New Red Cross Directors To Elect Officers

Directors of the Pampa chapter of the American Red Cross for 1942 will be Mrs. Hank Breining of LeFors and Mrs. Frank Culbertson, R. E. McKernan, D. C. Hartman, Doyle Osborne, Hal Lucas, Joe Key, O. K. Gaylor, the Rev. William J. Sims and Frank Smith, all of Pampa. The board will meet next week to elect officers.

The new directors were appointed at a meeting of the retiring board members last night in the city hall when committee reports were also presented.

Jim Turner, who audited the books, stated that the "books and records are in excellent condition."

Balance on hand as of January 1, this year, was $5,481.43, according to the audit. The financial report showed that the chapter had $1,934.15 on hand as of January 1, 1941, and that receipts included $4,521.91 from the roll call, $5,539.26 from the war relief drive, plus other small contributions for a total of $12,187.80 at the close of the year.

Of that amount, $3,400 was sent to the national quarters for war relief, the other 15 per cent remaining in the local chapter; $919.89 was spent for administration, office supplies, etc.; $279 for home service.

Mrs. J. B. White, chairman of the home service committee, reported that 236 cases were handled during the year which included 22 relief cases, 156 service cases, mostly effecting return of soldiers AWOL, emergency furlough for soldiers in case of illness and deaths in their families and welfare of local boys in active service, and furnishing of clothing, etc. to 726 instances.

A total of 214 persons took first aid courses and 19 qualified as instructors. Tom Eckerd was chairman of that group.

Fifteen women took the home nursing course and three qualified as instructors. Mrs. G. G. Gardner was chairman of the group.

John Skelly, chairman of the water safety group, reported that

Jap Soldiers 'Flash' Fighters, Says Hillburn

Japanese soldiers are "flash" fighters and when American forces are strengthened the Japs will fade.

That was one of the views on the war expressed last night in the First Methodist church by Sam Hillburn, a native of Clarendon, Texas, and a graduate of old Clarendon college, who was driven out of Japan five months ago after 20 years as an instructor in an American college at Kobe.

Professor Hillburn, an interesting speaker, gave his listeners a vivid picture of modern conditions in Japan. The church was filled for the lecture.

The speaker explained that Japan of years ago was an agricultural nation and that it was a peaceful nation. Then Japan turned from agriculture to manufacturing and that was when trouble started. The new Japan made cheap goods but didn't have a market for them. So it was decided to create a market by expanding.

He said that Japan didn't want war and hinted that America was responsible for the war by teaching the Japs American ways. He further declared that there were many Christians in Japan and that today they are fighting against the war. He said that Japanese Christians were more devout than American Christians. There is no noise, loud talking and laughing when Japanese Christians go to church. Each carries his Bible and hymn book and goes to his seat where he quietly worships.

Prof. Hillburn was chased out of Japan five months ago and was replaced by a German professor. When he left he and his family were allowed four potatoes and a small amount of rice at one time. The rice was 85 per cent sweepings from Indo-China granaries and 15 percent pure rice. The good rice was being exported, he said.

In mentioning that Japanese soldiers are "flash" fighters, the speaker said that in a TB test, only nine per cent of the 250,000 young men given the test were found to be of the greatest benefit to Pampa as a whole.

The proposition started when the oil and gas committee of the BCD went to the city commission and sought their help in getting new office quarters for the Pampa district of the Texas Railroad commission. Members of the committee had previously accompanied the railroad commission personnel on a tour seeking new quarters, but were unable to find any suitable office space.

The reason the commission desired to move was because they had been notified that their rent would be increased from $75 to $135 a month, on the offices they had occupied for a decade in a private building.

At the meeting it was pointed out that Pampa was one of the only two places in the state where the railroad commission paid rent for its offices.

Cities are so anxious to secure the railroad commission locations that they offer rent free in other places.

Amarillo Wants TRRC

In this connection it was pointed out that Amarillo had long been seeking to have the railroad commission office moved from Pampa to Amarillo and had recently offered the commission rent-free quarters in their city. Similar move was made by Amarillo four years ago.

The proposition under which the city commission planned to remodel the city hall auditorium is this: That the auditorium be remodeled, flooring and 850 seats removed, and half of the space available be transformed into offices for the railroad commission, the remaining

Russians 100 Miles From Hitler Himself

Russian troops were reported advancing within 100 miles of Adolf Hitler's winter headquarters at Smolensk today, while in the south, Red army forces were pictured as storming at the outer gates of Kharkov, Russia's "Pittsburgh" in the Ukraine.

Soviet military dispatches said collapse of a German wing defending a flank of the Moscow-to-Mozhaisk highway had knocked out the German's "last zone of positional warfare" before Moscow and that "the whole front is now in motion."

The Russians declared that Hitler's reeling armies had lost 200,000 killed between Nov. 16 and Jan. 6, with 20,000 slain in recent fighting in the Donets river industrial basin.

Soviet troops were described as now battering heavily against German defenses at Mozhaisk itself, 57 miles west of Moscow, where a Nazi garrison of 100,000 men still held out despite the danger of being trapped by Russian pincers closing in from the north and south.

German military quarters acknowledged that the Russians had broken into Mozhaisk lines Sunday, but asserted they were dislodged in a counter-attack which cost the Russians 300 dead.

Dispatches from Moscow, Vichy and London pictured a picture of heavy thrusts against the Germans through which:

Red army men recaptured Kirov, a strategic rail junction 150 miles southwest of Moscow, in fighting

Help Was Asked

He made it plain that the plan did not originate with the city commission, but that the commission was simply seeking to perform a service that would be of the greatest benefit to Pampa as a whole.

Isolationist Attitude Held By Argentina

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 14 (AP)—Twenty-four hours before its first official session, the Pan-American conference of foreign ministers appeared to have struck two obstacles today—Argentina's reluctance to commit herself to any military alliance or "acts of pre-belligerency," and Ecuador's determination to settle her 100-year-old boundary dispute with Peru before entering into any general discussions.

In the behind-the-scenes diplomacy aimed at creating a united western hemisphere front against the Axis, Argentina was considered the chief obstacle. Its policy was reaffirmed at Buenos Aires last night by President Ramon S. Castillo, who said his government could not assent to any "measures of belligerency" which might come before the conference, and earlier had been laid down along the same lines by Foreign Minister Enrique Ruiz Guinazu.

President Castillo made his statement in rejecting opposition leaders' requests for a special session of congress, which they sought when Ruiz Guinazu declared he could make no commitments without congressional approval.

(Private advisers from Buenos Aires have indicated that the Castillo government is under strong popular and political pressure to change its isolationist attitude. Argentine sources in the United States say the government might even face a coup if it does not adopt a more pro-Allied stand.)

Ruiz Guinazu arrived here this morning.

The most authoritative source it was learned that Tobar Donoso, foreign minister of Ecuador, had declared he would not take part in the conference sessions unless a basis of settlement was reached in the boundary dispute with Peru under which his country would be assured no further aggression, and which would outline a final agreement.

The same source said a third problem had been created by the apparently unswerving determination of the Central American and Caribbean states.

MacArthur's Troops Again Repulse Japs

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—The army said today three American bombers, fighting with the Netherlands Indies forces, attacked a Japanese naval force near Tarakan, the vital oil island off northeast Borneo that has fallen to the enemy.

Full results of the attack are not known, a communique said, but two Japanese lighters were destroyed. The American planes returned to their undisclosed base undamaged.

Army advisers indicated that the Japanese were establishing bases on the large island of Mindanao, southeast of Luzon, and the island of Jolo in the Sulu Archipelago.

These bases would serve to support the drive on Malaya and the Netherlands East Indies.

In the Philippine theater, where General Douglas MacArthur is fighting to hold out as long as possible to keep the Japanese from diverting larger forces to the other areas, two attacks were thrown against the American and Filipino soldiers but both were repulsed. With supporting artillery and aircraft, the enemy's operations were in the nature of testing stabs, the army said. Japanese losses were reported heavy and American-Filipino casualties "comparatively small."

The text of the communique, No. 58, based on reports received up to 8:30 a. m. Central Standard time:

"1. Philippine theater: "The enemy yesterday made two determined attacks which were in the nature of reconnaissances in force. These attacks were well supported by artillery and aircraft. Both were repulsed by our troops, with the Japanese suffering heavy losses. American and Philippine casualties were comparatively small.

"Hostile air operations were confined to support of ground troops. No attacks were made on our fortifications.

