Relentless Cuts in Spending Is Demanded by Joint Group

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Warning that there are dangers of inflation, the Senate-House Economic Committee has raised a demand for "relentless" cuts in the government's — the red spending.

The committee issued a report yesterday signed by its eight Democrats, while the six Republicans on the committee filed a separate finding of their own.

Even the Democrats failed to endorse President Truman's plea for a net increase in taxes. They did ask for some excise tax cuts, and said also:

"In years of such booming business as currently is causing prices to boil up in an inflationary manner throughout the economy, this government should not be incurring deficits."

Mr. Truman asked last January for cuts in excise taxes, to be balanced by additional revenue from other sources — plus an additional billion dollars, mainly from higher corporation taxes, to help trim the federal deficit.

The congressional committee's report dealt with the president's annual economic message, which he also delivered to Congress in January.

Except possibly to boost the morale of the congressional economy bloc, the committee's report was expected to have little effect on legislation for these reasons:

1. For the third straight year, the advisers of Congress on economic matters divided on strictly political lines.
2. The report was 3-12 months late; it was due on March 1. By this time it cannot sway many votes.
3. The Democratic majority took no flat stand for or against any of Mr. Truman's specific proposals, though Chairman O'Mahoney said its report, "broadly speaking, endorses the objectives of the president's message."

Senator Taft, top-ranking GOP member, said Republicans could agree with most of the economic findings of the majority, but could not endorse a White House message "which is predominantly political."

Questioned whether the committee is "serving a useful purpose" under the Employment Act of 1946, to advise Congress on maximum employment, buying power and production — Taft told reporters:

"It is serving a useful purpose, but whether it serves the purpose for which it was intended, I wouldn't say."

The majority report in paragraphs with which the Republicans did not quarrel — reported signs of a "renewed upsurge in the economy."

But it saw "underlying problems and weaknesses." Most economists are reserving judgment on the business outlook for 1951, it was noted, because a tapering-off in the automobile, steel and building industries is "highly probable."

The No. 1 principle which should guide economic legislation, the report said, is to aid in "expanding, encouraging and fostering private enterprise," as a source of jobs and income for a growing labor force.

Other perils were named. If farm income continues to fall, business and industry may suffer; small business is losing ground in the struggle for profits; rising price indexes may put a damper on consumer demand.

The committee said:

"Consumer prices are being kept so high that consumer buying power, especially of the lowest four-fifths of the income scale, is being undermined."

Higher Taxes On Big Firms Hit GOP Snag

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Democratic leaders revived hope today for Senate action on excise tax cuts but Republican opposition cropped up against proposed increases in corporation levies.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, told a reporter that if the House passes a bill on which its way and means tax cuts but Republican opposition cropped up against proposed increases in corporation levies.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, told a reporter that if the House passes a bill on which its way and means tax cuts but Republican opposition cropped up against proposed increases in corporation levies.

The House group is said to be ready to act on a bill which would top an estimated $1,100,000,000 as fur, jewelry, luggage, movie admissions and travel tickets.

To make up in part for this, the way and means members have lately been talking about a boost in corporation taxes which would top an estimated $1,100,000,000 as fur, jewelry, luggage, movie admissions and travel tickets.

Closing of loopholes might narrow the gap in revenue loss. President Truman has plainly indicated a veto if there is any substantial revenue loss.

Lucas said that from what he knows of the situation he thinks corporations can well afford to take an increase in taxes. They have the biggest profits in history," he said. "There is no reason why they can't pay more taxes."

However, Senator William (Buck) Connally, top GOP member in the tax handling Senate Finance Committee, said he will oppose any increase in taxes except those which would close loopholes in the present law.

"It is the wrong time to be increasing taxes," Connally told a reporter. "Instead, we should take every possible burden off business and attain the strongest kind of economy to bear the heavy load of defense and foreign expenditures."

Millikin said he doesn't agree that if Congress cuts off excise taxes which now bring in $1,100,000,000 yearly the treasury will lose anywhere that amount in revenue.

"I believe the increase in business that would be brought about by taking these levies off our revenue would produce as much revenue in income and other taxes as will be lost temporarily," he said.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), another member of the Finance Committee, said he hasn't made up his mind yet whether he would vote for any increase in business taxes.

"There are other ways of getting the money," he said. "We will look into some of them when the House gets a bill over here."

Taft has indicated he will oppose any tax cuts that would cause too great a loss in revenue, since the treasury already is running in the red.

Administration leaders in the Senate think that President Truman might accept a small revenue loss and still sign an excise tax cut bill. They doubt, however, that he would be willing to approve a measure that carried the possibility of reducing the government's income by as much as $500,000,000 yearly.

HOMER COOK

Elusive Oklahoman Finally Taken by Army in Germany

MUNICH, Germany — (AP) — U. S. military authorities said today that they had finally captured Homer Cook, 27-year-old ex-GI who made his third escape from Army custody Tuesday night, was recaptured early today on the outskirts of Munich.

Cook walked out of the Dachau stockade Tuesday night and touched off one of the biggest search operations in American occupation history. It was his third AWOL from an Army base.

The Army had not immediately reveal details of the recapture of the elusive Oklahoman, a former boxer, but the terse announcement put an end to a manhunt by 150 U. S. MPs and German police combing one of Hitler's old ammunition dumps south of Nuebnberg.

Former Army Man Accused Of Releasing Atom Secrets

NEW YORK — (AP) — A former U. S. Army non-commissioned officer at Albuquerque, N.M., was arrested today by the FBI on a charge of giving atomic secrets to Harry Gold, Philadelphia accused of passing atomic secrets to the Russians.

The FBI identified the arrested man as David Greenglass, 28, of New York City.

Greenglass' arrest came less than 24 hours after the seizure in Syracuse, N.Y., of another suspect in the Klaus Fuchs spy ring.

In New York state, Alfred Dean Slack, 44-year-old Syracuse chemist, stood accused today of conspiring to supply Russian agents samples of a powerful U.S. explosive.

Slack, a native of Syracuse who claims he is "violently" opposed to communism, was arrested last night by FBI agents on a charge of espionage. He was jailed at nearby Utica in $100,000 bail, pending transfer to Knoxville, Tenn.

The $750,000 paint firm chemist worked in the wartime Manhattan atomic project at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

The FBI said the bespectacled father of two boys had admitted giving samples and production secrets to Gold, Philadelphia chemist awaiting trial on an espionage charge. Gold is alleged to have passed them to his Soviet principal, Semen M. Semenov.

Slack roundly declared he was innocent when interviewed by reporters. Asked whether he knew Harry Gold, he replied:

FBI Arrests Jet Scientist

PASADENA, Calif. — (AP) — The FBI announced today the arrest of Dr. Sidney Weinbaum, 33, of the California Institute of Technology, scientist formerly with its jet propulsion laboratory.

Richard B. Hood, head of the Los Angeles FBI office, said Weinbaum is charged with perjury and fraud against the government.

In a complaint filed with U. S. Commissioner Howard V. Calverly, the government alleges that Weinbaum, who was arrested on April 8, 1949, Weinbaum, in his personnel security questionnaire which he signed in connection with his employment with the jet-propulsion laboratory at Caltech, willfully omitted a statement that he had been a member of the Communist Party.

Hood also charged that about April 8, 1949, Weinbaum, in his personnel security questionnaire which he signed in connection with his employment with the jet-propulsion laboratory at Caltech, willfully omitted a statement that he had been a member of the Communist Party.

Weinbaum's employ with the jet propulsion laboratory was terminated last July, the FBI said. Since then he has been a research fellow in Caltech's chemistry department.

He first joined the jet lab in 1946. Caltech, as a research center, was a part of the AEC since 1952. He graduated from Caltech in 1924, was naturalized in 1927 and received his doctor's degree, cum laude, in 1933.

U. S. Attorney Ernest Tolin said Weinbaum will be taken before a federal grand jury tomorrow and asked Commissioner Calverly (See ARRESTS, Page 2)

Deadline Saturday For Seeking Place On Primary Ballot

Potential candidates for county and precinct offices have only the remainder of today and Saturday to file for a place on the July 22 ballot with the Gray County Democratic Committee.

In the meantime the reported intentions of County Democratic Chairman John V. Andrews to seek the Precinct 2, Place 2, Justice of the Peace bench materialized when the veteran chairman filed for the office this week.

Only three additional precinct chairman candidates have put their names on the primary ballot. This laxity among incumbent chairmen, or potential successors, troubled some political leaders here when a strong rumor had it that a minority group was planning to file a full slate of candidates at the last minute, including a chairman and candidate for each voting precinct.

By Monday night each candidate should know what his portion of holding the primaries is going to cost. The Democratic Executive Committee will meet at 2 p.m. in the Grand Jury room on the third floor of the Court House to determine the order of ballot and assess the cost of election per candidate.

The candidates will have until midnight June 24 to pay their portion of election expenses.

Lustron Co. Paid McCarthy $10,000, RFC Probe Reveals

COLUMBUS, Ohio — (AP) — Fate of the $37,500,000 Lustron Corp., maker of prefabricated steel houses, appeared headed for the Circuit Court of Appeals today in the wake of conflicting lower court orders.

The giant concern, which borrowed millions from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and sold to the RFC at Columbus and thrown into bankruptcy by a Chicago judge.

Meanwhile, a sidelight to the main issue was the disclosure yesterday that Lustron paid U. S. Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) $10,000 for writing a 37-page article on housing for a Lustron promotional booklet.

