Seoul Falls, But Battle Still Rages

U.N. Sources Remain Silent On Malik Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—United Nations diplomats shied away today from a quick verdict on new Russian peace and atomic control statements branded as propaganda by the U. S. State Department.

Interested but cautious, and careful not to appear to reject any really sincere Russian olive branch, they pleaded for more time to study a declaration by Deputy Soviet Foreign Minister Jacob A. Malik to a group of Maryland peace petitioners yesterday.

The declarations were made public by a Soviet delegation spokesman at about the time that delegates were going into an afternoon U. N. assembly session where speakers harped on one theme—Soviet words are not enough, Russia must prove its intentions by acts.

Although U.S. delegation members declined comment here, the State Department in Washington early last night said its indictment of Malik's proposals was framed after consultation with the delegation members.

Malik's spokesman announced that the Maryland delegation, which had distributed a peace ballot in that state similar to the Soviet-supported "Stockholm peace petition," but not connected with it, presented four questions to the Soviet diplomat and that he answered "yes" to all of them.

The questioners, headed by John Wertheimer, a 25-year-old Baltimore student, asked Malik if he would pledge Russia would not use the atom bomb first; whether Russia favors general disarmament and outlawing of atomic weapons under a U. N. control system; whether Russia agreed to a peace negotiation meeting between top leaders of the Soviet Union and the U. S.; and whether Russia favored free (See MALIK PLAN, Page 2)

Marine Group To Send Beer

PASSAIC, N. J. (AP)—John R. O'Brien, senior vice commander of the Marine Corps League, says General MacArthur has approved the league's offer to send beer to Americans fighting in Korea.

The league wants to send an extra can of beer daily to every American fighting in Korea, regardless of his branch of service. The allotment would be in addition to the free daily can now provided for combat men.

"I hasten to accept your offer to contribute beer to the welfare and comfort of our unified fighting forces in Korea, who are giving their all to re-establish peace," O'Brien quoted MacArthur's message.

"Such expressions from patriotic organizations will continue to maintain morale at a high level," the message continued.

He said MacArthur told him to deliver the beer to the port of embarkation in San Francisco.

Naval Academy Exam Date Changed

The date for naval academy examinations in this area has been changed from Oct. 2 to Oct. 23 at the request of Representative Ben Guill.

Young men from the ages of 17 to 21, who wish to enter the academy will take the examinations on Oct. 23.

Guill requested the change in date because the necessary arrangements could not be made by the time previously announced.

Examinations will be held in Amarillo, Pampa, Perryton and Childress. Youths from Letors, White Deer, McLean, Miami and other towns in this area may take the examination in Pampa.

For information on the examination, Jones Seitz, VFW commander; Frank Wilson, principal of high school; or Jack Graham, veterans service officer, may be contacted.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Justice Robert H. Jackson of the Supreme Court has ruled that 10 U. S. Communist party leaders must remain free for the present because jailing them would violate American rights and might permit them to claim martyrdom.

He reasoned they could claim they were martyrs if they were jailed now and the Supreme Court later upset their conviction for conspiracy to overthrow the government.

Jackson late yesterday signed an order which continued their freedom on bail. It will remain in effect until the high court disposes finally of an appeal which the 10 men are expected to file shortly.

Jackson said in effect that the harm they could do free is less than the damage to American freedoms that would result from jailing them now.

The government, contending that the men "should not be at large in this hour of national crisis," had urged Jackson to deny their application for continued bail.

"There is a very practical aspect of this application which must not be overlooked or underestimated," Jackson declared in turning the government down.

"That is the disastrous effect on the reputation of American justice if I should now send these men to jail and the full court later decide that the conviction is invalid."

"The worst they can accomplish in the short time it will take to end this litigation is preferable to the possibility of national embarrassment from a celebrated case of unjustified imprisonment of Communist leaders."

"Under no circumstances must we permit their symbolization of an evil force in the world to be hallowed and glorified by any semblance of martyrdom."

The justice said he was "not naive enough to underestimate the trouble-making propensities of these defendants," but he indicated he expects the Department of Justice to keep a close watch on them.

Eleven Communist leaders were convicted in New York last October of conspiring to advocate violent overthrow of this government. But only 10 applied for continued bail. The 11th party secretary Eugene Dennis is already in jail. He is serving a year for contempt of Congress.

The bail order continues freedom for Robert G. Thompson, John B. Williamson, Jacob Stachel, Benjamin J. Davis, Jr., Henry Winston, John Gates, Irving Pinsky, Gilbert Green, Carl Winter and Gus Hall. Their aggregate bail is $260,000.

Thompson was sentenced to three years in prison, each of the others, including Dennis, got five years. And each of the 11 was fined $10,000.

Except for Dennis, they have been free. The U. S. Circuit Court at New York on Aug. 28 ordered them jailed within 30 days unless they obtained a stay from a Supreme Court justice. Jackson's order came two days before the deadline.

Guill requested the change in date because the necessary arrangements could not be made by the time previously announced.

Examinations will be held in Amarillo, Pampa, Perryton and Childress. Youths from Letors, White Deer, McLean, Miami and other towns in this area may take the examination in Pampa.

For information on the examination, Jones Seitz, VFW commander; Frank Wilson, principal of high school; or Jack Graham, veterans service officer, may be contacted.

At Least 80 Die in British Mine Disaster

CRESWELL, England (AP)—A raging underground fire trapped and killed at least 80 men today at the Creswell coal mine.

Caught behind a wall of flame from burning rubber and timber roof supports, they were choked to death by gas and fumes.

Another 120 men crept to safety on their hands and knees.

An official death list issued this afternoon contained 80 names. Earlier, estimates of the toll had ranged from 83 to 90.

Smoke and intense heat drove back rescuers and hope for the trapped men was abandoned at 11 a. m. (6 a. m. CST), when the fire had been burning for nine hours.

The decision to give up rescue attempts and seal off the burning section of the mine was announced by Sir Hubert Houldsworth, chairman of the East Midlands division of the national coal board.

He said a check showed that 80 men were missing.

More than half of the approximately 200 men working in the mine bonded to fall and fire escaped crawling through dense smoke rubber fumes to reach the main shaft.

This afternoon Sir Hubert and the miners' union, in a joint statement, said despite rescue efforts it was not possible to rescue any of the trapped men.

The statement declared: "All possible steps were taken to combat the fire but it was impossible to prevent it spreading. After a full inspection no serious opinion that there was no possibility of any of the men remaining in the district affected being alive."

"It was also considered that any attempt to recover the bodies would be so hazardous that such attempts would inevitably involve further loss of life."

"It was then unanimously resolved that no course remained except to seal off the affected part of the pit. This work is now being completed."

The protest was against the government proposal to raise the price of some foods along with a planned minimum wage boost of 100 schillings ($3.84). Although some prices are to be frozen, an Austrian trade union federation spokesman said the new prices would mean an increase in the cost of living of 54.73 schillings per month for a married couple with no children.

The demonstrators failed to break through the police line, but the center of the city, the international zone controlled by all four occupying powers jointly for more than an hour. Two policemen were injured.

PAUL HOFFMAN WILLIAM FOSTER

Hoffman Quits ECA Post; Aide Named

WASHINGTON (AP)—Paul G. Hoffman is leaving the multi-billion-dollar Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA) which he organized and headed for two and a half years.

President Truman has named William C. Foster, now deputy administrator of ECA, to succeed him.

Hoffman's resignation as administrator of the agency which operates the Marshall Plan was accepted by the president yesterday.

It had been widely anticipated for some time, as was the selection of Foster to succeed him.

In his letter of resignation, Hoffman wrote: "My resignation carries no implication that the usefulness of the ECA is waning; on the contrary, I believe that the ECA's period of greatest usefulness may lie ahead."

He could leave now "in good conscience," he said, "only because of my complete confidence in the ECA organization in Washington, Europe and Asia."

Hoffman said that in compliance with a suggestion by Mr. Truman, he would be glad to make a final visit to the European nations in October as a consultant to ECA and would be glad to continue in that capacity "as long as my services are needed."

Foster's appointment was announced in the exchange of letters. Hoffman said that Mr. Truman's decision to appoint Foster "will be applauded and welcomed by everyone." He called Foster "a very able administrator as I have known."

Writer Says Combat Fiercest He's Seen in 2 World Wars

TOKYO (AP)—General MacArthur announced today the liberation of Seoul from North Koreans who held the capital in Red bondage almost three months. Fiery mop-up fighting still raged in the city.

United Nations forces representing 53 non-Communist countries scored their first big victory in the U. N.'s initial peace-enforcement campaign.

The liberation forces and die-hard Reds inflicted terrible devastation on the city.

Seoul is a flaming, smoke-fogged city of horror, AP Correspondent Stan Swenson reported from the Marines fighting front.

"If the linkup is solidified, thousands of North Korean troops will be hopelessly trapped in Southwest Korea."

The spokesman said the first contact was made when two tanks of the first cavalry met units of the seventh division between Osan and Suwon.

Not in two wars have I seen anything to equal the battle for Seoul," he added.

"The Reds chose to defend Seoul, and the Americans are not sparing a single building in which the Reds had established defenses."

"Great fires are raging. A black dome of smoke hangs in the sky—a fearsome signal of destruction."

"Street by street, Marines are nearing the heart of the city behind flames, rooftop tanks, heavy artillery and air bombardment and the battle of machine guns and rifles."

"Seoul is not being spared. It is a fight to the death with the Reds defending from houses, ridges and rooftops."

Whitehead's dispatch was sent from Seoul at 6 p. m. Tuesday (3 a. m. CST). MacArthur announced at 2:10 p. m. Tuesday (11:10 p. m. CST) that U. N. forces had completed "the liberation and liberation of the city" and liberated it "in such a manner as to cause the least possible damage to civil installations."

Thick earthen barricades reported built by American war prisoners were pulled to force lanes through the streets.

The Marines pulled Pershing tanks with 88-mm. guns, flame throwers and bulldozers prowled the Red barricades.

An estimated 5,000 Red Koreans were making a death dash from house to house and street to street.

AP Correspondent Stan Swenson reported from the extreme Southern Korea Battlefront that a U. S. 25th division column smashed more than 20 miles northwest of captured Chnju Tuesday.

The motorized infantry and tanks were expected to reach Korea's west coast near Kusan within 48 hours. Kusan is 110 air miles northwest of Haman, the 25th division's kickoff point 11 days ago.

The 25th division has been ordered to mop-up all Southwest Korea. Its drive to Kusan is pitched to seal off Reds south of Parallel 36 in the west.

