

Singapore Still Putting Up 'Stout Resistance Against Great Odds'

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
A terse, dramatic message from Lieut.-Gen. A. E. Percival disclosed that British defenders of Singapore still were putting up "stout resistance" against great odds today as Japanese sea armies pressed within two miles of the city's heart.

Army Minister Francis Forde of Australia said he received the message from Gen. Percival at 1:30 p. m. Singapore time (2:30 a. m. Eastern War Time).

Even the Tokyo radio spoke of "firm resistance" at Singapore. In the Dutch Indies, the N. E. I. command reported a temporary slackening of the many-pronged Japanese drive aimed at Java and ominous hints that the United Nations high command might be preparing to fall back to Australia.

Dispatches from Batavia said the Dutch, fully aware that the fall of Singapore would open the floodgates for an all-out Japanese assault upon Java and Dutch Sumatra, were determined to resist against any odds.

"We will go on fighting and damn the consequences!" a semi-official spokesman declared. The spokesman said the Dutch would never abandon their rich, tropic islands without a fight, even if Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell's supreme Allied command decided the best strategy would be to surrender Java and Sumatra bases and withdraw to Australia.

The Dutch command said scorched-earth destruction of the harbor works at Japanese-occupied Macassar, chief port on Celebes island north of Java, had been so effective that "the enemy will not find anything of use to him."

The Macassar harbor area was reported still in flames. In the 14-day-old siege of Singapore, latest official dispatches said Japan's invasion hordes were pressing violent air and artillery attacks on the last toehold of British defense, with heavy fighting raging about the Macarthe reservoir in the center of the island.

"Shelling has been frequent on forward areas and on Singapore town," a British communique said, belying a Rome radio broadcast yesterday which asserted that the Japanese flag was already flying over Raffles Square in downtown Singapore.

MIGHTY NAZI WARSHIPS ESCAPE THRU CHANNEL

White Russia Penetrated By Soviet Force

(By The Associated Press)
Russia's triumphant armies reached White Russia today, striking into the German-held republic bordering Poland.

Soviet front-line dispatches said that Russian ski troops, dashing across heavy snow, had penetrated German lines into White Russia. The locale of the penetration was not given, but Russian forces sweeping down from the Valdai hills northwest of Moscow were known to have reached Toropets, about 65 miles from the White Russian border, more than two weeks ago.

White Russia lies west of Smolensk, key German base on the Dnieper river, 230 miles west of Moscow.

The great Soviet break-through might easily jeopardize the whole German north flank around Leningrad.

Russians reported the death of more than 2,400 Germans and continued Red army advances on the mainland front while Red navy marines captured a strongly fortified hill overlooking Sevastopol, the major port of the Crimea.

A German infantry battalion was dispersed in the Sevastopol operation, the Soviet government newspaper Evenska said. This action was reported at a time when German air squadrons are active in the Kerch area, on the eastern end of the Black Sea peninsula, evidently to hamper Red army efforts to reorganize for a new offensive.

Axis advances to Bern, Switzerland, said the first contingent of Russian workers to be used in the Nazi exploitation of Europe's labor resources—miners from the Ukraine—had arrived in Germany Tuesday.

The Berlin correspondent of the Milan Corriere Della Sera said many tens of thousands of additional Russians would be transferred from occupied territory to release more Germans to work in arms and munitions factories.

U. S. Must Fight From Australia, Says Cecil Brown

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (AP)—Cecil Brown, CBS reporter speaking from Sydney, Australia, declared today that because of the imminent fall of Singapore and the Japanese threat to the Dutch East Indies, Australians now feel there is only one method to ward off an attack on Australia hereafter: they are counting on the United States to keep the Japanese out.

"The argument voiced most often," Brown added, "is that America should fight from Australia, not so much for this country as for America herself."

"If the Allies are driven out of Java and even northern Australia, then all of the vital bases for air attacks on the Japanese positions—"

Radio Industry To Manufacture Arms

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—The war production board announced today it had ordered the $200,000,000 radio manufacturing industry to convert its entire facilities to arms production within the next four months.

If the conversion is not accomplished within that period, the board declared in a virtual ultimatum, the government will take over unconverted plants, break up their organization, and shift their equipment and labor "to other parts of the economy where they could be mobilized for war production."

The ultimatum was laid down, it was learned, at a meeting of representatives of 55 radio set manufacturers by R. R. Guthrie, assistant chief of the WPB bureau of industry branches.

The civilian output of the industry recently was ordered cut 40 percent under 1941 production, as a preliminary to the award of some $2,000,000,000 in arms contracts to radio manufacturers.

Officials said it was expected that the major portion of the conversion could be completed within three months.

Guthrie observed that for some portions of the industry, production of radio, signal corps, detection and similar equipment needed by the armed forces appeared impracticable.

"This does not mean that conversion to war products must not be accomplished," it will be impossible to assume any longer that

Hubbard Gets First Letter From Son Since December 3

Glen Hubbard, on board a cruiser somewhere in the Pacific ocean, is "not busy," according to a letter received today by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall "Guy" Hubbard. Mr. Hubbard is manager of the paint department at Acme Lumber company.

The letter was the first word they had received from their son since December 3, four days before the attack on Pearl Harbor.

The brief letter failed to tell where Glen's ship was located or where it had been. Glen said he hadn't had a chance to write sooner because he had been plenty busy and had seen plenty of action.

Glen graduated from Fort Worth high school and San Marcos Military academy. He enlisted in the navy on Feb. 1, 1940.

Doors At API Meeting Will Open At 7:00

Doors at the Junior High school auditorium, facing the 100 block on West Browning avenue, will open at 7 o'clock tonight 30 minutes before the American Petroleum Institute meeting which will include showing of technical pictures taken recently in Alaska and an interesting paper on acid treatment of wells.

The largest crowd to attend a meeting in years is expected to be on hand at 7:30 o'clock sharp. In fact, API chapter officers anticipate an overflow crowd. No admission will be charged.

Jack Lamb, noted sportsman and photographer, will be here in 3-5 minutes.

Public Invited To See Passion Play Picture

The auditorium of the First Baptist church is expected to be filled to capacity tonight when hundreds of Pampans take advantage of a rare opportunity to see the world-famous "Passion Play" motion picture to be screened there at 8 o'clock.

The film, based on the Freilburg and Oberammergau productions, was actually produced in Europe, the Holy Land, and Egypt, and is being brought to Pampa by the National Bureau of Religious and Educational Films.

It was pointed out that the picture is a departure from the usual movie presentations of the life of Christ frequently shown in churches, and is presented with sound equipment and with special organ and choral music. The picture, making its initial tour through this section, is being shown in the largest churches in the United States and Canada to immense audiences, and within a few months more than one million people have seen it, it was stated.

According to H. Paul Briggs who is in charge of arrangements for the showing of the picture, no admission tickets are necessary, the presentation being free of charge. A free-will offering will be taken to assist in paying the expenses of bringing the production to Pampa.

Preceding the picture Ken Bennett will give a brief organ concert. The public is cordially invited, Mr. Briggs said, and urged that all come early in order to be seated before 8 p. m.

Navy Sunk Five Jap Warships February 1

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—The navy's surprise raids on Japanese bases in the Marshall and Gilbert Islands proved today to have inflicted even heavier punishment on the enemy than first reports hinted.

The batteries and bombers of Pacific fleet units got these results, in a lightning offensive sweep: They sank five Japanese warships—one a 17,000-ton converted aircraft carrier.

They sent 11 Japanese auxiliary vessels to the bottom. They destroyed at least 41 enemy warplanes, either in aerial dogfights or on the ground.

And they plastered destruction all over the important naval and air bases which the Japanese had prepared to threaten the flank of the U. S. supply route to Australia and the southwest Pacific.

The news that five warships had been bagged was a gratifying surprise to the capital, for the initial reports the day after the raid indicated that the only victims of the U. S. first task force had been Japanese auxiliary vessels.

Besides the 17,000-ton converted carrier, the Japanese lost a light cruiser, a destroyer and two submarines. The carrier was believed to have a capacity of 25 or more warplanes, and it appeared probable that some of these were lost when the ship was destroyed, although the navy made no specific claims in that regard.

Another gratifying disclosure about the vigorous raid was that a flying admiral directed the operation, Vice-Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr., commander of carrier division one in the aircraft battle force, commanded the well-balanced task force.

Ewing And Coffee File Candidacies

Friday the 13th today had no fears for Judge W. R. Ewing and Henry C. Coffee, both long-time residents of the Panhandle, who announced their candidacies for district judge and county commissioner of precinct No. 2, respectively.

Judge Ewing is a candidate for reelection and Mr. Coffee is a candidate a second time for commissioner. He was runner-up in the last election in 1940 for the same office. Mr. Coffee has lived in various counties of the Panhandle, including Gray, Carson, Ochiltree, Roberts. He was county commissioner in Ochiltree county four years. He has lived here six years. He is married, has a wife and eight children. He has been in the cattle business most of his life.

Judge Ewing has been judge of the 31st district for a score of years, and has been a Pampa resident for a decade. He was the first court reporter in the district, was in private practice at Miami and at Higgins for four years, and was district attorney for eight years before being elected judge. He is active in civic affairs.