A check for that amount dated Nov. 12, 1948, was photographed and a copy entered among records of the firm filed by Receiver Clyde M. Foraker in federal court here.

McCarthy in New London, Conn., admitted writing the article, but described its sale as an ordinary competitive matter.

"I just sold to the highest bidder," the Wisconsin Republican said, adding that the contract was based on a payment of 10 cents a copy for an edition of 100,000 booklets. Another housing firm, he said, offered him about seven and a half cents.

McCarthy said there was no "secret" about his authorship of a Dollars Worth of Housing for Every Dollar Spent.

A forward in the booklet said it was "based on information gathered by United States Senator Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin in the course of his research and investigation as vice chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Housing."

McCarthy's connection with the Lustron firm was a minor thing, however, compared to the overall drama being enacted in the courts. It was Receiver Foraker, caught in the middle of the fuss, who had the most important decision of the moment to make. And apparently he intends to stay right there in the middle.

Foraker, who was appointed by Federal Judge Meil G. Underwood of Columbus when Lustron was foreclosed upon last February, was under compulsion to obey two conflicting court orders.

One, issued by Judge Underwood, directed him to turn over assets of Lustron to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The RFC had bought the assets for $6,000,000 at an auction.

The other order, issued by U. S. District Judge Philip L. Sullivan in Chicago, forbade Foraker from turning over the assets to the government lending agency.

The Chicago jurist acted after a group of Lustron dealers told him the firm owed them money. Sullivan ordered Lustron into bankruptcy and appointed trustees. The trustees said they would send a representative to Columbus to look into Lustron's tangled financial affairs.

TALKING DOGS? WE'VE GOT 'EM

We've got a kennel full of talking dogs — all delightfully articulate — ready to go into their acts in this newspaper beginning Sunday.

In a hilarious photo series entitled "Dog Talk" the Pampa News will provide you with a daily quota of hearty laughs and chuckles at the cunning antics and almost human expressions of ever pictured.

The cute capers of these lovable pups as captured by the camera of one of America's top dog photographers, Robert A. Hanks, are brought into sharp and mirthful focus by the captions of Arthur "Bugs" Bader, famous American humorist.

Both photos and captions in this great "Dog Talk" series form an unbeatable laugh combination that you just can't afford to miss.

You won't be able to resist this riotous new feature. Be sure to watch for it. It will start Sunday in the Pampa News.

Harriman Named Aide to Truman

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman today appointed Ambassador W. Averell Harriman to a new job as special assistant to the president. His duties will be to help the president carry out the nation's broad international responsibilities.

Traffic Signals To Be Completed Early Next Week

John Metzger, Chief-Hinds Equipment Co. electrician, arrived here today to install and set the automatic timers in Pampa's new traffic signal system.

The new system, nearing completion, was expected to be in operation over the weekend but has been set back due to mechanical difficulties.

City Engineer Ray Evans explained this morning that the last lamps would be set and the system turned on "nearly next week."

Emergency Service Boosted As Dairy Strike Continues

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Emergency milk deliveries were stepped up today as a strike of 3,250 APL dairy workers went into its second week.

The strike over new contract demands has shut off all but emergency deliveries to the 200,000 residents of Pittsburgh and seven surrounding counties.

In Pittsburgh, about 25,000 emergency cases have been cleared with physicians APL Local 205, milk and ice cream salesmen and dairy employees, is furnishing men to operate three dairies and about 400 drivers.

There is no sign of an early end to the strike, however, union and industry spokesmen charged today.

Douglass Blasts Administration

DALLAS — (AP) — Texas' States Rights Democrats want a popular vote in the July primary on what Texans think of the Truman administration.

The executive committee of Texas States Rights held a special meeting here yesterday to protest recent U. S. Supreme Court decisions giving ownership of Texas' tidelands to the federal government and opening the University of Texas to Negroes.

The committee called upon Gov. Allan Shivers and all "present candidates for governor and lieutenant governor" to do what they can about getting the referendum on the ballot.

Curtis Douglas, 50, Pampa attorney and committee chairman, described the administration as "hell-bent on destroying the last vestige of the rights of sovereign states."

"Let's rid ourselves of those who now brazenly parade under the traditional Democratic banner," he said. "Their true banner would be a red bearing emblazoned across a field of black and tan."

Swedish Monarch Is 92 Years Old

STOCKHOLM, Sweden — (AP) — King Gustaf V was 92 Friday and flags flew at all over Stockholm to celebrate his birthday.

The king presided at the regular Friday cabinet council, but spent the rest of the day in privacy.

Gustaf succeeded to the Swedish throne in 1907 and has had a longer reign than any other Swedish ruler.

Mrs. Emma Cobb Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Emma Cobb, 70, 1104 Christine, died suddenly shortly before 10 p.m. yesterday at a local hospital.

Funeral services are still pending. Burial arrangements will be made shortly after midnight at a personal appeal by Mayor Fletcher Bowron for a 15-day truce during the fourth coming national Shrine convention.

Some 200,000 Shriners are expected here next week for the opening of the convention.

Los Angeles Transit Operators Strike

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Four thousand operators of bus and streetcars in Los Angeles went on strike early today.

Representatives of the AFL Transportation Union walked out of elevators at noon today, shortly after midnight despite a personal appeal by Mayor Fletcher Bowron for a 15-day truce during the fourth coming national Shrine convention.

Some 200,000 Shriners are expected here next week for the opening of the convention.

Gotham Publishers Break off Talks With AFL Printers

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Publishers Association of New York City has broken off contract negotiations with the local AFL printers union, charging it with a "deliberate violation" of its contract by refusing to cross picket lines at the struck New York World-Telegram and Sun.

Local 6 of the AFL International Typographical Union denied any violation of the contract. It expressed regret that the publishers "do not desire to continue negotiations."

The publishers association halted negotiations with the printers late yesterday, third day of a strike by about 400 news and business employees of the World-Telegram and Sun, who belong to the CIO American Newspaper Guild.

The evening newspaper, with well over 600,000 circulation daily, has suspended publication since the start of the strike because the printers and other mechanical department employees refused to cross the picket lines.

A conference of management and guild representatives has been arranged for today by the federal mediation and conciliation service.

A similar conference on Wednesday failed to break the deadlock over wages and other contract provisions.

Executive Editor Lee B. Wood said late yesterday there "is nothing we can see at this time that is working toward a settlement of the strike."

"We cannot get out a newspaper," he said, as long as the printers, stereotypes, pressmen and drivers honor the Guild picket lines.

The non-CIO unions have been honoring the picket lines under a recent inter-union mutual aid agreement since the strike started at dawn Tuesday.

Gus the Gander Still Sits on Gone Goslins

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. — (AP) — How does one go about slipping a couple of goslings under a setting gander?

Attendants at the privately-owned International Friendship Gardens were faced with that problem today. Gus, their six-year-old gander, may starve if some such drastic action isn't taken.

For two weeks Gus has warmed eggs containing what now appear to be one-dozen gone goslings. He refuses to eat until the eggs hatch. The apparently fruitless task was given up by his mate, Clara and Dora, after alternating a four-week setting session, past the normal incubation period.

When the gals vacated the nest, Gus ceased both strutting and glutting and crawled aboard.

Attendants think if they can sneak in a couple of baby geese Gus may be content with his efforts and quit his hunger strike.

Despotism Charged in Move To Outlaw South Africa Reds

CAPETOWN — (AP) — A government stand in the way of the Communist Party's bill to outlaw despotism in Parliament today drew a sharp rebuke from the Opposition United Front and set off clashes between the government and demonstrators outside Parliament buildings.

The bill is up for a crucial second reading. Debate was interrupted while Parliament members watched police charge into crowds demonstrating against the bill.

Justice Minister C. R. Swart argued that the bill is needed to prevent a Moscow campaign to set colored natives in trouble among the whites and establish a native republic, with all race segregation barriers broken down.

Funeral Services For White Deer Man Tomorrow

Funeral services for F. L. Smoot, 85-year-old White Deer resident, who died early morning today, will be held at 2:30 Saturday afternoon at the White Deer Baptist Church.

Reverend E. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Pampa, will officiate and will be assisted by Rev. M. E. Smith, pastor of the White Deer Baptist Church.

The body will lie in state at the Smoot residence from 10 a. m. Saturday until funeral time.

Interment will be in White Deer cemetery. Duane L. Carmichael will be in charge. Pallbearers will be Lloyd G. Heister Knight, Alvin Williams, Sam and Lansing Osborne, and Nathan Edwards.

Swimming Pool Manager Named

City Manager Dick Pepin this morning announced that Marshall Searl, city water department, has been appointed superintendent of the municipal swimming pool and Mrs. Searl would manage the bath houses, concession stand and admission window.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Searl will be under salary as the city declined to lease the concession to any private individual this year.

Only two life guards have been named so far, Paul Boswell and J. H. Kline, a student at Amarillo Junior College.

City officials said they had been unable to get a men's work completed before the pool opens as they expected, but that it will open on schedule — 1 p. m. Sunday.

Anti-Polio Fight Begins in Pampa
Pampa and surrounding areas have been getting a spraying of DDT for the past few days as a precaution against polio. The white smoke is being discharged from the back end of a truck over all parts of Pampa.

The job will be repeated about every three weeks until October, A. N. Thorne, city sanitarian, said.

Included in the solution is 100 percent DDT, chlordane, and pine oil.

The white spray is put out through a combustion chamber, which puts 900 degrees of heat on the liquid, causing the smoky effect.

