Fashion Creators Meet Conservation Challenge Of WPB

LOS ANGELES, July 14 (AP)—With a riot of colors and ingenuity of design, California fashion creators have met the material-conservation challenge of the War Production Board.

And the buyers apparently approve. Registrations at the annual fall fashion showing of the Associated Apparel Manufacturers of Los Angeles are running ahead of last year's.

By means of embroidered trimming, contrasting colors and materials, and cutting technique, the designers have made the most of their restricted material to give the illusion of much more cloth. They have even conveyed the impression of pleats where none exist.

As might have been expected with women's increasing war activities, slacks play a prominent part in the display of 1942 fall fashions. They range from short slacks, coming just below the knee, to the feminine-fussy type that take the place of a hostess gown.

One style has a zipperless closer consisting of a wide front panel fastening with two large buttons. Pockets are set toward the front to give a peg-top appearance, enhanced by tapering cuffs.

The draped peg-top effect extends also to garments of all sorts from sports dresses to long evening gowns. Jumper dresses and jumper slacks suits are designed to be worn with blouses or sweaters, for variety and for economy of fabrics.

Uncle Sam Asks Housewives To Give Cooking Fats For War Needs

Uncle Sam Asks Housewives To Give Cooking Fats For War Needs

By MARGUERITE YOUNG

NEW YORK—Two pounds of fats make shortening enough for biscuits to feed 40 healthy fighting soldiers or sailors. Two pounds of fats make enough glycerine to fire five anti-tank shells.

That's the simple arithmetic behind Uncle Sam's big fats and greases salvage campaign. There is this bit of chemistry to it also: biscuits require fresh fats, but munitions come out just as readily with any old drippings or suet or frying oil, so long as it's fat.

In this campaign American citizens in general, and Mrs. Citizen and her maid in particular, are expected to scrape up 500,000,000 pounds of cooking fats this year.

Sounds like a heap?

It is. But it's only one-fourth of what went down the drains of American kitchens during an average year in the bad old days of careless waste.

HERE'S HOW TO HELP

That didn't matter so much—then—because the nation's larder was overflowing with fats, from domestic and foreign sources.

Now there isn't plenty—there is only enough, provided that none too much is wasted. In the first place, one-third of what used to come in from overseas arrived from the Philippine islands. Besides, this year there is going out of the larder for our own United Nations' use over a billion pounds more than went out last year.

So, Uncle Sam asks, save the fats and grease that you might ordinarily throw out. For those waste fats, though inedible, can do war work in such things as those anti-tank shells.

Thus fresh fats will be released for use where they're essential, at home as well as at the front. There will not be such a shortage that Mrs. America will have to make her own soap. She'll be able to get bacon, butter, paint, and the many household items that contain fats.

What should Mrs. America do to help?

First, know what to save. Uncle Sam wants:

Pan drippings from roast ham, beef, lamb, poultry;

Broiler drippings from steaks, chops, veal, bacon;

Deep frying fats—both used animal fats such as lard, and used vegetable fats like the cotton seed oil from fried potatoes, fish, doughnuts, and what to do with them.

Take them to your butcher shop and sell them—that's all.

The butcher will route them into the national larder. Meat dealers everywhere are cooperating. The butcher will weigh your waste fat, pay you the established price which will vary according to the part of the country you live in, and turn it over for rendering.

Take your savings to the butcher on weekdays if possible to avoid week-end jams. Take them in something besides a glass or paper container if you possibly can.

Remember, fat equals glycerine, equals fighting power for U. S. and United Nations soldiers. Soldiers eat butter, lard, vegetable oils. They fight with explosives, which must be made from things that in turn are made from fats. Glycerine makes propellant powder, recoil mechanisms of guns, ship compasses, the mechanism which hurls

Supper Follows Beta Sigma Phi Bowling Party

Appointments in a patriotic theme prevailed last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thompson where members of Upsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority and their guests gathered for another in the series of summer social events.

Red, white, and blue were stressed in decorating the table and in the supper which was served in the back yard.

Co-hostesses for the evening with Mrs. Thompson were Mrs. Ray Kuhn, Mrs. C. A. Vaught, and Miss Dorothy Jo Taylor.

Preceding the supper, the group rolled two games at the local bowling alley. Prizes were awarded to high bowlers, Mrs. Robert Curry and Steve Matthews.

Housewives: Guard Household Equipment

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Just as men in the army must keep their guns, tanks, and planes in fighting order, so women on the domestic front must care for their household equipment.

With materials curtailed and only limited supplies of metals allowed for repairs, care of the kitchen becomes most important.

Be careful when using acid fruits and vegetables, sour milk, and vinegar near your range top. If you spill any of these, wipe them up quickly before the acid can eat away the top finish of the porcelain enamel.

Give your range a quick "once-over" after each use with soft paper or a dry cloth. If necessary, you can use a cloth dipped in hot water and wrung nearly dry. Never wash porcelain enamel surfaces with cold water while the range is still hot. The sudden change in temperature may crack the enamel.

When the stove has cooled, use warm, soapy water for all surfaces and racks. If a spot is hard to remove, rub it gently with a fine cleaning powder that will not scratch. If this doesn't work, rub lightly with fine steel wool, 00 grade, but never scrape.

Wash removable pans as you would any cooking utensil of the same material. Wash or wipe off drip trays often—once a day is not too much. Clean the broiler compartment after each use. Wash bright metal trimming on your stove with soap and water and polish with a soft dry cloth. Do not use metal polish of any kind on nickel- or chromium-plated trim.

PICNIC CHICKEN

Fried chicken will taste just as good at that backyard picnic as at the beach—maybe better, for you can serve it crisp and piping hot right from the stove. Dredge the chicken evenly with flour. Here's an easy way: simply put flour and seasonings in a heavy paper bag, then drop in a few pieces of chicken, shake vigorously, repeat until all chicken is well floured. Have at least a half inch of hot (but not smoking hot) fat in a heavy frying pan. Start the heaviest, thickest pieces cooking first. Brown evenly, and then cover and cook slowly until tender, adding a little water if necessary to keep from sticking.

O'Daniel Declares 'Murderers, Thugs, Thieves' Out to Beat Him

By DAVE CHEAVENS

DENTON, July 14 (P)—Before a crowd that was in frequent vociferous approval of what he had to say, Senator W. Lee O'Daniel last night hammered at his contention that preservation of the democratic form of government and not the fighting of the war is the chief issue in the senatorial race.

Earlier in the day at Decatur and again here he charged that the interests which want him removed from the senate are willing "to spend a million dollars and more" to do it and that "murderers, arsonists, thugs, and thieves have been hired to follow us around to heckle us."

Fourteen times in his speech on the court house lawn at Denton he referred to "Communist labor leader racketeers" who have a war chest of "a billion dollars stolen from the common laboring men of America" to use in changing our form of government.

"I believe in union labor and I believe in picketing," he declared, "but not talking about members of the unions when I refer to the labor leader racketeers. I am a friend of labor, but my fight is with the racketeers that deprive them of the right to work."

In the Decatur rally, O'Daniel preceded on the platform by Hal Collins, candidate for governor, who is campaigning with him. Each was accompanied by a band, the hillbilly boys and girls of the O'Daniel entourage now shrank to three boys and a girl.

Collins spoke last night at the Denton meeting, with a plea that he be sent to Austin to finish the job that O'Daniel started as governor and assailing Coke Stevenson as the "accidental governor."

"I charge and it is true that my opponent as speaker of the house was instrumental in bringing back horse race gambling," Collins said.

Collins said he would veto any racing bill brought to his desk as governor, and "if I am your governor, we are going to enforce the liquor laws that we have got. If I have to ask the state police and Texas Rangers to do the job, I am going to ask the legislature to pass stricter liquor laws."

"The soldiers that are entrusted to Texas are not going to contact the liquor habit. The dirty dens of hell which surround our army camps and war industries are going to be cleaned up when Hal Collins is governor."

O'Daniel and Collins are carrying their campaign to the heavily-populated sections of North Texas this week. They are speaking from a decrepit-looking truck, not in the least resembling the white-domed vehicle O'Daniel used in two recent campaigns.

O'Daniel asserted he would receive three-to-one more votes of union labor than his opponents, one of whom he said started out his campaign by trying to re-write the Bible and the other who continually insists on organizing a debating society.