Thornton To Speak On 'Our Every Day Job'

Pampans planning to attend the annual dinner of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the cafeteria at the new high school are asked to purchase tickets not later than noon tomorrow. Tickets can be secured from members or at the chamber of commerce office in the city hall.

Principal speaker at the banquet will be R. L. Thornton, president of the Mercantile National bank at Dallas, who has just returned from Washington where he conferred with government officials. Because of the prominence of the speaker and the interest in his subject, which will be "Our every day job," few tickets are expected to be left.

Pickets Beaten By Welders At Tacoma

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 13 (AP)—Between 40 and 50 pickets seeking jobs returned from Tacoma today. The pickets had been engaged at 11 a. m. yesterday. For five hours planes were in constant action over the enemy armada.

By now, the Scharnhorst, Gneisenau and Prinz Eugen, probably have reached the security of Heligoland, racing home at 30 knots ahead of the slower ships which guarded them through the channel.

It was from the sky, however, that the German warships' greatest protection came. Not only from concealing snow and fog but, perhaps even more, from swarms of Nazi fighter planes, shutting out in relays from the French coast so keep protection constantly over them.

Britons' dismay that their rule over the sea was being challenged was shown today.

Paper Sack Bandit Kills Abilene Deputy

ABILENE, Feb. 13 (AP)—District Attorney J. E. Black early today said a Fort Bliss cavalryman home on leave admitted to him in a statement that he received $165 for buying and delivering a gun to Rex Beard, the paper sack bandit who killed a deputy sheriff and who was gravely wounded in jail last night.

Black said the soldier implicated a companion who was also in custody, as having helped buy the gun and deliver it. He said the two men split the money. No charges had been filed against either.

Beard, who shot Deputy Sheriff Wade Willis, 49, in an attempt to escape from the Taylor county jail, was reported as improving today after being given a blood transfusion. The bandit was shot by Sheriff S. G. McAdams and Police Chief T. A. Hackney, who trapped him in the jail cell.

British Lose 42 Planes, Nazis Only 18

Three Raiders Defy England In Home Waters

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Feb. 13—Three of Germany's mightiest warships, in daring defiance of British air and sea power, have made a sensational escape from their French drydock prison, racing to freedom through the English channel under the fire of British planes, ships and shore guns.

It was a gamble that risked freedom for the 26,000-ton battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau and the 10,000-ton cruiser Prinz Eugen, to rove the seas again as lethal raiders of Britain's commerce, against their loss as the price of failure.

And the British ruefully acknowledged this black Friday that, so far at least, the Germans had engineered a shrewd and skillful coup under the muzzles of Britain's home defenders.

The German battleships raced through the narrow Strait of Dover at 28 to 30 knots, their top speed, an authoritative source today said. This was lowered to 18 to 20 knots, fast enough to bring them to Heligoland before noon today.

This authority said no British surface ships were lost, thus contradicting the Berlin communique's claim that one British destroyer was sunk and another set afire.

He said the action was completely over and in all probability the three big German ships were safely at their destination.

From Press to Heligoland is approximately 700 miles. Apparently the ships had negotiated nearly half this distance when they first were engaged at 11 a. m. yesterday. For five hours planes were in constant action over the enemy armada.

By now, the Scharnhorst, Gneisenau and Prinz Eugen, probably have reached the security of Heligoland, racing home at 30 knots ahead of the slower ships which guarded them through the channel.

It was from the sky, however, that the German warships' greatest protection came. Not only from concealing snow and fog but, perhaps even more, from swarms of Nazi fighter planes, shutting out in relays from the French coast so keep protection constantly over them.

Britons' dismay that their rule over the sea was being challenged was shown today.

Woman's Part In Defense Reviewed At BPW Meeting

"Women and National Defense" was discussed by Miss Jessie Bumpass at the monthly business meeting of Business and Professional Women's club this week in the city chambers preceding the regular Red Cross first aid course.

"Defense against the insidious warfare of today requires action on many fronts," Miss Bumpass stated. "On most of them, American women are already busy engaged. They are serving in the armed forces of the country, in government agencies, in industry, in schools and colleges, in women's clubs, and in volunteer organizations."

"Besides the women who type and file and perform housekeeping functions in the departments of war and navy, there are 1,135 women serving as regular nurses in the Army Nurse corps. An additional 450 reserves have already been added to the regular staff, and by July this number will be increased to 4,000. In the armed forces are also some 90 civilian nurses and 22 women medical technologists, working as dental hygienists, therapy aides, and dietitians."

"Today the American National Red Cross, so closely tied up with our government, though supported entirely by voluntary contributions, has some 1,300 workers on its national staff, many of whom are women."

Defense Activities

"National defense activities of the government include the following workers who are quite likely to be women: Stenographers, typists, card-punch operators, medical technicians, home economists, and student attendants, occupational and physical therapy aides, chemists, dietitians, translators, library assistants, bindery operatives, information specialists, telephone operators, junior professional assistants, and student assistants, junior statisticians, and many others."

"In defense industries women are already operating lathes, punch presses, and other machines. They are assembling parts and inspecting and folding parachutes. We even find them operating over-head cranes."

"Women's organizations have risen characteristically to the occasion in all manner of ways. Included in these groups are the American Home Economics association, the New York State League of Nursing Education, the American Library association, Business and Professional Women's club, Altrusa International, American Association of Women, the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and National Women's Trade Union league."

"Women are volunteering their services to organizations especially designed to utilize them. Groups composed of volunteers are the American Red Cross, American Women's Voluntary Services, Green Guards of America, Women's Defense Cadets, Women's Hospital Reserve corps, Red Wings, and other organizations," she concluded.

Also Miss Bumpass, education chairman in the club, discussed the national defense setup in Gray county. Sue McCarty, registered nurse, spoke on the home nursing courses being offered, and Julia E. Kelley discussed nutrition course.

The Pampa club voted to give $20 to be divided between the two national objectives, supporting nurses in China and building hospitals for British women whose homes have been bombed and who are working in industry there.

Several names were voted on at the meeting, and it was reported that 41 members bought Defense Stamps and 16 members bought Defense Bonds during January.

The club will sponsor a game night soon with the funds going to the school cafeteria.

Among those attending the business hour were Lillian Jordan, Blanche Anderson, Jessie Bumpass, Julia E. Kelley, Maurine Jones, Ann Heskey, Lillian McNutt, Sue McCarty, M. Fischer, Mayme Counselor, Mable Coe, Hazel Snow, Ruth Walstead, Vera Lard, Madeline Murray, and Madge Rusk.

Josef Hofmann, world-famous pianist, made a concert tour of America at the age of 10.

Tomayto, Tomahto? Either Way Plant 'Em; Add Vitamins To War Gardens

Never before has it been so important that America's garden space be put to the most productive use. In cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, NEA Service and The Pampa News has prepared a series of 12 articles, of which the article below is the fifth, to help you make sure that you get the most out of your war garden.

is considered safe to set tomato plants in the garden.

When transplanting to the garden, as much soil as possible should be allowed to remain adhering to the roots to minimize root injury.

Fill holes with water before placing the up-rooted plants in them, and after the plants are placed, firm the soil around the roots to insure good contact.

If the sun is hot, shield the transplants for a few days and water frequently to prevent severe wilting. The young plants may be trained by pinching off side shoots as they appear along the main stem.

Hopkins HD Club Studies Shrubs And Flowers Grown Here

A game on varieties of perennials, shrubs, and trees opened the meeting of Hopkins Home Demonstration club in the home of Mrs. George Reevy Tuesday.

The roll call was answered by each member telling the number of Red Cross garments she plans to make in 1942. Mrs. W. E. Melton stated that she plans to sew 120 garments and Mrs. F. N. Baker, 52. Both of these women are ahead on their quota for the first six weeks of the year. All other members planned to make from two to 25 garments.

Mrs. F. Jones spoke on shrubs, perennials, and trees, and the varieties best suited for growth in Gray county, also the company from which these varieties may be obtained. A round-table discussion was conducted by Mrs. Jones following her talk.

The club plans to go in a group to a local nursery to study shrubs in the near future. Each member plans to set out at least one new shrub this spring.

Refreshments of punch and wafers were served to one visitor, Mrs. Elmer Sparks, one new member. Mrs. W. C. Boatwright, and the following regular members: Mmes. Vern Savage, C. F. Jones, W. E. Melton, F. N. Baker, L. J. Pratt, Milo Bird, Herbert Cisco, Johnnie Morrison, Cleve Blalock, W. B. Barton, George Reeve, R. W. Orr, and Evelyn Laycock.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Vern Savage, on Feb. 24, with Mrs. Julia E. Kelley, home demonstration agent, present.

Bridal Shower Given As Courtesy To Mrs. Arrington Recently

MIAMI, Feb. 13—Mrs. Mark Arrington was honored at an attractive social event in the home of Mrs. J. B. Saul recently when she was the recipient of a miscellaneous bridal shower. Fifty-five were in attendance and 70 others sent gifts. Hostesses were Mmes. S. W. Corbin, Ben Lockhart, Dan Graham, J. O. Duniven, C. C. Carr, Howard Mulkey, Alfred Cowan, Ward Wilkenson, J. E. George, Miss Breatha Pulaski, and Mrs. Saul.

