Pay Poll Tax And Vote In 5 Elections

A total of 306 Gray county residents made themselves eligible to vote this year by paying poll taxes or securing exemption certificates yesterday at the office of F. E. Leech, county tax assessor collector.

To date the total is 2,600 poll tax receipts and 380 exemption certificates issued.

There are important decisions to be made by the voters of Gray county this year. Possession of a poll tax receipt or exemption certificate will allow voters to cast their ballots in five, possibly more elections.

There are two Democratic primaries, the general election, and election of city officials and school board members already listed on the political calendar.

Then, too, there is the question of the nation at war, and there is a possibility that there may be special elections on matters dealing with defense.

More than ever before, being eligible to vote is an important duty of every resident of the county.

The customary last-minute rush is expected at the tax office. Until Saturday the office will close at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, the regular time, but on Saturday the office will remain open all day and from then on "as long as they keep coming."

Eligible voters of Gray for 1942 now total 2,980, or about half of the total number of voters.

Hitler Gives Armies Back To Generals

(By The Associated Press) Sweeping new gains by Russia's armies were reported today as word circulated in London that Adolf Hitler, who five weeks ago ousted Field Marshal Gen. Walther von Brauchitsch and assumed supreme command of the German army, had reached a compromise with his generals because he was "unable to carry on without the aid of experienced strategists."

In disliking von Brauchitsch, a few days before Christmas, Hitler declared his "intuitions" had led him "to reserve to himself personally all decisions" in directing the war.

The British Ministry of Information circulated extracts of an article in the anti-axis German language newspaper Die Zeitung, published in London, declaring that the fuhrer now had changed his mind and that commands of the conservative Generals von Bock, von Rundstedt, von Leeb and others "have been confirmed and they are now in charge of new armies."

The newspaper said the compromise was "equivalent to an admission on the part of Hitler" that he needed Germany's military brains to conduct the war. Hitler served as a corporal in the 1914-18 World War.

Amid steadily mounting reverses on the Soviet front, the German war machine appeared to be executing something of a comeback in North Africa.

British Middle East headquarters acknowledged that Gen. Erwin Rommel's Libyan counter-offensive, which had driven the British back 150 miles in five days, scored a new advance to within 16 miles of British-held Bengasi, on the Gulf of Sirte.

The British said Gen. Rommel's forces suddenly veered to the west and northwest in the last 24 hours after being stalled for two days in an eastward thrust. The new assault carried the axis troops to Regima, inland and just east of Bengasi.

On the Russian front, Soviet dispatches reported a 93-mile advance by Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's armies somewhere on the southwest (Ukraine) front, along with the recapture of 90 populated places.

Russian naval dispatches declared in a summary of Far North operations that Soviet submarines had been playing havoc with Nazi transports attempting to supply German forces above the Arctic Circle.

The dispatches said Red fleet submarines had sunk, among other vessels, 45 troop and supply ships totalling 200,000 tons and 100,000 men.

Grand Jury Indicts Four And Adjourns

Members of the 31st district court grand jury completed three days work, turned in four indictments, and adjourned yesterday afternoon, after setting Feb. 16 as the date when they will reconvene.

Of the four indictments, there were two for theft, one each for receiving and concealing stolen property, and burglary. Two persons were jointly indicted in two of the indictments. All of those charged are being held in county jail, according to information from the sheriff's office.

Three of the indictments were in alleged connection with the taking of a quantity of jewelry from the Diamond Shop show window here on the night of Jan. 9.

Roland Baker and Ray Bell were indicted on a charge of theft. The indictment charges the two with fraudulently taking 30 wedding and 30 engagement rings, 11 wrist watches, with total value of $1,800, on Jan. 9, and states that the jewelry was the property of Frank Leder.

In another indictment, Baker and Bell are charged with burglary in connection with the taking of four tires and four tubes from the garage of L. M. Key, valued at $80. Date of the alleged offense is given as Jan. 9.

Dessie Moore was indicted on a charge of receiving and concealing stolen property in alleged connection with receiving on Jan. 10 one engagement ring and one dinner ring, valued at $75, "the same being the property of Frank Leder," in the language of the indictment.

Indicted on a charge of theft was James Joseph Samples. The indictment alleges Samples on Jan. 8 took a Mercury tudor sedan, valued at $750, belonging to C. B. Byrd.

Walsh Asks War Profits Be Curbed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP)—Limitation of the navy's authority to negotiate contracts without competitive bidding was proposed today by Chairman Walsh (D-Mass.) of the senate naval affairs committee as a step toward curbing excess war profits.

With colleagues questioning the cost of army fighting planes, Walsh told reporters he hoped to amend a pending bill so that the negotiated contracts under which many ships and aircraft are built for the navy would yield no excessive profits.

This might be accomplished, he said, by providing for the writing of cost restrictions into the contracts, pending submission by the treasury of a definite plan to restrict or recapture through taxation large profits piled up from armament contracts.

Rig Builder Suffers Broken Neck In Fall

Casey Ledford, 26, rig builder for Jack Lyons, fell 18 feet from an oil derrick on the night of Jan. 28, suffering a broken neck, attending physicians reported. His condition was critical at this afternoon.

Ledford, according to Mr. Lyons, lost his balance and fell to the floor of the derrick, on his back and shoulder, and then rolled onto the ground. He was taken to a local hospital in a Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral home ambulance.

Ledford, whose home is at 305 1/2 South Cuyler street, has been employed by Lyons for eight years. At the time of the accident he was at work on the rig for the Texas company's Jackson test, located south of the Phillips Petroleum company's Pampa plant, 11 miles south of Pampa.

Congratulations—

U. S. Troops Ready To Fight, Says Churchill

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Jan. 29.—The house of commons, with but one dissenting vote, expressed confidence today in the conduct of the war by Prime Minister Churchill after he had told them the United States was determined to close with the German foe as soon as possible.

The vote was 464 to one. The presence of an AEF on soil of the United Kingdom—in Northern Ireland—represents the desire of the United States that her ready troops should establish battle contact as soon as feasible, the prime minister said.

In a 42-minute summation for his government as the house moved toward a vote of confidence, Churchill also indicated appointment of a British counterpart to the United States' chief of war production, Donald M. Nelson, and disclosed that Singapore had been steadily reinforced for a fight to the finish.

These were Churchill's high spots: "The AEF in the United Kingdom—it meets the wishes of the American people and leaders of that republic that the large mass of trained and equipped troops they have in the United States should come into contact with the enemy as close and as soon as possible."

War production—in reference to appointment of Donald M. Nelson as chief of the war production board in the United States: "Some similar office, not exactly with the same scope but with similar scope, must be created here."

Singapore—"I cannot tell how the Johore battle or the attack on the island of Singapore will go, but there has been a steady flow of reinforcements for several weeks past."

Churchill's address followed debate in which further criticism of his government piled up, including that of Socialist Dennis Nowell Pitt who asserted that "like-warm supporters of Fascism in the government x x x are a very serious and anxious menace."

The prime minister said that the landing of the American troops in Northern Ireland—a part of the United Kingdom which shares a land frontier with Eire—"cannot do Mr. DeValera any harm and it might do him good; it offers a measure of protection to southern Ireland and Ireland as a whole which she would not otherwise enjoy."

Prime Minister Eamon DeValera has protested that the Americans landed in Northern Ireland without prior consultation of his government.

Turning to criticism of setbacks in the southwest Pacific, Churchill said that if Britain had reduced her help to Russia she would have been helped.