Swenson said the Reds were killing American prisoners of war before retreating. Americans reported finding bodies of machinegunned doughboys in Chnju. Three still were alive.

16 Taken Out Of Wilderness

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP)—American officials today credited excellent survival training with a major role in the escape of 16 Labrador wilderness after their B-50 bomber caught fire and crashed.

Brought to Goose Bay for medical treatment yesterday, the men had spent three days in the chilly wasteland before a Royal Canadian Air Force search plane spotted their smoke signals.

Supplies were dropped and a medical officer parachuted to the scene. Later a helicopter and a Canadian amphibious plane teamed up to recover them and fly them to Goose Bay.

The bomber was on a routine flight from Goose Bay to Tucson, Ariz. Thursday when two engines caught fire and a third stalled. The 12 crew members and four passengers bailed out about 95 miles southwest of Goose Bay.

One man who landed in water broke his leg. Another suffered only minor injuries.

American officers at Goose Bay said the survivors owed their rescue in great part to their excellent and training for such an emergency.

Scattered when they landed, some of the men lit huge bonfires which attracted the others. All 16 had banded together again by Friday morning. They built shelters from parachutes and used others to signal rescue planes.

Rodeo Association Members Approve 14 New Directors

Fifteen new directors were elected when members of the Top of Texas Rodeo and Horse Show Association met Monday in city hall. Eleven of these were elected on a full three year term, with three filling the unexpired terms of directors who have moved from the city.

Elected for three year terms were Frank Carter, O. W. Hampton, Siler Hopkins, Floyd Imel, J. C. McWilliams, Doug Mills, Willis Price, John Sims, Homer Taylor, W. B. Weathered and Quentin Williams.

Ellis Locke, Miami, and H. B. Taylor, Jr., were elected for two years to fill the unexpired terms of P. B. Wright and Jack Osborne. Ivin Cole was selected to serve for one year to fill unexpired term of Jack Sullivan.

The directors whose terms expired this year included Hopkins, Williams, the Rev. Douglas Carleton, Dr. E. M. Brown, McWilliams, Imel, Weathered, Hampton, Homer Taylor, Cole and Price.

The next meeting of the board of directors will be held Oct. 9 at which time new officers will be elected, the audit for the 1950 show reviewed and new committees selected for the coming year.

Gurney Hints At Defense Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Stephen Gurney, R-S.D., says he may appoint him to a position in the military establishment before the first of the year.

Gurney, who headed the Senate armed services committee in the Republican-controlled 80th Congress, says the Senate at the end of the year. He was defeated for re-nomination by Rep. Case (R-S.D.).

Gurney's name has figured in speculation about a successor to Deputy Secretary of Defense Stephen Early, who has resigned effective Saturday.

Shivers Designates Newspaper Week

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas officials will join the nation Oct. 18 in observance of National Newspaper Week.

Gov. Allan Shivers yesterday designated the week in Texas "to focus public attention on one of the outstanding services to mankind."

"All classes, sects, races and creeds are served by this group of people, who are stationed throughout the world. These newspapers keep our nation well informed on state, national and world events, in a world where many are deprived of the opportunity to read objective reports," the governor said.

CIO Steel Workers Open Talks With Aluminum Firm

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The powerful CIO United Steelworkers talked wages with the world's biggest aluminum maker today as the union braced itself for an all-out fight for more money and increased benefits from the steel industry.

The Aluminum Company of America has offered its 45,000 workers a 10 percent wage increase. The USW represents 2,000 of those employees. The union has not indicated whether it will accept the proposal.

Alcoa said the offer will not deter any of the nine unions with which it has contracts from demanding further increases at contract reopening time—November 1.

For that reason the USW may accept the offer as a down payment on a new wage demand.

A spokesman for the AFL aluminum workers already has indicated this will be the policy of his union.

On another front, the huge CIO steel union started a campaign to make every worker in the basic steel industry join—or give up his job.

The USW asked the National Labor Relations Board to hold union shop elections at a meeting of 50,000 workers in 17 plants of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation in four states.

During World War II, the steel industry and the union began an arrangement called maintenance of membership whereby union status was frozen except for stated intervals between contracts. That system still is in effect.

Kiwanis Barbecue Will Be in Gym

The Pampa Kiwanis Club will hold a family night picnic and barbecue tonight in the junior high gymnasium according to Frank Wilson, who is directing plans for the occasion.

All club members, their families and guests are invited to attend the picnic, which will begin at 5:30 p. m. today, Wilson said.

Estimated 100 Dead In Morocco Floods

CASABLANCA, French Morocco (AP)—A sudden torrential downpour in the mountainous region of Setrou last night brought death to about 100 persons, it was estimated today.

Authorities estimated damages at about $2,000,000.

The cloudburst sent a flash flood tumbling through the course of the Agdal River.

More Rain Sends Total Past 2 Inches

Pampa's total rainfall for the week was raised to 2.22 inches last night by a late evening downpour which brought 27 inch according to weather instruments at the KPND transmitter south of the city.

More rain has been promised for Wednesday evening.

Rebecca Irvine
And Truman Price
Exchange Vows

In a ceremony read recently in the parsonage at the Methodist Camp Ground, Happy, Miss Rebecca Irvine became the bride of Truman Price. The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Irvine and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Price of Panhandle. The officiating pastor was the bride's father, who is pastor of the Methodist Church at the Camp Ground.

The double-ring vows were exchanged against a background of wild flowers and the same kind of flowers were used in bouquets throughout the house. The bride's sister, Miss Delores Irvine, at the piano, played pre-nuptial selections and also played a traditional wedding march for processional. She softly played "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

For the ceremony the bride wore a dark blue-green street-length dress with black accessories, and a corsage and tiara of shell-pink roses.

Mrs. E. H. Cole, matron of honor, wore a gray suit with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Cole, sister of the bride, lives in Hereford. Miss Judy Price, sister of the bridegroom, was candlelighter and also presided at the guest book. She wore a white ankle-length dress with a corsage of pink carnations.

An arrangement of wild flowers centered the lace covered table at the reception, given at the home of the bride's parents. Candles flanked the bouquet. Cake and punch were served.

For the wedding trip to New Mexico the bride chose a wine suit and gray and white accessories.

Mrs. Price attended Canyon High School, McMurry College, Abilene, and West Texas State College, Canyon. Mr. Price attended Panhandle High School, Texas Technological College, Lubbock, and WTSC. He is now farming near Panhandle.

There were 23 friends and members of the families present for the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Price are now at home in Panhandle.

Dear Mrs. M. C. It is impossible to give much useful advice to you when you have neglected to state how tall you are, how much you weigh, how old you are.

Perhaps you are overweight in which case have your doctor give you a diet.

There are several exercises for you to use if you like as lying on your side with your thigh flat against the floor and then pretending that you are riding a bicycle. Don't overdo it at first but increase the length of time as you feel able.

Be sure that you have a good girdle as, fitted properly, it will do much towards slimming your thighs.

SOMETIMES PARENTS ARE RIGHT. I am 17 and am engaged to a very nice boy of 20.

My problem is that my parents don't feel that we should go places on week ends.

He has asked me to go to nice resorts for week ends several times and nothing wrong would take place but mother says that since she don't go away overnight with young men regardless of who they are.

I think her attitude is old fashioned and that she should not object to my doing things with this young man to whom I am engaged.

Dear M. J. Old fashioned or not, I agree with your mother that you ought not to go away on week ends with your fiance unless you arrange to have a chaperone.

It isn't that you and your fiance can't be trusted as that your trips might cause gossip which could be harmful.

Mrs. Johnnie Haynes Is Pink, Blue Honoree

Mrs. Vernon Wood, Mrs. C. B. Lee, Jr., and Mrs. John Cornett honored Mrs. Johnnie Haynes with a pink and blue shower in the parlor of the Baptist Church recently.

An ice-blue satin cloth covered the table. Miss Darlene Shadid poured coffee from a sterling silver service, and pink and blue cake was served on milk white dishes by Mrs. James R. Smith.

Miss LaWanda Shadid played soft music during the first part of the afternoon and Mrs. Sam Haynes presided at the guest register.

Mrs. Frank Rodgers gave a reading, after which a game was played and gifts were opened by the honoree.

Those attending were Mrs. James R. Smith, Mrs. R. T. Dickinson, Mrs. Bunis Kunkel, Mrs. Billie Haynes, Mrs. George Colebank, Mrs. Callie Haynes, Mrs. Buell Wells, Mrs. W. E. Bogan, Mrs. Frank Rogers, Mrs. Bob Barnett, Mrs. T. N. Holloway, Mrs. John Haynes, Mrs. J. S. Morse, Mrs. Amos Thacker, Mrs. Ruel Smith, Miss LaWanda Shadid and Miss Darlene Shadid.

There are about three medium-sized potatoes in a pound. A pound of carrots will make about four cups diced or shredded.

Sports Round-Up

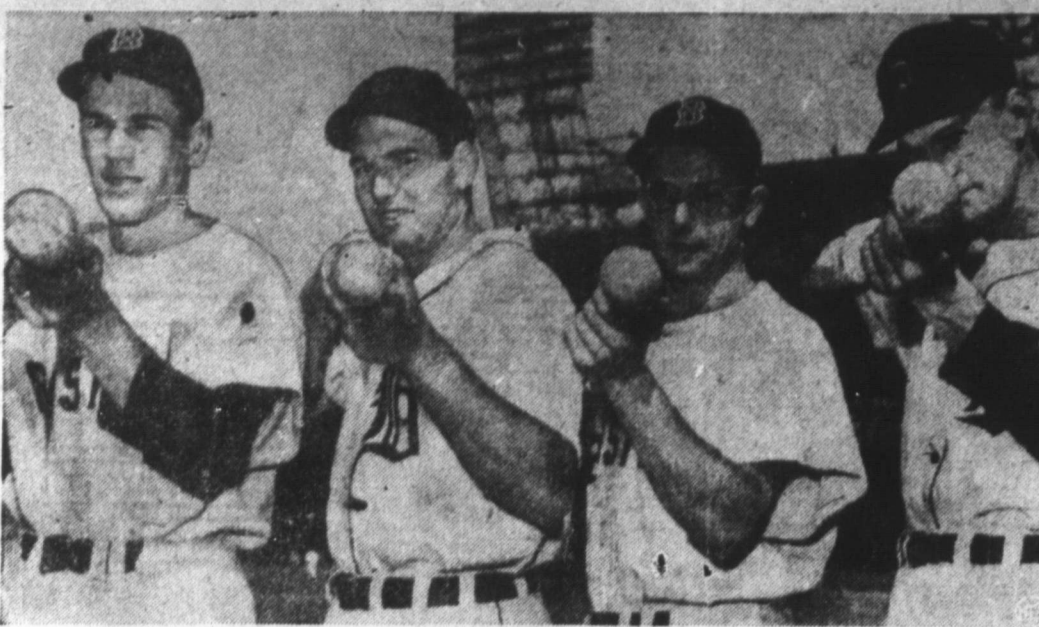

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK — (AP) — Aaron Robinson's failure to tag Bob Lemon at the home plate Sunday likely will go down as one of the celebrated all-time "what-ifs" of baseball. Baseball fans like to remember such things, whether or not they agree that Aaron can't be blamed if he couldn't see the play at first. But Robinson, at least, will be in illustrious company. Way back in 1904, Jack Chesbro, one of the most famous of all pitchers, lost a pennant for the old Highlanders with a wild pitch in the ninth inning of the last day. Four years later a Giant rookie named Fred Merkle failed to touch second base on a certain well-remembered play, precipitating a pennant playoff. He never has been able to live it down. Fred Snodgrass' $50,000 mull in the tenth inning of the deciding game is remembered as giving the Red Sox the 1912 World Series, although John McGraw maintained it was a worse bower which Merkle and Chief Meyers let Trip Speaker's easy foot drop. And as recently as 1941, another fine catcher, Mickey Owen, failed to hold one of Hugh Casey's curves and that cost the Dodgers a game and eventually the World Series.