"The only reason he wants to debate," said O'Daniel, "is that he can't get a crowd any other way." One of his opponents, Dan Moody, offered to cancel a speaking engagement Monday to meet O'Daniel in joint debate. He has previously issued the same challenge.

"I was worried in Washington when for a long time they did not put up a candidate against me," said O'Daniel.

"Always before when you folks wanted to elect me, they put up dozens of candidates and you just moved 'em down." "You tell 'em," howled a voice from the crowd.

"I was like a prospective papa, walking the floor. Then came the news: twins. Not only twins, but gold dust twins," O'Daniel said.

He said "there ain't gonna be any gas rationing, we ain't gonna lose the war, and there ain't gonna be any run-off." Only if President Roosevelt deems it necessary, he added, would there be gas rationing in Texas.

O'Daniel said the war is not an issue in the campaign because there must be a division of opinion to have an issue, and that every person in America was united in its desire to win the war.

Jack White, No. 1 Giant Rooster, Dies

NEW YORK, July 14 (AP)—Jack White, 49, slender, sharp-witted night club entertainer who developed the knack of insulting almost everyone and getting good money for it, died last night.

But just as much as White liked to rib the customers in his West 52nd street club "18," he thrilled to the New York Giants going through their paces, win or lose. As "No. 1 Giant fan," it was his custom to visit the baseball players on the bench. Once, when Jimmy Ripple smacked a home run, he ran out on the field and implanted a kiss on the husky outfielder.

If the Giants won, the score was posted in the club. If they lost, White hung up a sign reading "Rain, no game today."

Crash Of Training Planes Kill Four

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 14 (P)

—Two naval flying officers and two aviation cadets were killed yesterday when two training planes collided in mid-air and crashed near here, the Jacksonville Naval Air station announced today. The dead were listed as: Ensign Phillip H. Bates, 25,

U.S.N.R., of Carpinteria, Calif., pilot of one of the planes. Aviation Cadet Remsen H. R. Crege, 22, U.S.N.R., of Yeoman, Pa.,

passenger in Bates' plane. Ensign Rodger B. Wilson, U.S.N.R., of West Los Angeles, Calif., pilot of the second plane. Aviation Cadet John Collins, 23, U.S.N.R., of Ocean City, N. J., passenger in Wilson's plane.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, July 14 (P)—Stocks did better in today's market after an early light sell-off failed to disclose many leaders.

While the war news from Russia was far from comforting, and tax matters at home still were regarded as a bit bearish, the lack of any urgent speculation, as in the preceding session, prompted belated bidding for assorted favorites. Inflation ideas again served as a bolstering influence.

At the start declines ranged from fractions to around a point. Support soon arrived, however, and in the closing hour set-backs were reduced or transformed into healthy plus marks.

Transfers were around 350,000 shares. Financing on gains at one time or another were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Chesapeake & Ohio, Standard Oil (N. J.), U. S. Rubber, Sperry, American Airlines, Kennecott, American Can, DuPont, U. S. Gypsum, Westinghouse, and the greater part of the day.

Commodities were mixed. Wheat, including Western Union, Johns-Manville, Dow Chemical, Union Carbide, Allied Chemical, J. I. Case, and Sears Roebuck.

Bonds were uneven as were the principal commodities. At Chicago wheat was off about 1/4 to 1/2 of a cent a bushel and corn up 1/4 to 1/2 cent. Cotton, in late trades, was under water 3/4 to 1 cent a bale.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, July 14 (P)—Stocks did better in today's market after an early light sell-off failed to disclose many leaders.

While the war news from Russia was far from comforting, and tax matters at home still were regarded as a bit bearish, the lack of any urgent speculation, as in the preceding session, prompted belated bidding for assorted favorites. Inflation ideas again served as a bolstering influence.

At the start declines ranged from fractions to around a point. Support soon arrived, however, and in the closing hour set-backs were reduced or transformed into healthy plus marks.

Transfers were around 350,000 shares. Financing on gains at one time or another were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Chesapeake & Ohio, Standard Oil (N. J.), U. S. Rubber, Sperry, American Airlines, Kennecott, American Can, DuPont, U. S. Gypsum, Westinghouse, and the greater part of the day.

Commodities were mixed. Wheat, including Western Union, Johns-Manville, Dow Chemical, Union Carbide, Allied Chemical, J. I. Case, and Sears Roebuck.

Bonds were uneven as were the principal commodities. At Chicago wheat was off about 1/4 to 1/2 of a cent a bushel and corn up 1/4 to 1/2 cent. Cotton, in late trades, was under water 3/4 to 1 cent a bale.

Sugar Shortage

The current controversy over sugar supply is unfortunate. However it may be settled, there will be those—not fifth columnists or sixth, but just ordinary suspicious and belligerent patriots—who will argue that the whole business has been badly bungled. These critics will be second-guessing, so they will have plenty of embarrassing material at their command.

The office of price administration says firmly that sugar stocks on hand are not as large as the public believes, that the sugar shipping situation may not continue as favorable as in the past few months. OPA, while making two extra pounds of sugar available between July 10 and Aug. 22, still maintains that it is not possible to assure permanent increases in the weekly ration.

The real dispute is between those who believe sugar will continue coming in at the present pace—and therefore the public should be given a fatter allowance—and those who fear shipments may fall off soon, and argue that a stockpile must be built up to insure against future shortage.

The original decision to ration sugar appeared amply justifiable, in view of the shipping situation and our need for molasses from which to make alcohol for munitions.

However, instead of 1,300,000 tons of sugar for munitions, we found it necessary to use only 400,000 tons. The balance came from grain.

At the same time ships returning from Hawaii were able to bring back more sugar than we had expected; and ships from South America have been able to drop in at Havana and pick up more of the cane product. Also, domestic beet production shot up once the government lifted the heavy hand of planting quotas.

So we have achieved an apparent surplusage. A Houston refinery has had to close down because more than 30,000,000 pounds of refined sugar are piling up in its warehouses. A New Jersey plant has shut down because of too much refined and too little raw sugar. A congressman alleges that we are paying seven corporations for not producing sugar.

If the government decides to increase the sugar allowance, some will say the bureaucrats went too far in the beginning. But if, with the existing surplus, the moguls decide not to flavor the national sweet tooth, they can expect a mighty and devastating protest.

Business Before Pleasure

The German notion that a "gentlemen's agreement" banned air raids on London and Berlin was too foolish to require the British denial that came promptly. "Gentlemen's agreements" aren't made with Germans or Japanese.

The real reason Berlin hasn't been bombed in more than a year is, of course, that the RAF has more pressing business demolishing the Nazi productive plant, and Berlin is a long way off.

Let us hope that corresponding reasons lie behind Jimmy Doolittle's failure to bomb the Imperial Palace in Tokyo, when the wheels of his plane almost skimmed its roof. The report that a poetic gentleman has argued successfully against bombing Hirohito, on the theory that the Japs then might reciprocate against the White House, we trust is a Washington pipe dream.

Wise Ruling

A Connecticut probate court has added to the legal protection thrown about the process of child adoption. He decided that when the secretary of a well-known columnist and her husband gave up their baby for adoption, the foster parents acquired substantially irrevocable rights.

This was a wise ruling. The law generally protects mothers who are under age, unmarried or acting under temporary stress, from losing their infants. But there is a growing line of decisions to assure childless couples that when they take a baby into their homes and heart, they need not fear having their happier homes disrupted by a belated change of heart on the part of the natural parents.

Without such assurance the adoption system, which has given loving parents to thousands who otherwise would have grown up as waifs, would be badly handicapped.

BUSINESS AND THE OPA
 (Stout Falls (South Dakota) Argus-Leader)
 Editor's Note: The party handing in the following says that he was surprised to read this protest since its author had always been a Roosevelt supporter.

To the Editor of The Argus-Leader:
 The subject of helping the small business man has been brought up in congress several times but apparently making everything worse all the time.

Much could be done if this man Henderson would let the small business man run his own business, but he has made so many unnecessary rules and regulations that it is impossible for the small business man to comply with them that we will be subjects for Leavenworth if he enforces his rules, as no living man can comply with them, and 50 per cent of the small businessmen will be forced out if they try to comply with his requirements.