City employees are driving the truck, which is spraying alleys, public streets, and the city garbage dump.

Army 'Defends' Valuable Locks
SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. — (AP) — The battle to defend the vital Sault Ste. Marie locks has been fought and won.

Six days of mock warfare — an elaborate Army maneuver to test defenses — wound up with Army umpires declaring the locks had been kept out of "enemy" hands successfully.

Theoretical damage was done, however, in land and air raids. The MacArthur lock, one of four Soo installations, was put out of commission. The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. exchange was "demolished."

Through the Soo locks comes iron ore for America's great steel producing centers. Should an enemy force knock them out, the United States' defense might be crippled.

Few Fires Reported Recently in Pampa
Pampans seem to have become fire-safety conscious. Or at least reports from the Fire Department would indicate this.

City firemen have had no calls in a week. The most recent was June 9 when an auto fire was extinguished.

The latest house fire occurred in May when a drive-in cafe on Hobart burned.

There have been one or two trash fires since that time.

Kell's Hitting Leads Tigers To Win Over Athletics, 7-3

By JACK HAND
George Kell of Detroit seems determined to erase the "freak hitter" smudge from his American League batting crown.

They said it was a mistake when the Tiger third baseman nosed out Ted Williams of Boston for the title on the final day of the 49 season. Brother, it's no mistake this year.

Day after day Kell keeps showing his average a little higher. Now it's .386, best in the majors. Williams, moving up gradually after a seagious slump, is hitting .324.

Oldtimers are reminded of Ty Cobb by the way Kell holds his bat with his hands several inches apart. For years it's been stylish to swing from the end of the bat, aiming for the stands. Kell finds he can spray his shots to all fields. And he still gets his three or four homers a season. Nobody is calling him a "freak hitter" this spring.

Kell slashed two singles and a double in three trips against Philadelphia yesterday as the Tigers thumped the A's, 7-3. The victory, coupled with a New York defeat, gave Detroit a 1-2 game lead in the American league race.

Freddy Hutchinson survived a shaky start and finish to rack up his seventh victory for the onrushing Tigers who have swept 17 of their last 21 starts.

Maybe Chicago's Billy Pierce finally "arrived" with his 5-0 one-hitter against the New York Yankees yesterday, the best pitched game of the season and his first big league shutout.

When the Tigers, desperate for a catcher, made a deal with Chicago for Aaron Robinson after the 1948 season, Pierce went to the White Sox. He had a dull 7-15 record last year and was 3-5 for this season until yesterday.

Only a single by Billy Johnson, leading off the fifth inning, robbed Pierce of a no-hitter in a game interrupted three times by rain. It was the third straight for the White Sox over the Yanks who continue to make all pitchers look good.

At Cleveland Bobby Lemon hit a home run in the Tribe's 3-1 victory over Boston. Lemon's homer tied the score in the fifth and Al Rosen's 17th of the year with Larry Doby on base in the sixth ended Walt Master-so's first start.

Lemon's eighth victory, high in the American, enabled the Indians to take the series from Boston which had won the opener.

St. Louis pulled out of the cellar with a come-from-behind win over Washington, 16-9. Dick Kokos homered for the Browns and Eddie Stewart and Eddie Yost for the Senators in the wild slugfest.

Harry Doriah who whipped Washington Tuesday, picked up a relief win, his third, as the Browns pulled it out with two rallies. Mickey Harris, involved in a five-run St. Louis explosion in the sixth inning, was charged with the defeat.

Billy Southworth's Boston Braves, revived by their return home, knocked off Cincinnati in both ends of a doubleheader. It was the only action in the National. Rains washed out the St. Louis at Philadelphia night game and the Chicago at Brooklyn and Pittsburgh at New York day games.

Sid Gordon hit his 13th homer plus a double and two singles to help lefty Warren Spahn win the first game, 5-3. It was Spahn's eighth success.

CAN THE OILERS STOP HIM? Fred "Pappy" Williams, leading home run clouter in the West Texas-New Mexico League will be in Oiler Park tonight as he and his Borgor Gasser teammates attempt to regain their league lead at the expense of the Pampa Oilers. Williams and the Borgans will engage the Oilers in a doubleheader beginning at 7:30 tomorrow night in the battle for top spot. The hefty swinger had blasted 17 home runs at the last official count.

Trade Season Ends as Deal Completed by Yanks-Browns

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — The dollar-poor St. Louis Browns and mound-poor New York Yankees closed an eight-man deal last night but the Browns lost no front line players, as they did last fall.

The Yanks got southpaw Joe Ostrowski and right hander Tom Ferrick. They did not get pitchers Ned Garver or Cliff Fanning.

In exchange, the Browns acquired second baseman George Stinewiss, outfielder Jim Delsing and pitchers Duane Pilette and Don Johnson.

Two other St. Louis players, third baseman Leo Thomas and pitcher Sid Schacht, went to the Yanks' Kansas City farm in the American Association.

The Browns picked up $10,000 for Thomas and another $50,000 cash in the deal.

President Bill DeWitt of the Browns estimated the player value of Ostrowski and Ferrick at a total of $250,000. He figured the other new players were worth $50,000 each, making it a half-million dollar deal.

The deal closed the baseball trading season.

Browne fans had expected the worst. They had read reports that the Yanks had their eyes on Garver and Fanning. Fanning has no ntw and lost three and a career hit som five.

Ostrowski, 31, is a top-notch performer but his record this year doesn't show it. He has won two and lost four, the victim of tough breaks.

The 35-year-old Ferrick, a good relief man, has a 1-3 record. DeWitt insisted the money involved didn't influence the deal that cost the Browns Ostrowski.

"As you know, we are building for the future," he declared. "We wanted to part with Ostrowski. But the Yankees were desperate in their desire to get him, and we made the deal when we got the players we thought would help our club."

DeWitt figures Stinewiss as his big catch. He disclosed yesterday he plans to put him at third base.

"Stinewiss will settle our infield problem," DeWitt said. He added that third base was the Browning weak spot. Frankie Gustine had been slated for the job but he failed to make the grade.

Stinewiss, American League batting champ in 1946, had been riding the bench for the Yankees for two years. Now at 30 he gets a chance to play regularly again.

The Yanks had gotten little help from the 23-year-old Johnson or the 25-year-old Pilette. Johnson had a 1-0 record but was pounded heavily in relief roles. Pilette, recalled from Kansas City only last week, had 0-0.

Ostrowski won his first two starts and lost the next four. He hurt his back June 1 and hasn't pitched since.

Top Tennis Stars Facing Tough Foes In Houston Matches

HOUSTON — (AP) — Earl Cochell and Herbie Flam, top seeded entries in the Texas Sectional Tennis Tournament, take on tough semi-final foes today.

Cochell, university of Southern California, meets Jack Turo, national intercollegiate champion from Tulane, and Flam, university of California at Los Angeles, plays veteran Tom Brown of San Francisco.

Yesterday both seeded stars had to go three sets to win quarter-final matches.

Cochell defeated Bobby Curtis, Denver, Colo., 6-1, 2-6, 6-4. Flam beat Chick Harris, Rice, 1-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Turo ousted Felix Kelley, former University of Texas ace, 6-4, and Brown beat Howard Startzman, another former Texas player, 6-3, 6-2.

Margaret Varner of El Paso, the defending women's champion, paced this division to the semi-finals. She beat Ruth Pate, Fort Worth, 6-3, 6-4.

Others advancing were Ethel Norton, San Antonio, 6-2, 6-2; winner over Peggy Vilbig, Dallas; Gladys Heldman, Houston, 6-5, 6-1 victory over Lucille Scroggins, Galveston, and Peggy Eby, Houston, 6-2, 9-7 winner over Betty Gray, Houston.

Gassers Stopped By Blue Sox, 14-6 In Final of Series

ABILENE — (AP) — The Blue Sox broke out their artillery last night and banged away at Fred (Hollywood) Parker and his Borgor mates for a 14-6 victory to cap the three-game series.

Abilene, paced by Ken Cluley with four straight hits including a couple of doubles, and Stubby Greer, with three hits including a home run, worked over Borgor's ace right-hander in the second and third innings to pile up a lead that was never approached.

Bob McChesney, rookie left-hander, went the distance for Abilene, allowed a dozen hits, but kept them well scattered except in the third when Earl Perry's triple scored Ted Clawitter and Parker, who had singled.

Let's Talk Things Over With Gabby Garrison

An open letter to Mr. Milton E. Price, president of the West Texas-New Mexico League;

June 16 Mr. Milton E. Price West Texas-New Mexico League Dallas, Texas

Dear Mr. Price: For many years, the Class C West Texas-New Mexico League has been known as one of the top minor circuits in organized baseball. The eight team organization has been cited as an excellent training ground for future major league stars; as a means of giving impetus to the creation of good sportsmanship and recreational activity; and as a means of community betterment, financially and otherwise. And, in recent years, the fans and writers of this league have been content to merely scratch their heads in wonderment, concerning the league officiating, and brand the group of umpires as questionable in relationship to their ability to call a competent baseball game. But, in this atomic year of 1950, that mark of doubtfulness has been removed — and in its place has come a widespread cry that has echoed throughout the league — a cry of "rotteness."

How can one expect to promote a general feeling of well-being when fans consistently see teams literally "robbed" out of baseball games, which have come to be their chief means of recreational outlet. It has never been a matter of honesty or integrity on the part of the officials, but rather, a matter of ability. Whenever umpires cease being able to rightfully judge ball games, then Mr. Price, it's time something was done.