A recent visitor to the U. of Missouri campus was inspecting the new athletic department of fices under the guidance of Huston Betty, Tiger line coach. "Prinny Fancy," the visitor commented as they passed in front of a door marked "Wilbur N. Stalcup, basketball coach." "Yeah," commented Betty. "You've seen the schedule. C.C.N.Y., Ohio State, Arkansas, etc. . . . They just put Sparky's name on here in water colors so it will wipe off easily."

The close American League race is giving the Phillies a headache, too. Preparing the World Series souvenir program they've had to compile and print data on all three contenders so the right one can be stuck in at the last moment. "Maybe they'd better do something about assuring the Phils a place in the book, too. . . . Roundabout report from Notre Dame is that Frank Leahy's secret weapon is a 21-year-old halfback from Pittsburgh named Dave Flood. . . . Story is that he's the hottest item since Rome burned. . . . Boston Celtics got the jump on the other National Basketball Association teams when Coach Red Auerbach called his first workout yesterday. . . . Might be the last time they'll get it all season.

It is true that the White Sox bosses have told General Manager Frank Lane to stay out of the clubhouse and off the bench before and after games. . . . When Virginia's football team upset Penn last fall, the highly-couted Johnny Papit was just a decoy while Whitey Michaels did the work. Could be that another Pennsylvania, Steve Ossike, will team up with Papit on a similar stunt next Saturday. When the "Blue Line Club," composed of Rovers hockey fans, couldn't meet in the garden the other day, they held their gathering in a funeral parlor. . . . prophetic?

Carfage takes the place of bone in all members of the shark family.

Playoffs Get Airing Out By Opponents

DALLAS — (AP) — Opponents of the Shaughnessy Playoff in baseball will have a field day over San Antonio winning the Texas League pennant. The Missions wound up fourth over the full season route when they knocked off Beaumont and Tulsa in the playoffs. Tonight they open the Dixie Series in Nashville. The Shaughnessy was adopted some 17 years ago by the Texas League. It was a step toward preventing insolvency. Baseball in the minors had to have something that could sustain attendance over the full season or give up. The play-off was the answer. It left four places that might be attained so that half the league still had an even chance of winning the pennant when the regular campaign was over. Under the Shaughnessy six clubs usually are in the race down to the last day. The Texas League is the only one of the top minors that will not reward its first-place winner with the pennant. The other circuits give the first finisher the pennant then have a play-off to name the league representative in a series with some other league representative. Indications are that the Texas League will go with that plan by next season, too.

Beaumont led the league over the full season route but lost four straight to San Antonio in the playoffs. You might expect the Roughnecks leaders to be ousted up over the situation. But they are not, thus offer little fuel for the opponents of the Shaughnessy. Beaumont did well to finish in front of the field. It was only the managerial genius of Rogers Hornsby and an over-worked pitching staff that accomplished the trick. Beaumont didn't have the manpower to win first place and then take the play-off, too. The Texas League awards the first place club $5,000, second place $3,000 and third place $2,000. It would be worth more, however, if it rewarded the first-place club with the pennant and let it go into the records.

City Conference Keeps Trying
(By The Associated Press)
The City Conference starts playing for keeps this week although there's only one game counting in the title standings of this division. Texas schoofy football. In District 4 Alamo Heights and Edson of San Antonio get together in a conference struggle. The CC boys have a poor record for the season, scrapping AA teams but they will keep on trying with the feature being Thomas Jefferson's battle with Austin at AUSTIN Friday night.

Odessa Wins Series From Big Spring
ODESSA — (AP) — Odessa's Oilers are champions of the Longhorn League. They clinched the title last night in a big win as they blasted Big Spring 13-0 in the seventh and deciding game of the play-off. Bill Cearley drove in five runs with three hits, one a homer with two on base, the first in the game. Ray Knoblauch limited Big Spring to six hits. Odessa, which led the league race over the regular season route, came from far back to beat out Big Spring, which had wound up third in the league. The Oilers exploded for three straight wins.

School Boy Dies From Grid Injury
SILVERTON — (AP) — Texas was marked up its first football fatality of the new high school season. The victim was Billy Charles Wilson, 17, Silvertown High School's fullback, who was fatally injured while playing in a game with New Deal. Funeral services were held yesterday. The 155-pound youth apparently aggravated a head condition when he made a tackle. He had to be helped from the field and died two hours later. Friends said he had been plagued by headaches off and on since he was hurt in a car wreck four years ago.

Dukes, Lobos Rained Out in Sixth Inning

LAMESA — (AP) — Albuquerque and Lamesa battled to a scoreless tie in the fourth game of their West Texas-New Mexico League championship playoff series here Monday night in a game which was halted by rain after five full innings. A crowd of 1,900 fans watched lefthander Fred Besana and Vince Speranza match shutout hurling in the contest, which went into the record books as an official game. The two clubs will meet here again at 8 o'clock tonight. Milton E. Price, league president, informed club officials that the teams would continue to play here until a decision is reached in the fourth game. The series could go an official eight games, counting last night's scoreless deadlock. Steve Lagomarsino will oppose Southpaw Vern Kohout, who received credit in Lamesa's only victory over the Dukes so far. Speranza had one a better job than Besana when rain halted the mound duel. Both hurlers allowed only four singles, but Besana walked four men and was guilty of one wild pitch. He got himself in trouble in the second and fourth through his wildness. Speranza issued no walks. Besana walked the first two men to face him, Glen Selbo and Bill Ashley, in the second, but retired the next three batters, two via strikeouts. Lamesa came within a whisker of scoring in the fourth when Manager Jodie Beeler opened with a walk, moved to second on Selbo's blooper single and both moved up on Ashley's sacrifice. Beeler apparently beat Besana's delivery to the plate as he put on the squeeze, but Dan Pinto struck the ball and it struck Beeler, making the Lobo manager automatically out and giving Pinto a single. Lamesa also threatened in the third when Pedro Santiago led off with his second single and was sacrificed to second by Harry Selbo. Earl Harrington flipped Bill Capps' low liner and flipped to Jerry Folkman to double off Santiago. Besana reached second base in the third for the Dukes' lone scoring chance, forcing Harry Selbo to grab for P.O. Lamesa's advancing on Harrington's single. Selbo and Beeler turned in a brilliant fielding play each. Selbo leaped high to pull down right-hand Martin's long drive to right in the first and Beeler made a brilliant grab of P.O. Lamesa's ground smash in the fifth.

At Austin yesterday. Coach Cherry informed his Longhorns, who didn't look good at all last Saturday in a 28-14 victory over Texas Tech, that some changes would be made this week. He didn't like the way the left side of his line played and was dissatisfied with his running game. Both Southern Methodist and Texas listed injuries to leading players. Southern Methodist has Bill Richards, safety man, on a shelf with ankle hurts from the Georgia Tech game. Texas will be without the services of Center Dick Rowan, out with a chipped elbow, and Halfback Bubba Shanks has a knee injury that may keep him out of Saturday's game with Purdue at Austin. The least moaning came from the camps of the Texas Aggies and, strangely enough, Arkansas. Coach Harry Stiteler of the Aggies had reason to feel good about his team's 48-18 victory over Nevada Saturday. It was because a couple of good boys were off the injury list. Guard Dick Frey and Linebacker Walter Hill rejoined the squad yesterday and that made the whole outfit sound for the game Saturday night at San Antonio with Texas Tech.

Coach Otis Douglas of Arkansas wasn't singing the blues over his team's unexpected 12-7 defeat by Oklahoma A. & M. "We have the strength to win any game but we're not playing our best and we're not discouraged," Douglas told his squad. "We just made too many mistakes. But we know now what we have to correct."

Arkansas suffered no injuries against the Aggies. Also hurt back Bill McFarland, who has been out with injuries, is due to be ready for action Saturday when the Razorbacks play North Texas State. Coach George Sauer of Baylor also was philosophical. "We can't play over but we can learn out our mistakes and try to get ready for the next one," he said, in talking over last week's 7-0 defeat at the hands of Wyoming. Passing, both offensive and defensive, took up most of the rest of the practice. The Bears play University of Houston in Waco Saturday.

Texas Christian counted a flock of injuries from its 14-7 triumph over Kansas. All three right halfbacks were injured and only one, Jim Hickey, the team's punter, was able to play. The team will play Saturday against Oklahoma A. & M. The others are John Medanic and Melvin Fowler, who will be out several weeks. John Morton, second-string fullback, was shifted to the position. Morton had no injuries on account of the fact it hasn't yet played a game. But the Owls will do so Saturday night when they meet Santa Clara in the new 70,000-seat stadium.

WT - NM League Vets Lowered From 8 to 6

Owners Ban Live Casting Of Games
LUBBOCK — (AP) — West Texas-New Mexico League club owners, in a special meeting at the Hilton Hotel here Monday, voted five to two with one owner passing, to lower the veteran maximum from eight to six; lower the limited service maximum from six to five; and raise the rookie minimum from two to five.