"Reports received from Mindanao and Jolo indicate that the Japanese are establishing advance bases in these islands from which to support attacks on Malaya and the Netherlands Indies.

"2. Netherlands Indies: "Three American bombing planes, cooperating with the forces of the Netherlands Indies, attacked a Japanese naval force engaged in landing operations in the Tarakan area of Borneo. Unfavorable weather conditions made it difficult to determine the results of the attack. However, it is known that two enemy lighters were destroyed. Our planes returned to their base undamaged.

"3. There is nothing to report from other areas."

German Unrest Stories Spurious, Declares Knox

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Knox today said he believed stories of internal unrest in Germany were spurious and deliberately spread to take the edge off America's war effort.

"Almost every one of the stories about the terrible situation in Germany originates in territory controlled by Germany," Knox told a press conference. "This alone should raise suspicion."

"Assuming that they are doing it deliberately, it is intended to take the fine edge off the sense of urgency and immediacy and singleness of purpose with which this country is pushing its war effort."

Knox said also that German withdrawals in Russia should not be regarded as a sign of a German military debacle.

"In many cases there has been a German rout in Russia," he said. "To assume that a German retreatment on ground which they have won is a sign of a German military debacle is very unwise to assume that they are about to fall apart. Germany still has the greatest military machine in the world."

"The Germans are adept at using psychological weapons. I think they are operating on us now."

Donald Nelson Czar Of Arms Production

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—President Roosevelt pointed the nation's industry today toward the "bright . . . plumes" peaks of World War I efficiency by making Donald M. Nelson the all-powerful production czar of the herculean arms program.

It will be Nelson's job to duplicate, if not surpass, the tremendous industrial performance which wrung tribute from Field Marshal von Hindenburg after the last conflict, and the grudging acknowledgment: "They understood war."

The creation of one-man production control—a step long urged on Mr. Roosevelt by his friends and critics alike—momentarily distracted the capital's attention from the Pacific war fronts. It promised initiative in the production field where lies the Allied hope for ultimate victory.

The situation in the Far East continued adverse, for the most part. There was a quiet elation over the way General MacArthur smashed the heavy Japanese attack in the Philippines yesterday, but this was tempered by realization that the enemy had overwhelming forces available for new assaults, whereas the defenders' losses, however small, were irreplaceable.

Advices from the Malayan and Netherlands Indies fronts indicated that the tempo of the Japanese advances might be slackening somewhat, but the capital could not ignore the fact that the enemy still was making progress, and that temporary superiority in material was making this progress possible.

It was with high interest, therefore, that Washington received President Roosevelt's surprise announcement last night, investing Nelson, former mail order executive, with supreme authority for war material production.

Only a few hours earlier Nelson had made plain that his goal was to substitute "Too much, too soon" for the old "Too little, too late" cry that has dogged Allied arms.

"We're going to build so many planes and tanks," he said, speaking in his old role as OPM's priority director, "that when this is all over those of us who had anything to do with it are going to be criticized because we built too much."

Now the big bulky, bespectacled man will have everything to do with it.

In announcing his decision to establish the new war production board, Mr. Roosevelt said it would have the powers now exercised by the supply priorities and allocations board, and that Vice President Wallace as well as the other present members of SPAB would serve on it. Nelson has been SPAB's executive director.

Besides being chairman of the board, Nelson "will be charged with the direction of the production program and have general supervision over all production agencies," the White House said. "His decision as to questions of procurement and production will be final."

"Mr. Nelson will report to the

Five Pampa Boys Enlist In Navy

Five Pampa youths and one from Mobeetie left today for Dallas where they will take final examinations before reporting to the United States navy at some designated station. Some of the boys enlisted last week but were not called until today. Others enlisted yesterday and received orders to report immediately.

Pampa youths enroute to Dallas are Clarence J. Smiles, Kenneth W. Grossman, Harrison W. Farmer, Royce Bailey and Richard Wright. Grossman and Bailey were members of the Pampa Harvester Gorrilla Football team and Bailey of the Harvester boxing team. Lawrence C. Neece of Mobeetie was in the group. Enlistments in army branches are not being released.

PRODUCTION CZAR NAMED—Donald M. Nelson, who has just been named by President Roosevelt as head of the new War Production board, has been given the power to make final decisions on procurement and production. After many days of wrangling between the auto industries, the OPM and labor, Mr. Nelson's appointment will probably bring accord to all concerned. (NEA Telephoto).

'Hitler Will Win Unless--' Says Nelson

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—A tireless, tough-hearted driver, Donald M. Nelson, is taking charge of American war industry under a pledge to sweat the country into all-out war production.

He wants the story henceforth to be "Too much, too soon" instead of the requiem—"Too little, too late."

"Just ahead of us are the hardest years we have been through since Valley Forge," says the man President Roosevelt has chosen to boss the whole production program.

"Every so often there comes a time which puts all Americans to the test and requires them to show that they can live and work the hard way instead of the easy way. They have always met that test thus far. We ourselves will meet it now."

"This defense program isn't any WPA program—a joyride for industry. We are not playing for marbles. It's a life and death struggle. We are going to need the labor of every available worker and every machine that can be used in the land."

"We are going to have to give up all manner of things which we would like to have and strip down for a struggle which will take everything we can give it. Hitler is going to win this war unless we deny ourselves everything that we can possibly deny ourselves."

"We can overtake Hitler. The man who says we can't is either blindly ignorant or believes that democracy and freedom are played out and helpless."

These are the words Nelson has been preaching to industrialists and politicians alike in speeches and conferences for more than a year. To fellow defense officials content with the rising curve of weapon

Those Who Had Opposed Plan To Remodel Auditorium Vote For It

Any confusion that might have existed on the proposition to remodel the city auditorium into offices for the Texas Railroad commission and other public agencies was swept into discard at a public meeting held at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the city commission room.

Mrs. Meikle Chosen Club Mother By Tete-A-Tete Group

Tete-a-Tete club held its regular meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. J. W. Crisler for a covered dish luncheon. Hostesses were Mrs. Beatrice Stotts as hostess.

During the business session Ruth Graves was elected parliamentarian, and Mrs. A. Meikle chosen club mother for the coming month.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Ruth Graves on Monday evening.

Members attending the meeting were Wanda Roberts, Jeanne Melie, Mary Alice Board, Gladine Patner, Norma Lusk, Oleta Rogers, Audrey Short, Beatrice Stotts, Naomi Snyder, Betty Jo King, Ruth Graves, and Marceline Drake.

Mrs. Gantt Feted At Luncheon By Ester Members

Honoring a former member, Mrs. D. C. Gantt of Tulsa, Ester club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. W. Crisler for a covered dish luncheon. Hostesses were Mrs. Jim King, Vernon Hall, Maude Russell, and Sue Gunnells.

In the business session conducted by Ellen Kretzmeier, president, reports were given by various officers. Two members, Mrs. E. C. Rupp and Mae Phillips, were reported ill. Installation of officers will be conducted in the I. O. O. F. hall Thursday evening and all members are to wear evening gowns, it was announced.

Gray County HD Club Reporters Have School

A reporters school for all Gray county home demonstration club reporters and their assistants was held recently in the office of Mrs. Stella E. Kelley.

Reporters have one of the biggest responsibilities of any club member in getting the information to the public as to what is going on in club work.

"News spoils easily with age; therefore, reports of club activities should be written and given to newspapers as soon as the events have happened. Who, what, why, where, and when are the five essential questions to be answered in a news story."

"Pictures accompanying a story make that story doubly interesting," Mrs. Kelley stated. "A good picture is worth one thousand words."

Reporters were urged by Mrs. J. B. Harrell, chairman of reporters, to take more and better pictures during the year. One outstanding picture from each club will be displayed in Mrs. Kelley's office each month.

Those attending the meeting were: Mrs. Edgan Harrell, Council reporter; O. G. Smith, assistant; H. W. Laycock, Hopkins; Margaret Taylor, Westside; Jess Morris, Bell; H. M. Propper, Kingsmill; Harold Osborne, Wayside; and Julia E. Kelley.

Girl Scouts Of Troop Seven Name Officers For Year

Troop seven Girl Scouts met recently in the home of Mrs. A. D. Robinson for the first session of the new year when plans were made for the ensuing year and officers were elected.

They are Ednell Hancock, patrol leader; Ramona Matheny, vice patrol leader; Barbara Norris, scribe; Barbara Morrison, treasurer; Nadine Kelly, chairman of cooking; and Bobby Louise McLendon, business manager.