To enter a contest with a "chip on their shoulder" is one thing, but to take it out on a team in legal proceedings, such as banishments, forfeitures, etc., is another. Instances can, and have, resulted directly in a club losing a ball game. It has been known, in one particular, for an opposing manager to openly admit that an umpire made a terrible mistake in dealing with a contested play that ultimately led to his team's victory. Such mistakes are understandable but no human is perfect. But enough is enough, and with the bumper crop of blunders made by the WT - NM League umpires this year alone, the circuit could operate several years without mistakes, and still have had its share.

Take last night's game between the Pampa Oilers and the Albuquerque Dukes for instance. The league supervisor of umpires, Casper Simon, umpired first base. Although he did not take part in the argument, he usually last night, some actions which are not at all understandable were made. Here's what happened . . . you can judge for yourself.

After becoming disgusted with several apparent bad calls, Pampa catcher Jim Martin dropped the ball after taking a delivery from George Payte. He did not say a word to umpire Bill Frank behind the plate. He then picked the ball up and dejectedly laid it back to the pitcher. But, umpire Frank evidently did not like his attitude and promptly tossed him out of the game, for no actual reasons other than that of merely panomining disgust. Then, when Manager Grover Seltz rushed from the dugout to question the banishment, he kicked the mask that was lying on the ground where Martin had abandoned it, and he, too, was tossed from the grounds before he had said a word. Seltz openly tossed his hands into the air, turned to the crowd and said, "I kick a mask, and he throws me out of the game." And that's exactly what happened. Then, as the game resumed, an Oiler player, Bill Garland, who was sitting in the dugout, and who had not entered the argument previously, shouted, and we quote, "You sure got a bad attitude for an umpire. Then he was also kicked out, with no other arguments. Throughout the remainder of the game, the Albuquerque manager, Herschel Martin, also griped continually, and he certainly seemed justified in several cases. One of these same umpires, with the exception of Roberts who usually does a fine job, was the one who openly challenged a Pampa fan on June 5 on a particularly gigantic rhubarb during a Clovis-Pampa game.

These, Mr. Price, I believe are examples of the kind of American democratic right to "beef," just a little when things aren't going to suit him, and especially for a fan to jeer an umpire at a baseball game? Is it not right for a manager or a player to question a play and ask for an explanation or to merely act disgusted whenever the play is in doubt? It's all part of the game.

But, the old conception of "riding the umpire" has ceased. It has now gotten to the point where mob riots and gang fights are threatened at many games, and the fans can't be blamed entirely. Whether it be an investigation or whatever is necessary, something must be done. We need competent officials at our West Texas-New Mexico League. I'll bet this is one of the few, if not the only, league in organized baseball, where a strike zone is anywhere within a catcher's reach — depending on what the previous pitches were.

It's time something was done. Yours for better sports, (and better umpires) Gabby Garrison Sports Editor Pampa Daily News

Robin Roberts Potentially New Major Strikeout King

STRIKEOUT STORY—The new star and the grip. Robin Roberts of the Phillies pumps, gets set and blazes away.

By HARRY GRAYSON NEA Sports Editor NEW YORK — (NEA) — Robin Roberts had 51 strikeouts in 30 games, 78 innings, as the eastern National League club's swing west.

Robbie Roberts had twice struck out 11. At that rate, the Phillies' robust young right-hander should fan more than 200.

Potentially he is the new strikeout king. A National League pitcher hasn't fanned 200 since Johnny VanderMeer of the Reds had 202 in 1941. Warren Spahn of the Braves showed the way in the senior league last trip with 151 in 38 outings, 302 rounds. He felt the hot breath of Don Newcombe on his red neck, however, the big Dodger getting rid of 149, although he worked 58 fewer innings. Virgil Trucks of the Tigers topped the American League with 163 in 41 games, 275 innings. This gives you a rough idea of what Bob Feller accomplished in 1946, when the Cleveland fireballer dismissed 348, cracking Rube Waddell's debatable major league record, 343, established with the Athletics in 1904. Christy Mathewson — you always get around to him — holds the National League mark, 287, hung up with the Giants in 1903.

Roberts, 23 years old, an even six feet and weighing 190, is a combination of Waite Hoyt and Red Ewing, the old Yankees, although he doesn't throw quite as much overhand as either. His is even more unusual. His curve is good enough. He has a change up, but doesn't use it too much.

couple of times, Stanley Musial of the Cardinals said the Michigan State alumnus should be around for 20 years. Unless something happens to him, Roberts should be the new big pitcher, perhaps running up a 25-game strike.

And he isn't the kind likely to throw his arm away. He isn't the whip type, such as Dizzy Dean and Ewell Blackwell. He's compactly built, gets the body behind the ball.

Roberts has remarkable control. The secret of his pitching is that he can put a genuine fast ball that really takes off where he wants it. That's rare. He can pitch the hard one high, and know where it is going, which is even more unusual. His curve is good enough. He has a change up, but doesn't use it too much.

He has no trick pitches, just straight stuff. He makes the batter hit the ball he wants him to hit, and when he pitches to the spot he's Dead-Eye Dick — and then some.

Roberts, apparently unemotional but burning inside, went to Michigan State as a basketball player on a GI scholarship.

He's out of Springfield, Ill., where he also played first and third base in high school, so let me be first to nickname him the Springfield Rifle. His father is a foreman in an electrical plant.

Young Bob Carpenter, who has done an extraordinary job with the Philadelphia Nationals, gave Robin Roberts $25,000 for signing. He'd like to land 10 more like him at the same rate.

Gardella Says Money Paid For Dropping Damage Suit

HOUSTON — (AP) — Muscular Danny Gardella had the baseball world talking once again about his $300,000 damage suit against organized baseball. The squatly little outfielder says he was "paid something" for dropping the suit rather suddenly last October.

He wouldn't tell the amount. "I promised them I wouldn't tell," he said here yesterday. Shortly after talking with reporters and posing for pictures Gardella became a hard man to find. Speculation on his whereabouts ranged from Bronx, N. Y., to St. Louis, to right here in Houston.

Gardella indicated in the interview he was headed for the Bronx. Last night a friend said he thought Gardella had departed for St. Louis. President Allen Russell of the Texas League Houston Buffs said it was his understanding Gardella was to wait in Houston until he received instructions from the St. Louis Cardinals. Gardella made his voluminous remarks about baseball in general, and various baseball personalities less than 24 hours after he had been placed on the Houston club's inactive list.

Among other things, he charged the had not been given a "fair chance" by the Cardinals. He said his damage suit was primarily responsible for the treatment he has received in baseball.

Baseball officials criticized by Gardella were slow in making replies. Those who replied quickly were brief.

Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler had only a "no comment from me."

It was Chandler who banished Gardella from organized baseball after the outfielder jumped to the American League in 1946. Gardella later refused to accept a reinstatement by Chandler.

Instead, he filed the suit. He stuck by his guns until the sudden announcement last October the suit had been dropped and Gardella had signed with the Cardinals.

Fred Saigh, owner of the Cardinals, said last night in Rochester, N. Y., he had "no knowledge of any money being paid to Gardella" for dropping the suit.

Saigh said the Cardinals realized Gardella was a player in the limelight and "cleaned cover backward to give him every possible chance."

He joined Houston April 25. He left with a .211 batting average, collecting 24 hits in 114 trips to the plate.

Girl Will Test Channel Again

NEW YORK — (AP) — Shirley May France, 17-year-old Somerset, Mass., High School senior, is off for another joust with the English Channel.

The blonde, 170-pound, five-foot-eight swimmer left last night for Europe aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth, determined to conquer the channel waters which defeated her last summer.

"I certainly hope I make it this time, and I'll certainly try," she said. "I'll wait for better weather this time."

Last September Shirley May was in the water 10 hours and 40 minutes before she was pulled out over her protests.

Shirley May was accompanied by her father, J. Walter France; her manager, Ted Wornor, and her trainer, Harry Boudakian.

Also aboard another prospective channel swimmer—George G. Fraser, 44, from Dennisport, Mass.

Clodfelter Tosses Hubbers to Victory On 7-Hitter, 10-1

LUBBOCK — (AP) — Bob Clodfelter hurled a beautiful seven hit game here last night as the Lubbock Hubbers, for the second night in a row, beat the Clovis Pioneers 10 to 1 to sweep the three-game series.

Clodfelter was in charge all the way, striking out eight and not issuing a single base on balls. The Pioneers got two doublers in the first for their lone run. After that they had single bats in the second and fourth and a pair of safeties in the third.

The final single came in the eighth inning. Clodfelter hopped on Bill Rosin early, scoring two runs in the first inning on three consecutive singles and one of six Clovis miscues. A five-run outburst in the third decided the game. Big blows in this game were consecutive home runs by Nelson Davis and Jackie Sullivan. It was Davis' tenth fourmarter in the 18 games since joining the club.

The game took only one hour and 33 minutes to play, one of the fastest nine inning contests in the league this year.

The SARAZEN SWING

Take Club Straight Back on Line Or to Outside to Cue Shut-Face

By GENE SARAZEN

Winner of Them All

During the period I was floundering around without a groove, there were rounds in which I was involuntarily a shutface loser. This term is often heard in locker room discussions with only partial accuracy. When the clubhead is shut at the top of the backswing, it faces the sky. This results from breaking the wrists, then trying to compensate for the overflatness of the arc by cocking the wrists at the top of the swing. The correction is arrived at by taking the club back on a straight line away from the target or a little outside that line. The wrists then cock themselves automatically.