Miss Pulaski received the guests and conducted them to the powder room where they were registered in the bride's book by Mrs. Mulkey. From here they were ushered into the dining room to be served. Mrs. Saul presided at the punch bowl.

The bride's colors of pink and white were carried out in the decorations and refreshments. The lace-laid table was appointed with crystal and silver, and centered with a bowl of pink and white carnations flanked by tri-tiered candleholders with tall candles featuring the color motif. The buffet, too, carried a carnation and candle centerpiece.

Preceding the display of gifts, Mrs. Miles O'Loughlin, Jr., played a piano number, "The Sweet Mystery of Life," and Mrs. Alfred Cowan sang an appropriate song, playing her own accompaniment. Mrs. Paul Bowers made the presentation of gifts.

Mrs. Arrington, the former Miss Betty Locker, has been visiting at home between semesters from the University of Texas where she is in school.

Mr. Arrington left Sunday for Fort Bliss to enter training for army service.

Use Of Whole Grains Topic Of Westside HD Club Discussion

Westside Home Demonstration club met recently in the home of Mrs. Melford Spier when roll call was answered by each member naming whole grain cereals used in the home.

Mrs. Cartwright gave a review of the Council meeting after which Mrs. L. E. Jester was elected representative to the County Council. Mrs. Jester is county home demonstration agent, discussed "Use of Whole Grains in Home Diet." She pointed out that to be happy one must be well and healthy, and to be healthy the diet must be correct. A group discussion on whole grains followed.

Present were Mmes. Julia E. Kelley, Minor Langford, O. G. Smith, Melford Spier, Russel Cartwright, Kit Autry, Margaret Taylor, and N. Franklin.

Costs only 3¢ to make a delicious apple turnover the KARO way

These apple turnovers are deliciously different... And it's KARO that gives them such wonderful flavor! We're giving you a recipe for 8 turnovers—because everyone calls for "seconds" when you serve these turnovers!

APPLE TURNOVERS
1 recipe pastry (for 8 squares) 3 apples
1/4 cup KARO (blue label)
1 teaspoon nutmeg 1 teaspoon cinnamon

Slice apples. Mix together KARO, cinnamon and nutmeg. Lay slices of apple on one-half of each square of dough. Sprinkle with KARO mixture. Fold other half of square to form triangle. Press edges together with a floured fork, and prick top to allow steam to escape. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 20 minutes. Makes 8 turnovers.

Foods prepared "the KARO way" supply extra food energy. KARO is rich in Dextrose, food-energy sugar

Two Dive Bombers Destroyed Over Philippine Theater

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. (AP)—Destruction of two Japanese dive bombers by American anti-aircraft guns during increasing fighting in the Philippines was reported today by the war department.

The dive bombers, actively supporting aggressive enemy patrol aircraft, mistakenly bombed and machine gunned their own infantry, with heavy casualties, a communication said. Victims of the mistaken attack were identified as elements of the 122nd Japanese regiment of General Akira Nara's 65th division.

HARVESTERS ALL SET TO GET REVENGE HERE TONIGHT

Borger Won First Game In Rivalry

Amarillo's Sandies won the District 1-AA basketball championship last night, blasting Lubbock's hopes 24-14, but that won't make any difference to the Harvesters who are determined to get revenge in the game with Borger at junior high school gym at 8 o'clock tonight.

The Harvesters have been quite certain for weeks that Amarillo would win the title and represent this district in the bi-district competition with Childress, so it was no surprise to them to hear that the Sandies had no trouble with the Westerners at Amarillo last night.

The Harvesters will get another crack at the Sandies. Of course, it won't count, but they are determined to beat them on their own court, just as they did the Westerners at Lubbock. Long shots beat Lubbock last night—the long-distance sharp shooting of Holland and Hughes. Hill, the boy whose 10 points in one quarter beat Pampa, scored 4 points against Lubbock.

Pampa lost their first conference game of the season to Borger—a close one they should have won. If they had taken that game they figure that they would have lucked out against Lubbock and Amarillo in games here, just as the two latter teams lucked out. But Borger hung the Indian sign on Pampa and it took them three games to get going. By that time it was too late.

So tonight, the Harvesters are not going to feel too kindly toward Borger, and they are determined to put out everything they have.

The Harvesters will also be set to stop Briggs, probably the best forward in the district. It was Briggs' shots from near center which beat the Harvesters in Borger. Briggs will be placed under the special care of L. J. Halter, Pampa guard, and Halter thinks that he is the man who can throttle Mr. Briggs' long and short shots, but he will have to be on his toes if he does, because Briggs has not been stopped this season.

Monday night the McLean Tigers will play the Harvesters here, and Tuesday night Thalia's lightning passers and champions of their district will battle the Harvesters. Both are Class A teams.

LeFors Upsets Lakeview, Third Game Is Tonight

Fans Hang From Skylights To See Buffs Swamp Tech

The towering West Texas State college basketball of Canyon marched a pace closer to an undefeated conference season last night when they blasted the so-called "magazine publicity jinx" and defeated the Texas Tech Red Raiders from Lubbock 63 to 49. At that it was the hardest-fought conference game of the season.

Among the overflow crowd that witnessed the game were Coach Oscar Hinger and eight members of the Pampa Harvester basketball team.

Some spectators who couldn't get into the gymnasium climbed on to the roof and looked through skylights. One fan slipped and kicked out a panel of glass and the game had to be stopped while it could be removed from the playing floor.

All-American Eric Brookfield, forward, led the Buffalo scoring attack with 10 field goals and three charity shots for 23 points. Next in line was giant Charlie Halbert, center, who bucketed 14 points before leaving the game on fouls. He outlasted Frank Stockman, guard, who bagged 13 points before fouling out.

Bryan Gilbreath, Tech's great center, grabbed 18 points to lead his team in their valiant fight against the tall boys.

Free throws missed—Maddox 2, Halbert, Trimbale, E. Stockman, and Clark Johnson. Erwin 2, Head 2, Gilbreath, Volz 2, and Gilley 4.

Referee—Haynie (Texas Mines) and Hale (Oklahoma).

The loss was Tech's second in eight conference starts, but it did not jeopardize the Raiders' second place spot in the standings.

West Texas State has now met and conquered all the eight other teams in the circuit. The title is the Buffs' if they repeat the process.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON JR., Wide World Sports Columnist

NEW YORK, Feb. 13. (Wide World)—Billy Conn, who is used to getting a big buildup for his fights, can't understand the publicity he is getting. He says the publicity he is getting is not the publicity he is getting. He says the publicity he is getting is not the publicity he is getting.

Scott and Bounds tied for high scoring honors for the Eagles, each bagging seven points. First one and then the other would sink a field goal in the closing minutes only to have Hamrick come through. With a minute left to play and the score tied 23 to 23, Hamrick came through in a big way by bucketing one. Then the Pirates held the ball after Lakeview had missed a shot.

Following Hamrick in scoring was Cole with five points, then came McCullick with three, Bowman and Oldham with two each and Clemmons with one. Bowman fouled out in the third quarter.

Kivlehen Wins But Twigg Loses At Fort Worth

Kenneth Twigg, LeFors boxing ace, bowed out of the State Golden Gloves Boxing tournament in Fort Worth last night when he dropped a hairline decision to Buddy Shumway of Dallas in a middleweight battle that stole the show. Twigg represented Amarillo.

Twigg, who likes to throw leather from all angles, was unable to match Shumway's boxing in the opening round. In the second round, however, Twigg started connecting and had Shumway in trouble most of the way. The third was a repetition of the second with Shumway having to forget about boxing and shooting the works to get the nod.

Keith Kivlehen of Miami, boxing for the Lubbock team, won an easy decision from Henry Delano of Beaumont in a featherweight battle.

Jack Fraley of Borger gave the Amarillo team its first win when he went out and beat Louis Allen of Beaumont, one of the tournament favorites in the flyweight division.

Roland Borger of Stinnett, now living at Lubbock, gave the Panhandle another win when he defeated Abner Bedingfield of Dallas in a flyweight battle.

Dean Webb of Amarillo won but the Amarillo team two wins and two losses. Other members of the team will battle tonight.

Wesleyan Coach Named Assistant To Van Meter

CANYON, Feb. 13. (NS)—Gus Miller, West Texas State college graduate who has been head coach at Texas Wesleyan college at Fort Worth, has been named assistant football coach and physical education director at West Texas State college. In returning to his alma mater, Miller will assist Leslie Van Meter who last week succeeded Jack Curtice who moved to Texas School of Mines at El Paso as head coach.

Miller will report to West Texas State in time to assist in spring football training which will begin April 1.

Miller, at Texas Wesleyan at Fort Worth, had a basketball record of having won 36 straight conference games and in 120 contests had lost only 18. He also will act as freshman basketball coach at Canyon. In football, Miller's teams won three-fourths of all games played.

