Jap Battleship Believed One Of 28 Vessels Sunk Or Damaged

Japs Suffer Most Disastrous Defeat

Vote Of Confidence In Churchill Seen

By D. WITT HANCOCK
 BATAVIA, Jan. 27 (AP)—A heavy Japanese warship sunk in the first day of Japan's disastrous effort to run the Straits of Macassar was identified tentatively as a battleship in a Dutch recapitulation of the enemy's losses.

This would raise Japan's toll to two capital ships so far. The first was the battleship Haruna, sunk by Capt. Colin P. Kelly, Jr., off the Philippines in the first days of the war.

A special Dutch communique said a "large warship," together with two cruisers and a transport, suffered direct hits with 660-pound bombs when Dutch fliers attacked the Japanese convoy. It is this "large warship" that now is believed to be a battleship.

The summary by authoritative sources said that in three days of a running Dutch-American air and sea assault on a great Japanese convoy in the narrow waters between the islands of Borneo and Celebes 28 enemy ships were sunk or heavily damaged and 13 warplanes downed.

Eleven of the ships were war vessels and 17 were transports, it said.

 LONDON, Jan. 27 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill presented Britain today with a picture of growing Allied might and unity today and demanded that parliament vote confidence in his government.

Against his frank admission that bad news had come from the Pacific ocean battlefield, he told the House of Commons:

United States troops which have landed in northern Ireland are only the vanguard of more to come; United States fighter planes will help defend Britain against air assault.

United States bombers will join the RAF in bombing Germany; Considerable reinforcements have reached the Malayan front in the past week.

"We are taking many measures with the United States to increase the security of Australia and New Zealand, sending reinforcements, arms, and equipment by the best routes."

"It is because I see the light gleaming behind the clouds and broadening upon our path," he said at the end of his candid report of the good and evil in Britain's war fortunes, "that I make so bold now as to demand a declaration of confidence of the House of Commons as an additional weapon in the armory of the United Nations."

At the close of the war leader's speech, the House of Commons began debate on Britain's war direction which Churchill will wind up with a brief concluding speech this week.

The thundering cheers that greeted his one hour and 24 minute accounting left no doubt how the House of Commons will vote when it finally puts the question of confidence to a test.

"We shall presently regain naval control of the Pacific and begin to establish effective superiority in the air," the prime minister predicted.

He pledged that the Malay peninsula and Singapore would be defended to the last inch and said

Three Dances To Be Given Here Friday

A part of the funds received by the Gray county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis from the celebration of President's Birthday Friday night can be used to assist the dependents of Gray county men in military or naval service of the United States who become a victim of infantile paralysis.

This radical departure in the use of funds, once strictly limited to care of infantile paralysis cases, is nation-wide, and was announced today by Basil O'Connor, president of the national foundation, after conferring with President Roosevelt.

Plans for the celebration of the President's birthday in Pampa are complete. There will be three dances given here. Half of the proceeds go to the Gray county chapter, half to the national foundation.

W. C. deCordova, city tax officer, has been named as treasurer for the dances. He will visit each dance and collect the funds.

All of the dances will start at 9 o'clock Friday night. It had previously been planned to start the Young Men's dance at the Junior High school gymnasium at 8 o'clock, but use of the place for some school activity has forced the time to be postponed.

In charge of the old timers dance will be the Lions club committee headed by R. R. Watson. Admission will be 50 cents a person.

Pinky Powell's orchestra will supply the music at the Southern club dance, which will be in charge of the Kiwanis club committee, headed by L. N. Atchison. Admission will be $1.10 a couple.

At the Pampa Country club, the Rotary club committee, headed by Emmett Ellis, will be in charge of an invitation dance. Admission will be $1.75 a couple.

There will be no advance sale of tickets, but tickets will be on sale at each of the places.

Each of the three service clubs will handle their respective dance, issue tickets, and account for funds to Mr. deCordova.

