Allied Position In Pacific Called Serious; Further Reverses Seen

Singapore, Indies Might Be Lost

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt asserted today that a Pacific council had been in operation here and in London for a month and that there was very close cooperation in its activities.

The chief executive replying to press conference questions, said the council was handling questions of both military and political nature and that it had offices here and in London.

Questions of a purely military nature, he said, are referred to army and navy chiefs of staff while those of a governmental or political character are laid before the appropriate governmental bodies in Washington and in the British capital.

He pointed out that the Dutch government in exile has its headquarters in London and that the British dominions also are represented there.

Mr. Roosevelt's discussion of the council's operations coincided with talk in authoritative army and navy circles that the situation of Allied forces in the western Pacific was very serious and that still further reverses could be expected.

This feeling took the over-all view, rather than emphasizing the continuing stories of such local successes as the one reported today from the Philippines—destruction of Japanese gun emplacements on the southeastern shore of Manila bay.

These gun emplacements had been intended for an attack on the fortress of Corregidor.

In an address before the House of Commons shortly after his return to England from conferences here with the president, Prime Minister Churchill had referred to a Pacific Council, but Mr. Roosevelt's mention of it today produced the first definite announcement that it was actually in existence and functioning.

In the ABDA—American, British, Dutch, Australian—area, Mr. Roosevelt noted that operations on which the military command is under the strategic direction of General Archibald P. Wavell.

The president went on to say, although he conceded it was a slipshod way of putting it because it was difficult to differentiate that operations on which Wavell would make the decision might be termed tactical whereas certain long-range strategic questions must be referred to Washington and London.

In North Africa, Premier Mussolini's high command reported Axis troops had occupied the Libyan coastal town of Tmimi, 60 miles west of Tobruk and 40 miles east of the Jebel Akdar mountain region.

British headquarters said that there was "no change" in the land situation and that RAF fliers had "particularly successful day" blasting Axis communication lines around Jebel El Akdar.

The military experts' summation of the Pacific situation came at the end of the second month of war.

Military and naval experts asserted today that the situation of Allied forces in the western Pacific at the end of the second month of war was very serious and that still further reverses could be expected.

While fully recognizing the heroic achievements of defenders of the Philippines, Singapore, and the Dutch Indies and allowing for Japanese losses of more than 100 ships and thousands of men, these authorities grimly declared that only the delivery of huge reinforcements—difficult if not impossible at this time—would turn the tide of battle against the enemy.

The Japanese were said still to possess the great advantages of time and initiative seized in their sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, two months ago tomorrow. Theirs is the choice of when and where to attack, and the costs they are paying in troops and material were described as not too great for the advances they have made.

Effective reinforcements, especially in war planes, could block further advances and hold the threatened bastions still in Allied hands, it was said, for the Japanese position has become vulnerable at many points.

But America's great striking power is still largely in the factories and training camps. And the material now ready for the fighting fronts must be divided among England, Russia, and Africa, as well as the Orient, and transformed with naval protection over thousands of miles of dangerous ocean.

As strategists here view the enemy gains in two months of incessant action, the Japanese have:

1. Prevented offensive use of the Pacific fleet for many weeks by the raid on Pearl Harbor.

2. Forced the Asiatic fleet to withdraw from its Philippines base and pushed the American defense forces on the islands into a last-ditch stand on Batan peninsula and in the forts covering Manila bay.

3. Completely overran the Malay peninsula and put the British base of Singapore under siege with overwhelming forces after having destroyed the mainstays of British naval power in the Orient—the battleship Prince of Wales and the battle cruiser Repulse.

4. Made landings at various points in the Dutch East Indies so that without waiting for the fall of either the Philippines or Singapore.

Jap Invasion Horde Lands Near Manila

By ROGER D. GREENE

Associated Press War Editor

Japan claimed a destructive blow to Dutch naval power in the Far Pacific today, sent fresh reinforcements into the battle of the Philippines, and unleashed a violent aerial assault upon the siege-bound defenders of Singapore island.

American and British fighters shattered a big Japanese daylight raid on Rangoon, Burma, destroying ten planes—and possibly 24. During last night, however, waves of Japanese bombers struck heavily at Rangoon and the Dutch East Indies.

On the United Nation's side of the ledger, the news brought few bright spots—except that the ABCD allies were still grimly holding, fighting desperately for time against the arrival of promised "great reinforcements."

Two allied beacons shone forth in the general gloom:

1.—Sharp-shooting American flyers and British RAF pilots shattered a big Japanese daylight raid on Rangoon, shooting down 10 planes and perhaps destroying 10 more, without a single loss to themselves. The Americans alone shot down seven for sure and were credited with five "probables."