I run a hardware store and have for 42 years in this small town, and I keep as good records as most small businesses (as I have every invoice of these 42 years filed) I would be obliged to go through these records to locate what I paid for many articles and then could not be sure of getting everything correct. All this time is wasted, and I must send a copy of this down to Washington to be thrown in the waste basket or have them over. I do not know what he wants or needs them for only to show his authority how much trouble and expense he can make, and this will cease.

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES
 "I speak the plain-word primer. I give the sign of democracy. By God! I will accept nothing which all cannot have their counterpart of on the same terms."

MEANING OF BETTER CLASS

We often hear the expression that this or that person is of the better class.

Now by what eternal, universal rule do we determine whether a man is of better class? There must be some impersonal rules that determine who are of the better class today as there were rules a hundred or a thousand years ago.

Does the man need to have wealth, in order to be of the better class? Not necessarily. Does he need to be polished and well dressed? Not necessarily so. Does he need to be a genius? Not necessarily so.

But being wealthy or a genius or healthy or genteel and polished, do not prevent him from being of the better class.

The one rule that determines the better class from the run of the mine, that makes him in short the salt of the earth or makes him among the few that are chosen, as contrasted with the many who enter the broad gate of destruction, is that he obeys and endeavors to bring about some universal, eternal, impersonal rule of human relations. He strives to keep people from being exploited, whether they be rich or poor. He knows that if we exploit even the rich, it will hurt the humblest worker.

Yes, the rule for determining the better class is simply a burning desire and a determined effort to see that all people have equal rights to pursue happiness on the same terms.

This is a definition that makes it possible for every human being, if he so wills, to be of the better class.

DIFFICULTY OF GOVERNMENT OPERATION

The recent decision of the Mexican supreme court that it was technically illegal for the government to take over the oil wells of foreign oil companies is a very interesting decision.

Reports indicate that since the Mexican government took the property over, they not only brought in no revenue but resulted in extensive and continued deficits.

When productive properties get in the hands of politicians, the properties usually are of little benefit to the customers. The politicians are interested in their own jobs rather than serving the customers of the property.

Easier to Reward or Punish

The reason business men are more interested in serving their customers than public officials is because business men can more easily be rewarded for good service and/or punished for poor service than the politicians can be rewarded or punished by the voters. This makes it necessary for the business man to serve the customers in order to survive. This fact is what the socialists and New Dealers, who are seeking more and more private property to manage, never explain to the voters.

WHOM DO WE ADMIRE?

Probably the reason we are in the plight we are in today, domestically and internationally, is that we have given the politicians too much admiration, as contrasted with the statesmen and the engineers.

The clever politician who could fool the public and keep control and hand out soft jobs has been eulogized and admired entirely too much. He is the man who has led us on and on in our moral and economic debacle.

A politician, of course, is a man who thinks of the next election. A statesman is a man who thinks of the coming generations.

Yes, we can do much by showing our disapprobation for politicians and giving our heartfelt support and approbation to statesmen and engineers.

all come out of our profit while the government is asking us to buy bonds and stamps.

He asks for 80,000 people to travel around this country at a salary of $3000 and expenses to check up and see how many businessmen are honest. Better send them out to do something that will help win the war instead of being frozen here, when we would like to buy stamps or bonds with it.

Then comes along the federal reserve bank ordered by Henderson of course, and tells we have to collect old debts and not to make any new ones or they will be frozen forever. I thought we had a state law that a debt did not outlaw for six years.

It is reported that Henderson stated over the radio a few days ago that his orders superseded all national and state laws, and that he was a free country, now practically controlled by King Henderson. No congress, no senate any more, send them all home, and let Henderson control everything.

No use our legislature meeting next January as the laws they pass will be worthless. I know there are thousands of businessmen that feel just like I do, but are afraid we will all be sent to Leavenworth if they speak their mind in this free country.

Public Information

In the New York Times, Arthur Krook has put his finger on a journalistic sore spot—the publication, in books and magazines, of material (for which the writers are presumably well paid) which could only be gained by access to sources closed to the working press by the government. There were several instances of that sort of thing during and after the first World War—with Secretary of War Baker a prominent offender—and now it is happening again.

Mr. Krook suggests that if and when this material is released, it should be in the form of a government white paper, accessible to everyone. As the government's property, the information belongs to every citizen; and no favored writer or publisher should be enabled to copy and sell it for his own profit. That seems a sensible view.

Against it is the argument that these stories may be due to an original idea of a writer or publisher, who thereupon pulls the necessary wires to obtain release of the information. That is all very well, but the fact is that the same idea frequently occurs to many people who either reflect that if the government wanted the material published it would have given it out as a press release or feel that they do not possess "inside connections" that would make a request for it successful.

If the idea can be incalculated that government information is not the private property of officials to be used for their own aggrandizement or peddled to their pets, but is owned by the people of the United States, who should have access to it as soon as it can be safely revealed, in the form of the widest possible circulation—that is to say, by release to the daily press—an unethical practice will cease.

SHARE-THE-RIDES PROGRAM

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON
 HOLLYWOOD, July 14—Behind the screen: The armed services and war industries have taken so many men that the Screen Actors Guild has opened its Class B membership rolls, for atmosphere and extra players. Screen recruiting is selective, though; Hollywood especially needs men between the ages of 18 and 32, suitable for work in war pictures and to replace some 700 now in getting uniforms or factory dunnies.

And some cartoon studios are interviewing women artists. Routine inking and painting long have been done by women, but up to now most of the creative jobs have been held by men.

Maybe it isn't due to the scarcity of actors, but animals are beginning to get dialog in pictures. For a dream sequence in "George Washington Slept Here," Jack Benny finds Rommie, his terrier, opine in the rain during a scene. "Hey, Rommie, what are you looking for?" he asks. "Digging for water!" says the pup.

CAMEL COMICS
 In "Road to Morocco" a couple of camels talk after watching Bing Crosby and Bob Hope get into a mess of trouble. The lady camel says, "I certainly am glad I'm a camel." And her boy-friend replies: "I'm glad you're a camel, too, Mabel."

Charlie McCarthy, without Edgar Bergen, will dance and sing with eight chorus girls for a sequence in "Here We Go Again." He may have Jerry Maren, the midget, for a double. Cary Grant, in "Talk of the Town," has the first snore-in. He couldn't muster a sufficient resonant snore for the scene, so they hired an expert whose rafter-shaking respiration is being dubbed in on the musical sound track.

Charles Boyer will be co-star as well as co-producer of "Flesh and Fantasy," a murder mystery for which he's paging Greta Garbo. Jimmy Cagney expects to turn diegetic in some of the 15 pictures he is to make for United Artists. He may not appear in the ones he directs.

WHO'S SMART?
 Director Mike Curtiz, dialectician and metaphor-mixer, had been oddly quiet until he played in a brief role as an "It certainly am glad I'm a camel." Congratulated, he said proudly, "I am now a candidate for an Oswald." Later, Curtiz bawled out an actor and ended by exclaiming: "I have taught you everything I know, and still you don't know anything!"

President Roosevelt's references to Shangri-La as a mythical base for bombing Japan has revived Frank Capra's filming of "Lost Horizon." Only now, to capitalize on the presidential whimsey, it's titled "Lost Horizon high schools."

Now that Maureen O'Sullivan is expecting a baby, Tarzan is looking for a new mate. The cad!

More Rural Students Attend City Schools

AUSTIN, July 14 (AP)—With final release of $474,643 of high school tuition aid, Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction, announced the number of students attending high schools from rural areas has more than doubled in the last 10 years.

Payment of full salary grants has already been made and a final payment on transportation constituting 100 per cent of the grants will be placed in the mails in the next few days, Woods said.

Behind The News In Washington

By PETER EDSON
 The soft pedal, the muzzler, the gag and the muffer have all been clamped on unwhimpered discussion by government officials of what's going to happen after the war. From state department on through all the new war agencies, the line is to quit being starchy-eyed and worrying about the future, and stick to the hard reality of winning the war. The first few soundings off on building a beautiful post-war world haven't been well received, so the economic planners are cautioned against leading with the neck lest they be beheaded in the process.

But it doesn't take a government theorist to see some of the issues coming up, and every recent survey of public opinion has indicated tremendous popular interest in what post-war life will be like. Maybe it is fatuous to assume that the United Nations will win the war and will therefore have the dictating of the peace. But people have always speculated about Heaven. So what's the harm?