Others present were Mary Myatt, Bess Trollinger, Edith Mae Morrow, Beverly Sue Baker, Joyce Oswald, Betty Myatt, and Alice Jean Robinson.

Bess Trollinger Honored By Scout Troop On Birthday

Bess Trollinger was honored on her birthday when Girl Scouts of troop seven entertained.

The group joined in a scavenger hunt until 7 o'clock when refreshments were served.

BAGS ARE EVER WELCOME CHRISTMAS GIFTS. Here are two smart, new examples of the 1941 show of "the-bigger-the-better-idea." The magnificent alligator drawing pouch, at left is named "Noah" because it's roomy as an ark. It is worn thus, looped over the arm, or, with equal smartness, swung over the shoulder by its extensible handle strap. The "hand-bag" also becomes a traveling case, this season, as demonstrated by the new feather-light piece, at right. Fitted with hangers, it carries six average-weight dresses, lingerie, cosmetics, two pairs of shoes and still has space for other accessories. It is carried easily by hand and also has an over-arm handle. The pyroloxin-coated fabric is water resistant.

Sen. Hazelwood Discusses 'Lobbying For Democracy' At B. P. W. Club

"Lobbying for Democracy" was discussed by Senator Grady Hazelwood, guest speaker at the meeting of Business and Professional Women's club Tuesday evening in the city club rooms when members of the legislative committee were in charge of the program.

"People are not interested enough in government unless political races are in progress," Senator Hazelwood stated after he was presented by Mrs. Sidney Northup, chairman of the legislative committee. "Minorities rule because the vast majority of people are not interested enough and because minority groups have lobbyists to push their bills."

"Are lobbyists any good?" he asked. "The right kind of lobbyists are valuable but there are others who are not because they color the facts to suit the pressure groups. Lobbyists should be paid regular salaries rather than just for passing a bill."

Attending were Audrey Fowler, Julia Kelley, Ida Hughey, Rowena Hughes, Lillian McNeil, Lillian Jordan, Etha Jones, Ellen Layne, Maurine Jones, Madeline Murray, Tommie Stone, Jess Bumpass, Helen J. Smith, Ruth Chiggs, Sadie Gilbert, Ruth Landon, Vera Lard, Grace Pool, Aline Tipton, Letha Northup, Madge Rusk, Mable Gee, Allie Huckaby, Hazel Snow, Mayme Conner, Polly Jacobson, Martha Fincher, Mrs. Edwin Leach, Pauline Bruton, Geneva Smith, Mildred Lafferty, Ida Mae Jones, Juanita Burns, Myrtle Simmons, Iva Ekern, Clara Lee Sheemaker, Ruth Walstad, Charlene Johnson, Mary Flemming, Leora Kinard, and Jessye Stroup.

V. F. W. Auxiliary Changes Regular Meeting Dates

Meeting in the American Legion hall Tuesday evening, members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary changed the regular meeting date of the group to the second and fourth Mondays at 7:30 o'clock.

At the next meeting of the auxiliary a covered dish supper will be served at 7 o'clock in the hall with the initiation of all new members following the supper. The drill team will meet for practice next Tuesday night at 6:30 o'clock with Mrs. Roy Chisum in charge. Members are to take articles of food to the next meeting for a basket as well as clothing.

Jack Reddell was reported to be ill in the Veterans hospital at Amarillo. Numerous cards were read from the business of the auxiliary for military service kits.

All mothers, sisters, and daughters of men now in service of continental United States are eligible to belong to the V. F. W. auxiliary.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Harry Beall, Al Lawson, C. C. Jones, W. H. Kiser, J. L. Schwind, B. S. Vin, E. J. Kenny, John House, Robert Orr, Nellie Ford, Foy Chisum, Harry Carlson, Fred Fender, and O. K. Gaylor.

Mmes. Lawson, Gaylor, Kenny, and Ford will have charge of refreshments at the next meeting.

Christian Science Lecture Will Be Given On Friday

First Church of Christ, Scientist, is sponsoring a free lecture on Christian Science which will be given Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Junior High school auditorium.

"Christian Science: The Revelation of Real Being" is the topic of the address to be delivered by Violet Ker Seymour, C. B. S. of Boston.

The speaker is a member of the board of lecturership of the Mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

Minister Guest Speaker At Sam Houston P-T-A Group

The Rev. Newton Starnes spoke on "Character Formation" at a meeting of the Sam Houston P-T-A study group Tuesday morning at the school.

Rev. Starnes told how parents, teachers and the community, working together, can produce citizens who have the faith, the will, and the courage to defend their cherished and God-given freedoms.

"He said that in order to defend our freedom, we must keep alive the character-building agencies such as education, religious training, Scouting, and adult education."

"It is up to the home to instill in the child a sense of responsibility and the fact that in defending freedom, they must respect the rights of others. We must be willing to give up our luxuries and learn how to use what we have and by so doing, the children would learn resourcefulness. The spirit of sacrifice helps to produce good character," Rev. Starnes said.

A discussion period followed his talk. Ten members were present.

The next meeting of this group will be on Jan. 27, at which time Mrs. Carl Boston will be the guest speaker.

Miami P-T-A. Has Initial Meeting Of New Year This Week

MIAMI, Jan. 14.—The first P-T-A meeting of the new year was held in the high school study hall Monday evening. The president, Mrs. Dan Graham, presided. After union singing of "America" and "Home on the Range," led by Mr. Ballegee, and prayer by Mrs. Haynes, a short business session was held.

Mr. Ballegee reported that after nine weeks of trial of the government luncheon project that the number being served for lunch had increased from 60 to an average of 170; that a generous, well-balanced meal is being served; that $30 worth of new equipment had been bought for the luncheon; and that all bills had been paid and a small balance is left in the treasury.

With such a successful result of this probationary period he stated that the luncheon is no longer an experimental project, but a concern. Five workers are being employed, and many improvements have been made in the room, the service, and the equipment.

Mrs. W. F. Locke and Mrs. R. B. Haynes had the program of the evening. Mrs. Locke discussed "Roots of the Tree of Liberty," based on the recent finding of the Educational Policies commission.

"The tree of liberty grew up in the United States on rock soil and in stormy years," she said. "As the years passed the storms became less frequent, less severe, and we came to think of our liberties as inherited privileges, our without effort, without cost, without obligation."

"Now, the storms rage about us once more. Will the tree of liberty stand against their onslaught?" In answer to this question the speaker gave some of the ways that the school can help in the teaching and nourishment of the principles of liberty in the youth of our land.

In Mrs. Haynes' topic, "Good Minds for Emergencies," she first defined good minds as those which can keep their thinking straight and clear.

"While this is more difficult in an emergency," the speaker stated, "some good will come out of the pressure of events."

After discussing what the parent may do to help his child into the path of clear, straight thinking, the speaker concluded her talk with the statement that "hard as straight thinking is to accomplish under stress, it is the only thing that will save us. To keep calm, fair-minded, and logical is to win a major victory."

Baptist Circles Have Missionary Study At Miami

MIAMI, Jan. 14.—Baptist W. M. S. met in circles Monday afternoon for a missionary lesson. Mrs. Saul's and Mrs. George's circles met in the home of Mrs. W. M. Byers, with Mrs. C. T. Locke leading the book.

This book, "The Word Overcoming the World," by Dr. E. C. Routh, gives a concrete picture of Southern Baptist missions over the world today. The author takes in turn each part of the world and tells something of the historical background of that field, its pioneer missionaries, its problems and opportunities.

Mrs. Locke, who is mission study chairman for the society, had prepared a scrapbook with notes and pictures from each mission field that made the study more interesting.

Mrs. Meador's circle met in the home of Mrs. Marvin Simms to study the same book which was taught by Mrs. J. G. Ramsey. This circle will finish the book at their next meeting using the scrapbook prepared by the chairman.

The next meeting will be the Royal Service program to be presented in the home of Mrs. Webster. At this time the new officers will be installed.

The Social Calendar

THURSDAY
Reopens class of First Baptist church will have a party at 2:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Herman Dees, 1442 North Russell street. Members and those in service are invited.

Hook and Needle club will meet in the home of Mrs. K. C. Taylor, 899 East Craven street, at 2:30 o'clock.

Methodist WSCS Has Installation, Pledge Service

Woman's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist church met Monday afternoon in the auditorium of the church for an installation and pledge service with 85 women present.