Heading the celebration of the President's birthday in Gray county this year is Ray Kuhn, chairman of the Gray county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and county chairman of the President's birthday celebration, D. L. Parker, and Dr. Roy A. Webb. Frank Peak is treasurer of the Gray county chapter.

Four Young Gunmen Held In Jail Here

City Rejects Plan To Move Shaw Hangar

W. H. Davis, 221 East Malone street, and J. W. Crisler, 422 North Cuyler street, didn't let a gun in the hands of a teen-age youth frighten them early last night, and as a result two youths and two girls are being held in city jail today facing several charges.

Besides being held in connection with the attempted hijacking of the two Pampa men, the quartet is being held in connection with hi-jackings and thefts in several Texas and New Mexico cities and the theft of a car in Kansas City, Mo.

One of the girls gave her age as 16 and her home Lee Summit, Mo., while the other girl said she was 19 and that her home was in Oklahoma City. One youth said he was 17, that his home was in Lee Summit, and that he was married to the 16-year-old girl. The other youth gave his age as 20 and his home as Independence, Mo.

Police were notified by W. H. Davis that he had picked up four hitchhikers near Kingsmill and that when they arrived in Pampa one of them drew a gun and ordered him to drive on into Oklahoma. Davis, instead of obeying the youth, turned into the Champlin Service station at the corner of Cuyler and Brown streets and told the youth with the gun to "go ahead and shoot."

Instead, the quartet plied out of the car and ran west on Brown street until they reached J. W. Crisler in his car. The youth with the gun ordered him to take them out of the city but he also refused and the four ran north on Russell street.

Davis and Crisler both notified police and a search for the quartet was organized. Officers found no trace of the wanted couples until about 10 o'clock when Officers J. R. Manning and Wayne Kelly saw two couples, answering the description given by Davis and Crisler, walking south on Cuyler street. They took them to the police station where the two Pampans identified them. A gun was taken from one of the youths, officers said.

Davis, in a statement to city officers, said he was returning from Panhandle, where he works, about 7 o'clock and that he picked up a girl hitchhiker a couple of miles

Camps Already Built For AEF In Ireland

Second AEF Mostly From Middle West

By RICE YAHNER
 WITH THE AEF IN NORTHERN IRELAND, Jan. 27 (AP)—From the vast wheatfields of Minnesota and the tall corn of Iowa, from the teeming factories of the cities—from nearly every one of the midwestern states, some 45,000 men—came the first American Expeditionary Force to land on these embattled islands in World War II.

They came to port yesterday in a convoy of dirty grey ships, crossing the submarine-infested Atlantic without the loss of a single life.

Hardened regular army troops, and many youthful selectees wearing the khaki for just a year made up the vanguard of several thousand American fighting men of the second AEF.

Like their fathers who preceded them in the last war over two decades ago, these eager and vital men from the farms and factories and barracks were "rarin' to go."

Like soldiers the flaming word over, one of their chief interests was girls.

To British soldiers snapped to attention as the Yanks marched toward their encampment, their first question, with a grin, was:

"What are the girls like?"

And they also wanted to know where they were going and where they were to fight. But the answers to military questions were couched in military secrecy.

The crowds of flag waving, cheering Britons that greeted their fathers of the last war, weren't at the docks yesterday. But the Yanks were not surprised.

With full knowledge that months ago they were to fight.

Russians Go After Hitler At Smolensk

(By The Associated Press)
 Russia's triumphant armies pressed a series of deadly flanking thrusts today against Adolf Hitler's headquarters at Smolensk, 210 miles west of Moscow, and advanced through a howling blizzard to threaten the German winter-line anchor at Velikie Luki, only 80 miles from the Latvian frontier.

Front-line dispatches said the recapture of German-held Rzhev, 130 miles northwest of Moscow, was "expected any minute" and that heavy Soviet pressure was being exerted against Orel, 200 miles southwest of Moscow, and against Belgorod, at the north end of the Donets river industrial basin.