Young Gunmen Turned Over To Clovis

CLOVIS, N. M., Jan. 29.—Lannie Hoskins, 17, and John Arthur Rose, 20, pleaded guilty in two courts here today to armed robbery in connection with the hi-jacking of a filling station. Rose was sentenced to 15 years in the penitentiary, Hoskins to serve a juvenile sentence until 21 years of age.

In a detailed confession of crimes in Kansas City and a dozen other southwestern cities the boys told of several filling station robberies with firearms.

Hoskins flared up when sentence to reformatory was pronounced and the judge changed his sentence to incarceration in the state penitentiary for his full term.

Their first plea of guilt was made in justice court, and five minutes later they were arraigned in district court, where the second pleading was made.

Louie Hoskins and John A. Rose, arrested here late Monday night in connection with the attempted hi-jacking of two Pampa men, were turned over to Clovis, N. M., officers last night to face charges of robbery with firearms and possibly other charges.

The pair was charged in Clovis in connection with the hi-jacking of the Barnett Oil company service station about 1 o'clock Monday morning. Edward Copeland, station attendant who was held up by two youths, accompanied Clovis officers to Pampa yesterday and identified Hoskins and Rose, Police Chief Ray Dudley revealed today.

Original plans called for his departure today for the west. His seat will not be declared vacant. Ecuador And Peru
Patch Up Dispute
 RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 29 (AP)—Western hemisphere solidarity was affirmed unanimously and Peru and Ecuador agreed to settle their 11-year-old boundary dispute in a tripartite wind-up of the Pan-American conference here early today.
 The conclusion came in post-conference mediation of the Peruvian-Ecuadorian differences several hours after foreign ministers of the 21 American republics had formally adjourned their two-week sessions.
 Major fruits of the conference were contained in 41 resolutions—inscribed in English, French, Spanish and Portuguese—recommending severance of relations with the Axis, setting up joint military, economic and financial boards and otherwise covering virtually the entire field of Pan-American relations.
 Ecuador was signed up as the 21st to endorse them.
 Her delegation had insisted on settlement of the boundary dispute as a prerequisite.
 This was accomplished at a gathering of Foreign Minister Julio Toranzo Donoso of Ecuador, Foreign Minister Dr. Alfredo Sotelo Muro of Peru and mediating representatives of Argentina, Brazil, Chile and the United States.

Langer Not Entitled To Seat, Elections
Committee Reports
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP)—The senate elections committee reported today that Senator Langer (R-N.D.) was not entitled to a senate seat because of "a continuous, contemptuous, and shameful disregard for high concepts of public duty."
 "The respondent (Langer), the committee said, "has not avoided, and cannot avoid, the consequences of the acts of gross impropriety, lawlessness, shotgun law enforcement, jail breaking, violation of oath as an attorney, rabble-rousing, civil disobedience, breach of the peace, obstruction of the administration of justice, and tampering with court officials, x x x."
 Asserting that the integrity of the senate was at stake, the committee asked the chamber to deny membership to the former governor of North Dakota, and recommended that action be taken by a simple majority vote.
 Filing of the committee report climaxed more than a year of investigations and public hearings on 21 allegations made against Langer by a group of North Dakota petitioners.

Appeals Made To Texans To Pay Poll Taxes

AUSTIN, Jan. 29 (AP)—Appeals for Texans to pay their poll taxes have been issued by democratic party officials.
 E. B. Germany of Dallas, chairman of the Democratic State Executive committee, and Mrs. H. H. Weibert of Seguin, co-chairman, urged payment following a conference here with Governor Coke R. Stevenson on party business.

 Germany said he expected few contests for state offices, but, nevertheless, hoped citizens would pay their taxes and become eligible to vote.
 Mrs. Weibert directed her appeal toward women especially. They pointed out that Saturday midnight is the deadline for payment.
 "I anticipate few, if any, contests due to the fact that citizens as a whole will be too occupied with the nation's defense to seek office," Germany said.

"But it is the patriotic duty of citizens to vote. If they want to preserve democracy, they must work at it."
 "I think the people are going to vote, and I don't look for a decrease in the total vote except as men may be taken into the armed services."
 The committee will meet in Austin June 8 to select a site for the state convention Sept. 8 and to certify candidates for state offices to the counties for listing on the primary ballot.
 The convention will adopt a platform and ratify results of the primary.

Marines Holding Out On Midway
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP)—U. S. marine gunners still holding Midway Island taught the Japs that their guns could shoot just as straight in the dark as the guns on Wake shot in the dawn.
 The first enemy attack on the Midway post was made the night of Dec. 7, the navy disclosed in a belated report yesterday.
 Marine artillerymen waited under a 20-minute enemy bombardment until the Jap warships ventured within 4,500 yards of the shore—virtually point blank range for the island's batteries—before opening fire.

 Then shore searchlights flashed on the two approaching ships—a cruiser and a destroyer. The marine batteries roared. Within the first minute, three hits were scored on one enemy ship—two on the superstructure which put the forward gun out of commission, and a third near the waterline. The second ship got two square hits near the waterline.
 The Jap warships immediately broke off the action and steamed out of range, one of them trailing clouds of black smoke from the shellholes in her side.

were not charged in the Clovis complaint. The two girls were charged along with the youths on similar charge at Crosbyton. Sheriff Roy Hill of Crosby county said he would withdraw the charges against the girls but would file hold-over papers in Clovis, asking that the youths be turned over to his county for prosecution in connection with a $25 holdup.

Parents of the two girls have been notified that they will be released and money for their transportation to their respective homes is being sent here, Chief Dudley said today. One of the girls lives in Lee Summit, Mo., and the other in Oklahoma City.

New Mexico officers who came to Pampa yesterday afternoon seeking custody of the youths were Deputy Sheriff Val Baumgartner, Night Police Chief Virgin Dunn and Captain Roy Vermillion of the state police.

A representative of the Federal Bureau of Investigation also visited here yesterday afternoon and following an investigation of the case relinquished the youths to Clovis. The youths waived extradition.

They are also wanted in Albuquerque in connection with a $61 hi-jacking and in Abilene on the same charge, officers said.

When arrested here the four had only $1.95 in their possession. Officers have information from five different cities, in which the pair are alleged to have cashed holdups, that a total of $156 in cash had been taken.

Copeland, the Clovis service station operator, said that two youths driving a Buick sedan, drove into the station and asked for air. When Copeland entered the station one of the youths drew a gun and ordered him to open the cash register. They escaped with $45 in cash, he said.

The quartet was arrested here after they had been picked up on the highway west of Kingsmill by W. H. Davis, Craven street, who told officers that as he drove into Pampa one of the youths drew a gun and ordered him to "drive on." Instead, Davis drove into a service station where the four jumped from the car and ran away. He immediately called police who started a search which ended in the arrest of the four on South Chuyler about 11 o'clock that night.

Sheriff Cal Rose Taken To Hospital

Sheriff Cal Rose was removed from the sheriff's apartment in the courthouse to Worley hospital yesterday afternoon for treatment of a head injury sustained last Friday evening.

His physician reported that the recent injury had complicated an old injury received by the sheriff when he was hit by a car last summer, and that it had been necessary to drain his spine. The sheriff's condition was reported to be improving, and it was expected that he would be able to leave the hospital today.

nounced by Soviet Russia in a Moscow broadcast today, representing a marked withdrawal of Adolf Hitler's forces whether before a single drive or the whole two-month-old counter-offensive.

The Moscow broadcast did not specify. Neither did it define the exact sector, which might be anywhere between the railroad city of Orel, 200 miles below Moscow, and the Crimean front, 500 miles farther southwest.

Ninety villages and towns, including four large district centers, were said to have been recaptured in the drive, in which cavalrymen played an important part.