Milton E. Price, president, who called the special meeting, most of which was held behind closed doors, was elected president again for one year following the executive session. Briefly, other action included: 1 — Voting of a league rule to ban all live broadcasts of games, as well as telecasts of games while they were in progress. 2 — Set the opening date for April 20 and the tentative closing date as Sept. 5. 3 — Voted to reduce the number of games from 147 (voted just this past year) to 140 games, the number played from 1947 through 1949. 4 — Adopted the baseball made by the Spaulding company, breaking a long term contract held with the Wilson company. 5 — Discussed the possibility of making franchise changes, with such cities as El Paso, Wichita Falls and Roswell, N.M., prominently mentioned. 6 — Voted to attempt, through the National Association, to get Class C salaries raised from the present league limit of 3,200 dollars to a minimum of 4,000 dollars with a ceiling up to 4,500 dollars. 7 — Approved officially transfer changes during the year at Clovis, Lubbock, Pampa and Amarillo. The vote to change the player rule had no effect on the player limit, which was held at 16. But the action lowering the number of veterans came as a surprise. Price said afterwards that there was vigorous action against the move, but that the majority felt that the caliber of ball was too fast for a Class C League. In fact, the club owners declared that they were destroying the purpose of Class C ball by having so many veterans. It was their opinion that they weren't giving the first year players a fair deal. Grover Seitz, Pampa manager, was outspoken against the change after the closed session broke up. He declared that what the league had better do was to drop the classification to 7 veterans, 5 limited service and 4 rookies. The decision to prohibit live home game broadcasts, or telecasts, also brought some argument, but was passed with little or no trouble. Most of the club owners felt that live broadcasts definitely hurt attendance. The matter of the league's 1951 schedule was brought up during the morning session, which lasted two hours and accomplished little. Club owners expressed strong feeling against the 147-game 1950 schedule, which gave them long home stands and long road trips. Most of the owners felt that the trips were too hard on the players and that the home stands were too long to allow the home club to draw well. There was no argument about returning to the 140-game schedule. Price was instructed to have the schedule maker draw up a schedule similar to the one used in 1947 through 1949, which allowed an open date for the all-star game. Representatives of the Wilson and Spaulding companies appeared before the group and heard a discussion of the relative merits of the baseballs manufactured. They also were informed that the price of baseballs would go up with the 1951 season from 25.20 dollars a dozen to 28 dollars a dozen, with one dozen free for every three dozen purchased. In the past, clubs were given one dozen with two dozen purchased. Franchise changes, in view of Abilene's desire to become more centrally located, centered on the possibility of a swap with the Longhorn League. No definite action was taken, but El Paso, Wichita Falls and Roswell, N.M., also were mentioned as possibilities interested in joining the league. Club owners recognized the fact that salaries were out of line in the league and not in keeping with the times. Therefore, it was proposed to have the national association raise the salary limit for Class C leagues from 800 dollars to 1,500 dollars more than it is now. Discussion on salary limits for managers also was made, but no definite action was taken at this meeting. Following election of Price to another one year term, club owners elected R. Doug Mills of Pampa and John V. McCallister of Lubbock as Vice presidents. Present for the meeting were Hayden "Stubby" Greer of Abilene; H. G. "Cy" Fausett of Albuquerque; Buck Fausett of Amarillo; D. M. Spector and Abe Latman, Berger; C. H. Fisher, Clovis; Bill White, Fred Henderson, Dr. E. E. Nix and Walter Buckel, Lamesa; Mills, Seitz, and James Arndt, Pampa; and McCallister, Roy Davis and Royce Mills, Lubbock.

Goodman Heads AL Swatters
CHICAGO — (AP) — Barring a terrific slump, handyman Billy Goodman of the Boston Red Sox has a shot at clinching the American League batting championship, clicking at .355 with eight games to go. The portside, 24-year-old swinger, held a 17 point bulge over his nearest rival, George Kell of the Detroit Tigers. Kell, the 1949 champion, has seven games left. He won the crown last season with .342, a fraction above Boston's Ted Williams. Goodman slipped three points last week with five hits in 17 trips, but he did Kell who dropped to .338 with seven blows in 26 AB's.

Amateurs Tap Pros
DALLAS — (AP) — The amateurs handed the professional golfers a sound licking in the windup of the 18th annual Texas Cup matches. They won eight of 15 singles matches and tied two more for a two-day total of 13 1/2 to 8 1/2 points for the pros, led by Byron Nelson of Roanoke. Nelson turned back Raleigh Selby of Kilgore, 6 and 5, for one of five victories by the money players. A salary limit for Class C leagues from 800 dollars to 1,500 dollars more than it is now. Discussion on salary limits for managers also was made, but no definite action was taken at this meeting. Following election of Price to another one year term, club owners elected R. Doug Mills of Pampa and John V. McCallister of Lubbock as Vice presidents. Present for the meeting were Hayden "Stubby" Greer of Abilene; H. G. A fine example of a journalist jumping on his typewriter and writing off in 50 different directions is Paul Gardner's story in this month's True Magazine. Mr. Gardner's story is entitled "Oklahoma and the Touchdown Club." He starts it off by asking the question "How does a third rate college football team suddenly become one of the best in the country?" Then he goes to great length to point out that the touchdown club in Oklahoma City who is furnishing the touchdowns.

Oklahoma has been playing football since 1885 and win or lose they have always had a first rate team. Mr. Gardner rates a team whether they win or lose. A team could lose every game on its schedule and still be great.

I met Mr. Gardner when he arrived on the campus to write his story. At the time I thought it was going to be about Oklahoma football. He interviewed every one he could in the three short days he stayed there. Then he stopped on his way back to the True office by way of Maryland to get some nice quotes from Jim Tatum, Maryland coach, and former OU coach. He then sifted them out, tied them together and made quite a sensational story out of it.

If the quarterback club in Oklahoma City has 700 millionaires, I'll eat Mr. Gardner's story word by word. Apparently it was the first visit to Oklahoma for Mr. Gardner. He said everyone has a well pumping like crazy. How stupid. He also called Lindell Pearson the outstanding touchdown artist at Oklahoma in the last two seasons. This shows what Mr. Gardner knows about Oklahoma football. George Thomas, OU halfback, led the nation in scoring last year.

He also took time to dig up the Byron Townsend story. Townsend was offered a Cadillac convertible, $170 a month above room and board and $5000 when he graduated, by the quarterback club. He then threw in a dirty little dig that they must have a wonderful business-administration course down there at the University of Texas.

What a cute little saying by a typical eastern writer, who probably thought that Indians were still on the warpath and still carried scalp on their belts.

In winning the Star of the Year, Roy Parker hung up a very effective record in the WTNM League. Roy participated in 49 games and won 27 of them, setting a new league record. He completed 30 of the 49 starts. He started only four games which he failed to finish. In 297 1-3 innings pitched, Parker allowed 150 earned runs for an ERA of 4.54. He gave up 188 walks, struck out 250 batters, hit 8, committed 32 wild pitches and one balk. He issued 307 hits to opposing clubbers including 22 home runs.

Parker appeared in 51 games at other positions besides his 49 games as a pitcher. He ranked ninth in batting with an average of .366. Hit 21 home runs, 5 triples and 22 doubles in 266 official trips to the plate. He batted in 83 runs and scored 80 himself.

I would say that the League chose the right man for the Star of the Year.

Austin, McMurry Are Top Contenders
(By The Associated Press)
A chance to win the Texas Conference contenders Austin College and McMurry comes Saturday night when Austin entertains Midwestern University at Sherman.

McMurry last week beat Midwestern, defending Gulf Coast champion, 19-4. McMurry's next foe is West Texas State.

Ahlens Christian, 34-0 winner last week over Sul Ross, this week meets the University of Chattanooga in Tennessee. Howard Payne, which lost to Louisiana Tech, 27-20, meets New Mexico A. & M.

Southwestern, loser to Sam Houston State, 8-7, plays Stephen F. Austin and Texas A. & I., which took a 20-7 licking by Trinity, tries Southwest Texas State.

Austin last week downed Southeast Oklahoma, 26-0.

Rain forced the Harvesters, Guerrillas, and Reapers inside the school gym Monday and the gridsters worked out in tennis shoes.

Coach Tom Tipps had his charges working on defense and offense in preparation for their coming game with the Vernon eleven Friday night in Pampa.

Scouting reports from Vernon indicate the Harvesters will be in for a tough night this Friday. Vernon has always been a tough grid foe for the Harvesters. Pampa edged them last year by a score of 8 to 7. Vernon trampled Altus last Friday night, 33-7.

The Harvesters came out of the El Paso game with a minimum number of injuries. Harold Smith and Howard Musgraves suffered sprained ankles in the game last Friday. End Jimmy Cook didn't suit up Monday because of a charley horse.

The Guerrillas meet their next grid opponent Thursday when they go up against the Berger B team at Berger. Coach Davaine Lyons held a short skull drill and then moved into the gym after the Harvesters finished practice.

The Guerrillas lost their opener to Lefors last Friday, 27 - 14. Halfback Oscar Sargent tore his knee in the first few minutes of the game and will be sidelined for two or three weeks.

Coach Marvin Bowman will take his blue-clad Reapers to Amarillo Thursday to meet Sam Houston Junior High School. The Reapers won their opening game, 51-0, over Elizabeth Nixon of Amarillo.

Reapers Schedule:
Sept. 28, Sam Houston at Amarillo; Oct. 5, Horace Mann of Amarillo at Pampa; Oct. 12, Berger at Berger; Oct. 26, Elizabeth Nixon at Amarillo; Nov. 2, Sam Houston at Pampa; Nov. 9, Horace Mann at Amarillo; Nov. 16, Berger at Pampa.

Quarterback Club To Charter Bus To Wichita Falls
Approximately 100 members attended the Quarterback Club meeting in the Palm Room at city hall Monday night.

The club voted to charter a bus to Wichita Falls, Friday, October 6. Fans interested in making the trip by bus should phone in their reservation at 1583 M by Monday, Oct. 2. Cost of the round trip will be $5.50.

Coach Tom Tipps gave a run down of the El Paso-Pampa High School game played last Friday night. A scouting report of the Vernon eleven was also given.

All Is Well With Grimm, Burnett
DALLAS — (AP) — For the umpteenth time owner Dick Burnett of the Dallas ball club and his manager, Charlie Grimm, have denied they are setting Grimm's contract so Charlie won't be back next year.

The two met in St. Louis yesterday but they talked only about getting ball players and strengthening the club for the 1951 Texas League race.

"We talked of replacements and draftable ball players," Grimm declared. "My contract has two more years to run at $30,000 a year. Positively, I'll be back at Dallas next year and the year after that."