BASIC FLAW—Even Lawson Little, above, with his remarkable gifts, was unable to maintain his standing as a top-rung golfer over a period of years because of a shut-face style.

Even Little, with his remarkable gifts, was unable to maintain his standing as a top-rung golfer over a period of years. NEXT: Correct practice methods.

WASHINGTON PAIRED AGAINST TUFTS IN BASEBALL TOURNEY

OMAHA — (AP) — Washington State, pride of the West, steps up to bat tonight in the 1950 NCAA Baseball Championship Tournament.

It will be the Cougars against Tufts at 8:30 p.m. (CST) and Alabama against Bradley at 6:30 p.m. (CST). Both are first round games.

In first round games last night, defending champion Texas faded before an eighth inning rally by Rutgers and the Eastern District champions won 4-2.

Wisconsin struck early and downed hard to beat Colorado A&M 7-3.

Texas, one of the favorites, was off to a two-run lead in the second inning after Frank Womack had hit a 360-foot homer with one on base.

Rutgers didn't score until the seventh. But in the eighth it produced three, enough to take the lead with one to spare. Big Murray Wall, who had looked good on the mound until then, walked in one run. Another came when Bob Suba stole home.

Wisconsin was also a favorite and Badger rosters never had much cause for worry. The Big Ten team got its first run in the first, a couple more in the second and by the seventh had a 5-1 edge.

Colorado made its only serious bid in the seventh inning, picking up two runs. Wisconsin was back with two more in the ninth.

Partisans of Washington State are talking up the Cougars as the strongest team on the coast in years.

From a Reporter, a Plea; Hire Acheson a Secretary

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff

Notes from a country-boy diplomatic correspondent: Secretary of State Dean Acheson came to Texas, saw a lot of people and won their confidence. He made an effective plea for a peaceful world. His Texas trip is generally understood to be the first of a number of such voyages into the hinterland to tell the people what is going on in the big wide world outside. So on that basis, we are going to make a suggestion to the State Department, the White House or anyone interested — about press conferences in the shortgrass country. Some reporters were miffed at the handling of Secretary Acheson's news conference in Dallas. Even those who organized the conference weren't very happy. Here's what happened: About 25 reporters, radio men and photographers first were con-

Police Join Search For Missing Singer

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Police have been called in to aid private detectives in the search for opera singer Anna Cuyte, 52. Her mother, Mrs. Ella L. Thompson, 86, reported that her daughter, whose real name is Dorothy, was seen May 29 at a Pasadena Hotel. She said her daughter told her she feared Communists and that she had been moving from one hotel to another in recent months to avoid unknown enemies.

Secretary Acheson smiled and said he would answer the question and then would see about the quote.

After four questions had been asked, a reporter told Secretary Acheson he would like some quotes, pointing out that none had yet been authorized.

McDermott replied, "Since there is no stenographer present to take everything down, I am afraid we can't allow any direct quotes as they probably would vary widely."

Direct quotes — that is, exactly what the man says — are the essence of good news reporting in Washington, Dallas or Waxahachie.

We suggest, therefore, a stenographer for the State Department's barnstorming entourage. Blonde or brunette, it makes no difference.

Has Everyone a Secret Life? Reporter Finds Majority Do

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP) — Everybody has a secret life. Or certainly everyone tries to.

Some facet of his career, past or present . . . some wayward longing . . . some shamefaced deed of good wire . . . some odd attitude toward the world . . . a person likes to hold to his heart and apart from those who know him best.

The funny thing about it all is that often he will blurt out to strangers this secret he'd like about rather than reveal to a life-long acquaintance.

I spend a great part of my life meeting strangers. And they tell me the damndest things sometimes.

The real repositories of secrets in our times are the ears of priests, the dossiers of lawyers, the health verdicts of doctors — and the memories of newspaper reporters.

Very, very often people say things to me that make me pause in my pencil. They tell me things I never would have known through their lives like a wind — things too private for print. At least for my print.

What? Well, chiefly their worries. Their wives drink too much, or their boys aren't doing what papa would like, or they wonder out loud whether, after all, they made the right decision in life. And what can you do but murmur consolation? A reporter isn't a psychiatrist. People just often treat him like he is.

Sometimes they say things to you acutely embarrassing. Like the woman who told me of a murder, never recorded.

"This old lady was lonesome," she said. "And she told me how she made herself a widow. She had been married to a man who had beat her and cheated on her for 30 years."

"Well, one day she figured out his insurance — and there was enough to keep her the rest of her life."

"The next morning as she was getting the car out of the garage to drive him to the station she saw him there in front of the headlights like a sitting duck. So she ran over him."

"Then she backed the car over him. Then she ran over him again. Then she ran for the neighbors. They carried him into the house, and just before he died the husband grumbled, 'That poor fool — she never could drive a car.'"

"I read the old lady is still living off his insurance, and doesn't regret a thing."

What, dear reader, would you do with that secret?

Amarillo Pro Heading List In Golf Meet

BORGER — (AP) — Dick Turner, Ross Rogers Country Club professional and J. D. Taylor of the Clovis Country Club paced the golfers here yesterday at the West Texas Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament held at the Huber golf course.

The two likeable pros tied for top honors of the day, each firing a four under par 67. Kenneth Wright of the Tucumcari Country Club won third place money of $6. First place money was $8 apiece.

Wright was shooting some exceptionally good golf but blew up on the back nine for a 69. He had seven birdies in his round, but three boges coupled with a pair of bogies on the first nine brought his score up.

A field of 80 golfers participated in the tourney with 16 out of town professionals, 12 ladies and 52 amateurs taking part. Play was held in the form of a low ball fivesome with a pro, a junior golfer and lady in nearly every fivesome. Sixteen fivesomes made up the play.

Final tabulations on the low ball tourney showed a couple of teams coming with 12 under par 39's.

The teams tied for first were captained by Roscoe Pierce of the Roswell Country Club and Kenneth Wright, Tucumcari pro.

On Pierce's team were Tommy Hale of Borger and Charley Austin of Pampa, a couple of outstanding junior golfers. Dr. M. C. Kimball of Borger and Heddy Moore of Amarillo.

Making up Wright's team were Earl Lanningham, Sr., Cecil Dees, L. G. Dorge and Louise Neeley of Borger.

There was also a tie for third and fourth place between teams captained by Dick Turner of Ross Rogers and J. D. Taylor of Clovis.

Gordon Ham of Phillips and A. E. Woodward, Ray Brock and Grace Hosok of Borger combined on the team captained by Turner.

White Taylor's team included Dr. Waldo Beckley, James Goodwine, R. C. Lister and Pat Finger all of Borger.

The first place winners will split $12.50 worth of merchandise equally while the third place winners will get $3.20 in golf equipment. The pros will receive straight cash.

And when no longer we can see Thee, may we reach out our hands, and find Thee leading us through death to immortality and glory.—H. W. Beecher.

Texas Secession From U.S. Asked By Oil Official

AUSTIN — (AP) — Texas should secede from the union, H. P. Nichols said yesterday at the Railroad Commission's statewide oil hearing.

The executive vice-president of the East Texas Oil Association rapped the U. S. Supreme Court on its decision recognizing the federal government's claim to Texas tidelands.

"The decision tends to void the entire treaty (under which Texas entered the Union) and Texas is left but one course to pursue," Nichols said.

"The people of Texas should insist that the 52nd Legislature pass a resolution seceding from the United States and again declare our state a sovereign nation — the Republic of Texas."

There was scattered applause from oil men attending the hearing.

The commission questioned whether Nichols' declaration dealt with the purpose of the statewide hearing — prevention of waste — but accepted a copy of his speech for the record.

Water Problem's Answer Lies in Dam, Club Is Told

If the Panhandle area is to continue its progress, ways must be found to replenish the fast-depleting water supply, Mayor C. A. Huff told Lions club members yesterday. The answer, he said, lies in the new proposed Canadian River Dam project.

Geologists tell us, Huff declared, that our ground waters are being used up much faster than they are being replaced.

Mayor Huff gave a summary of the work being done toward getting the final bill passed through the Congress of the United States. "Right now," he declared, "the bill is still in Senate committee."

Present also at the luncheon was H. E. Robbins, with the Bureau of Reclamation in Amarillo, who told Lions that there is no reason to be pessimistic over the ultimate outcome of the measure now pending in Washington.

The official traced by map the areas that would be affected by dam installations, naming the eleven Panhandle cities that would benefit under the project.

City Manager A. A. Meredith, of Borger, praised Mayor Huff's work in behalf of the Canadian River Dam proposal.

General Ramey Leaves Eighth

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Maj. Gen. Roger M. Ramey yesterday relinquished command of the 8th Air Force, the nation's highly trained atomic bombing spearhead which he had built up since December, 1948, from a remnant of the wartime 58th Bombardment Wing.

Motoring leisurely to Washington, after flying more than 300,000 miles in the last three and a half years while administering bases in his command, Ramey expects to report June 20 in his new assignment as director of operations in Air Force headquarters.

Maj. Gen. Samuel E. Anderson will report here July 7 at Carswell Air Force Base from Washington to succeed Ramey.

Does Borger Actually Have More Residents than Pampa, or does it have a large number of floaters who happened to be counted in the census?

It would seem the latter could be true.

Take a look at these figures and statistics gleaned yesterday from the monthly report sheets of the Texas Employment Commission, and figure it out for yourself.

