Red Threatens War of Nerves

By THOMAS A. REEDY
BERLIN — (AP) — A leading Communist said Saturday the East Germans and the Russians were deliberately reviving their war of nerves in this four-power capital.

This official, a member of the Socialist Unity (Communist) party's central committee, declared: "We want to show the western occupation powers that they and their handy men can sleep quietly in Berlin only if we want it."

He said West Berlin will be harassed every time the Communists see a "weak spot."

The fact a high Communist was willing to talk to a western reporter about the subject indicated how cocky the German Reds are becoming. However, he demanded anonymity.

He indicated the Communists have concluded that the West Berliners are too tough to be imposed by force tactics. So now the Berlin situation is being used to try to frighten others, especially the West German beyond the Elbe.

If the Berlin situation can be made to look from the outside like a keg of dynamite, Communist reason, the Bonn republic may be worried into thinking the surrounding former German capital is too much of a rat hole to invest its hard-won money.

This would put the western occupation powers in the position of defending what the West German himself would not want to try to defend.

Where the Communists will hit next is anybody's guess. The Communist leader commented succinctly that western weak spots in Berlin are not hard to find.

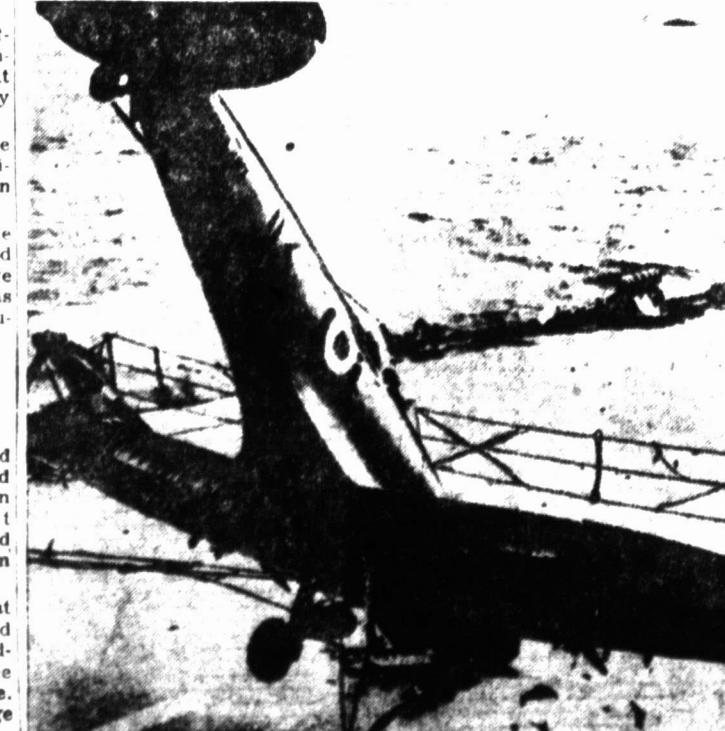

Chinese Reds Say American Planes Bombed Territory

LONDON — (AP) — The Moscow radio last night broadcast a Tass news agency report of an alleged new violation of Communist Chinese territory by American planes.

The Tass dispatch from Peking quoted a report from a correspondent of the Communist New China news agency from Anhui. It said American planes "raided and bombed territory of the Chinese people's republic and wounded three Chinese citizens."

On Sept. 23, the report said, "an American plane crossed the Chinese-American frontier and raided the village of Lakushao in the district of Kwangshao in the province of Luoshang and disappeared afterwards towards the south."

"Another American plane appeared over Anhui from the northeast and dropped 12 bombs on the northeastern part of the town. Three Chinese citizens were wounded, among them one child. Many houses were damaged. The plane disappeared in a southerly direction."

CARRIER ACCIDENT—A photographer caught this British plane just as it nosed over on the deck of an aircraft carrier off the coast of Korea. Bits of debris fly through the air but the pilot was only slightly injured.

HONORED—Dr. Ralph Bunche, former U. N. mediator in Palestine, has been awarded the Nobel Peace Prize. He is the eleventh American and the first Negro to receive the award, founded by the inventor of dynamite.

Russia Again Loses In Effort to Oust Nationalist China

NEW YORK — (AP) — With little talk, the United Nations Assembly Saturday beat down another Russian attack against Nationalist China and then heard sharper anti-Soviet notes injected into the assembly debates.

A move by Joseph A. Malik, Soviet deputy foreign minister, to throw out a report by the assembly's credentials committee permitting Nationalist China to remain in the assembly was defeated 41 to 6, with three countries abstaining.

The assembly then accepted the committee's report, 43 to 5, with one abstention, and went on with the general talking.

The Russians have adopted a softer tone on some points before the assembly, to the puzzlement of most observers, but they are going right down the line in attacking Nationalist China at every opportunity.

Malik, backed by the Polish and Soviet Ukrainian delegates, said the credentials committee failed to take into account the "genuine situation" in China. He said that was that the "Kuomintang group" did not represent China.

T. P. Ts'ong, of China, said that the 150 million Chinese regarded the vote as a "staggering repulse of the Soviet Union." He said the Soviet Union actually has three seats in the assembly (U. S. S. R., Soviet Ukraine and White Russia) and is trying to get a fourth.

Leik U. Stikker, Netherlands foreign minister, told the assembly that the general debate resumed that the "unfaithfulness" to the UN "has brought us where we are today."

"Overemphasis in the world's commonplaces in non-Communist states are trying, with every same Moscow-made methods and to try to undermine the constitutional basis and democratic principles of these countries, to sabotage the recovery and improve the populations, Stikker said.

The assembly will convene again Monday.

Official Regrets Are Sent British

Anti-Red Bill Veto Beaten; Body Adjourns

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate overrode President Truman's veto of a hard-boiled set of Communist controls Saturday. A smashing 57 to 10 vote made them the law of the land.

Then Congress hurried home for the election campaign. The Senate quit at 3:23 p. m. (CST). The House had recessed at 2:17. Members will return Nov. 27 to act on excess profits tax legislation and make way for the new Congress in January.

Enactment of the anti-subversives bill was delayed 20 hours and 48 minutes by a filibuster carried out by a handful of senators. They finally stepped aside after debating fruitfully against the bill which Mr. Truman contended would actually help the Communists and "weaken our liberties."

The determined band, conceding they had no chance, insisted the vote be delayed until the senators thought over the veto message and heard from home.

Members of the debate, speaking briefly as the debate finally wound up, rejected the president's argument entirely.

Twenty-six Democrats and 31 Republicans voted to make the bill law despite the veto. Ten Democrats voted to uphold the president.

Telegrams began pouring into the Senate by the thousands. Tension and excitement marked the all-night session.

Senator Langer (R-ND), slumped gray-faced to the floor after a five-hour speech against the bill and was taken to a hospital to recuperate from exhaustion.

Senator Douglas (D-IL) sobbed aloud a moment after the strain (See ANTI-RED, Page 2)

Whistler Identity To Be Disclosed, Officers Promise

PANADIS, La. — (AP) — The identity of the phantom whistler who has terrorized an 18-year-old bride-to-be with funeral dirges and telephone threats remained a secret late last night.

County sheriff's officers, saying the whistler's jig was up, promised to announce the mystery's solution.

Sheriff Leon Vial, Chief Deputy Edward Prejean and a state trooper conferred Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Clifford Cadow, mother of the bride-to-be, Jacqueline Cadow.

Prejean, who told newsmen he was "almost certain" the identity of the whistler would be revealed soon, said an announcement would be held because "we want to talk to a number of other persons first."

Jacqueline, 21, who has been threatened with death by the whistler in ringtoned telephone calls, are in seclusion.

Mrs. Cadow told officers the unknown whistler began a campaign last February to break up Jacqueline's planned marriage Oct. 1 to Trooper Herbert Belmont.

"At that, Mrs. Cadow said, the 'mystery man' merely skulked. (See WHISTLER, Page 2)

Main Body of Reds Routed In Southwest

TOKYO, Sunday — (AP) — Speeding spearheads from the two allied beachheads rolled toward a link-up today with less than 80 miles to go to pocket the routed main body of the North Korean Red army in Southwest Korea.

Some Communist elements escaped the closing trap and reached Seoul.

They bolstered the house-to-house defense of that old Korean capital against Marines inching steadily through its flaming outskirts.

First cavalry division patrols rumbled through Sangju late Saturday after a breakthrough from the old southeastern defense line that carried 35 miles toward Seoul in 35 hours.

From the Seoul-Inchon beachhead, the seventh division drove eight miles beyond captured Suwon along the major highway to the southeast. Suwon and its strip, 20 miles south of Seoul, were regained without a struggle Friday.

Leading elements of the first cavalry and the seventh divisions were just under 80 air miles apart.

The first cavalry had to slow down its spectacular advance while its engineers bridged the Nakdong River ten miles south of Sangju to bring up heavy equipment.

Ten miles south of Sangju, the 24th division appeared through Kumcheon with 40 miles to go to Taejon, 70 miles south of Suwon, on the more direct road route to Seoul.

Many field officers said the link-up would immobilize most of the Reds' forces.

"If it is accomplished within the next two or three days," Hal Boyle of the AP telephoned to Tokyo, "they see a strong possibility of the end to a major fighting during the first week in October."

Other officers were more conservative. A staff officer of the first cavalry division told Boyle: "Main enemy resistance in the (See MAIN BODY, Page 2)

Mobilization Plan For Civilian Air Transport Urged

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Civil Aeronautics Board Chairman De los W. Rentzel said Saturday the CAB must provide immediately a complete mobilization plan for all U. S. civil air transportation.

Rentzel, whose CAB appointment from Civil Aeronautics Administrator was confirmed Thursday, termed the mobilization work as "the real urgent thing" before his board.

"It must provide for the emergency we are now in for the full war we may be in," the 40-year-old aviation expert said.

Rentzel stopped in Fort Worth enroute by plane to Nacogdoches for a night dinner — part of the program dedicating the city's airport in his honor.

He said the entire mobilization plan will be based on strategy that "our whole civil system is an auxiliary to the military transportation."

Rentzel said "certain mobilization duties" had been delegated to him as a successor to Joseph J. O'Connell, who resigned as administrator of the Texas County and District Clerks Association.

B-50 With 16 AFL Names Taft Aboard Sought No. 1 Labor Enemy

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. — (AP) — Canadian and American rescue planes crisscrossed the vast expanses from Labrador to Arizona Saturday in a so-far vain search for a missing B-50 bomber.

Relatives of the 12 Air Force crewmen and four passengers aboard the bomber meanwhile were notified that the 16 were missing.

Scores of search craft scoured the Canadian wilderness, the western desert country and the broad mid-west. None of them, however, reported sighting a trace of the bomber now more than 24 hours overdue.

The B-50, normally based at Davis Monthan Air Force Base at Tucson, Ariz., was one of a group that took off from there last night.

It took Goose Bay, Labrador, Thursday night on a routine flight to Tucson that should require only about 12 hours. It had enough gasoline for 17 hours.

The Air Force said no contact had been made with the plane since the takeoff. This indicated, an officer said, that either the plane's radio was out of order or the craft did not get very far from Goose Bay.

The Air Force still held out hope that the fliers, would be found alive.

Rep. Guill Back For Campaign Work

The 18th District's congressional representative, Ben Guill, arrived in Pampa late yesterday afternoon upon the recess of Congress. The House, barring a special call by the president, will not meet again until Nov. 27.

Guill said he plans to rest up for a few days and then resume his visits to the various communities in the district to inform the voters of "just what is going on in the nation's capitol."

Giles Doesn't Think Texas Will Win Tidelands Battle

FORT WORTH — (AP) — War threats are turning public opinion against Texas' claim to the tidelands, State Land Commissioner Bascom Giles said Saturday.

Urging a "settlement" with the federal government, Giles said: "These times are causing people to think in terms of the national emergency."

He spoke at the convention of the Texas County and District Clerks Association.

"Texas has moral rights and clear title to the tidelands, but we won't get money from them for our schools until we reach an agreement with the U. S. on operation, management and division of royalties," Giles said.

"The federal government has the most men and the biggest guns. I don't think we'll win the tidelands fight. I think we'll win something if we settle. If not, we won't get anything."

Start of Monsoons Virtual Block to Formosa Invasion

TAIPEI, Formosa — (AP) — Likelihood of a full dress Chinese Communist invasion attempt on Nationalist Formosa before next spring became virtually impossible Saturday with the start of the monsoon season.

The winds churn the 100-mile Formosa Strait into one of the world's roughest bodies of water until late February or March.

Chinese Nationalist officials said the monsoon would make an invasion attempt "practically impossible" in Chinese junks.

Amphibious landings would be feasible only if the Russians could supply the Reds with modern craft.

The U. S. Seventh Fleet is patrolling the strait with orders to repel any effort to seize Formosa while the United Nations is battling the Korean Reds.

Although the Nationalists have given up air and sea operations against the Red China mainland for almost two months, Chiang Kai-shek's government has not abandoned plans for its ultimate recovery.

How, then, people often ask, can the Nationalists ever hope to get back to the mainland?

One answer is: The Nationalists are convinced there will be another world war. As allies of the Western powers, the Nationalists expect they would be given what they need for a return to China proper.

Gas Fume Victims In 'Fair' Condition

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jones, found early Friday morning in a state of near asphyxiation, were reported in a fair condition by authorities at Highland General Hospital late Saturday.

Jones, his wife Helen and eight-month-old baby were found unconscious in their apartment at 525 S. Cuyler about 8 a. m. Friday by a neighbor.

According to doctor's report the family were in a state of semi-asphyxiation from gas fumes in their apartment.

A local physician stated the three had been sick from food poisoning and that the cumulative effect of a small amount of gas was enough to cause their condition.

Search for Woman Gets Steadily Hotter

CHICAGO — (AP) — Police said two fires, one of which routed 180 Negro residents from an apartment building, were set Saturday by a man who wanted to find out if a certain woman lived in the building.

Detective John Carten said that William War, 24, a Negro seized by two occupants of the building, declared he wanted to see if Miss Lanie Walker lived there.

War is held without charge for investigation.

McKINNEY — (AP) — A 25-year-old Josephine man, L. C. Sims, Saturday was under death sentence in connection with the criminal assault on a 60-year-old Josephine farm woman June 17.

