

Rubinoff Succeeds In Concert Field With Successful Tours To His Credit

"Spoken word stick to your last" is an old saying, true and to the point in the entertainment world. Rare are the stars who prove their effectiveness in more than one medium. One exception that proves the rule is Rubinoff, famed violinist-conductor, who comes to the Pampa Junior High auditorium on Thursday, March 5, in a concert of popular music under the auspices of the Civilian Defense Council.

A headline attraction on the stage, a sensation as a conductor in theaters and symphony halls, a rousing success in Hollywood, and a star in radio, Rubinoff has quietly attained star ranking in the green fields of the concert world. By evidence thereof, note that he has in the past two and a half years, given concerts in 360 cities.

And since concert artists are the aristocrats of the entertainment world, this success by an outsider is interesting to note.

Established concert stars live long and newcomers are rare. Occasionally one of the select circle will disappear to take a flier into Hollywood or upon a broadcast series in radio. And just as occasionally, an outside star will venture into concerts for a brief flurry. By and large the newcomers tread the long, hard road for the minor concert recital halls. For, in the concert field, ability alone is the criterion. You work your way up sans publicity, with only a rare bit of critical comment to feed the fires of ambition.

This Rubinoff was keen enough to realize when two and a half years ago he decided to round out his starring record by succeeding as a concert artist. Now with three successful tours to his credit, Rubinoff comes into his own as an accomplished star on the concert stages.

Reserved seats for Rubinoff's concert are on sale at Cretney's Drug store.

Retiring President Of First Baptist WMS Honored At Meeting

CANADIAN, Feb. 25—The monthly general meeting of Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist church was held in the home of the president, Mrs. Paul Bryant, Tuesday evening.

The usual business and program meeting was held. The social hour honored the retiring president, Mrs. H. S. Wilbur, who had served in that office the past four years.

A A. was sung by Mrs. Ivan Conklin and Mrs. W. A. Pitt.

Mrs. Oscar Studer explained the significance of the official pin of the Woman's Missionary Union adopted by that organization in 1913. She stated that the form of the pin, a double fish head, referred to two things. The letters of the word "fish" correspond to the initial letters of the Greek words meaning "Jesus Christ, Son of God, Saviour of the World." A sign of recognition between early Christians was to form the shape of the double fish head with their hands. On the face of the pin is a Bible opened to I. Cor. 3:9; below the Bible a globe and above it a lighted torch. The W.M.U. of the Baptist churches was organized in 1888 and the official pin adopted in 1913.

A 14-carat gold pin was presented to Mrs. Wilbur in recognition of her faithful service to the organization. Mrs. Ed Little made the presentation speech for the group.

The B. & O. route between Philadelphia and Baltimore introduced the first dining car on American railroads in 1863.

LeFors Edges Out Miami In 8 To 7 Match

MIAMI, Feb. 25—The largest crowd ever to pack the Miami High school gymnasium saw a number of "big time" fights last night when Miami and LeFors boxers battled to a tie, each winning seven fights. Miami, however, forfeited the 88 and 155 pounds divisions to give LeFors the edge.

The bouts were a headache for officials, nearly every one being of the headline decision type. Not a single knockout was scored by either team.

Jackson and McLaughlin won highlight bouts for LeFors as Cotton Graham and his brother both lost. A second McLaughlin brother also won for LeFors.

"Little" Kivlehen, brother of the Texas Tech ace who went to the finals in the state golden gloves tournament last week in Fort Worth, won his fight.

Results of bouts, Miami boys named first: 65 pounds—Black lost to Farless; Howard defeated Rice.

70 pounds—Benge lost to Dunn; Sullivan defeated Carey.

85 pounds—Kivlehen defeated Hughes.

110 pounds—Graham lost to McLaughlin; Riddle lost to Tubb.

115 pounds—Locke defeated Call.

130 pounds—Kent lost to McLaughlin.

135 pounds—McQuiston lost to Krause.

135 pounds—Ramsey defeated Stevens.

140 pounds—Cotton Graham lost to Jackson.

145 pounds—Pennington defeated Clemmons; Cowan won from Ray.

Pension Storm Tempest In Teapot, In Opinion Of Texas Congressmen

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—The storm over congressional pensions is, in the opinion of most Texas congressmen, a tempest in a teapot.

By way of background, it should be recalled that the only recorded vote of a Texan on passage of the legislation was that of the state's senior senator, Tom Connally. He voted against it.

Senator O'Daniel was absent from the senate when the vote in that body was taken, having gone to one of the government departments with Dr. E. P. Schoch of the University of Texas faculty to discuss the possibility of getting synthetic rubber plants brought to their state.

The house passed the legislation by unanimous consent, so no vote was recorded.

Since the bundles-for-congress flap, many congressmen have received letters criticizing the congressional pension plan—which provides an annuity based on extent of financial participation.

Senator Connally declined to say whether he would take any active stand on the matter if it again became an issue. He did indicate, however, that he would be consistent with his former view and cast his vote for repeal if a vote was taken.

Representative Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls recalled that the only time he had ever had an opportunity to vote on the question was during the 76th congress—about two years ago—and that at that time he had voted against inclusion of congressmen under the civil service pension system.

Should the house face a vote on repeal of the present law, he would support the new legislation voiding the previous act, Gossett said.

The Wichita Falls congressman added, however, that he thought the present law was fair, although not an overly attractive financial proposition. He explained that his opposition to it was on the grounds that it had been misunderstood by the public and that "pressure" groups might try to capitalize on it in efforts to force passage of other legislation.

At 40 and in his fourth year (second term) as a representative, Gossett is about average in age and service among members of the house and so permitted use of his specific case to show what benefits he would receive under the retirement system.

He would have to come back to congress at least one more term to be eligible, as the minimum service requirement is five years. He would have to wait 22 years to reach the minimum age requirement of 62. Meanwhile, he would have paid in $11,000 assuming he remained in congress until then and desired at that time to retire. Incidentally, he said he hadn't decided yet whether he would receive under the retirement system.

Gossett that if he participated in the retirement system, paid up his "back dues" and then became involuntarily retired in 1944, he could begin drawing $400 monthly for life upon reaching 55. He actually would have paid in a total of $2,310.91.

If he joined up, paid in his "back dues" and then the $500 annually for 20 years, he would be eligible upon involuntary retirement for a yearly pay of $2,800. He then would be 60 years old. At 62 he could retire voluntarily at a slightly higher annuity.

In the case of Senator Connally, one could only approximate the benefits he would receive under the act. The senator is 65 and has served 25 years in congress, counting terms in the house. From 1920 to 1925 the "back dues" would be at the rate of 3 1/2 per cent on the then annual salary of a congressman—$7,500. From 1925 to 1942 the "back dues" would be at the rate of 3 1/2 per cent on the $10,000 annual income; and henceforth "dues" would be at the rate of 5 per cent of $10,000. Connally's share of "back dues" would be about $7,500. If he were to "join" the pension system and retire immediately he would collect something in the neighborhood of $2,500 annually, even without paying "back dues."

Oldest member of the house is Texas Representative J. J. Mansfield of Columbus, who was 81 on Feb. 9. He says he is uninterested in the "pension" plan, that on the basis of cold, actuarial tables it would be an unsound business investment for him.

Texas Leads Nation In Best Shorthorns

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
CHICAGO, Feb. 25—With four class leaders coming from Texas and two other high ranking producers coming from the southwest, this section leads the nation in Vol. 26 of the Milking Shorthorn Yearbook, just off the press, according to W. J. Hardy, secretary of the Milking Shorthorn society, Union Stock yards, Chicago.

Senior 4-year-olds are headed in fat production by Bessie Lou, owned by Mack Edwards & Son, Amarillo. She made 12,619.4 pounds of milk and 560.42 pounds of fat.

From Southland comes E. L. King's senior 3-year-old, Strong Heart, to lead that class in fat production with 12,208.6 pounds of milk and 491.45 pounds of fat.

Highest milk producer among the junior 3-year-olds listed in Vol. 26 is Timber Mistress, owned by Ed Gray, Sagerton, with a record of 11,441 pounds of milk.

C. E. Donnell, Canyon, tops the junior 2-year-olds in fat production with Don Acres Anxius, producing 10,831 pounds of milk and 432.74 pounds of fat.

Books Contributed Here To Be Sent To Amarillo Saturday

Books collected in Gray county for the Victory Book campaign will be sent from Pampa to the district headquarters in Amarillo Saturday.

From Amarillo the books will be sent to USO centers for distribution to soldiers, sailors, and marines.

The campaign was to have ended here last Saturday but the LeFors schools asked that shipment of the books to Amarillo be postponed in order to allow them to make their contribution.

At the receiving station in the Pampa Public Library four cartons of books have been collected. Pampa schools have already turned in their books for the campaign, but nothing has been received here from Alanreed or McLean.

SOME APPETITE
The United States Department of Commerce has found that in the 26 years the average person lives he consumes about 106,400 pounds of food. Total beef consumed during that interval is 3,416 pounds, according to these estimates.

Spring Conditioning that's TAILORED TO YOUR CAR!

Come in Now for a FREE Inspection by Authorized Factory-Trained Mechanics that Will Show Exactly what Attention YOUR Car Needs.

WANT LONGER TIRE LIFE? When switching tires, do you remember the spare? If you'll let us switch your tires, working the spare in where it can best be used, each tire out of the five you have will be on the road only four-fifths as much as usual. Net result: Longer life from the same full set.

GOOD BRAKES MEAN SAFETY PLUS. Brakes ought to be kept in proper adjustment for safety reasons alone. Beyond that, brakes that are "out" can also result in unnecessarily increased tire wear. For best results, let Buick men adjust your Buick brakes to Buick factory specifications.

