GOP Charges New Excise Bill is 'Phony'

WASHINGTON — (AP) — House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts called his policy committee to a hurried session today to map out a strategy on what he called the "phony" new tax bill. Some Republicans, privately describing the bill as "political dynamite," said they will vote for it despite misgivings about some of its features. The vote is expected next week. The measure would slash excise taxes an estimated $1,000,000,000 on fur coats, jewelry, luggage, cosmetics, movie tickets, travel tickets, telephone bills and scores of other items. It would make up the excise revenue loss to a large degree by new taxes on big corporations. Rep. Kean (R-N.J.), member of the ways and means committee, said: "This bill reduces the tax on luxuries and transfers the tax burden to necessities." The tax burden on necessities, he said, will be made up by a new tax on big corporations. Martin told newsmen "it is a kind of phony tax reduction bill. True, it gives relief to some taxpayers but at the same time it makes taxes much more burdensome on others."

The GOP leader and many other Republicans, as well as Democrats, have been battling for reduction of the wartime excise taxes to make up the revenue loss, the excise relief should be accompanied by reduction in government spending. Moreover, he contends that excise reductions will stimulate business so that actually the government is not likely to suffer any revenue loss by cutting the excises.

Ways and means committee Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.), the top Democratic tax manager, says the bill also that the $833,000,000 boost in taxes on big corporations goes too far. He said that he would rather see a reduction of government spending to save money. He is going to pilot through the House the bill approved by the committee, however, since it apparently is the only way now to get excise cut.

The measure applies increased tax rates only to corporations earning $167,000 or more a year, while reducing the tax burden for corporations earning between $5,000 and $167,000. It will mean that the smaller corporations will get a tax reduction of about $27,000,000 and the (See GOP, Page 6)

Suspected Slayer Of Sheriff Awaits Decision of Court

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — A Mexican judge has 40 days in which to decide if a Mexican accused of killing a Texas sheriff should be extradited to Texas for trial.

An extradition hearing for Jose Villalobos, 24, was held here yesterday before Federal Judge German Ortega. The judge announced no decision. Villalobos pleaded innocent of the slaying of Sheriff O. W. (Blackie) Morrow of Pecos County on March 12. Morrow was found dead in his car on a lonely road between Pecos and Marfa, Texas. He had been shot with his own pistol.

Officers who tracked Villalobos through the Texas Big Bend and arrested him in the mountains of Northern Mexico, said at the time that Villalobos admitted the slaying. In the next 40 days Judge Ortega can hear more testimony from Villalobos, call other witnesses and review the U. S. records in the case. He will advise President Miguel Aleman whether to grant the extradition. The president usually follows the recommendations of the judge hearing an extradition request. After his arrest Villalobos was first taken to the jail at Ojinaga, a village across the Rio Grande from Presidio. Later he was transferred to the federal prison at Chihuahua City. After he had been held 42 days, he was released, pending the extradition hearing.

Plans for Brochure Finished by Group

Final plans for the completion of a brochure on Pampa were laid by the publicity committee of the chamber of commerce Thursday at a meeting in the chamber office. The booklet is expected to go to press within the next thirty days. Howard Vineyard, chairman of the committee, reported that practically all pictures for the brochure have been made and the book is in the final stages of completion. The writing of copy is expected to begin next week. Charles Tooker, draftsman for Cabot Companies, is assisting the committee with the art work which will be used on the front cover of the brochure. Canada Seeks Armed Killer

LANGTON, Ont. — (AP) — One of the greatest manhunters in Ontario's history widened one of the Hamilton-London area today as a band of two pursuers eluded capture for a third day.

The fugitive cut down his two victims with a Sten gun Wednesday while fleeing a $23,000 bank holdup. Hundreds of police and vigilantes, carrying rifles and tear gas, using planes, walkie-talkies and a bloodhound to guide them, found nothing in the bushland just north of Lake Erie where the killer was originally thought to be hiding.

Early today authorities conceded that the killer, who held up the Imperial Bank in Langton Wednesday, had "probably" thrown around the Guysboro area. Residents were warned to stay in their homes. Schools in the sector were closed.

Hundreds of volunteers helped police comb the bush for the killer who pumped 27 bullets into a pursuing automobile, killing Art Lierman and William Goddyn. The handoff abandoned the $23,000 in the escape car and fled into the bush after veering into a ditch. He is believed to have gotten away with the Sten gun, a British army weapon.

Police described the killer as about 26 years old, five feet eight, 165 pounds, with a sallow complexion. He was last seen wearing a sun helmet, dark glasses, a dirty green shirt and no tie.

Experimental Plane Falls; Four Dead

BEDFORD, Va. — (AP) — Four men died in the crash of a Navy experimental plane today which hurtled to the ground like a flaming ball of fire near here last night. The aircraft, an A-1J with others had two conventional engines and a plane with a jet engine. It was on its first trans-Atlantic flight from Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., to Patterson field, near San Francisco. The planes obviously are taking a long sweep out into the Pacific. The planes were piloted by Brig. Gen. C. S. Irvine, commanding the operation, was riding in one of the six planes. It fell in a thick forest near a long sweep out into the Patterson field quarry, eight miles south of here at 8:30 p. m. A Department of Defense spokesman today said four men were aboard the experimental, long-range navigational mission plane, designed to operate from and as the most extensive trans-carriers.

U. S. Security Closely Tied To Far East, Johnson Says

TOKYO — (AP) — Defense Secretary Louis Johnson said before the House today that the security of the United States is tied in with the security of the Far East. He said the security of the United States is tied in with the security of the Far East. He said the security of the United States is tied in with the security of the Far East.

In a plan-side news conference, Johnson said "America must do what she can to do all things necessary in the Far East for the security of the United States and peace in the world." He said the defense secretary said he and Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, came to the Orient "to secure the facts upon which our policy toward Japan should be based. It was our most effective to the security of the United States."

The two have obtained those facts, he continued, but "until the facts we have determined have been evaluated by the secretaries of the armed forces and by the Joint Chiefs of Staff and our conclusions have been reported to the commander-in-chief, the statement will be issued by the Department of Defense." Johnson and Bradley took off for Anchorage, Alaska, at 8:15 a. m. (CST). Johnson walked arm in arm with General MacArthur in the

Spanish Monarchist Abandons Battle

MADRID — (AP) — The dashing, much-jailed Duchess of Valencia announced today that she is being forced by ill health to retire as the leader of a militant monarchist drive to put pretender Don Juan on the Spanish throne.

Generalissimo Franco's government wasn't able to stop the red-haired, 34-year-old woman with heavy veins and a prison term. Her doctors have ordered her to retire from politics. Her breakdown began in prison in 1948. Associates of the fiery, attractive duchess said her weight has dropped from a normal 136 pounds to 112 pounds. They said even Don Juan, who is in Lisbon, has insisted she give up her fight and protect her health.

Informed sources said if the pretender presses the duchess' retirement, she would first pay her respects to Pope Pius in Rome and then retire for a long rest on one of the estates inherited from her father, the late Duke of Valencia. One estate of 714,000 acres was sold by the government two years ago to collect a fine equivalent to $100,000 levied against the duchess for monarchist activity.

The fourth and last arrest of Maria Luisa Narvaez, Duchess of Valencia, occurred Feb. 23 at the door of the Madrid office of the Associated Press, where she came for an interview. She was acquitted June 15 by a military tribunal. On April 6, 1948, she and her monarchist associate, Jose Pardo, had been convicted of high treason and she was sentenced to a year in prison. Her health began during her prison term with attacks of appendicitis, intestinal ailments and pulmonary congestion. She was transferred from prison to a private clinic. Jury Gives $6,432 In Damage Trial

A 31st District Court jury Thursday afternoon awarded John S. Oldham, Lefors, $6,432 for damages to his bowling alley building and fixtures, partially destroyed in a gas explosion in April, 1949.

The case went to the jury on 12 special issues and two special requested special issues by the defense. Oldham sued the Gray County Gas Co. for $9,070 after accumulated gas under his building in Lefors exploded. The explosion was set off when a young boy tripped a light switch in the building. Two witnesses for the plaintiff told the jury the building would virtually have to be torn down and rebuilt. The defense introduced testimony denying that claim.