The Russians said 16 additional populated points were liberated yesterday and an axis transport was sunk in the Barents Sea in the campaign officially aimed at total victory over Germany within the year.

Following the withdrawal of the bulk of German troops in Finland, a Stockholm dispatch said, their commander, Col. Gen. Nikolaus von Falkenhorst had been returned to his old post as chief of German forces in Norway.

Churchill-Roosevelt conversations in Washington were declared by a Communist Party spokesman in Kwibyshev, Prof. Mihail Gravrlov, to support fully the Soviet plan to strike a death blow at Adolf Hitler's regime by the end of 1942.

There were some civilian casualties, the announcement said, and residential quarters were damaged. The British said Muenster, in Germany, Boulogne, in France, and Rotterdam, in the Netherlands, were raided. They said six bombers were missing.

the total at 36 Japanese ships sunk or damaged up to yesterday.

In the critical battle for Singapore, these questions were paramount. I. Will Singapore, with its earth-shattering 18-inch guns turned toward the sea, become another "Maginot line"—a defenseless shell when attacked from the rear?

2. Can the British erect a secret network of death-trap defenses at the lower tip of the Malay peninsula, guarding the mile-wide water barrier to Singapore island from the north?

Pre-war dispatches from Singapore told of giant guns so powerful their detonations would burst ear drums at 100 yards and knock pictures from walls within a radius of several miles.

But as the hour of crisis neared, it remained to be seen whether the great fortress—originally built as an "impregnable" defense bastion against attack by sea—may have become out-moded under modern conditions of aerial warfare.

Meanwhile, Japan's invasion hordes launched a new two-pronged drive into Dutch West Borneo, sharply threatening the chief city of Pontianak, south of the "White Rajah" kingdom of Sarawak.

Pontianak lies 400 miles east across the China sea from Singapore and about 500 miles northeast across the Java sea from Batavia, the Dutch Indies capital.

An N. E. L. communique said seaborne Japanese troops landed at Pemangkat, 85 miles north of Pontianak, while Japanese land forces struck down from Japanese-occupied Kuching, the capital of Sarawak.

Notwithstanding firm resistance, the Japanese are obtaining local successes, while Pontianak is being threatened," the Dutch communique said.

"All important objectives on the spot have been destroyed by us."

Official dispatches said Dutch forces were continuing stubborn resistance against other Japanese troops which landed earlier at Balikpapan, big oil port in East Borneo, and near Kendari, on Celebes island.

Celebes lies across the narrow Macassar strait from Borneo.

On the Malay front, British spokesman indicated that hard-fighting imperial troops were still holding their lines intact, with no important changes overnight, amid heaviest Japanese pressure.

British airmen, outnumbered but ever dangerous, gave what aid they could to the Australian, British and Indian forces ground on the zone which ran roughly from Rengit, 40-odd miles northwest of Singapore, to the town of Jema Luang, 55 miles above the naval base.

A naval battle off Endau, 85 miles above Singapore, in which two British destroyers spurned the odds and sank a Japanese destroyer and damaged another in a flotilla of three destroyers and a cruiser was announced by the British admiralty.

The British acknowledged that one of the attacking destroyers, the 906-ton "Tanet", was lost in the engagement Monday night, one of a series of blows to restrict the flow of Japanese reinforcements into Endau.

The British Far East command arranged for the erection of pillboxes to supplement the work of heavier guns in the defense of Singapore island against a crossing of Johore strait, which separates Singapore from the mainland.

Evidence that Germany may have shifted a major part of her U-boats to American waters came in reports that two submarines were operating in the Gulf of Mexico off the Texas coast.

The undersea raiders are known to have sunk 14 American or Allied ships since they opened the trans-Atlantic campaign, Jan. 12, but a number of them have been destroyed in the process.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29—(AP)—Establishment of synthetic rubber plants in Texas will be discussed by the senator, as he produced a map. "But what is puzzling me is why Amarillo, and the whole Panhandle for that matter, happens to be the only unstrategic spot in the whole Southwest."

Only those who have come back to Washington, trudging from office to office trying to land something for our part of the country, can realize how our reputation for bad weather has crippled us. The truth is that taking the year on an average, the Panhandle has the best climate in the whole state of Texas and that it is incomparably more suited for certain defense projects, such as cantonments and flying schools and bombing bases, than most other parts of the state. But we have had some breaks in establishing this absolute truth.

But the light is dawning, however, one of the high officials we have seen has told us that Amarillo has been reclassified and that its rating now is higher than some of the places where certain projects have been located. The government agencies have had to act in great haste, of course, but there is much, much work to be done, and unquestionably here in Washington a fair, honest effort is being made to be fair with Amarillo and our part of Texas.

World Leaders Join Texas Pastor In Divine Worship

By L. T. EASLEY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP)—A youthful San Antonio clergyman, a deacon in the West Texas diocese of the Episcopal church, long will remember new year's day of 1942.

The leaders of the United Nations—President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Britain's Prime Minister Winston Churchill—joined humbly with him in a period of worship, asking for Divine guidance in the days that lie ahead.

The young man was T. Stewart Matthews, 29-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Matthews of San Antonio. Ordained a deacon last June 18, the Reverend Mr. Matthews came to nearby Alexandria, Va., on a leave of absence from the West Texas diocese to serve one year as curate in historic Christ church.

As assistant to the rector of Christ church, in which George Washington once worshipped, the Reverend Mr. Matthews read the proclamation of the president calling for all the nation to join in prayer services. In the congregation before him as he read the document sat the president and prime minister.

Following the service he and the rector, the Reverend Mr. Edward R. Welles, exchanged warm greetings with the world leaders.

When the Reverend Mr. Matthews completes his year of service in Alexandria, he will return to Texas to be ordained as priest and accept whatever parish is offered him.

A graduate of Alamo high school, in San Antonio, he obtained his bachelor of arts degree from an Episcopal college in Gambier, O., then his divinity degree from the Episcopal theological seminary of Virginia.

The seminary is located on a wooded hill near Alexandria and about 10 miles from Washington. While a student there he became engaged to Mar. Anna Hall of Terrell, employed as a secretary in the office of Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham. On June 5, 1941, he received his degree and that afternoon he and Miss Hall were married in a colorful ceremony at Christ church.

On their honeymoon they returned to Texas to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Hall in Terrell, and his parents in San Antonio. The young clergyman's father is business manager of a chain of photographic studios, his mother is secretary to Bishop W. T. Capers of the West Texas diocese. He was ordained a deacon and then they returned to Alexandria.

Since their marriage Mrs. Matthews had continued to work for Speaker Rayburn, who had participated in the wedding ceremony. She says she is looking forward to returning to Texas with her husband next summer, to establish a home in her native state.

Throughout Texas and the South there is a vast untapped source of electrical power in idle cotton gins, according to the views of a Washington lawyer. The idea is getting special attention.

W. B. Dunham, attorney in the Central Texas city, suggested in a letter to Congressman W. R. (Bob) Poage that something ought to be done to utilize that power in the war effort. Poage took the matter up with the Office of Production Management.

The OPM grasped it as a proposal that justified further study. The Agricultural Adjustment administration was asked to look into it and give its views. The AAA informed Poage that it appeared to be a practical proposition. The OPM has agreed to call in various experts to see if they thought the proposal practicable, and if so how best the power might be utilized.

Here is Poage's communication to an OPM official on an outline of the idea:

"There are many thousands of cotton gins throughout the South scattered all the way from southern Virginia to New Mexico and on into California.

"These gins never operate more than about three months per year, and probably not more than one-half of the existing gins are needed to gin the entire cotton crop. This is particularly true in view of our acreage control program which has automatically eliminated the need for thousands of gins.

