — (AP) — The 14-year-old marriage of Frank Sinatra and his wife officially hit the rocks Friday with Mrs. Nancy Sinatra receiving approximately a third of the crooner's estimated $1,000,000 a year income.

Sinatra let his wife have a separate maintenance decree by default in superior court.

Greg Bautzer, attorney for Mrs. Sinatra, disclosed that under terms of a property settlement, she will receive one third of his gross income up to $150,000 annually and then a complicated sliding scale, based on income tax tables, takes effect.

Conscience Dictate Obeyed by Jurist

DETROIT — (AP) — Adam Howard Bell stole a bicycle, intending to ride it home to Atlanta, Ga.

In court he was conscience-stricken. "It was wrong," he said. "I ought to get about 60 days in jail. The judge obliged him."

usually and then a complicated sliding scale, based on income tax tables, takes effect.

Mrs. Sinatra has been receiving $2,750 a month support for herself and their three children during months of negotiations over the settlement.

Restrictions On Cotton May Be Eliminated

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Cotton growers may get a "sky's the limit" signal next year.

Agriculture Department officials have decided that there will be no marketing quotas on the 1951 crop and they lean heavily toward grower proposals that acreage planting allotments also be dropped.

Lifting of restrictions was seen as a move to refill nearly empty warehouses. Formal announcement of next year's program may be made in a day or so.

This year's crop was produced under rigid marketing quotas and acreage allotments. It turned out to be much smaller than the government expected and supplies became tight. Exports are being limited, but there still may be a shortage of some grades before the 1951 crop is harvested.

A year ago the government had upwards of one billion invested in extra supplies stored under price support and there was a threat of a top-heavy surplus.

The demand for cotton has been greater than expected.

This year's planting allotment was about 21,500,000 bales. Top-ranking Agriculture Department officials, including Secretary Brannan, have been said to oppose allotments. It is said they believe it would be difficult to justify such limits no matter how high they might be set, in the face of the short supply and the possible need for more cotton under the defense program.

Cutting out allotments would broaden the government responsibility, however, under the price support program. The government is required by law to support cotton next year at prices between 80 and 90 percent of parity. Heretofore, price support has been limited to those farmers complying with allotments.

If no allotments are made, all growers would be eligible. At present, prices are far above price support levels and cotton is moving out from under price support storage. But an unduly large crop next year could well pull prices down to support levels and lead farmers to put a lot of it back under government loans.

Discontinuance of allotments could be expected, officials said, to encourage greater expansion in cotton production in the Mississippi delta region, Texas, Oklahoma and other western areas. It is in these areas that cotton has made great headway during the past 20 years.

Colorado GOP Nominates Texan

PUEBLO, Colo. — (AP) — Dan Thornton, stockman who was born and reared in a Texas Democratic family, has been named Republican candidate for governor of Colorado.

The handsome, 39-year-old Thornton, a one-time movie actor, now lives at Gunnison, Colo. He will oppose Democratic Governor Walter A. Johnson, seeking his first full term.

Thornton is a native of Hall County, in West Texas. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Thornton, live at Slaton, Texas. He was named a candidate by the Republican vacancy committee, which announced Thornton's selection. The committee had the task of replacing candidate Ralph L. Carr, former governor, who died last Friday night. It named Thornton after considering 21 other possible candidates.

SPEAKING OF Furniture

By DON FOSTER

ARMS AND THE MAN

There is no stock answer to that often repeated question: "I want to get a new chair. What kind and color would be best?" The kind of chair will depend on what you expect of it both in a decorative and a functional capacity. Background colors in your room: rug, walls, draperies, will dictate color. You may want to inject a dramatic splash of color contrast into a monochromatic scheme, or play down an existing amount of a certain hue. The style of the room and where the chair will be placed in relation to other furnishings will determine its weight and scale. And function . . . the amount of use it must bear will dictate fabric and texture. In many homes it is taken for granted that certain chairs are reserved for particular members.