Testimony was cited by Attorney Walter E. Rogers to affect that the gas was leaking from an old rusty pipe that was full of gas and had not been attended to for years. Installation 15 years ago, T. Morgan, Amarillo, claimed to prove the gas line was fractured by a county-owned maintainer.

Twenty-Four Ships Sailing With Arms

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Twenty-four ships were reported on their way to Europe today with American arms for official Atlantic Pact allies. Diplomatic officials who gave this report to newsmen said six vessels laden with 2,000 tons of equipment for Belgium were the latest to put to sea. Most of the cargo is intended for the Belgian ground forces, they said.

Violence-Ridden Plant Guarded by Officers

MORRISTOWN, Tenn. — (AP) — Tennessee highway patrolmen can guard the bloody strike scene at the American Enka Corporation rayon plant near here without calling for National Guard aid, the state safety commissioners decided today. Commissioner Sam K. Neal said today he has decided against asking Gov. Gordon Browning to send National Guardsmen here. Neal's decision, awaited since an outbreak of gunfire wounded four men yesterday, came after hours of investigation which carried far into the night. Neal said he will keep "enough" state highway patrolmen here to prevent recurrence of violence. Gov. Browning has indicated he will follow Neal's recommendation in the Enka strike. He and Adm. Gen. Sun T. Wallace came here yesterday with 75 highway patrolmen to restore order. Browning, returning last night from Washington, said he would await word from Neal and Wallace before deciding whether to send National Guardsmen here. "All but eight or nine" of the nearly 100 men and women picked up for questioning after the gunfire erupted early yesterday were released during the night, said Neal.

Connally Gets Foreign Arms Drive Started

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Administration forebode opened a drive today for Senate approval of a program which would bring to America's most modern weapons — except atomic bombs — along the defense frontiers of Western Europe. Senator Connally of Texas had a job of guiding the $1,222,500,000 foreign arms plan into its second year of operation. There was trouble ahead — mostly from Republicans.

The major points of dispute were: (1) A provision to give President Truman authority to hand over $122,500,000 worth of arms to any European nation whose defense he considers vital to the security of the United States. (2) An amendment which would permit the U. S. government to sell arms on credit to any friendly nation. (3) A proposal to permit Marshall Plan nations to draw on $5,000,000,000 of European recovery funds for military purposes. These funds are local currencies deposited by European countries to match recovery dollars.

Two Senate committees strongly emphasized yesterday that new type weapons developed since World War II would go into Europe's defenses. While many of these arms are not yet being produced in any numbers, the Senate foreign relations and armed services committees said in a report that new weapons capable of mass-production will make it possible to defend Western Europe without matching an invader's superior armaments.

"Our armed forces and those of our partners must have well-equipped forces available — men armed with the most modern weapons science can develop," the committee said. "Any show of weakness at this time, the committee argued, would be a confession 'which the Soviet Union would not be slow to interpret as an invitation to aggression.'"

Under present law, the United States cannot arm European nations with atomic weapons. But other arms can be supplied as the committee said. It was urged to these that the committees referred. The report spoke of recoilless guns, shaped explosives for use against tanks, non-magnetic mines and new uses of vacuum tube fuses.

Filing Fee Deadline Nears; Only Half Of Candidates Pay

County and precinct vote hunters have only the remainder of today and all of Saturday to settle with the county Democratic executive committee. They want to see their names on the July 22 primary ballot.

But by 11 a. m. today, only half of them had chipped in the stipulated fee to either Secretary Dec. D. D. Jones or Chairman John V. Andrews. So it will not be until Monday when the committee can be absolutely sure of who will run and who will not. Candidates who have filed, but fail to put up the money to help defray primary election expense, will be dropped from the ballot without any further notice.

The race was quickened in the congressional race, meanwhile. Walter E. Rogers will go on the air again at 7 p. m. today over an Amarillo station with his second roundtable broadcast. Prior to Rogers' part, several prominent Pampa and Memphis personalities will appear. LeRoy LaMaster, who snowballed his own county in the special election 6 congressional election, has spent the week on a bush-busting tour of the north High Plains area. He plans to work over the northeast territory around Lipscomb, Follett and Higgins today and Saturday.

With less than a month remaining for campaigning, candidates for all offices will be "pouring on the coal" in last ditch efforts to influence the voters. The campaign bulletins are expected to be the thickest after Monday when everybody knows who will be in the running — or, who has paid to stay on the ballot. President 'Cordial' To Ohio Despite Party Bolt Threat

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Ohio's Democratic Gov. F. A. Lausche may have reservations about some of his party colleagues, but he had some good words for President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson. Lausche, whose views on the coming Ohio senatorial campaign were expressed in a denunciation of party leaders, was greeted cordially by Mr. Truman yesterday at a presidential luncheon for Democratic governors.

Then the president proceeded to make known in no uncertain terms that he doesn't go along with Lausche's idea that it's a tossup whether Republican Senator Robert A. Taft or Democrat Joseph T. Ferguson should be elected to the Senate from Ohio in November.

To further the program in the interest of the people we have to elect real Democrats to the House of Representatives and to the Senate," Mr. Truman was quoted as telling the closed-door meeting. Lausche, who said earlier this week that he hadn't made up his mind whether to vote for Taft or Ferguson, told a reporter after the luncheon that the president was "most pleasant and delightful."

As for himself, Lausche said, his remarks at the luncheon had included a tribute to Acheson for the address he gave at the annual governors' conference at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., this week. The Ohio governor told reporters he hoped to see the secretary of state again to tell him "how up in smoke."

Seventy-six Boy Scouts of the Adobe Walls Council, and their leaders will board a train in Pampa Saturday morning for a journey northward to Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, site of the coming Boy Scout Jamboree. The event gets underway June 29 and ends July 6. Included in the contingent will be 11 boys from Pampa. Their courses in early American history will serve the boys in good stead, then leaders say, as they step onto the grounds where Washington and his troops were quartered in the winter of 1777-78. Scouts will pitch tents on an area a four miles square in size as they get set for the big encampment. The large scale bivouac, to include more than 40,000 Scouts, will require 800,000 gallons of water per day. Kindling of camp fires for chow time will cause twenty carloads of charcoal to go up in smoke.

WHARTON, Texas — (AP) — Texas officers have joined a search for Mrs. Marion S. Ayers, 53, missing for two weeks. Yesterday officers found Mrs. Ayers' suitcases and other personal belongings in a river bottom shack near here shortly after a 35-year-old man was arrested driving her car. Sheriff T. W. Lane said the man told him the missing woman, a former linotype operator for the Kansas City Star, let him borrow the car in St. Louis last Monday. The man's woman companion denied knowing where the car or other belongings came from. Lane said Charles Warner Tanner, former truck driver arrested in Mrs. Ayers' car, told him he was to have returned the auto. (See WOMAN, Page 6)

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — More than 3,000 AFL members will decide tonight whether to end their 15-day-old strike against 67 dairies in Pittsburgh and seven surrounding counties. Officers of Local 205 milk and ice cream salesmen and dairy employees, called the session to present a new and better wage and hour proposal submitted by the Greater Pittsburgh Milk Dealers Assn. The union struck after protracted negotiations for a new contract to replace the one which expired last May 1. The big issue has been whether any raises would be retroactive to that date.

New Vessel Will Boast Flush Deck

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Navy plans to start building a flushdeck aircraft carrier in 1951 only a little smaller than the huge vessel which became a center of controversy last year after construction on it was halted. A high Navy official confirmed last night that the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Secretary of Defense Johnson had given a go-ahead on the new vessel. It will have a runway about 25 feet longer than the 986-foot deck on the largest U.S. carriers now in service.

The projected "super carrier" which Johnson junked last year after the keel had been laid would have cost an estimated $125,000,000. The new carrier is expected to cost somewhat less. Johnson's action in stopping work stopped on the 65,000-ton carrier "United States" raised a storm of protest among Navy officials. Secretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan quit his job with a denunciation of Johnson. The carrier issue later played a major role in the sharp attack launched against Pentagon policies before a congressional committee by a parade of Navy admirals. Adm. Louis E. Denfeld, chief of naval operations, was ousted following his participation in the affair.

Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, who succeeded Denfeld, told lawmakers earlier this year that eventually flush-deck carriers would be needed to accommodate large planes. Existing carriers have an island superstructure rising on one side of the runway, limiting the size of the aircraft which can operate on the deck. The Baltimore Sun said last night that "the Navy has been encouraged by the House of Representatives to start a revolutionary new research project" as a result of "important economies in other naval projects." It said one might be new another created from an existing vessel.

While money for a new carrier presumably would have to be approved by Congress, there seems little question that the existing vessel will look favorably on the project. Along somewhat similar lines, the Senate armed services committee yesterday approved a $50,000,000 Navy modernization bill. Already passed by the House, the measure would permit construction of 50,000 tons of new ships, including 10,000 tons of experimental types — and the conversion of an additional 200,000 tons of existing craft. A Senate appropriations subcommittee also acted to step up the Navy modernization program yesterday by approving a measure to bring up to date 10 submarines and six destroyers.

Sheepmen Cry: Mohair Price Up but There's No Mo' Hair

SAN ANGELO — (AP) — Wool and mohair prices have soared to record levels this summer. But that jingling noise you hear as a ranchman walks past is probably only his spurs. It's an old story to him — high prices at the market but very little to take there.

Although ranchmen will be getting more money per pound than ever before, they won't be marketing nearly so many pounds. Three or four years of parched West Texas range cut down the number of sheep. A similar period of bankruptcy-level prices on mohair railroaded half the state's goats to the butchers.

Principal reason for the new high prices is scarcity. A few years ago wool men always estimated the Texas wool clip at about 75 million pounds a year. In 1943 it reached 80,713,000.

This year Texas wool, about one-fourth of the nation's total, is likely to add up on the short side of 45 million.

Mohair prices brought the biggest surprise of the year. About this time a year ago discouraged ranchmen were still shipping their angora goats to market by the trainload. Some men had three or four years' unsold mohair in the warehouses. Mohair hadn't sold, wasn't selling, and looked like it never would sell, they lamented.

It took an exceptionally confident warehouseman, or buyer, to pay 35 cents a pound for adult hair and 55 for kid hair.

It's a different picture now. About 95 percent of this fall's mohair clip has already been contracted even before most of it has been grown. Whirlwind contracting began about a month ago.

With shearing practically all done, warehousemen estimate that no more than 7 million pounds of 12-months wool and less than a half million pounds of 8-months wool remain unsold in Texas.

Now buyers are trying to contract the 5 to 6 million pounds of short wool due this fall. Their offers of 60 cents a pound and better are about 10 cents above last year's level.

Even Uncle Sam has been crowded out of the picture this year. With the open market so far above support price levels, he has notified his CCC wool appraisers that their services won't be needed after June 30.

DOWN WITH "THE REAL SUCKERS"—Paul Abbott, 27-year-old veteran, who's submerged in a glass-top tank in Shafer Lake, Monticello, Ind., because he's sore about hidden taxes, eats his first meal "down under." Unable to keep his head above the tax waters, Abbott went down in a 10-by-10-foot steel and glass tank equipped with fluorescent lights, radio, telephone and easy chair. There, he says he'll live with the "real suckers—the swimming kind"—until Congress takes some action "to favor the taxpaying dads of the country."

Father Bids Girl Unconscious for 38 Days, to Open Eyes

TUCSON, Ariz. — (AP) — For 38 days 12-year-old Patricia Murphy has been unconscious in Pima County Hospital — the victim of a traffic accident.

Every day her broken-hearted father, Edwin T. Murphy, 44, comes to the hospital and pleads with her to open her eyes.

"Patricia," he says softly, "Pat, can you hear me?"

But she doesn't answer, and Murphy agrees with the doctors that the rest is up to God.

Patricia has been in a coma ever since she was carried unconscious from a head-on collision May 14. She suffered a fractured knee and leg.

At first she lay in a deep, almost trance-like sleep. Now she will sometimes respond to suggestions repeated over and over and eats when fed from a spoon.

Murphy, a shoe salesman, comes to the hospital twice a day, before and after work. He pleads with the child until he begins to sob and nurses turn away with tears in their eyes.

In the evenings he leaves to visit his wife in another hospital. She suffered critical head injuries in the same accident and her parents, Edward and Mrs. Ethel Brown, were killed. Carol, the baby, suffered shock, cuts and bruises.

Murphy, his life savings wiped out by the hospital bills, is not despondent. He says he still has hope and believes his prayers will be answered.

He feels certain that someday Patricia will open her eyes and answer when he calls.

Paper Claims 'Terror Reign' Inside Russia

BALTIMORE — (AP) — The Sun said yesterday Business Committee Party machine has started a "reign of terror" among persons it considers disloyal.

Paul W. Ward of the Sun's editorial and Washington Bureau writes that Stalin's "loyalty" troubles are warning them all to avoid com-sketches in "some of the more facts with foreigners and other as Soviet State and Law, but in (including as well such popular, though official publications as the Moscow Evening News, which gets less attention outside the USSR) than Pravda and Izvestia."

"Articles boldly displayed in all these publications," Ward states, "indicate the Stalin regime has felt compelled to revive the intensive search for spies and 'wreckers' that it instituted back in the 1930's."

"It has, in addition, had printed and circulated to rank and file Soviet citizens a pamphlet to blow up twelve industrial plants in the Soviet capital."

This report, the Sun story adds, represents the Soviet press's closest approach to date to comment on rumors in Moscow that 70 or more leading workers in the automotive industry have been caught planning as part of a "United States sabotage ring" to blow up twelve industrial plants in the Soviet capital.

Jury Indicts Ex-Researcher For Perjury

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Dr. Sidney Weinbaum, 52, formerly associated with the jet propulsion laboratory at California Institute of Technology, is under indictment by the U.S. grand jury today on eight counts of perjury and fraud.

Electronic Thinkers Okay but Sympathizing Machine Better

By HAL BOYL... NEW YORK — (AP) — The era of the electronic brain is getting off to an aerie start. The experts are going about it all wrong, I knew they would. Let's Talk Things Over With Gabby Garrison

There are bound to come up, each writer's journalistic life, subjects that are difficult to express in words that will not offend the readers with feelings that they've had their toes stepped on. Such subjects like these are those that writers try to avoid usually, whenever possible. But, the other day I had a talk with a man who I consider a very good friend of mine. The subject was to remain anonymous, and so he shall. This man wanted to know just what was the matter with the residents of this community, in that they were interested in no juvenile sports program, except the Kiwanis softball league, conducted along the various churches. I readily see his point.

I have always considered Pampa as one of the better sports cities in Texas, and have considered myself lucky to be part of the fine athletic program which is conducted here the year around. But, after living here a major portion of my life, I in look back and see where there have been things come up which have enhanced the sports program to a great deal.

The Kiwanis softball program is one of the finest anywhere. The men of this organization derive the heartiest of congratulations and a pat on the back from the children in Pampa. But what about the others?

The plan of the Kiwanis is to encourage Sunday School attendance. To take part in their youth softball games, a boy or girl must regularly attend Sunday School in some Pampa church. What could be better? Except that roughly 1,000 children in this city between the ages of 10 and 18 don't attend any Sunday school, and probably won't until they are either too old or too young in the wrong direction to take the turn back. What about these children?

"Surely," people will say, "anybody can attend Sunday School, and they won't play bad enough, if they go." I wonder how many people ever thought how ragged trousers, or a tattered shirt, to a church meeting, and next to a fellow with a new suit and tie. Or, I wonder about the kids whose parents have never stressed the importance of Sunday School, and how many of them lay sleeping on Sunday mornings. There is plenty of both, and others.

What about them?

The fellow I spoke to asked me about the Lions Park that was constructed with two primary purposes — to give the City Softball League a place to play its schedule, and to give people something to do nights, mainly kids. This, too, is a great idea.

But I'm wondering how many children will set around and watch a game, unless some of their relatives are playing, and be content to merely look?