Sims was assessed the death penalty after a jury deliberated for 35 minutes.

Sims was charged with attacking the elderly woman several times and then shooting her five times.

Police were called in and set several traps but the whistler eluded them. State police earlier

The 35-mile breakthrough from Tabu to Sangju was so fast the lack force at the head of the column passed bushes of a pond with remnants of the fleeing enemy.

The road was lined with abandoned guns, tanks, destroyed vehicles, broken ox carts, canvas clothing and the bodies of many enemy dead, mowed down by machine-gun fire as they fled.

Many soldiers rode horses, captured from Red-held artillery before Taegu.

Further south and west of the Nakdong River, the British 27th brigade suffered some casualties when it was mistakenly bombed and strafed by American fighter planes which it had summoned for help in assaulting the crest of a hill.

Gene Henrick of the AP counted 49 casualties from the American explosives and jelled gas-line bombs.

The U. S. second division drove three miles westward within four miles of Hyopchon, 12 miles west of the Nakdong River.

Other second division troops gave up for the second time the divisions' southernmost basehead on the west side of the Nakdong. This basehead force had been flanked on both sides by Reds.

In the extreme south the U. S. 25th division met increasingly heavy resistance.

Marines driving at Seoul from the northwest were reported still on the outskirts of the city and still under heavy Red artillery fire.

of an extended argument to uphold the veto.

Senator Lucas (D-Ill.), Mr. Truman's own lieutenant in the Senate, told a hushed chamber he would oppose the president with regret, and vote to defeat the veto.

The speaking marathon began after the House Friday cast a squeaked 286-18 vote for overriding the veto.

Mr. Truman had bounced the measure back to Congress with a 5,500-word veto message in which he said the bill would help, not hurt the Communists. He asserted it would weaken existing security and seriously damage the FBI. He talked of "hyena."

Mr. Truman had urged new control measures which he said would deal with the situation. The disputed bill included these proposals and went far beyond.

Girl Scouts' Camp Sullivan Favorite Retreat in Area

By GEORGIA SMITH
A background of ancient cottonwood trees, a part of the north fork of Red River, a campfire site — these things, centered by a large ranch-style building, set the scene for a weekend of companionship at Camp Sullivan for Girl Scouts.

Fifteen acres of rugged terrain, located three miles southeast of Lefors, was donated in 1941 by John L. Sullivan to the Girl Scouts of this area.

Not until 1946 was the cement-block house completed, but a much smaller and less adequate one had been used for the Scouts.

Now, the house is complete with sleeping quarters that will accommodate 20 girls, a recreation room and a kitchen equipped with a wood stove. Water is piped from a windmill near the creek and electricity was recently installed.

To Mrs. Lynn Boyd, who was camp chairman in 1945, goes much of the credit for completion of the building.

On the east wall of the recreation room is a large fireplace. This large room is used for group meetings, games, programs and any handicraft the girls choose to do during their time in camp. There is also plenty of room here for any extra cots the girls may need.

The sleeping quarters are equipped with 20 single beds with small, individual dressing tables. Large closets on the east end provide storage space for the kitchen necessities and the west end of the room is used for hanging clothes.

The kitchen features a large, open wood stove and several storage cabinets and tables. It is screened on all sides with heavy shutters for protection. Only this summer a shower was installed on the campsite. It is made from a tank, which houses two small private showers.

Girl Scouts from 10 years old through high school have made use of the camp. Troops from Pampa, Wheeler, Borger and Lefors spend weekends there with their leaders and directors. Am- arillo Scouts have offered to trade camps for several weekends during this season.

The present camp chairman is R. H. Nenstiel.

It is hoped by the association board and those interested in Camp Sullivan that, in the not-too-distant future, it will be possible to build even further on the camp, adding another unit to accommodate other groups of girls. Also, a big center is planned, to include a lounge, dining rooms and kitchen with a large terrace in the back to be used for arts and crafts and where the girls can have two meals a day together.

In addition to more buildings, expansion plans include an outdoor cooking fireplace, an oven and a swimming pool.

Department Store Sales Spurt Again

DALLAS — (AP) — Department store sales in Texas' major cities took a sharp spurt in the week ending Sept. 16 as compared with a comparable week a year ago, the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas reported.

The week was the one preceding the imposing of credit controls on many items. However, 1950 sales have consistently been ahead of last year's.

Houston showed a lusty 46 percent increase in sales as compared with a year ago. San Antonio 42 percent, Dallas 21 and Fort Worth 19.

The bank's sales index for the week reached 558.2. The base index of 100 is for the 1935-1939 period.

Mexico's Stockpile Good Six Months

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — Mexico's industries have enough raw materials stockpiled to keep factories running six months, the minister of national economy reported.

Antonio Martinez Baez also said that Mexico would aid manufacturers in obtaining raw materials which are under controls in the U. S. He added that higher duties to protect Mexican factories from foreign competition are under study.

The minister, talking to reporters at a luncheon, said the government has asked manufacturers to eliminate independent distributors or take other steps to insure that retailers do not raise prices unduly.

Mustangs Gallop Past Tech, 33-13

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS — (AP) — Kyle Rote's blistering runs and towering passes brought Southern Methodist a 33-13 intersectional football triumph over Georgia Tech Saturday night.

Killer Kyle, the mighty Methodist half back, shot down the South-eastern Conference team with two touchdowns runs and two touchdown passes. He raced 75 yards for one score in the top thriller of the night.

Tech fought doggedly but was out razzie-dazzled by the Methodists who were hiding the ball even from the Cotton Bowl crowd of 54,000.

It was a loosely played game but the kind the fans like to see—long, glittering runs; lofty passes and rough and tumble play in the line. Tech whipped together 256 yards on the ground—49 more than the Methodists—but SMU was all there in the air, completing 15 passes for 223 yards. Tech connected on two for 12 yards.

Lefors Back Breaks Hand During Game

By SPECK REYNOLDS
LEFORS — The Pirates' scoring punch of Fullback Ray Dickerson and Halfback James McEntire was too much for the Pampa Guerillas here Friday night and Lefors won the thriller, 27-13.

Pampa held the Orange and Black scoreless in the first quarter, but it was a different story in the second stanza as the Pirates struck for two touchdowns.

McEntire suffered a broken hand during the game and will probably be out of action for several weeks.

Lefors marched 57 yards for their first six points, climaxed by McEntire's 20 yard touchdown gallop. Billy Watson added the extra point to make it 7-0.

The Pirates traveled 38 yards for their second touchdown. Lefors took over on the Pampa 38 when a bad pass from center on fourth down cost the Guerillas the ball.

It was the speedy McEntire again who provided the TD. Behind good blocking, the Lefors halfback swept left end and scored 20 yards to make the score 13-0. Watson rammed over the extra point and the Guerillas trailed 14-0 at the half.

Pampa kicked off to start the second half, and on the fifth play from scrimmage, Lefors had touchdown number three. With the ball on the Pirates' 15-yard line, Dickerson raced around right end, side-stepped two Guerillas and raced 85 yards to paydirt. The try for extra point was no good.

The Guerillas recovered a Pirate fumble on Lefors' 15-yard line and on the third play, Jack Lampton knifed through Lefors' line for a touchdown. The extra point was good and Pampa trailed 20-7.

With the ball on their own 49-yard line, Watson passed to Dickerson on the Pirates' 35 and the fullback went the rest of the way to make the score 26-7. Joe Martin cracked center for the extra point to wind up Lefors' scoring.

Billy Mitchell who provided Pampa routers with the play of the night, Mitchell took Jimmy Doom's kickoff on the goal line, tumbled the ball, then picked it up and ran through the entire Lefors team for 38 yards before being tapped from behind by Doom on the 12 yard line.

Doom touched Mitchell's leg just enough to push him off balance. Billy Cox carried it over from the two after three ground plays. Pampa failed to add the extra point and Lefors won 27-13.

Horned Frogs Wing Jayhawks At Kansas, 14-7

LAWRENCE, Kas. — (AP) — The Horned Frogs of Texas Christian University got plenty of breaks against an erratic Kansas Jayhawk eleven Saturday but waited until the last four minutes to cash in for a 14-7 victory.

A partisan crowd of 32,000 pictured Kansas' first victory over TCU when sophomore Charles Hoag raced 89 yards over the goal with about four minutes remaining.

But a Jayhawk was caught using his hands illegally. The play was called back and Kansas was penalized to its one-yard line.

A bad punt by another sophomore, George Mkonic, travelled out of bounds on Kansas' 25-yard line. There were three plays and a 15-yard penalty, also for illegal use of hands, and TCU was backed to the Kansas 27.

From that point Gilbert Barrios passed to End Wilson Geert for the winning touchdown.

Broyles Gallops to TD After Stealing Pigskin

EL PASO — (Special) — The Pampa Harvesters cut down El Paso High School Tigers, scoring almost at will in a 59 to 6 rout at El Paso High Stadium, Friday night.

Everything the visitors did was right because there was no one to call attention to any mistakes they might have made except for a blunder in the second quarter when they set up the Tigers' lone tally.

They almost denied them that one, as Bill Sanford ripped around right end for the score with only 15 seconds to go in the half.

Pampa scored the first time they touched the ball, when, with only two minutes gone in the quarter, halfback Harold Smith took Eric Hilton's punt on his 25, faked a handoff to Darrell Wilson and raced down the side lines 65 yards for the touchdown but put them in the lead to stay.

De Way Cudney's kick was good and the score stood 7-0.

Five minutes later Jim in Hayes took a pitchout and capped a 73-yard drive by scoring from the Tigers' 25. The kick was good and Pampa led, 14-0.

Billy Davis scored the third Pampa TD with only seconds left to play in the quarter. Davis climaxed a 59-yard drive by scoring from the six. Cudney missed the kick and the Harvesters led, 20-0.

But Cudney made up for it by circling around end on a bootleg play from his 18, and this time he converted.

Charles Ely signed his name on the touchdown list when he pushed over from the 1-foot line, and Cudney split the bars, making it 34-0.

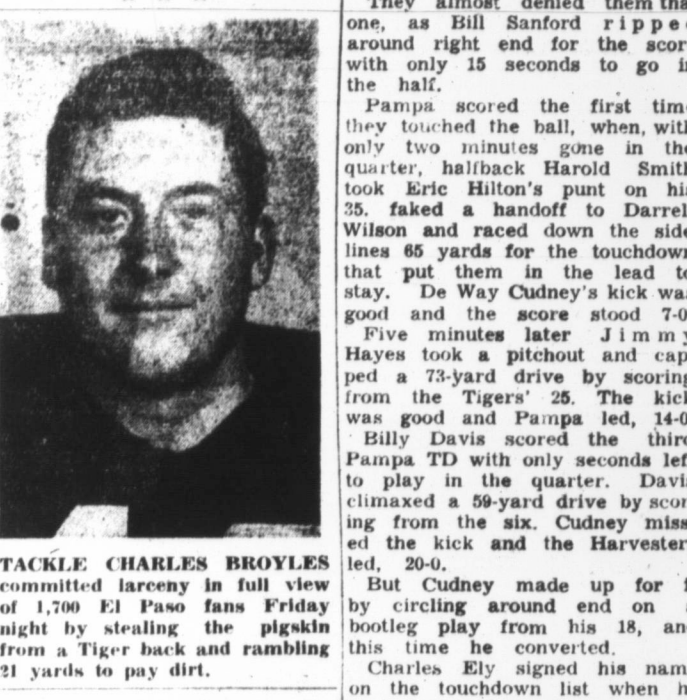

Neither team was able to ramble for some time, although Sid Mills did steal two of Mike Aguirre's passes, until Pampa attempted a pass from the 50 on fourth down and 10 to go.

When the smores cleared, El Paso had the ball 39 yards away from paydirt. Led by Aguirre's passing and Sanford's weaving, driving running, the Tigers scored.

The Harvesters wasted a minute and 45 seconds before they let Hayes punch over from the five. Cudney had set up the touchdown by returning the opening kickoff to the El Paso 22. His kick was no good and the score stood, 40-6. In the same quarter, Billy Davis ripped over from the 13, so the agony again kicked the point after.

In the fourth quarter tackle Charles Broyles committed larceny in full view of the meager crowd of approximately 1,700, by stealing the ball from Sanford and rambling 21 yards for a touchdown. The kick was no good.

The final tally was made by John Young, who crashed over from seven yards out, and the following kick by an apparently weary Cudney was no good.

TACKLE CHARLES BROYLES committed larceny in full view of 1,700 El Paso fans Friday night by stealing the pigskin from a Tiger back and rambling 21 yards to pay dirt.

Wyoming Upsets Dope Bucket by Beating Baylor

LARAMIE, Wyo. — (AP) — Wyoming evened a year-old football grudge Saturday and sent its new stadium away to a resounding start by whipping favored Baylor, 7-0.

The Bears from the South-western Conference handed the Skyline Six title winners their only defeat last year and were two touchdowns favorites this time. But the steamed up Cowboys outplayed them thoroughly.

So far as the record Wyoming football crowd of 17,288 was concerned, the $300,000 investment in the new stadium was fully justified within 15 minutes when Roy McMullen pounded over from the two to end a 79-yard scoring drive. The attendance doubled the old state record for a football crowd, set at 8,244 here last year.

The Texans were manhandled all day by the rugged, hard charging Wyoming line. The Cowboy forward wall reached a magnificent peak in the second quarter when it yielded less than two yards in four plays to halt the invaders' only real scoring threat.

Bob Reid started Baylor toward this opening with a 40-yard punt return to the Wyoming 34. Hayden Fry passed to Stan Williams for 27 yards and Jim Jeffrey rammed it to the five. Frank Boydston was stopped in the center but on the next play Wyoming was off-side and Baylor got the ball on the one with two downs remaining.

Frank Shannon was thrown back a yard on the first try and Boydston was stopped six inches from the goal on fourth down.

McMullen was the offensive star for Wyoming and scored the winning touchdown. Talboom came in to make the conversion. The hard running of Boydston and Jeffrey in the midfield areas helped Baylor roll up a rushing margin of 173 yards against 113 and the visitors made 98 yards on seven pass completion against 51 for Wyoming on five.

Yanks Clip Red Sox To Gain Full Game

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Yankees dealt a crushing blow to Boston's pennant hopes today as they blasted the Red Sox, 8 to 0, before 63,998 fans.