Miller got his bachelor's degree at West Texas in 1924, and his M. A. degree at Texas Tech in 1937. He is married and has two children, a boy 13, and a daughter, 9 years old.

hard-luck guy indicates Baylor can hope partially to salvage a season that started off glowingly but ran into a storm of reversals when Wilson went to the hospital for an appendicitis operation.

Baylor was unbeaten when Jack left the line-up. Since then the Bruins have lost four games out of five and faded from the Southwest conference title race.

West Highland Terrier New U.S. Dog Champion

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK, Feb. 13. (AP)—West Highland terriers, a none-too-well-known breed in this country, rule the dog world today because Mrs. John Winant, wife of the ambassador to Great Britain, thought enough of Ch. Wolsey Pattern of Edgestone to purchase her in England several years ago.

The five year old bitch—she'll be that age in another two months—justified her Concord, N. H. owner's judgment last night in going best-in-show at the Westminster Kennel club show in Madison Square garden.

Marking the first best-in-show victory for the breed since the award was inaugurated in 1907, the trim little West Highland was selected over five American-bred dogs in the final competition by Herman Mellenthin of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., whose My Own Bruce won the same honor in 1940 and '41.

Mellenthin sent the six finalists through their paces for nearly an hour. Finally, after throwing up his hands in despair over trying to name the No. 1 dog of the 2388 that started competition yesterday, he called Mrs. Winant's representative to the center of the ring.

Wolsey Pattern didn't come to the show altogether unheralded although her victory over more popular breeds was an upset. She had been a consistent breed winner in this country and twice had gone best-in-show in smaller exhibitions.

The New Hampshire bitch scored at the expense of such fine-looking canines as Ch. Timpanogos Melinda, Mrs. R. E. Allen's Springer spaniel from Provo, Utah; Louis Murr's grand-looking Borzoi, Tyddo of Romanoff, from Spring Valley, N. Y.; and Mrs. Helen M. Lewis' Ch. Merridip Master Pantaloon, an old English sheepdog representing the working group.

To complete the triumph of the terriers W. Holden White's smooth-haired fox terrier, Desert Deputy, from Chagrin Falls, Ohio, was selected.

Tech Gets Shot In Arm

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 13. (AP)—Carnegie Tech's football and basketball squads, rendered weak-kneed by a de-emphasized program, received a figurative "shot in the arm" today in the announcement that the field's freshmen would be eligible for varsity competition.

The Engineers were the first of the steel city's three major colleges to stipend for duration of the war the freshman rule barring first-year men from varsity sports teams. Duquesne has tabled the proposal but may adopt it. Pitt, a disciple of the Big Ten, has unofficially opposed it.

Rice Beats TCU

FORT WORTH, Feb. 13. (AP)—So hot was the Rice-TCU basketball game last night that the lead changed hands three times in two minutes—but Rice was ahead at the final whistle, 44 to 37.

It was the second defeat of the Southwest conference season for the Horned Frogs, who were cool and deliberate at the beginning of the contest.

Game Postponed Due To Illness Of Coach Holston

This afternoon's scheduled basketball game between the Pampa Junior High Reapers and Horace Mann juniors here has been postponed until early next week because of serious illness of Coach Jimmie Holston of Horace Mann.

The game was postponed this morning when Coach C. P. McWright of the Reapers received a telephone call from Amarillo that Coach Holston became seriously ill last night.

Coach McWright agreed to postpone the game which will be played either Monday or Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, war time, in the gymnasium here.

The Horace Mann team holds a decision over the Reapers but are in third place in the conference. Sam Houston jumped into first place yesterday with a win over Central of Amarillo. The Reapers are one win behind but have the same number of losses.

Wilson Back With Baylor Cage Quint

WACO, Feb. 13. (AP)—Jack Wilson, who ought to know as much about hospitals by now as he does athletics, since he's spent so much time in both, is back with the Baylor basketball team.

While it's a couple of weeks too late, the presence of the Bears' hard-luck guy indicates Baylor can hope partially to salvage a season that started off glowingly but ran into a storm of reversals when Wilson went to the hospital for an appendicitis operation.

Baylor was unbeaten when Jack left the line-up. Since then the Bruins have lost four games out of five and faded from the Southwest conference title race.

Visitors Invited To Back-From-Church Singing On Sunday

Young people of Pampa will meet at the First Christian church from 9:15 to 10:15 o'clock on Sunday evening for their regular "back-from-church" singing.

They will have as their special guests this Sunday the Pampa High school choir, who will sing a group of sacred numbers under the direction of Miss Helen Martin. Arthur Nelson will be in charge of the group singing with Miss Pauline Stewart at the piano.

Virginia Lee West, president of the movement and Lucille Johnson, chairman of the program committee, wish to extend an invitation to the people of Pampa to drop in on their way home from church and hear the singing.

Local Pythians To Visit Borger Sunday

Pampa aKnights of Pythias lodge members will go to Borger Sunday afternoon to assist in re-organizing the Borger lodge. The Pampa group will leave from the castle hall in the Wynne-Merren building at 1:15 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Organization meeting will be at 2 o'clock in Borger. Assistance of Pampa members in reorganizing the lodge was sought by Al Libbe of Borger who visited the local lodge last night.

Soul To Be Topic Of Lesson-Sermon

"Soul" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 15, 1942.

The Golden Text is: "Lo, this is our God; we have waited for him, and he will save us: this is the Lord; we have waited for him, we will be glad and rejoice in his salvation" (Isaiah 25:9).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "And I will set my tabernacle among you; and my soul shall not abhor you. And I will walk among you, and will be your God, and ye shall be my people" (Leviticus 26:11, 12).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Soul must be incorporeal to be Spirit, for Spirit is not finite. Only by losing the false sense of Soul can we gain the eternal of Life as immortality brought to light" (page 335).

UNTIL LAST SUMMER, DUANE THOMAS, above, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Thomas, 525 North Nelson, was a high school student interested in sports and swimming, and then he joined the navy. He is stationed at the destroyer base in San Diego, Calif. In his last letter, he wrote, "I bet you are worrying about me. Well, you needn't, for I am hunky-dory." He is attending a torpedo school. Duane's father is a mechanic at Tom Rose Ford company. Duane had lived in Pampa most of his life before he joined the navy. Pampa is proud of the fine type of sailor Duane is, and the others like him. One becomes reassured in looking at his picture.

NORMAN M. FLAHERTY was stationed at Pearl Harbor at the time of the sneak attack. His father, William Flaherty has heard from him twice since then. He enlisted in the navy in September, 1940. He has lived here 21 years. Norman comes from fighting Irish stock, and his father still has an Irish accent. One has no pity for the Jap that Norman gets hold of.

The music which has been chosen for this service will show all the variations of the tonal quality of this instrument.

Presbyterians To Dedicate Organ Sunday Evening

The dedication service of the pipe organ of the First Presbyterian church will take place on Sunday evening in the church at 8 o'clock. The service will consist of the formal dedication and a program of organ music played by Mrs. H. A. Yoder, organist of the church.

The organ in the First Presbyterian church was made for the church by the M. P. Moller Organ company of Hagerstown, Md., largest organ builders in the world. It was installed in the new building and played for the first time exactly one year ago Sunday. The acoustics of the church have proved to be perfect for the hearing of organ music.

The music which has been chosen for this service will show all the variations of the tonal quality of this instrument.

Making a Soldier of Sugar

AS we have sent men abroad to fight for America—as we have sent money—as we have drafted steel, with other commodities, into fighting-service or enlisted wheat and other fighting-foods—so we must make a soldier of sugar.

Nutriments for the nations at war is as vital to the outcome as the powder that feeds the guns. A great nutrient in time of peace—in war a veritable sinew—sugar is now called upon to play a heroic part, to supply the peoples of our Allies—whose strength is ours.

To wrap up sugar in the American flag, so to speak, and put it into the fight becomes a duty of loyalty. It will be borne cheerfully by every industry, every dealer, and every individual it falls upon. Upon certain industries it falls heavily—and especially on the workers who derive their living from them. Yet the American citizen is in this war with the soldier. America's greatness and small, American capital from Wall Street to the remotest country bank, is with the Government every step of the way. The U. S. means U. S. All of us, are in the fight with everything we have, for the sake of everything we cherish.

This company regards it a privilege to comply with the government's request, and to be a part of the effort to conserve our resources. To the end of conservation we pledge our best efforts in every direction that opportunity may disclose, in manufacture as well as beyond the scope of our immediate interests; and in this effort generally we bespeak the co-operation of dealers and consumers everywhere.

THE COCA-COLA COMPANY
ATLANTA, GA.

Again, Sugar enlists for Victory

WORLD WAR I 1917

The United States Government restricted the use of sugar in World War I. The response of The Coca-Cola Company was expressed in the newspaper advertisement reproduced at the left.

WORLD WAR II 1942

History repeats itself in World War II. Sugar has been called to war again. Our government has restricted the use of sugar for all. Naturally, that includes Coca-Cola.

You'll continue to find Coca-Cola around the corner from anywhere, though we regret that you won't be able to enjoy the pause that refreshes as often as you might like. Our volume has been reduced. But this we pledge: the character of Coca-Cola will be unimpaired. The American people can continue to trust its quality.