Preceding the service, Mrs. W. Purviance announced that she will have an informal open house for members of the W. S. C. S. Friday afternoon between 2 and 5 o'clock at her home.

Soft music was played on the organ by Mrs. John Skelley. Mrs. W. R. Campbell, who read the scripture and gave the devotional, asked the group to forget old failures, old miseries, and look forward to a broader understanding and service for others in this new year.

She concluded by reading the poem, "The Bridge Builder" and led the group in prayer.

Mrs. H. P. Barnhart, who is a charter member of the first missionary group organized in the Methodist church in Pampa installed the following officers: Mrs. H. H. Boynton, president; Mrs. Luther Pierson, local treasurer; Mrs. Dan Leitch, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Fred Cary, chairman of Christian social relations; Mrs. John Hessey, study chairman; Mrs. W. Purviance, spiritual life chairman; Mrs. J. M. Turner, literature and publications; Mrs. F. W. Shotwell, publicity; Mrs. Travis Lively, cultivation; Mrs. Knox student work; Mrs. Joe Shelton, chairman of supplies; Mrs. Horace McBeee, secretary of young women and girls' work; and the chairman of the circles.

After the impressive installation service, Mrs. Harold Wright sang "Blessed Master, I Have Promised." The pledge service followed with Mrs. Boynton explaining the pledge, amount, and use.

During a moment of silent prayer, Mrs. Purviance lighted the candle for the Pampa church; Mrs. Cary, the candle for the nation; Mrs. C. L. Brownlee, candle for Christian homes; Mrs. Harrell, for missionaries; Mrs. Travis Lively, for Chinese and Japanese Christians; and Mrs. Horace McBeee, for African churches as well as the candle for Christian love and service.

During the singing of "For the Facing of this Hour," the women placed their pledge cards on the table.

Next Monday the society will meet in circles in the following homes: One, Mrs. W. Purviance, 802 West Francis avenue; two, Mrs. J. E. Kirchner, 432 North Hill; three, Mrs. C. E. Ward, 800 Christine street; four, Mrs. Sherman White.

Baker P-TA Guest Speaker Discusses Conditions Today

Discussing "The Present Day in the Changing World" at a monthly meeting of B. M. Baker Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday afternoon, Herman Jones stated that there are two types of students, those who can make adjustments and those who cannot.

"At the present time students are restless, uncertain about the future and many of the adults are unable to guide children as they too are not able to adjust themselves. A child that is maladjusted is displeased with his work while a child that is adjusted, enjoys the work required of him."

"Some of the problems come from home environments, physical conditions, and religious beliefs."

"In Junior High school, some of the methods used to help the maladjusted child are clubs, development periods, study of records, and study of mental abilities. Every adult should consider a child important enough to listen to his questions and answers."

Mr. Jones concluded his address by saying that success can be measured only after 20 or 25 years when a child has become a successful citizen.

In the business session which preceded the talk, Mrs. J. E. Beard, president, presided and Principal J. A. Meek gave the invocation. The executive committee recommended the buying of an $18.75 defense bond, that a publicity book should not be made this year, and that Mrs. Benton be allowed to purchase refreshments and decorations for two tables for the Baker P-T-A. at the Founders' Day banquet.

After Mrs. Carl Boston, Council president, urged everyone to take the procedure course, Mrs. Beard announced the Tri-County Council meeting at 1:30 o'clock Saturday in the Junior High school auditorium. Mrs. B. G. Gordon's room won the count with nine parents present.

Miss Evelyn Thom had led the group in singing "America," "The Eyes of Texas," and "Keep the Home Fires Burning," after which Mr. Jones addressed the group.

"No Child of Mine will ever get WORMS!"

Don't be so sure, Mother! Anybody, anywhere, can have roundworms! Yes, and the ugly creatures may be living inside your child right now, starting trouble, without your even knowing it. If your child is pale, underweight, nervous, has an uneasy stomach, picks at nose or seat—these ugly roundworms may be at work.

Play safe! Get Jayne's Vermifuge! It acts very gently, yet expels stubborn worms. And if no worms are there, it acts just as a mild laxative. Jayne's is America's best known proprietary worm medicine, used by millions for over a century. Demand Jayne's Vermifuge! At all drug stores.

Today's War Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst
British Military experts read in the concentration of Nazi warplanes and troops in Sicily the possibility of a full-dress attack on Britain's great aero-naval base at Malta...

The Japs bomb Chungking to rubble—and the Chinese put it back better than ever. These are new shops.

That might well be, for any campaign which Hitler undertakes in the near future, while he has vast forces tied up in Russia, will be largely aerial. Also, if he could gain domination of the Mediterranean he would have inflicted on his enemy a disaster so terrible that he would have made a mighty stride towards winning the war.

The big island of Malta—with its area of 95 square miles and population of a quarter million—lies about half way between the western and eastern gateways to the Mediterranean, Gibraltar and the Suez canal.

WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 14 (AP)—Rex Beard, Jr., 19, admitted "paper sack" gunman who held up three Texas banks last fall, was sentenced to seven and a half years in the penitentiary yesterday after pleading guilty to a charge of robbery.

Modern facts prove CARDUI helps 2 ways: Taken as a tonic by directions it usually stimulates appetite, increases flow of gastric juices, so improves digestion. That's probably the reason for the new energy and strength and the relief of periodic functional distress of many users.

would have several grave effects on the British position. For instance, if the Germans could capture the island and utilize its air-dromes in conjunction with the Italian airbases in nearby Sicily, it might enable the Axis to cut Mediterranean in two.

This would sever connection between the eastern and western portions of the British fleet. That would force the British to go round Africa to move supplies through the Suez canal to the eastern Mediterranean, and to reach the Far East.

Other observations by Storey were: It is possible the war might end earlier than is commonly thought. Englishmen generally think Germany will attempt an invasion and are supremely confident they can repel it. They also think that afterward the continent can be successfully invaded by the English and Allies.

The RAF is hammering the life out of Germany. The right strategy is still to keep Hitler the No. 1 enemy.

The revolts in Norway and Balkan areas are very serious and causing Germany much trouble.

Regarding RAF activities, Storey reported a recent raid on Cologne, Germany, was an innovation. RAF planes skimmed the English Channel only a few feet above the surface, avoiding the fire of enemy cannon trained above them.

He flew under telephone wires in Cologne and dropped bombs on factories from a height of only 25 feet.

The governor said he agreed that Hitler was the No. 1 menace but thought "we should hold Singapore."

Storey was in England when Japan and the United States went to war.

Three Held In Eerie Frome Murder Case

EL PASO, Jan. 14 (AP)—The eerie Frome case remained under the dark cloak of mystery today, even though three suspects were held and two of them charged with murder.

Even the whereabouts of the suspects was a secret which peace officers declined to reveal.

Accused of the desert slaying four years ago Mrs. Weston G. Frome and her daughter, Nancy, of Berkeley, Calif., were Charles Hatfield, 36, a truck driver, and Bonnie Hatfield, 34, both of Bakersfield, Calif., formerly of El Paso.

A woman was taken into custody Sunday at Mexia, Sheriff Sam Adkins, who turned her over to officers at Van Horn, said a charge of complicity in the killings might be filed against her.

The Herald-Post said it learned the Hatfields have been in the Reeves county jail at Pecos since last Saturday, but of this there was no official confirmation.

The two were arrested in Bakersfield a week ago, but the arrest remained a secret until Monday night. Murder charges were filed against them—also without public knowledge—last week before a Van Horn justice of the peace by the El Paso district attorney's office.

Another bizarre quirk of the case was that one of the first persons questioned soon after the murders was Hatfield. He was released because of insufficient evidence, however, and cleared of suspicion.

Mrs. Frome and Nancy were brutally slain in March, 1938. Their bodies were found six miles from Van Horn. Their sedan was found abandoned near Balmorhea, 50 miles away.

API Members Hear Talk On New Pump

The new Kobe pumping equipment for oil wells was explained by R. B. Ralph of Oklahoma City at a meeting of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute last night in the city hall.

The Kobe pump, which is now being used in the Panhandle by The Texas company, has a hydraulic pump located below the fluid level and is operated by high grade oil forced through a small tube by a pump above ground.

He answered many questions following his talk.

Entertainment was presented by the Hungry Five, a little German band, from Burger high school. Members of the band were Paul Post, Howard Purkable, Bill Miller, Bert Shouse and Gene Morris, and by an accordion duo, Gene Wilkinson and his instructor, Mike Shepic.