Victory behind Lefty Ed Lopat's sick five-hit pitching jumped the champions' lead in the American League race to a game and a half over the losing Detroit Tigers and three games over the Sox with only eight days to go.

Lopat was masterful as he mowed down the Hose, limiting them to four well spaced singles after Dom DiMaggio, the first batter, whanged a towering triple to left center and died at third. The victory was the 18th for the chubb by southpaw and the 100th triumph of his big league career.

The jolting defeat was the third in a row for the fading Boston team, which four days ago was in the thick of the throbbing pennant chase. Cleveland walloped Steve O'Neill's club twice Wednesday to start the panic.

Four Sox pitchers yielded nine hits Saturday. The contest really was all over after Joe DiMaggio hoisted his 32nd home run into the right field stands in the first with Yogi Berra on base.

By the time Mel Parnell, Boston's ace southpaw, departed from the scene after three innings the Bombers were out front 5-0, three more Yankee scores having chased across on Johnny Mize's two run single and a double by Hank Bauer.

The champs put the game out of reach for good in the sixth when Jerry Coleman cleaned the bases with a long triple over Ted Williams' head in leftfield.

Four or five Red Sox regulars were reported to be suffering with intestinal influenza, and they did, in fact, look none too robust against Lopat's curves.

Cleveland 10, Detroit 2
Cleveland tumbled the Tigers deeper into second place Saturday as Mike Garcia fashioned a five-hitter to pitch the avenging Indians to their second straight victory over Detroit, 10-2.

Larry Doby and Luke Easter, Cleveland's two Negro sluggers, battered across seven runs in a 10-hit attack against five fingers.

Doby broke the backs of the Tigers in the third inning with a terrific home run with the bases clogged. Easter highlighted a five-run seventh inning with a base-clearing two-bagger that sewed up the game.

The disastrous defeat, coupled with New York's triumph over Boston's Red Sox, widened the Yankees' first place margin over the Tigers to a game and a half.

The Tigers never had a chance once Doby hit that grand slammer.

Art Houtteman, gunning for his 20th victory, started for the Tigers. He did not have it and went down to his 12th defeat. He ran into trouble in the third.

Greens Gossip

The annual Civic Club Golf Tournament will be held Sunday afternoon, October 1, if weather permitting. The winning club will receive the beautiful plaque which is now in possession of the Rotary Club — and all the Rotarians tell me they are definitely going to keep it in their possession. So Lions, Kiwanis and Jaycees, you had better get busy and see what you can do about it.

The scoring for each club will be handled on a handicap basis. With the same number of players being used from each club, their scored totaled, low total is winner of plaque.

And that isn't all, prizes for individual performances will be awarded, such as medalist of the four clubs, high scorer of the four clubs, etc. This year's tournament is going to be the best one ever and all the players will tell you the same thing when they walk off the 18th green.

Ed Ehrbridge, the grinning insurance adjuster, is in charge of this year's event and he is doing a fine job of giving you fellows one big day of fun. For instance, every ball you hit into the water on No. 7 will probably cost you plenty. If you three putt the 18th green on No. 17, you will be run out of town and numerous other things that go to make up fun for a full round of golf. See you boys on No. 1 on Oct. 1, about 1 p. m.

Here's some real news. Jean Kienkel, ladies city champion broke her 593 record of 35 on the back nine last week when she posted a one under par 34, which is awfully good for any golfer, whether they be male or female.

Witness to this great round were Miriam Luedders, Bo Derryp, Lamesa-baseballer, and Deck Yoidl, Oiler-secondbaseman. Congratulations to this writer, Jean. That was a fine round.

Manager Jodie Beeler is a guy who plays his hunches. Last Tuesday night after the Oilers thumped the Lobos, 8 to 3, to tie up the series at 3-3, I asked the Lobo boss who would pitch at Pampa Wednesday night. "Rosson," Beeler whispered. The Lamesa dressing room was like an Irish quack, so I tipped out.

So taking the Lamesa manager at his word, I said Rosson would start Wednesday's game. Also had Roy Parker listed as a starter but the lefthander came up with a sore arm.

But back to Beeler. What happens? I see Vince Speranza warming up along the first baseline. Vince was shelved from the box Tuesday night by the Oilers and he blanked the Oilers Saturday night in a six inning contest.

I asked Frank Cale, who was doing the telephone broadcast to Lamesa the next booth, "how come?" Beeler's playing a hunch, the Clovis catcher quipped with his Brooklyn accent.

"Wednesday morning Speranza was playing the slot machine in Lamesa," Cale went on. "And he hit the jackpot. That's why he's starting tonight's game."

I guess Beeler figured anyone who could hit a jackpot, could beat the Oilers. All Speranza did was blank Pampa with a five hit job. Maybe the Oilers could protest the game — I thought slot machines were illegal.

After the rhubarb at Oiler Park Monday night, six umpires worked the game the following night in Lamesa. The same crew came to Pampa Wednesday night. This is a waste of money.

Two umpires can work a game better than four or six. What happens is that four or six only add to the confusion and leaves room for more bad calls.

SPOTS ... The Quarterback Club may charter several buses to Wichita Falls when the Harvesters play the state champions there October 6. Grid fans interested in making the trip should contact a quarterback member.

Bud Duncan, who is in charge of transportation, will give a report Monday night at the club's meeting on what a round trip ticket will cost. This is a good plan and Pampa fans should get behind the club and support the Harvesters this year. Every male who breathes, is eligible to join the Quarterbacks.

Canyon Squeaks Past Tigers in 7 to 6 Thriller

McLEAN — (Special) — The McLean Tigers lost their first game of the season on home territory Friday night when the Canyon Eagles edged past them with a score of 7-6.

The Eagles scored early in the first quarter when Ray Burrus, Canyon right end, recovered a fumble by Carroll Hall, Tiger back, on the McLean's 24-yard stripe.

In two attempts the Eagles lost 9 yards, pushing the ball back to the Tigers' 32. At this point Butler, Eagle quarterback, passed to halfback Harold Stack, who was standing in the clear on the Tiger four-yard line. He walked across the double strip and Butler kicked the extra point to put the Eagles out in front 7-0.

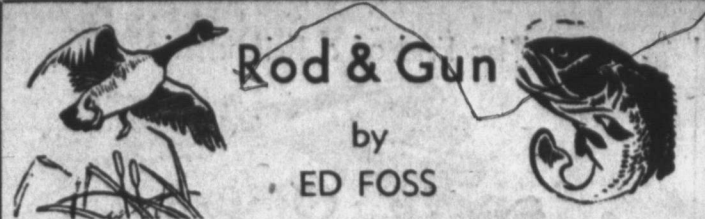

Early in the second quarter Stack ran 41 yards for a touchdown but the play was called back and the Eagles penalized five yards.

In the last few minutes of the third period, the Tigers maneuvered the ball from their own 24 to Canyon's 10, and early in the fourth Watson ran through right tackle to score, but the try for extra point failed and Canyon won 7-6.

Price Calls Meeting In Lubbock Monday

DALLAS — (AP) — President Milton Price of the West Texas-New Mexico League said Saturday he was calling a meeting of the league at Lubbock Monday morning to consider any changes in the players' rules.

He said the early meeting was to discuss any changes necessary to meet conditions that may prevail next season because of the Korean war.

The whole week has gone by, and I only got to go fishing twice. It seems as though no one did much fishing this week, or if they did, they kept it a secret. I got lucky last Sunday morning and landed a 4 1/2 pound bass at the same lake where I caught the 6 1/2 pounder awhile back. I don't like to blow my own horn, but this is a hunting and fishing column, so I have to say something about fishing.

Seriously though, fishing hasn't been too good all week. Ken and Bill Green were at Gething's Lake Wednesday night and couldn't get the bass to hit at all. They reported that the big bass were showing off a lot of acrobatics, but they didn't seem to be hungry. You've probably noticed, like I have, that jumping fish are seldom feeding fish.

This isn't the only part of the country where fishing hasn't been too good. You'll see what I mean when you read these reports from Jim Hall, game warden in the Elephant Butte area, which the Truth or Consequences Chamber of Commerce sends to me each week. These reports are for the week ending Sept. 19.

ELEPHANT BUTTE LAKE — Bass fishing this past week has been quite unsteady. Some fishermen had fine luck while others had none. Plug fishing was good for about 50 percent of the fishermen, mostly in the tops of sunken trees. Minnow fishing was full of rocky points, fishing deep Crappie fishing with live bait was slow. The best catches were checked at the east side of Gale Island. Cat fishing was some better, but still poor.

CABALLO LAKE — Not much change in bass fishing. The lake is still low and muddy, and few catches are being made in the dam area. Crappie fishing is poor above the dam, fair below. Live bait is producing the best results.

RIO GRANDE RIVER — Very few trout have been taken the past week. The best catches were made below the Cottonwood bend on salmon eggs.

Trot line fishermen continue to bring in a few catfish from Lake McEllean. No really big catches have been reported though.

When McEllean clears up, it should furnish some good bass fishing. Recently, the Game Commission placed 7,500 bass from 9 to 16 inches long in the lake. These, plus the old stock, should give plenty of fish to the anglers in this area without the usual long drive.

There was at least one good fish story brought to my attention this week. Not only that, but the fisherman had the evidence to prove his claim. Fred A. Hobart brought back a 23-pound, 41-inch long muskie from Land O' Lakes, Mich. I saw the fish and he was a beauty. Fierce, but beautiful. Fred caught the fish on a Prescott spinner trailing a bucktail. It took him 45 minutes to land the fish, which is no wonder, since Fred was using a bass action rod with only a 20-pound test line. The guide had to finish the muskie off with a blow from a hatchet before bringing the fish into the boat. The fish was caught in the first half-hour's fishing of the first day. Frank Shaller, Canadian, accompanied Hobart on the trip, but had to settle for Northern Pike, since Hobart's muskie was the only one caught on the trip.

I promised you some more information about the arsenic poisoning of game to the south of us. I have received no more information as to the results of the state tests, but I have another bit of bad news concerning the use of arsenic on crops. It has been reported to me by a rancher from that area that game isn't the only thing suffering from the poison. His lake, which drains several fields, has had enough arsenic washed into it so that many of his fish are dying. I realize that such spraying is necessary for the welfare of the crops, but there should be some method of control to protect our wildlife, which is all too scarce the way it is.

Texas isn't the only state where this poisoning is going on. To prove my point, I quote Kelly DeBusk, Oklahoma State Game and Fish director.

That's all for Rod and Gun this week. Don't forget, drop me a card at The News, or give me a call, whenever you get hold of something which would be of interest to other sportsmen in the area. Fishing, hunting, dogs, or conservation, I want it all. See you all again next Sunday.

Longhorns Tumble Texas Tech, 28-14

LUBBOCK — (AP) — The University of Texas' touted Longhorns had their hands full Saturday beating a tough Texas Tech team 28-14.

Two touchdowns within 13 minutes of the first quarter gave Texas an advantage it needed before its wealth of big, experienced men toned down the keyed-up Red Raiders.

Less than two minutes after the first game of the 1950 season for both clubs started, Texas had a touchdown. Ben Tompkins passed eight yards to Bubba Shunds for it after Tom Stohlanske recovered a Tech fumble to give Texas the ball on the Red Raiders' 12-yard line.

Near the end of the period, Dan Page passed 27 yards to Ben Procter for the second Longhorn tally.

Between those touchdowns, the ball game was all Texas Tech. The Red Raiders mounted far-reaching drives numerous times but only one — in the second quarter — paid off. Ike Stuver climaxed this 87-yard drive with a 30-yard scoring run.

In the second half, Texas' superiority of experience — and weight paid off. The Longhorns wore the Tandy West Texans to a mubbin.

Gib Dawson, Arizona's gift to Texas, and Big Byron Townsend led the rejuvenated Longhorns in the second half. Townsend smashing over the goal line from inside the one-yard line in the third period and Dawson snaring Tompkins' pass in the final period on a scoring play that covered 51 yards.

Billy Porter kicked four extra points for Texas and Tim Hatch two for Texas Tech.

The second Red Raider touchdown came just before the game ended. Frank Graves intercepted Tompkins' pass on Texas' 30-yard line and returned it to the Texas 11. Stuver picked up four yards on the ground, then Pete Edwards fired to Dick Jackson in the end zone.

Childress Clips Borger Bulldogs

BORGER — (Special) — The Childress Bobcats took to the air here Friday night to defeat Borger Bulldogs, 14-6. Quarterback Joe Powell blanketed the air with passes, completing 14 of 45.

The Bobcats gained 186 yards through the air route. Powell tagged Right Halfback Clay Romming with a 21-yard pass for his first touchdown. Powell and his crew took to the air lanes again in the fourth quarter to score another touchdown.

Borger scored when Fullback Ronnie Holcomb glided around end for 41 yards and six points. Childress made 17 first downs to Borger's 5.

Houston Falls To Bonaventure

HOUSTON — (AP) — Sophomore Ted Marchibroda's third quarter passes paced St. Bonaventure University's Brown Indians to a 29 to 14 victory over the University of Houston Saturday.

Two touchdowns passes and a third that set up a field goal produced 15 points in the period to aid the New Yorkers in coming from behind a 6-14 halftime deficit.

Houston had taken a 14-0 lead on an 85-yard march and a short drive after intercepting a pass but was unable to threaten seriously again.

Greg Riel broke through center for 65 yards for the New Yorkers' first tally shortly before the half.

EASTON, Pa. — (AP) — Fordham's heavily favored Rams had to rely on the toe of Jim Erickson to eke out a 20-19 victory over an inexperienced Lafayette College eleven Saturday.

Bucks Bounce Past Lynx in Grid Contest

WHITE DEER — (Special) — White Deer Bucks tripped the Spearman Lynx Friday night, 26-14, before 900 football fans. Jackie Freeman got the Bucks off on the right foot by scoring a first quarter touchdown on a 25-yard run. Freeman converted and the Bucks took the lead 7-0.

White Deer lost the toss and kicked off to Spearman. Morlan Shuman, Buck tackle, dropped a Spearman back for a 17-yard loss. The Lynx punted out to their own 30-yard line and Freeman garnered his six points after two ground plays.