Take Off Your Shirt, Film Player Tells Male Hopefuls

By BOB THOMAS
 Hollywood's fan mail favorites, Paul Anthony Curtis has this advice for male movie hopefuls: "Take off your shirt." The studio caught on and "I admit it," says the hand-gave him the starring role in some young New Yorker. "That's 'The Prince Who Was a Thief.' How I got my break." This is the first time that the Here's how it happened: Curtis, in one of U.I.'s exotic films was brought here from the States has been awarded to a cast by Universal-International player without an established couple of years ago.  An overnight sensation. His career stumbled along through bit parts, none of them too impressive. "All About Eve" ranks among the smartest comedies in many, many years. Texas Marine's Sixth Sense Tells Him Commie Is Near

By DON WHITEHEAD (For HAL BOYLE)
 SEOUL, Korea — (AP) — A Marine patrol was lucky that Tech Sgt. F. G. Ezell of Greenville, Texas, was bringing up the rear when a four-man squad went looking for two Reds hiding in a rice paddy.
 Three men in the patrol had passed by the Reds when Ezell sensed something was wrong. He turned just as one of the enemy was raised up with a tommy gun pointed at the backs of the Marines.
 "When he raised up to fire he was looking down the muzzle of my gun," Ezell said. "He didn't have a chance."
 The second Red was shot by Tech. Sgt. Leslie Cox of Troutdale, Ore. PFC Benny Day of Phoenix, Ariz., said, "I guess I wouldn't have been here today if Ezell hadn't turned around when that Red came out of the rice paddy."
 Sergeant Ezell also has a special reason for getting into Seoul — there's a buried case of whiskey there.
 Ezell's brother, Jack, who is fighting with the combat engineers in Korea, was with U. S. occupation forces in Korea before the war started. Jack and some of his friends managed to scrounge a case of whiskey from the officers' club — and they buried it in a secret place when the Communist invasion started.
 "Jack gave me a map showing where he hid the case," Ezell said. "That is the first place I'm going to when we get to Seoul."
 The first man in the seventh infantry division to get official credit for shooting a North Korean was Maj. L. E. Garrett of Beaumont, Texas. Garrett shot in self defense when the enemy opened fire on him as he was starting an assembly area for infantry troops.
 Garrett was told by South Koreans that two Reds were hiding in a rice paddy nearby. He went looking for them and one of the Reds opened fire. Garrett returned the fire with his .45 automatic pistol. He killed one Red in the exchange of fire and then grabbed an M-1 rifle to finish off the other.
 Air Force Sgt. Howard Jackson of San Antonio has opened the door wide for Hollywood to come to the Korean front without leaving California.
 The idea is so simple someone should have had it when this war started:
 Recorded shows on tape or rear screen — troops.
 In the last war the U. S. O. staged elaborate shows for the troops. But in this war the only Hollywood figure to show up on the front has been Al Jolson, who has since returned to the United States. But even Jolson couldn't be spread over an army fighting on two fronts.
 Jackson said if Hollywood stars would record brief skits on tape, these tapes could be carried up forward as far as regimental command posts and played to the troops.
 Jackson caught Jolson at Tagu and recorded one of his regular shows. He has played that recording on the Inchon beachhead and in other parts of Korea and "it has been a big hit."

Peace Congress Not Welcome in Britain

LONDON — (AP) — Sponsors of a Red-tinted "Second World Peace Congress" hinted today they will shelve plans to hold it in Britain.
 Faced by a Labor government edict that foreign Reds will be refused entry visas, the sponsors said a meeting of the group planning the six-day demonstration will be shifted from London to Prague, Czechoslovakia.
 The Congress was scheduled Nov. 14 to Nov. 19 in Sheffield. Prime Minister Attlee told the committee the foreign office will not "allow foreigners to come to the United Kingdom for the purpose of organizing the congress."