You don't have to be cosmic-conscious to take in some of the post-war struggles forming right here at home. In building vast new sources of raw materials supply for war production, this country is letting itself in for economic revolutions of first magnitude. To start naming names, think over these:

With the production of nylon, rayon and other synthetic fibers being stepped up, will this country go back to a Japanese or Chinese-dominated raw silk industry?

With a synthetic rubber industry capable of producing 800,000 tons a year, shall it be scrapped to go back to native rubber from the Netherlands East Indies and Malaya?

Or with new sources for fuel developed in Latin America, shall this new hemisphere industry be permitted to die just to revive the Dutch and British plantations?

With production of the light metals, aluminum and magnesium, stepped up tremendously, shall it be allowed to lapse to pre-war proportions, or shall there be a structural revolution in which these metals will compete with the also-expanded steel production capacity of the country?

With new sources of fats and oils developed through increased plantings of soybeans and peanuts and increased profligacy of pigs, shall the acres go unplanted, and the hogs be slaughtered to revive the foreign producers from which this country imported fats and oils before the war?

With beet sugar production stepped up, shall it be wiped out to save the cane sugar men of Hawaii, Cuba and the Philippines?

With pre-fabricated housing a necessity for the war, shall this new industry be further held back to preserve old, slow, costly methods of custom building?

And so on down the line.

ON THE FIRING LINE
 What these and similar questions point to is a post-war period of the most intense commercial rivalry the world has ever known. The minute the war is over—as soon as a stop order can be issued on military production—the salesmen should be out, all over the world, fighting for business harder than soldiers fought the enemy.

In spite of the concentration of American industry on war production today, practically every manufacturing company of importance still has its research laboratories, experimental departments and designing rooms hard at work on post-war planning. Boards of directors are devoting meetings to production for peace.

MURDER IN FERRY COMMAND

By A. W. O'BRIEN

THE STORY: A note, written by a man on the edge of his execution for murder, has brought a Canadian Intelligence Department investigator, in on the "Red" spies operating against the R. A. F. Bomber Ferry Command. The route from Canada he has captured a would-be assassin, Paul Drexel, member of the spy ring. ON THE SPOT

CHAPTER VI

DAWSON walked slowly to the fireplace and picked the photograph off the ledge for closer examination. Yes, those features were unmistakable.

The presence of the photo here placed the dead soldier squarely into the mystery, adding a further complication. Just where did he fit in with the girl Carole Fiske? His name—Dawson had to think twice before recalling it—was Private Bernard Skrol . . .

"What do you want?" Dawson whipped around—he hadn't heard anyone coming along the hall. Framed in the archway leading into the room was a tall, heavy man with bushy eyebrows and harsh features. His resemblance to the unfriendly house-keeper who had let him in, was almost startling. His right hand was buried deep in a sport jacket pocket.

"I came to see Miss Fiske."

"I know—you said a message from Lemoy," rasped the other. "Spill it, smart guy."

Dawson's smile faded.

"Go plumb to hell!" he said.

The man took a step toward the investigator, lifting his hand in his right coat pocket suggestively. But he halted as a girl entered the room.

One glance told Dawson she was Carole Fiske—the girl of the executed Lemoy's snapshot.

"What's going on here, John?" her voice cut in sharply.

"This guy says he has a message for you from Lemoy—I told him he better speak up or else . . ."

"Shut up, John, you're acting like a fool," she said. Then turning to Dawson, "Who are you?"

"You wouldn't know me by name—I just happened to meet Lemoy a few days ago in Halifax. When I mentioned that I had to visit Chicago on business for my company he asked me to give you a buzz and . . . must I tell him, too?" he pointed to the glowing John.

"Don't mind him, go on with the message!"

The selective service said "the list of civilian activities necessary to war production and essential to the war effort, which may be used to guide local boards in considering occupational classification of registrants, specifies that such activities must meet one or more of the following tests:

(a) That the business is fulfilling a contract of the army, navy, maritime commission, or other governmental agencies engaged directly in war production; (b) that the business is performing a governmental service directly concerned with promoting or facilitating war production; (c) that the business is performing a service, governmental or private, directly concerned with providing food, clothing, shelter, health, safety, or other requisites of the civilian daily life in support of the war effort; (d) that the business is supplying materials x x x for contracts included in x x x above; or (e) That the business is producing raw materials, manufacturing materials, supplies or equipment or performing services necessary for the fulfillment of contracts in x x x above."

The different major categories of essential activities were broken down in the listing like this: "Production of aircraft and parts; The production, maintenance and repair of aircraft gliders, parachutes, dirigibles, balloons, aircraft engines, parts, pontoons, propellers and similar products."

"Production of apparel: Apparel for the armed forces, and working clothing."

"Communications services: Telephone, telegraph, newspapers, radio broadcasting, and television services and the repair of facilities."

"Educational services: Public and private schools, including day, evening, secondary and preparatory schools; junior colleges, colleges, universities, and professional schools; educational and scientific research agencies."

The selective service said "news-papers" was intended to include "all the business of getting out a newspaper" and that such activities came under "other requisites of the civilian daily life" under "g" in the tests to be applied by local draft boards.

"It's something that has to be done," she acknowledged. "When I think of the thousands of people we are going to have to make sacrifices perhaps even greater than the last war."

"I am willing to give another son if it will stop Hitler," she said. "I know that I know that we are going to have to make sacrifices perhaps even greater than the last war."

British Bombers Blast Ruhr Valley

LONDON, July 14 (AP)—A strong force of RAF bombers cut a new swath of fiery destruction last night across the Ruhr, the frequently-bombed heart of Hitler's war-time heavy industry.

The British failed to identify specific targets, but the Germans said bombs fell on Duisburg, greatest inland port in Europe.

Participating pilots said it was "a good medium-sized show" which left fires burning in a big industrial area.

Last night's assault was the fourth this month upon Germany proper by the RAF. Duisburg itself, a city of 275,000 at the juncture of the Rhur and the Rhine, has been raided 50 times before.

Many blast furnaces and metal plants are located there and the city also is an important coal center.

Gregor, former Carson county commissioner who died June 4, following a heart attack, signed a contract for the purchase of a 3,640-acre ranch the day he died, according to probate court records here.

Solons Tardiness Holds Up Old Age Assistance Checks

Gray county old age pensioners were still waiting for their July checks today, along with old age pensioners in other counties.

Meanwhile, the area office of the department of public welfare has been "swamped" with telephone calls wanting to know why the checks haven't been received.

The answer is the slowness of the legal machinery. Until matching federal funds are given to the state, Texas can't pay those on the old age assistance rolls.

Congress did not act promptly on the federal appropriation bill for the social security fund; President Roosevelt signed the bill providing federal funds for old age assistance and dependent children only a few days ago.

The social security board has already certified to the U. S. treasury the amount of federal money to be sent to Texas. Now it's a question of how long it will take the treasury to get the money to Austin.

"The federal money for old age assistance and dependent children will be available in the near future and it is simply a question of how quickly the U. S. treasury can complete all of the necessary counting and disbursing details for sending the money to the state treasurer at Austin," stated J. S. Murchison, executive director of the department of public welfare.

"From the information we have received it is likely that the money will not be received in Austin until sometime next week. Checks can not be mailed until the federal money is deposited in the state treasury."

"We want all the recipients who are on the old age assistance rolls to know that the money will be available and that they need not worry about receiving their July checks. The delay in mailing the checks will cause a hardship in many instances, and it is hoped that grocerymen, landlords, or other persons with whom some of the old folks do business will understand that the old age recipients cannot pay their current bills until they receive their July checks."

OPA Investigating Sale Price Of Beer

DALLAS, July 14 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration has launched a region-wide survey to determine how beer is being sold under the general maximum regulation, Max L. McCullough, region OPA administrator, announced today.

"The highest price which beer dealers as well as other retailers can charge for their beverage is the highest price they charged in March, 1942, unless they have been allowed an adjustment by the OPA," McCullough said.

Japs Cut Across Chekiang Province

CHUNGKING, July 14 (AP)—The Japanese have completed an arc across coastal Chekiang province from Hangchow on the north to Wenchow on the south, the Chinese high command indicated today, but it said the Chinese in their counter-attack in Kiangsi province directly to the west had pushed the enemy back to the outskirts of Linchow.