During April Borger had 3,606 people wander into the employment office, seeking work, filling out claims, checking on job opportunities or looking for new hands. Pampa had 1,953 visits to its employment office. Of these, Borger put 300 people to work in non-agricultural jobs while Pampa placed 431. The claims desk at Borger handled 1,038 unemployed while Pampa took care of only 608.

The May report showed Borger receiving 5,332 visitors against Pampa's 1,987. However, both Borger and Pampa placed 301 people in industrial jobs. Borger's unemployment claims totaled 783 against Pampa's 427 for the month.

The local TEC office said a large number of Pampa's April and May unemployment claims were by Pampans who work in Borger and commute every day.

In May the Amarillo TEC office had 5,597 visitors and Lubbock handled 5,736 as compared to Borger's figure of 5,332 and Pampa's 1,987.

In placements for May—where Borger and Pampa tied at 301—Amarillo placed 1,199 and Lubbock 771.

Borger's 17,949 people have an employment commission office staff of six while Pampa is handling its 16,522 people with a staff of four.

Looking back a little further, in March, Borger had 3,437 varied visits to the employment office while Pampa had 1,753. Of these Borger placed 245 while Pampa placed only 184. However, Borger had more unemployment claims again than Pampa — 937 to 747.

Last month Pampa stood sixth in taking new applications for work from unemployed people. Lubbock was first, Amarillo stood second, Borger was third, Plainview fourth and Lamesa fifth. Pampa stood in fifth place in May for having active job applications on file.

Amarillo ranked first in job placements during May while Lubbock was second. Pampa and Borger, of course, tied for third

'Juke Box Johnnie' Knows His Numbers

PROVIDENCE, R. I. — (AP) — Four-year-old Johnnie Angelone seems to have a juke box attachment on his brain.

For the past two years he has been able to go to a stack of records, pick out a requested number and put it on the record player.

"He doesn't read and I don't know how he tells one record from another," his mother said.

But he does, and yesterday for the benefit of the press, he selected and played — on request — a variety of numbers.

"How do you tell what record you want," Johnnie was asked. "I see it," he said flatly.

Fair Enough - Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER NEW YORK — In consideration of a great mileage of publicity from me to him and his and their cause freely given, I trust that Josef Stalin will do the job of shooting the head of World War Three, otherwise to be known as the Roosevelt memorial war, until I have had time to catch up on my reading about the second one.

have been diligent and have stepped up my lenses several powers but still find myself losing ground on the memoirs and other such as less belles-lettres of the backstairs come rippling off the press. This is duty-reading. It is a smelting and refining process because in no other phase of history has the reader had to plod through so much of the same old, same old, same old if you don't like my metaphors you know where you can go on a day like this.

As a matter of fact, I have appointed myself a sort of historical fly-cop to placard lies and distortions on my way or another such as the silly attempt of La Boca to leave it for history that Herbert Hoover got scared, hid behind the lace curtains and bugled out the Army behind the chief of staff to massacre the veterans in the bloodless pogrom of the 1920s.

I recall how empty the satisfaction was of meeting him in Simpson's not long before he died, weakened, vain and tossing his frosty plume for attention but repaying an apathy that was showing next about as much as I remembered him of old as one of the mighty men of the earth and as hard to see as Stalin is today. Floyd Gibbons saw him coming and I thought his gall exceeded even American standards of impudence as he hopped out of his chair, bumped the old guy's arm and boomed "Mr. Prime Minister, this is indeed a pleasure" and introduced us all.

That nerve is one attribute of a great reporter as we who know Roy Rowland and Herbert Swope ungrudgingly admit, but it happened that by now the old man was wanting recognition and would stop and block the aisle of a crowded restaurant.

I thought back to the time when Howard got Northcliffe to get Lloyd George to tell him the Russians were in a photo-graphic war with the prime minister, with vulgarly shocking to English decorum, said the war would have to go to a knockout. Now I realize that this was propaganda. Northcliffe planted this in the mind of the American press with the maximum of dramatic force and popular appeal, whence it echoed in France and Germany with appropriate results. Nevertheless, old David had been hard to get, and now anyone could pluck his ass.

I find it tedious going and I am suspicious every word of the way, but I have made some progress in Robert Sherwood's "Roosevelt and Hopkins." I remind myself that this man was a devotee so passionate that he would have written the life of a body man and the life of a woman and the life of a man as well as Frances Perkins' "The Roosevelt I Knew" and of Henry Morgenthau's magazine series that was mysteriously withheld from boards. I was pleased to find that I have clipped the magazine pages because if the thousand feet a day, and some deep wells exceed 14,000 feet. In the beginning the oil industry produced a handful of products. Now it produces thousands, some of which the consumer never associates with petroleum at all. No one can begin to measure the contribution that oil has made to the public welfare, to our living standards, to the growth of our economy, and to the security of the nation. And it was all done in less than a century.

Common Ground

By E. C. BOULES The belief in Natural and Inalienable Rights In the last issue I was quoting from a textbook on political economy which my grandson is studying at the University of Southern California. This textbook contended that the state has a right by taxation to stop a man from transferring most of his wealth to his children or to whomsoever he wished to. Then the authors of this book, who are two college professors in tax supported colleges, contended that there were no natural or inalienable rights, and made this statement: "The doctrine of natural and inalienable rights, however, has long been discarded by well-informed thinkers."

Such a concept deserves stern consideration for should it be true it is a denial of the Jewish and Christian ethical beliefs. In other words, there can be no Jewish or Christian ethics unless it can be established that man HAS natural or inalienable rights.

To arrive at a conclusion that has a rational and reasonable approach it is, first of all, necessary to define man—no easy task. Man certainly is not defined if we limit him to the chemistry his body contains for, with slight variations, the same chemical elements make up all animal matter. The amounts of calcium, phosphorus, hydrogen, etc., in man are only slightly different than that contained in a chimpanzee. Thus man must be something more— he must have additional characteristics before we can define him properly.

What then are the characteristics that go to make up man, other than his physical structure? The principal characteristic that differentiates man from other animals is mind and the various functions of his mind. Thus, because he has mind he can think, hope, love, laugh, have compassion, desire, etc. As he extends these abilities he is permitted to think that he is sovereign of himself and no one else; that he is owner of himself and all he produces; that he may choose for himself so long as he doesn't directly interfere with other people's equal right to choose for themselves; that he has a right to pursue happiness. These abilities then go on in an infinity of extensions so that they encompass every man and all men.

This then is man. Any grouping of mere chemical elements that does not include these characteristics cannot be considered man. But, you say, these characteristics that go to make up man CAN be taken away from him for if the man is killed he is deprived or separated from his inalienable rights. Not so for if he is killed he no longer is man but a mound of chemical elements.

If man does not have the characteristics of man he is not a man. If a man is killed he ceases to have these characteristics and therefore is not a man. The man does not exist apart from life. They can not be alienated.

For this concept of man I am indebted to a former secretary of mine, Mrs. Bernice Henderson. I, too, was once confused on the idea that, as the professors say, "the doctrine of natural and inalienable rights, however, has long been discarded by well-informed belief. She had not been handicapped as I had been by spending so much time in college to get to think more clearly than I. For this reason, or else because God gave her more ability to think than I, she was able to see this point and establish that man HAS inalienable rights.

If these "well-informed thinkers" cannot point to a single case where man can live that is completely separated from these natural rights, it seems irrational for them to contend that "well-informed thinkers" say belief in them "have long been discarded." Men cannot reason without concluding that beliefs with which there can be found no exceptions are laws or rules. It takes the exception to disprove the rule or laws.

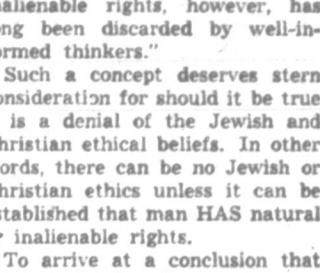

The whole Jewish and Christian ethics confirm the belief in inalienable rights. To deny them is to reduce, if not eliminate, the distinction between man and beast or inanimate material. If we discard the belief in inalienable rights, we will have to discard the whole philosophy on which this government was founded. We will have to believe there are no moral laws, or no higher law than the rules made by man. We will have to adopt the collectivist, statist, or "might-makes-right" philosophy of government as existed in all governments prior to the time this government was founded.

Thus, we will have to discard the Jewish and Christian ethics—the basis of the philosophy on which this government was formed. When we analyze the different beliefs in government, we will find that those people who believe in inalienable rights believe in the Jewish and Christian ethics and thus in government like the ideal—another spin to the Social Security set forth in the Declaration of Independence. And those like Stalin and the authors of this book, who do not believe there are any such things as inalienable rights or natural rights, believe the majority of the government can do anything it sees fit to do to the individual under the guise that it is being done for the general welfare.

I believe with all my heart that man has inalienable rights that

But there are several catches in this pleasant picture which today begin to worry economists in Washington. They realize far more acutely than does the general public that the spurt in housing construction has been largely promoted and inspired by the federal government on the basis of cheap and long-term mortgages.

INSIDE YOUR CONGRESS

By RALPH W. GWINN Distinguished Member of Congress, Lecturer and Author

The national lottery is the so-called social security scheme. For every winner, more than a dozen suckers must ante up the money. The losers can't quite see it. Their stakes are taken out of their pay envelopes by law. And they will never collect.

The first spin of the wheel was in 1936, an election year. No taxes were taken out of the workers' pay before election. But all voters were promised peace and prosperity in their old age. It helped win re-election.