2.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's artillerymen smashed Japanese batteries which had been massed on the southeast Manila shore, across the bay from Batan peninsula, to bomb Corregidor island fortress.

Tokyo headquarters issued a high-sounding claim today that Japanese naval planes had "virtually annihilated" the entire Dutch Indies fleet—two N. E. I. cruisers sunk, a third heavily damaged—in an attack in the Java Sea, south of Macassar Strait.

In addition, a United States cruiser of the 7,050-ton mardisheer type was listed as badly damaged and another 5,000-ton ship sunk.

The Java sea lies between Borneo and the island of Java, headquarters of Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell's United Nations command in the southwest Pacific.

Obviously a propaganda effort, the Tokyo communique made no attempt to reconcile its claim that three cruisers made up the "entire" Dutch Indies fleet with the known fact that a large part of the Netherlands European fleet—considerably greater in strength—escaped to Far Pacific waters before Germany invaded Holland.

"The Japanese air action resulted in virtual annihilation of the Dutch navy," Imperial Tokyo headquarters said.

Domei, reported that Japanese planes also sank a 10,000-ton ship, set a 6,000-ton vessel afire and scored bomb hits on three 3,000-ton craft in an attack on a transport convoy, escorted by cruisers and destroyers, in the Strait of Malacca just west of Singapore.

PHILIPPINES

In the Philippines, a war department bulletin reported that American gunners had destroyed Japanese artillery emplacements on the southeast shore of Manila Bay.

The Japanese batteries had apparently been up for an attack on the island fortress of Corregidor, which guards the entrance to Manila Bay.

Japan's invasion hordes, already numbering more than 200,000, were being newly reinforced by troops debarking from nine transports in Lingayen Gulf, 110 miles north of Manila, the War Department said.

The communique said the Batan front, where Gen. Douglas MacArthur's hard-hitting defenders have held out under siege for nearly five weeks, was relatively quiet during the last 24 hours, with decreasing enemy bombing assaults.

In the seven-day-old siege of Singapore, British guns thundered defiance to Japanese troops massed across the mile-wide Strait of Johore while RAF Hurricane fighters battled Rising Sun planes in the skies overhead.

Yesterday's civilian air-raid casualties in the beleaguered island citadel were 14 killed and 104 wounded, making a three-day toll of 77 dead and 382 injured.

Four alarms sounded in Singapore before 9 a. m. indicating that the Japanese were now violently assaulting the fortress city as the prelude to "zero hour" for an invasion attempt.

Other Japanese planes swept over British troops on the north shore of the island, subjecting them to low-level bombing and machine-gunning attacks.

On other fronts in the two-month-old conflict:

DUTCH EAST INDIES

N. E. I. headquarters acknowledged that Japanese troops had captured the town of Samarinda (pop. 12,000), 80 miles north of Japanese.

Schools And Grocery Stores Adopt Hours

Enemy Aerial Raids On U. S. Expected

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—With the warning that the home front could look for hostile aerial attacks, the house appropriations committee today recommended that $100,000,000 be voted for the civilian defense program.

The amount was the biggest single item in a $160,500,611 omnibus appropriations bill which the committee sent to the house floor for action.

"Enemy air raids upon continental United States are to be expected," the committee said, in approving the civilian defense allotment, "but the general military opinion is that they cannot be conducted on a scale approaching in any degree the intensity or frequency of the raids on England or the continent of Europe."

"The committee requires preparation at all points that the enemy might reach," the committee added, and it expressed concern lest the allocation of $29,893,894 might be inadequate to provide facilities for manufacture of enough gas masks for the entire civilian population in "the so-called target areas."

The omnibus appropriation measure, designed to meet increased expenses of many government agencies since war was declared, also would provide $10,000,000 for equipment for training of workers for defense industries and $15,000,000 to reimburse President Roosevelt's emergency fund for allocations made to civilian defense in Hawaii.

Re-arrangement of classes in Pampa schools, effective Monday morning when war time goes into effect, and change in opening and closing hours of four Pampa grocery stores were announced today.

Change in school schedules was made at a meeting of principals of schools in the district, Supt. L. L. Sone said.

Beginning Monday morning and lasting through March 16, school classes will begin at 9:45 a. m. or clock time, which will be one hour later than present starting time. Morning classes will last until 12 o'clock so that children will be able to go home for dinner at the same time as their fathers. Afternoon classes will begin at 1 o'clock as usual but will last one hour longer than the present schedule.