The women's clothes had been torn off. They had been beaten, tortured and shot.

Army 'Jeeps' For Civilians Suggested

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—A civilian counterpart of the army "Jeep"—with certain refinements as a concession to comfort—was suggested today by officials of the National Automobile Dealers Association as a possible answer to the new car shortage.

The suggestion came from L. Clare Cargile, Texarkana, Tex., president of the association, and Arthur Center, Springfield, Mass., its secretary, as a house committee resumed hearings on the effect of new car production curtailment on the nation's 44,000 dealers.

The small, rough-and-ready vehicle—the answer to any college freshman's prayer—would probably be called the "victory car" and be produced by leading automobile manufacturers under no trade name.

It would be large enough for five passengers, maybe with a little crowding, and would be devoid of costly accessories, nickel or chrome trim and other gadgets adding to cost.

But if built to the specifications of its army brothers, it could climb most any hill with a top to it, slash fearlessly through the deepest mud, and in general negotiate terrain usually shunned by everything without fur or feathers.

"It would be built primarily for service, not for looks, and to meet a need for transportation when present cars wear out and comparable replacements are not available," said Center. "It would be strictly an economy car, with six cylinders and low upkeep."

Cargile said the automobile industry, despite the conversion of much of its machinery for the production of airplanes and other defense material, could make enough Victory cars to meet essential needs, and still not interfere with defense requirements.

The Jeep-in-mufti should be made to sell for less than $1,000, he added, and could be made available to the public under a limited rationing order so that anyone who actually needed a car, regardless of his priority rating under present regulations, could obtain one.

A man 40 years old was considered well past his prime only a few centuries ago.

Twinkle Watts bowls 250... a fancy little figure on ice.

Six-Year-Old Twinkle Watts Bowls 250 After 21 Months

By BURTON BENJAMIN
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—No, we're not going overboard over a 200 bowling score, except that this one is rolled by a 42-pound, 44-inch lassie named Twinkle Janna Watts.

Six-year-old Twinkle is a pocket-sized edition on how to bowl in 21 months. Slender and slight, capped by a mass of blonde curls, she tosses a 10 1/2 pound ball with the easy finesse of a Falcaro or Varipapa. She has all of the showmanship of a child movie star.

Most bowlers are still gutters after 21 months, but this little tyke has a healthy 150 average on all alley, a 250 game to her credit, a 567 three game series. She consistently hits 180, is usually good for a 200 game in her exhibitions.

Amazing bowling is not her only forte. Twinkle twinkles on ice. She is one of the finest young figure skaters in the country, although she has only been at it a few weeks longer than bowling.

Pin boys helped her roll a duck-pin ball against regular wood, guided her parents to let her bowl. In her first full game with a small ball, she rolled a remarkable 60.

Pampa Upset By Victims Of Sandies

The Harvesters lost their first district basketball game last night at Borger, 21 to 19.

Last week the Amarillo Sandies downed the Borger Bulldogs 47 to 27 in a game at Amarillo in which the Bulldogs held their own during the first half. The Sandie first string and Coach Hull were in the stands last night watching the game.

It was Borger's game except for the first quarter. Borger led 7-3 at the end of the first quarter, 10 to 7 at the half, but by virtue of a flock of free shots the Harvesters were ahead 13 to 10 at the end of the third quarter.

The Harvesters were doped to win, but expected a battle. The only comparison between the two teams was in the Perryton tournament which Pampa won. Borger made such a poor showing at Perryton that it was figured they would offer little district competition.

Briggs won the game in the last minute of play with a daring one from center. The Harvesters missed all of their shots but five and they shot no less than 40 times from the scoring zone around the basket.

Remember that the true "set offense" system calls for a specific play. The key man in the attack usually signals the play, either by dribbling or passing when he gets the ball, by the direction in which he dribbles or passes, or by some other pre-arranged signal.

Pampa Not Entered This Season In Boxing League

Eight teams have entered the North Plains School Boxing League and a ninth may be admitted.

An effort to clarify the rules and stiffer enforcement of rules has been voted by member schools for this season. Chief complaint last season was the sweating down of boys to make lower weights before being weighed in, and then the adding of weight until 10 and 12 pounds difference in weights resulted by fight nights.

At Dallas, Baylor's Bears outlasted the Southern Methodist university Mustangs, 45 to 41, in an overtime bout.

Winners of only three of their 12 earlier games, the Cadets were supposed to crumble before the Owls. Instead, they won, 36 to 34, with Bill Henderson leading the way.

That tossed the Owls out of a tie for first place and left Arkansas and Baylor the only undefeated teams in the league.

Some teams, notably Manhattan and Penn State, have gone so far as to call signals in football style.

Eastern colleges picked up this style from the pros, but "eastern style" is a misnomer now. Sam Barry at Southern Cal is a strong advocate of this attack and Coach McMillen uses it effectively at Minnesota. Nat Holman at City college, Paul Mooney at Columbia, and Elmer Ripley at Columbia are a few of the eastern coaches who have used it.

Benny Hogan Wins Open On Final Green

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 14 (AP)—Championship golf still pays off on the man who can get 'em down when the chips are down.

Little Benny Hogan proved this when he played the David to Jimmy Thomson's Goliath yesterday, cracking the husky California professional with one spectacular shot on the 18th green.

Hogan, using a golf shot instead of a slingshot, felled the California giant with a birdie four on the last green—a birdie that brought peace and calm to thousands of nervous dollars wagered on the Little Hershey, Pa., expert.

Thomson overhauled the first green when he whistled into a tree, slanted and fourth and pulled ahead by three strokes.

Good natured Jimmy failed to wilt, however, and pulled up on even terms on the 14th. Neither player could be labeled better than good at this stage, but they were handicapped by a gallery of 4,000 which trampled on their heels and in their hair.

Thomson threatened to go into the lead on the 17th when Benny's tee shot whistled into a tree, slanted and fourth and pulled ahead by three strokes.

Minor Leagues Will Bear Brunt Of Selective Draft

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—In the critical days of 1918, when the famous "work or fight" edict came out of Washington, the baseball season was smothered out on Labor Day.

Baseball, they point out, is entertainment for millions of Americans and it is a livelihood for the many thousands of persons who participate—either as players or as club owners, managers, stenographers, grounds keepers and ticket takers.

As a business it will be called upon for the same sacrifices and hardships as other enterprises. Its personnel already is being heavily tapped by the military services, its equipment is subject to the same priorities that affect everyone else, and its finances are in jeopardy because of the uncertainty of attendance.

Major league players who have gone into the armed forces include Hank Greenberg, Bob Feller, Cecil Travis, Buddy Meyer, Hugh Mulcahy and Sam Chapman. Others will be called before the season starts.

During the last war attendance continued good, and the leaders of both leagues expect the interest of fans to remain high in spite of the new hostilities.

Both the National and American leagues will hold meetings in New York early next month to consider problems resulting from the war, but in the meantime all club owners are going ahead with arrangements for their usual spring training programs and for the season to follow.

The minor leagues, of course, are going to bear the brunt of war's blow. Since the first draft in the fall of 1941 approximately 300 minor league players have joined the army and navy. Most of the players in the majors are married, but the boys in the class B, C and D leagues for the most part are younger and single.

THIS IS THE PIVOT ATTACK SYSTEM as originally introduced by Chuck Dehnert of the old New York Celtics. Taking his position (Circle No. 2), he was the hub of the attack, taking passes from outside and passing to Circle No. 1 or Circle No. 3 as they cut by him.

Remember that the true "set offense" system calls for a specific play. The key man in the attack usually signals the play, either by dribbling or passing when he gets the ball, by the direction in which he dribbles or passes, or by some other pre-arranged signal.

Now, with the offense covered, we'll go into basketball's current "hot potato"—the defense—for the next discussion.

Police Open File To Record Tires

AUSTIN, Jan. 14 (AP)—State police have opened a master file to record the serial numbers of tires stolen anywhere in the state.

Assistant Director Fred Hickman said local officers will be asked to report the number of all tires stolen and recovered.

By means of the file, he said, ownership can be traced.

He stressed the importance of the serial numbers of tires because this is the best means of identification.

ODDITY

Peter Cooper, in building the "Tom Thumb," first steam locomotive to haul a passenger train in the United States, in 1830, used musket barrels for boiler tubes.

"Bopa vija," or "old clothes," is the name Peruvians use for meat that is boiled and then fried.