The Bucks added six more points in the first period when Ronnie Buchanan cracked tackle for nine yards to make the score, 13-0. White Deer failed to convert.

Spearman struck back in the second period when Jay Lackey punched across a Lynx touchdown and White Deer led at the half, 14-7. Lackey added another TD in the third quarter and added the extra point to put Spearman into the lead, 14-13.

White Deer took to the air and Freeman hit Franklin Hussey with an aerial toss that covered 60 yards and another touchdown for the Bucks. Buchanan rammed the ball over for the extra point to make the score 20-14.

Freeman led the Bucks to another TD in the fourth when he went over from six yards out. White Deer failed to add the extra point and the Bucks led 26-14.

Starting lineup:
White Deer — Ends, Wilkerson, Imel; tackles, O'Neal, Shuman; guards, Hood, Foose; center, Thornburgh; backs, Carpenter, Freeman, Hussey, Tugh.
Spearman — Ends, Martin, Kinney; tackles, Rogers, Faulkner; guards, Reed, Buzzard; center, Dacus; backs, T. Dacus, Lackey, Hart, Moorehead.

I heard an interesting story about Doctor Malcolm Brown and a dove hunting trip the other day. It seems that Brown had a dog, just dog, which his wife wanted him to get rid of very much. One day the dog showed up missing, and Doctor Brown basked in the warmth of his wife's praise for heading her off. It seems that he is until Doctor Zachry threw a wrench in the works. The wrench consisted of one little question asked of Brown in the presence of Mrs. Brown. "Say Doc, did that dog accidentally shot over you?"

White Deer — Ends, Wilkerson, Imel; tackles, O'Neal, Shuman; guards, Hood, Foose; center, Thornburgh; backs, Carpenter, Freeman, Hussey, Tugh.
Spearman — Ends, Martin, Kinney; tackles, Rogers, Faulkner; guards, Reed, Buzzard; center, Dacus; backs, T. Dacus, Lackey, Hart, Moorehead.

Rickey Agrees To Sell Bums

NEW YORK — (AP) — Branch Rickey has agreed to sell his stock in the Brooklyn baseball club in a deal proposed by John Galbreath, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

William Zuckendorf of New York, president of Webb and Knapp, a huge real estate firm, confirmed the transaction Saturday.

"I talked with Rickey last Wednesday and Thursday," said Zuckendorf, who also is president of the board of trustees of Long Island University. "We reached an agreement. My associate, Arthur J. Phelan, closed the deal last night."

"I am not at liberty to tell you how much money is involved. I am aware that there are priorities by which the other stockholders can buy up Mr. Rickey's stock if they meet his price. But if they do, we will get a consideration for our time and trouble."

Zuckendorf introduced Galbreath's name into the deal when he said, "There is another angle to this that might interest you. This entire package was arranged by John Galbreath, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates. He brought the deal to me and, speaking only from a personal viewpoint, I think he wants to get Rickey out of Brooklyn and over to Pittsburgh. We have had dealings with Mr. Galbreath's real estate firm before."

Although Rickey said "no comment" to the story, Walter O'Malley, vice-president of the Pittsburgh Pirates, said he had signed a contract to sell his stock.

White Deer — Ends, Wilkerson, Imel; tackles, O'Neal, Shuman; guards, Hood, Foose; center, Thornburgh; backs, Carpenter, Freeman, Hussey, Tugh.

PLAINVIEW — (Special) — Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes exploded here Friday night for a 13 to 7 victory over the Plainview Bulldogs before 8,000 football fans.

Eight minutes after the opening whistle, Lamesa marched 72 yards to score. Fullback D. Dickinson finished the march with a 22-yard canter to score. The try for extra point failed.

The Bulldogs fought back in the second quarter to go out in front, 7-6. Plainview took over on the midfield stripe and marched 50 yards to a touchdown. Clint Johnson converted to put the Bulldogs out in front, 7-6.

Lamesa recovered a Plainview fumble in the fourth period on the Bulldogs' 30-yard line. In eight plays the Tornadoes were on the one yard line. Quarterback Jerry Milsap took it over from the one, and Dickinson place-kicked the conversion to make the final score, 13-7.

EAST LANSING, Mich. — (AP) — Big Bob Carey stamped himself a marked man here Saturday as Michigan State smacked down Oregon State, 38-13, before 32,500 fans.

Eagles Rip Sandies In Football Upset

ABILENE — (Special) — The Abilene Eagles practically ran the Amarillo Sandies out of the stadium here Friday night winning by a score of 40-8 before 7,500 partisan fans.

Coach Howard Lynch's Sandstorm couldn't start rolling as the Eagles struck in the first quarter for seven points. Before the Sandies knew what happened, Abilene scored 19 more points in the second quarter.

It was Abilene's first football victory over Amarillo since 1928 when the Eagles nipped the Sandies 26-21.

Ray Bingham fumbled on Amarillo's second offensive play of the game and Jack Lester recovered on the Sandie five. Joe Youngblood knifed through left tackle on the fourth down to put the Eagles out in front 6-0. Lester kicked the extra point.

Abilene came back to score touchdown number two in the second quarter on a blocked punt. End Jimmy Garner blocked Kenneth McMullen's boot and Bob Couch recovered on the Sandie 44.

In just five plays, Gene Boyd plowed through the Amarillo line for 13 yards to paydirt. Abilene blocked another Amarillo punt and the Eagles recovered on the Amarillo 42.

Youngblood went 42 yards on the third down to mark up the third TD. The Eagles took to the air late to score their fourth six pointer. Youngblood took a lateral and traveled 88 yards for the fifth. Don King scored the final TD on a 34 yard run in the fourth quarter.

Amarillo scored their lone six points on a one yard plunge by Leon Evans.

National Economy Is Still Pressing

Refreshing evidence of economic thinking on federal non-military spending programs is coming to light these days in both the Senate and House. This news, prompting an about-face feeling among most Americans, comes on the heels of official announcement that more money will be needed for the job at hand — the police action against the aggression of the Communist government of North Korea.

For whether we like it or not, it may be a long road back to the 38th Parallel, long in every measurement. Costs military-wise will soar to put guns, tanks, men and material on the fighting line against this aggression. And since consumers and wage earners actually pay every tax levied, these costs will be paid for by the people.

Representative Clare E. Hoffman highlighted recent congressional economy moves with this sound question: "With the administration right now calling for $5,877,000,000 in new taxes, why do you think you should not cut the additional $11,600,000,000 which it asks for purely domestic activities here at home by at least $5,200,000,000?"

"That would still leave for the home front $6,400,000,000 which was the amount spent in 1949 when we balanced the budget for the first time in many years," he pointed out. Another instance of sensible recognition of our need to conserve our financial resources to meet defense commitments was the recent action on the Byrd-Bridges amendment to cut 10 percent from the national budget for non-defense agencies of federal government in the general appropriations bill. The measure was approved 55 to 31.

Yet despite these steps in the right direction during these times, public moneys are still being committed in vast amounts for non-defense programs labeled "necessary projects" by Representative Hoffman. Congressional approval has been given to increase Marshall Plan funds by another $5 million dollars. Either approved or under consideration as of May this year were some 16 millions of dollars for overseas, non-military development projects. Included in this classification is a soil conservation project in Tanganyika.

Representative Norris Poulson, in a recent issue of the Congressional Record, stated that "agents of the Interior Department are now making pat speeches — secretly, of course — to congressmen under the title 'How to Use Your Project Built — Call It a War Project'."

These are the things Americans must watch. We realize that at no other time in our national history have we so needed economy in non-war federal spending. Soft wood often is much harder than hard wood.

Down South-Sensing

By THURMAN SENSING—Director of Research Southern States Industrial Council, Nashville, Tennessee

As some of our Southern communities get ready for the coming of television this fall, it would be well for the citizens of these communities to get some idea of what's in store for them. Television has now been in use long enough in the larger centers, particularly in the North and East, for us to get a pretty good impression of what it means in our daily lives.

There is one thing at least that both advocates and critics of television would agree on — that it is here to stay. Manufacturers expect to turn out just about five and one-half million sets during this calendar year — and that is a total of one and one-third million more sets than were in use altogether last January 1st. Furthermore, until the threat of limited production along these lines was brought on by the Korean War, it was estimated that production next year might run a ten million sets.

But let's take a look at the impressions gained by those who have been using television for some time. A recent cartoon in a New York paper showed a house in flames and the family escaping. The parents had arms full of personal valuables; the children were tugging the television set out the front door. That typifies the position television is taking in the American home as the center of family life.

Advocates of television argue that it is re-establishing the family circle. Surveys, they say, show that parents who watch the television set out the front door. That typifies the position television is taking in the American home as the center of family life.

Critics admit this — but they say, look at that family circle! It is a darkened room with eyes strained at a twelve-inch screen. They say the children and the parents in television homes read fewer books, fewer magazines, fewer newspapers; that homework takes second place to Hopalong Cassidy; that never never darns when we darned; that we can't watch a wrestling match and darn the old man's socks at the same time, and that efforts to iron the weekly wash and watch television result in unprecedented quantities of undergarments.

They say that the nation's eyesight is deteriorating; that the choice is now between Channel X and 20-20 vision, and you can't have both. But regardless of all this argument, it is agreed that television is here to stay, and that family habits are being changed thereby — and we all know that once American family habits change, they stay changed. Big advertisers are turning to television with hereofore viewed with suspicion. Television shows of sports attractions are being shown in movie theaters. There is much discussion of the effect of television upon attendance at these sports attractions. Large sums of money are involved in the Southeastern College Conference has turned thumbs down on television of its football games.

On the entertainment side of television, it is complained that the programs leave much to be desired. They are too much like the 1900 vision of the nickelodeon — the pre-show that preceded the silent film. As for the children, they get by eye much the same programs they got by ear from the radio. They are watching Hopalong Cassidy, watching the immensely wealthy by cashing in on his television popularity. But there seems to be considerable question as to the "elevating influence" of a majority of the children's programs. As one writer on television said recently, if peasants in line. It grew into such a powerful lawless organization, the whole Italian government had to get in the fight to try to end its reign of terror. This scattered its members to the U. S. and other countries. Off and on for more than 50 years the organization has been in and out of American crime headlines. There have been claims that the gang has never been broken. But it never has.

A special Senate committee agent was sent to Italy to look into possible connections between the Italian Mafia and criminal operations in the U. S. He recently returned and cautiously reported that the subject was worth further study. His detailed report to the committee on what he found is being kept secret. It has been said that Lucky Luciano, convicted and deported head of a big narcotics and white slavery ring, is the world's most powerful man. It is claimed that the true gains in some cases, as yet unidentified, with no official criminal record. Only a mist of rather nebulous evidence exists on the Mafia's activities. The cold facts are few. It is established that the Mafia controls the liquor business in Kansas City, for instance, and the olive oil business in New York. But certain patterns of action in legitimate businesses as well as in organized criminal activities — point to control by the Mafia in other spots around the nation. Certain key names which have been linked with the Mafia keep cropping up in investigations in widely separated cities. They could add up to a sort of super-crime syndicate, but the final clinching evidence which would expose the leaders and send them to jail always seems

Suggestions for Nationalists

By DAVID BAXTER

We read much about Red Front and propaganda centers and the planned, systematic tactics of the internationalists whose aim is to destroy American sovereignty and independence. Now the word "propaganda" has, unfortunately, come to leave a bad taste in the average citizen's mouth. That is because the enemies of this Republic have been able to use MISUSE propaganda while the nationalists, or patriots have not had any clearly coordinated program or interlocking network of cooperating groups and individuals, much less any accurate knowledge of how to use propaganda. Yet, the fact is that the whole struggle today is between two diametrically opposite ideologies — nationalism (home rule) with individual rights versus internationalism (abolition of all nations and the setting up of one world government) with absolute collective dictatorship without any individual rights. That's the ISSUE. All side issues, from free trade to free enterprise vs. socialism revolve about this big main one. No military engagement can settle the issue, since battles of ideas cannot be settled by force. Military action is but an outgrowth or offshoot of the big war — which will be won or lost depending upon who is most successful in propagating their ideology.

The leftists, knowing how to use the weapon of propaganda, have thus far thrown the rightists in the shade. That does not mean the leftists are correct. It means they know how to win more people to a wrong idea than the other side knows how to win them to a right one. My dictionary defines "propaganda" as: "any organization or concerted movement for propagating particular doctrines or principles; also the doctrines or principles propagated." "Propaganda" means to spread or transmit or cause to increase. Early Christians spreading the Gospel were called "Propagandists."

Now we nationalists — that is, citizens who wish to preserve our nation's integrity and the principles of the Republic, including the Declaration of Independence, with strong individualism — wish to spread or propagate that idea but most of us do not know how. The enemy is not even in a majority, but he has a small, compact network of workers and agents who function with clocklike precision and, being collectivists, are willing to subvert their personal independence in order to do and carry out the plan of their propaganda master-minds. That is where they have the jump on us, because, being independent individuals, it is impossible for us to regiment ourselves, submit to iron centralized discipline and become members of a machine. How, then, shall we propagandize our independent principles?

The answer, as I see it, is for us to form a VOLUNTEER army of free men who will work together — cooperatively, either as individuals or groups, to systematically establish a nation wide network for the wholesale propagation of our patriotic views. Such a network of free propagandists spreading the doctrines of free men is opposite the regimented, conscripted, disciplined type of organization the internationalists and leftists require.

A good start in this direction is the establishment of correspondence circles whereby volunteer nationalists undertake a duty of writing as many letters to other volunteers as possible, building up lists of other patriotic individuals and organizations and exchanging ideas and information. Our Revolution against England could never have succeeded had not the war of ideas been carried on for years by many Colonists. They corresponded with one another, spread their opinions thus and through local letters to newspaper editors and constant bombardment of their representatives. They clipped the latest information and exchanged it with one another. Yet there was no mass discipline. The letters of ordinary citizen Samuel Adams (who later became a great man) alone won hundreds of men to the new idea of Independence. Even many of the opposition Tories read some letter or some item in a newspaper contributed by a hard-working independent nationalist that won them over. The Colonists won the propaganda battle hands down. Look at the work of Tom Paine in "Common Sense" for example. The American Revolution was really won by the ideas and methods of propagating them of the patriots proved victorious. The military engagement was but an offshoot. Even if the British had won the shooting war it would only have held back the victorious Colonists temporarily, the real war of right ideas against wrong ones having already been won.