Cohen Is Refused State Permit for Armored Cadillac

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Mickey Cohen has a brand new $16,000 armor-plated Cadillac but it may have to stay in the garage.
 The highway patrol — which passes on armored vehicles in California — denied the gambling car a permit to operate the custom-built car.
 Cohen — several times a target of gunfire bursts in recent years — was taken aback.
 "I don't care about myself, understand," he said. "But what am I gonna do for instance when my mother comes to visit, and my wife? I gotta have some protection for the family, don't I?"
 The car has eight-inch thick doors each weighing 100 pounds because of a slab of bullet-proof fiberglass inside. There are steel armor plates inside the seats and the extra-thick windows won't have to be rolled down. The car has an $800 air conditioning system.
 But it will just have to stand awhile on its $400 worth of bullet-proof tires. Says a highway patrol spokesman, explaining permits are granted only to armored express companies and bank messengers.
 "If a permit is issued to one gambler, there will be 10,000 armored cars on the road and the police would never be able to stop them."

Sweet Potato Price May Be Investigated

OPELOUSAS, La. — (AP) — The possibility looms of a congressional investigation of possible "unnatural factors" in operation in the sweet potato market to depress prices.

Rep. Willis (D-La.) announced he is considering asking for such an investigation. He made the announcement after a meeting of sweet potato dealers and growers at Sunset, La., at which it was announced the government support price for sweet potatoes will be only $1.40.

THE SHOE WITH THE BEAUTIFUL FIT

Judy Garland, Home Studio Separate After 15 Years

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Judy Garland is free today to accept any screen or stage roles that may come her way.

The fitful young actress obtained her release from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio where she rose to stardom, and enthused: "Isn't it wonderful!"

But before taking up any offers, 29-year-old Judy says she plans to take in the World Series.

The actress, her daughter Liza and secretary, Myrtle Cully, will leave Monday for New York. Miss Garland — in private life, Mrs. Vincente Minelli — indicated she may be in the big city three months.

Bad health and nervousness interfered with her screen work and brought her several suspensions in recent years. Finally in a fit of despondency last June she cut her throat slightly with a piece of glass and MGM suspended her again with the comment that "her actions caused embarrassment, delay, inconvenience and loss of morale among co-workers."

There has been talk that Miss Garland may assume Mary Martin's role in "South Pacific" in the New York when Miss Martin goes to London for the British showing of the same play.

And — barring future temperamental outbursts — a wide field of singing roles with other studios opened up to the actress.

Louis B. Mayer, head of MGM, said Judy asked for the contract release and was given it "with reluctance and regret." Mayer added:

"It was felt that every opportunity should be given to Judy for her complete happiness. We wish her all the success and happiness in the continuance of her career."

The break ended a 15-year association, during which Miss Garland rose from a child singing prodigy to stardom on an international scale and the studio made millions on her pictures.

She is known to have plans for radio appearances and possibly an engagement at the London Palladium, if New York play prospects don't develop.

The four leading copper mines in the United States each produce 80,000,000 pounds of copper annually, and account for one-half tin's role in "South Pacific" in of the total copper mined each New York when Miss Martin year.

WELL, PODNER, THE WILD WEST AIN'T SO WILD

NEW YORK — (AP) — Charles Chilton, a Wild West writer with an Oxford accent, was headed today for his first look at the Wild West.

The 33-year-old Londoner has been writing about the American West for 15 years. But he's never been west of Wales, himself.

For the last two years, the old cowboy from the Rio Thames has been writing and producing a cowboy - Indian thriller called "Riders of the Range" for the British Broadcasting Co.

But he lets somebody with a western twang read his lines — usually an American or a Canadian.

Horse operas are hot stuff in England just as they are here.

Chilton said about 18,000,000 Britishers listen to his program and lots of them write to him, he told newsmen when he arrived on the liner America Friday.

He's on his way to Tombstone, Ariz., for the Oct. 19 rodeo. He is an honorary deputy marshal there although he's never seen the town, nor vice versa.

Fire Truck Needs Lengthy Workout

QUESNEL, B.C. — (AP) — The fire department at nearby Smithers is in a dilemma.

Quesnel's weekly Cariboo Observer reported that the other day the fire department took its "new" fire truck to a dealer for the 1,000-mile service inspection. The dealer refused to do it. His reasons? First, the truck was purchased in 1928 and had taken 22 years to run up its first 1,000 miles. Second, the original dealer had long since sold out.