On the North African front, British headquarters indicated that Imperial desert fighters had stiffened against the counter-offensive of Gen. Erwin Rommel's Axis armies after falling back 80 miles northeast of Agadaba.

Meanwhile, Prime Minister Churchill disclosed in London that British losses in the Libyan desert campaign totalled about 18,000 killed, wounded and captured but that Gen. Rommel "has lost three times" as many—a highly profitable transaction.

Churchill declared that British forces in Libya "never had more than 45,000 men against an enemy double that strength."

The London admiralty acknowledged the loss of the 31,000-ton British battleship Barham, which the Axis long had claimed as sunk.

Importance Of Good Neighbor Defenses Cited

Military, political, economical and cultural defenses of "Our Good Neighbor Policy" which has existed during the entire presidency of Franklin D. Roosevelt, were discussed by Dr. Anna Powell, professor of Latin American history at North Texas State Teachers college in Denton, at the fourteenth annual Founders' Day banquet of the Pampa branch of American Association of University Women held Monday evening in the Schneider hotel.

"A good neighbor is one who respects himself, and the rights of others," Dr. Powell, who has toured South America and Mexico and attended the Pan-American peace conference in Lima, Peru, stated.

"Since 1933, there has developed a closer cooperation among the American nations for the defense of the Western Hemisphere. More friendly relations between the United States and her Latin American neighbors have been secured by the non-intervention pact, which relinquishes the right of a nation to intervene in the internal affairs of another nation and by the Good Neighbor policy, by which the United States recognizes all of her Latin American neighbors as equals."

100 Enroll In Shorthand And Typing Classes

If there was any doubt in the minds of Pampa school heads that there might not be any demand for a course in shorthand and typing for adults, that doubt was "blitzed" last night.

There were 125 persons who lined the corridors of the high school and 109 of these signed to take the courses, which continue throughout the school year.

Students who wish to take typing are asked to meet at 7 o'clock tonight in 205 high school. Typing classes are to meet on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday nights, and on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday nights.

The schedule on shorthand is 7 to 8 p. m. on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday nights, and from 8 to 9 p. m. on the same nights. Advanced and beginners shorthand classes will be taught at both hours, alternately.

Typing will be taught each night from 7 to 8 p. m.

All classes will be held in the commercial department.

So many students wanted to enroll that a second teacher is needed for typing. This instructor will be Mrs. Dick Livingston.

February Allowable For Panhandle Cut

Panhandle operators are unable to understand the new allowable order issued yesterday by the Texas Railroad commission. Despite an increase in basic allowable, producers will be allowed to run less oil in February than in January.

The order continued the same number of shutdown days in February as in January and increased the allowable of nearly all fields, including the Panhandle. But there will be three less producing days in February which will mean that less oil will be produced.

Commission engineers explained the apparent conflict in the facts that the basic allowable was increased while the actual production of oil decreased, as follows:

In February prorated wells will be permitted to produce only 21 out of 28 days whereas in January they flowed 24 out of 31 days.

February Allowable For Panhandle Cut

Although the number of shutdown days is the same in each month, there will be fewer producing days in February.

Therefore, despite the increase of 14,567 barrels daily in the overall or basic, allowable, the smaller number of actual producing days will cause decrease in actual production.

Basic allowable for the Panhandle next month was set at 122,997 barrels compared with 120,511 barrels in January, or an increase of 1,586 barrels. But February will have only 21 production days while there will be a total of 24 production days in January. That will mean a reduction of several thousand barrels daily, operators declare.

Koreans, Old Jap Haters, Peril Tokyo's Back Door

By NEA Service
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The Japs have a "yellow peril" threat all of their own.
Figuratively crouching at the back door of the Mikado, while his troops battle on distant fronts, are 25 million Koreans, the bitterest Jap haters of them all.

KOREA: A dagger point at JAPAN.