The Chinese communiqué said the Japanese had reached the environs of Wenchow on Saturday night. (The Japanese announced the port's capture Saturday.)

In Kiangsi, Chinese dispatches said that the Japanese who had fanned out westward from Linchow now were being pushed back into the city by three converging columns of Chinese.

Allied bombers destroyed a large number of Japanese military establishments on the Yangtze river below Hankow on July 1, the central Chinese news agency reported. July 1 was the day regular U. S. air forces went into action in China.

Board Speeds Up Saboteur's Trial

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—With a faint indication of a faster tempo in the proceedings, the military trial of eight saboteurs who shipped from Germany on submarines entered the sixth day today.

Two developments were taken as signs of a speedup in the trial: The decision of the seven generals sitting in life or death judgment on the eight men to meet longer hours each day, and the end of long questioning of two FBI agents.

FRENCH SHIPS

would be fully justified in destroying them. This offer, however, was rejected by chief of government Pierre Laval.

On July 9 President Roosevelt made a second proposal. He suggested that the warships be withdrawn through the Suez canal and proceed, under British and American guarantees of safe passage, to the French Caribbean possession Martinique. There, he said, they could be immobilized for the duration of the war in the same way that French warships already at Martinique are being immobilized, with the assurance that they would be returned to France at the end of the war.

This proposal also was rejected, Welles asserted, the Vichy government insisting that the ships should proceed to a nearby French port. The committee board of the Soviet shock army, Lieut. Gen. Vlasov, was taken prisoner in "mopping up" operations. There was no confirmation of this.

A strong force of RAP bombers set numerous fires among German industrial objectives in the Ruhr valley overnight, their fourth raid on Germany this month.

In the battle of Egypt, where air war already had reached a superlative pitch for the desert struggle, fiercer air activity was officially reported, coinciding with the repulse of Axis tanks and motorized infantry assaults on the north and a clash of maneuvering columns on the southern sector of the British eighth army's line west of El Alamein.

Despite clouds of sand borne on scorching desert winds, Allied planes attacked Axis vehicle concentrations and a landing ground in the El Daba region just behind the El Alamein front, which is only about 70 miles from Alexandria, main base of the British Mediterranean fleet.

The Italian high command said that "numerous prisoners," including a British battalion commander, had been taken by Germans and Italians attacking on the Egyptian front but the German high command reported "only local fighting."

The Axis communiqué claimed 12 or 13 Allied planes downed in air fighting or anti-aircraft attack.

The Italians said that seven British planes had been downed in an Axis attack on La Venezia airbase, Malta, and admitted that six Italian planes had not returned from operations there in the past two days.

The Germans claimed two submarine torpedo hits on a tanker in convoy off Palestine, the sinking of a British patrol boat by air attack yesterday off the English south coast and destruction of four British planes off the channel coast on the same day.

Attorneys Needed By Civil Service

To secure additional naval architects and marine engineers for positions in the navy department and maritime commission, the United States civil service commission today announced modified requirements. The commission board of examiners, created by the president to bring federal legal positions into the classified civil-service system, also announced its first attorney examination.

Attorney positions pay $2,000 to $2,900 a year and are open to members of the bar. No experience is necessary for the $2,000 positions. For the $3,200 positions 18 months of legal experience is required. Senior law students and graduates who have not been admitted to the bar, may apply for positions as law clerk, trainee, $1,800 a year. There are no age limits for the positions. Applicants will be given a written test designed to measure the possession of and capacity to exercise professional abilities, rather than the amount of legal information retained in memory. Applicants will be considered further on their training and experience and through an oral examination. Applications for legal positions must be filed with the commission not later than August 21, 1942.

Salaries for naval architects and marine engineers range from $2,600 to $5,600 a year. Most positions will be filled in the $2,600 and $3,200 grades, and requirements for these, as well as for the $3,800 positions have been lowered. A written test will not be given. Applicants for all grades must either have completed a 4-year course in engineering or naval architecture at a recognized college, or had 4 years of comparable experience. In addition, for the $2,600 naval architect positions, 1 year of professional architectural experience, including at least 6 months of naval architectural experience, is required. For the $2,600 marine engineer positions, 1 year of professional engineering experience, including at least 6 months of marine engineering experience, is necessary. Additional appropriate experience is required for the higher positions. There are no age limits. Applications must be filed with the commission's Washington office. No closing date has been set, but qualified persons are urged to apply at once.

Full information as to the requirements for these examinations, and application forms, may be obtained from V. Darnell, secretary of the board of U. S. civil service examiners, at any first- or second-class post office.

House Committee Approves Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—The house agriculture committee approved today a Senate bill providing for loans up to 100 per cent partly on the 1942 crop, wheat, cotton, rice, tobacco, and peanut crops. The measure, the committee said, would assure cooperating farmers of government loans amounting to the full parity value of their crops.

west of Moscow with air-borne troops had been liquidated, with many of them shot down before landing and the remainder wiped out around.

Despite this it was conceded that the Germans, with numerical superiority in the German-chosen zones for offensive action, had gained ground both near Rzhnev, which lies southwest of Kalinin and 130 miles from Moscow, and in their drives across the Don basin against the lower Volga and the upper Caucasus.

Axis reports via Stockholm said the German thrust toward Stalingrad, industrial center at an elbow of the lower Volga, had carried from Boguchar, southeast along the Don through Kazan to the outskirts of Migulinsk. The Russian communiqué spoke of fighting south of Boguchar, admitting an extension of the penetration there.

Migulinsk is about 100 miles northwest of Stalingrad. The fight in Axis tanks and motorized infantry penetration of Russia since the invasion started June 22, 1941.

On the northern wing of the enormous German-Russian front, in the Volkovo region, southeast of Leningrad, the German communiqué reported that the German army and Soviet shock army, Lieut. Gen. Vlasov, was taken prisoner in "mopping up" operations. There was no confirmation of this.

A strong force of RAP bombers set numerous fires among German industrial objectives in the Ruhr valley overnight, their fourth raid on Germany this month.

Five Lawyers Take Machine Shop Course

PHILADELPHIA, July 14 (AP)—The Philadelphia lawyer, long noted for his versatility and lung power in the courts, has come up with a new argument any judge would consider relevant, material and consequential in the case against the Axis—to wit:

"Twenty-four brothers of the bar in active practice are putting in five eight-hour shifts weekly at a night class, learning to operate turret lathes, milling machines, borers, shapers and planers.

They're halfway through a 400-hour course and all plan to get jobs in war industries, at the same time maintaining their law practices.

Wrestling with machine tools from 3 to 11 p. m., daily after spending the morning and early afternoon trying to please the judge hasn't proved too great a physical strain, says Frank E. Gordon, an attorney for 11 years.

Instructor Harry Peterman says the class is "about average" despite the lawyers' lack of previous mechanical training.

There's one notable difference, however. "These fellows," said Peterman, "can think up more questions in five minutes than anybody else could ask in an hour."

Specialist From WPB To Hold Conferences

Pampa business men, and men from other parts of Gray and adjoining counties, wishing to obtain definite information on priorities, are invited to call the chamber of commerce office today and early tomorrow to arrange for interviews.

A series of individual conferences will be held, with W. B. Bovee, War Production Board official, supplying the information that business men will want to have.

Mr. Bovee conducted a similar meeting here on June 25. This visit will differ from the others in that it will be by conference, since the chamber of commerce believes this system will be more practical and will give better service.

Time of his visit tomorrow is 9 a. m. at the chamber of commerce office in the city hall.

Governor Deplores Lynching In Talk

AUSTIN, July 14 (AP)—Governor Coke R. Stevenson asserted today that he deplored lynching or mob violence in any form.

He spoke at a press conference in answer to a question concerning his attitude toward the lynching in Texarkana Monday of a 25-year-old negro suspected of attempted assault on a white woman.

"I recently have made a number of speeches quoting the Texas constitution to the effect the right of trial by jury is a palladium of civil liberty and the only safe guarantee for life, liberty and property of the citizen," the governor declared.

He declined further comment.

forced new defense precautions in Belgium and northern France. This coincided with an increasing clamor in the British press for the opening of a second front to relieve Russia.

Despite the stern new Nazi measures, a Belgian spokesman said a steel mill had been blown up at Charleroi and that 1,000 tons of flax intended for German parachutes had been burned in central Belgium.