Jessup Denounces Soviet Chiefs as 'Cruel, Selfish'

MIDDLEBURY, Vt. — (AP) — In a bitter attack on communism, Jessup said Soviet leaders rely on "tricks and promises" to keep their people under control, isolated from the world of truth and freedom.

Jessup, who is one of Secretary Acheson's top aides, described top Soviet officials as "a favored elite who live in comfort or even in luxury — but always in fear."

"It is a grotesque fantasy," he said, "that the most reactionary ruling clique in the world, namely the politburo, is able by the cunning deception of its propaganda to secure the momentary support of peoples inspired by the love of liberty."

Jessup spoke before the sequential convocation of Middlebury College.

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — The Vintage Laugh Parade:

Now that the studios are beginning to worry about the apple-cheeked stars of draft age, a Sam Goldwyn yarn from World War II is being told.

Shortly after David Niven enlisted in the British Army, he wrote Goldwyn a touching, sentimental letter.

One by one, members of Goldwyn's staff were called in to hear the letter read aloud. Actors, press agents, writers and directors listened to Niven's words, sighed over the prose and dabbed at their eyes.

Suddenly Goldwyn tapped the missive, looked significantly at the head of his publicity department and, so the story goes, said:

"You will arrange to have the contents of this letter leak out to the press."

It happened when Lynn Fontanne and Alfred Lunt came to Los Angeles with one of their plays a few years after they had made their one and only movie for MGM.

Joan Crawford invited the famous stage couple to her home for Sunday brunch.

As the Lunts stepped out of their taxi and set their feet on the green lawn of Joan's manse, Alfred said in a loud, vinegary voice:

"Look, Lynn, REAL grass!"

BOOKS-OF-MONTH

Some long-forgotten stories about the Gloria Swanson of the twenties are being remembered now that Gloria is 1950's biggest star in "Sunset Boulevard."

One concerns the group of Yale men—Broadway Producer Dwight Deere Wiman was one of them—who buzzed around square-mouthed Gloria during a period when she lived in New York. Gloria would drape herself on a couch, flash the fabulous whites of her eyes, and complain to her adoring admirers that she was the most desperately unhappy woman in the world.

"You should read more books, Gloria," the boys would chorus and would then sprint to their nearest book-store for tomes for their enchantress.

A year later, one of the men was waiting for Gloria in her apartment and happened to open the wrong door. Filled to the ceiling in the empty room were packages, boxes and crates of books—all unopened.

It's not in Kyle Crichton's biography of the Marx brothers, but veteran director Paul Sloane, who is reported to have the year's sleeper in "The Sun Sets at Dawn," recalls the unkindest blow ever dealt the late Alexander Woolcott by Minnie Marx's zany sons.

Woolcott had proclaimed the Marxes as the greatest comedy spirits of the century in their Broadway show, "I'll Say She Does." Nightly he sat in the audience, while Groucho and Chico hurled insults at him.

One day he told Harpo that he was bringing some important people with him to the performance that evening and that he was depending on the Marxes to rip loose with their most devastating jibes. His friends, he added, were dying to see him impaled on the skewer of the Marx wit.

Not once during the entire show did Groucho, Chico, Harpo and Zeppo address a single remark to Woolcott or even look in his direction.

Woolcott never forgave the brothers for what they did to him that night.

WELL MET

Some years ago Joan Crawford threw an elaborate party for Noel Coward at a plush Sunset Strip watering place. Telegrams inviting the chosen of Hollywood to meet Noel were sent to a list of several hundred people.

Shortly before the champagne began to flow, Joan received a telegram from a feminine star that read:

"Am in receipt of your wire. Thanks, but I've already met Noel Coward."

This was first told about the initial visit of Moss Hart to George S. Kaufman's home, but it has popped out of the baking pan again—this time with Marion Brando and a Hollywood producer as the principals.

Brando, the raconteurs swear, looked at the marble staircase and crystal chandeliers of his host's mansion and muttered:

"What time do the prices change?"

Jaywalker Not Afraid of Cars

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Express Highway, one of St. Louis' busiest thoroughfares, had a jaywalker.