The second spin was more serious. On January 1, 1937, right after election, the Administration started digging into millions of workers' pay envelopes. For three years it was mostly gravy for the politicians in power.

The approaching third term election made changes inevitable. So, the Social Security Act was amended in 1939. It provided monthly benefits for widows and children of a few workers who retired at 65 from employment covered by the Act. At that time, there was only one who got paid for every 366 workers whose pay envelopes were looted.

Through their forced contributions increased rapidly. But so did the number of winners. Even so, the Administration was still taking in millions and paying the winners only tens of thousands. By the end of 1945, there was one monthly winner for every 36 losers. The Administration was taking in $4 for every $1 paid out. It was still a tremendous money-making proposition for the socialists. Ponzi could not beat it.

The scheme spun merrily on. But the number of claims for social security began to grow faster than the number paying in. It became alarming. So, the Administration ruled that unless the claimants agreed to deposit money on their social security, it would be denied them. If a worker had a job he could not continue in that job and get his social security payments besides. That was a deliberate move to cheat him. Our governing men know that millions would prefer to work and live in some comfort instead of being socially secured and starve. So, the managers of the game kept the proceeds of their social security and cheated the people. Like any other gamblers, they must kiss their ante goodbye.

Those who pay into the fund for a short time and then quit or marry lose everything, too. Finally the wheel of fortune and misfortune began to bog down. The value of the dollars paid to the winners continued to fall. Winners of social security found they could get more money by going on the relief rolls. Twice as many old people were in relief in 1946, a period of great prosperity, as there were in 1936, a period of depression.

Tragically, the Congress is now in the game to try to save the social security system from collapse and scandal. It felt the sad plight of those past 65 growing worse. Something had to be done. The proposed new bill takes in and taxes 8,000,000 new workers or suckers not now included. The Administration, under the bill, will take in billions from the new 8,000,000 sucker list, to pay off the claims of the troublesome millions in the old group whose funds have been gambled and lost. Who will pay the 8,000,000 new suckers 20 or 30 years hence?

America is enjoying the relaxation of Indian summer rather than facing the adjustments that will have to be made before we can put the country on a sound, sustaining, high-level economy.

Dr. Edwin C. Nourse, former economic adviser to President Truman.

Bear in mind always, you can't work and draw your social security. Some will have to eke out their existence with the help of past savings. Utter dependence of those past 65 will vastly increase. The state of the nation grows worse than it was before social security because the percentage of helplessness increases. The government can't keep its promises. There is not one end-complete default. Our government, like all the social security governments of Europe, like all unsuccessful governments, must default.

Let's not defraud another eight million innocent taxpayers to add it to the wheel. We must find honest ways of making good the first group defrauded.

How to Get The Job Done

The Pilot of Walker, Minnesota, recently ran an interesting editorial on the competing of another project in a $22,000,000 expansion program being carried on by a privately-owned, publicly regulated, tapping power and light company in help them with various dealers in help them with the "drydrying" saving electrical appliances that make work so much easier for both Dad and Mother around the house and farm. If then said that it is not worthy of comment that the utility has proved again "that private enterprise, given the chance, can and will provide all and more power than we need, at low rates established by the commission."

Finally, the Pilot touched on the highly technical fact that continuing to expand new taxable assets which help us considerably to carry on the expenses of our local government.

All over the country utility companies have done the same thing. The only exceptions are in those regions where government power development and the continual, overhanging threat of government monopoly has made normal investment in and expansion of utility properties impossible.

The utility industry nationally has been engaged in a multi-billion dollar expansion project ever since the war ended. One top executive has forecast expenditures of $2 billion in 1950, 1951, 1952, 1953, 1954, 1955, 1956, 1957, 1958, 1959, 1960, 1961, 1962, 1963, 1964, 1965, 1966, 1967, 1968, 1969, 1970, 1971, 1972, Daily Devotions Grace Friend Readers of The Pampa News are invited to send their problems to Grace Friend. Letters not published in the columns will be answered personally provided a self-addressed stamped envelope is enclosed with the question. Writers must sign their names although they will not be printed without the writer's permission.
WANTS HOUSEKEEPER Dear Mrs. Friend: A year ago my wife died and since then I have been trying to get along and keep my two small children with me. We have had a succession of girls come in to do the housework but they haven't proven very good, as they are always in a hurry to get home again and get about their own affairs. You see, the problem is that we live on a farm and the girls aren't really interested in doing housework but are just helping out with the idea of picking up a little extra money. My children are a boy eight and a girl six and they are good kids and already are helping me quite a bit. I have decided that, much as I hate to think of it, I'll have to place them in some kind of school if I can't find a housekeeper. She will have to be satisfied to live in the country quite a distance away from town and movies although we do have a radio. It seems to me that there should be plenty of women who would like a home which is comfortable and where good meals a day and would be willing to stay for a year or two and not want a change every few months. I haven't found a soul so far who fills the bill and I wonder if you can help me. If you know of such a woman will you let me know? We will do all that we can to make her happy with us. D. G. Dear Mr. D. G.: If I hear of someone who would like to keep house for you and your youngsters I will certainly let you know. GRANDMOTHER IS AN ADULT Dear Mrs. Friend: I have a grandmother who recently was left a widow. She is in her seventies which, I believe, is too old for her to be living alone but so far no one in the family has been able to convince her that she should live with one of us or at least have someone of us stay with her. I thought that perhaps you could help us by writing something about it which we could show her and so convince her that she ought to give up her home and come to one of us. Mrs. O. Dear Mrs. O.: I am afraid that anything I might write on the subject could not be used to influence your grandmother to give up her home. She probably has been accustomed to being the head of her home for so many decades that the idea of giving up that independence to be with one of us is anything but attractive to her. If she is well and can afford it I don't know why she shouldn't continue to live in her home where she can make decisions regarding meals and her comings and goings as she pleases and as she has been accustomed to doing for so long. Why not leave her where she is while she is well and just keep an eye on her by dropping in frequently to visit her. She probably will enjoy your visits the more as she can entertain you in her own home. Don't forget that she has lived a long time and has learned much of life in the past decades. An adult, she probably resents being treated as if she were a helpless child.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 18. The Golden Text is: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made that was made." (John 1:1-3). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Be still and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, I will be exalted in the earth" (Psalms 46:10). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Belief is changeable, but spiritual understanding is 'changeless' (page 96). ### Exchange Teacher Says Morals Low Among Her Pupils

CHICAGO — (AP) — A British exchange teacher, after teaching in a Chicago school for one year, told the board of education yesterday she had been "disappointed" because of the low standard of morals among many students.

Miss Amy Imlach of London, who has taught physical education in Von Steuben High School, told the board:

"At home (London) the students don't cut class; their personal property doesn't have to be locked up because there is a feeling of respect for other people's possessions, and students don't have to have passes wherever they go for they are trusted and they respond to that trust."

Herold C. Hunt, superintendent of schools, had invited Miss Imlach to express her views to the board.

1. Review estimates by the Bureau of Mines on the cost of producing synthetic liquid fuels, and Bureau estimates of comparative costs of producing liquid fuels from crude oil.

2. Prepare independent cost estimates.

3. Make recommendations as to the improvement of future cost estimates by the bureau of mines.

Some members of the oil industry have said that the bureau's estimates do not reflect the full costs of producing synthetic fuels and thereby present the bureau's experiments in this direction in a too-favorable light.

Hallinan said the committee will be headed by W. S. S. Rogers of the Texas Co., New York City.

Other members include: K. S. Adams, Phillips Petroleum Co., Bartlesville, Okla.; Hines H. Baker, Humble Oil and Refining Co., Houston; Robert L. Foree, Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Assn., Dallas; R. S. Shannon, Pioneer Oil Corp., Denver; Reese H. Taylor, Union Oil Co. of California, Los Angeles, and J. Ed Warren, Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, Midland, Texas.

Auto Man Facing Bankruptcy Suit

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Gary Davis, who faces trial on grand theft charges in connection with his plans to make a three-wheeled car, now faces a bankruptcy suit.

H. B. Goldman and Donald and Raymond Malby yesterday filed an involuntary petition in bankruptcy against Davis in federal court accusing him of transferring or concealing personal property in the form of money.

The trio asserted they are his creditors. The court gave Davis 10 days to submit his accounts. He is at liberty on $10,000 bail and awaiting trial June 23 on 25 counts of grand theft involving $46,800 in dealer franchise money.

Council Picks Group to Study Synthetic Fuel

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The National Petroleum Council appointed a committee yesterday to study costs of producing synthetic liquid fuel as compared to costs of petroleum products.

Walker B. Hallinan, council chairman, said that in response to a suggestion from Oscar Chapman, secretary of the interior, the committee will:

1. Review estimates by the Bureau of Mines on the cost of producing synthetic liquid fuels, and Bureau estimates of comparative costs of producing liquid fuels from crude oil.

2. Prepare independent cost estimates.

3. Make recommendations as to the improvement of future cost estimates by the bureau of mines.

Some members of the oil industry have said that the bureau's estimates do not reflect the full costs of producing synthetic fuels and thereby present the bureau's experiments in this direction in a too-favorable light.

Hallinan said the committee will be headed by W. S. S. Rogers of the Texas Co., New York City.

Other members include: K. S. Adams, Phillips Petroleum Co., Bartlesville, Okla.; Hines H. Baker, Humble Oil and Refining Co., Houston; Robert L. Foree, Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Assn., Dallas; R. S. Shannon, Pioneer Oil Corp., Denver; Reese H. Taylor, Union Oil Co. of California, Los Angeles, and J. Ed Warren, Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, Midland, Texas.