Burnett, who hired Grimm last season at the highest salary ever paid in the minor leagues, verified this in a telephone conversation with the Dallas News from Chicago.

Dixie Series Opens Tonight
NASHVILLE, Tenn. — (AP) — A battle of southpaws is projected for tonight's opening game of the Dixie Series in which San Antonio of the Texas League meets Nashville of the Southern Association.

Lou Sleater, with a 12-5 record and a 2-1 mark in the league play-offs in which San Antonio, fourth-place finishers in the Texas League, beat out Beaumont and Tulsa for the pennant, will oppose Bob Schulz, who had a 25-6 record for Nashville and won three games against no losses in the play-offs.

Nashville was third over the regular season route.

After the first two games here the clubs will go to San Antonio for the next three, beginning Friday. If the series goes to six or seven games, they will return here Oct. 3.

Jax Pop Corpus In Playoffs, 9-6
CORPUS CHRISTI — (AP) — Jacksonville's Jax were within one game of the Little Dixie Series championship today.

They beat Corpus Christi 9-6 last night to take a three-to-two lead in the scrum between the champions of the Gulf Coast and Rio Grande Valley Leagues.

Emilio Mozo homered in the eighth with the bases full to bring Jacksonville its victory.

Tunney Picks Louis To Flatten Charles

NEW YORK — (AP) — With the Joe Louis-Ezzard Charles fight only a day away, fight experts still were disagreeing violently on the outcome of the heavyweight championship bout at Yankee Stadium tomorrow night.

Gene Tunney, the only retired, undefeated heavyweight champion to stay retired, was among those on the Louis bandwagon.

Tunney and the others who predict a Louis victory, believe that Joe is going to catch Ezzard at least one, and that will be enough. A fighter's punch is the last thing he loses, and the Bomber, even at 38, hasn't shown any signs of weakness in the power department yet.

The Charles backers, headed by Fight Manager Vic Marsilio, wait that Ezzard is the most under-rated heavyweight challenger since Tunney, himself, first stepped into the ring against Dempsey.

Marsilio, a canny judge of boxing styles, not only believes that the 29-year old Cincinnati Negro will win, but that Charles will knock Louis out.

The bookmakers still have Louis the favorite at 1 to 2. If you like Louis to win by a knockout, it is even money. Six-to-five and pick 'em is the Charles term for this. If you like Charles by a knockout you can get 5 to 1 odds.

The bout, starting at 8 p.m. (CST), will be broadcast and televised by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Ratiff Comes Out With New Book On Sports

Do you think you could make a trip from San Antonio to San Francisco on nine dollars?

Mose Simms did and took the entire St. Mary's University football team with him.

Just how Simms accomplished this is told in "Towering Texans" (Naylor-$2.95), Harold V. Ratiff's second book on the great and near great sports in Texas.

Like his first book, "I Shook the Hand," this book is a collection of stories on some of the men who have made headlines. It includes a few who did not.

Ratiff, Texas Sports Editor of the Associated Press, comes from Hillsboro, Tex., a small Central Texas town. He says he still gets the "Country Boy" thrill out of sports and this book is frankly written in the expectation the reader feels the same.

He leads the book off with a little known story of L. R. (Dutch) Meyer, Texas Christian University football coach, and tells to illustrate just how a coach feels about his players.

In another chapter — one of the best of the forty — a boy's feeling for his coach is illustrated in a true life incident that happened on a tiny Pacific atoll in World War II.

"Towering Texans" is essentially a fine job of reporting. Ratiff weaves facts and figures smoothly into personalized accounts of men like Charley Moran, Matty Bell, Ben Hogan, J. Curtis Sanford, Leo Baldwin, Clyde Littlefield, Don Walker, Roy Bedichek, Andy Anderson, Fred Wolcott, and a host of others.

Musial Battles Robison for Batting Title
NEW YORK — (AP) — The National League between Stan Musial and Jackie Robinson — for the batting title, that is.

Currently, Musial, the St. Louis slugger, holds the upper hand with a .345 average. But Robinson, the defending champion, is closing fast. The Brooklyn second baseman boosted his average four points last week to .337, while Musial, who has been hampered by a cold, slipped seven markers.

Musial has connected for 185 hits — the most in the loop — in 538 at bats. Robinson, playing seven fewer games, has connected safely 161 times in 478 tries.

Brooklyn's young power man, Duke Snider, is tied with veteran Walker Cooper of the Boston declared. "My contract has two .316.

Mustang Passers Lead Conference With .652 Mark
DALLAS — (AP) — There's an aerial attack at Southern Methodist whose potency is exceeded only by its accuracy.

Also, there's the maddening question in the opposition's mind: Who's going to throw the pass?

First statistics of the Southwest Conference campaign show the Methodists to have an average of .652.

In opening the season against Georgia Tech last week, H.N. Russell, Jr., Kyle Rote, Johnny Champion and Fred Benner tried 23 passes and completed 15 for 228 yards. Russell was off accuracy himself with six out of six. Champion also batted 1.000 with one out of one. Rote got the most yardage, connecting on seven out of 13 for 120 yards.

Southern Methodist, however, is not the leader in passing yards at the conference. Texas completed 13 out of 22 against Texas Tech but gained 240 yards on those that were caught.

Texas A&M is the team offensive leader with 483 yards against Nevada but 374 of this was on the ground, making the Aggies the top running team of the conference.

Southern Methodist has the most individual leaders, furnishing the top man in total offense — Rote with 250 yards — and the leaders in punt returns and passing receiving.

Bill Richards of SMU ran two kicks back 69 yards to take the conference lead in this department while Ben White of Southern Methodist caught seven passes for 105 yards — one for a touchdown — to boast a wide edge.

Glenn Lippman, the chunky little Aggie back, who was pretty well throttled last season, stepped out against Nevada for 138 yards and the ball-carrying leadership. He beat out Rote by eight yards. Ben Tompkins, Texas quarterback, leads in passing with eight completions in 11 attempts for 148 yards. Rote is second with 120 yards.

The leading punter is Jim Hickley of Texas Christian, who booted six times against Kansas for an average of 39.5.

Browns and Yanks Could Make Football League All-American

By JOE KING
NEA Special Correspondent
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Wouldn't it be ironic if the Browns and the Yanks, escapists from the All-America Conference, played next December for the National League professional football title?

It isn't quite correct to label the Browns and the Yanks, escapists from the All-America Conference, played next December for the National League professional football title?

Sammy Baugh is having fun again. He revived his antique double-wing formation against the Colts, quick-kicked for 58 yards from it, instead of passing.

It's hard to believe that Greasy Neale, the Philadelphia coach, never saw the Cleveland club play before the Browns defeated his Eagles. The Lions' victory over the Packers was their first opening triumph since 1945, the first in Green Bay in 10 years.

A Ted Collins-owned club never won an exhibition until Red Strader obliged him this year.

They say George Halas screamed about weak Chicago Bear pass defense after the victory in Los Angeles, but a 21-20 score doesn't look like aerial murder. The Rams seemed to have the weakness as Sid Luckman tossed. The 1900 Packer tuck-headers felt the need to issue a statement professing faith in Gene Ronzani after the 45-7 loss to Detroit. The coach would rather have a few more qualified players.

There is no scoreboard in Baltimore's Babe Ruth Stadium, a soothing note for Colt fans, who don't have to look at the figures against their side. The Giants, eager to improve their pass-catching, signed Jim Duncan, a six-foot two, 205 - pound Wake Forest star. Jim was on the Bears' reserve list, was picked up by the Browns in the distribution of surplus men, traded to the Lions, who let him go when the 32-man player limit squeeze came on.

perience in the disbanded circuit. So you might say, the Yanks are the AAC representatives in the National Conference of the NFL, as the Browns are in the American Conference.

The Yanks squeezed by a genuine AAC survivor in San Francisco, then headed for Los Angeles to face last year's number two team of the NFL, the Rams.

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Exclusively Yours: A Hollywood burlesque queen is getting ready to cash in on the publicity raging around Ernest Hemingway's new novel, "Across the River and Into the Trees."

The take-it-off exponent will do a number tagged:

Actress Ruth Chatterton's scribbling contract with Columbia calls for her to receive solo screen play credit on her novel, "Home-ward Bound." It's slated as Margaret Sullivan's next starrer... A full-length Charlie Chaplin biography, titled "Charlie Chaplin," is being cooked up by writer Richard Lauterback and Harper's, Jeanette MacDonald will do another 21-city concert tour in the fall.

HUNTS QUARRY
Janet Leigh and a major studio screen test are the reasons for actor Bob Quarry scouting out of the cast of Katherine Hepburn's "As You Like It." The angel in the background of the Dean Harte-Jerry Lewis independent, "At War With the Army," is Ralph Stolk, a Chicago millionaire... Scott Brady is no longer bound to Eagle-Lion. The contract was dissolved by mutual agreement a month ago and now Scott's expecting his career to zoom.

There's been no tub-thumping about it, but Columbia's "The Hero" carries an 85-day shooting schedule—a record for the studio. The same lot just set another record. "Born Yesterday" was completed on Saturday and sneak previewed the following Tuesday.

BRAT AND BUTLER
Lois Butler has the inside track on the role of the 15-year-old brat with Linda Darnell in "The Last Letter" at Fox... Ray Milland is champing at his Paramount bit to do a Broadway play... Katherine Hepburn and Humphrey Bogart go before the cameras in "The African Queen" with John Huston sitting in the director's chair, in March of 1951.

They've changed their minds about making young Tony Curtis another John Garfield over at U-I. He gets swathed in silks and brocade and surrounded by slant-eyed wenches in "The Prince Was a Thief."

"This is a great thing for me," Tony told me. "I thought I'd have to play hoodlums. Every day I go to the back lot with climbing boots and rope, and scale all the old sets just like Doug Fairbanks. It's a ball."

Tony was Bernie Schwartz as an actor in New York. He tells of limping home from the set he made for "The Prince"—"a busted toe, bleeding knuckles, everything. I was a wreck," he wails—and seeing his mother's stricken face as he stumbled to his bed.

A few minutes later his mother came to his room, looked down at her panting son and said in the tone which mothers generally take with sons who are sand-hogs, test pilots or human cannon balls: "Earnie, darling, give it up."

RKO-Gloria Grahame Tiff Revealed by Angry Actress

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (P) — Gloria Grahame is mad.

The blonde actress believes that her career has taken a kicking around from her studio, RKO. Her contract will be ended after she finishes her current picture, "Macao." Usually when a player's contract is over, the announcement says "the parting was amicable." This is not true in Gloria's case.