Britons turned out in cheering thousands, breaking police lines, to join the fighting French in a spontaneous celebration which enthusiastically reaffirmed the common cause of the British and the De Gaullists.

While Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, United States commander for the European theater; Admiral Harold R. Stark, commander of U. S. naval forces in European waters; and Brig. Gen. Charles L. Bolte, U. S. military representative to the fighting French committee, watched General De Gaulle and Rear Admiral Philippe-Marie Auboyneau, his naval chief, pinned medals on 36 French war heroes.

All celebration of Bastille Day in occupied France was banned. Even the flying of flags and the wearing of emblems was prohibited by the Germans.

But Frenchmen, who could get near a radio last night, heard General De Gaulle in London saying that "France is making ready for the day when the entire nation will rise to drive out and punish the enemy."

(President Roosevelt said in a message: "On this anniversary which has so deep a significance to every lover of democracy, I express the hope that the people of France may soon again enjoy the blessings of liberty, equality, and fraternity.")

As the bitterness and violence grew in occupied France, Marcel Deat, editor and enthusiastic proponent of collaboration with the Axis, warned the prime collaborator of France:

"Watch out, Pierre Laval," he said. "To the right and left, behind and everywhere—they are surrounding you. Pierre Laval, you are terribly alone."

Lyttleton Defends
British Equipment
LONDON, July 14. (AP)—Britain "is making the right tanks now and will make the right tanks in the future," Oliver Lyttleton, minister of production, told parliament today in reply to complaints that British equipment in Africa was inferior to the Germans'.
In field artillery, also, there is no reason "to be frightened of our equipment compared with the Germans," Lyttleton said. He asserted that Britain is maintaining her "lead in the air, particularly in quality."
Lyttleton said an agreement had been reached whereby the United States would manufacture uniforms for the British troops in the Middle East while the British would make uniforms for the Americans in Great Britain.
"This arrangement will extend to weapons, army equipment and aircraft," he said.
He described the United States shipbuilding program as "a fine shining and almost fantastic industrial achievement."

JEWELERS DEFEAT BARBERS 11 TO 7

New York Yankees Extend Lead To Five Full Games

The Diamond Shop and Mack and Paul Barbers are tied for first place in the Pampa Softball league. It all happened last night when the jewelers downed the barbers 11 to 7 in a wild slugging game at Magnolia park. Errors played a big part in the scoring.
When Cities Service failed to put in an appearance, the Knights of Pythias team took a game by forfeit.
The schedule for tonight, both games at Magnolia park, the first called for 6:30 o'clock, will be: Phillips vs. Jaycees.
Woodmen of the World vs. McCarty's.
The barbers opened last night's game with R. L. Edmondson hitting Grover Heiskell's third pitch for a home run. That ended the scoring until the jewelers came to the plate and when the dust had settled five runs had been scored and the jewelers were on the lead.
Claude Heiskell opened the second inning for the barbers by hitting for the circuit but once more it was all the runs scored. The jewelers added another in the second, two in the third and three in the fourth to end their scoring while the barbers came back with a three-run attack in the fifth.
Orville Heiskell of the barbers was the hitting star of the night with two doubles and a single for a perfect night at the plate.
Zachry was on the mound for the barbers with Revis behind the plate. Grover Heiskell hurled for the jewelers with Mangell relieving.
When the Knights of Pythias found they had no opponent they played a team of All Stars and beat them 15 to 6.
The Diamond Shop and Mack and Paul are now tied with 11 wins against two losses so far this season.
Score by innings last night:
Mack & Paul... 110 0 0-7 9 5
Diamond Shop... 512 300 2-11 4
Zachry and Revis; G. Heiskell and Mangell.
Umpires—Hatcher, Back and Atkins.

Sports Roundup

By SID FEDER
(Pinch-Hitter for Hugh Fullerton, Jr.)
NEW YORK, July 14.—Hollywood park bosses are keeping their fingers crossed... Figuring if there's any racing on the coast next winter they'll get it. Seems the army put in permanent installations at Santa Anita, but hasn't changed Hollywood much at all... Jake Mints, the professed Pittsburgh professor of scrambled sentences has lined up a Claudio Villar-Harry Bobo brawl to top off his July 27 fight show in Smokytown.
Loul Boudreau will be 25 Friday and definitely doesn't expect birthday greetings from Leo Durocher.

Ivory Hunt
The Cleveland Indians have the inside track for Ed Robinson, the Baltimore first sacker, and big league scouts are giving Ray Perry, San Francisco third sacker, and Earl Torgerson, Seattle's first baseman, the double-O... Don't look now, but Van Lingle Mungo, the Havana Romeo, is making negotiations toward a comeback with Minneapolis... And interesting thoughts: Van Lingle and Babe Phelps, a couple of apples of Larry MacPhail's eye, looking up as a National League battery somewhere and beating the Dodgers out of the pennant.

Headline: French Wins Tenth Straight
POME
The Cubs decided Larry French Was too old to get off the bench. So they did MacPhail a favor and sent him to the Bums on waivers.
This was a bargain, my good men, 'Cause Larry's just won number ten.
And Tim Gallagher's keeping mum While Wiggley grabs a stick of gum.

Bouncing Around
Clark Shaughnessy's first major change in Maryland will be to switch the school's official nickname to Old Liners... He feels Terrapins, or Taps, or slow... Billy Thompson, the Paducah (Ky.) Kid, is the most improved jockey in the business right now... For one who's earned a rest, old King Carl Hubbell certainly isn't getting any soft touches these days... So far this season, the only clubs he's started against have been the Cards and Dodgers—the top two... Gall Fowler, the AP's Northwest (Seattle) sports ed, is doing his stuff now for Uncle Sam's signal corps... Joe Muscato gets Jimmy Elvins in a ten-rounder in Cleveland July 25 as reward for the way he took care of Lem Franklin there a couple of weeks ago... Nice reward... North Carolina, which sent Bitsy Grant out to become one of the tennis greats, is predicting more of the same for Vic Seixas, the freshman from Philly.

Today's Guest Star
Art Edson, Oklahoma City Times: "Maybe Warneke wasn't the ace in the Cards' deck, but in a race like this wouldn't even a ten spot come in handy occasionally?" And Jack Carberry of The Denver Post puts it this way: "Up to this point in the National League race, the Cards have been just too bad to be true."

Southwest Conference To Play Forty-Seven Games

All-Star Grid Game Receiving Some Attention

CHICAGO, July 14. (AP)—With the all-star baseball games barely laid to rest and the summer sun just beginning to burn bleached skins a crisp tan, fans are talking about football and handing their cash across the counter for Chicago's all-star grid game, the oldest and biggest of the collegiate-pro attractions.
Ballooning already is under way in 38 states to select the players who will face the Chicago Bears, champions of the National League, the night of Aug. 23 in Soldier field. But that isn't all.
In this day of benefit contests, the all-star ticket-selling drive has hit a new high. The Chicago Tribune, sponsor of the game, set aside 1,000 choice seats and invited the "fans of means" to drop in and lay $100 on the line for inches of squatter space. Army and navy relief funds will benefit.
And today, with the game more than six weeks away, contributions total $25,600.
A few surprises occurred in the first three days of balloting. Dick Erditz, Northwestern quarterback who generally took a back seat last fall to such field bosses as Frankie Albert of Stanford, Derrace Moser of Texas A. and M., and Bill Sewell of Washington State, rolled up 27,144 votes and no one else even came close.