Every town and hamlet in America should have rugged individuals and organizations large or small working night-and-day to completely permeate the American people with nationalism, American first propaganda, ruthlessly exposing every ruse or trick or speech or activity of internationalism.

As a practicing propagandist and an old hand at it, that's my advice. You should see my correspondence, ranging from letters giving or asking information to newspapers, books and periodicals to expose any individual or organization I discover to be subversive to this freedom, and to write to an editor or a congressman when the occasion calls for it. When enough people do that, they'll beat us. We've got to win the ideological war or lose our country, our

The End of a Friendship

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER — Washington will not be surprised if General George C. Marshall's views clash with the more aggressive attitude of General Douglas A. MacArthur soon after the former secretary of state assumes his post as Secretary of National Defense. In fact, President Truman has hinted that this consideration figured in his appointment of General Marshall. The latter holds the same five-star rank as MacArthur and, in the White House reckoning, has greater prestige and popularity with the people.

Moreover, Generals Marshall and MacArthur disagree on many military strategy. Nobody but Marshall can get away with disciplining MacArthur. REFORM — Several of General Marshall's relatives are key members of the Democratic machine in Pennsylvania. Moreover, although military men are not supposed to oppose or favor any administration's policies, General Marshall, as a transplanted Virginia Democrat, was enthusiastic for most of the New Deal and Fair Deal programs for domestic reform.

Thus his appointment may sow the seeds of conflict with both Generals MacArthur and Eisenhower. Although he has not yet said so in specific terms, despite his Republican friends' urging "file is poles apart from Marshall in politics." EMBARRASSMENT — General MacArthur's Formosa statement also caused Dean Acheson grave embarrassment because it came on the eve of his conference with the British and French Foreign Ministers at New York. The cabinet member's friends liken the general's V-E-W. outburst to the famous pro-Moscow speech Henry Wallace made when James B. Byrnes was Secretary of State. Besides having recognized Communist China, Prime Minister Nehru has shown irritation, if not actual hostility, toward our Far Eastern policy.

His recent attitude has become a matter of deep concern at the State House, for Washington regards him as a key figure in our conflict with Russia. It would be a catastrophic defeat if India's 300,000,000 people should line up with Stalin even passively. DESTINY — Nehru's recent statements show that he thinks the western powers, including the United States, still "look down" on the Asiatics, and regard them as "wards" rather than "equals." In his opinion, the people of that vast continent should be permitted to work out their own destiny, even if it means adoption of communism. In view of their current abysmal misery, he probably feels that they could not be worse off than they are after centuries of the white man's rule. It is not generally noted, but India has voted with Russia more often than with the United States in the United Nations Security Council. On seven crucial votes since the Korean invasion, Nehru's man has sided with us on only one roll call, with Russia four times and abstained twice. Both abstentions tended to operate against us.

In view of this background, and on the basis of General Marshall's 1947 recommendation that we let the Chinese settle their own problems without American intervention, the climate here is not exactly MacArthurish. from cutthroat Communists to World Federalists. Every newspaper editor should be bombarded with letters from local nationalists and such a constant stream of letters, wires and direct or indirect pressure should be kept up on legislators and representatives as to make them aware that Americans are waking up and they had better watch their step. That home vote is the biggest influence on most representatives. Citizens will have a lot of information to write about just by corresponding with and exchanging news and views with other citizens.

As a practicing propagandist and an old hand at it, that's my advice. You should see my correspondence, ranging from letters giving or asking information to newspapers, books and periodicals to expose any individual or organization I discover to be subversive to this freedom, and to write to an editor or a congressman when the occasion calls for it. When enough people do that, they'll beat us. We've got to win the ideological war or lose our country, our

The Doctor Says

WRITTEN FOR NEA By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M.D.

Whooping cough is not the harmless disease too many people seem to believe it is. It kills some infants and cripples other people. The coughing spells strain the lungs. Pneumonia can develop; asthma, bronchitis and other lung complications are not unusual.

A single child entering school with whooping cough can spread the disease to a large number of others. Furthermore, children from one to ten years old are most likely to be attacked. Older children, grownups, and infants under six weeks old can also catch it. Vomiting often follows spasms of coughing. Thus, when babies get the disease they may become starved and waste away simply because they are not getting enough food.

The time between exposure and appearance of symptoms varies from four to 20 days, but is usually about ten. At first the symptoms seem like an ordinary cold, with fever, running nose, watery eyes, and slight cough. After a week or ten days the cough begins to become worse and the typical paroxysms set in. The fit of coughing usually begins with a series of 15 to 20 forced short coughs without any breaths in between. The child may get blue in the face and then take a deep breath of air which sounds like a whoop. Several fits of coughing may come one after the other until a small amount of sticky mucus is coughed up which may bring temporary relief. When vomiting occurs, it usually comes at the end of the whoop.

The whooping cough patient should be kept away from others who might become infected. Rest in bed, good nursing care, and special attention to the nutrition, especially if there is vomiting, is necessary. IMMUNIZED YOUNG — Most doctors believe that the vaccine against whooping cough will give active immunity and protection to children. These injections are usually begun when the child is about six months old. Infants or small children who have not been given the injections to immunize them but who have been seriously exposed are sometimes given a special serum which seems to help in making the disease milder.

A most encouraging development in the treatment of whooping cough has occurred. This is the use of one of the new antibiotics drugs known as chloramphenicol or chloromycetin. This substance relieves the symptoms in most cases and should be life-saving especially in severe cases in old people and tiny children.

Of course, you can also do that in any of the other 47 states too, but the secret seems to be that more Texans believe it. As someone has said "Texas is a state of mind." The American Way

By GEORGE PECK

NO PLEASING 'EM On many counts bureaucracy is a terrible and devastating thing. It's doubly one of the major faults of the bureaucrats is that there just isn't any pleasing 'em. As a for instance, during World War II, much as it hurt them, the bureaucrats were forced to admit that the big industries did an outstanding job of producing the things needed to defeat Germany and Japan.

Then, when the firing stopped, those same bureaucrats became alarmed, almost panicky, about steel production. They wanted to put Uncle Sam into the steel manufacturing business to take care of the heavy pent-up demands for civilian goods. They even criticized United States Steel Corporation and other steel producers for not being big enough.

But the steel companies fooled them. They enlarged their facilities, continued their policy of improving manufacturing methods, and quicker than you could say "back Robinson" took care of the situation. Americans got all the steel they needed.

However, as soon as the steel companies had demonstrated they could furnish steel in sufficient quantities, without an assist from the Federal Government, the bureaucrats suffered another "brain storm." Now, they charge that United States Steel Corporation is too big and must be broken up into several smaller units. Apparently big business is to be damned if it does and damned if it doesn't. There just isn't no pleasing 'em.

Let's consider a few facts about the United States Steel Corporation. When it was formed in 1901, it produced 66 percent of the nation's steel — today it produces only 33 percent. While its output has grown greatly in the past half century, the production of its competitors has grown nearly four times as much. If that is a trend to monopoly, as the bureaucrats charge, then Noah Webster's dictionary should be thrown into the ashcan.

Does United States Steel hurt small business? Small business does not think so. Of the 54,000 suppliers of goods or services to United States Steel, at least 50,000 are small businesses. Do small consumers dislike United States Steel? Apparently not, because of the 110,000 customers to whom that corporation sells its products, some 90,000 are small customers. To quote a statement of the company: "We have always cultivated small customers. We know from experience that little ones grow into big ones. We welcome every new business because more business means more customers."

One would gather from this statement that United States Steel and small customers have a mutual respect and liking for each other. Why, then, today this bureaucratic clamor about the United States Steel being too big, while just a short while ago, the bureaucrats were condemning that company because it wasn't big enough? Can it be that the administration is planning politics? Or is it because bureaucrats, being bureaucrats, there just is no pleasing 'em. Whatever the answer may be, it seems to be a silly piece of business.

So They Say

I would say it is better to be a live sinner than a dead saint. —Dr. Elwood C. Nance, president of the University of Tampa and former Army chaplain.

Washington.....by Peter Edson

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

For Peter Edson who is on vacation. WASHINGTON — (NEA) — There are two big mysteries behind organized crime in the U. S. today which continue to defy solution by the best criminal investigators in the country. Although in the few months of its existence the special Senate committee investigating organized crime in the U. S. has done an outstanding job of exposing various rackets, its investigations have not made the two big mysteries more intriguing.

Mystery No. 1 concerns the notorious Mafia, its membership, influence and shadowy operations. Mystery No. 2 concerns the real control of the Continental Press Service which supplies the raising news to bookies all over the U. S. The Mafia, or Black Hand, has its roots in Italy. In Napoleonic times the rich Sicilian landowners created it as a sort of private police force to keep the

to be just beyond the grasp of investigators. There is no known link between the Mafia and the Continental Press Service, the source of all racing news which is the cornerstone of bookie operations in the U. S. But the mystery of its operation is almost as profound.

Its headquarters is in Cleveland. The sole, legal owner of its physical properties is a young law student, Edward J. McBride, who apparently does not know much about his company's operation. Long and bloody gang wars have been fought over its control in the past but today the issue seems to be settled. In fact, it's the very peaceful, routine operation of the service which is the most suspicious thing about it, according to investigators. A bookie can't operate without its services. Yet there is fighting and gang strife among the big gamblers about control of other parts of the bookmaking racket. But the Continental Press Service now goes serenely on about its business reporting up-to-the-second race track activities all over the country without becoming embroiled in the side activities of the business.

Washington.....by Peter Edson

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

At some level, the experts point out, there must be an agreement among the big bosses as to what group or gang of crooks gets the service in a locality. The good could be gotten on the men at this level, it is claimed, the back of the fantastically profitable gambling racket in this country could be broken.

It is obvious that both of these problems, the Mafia, and the Continental Press Service, will be the subject of future investigations of the Senate committee.

Taxpayers Are Charged Nearly $2 Each for Election Which Attracted Only 307 Voters

By HENRY S. GORDON — To comply with state law and democracy — it cost the taxpayers of Gray County the microscopic portion of a half-cent less than $2 per head for 307 people to vote in the special tax re-allocation election on Sept. 9.

To get an exact picture we brushed the cobwebs from our memory of mathematical procedure; bothered, tantalized and bullied our paper's auditor, Horace McBee and County Auditor Ray Wilson into helping us, and finally came up with the right answer.

So, to be exact, we found that the election cost $1,990,935.1 per vote; still leaving 78-307 of a mill unaccounted for.

We arrived at this figure after adding up the total number of votes cast; adding up the total cost and then followed through with dividing via long division, and calculating machines.

Brownie Troop Two Names New Officers

The election of officers and planning of activities for this year were conducted at a Brownie Troop No. 2 meeting held last week.

Darlene Adams was elected president; Daine Kiff, vice president; Denada Foster, secretary; and Quilla Sue Beavers, treasurer.

Plans were made for an outing in place of the next meeting.

One new member, Helen McConnell, was present. Other members attending the meeting were Nancy Cleveland, Nancy Goodright, Sara Gordon, Linda Johnson, Marcia Miller and Joan Thompson.

the total cost by the number voting.

Broken down the costs ran like this:

Election officials, $477; election supplies, $84; ballots, $27.45; pencils, $5.40; sheriff's mileage, $19.220, making a total of $613.05.

The election judges are paid 50 cents per hour and $1 for returning the box to the county clerk. The election supplies consist of tally sheets, forms, etc.

To comply with the law, 7,500 ballots had to be printed — 307 of them were used.

The remainder will be used for scratch pads.

The sheriff's department had to make two trips over the county; first to post the election notices and then to deliver the boxes to election judges. This amounted to 250 miles at eight cents a mile.

The number voting in the election, made mandatory by the Constitution every six years, was a poor percentage of those eligible to vote in the election. The county has approximately 4,500 on the tax rolls. About 4,000 of these also have poll taxes. The remainder is split up among property owning taxpayers who do not hold poll tax receipts or are companies and corporations, and some are non-residents.

The law requires that the number of ballots printed must be one and one-half times the number of eligible voters — meaning one and one-half ballots for each voter.

In some of the boxes the cost per vote was much higher. For instance it cost the county $14 in labor alone to keep Precinct 13 open all day — nobody voting. In Precinct 2, it cost, $24.50 in labor for 13 people to vote.

The county's largest box, Precinct 10, had a labor bill of $30 and polled only 40 votes. In the smallest, Precinct 18, it cost, in labor, $16 for three people to vote.

The same situation existed in each of the county's 18 boxes. Although the cost for the election would have been the same had more people voted, the per capita cost would have declined.

County officials were wondering last week whether the picture would be the same on Nov. 7, the day of the general election.

The total cost then will go much higher since still more ballots will have to be ordered with more eligible voters to be accounted for and, in all probability, larger crews of election officials.

McLEAN — (Special) — A one-speaker public address system suitable for outdoor use has been purchased by the McLean Lions Club.

This is the only equipment of this type in town, and the club plans to make it available for use at all outdoor activities in the community where such equipment is needed.

Initial use of the system probably will be advertising and announcing the five remaining football games to be played on Tiger Field. Through a sponsorship deal for these games, the club hopes to raise sufficient funds to pay for the equipment.

As a further money-making scheme, the Lions are sponsoring a one-day visit of Horn Brothers Circus on Oct. 2. This is a one-year circus and the little "Big Top" will be set up on the old football field back of the grade school. Two performances will be given.

Rich Californian Recalls Day of Kindness in Will

LOS ANGELES —(AP)—A day of kindness 30 years ago was never forgotten by oil-rich eccentric Charles Babonet. And so a family he met just once stands to gain $100,000.

The wrapping-paper will of Babonet, called by a friend "a secret philanthropist in overalls," named Mrs. Pearl A. Tyson and her family principal beneficiaries of an estate that may be worth $500,000.

The family was rewarded for giving Babonet—who died Aug. 7 at the age of 68—a happy day at the beach after picking him up on a highway.

"If I live to be 1,000 I never forget that day," the Austrian-born bachelor wrote on the wrapping paper.