It was four-ton Louie. Louie is a female elephant. She broke away from her circus handlers, tore down sections of a steel fence and lumbered onto the highway.

Automobile horns screeched, police sirens wailed and a traffic snarl resulted.

Louie finally was cornered in a park and returned to her winter quarters at the Cole Brothers circus.

Drilling Picks Up Steadily As 17 Staked; 25 Finished

Gassers Spark Completions Wildcat Staked in Donley

Oil activity in the Texas Panhandle maintained a steady increase last week as area operators staked 17 new locations and completed 25 new wells. A wildcat staked in Donley County by G. B. Cree, et al, sparked locations for the week while 14 gas completions, two of which tested potentials in excess of 100,000 MCF each, boosted field completions. Eight others had a combined potential of 600 barrels.

Also on the completion list was the Thomas W. Doswell No. 1 C. T. McMurry, another Donley County test, plugged at 5,382 feet. The Cree test is the No. 1 Roberson, ticketed for 2,950 feet, located 13 miles north of Clarendon and just four miles north of Doswell's dry hole.

Figures for the previous seven-day period show 17 new locations and 21 completions for 576 barrels of oil and 73,249 MCF gas. Gas totals the past week were 218,728 MCF.

THE PRODUCER'S LOG

By BUD ANDERSON

Few oilmen take much notice of history, not that it is a fact sets them apart as different from any other person, but if Texas manages to talk the Supreme Court into reversing itself and wins title to the tidelands, it will all be to the credit of history.

Texas, as has been brought out before, is basing its claim to these coastal oil fields on the agreements made at the time of the state's entrance into the United States.

That claim, so Price Daniel and his associates declare, gives the state sovereignty and ownership regards the 10-12 mile strip lying off the Texas coast. The United States has no claim. It's ours to produce.

Daniel says he has delved into the early files of 32 newspapers and personal files of 62 men connected with the early history and annexation.

These documents, Daniel says, "clearly show the parties intending exactly what they said." Texas was to retain all lands lying within its limits, including the tidelands.

The basic points of Texas' defense can be boiled down to two documents, according to AP reporter Max Skelton:

- The Dec. 19, 1836, boundary act of the First Congress of the Republic of Texas.
- The joint resolution for annexing Texas, as approved by the United States Congress, March 1, 1845.

The republic's boundary act portion relating to the Gulf of Mexico reads:

"Beginning at the mouth of the Sabine River, and running west along the Gulf of Mexico three leagues (10 1/2 miles) from land, to the mouth of the Rio Grande."

When Texas joined the union, some fuss was aroused over the national debt of the young republic. A plan, by which the U.S. would have taken over all public lands and pay the debts, was rejected.

Instead, the state voted to retain its public lands and pay its own way.

In its final form, the annexation resolution had three sections: The first two provided Texas should pay its own debts "but shall retain all the vacant and unappropriated lands lying within its limits."

A third section provided that the state might give over its public lands and enter the union on an equal footing with the other states. This third section was never okayed by Texas Congress, in approving the resolution, voted on but two of the sections — not the third.

It is this third section that the Supreme Court based its decision on to give the federal government control of the tidelands.

DALLAS SPEAKERS—Historian Carl Oake Rister, left, author of "Oil: Titan of the Southwest," and B. Brewster Jennings, president of Socoy-Vacuum Oil Co., are scheduled as speakers for the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association meeting in Dallas Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Rister is to speak on the significance of petroleum while Jennings will trace the industry's role in national security.

University of Texas Issues Industry Study Programs

AUSTIN — Petroleum industry fellowship and research grants totaling more than $25,000 to the University of Texas got formal acceptance today from the University Board of Regents.

The Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association has sent the University Bureau of Business Research $2,500 — the first installment of a $7,500 grant for an economic survey of the natural gas industry, with special reference to Texas.

Gayle D. Edwards and John P. Brand of Lubbock received $1,300 Humble Oil and Refining Co. fellowships in chemistry, chemical engineering, and geology, respectively. The geology grant carries an extra $500 for summer field work. William H. Harwood of San Antonio was awarded the $1,500 Humble fellowship for optical spectroscopy and photochemistry research.