Your whole car lasts longer when it is conditioned as a unit—especially when trained Buick specialists do the job.

So we write your spring conditioning ticket to fit your car's needs—not to make up a ready-made "package" according to average requirements.

The cost is no higher than for a comparably good job anywhere else. It's actually lower in the long run, because it pays to have a job done right.

Drop in for a FREE check-up by our authorized factory-trained mechanics and let us detail the service your car should have this spring.

Every Phase Of National Defense Subject For Alert Texas Editors

By BRACK CURRY Associated Press Staff

Every phase of Uncle Sam's war effort is passing under the close editorial scrutiny of alert Texas newspapers.

The exigency of an international conflict involving the future destiny of the American people has aroused the fighting clan of Texas editors, evoking pungent editorial comments.

Texas editors are harkening back to the days when Lone Star state newspaper men roared in blood and thunder from editorial pages and stood ready to back laked assertions with a spurt of lead from a six-shooter.

Scorching rebuke for the debacle at Pearl Harbor, for food hoarding, for the complacency of the American people, for the bill to pension congressmen, recently has been administered by tart Texas editors.

Blotting out by the trenchant necessity of maintaining democracy American type—are the conventional editorial pages dominated by comment on women's club activities and on needed civic improvements.

Decrying the bill to pension members of congress, the Waco News-Tribune reflects the new spirit of Texas editorial pages with these words:

"It is a gloomy commentary that at a time like this a majority can stampee such a bill through passage, after members of congress have over the years during which we might have made ourselves completely safe, squandered the nation's time and opportunities profligately, refused to heed the signs of impending catastrophe, failed to arm our defenses, failed to allow fortification of vital outposts, failed to support the realism so plentifully in evidence, failed to refuse to permit parliamentary trickeries employed by a vocal minority to stampee every effort at defense, and failed to allow congress to act in capacity to adequately represent the nation's interests."

On the same subject, the Galveston Daily News concludes: "The spectacle of congressmen quietly voting themselves pensions while the nation is being required to make extreme sacrifices to win the war is enough to shake any one's confidence in democratic government."

Concerning the hoarding of foodstuffs, the San Antonio Evening News pulls no punches with this declaration: "If sugar rationing is another fiasco like licks and his oil shortage, then there will have to be some immediate shakeups in official Washington."

In San Angelo, the Evening Standard editorially indicts the complacency of the American people before the totalitarian menace, asserting "those men (at Pearl Harbor) died first because of the complacency of the American people as a whole. The Abilene Reporter-News blames the "too little too late" debacle of the United Nations and the unpreparedness of the United States on "those strikes of last summer, a few pot-bellied 'statesmen' who blocked defense effort after defense effort."

It adds, "The scarcity of fighting machines where needed is a natural product of the stupidity, the sheer devilish blindness, the loathsome political chicanery of months and years ago."

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram warns that for the United States to serve as the arsenal of democracy will not be "quite enough."

"Coincidentally," says the Star-Telegram, "must come reorganization of our economic-industrial-political forces for correction at home. Otherwise, the effort shall have been wasted."

"Let's not kid ourselves," cautions the Corpus Christi Caller. "The sooner we stop wishful thinking about how soon the Axis countries are going to fall apart, and get busy tearing them apart, the better it will be for us."

"We must fight all the way," the Caller asserts. "It will not do to mark time complacently until 1943 when our legendary volume of production will so astound the Axis partners that they will all simultaneously fall flat on their faces."

On the same theme, the Beaumont Enterprise warns: "The American people simply cannot afford to let themselves be lulled into a sense of false security. There can be no business as usual until this war is won. There can be no return to normal life until the Axis powers are defeated."

The Houston Post expressed the wish that the forced exodus of "parasites" from overcrowded Washington may be emulated by "removal of a few million other parasites from a few thousand other cities."

"It is reported," the Post continues, "that Russians who quit defense jobs without proper permission are given long prison sentences. Maybe congress or President Roosevelt can work out something like that. Or, if some other means can be devised to provide defense jobs for all the parasites, and to keep them, we will be getting somewhere."

The Denison Herald deplors lack of an organized campaign to collect scrap metal for war industries as "but one more bit of evidence that this nation is not organized for a total war effort and that bungling, inefficiency and delays are postponing the day of final victory."

"It takes more than an initial spell of anger to win a war," avers the Tyler Courier-Times, adding "We must keep in mind that it is possible for us to lose the war, and we must begin now to fight with all our might."

"It's what you have when the chips are down" that counts, says the Marshall News Messenger, commenting on the fact that several American ships recently sunk by Axis U-boats were not armed.

Determination of federal officials to broaden the scope of rural electrification administration activities, whatever the cost to the public, was recently scored by the Texarkana Gazette, which stated: "It is unfortunate that there are federal officials who place promotion of their pet New Deal theories ahead of essential war effort."

The Wichita Falls Record-News questions the ethics of those not charged with military responsibility who criticize failure of the administration to dispatch reinforcements to General MacArthur, rhetorically asking the senator who expressed "hope that someone is thinking of getting assistance to the forces in the Far East" if he would like to assume personal responsibility for sending transports into Manila bay through the Japanese naval screen.

In Temple, the Daily Telegram, musing on the price control bill, advocates a new "brass knuckles for congress" movement.

"We are frantic about the price control bill which congress passed," comments the Daily Telegram, knowing it to be as sorry and shoddy a piece of legislation as ever issued from a muddled legislative body. And we are enraged at the pure politics played by certain farm bloc congressmen in rigging the bill that there is no reasonable ceiling on farm prices at all.

"That means that price control, as a whole isn't going to work. We fear that the log-rolling of these farm bloc congressmen may one day be seen as a blow at America equal to the one struck by the Japs at Pearl Harbor."

Louis And Simon To Fight In Month

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—Private Joe Louis will make the 21st defense of his heavyweight boxing title in 15-round bout against Abe Simon at Madison Square Garden Friday, March 27.

The show will be for the benefit of the army emergency fund. The announcement was made jointly today by Promoter Mike Jacobs and Major General Irving J. Phillips and Colonel H. Clay M. Supple, representing the fund, which provides for both enlisted men and selectees.

Louis, as in his recent bout for the navy relief fund, with Buddy Beyer will donate his entire purse. Jacobs again will donate his share of the profits. Simon will get 25 per cent, but will turn back 2 1/2 per cent to the fund.

FBI Raiding Scores Of Homes In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 5 (AP)—Scores of San Antonio and Bexar county residences are being raided today by FBI agents, deputy constables, and deputy sheriffs, state highway police, and city detectives and patrolmen. The raids, under the direction of M. W. Acers, in charge of the local FBI office, were directed against enemy aliens, who were being taken into custody for questioning.

Guns, short-wave radio sets, and similar devices were being seized, officers said. The raids, conducted by about 300 officers on 100 places, were started early this morning with four officers in each group, and two hours later 12 persons, including 10 men and three women, were brought to the federal building. Two were released later.

Two Japanese transports near Macassar, southern Celebes island, and a third elsewhere, and further attacked an airbase near Japanese-occupied Palembang in lower Sumatra.

Australia, herself on guard against invasion, announced a strong Japanese war fleet had been sighted off Dili, the capital of Portuguese Timor, 400 miles north-west of Australia, and Japanese parachute troops had landed near Koepang, capital of the Dutch half of the island.

Japanese transports in Dili harbor, however, were reported safe and presumably this was a result of blows struck by the Dutch-Australian garrison of the Portuguese area of United Nations warplanes based on Australia or Java. The Japanese gained a foothold in both Dutch and Portuguese sections of Timor last week.

Japanese raiders who flew at 28,000 feet killed one person and injured five yesterday in dropping 70 bombs on Port Moresby, southern New Guinea island, less than 400 miles off the north tip of Australia, but were said to have caused no important damage to service buildings. The port was attacked again this afternoon.

Domel, Japanese news agency, said warships operating against Koepang had captured a Dutch freighter and a tanker.

The battle crisis heightened in Burma. Invaders described by the British command as "fresh, reinforced enemy forces" had forced the defenders of the southern front to retire to the west bank of the Sittang river, the last natural barrier to Rangoon, the semi-deserted Burmese capital 60 miles to the southwest.

A German broadcast said a Japanese armada of 40 ships had landed troops and equipment from Singapore at Martaban, directly across the bay from Rangoon.

British military quarters said the invaders were hurling themselves against imperial defense lines along the Sittang river without let-up, suffering bloody losses. These quarters discounted reports that the Japanese had thrown 140,000 troops into the onslaught and that a more likely figure was 45,000 men.

British and United States pilots were quoted in Mandalay yesterday as saying roads in the Japanese rear were "unusually successful in aggressive local actions all along the line" against Japanese invasion forces on Bataan Peninsula.

In the Philippines, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported American and Filipino troops were "uniformly successful in aggressive local actions all along the line" against Japanese invasion forces on Bataan Peninsula.

Delayed dispatches said the grim struggle appeared to have entered a definite stalemate, with the Japanese temporarily abandoning their costly attempts to crack Gen. MacArthur's line across the peninsula. Heavy casualties suffered by Gen. Homma's 14th army—estimated as high as 30,000 killed and wounded—were cited as contributing to the stalemate in the Japanese camp.

American-Filipino defenders alone have buried 2,000 Japanese, killed in attempted landings on the west coast and in thrusts against the west central section of the front, where the invaders were annihilated by American artillery gunners. An entire Japanese infantry regiment was believed to have been killed in the west coast landing attempts.

sources said inability to obtain fire-proof helium was behind discarding of the plans.

Observers lent some credence to the blimp theory by pointing out that the object required nearly 30 minutes to travel 50 or 200 miles—far slower than an airplane.