I take Pampa as an average American city, filled with average American citizens. This is true, I believe, in every respect except one—juvenile delinquency. Pampa police did not report one single case of juvenile delinquency during the month of May. With that, we are far above average, but it is not with this that we are concerned. We must provide a broader plan of entertainment — especially in the field of sports — if we are to maintain this excellent showing on the police records.

I would like to ask each and every parent where his youngster is every night. But, since this is impossible, I wish each parent would ask himself that. Most probably will answer either "home, the show, or at a friend's house. Actually, that's about all there is to do for a larger percentage of Pampa children.

But look what we could do. We have excellent bowling facilities, and the local alleys are flooded nightly by boys and girls who are, for the most part, competent bowlers on their own. And what have we given them to work with? . . . and adult league that gives their parents something to do and has provided them with another two or three nights a week without parental guidance and crowded them from the sport almost entirely.

Why not have a Kids League. Plenty of Pampa children are really interested in bowling as well as tennis. They only need help a chance.

Then what about tennis. We have five public courts, although none of them are actually fit for any type play. The courts are cracked, the nets are ragged, and last night there wasn't even any lights in the two park courts. That's not very encouraging.

With a little planning and fixing, it would be great to sponsor a tennis tournament, for youngsters and adults alike, even if it has been done in smaller cities than ours. Why not here?

What about our Boys Club. When I left Pampa before, it was known as the Roundup Club and was composed of the greatest bunch of kids I had ever seen, all working together. It was first organized for the purpose of boxing, but expanded to include all sports. It has now disappeared, although boxing did make an attempt to regain popularity here last fall.

Why did it "fold"? . . . why did it rate a stamp of "unsuccessful"? People tell me now it is a lack of support by adults.

I doubt if people have stopped to realize that, although we have softball here, we do not even own a boys baseball team. The old VFW team that fielded strong teams three and four years ago is practically forgotten now. I can remember when Paul Hill and Howard Buckingham took it upon themselves to work out a team. They were flooded by names of boys who people had no idea were even interested in sports. And there are other ways.

Perhaps the only phase of juvenile sports that is now functioning with a great deal of success is golfing — and the credit goes, for the most part — to Johnny Austin, hard working Pampa pro. Austin has shown no preference in teaching the local youngsters the finer points of golfing until now, children from all parts of town, ranging from six to sixteen, are giving Pampa a flash even for the Iron Men when they hit 35 — in years, not batting average. Players capable of keeping up after that are scarce.

And records show that Joe Page is not yet 35. So, perhaps his temporary slump has set some rival batters to wishful thinking.

There are exceptions, of course, to the rule.

Ageless Luke Appling, is 41. He wound up last year hitting at a .301 clip. Birdie Tebbetts of the Red Sox is past 35, still going strong; Joe DiMaggio and Cleveland's Joe Gordon are 35. Old

Age Criterion of Ability; Limit Usually 35 in Majors

By NED BROWN
NEA Special Correspondent
NEW YORK (NEA)—Pitcher Joe Page, the Fireman of the New York Yankees, got a couple of slumpy performances out of his system, and immediately there was a hue and cry that the Gay Reliever was headed for the Rockin' Chair Brigade.

"Joe slipping? Say, don't make me laugh," said a spokesman of the Yankees, when a brass scribe suggested it. "He'll be standing

Slugfest Is Taken By Gassers, 14-13 For Split in Series

BORGER — (AP)—The Huber Park hit factory was good for 40 base knocks, including 12 doubles, a triple and a home run Wednesday night as the Borger Gassers outslug the Abilene Blue Hose for a 14-13 series split.

The Blue Hose jumped on Borger starter Bob Cluley in the first inning for six runs on five hits and a walk. When Cluley had pitched to seven men and had still retired none, rookie Len Ruyle took over and pitched a creditable ball until relieved in the seventh by the veteran Eddie Carnett.

Ruyle was the winning pitcher in the 2:45 marathon.

Big Walt Seesi who made it a "Seasi" Night here Tuesday looked like he was in for a repeat performance when he opened with a bases clearing double in the Abilene first. The Blue Hose had a 7-0 lead as the Gassers came to bat for the first time but Borger never quit and by the end of the sixth held a 13-10 lead which they never relinquished.

Pap Williams hit his 21st home run of the year.

Rookie Sam Hunter was the loser.

Ty Cobb Honus Wagner
on their heads for a long time to come.

The age of a ballplayer is not always a criterion of his ability to perform. How long he can remain in the big show depends entirely on that ability. If he can belt the ball and hustle when he's 50, there'll be a job for him. That old red light seems to flash even for the Iron Men when they hit 35 — in years, not batting average. Players capable of keeping up after that are scarce.

And records show that Joe Page is not yet 35. So, perhaps his temporary slump has set some rival batters to wishful thinking.

There are exceptions, of course, to the rule.

Ageless Luke Appling, is 41. He wound up last year hitting at a .301 clip. Birdie Tebbetts of the Red Sox is past 35, still going strong; Joe DiMaggio and Cleveland's Joe Gordon are 35. Old

Wally Moses is nearing 39, yet he batted for .376 with the Athletics last year, and that's not zero by a long shot.

It was Terry Moore, star center fielder of the Cardinals who said, when he retired in 1948 at the age of 36, that time catches up with 'em after 35.

"Your sighting slows up, your timing goes off, you don't send that apple like you used to," said the Red Bird fly chaser.

"The pitches a right-handed batter used to pull into left field start going to center. I knew in my time was up when I couldn't pull the ball any more."

Casey Stengel hung up his spikes at 36, so did Mel Ott. Frank Frisch bowed out at 35.

Al Simmons seemed good for several years after he hit .302 when he was 35. But he lasted through another year with a .274 average and decided he was about through with the big time.

There's no telling how long Rogers Hornsby and Lou Gehrig might have lasted if injury or disease hadn't nailed them.

The outstanding exceptions were, of course, the fabulous Tyrus Raymond Cobb, and the amazing Honus Wagner.

The Pittsburgh Horsehoe was playing a good game afield and at bat after he was 40!

As for Cobb, well, he set the league afire for 24 years. In 1928, his last season, he blasted a snappy .323 with the Athletics. Only his 23rd consecutive year with an average of .300 or better!

But they weren't pitchers.

For the mountaineers, take a look at the record of Ol' Satchel Paige.

True, he wasn't in what are called the Majors for long, but he was better than a green hand with a ball for 10, those many years!

Top Women Pros Clash Today in Golf Tournament

DENVER — (AP)—Two of the nation's top women pros and a pair of crackerjack amateurs from Ohio tangle today in two tiesles that will decide the promoters' lineup for Saturday's finals in the women's Western Open golf championship.

Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias will shoot for her first match play win over Patty Berg, the phrase "Today's children are tomorrow's future" has been used time and time again, and it certainly fits our problem here. Let's think about it . . . and talk about it. Let's give all of Pampa's children something to do EVERY night.

Snead Wins Medalist Honors, Starts Defense of PGA Title

COLUMBUS, Ohio — (AP)—Sam Snead, noted among his colleagues as the most thrifty non-Scot in history, began defense of his National PGA crown today jingling $250 as the meet's medalist.

Never since the birth of the PGA tourney in 1919 has a defending champion, automatically exempt from the 36-hole qualifying round, condescended to compete anyway for the sake of picking up extra cash. That is, until Snead, who tops the money winners with more than 21,000 according to the pro pack, still has every cent of it, came along.

But you can't take anything away from the West Virginia hillbilly — either a penny or a golf shot. He's got both.

Yesterday over the tough 7,032-yard Scioto course his lethal chip shots, which left him with only 25 putts for the round, supported a dazzling 68.

This four-under-par effort gave him a 36-hole total of 140 and medalist honors.

The Blue Hose jumped on Borger starter Bob Cluley in the first inning for six runs on five hits and a walk. When Cluley had pitched to seven men and had still retired none, rookie Len Ruyle took over and pitched a creditable ball until relieved in the seventh by the veteran Eddie Carnett.

Ruyle was the winning pitcher in the 2:45 marathon.