"Even before the control program there were very few gins operating to capacity. Those that did operate were idle approximately three-fourths of the year. These gins are thoroughly scattered, there are gins in practically every community throughout the South.

"These gins have been operated by local labor. In each community there is someone who is familiar with the operation of the gin machinery including the power plant. Every gin has a power plant. Of course, a certain percentage of these plants are electric motors which take their power from existing electric lines. An undoubtedly the larger part of the Southern gins possess self-contained power producing units, either steam or diesel engines. While the average gin plant is relatively small, the total amount of power that can be produced without in anywise drawing on existing power facilities is tremendous.

"Every gin has some kind of housing facility. Some of them are in bad repair. Thousands of them are well built and usable for almost any industry. All of the self-contained power plants have some kind of water supply available.

"In order to make these gin plants usable as manufacturing units, it would be necessary to remove the gin stands, the press, and the suction pipes. This is relatively simple and in most instances could be done by local labor in a couple of days. Practically every gin has a seed house in which this machinery could be stored.

"The problem is in finding just how such individual, small power units could be put to work in the war program, Poage said. Use of them, he continued, would be advantageous from several standpoints. They would save on cost of the war effort by using existing buildings and machinery, save time that would be required in constructing power plants, reduce the danger of interruption of work through breakdown, sabotage or invasion, place a substantial amount of the productive efforts in a section of the country where living costs are lowest.

Establishment of synthetic rubber plants in Texas are urged by almost every congressman from the Lone Star state. The presence of producing oil fields in every section, with abundant source of supplies for the processing of ingredients that go into the manufacture of such rubber, should be indelibly impressed on all defense officials having anything to do with such projects.

Representative Lindley Beckworth started last August in his quest for both synthetic rubber and 100 octane (aviation) gasoline plants, pointing out the wealth of oil reserves throughout East Texas. In mid-January, when announcement was made that several new synthetic rubber plants would be made, Beckworth went again to various officials urging that both rubber and aviation gas plants be located in his section. He conferred with Wright W. Gary, director of refining in Petroleum Co-Ordinator

Harold Ickes' office; Robert E. Allen, production chief in that office; Dr. E. R. Weidlein, chief of the chemical branch of the OPM; and Dr. Howard J. Klossner, president of Rubber Reserves company, a subsidiary of the Reconstruction Finance corporation. Chances of establishment of new projects in East Texas, he said following the conference, depends to a great extent on the operators and refiners. He urged that these East Texas oil men get together and be ready to pool their resources, to convince the government officials that there will always be an unlimited supply of necessary and suitable crude available at a plant if one were erected.

Those named were: Mrs. Ray Nielson, president; Mrs. Henry Denny, vice-president; Mrs. Dick Gibbons, secretary; Mrs. Joe Myers, treasurer; and Mrs. W. W. McDonald, Jr., parliamentarian.

A program on "Children's Questions and How They Learn" was presented with Mrs. J. L. Mulanax as leader.

"Answer your child's questions simply and truthfully, omitting confusing details which the small mind cannot grasp. Give him a chance to figure things out for himself and remember that the learning process is a slow one. Have patience, and do not expect too much at once," Mrs. Mulanax advised.

Year books were presented to the members.

Present were Meses. William Tinsley, Dick Gibbons, C. C. Bogan, Russell Kennedy, W. B. Clayton, J. L. Mulanax, Henry Denny, and J. L. Myers.

Nutrition Topic Of Program At Hopkins HD Club

"Check up on menus and see if we Americans are well fed," Mrs. Julia E. Kelley told Hopkins Home Demonstration club members in her talk on "Nutrition," when the club met in the home of Mrs. L. J. Pratt Tuesday.

"It is not a matter of having a large sum of money in order to feed our families properly. Study your Texas Food Standard leaflet and include one of each item in your menu every day and your family will have a balanced ration every day. Always select highly-colored vegetables and do not overcook. Serve raw when possible. When cooked serve with seasonings or sauces made from broth or juices and always drink plenty of water."

Mrs. Kelley asked each member to plant a garden, if at all possible, and can every food that is available. After all it is up to the house wife to do her bit on the home front by feeding the future defenders of our country properly.

Mrs. Orr conducted a game during the recreation period.

Mrs. C. F. Jones reported on the progress of the Red Cross sewing room, which was opened today to all persons who are interested in helping, at the Phillips Community hall.

Refreshments of coffee and cake were served to one visitor, Mrs. W. C. Bonwright, and Meses. C. F. Jones, W. B. Barton, Johnnie Harrison, George Reeve, F. N. Baker, R. W. Orr, W. E. Melton, Milo Bird, Cleve Blalock, and Hueylyn Laycock.

20th Century Club Members Study Current Plays

Fourteen members of Twentieth Century club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. R. E. McKernan, answering roll call with names of current actors and actresses of the legitimate stage.

The defense committee reported that members of Twentieth Century club have purchased to date $9,693.50 in bonds and defense stamps and have pledged to buy $189.25 per month.

Introducing a program on current plays, Mrs. Joe Gordon, program leader, reviewed Emyln Williams' "The Corn Is Green," the one outstanding drama imported from the European scene. Its theme is dateless and its appeal so broadly human that it will continue to be an appealing play long after the wars are over.

Mrs. Gordon pointed out, Ethel Barrymore played the role of the English school teacher who moved into a Welsh mining town, started a school for the underprivileged miners and discovering a genius, coaches him through a triumphant bid for a scholarship at Oxford.

Mrs. J. C. Richey told the story of Joseph Kesselring's "Arsenic and Old Lace," another of the wonders of the year in the line of entertainment. Telling with completely disarming boldness a story in which insanity and murder furnish the pivotal theme, this comedy completely convulsed its auditors and ran through the winter and summer standing to capacity audiences, Mrs. Richey stated.

Sketching briefly the story of "The Lady in the Dark," the sensational entertainment success of the year, Mrs. Raymond Harrah then played an album of records giving the musical numbers of the musical comedy. Thanks go to Moss Hart's intelligent and provocative use of the psychoanalysis theme and Gertrude Lawrence's perfect fitness both for the interpretation of the drama and the performance of its musical fantasy interludes.

During the social period the hostess served refreshments to Meses. Raymond Harrah, I. B. Hughes, Lester Benge, Clifton High, J. M. Fitzgerald, Hol Wagner, J. B. Massa, P. L. Stallings, Roger McConnell, W. R. Campbell, J. C. Richey, Ivy Duncan, and Joe Gordon.

DON'T COUNT HARVESTERS OUT OF DISTRICT RUNNING YET

Plainview To Play In City Friday Night

Just because Pampa lost one game to Amarillo Tuesday night that defeat does not eliminate the Harvesters from District IAA competition, so don't count them out of the race yet.

The Westerners can beat the Sandies when they invade Amarillo in the near future, and they may do just that. Pampa will have another crack at the Sandies, and by that time they may be playing a whole lot smoother basketball. Pampa will get another chance at Borger.

But the immediate trouble in mind is Plainview tomorrow night and Lubbock Saturday night. Amarillo has annihilated Plainview and nosed out Lubbock in an overtime period. So it stands to reason that the Harvesters will have to win every other game on the district schedule to the Amarillo which has won six games and lost none.

Pampa has lost, Borger has dropped two, Lubbock has been defeated once—Pampa, Plainview, Lubbock, and Borger have won no games because they have played only Amarillo. But Plainview and Lubbock are on the road this weekend, and Lubbock will play in Borger tomorrow night and in Pampa Saturday night.

The game tomorrow night will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock. A President's Birthday dance will begin immediately in the gym after the game.