Strangely enough, the unusual document was filed for probate by one of the nation's foremost bankers, L. M. Giannini, president of the Bank of America. The handwritten will was shoved under the door of a downtown bank branch Aug. 28—by whom no one seems to know. It was addressed to the president.

But Giannini and Atty. Robert B. Ellantyne said they had no reason to doubt the authenticity of the will, dated Oct. 2, 1945.

Mrs. Tyson and her husband, William, 51-year-old carpenter, could barely remember the incident. "It was so long ago—but I seem to recall a small, dark man," said Tyson. They were vacationing here from Denver when they befriended Babonet. They moved to Los Angeles five years later.

Mrs. Tyson was left $60,000, her husband $20,000 and a daughter, now Mrs. Melissa Christian Carter, $20,000. The daughter, 40, resides only a mile from the modest cottage where Babonet lived.

Still sought is the daughter's playmate on that faraway day, identified in the will only as "Sue" and left $10,000. Mrs. Carter said she hadn't seen "Sue" since childhood.

In his will, Babonet named the car (a Haynes) and gave the Tyson address, which he said he copied from the auto registration slip while the family was in swimming.

Babonet, who lived in apparent poverty, didn't forget his neighbors, although he didn't know the names of most of them. He left $50,000 to Peter J. Kelly, "who cares for me when sick," and $40,000 to "my four good neighbors, each man and wives $5,000."

Brothers and sisters in Austria, if living, were willed $10,000.

each. Public Administrator Ben H. Brown said none had been located yet, but the probate petition listed five cousins and heirs, so a family he met just once stands to gain $100,000.

After his death, officials found $120,000 in cash and more than that amount in bonds in Babonet's home. Banking records indicate he kept at least a half dozen different accounts. The smallest, $25,000, Brown believes other income from oil holdings may swell the estate to $500,000.

Kelly said Babonet liked to keep cash on hand to give it away, secretly—"a real philanthropist in overalls."

"I'd drive to a church, an orphanage or a hospital at his direction," Kelly recalled. "Then he'd slip some money in an envelope—I never knew how much—and I'd leave it in the mail box. I delivered hundreds of Christmas baskets for him. I never knew a man who seemed to live more by the will of God than Charlie."

Eggs, Coffee Rise Slightly In U.S. Areas

(By The Associated Press) Retail prices of top grade large eggs and several brands of vacuum coffee advanced in many places this week. But otherwise food prices held largely unchanged from last weekend.

Some cuts of beef edged upward slightly in scattered sections, but meats and poultry were generally steady. And on produce counters, advances in some local vegetables nearing the end of the season in nearby growing areas were just about balanced by declines in others still in abundant supply.

Large eggs climbed two to eight cents a dozen, continuing a weeks-long seasonal trend as farmers gradually replenish their laying flocks with younger hens. The small or pullet eggs from these younger hens have advanced much less than large eggs. And Agriculture Department specialists advised housewives to check prices of the smaller eggs for better values on a pound-for-pound basis.

A table worked out by the department shows that if large eggs are selling at 71 to 75 cents a dozen, the smalls are as good or better value at 53 to 56 cents.

At least four major independent roasters of coffee raised prices of their nationally advertised vacuum-packed brands by 2-4 to 3 cents a pound, bringing higher costs of green coffee. Tomatoes, broccoli, green corn and cucumbers were the fresh vegetables most generally marked up in price this week. Lower in most places were apples, carrots, cauliflower, celery, peaches and peppers.

Sweet potatoes are headlined on the Agriculture Department's most-plentiful foods list for this week. The crop is the largest in four years. Prices of beef and pork normally would start their seasonal down-trend in the next few weeks as supplies pick up. But that downturn is expected to be delayed this year and may be much less pronounced than usual.

This is partly because more meat is being consumed as wages and employment rise and as the government buys more for the armed forces. But weather also has a lot to do with it. Wet, cool weather in the midwestern corn belt has threatened to keep much of the corn from ripening and hardening properly so it can be stored for long periods. Many farmers consequently are holding their cattle and hogs back from market to fatten them on this "soft" corn, which might otherwise be sold.

The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index this week declined one cent from a week ago to 36.67, and was 18.8 percent above the year-ago week's 31.72. The figure represents the total wholesale cost of a pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Fuel Refiners Say Gasoline One Third Better Than 1925

By DAVID J. WILKIE
DETROIT — (AP) — If you take the fuel refiners' word for it two gallons of today's gasoline are worth three 1925 gallons.

Today's motorists — many of whom had no experience with 1925 motor fuel — may want to dispute this. But Ethyl Corporation's research laboratories made exhaustive tests and reports today's gasoline is not only far ahead of 1925 fuel but also that its price, exclusive of taxes, is about the same as it was 25 years ago.

Ethyl Corp. doesn't attempt to give the oil industry all the credit for what has been accomplished in the last quarter century with motor-car fuel. It emphasizes there has been close cooperation with the automotive industry, which has greatly improved power plants since 1925.

Ethyl Corp. laboratories, checking on 50 cities, found the price of regular gasoline, without taxes, in 1925, was 21.93 cents a gallon. Today the price in the same cities, also without taxes, averaged 20.17 cents a gallon.

Inclusion of taxes boosts the average retail price to 24.21 cents per gallon in 1925 and to 26.86 cents per gallon for today's gasoline.

The research also developed that the octane rating of 1925 gasoline was 55 numbers and engine compression ratios about 4.5-to-1. Today's "regular" gasoline averages about 84 octane numbers and runs up to 90 numbers for premium fuel. Engine compression ratios meanwhile have advanced to around 7.5-to-1.

Tests have shown that the higher the compression ratio the greater is the mileage taken out of a gallon of gasoline.

Reviewing the oil industry's work in improving gasoline, Ethyl Corp. engineers said:

"Each octane number got bigger as quality moved up the scale." They added that "seven octane numbers between 83 and 90 yield as great a gain in mileage and performance as the 16 octane numbers between 55 and 71."

To dramatize its findings, Ethyl Corp. staged a number of driving tests last week. A 1921 Cadillac car with 4.5-to-1 compression ratio using the equivalent of 1925 fuel got 13.8 miles to a gallon of gasoline. A 1950 Oldsmobile, using an 8-to-1 compression ratio engine and today's premium fuel turned up 24.13 miles per gallon.

In a 20 seconds' acceleration test from a rolling 10 miles an hour start the 1921 car with the 4.5-to-1 compression ratio and using 1925 fuel covered 820 feet. A 1950 Cadillac with 7.5 compression and 1950 fuel covered 1,148 feet.

EVERYBODY IS SO BUSY—Christmas shopping, no less. Leastways we're getting in the mood for it, and now's the time to do a few things like sewing, knitting, and such. Another thing. Noticed in the paper not many days ago that someone here repaired dolls, and my! is that Heaving sent? We have so many one-armed, locked-eyed and no-headed dolls at our house that I can't keep up with the casualties! These people also make doll clothing—wonder if they repair boys' guns and bikes? I'm not going to bother to find out if they can put the "pop" back into a pop-gun—that's one thing I'm always glad to see deteriorate, but if your kiddies are like ours, all the new toys in the world wouldn't take the place of a few old faithful things that they've clung to for years.

WE PEOPLE WHO send our grade schoolers from 8 a. m. to 12 noon complain because they go so early, and the others who send the kiddies from 12 to 4 p. m. don't like it because they go so late. Only thing I can figure out is for us Mamas to don our aprons and get down to the schools and start laying bright! hah! It shows how crowded the youngsters were and how badly the new buildings were needed.

LOOKS LIKE the season's activities have started. The Knife and Fork Club had its initial meeting of the year last Tuesday night. Shouldn't the concert series begin shortly?—and here's something a lot of people will want to know: are there tickets for individual performances? If I remember correctly, the tickets are in series only. Seems there should be more interest in these concerts, or rather, there should be better attendance.

Roberts—Chapman Vows Exchanged

One of the outstanding weddings of the early fall season was the ceremony Friday evening Sept. 15, in which Miss Merdella Mae Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Skeet Roberts, became the bride of William H. Chapman, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hickman. Dr. Douglas E. Nelson read the double-ring service in the sanctuary of the First Presbyterian Church.

Vows were exchanged before a floral arch which was backed by palms and centered with an arrangement of white and yellow chrysanthemums. At either side were groups of candelabra and four tall baskets of white and yellow mums.

The bridal aisle was marked with cathedral tapers festooned with white mums and tied with satin ribbon.

Mrs. H. A. Yoder, organist, played "Traumer" (Schumann), "Verause" (Delbruck) and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" (Herbert). She accompanied Charley Thomas as he sang "To You" and "Because" (D'Hardelot). Mrs. Yoder also played the traditional wedding marches.

Misses June Montgomery and Carol Ann McClelland lighted the candles. They wore identical ballarina length dresses of taffeta.

Miss Montgomery's was white (See VOWS EXCHANGED, P. 12)

Miss Peggy Hukill Is Bride of D. B. Jameson, Jr.; Ceremony Is Read in First Presbyterian Church

A ceremony read in the First Presbyterian Church of Pampa at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, Sept. 9, united in marriage Miss Peggy Hukill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hukill, 623 N. Somerville, and D. B. Jameson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Jameson, northwest of Pampa. The double-ring rites were solemnized by Dr. Douglas E. Nelson, pastor.

White pleated satin covered the altar, reaching to the floor, and on the altar was a fan shaped arrangement of white gladioli and brick-red oak leaves. The altar was flanked by tall baskets of gladioli, tapers in candelabra and palms. Before it was a kneeling bench covered in white satin. Pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride wore traditional white satin as she entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. Her gown was slipper-length with long sleeves ending in points over the back of the hands. The illusion yoke was trimmed with applied satin flowers, and tiny covered buttons closed the tight-fitting basque waist down the back. Her head-dress was a white satin caplet entwined with white imported illusion and pearls, and it caught her two-tiered, elbow-length veil of illusion.

The bride carried her bouquet of gardenias surrounded with stephanotis and white satin streamers on a white satin sash, a gift from her mother, and her only jewelry was a white moonstone onyx pin borrowed from her mother. The rest of the old tradition of "something old, new, borrowed and blue" was also carried out.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Max Hukill, sister-in-law of the bride, wore a floor-length, gown of pastel yellow net over taffeta and a head-dress of yellow net entwined with pearls, with a bow and streamers at one side.

The junior bridesmaid, Miss Nancy Jameson, sister of the bridegroom, wore yellow net over brick-red taffeta and her head-dress to match those of the other attendants.

Miss Helen Blocker, in yellow net over yellow taffets, and wear-

AAUW Members Hear Mrs. Stover Report On New York Plays

Members of the American Association of University Women heard Mrs. Egar A. Stover report on the plays she saw in New York this summer at their monthly meeting this week in the Pampa Room.

Mrs. Stover gave a short synopsis of "Death of a Salesman," which she considered the best among the several she saw. She described the simple settings and remarked that Broadway depends on the actors and characters more than the stage settings for the success of the show.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. N. D. Steele following the vocal solos by Miss Evelyn Layton accompanied by Miss Eloise Lane.

A short business meeting, conducted by Mrs. H. Y. Corus, president, preceded the program. Tea was served to the group from a table centered with an arrangement of fall flowers and tall tapers. Edith Kral and Frances Taintor served.

Guests were Mrs. Roy Savell, Mrs. Frances Sealy, Mrs. Naomi Davis, Mrs. Hal Suttler, Mrs. Mabel Kerby, Mrs. Lucy Hall, Mrs. Bird Crowell, Mrs. Mary McIvor, Mrs. Loret Byars and Mrs. Helen Meyers.

EVERYONE WHO WENT to El Paso said the Harvesters did themselves proud Friday. I think it's wonderful to have so many fans following the team, and it's not only the parents; many others made the trip. Surely would be nice if it could be arranged for the hand to make all of the out-of-town games—I'm for supporting those gridsters all the way—and the best support they can get is good attendance at games. After all, we wuz once young ourselves!

Speaking of football, I understand there's a lot of interest in the Quarterback Club this year. Dr. Joe Donaldson, the subject of last week's rhyme, was recently elected president for the year.

THIS AFTERNOON (at the SSA style show) I expect to see everyone dressed to the Nth degree. Really, in the past, I've seen some who were as lovely as any model in the show. For instance Mrs. Dave Finkelstein, red-haired Patricia Lively, Mrs. Gladys Howard or Mrs. Gladys Jaynes (who's going to be a grandmother not long hence). The only thing about the showing is that it just happens once a year—it should be a seasonal project—Fall, Spring, Summer, etc. That's something of which we never tire—fashion.

THE FAIRWAY in Amarillo looked like Cuyler—there were so many fairer faces there. Don't you think this area can be proud of the exhibition over there every year?

FASHION DESIGNERS say they are going to make a "sheath" out of all of this winter by putting us into those slim, sleek skirts. Granted, those billowing ankle-length deals did nothing for the majority, but mercy! with all the excess calories I've accumulated this summer, nobody, not even Jacques Faith in person, could make a "willowy wisp" out of

He is 24 years old and a graduate of Oklahoma A & M College.

The following is quoted from the Times: "Ross visited 12 countries on his hitch-hiking tour. He was scared plenty of times, but he stuck it out until he had been over Europe from one end to the other. The thought of making a speech scares him, too, but he's game; he's accepting all the invitations he can. He'll relate his experiences."

Miss Irene Sailor, cousin of the bride, registered guests in the church foyer. She was dressed in a soft rose lace gown over changeable brick-red taffeta, with black accessories, and a corsage of yellow gladioli. She also presided at the register at the reception.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Hulle, wore a gray lace two-piece dress with pink and pink accessories. Her corsage, a pink single plemella, was worn at the neck of her dress. Mrs. Jameson, mother of the bridegroom, wore a brown crepe dress with black accessories, and a corsage of yellow roses.

Tall baskets of white gladioli and brick-red oak leaves and bouquets of the same flowers decorated the Hukill home for the reception.

The table was laid in white damask lace over white linen appointed in crystal and silver. The centerpiece of white chrysanthemums and red oak leaves was flanked by yellow tapers entwined with pearls in crystal holders. The wedding cake also carried out the bride's theme of white and brick-red, and was topped with a white wedding bell. Punch in brick-red and mints in the form of tiny yellow wedding bells were served.