"This is my part in 'Macao,'" she said, showing me three pages from the script. "That is all." The gal, who drew an Academy nomination for "Crossfire" and just co-starred with Humphrey Bogart, couldn't understand it. "I guess they offered me the part hoping I would take a suspension," she said. "They could keep me on suspension for a year. But I fooled them. I took the role. I guess that makes them even madder. Now they have to let me go."

Gloria said she hadn't worked at the studio for a year and a half.

"I took suspensions," she said. "First they wanted me to play a second lead to Ava Gardner, before that a second lead to Lorraine Day. They also wanted me to play in B pictures. I refused. 'Meanwhile, I had a chance to play the Shelley Winters role in 'A Place in the Sun.' The studio wouldn't let me. I also had a chance to get 'Born Yesterday,' Again they said no."

She hinted that the powers may have gotten mad at her because she took a test for "Born Yesterday" at another studio without RKO's knowledge.

Not-So-Swelligant McMomore Flies Home With Upper Crust

By HENRY McLEMORE
NEW YORK — Either I have tremendous poise for a tremendous lack of sense, else I wouldn't have reached New York today via Pan American's deluxe President flight from London.

After nearly four months of beating the highways and byways of the Middle East and the continent I know I didn't look right, walking along the red carpet at the London airport and boarding this classy flying machine.

I carefully avoided the full length mirror in my London hotel room before leaving for the airport, but an old friend set me straight as to my appearance shortly after I got there. He was Fred Tupper, a newspaper acquaintance of mine before he took over the public relations job for Pan-Am in London.

"What plane are you leaving on," Tupper asked me.

"Why, your President flight," I answered.

"There must be some mix-up somewhere," he said. "Let me see your tickets. The President doesn't carry steerage passengers."

While Tupper was busy taking care of a lady, wearing what must have been a Balmain or Fath suit, and a gentleman whose clothes whispered Saville Row at every step, I went and took a look at myself.

One glance and I knew what Tupper was talking about. My seersucker coat sagged at every place a seersucker can sag — and that's everywhere. The Barrymore collar of my nylon shirt had a hole in it big enough to poke a mouse through. My spotted tie and trousers didn't exactly match as I had gathered the spots at different times and different places.

I badly needed a haircut because I don't trust foreign barbers. Experience has taught me that for some reason foreign barbers want every scrap of my hair when they cut it. Whether they stuff lockets or mattresses with it, I don't know, but I do know they always leave me looking like a bush.

My luggage wasn't calculated to cause screams of admiration from the other passengers, either. We bought it in South America years ago, and it is just about at the end of its rope — meaning the rope that we have to tie around it to keep it from bursting open.

But the plane hadn't been more than two free martinis aloft before I was talking the ear off the lady in the seat across from me. I told her of all the places I had been since May, and after the free champagne I told her all about a lot of places I have never visited. The lady who was kind enough to listen to the tales of my travels — true and supposed — was Mrs. John D. Rockefeller III, and I have a sneaking suspicion she had visited all the places I told her about long before I had enough money to buy a daycoach ticket from Atlanta to Savannah.

Crossing the ocean on a Stratocruiser never ceases to fascinate.

Bloodshed Feared If Negroes Enter Whites' Schools

ATLANTA — (P) — Gov. Herman Talmadge said yesterday any attempt by Negroes to enter traditionally white public schools in Georgia "would create more confusion, disorder, riots, and bloodshed than anything since the War Between the States."

Talmadge said that his mail has reached a new record since the filing of a federal court suit in Atlanta seeking to end racial segregation in public schools.

Talmadge said Georgians have insisted in letters and in personal calls that they would never accept a court order ending segregation.

One told him, he said, "our rifles are ready."

Judging from the reaction reaching him, Talmadge said, "There are not enough troops or police in the United States to enforce such an order."

"Ninety-eight percent of the white people of Georgia and 95 percent of the Negroes want to maintain our pattern of segregation in schools."

"It is the most deeply rooted social custom in our area."

The suit was filed last week.

Fair Enough-Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Judge George B. Harris, of the federal court, who conducted the Harry Bridges trial, has written three articles in a lawyers' trade journal in which he charges me with inaccurate, incomplete and untrue statements. He says they were made in a column about the execution of the trial of a letter written by Eleanor Roosevelt to the wife of Mervyn Rathbone.

Rathbone formerly was president of the American Communication Association of the CIO. He was a member of the Communist party for years, including the two weeks that he and his wife and child spent in the White House as Mrs. Roosevelt's guests. He left the party and gave testimony against Bridges. Mrs. Roosevelt recently took the line that associations which were innocent a few years ago are not innocent now.

Judge Harris is not specific. He seems to base his charge on the observation in the article that no "evidence" was adduced to show that she was a security risk. But I did not say any such evidence was "adduced." He knows I did not write that. I said evidence to this effect was "produced" by the trial as a whole. Not "adduced" but "produced."

The letter from Mrs. Roosevelt to the wife of a Communist implied beyond serious question that she had access to the F.B.I. files concerning Communists. The particular file was that of Kermit Charles Kroek, a brother-in-law of Rathbone. He and Rathbone married sisters. No person that friendly with Communists is a good security risk or ex-Communist. In fact no unauthorized person is supposed to be allowed to see such files.

She certainly was not an "authorized" person and she has been flagrantly careless if not guilty in her associations. Judge Harris writes: "The trial testimony did not establish that Mrs. Roosevelt was able to get her hands on any F.B.I. files or reports relating to Bridges." That is misleading. The judge knows no statement was made that she examined files on Bridges. The Kroek file was the only one referred to.

No letter suggesting that she had access to confidential information was offered in evidence," he writes. Nor did I say it was "offered in evidence." On the contrary, as Judge Harris knows, I said it was withheld. However, he fails to disclose the fact that he read the letter.

"It is possible," he says, "that she may have written a letter to a friend or friends of the defendant some nine years before the record is taken. The record is barren because it was kept out after Judge Harris read it."

The judge writes further that the defense attorneys asked a question about the letter but that the question did not imply that Mrs. Roosevelt had had access to confidential information. Again the judge is misleading. I did not even discuss this defense question much less suggest that it made any implication whatsoever.

"Furthermore," he continues, "no offer or proof was made by counsel for the defendant of any letter written by Mrs. Roosevelt." There was no offer of course no such proof was offered by the defense. Nor did I say they offered it. They couldn't get their hands on it.

"As a matter of fact," he says, "the record discloses that Mrs. Roosevelt may have written a letter to Mrs. Rathbone in 1941. Its contents were and are unknown." Unknown to whom? To the defense? Yes. To the record? Yes. To the public? Yes.

"But 'unknown'—Judge Harris? No. Judge Harris held it in his hand and read it and he knows its contents.

As a matter of fact, I'd be ashamed of myself and of American nationalism or patriotism if Eleanor endorsed us. I would think there was something seriously wrong with us. After all, we didn't pull strings to bring into the United States a good many alien Communists. We didn't confer with Earl Browder in the White House. We didn't pamper and coddle the Eislers, Hisses, Lashes and Young Communist Leaguers. We didn't back a man in the White House who, on the advice of Acheson, turned over the Orient to Stalin in a secret treaty—which is directly responsible for American boys now shedding their blood in Korea.

There's another thing we American nationalists didn't do. We didn't advocate American entanglement in foreign affairs—on the advice of George Washington. We didn't advocate the United Nations or super world government or "globalism." Our boys are fighting under the United Nations flag. The present presiding executive of the United Nations group is Jacob Malik of Russia. This our men are fighting under the direction of a world organization headed by a Russian Communist and they are being killed by tanks, bombers and training furnished by that same Communist Russia. No, I am happy to say, American nationalists had absolutely nothing to do with having involved their country in such a mess. Call us isolationists, if you will, but we cannot be charged with treason, helping a former President sell us out to Russia, giving Communists a big hug and kiss at home, jumping into the world frying pan and helping bring about total collectivization and conscription. I am more than glad to let Mrs. Roosevelt and her big following among our citizenry who hate "internationalism" that produced all of the foregoing. They are welcome to the honor, if any.

It may be argued that there are many things patriots "didn't do" but what did they do and what are they doing? It is better not to do anything than to do a wrong thing the wrong way.

Eleanor Again

By DAVID BAXTER

Eleanor Roosevelt, who seems to think she is still our First Lady (and the last one of her kind, we hope) is not among my admirers — if any. It is difficult for me to think about Eleanor without also remembering the adage, "Oh what tangled webs we weave when first we practice to deceive."

The lady has recently been in England. You know she gets around. Why, during the war, when everyone else had gas rationing, she utilized an American bomber to fly half way around the world to visit her "protégé," Joe Lash, who was stationed in the South Pacific and who formerly had a private room in the White House. Joe was the young Bolshevik-type who always had a big welcome in the First Lady's inner circles.

During her British sojourn she is quoted as deploring the fact that "Nationalism" exists in America and that alleged "nationalist" newspapers or periodicals find their way to England. She also refers to "reactionary industrialists" in America, which probably sits well with the British socialist government. We all know how good America is at confounding the reactionary ideas and private enterprise while England has under its sterling socialist leadership, risen to prosperity, a commanding position in world affairs, and practically a utopian civilization. Unfortunately, the British people don't know it. If their recent vote was any indication, they don't appreciate the wonderful things the socialist planners have done for the world. The Australians and New Zealanders didn't appreciate socialism, planned, conscript government, either, after several years of it. They got rid of it by a whacking big vote.

No, Eleanor doesn't approve of our reactionaries or our nationalism. Since the only known alternative to "reactionary" free enterprise and rugged individualism is socialism or collectivism, I realize that the lady is a socialist and collectivist. In the same token, the only alternative to nationalism is internationalism. Therefore I conclude that, since she is against nationalism (nationalism) she must be an internationalist. Is that logical?

To be sure, Mrs. Roosevelt has a lot of friends in America. If recent polls are accurate, a majority of our citizens want what she wants. Which doesn't mean a thing to some of us who are not influenced by what a lot of people want but by principles and a code of morals on what is right and what is wrong. It's wrong to seal or covet or throw away a Declaration of Independence, whether Mrs. Roosevelt and a majority think it is or not. Unless I'm badly mistaken our "internationalist-collectivist-democratic" conspiring majority will go the way the English, Australians and New Zealanders, with the same results. They will have to learn the hard way, it seems. Whether they will be as lucky as the Aussies and New Zealanders in getting rid of what they want, however, is problematical. By that time they may have let the World Federalists get us into one big world government as a state and there will be no getting out.