Repressuring Program Open

Gas injection on the Texas Panhandle's second large-scale gas repressuring project, is scheduled to begin Monday.

The Watkins gas repressuring project finished its first step of completion Saturday when the Skelly Watkins repressuring plant, about eight miles southeast of Borger on the Drilling and Exploration Co.'s Watkins lease, began feeding dry, sweet gas into the field distribution system.

Actual injection into the wells should begin early Monday from the plant rated at 4,000 MCF capacity daily. This plant is placed at the north end of the Watkins project which extends from the south bank of the Canadian River in Hutchinson County in a southeasterly direction to the Carson County line.

Approximately nine of the 82 injection wells in the program are ready to begin operation to repressure some 983 oil wells. Well total in the project is 1,965.

Of two plants servicing the injection program, the Watkins plant required the least rebuilding. The service agent needed made only minor changes, including equipment to increase pressure to 600 pounds and a dehydrating unit.

Yet to be completed is the Crawford plant at the south end of the project. The plant, located 3 miles northwest of Skellytown, is due to be in operation early next year. On its completion, the plant will have a rated capacity of 16,000 MCF. This is a complete remodeling operation.

The Watkins is a companion to the vast West Pampa-Repressuring project, rated the largest cooperative gas-injection project of its kind in existence. The West Pampa program has been in operation for over four years. Pool engineer for both programs is Fred Neslage.

Oil Wins Victory In Special Board

By TEK EASLEY

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Establishment of a defense petroleum administration (DPA) last week was a definite victory for the oil industry in its aim to keep aloof from the other divisions of the new minerals and energy administration (MEA).

Meeting with Secretary of the Interior, Chapman, who is to serve as defense petroleum administrator, the National Petroleum Council held out against a previously announced Chapman plan to handle oil and gas through the MEA.

Chapman also is to head the MEA, but a deputy actually will direct operations of the agency in the fields of solid fuels, minerals and hydro-electric energy.

It was originally intended that the deputy head oil and gas operations, but under the plan finally agreed upon a deputy defense petroleum administrator will be responsible directly to Chapman.

The importance of this arrangement, industry spokesmen say, is that oil men will work out oil and gas problems rather than a government official who is equally interested in mining and electricity.

Proud of the industry's World War Two record in production of aviation gasoline, synthetic rubber ingredients and other liquid fuel products, oil men say the new DPA should function similarly to the petroleum administration for war which was dissolved in 1945. The Japanese surrendered in 1945.

Bruce Brown, president of the Pan American Oil Co. of New Orleans, who has served as director of the military petroleum advisory board, is mentioned as likely choice for deputy petroleum administrator.

A national petroleum council committee headed by W. Alton Jones, president of Cities Service Co., New York, was delegated the job of recommending to Chapman the personnel for the DPA.

Whether they will be put on the payroll as federal employees, or remain private company employees serving the government on a per diem and expense basis, is a detail not yet answered. But, in any event, by far the majority of the DPA personnel is expected to come directly from industry ranks.

The agency is expected to require a staff of between 50 and 100. The size will depend to a large extent on world conditions.

The DPA will work with top military and diplomatic circles in determining petroleum needs and allocations of such products as aviation gas, fuel oil and alkylates for synthetic rubber.

The agency also will work with other agencies in determining allocations of strategic materials, such as steel, to the petroleum industry.

Industry Sees 17.4 Percent Jump in Steel

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Petroleum industry says it will need 11,600,000 tons of steel next year to keep a peace-time economy rolling.

This is 17.4 percent more than the 9,923,000 tons expected to be used during 1950.

The national petroleum council said the interior department estimates that the U.S. petroleum demand — domestic and export — will average as high as 6,800,000 barrels daily this year, during 1950, barring the outbreak of major warfare.

By comparison, consumption averaged 4,370,000 a day during 1941. Thus there has been an increase of 62 percent in oil consumption during the past decade.

The 1951 estimate also is 33 percent greater than the total consumption during 1948, the peak year of world war II.

The council said in a statement oil and gas exploration and development will require the drilling of 42,200 wells this year and 42,400 in 1951.