The Saturday night thriller—and it is due to be just that—will begin at 8 o'clock. Coach Francis Smith of LeFors will call both games.

As things stand now, the Sandies are heavy favorites to finish the season undefeated, but Lubbock may give them the works in Amarillo, but that is more wishful thinking than it is sound reasoning. Then, it is not unreasonable to hope that the Harvesters can take the Sandies in Amarillo. One thing stood out Tuesday night like a Jap would at the corner of Kingsmill and Cuyler, and that fact is that the Sandies are not improving now as fast as they did at the first of the season. They may suffer a slump and may not be able to do anything about it. On the other hand the Harvesters should continue to improve, that is, they should continue to gain polish and smoothness—and goodness knows they have plenty of room for it.

Bill Terry Still Cracks Big Whip For N. Y. Giants

BY JUDSON BAILEY

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (AP)—For some reason there continues to exist a semi-secret about who is running the New York Giants.

To clear up the confusion, therefore, it may be well to state that the top man is a certain William (The Terrible) Terry, even though he himself says he doesn't know what his job is.

Early in December Terry moved out of the management and into the front office of the Giants. At first it was announced that he would be general manager and then this title was modified to general manager of the farm system. But Terry is much more than that.

He arrived in town yesterday for conferences with President Horace Stoneham and Manager Mel Ott and heid a huddle with his old friends, the New York baseball writers. In the course of the conversation, someone asked the suave Memphis farmer how long he expected to stay at the Giants' training camp.

"Well, till after all the players are signed, I guess," he replied in his quiet drawl.

Someone asked if signing the Giants' players were a part of Terry's task, and he answered: "Use your own judgment."

This led right smack into the question of what were Terry's duties and the inevitable signoff: "I don't know what I'm going to have to do. I'm just a man of all work around the office."

He disclosed, however, that it was he who negotiated the deal for first baseman Johnny Mize of the Cardinals and that it was he who had talked to Mize recently by phone and ordered him to Hot Springs, Ark., to thaw off some weight.

"Mize told me his shoulder was all right," said Terry, and then in an aside added, "but he's probably fat as a pig."

He also disclosed that he had an agreement with the Cardinals that he could return the big slugger if his shoulder kept him from playing.

"When I ... when we made the deal, Branch Rickey assured me that his shoulder would be okay and I told him I'd send him back if it wasn't," he explained.

Ott was present during the interview, sitting quietly on the fringe of the group of reporters even though Terry tried several times to shift questions over to him with a "there's the manager, he knows all about it" suggestion.

Perryton Will Play LeFors Quint Tonight

LEFORS, Jan. 29 (NS)—Only the Perryton Rangers stand between the LeFors Pirates and the basketball championship of the north half of District 1A and tonight in the LeFors high school gymnasium the Pirates and Rangers will meet. Two games have been scheduled, the B teams playing at 7 o'clock and the A teams an hour later.

The Pirates have defeated the Rangers once this season and if they can do it again tonight they'll take the title without a single loss. In fact, the Pirates have lost only one game this season, to Lakeview, in the Shamrock tournament.

While the Pirates have a strangle-hold on the north half title, the mighty McLean Tigers are eyeing the south championship. The Tigers meet Memphis tomorrow night, in McLean, and a victory will give them the title.

That would mean that LeFors and McLean would meet in a playoff to decide the district champion.

Reapers Play Strong Quint Here Tonight

Coach C. P. McWright's junior high Reapers will meet their toughest foe of the season tonight at 7 o'clock in the junior high gymnasium when they exchange shots with Sam Houston juniors of Amarillo. It will be their third game in the Panhandle Junior High Basketball league.

Although not fully decided on a starting lineup, Coach McWright will probably start Cree and Clay, forwards, Sheehan, center, Noblitt and Custer, guards.

Sam Houston is the team that upset Horace Mann of Amarillo, which means the Reapers in Amarillo last week. Sam Houston has also defeated Central, which fell before the Reapers in their only victory in conference play.

Coach McWright has been spending this week trying to get his boys to pass the ball faster and more accurately and to find the basket. In their last game in Amarillo they couldn't even hit the backboard let alone the hoop.

This year's Reaper team lacks height, which is a decided handicap. Billy Coy Sheehan, captain and only returning letterman, is the only member of the team who can match height with a majority of members of other teams. With height missing, the Reapers must learn to break faster and handle the ball more smoothly or they'll be sunk.

Tonight's game will be the first night battle for the Reapers this season. They've been playing their games in the afternoon.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28—Lieut.-Com. Gene Tunney considers Pvt. Joseph Louis Barrow the greatest and most complete workman the ring has ever had.

appropriate and typical. Only a few simple words could have followed James J. Walker's eulogy of Louis. The one-time cotton picker was a bit nervous when he got up, but his voice was clear and steady.

"Mr. Toastmaster and Mr. Walker," he started. "You don't know how you make me feel. I feel good. I never thought I'd feel as good as I did in Chicago when I won the heavyweight championship of the world, but tonight those men all I feel better than I ever felt in all my life."

"I want to thank each and every one of you from the bottom of my heart for all the nice things you said about me... for what you did for me. I want to thank Mr. Mike Jacobs for what he did for me. I want to thank the boxing commission for what it did for me. I hope I never did anything in the ring that I'll be sorry for in the years to come."

Louis sat down as everybody else in the packed banquet hall stood up. When Nat Fleischer, editor of the magazine, "The Ring," presented Louis with the "Fighter of the Year" award, the big boy in uniform replied with a plain "Thank you."

As Jimmy Walker said: "Louis having got himself a championship ring, he talked himself out of it, and it is time a great many more patterned themselves after him. What America needs is more punching and less gab."

Louis' speech was refreshing following the customary spellbinders... Now if we can just let the Japanese and Germans know that Pvt. Joe Louis and millions of other young Americans feel better than they ever felt in all their lives.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (Wide World)—Jackie Conn, Billy's kid brother, is about to start a ring comeback at the ripe old age of 19... He has been working on a farm and reports he is packing 198 pounds of muscle—which makes us wonder whether it would be better for Billy to become a farm hand or to teach Jackie to fight...

Major Leagues May Draft Graybeards

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 29. (AP)—The graybeards of minor league baseball, whose chances of crashing the majors might have been as little as one in a thousand a year ago, can take renewed hope. Johnny Nee, veteran New York Yankee scout, said today that the oldsters are going to get plenty of attention from the ivory hunters next summer and added, "I wouldn't be surprised to see quite a few 30-year-old rookies in spring training camps next spring (1943) if the war continues..."

Hogan Hopes To Win Crosby Meet

RANCHO SANTA FE, Calif., Jan. 29. (AP)—Little Ben Hogan, who's never won it, hopes to break up Slammin' Sam Snead's monopoly on Bing Crosby's Rancho Santa Fe golf tournament this weekend. As final practice firing resounded over the course, 135-pound Hogan was the center of attraction. He has gathered in the major portion of prize money along California's fast fading 1942 winter tournament trail. He won the $10,000 Los Angeles open, the San Francisco open and was a runnerup in the Oakland open. Slammin' Sam has made the Crosby fiesta something of a hobby. He has competed in it three times and won it three times, and comes back this year as defending champion and a strong threat to collect the $500 first prize. Virtually all of the name golfers play their first round Saturday, but several potential low scorers go in to action tomorrow. Included are ex-National Open Champion Ralph Guldahl, who now calls Rancho Santa Fe his home town, and Bill Nary, lanky young home pro who led the first round first division with a 66 a year ago.

An independent Democratic newspaper, publishing the news fairly and impartially at all times and supporting in its editorial columns the principles which it believes to be right and opposing those questions which it believes to be wrong, regardless of party politics.