Crowd Expected at Pampa Ladies Buff, Dallas Game; Jerry Witte Back

DALLAS — (AP)—The Houston Buffs come to town tonight for a three-game Texas League series with Dallas.

It's a couple of second-division clubs battling it out and ordinarily would be the signal for the biggest crowd of the season to stay away from the park.

But Dallas club officials are preparing to take care of some of the biggest crowds of the campaign.

The reason: Smiling Jerry Witte.

Witte was the most popular player on the Dallas club last season when he hit 50 home runs — second highest total of circuit clouts in the loop's history.

The fans were for him, the kids worked him down getting autographs, he made appearances everywhere.

But in the winter Dallas sold Witte to Rochester. A lot of folks were shocked, Witte among them.

The main reason Dallas let Witte go was because while he led the league in homers he also led in strike-outs with 132 and hit only .278.

Owner Dick Burnett said the big first baseman fanned too many times when men were on base just aching to be moved along.

Houston recently bought Jerry from Rochester. He has been swatting homers ever since he got into the Buff line-up.

Beach, Fla., who is primed for a kill after losing 1-up in the first round last year and by the same margin in the second in 1948.

Pampa Ladies Lose 6-4 to Amarilloans

The Amarillo Generals scored two runs in the top half of the seventh inning Wednesday night to hand the Pampa Lady All-Stars their first defeat of the season, 6-4, on the Kiwanis diamond.

The game was close all the way as Avis "Candy" Kelly of the Pampans, and Amarillo pitcher Myrtle Mossbitt hurled a tight pitching duel. Both tossed good ball all the way.

The local lady athlete grabbed an early 2-0 lead, but couldn't hold it as the visiting Amarilloans knotted the count in the fourth, and then added their winning two runs in the final frame.

The loss gives the Pampans a 1-1 record thus far this season.

General Atlas Wins Over Phillips, 4-3 In Pitching Duel

The General Atlas men's independent softball team capitalized on four Phillips errors last night, and nipped hurler Don Lee Smith for three hits to down the Phillips club, 4-3 at Phillips.

Although outbit by the reversed four to three count, the General Atlas outfit pecked away at Smith to score lone runs in the first three innings and then added another in the fifth. The losers were blanked by Atlas hurler Hank Brooks until the seventh, where they scored all three of their runs.

"IT'S WET IN THERE"—Jo-Jo and Jerry, new polar bear cubs at the Detroit Zoo, have no mother to guide them into the water. So trainer Eli Sorak took on the job of teaching them to swim. At first they seemed reluctant pupils because, as pictured above, they dashed out of the pool the first chance they got. However, when left alone in another cage, they jumped into the water and slashed about like a couple of kids in the old swimming hole.

Homes Vacated As Dikes Break

(By The Associated Press) Collapsing dikes drove residents from their homes in two new sections of the Pacific Northwest flood front early today. The new dike breaks were at Port Mann, B. C. where the Fraser River is running rampant, and at Sauvie Island in the lower Columbia. Police at New Westminster, B. C., reported 300 persons were evacuated from their homes at Port Mann after a 5 a. m. dike break. The lower Columbia dike break let flood waters surge over 1600 acres of rich farm land. A resident said three of the nine families in the district on Sauvie Island, Wash., were to be evacuated. It was the year's first dike failure in the lower Columbia area. Trail, B. C., was another area threatened by the Columbia. It is just north of the United States-Canada boundary.

River Committee Chairman Is Named

DALLAS — (AP) — Col. Louis W. Prentiss, Dallas Southwestern division engineer, U. S. Corps of Engineers, will head the inter-agency committee for the Red, White and Arkansas river basins in eight states. Creation of the committee was announced by President Truman last week. The committee will make a study of the water resources of the three rivers in Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico. All the states and federal agencies concerned will participate.

Draft Set for Indefinite Stay

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The peacetime draft is sure to last 15 more days and is just about set to run on for two or three more years. It was due to expire at midnight tonight, but Congress moved fast yesterday and approved a stopgap bill providing a 15-day extension. In the meantime, the Senate shouted its approval of a three-year draft law extension after compromising one difference and beating down for a second time a racial segregation plan for the armed forces. There remain some differences between the Senate and House bills that must be ironed out later.

Walkout Monday on Two Auto Companies

DETROIT — (AP) — Two strikes which would severely affect the automobile industry loomed as possibilities today. The CIO United Auto Workers called a walkout of 30,000 Briggs Manufacturing Co. employees for 10 a. m. Monday. Another 10,000 were authorized to strike at the Hudson Motor Car Co. No date was set. The crux of each dispute evidently is whether Briggs and Hudson are to match the UAW's contract with General Motors Corp.

The girl, described as "small for her age," had been in the hospital several weeks. She had been given blood transfusions to build up her strength. The spokesman said the girl's name and address would be withheld. The child, he said, will probably be placed for adoption "very soon."

Traffic Deaths Hit New Record

AUSTIN — (AP) — Catch those speeders. Those orders went out today to highway patrolmen from Chief W. J. Elliott as preliminary traffic death figures for May showed a new record for the month. Public Safety Director Homer Garrison, Jr., said traffic accidents are killing about one-third more Texans this year than last year. He said speed is the No. 1 killer. "If this rate continues," Garrison said, "there will be 2,500 lives lost in traffic accidents during 1950 and that will be 540 more than were killed during the year 1949." During the past 12 years the highest toll for the month of May was in 1947 when 160 were killed. A preliminary figure for this May showed 202 deaths. Complete reports for that month are expected to push the total to 225. —James S. 2.

There was almost no furniture in the shack but officers found Mrs. Ayers' suitcases and other personal belongings in one room. The suitcases locks had been forced open. The woman arrested with Tanner was charged with drunkenness. She said Tanner had given her the suitcases and other articles. Questioned in jail, Tanner said he left Mrs. Ayers in St. Louis Monday after telling her he was going to Snyder, Texas, to work in the Seurry County oil fields.

Both Wallace and Neal closely questioned members of the union seized throughout the city and near the plant after the eruption of shooting. Wounded five times by bullets was Victor McDaniels, 39, a non-striker. He is in critical condition. James McCamey, 26, an Enka spinner, and William McGinnis, 22, who was reporting for the first time for a job at the plant, are in serious condition from bullet wounds. David Proffitt, 26, a striker, was slightly wounded in one arm. He said he was shot while driving past a group of non-strikers some distance from the plant. Morristown Policeman Raymond Greenleaf said McDaniels identified three men as among those who did the shooting. Greenleaf said Emory Wells, 25, and Fred Jones, 27, both of Rutledge, Tenn., and Junior French, Jefferson City, Tenn., were charged with assault with intent to commit murder. The union called the strike to back demands for benefits it said equalled a 23-cent hourly raise. The company offered to add 10 cents to the current $1.35 average wage and said the union demands equalled a 70-cent raise.

AAU Track Meet Opens Today as 600 Participate

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — (AP) — There are more than 600 athletes in the National AAU Track and Field Championships today and tomorrow, and 99 percent of them are "Joe" to the average sports fan. Among such overwhelming numbers seeking 44 championships there necessarily must be a plethora of also-rans. Today's events are for juniors, athletes who haven't won a major national track event. The seniors will be in the spotlight tomorrow. There will be 22 events for each group and a team champion will be crowned on the basis of points for the first six places in all of them. The eyes of the crowd and the AAU committee searching for Olympic stars will be on such stars as Bob Boyd and Bill Parker of Los Angeles, A. C. and Charley Thomas of Cleveland, Texas, in the sprints; Reggie Pearman of NYU, Bill Brown of Morgan, Mal Whitfield of the Grand Street Boys Club of New York, and John Barnes of Occidental in the 800; Bill Parker of Occidental, Pearman, Herb McKenley, George Rhoden and Sam La Beach in the 400; Craig Dixon and Dick Atlesey in the hurdles, and Jim Newcomb and Bob McMillen in the 1,500.

Stevenson said he understood that to be a reference to charges by Senator McCarthy (R - Wis.) that the State Department payroll includes Communists and Communist sympathizers.

"It is a good political bill, looking well on the surface," he said, "but the impact on the cost of living might be serious."