Uncle Sam In Need Of Stenographers

The government needs stenographers for National defense. One is prone to think of National defense in terms of soldiers, sailors and marines. But there are many types of defense work behind the lines.

A large army of civilian personnel is now on duty as stenographers in the government service to take the dictation of the thousands of executives and administrative officers, and transcribe it into typewritten documents.

Some of this material is of lasting importance. Some of it will set into motion government events of historical consequence.

It is estimated that the government has approximately 85,000 stenographers, typists and secretaries on the payroll. Many young men and women are responding to the call.

Thousands more are needed. Aside from the present emergency, the opportunities for stenographers in the government service are favorable. Good stenographers are always in demand. The positions pay $1,440 a year to start, with a good chance for advancement to positions of greater responsibility, such as secretarial positions. In the case of those who have the ability.

The examination announced by the Civil Service Commission for stenographers is open until further notice. The examination consists solely of a dictation test at 96 words a minute and transcription of notes.

All persons who can qualify are urged to apply now.

The stenographer examinations are held at several hundred cities throughout the United States. In order to arrange for greater convenience to applicants, the commission is planning to increase the number of places where the examinations will be held.

SERIAL STORY

TAMBAY GOLD

BY SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS

Copyright, 1941, NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Mom Banner sets up "Feederia" lunch wagon at run-down Tambay Plantation owned by Judd and Mrs. Judd, last of aristocratic Maury's, and characters are Judd, Oliver, Welliver, Judd, Mom's pet skunk, Old Swoboy, Slovene refugee "Doc" Oliver is harboring football star Angel Todd, who is making strong play for Judd, dislikes "Doc" whose course he is flunking. Mom and Judd consult lawyer Maurie Sears about building tourist camp at Tambay. He tells them Sheriff Hollister Mowry, distant "cousin" of the Maury's, believes in Tambay gold legend. Mom wonders if Judd is falling for Angel, skunk "Doc" and Sears also interested in her.

BOLDBUGS FROM BROADWAY

CHAPTER IX

EVERYTHING went cockeyed, that misty Saturday. First, Doc got loose and scared half a bus-load of convention-bound schoolmarmos off the premises. Floozy gets fifteen lunches, good for forty cents average, making six dollars. The establishment couldn't afford to lose. When I told Doc where he got off, he turned sulky on me and crawled into a bush, and wouldn't come out until Old Swoboy showed up and took him fishing.

Along about five o'clock a load of Florida grapefruit rolled in and Marty Spurgeon, an Ohio boy that I hadn't seen since 1938, climbed down.

"Marty," I said, "you're sick."

"So what?" he said. "This car goes has to be in Raleigh tonight. That's as may be," I said. "Stick out your tongue."

He did. It looked like a second-hand mink tipper. I dug out my clinical thermometer and pushed it into his face.

"One hundred and four," I said, adding half a degree to impress him.

"O. K., Mom," he said. "Trot out the old medicine chest."

"Marty," I said. "It's the hospital."

Well, he started to beef, and then he started to cough and in a minute he had both hands to his chest, and his eyes got scared. The chills had struck him. It was pneumonia, all right. Because if for it heavy, these 24-hour drivers. So I boosted him in and wrapped him up and delivered him at Leverton Hospital.

"Who's going to guarantee his bill?" the little punk at the desk wanted to know.

"I am," I said, and I stuck a fistful of bills under his nose, and the fist. "Satisfactory?"

WELL, I'd done my good deed for the day, and what did I get for it? Trouble. Because if I'd been on the job, maybe I could have headed off that mixed party of four. They came in a five-thousand-dollar limousine dragging the frossest kind of trailer, a regular plush art, and made themselves at home. I didn't like the kind of sounds coming from the outfit. Before looking into it, I made the rounds. Doc was back in his box, smelling of fish as usual after a spell with his pal, Old Swoboy. Doc was inside the stockade checking up on his day's take. Judy was in the Feederia talking with Maurie Sears, who had developed a Tambay habit.

A well-dressed bird was looking under the hood of the high-priced car. He turned around and looked me up and down, and said in a voice to match his dead pan: "Got anything fit to eat?"

A blonde floozie with marcelled hair stuck her head out of the trailer.

"Hey, Bernie! Ask that fat, gray which can't we get some service here," she said. "I'm running this ranch. You aren't our line of trade."

"Yeah? I'll take a look after dinner. If we like it we stay." Then he handed me a fishy stare. "You wouldn't want to start anything in the line of trouble, would you?"

Well, I wouldn't. Not with his kind. I've seen plenty shooting in my day. And I knew this lad was bad. If I'd had a bunch of my trickies there to start any, now, I might have felt different. Bernie and his fat-faced friend Fick strolled over, to where Doc was standing outside his stockade.

Bernie said: "We're a couple young mining men from Broadway and 42nd Street. Ever hear of Broadway, fella?"

"Yes."

Doc pointed to his 'keep out' sign. "You'll be wasting your time," he said.

One of the broads in the trailer began to yell for Bernie. Back of her, the other frilla was using language like it don't do a camp a bit of good.

Judy came out of the Feederia with Maurie Sears after her.

"What awful people, Mom!" she said. "You're not going to let them stay, are you?"

Maurie Sears said quietly: "May I handle this for you, Mrs. Baumer?"

"What would you do?" I asked him.

"Haven't you a pistol on the place?" he asked.

"I have, but you don't get it. Why, it's a cinch that those two gorillas have got an automatic apiece, and likely or not a tommy-gun stowed away in the trailer. They'd dot you up like a sieve before you got near 'em."

Doc came out of his stockade and joined us.

"Can I be of help?" he said.

"Another Christian martyr," I said. "Do you want to qualify for an epitaph?"

I sent Nollie to crack up some ice and put it in a pitcher. I carried it over to the plush car, myself. The two rats got sociable, after a couple of drinks. As soon as I could break away I came back to my gang.

"Just what I hoped," I said. "The youngest frilla is country bred. That's liable to help."

RED RYDER

What'll It Be?

I GOT Doc out of his box and gave him a little soothing talk. Bernie met me at the door. He took a gander at Doc, snuggling quiet and peaceful in my arms.

"What's that?" he said.

"A friend of mine," I said and I set him carefully down on the floor, hoping that he wasn't going to get hurt. His gal let out an awful screech.

"It's a skunk!"

"Nuts!" Bernie said and made a back-reach. The doll's shriek near tore a hole in the roof.

Well, the bullet struck the floor close enough to jar Doc. He was used to polite company; all the fuss and yelling didn't go so good with him.

"Did he knock that bunch for a row of shambles!"

It was worse than a fire panic. They got stuck in the door, all yowling and clawing like a tangle of cats.

Bernie was waving his gat around like crazy, until Doc took it away from him and tossed it over the palings. Then Doc held his nose with his left hand and look the gangster's arm with his right, led him out to the road and advised him to keep going. The ape had fallen over the bank, which was all right, and was swimming across the stream.

We towed the trailer half a mile downwind and left it in a clearing. The camp wasn't too pleasant that night, on account of the breeze being wrong.

"What shall I do with the gun?" Doc asked me.

"Keep it," I said. "A tourist camp is no Sunday school. It might come in handy. I'll give you some lessons." He nodded and put it in his pocket.

We saw no more of the couple young mining men from Broadway, but we heard plenty about that night's work. It was a swell ad for the Feederia and it made Doc the best known character in the county.

Industry Fails To Obtain Change In 40-Acre Rule

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 14. (AP)—The oil industry today was in a better position regarding priorities on equipment but apparently was making little headway toward any broad relaxing of the 40-acre spacing rule.

The OPM issued a full priorities order, giving the industry the highest ratings so far. An A-1-A rating was granted for materials needed to repair refinery breakdowns. Equipment used for prospecting work were given an A-1-E rating, and an A-W rating for wildcat drilling.

The OPM said that to prevent waste of equipment in place, wells started before December 23 would be given materials for their completion.

An additional order, M-68-C, prohibits use of materials for new service stations, bulk plants and other stationary marketing facilities.

Coordinator Ickes said however that such an order should insure operators of adequate material needed for maintenance of present marketing equipment.

Amending its original 40-acre spacing order, the OPM calls for consolidation of all separate property interests within the appropriate 40-acre area surrounding the designated well location.

Such a ruling was viewed here as necessary to cope with the problem of office space.

Oil men took the amended orders in OPM as an indication that efforts made in some quarters of the industry to obtain a change in the 40-acre spacing rule would be unsuccessful.