It was an American address which Ohio's Senator Robert Taft gave before the Executives club in Chicago recently when he declared that the constitutional right to criticize government should not be invalidated merely because the country is at war.

Now that we are at war we are fighting to preserve democracy in our land. Surely we could not profess to be fighting for such preservation and at the same time deny one of the fundamentals of democracy, free speech and the right to criticize.

Lincoln recognized this right as did Mr. Taft when, as a member of the house of representatives, Lincoln said on January 12, 1848: "There is an important sense in which the government is distinct from the administration."

The occasion of Mr. Lincoln's statement was his criticism of President Polk for the part he played in provoking the Mexican war.

We can support our government in war and yet disapprove as it is our constitutional right to disapprove of certain measures taken by it. No patriotic citizen of our country would publicly divulge in criticism any information which would in any way be helpful to our enemies.

The argument has been used that we must not let our enemies know that we are a divided people on national matters. America has always been known as a nation of divided people.

There never has been a division in our country over our own defense. There never will be. The division was on using what some of us believed we needed ourselves to help others win their wars.

The psychology that led to our imprisonment Mahatma Gandhi, a nationalist leader of far greater experience and prestige, has in effect withdrawn his opposition to any of his followers' taking part in the British war effort in India.

History will probably regard Gandhi as having taken the realistic view of the situation, which obviously has been changed by the Japanese attack on British and American possessions in the Pacific.

A CHICAGO JUDGE REBUKES MISSOURI (St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

It is an unusual procedure for a judge of one state to rebuke the lawmakers of another state for their neglect of duty.

A young woman asked for annulment of a marriage performed at that notorious marriage mill, Kahola, Mo., after a drinking party.

It's a shame that the state of Missouri is the only one of our surrounding states that has failed to put through a law prohibiting these gin marriages.

It's a shame, we agree, that Missouri is responsible for the unhappy consequences of hasty marriages by drunken persons and by persons infected with venereal disease.

"Listen," said the mechanic in a not wholly patient tone of voice, "the man who owns that job just about wraps it up in cotton every night and if it so much as squeaks he rushes it in here."

ARE CHURCH LEADERS LULLED OR CONFUSED?

The fact that donations can be made to churches and deducted from income taxes, raises the question as to whether the church leadership has been lulled and soothed into acquiescing to discriminatory, unchristian, undemocratic taxing rules or whether they know so little about the principles of all people being equal before God as advocated by Jesus, that they do not realize what will eventually happen to our form of government, and eventually the churches, if this policy of discrimination is continued.

Certainly one of these conditions must be true. They are either willing to permit this crime against society to continue because they for the moment are beneficiaries or they do not really realize what is taking place; or they would be protesting against this unchristian collective act.

Too many of the preachers are constantly saying in their sermons that they are against sin. They are willing to point out personal violations of moral laws that are generally accepted but seldom have they protested against collective sins. And we seem to be suffering now most from failure to realize that things that are not right for an individual to do as individuals, are not right for the citizens to do collectively.

If it is not right for an individual to trade a service with another citizen and extort from him all that can be extorted simply because he is helpless and cannot defend himself, it is not right for the majority to do that with the minority. And that is all that discriminatory tax laws are, in reality. The majority, because they have the might and the power, have their government charge a great deal more per unit of service rendered to the few than they charge the great majority of citizens who have the most votes for the service they render to them.

In other words, the universal rule should be the golden rule, whether it be applied to an individual or whether it be applied to the state. The state should treat all people equally before its rules, as God or nature treats all people equally who comply with God's or Nature's laws.

Probably the most charitable way of viewing this matter is that the leaders of the church have never been trained or educated along these lines and far too many of them have been trained to believe that there are no universal, eternal, immutable laws or principles governing both physical and spiritual acts.

Possibly if those people who are discriminated against by the state had to pay taxes on the income they give to the church and thus were not able to give so much, then our church leaders would become enough interested in this great social problem to understand and thus protest against the ungodly act and the eventual poverty that is bound to result from retarding the accumulation of tools by this method of taxing.

1942 SAVINGS PLAN

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 29—Elegant in tweeds and fawn-colored coat, Craven Welles lay down in the middle of the studio street and threw a fit.

Passersby paused and stared. A cop started to walk over that way but turned back toward the gate when he heard laughter from the little group of men around the figure on the pavement.

Three different film units were working on various final phases of "The Magnificent Ambersons." As he had started for one set, assistant directors had met him with word that he was urgently needed on the other two.

Actually the young man is thriving, as usual, on much work and very little sleep. Lately, besides gathering up the loose ends of the "Ambersons" job, he has been getting "Journey Into Fear" into production.

After playing old men in "Citizen Kane" and "The Magnificent Ambersons," Joe Cotten will emerge without makeup and as the handsome young star of this "Fear" business, which is a two-way chase with Cotten pursuing Dolores Del Rio while he is being stalked by Axis agents.

Another of Welles' writers, Robert Meltzer, has turned actor in the new picture with the part of a ship's purser. Welles' chauffeur also has worked in several scenes as a chauffeur.

The list doesn't stop there, either. Everybody else in the Mercury company—even the business manager and press agents—will be seen as Gestapo agents or shopkeepers or something.

Such castings are a whim of the boss, but they also are in line with his notion that everyone in his outfit must be willing to pitch in anywhere at big or little jobs. Best example is doughty old Richard Bennett, pappy of the Constance-Johnson-Barbara sisterhood. Just finishing the important role of Major Amberson, he'll soon toss off a bit in "Journey Into Fear" as a ship captain.

Ed Bishop, in his column Ed Aches, in the Dalhart Texan, thinks that "Gene Worley did the only thing he could do, although I wish sincerely he had not made that pledge in his campaign."

The Panhandle friend now to look after the interests of the Panhandle. There's no question that we as a territory are suffering as a result of Gene's action.

The only way I would personally consider voting for some other than Gene Worley for congress would be if the individual make a written statement that he would resign in Gene's favor immediately following Gene's discharge, which I think should be forthcoming right now.

Your Federal Income Tax

EXEMPTIONS ALLOWED COUPLES MARRIED DURING TAXABLE YEAR

The credit for dependents as well as the personal exemption is required to be prorated where a change of status occurs during the taxable year, except where the taxpayer is eligible and elects to compute the tax at the optional rates with the use of the simplified Form 1040A.

For example, if a single man and a single woman were married on July 20, 1941, and lived together during the remainder of the year, they would be entitled to a personal exemption of $1,500 in a joint return on Form 1040 for the calendar year 1941, which amount is seven-twelfths of $750 for the husband and single, plus seven-twelfths of $750 for the wife and single, plus five-twelfths of $1,500 for the period during which they were married.

If a child under 18 years of age reaches the age of 18 years during the taxable year, the credit of $400 is required to be prorated in the same manner as the personal exemption. For example, should the child's eighteenth birthday fall on June 30, the parent would be entitled to claim $200 credit for the dependent child—that is one-half of $400. The same rule applies to other dependents where a change of status occurs during the taxable year.

If the tax is computed at the optional rates with the use of the simplified Form 1040A, the taxpayer's status on the last day of the taxable year governs the determination of whether a person is living with husband or wife, is the head of a family, or is a dependent.

Behind The News In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29—"Business as Usual" has definitely been kicked in the head for the duration, but it remains to be seen whether "Government as Usual" and "Boondoggling as Usual" will be permitted to function.

It is a pleasure to report some signs that they won't. WPA is now practically all defense projects. NYA and CCC stand a chance of being combined and cut down to a more reasonable size. And the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply has done a notable job of interior redecorating by simply housecleaning its civilian supply section which under Miss Harriet Elliott had been permitted to accumulate all kinds of consumer movement spiderwebs.