Grace Friend

Dear Miss Friend: My husband and I have lived with my mother since our marriage a year ago. It seemed like the right thing to do as she would be left all alone and she has plenty of room. It made it possible for me to go on working while she kept house and, of course, we save lots more money that way.

But now I find that her constant presence is more and more irritating. She just can't let my husband alone and is always critical of things he does. He tries not to get angry but I know that she annoys him very much and it annoys me too as he does all he can to get along with her. I think he goes out of his way to be considerate and consult her.

Do you think I would be wrong to move into our own home?

Dear L. K. Don't waste a minute in finding a place of your own.

Young married people should have their own home when circumstances permit.

Probably you had much busier lives that your mother and perhaps part of her bad temper is from having too much to do.

Don't neglect her when you move elsewhere. Call regularly and have her in your home when you can.

Occasional Dislike Of Child Is Only Human

(Here's the fifth of 10 articles by the executive director of The Children's Village, famed training community for undisciplined and unadjusted boys, which give a new perspective on relationships between the normal child and his normal parent.)

By HAROLD F. STRONG Written for NEA service. Parents are human beings. Like other people, parents sometimes think ignoble thoughts and feel unworthy emotions. Now and again they find themselves resenting or being jealous and ashamed of their youngsters.

If these sentiments do not jibe with those ascribed to them on Mother's and Father's Day greeting cards, they are in some period of our experience with our children.

They are only dangerous feelings when we pretend to ourselves that they do not exist. As long as they are able to understand and forgive our occasional dislike of them.

I knew a mother who resented her older son because he had interfered with her desire to continue working after she married. Because she could not reconcile this desire with her ideal of an eagerly self-sacrificing mother, she hid her resentment away in the folds of her dress.

It came out in a guilty effort to appease her defrauded boy by overindulging him, buying him what she couldn't afford, fussing over him with exaggerated endearments. But he knew, and one day he stole from her.

When I was finally able to persuade her that her reaction to her baby's inopportune arrival had been neither unnatural nor wicked, but an understandably human one, she broke into tears. In the flood of relief that overwhelmed her, she soon found the courage to talk to her boy about her trouble.

From that day his problem began to resolve itself. Out of the mother's honest self-revelation grew the understanding and affection they both had craved.

That's how it works. It is not our annoyance or anger with our children that divides them from us. It is the guilt we feel at experiencing them.

Tomorrow: Parents should claim the right to correct their children.

The Real Story Of Jonah

HAROLD S. LEHMANN, above, missionary on furlough from the Gold Coast, West Africa, will be guest speaker at 11 a.m., 2 and 7:45 p.m. Sunday, at the First Assembly of God, corner of Brown and Cuyler, according to an announcement made by the Rev. H. M. Sheats, pastor. The Rev. Sheats invites the public to hear Mr. Lehmann.

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D. It is unfortunate that the story of the whale has eclipsed the real story of Jonah, for this short prophecy marks the highest point in Old Testament religion, portraying the love of God for all men, and His saving grace, in a way that is unmistakable for all who read its message with thoughtful intelligence.

Whether one regards the Book of Jonah as a literal history or as an allegory designed to embody its high teaching, the important thing is that its great message stands as the rebuke toward all narrow national, religious, and racial prejudice, with the rebuke of a reluctant and prejudiced prophet in the revelation of God's grace toward a repentant people.

"And should not I spare Nineveh, that great city, wherein are more than six score thousand persons that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also much cattle?"

The hardest lesson for some Jews of that day to learn, just as it seems the hardest lesson for some professing Christians to learn today, was that God is "the God of the whole world, of all men, and that His grace toward mercy is toward all who call upon Him, and who seek to know and obey His will."

The noblest souls in Israel had learned that lesson. In the later prophecies, of the period and following the Babylonian Exile, is the clear note of world-wide religion. Emphasis is upon God's call and choice of the Jewish people, whose glory is "a light to lighten the Gentiles" (Isaiah 42:6; Luke 23).

This noble faith and vision were in contrast to the spiritual pride of those who looked upon the Gentile world, with the attitude, "the Gentiles that know not the law are accursed," and who had little concern about sharing their precious heritage with the profane heathen.

The Book of Jonah is, therefore, a great missionary document, for the very essence of missions is the belief that the grace of God is unlimited in its extent and in its operations.

The prophet of Jonah has a distinct and very rich application to our own times. Prejudices of the sort that the writer of the Book rebuked are rife in our modern world. Those prejudices, too often, are in the minds and hearts of religious leaders, like Jonah, who were more concerned about denouncing and punishing Nineveh than about its salvation.

Such misleaders need the rebuke given to Jonah, and the discovery that "the love of God is broader than the measure of man's mind."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

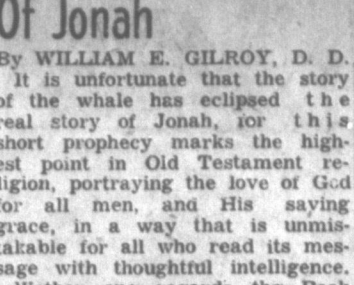

"Christian Science" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 25.

The Golden Text is: "How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation;" (Isaiah 52:7).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "O send out thy light and thy truth: let them lead me; let them bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy tabernacles" (Psalms 43:3).

Show me one couple unhappy merely on account of their limited circumstances, and I will show you ten who are wretched from other causes. —Coleridge

There is no disparity in marriage like unsuitability of mind and purpose. —Dickens

WE, THE WOMEN

JANE MILLETT

Jane would be fighting mad if any one of her friends went around running her down. Yet Jane runs herself down all the time.

All you have to do is say "Hello, Jane" to hear how terrible she looks, or find out the latest jam she has gotten herself into, or to have her give you some other evidence that she just can't cope with all her problems.

Pay Jane a compliment and she'll talk you out of it. Try to get her interested in some activity and she'll convince you that she hasn't any talent for that sort of thing.

You probably know at least one Jane. If, by any chance you should happen to be one yourself, it may be that you don't realize what you are doing.

When you sell yourself short, run yourself down, and generally give the impression that you are less than you are — you are doing something that you would hate another person for doing to you.

NOT PICTURING SELF TRUTHFULLY. You are deliberately giving the world a false picture of what you are. You are covering up your talents and abilities and calling attention to your shortcomings and faults.

And don't think that your down-at-the-heels attitude doesn't have any effect on others. They may argue with you a little when you make some disparaging remark about yourself. — then don't say it about yourself.

THE SPORTS BILL Jarvis, speaker of the Texas House, is being smeared by a campaign directed against him. Jarvis is a pretty young fellow, but very devoted to the job that he has taken on. The following day Bill Jarvis is smearing the name of Bill Jarvis. Bill Jarvis is smearing the name of Bill Jarvis. Bill Jarvis is smearing the name of Bill Jarvis.

BILL JARVIS stared at Caroline Marr who had snatched the handbag out of his hand. "I wasn't going to eat it," he said. "That one's mine, idiot," Caroline said, panting. "You would get it all messed up. And, but for me, you'd do the same to Bev's. This is hers." She bent and fished up a contrivance apparently identical with the one she already held.

"The zippers are different colors," Caroline fumbled in a bag bringing forth sunglasses. "Here! Take them to Bev." "My gosh! Did you chase me just over these dumb bags?" The flush had died in Caroline's cheeks. Now her blue eyes sparkled. "I chased you, chum, because you wanted to race. And you only won by cheating."

"Later, I told you that I had to get something. It's sun oil. In my bathroom. Besides, I've got a trick knee and I want to rub it with liniment. That's there, too." Caroline tossed the bags back to the dock and went off toward a row of bathhouses discreetly half hidden by trees. Bill turned, intending to pass the time of day with Mrs. Fasker. But that forthright female appeared sleep-minded. Her head had fallen against the back of the chair. He decided against disturbing her and returned to the boat. IN Bill's absence Bev and Dick Trevan had conferred. "This isn't," Bev indicated Dick, "has a neat idea. A boathouse to Bluejay Island tonight, and a picnic supper."

"Sounds swell," Bill said. "Where's Bluejay Island?" "Halfway down the lake. It's fun, building a fire and cooking hamburgers and things. Dick's driving over to Hamilton this afternoon for the stuff."