They live in swarms on the big peninsula that juts out like a dagger from the Oriental mainland, cuts across between the Yellow and Japanese Seas and almost touches the Isles of Nippon.
They will tell you about the Japs in Korea sending men, women and children to the safety of churches to pray during uprisings against the conquering Nippense and how the invaders then set fire to the buildings and watched the pious throngs turned into screaming pyres behind locked doors.

The treachery against Koreans blossomed out when the country fell to the invader back in 1904. Time has healed no wounds and burning resentment has built up a gigantic potential Fifth Column in a land that is only an hour's boat ride from the Japanese industrial centers.

Without fighting equipment of their own, they have sent tens of thousands of men into China to carry on the fight against the Japs. Others work as spies. Still others have assassinated Japanese big game hunters and saboteurs.

"Early in 1935," he said, "I came across a Japanese book which spoke of 'Da! Dong Hap Bang'—the United States of Great East. It meant Jap hegemony. It meant exclusion of the white race from Asia."

"Later I read another Jap book: 'I! Mi Chun Chang Mi Rai Ki'—Japanese-American War in the Future. In my campaign of warning to my people, I started the first daily newspaper in Korea. The Japanese brought pressure upon my emperor and that weak man had me imprisoned seven years."

Released during the Russo-Japanese war, he came to this country, winning his A. B. degree at George Washington University, his M. A. from Harvard and his Ph. D. at Princeton.

Then he carried on his campaign against the Japanese, calling upon his countrymen in his native land and in China to blow up Jap ammunition dumps and plants, destroy railroads used by invaders, mine highways over which Jap army trucks roared, commit every act of sabotage possible and kill every Jap soldier they can.

KOREANS WANT TO FIGHT IN U. S. RANKS
In New York, meanwhile, Rev. Channing Linn, 31-year-old pastor of the Korean church and a student at Princeton, is spurring his countrymen on, too, and serving as a sparkplug in a drive to win permission for alien Koreans in this country to fight in the U. S. army.

Immediately after the Japanese stab-in-the-back at Pearl Harbor he called a meeting of prominent Koreans in the New York area and sent President Roosevelt a telegram asking that provisions be made so that alien Koreans can fight in the same ranks with the Americans. Decision is pending.

Koreans in this country have a special heartbreak. Although they are larger and more robust in stature than Japanese, they are frequently mistaken for their sworn blood enemies. As a result they have asked permission of the State Department to carry special identification cards with pictures and fingerprints.

Haggard Announces For Commissioner

John Haggard of Pampa today announced that he was a candidate for reelection as county commissioner of precinct 2.

In making this announcement, Mr. Haggard said:
"I have lived in this county for a half-century, and my past experience of eight years as a county commissioner has given me an insight into county problems that has been, I believe, of value to its citizens.

There is only one way to be guided on any problem, and that is by weighing the facts and basing your judgment on those facts and your past experience.

I believe in a straight-forward business administration of the county's business, and if re-elected will devote the same energy and thought I have been in the past to the job of representing precinct 2 in the county commissioners court."

U. S. Navy Outwits U-Boat School In Convoying Troops

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP)—The United States Navy apparently outwitted a veritable school of German U-boats in guiding the first trans-Atlantic troop convoy of this war safely to northern Ireland.

While official communications maintained silence on the subject, naval experts noted today that the probable period the convoy spent on the high seas had coincided with a time of intensive submarine activity in the western Atlantic. Quiet words of praise were spoken for the skill by which the soldiers were delivered without the loss of a man.

The ships put into the unidentified harbor yesterday and the troops, under command of Major General Russell P. Hartle, began moving out to the first camp to be occupied by American soldiers in the British Isles since the days of the doughboy.

The strategic purpose to be served by these units and other following contingents remained a closely-guarded military secret. But it was clear that they might either assist in defense of the British Isles, should Hitler try an invasion this spring, or take part in the much-discussed Allied invasion of the continent whenever the United Nations' high command may deem that feasible.