As a matter of fact, I'd be ashamed of myself and of American nationalism or patriotism if Eleanor endorsed us. I would think there was something seriously wrong with us. After all, we didn't pull strings to bring into the United States a good many alien Communists. We didn't confer with Earl Browder in the White House. We didn't pamper and coddle the Eislers, Hisses, Lashes and Young Communist Leaguers. We didn't back a man in the White House who, on the advice of Acheson, turned over the Orient to Stalin in a secret treaty—which is directly responsible for American boys now shedding their blood in Korea.

There's another thing we American nationalists didn't do. We didn't advocate American entanglement in foreign affairs—on the advice of George Washington. news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The November elections and control of the next Congress will not be decided by the American people's reaction to such grave issues as the Korean war, the Russian satellite, the shadowing of the United States and rearmament, if recent primary and caucus results are any criterion. Both full-time and part-time statesmen on Capitol Hill are reeling from their reading of the returns.

Grassroots and sidewalk checkups with the constituents, hurriedly made because of the confusing voting pattern, seem to corroborate this theory. The folks in cities and rural areas, both Democrats and Republicans, are not nearly so interested in the doings of the Achesons, Maliks, Vishniskis, the heroes of the news in their local, bread-and-butter problems.

IMMUNIZED — The Korean affair is unpopular and senseless, in their opinion, but they want to and expect to win after our false start. They recognize the gravity of the Moscow menace, but they cannot believe that the so-called democratic and civilized nations can be conquered or destroyed through Communist assault or conspiracies.

Having survived history's most tragic depression and war, they have a deep and sometimes cynical faith that the current "crisis," like the others, will touch them only lightly and pass away. Indeed, their psychology seems so accustomed to a constant "crisis" atmosphere that they have become immunized.

DANGER — Almost every segment of the population is working, making more money and spending it as if they expected the flow to go on forever. They grouse about the prospect of higher taxes, other people's higher wages, possible shortages, another round of inflation, but they don't seem to care. They are spending money in their pockets and the bank, and by a greater sense of social security.

Republican strategists admit it, off the record, that this happy-go-lucky attitude, which amounts to political apathy, constitutes their greatest and most serious danger. They fear that even the confusion and admitted mistakes at Washington will not lead voters to turn out the "ins."

CONTESTS — Two recent contests involving controversial figures and grave issues have disconcerted the professional politicians and forced a revision of their campaign plans. On the basis of these returns, they will wage a down-to-earth and visit-the-voter battle.

In Maryland, Senator Millard E. Tydings won renomination overwhelmingly, although his opponents felt they had an excellent chance to defeat him. They based their strategy on his chairmanship of the Senate committee which investigated the McCarthy charges against alleged "Communists and fellow-travelers" in the government.

They branded his report as a "whitewash," especially his inquiry into the American case. They linked this indictment with the reminder that his father-in-law, Joseph E. Davies, had been ambassador to Moscow, and had outgrown Stalin and the Russian system in his famous book entitled "Mission to Moscow."

CONTRASTING — As against the Tydings triumph, Governor William Preston Lane barely obtained renomination, and lost the popular vote to an almost unknown Baltimore lawyer. Governor Lane's offense was that he had imposed a 2 percent sales tax to build schools and roads neglected by his predecessor.

But as for what we are doing, we are doing a bit of educating in American principles. We are fighting a "civilized" battle on the home front. We are teaching principles while our men are fighting abroad. Realizing we are in a mess—no matter how we got there—and will now have to fight our way out, we are trying to do our little bit to help our country return to sanity and avoid making the same mistakes again. Just a voice crying in the wilderness.

INSIDE YOUR CONGRESS

By RALPH W. GWINN, Distinguished Member of Congress, Lecturer and Author

A BLACK DAY IN THE CAPITOL

Whenever you come into Washington, whether it be on the first thrilling visit or the 50th visit, you see the shining dome of the Capitol. It stands above the city, graceful alike in the light and shadow of the day and unbelievably white against the darkness of the night. It is the perfect symbol of freedom. Under this dome, the force and violence of executive power can be held in restraint by laws made by a body of representatives chosen by their fellow citizens.

I never see the Capitol without joy and the thought that our country has been both a symbol and a working model of freedom under the limitation of government. Our country is a brief interlude in the long history of despotism and the so-called Lobby Committee. It was set up to investigate lobbying; instead, the power has been used to harass private citizens and cut off their contributions to the opposition.

For example, it spent weeks searching, seizing and prowling around in the offices of the Committee for Constitutional Government. That Committee has, for years, been publishing excellent books and pamphlets describing the New Deal and its Communist allies. Such books are: John T. Flynn's "THE ROAD AHEAD"; Thomas James Norton's "THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES; ITS SOURCES AND APPLICATION"; Melchior should be watched to see that they walk in a normal manner and not with their toes turned too far in or out. It probably is not practical for all children—but it would often be good for their feet—if they could walk barefoot in the summer. (Caution: children who do go barefoot should be given tetanus or lockjaw shots, and should be warned to be careful where they step.)

SPECIAL EXERCISES

Much can be done for the child or grownup who actually has flat feet. Usually the treatment involves a careful and slow rebuilding of the arches. This is frequently done by adding slowly layer after layer of thin felt inside the shoe at the proper places. Of course the shoe itself has to be carefully fitted and often a bar is placed on the outside of the shoe under the instep.

Patients with flat feet are also often given special exercises such as grasping the edge of a rug with their toes, or walking around the room in their stocking feet on the outside edges of the feet. Sometimes they are also given contrast foot baths; that is, placing their feet alternately in very warm and cold water in order to stimulate the circulation.

All this sounds like a lot of trouble but a great many have found it worthwhile, and have relieved serious discomfort in their feet, and often have felt much better generally, as a result of a few months' attention to this important part of the anatomy.

Remember that we are finding more and more of an infiltration of Communists well-trained in the techniques of silencing the opposition.

This is war time, but it is a war against unrestrained power of the Communists abroad and at home. While our men fight abroad for the freedom of the Republic and of other nations, we should elect a Congress of strong men, whether Democrats or Republicans, who will make sure the Republic is not destroyed by a little band of power-seekers and their Communist allies at home.

Will Russians "Take A Walk?"

Whatever its ultimate success, the landing of U. S. forces behind the North Korean lines in the Inchon-Seoul area is a bold and imaginative maneuver. It's a courageous play for high stakes.

The move tells us a good deal. It shows our military leaders are willing to take big risks to shorten the Korean war and save lives. They're playing for a swift collapse of the enemy, an objective that seemed almost impossible to achieve by normal line-bucking methods even with a great weight of munitions and men.

Americans can well be proud of the top-ranking soldiers and Navy men and Marines who conceived, planned and carried out this assault. They all appear to have a stout grip on reality. They know time means loss of money, equipment and the expenditure of lives.

Possibly there's even more to it than that. So long as the U. S. and the Allied United Nations forces were merely standing off the enemy against the day when they'd be built up sufficiently for a slugging offensive, Russia could put off the crucial decisions it must make about Korea.

Will she throw more and more help into the battle on the North Korean side? Will she ally with her own soldiers, to prevent the seizure of all Korea by Allied armies? Will she persuade the Chinese Communists to join the fight, knowing the war would then last perhaps years?

Such questions like these that the Soviet leaders have got to settle for themselves. The luxury of thrashing them out in the leisure of a long winter goes by our attack, assuming its continued success, we confront Russia with the necessity for making up her mind now. To delay too long could be to lose everything.

It's a common thing these days to hear that Moscow unfortunately but inevitably always has the initiative in this titanic struggle between freedom and tyranny. Let's say often—but not always.

American leaders have afforded the world a timely demonstration of a fact that too many people may have forgotten, that imagination and resourcefulness in this fight are not a monopoly of Russian communism.

So They Say

We need a war minister for Europe with the powers of a war minister. And it is not necessary to go outside to find a man with the necessary prestige and experience (Churchill).

Paul Reynaud, former French premier.

Washington.....by Peter Edson

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

(Peter Edson on vacation) WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Every once in a while a senator's morning mail will produce something a little different from the average request for some favor. For instance, the following was sent to Sen. Andrew Schoepel (R., Kan.):

"Received your written speech of last week and had thrown it aside as I figured it did not amount to anything. Later on I noticed it and was running wild in my elevator and had nothing to do so I thought I might as well read it. And I must assure you that I figured out in my mind in my life when I found out that it was interesting. I want to compliment you for what you said."

"USUALLY RELIABLE SOURCE" It probably doesn't mean much to the average reader but Pentagon officers, officials and "spokesmen" are pretty fussy about how statements they make in connection with the war and mobilization are attributed to them, although it has become the practice not to mention actual names. Here's the guide:

When a "Defense official" says something it's supposed to be the important man in the secretary of Defense's office. Any kind of a military or Pentagon "spokesman" is a public relations man. An "authoritative source" is supposed to be at least a general or assistant secretary, or better. A "Pentagon rumor" is usually something a public relations man is trying to get cleared for publication.

A "military authority" or "expert" can be any former service man from private up to any one in that group on active duty. When something has to be "flatly denied" by Pentagon authorities it's probably a junior officer in public relations or a low-paid civilian.

Just "Pentagon sources" usually means stenographers or messenger boys. AEC STUMBLER

It involves a chemical analysis of molecules of fat, made possible recently by the use of the AEC machine.

NO DICE PLAY

Rudolph Halley, counsel for the Senate committee investigating organized crime in the U. S., has gotten such a reputation as a crime-buster that he finds it difficult to meet away for vacation without causing a furor. When he arrived at Atlantic City recently to try to get a few days rest it set up a great commotion and all of the resort's gambling spots immediately closed for the duration of his "rest."

DEAD WATCHDOG

Without anyone noticing it, the joint congressional ECA watchdog committee was eliminated in the omnibus appropriations bill. However, the staff is being kept intact and has been taken over by the Senate Appropriations Committee and will be called the sub-committee on foreign aid.

ECA officials don't care for the watchdog's work and thought they had it killed when they talked House members into approving its demise. The senators, however, felt its work should continue and took it over.

MONKEYS' FEM

The son of Sen. Bill Jenner (R., Ind.) has figured out why the fighting has been so tough in Korea. The other morning at breakfast he informed his dad: "No wonder they're having such a tough time over there with all those gorillas you keep hearing about on the radio on their side."

