Many mature women look and feel older than their years be cause of a slowing down of circulation which is apt to manifest itself during middle age.

Because strenuous exercise is usually ruled out after 40, circulation may be stimulated by less drastic and equally beneficial means. One of the best ways is the friction rubdown after your bath. Best aid to a good rubdown is a coarse-textured mitt of goat's hair or nubby terry cloth.

If you slip a friction mitt on your hand for the rubdown, pour small amount of cologne or otion into the cupped pakm to soften up the fabric slightly. Then work the mitt over the skin in brisk, vigorous strokes starting upwards from the toes. In using the mitt on the arms, begin at the fingertips and stroke towards the shoulders

Because this stroking speeds blood to skin surfaces, you'll be rewarded for your efforts by a glowing complexion instead the former pallor. Better circula-tion of blood also helps to relax tense muscles.

'Enlightened Selfishness'

PROFIT IS usually pointed to as the incentive which compels a person to produce, chiefly in the hope of reward for himself. But actually goes much further. It also encourages the farsighted individual to work for greater production and profits for others the expectation that there will be a residual gain for him.

For example, when the depression struck in the '30s, one of the worst hit areas was the Upper Monongahela Valley, in North ern West Virginia. By 1934 four years of bad times had reduced that section to a state of chaos. Some 55 percent of the farms were listed as delinquent in taxes and more than 31,600 families were on relief About this time the president of a local power company did some figuring and came to the conclusion that on the average every $100 worth of business done in the valley brought the power company $1.25 for the use of its facilities.

Pursuing a policy of "enlightened selfishness" this company helped substantially to promote agricultural and industrial development in the valley with spectacularly successful results. Annual farm income has increased fivefold. Payrolls have been increased by at least $60,000,000 a year in the last seven years. Thus the profit motive intelligently ap-plied restored the independence and self-reliance of an entire region to say nothing of creating rich new sources of tax revenue for all levels of government.

Another more recent example of this policy of "elightened selfishness" can be found in Florida, where a group of industrial leaders were appointed by a progressive governor to undertake the job of attracting suitable new industries to the state. Already impressive results are apparent and again a region is demonstrating that progress is not dependent upon federal handouts, and that local resourcefulness is still very much alive. Significantly the de velopment campaign in Florida The people of emphasizes that Florida not only welcome, but invite capital to come in, and do not attempt to confiscate it. They believe in the continued development of agriculture, industry commerce, trades and professions under our free enterprise system . . .

The Road Ahead" John Flynn INSTALLMENT TWENTY Let me illustrate. I have indicated that there are two prongs to the strategy — the admission of the southern Negroes to the vote and their capture by the Socialist Planthe ning propagan-dists. I am quite sure there are few people in - even America those who follow these affairs closely - who have any conception of the extent and vigor of the drive to round up the Negro population of the South, and the North as well, for socialism. Much of this has been done by the Communists, who are past masters at this art. But we need not trouble ourselves too much as to whether any particular movement is Communist or Socialist. The objective is always the same. The radical revolutionary propa-gandist knows that people must be dealt with on their minority group level, and that even a minority group divides naturally into differing subminorities. For instance, for dealing with even so small a group in this country as the Finns, the Communists have organized four separate fronts — ostensibly Finnish committees. In the case of the Negroes the Red propagandist knows that they are not all of one mind, do not all think alike and are moved and molded in their thinking by various age, class, economic, social and religious considerations. The left-wingers - mostly the Communists -- have brought into existence in the last dozen years a large number of front organizations for imposing their idealogies on the Negro mind. A front organization, of course, is one which presents a more or less respectable and non-support facade behind which the revolutionary objective is carried on. the case of the Negroes I hesitate to give the number lest the reader believe I am exaggeratform ing. As a matter of fact, these organizations number 87 --- organized and promoted and in many cases originally financed by Committee nunists or left-wing groups, but having among their directors a number of highly respected perrican Affairs sons deceived by the apparent obcan Affairs jective, yet utterly ignorant of the real objective. Another way of reducing the pain of childbirth which has received a great deal of attention in recent years is the method of physiological or natural childbirth described by Dr. Grahtley Dick Read of England. Machine Age

By GORDON MARTIN

There was once a time when folks relied on other people's hands to perform a lot of helpful tasks to meet the day's demands. There were clerks to get your groceries, a waitress served your food, and a salesman sold you cigarets with friendly attitude. But you now can buy most anything from smokes to tenderloins, if you want to deal with strange machines which operate with coins. Now it doesn't matter what you want, from gum to gasoline, for the chances are it's vended by a fancy coin machine. You can drop in dimes and nickles, or some quar-ters or some halves, getting handkerchiefs or nylon hose to cover female calves. There's assorted kinds of candy and a cup of coffee hot, and a ham-on-rye is walting for your nickels in the slot. Why, a man can go about his tasks throughout the livelond day.

getting what he needs from coin machines without a word to say, But it wouldn't be surprising if, in time, machines are made, so you get some conversation with your glass of lemonade. When you drop your coin you'll hear a voice which for your business bids, when it says to you "Good morning, how's the wife and all the kids?"

thousand good stories --some them true - about old Jim Thorpe, the greatest all-around athlete of the past 50 years. And, in the nearly 40 years since the muscular Sac-Fox Indian first flashed to athletic fame at Carlisle Indian School, it has become increasingly hard to tell where the truth ends and gins. James Francis Thorpe is not merely a legendary figure in American sports. He's the kind of man about whom legends grow. And Thorpe himself seldom hesitated to add to the fable of Old Jim. Perhaps, in later years, when he found it hard to earn a living, his memory played him false on dates and details. Or maybe Jim liked to make a good story better, too.

Taking fact and fable for what they're worth, the sports writers and broacasters of the United States, participating in the Associated Press poll, voted Thorpe the outstanding male athlete of the first half of the 20th Century. They put him far ahead of Babe Ruth, Jack Dempsey, Ty Cobb, Bobby Jones and Joe Louis -all great athletes about whom colorful yarns also have some been told.

Of the 393 voters, 252 named Thorpe first, 5 named him second and 29 third. Ruth drew 86 first place votes, 118 seconds and 45 thirds. Dempsey was ranked third with 19, 67 and 55.

In other ballots, the experts also chose Thorpe - now 61 years old-as the outstanding football player of the 1900-1949 period and