American Held Over Month By Mexico Without Charge

SAN ANTONIO — Joseph Freedman, 26-year-old sanitary engineer from Boston, said here yesterday he had been held a prisoner, without formal charge, for over a month in Tapachula, Mexico, by immigration authorities.

Freedman, who says he lost 20 pounds in less than five weeks in the Mexican jail, told the San Antonio Evening News that he had been thrown in jail without being told why, as he tried to re-enter Mexico from Guatemala.

"Only with the help of the American consul in Mexico City was I able at last to return to the U. S.," Freedman said. The engineer described his stay in the Tapachula jail as a "nightmare of existence, where men were beaten unmercifully, where men and women shared the same 'bullpen' where guards enjoyed throwing men into their cells head first, where rats, cockroaches and bedbugs were our constant companions."

His release, according to the American, came when a friend in Mexico City became worried over his disappearance and called the governor of Chiapas, who in turn sent investigators to look into the matter.

The U. S. embassy in Mexico City confirmed that Freedman had been held by Mexican immigration authorities at Tapachula. It said the question was "adequacy of his immigration documents." The embassy said it didn't know whether any formal charge was filed. It said Freedman was finally released when the embassy entered the case.

Freedman will remain in San Antonio until his health returns, he said. Prior to his trip to Mexico and Guatemala, he was on duty with the U. S. government in the Philippines and other areas in the Pacific as a sanitary engineer. He is a graduate of Georgia Tech and the University of North Carolina.

ONE STORM DID IT ALL—A huge gully that would have taken years of normal erosion to create was ripped through a level field near Natrium, W. Va., by one furious rain and windstorm. Soil conservation officials measured the gorge at 320 feet long, 100 feet wide and 60 feet deep in spots.

Downpour Saves Once-Sinful Old Virginia City From Fire

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev. — (AP) — A providential rain early today saved this once sinful mining town from destruction by fire.

It came as flames raced through the tinder-like old wooden buildings and plank sidewalks. There wasn't much firemen could do because there was scarcely any water in the mains of this parched town.

Three old buildings, the Wells Fargo Express Co., postoffice and the old George T. Marye building, went up in crackling flames. They escaped the big fire of 1875.

The fire started from chimney sparks. A high wind was blowing. It whipped the flames from dry, seasoned board to board. It looked for a while like the whole old ghost town would be destroyed.

Then suddenly came the rain, a virtual cloudburst. Quickly the flames were snuffed out.

Firemen from Reno, 32 miles away, and Carson City, the state capital, raced here to assist volunteer firemen. But they were powerless without water pressure.

Virginia City, built in 1862, mushroomed with 40,000 inhabitants as the fabulous Comstock Lode gave up $3,000,000,000 worth of ore to the miners.

They spent their profits and earnings in having a good time and made Virginia City one of the most famous towns in the West.

Last night there were scarcely 600 inhabitants here. They have made the ghost town into a tourist center and attracted visitors by games of chance and the flowing cup.

Volunteers, among them Lucius Beebe, New York columnist, were able to save only a few wheels of chance, dice tables, slot machines and whisky barrels from the old buildings today.

They piled them up in the street.

Mat McGuirk, owner of the buildings destroyed, estimated damage at $60,000.

Russians May Have Six A-Bombs Built Soon, Expert Says

NEW YORK — (AP) — Reports that Russia may have six atom bombs on hand by next fall, and soon may be producing them at the rate of 25 a year, have been quoted by a military expert.

The expert, Navy Commander William T. Greenhalgh, quoted an unidentified authority in giving his figures before 350 selected civilians and reserve officers at a session of the Industrial College of the Armed Forces.

He said other authorities may have other ideas on the matter. He offered no conclusions of his own.

Greenhalgh said Soviet aviators who fled Russia have told of 44 air fields in east Siberia a likely takeoff point for an attack on the U. S. Northwest.

Police Win, Lose Cop-Robber Game

ELIZABETH, N.J. — (AP) — Sports item: Second Precinct police last night defeated First Precinct police 7-6 in a softball game. The winners received a trophy.

Police item: The trophy, in possession of the winners, about three minutes, disappeared while the jubilant bluecoats were talking over the game. It still was missing today.

Comment: from Detective William Connolly, facetiously, "It looks like an inside job."

RANGER ROUGHNECK

Rescued Men Employed by Houston Firm

HOUSTON — (AP) — The head of a Houston geophysical firm yesterday said those rescued Wednesday after being marooned in the jungles of Italian Somaliland included three of his employees.

An Ethiopian Air Lines plane carrying the trio and the wife and child of one of the men crashed into the jungles Sunday.

Sam D. Rogers, president of Rogers-Ray, Inc., said all five and Mrs. D. Gafford and their child of Tulsa.

Rogers said the plane crashed because of fuel line trouble as the party was returned to its base from a Somaliland vacation.

He said no one was injured although all suffered from exposure. They were rescued by Italian armored cars after keeping in touch with the base by radio.

Observers Report Japanese Protest Embargo on Rallies

TOKYO — (AP) — Protesters trickled in today from Communist and non-Communist Japanese against the police chief's ban on mass rallies in the Tokyo area.

One group, the leftist National Liaison Council of Labor Unions, filed suit against the chief. The suit alleges the chief exceeded his authority and violated the Japanese constitution.

The Democratic party, which only today blamed Red infiltration into its ranks, filed a protest with the government against the ban.

Police Chief Eichi Tanaka on June 2 announced the Imperial Plaza and downtown Hibiya Park would be "off limits" to political rallies from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

His action was taken in the face of threatened protest meetings against the conviction of eight Japanese convicted of assaulting five American soldiers in a demonstration on Memorial Day.

Typhus Reported in Communist Shanghai

HONG KONG — (AP) — Typhus, deadly fever spread by lice, has broken out in Communist Shanghai, a delayed report from the Shanghai Public Health Review revealed yesterday.

The review said the number of cases increased from 56 during the week ending May 27 to 128 during the week ending June 3.

Crash of B-25 Proves Fatal To 9 Airmen

CIRCLEVILLE, W. Va. — (AP) — A fire-blackened area near the top of Spruce Knob — highest mountain in West Virginia — marked the spot today where nine airmen were killed in the crash of an Air Force bomber.

The Utah-bound B-25 smashed into the mountain at dawn yesterday. Its two engines were found 1,500 feet from the point of impact. The wings sheared off. The fuselage was reduced to twisted pieces.

Two bodies were thrown into trees. Fire burned over a quarter-mile of the 4,800-foot high mountain, about 25 miles from the West Virginia-Virginia border.

The nine bodies were removed to an Elkins, W. Va., funeral home.

The plane was bound from Olmstead Air Base at Middletown, Pa., for a stopover at Offutt Base in Nebraska. From there it was going to its home field near Ogden, Utah.

Three of the dead were Air Force regulars and five others were reservists. The ninth, a passenger, was stationed at the Hamilton Air Base, Calif. His name was not disclosed.

The others were identified as: Lt. C. T. Economos, Circleville, field, Utah; the pilot, Lt. Harry W. Rogers (home address unavailable), and Master Sgt. Neal M. Moss of Ogden, Utah, the Air Force regular, and these reservists:

Lt. Robert F. Burt, Lt. Kenneth G. Lester, Sgt. Gerald M. Wheelwright, Sgt. U. Bernard, and Cpl. John H. Fearn, all of the Ogden area.

Mortgage Bond Coupons Called By MKT Board

DALLAS — (AP) — Directors of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad yesterday declared due and payable on July 1, 1950, three coupons on the adjustment mortgage bonds of the company.

The action took place at a special meeting of the board here.

R. J. Morris, board chairman, said in a statement:

"In the light of the Interstate Commerce Commission's decision of June 2, 1950, that the plan for funding interest on the key adjustment bonds could not be approved as coming within the scope of section 20-B of the Interstate Commerce Act, the directors concluded that, barring unforeseen conditions, the company will use such funds and to such extent as the same can be made available out of current earnings to liquidate the accumulated interest."

The three coupons declared due and payable were Numbers 42, 43 and 44.

Over 100 Permits Issued by City's Health Department

More than 100 health department permits have been issued to Pampa establishments so far this year, Health Inspector R. M. Mundine, Jr., has announced.

He said there are about 20 more to be issued.

The permits, issued once each year, go to all places where food or drinks are handled, also trucking firms bringing in foods or drinks must get the permits.

Individual health cards are issued every six months, and are given after a blood test and physical examination.

Persons seeking the health cards, said Mundine, may go to a private physician for the necessary examinations and tests.

They may also get them at Highland General hospital. The institution accepts health card applicants Monday through Thursday. Hours: 11-12 and 1-3.

Youth Caravan Team Due Here

One of 20 Youth Caravan teams from McMurry College will spend a week at the First Methodist Church here to aid youth organizations of the church.

The Youth Caravan teams, made up of four young people and one adult, are handpicked for leadership and undergo special training at McMurry College before they start out on their eight week trek of churches in various towns. Ten other Panhandle churches will be given a one week assistance stand this year by a Youth Caravan team.

"I wrote THREE CAME HOME for horror of war . . . for affection for my husband . . . for a reminder to my son . . . that it is better to give more, to share freely, to have less myself — and to keep the peace, than to fight. Those years in a Japanese prison camp convinced me there is no life without these things . . . The right to live with, to touch and to love my husband and my children; and the freedom to believe what I think is right. I will never give up these rights again."