An official source which declined to be quoted directly told the Associated Press that U. S. army planes quickly went into action. Later, however, another official said no U. S. craft had taken off because of possible danger from the army's own anti-aircraft fire.

Mrs. E. G. Landis telephoned police that fragments of metal fell around her home and "a chunk of something" dug a hole in her backyard. An army expert said the fragments were from an anti-aircraft shell.

Police at Venice, 14 miles west on the coast, arrested three Japanese said airplanes passed over the Los Angeles-Long Beach area. The craft were not identified.

There were no reports of any attempt to bomb this area from the air although many war-vital factories, shipyards and other defense industries were on the route the object followed.

Although some watchers said they saw airplanes in the air, semi-official sources said they probably were the U. S. army's pursuit.

All of the action, clearly spotlighted for ground observers by 20 or 30 searchlights, was just a few miles west of Los Angeles proper. Dick Nies was reported killed in action recently. Dick also at-

Russia Credited With Crushing Nazis 16th Army

By EDDY GILMORE
MOSCOW, Feb. 25. (AP)—Russian troops were credited officially today with crushing Germany's 16th field army, shattering three divisions and killing 12,000 men in what was described as only the first stage of a smashing new offensive in the Staraya Russa sector 140 miles below Leningrad.

A Russian dispatch detailed Staraya Russa appeared to indicate the town itself, hitherto believed to be in German hands, had been recaptured. A communique said only "the defeat of the Germans took place in the region of Staraya Russa."

Reports from the battlefield said the Red army was advancing thru territory littered with the bodies of Nazi dead and fields covered with abandoned big guns, automobiles and wagons.

Military dispatches said the Russians were pressing on in the face of strong German resistance and the handicaps of deep snow, sub-zero temperatures and absence of any roads. The Nazis were reported throwing in large forces of reserves to block a thrust which endangered vast areas of defensive positions.

The army correspondent of the Communist party newspaper Pravda reported documents seized in this battle included an order of the day from Gen. von Brockdorf, commander of the second German army corps, to which one of the smashing Nazi divisions belonged—acknowledging that the Russians "some time ago" had cut his communications.

"The Fuehrer is well aware of this position," Pravda quoted the order. "He personally ordered that the second army corps, disregarding the danger of being cut off, should hold its ground."

The corps would be supplied, the order said, by a "strong force of transport planes" which Hitler himself was said to have ordered into action.

Roosevelt Steps Into Farm Dispute

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—President Roosevelt stepped directly into the senate dispute over farm prices today with a letter protesting that a pending bill represented "selfish interests" at a time the very existence of the country was at stake.

The chief executive, in a letter read at the opening of the senate session, said a proposal to restrict sales of government-held stocks of farm commodities would "do irreparable damage to the war effort and farmers of the country."

Protesting that the original bill to restrict such sales might add $1,000,000,000 to living costs, Senator Brown (D-Mich.) urged farm state senators to accept his amendment intended to keep market prices of cotton, corn and wheat near present levels.

Majority Leader Barkley planned a floor speech in support of the Brown proposal before the vote expected later this afternoon.

"My amendment puts the farm block in a bad position if they do not accept it," Brown said. "All they have been asking for is a parity price and they will get it under my amendment."

The pending bill, approved unanimously by the senate agriculture committee, would prohibit sales of any government stocks of farm products below a parity price, which is one computed to give a farmer product the same relative buying power it had in a past period, usually the years 1909-14.

Car Quotas Released
WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—State and county quotas for the rationing of 148,000 new passenger automobiles in March, April and May to eligible buyers were announced by the office of price administration. Rationing begins March 2.

BATAAN

American-Filipino patrols even infiltrated in numbers.

There are some indications Japanese morale is not as high as formerly. This is admitted by many prisoners, who say they are sick of fighting. Recent prisoners stripped themselves of all means of identification and attempted to deny they were soldiers, claiming they were residents of Manila who were pressed into service as bus drivers by the Japanese army. However, these men are unable to speak English or Filipino and their stories were quickly broken down.

On the other hand, the morale of General MacArthur's men is excellent. They want to keep on fighting and are counting on the United States to give them the tools with which to do so.

The current stalemate is a further indication that General MacArthur out-manuevered the Japanese at every turn since they landed on Luzon. The main Japanese strategy on Luzon was to land herds of youngish, untrained troops in the Lingayen area in the belief MacArthur would rush his main forces there. Then experienced, well-equipped Japanese troops were to close in from behind after landing at Atimonan and other points on eastern Luzon. The Japanese carried off their landings as scheduled but when they tried to trap General MacArthur, his forces were already moving into Bataan, where they have been holding since early January.

The next move is up to the United States.

Spies Testimony To Be At Public Hearing

AUSTIN, Feb. 25. (AP)—A legislative investigating committee renews an inquiry into the University of Texas Medical School here tonight.

Chairman Jack Love of Fort Worth ordered the doors of the house representatives chamber thrown open so the public could hear testimony by Medical Dean John W. Spies; the dean's brother, Dr. Tom Spies of Cincinnati; and University President Homer P. Rainey.

The investigation began last week with hearings in Galveston, home of the medical branch, and committee members were attempting in the Austin session to complete testimony and present a report to the university board of regents here Saturday.

The committee was created by the legislature to investigate un-American activities. It instituted the investigation on grounds the medical school's program of producing doctors for national defense was being hampered by internal bickering involving the dean, faculty, and students.

Love declared that since the Galveston session the committee had received with telegrams from Galvestonians urging the investigators to "stand by the faculty."

Australians Bomb Rabaul And Timor

CANBERRA, Australia, Feb. 25. (AP)—Australian bombers, striking at an encroaching rim of Japanese lodgments in islands 400 to 500 miles north and northwest of Australia, attacked both Rabaul and Timor last night, a Royal Australian air force communique announced today.

The attack on Timor followed the observation of large Japanese naval forces in the vicinity of Dili, capital of the northern, or Portuguese, portion of Timor, and the report that Japanese transports in Dili harbor were burning.

Today's communique said the attack was carried out under good conditions of visibility and that good results were obtained on anti-aircraft sites and searchlight positions, but did not mention any ships being bombed.

Dili, about 450 miles northwest of severely bombed Darwin, had been occupied by Allied forces until Japanese launched an invasion.

The BAAP operations last night extended from Timor to New Britain, the communique said, and added that all bombs fell in the target area.

Next meeting of the American Petroleum Institute chapter will be here the night of March 12 with the subject of a paper to be on synthetic rubber.

Navy Announces 44 More Prisoners

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—The navy announced today a supplemental list of 44 naval enlisted men who were serving on the island of Guam and who are presumed to be prisoners of the Japanese.

The list was the third issued. In the first list 2,009 naval and marine corps officers and men serving at Wake and Guam islands and in China were reported and the second named 5 nurses who were serving on Guam.

Today's list included: Bobbie Epperson, radioman, second class, 806 Axtel St., Clovis, N. M.

Melvin Cecil Wilkerson, seaman, first class, Palmer, Tex.

David Martin Alpin, gunner's mate, third class, Route 1, Box 32, Midland, Tex.

Ernest Molnar, seaman, first class, 1175 West Coll St., New Braunfels, Tex.

Congress Repeals Pension Law 389-7

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—Congress has washed its hands of the pensions for congressmen law, which has brought tons of angry mail from taxpayers since it was signed by the President Jan. 26.

The house vote was 389 to 7. Actually it was on a technical motion in instructing house conferees to retain a senate amendment to a minor naval bill. The senate amendment repealed the congressional pensions.

"We are on a spot," one representative said, looking ahead to the fall campaigns, "and don't you think a lot of the boys aren't worried."

Next summer, when the congressional campaign gets going good, a lot of opponents are going to base their campaigns on this single issue. They are going to say the incumbents voted for pensions originally by not blocking them under the unanimous consent rule."

Borger Ships Scrap

BORGER, Feb. 25. (AP)—Over 40 carloads of scrap iron and metal have been shipped from Borger by local scrap dealers since the beginning of the year. Twenty-three carloads went to mills in January, which aggregated 1,150 tons; 19 carloads in about 200 tons have gone out thus far this month.

Russia Claims New Victory--Hitler Yelps

(By The Associated Press)

Russia proclaimed a smashing new victory over Adolf Hitler's battered invasion armies today even as the Fuehrer announced the bitter snows of winter were melting and he had completed preparations for the "final struggle" this spring.

"Snow and frost brought to a temporary standstill the series of victories of the German army, unique in history," Hitler declared in a message to Nazi party followers.

"Our enemy then hoped to inflict on the German army the fate of the Napoleonic retreat. This attempt has collapsed miserably."

In Moscow, Russians celebrated a communique reporting the triumphant Red armies had crushed Germany's 16th field army, shattering three divisions and killing 12,000 troops in the Staraya Russa sector, 140 miles below Leningrad.

Staraya Russa had been a key German base guarding the southern flank of the Nazi armies before Leningrad. A decisive breakthrough by the Russians would gravely endanger the whole northern arm of the German invasion and presumably force a hurried withdrawal of the Nazi siege forces around Leningrad.

Soviet front-line dispatches also reported important new Russian gains during the last 48 hours on the southwest front—presumably between Orsk and Kharkov; in the Ukraine—with the slaughter of 2,250 Nazis.

Hitler asserted the coming spring struggle would be "a settling up with that conspiracy which was hatched in the banking houses of the plutocrats and extended to the vaults of the Kremlin."

PAMPA MAY ASK FOR NEW FRANCHISE IN WT-NM LOOP

Albuquerque Still Silent On Purchase

Harold Miller, one of the owners of the Pampa Oiler franchise in the West Texas-New Mexico league, said today that he had received no word from Albuquerque, N. M., since offering to move the Pampa franchise to that city last Sunday. An Associated Press dispatch today said that the Western association was still dicker with Albuquerque but that fans of that city were leaning toward a WT-NM berth.