Mrs. Walter Purviance, ladies' punch and Mrs. R. J. Sailor, an aunt of the bride, served the cake. Others assisting were Mrs. Coyle Ford, Mrs. Vi Willis, Mrs. H. O. Darby, Mrs. L. S. Steadum and Misses Patsy Darby and Carolyn Ford.

The bride is a graduate of Pampa High School, where she was a member of the National Honor Society and was head cheer leader. She is now employed by Cabot.

The bridegroom, also a Pampa High graduate, was in the Navy three years and attended the University of Texas. He is also employed by Cabot.

SPEAKING OF Furniture
By DON FOSTER

TOUCH AND GLOW
The average living room is used more by artificial light than in daylight, so the choice of lamps and their positions in the room are of vital importance. The plan of a room should include three types of light—for resting or close work; semi-direct for beauty; and indirect—for general illumination. Floor and table lamps that cast light down furnish best direct light. Indirect and semi-direct light may be obtained from ceiling fixtures, structural or built-in cove lighting and lamps with diffusing bowls which throw light upward.

Lamps are an important decorating adjunct too, and should fit in with the style of the room. Table lamps today are much higher than formerly. Overall height generally ranges from 30 to 36 inches, except in some provincial-type rooms where smaller lamps fit in better. Reading lamps in any room should be high enough to cast light on the book, not on the floor.

Note how the lamps in the room sketched above are all on the same level. Also, the pair of lamps—like the pair of chairs—are balancing unit.

Lamps are important furnishings and should be chosen with care and discrimination. Let us help you choose yours, won't you?

GI Education Inquiry Will Start Quickly

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Chairman Teague (D-Tex) of a special House committee says a complete investigation of the vast GI education program will get under way quickly.

The House has voted $30,000 to finance the probe.

Teague said the nine-man committee will dip into all aspects of the $10,000,000,000 "veterans" program. He told a reporter the inquiry would not result in "smears and insinuations."

He said the committee will concentrate both on "alleged abuses" by schools and on possible "administrative abuses" by the Veterans Administration (VA), which runs the program.

"Facts are what we want," he said. "This will be no smear campaign."

Last winter the VA sent a 200-page report to Congress which included what it said were 258 examples of "fraudulent practices on the part of institutions" and other "problems" connected with the program.

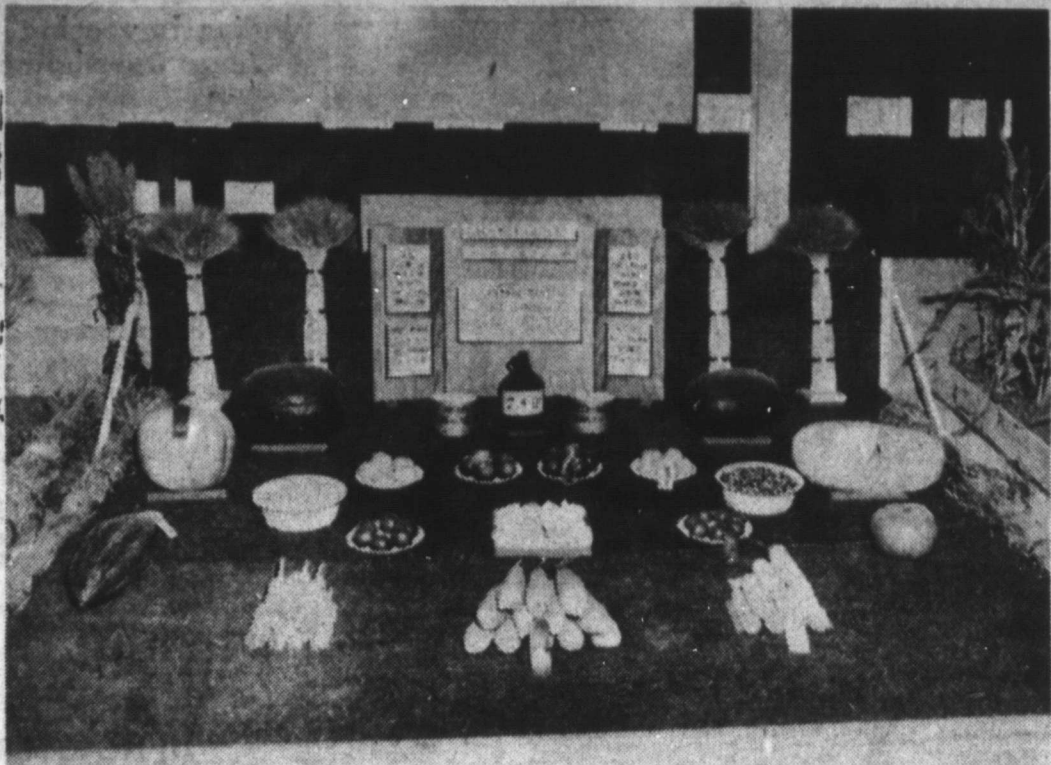

The committee will investigate these "alleged abuses," but Teague has consistently contended that the VA itself is as much to blame as the schools.

Teague said here is how the committee is likely to do its work:

Starting almost at once, six trained investigators will be sent to all types of schools giving GI training. One of these investigators is a former postal inspector. Others may be ex-FBI agents.

They will "spot check" schools, going over records and talking to school authorities responsible for providing veterans' training.

Teague said schools in these states are likely to be guinea pigs: California, Texas, Wisconsin, Tennessee, Massachusetts and New York.

COUNTY BOOTH—Ralph Thomas, Gray County agent, reported that many compliments were received on the neatness and arrangement of Gray County's booth (above) at the Amarillo Tri-State Fair last week. The main factor of the booth was to demonstrate that binweed can be controlled. It also featured prize corn, tomatoes, apples, pumpkins and watermelons and included samples of wheat grown in Gray County in 1949-50. (News Engraving) passed a bill last spring tightening up the education program, after President Truman complained that some veterans were using it as a substitute for unemployment compensation.

But Teague says, the inquiry will set a future pattern for veterans' education. Attempts have already been made in Congress to grant Korean war veterans benefits similar to those in the GI bill.

Other members of the committee are: Reps. Chudoff (Pa.), Ewins (Tenn), Engle (Calif) and Bolling (Mo), Democrats; and Kearney (NY), Scudder (Calif), Weichel (O) and Beall (Md), Republicans.

Kiwanis Club Will Sponsor Family Barbecue Tuesday

The Kiwanis Club will hold another family picnic and barbecue beginning at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday in Central Park, according to an announcement made Friday by Frank Wilson, chairman of the house and reception committee.

If the weather is not suitable, the picnic will be held in the junior high gymnasium.

John McFall will prepare the barbecue and Dr. T. J. Wright and his vocational guidance committee will provide the entertainment.

Ralph Gardner, branch manager of the Southwestern Investment Company, and transfer from the Santa Fe, N. M., club, was welcomed into the club Friday.

W. B. Weathered requested Kiwanians to "take part" in the civic club golf tournament Sunday, Oct. 1, at the country club. He said that on Tuesday, following the close of the tournament, a stag dinner will be held for entrants in the tournament.

Harley Bulls, chairman of the musical program at the club meeting Friday.

Included on the program were Adelaide Williams and her quartet, accompanied by June Guillot, at the piano; Dorothy Dodd Pea, vocalist, accompanied by Mrs. May Foreman Carr; Charlotte Ann Call, flutist, and Bulls, who sang two numbers.

A special added attraction was the Kiwanis quartet composed of G. F. Branson, Charley Beard, John Skelly and Bulls, which closed the program with two songs.

Postal Receipts In Slight Drop

A drop of less than one percent is shown in the postal receipts here in comparing August, 1949, and August, 1950.

In 1949, August receipts totaled $10,545.15 and this year, were $10,722 less.

However, during the July-August period of 1949, the receipts were $21,930.84 and this year, $22,708.89, which is a gain of $784.72.

Postal receipts over Texas during August rose nine percent over July of this year, according to a report from the University of Texas bureau of business research.

Receipts for 72 cities amounted to $4,005,963. Brownfield had a 64 percent gain over July for the largest monthly increase.

KILGORE — (AP) — Plans to help national, state and local officers in a defense program are being worked out by the East Texas chamber of commerce.

Czechs Order News Writer Out in Week

PRAGUE — (AP) — William N. Oatis, chief of the Prague bureau of the Associated Press, was told today that he must leave Czechoslovakia by next Saturday.

His three-month foreign correspondent's accreditation to the foreign ministry runs out that day. Bedrich Rungge, deputy director of the ministry's press department, told him it would not be renewed and he must get out when it expired.

"You are no longer persona grata," Rungge said. "Your behavior has been such as to justify our refusing to grant the prolongation of your accreditation."

Oatis is the third AP correspondent to be expelled from this Communist-led country this year. Richard R. Kasichke left Jan. 11. Nathan Polowetzky departed April 8. They were accused of lacking objectivity in reporting Czech affairs but the government did not back up the charges with specific allegations.

Oatis's visa, applied for late in February, was 14 weeks in coming through. He arrived here June 23. Five Czechoslovak citizens had kept the bureau going in the meantime. Their reporting was limited to rewriting dispatches of the official Czechoslovak news agency.

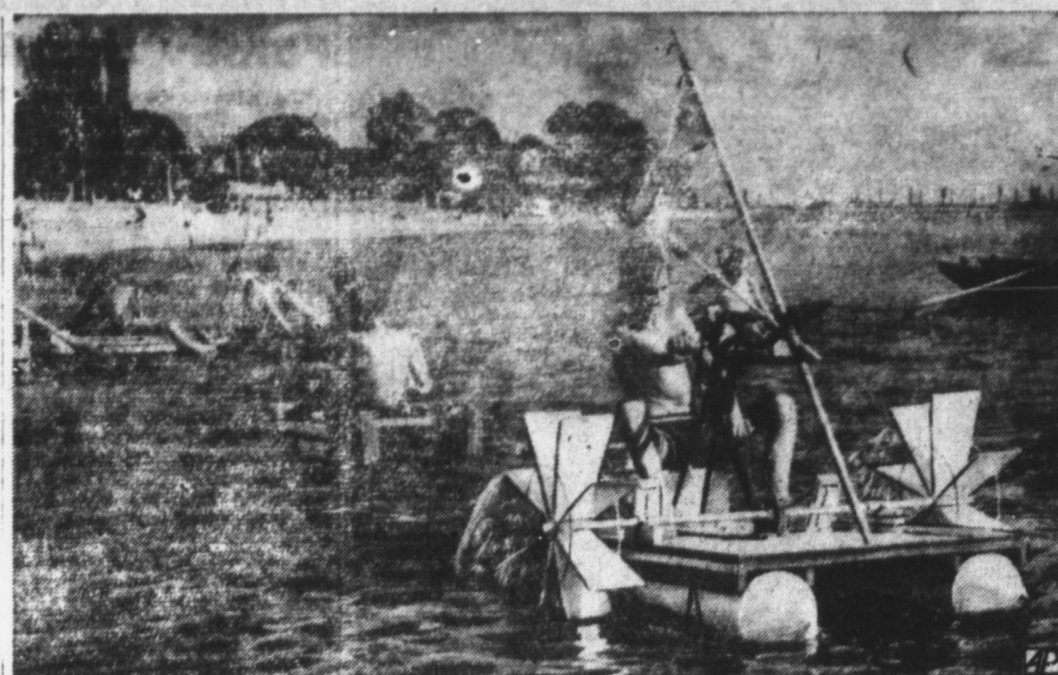

"This is not a measure that is directed against the Associated Press," Rungge told the correspondent. "It is a measure that is directed against you personally."

Rungge was asked whether Oatis' privileges were being withdrawn because of something he did or because of something he wrote.

"You know exactly why," he said.

When Oatis replied that he did not know why, Rungge replied: "I am just informing you of the decision of our authorities and that decision is that you are no longer acceptable."

Oatis said this answer did not

Mass Custody At School for Boys to Stop

AUSTIN — (AP) — Trouble-making mass custody at the Gatesville State School for Boys must go, the state youth development council has ordered.

The council directed its staff to prepare long range plans, including recommendations for physical facilities, for smaller school units that will permit maximum control and rehabilitation.

The action came at a council meeting after Gatesville State School Superintendent J. A. Atee stamped mass living conditions at the school as making "a mockery of rehabilitation."

"The need is for suitable buildings designed especially for the peculiar needs of the school," he said.

Under the present set-up, which he said results from inadequate and dilapidated buildings, "first offenders are forced to run with repeaters. Gangs are organized and boys forced to align with one or another. Run-aways too frequently result."

Council Member Lewis Norvick of Amarillo called the school "a disgrace for over 80 years."

"If we do nothing more than do away with the stigma that has come to be attached to the school and the boys who have ever been there, we will have accomplished much," he said.

His motion to break up the school and substitute smaller school units was given unanimous approval.

Institutions Director Harold J. Matthews was instructed to have the council staff draw up the reorganization plans.

"I will never attack anything with more pleasure," Matthews said.

Polio Forecast Is Increased

NEW YORK — (AP) — The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis now expects 30,000 cases of polio this year instead of the 25,000 previously estimated.

The new total was based on a 22 percent increase in cases for the week ended Sept. 16, as reported by the U.S. public health service.

The 193-case gain over the previous week was the largest such increase in any September since 1940.

Last week 2,138 new cases were reported, bringing the year's total thus far to 17,370. If the 30,000 figure is reached, it will be second only to the 42,172 last year.

Agreement Ends Cold Cure Claims

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Eight companies have agreed not to advertise that their anti-histamine preparations will cure or prevent common colds.

However, the stipulations do not prevent the firms from saying that the medicines will relieve and often stop cold symptoms, the Federal Trade Commission said in announcing the agreement.

Five other firms had made similar agreements with the commission last June.

Governor Accepts Crusade Position

AUSTIN — (AP) — Gov. Allan Shivers has accepted the honorary chairmanship of the "Crusade for Freedom" throughout Texas.

This program, initiated by General Eisenhower, has as its chief goal the acquiring of several million names on a "freedom scroll" to be placed in the base of the Freedom Bell in Berlin on United Nations Day, Oct. 24.

Painter Stayed For Breakfast, Husband Charges

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — It took quite a while — 12 weeks, to be exact — to paint two rooms. But Claude T. Crotzenburg didn't find out why until one morning, the painter stayed for breakfast.