Words Of Homer
Norton Recalled
COLLEGE STATION, July 14. (AP)—Back on August 6, 1940, Coach Homer Norton, head man of athletics at Texas A. & M. college, made a remark that is becoming more significant every day.
The remark was by Frank Tolbert, sports writer for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, at the high school all-star game in Austin that year. Norton discussed the possibilities of his players being called to service before they finished their eligibility and said, "I'm not worrying about this conscription business. If such an emergency develops that my boys are needed, then football will become very unimportant to me."
Since that time Norton has seen somewhat of a parade of departures for military and naval service, about cent upon for the two campaigns since have left for the army or navy and now four of his coaching staff have gone off to the wars.
First to leave after the 1941 season ended were Leonard DeBorja, tackle, and Bob Anderson, fullback. Both were lettermen and figured to play a lot of football this year. At the end of the regular school year Bob Tullis, only letterman tackle left, resigned from school to join the fighting forces. Since then Pickett, letterman wingback, has enlisted.
Freshman Co-Coach Charlie DeWare volunteered and at last reports was in the infantry as a private at Camp Walters. Backfield Coach Marty Kearny was commissioned a lieutenant in the U. S. navy and then End Coach J. W. (Doug) Rollins was recalled to active duty as a captain of infantry. On his heels went Col. Frank Anderson, golf and cross country coach who was figured to take over the track team left by Capt. Rollins.
And if that was not enough Utaf Hall, the dormitory assigned to the athletes, was turned over to house the navy personnel assigned to the college for training. All of the Aggie athletes have gone back to their respective campuses, batteries or troops and now are scattered all over the campus instead of being grouped in one hall.
Since that interview the Aggies have won another conference championship and shared the title with the M. U. athletes of the graduates a total of twenty-seven have gone in to the service as commissioned officers in the army or navy.

Ward And Abbott Tie
In Exhibition Round
SPOKANE, Wash., July 14. (AP)—Corp. Marvin (Bud) Ward, national amateur golf champion who just lost his Western title, and Corp. E. Patrick Abbott, the new Western champion, finished all even in an 18-hole exhibition yesterday over the Western tourney course.
Ward held a one-stroke advantage in medal score in the Army Emergency Relief fund benefit, with a 68, four under par.

Fish Like Sweets, Too
MIAMI, Fla., July 14. (AP)—Willson of Miami does his trolling with hibiscus blooms for bait.
He tried them just for fun one day when all standard lures failed, and ever since then the fish have been falling over themselves to grab his hook.
Luther Burbank's success in plant development was largely due to quantity production.

Whirlaway Will Try To Set New Record
By BILL KING
BOSTON, July 14. (AP)—The turf will hail a new money-winning champion out of the same event that enabled the current title to set sights on his golden goal if Warren Wright's famed Whirlaway can race a mile and an eighth tomorrow in the $50,000-added Massachusetts Handicap at Suffolk Downs.
The four-year-old Whirlay, who is only $27,344 shy of the all-time earnings of $47,730 made by Sea-biscuit in his six years of campaigning, faces the same difficulties that the latter encountered while winning the Massachusetts Handicap in 1937.
Until then, the "Biscuit's" earnings were only average for the handicap performer. But, after dragging down a bit more than $50,000, he went on to enjoy the most successful season of his career. As a four-year-old, he earned a total of $168,580 and then he set out to break Sun Beau's record of $276,744.
Seabiscuit happens to be the only victorious favorite in the history of the race.

Capt. C. L. Jordan, public relations officer at the field, announced.

Young Jimmy Dykes To Join Air Corps
PHILADELPHIA, July 14. (AP)—Jimmy Dykes, Jr., has given up baseball for the duration.
The 20-year-old son of the Chicago White Sox manager, stopping over here with his Dad, said he'd applied for admission in the army air corps. The young catcher was released the other day from the Lockport (N. Y.) Pony league club.

And if that was not enough Utaf Hall, the dormitory assigned to the athletes, was turned over to house the navy personnel assigned to the college for training. All of the Aggie athletes have gone back to their respective campuses, batteries or troops and now are scattered all over the campus instead of being grouped in one hall.
Since that interview the Aggies have won another conference championship and shared the title with the M. U. athletes of the graduates a total of twenty-seven have gone in to the service as commissioned officers in the army or navy.

Whirlaway Will Try To Set New Record
By BILL KING
BOSTON, July 14. (AP)—The turf will hail a new money-winning champion out of the same event that enabled the current title to set sights on his golden goal if Warren Wright's famed Whirlaway can race a mile and an eighth tomorrow in the $50,000-added Massachusetts Handicap at Suffolk Downs.
The four-year-old Whirlay, who is only $27,344 shy of the all-time earnings of $47,730 made by Sea-biscuit in his six years of campaigning, faces the same difficulties that the latter encountered while winning the Massachusetts Handicap in 1937.
Until then, the "Biscuit's" earnings were only average for the handicap performer. But, after dragging down a bit more than $50,000, he went on to enjoy the most successful season of his career. As a four-year-old, he earned a total of $168,580 and then he set out to break Sun Beau's record of $276,744.
Seabiscuit happens to be the only victorious favorite in the history of the race.

HOUSTON, July 14. (AP)—Aviation Cadet Francis C. Wertz, 23, of Chadrin, Neb., is dead, and John B. Weis, another aviation cadet, is in Ellington field hospital in a serious condition as the result of a crack-up of a bi-motor training plane three and one-half miles northeast of the field at about 1 a. m. today. Capt. C. L. Jordan, public relations officer at the field, announced.

Young Jimmy Dykes To Join Air Corps
PHILADELPHIA, July 14. (AP)—Jimmy Dykes, Jr., has given up baseball for the duration.
The 20-year-old son of the Chicago White Sox manager, stopping over here with his Dad, said he'd applied for admission in the army air corps. The young catcher was released the other day from the Lockport (N. Y.) Pony league club.

Teams Tied For League Leadership

Southwest Conference To Play Forty-Seven Games

CHICAGO, July 14. (AP)—With the all-star baseball games barely laid to rest and the summer sun just beginning to burn bleached skins a crisp tan, fans are talking about football and handing their cash across the counter for Chicago's all-star grid game, the oldest and biggest of the collegiate-pro attractions.
Ballooning already is under way in 38 states to select the players who will face the Chicago Bears, champions of the National League, the night of Aug. 23 in Soldier field. But that isn't all.
In this day of benefit contests, the all-star ticket-selling drive has hit a new high. The Chicago Tribune, sponsor of the game, set aside 1,000 choice seats and invited the "fans of means" to drop in and lay $100 on the line for inches of squatter space. Army and navy relief funds will benefit.
And today, with the game more than six weeks away, contributions total $25,600.
A few surprises occurred in the first three days of balloting. Dick Erditz, Northwestern quarterback who generally took a back seat last fall to such field bosses as Frankie Albert of Stanford, Derrace Moser of Texas A. and M., and Bill Sewell of Washington State, rolled up 27,144 votes and no one else even came close.

Words Of Homer
Norton Recalled
COLLEGE STATION, July 14. (AP)—Back on August 6, 1940, Coach Homer Norton, head man of athletics at Texas A. & M. college, made a remark that is becoming more significant every day.
The remark was by Frank Tolbert, sports writer for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, at the high school all-star game in Austin that year. Norton discussed the possibilities of his players being called to service before they finished their eligibility and said, "I'm not worrying about this conscription business. If such an emergency develops that my boys are needed, then football will become very unimportant to me."
Since that time Norton has seen somewhat of a parade of departures for military and naval service, about cent upon for the two campaigns since have left for the army or navy and now four of his coaching staff have gone off to the wars.
First to leave after the 1941 season ended were Leonard DeBorja, tackle, and Bob Anderson, fullback. Both were lettermen and figured to play a lot of football this year. At the end of the regular school year Bob Tullis, only letterman tackle left, resigned from school to join the fighting forces. Since then Pickett, letterman wingback, has enlisted.
Freshman Co-Coach Charlie DeWare volunteered and at last reports was in the infantry as a private at Camp Walters. Backfield Coach Marty Kearny was commissioned a lieutenant in the U. S. navy and then End Coach J. W. (Doug) Rollins was recalled to active duty as a captain of infantry. On his heels went Col. Frank Anderson, golf and cross country coach who was figured to take over the track team left by Capt. Rollins.
And if that was not enough Utaf Hall, the dormitory assigned to the athletes, was turned over to house the navy personnel assigned to the college for training. All of the Aggie athletes have gone back to their respective campuses, batteries or troops and now are scattered all over the campus instead of being grouped in one hall.

Oklahomans Uninterested In Election

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 14 (AP)—Oklahomans choose their candidates for the November elections today but political leaders expect less than half of the 1,000,000 registered voters to turn out for the primaries.

The rationing, loss of thousands of voters to the armed forces and out-of-state defense industries, a late crop season, and the ranking of the war as the number one interest of the public all were cited by political observers as reasons for the lack of interest.

Even W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray hasn't been able to lift the race for the Democratic nomination for senator above a routine affair.