There is a chance that El Paso will ask for entry in the league and that Pampa will also ask for a new franchise, making a 10-team league. A number of local fans are working on that possibility, it was reliably reported today, although none of them would be quoted.

Word was received here yesterday that Big Spring, Texas, and Tink Revere would move their franchise to Lamesa while owners of the Lamesa franchise would move to Big Spring. The move, however, has to be approved by other teams in the league. The deal may backfire.

Pampa is now the only city in the league without prospect of baseball next season unless Albuquerque goes "Western" and leaves the team in Pampa.

The Associated Press story from Albuquerque follows: "ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 25. (AP)—Albuquerque's see-saw attitude toward the Western and West Texas-New Mexico baseball leagues swayed once more to the WT-NM last night, but a Western League representative refused to give up hope that his league would gain entry here.

Sam Minces, spokesman for a special city baseball committee, said that the five-man board favored the proposition of H. R. Miller, owner of the Pampa, Texas, club of the WT-NM League, for transfer of his franchise here, because Miller "isn't asking for a dime from Albuquerque."

The committee frowned on a proposal to back a Western League entry with local subscriptions.

The board was expected to notify Miller immediately so he might get the WT-NM circuit's formal approval of the transfer at a meeting Sunday.

Edwood Romney, president of the Denver Baseball club who has been speaking for the Western League, said he was disappointed in the decision, but he added that "I don't feel the possibility of Albuquerque's entering our league is completely out."

Romney said he would return at once to Denver with the hope that the local group "will think it over for a few days. The future of baseball in Albuquerque would be brighter through participation with cities more its size, said the Western League officer."

Pastor Kayoes Franklin, Earns Shot At Joe Louis

By RAY BLOSSER
CLEVELAND, Feb. 25. (AP)—Bob Pastor, who twice sampled Joe Louis' dynamite and lived, is itching for a third try at the heavyweight champion after proving that he, too, can knock them flat.

Tricky Robert surprised even himself by sending heavily-favored Lem Franklin flat on his face, for keeps, last night in the eighth stanza of a scrap booked for ten. Many observers had reckoned Pastor might win by outboxing the Chicago slugger, but the manner of the triumph surprised all of the 13,278 customers who laid down $52,457 to give Promoter Bob Brickman a record Cleveland indoor game.

As a result, there was little doubt today the New Yorker would catch himself a third chance against the man he respectfully calls "Mr. Joe." Nobody gives Pastor much chance against Uncle Sam's No. 1 fighting private, but the guessers already reckoned Mike Jacobs would line things up for this summer.

Pastor entered the ring a 5-2 underdog and spotted 16 1/4 pounds to Lem, who scaled 197 1/2. He took the negro's heaviest artillery in the first three rounds, including a right that opened a cut over his left eye in the second. But he stayed right there, confusing his foe with fancy footwork and quick jabs, noting his faults and waiting his chance.

It came in the eighth. After Pastor saw Franklin had lost his zip and was defending poorly, he unleashed a flurry of rights and lefts that even a lightning calculator couldn't count. Franklin retreated to the ropes. Bob followed, firing like a machine gun. He must have thrown 30 punches before the helpless Chicagoan flopped, full length, flat on his face. Lem got up at the count of ten and staggered to the ropes, his nose bleeding, as Referee Joe Sedley raised the New Yorker's hand denoting a kayo at two minutes, eight seconds.

West Texas Smashes New Mexico Aggies 81-47

After a slow start, the West Texas State Buffaloes from Canyon hit their stride last night in Las Cruces, N. M., to defeat the New Mexico Aggies 81 to 47 in a Border conference game.

Led by Frank Stockman, sensational guard who snagged 14 points, the Buffaloes rolled to victory after being held to a two to two score after six minutes of play. The Buffs led at the half 41 to 11.

Gibbs, Aggie forward, tied Stockman for high scoring honors, eight of his 14 points being on free throws after being fouled while attempting his tricky underhand shots.

Tonight the Buffaloes play the Texas School of Mines at El Paso in their second last game of the season. They meet Texas Tech in Lubbock March 2 to wind up the season. So far they are undefeated.

Coach C. P. McWright is holding spring basketball training for his boys while waiting for track and field workouts to start. He has only one letterman starter back from the team which placed second in the Panhandle Junior High conference.

Returning letterman is Randall Clay, slender forward. Others back for next season are Charles Hatcher, Dee Griffin, Charles Beard, Billy Binnion and J. W. Winborne. Griffin will be unable to participate in spring training because of illness. Carlos Roberts and Jackie Dunham round out the so-called first team.

When the Reapers opened the 1941-42 season they had only Billy Coy Sheehan back from the previous season but Coach McWright brought his inexperienced boys along slowly and was able to take second place in the conference race. Peewees scheduled to start tonight are Jimmie McTaggart, Don Humphries, Earl Davis, Kenneth Beasley and Billy Bellamy.

The Mavericks club boys have been playing together all season and have been winning from all opponents.

1943 Reapers Play Maverick Quints Tonight

Junior High school basketball players who will be eligible next season will play a doubleheader here tonight with the Maverick club boys of Amarillo. The two Peewee teams will play at 7 o'clock and the first teams immediately following the opener. Admission will be 5 and 10 cents.

Coach C. P. McWright is holding spring basketball training for his boys while waiting for track and field workouts to start. He has only one letterman starter back from the team which placed second in the Panhandle Junior High conference.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—George Owen, who quit at his peak to enter business, generally is considered the greatest of American-born hockey players.

The trouble there is that Owen first saw the light of day in Canada, though the remarkable defenseman of the Boston Bruins was raised around Boston.

Owen was a five-letter man at Harvard, and Art Ross has been searching for one like him ever since he decided to call it an ice career.

Billy Burch, a forward with the earlier New York Americans, was a native of Yonkers, but grew up in the Dominion.

Frank Brimsek, Boston goalie, undoubtedly is the finest American-born hockey player of today. He registers from that incubator of the glistening game, Eveleth, Minn.

Away from the net, Cully Dahlstrom, Chicago Black Hawk forward, generally is rated the finest. He's from Minnesota, of course.

But the man whom veterans rate the daddy of all American-born players never performed as a professional. There was no inducement when Doug Everett was graduated from Dartmouth.

Everett was more than 30 when he nearly won the Olympic Games championship for this country in 1932. America lost to Canada, 2-1, and then tied the neighbor entry, 1-1. Everett scored the first goal and was credited with an assist on the other.

Air Mail Bill Morton, who 10 years ago played plenty of football in Dartmouth's backfield, was right up near the top ranking American-born hockey players. Every na-

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 25. (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic association's fourth annual basketball championship will be decided March 28 at Kansas City. H. G. Olsen of Ohio State university, chairman of the general committee, said today.

The Buckeye mentor, in selecting committees in each of the N. C. A. A. districts, also announced the Eastern playoffs would be staged in New Orleans, and the Western playoffs at Kansas City, March 20 and 21.

One team will be selected from each district for the playoffs, with those from east of the Mississippi meeting at New Orleans where Dr. Wilbur C. Smith, Tulane athletic director, will handle the tourney, and those from west of the river playing at Kansas City where George R. Edwards of the U. of Missouri will be manager.

Rice Defeats Baylor 63-38

(By The Associated Press)

The Rice Owls continued their fast, late-season drive toward a title or championship in the Southwest conference basketball race by swamping the Baylor Bears last night in Houston 63-38.

At Fort Worth, Texas Christian rallied in the closing minutes to defeat the Texas Aggies 34 to 27.

The Owls' win gave them a temporary hold on first place in the standings with 9 wins and two losses. Arkansas is next with 8 wins and two losses.

Rice had the upper hand all the way against Baylor, but the latter's high-scoring guard, Dwight Parks, scored 27 points through the hoop for individual honors.

This gave Parks 186 points for the season, far ahead of his nearest rival, and if he has a good night against Southern Methodist Saturday night he may squish the conference record of 210 points set by Kirkpatrick of Baylor in 1937.

In a non-conference game, Arkansas defeated Tulsa 69 to 27.

Other conference games scheduled this week:

Thursday: Texas Aggies vs. S.M.U. at Dallas.

Friday: T.C.U. vs. Arkansas at Fayetteville.

Saturday: S.M.U. vs. Baylor at Waco; T.C.U. vs. Arkansas at Fayetteville; Rice vs. Texas at Austin.

sen said, the district champions for the playoffs will be selected. The committees, and the districts they represent, include:

Five: (Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Oklahoma) Dr. H. H. King, Kansas State; Clyde E. McBride, Kansas City Star; E. F. Williams, Drake; George R. Edwards, Missouri.

Wouldn't you be thrilled if you went to the mail box and found a letter with a check for a prize in a contest you had forgotten all about?

"Just like getting money from home," you'd say, and immediately think of a dozen things you wanted to buy.

Here's the way you can get a similar thrill. Take a look around the house, down in the basement, on the pantry shelves, or out in the garage; and chances are you'll find some electrical appliance or piece of equipment that you had discarded and that can be made as good as new with only minor repairs. Maybe only a new cord, a tightened connection, or some other adjustment is all that is necessary. When they are fixed, you'll agree that it's just like getting money from home. Don't let electrical equipment loaf. Get it repaired and on the job today.

Waste and extravagance will defeat; economy and wise use of time and material will speed us on our way to victory.

What Is A Hoarder?

A hoarder is a person who wants to have an edge over his fellow citizens to the extent of having an abundant supply of things on hand where there are not sufficient stocks available to supply all his neighbors during a wartime emergency.

That is the definition given by a group of New York merchants advertising against hoarding "in the interest of intelligent buying and patriotic behavior."