Rationing To Reduce Crude Oil Demand

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP)—The Interior Department forecast today that discontinuance of new car production, control of rubber stocks and rationing of tires would reduce domestic crude oil requirements next month to 4,101,800 barrels daily, or 36,600 less than the average daily consumption in January.
The figure for February nevertheless was 547,200 barrels more than actual demand in February, 1941, the department reported.

Texas Appears In Center Of War Production

(By The Associated Press)
Texas will play a leading role in the nation's wartime economy, Dr. F. A. Buechel, University of Texas business statistician, predicts.
Business activity in the state, 24 per cent over 1940 during the year just ended, has only scratched the surface of war-time production, Dr. Buechel said.
"It is only necessary to name a few of the strategic war materials, actual and potential—such as petroleum, magnesium, various fibers, food products, and vegetable oils—to see how Texas automatically appears in the center of war production," he said.

Morris Announces For Senate Seat

AUSTIN, Jan. 27. (AP)—Rep. G. C. Morris of Greenville, sponsor of the $25,000,000 omnibus bill enacted last year, today announced his candidacy for the senate seat held by Claude Isbell of Rockwall.
Morris, hard-natural resource constitutional amendment rejected by the legislature, is serving his fourth two-year term in the house of the house of representatives.
The senatorial district he seeks to represent is composed of Rockwall, Collin, Hunt and Rains counties.

TAMBAY GOLD

DOC—FAIR-HAIRED BOY

CHAPTER XXI

"Why don't you borrow Dolf for a police dog?" she said.

"Of course I'm afraid. I'm not a fool. I have no ambition to be shot."

I guess Juddy had never heard that tone out of him before. She had it coming to her all right.

Angel showed up, looking like something the Salvation Army had salvaged.

"What's it all about, Big Boy?"

"Money. Got any to spare?"

"No. How much?"

"Seven hundred dollars," she said like a dying swan.

"I can add three to four."

"The bet," I said, "Juddy's bet."

"It wasn't my fault."

"I never is."

"When she passed me the ice pitcher, I went on the mazz."

"Yeah?" I said. "Was it dice, draw, or dominoes?"

He let out a groan. "What does it matter now? The game was crooked. Mom, I could pay you back sure in two months."

"I haven't got any seven hundred dollars," I said.

He put his head between his big hands. "How'll I ever square it with Juddy?" he moaned.

Angel looked over at him and dropped his voice. "You could get it from him, Mom," he said.

"Yes," I said. "But he'd have a right to know what it was for."

Angel thought that over. "It's all right," he said. "He'd better not do anything. I've got plenty on him."

"You're crazy," I said. "Well, if I haven't, I will have. Enough to can him out of his job."

HE was so cocksure that I got uneasy. I didn't like the smell of it.

"Run along, little boy," I said. "I'll pull you out of this hole. But it's the last."

I went over and stood in front of Doc and looked him in the eye.

"Doc," I said. "What would you do if I told you I needed seven hundred dollars?"

"Let you have it?"

"Just like that? Without knowing what, which, or why?"

"She's in love with Doc. You heard what Scar said that day."

"I didn't hear her say anything, though."

"She didn't deny it." He tried to smile. "Strange as it may seem, she doesn't even like me."

"Get this, Loren Oliver," I said. "Juddy's a pretty wise guy about a lot of things. But her own self isn't one of them."

ANGEL got his nerve up and owned up to Juddy about his drunk. Of course he didn't say anything about the money.

He handed it over. His explanation was all right with Juddy; she didn't ask any embarrassing questions.

She even became more friendly with Loren Oliver, which Angel didn't like too well.

It was no secret that she'd be tickled pink when the Welliver lease was out and she could clear away the stockade.

I don't believe she had any suspicion of how Doc felt about her. Somehow he didn't shape up that way in her natural history book.