LEAGION CAUGHT OFF BASE

American Legion officials were caught flat-footed when the president announced that he wouldn't go all out for universal military training at this time. Believing he would, Legion officials had mapped out an elaborate campaign for local posts to carry out in communities all over the country in behalf of U.M.T. All the promotion material was already in the mail when the president's decision was announced. So all the decision makers were left in the lurch until some time later. BONUS REQUEST DROPPED

The coming Legion convention in Los Angeles should see the end of that organization's demand for a big bonus to carry out which almost got through the Congress last session. "It would have cost the taxpayers billions. The Legion's constitution has been changed and convention mandates no longer carry over from one year to the next. Each national convention has to formulate a brand-new set of legislative goals. And it's believed certain that a request for a bonus will not be considered this year in view of the Korean crisis. CHARTER CHANGES

All veterans' organizations will soon have to face the issue of taking in veterans of the Korean fighting. Most of the big veterans' organizations now have charters which would have to be changed to let in Korean veterans. TOO MUCH FAT

U. S. Department of Agriculture is getting worried about the big oversupply of both edible and inedible animal fats coming soon. During and just after the war this was one of the critically short items at home and abroad. Now, however, the increased production that was encouraged has gone too far. There's a surplus of an annual surplus of about 1.5 billion pounds unless something is done about it. The department has hired a private research outfit to try to find a new market for fats. GET OUR MONEY BACK

Most of the $150 million Mexico will receive from their new Export-Import Bank loan will go for new highways and railroads. It will involve the purchase of much road building equipment from the U. S.

The lady has recently been in England. You know she gets around. Why, during the war, when everyone else had gas rationing, she utilized an American bomber to fly half way around the world to visit her "protégé," Joe Lash, who was stationed in the South Pacific and who formerly had a private room in the White House. Joe was the young Bolshevik-type who always had a big welcome in the First Lady's inner circles.

During her British sojourn she is quoted as deploring the fact that "Nationalism" exists in America and that alleged "nationalist" newspapers or periodicals find their way to England. She also refers to "reactionary industrialists" in America, which probably sits well with the British socialist government. We all know how good America is at confounding the reactionary ideas and private enterprise while England has under its sterling socialist leadership, risen to prosperity, a commanding position in world affairs, and practically a utopian civilization. Unfortunately, the British people don't know it. If their recent vote was any indication, they don't appreciate the wonderful things the socialist planners have done for the world. The Australians and New Zealanders didn't appreciate socialism, planned, conscript government, either, after several years of it. They got rid of it by a whacking big vote.

No, Eleanor doesn't approve of our reactionaries or our nationalism. Since the only known alternative to "reactionary" free enterprise and rugged individualism is socialism or collectivism, I realize that the lady is a socialist and collectivist. In the same token, the only alternative to nationalism is internationalism. Therefore I conclude that, since she is against nationalism (nationalism) she must be an internationalist. Is that logical?

To be sure, Mrs. Roosevelt has a lot of friends in America. If recent polls are accurate, a majority of our citizens want what she wants. Which doesn't mean a thing to some of us who are not influenced by what a lot of people want but by principles and a code of morals on what is right and what is wrong. It's wrong to seal or covet or throw away a Declaration of Independence, whether Mrs. Roosevelt and a majority think it is or not. Unless I'm badly mistaken our "internationalist-collectivist-democratic" conspiring majority will go the way the English, Australians and New Zealanders, with the same results. They will have to learn the hard way, it seems. Whether they will be as lucky as the Aussies and New Zealanders in getting rid of what they want, however, is problematical. By that time they may have let the World Federalists get us into one big world government as a state and there will be no getting out.

As a matter of fact, I'd be ashamed of myself and of American nationalism or patriotism if Eleanor endorsed us. I would think there was something seriously wrong with us. After all, we didn't pull strings to bring into the United States a good many alien Communists. We didn't confer with Earl Browder in the White House. We didn't pamper and coddle the Eislers, Hisses, Lashes and Young Communist Leaguers. We didn't back a man in the White House who, on the advice of Acheson, turned over the Orient to Stalin in a secret treaty—which is directly responsible for American boys now shedding their blood in Korea.

There's another thing we American nationalists didn't do. We didn't advocate American entanglement in foreign affairs—on the advice of George Washington. We didn't advocate the United Nations or super world government or "globalism." Our boys are fighting under the United Nations flag. The present presiding executive of the United Nations group is Jacob Malik of Russia. This our men are fighting under the direction of a world organization headed by a Russian Communist and they are being killed by tanks, bombers and training furnished by that same Communist Russia. No, I am happy to say, American nationalists had absolutely nothing to do with having involved their country in such a mess. Call us isolationists, if you will, but we cannot be charged with treason, helping a former President sell us out to Russia, giving Communists a big hug and kiss at home, jumping into the world frying pan and helping bring about total collectivization and conscription. I am more than glad to let Mrs. Roosevelt and her big following among our citizenry who hate "internationalism" that produced all of the foregoing. They are welcome to the honor, if any.

It may be argued that there are many things patriots "didn't do" but what did they do and what are they doing? It is better not to do anything than to do a wrong thing the wrong way.

Whenever you come into Washington, whether it be on the first thrilling visit or the 50th visit, you see the shining dome of the Capitol. It stands above the city, graceful alike in the light and shadow of the day and unbelievably white against the darkness of the night. It is the perfect symbol of freedom. Under this dome, the force and violence of executive power can be held in restraint by laws made by a body of representatives chosen by their fellow citizens.

I never see the Capitol without joy and the thought that our country has been both a symbol and a working model of freedom under the limitation of government. Our country is a brief interlude in the long history of despotism and the so-called Lobby Committee. It was set up to investigate lobbying; instead, the power has been used to harass private citizens and cut off their contributions to the opposition.

For example, it spent weeks searching, seizing and prowling around in the offices of the Committee for Constitutional Government. That Committee has, for years, been publishing excellent books and pamphlets describing the New Deal and its Communist allies. Such books are: John T. Flynn's "THE ROAD AHEAD"; Thomas James Norton's "THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES; ITS SOURCES AND APPLICATION"; Melchior should be watched to see that they walk in a normal manner and not with their toes turned too far in or out. It probably is not practical for all children—but it would often be good for their feet—if they could walk barefoot in the summer. (Caution: children who do go barefoot should be given tetanus or lockjaw shots, and should be warned to be careful where they step.)

SPECIAL EXERCISES

Much can be done for the child or grownup who actually has flat feet. Usually the treatment involves a careful and slow rebuilding of the arches. This is frequently done by adding slowly layer after layer of thin felt inside the shoe at the proper places. Of course the shoe itself has to be carefully fitted and often a bar is placed on the outside of the shoe under the instep.

Patients with flat feet are also often given special exercises such as grasping the edge of a rug with their toes, or walking around the room in their stocking feet on the outside edges of the feet. Sometimes they are also given contrast foot baths; that is, placing their feet alternately in very warm and cold water in order to stimulate the circulation.

All this sounds like a lot of trouble but a great many have found it worthwhile, and have relieved serious discomfort in their feet, and often have felt much better generally, as a result of a few months' attention to this important part of the anatomy.

Remember that we are finding more and more of an infiltration of Communists well-trained in the techniques of silencing the opposition.

This is war time, but it is a war against unrestrained power of the Communists abroad and at home. While our men fight abroad for the freedom of the Republic and of other nations, we should elect a Congress of strong men, whether Democrats or Republicans, who will make sure the Republic is not destroyed by a little band of power-seekers and their Communist allies at home.

Governor Due To Speak at Borger Event

BORGER — Governor Allan Shivers' name has been added to the growing list of well known people who will be in Borger to help celebrate the Pathfinder "Know Your Own Strength" week. Shivers is coming to Borger to participate in the dedication of the new Hotel Borger. The governor will make a speech at the dedication ceremonies which will be held outside of the hotel at 3:00 o'clock on October 17. This will make the formal opening of the Hotel Borger.

Plans are underway to select a celebration queen to reign over the week's festivities. The winner of the contest will be crowned "Miss Oil Progress" at the Kick-Off Breakfast on Monday, October 16. Doing the honors will be the Texas Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd. Shepperd will also formally open the industrial exposition on the same day.

Following the kick-off breakfast the queen will be escorted to the chamber of commerce float and ride in the giant parade that will begin at 10 a.m. on Monday, October 16. The parade will be led by the well known Hardin-Simmons Cowboy Band and will have bands from 12 neighboring towns. Beautifully decorated floats have been entered in the parade by 43 Borger merchants and clubs. Indications are that this parade will be the outstanding parade of the Panhandle.

Daily, more firms are entering displays in the industrial exposition which will be set up at 10th and Main Streets in Borger. This will be an educational as well as entertaining feature of the celebration. The women of the Panhandle will find the cooking school and appliance show of special interest.

Borger is expecting visitors from far and wide to number between 40 and 50 thousand to come to the celebration, known as "Know Your Own Strength."

Pathfinder Magazine, the national magazine that is giving Borger its backing, will soon publish their "Know Your Own Strength" edition in honor of the Borger celebration. The edition is expected to be on the newsstands early in October.

U.S. Officers, Men Worry About Japanese Romances

By HAL BOYLE

KOREA — (AP) — It was night and the clean, neat stars looked down on a bit of the earth darkened by blood stains and don't know.

The captain was one of thousands of American soldiers here who look forward more eagerly to mail from Japan than from the United States. He explained: "She is the widow of a Japanese naval officer and I hired her as my housekeeper. Hell, I had no idea of starting an affair like so many of our kids over here do.

"I am a bachelor and getting toward middle age. And I had been over here a long time with the Army. Somehow or other I just gradually fell in love with this widow. Just why I don't know.

"Maybe it's because she tried so hard to please me. I don't have any family left and I guess I really didn't have anyone who cared whether I lived or died. She made me feel important again."

"I have a small farm back in Michigan," he said. "And when this is over I am going to marry her and take her home. I don't care what obstacles are in the way. And I'm not worried about what the neighbors will say. I think they'll like her, as a matter of fact."

A few days later I met an Air Force sergeant who was considerably less idealistic about his romance than the captain.

"If I married her and took her back to the States she'd probably get like all the others — lazy, and wanting a man to buy her everything in sight," he said.

Most Japanese naturally resent these unions, legal or illicit, between their women and foreign soldiers. And the hundreds of native sweethearts who have been deserted and left behind by American soldiers returning home get a cold shoulder from their own people. So do their fatherless children.

However, I heard an elderly Japanese man praise these liaisons as a beneficial thing — by and large.

"I have lived long enough to know there will never be true peace in the world until all the races are mingled," he said.

A guest then mentioned he had heard that the old man's own youngest daughter was soon to be wed.

"Ah, yes," said the aged philosopher, raising a sake cup to his lips, "she is marrying a Japanese banker — a wonderful fellow."