Estimates of foreign refinery construction for the western hemisphere involve 18,000 to 20,000 barrels daily of new capacity. In the eastern hemisphere new refinery capacity is estimated at about 110,000 barrels daily for the two years.

Air Fuel Shortage May Cut Octanes

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON — (AP) — Civilian motorists soon may be using a less powerful gasoline.

Department of interior officials last week indicated unspecified quantities of special ingredients used in processing high-quality gasoline may have to be diverted to production of aviation gasoline.

Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman told the National Petroleum Council the armed services are threatened with a critical aviation fuel shortage.

The National Petroleum Association last week reported the purchasing agency has not found suppliers for some 2,400,000 barrels of the 17,400,000 barrels of aviation gasoline the military estimates it will need by December 31.

The serious military supply situation has developed despite gasoline production having set a string of output records this year.

There is no indication civilian motorists face gasoline rationing but department of interior officials have indicated some sort of controls may be developed to reduce octane ratings of automobile and commercial gasoline.

J. R. Parton, new petroleum mobilization consultant to Chapman, said transportation is a major problem behind the aviation gasoline shortage.

There are surpluses of aviation fuel ingredients on the East Coast, he said, but shortages on the West Coast, from where most of the Korean war military shipments have been originating.

United States crude oil output week before last registered its first drop in several weeks, falling 44,280 barrels to a daily average of 5,894,000 barrels. Texas, which produces 2,824,000 barrels of emergency West Texas production cutback resulting from jammed transportation facilities, accounted for 42,750 barrels of the decline.

All four of the principal refined petroleum products registered a total storage gain, rising to a total of 249,700 barrels, compared to the previous week's 247,226,000.

A year ago storage of the four products totaled 279,434,000 barrels, with very fuel oil 28,824,000 barrels higher than last week and higher fuel oils 6,335,000 barrels higher.

Crude oil storage also reversed its trend during the week ending September 16, climbing 717,000 barrels to 237,155,000.

U. S. Bureau of Mines report shows crude storage being declined 84 percent of 23,284,000 barrels in the past year. The Rocky Mountain-California area accounted for 39 percent of the decline.

National crude output will take another tumble this week. A 120,000 barrel per day cutback becomes effective tomorrow in Texas.

Louisiana, however, has placed its October daily allowable at a record 611,993 barrels, 4,686 above September's record.

The Oil and Gas Journal last week estimated world crude production in July at a record 10,574,000 barrels daily, 103,100 barrels above June, the previous record month.

Cities Service Men Awarded Plaque For Service Record

Cities Service Oil Co. (Del.) employees in the Pampa oil production division were honored here Wednesday by the company and American Petroleum Institute for having worked more than 800,000 hours without a disabling injury.

Company recognition came in the form of a safety award dinner at which the local personnel was commended by C. E. Beecher of Bartlesville, general superintendent of the company's production division. Beecher congratulated the men for adding another 100,000 hours of work to their previous record of more than 800,000 hours.

Industry recognition of the safety record was in the form of a plaque, awarded by the American Petroleum Institute. The plaque was received on behalf of the employees by C. P. Conover, division superintendent.

In addition to Beecher, those attending from Bartlesville included Jack Cleverly, assistant general superintendent, George Ball, office manager, and E. R. Estus, safety director.

George Ball, office manager and E. R. Estus, safety director, were honored for their part in the safety record were H. Bedenbender, C. Ragatz, Herbert Willis, J. G. Roberson, Clyde Batson, C. R. Oil Rig Activity Reaches 1950 Peak

DALLAS — Rotary rig activity in oilfields of the United States and Canada reached a new peak for the year, during the week of September 25, it was reported to American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors by Hughes Tool Co. THIS AND THAT —My wife quit dieting and has gone to taking Hadaool— I tried soaking my teeth overnight in the stuff but have gone back to Polident—it turned them a cherry red—and I sure don't want to be wearing any red teeth—

—Understand Rufe Jordan is looking for a chief deputy and the rumor has my name at the top of the list, but I can't accept—or one thing my business is to good, besides I can't shoot nothing but a water pistol, and I'd look good running around town carrying a squirt gun—