Then the slow brush-wielder and Mrs. Crotzenburg gave him the word: Crotzenburg must go. They were in love and he should step out of their lives and the house, leaving everything — including the television set — behind. They offered to keep up the payments on the set, though.

That was the story told in the divorce complaint filed by Crotzenburg, 56. He said he was on the graveyard shift at the post office when his wife Maxine, 43, employed the painter, who was unidentified in the complaint.

Crotzenburg said it took the painter seven weeks to do the kitchen and five more for the dining room. The disillusioned postal clerk asked custody of two children, Laurie, four, and Anthony, three.

Shepperd Rejects Certification of Party Nominee

AUSTIN — (AP) — Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd Friday refused to accept certification of a nominee for governor by the Constitution party of Texas in the Nov. 7 general election.

Shepperd said the party's certification of Garrett R. Rucker of San Antonio came too late. A Sept. 19 deadline for certification was announced several weeks ago to allow time for mechanics of setting up the general election ballot.

Tucker was the party's only nominee.

Shepperd said Garrett appeared in his office in person with the certification. He was accompanied by Philip Lee Eubank, chairman of the party's state executive board, and attorney James L. O. Miller, both of San Antonio.

Cotton Production Program Backfires on Washington

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON — (AP) — This year's cotton crop offers an example of how difficult it is to plan farm production from Washington.

A year ago the country had cotton running out of its ears. A new burdensome surplus was piling up, the bulk of it held by the government under a grower-price support program.

Uncle Sam had more than a billion dollars invested in the extra supplies.

Today the nation faces a possible shortage in some grades and staple lengths. Prices are advancing. Last year's so-called surplus is melting away.

What brought about this quick change? The principal factor was an Agriculture Department production control program designed to prevent an increase in supplies.

Last year, farmers produced a bumper crop of 15,446,000 bales. This was added to a reserve of 5,283,000 bales from previous crops.

smaller than the government's production goal. The supply situation wouldn't be so bad if use of cotton during the past 12 months had been in line with government expectations of a year ago. But considerably more cotton has been used in this country and exported than had been counted upon. The government plans to permit farmers to grow considerably more cotton in 1951. The principal export of Tibet is wool.

THE DRILLER'S LOG

By SUD ANDERSON

Had a bomb dropped on 734 S. Cuyler last Tuesday night, a major portion of Pampa's oil industry would have been wiped out. This is a somewhat overworked example to describe a large attendance, but it certainly applies here.

Since the affair was come-and-go from 5 to 8 p.m. and oilmen and company representatives were milling around in and out for those three hours, it would be impossible to get an accurate count of the number of persons showing up. However, there were 700 plates used and 175 pounds of ham taken care of in the three hours, which gives a fair estimate of attendance.

This is the second such affair put on by Gene and Bob Sidwell and E. E. Shelhamer and if things don't get too tight, there are chances a similar affair will be held next year.

There were quite a number of out-of-town prominent there. Shelhamer put down as many as he could think of and Bob Sidwell added a few more. Most of them were representatives of manufacturers of oil field equipment.

G. E. Ponder came from Dallas, K. L. Gille, South Milwaukee, Wis.; Glenn Peters, Fort Worth; J. P. Hanks, Tulsa; E. L. Klingner, Houston; Hood Hammond, Abilene; L. B. Pinkerton, Amarillo; Jack Driggs, Odessa; C. F. Lanier, Fort Worth; Tom Aurelius, Denver; Frank Barton, Newark, N.J.; J. D. Robinson, Oklahoma City; Ted Brissman, Amarillo; Pete Connors, Midland; Clyde Fleetwood, Wichita Falls; B. D. Jackson, Dallas; E. E. Rhodes, Lubbock; J. T. Cowan, Tulsa; F. E. Wagner, Oklahoma City; R. V. Manis, Jr., Wichita Falls; Lloyd Dittman, Houston; R. L. Ledbetter, Dallas and C. G. Rose, Oklahoma City.

All in all, response to the affair was good and comments favorable.

Gov. Roy J. Turner of Oklahoma, chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, will appear on an oil industry "Report to the Nation" forum to be sponsored by the Independent Petroleum Association of America in St. Louis Oct. 2.

Gov. Turner will be a member of six nationally known petroleum industry and government spokesmen who will report on all phases which make up the chain of petroleum industry services from well to consumer. His discussion will cover the work of the compact commission.

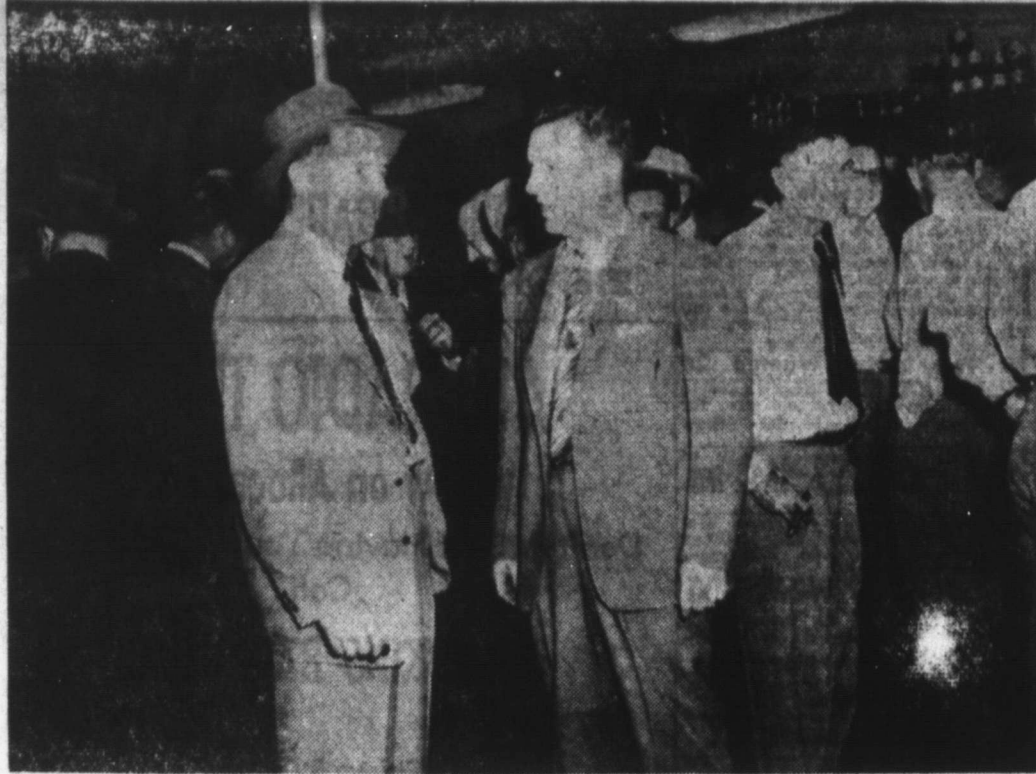

The IOCC is an advisory and research organization devoted to the broad objective of oil and gas conservation. Established in 1935 with congressional approval, the compact now has a membership of 20 states.

Gov. Turner has participated in oil and gas development since 1928 when the Harper-Turner Oil Co. was organized to operate in the Oklahoma City field. A native Oklahoman, he had broad experience in other industries before entering the oil business.

Slump in Oil Storage Stocks Perplexes Commission Heads

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON—(P)—Texas oil and gas regulatory officials are concerned over a slump in storage stocks despite a record oil output.

The Texas Railroad Commission has asked the oil industry to make a close check and submit new estimates on its minimum above-ground storage requirements.

Crude oil storage currently is about 10,000,000 barrels below the 245,000,000 barrel minimum set by company representatives 18 months ago.

The Texas Commission has asked executives of 13 major companies to submit new estimates at an Austin, statewide hearing October 19.

The action came shortly after the commission had ordered a 125,000 barrel daily slash in the state's crude oil production October 19.

Stock slumps caused some oilmen to seek an October allowance increase but the commission indicated it wants to study new storage requirement estimates before deciding future production trends.

On a monthly basis, Texas actually will produce just about as much oil as in September. The drop in daily average output results from October having one more day than September and from a special situation in six West Texas fields.

An emergency cut of 61,860 barrels per day in the fields became effective Wednesday because of sharp bottomhole pressure drops and jammed pipeline facilities in the booming Scurry County area.

National crude output climbed 29,500 barrels to a new daily average record of 5,938,330 barrels week before last. An ever greater amount of crude — 5,983,000 barrels daily — was processed by refineries.

But light heating fuel oil, a major winter item, was the only one of the four principal refined petroleum products to register a storage increase.

A gasoline stocks decline of 2,076,000 barrels all but wiped out the light fuels climb of 2,539,000. Kerosene dropped 63,000 barrels, heavy fuel oil 519,000.

Gasoline storage still is 1,074,000 barrels above a year ago, and kerosene is 141,000 higher. Light fuels, however, are 5,978,000 barrels lower, and heavy fuels 6,319,000 lower.

Members of the Texas oil and gas regulatory commission had anticipated a September increase in domestic crude oil stocks.

A September production output hike of 202,836 barrels daily was authorized in hopes of breaking the crude storage slump.

But reports on the first two weeks of the month showed new declines.

The commission has kept close watch on national crude stocks since the industry set the 245,000,000 barrel minimum estimate early last year.

Until recently the national stocks level had given good indication as to whether Texas crude output should be increased or reduced.

New Oil Potentials Drop As 21 Finaled, 17 Staked

Childress County Has New Wildcat Location by Armour

New oil potentials hit the skids again last week but total new locations and completions remained about the same as reported the booming week before.

New oil dropped to 576 barrels from 1,362 barrels reported the week ended Sept. 16. Operators helped themselves with the completion of nine gas wells for an aggregate potential of 73,249 MCF. There were no gasers completed the previous seven-day period.

Childress County was given a wildcat last week as the 7,000-foot Armour Properties No. 1 Gourd Land & Cattle test was staked 7 1/2 miles northwest of Childress. Helmrich & Payne filed plugging report on their No. 1 Flowers in Roberts County during the period.

Totals for the field show 17 new locations and 21 completions of which 11 were oilers, nine were gasers and one a dry hole. Current production is 30,159 barrels of oil and 1,328,749 MCF gas.

Plans Proceed on Two Oil Meetings

Two separate oil industry sessions are well in the planning stages according to reports from the Independent Petroleum Association of America and the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

IPAA is meeting in St. Louis Oct. 3 while Mid-Continent has selected Dallas for its meeting Oct. 4-5.

Walter S. Hallanan, chairman of the government-appointed National Petroleum Council, will be one of six widely-known speakers for IPAA on a public interest petroleum industry forum.

Hallanan's acceptance to appear as spokesman for the petroleum council was announced by the IPAA which has planned the forum as a public information feature of its 21st annual meeting.

Merle Becker, past president and program chairman of IPAA, said Hallanan would report on activities of NPC, which represents all branches of the petroleum and natural gas industries.

Hallanan was named chairman of NPC in 1946 and has been reelected each year. A native of West Virginia, he is a resident of Charleston and maintains offices there and in Pittsburgh, Pa.

In addition to Hallanan, IPAA previously announced that other speakers on the forum here will be J. E. Warren, Midland, IPAA president; Frank M. Porter, New York, president of American Petroleum Institute; Governor Roy J. Turner of Oklahoma, chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, and Lt. Gen. E. O. Thompson, member of the Railroad Commission of Texas.

Speakers named for the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association's 31st annual meeting in Dallas, October 4-5, will provide a round-up of state and national policies and trends which affect Texas oil and gas operations.

The program includes: Brig. Gen. Robert J. Smith, vice chairman of the National Security Resources Board; General Smith, the Pioneer Airlines president who was recently named to the country's top agency for policy on vital resources, is slated for a report on the current international crisis and the oil industry.

B. Brewster Jennings, president, Socony-Vacuum Oil Co., New York. His discussion of the relationship between the oil industry and the nation's security will be a major feature of the meeting.

Frank M. Porter, president of the American Petroleum Institute, New York. Porter is scheduled for a thorough study of the effects of a national fuels policy on petroleum operations.

Governor Allan Shivers. He will discuss the role of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission.

William T. Tierney, The Texas Co., scientist of New York. He will discuss research on a revolutionary type engine which may have long-range effects on the demand for petroleum.

R. E. Anderson of Vernon, association president. Anderson will keynote the meeting with a discussion of petroleum industry trends in Texas.

Dr. Carl Coke Rister, professor of history, University of Oklahoma. Author of "Oil! Titan of the Southwest," Dr. Rister's talk is "A Historian Looks at Oil."

Sooner Reports Take Sharp Drop

TULSA—(P)—Oklahoma oil field activity faltered last week, early reports show.

Completions were down from 131 last week to 90, including 47 oilers, two gas wells and 41 dry holes, according to the Tulsa World.

Other data: Average daily initial output of crude, 3,307 barrels; of gas, 6,000,000 cubic feet; and 287,806 total feet drilled. New tests, too, slumped to 59 from 116 last week. Stephens County again led with 19; twenty-six counties reported.

Reserve Board's First Attempts at Nipping Inflation Bounce, But Weapons Are Ready

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board's first attempts to nip inflation in the bud are being watched with interest by business and labor alike. The board's first move was to announce last week that it would raise the discount rate from 4 to 4 1/2 percent. This move was widely expected and was generally regarded as a "warning shot" at inflation. The board's next move was to announce that it would require member banks to hold more reserves. This move was also widely expected and was generally regarded as a "warning shot" at inflation. The board's third move was to announce that it would require member banks to hold more reserves. This move was also widely expected and was generally regarded as a "warning shot" at inflation.

the Treasury Department. The treasury opposes higher rates because they boost the interest cost on the $257,000,000 federal debt. Bill worse, the board's latest word from banks in leading cities across the nation shows business loans took the biggest one-week hop in history during the period ended Sept. 15. That $388,000,000 jump shoved the total of business loans to within $302,000,000 of the historic high point of $15,832,000,000 attained Dec. 22, 1948. The board can fire some further shots at bank loan expansion. It can raise reserve requirements of its member banks, which would mean "freezing" huge sums so they couldn't be loaned. There are indications it may do so soon. Dolphins have from 40 to 60 teeth.