It's a pretty good definition. The boys crouching in the muddy foxholes of Bataan could probably say it with more force and color, but it's still just as damning as it is dignified.

Are you a hoarder? Are you buying up sugar so you'll have an "edge" over that mother whose son died at Pearl Harbor? Are you a hoarder?

Are you grabbing girdles off department store counters, because you fear a shortage and want to make sure you have yours, even if there's none left a month from now for that pretty girl down the street whose husband flew for MacArthur?

If you hoard, remember you are able to over-buy only because (1) you have enough money; (2) your selfish desires overcome your patriotic impulses. By hoarding you take advantage of your neighbor, your country—and yourself.

Hoarding begets more hoarding. If you foresee a shortage of pants or peanuts, the one sure method of aggravating that potential shortage and bringing rationing to rush all over town buying up stocks and hoarding to one and all of your foresight. By hoarding you bring on rationing and possible hardship that might be avoided.

Hoarding is unpatriotic. But conserving what you now have is just as patriotic as buying defense bonds or working harder longer or volunteering for civilian defense. Don't waste. Take care of what you have. Buy only what you really need—now.

When the final history of this war is written, will it be recorded that America lost? That America lost because most of her people remained apathetic toward the war effort and the only ones to arouse from complacency were those who lathered themselves into the hysteria of hoarding?

She Also Served

It was a two-paragraph item on the inside of most newspapers. She didn't fire a red-hot machine gun from a mud-hole in Batasin. She piloted no precious cargo through a mined sea. Nor did she sweat over a bomber assembly line. But she did something just as fine and heroic, something which may win a great battle for America and humanity.

Nurse Nancy Vance of Charlottesville, Va., knew she was dying of cancer. She gave up a private room and took a bed in a hospital ward so she would have more money. For more medical attention? For a big fine funeral? No. So she would have more money left in 20 years' savings to donate to the fight against cancer. She died the other day and left all she had, $2,900, for that great cause. RETURN TO TEACHINGS OF JESUS ADVOCATED (Los Angeles Times)

"All great religious leaders have had their teachings twisted and distorted by well-meaning disciples," said Dr. Albert D. Bell yesterday at University Chapel. "Fortunately, enough of Jesus' sayings were preserved to enable us to separate His actual teachings from the nonsense long taught in His name. Paul, who never spent five minutes with Jesus, was the founder of the system of theology now called 'Christian,' which bears little resemblance to the philosophy of Jesus. Since the theology of our day is Pauline, we must brush it aside and go back to the teachings of Jesus. These teachings can revolutionize our lives and bring the condition of heaven to earth. Let us accept the spiritual authority of Jesus and become God-loving rather than God-fearing citizens of the Kingdom of Heaven."

A heating engineer from the University of Minnesota is the authority for this: Sleep nine months out of the year with your room windows closed. You'll not only reduce your fuel costs but you'll cut down the possibilities of colds, sinus infections and other disorders.

And here's why—one window in your bedroom, weatherstripped and with a storm window on and closed, will infiltrate enough air into your bedroom (provided your bedroom door is left ajar) to make sleeping healthful and comfortable for four adults in that room. SPOON-FED NEWS.

The American people have read with considerable pride the account of the fleet's operation against Japanese bases in the Marshall and Gilbert Islands. The raids seem to have been executed with daring and there is reason to assume that the reconnaissance work which must have preceded the attack was satisfactory.

The attack took place on Jan. 31 and the results were announced briefly by the navy department on Feb. 1. It was not until a fortnight later that the fuller account was released to the public. Sound reasons for this delay are anything but obvious. The fact is that the fuller stories of the raid, sent by correspondents of

Columnist Boake Carter so succinctly expresses my thoughts on the condition we are facing, in a copyrighted article under the heading "Time to Throw Sycophants Out", in the Los Angeles Examiner, that I am quoting:

"The newest alibi of Washington for incompetence and administrative confusion is that the people are responsible and therefore it is everybody's fault!"

"Which, of course, is a childish argument and simply passing the buck. Time and again, it has been written in these columns that the people of any and every nation will react according to the character and integrity of the leadership they receive."

"Newspaper reports declare to us that the President has shut his mind to much worry in order to concentrate on the prosecution of the war—which, to put it bluntly, is going badly. This is a splendid thing and the only thing to do—if one possesses the gift for it."

"But it is a dangerous thing to do if the leader who so closes his mind has no sound supporting organization and whose executive subordinates cannot be counted on to carry the load efficiently and courageously while the Chief keeps his attention glued on the biggest problem."

"The row over Melvin Douglas and the young 'glide dancer' named Mayris Chaney is merely symptomatic of the real and inherent weakness of the administrative machinery in Washington. And no amount of propaganda about 'morale' and 'comfort to the enemy' can hide that fact from the people. It is a very serious matter—this Douglas-Chaney affair. Not as an item of itself, but because of what it represents."

"With the fall of Singapore, it is quite possible that historians may declare that it was at that point that the people of both Anglo-Saxon nations began to take much less for granted than they therefore, in their leaderships."

"People will not be content to watch professional unionists demand double time Sundays while boys in the Philippines and on the Pacific and Atlantic Oceans work seven days for the same monthly pay. People will not be content to watch Mayalan Peninsulas disappear into the maw of an oncoming enemy and do nothing about Mrs. Roosevelt leading all her pet people on the OGD and turning it into a WPA—at public expense."

"People will not be content to observe one of the two greatest keystones of the British Empire going up in flames, while Mr. Roosevelt makes a radio report on the progress (1) of the war on February 23 at a Jackson Day dinner ($100 a plate) to pay off political party debts."

"People will not be content to note that the truth of Pearl Harbor remains unquelled, two high officers take the full rap (without court martial, by the way, but presumably through quiet retirement), without wondering if the real blame didn't and doesn't still go a lot higher."

"The people will not be content merely to acquiesce to a great program of thousands of airplanes, now when it begins to dawn on them that when similar programs were proposed to the authorities five years ago, the proponents were hustled out of sight and out of hearing."

"The people will not be content to listen to the ravings of a Flynn who blandly declares it would be a terrible military defeat for a Republican Congress to be elected next fall, when the present Congress busily gives a pension for itself in its old age as compensation for dutifully thumping its rubber stamp."

"This business of arranging matters so that General Hershey can do naught else but issue an order giving the movie industry special exemption privileges in selective service because somebody finds it is in the interest of the 'national health, safety and interest' to do so, is another matter of the same kind."

"The current Roosevelt regime has entertained more movie folk in the White House than any other President since the movies began. Whether this has any connection with the draft deferment for Hollywood is a matter of conjecture. This is not to say anything against Melvin Douglas, or the Gliding Lady ($4800 per). But one thing is certain: They don't belong in the grim business (at least it ought to be) of civilian defense. This is a job for full-time workers, not football stars. But it never will be so long as Mrs. Roosevelt has a hand in it; or Landis (a fine fellow, as they all are personally), Harvard Law School dean, tries his manifold best to do something that needs a retired military officer, and a hard-boiled one, too."

"No, it is these fundamental signs of lack of character and moral integrity in Government itself which are the worrying things."

"The President can correct it, putting in Government those dozens of fine men, who today are sitting on the sidelines, their talents not used because of past differences with the White House. He can fire the sycophants and get real workmen."

"The question is how far will we have to proceed with our 'social gains' how many defeats will we have to have and how much unnecessary poverty will we have to have, before the people rise up to the occasion and elect a Congress and a President that will not show favoritism, will not attempt to make us have more by restricting production, plowing under the wheat, and limiting hours, but who will encourage production and select men who have demonstrated their ability to understand natural laws and add to the betterment of mankind."

Newspapers and news agencies, had been received in this country some two days before the public was allowed to have them. So far as we are aware there is no American precedent for this kind of suppression."

Why did the naval bureaucrats keep the story bottled up? Congress, it is to be hoped, will seek an answer to this question because the matter is one of truly immense importance. We venture to say that 99 out of a hundred newspaper editors in the United States today suspect that the reason was a desire to have some good news to present to the public to blanket the expected bad news from Singapore."

If that was, indeed, the motive, the navy's press agents are playing an exceedingly dangerous game. They are conceiving it their duty to keep the public happy instead of keeping it informed. It will take the public about 10 minutes to catch on, and from that moment, the public will discount heavily every item of news released by the army or the navy in Washington. The faith of the people in the competence of their navy was shaken at Pearl Harbor, but there remained confidence in the integrity of the war reports. It is that belief which is being jeopardized now."

If the suspicion that Washington is trying to control public opinion by means of a tricky handling of the news becomes a conviction, the national loss will be greater than was suffered at Pearl Harbor. It is easier to rebuild a navy than it is to restore confidence in the integrity of tricksters."

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

The post office in the town mentioned last Sunday in this column reports that not a single letter has been received from Japan in four months. (According to the rumor quoted then, a U. S. prisoner in Japan was supposed to have written under a postage stamp that the Japs had cut out his tongue.)

Vernon Casey of Burk Burnett, former Pampa boy who has been attending college at West Texas State has successfully passed the tests for the Flying Cadets, and if anybody thinks the mental or physical tests for the Flying Cadets are easy, just try them. There are 150 questions and one-third of them are vocabulary words.

From Letterman General hospital, San Francisco, comes a letter from Staff Sgt. Joseph E. Hodje, medical department, former Pampa pharmacist. Joe encloses a newspaper clipping which he says is an answer to an "I Saw" about the "Okies" going to California. Writes Joe: "They may be coming to California but if I don't look long for them to head back to God's country. After a few blackouts like last night they are about to the conclusion that old Oklahoma is pretty safe after all."