As in 1917, we count upon the patience of dealers everywhere. Conserving sugar is another step toward Victory. Whatever any of us may have, or may not have, Victory we must have above all else!

Today's War Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

Again Herr Hitler has demonstrated through the astonishing escape from Brest that it's a game during which does it. This sensational coup exemplifies the cardinal principle underlying all Nazi strategy—to gamble greatly. True, the Germans are meticulous in their preparations ordinarily, but once they are set for action they don't hesitate to shoot for the moon. All of which is further proof that wars are won by initiative.

Of course, it would be rash to try to draw conclusions at this stage from the naval demonstration, before it is sure that the Nazi fleet has reached the protection of the big German naval base at Helgoland safely. Still, naval experts are bound to start rechecking the heated arguments as to whether air-power has written the doom of the surface warship.

There certainly is food for thought in the manner in which the Nazi fleet stood up under the British bombing in the early stages of this battle. And there is even more for reflection in the fact that while no two German battleships were anchored at Brest they went through more than 100 British bombing raids, some 65 of which were specifically directed at this war vessel.

Despite the undoubtedly terrific lacing the Nazi ships endured, they sailed out of Brest harbor under their own steam for their greatest adventure. Naturally they were protected against aerial torpedoes in the harbor, but they were exposed to the full fury of the heaviest type of bombs.

What is Hitler up to? Well, if we knew that we could go places. However, we do know that he is preparing feverishly for his spring offensive and the indications are that this will involve an all-out attack on Allied shipping and Anglo-American naval strength. Anyway, his ships weren't any good to him tied up in Brest harbor.

If he has been able to get the Gneisenau and Scharnhorst safely to cover, with their escort, he will be possessor of a very tidy little navy. He is supposed to have five battleships (with two others either building or recently finished), two aircraft carriers, eight cruisers (with four building), eleven destroyers (with others building), 12 torpedo-boats (with four building) and a big fleet of submarines.

Now Herr Hitler seems determined to obtain possession of the French fleet by hook or by crook. Should he be able to add that to his own contingent, he and Signor Mussolini between them would have a formidable navy.

There is no doubt that Hitler is preparing to cooperate as fully as possible with his Japanese allies and that in the back of his head is the thought that their flag-ships may be able to exchange salutes on the Indian ocean. If they get that far they likely will be exchanging shots as well, to see who will get India as a prize. But that's another story.

Meanwhile the Japs are continuing to do their part to make this dream come true. Singapore still held out, but while Hitler's congratulations to the Mikado on the capture of the British base were premature, they look like intelligent anticipation.

In any event, Singapore has been completely nullified as an Allied naval and air base, and this greatly facilitates the Japanese preparations for the assault on Java and Sumatra, which won't be long de-

One Salinas Jap Had All This—Why?

SALINAS, Calif., Feb. 13 (AP)—Federal Bureau of Investigation agents took Jikichi Tsunaga into custody during a roundup of Jap aliens.

They listed the following confiscated material: Five short wave radios. Telegraphic sending equipment. Ammunition. Binoculars. Photographic equipment. A bow. Seven arrows.

Copper Absorbs Nickel

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Feb. 13 (AP)—The public safety commissioner couldn't figure out why 60 of the city's 900 automobile parking meters were not producing any nickels until it was discovered that all 60 retractor devices were located on Patrolman Robert Foster's beat.

Arrested and charged with petty larceny, the patrolman admitted the offense, Commissioner Thomas Foley said, after a special meter key and 39 nickels were found on his person.

All of which rather gloomy discussion seems to fit in well with the fact that this is Friday the thirteenth. Anyway, that is a fine report from Washington regarding our recent devastating raids on the Jap bases in the Pacific. And the Russians are getting ahead with the job so well that they finally have reached the borders of White Russia.

It is planned to make ammonia from natural gas in the near future.

It Takes GOOD FOOD To Keep Children Happy and Healthy!

AND HERE'S HOW TO DO IT!

Insist upon quality food. Select your foods so that you can prepare a balanced menu with abundance of healthful vitamins. The safest way to keep these foods in a wholesome condition is in your electric refrigerator. Your refrigerator enables you to keep these foods safely for a week or more at a time. Buy quality food, plan balanced menus, keep your food in your electric refrigerator until you are ready to use them—and your children, yes your whole family will be healthy and happy.

Remember: Use your refrigerator wisely, keep it in good condition. Make it last as long as you can and you will be doing your part toward national defense.

A New Era Is Born: February 11 marked the end of an era. On that day the great Detroit automobile factories turned out their last cars. The next day marked the beginning of a new era. The motor plants, working on a 24-hour-a-day basis, began the tremendous job of switching to war production.

COMMON GROUND

By R. C. HOLES. I speak the past-world principle, I give the sign of democracy. By God I will accept nothing which I cannot have with counterforce of on the same terms.

"REVOLUTIONS OF CIVILISATION", A TIMELY BOOK

I have just been reading a little book, "Revolutions of Civilisation", by Flinders Petrie. Mr. Petrie is an English archaeologist, who has been in charge of excavation in Egypt and Palestine. He is now nearly 90 years old. This little book extends the written history by 6000 years and makes it possible to observe the effects of different acts of people over a much longer period than written history does.

The author is of the opinion that a civilization usually lasts from 1500 to 2000 years. He marks the mediaeval civilization, which he calls period VIII, as beginning in 450 A.D. His contention is that mankind develops by strife; that when a civilization gets prosperous it eventually decays.

I quote: "At every invasion by a new people, which, as we have seen, is the necessary foundation of a new period of civilisation, there must be strong personal rule. The holding together of the invaders, the decisive subjection of the invaded, the strife of the fusion of peoples, all require an autocracy of greater or less scope. This period lasts during four to six centuries.

The next stage is an oligarchy, when leadership is still essential, but the unity of the country can be maintained by law instead of by autocracy. This stage varies in length; in Greece and Rome it was about four centuries, in Mediaeval Europe about five or six centuries.

Then gradually the transformation to a democracy takes place; beginning about the great phase of literature in Greece, Rome, and Modern Europe. During this time—about four centuries—wealth—that is, the accumulated capital of facilities—continues to increase. When democracy has attained full power, the majority without capital necessarily eat up the capital of the minority, and the civilisation steadily decays, until the inferior population is swept away to make room for a fitter people.

Some national magazine is having, I believe, a research bureau send out a questionnaire, asking what national magazines are most necessary to America and the American way of life. They give space for three answers.

There are no magazines that I take or that I know of, that are very necessary to America and the American way of life, with one possible exception. That magazine is "Liberty, A Magazine of Religious Freedom."

It seems there are entirely too few magazines that are really standing for the American way of life. Most of them seem to be trying to make money this year without any regards to the results in later years.

CONTROLLING THE CONTROLLERS

Our big problem is controlling those who would control us. Now, with the government setting prices and rationing production and making laws so that men have to pay tribute to labor controllers, we need more than ever to realize the danger of controllers. These controllers recognize no rules, no laws, but themselves as norms of rightness. If they recognized any immutable principles, they would not be controllers.

It may be said that effective and reasonable planning and the calm statement of steps to be taken in the successful prosecution of the war come in the main from those administrators who are not professional New Dealers. In meeting the exigencies of the war program the government cast about for competent men. It found few who could be so labeled in its own camp. It was compelled to go outside the government and draft men from business and the professions whose backgrounds and experience qualified them to meet the new problems which the men already in Washington lacked the equipment to handle.

These newcomers were given responsible posts, not because of sympathy for the social doctrine but in spite of their antipathy for it. There was no one else who could do the work. They have made many mistakes and fallen down often in performance, but the conditions under which they worked and the system of administration organization were not of their choice. A cumbersome and inefficient system was forced on them and their efforts were restricted by constant jockeying for political position and pre-ferment that went on around them.

The note of hysteria emanates chiefly from members of the old guard who, after repeated failures in attempting to meet domestic problems, are now charged with responsibility for laying down general policy for the conduct of the war. A long series of shortsighted orders has been issued with no attempt to prepare the people for what was coming. Whole lines of civilian production have been closed down, a fact which suggests that a foreign policy was being pursued before the war with no apparent realization of its inevitable consequences. The severe rationing orders already being issued convey the same impression. For lack of foresight the administration was caught short. Hysteria and obfuscation followed to the evident detriment of the war effort.

The influence of communism is the consequence of trying to direct a war effort thru a bureaucracy in which every inflection of political radicalism has been granted representation. The covet of communists, by no means small, merely highlight a state of mind that is general in Washington. The Reds and Pinks are more concerned with their "social objectives" than with waging a fight for the survival of our political forms and our human liberties. The communists are only more rabid in the changes sought than the New Dealers of other shades.

The only protection against the communist influence is the congress, and up to the present congress has not done its duty. Considering the cross purposes and confusion in the capital, it is no matter for wonder that reports of success in the war have thus far been so few.

PART OF THE FIFTH-COLUMN JOB

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 13—The Dominion of Canada is quit a swatch of movie to be encompassed by a single movie, and you wouldn't think that its polygenetic people could be characterized in eight or nine reels. For purposes of entertainment and propaganda, though, the job has been done to a surprising degree in a war picture called "The Invaders."