In the field, the Oil and Gas Journal reported 571 completions for the week, compared to 554 a week ago, and 462 a year ago.

Dick Hanley Named Marine Corps Major

CHICAGO, Jan. 14 (AP)—It's Major Dick Hanley now.

The former Northwestern football coach has been notified of his promotion to that rank in the marine corps reserve and soon expects a call to Quantico, Va. The marines may also get Barney Ross, former world lightweight and welterweight ring champion, who has applied for enlistment. Ross expects to appear for his physical examination next week.

New Defense Setup Formed

Gray county defense councils were fully organized and ready to function, County Judge Sherman White, county coordinator, announced today.

Under the setup, there will be only two councils in the county. One of these will serve commissioners precinct 1 (LeFors), precinct 2 (Pampa), and precinct 3, the southwestern part of the county, while McLean (precinct 4) will have a council of its own to serve that area.

For Pampa and LeFors and precincts 1, 2, and 3 the defense council consists of E. J. Hanna, chairman, Steve Matthews, city manager, Mrs. Otis Pumpfrey, E. J. Dunigan, Jr., Frank Culbertson, Doyle Osborne, and Don Conley, all of Pampa; F. E. Martin, Phillips Camp, and E. J. Diehl, G. W. Ross, and Mrs. Ralph Ogden, all of LeFors.

Heading the entire setup for the county will be the county judge as county coordinator. Under him will be the executive committee composed of Mayors Fred Thompson of Pampa and W. P. Wall of LeFors, and Garnet Reeves, Pampa BCD manager, executive secretary.

Ex-officio members of the defense council will be the Gray county by-rationing board, composed of James B. Massa, chairman, and Harry V. Matthews, both of Pampa, and J. A. Ashby of McLean.

Headquarters for the defense council will be the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development office.

Under the executive committee will operate a network of telephone telegraph, radio, and newspapers to serve as communications, with the executive secretary being liaison officer.

First work of the council will be to provide for the training of auxiliary firemen, auxiliary police, first aid workers, and air raid wardens. Training in first aid will be required in all branches.

Organization of defense councils for precincts 1, 2, and 3 completed this week, followed meetings held here on Dec. 22 and Jan. 5, and conferences of the county judge and the LeFors mayor to see if the plan to reduce the overlapping units would be agreeable.

Under the executive committee will operate a network of telephone telegraph, radio, and newspapers to serve as communications, with the executive secretary being liaison officer.

Arturo Desprende, foreign minister of the Dominican Republic, was said to be slated to introduce such a resolution, with the support of the nine countries which have declared war and possibly of still others.

It was learned that Panama planned to present a proposal which would make effective article 15 of the Havana conference embracing a program for mutual assistance against aggression, but the extent of the proposal was not disclosed.

The Panamanian proposal also was expected to recommend certain economic measures to be taken both during and after the war.

Mexico's foreign minister, Ezequiel Padilla, disclosed that his nation, Colombia and Venezuela had formed a bloc which would seek a united Pan American severance of relations with "nations at war with the United States."

First Aid Course Will Be Organized Tomorrow Night

Men and women of Pampa and vicinity desiring to take a Red Cross first aid course are asked to meet at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night in the city commission room when classes will be organized. Mrs. F. M. Culbertson, chairman of volunteer workers, will preside.

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Junior high auditorium classes in nutrition will be organized. Nutrition, first aid, and home nursing are educational courses being offered to volunteer workers in civilian defense but all courses are open to the public. All courses will be repeated later.

Several first aid courses are being conducted but there are still many persons planning to take the course and they will be able to sign up tomorrow night. Pampa has 19 certified first aid instructors.

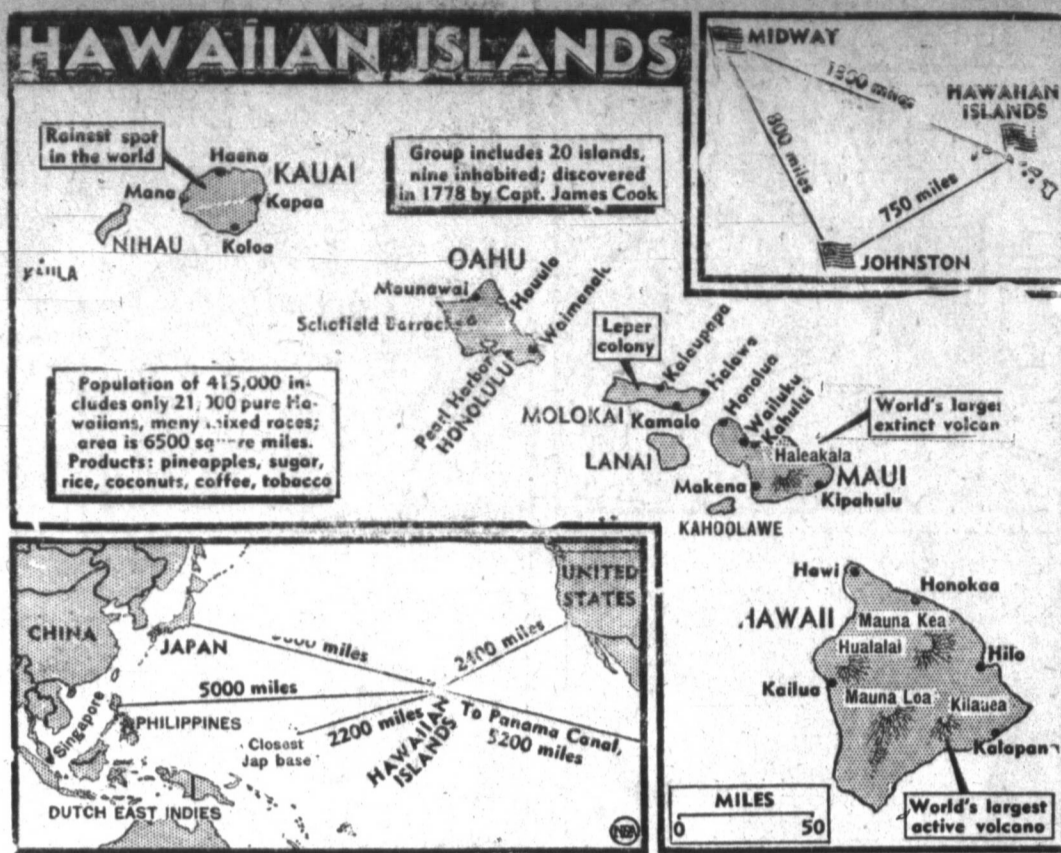

The first aid courses give instruction for emergency treatment of accident cases until a physician arrives. Valuable at all times, this knowledge is of particular importance in the war emergency. The course includes 20 hours of class instruction. Only cost is 60 cents for a text book.

President as to the progress of the program. He will no longer serve as director of the (OPM) priorities division but will devote his entire time to directing the production program.

Thus Nelson emerged as the combination Beaverbrook-Baruch of the war's production front battle. His board appeared roughly comparable to the war industries board which Bernard M. Baruch directed so astutely in World War I, and will exercise powers similar to those wielded by Britain's ministry of supply, headed by Lord Beaverbrook.

President Roosevelt's announcement setting up the war production board was couched in broad language, indicating that the details of the new supply organization were yet to be worked out.

One big question it raised was the future status of the office of production management, and its co-directors William S. Knudsen and Sidney Hillman. Heretofore, OPM has had responsibility for the munitions output. From time to time critics have charged it with shortsightedness in estimating the amount of vital raw materials needed for war effort, and with slowness in getting the nation's industry on an all-out war footing.

In the absence of word to the contrary, the presumption was that OPM like all other home front agencies interested in production or supply would come under the Nelson board's jurisdiction. There was some conjecture that Knudsen might be freed of considerable detail and utilized in a role that would make the most of his genius as a production trouble-shooter and organizer.

10 Per Cent Cut On City Taxes Offered January 31 Payers

A saving of 10 per cent on city taxes is open to Pampa taxpayers under an ordinance passed by the city commission at its regular meeting yesterday.

The ordinance provides that if a full year's city taxes are paid on or before Jan. 31, 1942, a 10 per cent discount will be allowed on the entire year. In such cases, there will be no penalty assessed. W. C. DeCORDOVA, city tax assessor collector, said today.

Heating, lighting assured

Well-lighted and well-warmed quarters for everybody are contemplated in the recently announced program of the priorities division, which will assure that adequate supplies of plumbing, heating, and electrical supplies will be available through the usual wholesale and retail channels.