"Who's going on this junket?" Bill asked presently. "Oh, the usual gang," Bev rattled off names. He hesitated. As a newcomer, it wasn't up to him to make suggestions. But Bev, possibly, had just been thoughtful.

He blinked. "Now who on earth told you?" "Just," she was palpably enjoying herself, "someone who happened to pass you—could I say, rendezvous?—and saw you. Heads together, as I got it. Oh, Bill, you're killing me. No sheep ever looked more sheepish."

merely bumped into the girl and talked to her. Bev crammed fingers into her ears. "Darling, stop roaring! I didn't accuse you of anything."

BY lunchtime, however, he had virtually abandoned the idea. After all, this wasn't his party and where did he get off issuing invitations? As Bev's dance, it would hardly do for him to carry a torch for Hilky.

There was too much meaning in the remark. Bill lunged out a hand, almost exasperatedly. "Oh, forget that! Involuntarily, he plucked. 'Listen! I've been appointed a committee of one to enroll you for a boathouse and barbecue thing tonight. How's about it?'"

Bill didn't like her expression—a taut overlay on smooth, healthily pink cheeks. (To Be Continued)

Priest Assails 'Trade' Offer

HOUSTON — (AP) — A priest who said he carried the petrified hand of St. Stefan back to Hungary in 1945 said yesterday the Red government should be denied the saint's crown in exchange for Robert Vogeler.

The Very Rev. Ralph S. Diefenbach, Roman Catholic priest here, said: "It will show a great weakness on our part if we trade an object of such value for one of our citizens."

Archbishop Says 'Red Dean' Is Just Mistaken LONDON — (AP) — The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, says that his Red-tinted dean is not "anti-Christian," just mistaken.

But last night he told churchmen "Dr. Johnson holds the same Christian faith as you and I. I think he is mistaken, but I believe he is not, in himself, disloyal to his interpretations of Christian faith. He sincerely believes our present social order is not as Christian as it might be."

Ladies Too Satisfied With Clothes, Speaker Believes

NEW YORK — (AP) — The ladies are too satisfied with their clothes. This blunt statement may come as a surprise to most husbands, who have never known their wives to be really happy about a gown they've had to wear more than once.

It is our job to make women unhappy with what they have in the way of apparel," says B. Earl Puckett, chairman of the Allied Stores Corp. He says the industry has fallen down on that job.

ANOTHER STRIKE

AGAINST THE PUBLIC AND INDUSTRY AND AGRICULTURE SERVED BY 5 WESTERN RAILROADS

President Truman's EMERGENCY BOARD recommends a 40-hour week and a pay increase of 18 cents an hour, or $1.44 a day for switchmen represented by the Switchmen's Union of North America.

Notwithstanding the tremendous increase in their expenses involved, the Railroads' answer to Board is... YES!

Union leaders' answer to Board is.. NO!

In face of Board findings to the contrary, union leaders insist on 48 hours pay for 40 hours work. This would be an average increase of 31 cents an hour, or $2.48 a day. So Union leaders have called a completely unjustified strike on 5 Western railroads, effective June 25.

On June 15, an Emergency Board appointed by President Truman under the terms of the Railway Labor Act recommended the railroads grant switchmen a 40-hour week and a wage increase of 18 cents an hour, or $1.44 for an 8-hour day.

Despite the added financial burden involved, the railroads are ready to accept these recommendations, as they have always accepted Emergency Board recommendations on national issues.

But the leaders of the Switchmen's Union refuse to accept! They demand an average increase of 31 cents an hour or $2.48 a day—although their present earnings are substantially higher than those of workers in other industries!

Board Says Demands Unjustified In its report, the Board declared this demand unjustified by all the evidence presented. It also pointed out that it would give the switchmen an unfair pay advantage over other groups of railroad employees, and would add too great a burden to railroad costs.

Here is another case of a railroad union flouting the findings of an Emergency Board—another case of calling a crippling strike in an outrageous and reckless attempt to force demands which the Board clearly labels as unjustified!

Actress Secluded In Hilltop Home
 HOLLYWOOD - (AP) - Judy Garland is secluded in her hilltop home and is under sedatives, says Carlton Alsop, the actress' manager.
 "In a day or two she'll be ready to talk," he said, about why she cut her throat with a broken water glass Monday night. Mrs. Garland's doctor, who calls the wounds "minor scratches," said she has "been under great strain and I am administering to her general condition."
 The star was suspended by her studio Saturday and reportedly slashed herself in a fit of despondency.

Powerful 'Candy' Hospitalizes Two
 NEWARK, N. J. - (AP) - "Mommy, we just ate some candy and our throats are burning," said Sharon Pierce, 4, and her sister, Linda, 3.
 Mrs. Chester Pierce rushed her children to City Hospital, where they were reported in fair condition.
 Their "candy" was pill-sized fireworks known variously as Fourth of July snakes, Boners' eggs and Pharaoh's serpents. When ignited they resemble small, wriggling snakes.

Officer's 'Magic Lantern' New Step in Crime Fight

TRAPPING A FACE—L. Hugh McDonald projects composite face of a suspect on the screen to see if Marilyn Danson can identify it as that of the man who tried to kill her.

By BROOKS HONEYCUTT
LOS ANGELES — (NEA) A 23-year-old college student is in prison today because a modern off-spring of the old-fashioned "magic lantern" helped identify him as the man who tried to kill a pretty Los Angeles Sunday school teacher.

The projector, termed the Identiscat, is the product of 11 years of research by L. Hugh McDonald, Los Angeles County sheriff's office. An expert in identification, L. McDonald studied the many types of noses, eyes, hairlines, chin shapes, ears, mouths, and eyebrows. From these he made up 20 line drawings on transparent celluloid of each classification.

Starting with the 20 chin shapes, he projected the No. 1 chin, the No. 2 chin. He kept on until Miss Marilyn Danson, 23, picked out those which resembled her assailant's features most. Then came the same procedure with the hair, then the eyes, ears, and other parts of a completed head.

When this was completed, the Identiscat photographed the result. Police file clerks matched the composite with pictures in their files. When she saw the picture, Miss Danson said, "Lieutenant, that's the man who tried to kill me!"

Less than 24 hours later, Charles F. Huber, student at California Polytechnic College, San Luis Obispo, was arrested while attending a class in horticulture. Huber denied the charges of robbery, kidnapping, and assault, but was amazed at the likeness of him and the product of the Identiscat.

The suspect said he was a victim of mistaken identity. L. McDonald and Miss Danson did not think so; neither did the courts which sentenced Huber to life imprisonment.

Britain Backs Red China for U.N. Entry Despite Cold War

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The cold war between the western democracies and Red Russia certainly develops some extraordinary and contradictory situations.

Take for example the current fight over the Soviet demand that the Chinese Nationalist delegation to the United Nations be thrown out and replaced by the Chinese Communists.

This is, of course, part and parcel of the cold war, and the winner of the argument in the U.N. will have achieved a major victory.

However, the British government — one of those most interested in seeing the West win the cold war — is reported preparing to take an active part in the campaign to oust the Nationalist Chinese and seat the Reds. London as far back as January severed relations with her former ally, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, and recognized the conquering Reds in Peking.

These facts are not cited in the way of criticism, but as presenting a picture of fighting fire with one hand and feeding it with the other. This attitude naturally is based on the contention that the Communists are the real rulers of the Chinese mainland and will be universally recognized in that role eventually.

That argument may be open to some dispute. It is true that the Soviet-supported Chinese Communists have conquered the island also that the "rulers" is in question.

It is known that old one about being able to lead a horse to water but not being able to make him drink. It's one thing to conquer half a billion Chinese, and another to make them accept dictation.

The campaign to oust Nationalist China from the U.N. and seat the Chinese Reds is headed by U.N. Secretary General Trygve Lie. He holds this to be a common sense means of getting Russia to end the boycott which she has inaugurated against 30 U.N. organs because of this fight.

The secretary general is going to Europe shortly and among other things will attend the U.N. economic and social council conference in Geneva. The Chinese issue might be introduced there, although its logical presentation would be through the General Assembly or Security Council at Lake Success.