Of course jobs have nothing to do with it. (Hi! Hi!) I enjoy The Pampa News tremendously. I just start through the paper and skip everything with an out-of-town heading because I am only interested in what is going on in Pampa. I have several friends from the Panhandle and they always get the paper after I am through. "We'll win in the end!"

The clipping Joe sent follows: Final report: On Highway 56 short while back, Ethel Rae Levy of Oakland spotted a truckload of Okies heading back to Oklahoma as fast as their thin tires would carry 'em. As far as appearances go, they out-jaded the Joads, and they cast no sorrowful backward glances at the Golden State. On the back of the truck was stuck a large, home-made sign which read defiantly: "To hell with California and their big red geraniums!"

Thanks Joe for the clipping, the letter and the lockdown on the California situation.

Behind The News In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Whether you realize it or not and whether it means anything to you or not, organized labor in Washington has become one of the most potent forces in the capital. Labor is now so influential that it has maneuvered itself to the business end of a pipeline right to the president, which, in the words of C. I. O. President Philip Murray, "permits the labor groups to acquire direct contact with the White House on all matters pertaining to labor work in the war effort."

Vehicle for this direct communication is the combined labor board of A. F. of L. and C. I. O. representatives. The name was chosen by the president, who has paid tribute to the committee by saying it was the kind of group which could sit around a table, take off their coats, and reach for their first names, and talk things over. Murray has declared that the president suggested the committee was created to consult with him periodically on "all matters" concerning labor's participation in the war.

The "all matters" Murray assumes to include living standards, housing, legislative standards, labor unity, and a greater degree of participation in the administration of all matters pertaining to the conduct of the war. "I think that the greatest victory that labor has achieved since the beginning of the defense effort," says Murray, who has therefore renamed it "Labor's Victory Board."

LABOR PAYS TRIBUTE
Labor leaders are not the only ones who boast of their new power. Washington representatives of some of the big industries pay tribute to the labor lobby, saying privately that it is too smart, that it has not made a single mistake in tactics since the defense effort began. Disruption of the old OPM and the first mediation board are pointed to as evidence of the lobby's power.

If that's true in any degree, there may be some point in trying to enumerate some of the objectives of the labor movement in this war effort. There is no official tablet of stone to list these aims, for there is as yet no real A. F. of L. - C. I. O. unity. But day after day the labor headquarters in Washington put out their statements of approval on these measures of congress or administrative orders—or their disapproval—and from these statements and from the resolutions of executive board meetings a fairly deductible item list of objectives has been compiled.

At the head of the list labor leaders put "union security." This is in reality a broad term for the closed shop or the union shop and the maintenance of the national labor relations act, wages and hour laws, and the anti federal legislation now on the books to protect trade union practices, including the 40-hour week and extra over-time compensation.

Second is a drive for increased wages in opposition to all forms of wage freezing for duration of the war. This objective is stated as maintenance of the "living standards of the workers . . . threatened by the spiraling cost of living and increased taxes on low income groups," but it is simply another policy of demanding substantial wage increases in all negotiations. A. F. of L. has gone further to suggest automatic increases as living costs rise.

SPRING MORE SAY-SO
On the war production program, labor can be counted upon to ask for more authority. Labor leaders say they are not interested in having a share of management as such, but this is stated largely to counter claims of management that labor should not "interfere" in management because labor doesn't know anything about management.

Labor resolutions state this aim behind a lot of words in asking for "labor participation in the prosecution of the war by affording labor direct representation and complete participation within the administrative machinery responsible for obtaining the production of munitions of war." What this means is more of the Murray industry plan, more Reuther plans for every war industry.

Elimination of north-south wage differentials, having been won in the coal industry and started in the aluminum industry, will be pushed wherever the unions think they're strong enough to put it over. And on the same basis, there will be increasing demands for uniform wage scales with whole industries on a broader basis, to eliminate competition for labor between plants.

On the legislative front, the labor lobbyists think they have sidetracked the Smith anti-strike bill, though they realize it can be held over the head like an administration club, to be pulled out if labor gets out of hand. Single pro-labor measure the lobby works for is to increase unemployment compensation for workers displaced temporarily through conversion of plants to war production.

WASHINGTON CURDS AND WHEY
Selective service having lowered the eyesight standards for soldiers, the Washington gag is that all the near-sighted men will, of course, have to go into the war. In addition to increased production of 100 octane gas for planes, an increase has been ordered for 81 octane gas for tanks and 80 octane gas for other motorized equipment. . . . Ladies' heels will hereafter come in four shades of flesh color, instead of 75. . . . Farmers bought 255,000 tractors in 1941, bringing the total number of farm tractors in service to an estimated 1.4 million, against an estimated 1.3 million horses and mules. . . . Famous words of living statements.

It is the God-given right of the American citizen to pet his public servant with verbal vegetables, so why should I try to protest this venerable custom?—Secretary of the Interior, the Hon. Harold Ickes.

Amounts paid or accrued within the taxable year 1941 as interest on indebtedness are deductible, with certain exceptions, from gross income in determining net income. Deductible items include interest on borrowed money to defray personal expenses, and on money borrowed for the purchase of real or personal property. If a person owes money on a lien or mortgage note on his home, the amount of the interest may be deducted. Indebtedness, however, need not be evidenced by lien, judgment, or mortgage to make the interest on it deductible. Frequently indebtedness is evidenced only by a note.

Interest paid on indebtedness incurred in the purchase of obligations (other than obligations of the United States) issued after September 24, 1917, and originally subscribed for by the taxpayer, the interest upon which is wholly exempt from Federal income tax, is not deductible.

Interest paid on behalf of another where there is no legal obligation on the part of the payor is not deductible by the payor. In such cases the amount is the same as a gift. As interest paid is deductible to the interest recipient is taxable except Territory, or any political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, or possessions of the United States; obligations of the United States issued prior to March 1, 1941, to the extent provided in the act authorizing the issuance thereof; or obligations issued prior to March 1, 1941, of a corporation organized under Act of Congress if such corporation is an instrumentality of the United States. All such amounts, including interest received on bank and savings deposits, must be included in the taxpayer's return of gross income.

Discount on bonds is ordinarily income the same as interest. Under the provision of the Revenue Act of 1938 a taxpayer reporting his income on the cash receipts and disbursements basis owning any non-interest bearing obligation issued at a discount and redeemable for fixed amounts increasing at stated intervals, may at his election made in his return for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1940, treat the increase in the redemption price of such obligation occurring in the taxable year as income received in such year, except that in the return in which the election is made the taxpayer must include all such increases, if any, occurring between the date of the acquisition of such obligation and the first day of the taxable year for which the election is made.

Today's War Analysis

By DeWITT MACKENZIE

Wide World War Analyst
Militarily and politically, the Indian empire suddenly has surged into the front ranks of the war. British India, which for long generations has had perforce to view independence through the small end of the telescope, finally seems to have reversed the glass. England's declaration yesterday "in favor of India's political freedom" must be taken to mean that John Bull at long last is prepared to grant some form of dominion status.

The present hurried move comes at a moment when the Mikado's hordes are battering at the ramparts of Burma, with the avowed intention of conquering all India. To put it bluntly, the Indian empire—one of the principal allied assets—is in danger, and the British are bidding heavily for native cooperation in the war, the price of which had been set at absolute independence.

Whether Britain's offer comes in time is problematical, for Japan is hitting hard and fast. The great Burmese port of Rangoon may come under siege. The Japanese and Japanese submarines reportedly are starting to rove the Indian ocean. There are age-old religious differences to be bridged between the Moslems and the Hindus—a titanic task itself, London says it's up to the British to lead the way. A scheme which will be satisfactory to all.

And so a problem which has evaded solution for generations must be solved overnight. Still, the Japanese hurricane is blowing the flames beneath the melting-pot to white heat, and it may be that desperate emergency will melt and merge these factions which have been shedding each other's blood for so long.

No details having been announced, it isn't clear whether this new freedom applies only to British India (that is, the provinces with a total population of 296,000,000) or also to native India, which comprises the states under the princes who rule a population of 93,000,000.

Even of the warring factions of British India be brought together, the powerful princes will still be reluctant to engage in any program which may deprive them of their prerogatives.

There is another aspect of the position as regards native India. While I was guest of the late Maharaja of Mysore, I raised the question of what would happen if England ever decided to grant British India freedom, and also cut the princes loose.

"Who would be king?" he countered quizzically.

"Your highness means there must be a king," I asked.

SERIAL STORY

KINGS ROW

BY HENRY BELLAMANN

THE STORY: Orphaned Parris Mitchell is reading medicine with Dr. Tower, Iowa, where he is why Tower keeps daughter Cassandra so close to home. His best friend, Drake, is a young lawyer who plans to marry Louise Gordon, a young girl who is a leading physician. Parris thinks often of childhood sweetheart Renee, a girl who lives in the city. Tom Carr, a young man who is a doctor, is studying treatment of mental illness when he goes to Vienna. Madame von Ella, a young girl, is a friend of Parris, and she is a doctor. Other characters include: Benny Singer, a young man who is a doctor; Harry Jones, a young man who is a doctor; and Dr. Gordon, a young man who is a doctor.

AFTERNOON WITH DRAKE CHAPTER XII

MOLLY'S jouncing gait had an almost hypnotic effect. It was hard to keep the eye from resting on some shining buckle or patent-leather trimming of the harness which rose and fell with her pace. Parris began to feel sleepy. After a while he began to see behind his half-closed lids something like a luminous thread stretching on and on ahead of them. It moved and whined faintly, and little figures ran and danced along the silvery transparent line. They were like the people he knew: Drake, himself, Louise Gordon, Cassandra, and over and over again tiny images of Renee, like a long screen of linked paper dolls. He wanted to call out to them, but they seemed very far away.