Paper Hoarding Warning

Drastic action under priorities regulations may be taken against all persons who go beyond a "practicable working minimum" in building inventories, the OPM has warned all manufacturers, converters, users, and distributors of pulp, paper, and paper products.

Due to the unprecedented demand in 1941, the net supply of all types of paper at current levels of operation has risen to more than 21 million tons, OPM officials said, adding that the supply is not adequate to the establishment of unnecessarily high inventories for every consumer. Partly responsible for this heavy demand is the desire to increase inventories of supplies of pulp, paper, and paper products, and materials used in the manufacture, printing, and publishing thereof, brought on by fear of possible curtailment in the industry or increased prices.

Priorities regulation No. 1 now prohibits users from accepting delivery of materials for inventories in excess of a practicable working minimum.

Reports indicate that some paper processors are building up inventories so far in excess of minimum requirements that they are forced to rent additional warehouses to store the surplus.

Molasses Under Control

Fanciers of rum drinks may be disturbed by a new priorities order which prohibits use of molasses for production of beverage spirits. The molasses order restricts quantities to consumers and fixes the rates of consumption.

Restrictions on the use of ethyl alcohol and related compounds also are included in the priorities order, which requires producers of ethyl alcohol to use corn or grain instead of molasses insofar as possible.

On the North African front, British headquarters noted increasing Axis aerial activity but reported that advance imperial troops were driving forward in pursuit of Gen. Erwin Rommel's retreating army south of El Aghella, 90 miles southwest of the old battle sector of Agedabia.

"Further satisfactory progress was made and increasing pressure was brought to bear upon the enemy rearwards," a Cairo bulletin said.

Far to the east, on the Egyptian-Libyan frontier, British naval, land and air forces were reported intensively bombarding the Axis garrison isolated at Halfaya ("Hellfire") pass.

Axis communiques again stressed aerial assaults upon bomb-scarred Malta, British island stronghold in the central Mediterranean, which has weathered more than 1,000 raids.

While the British said they expected an Axis attempt to invade Malta was imminent, other quarters saw the increasingly violent attacks on Malta as an attempt to knock it out from the air—thus eliminating a flank threat from Malta against a prospective Axis thrust across the Mediterranean into the Middle East itself.

A summary of news from Washington is the list of information, Office for Emergency Management.

Hog Bristles Counted

A national inventory of imported hog bristles now is under way, as part of the recent priorities preference order reserving hog bristles more than three inches in length for military requirements. Hog bristles used in manufacture of paint brushes have been imported from China.

Fin. Lead Scrap Controlled

Priorities control over tin and lead scrap has been announced. Under the order, a scrap dealer may not accept deliveries of tin and lead scrap unless during the preceding 60 days he has disposed of scrap in an amount equal to inventory on the delivery date. Monthly reports by scrap dealers and consumers on all transactions also are required.

To assure a steady flow of copper scrap into war industries, the OPM recently has decreed that no deliveries of copper or brass scrap may be made except to a scrap dealer, or, if brass scrap, to a brass mill.

AUDITORIUM

space to be utilized for other public agencies.

To pay for the cost of the remodeling, the railroad commission is to pay one-half of the remodeling cost, this portion estimated at $3,000.

The city would collect this by a $75 a month rental from the railroad commission, until the cost of remodeling has been paid, after which the rent would be lowered.

Mayor Thompson explained that the commission did not want to take any action until it had assurance that the plan would be accepted by the railroad commission. In other words, the commission did not want to go to the trouble and expense of remodeling, then have the railroad commission move its offices elsewhere.

Plan Acceptable

To confirm this point, the mayor read a letter from City Manager Steve Matthews, dated January 8, to the railroad commission outlining the proposed remodeling and an estimate of the total cost, $6,000, were sent with the letter.

The mayor then referred to a letter signed by Bob Huff, deputy supervisor, stating that the railroad commission would move its office to the auditorium under the conditions outlined in the city manager's letter.

Why Auditorium Chosen

Reasons for utilizing the auditorium for offices, rather than permitting it to remain seldom used, were advanced by Walter Biery, Dan Gribben and others.

Mr. Gribben, Texas company superintendent, said the auditorium had served a useful purpose when it had been first built, that many meetings had been held there, but that today with the facilities of the junior high and high school open, the city hall auditorium was seldom used.

APL Endorses Move

One organization which uses the city hall auditorium to its great extent. That is the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute, which holds monthly meetings there.

Walter Biery, speaking for that group, said the API was perfectly willing to change its meeting place to the other auditorium.

He strongly recommended the remodeling and pointed out the benefit to be derived from the city obtaining some revenue from the space, whereas the auditorium is now merely wasted space.

What Office Means to Pampa

Other speakers giving their stand on the matter included the following:

Dan E. Williams, Danziger division superintendent.

"As far as our company is concerned, if the railroad commission office was moved from Pampa it would mean a lot of extra expense, such as occasioned by getting tenders and permits.

"The office is located now in Pampa, right in the center of the oil field, this is where it should be. I know that many independent operators and some of the major oil companies would leave Pampa if the railroad commission office was moved."

George Berlin, Skelly Oil company district superintendent.

"Our company is vitally interested in seeing the railroad commission offices remain here. At this office we file reports, inquire for information. The functions of the office are constantly growing.

William T. Fraser, insurance man, and former city commissioner told the group that Pampa had spent several hundred dollars in the past to provide for some federal agencies being located here, but there was no space available for many others.

Among the agencies other than the railroad commission City Manager Matthews mentioned that the Red Cross and the Girl Scouts are two that might desire space in the remodeled auditorium.

If Offices Moved

Mayor Thompson outlined these as part of the losses the city would suffer if the railroad commission office moved to Amarillo:

It would take an agency with a $30,000 annual payroll from Pampa, with from 11 to 25 employees and their families.

It would cost oil men individually from $15 to $25 more a month on telephone calls to the office, plus expense of automobile trips each week to Amarillo.

It would eliminate oil men coming to Pampa from Borger, Shamrock, Phillips, and all other points of the Panhandle field.

No Tax Increase

Basis of the opposition to the proposed remodeling, as voiced by C. D. Knight, was the contention that the move would add a heavy tax burden to the small taxpayer. He suggested that "if it is such a good thing, let the oil men build their own building."

Mayor Thompson showed how the revenue gained would benefit the city and pay for at least part of the cost and therefore taxes would not be increased.

On constructing a new building, the counter argument was that the commission would not wait for this, that it was doubtful if materials could be obtained now and that it was much cheaper to remodel than to build.

Knight and C. T. Harris were the principal speakers for the opposition, but both changed their views after the plan was fully explained, and stood with the others when the vote was taken.

The BCD has endorsed the plan, and the school board has given assurance that the auditorium of the junior high and high school will be open to the public, under certain necessary restrictions, if the city hall auditorium is remodeled.

Congress May Change Farm Price Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—President Roosevelt's indictment of the senate price control bill as the direct road to inflation was expected to force congress to abandon at least one of its two special concessions to farmers.

Some of the 11 senators and house members who will draft the final form of the wartime measure said, privately they probably would recommend to the two chambers the elimination of a provision linking farm parity prices—the yardstick for fixing farm ceilings—directly to industrial wages.

Departing from his usual custom of withholding comment on pending legislation, the president told a press conference yesterday that this provision, sponsored by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) would start a spiral of rising prices costly to the farmers and everyone else in the nation.

He said pointedly that such a formula would do more than anything else to saddle a huge debt on this and later generations and would encourage labor to demand higher wages to meet increased costs of living.

With equal force, Mr. Roosevelt, condemned an amendment by Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) which would give Secretary of Agriculture Wickard veto power over any farm price ceilings the price administrator might set. He said he considered it thoroughly unsound to give one agent of the government power to make a decision and another the power to veto it.

None of the five would confirm that view publicly last night, but there were strong indications that they would be inclined to "go along" with his ideas. None of the six senate conferees voted for the O'Mahoney amendment in the senate last week and only one of them, its author, voted for the Bankhead amendment.

The senate bill would forbid the fixing of a farm price ceiling at less than the 1919-1929 level, the market price on last Dec. 1 or Dec. 15, or below the level based on industrial wages. The house bill contained three separate floors, the 10-year average, the Dec. 1 market price and an additional level of 110 per cent of parity. Parity prices are those designed to yield farm income equal to that of 1909 to 1914.