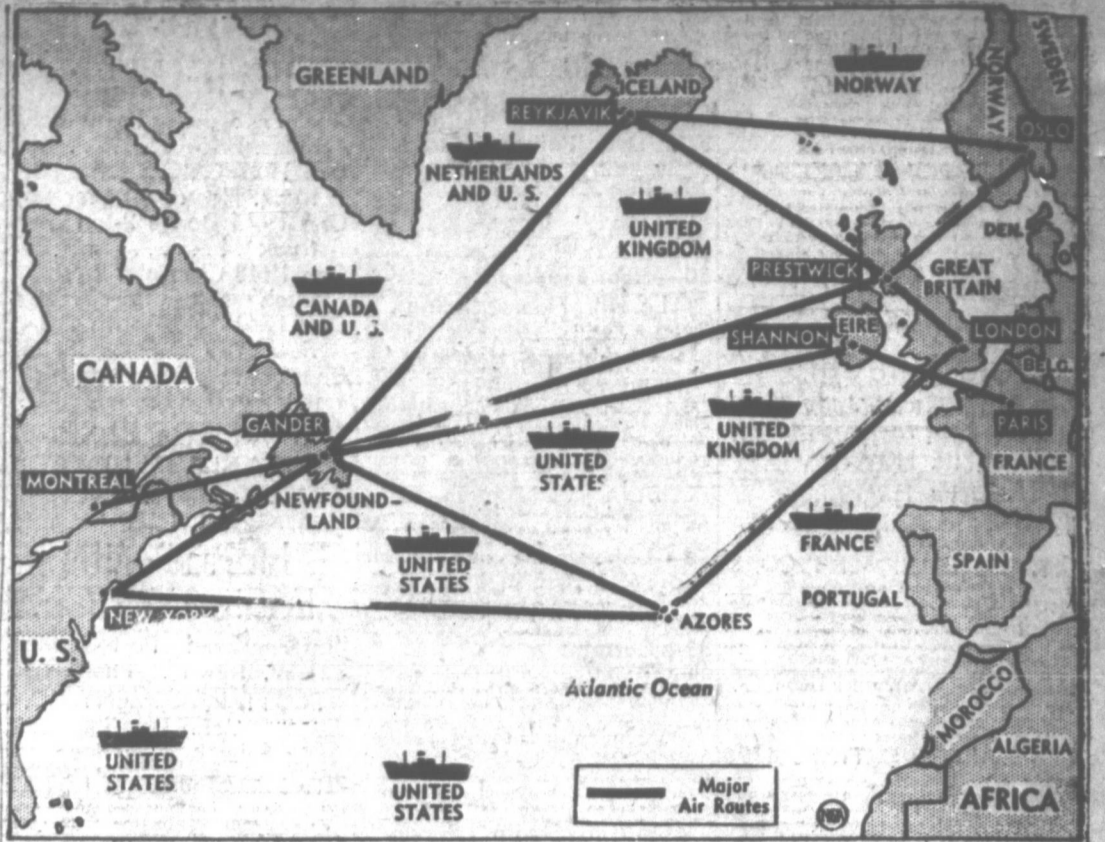

Britain already has announced that she will support Red China for membership in the Security Council. Seven of the eleven votes of the council are needed to seat the Communists, but thus far only three — Russia, India and Yugoslavia — have supported the Peiping membership bid.

The United States has announced that it won't vote for Red China but will try to veto a majority decision. France, under attack by the Communists in French Indo-China, is withholding support.

The slender backing thus far for the proposal to seat the Reds has given rise to the assertion in some diplomatic quarters at Lake Success that the U. N. is drifting into "Hooverization."

That is to say, the peace organization is heading towards a split into two separate sections to veto the democracies in one and the Communists in the other. This characterization is inspired by the speech of former President Hoover in New York on April 27 when he called for scrapping the present U.N. and the creation of a new one with Communist countries shut out.

Britain's support of seating the Reds recently drew the charge from T. F. Tsiang, chief Chinese Nationalist delegate to the U.N., that she is taking this position to protect investments in China amounting to a billion dollars. The British deny this allegation, and insist that they are following a common sense course in accepting an established fact.

Greer Garson's 'Double' Finds Similarity Irksome

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Take it from Amanda Blake, it's no fun being known as a "young Greer Garson."

"I see red only twice — when I look in the mirror and when I read that I'm a second Greer Garson," the young actress remarked.

The 21-year-old redhead from Buffalo, N.Y., recently severed a contract with MGM, home lot of Miss Garson. Amanda did only two pictures in two years there. She felt that her inactivity might have been caused by the resemblance to the more famous star.

"I felt it many times," she sighed. "Once I reported for a dramatic lesson the coach looked at me and said, "Amanda, can't you part your hair some other way? It makes you look too much like someone else on the lot."

"I rushed home and parted my hair in the middle and have ever since. I even wore it tied up in a big bun in back."

"I don't want to be a reasonable facsimile of anyone. I feel that I have my own personality and I don't want to be typed as anyone else."

In fact, she added, she doesn't even feel as if she and Miss Garson look alike. "Our only feature in common is our red hair," she said, "and hers is much lighter than mine — or at least it was."

Amanda said her own tresses the studio said I would have to photograph. I told them I'd quit as her natural shade. "When first" lightened my hair so it would finally she and the studio parted. "I was bored and I guess they were, too," she explained. "But there is a happy ending. She was signed immediately by Columbia Pictures and put into a starring role in a mystery."

Louie's Shrewd Playing Defeats Slam Contract

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"Just because I know a man is a crook," said South, "that's no reason for me to believe that every single thing he does is crooked."

"Quite right," said Larceny Lou.

"For example, even a crook must buy his groceries in the normal way. I'll bet that you do at least three honest things every day!"

"You'd win your bet," said Larceny Lou.

"So," continued South, "just to show my faith in human nature I'll believe you this once. Unfortunately, South picked the wrong time to believe Larceny Lou. It was true that Lou could not possibly be up to mischief on every single play. The trouble which declared had laid down the king of spades from the dummy. On the trick Larceny Lou played the nine of spades!

Up to this point, South had expected to win the first trump trick in dummy and the second in his own hand. This is the standard way of handling such a trump holding.

The reason is that South is in danger only if an opponent holds as many as four trumps. If East has four spades to the jack-nine, nothing can be done; the slam is doomed. If West has four to the jack, however, East will have to discard on the second round of trumps. This will reveal the situation, and South can pick up West's trumps by leading back to dummy's queen-ten.

But when Lou dropped the nine of spades on the first round of trumps, the whole picture changed. It now seemed that West had started either with the singleton nine of spades or with the jack-nine.

If West had only the singleton nine, it was vital for declarer to win the second trump trick with dummy's queen. If West could not follow suit, South would be able to pick up East's trumps by leading through them towards his own ace-eight.

South had many misgivings about believing West's play of the nine of spades, but, as shown by his little speech, he finally decided to accept the play as honest. He therefore won the second trump trick with dummy's queen — and lost his slam contract!

was that South couldn't quite be sure when Lou was fooling and when he was making an honest play.

Larceny Lou, holding the West cards, had opened the jack of hearts. Dummy had played the queen, and East had won with the ace. The heart return was taken by dummy's king, after

"Why I'm So Glad My Son is Saving Money Now"

ONE of the many things that make a mother glad her son has a newspaper route, is the practical way it teaches and encourages him to earn his own money, spend it wisely, and above all, SAVE some of it regularly.

As he collects his accounts, pays his bills and figures his profits, he is impressed with the real value of each dollar he earns—much more so than if it came from the parental purse!

And, as his route and savings grow, he acquires qualities of thrift, self-confidence and foresight that will prove even more valuable when he tackles the larger problems of manhood.

A Newspaper Route Enables a Boy to Earn, Learn and SAVE!

DOES your teen-age son have a spare-time newspaper route? If not, suggest that he apply for the next opening in your neighborhood, so that he, too, can profit by this splendid opportunity to earn, learn and save. You'll be proud to see him get off to such a good start in the race of life.