"I guess you and me had better stick together a little bit, Parris. Good gosh, you got to have somebody." "We will; you bet!" "I want to get married and all that kind of thing some day, but I want to have all the good time I can first. But—well, you get kind of tired even having a good time." Drake looked very serious. "You know, Parris, I wouldn't tell this to another soul on earth, 'cause I know everybody thinks I'm kind of wild and that I run around an awful lot, and that I ain't steady. But I'm going to surprise some people around this old town. I'm going to settle down hard when I do settle, and," he cut a quick sidewise look at Parris, "I'm going to make Louise proud of me." "He's in love with you, too?" "Now, I mean it. You can't tell anything about Louise." "Well, of course she is. If she wasn't I expect you'd know that in a hurry." Drake blinked at this unexpected perspicacity. "Parris, you know Preston Hill out there west of town?"

"Yes, of course. Why?" "I want to buy it." "Good gracious, Drake! What for? It's just a hill." "Kings Row has got to grow, hasn't it? That's the best direction for it to go. Wouldn't that be a good place to build houses—you know, looking down across the creek there, and away out over the country?" Parris was mightily impressed. "Why, that's wonderful! You'd make a lot of money, wouldn't you, and be rich?" "Well, doctors make a pile of money. Wouldn't it be the darndest thing if we, you and me, could build houses for ourselves out there, right next to each other?" "Listen, Drake—" Parris wriggled about and pulled one foot under him. It seemed to them at that moment that life was clear and straight ahead of them and pleasant.

ALL of the next day, and the next, Parris went about in a pleasantly unthinking haze of mind. That one afternoon with Drake had relieved the whole feeling of loneliness which had weighed on him for weeks. But he did not want to see him—not just now. He could talk to Drake about his work, his hopes and plans, and about a good many of his everyday troubles. But at this moment he longed for someone who spoke the language of another side of his personality.

After supper he remembered his notebooks. He had left them in Dr. Tower's study the afternoon he began his unorthodox holiday. He would have to walk into town for them. It was quite dark when he reached Cherry street. As he was about to step onto the low porch floor, he saw to his surprise that it was Cassandra and Dr. Tower who sat in the deep chair under the green-shaded light. "Hello, Cassandra. It's me—Parris. Didn't want to scare you." "Why, hello." She arose and dropped her book face down in the chair. "Come in?" The words were distinctly question, and not invitation. "Well, I—I just came after my notebooks. I left them here Tuesday." Parris dropped his cap and coat on a chair. "I've been playing hooky."

ill at ease under her steady scrutiny. He really hadn't had a good look at her for a long time, and he had forgotten how lovely she was. "Sit down. No, over here—on the couch. It's comfortable." She sat down and pulled a pillow behind her head. She seemed perfectly at ease now. "I—why, do you know, Cassie, I haven't seen you to talk to you, really, in a long, long time?" She cut in suddenly. "It will probably be the only time." He flushed. "Well—why, Cassie?" "I said I couldn't see anyone." He faced her squarely. "Your father won't let you?" "I told you you didn't have to ask questions." "Oh, All right." They talked a little feverishly, and a little jerkily. One moment she seemed to be as he always remembered her, the next she seemed strange and different. She seemed then to look at him from a distance—exactly the way older people sometimes did. A flick of lightning threw her face into high relief and intensified the lambent green of her eyes. "My goodness, but you are pretty Cassandra!" She smiled a thin little smile. "Honest you are—you're prettier than you ever have been, and you always were the prettiest girl in this town."

She leaned forward and gave his wrist a quick squeeze. "Thank you, Mr. Mitchell." Her hand lingered for a moment on his, and he leaned over and kissed it. "Silly!" But her voice trailed over the word ever so slightly. Again a painful excitement clutched at his throat. Outside a few large drops of rain spattered against the porch floor. "I—I guess I'd better go." "Oh, I'm sorry." She stood up, so close that he felt a little wave of warmth from her. Without hesitation he put his arms around her and kissed her. There was another flash of lightning and an instant roll of heavy thunder. She twisted herself free and sat down abruptly. "I've wanted you to do that," she said huskily. "And I've wanted to." "It's about time—seeing no one—" "Oh, Cassie!" He wanted to ask her why her father permitted her no friends, why he couldn't be with her often. She shook her head, anticipating his question. "No, Parris. But I want to be with you whenever I may. Just to talk. Will you stay and talk now?" (To Be Continued)

War Causes Gray To Cancel Machine Bid

Gray county was $6,021.12 richer today because a road machinery firm was unable to fill an order. On January 12 of this year the county commissioners accepted the bid of the Texas Machinery company of Amarillo for that amount on a motor grader. The company has written that it will be unable to fill the order as Uncle Sam is taking all the factory's production. At the commissioners regular meeting yesterday, it was voted to cancel the order and to return the firm's bid check of $375. Other business of the commissioners yesterday included amending the general fund $125 to pay telephone costs of the district attorney's office; another amendment of $200 from the same fund to pay cost of uniforms for the local flight of the Texas Defense Guard. The commissioners approved the quarterly report of County Treasurer W. E. James for the period October 1, 1941 to December 31, 1941. It was voted to increase the salary of the county jail cook to $60 a month, effective March 1, a $15 a month increase. Federal Payment Received. Allotment of funds from the soil conservation service of the U. S. department of agriculture on the McClellan Creek Recreation project was made as follows: Alameda Independent School district, $128.22; county, $68.30; common school district 10, $1.18; total $197.70. This payment, first of its kind received to date, is in the form of taxes that would have otherwise accrued to the units involved had the lake area not been constructed. The apportionment was in line with a suggestion of the soil conservation service.

Farish Wires For Kerosene, Fuel Oil

By EDWARD CURTIS TULSA, Okla., Feb. 25 (AP)—The problem of supplying fuel for the east coast apparently remained one of the oil industry's biggest worries today. Diversion and loss of tankers upset the fine balance between supply and demand that the industry had maintained during peace time. One of the first appeals to mid-continent and Texas refiners for fuel oil came from W. S. Farish, president of the Standard Oil company (New Jersey). Farish wired refiners. "We are in desperate need of kerosene, range oil, number two heating oil and Bunker 'C' or number six fuel oil. Will appreciate any help you can offer." Another proposal also is being studied to aid the east coast supply situation. From Houston, Harry C. Wieser, chairman of the transportation committee of District 3,

State School For Boys Represents Modern Idea In Training Of Youth

By BRACK CUREY Associated Press Staff
Good boys who get into trouble and bad boys who may become good citizens with the right kind of training and influence make up the nearly 600 youth at the Gatesville State School for Boys.

When R. N. Winship, Jr., of Junction assumed direction as superintendent last fall, the school became a testing ground in Texas for corrective theories for juvenile delinquents.

Rancher, teacher, leader in Boy Scout activities, Winship was chosen for the position because in the opinion of the state board of control he represents "the modern ideas of dealing with delinquent boys."

On his ranch, Winship has created and run a successful boys' camp, and proposed to apply the principles learned from his hobby—boys' work—to the new administrative program for the Gatesville school.

"We do not regard the boys here as having committed crimes," he explains. "They are, rather, delinquent boys who are in need of guardianship above and beyond what they are getting at home."

"This means that instead of being punished like adults, they are regarded as being children, and not fully responsible for what they do. They are somewhat like a boy who is sick. Such boy has something wrong with him physically, but these boys have something wrong with them because they are sick socially, and need help with the proper guidance in the community has failed."

Tucked away amidst the rolling, cedar-studded hills of west-central Texas, the Gatesville school is one of the largest of the state reformatory institutions, currently caring for 554 boys—346 white and 108 colored.

There Texas has invested over $1,000,000 and annually spends nearly $250,000 more for the social, moral, and educational training of delinquent boys.

Situated three miles north of Gatesville on state highway 86, the school occupies 913 acres of campus and state-owned farming and pasture lands and leases an additional 2,500 acres.

The land's valuation is $53,000, the of the buildings $740,300, and equipment and furnishings $187,500—a total of $1,000,800.

With a budget for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1 of $215,089, the school supplements its appropriated income with a farm program which yields about $20,000 annually from the sale of farm crops, hogs, and cattle.

From the 1,400 acres under cultivation, the school realized the following crops in the last fiscal year: 15,848 bushels oats, 78 bales cotton, 9,278 bushels corn, 3,858 bushels cane, 2,596 bushels alfalfa, 800 tons hegar stored as ensilage, and vegetables valued at $4,000.

Increasing emphasis upon vocational training to equip the boys for a useful place in society after their discharge from the school is being emphasized under the Winship administration.

"We are attempting to develop our vocational program along the most modern lines," says Winship. "Experts have recently studied our set-up, and are recommending plans which may sound radical, but are thoroughly modern vocational program which is aimed at equipping each individual boy, with the maintenance needs of the institution becoming a secondary, rather than of primary, importance."

If this plan culminates in an actual project, Winship believes federal funds for national defense will be allocated for this purpose.

"If we can increase the members of our vocational staff and turn out older boys with definite training, they will find their place in helping with the productive effort of this nation in its national defense."

The institutional, state-owned land comprises an independent school district which receives per capita apportionment from the state department of education. School is in session 11 months in the day and regular elementary and high school course of study is followed through the 11 grades taught.

The boys are in school one-half of each day, working in the vocational department the other half of each day. Vocational departments include cabinet making, printing, painting, and paper hanging, carpentering and concrete work, garage mechanics, power plant operating, including steam engineering, power generating, boiler firing, electrical work, and ice plant operation; plumbing, shoe repairing, baking, garment making, dairying, livestock care, farming, and hospital work.

Each of the departments has one or more supervisors and the boys are given training in the work of each as well as caring for the maintenance needs of the school.