The whole business is one long chase, by water, land, air, and radio. Geographically, it is the long drive to get actors and the play-ers, in actual travel during production, it makes the "Trader Horn" expedition to Africa look like a week-end excursion. Camera men, technicians, and some of the play-ers, went to the Gulf of St. Lawrence to Hudson Bay, to Montreal, Winnipeg, Banff, and Vancouver, and then back to Niagara Falls. Various executives were shuttling back and forth across the Atlantic to get actors and to arrange the filming of about 20 per cent of the picture in the Denham studios near London.

THREE STARS

The nominal stars are Laurence Olivier, Raymond Massey, and Leslie Howard, although none of them is on the screen very long. The central characters are part of the German Hitlerite colony which is bombed to bits after a foraging party has gone ashore. Starting with some dirty work at Hudson's Bay company trading post, the U-boat-men begin their fugitive trek across the continent.

Behind the action and suspense, there is a more important story of Canada and its citizens and their union in liberty. As a French-Canadian trapper, Olivier speaks and acts for his people. The members of a German Hitlerite colony testify for all the racial and religious minorities. An American Indian helps catch one of the Nazis. Massey is a symbol of the Canadian majority—independent but a brawler for his cherished privileges.

Leslie Howard, a visiting author, living in a glorified tepee and studying Indians, is a mouthpiece of highbrow political philosophy who doesn't come to his senses until he's bound, gagged, and robbed by the taunting Nazis. Later, unarmed, he makes a foolhardy and rather miraculous capture of one of his enemies.

STRIKING SCENES

Scene shots are used tellingly in "The Invaders." They give an inspiring impression of how ineffectual must be the trifling forces of human fate and destruction against the calm productivity of a rich and enormous continent. It's like wheat sprouting through the ribs of a skeleton. For Americans, the sheer vastness of mountains, forests, and fields is as reassuring, somehow, as the sight of massed tanks and swarms of bombers.

The Hitlerites, being mostly of German blood, are grossly misled by their guesst as easy converts to Nazism. In fact, one of the Nazis is converted by these gentle people, who long have been refugees from everything that the U-boat sailors represent.

One of the toughest jobs in the making of the movie was to persuade these same Hitlerites to lay aside their prejudices against movies, cameras, cosmetics, and other trappings. It was accomplished only by careful explanation of the purpose of the picture, and by a day's work in the fields by the entire company to prove they were not entirely frivolous and insincere.

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

If you go to the Thalia-Pampa basketball game here Tuesday night it will be your privilege to see an inspiring sight that should make you might have any troubles you might have. It's always heartening to meet up with somebody who has overcome physical handicaps, and you will meet one Tuesday night in the person of James Adkins, Thalia farm boy who is captain of the basketball team. When James, who is now 16 years old, was a small boy he suffered a broken arm and because it was never set correctly it became stiff at the elbow and it is now as it was when he carried it in a sling. He has never been able to bend it, and the arm has shrunk to half the size of the other, but that didn't discourage James from playing basketball, and he's a dead-eye Dick when it comes to long-distance sharpshooting, and he's a superb passer. James was picked as the most valuable man at the Shamrock tournament, and the best sport, and was also placed on the all-star team.

James lives on a farm three miles north of Thalia which is about 20 miles west of Vernon. He has learned to use the arm so that it is not a handicap and he can do anything with it you can do. I saw James dozens of times before he noticed he couldn't bend his arm. However, all boys on the Thalia team live on farms. There are two McBeath boys on the team, one is 16 and the other is 14, and their father made more than he has ever before this year. The fifth boy on the team is 16. Thalia is not quite as big as Mobeetie but the school always has good basketball teams, whether they have a coach or not. It's really a thrill to watch those boys play; their good sportsmanship is unexcelled and their skill is admirable.

Those boys were in Pampa two years ago when they carried the nickname of "L1 Darlin'." They made a big hit then, and they are eager to come back. Pampa owes it to these old boys from the cotton country to come out and see them play. You'll be joy it, it will get your mind off your troubles and most of all it will be inspiring to see these kids from the country play the boys in the city. It will be the fastest game you have seen this year—and the cleanest.

Behind The News In Washington

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—As long as I can remember, some adverse critics of the Hill have been insisting that the bill is general and the senate bill in particular is a sort of secret society in which, once you have subscribed to the oath of office, you can depend upon your most per-verse colleague's coming to your aid in time of trouble.

I know also where those critics get their ammunition. The senate frequently piles it up on a silver platter and hands it over to them. Such was the case the other day when Sen. Harry Truman of Missouri, took the floor and defended the Senate Interstate Commerce committee, Chairman Burton K. Wheeler, the senate and congress against allegations that failure to pass legislation permitting wire-tapping in espionage cases had anything to do with the surprise attack on Pearl Harbor.

Tracing the history of wire-tapping legislation from 1924 Senator Truman pointed out that when the house in 1941 voted down the wire-tapping bill, the Senate Interstate Commerce committee had passed over introducing a similar bill.

"Reports came to individual senators of testimony before the house committee that reported out the bill emphasizing the need for care in introducing this kind of legislation," said the senator. "We heard for example, that important witnesses had testified that wire-tapping might endanger national defense, might hurt workers' morale, and thus interfere with maximum production."

"Finally, word came to various members of our subcommittee that many labor organizations had appeared before the house committee in opposition to the wire-tapping bill. They asserted that such a power would be used against labor rather than against spies."

A year earlier, the house had passed a wire-tapping bill, but the legislative year was almost over, and according to Senator Truman, "when many senators were absent, and when many pressing matters of a far more serious nature were occupying the time of those senators who were in Washington."

The final word came to the senator's defense, including the assertion that the Federal Bureau of Investigation had resorted to wire-tapping in Hawaii before Dec. 7, 1941, since there were opinions from the department of justice that there was no specific law against wire-tapping, only a law against evidence obtained this way being used against accused persons.

Referring to a statement by Sen. Alben Barkley, Democratic floor leader, Sen. David I. Walsh, of Massachusetts, said, "I assume that when the senator says that all of us ought to assume some responsibility for what happened at Pearl Harbor, he means the general smugness of the American people, and he does not mean that congress failed to take any action that might have changed the situation?"

Gin Rummy

What Is It?

This is one of a series of articles on Gin Rummy, the card craze now sweeping the United States.

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

America's Card Authority Gin Rummy is taking the rest of the country just as took Hollywood where it has just replaced movie making as the town's first interest.

The game is simple. Two or more can play. And probably 130 million people are either playing it now or want to. This and three articles to follow will tell you how to play the game.

Gin Rummy began as a "minor" pastime in the New York bridge clubs, notably the Knickerbocker White club, where duplicate bridge was first played in America. The "minor" games at bridge clubs are those two-handed and three-handed games played while waiting for a fourth to complete a table of bridge. Backgammon, a game of checkers, but little-played in this country, swept the country after it was revived in the card clubs. Pinochle, casino, and piquet have all had spurts of popularity from the same cause.

TEX'S TOPICS

By Tex DeWeese

THIS column today probably will serve no purpose other than to get something off my chest. . . . Two out of five persons I have met in the last couple of days jump on England for not prosecuting the war like a sidewalk, druggstore, and cafe militiaman. . . . Maybe the British HAVE made some mistakes. . . . Your own Uncle Sam has made a few mistakes, too. . . . But that's all over the dam, now. . . . The only thing we should be interested in at the moment is working TOGETHER with our Allies just as hard as we can with one general purpose in mind. . . . The men at the fighting fronts will never get the job done if we don't keep up the morale at home.

Latest trade of the downturn military experts is directed against the British because of Singapore and the battle of Dover Strait. . . . The British should have done this and they should have done that. . . . The British took a run-out powder. . . . The British can't fight, and all that kind of rubbish. . . . A lot of stuff that Hitler, Mussolini, and the Japs would be glad to talk about. . . . It's just as good a weapon as the Germans, Italians, and Japanese could wish to have in the U. S. . . . Unless we have some constructive criticism that will get the job done better than it is being done, we ought to keep our traps shut instead of going around as mouthpieces for Hitler & Co. . . . All I know is that if I am in a gang fight and I get hit, don't let me hear you say, I must certainly am not going to trip him, get him whipped and then as a result get whipped myself. . . . If you don't understand it, read it again!

THAT man who spoke in Buffalo, N. Y., the other night has something when he said: "If you have any grievances against England, don't let me hear you contribute to the victory of America's mightiest and sworn enemies—Germany and Japan." . . . Whether you intend to do it or not, you are helping the cause of Hitler and the British troops. . . . Every now and then somebody will try to tell you that the British never have done any fighting, that they always get somebody else to do it for them. . . . Let's look at some figures. . . . In World War One the British had nearly 9,000,000 men under arms. . . . Nearly 1,000,000 of them were killed or died, more than 2,000,000 were wounded. . . . Eight million were taken prisoners or missing. . . . That made Britain's total casualties more than 3,000,000 men or 35.8 per cent of her total mobilization. . . . Three million men killed or wounded, don't let me hear you say the story you hear today that the British never have fought. . . . The United States had 350,000 men killed and wounded or who died during the war from other causes and eight per cent of Uncle Sam's total mobilized force of 4,355,000 men in World War One were listed as casualties.