—did you notice this summer how unmerciful the office was here—of course I couldn't be it but I sure do love to stay in Colorado all summer, but I did come home on the first of every month to see how things were getting along—I never come home a time that someone's body wasn't gone—but I come back the 1st of July 1950 and Kirk were both gone fishing—that left Ray and the secretary—when I come back an A.C. let them want nobody here but the secretary—I stayed a week waiting for someone to show up and when they didn't I had to go back—my secretary hadn't had no vacation so she threw her hat under the coat again—but working everyday now from sun-up to sun-down—my secretary had no vacation, but I sure do love to stay in Colorado all summer.

—Here's the hottest listing that I've had in many a day—if there more than 2 of you in the family, and your needing a home, and want it in the best location, with a big fenced back yard, on a corner lot with both streets paved, big double garage, with a large store room built on it, then you better look quick at this one—it has four bedrooms, and its nice—lots of closet space—even a utility room—and its well arranged—it's located in north Pampa just a short way from the Hill school and was going to sell for 12000—the loan is paid down to around 7500 if you would care to assume that—but don't wait to long on this one—if the owner reads this ad he may decide to keep it—

—I signed a new contract just a month ago with this newspaper that I would advertise another year with them—I read everything but the fine print that was on the bottom and that's where they've got me—they're raising the rates again—not much, but just enough to pay for the new foundation that they're running on their new bldg.—I wouldn't have thought to much about it if they had just called me up and told me that they were raising the rates on account of everybody else was raising—but they done it in such a roundabout way—they sent Mr Vogel up to see me, and I will say that Mr Vogel is a fine man—but you no I had to run him down before he would let me read the fine print on the bottom of that contract—

—Need a good 40 ft lot with the sidewalk already laid—I've got one especially here in Pampa—I might run another pole if I get enough requests—

—Here's another big house and its worth the money—big fenced in back yard—corner lot with pavement on both sides—3 big bedrooms—living and dining room carpeted—lovely kitchen—big playroom and laundry room—lovely located—will sell this one for 12,000, and you couldn't begin to replace it for less than twenty thousand—

—Some of you people wanting to buy a good residential lot but don't have the cash to pay it all down at one time, then I've got one for you—its a 90 ft lot facing the east on Charles St just about a block and a 1/2 from the Sam Houston school—you'd have good neighbors if you ever decided to build a house as I live on one side, and Jerry Torvie and his wife live on the other—you'd never miss the payments and the first thing you no you would own your own lot—it might be a good way for some of you people to save money—it'll always be worth what were asking for it—

—Remember the Pampa Outlook at we used to get every week—Tom Chapman and Bill Johnson was just in and they tell me that they are fixing to start it up again—in glad to see it coming out—maybe I'll get my name in print without having to pay out a bunch of money—

—I've just been setting here talking to an old boy that really got something that he can't handle, and its going to be a money maker—Hes spent about 3 months getting the franchise, and now hes got to go to the army—if it wasn't for that he wouldnt consider selling his franchise, but he'll be on his way in about 30 days, so he told me to let somebody have it for what hes got in it—its put out by a large manufacturing firm and you sell it to the retailer—in fact he already has his salesman lined up for his territory—and the territory thats in his franchise extends from south of Wichita Falls north to the Kansas line—from New Mexico clear over to Lawton, Okla—he has 1300 dollars in it and he will turn it over for that amount—and 1000 of this amount will be refunded as the product is placed in the retail stores—this deal can stand anykind of an investigation from Dunn and Bradstreet on down—if you are much interested in netting 500 dollars per month without to much invested it will pay you to talk to this old boy—I'm really sold on what hes got—it'll retail for 1.28 and everyone that walks in a store will be a potential customer.

—Another listing just came in—been built about 2 years—its a nice 3 bedroom with attached garage with a nice back yard fenced—loan payments are 25.00 per month—take $120 for this one if sold in the next few days—Another one is a five room on Williston just across from seapod back yard—want 10,500 for this one but might talk them down a few dollars.