In some other respects the "as usual" situation doesn't look so good. Take the volunteer participation program of the Office of Civilian Defense.

As Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt explained this work to Congressman Tolson's committee supposed to be investigating defense migration but somewhat off its beat in the OGD hearings, a little child drinking its milk is contributing its share to civilian defense. What that amounts to is saying that civilian defense must include the work of all the people all the time. The nation is strong only if it is well-housed, well-clothed and full of vitamins. Anyone who feels frustrated about anything is contributing poor morale.

Working on this major premise, the volunteer participation department of OGD has gone off on all possible tangents like a Wednesday afternoon ladies' aid society looking for a purpose. And it is here in this field of general welfare programs that the OGD effort has appeared to go a bit sour and give civilian defense a bad name. If the outfit had stuck to its primary purpose of training firemen and air raid wardens and auxiliary police and protecting the citizenry in case enemy bombers got by the military, all might have been well. It is the boondoggling that may come close to causing the ruin.

YOUTH MUST BE SERVED First off, there had to be a youth program. The formula for this hasn't jelled yet, but coming just at a time when the seemed to be a good chance to get rid of some of the worst of the NYA reforms, this is something to watch.

Then there was the matter of uniforms. Catering too much to the club woman type which would feel that it was better than work with out a snappy ensemble, OGD was all set to doll up all its volunteers like the pony ballet from Graustark. Fortunately, the Office of Production Management came to its senses just in time. It told OGD flatly that it couldn't handle that much wool. If only half of the four million women or a fourth of them went for these new uniforms, it would take enough sheep's clothing to keep the fighter men from looking like an army better than veterans at Valley Forge. A compromise is being worked out on this now. The gals will get a uniform to keep them style conscious, but it may be nothing more than a brassard—arm band to most people.

Then there has been a tangle on food. The Office of Defense Health and Welfare services—Paul V. McNutt in charge—decided it would be a good thing to prepare a list of emergency foods which could be put on the pantry shelf for use in case of an air raid. But it didn't work out asking anybody, decided this was hoarding and put the Scotch on the idea. The McNutt organization, not wanting to cross up the First Lady, had to withdraw its list.

MOORE CONFUSION Latest idea is garden program. It might seem to a novice in governmental affairs that the department of agriculture would be the logical place to handle this garden promotion idea. But no. Office of Civilian Defense must hire a garden expert of its own and publish its own book. More confusion.

Unquestionably, this volunteer participation program can do a lot of good in furthering civilian defense and civilian morale, boosting production and saving, and defense savings and backing up the Red Cross. But when it starts trying to run the business of everybody else in sight, you see what can happen.

WASHINGTON YOUTH NOTES American Youth commission, the non-governmental organization headed by Owen D. Young, has been studying the problems of the young folk for six years. Making its report at this war time, when there is a demand for youth, many of its recommendations may not apply till the post-war depression, but some of its findings offer good side-lights on the youth problem of the depression. In 1920 there were 3,700,000 youths from 15 to 19 years of age. In 1930 there were 5,700,000. Each year, 1,750,000 young men and women enter their services as beginning workers. Half are rural and half urban. About 40 per cent of high school at the end of the second year. The number of farm boys reaching maturity each year is double the number of farms falling vacant annually through retirement or death of older farmers. More than 300,000 farm boys and girls must find work in the cities every year. CCC aid costs $100 a month per boy. At ages 12 to 14, the average girl is taller, heavier and more developed physically, mentally and socially than the average boy of the same age. High school costs the public from $30 to $200 per pupil per year. Forty per cent of all the youth come from families of five or more children. The federal school lunch program reaches 5,000,000 out of 28,000,000 children.

WONDER if the army couldn't use some of the ladies' old hats in the camouflage division? New York models have banded together to encourage soldiers and sailors. That may help to explain the increased traffic around recruiting stations.

One of the new inventions is a barber chair with a seat for the barber. Does it have sound attachments? The government is conserving the supply of lead. Ought to get a pretty good pile of it just from people who pile it in their shoes.

When the Japanese ABC's (American, British, Chinese) are given, they'll find themselves at the foot of the class.

The reformer usually thinks of improving life in terms of eliminating the evil things in it, seldom stopping to think that increasing the number of good things is an equally important thing. In the same way, we usually try to curb law violation by punishing the violators, seldom by rewarding the observers.

Detroit police are trying the unusual course, the American Municipal Association reports, of giving "reward tickets" when acts of special courtesy and consideration on the road are observed by these same cops whose usual duty it is to hand out only red tickets. The tickets are of a formative stage, and it is hoped to develop a system of windshield stickers for careful and courteous drivers. Why not? It's likely that quite as much has been accomplished by rewarding good as by punishing evil.

SO LONG as two old cowpunchers can get there, there will be a reunion of the Western Cowpunchers' Association of All Brands on the T Anchor range near Canyon.

And Lewis Nurdyke of Amarillo has immortalized and publicized this annual gathering of old-timers in a richly reminiscent article in the first March issue of Ranch Romance magazine.

Mr. Nurdyke calls his story "Trail Dust" and for it draws on the memories of many well-known cowpunchers—among them Mel Armstrong and John Arnot of Amarillo, Bill Stevens of Hale Center, and Elmore Dodson of Dodson.

Harold Bugbee of Glendon has illustrated the anecdotes, including an especially fine head of Elmer Stevens. The reunion of Pampa was among well known cowpunchers from this vicinity who attended the annual reunion last September.

Drawing historical parallels is like sliding down the front walk on a frosty morning—it's fun, but it's a slippery business. The parallelism between the present German retreat on the Russian front and that of Napoleon in 1812 is so attractive, so neat, and so alluring to wish-thinkers, that a great deal of good which paper has been spoiled in exhibiting it.

But it will be done! Napoleon was back again the following spring almost as strong as before. But it had not been done again.

PUT this in your pipe and smoke it! Those who look forward to using the railroads more extensively next summer in order to conserve their tires and gasoline may have a rude awakening, according to word being handed around in the rail centers of the East.

The "iron hoes" will be pulling ever-increasing shipments of war materials and must cross-over from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Foreign travel will get only second consideration—because it is so important to raise their rates. The railroads recently have been given permission to raise their rates. That added taxes and wages. So maybe you won't go on a trip next year, any more than you will in your car.

MOM TRIES DOUBLETALK

Doc's roadster pulled up at the Federia and he helped out Lolita. She was an eye for all right.

"Hello, Ma," she said. "She came over and kissed me. 'How's trade, Ma?' she said. 'No complaint,' I told her. 'Pipe down on the Ma stuff. No need to spread the Baumer genealogy.'"

"Why would I be sore?" I said. "I think you're a swell kid and you're doing a grand job. I'll always be there in the background if you need me."

"I know you will, Ma," she said. "You always were."

"If you'll excuse me," Doc said, "I'll step over and look up the gorgonzola."

Before he was fairly out of hearing, Doc said, "Where did you ever get him, Ma? I think he's divine."

"You always were one for being in the current," I said. "This is Hollywood's year to go brainy. Doc probably treated you like you were intelligent, because he hasn't got any other approach. So what happens? Right away you begin to figure that you're a submerged intellectual. Look out, gal! That way ruin lies."

"Carnie laughed. 'The same old Ma! But you've got to admit he's awfully good-looking.'"