Those figures are from the United States War Department.

The flying rumors gathered as they raled. . . . Scarcely any tale was sooner heard than told; And all who told it added something new. . . . And all who heard it made some enlargements, too. . . . — Pope.

AND, that seems to us a pretty good description of the stories about England and the war humor-spreading situation in some sections of the country. . . . This harmful practice should be discouraged by everybody. . . . In some places, we understand, the effort to stop this chatter like that, some people wear buttons on which is printed: "How do you know?" and "Can you prove it?" That's a pretty good idea, but the wording isn't strong enough. . . . How about buttons bearing the picture of a silly-looking parrot and these words: "A parrot will repeat anything told to him; but he won't know what he is saying!"

BROTHERLY FAME

Romulus and Remus, twin founders of Rome, are two of history's most famous brothers. More recent brother teams who have won fame are listed below. Can you give their first names and their fields? 1. The Wright brothers. 2. The Dorsey brothers. 3. The Beery and Barrymore brothers. 4. The Brothers Grimm. 5. The Cunningham brothers.

So They Say

If the system of free enterprise which we are struggling to preserve has real merit, now is the time for self-demonstration. —EMIL SCHRAM, president, New York Stock Exchange.

The habit of passivity about government becomes more dangerous in wartime, because even a democratic government in war-time must greatly enlarge its scope. —President MARGUERITE M. WELLS, National League of Women Voters. This is a time when people will separate the gold from the dross. —WENDELL WILLKIE, 1940 presidential candidate. I don't know how we go into the rules of Gin Rummy. By "odd cards" we mean the cards in a player's hand which are not matched up in sets. By a "complete hand" we mean one that has all cards, all cards being formed into sets.

Pampa Leaders Named For Hi-Y District Meet

Rooms Are Needed For 150 Delegates

Committee leaders to make arrangements for the coming Hi-Y convention March 13, 14, and 15 were named when Hi-Y club members met Wednesday night. The convention is to be held in Pampa this year for the first time. In past years the meetings have been held in Amarillo and Plainview.

Heads of the committees are John McCoy, entertainment; James Waner, banquet committee; and Frank Frauf, expense committee.

Approximately 150 delegates are expected to attend the convention from this district. On the program will be well-known speakers, banquets, and important meetings.

To date, the club can provide rooms for only 50 delegates. Any students who are able to provide lodging for delegates for two nights are asked to see Billy Waters, club president, or Jacques Farnum, sponsor. Rooms for all delegates must be guaranteed if the convention is to be held in Pampa.

Harvesters Play Berger Bulldogs In Return Engagement

By SCOTT RAFFERTY

Coch Tex Hanna's up-and-down Berger Bulldogs will try to do it again when they invade Pampa tonight for a return game with the third-place Harvesters. In an early season game the Bulldogs won by a score of 21-19. Game time is 8 p.m.

Tomorrow night the Harvesters go to Thalia for a game with the "mighty mites" whom they beat in the finals of the Shamrock tournament. Although most of the players on the Thalia team are of pint-sized variety, they are some of the best ball handlers in the Panhandle. Thalia plays here Tuesday.

With the season drawing to a close in a few weeks, the Harvesters have one hope. That is to beat Amarillo on the Sandies' own floor. Although their chances for a district title are gone, the Harvesters can still throw the district race into a tie between Lubbock and Amarillo by beating the Sandies, providing Lubbock also defeats the Sandies.

The Plainview Bulldogs rounded out their 1942 conference season Tuesday night by falling before the powerful Lubbock five, 54-17. The rest of the teams in the district should finish as they stand now, with the possible exception of Lubbock and Amarillo.

Team	Standings	Won	Lost	Pct.
Amarillo	6	0	1.000
Lubbock	5	2	.714
Pampa	3	3	.500
Borger	2	5	.286
Plainview	1	7	.125

Free Skate

Many notices have been posted saying that the Little Harvester will have a skater's name in each issue. For various reasons this has been neglected. In this issue a name has been placed in the body of a story. If the person whose name is printed will bring it to Miss Maxine Richardson, physical education teacher, Monday at noon, he or she will be allowed to skate free.

Victory Campaign For Books Starts In Pampa Schools

Books to the boys! Students, the American Library Association, American Red Cross, and the United Service Organization are sponsoring the Victory Book campaign. They need your cooperation in bringing books to send to army and navy.

There will be a box for the books Pampa High school students can contribute. The city library and other places in Pampa also have boxes.

Good entertaining, wholesome and other types of books boys in the armed forces would enjoy are wanted.

"We are not encouraging the donations of magazines," Mrs. Evelyn Todd, city librarian said today. Non-fiction travel, poetry, and classics are especially needed.

Books contributed by the Panhandle will be sent to four camps which will be designated by the national headquarters. Texas has more soldiers in training than any other state; therefore, Texans must contribute more books.

Free Lunch Funds Needed By Cafeteria

New donations must be made to the cafeteria funds if the free lunches are to be carried on for underprivileged children, Miss Ursula McCarty, school nurse, announced this week.

Many children we feed will not have warm meals unless they are provided at school. Gifts for the cafeteria fund may be sent to Supl. L. L. Sone or to Miss McCarty.

At the beginning of the school year, a balance of $194.65 was in the fund, Miss McCarty reported.

McLean High School Band Gives Assembly

The McLean High school band furnished the assembly program last Friday. The band, under the direction of Mr. Newman, played "Beautiful America," "Americana," two novelty numbers, "Them Basses," and "Sinbad the Sailor," a musical narration.

A girls' quartet sang "Elmer's Tune," "White Cliffs of Dover," and "Rose O' Day." The band closed the program with a march, "Chaser," and the "Star Spangled Banner."

Talented Mr. and Mrs. Philip Yung Lee, a young Chinese couple, will present "China Slings On" at 2:30 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon in the high school auditorium, Principal D. F. Osborne announced.

Although "China Slings On" is a lecture program, when discussing Oriental music, Mr. Lee will sing to his own accompaniment. Many reasons for a communion of endeavor between the Orient and the Occident will be set forth by Mr. Lee. "What a Chinese Girl Sees in an American Girl," will be the subject of the versatile Mr. Lee, who is a graduate of Rockefeller Foundation hospital in Peking. Mrs. Lee was in charge of the famous iron lung patient, Fred Smith, when he crossed the Pacific ocean.

"His voice is a baritone with fine resonance and admirable pliancy... his diction would put most American singers to shame" was the statement made by Eugene Stinson of the Chicago Daily News about Mr. Lee.

Intramural Sports

Thursday noon the biggest volleyball game of the season was played with Home Room 105 bowing to the super strength of Room 217. Both teams showed the greatest skill shown yet in the volleyball contest. Coach Oscar Hinger, physical education teacher said.

Spikers from Room 217, consisting of Pat Flanagan, L. J. Halter and Red Bearden did much in winning the set for 217. Other players who played for 217 were Coach Jack Morris, Leonard Hollis, Don Meader, Andy Smith, George Glasscock, R. L. Edmondson, Harold Mitchell, Robert Brandon, and Gene Alford.

Although 105 only won one game out of four, they caused considerable worry on the side of 217. Now that 105 has been broken under, 217 is on easy road to victory. Members of the 105 team who got in 217's hair were Raymond Blodgett and William Jones, spikers for the team. Other 105 members who showed good work were Eugene Winget, coach, Charles Clemmons, Don Barford, James Fridlie, Glenn Stanford, Billy Butler, and Charles Erickson.

The girls' basketball tournament got underway last Tuesday when rooms 301 and 102 met in the initial sophomore game. Room 102 emerged the winner in this game. As has been the custom, there are two sections in the tournament, the junior-senior and the sophomore. Miss Maxine Richardson, director of girls' intramurals, stated that each section is divided into two divisions, and that the two winning teams in each division will play for the championship.

Gene likes to read strange facts and to find out things for himself. He is afflicted with mumps, like many of the boys in his room. This disease shows itself from seven to fourteen days after exposure. It reaches its height in three or four days, then recedes rapidly, lasting from four to ten days. There seems to be no way of cutting it short. The danger to children from mumps is so slight that the swollen cheek of the patient is ordinarily a source of amusement to his friends. In adults the disease may prove more serious.

"Cabbage Patch" Play Presented By Clare Tree Major Theater

"The Clare Tree Major theater is one of the best children's theaters in the United States," opined Mrs. V. S. A.—President.

P. V. Sheldon, president of the local chapter of the American Association of University Women, of the group of players who presented "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" in matinee and evening performances Thursday.

Displays of the characters and scenes featured in the performances have been sponsored at seven places in Pampa by the A.A.U.W. The exhibits included pictures, cut-out dolls, dolls made of clothes pins, and Cabbage Patch posters. A.A.U.W. members who had charge of the exhibit program were Mmes. Perry Galt, M. E. Lamb, F. E. Leech, Sam Erwin, and Miss Clarine Branam of the high school, chairman.

Exhibits were in the Jones-Roberts store, Junior High school, John Hesse's office, and J. E. Leech's office. An exhibit was placed in the Pampa High school library, while pictures were displayed in the high school showcase.