It took a movie queen to alter her views. Lolita Marquesas was billed in Cherrington, only a hundred miles away.

"Spanish Love," Angel Todd brought the news.

"Look me over," he said to Juddy and me. "I'm the most important guy in Welliver University."

"We're throwing a swell dinner for her at Rogues Hall," he said. "You're invited; both of you. Friday at seven. Evening dress."

"Thanks," I said. "Movie stars are no treat to me. I've been in show business myself."

"I'd love to go," Juddy said. Angel couldn't come for her, having the Marquesas on his hands.

"Who'd you think the star made a play for?"

"Prexy Gilchrist," I said. "They always shoot for the biggest game on the preserve."

"Not this time," Angel said, and Juddy chirped. "Loren Oliver!"

"God save the king!" I said. Angel did the explaining. "Some of the boys were ragging me on the way back from Cherrington about Tambay and somebody mentioned your Feederia, Mom, and Lolita piped up and said, 'Feederia? What's that? So Roges Owen told her about Mom. And she said 'Oh, I'd love to eat in one of those funny things.' Then Van Clark chips in and says, 'Loren Oliver's got the inside track with Mom. He's her star boarder.' Lolita asked a lot more questions and then made us stop on the road and telephone Oliver to come to the dinner, and he was to sit next to her."

"How did they get on?" I said. "Talked their fool heads off," Juddy said.

I was curious. "What did they find to talk about?"

"Wandos, by Cripes!" Angel said. "And she made a date with him for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning—this morning, that is."

That made me uneasy. (To Be Continued)

Plans Made To Warn Texans Of Enemy Raiders

DALLAS, Jan. 27. (AP)—Elaborate plans have been made to warn Texans of enemy air raiders.

On their way to California today to observe the system used on the coast are Roy L. Wade, executive secretary of the war duties office of the state department of public safety, and Ranger W. E. Naylor.

They represent Gov. Coke Stevenson, state defense coordinator, and Col. Homer Garrison, director of the public safety department and defense police mobilization chairman.

The state air raid warning system is being worked out, Wade said, at the direction of the third interceptor command, Drew Field, Tampa, Fla.

First word of enemy planes will come, under the system, from "spotters" of the aircraft warning service. These have been designated and are on duty at many points over the state.

The news will be flashed to regional information centers manned by state police, at Houston, San Antonio and San Angelo. From these centers, necessary orders will go to district air raid warning centers, local control centers in the various cities and to each county sheriff's office.

Local control centers, ordered to give the air raid signal, will order fluctuating or warbling blasts on sirens or whistles. Before that, however, a local coordinating board will have gathered to direct emergency activities of fire, police, ambulance and utility services.

Air raid wardens will go on duty at the sound of the siren or whistle. A special telephone service will become available to the coordinating board during the raid. Blinking traffic and street lights will signal private citizens to black out.

Power will not be cut off, however, and lights may be kept on in homes, offices and factories, provided no light shows outside.

A steady, two-minute sound of siren or whistle is the all-clear signal.

Flier Killed As Two Planes Collide

PUNDETON, Ariz., Jan. 27. (AP)—W. Pendleton, 22, of Fort Smith, Ark., bailed out and escaped the fate of his roommate, T. R. Hollandsworth, 23, of Dallas, Texas, who was killed Sunday when two planes crashed after locking wings over the desert.

The planes, part of a formation of five being ferried east, crashed on the isolated Papago Indian reservation, 71 miles west of Tucson. Pendleton, a civilian flier, was uninjured. Hollandsworth's body was taken

FUNNY BUSINESS

HOLD EVERYTHING

Hollandsworth's body was taken to the Pampas Hotel in Pampa, Texas, where it was identified by his mother, Mrs. J. M. Hollandsworth, 55, of Dallas.

The bodies of the two pilots were found in the wreckage of the planes, which were flying from Fort Smith, Ark., to Pampa, Texas, for a flight school.