"In recent months," says Superintendent Winship, "we have changed the program of the school so that a boy now is placed in his trade assignment, not on the basis of simply helping with the program of the institution, but first and foremost, on the basis of his interest and aptitude for a particular trade, in relation to the opportunity to be afforded him when he leaves."

The Gatesville school is directly contributing to national defense with a military training program which provides opportunities for boys to leave and join the armed services. Several boys already have enlisted and others have applied to Superintendent Winship for enlistment papers.

All clothing worn by the boys, with the exception of shoes and jackets, is made by boys in the garment-making department.

To assist in carrying on its athletic program, the new superintendent brought with him a coach and recreational director, Clyde White,

Father-Son Banquet Held At Panhandle

Special To The NEWS
PANHANDLE, Feb. 25—Boy Scouts of Troops 1 and 8 entertained their fathers last week in the annual father and son banquet. The food was prepared by the mothers of troop members, and was served with the assistance of the Scouts.

The boys and their dads marched into the high school cafeteria together. Before being seated the group was led in repeating the Scout Oath by Richard Earl Nunn, Jack Boyd led in singing "America" and "God Bless America," and the invocation was given by Rev. J. E. Boyd.

Marvin Sparks, scribe of Troop 1, served as toastmaster. Speeches from all Scouts was the order of the evening. Life Savers were called on first, the All Star Scouts, First Class Scouts, Second Class Scouts, and Tenderfoot Scouts had their say.

Other speakers were Herbert Campbell, Charles Franklin, Rev. James Todd, and Zane Smith, committee. Scoutmasters J. E. Boyd and H. G. Robinson, and Assistant Scoutmaster H. T. Drake also spoke. Highlight of the evening was the presentation of a check from the boys of Troop 1 to their scoutmaster, H. G. Robinson, for the purchase of a uniform.

John Franklin led in repeating the scoutmaster's benediction. Troop members and their parents present were: Troop 1, John Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Franklin, H. B. Skelton, Marvin Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Sparks, Jackson Schroeder, Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder, Jay C. Disney, Bobby Disney, Mr. and Mrs. Disney, Frank McDaniel, Mrs. McDaniel, Billy Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham, Hubert and Jack Drake, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Drake, Dick Waldron, and H. G. Robinson.

Troop 2 had present Rheuben Murray, Mr. Frank Murray, Dickie Stepien, Richard Earl Nunn, Mrs. Earl Nunn, Jim Bill Wilson, Jack Boyd, the Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Boyd, and C. F. Hood, C. F. Hood, Sr. Committeemen present were Zane Smith, H. M. Campbell, and the Rev. James Todd.

300 Fighters Could Turn Scale In Java, American Declares

BANDOENG, Java, Feb. 25 (AP)—American fliers have won the respect of their Dutch comrades and have established a high reputation as bombing experts in the straits of Macassar, southern Sumatra and off Bali.

The American, Dutch, British and Australian fighter pilots have gained considerable experience in the battle for the Netherlands East Indies and are confident they can outfly and outfight any of the Japanese airmen, given equal material.

"Three hundred good fighters could turn the scales completely in favor of the Allies," one American said today. "These Americans are formidable foes to come up against when they're operating the giant Boeing flying fortresses. I would hate to be a ship which was the target of American low-level bombing."

The Allied airmen said the Japanese in their incessant raids on Java airports had done far less damage than many would suppose, and "certainly not commensurate with what these raids are costing the Japanese."

13-Year-Old Boy Wins Fight With Jewel Burglar

CHICAGO, Feb. 25 (AP)—A 13-year-old boy, armed only with an old, rusted and unloaded pistol, took a negro burglar ransacking his home early today, and although stunned by a blow on the head, came out the winner.

Donald T. Morrison, Jr., momentarily left alone in the apartment by his father, heard the burglar in the bedroom, entered the bedroom and ordered the thief to "go."

"He called me a name," Donald told police later. "I got mad and slugged him with the revolver. Then he grabbed a bottle and swung at me—I swung and tripped him."

"He came up with a shoe—with a wooden shoe tree in it—he swung. I ducked but I guess I was too slow. When I came to, he was gone."

The burglar left behind him a pillow slip filled with jewelry worth $100. Donald suffered a scalp cut.

for the last two years coach at the Texas School for the Deaf.

With a library of 3,500 volumes and 300 new magazines and periodicals monthly, the boys have access to a wide variety of reading material any time during the day, and books and magazines are checked to them as in a public library.

Other recreational activities include football and baseball teams, a weekly movie, a Boy Scout troop among the younger boys, and concerts by the 45-piece school band.

Of the 14,000 boys who have been committed to the school for training since its founding, the greater percentage came from urban communities.

For example, of the 576 new boys sent to the school from the various courts of the state during the last fiscal year, 45 came from Bexar county, 45 from Dallas county, 29 El Paso county, 54 Harris county, 16 Jefferson county, 25 Lubbock county, 52 Tarrant county, and 16 from Travis county.

Draft Boards Urged To Defer Farmers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, told the House Agriculture committee today that attitude of farmers in not seeking draft deferment was one of the major causes of a threatened farm labor shortage.

At the same time, he asserted that "thousands" of persons working in shipyards and airplane factories under the impression they would be deferred because of an essential occupation "are in for a rude awakening."

Many of these workers, Hershey explained, can be replaced more easily than can farm labor. Rep. Anderson (R-Minn.) asserted that selective service had said that "labor organizers, movie people, and radio and newspapermen" could be deferred, asked Hershey if the administration considered that men are essential in production of dairy, poultry, and meat products.

"Absolutely," Hershey replied. The committee, beginning a study of the farm labor problem, was told by the selective service head that one of the tasks confronting him was to get across to local draft boards the necessity of not too heavily exhausting the farm labor rolls in their counties.

Too often, he said, farmers themselves hesitate to appeal a local board's classification because of fear such action might be considered unpatriotic. "One of the hardest men you have to convince that he is a specialist is the farmer," he told the committee. "Farmers are patriotic. They don't try to get exemptions."

Car Jacked Up And Tires Taken—On Purpose

PORT WAYNE, Ind., Feb. 25 (AP)—Fred Sheriff's next-door neighbor told sheriff's deputies somebody had stolen the tires and wheels from Bledsoe's automobile.

Ministers On Eligible List To Receive Tires

Ministers have been advanced in the eligible classes on the purchase of new tires and new tubes for their automobiles, but there's several "ifs" on the deal. This information was combined in a clarification of the eligibility qualifications for ministers, received by the Gray County Rationing board.

It makes no difference to what combined business, social, and recreational purposes a minister uses his car now; the rub comes when the minister gets a new tire or tube. Then, the minister must use the car "to meet the religious needs of the congregation he serves," in the language of the clarification.

"Religious need" means just that. It does not include the minister using the car for any non-essential trips, picnic jaunts, or simple social visits to members of his congregation.

To Ordained Pastors Only
Also, tires and tubes will be denied those who are not ordained by the regularly constituted church authority and those who have public transportation facilities available, even if they have charges in more than one city.

The latter indicates the setup was designed primarily for the east, where communities are close together and where there are numerous bus lines. In the scattered Panhandle, this would not necessarily apply. The regulations are intended primarily for the relief of ministers who serve

Texan Wants Farley In Defense Position

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—James A. Farley is proposed by Senator Connally (D-Tex.) for "any high position in the war machine in Washington."

Deviating from his prepared address at the Democratic National committee's George Washington dinner here last night, Connally declared: "I think that Jim Farley ought to be down in Washington helping in this war effort. I know that his heart is in it. I am sure he would respond to any call for national service."

Farley, who resigned as Democratic National chairman after making it known he was not in sympathy with a third term for the president, has offered his services to the administration without an announced result, Connally said.

Local boards have been advised to use extreme caution in passing on applications. Mark McGee, state administrator, explained the latest ruling stipulates that a vehicle which is operated by a regularly practicing minister of any religious faith, which is used principally in, and is necessary to the performing of religious duties is made eligible.

"This includes ministers, priests, or rabbis who in the course of their religious calling require vehicles to meet the religious need of the congregation which they serve," said McGee.

Shell Going All Out-In Purchase Of Scrap Metal

The Shell Oil company is going "all out" in its collection of scrap metal to help Uncle Sam. A campaign between the four districts of the Mid-Continent area will be held to see which will gather the most scrap.

Plans for the drive and contest were revealed at the Shell Safety meeting last night in the Schneider hotel, attended by 115 employees and guests, including Lyle Rankler and Al Lampadius of Tulsa and George Isle of Wichita Falls. C. J. Goldston presided at last night's meeting and introduced guests and speakers.

Mr. Isley said that the scrap metal would be concentrated at one point in each district and then delivered to some steel company. E. T. McNally, production superintendent here, explained the company plan for buying defense bonds through payroll deductions and methods of filing income tax returns.

Why advertising has to be a good buying guide For You!

WHEN a business man runs advertising in this newspaper for a product, he in effect signs a contract with you that the product is as he represents it.

Then the normal operation of our Free Competitive Enterprise System gives you further guarantee that the factors of price, service, and quality are kept in line.

For instance: If a business man gets his prices too high, then an alert competitor comes in with a lower price. If a retailer gives poor service, people leave him and trade at a competitive store.

If a manufacturer puts out poor quality products, people just stop buying from him and the business man goes broke.

Thus, the American Way works automatically for you—the consumer—that's why it's the best way!

So when you see a product or a store consistently advertised in your newspaper, you can be pretty sure that that advertiser is giving you the MOST for your MONEY.

Competitive Enterprise System which has given us Americans the world's highest standards of living.

Progress Under the American System of Competitive Enterprise
With wages up and long range prices down, it now takes fewer hours of work to buy the things we want. Thus more people can enjoy a bounteous life and our standard of living goes up. Note these examples which show how long the average man has to work to buy these things.