Pampa Students Receive Honors At Press Meet

Black From Tulia To Head PHSPA

Pampa High school won the majority of the honors at the Panhandle High School Press association at the annual meeting at West Texas State college, Canyon, February 7.

Dorace Jean Caldwell won first place in news writing, Audrey Lemmon took top honors in feature writing, and Scott Rafferty captured first in the sport story division. Awards were in the form of plaques which will remain in Pampa until they are won by another school.

Shannon Black, editor of the Tulia Hornet, was elected president to succeed Mickey Rafferty of Pampa. Porter Brooks, Dalhart, was chosen vice-president, Nona Lee Rose, Hereford, secretary, and John James Harter, Canyon, treasurer. The offices of secretary and treasurer were formerly combined.

The Plainview Plainisman was awarded the plaque for newspaper service. In the other writing awards, Billie Ruth MacDowell, of White Deer won the editorial contest. Charles Brown of Lubbock wrote the best sports column, and Shannon Black, Tulia, the best general column.

Most of the schools which are members of the association sent delegates despite the serious difficulties in transportation. There are 35 member schools.

Many Students Puffed Up But Not With Pride

Have you had the mumps? There have been many students out of school because of this infectious disease.

Although not positive, physicians are of the opinion that mumps, like diphtheria, scarlet fever, and whooping cough, is due to a minute plant which is communicated from person to person and breeds rapidly in the saliva. Boys are more apt to be afflicted than girls. The disease shows itself from seven to fourteen days after exposure. It reaches its height in three or four days, then recedes rapidly, lasting from four to ten days.

The danger to children from mumps is so slight that the swollen cheek of the patient is ordinarily a source of amusement to his friends. In adults the disease may prove more serious.

Sewing Classes Are To Aid Red Cross

Sewing classes will begin work on Red Cross garments as soon as material is received, says Mrs. Leslie Hart, teacher. The second year girls will make layettes, while the more advanced third year students will work on pajamas and robes.

Coeds Warned On Vieing For Valentine Verses

Girls, if you like "Hearts and d Flowers" and sentimental verses such as "Sure as the grass grows around the stump, you are my darling sugar lump," you had better put a smile on your lips and a side-long look in your eye! Valentine's day is just around the corner.

The true ceremony of Saint Valentine's Day is lottery practiced in England and Scotland. On the eve of Valentine's day an equal number of maids and bachelors get together. Each writes his name on a slip of paper and draws by lots. The boys draw the girls' names and the girls the boys' names. This way each person has two Valentines, but the boys stick plaster to the valentine he has drawn than the valentine to whom he has fallen. The girls and boys then wear the valentines upon their garments for several days.

The day was named in honor of Saint Valentine, as bishop and martyr of the Christian faith, whose birthday was February 14.

However, there is no connection between Saint Valentine and the day's celebration as a lover's festival. One explanation of this day being used as a lover's festival is due to the fact that two saints' feasts days fall toward spring which is accidental. Chaucer and Shakespeare refer to the observance of Valentine's festival as the time when the birds begin to mate.

Excellent Boy, Girl Citizen To Be Elected By Student Council

The best boy and the best girl citizen, both chosen from the senior class, will be elected again this year it was decided at the Student Council meeting Tuesday, Aubrey L. Steele, co-sponsor reports.

Names of the students elected will not be disclosed until the final assembly when cups will be presented in recognition of this honor.

Qualifications for this honor are based on followship, service to the school (not outstanding), attitude, conduct, and personality.

Bonds Purchased By High School Students Included In Graph

All bonds purchased by high school students in their names since December 7 will be included in each home room total tabulation of the graph that will be placed in the hall Monday. To be counted, bonds must have been brought to school before today, Friday, and shown to Jerry Alexander, in charge of the sale of defense stamps, Miss Anne Louise Jones, co-sponsor of the Student Council announced Thursday.

The graph will be divided into home rooms with the total amount of defense stamps purchased by each home room from December 7 to February 1 placed at the top of the home room thermometer.

All purchases of stamps and bonds after today will be represented by a black soldier equal to $5. A gold star will indicate an additional $5.

My Guess, What's Yours?

By SCOTT RAFFERTY

Football is almost here again. Well, anyway, spring training is just around the corner. So come on, all you boys, gather around Coaches Prejan and Best, and let's give good old District 1 a taste of that stuff they call football when the conference schedule unfolds next fall.

Several sports writers have been bragging on their respective basketball teams as being undefeated and untied. It is your writer's opinion that a basketball team cannot be undefeated which ends in a tie will go into an overtime period of five minutes. If another overtime is needed, it will be played, and so on, etc.

Looking ahead on the Harvester basketball schedule, I see by the crystal ball that Pampa will defeat the Borger Bulldogs by about 10 points. Thalia should be a little more tough, the Harvesters winning each of these by about four points. They should also defeat Amarillo in their other conference game.

Maybe it is a little far to be looking ahead, but I believe that Pampa, Brownfield, Lubbock, and the Sandies should fight it out for the district football crown next year. Advance reports from Brownfield show that the Cubs will lose only a few starters from this year's team. As usual, Amarillo and Lubbock will have their great teams along with Pampa's crop of veterans and with a few promising newcomers. Borger and Plainview will lose most of their stars, but they both should be plenty tough.

The Childress Bobcats have practically clinched the District 2 basketball crown so that fact should make the Sandies feel better. Childress has played the Sandies twice, losing both times.

Death Takes Holiday Play Tickets Are On Sale This Week

Tickets for the Pampa High school junior play "Death Takes a Holiday" are now on sale and purchases can be made from any of the juniors or senior students, Mrs. E. L. Norman, faculty member in charge of ticket sales, said Thursday.

Juniors and senior not having purchased tickets yet may do so at any time from Miss Loraine Bruce, teacher of mathematics. Students get one-half of what they sell to buy their tickets for the junior-senior banquet.

Leslie Burge, junior class president, stated that he would like to see every member of the junior class selling tickets.

Excitement To Be Elected By Student Council

The play will be well worth the price of admission which is 25 cents for students and 35 cents for adults, Mrs. Norman said.

My Dear Son,

"This letter was written to a freshman student at Drake university by his father who is serving with the quartermaster's office of the war department. When war was declared, the youth telephoned his father for advice and the father agreed to write an answer. This is it. We reprint it as a contribution to calm thinking."

MY DEAR SON:
This morning my pride in you is unbounded. I truly feel proud that a son of mine would want to enlist in this horrible mess we have been driven into.

Every red-blooded American will feel the same urge which you have. This is one time when all of us in this great country of ours are completely united in thought and purpose for the complete elimination for all time of this menace to our peace and security.

If you were not in a school, I would say definitely, YES. However, let me give you an analysis of what this will all mean.

In the first place, this is not an over-night affair. It will, I fear, last several years. We are in for a long, hard time of it. The ultimate end, of course, is not to be questioned. We will accomplish our aim. But these people have lived and thought of but one thing—making war on us. They have spent years in planning and preparing for this one thing.

All of this is why I say it will last for several years. Then what? It will truly be the survival of

'Skeeter' Beckham Is Student Director Of Junior Play Cast

In every play there is someone who has to do about nine-tenths of the work in order to make the play a success.

In the junior class play it is Freddie Nell (Skeeter) Beckham, who has worked the hardest. As student director Freddie Nell has worked 31 days thus far on the play. The cast has been working only about 20 days. Before the play she made prop books, re-wrote script, and got things ready for the tryouts. When the cast was selected she worked hard trying to get them all arranged.

"Skeeter" loves red, good things to eat, and tennis. She is an excellent tennis player and plays constantly in the summer. She wants to be the best tennis player in these parts. She sings in the a cappella choir, possessing a good alto voice. She was on the props committee for the senior play and found just what she needed. This is the only stage work she has done as she has never been before the footlights as an actor but only as one of the members backstage.

Bsides building up all the material for the play she is also in the play production calls, which is building all the scenery for the play.

The play, which will be presented Feb. 26 and 27, has become the talk of the school. Tickets are being checked out each afternoon after school to both juniors and seniors. They will receive half of what they sell for their junior-senior banquet.

Registration is to take place in the county courthouse and men between the ages of 20 and 44, not already registered, are required to register.

No School Monday For Pampa Students

Pampa High school students need not come to school Monday. Pampa schools, among other schools of the state will not convene Monday, Feb. 16, because of a declaration made by Governor Coke Stevenson.

Teachers throughout the state and in Pampa are to aid in the registration of men on Feb. 16, Principal D. F. Osborne said.

Registration is to take place in the county courthouse and men between the ages of 20 and 44, not already registered, are required to register.

Teachers Attend Home Ec Meeting

Mrs. Robert Sanford and Mrs. Leslie Hart, high school home economics teachers, attended a home economics area meeting at which 40 schools were represented last Saturday in Amarillo, Mrs. Sanford said.

Fitting the home economics program into national defense was the theme of the convention of which Miss Gladys Armstrong, supervisor, was in charge.

Guest speakers were R. A. Selby, supervisor of instruction of the Amarillo school and Miss Elizabeth Barrett of the Canyon home economics department.