I took a gander over toward the stockade where Doc was coming out of the doorway, and by this time she was right! Why I hadn't caught it before I don't know. Maybe because I'd first seen him as the bearded wonder. As he came toward us, with that straight figure and easy swing, his serious face and steady eyes, he was a pretty swell-looking guy of his kind. Inside I was hoping that Carnie would lay off him. I knew he'd been hurt by Juddy and I didn't want him hurt again. And my Carnie was sure something to put a couple of skips in any he-man's heartbeats.

SEVERAL days later I was fumigating Cabin Three. Juddy came over with the mail. "Open it up for me," I told her. "I've got no secrets in my young life."

When I came out she was studying over some photos. The candid camera girl had kept her word and mailed back the prints. It was a nice job for an amateur. Of course, Carnie had made it easy for her. Doc turned out to be naturally photogenic, and I

"Get this, you two," I said. "I'm Mom Baumer. Carnie's Lolita Marquessa. She can't do me any good and I'd sure be poison for her business. From the time that slick press agent of hers digs up her fussy name and ancestry, I'm out of it. She's the daughter of a thousand Spanish grandees and what does that make me? A cake of Castile soap? No, thank you."

"You're not sore, are you, Ma?" she said.

"Why would I be sore?" I said. "I think you're a swell kid and you're doing a grand job. I'll always be there in the background if you need me."

showed something in the pose of Honest Old Mom. Juddy picked the best shot and said she was going to frame it.

"Is she really Spanish, do you think, Mom?" she asked me.

"What else would she be with that hair and eyes?"

"So she really came over with Loren Oliver," she said. "He must have been a scream, explaining Wandos to a movie star."

"Maybe it wasn't all Wandos."

"It's a man and she's a gal..." She gave me the laugh. "Mom, you're hipped on your star boarder."

"Ask him yourself," I said. "He's coming over for his lunch now."

Juddy shook her head. Doc took a gander at the pictures. "You gave her a whirl, Doc?"

"I hope your intentions are honorable."

Doc doesn't always keep up with me. He gawped. Then he stiffened up.

"I'm afraid I don't quite follow you," he said.

"This hot, Spanish blood," I said. "I wouldn't want to have any guest of Tambay get herself into trouble through you."

Juddy giggled. Doc's polite vocabulary slumped. "You're crazy," he said.

"She certainly fell for you," I said. "Didn't I see a letter in the mail yesterday with an L. M. monogram?"

"For Loren?" Juddy said, staring at him.

"A note," Doc said. "Thanking me for the Wando material. Why not?"

"No reason by me," I said. "But why did she ask me when your birthday comes?"

She hadn't, but what of it? Did I say she had? I was out to produce an effect on Juddy.

"You're liable to get a solid gold suitcase or something," I told him. "Don't talk rot, Mom," he said.

I pushed it. "I'm giving you the real McCoy," I said. "You've made a dent like the Grand Canyon. How, I don't know. Maybe you talked to her like she has brains."

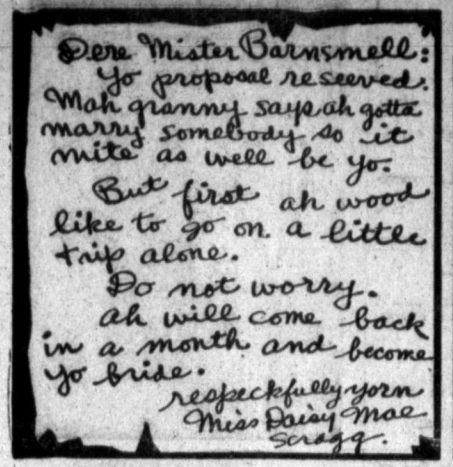

"So she has," he said. Juddy almost jumped.

I said, "That's what you made her believe. Naturally she was flattered. You've taken advantage of her youth and innocence—mental, I mean. You've seduced the poor girl's mind, Doc. One of these days, I wouldn't wonder, she'll be giving birth to an idea and you'll be the father of it."

Juddy snorted, though I couldn't tell whether it was disdain or amusement.

Delinquency Hit In 'Dust To Dust'

The outstanding social hygiene attraction, "Dust To Dust," featuring Howard Russell Cox, the fearless Kentucky commentator, in person, will be at the Rex theater, for a 3 day engagement, opening Tuesday, February 3 on its 7th annual coast-to-coast tour.

"Dust To Dust" is a bold, fearless, shocking presentation. It is a combination of screen and stage attraction.

Striking out in a fierce and open manner at delinquency, it seeks to leave by way of illustration, a challenging message with every growing boy and girl and all parents. It urges parents to live closer to their children and to better counsel them on human relations problems.

"Dust To Dust" covers all points of the social hygiene field with equal frankness and boldness, which has been found to be the most effective manner. It blasts away at the problem of social diseases and challenges America to rid itself of this terrible scourge.

The attraction is not to be confused with anything salacious or immoral, its producers declare.

Due to the bold approach it makes to its delicate themes, "Dust To Dust" can be shown to segregated audiences only. There will be shows for women and high school girls at 2:00 p. m. and for men and high school boys at 9:00 p. m.

Coke Praises Annual Cattle Show

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS FORT WORTH, Jan. 29—Stock shows deserve support and encouragement during wartime as never before, Governor Coke Stevenson said today in a statement to his fellow Texans.

"With the nation at war," Governor Stevenson said, "the livestock industry has assumed greater importance this year as the farmers and ranchers go about the task of producing more meat and other food for our armed forces, our allies, and our civilian population."

"Speaking as one who has had some experience in the livestock industry, I recognize that many benefits will come to the nation as a whole as a result of the continuation of expositions during the war."

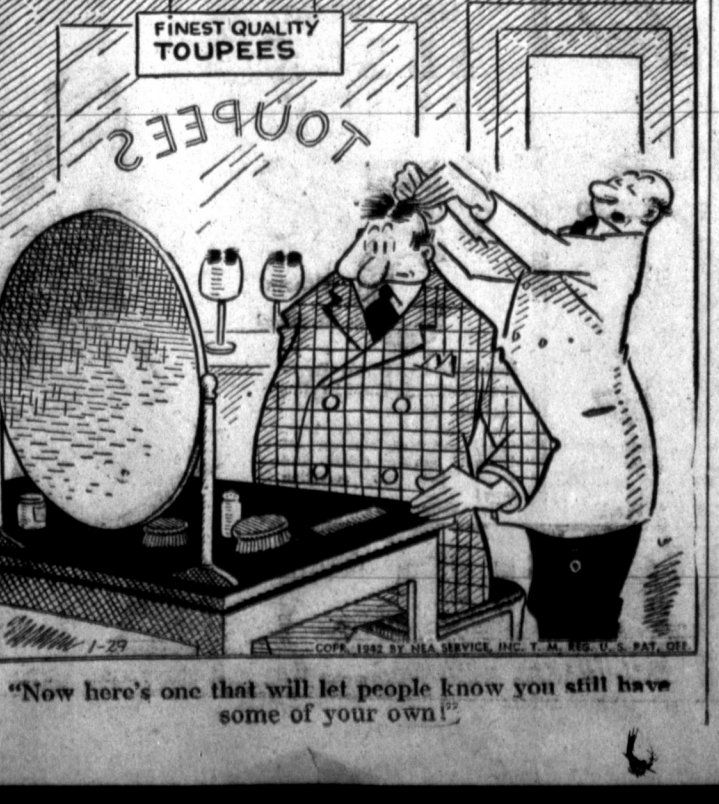

The Southwestern Exposition and Cattle Show, which will be held in Fort Worth March 13-22, is one of the oldest in the Southwest, having been organized just before the turn of the century while the early-day ranchmen began building what is today a far-flung empire devoted to the raising of cattle, sheep, goats, swine, horses and mules. It has been my pleasure and personal profit to visit the Fort Worth show frequently in past years.