Murray and eight other candidates oppose the incumbent, Josh Lee, now serving his first term. Although Lee has been a supporter of the New Deal and Murray long has been a critic, this has not become a major issue.

Murray and Orel Busby, a former supreme court justice, said they hope to be nominated by protest votes cast against Lee's stand on many national problems.

There are seven candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor—an office the Democrats never have lost.

The most intensive campaigns have been made by Robert S. Kerr, national committee man, Frank P. Douglas, a district judge, and Gomer Smith, a former congressman.

All the state's congressmen, seven Democrats and one Republican are candidates for re-nomination.

There has been little activity among the Republicans, although that party has a complete slate of candidates.

Agriculture Group Criticizes Henderson

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—The administration pushed its fight to keep the price control structure unchanged today in the face of farm pressure from both sides of the capital.

While the senate entered its second day of debate on changes Price Administrator Henderson declares would cripple much of the program, the house agriculture committee came forward with sharp criticism of his policies.

In a formal report on a crop loan bill the house committee declared it was "very apparent the price administrator is not concerned about parity" because under his ceilings "practically all products are selling below parity."

A parity price is one which would give crops the purchasing power they enjoyed from 1909 to 1914.

The administration's fight in the senate is against restrictions on OPA expenditures written into a pending $1,856,000,000 supplemental money bill by the senate appropriations committee.

Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky told the senate yesterday the limitations would strip Henderson of virtually all of his authority over prices.

Here's New Way To Send A Love Letter

HAWTHORN, Calif., July 14 (AP)—Helen Self, Northrop aircraft office worker, got a love letter from her boy friend in far off Iceland today scrawled on the wing of a patrol bomber sent home for repairs.

The boy friend is Gunnar Michaelson of the Royal Norwegian air force, from whom she hadn't heard for many months. Northrop mechanics, familiar with the romance, found the message as they uncrated the wings. They weren't able to deliver it, so they called Helen out to read it.

"I started 'To my dearest Helen' and went on from there."

They met in 1940 when Michaelson was at Northrop studying service methods.

Americans In Africa Acted Like Veterans, Lodge Tells Senators

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—Senator Lodge (R-Mass.), reporting on a tour of active army duty in Africa, told his colleagues in the senate today that American soldiers had performed like veterans and their tanks had stood the test of battle well in the Libyan desert fighting.

"I came home convinced that we have an army which can do big things—historic things," declared the youthful senator in his first appearance in the senate since his return to Washington. Lodge was dressed in a conventional white suit, instead of the major's uniform he had worn for months and which Secretary of War Stimson has asked him to lay aside to return to his legislative duties.

Lodge related how an American tank detachment, which he described as a "token force," had engaged Axis forces in the period of June 11 and June 12 on a ridge south of Tobruk.

"Our soldiers fought the enemy in M-8 tanks," he said. "There was heavy fire from enemy guns. There were, however, no penetrations."

"Our boys registered direct hits on a number of German tanks—and the hits stopped their tanks."

"We have in the General Grant a vehicle with stout armor. It has a gun which is not out-ranged by the enemy and with which the enemy can be given a hard, stiff, destructive blow."

"Let me now tell you something about our American soldiers," he continued. "They went into that fight on the other side of the world in a new, strange, almost weird setting. They volunteered for hazardous duty in the army of a nation not their own."

"They endured heat, blinding dust, prolonged journeys over routes without the usual aids to navigation. They lived on slim rations. They were aggressive, cagey and smart."

"And when they were ordered out, they brought all their equipment with them, and emerged safe and sound without a scratch. Less might well have been expected from veterans. More could have been asked of no one."

Lodge said that "divine providence" was watching over the Americans who engaged in the battle, adding:

"Within the realm of human powers, however, we must conclude that these boys did what they did because they were smart and vigorous young men. They were quick to learn the peculiarities of desert war. They were physically sound."

"They had the natural aptitude for motor mechanics, the flair for radio work and the ability to drive a vehicle with skill which are typical of our country's youth."

"They were not cannon fodder. They were not robots."

Pipeline To End At Norris City, Ill.

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—Northern terminus of a $35,000,000 oil pipeline from Longview, Tex., will be Norris City, Ill., war production board officials disclosed today.

From Norris City a smaller pipeline would be constructed, they said, to Mount Vernon, Ind., a loading point for barge shipment of oil up the Ohio river to the eastern shortage area.

The 24-inch main line is scheduled to start delivering oil by December 1. The branch line running to Mount Vernon probably will be 14 inches in diameter and capable of handling 115,000 to 120,000 barrels daily.

Another small branch will be constructed from Norris City to the vicinity of Salem, Ill., to feed about 50,000 to 60,000 barrels daily into the Southern Illinois basin which has suffered a production decline in recent years.

In addition, some loading facilities will have to be constructed to get the oil onto rail lines east, but the WPB officials did not disclose where this construction would take place.

The pipeline is expected to reduce the tank car shuttle time from 18 days to 10 days in delivering vital-needed oil to eastern centers.

Construction of the pipeline will be pushed forward at several work camps simultaneously, the WPB officials said.

The main line is expected to move approximately 300,000 barrels daily, of which about 120,000 barrels will be shipped east by tank car.

Hale Appointed As State Price Officer

FORT WORTH, July 14 (AP)—Appointment of Edward E. Hale, head of the economics department of the University of Texas, as state price control officer for Texas was announced today by State OPA Director Mark McGee.

Granted a leave of absence from the university to head the price control program, Hale was sworn in today and began his studies at state OPA headquarters here.

Also due to arrive during the day to begin exercising the functions of state supervising investigator under the price control program was Allen Bell, who is being transferred here from the regional OPA inspection staff at Dallas.

Hale's duties will be to receive complaints of violations of the price control regulations and requests for adjustments in ceiling prices.

Today's War Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

This is France's Bastille day—an anniversary which in happier times, before the bloody hand of Hitlerism struck the nation down, was celebrated like our Fourth of July in commemoration of the birth of independence.

On this day 153 years ago the revolution stormed and pulled down the Bastille prison which for centuries had stood as the monument to injustice and torture, and the destruction of this ancient chamber of horrors became the symbol of La Belle France's liberation from oppression. So Bastille day was made the annual occasion of thanksgiving for the blessing of liberty, equality, and fraternity.

Before the coming of the Nazi beast all France, from the shining metropolis of Paris to the tiniest hamlet, was bravely decorated with the tri-colors, and the population turned out en masse in Sunday best to worship at the shrine of liberty. There were grand parades, and joyous feasting, and when evening came young and old joined in dancing through the streets until dawn chased them home.

Paris, always gay and full of laughter, was at her best. The great parade was a spectacle which drew visitors from many countries. Always the streets were jammed with hundreds of thousands of eager spectators as the troops in their field-blue uniforms swung by, on the way to the Arc de Triomphe where burned the eternal fire to the unknown soldier. And no foreigner ever could forget the light of pride which shone from French eyes as the mounted band of La Garde Republicaine set the blood to linging with that famous marching song "Sambre-et-Meuse."

But the days of rejoicing were wiped out two years ago—or is it a hundred years since the Boche ground France's independence into the muddy fields of Flanders?

Everywhere the Hun has left his mark of arrogance and brutality. Down in Vichy a fox-faced, swarthy visaged little man sits and schemes and tells his downtrodden people: "I desire Germany's victory." And our own Secretary of State Hull has declared that this statement is further confirmation that under the program of Pierre Laval, chief of the Vichy government, the French are expected to surrender all hope of the future to Hitler.

But as this column has said often before, Laval the Fox doesn't represent the citizens of France. The spirit of France isn't dead, and French eyes will be dim with tears this Bastille day.

AUSTIN, July 14 (AP)—The city of San Antonio is blocked in an attempt to buy electrical properties.

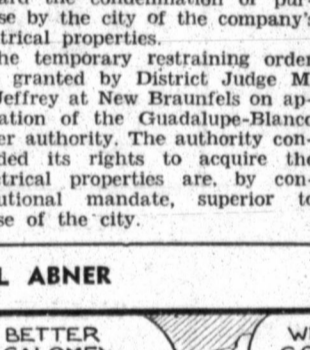

The temporary restraining order was granted by District Judge M. C. Jeffrey at New Braunfels on application of the Guadalupe-Blanco River authority. The authority contended its rights to acquire the electrical properties are, by constitutional mandate, superior to those of the city.