The Pampa school board, in session last Monday, voted to stick to present standard time for classes. Principal reason for the move was to accommodate rural children who have to ride buses to school. By moving the clock and classes ahead one hour rural children would have to get up long before daylight and walk in the dark to catch a bus.

Under the present plan it will be daylight when the rural children reach the bus at 7 p. m. on week-days; open at 8 a. m. and close at 10 p. m. on Saturdays. The hours listed are by the clock, war time, and mean just that.

Mr. Pumphrey said that the four stores are already opening sooner than usual, but he said that to remain on the same schedule would mean "lost motion," as the lights would have to be turned on earlier and there still would not be customers on hand that early.

The idea, he said, is to provide a margin of time before and after the opening of the stores for various businesses for persons to buy their groceries.

Goebbels Admits Food Shortages

BERN, Switzerland, Feb. 6 (AP)—Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels acknowledged today that there is considerable dissatisfaction in Germany over the Russian campaign and food and fuel shortages.

He explained these complaints on the ground that the people are "overworked and irritable."

In an article in Das Reich, Goebbels declared:

"It doesn't matter whether one wants to curse things occasionally; the results for this many are various. 'One complains of the cold, another of the shortage of potatoes, a third about the over-crowded trains, a fourth about the eastern front, a fifth about the war in North Africa. All that real is not bad because we all are overworked and irritable.'"

"Ask thousands of Germans whether they rather would have war or peace, and the answer would be unanimous: Peace," the propaganda minister went on.

"Ask them whether they would rather fight on or give in, and they will tell you they want to continue fighting no matter how long. That is why we face all the grave problems of these winter months with supreme confidence."

"We are invincible because we have one thing—confidence in our own strength."

'Bundles' Will Not Be Sent After All

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 6 (AP)—The athletic round table called a halt to its "bundles for congress" campaign today, but the snowball it started rolling to poke fun at the congressional pension measure apparently was refusing to melt.

Almer McCurtain, secretary of the Idaho-Washington Farmers union, announced the formation of a pension Amendment Roper League.

"We'll just raise a calamity howl and let it go at that, or will we unite in petitioning for the repeal of this act?" said McCurtain, adding that petitions for repeal of the measure would be sent to all farm organizations in the country.

The rodent table decided suddenly yesterday the joke had gone far enough. A truck had been loaded with bundles—addressed to congressmen and filled with useless articles—was ready to start a trek to Washington when the decision came.

The A. R. T. board of directors announced it knew "it was all and who uto quit" and purchased defense bonds with the $3,000 it had planned to use in defraying expenses of the truck trip.

3 U-Boats Miss Passenger Ship

NEW YORK, Feb. 6 (AP)—An American passenger ship arrived today after a thrilling escape from three Axis submarines which made crash dives when a patrol plane appeared on the scene while the unarmed ship was trying to ram one of the U-boats.

Although the captain of the liner (her name was withheld by the navy) refused comment on his attempt to ram the undersea raiders, crew members said the U-boats were sighted on the surface last Sunday afternoon shortly after the vessel left a West Indies port.

"They crash-dived when the plane appeared and one of them was so close he passed under the ship," a crew member said.

He Was Released With Apologies

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Feb. 6 (AP)—The Watertown police issued a figurative "so sorry" today to Brig. Gen. Henry W. Baird, commanding officer of the fourth armored division at Pine Camp.

Responding to a call from an alarmed store manager that a "suspicious Japanese" was in his store yesterday, two policemen closed in and snapped up handcuffs.

At police headquarters, the man identified himself as Vincente H. Giliane, 41, Gen. Baird's Filipino houseboy for 23 years. He said he had been in the police station only a half-hour earlier to turn in some scrap metal.

He was released—with apologies.

Auditorium Job Let In City Contract

At a special meeting this morning the city commission voted its approval and placed its signature on the contract between the city and L. C. Graham, contractor, for the remodeling of the city hall auditorium.

Work on the auditorium is to start within five days from today, date of the contract being signed, and the job is to be completed within 60 workable days. There is a $15 a day penalty for each secular day after the 60-day period if the work is not completed.

Amount of the contract is $61,518.45, payable monthly on the tenth day, with each payment representing 85 per cent of the value of labor and materials. The contractor had already signed the contract before the meeting today.

The contractor is to supply material and to employ union mechanics. The work is to be under the plans and specifications prepared by Emmett F. and James F. Ritterberry, Amarillo architects.

Dallas Man Has Plan To Prevent Future Bonus Army

DALLAS, Feb. 6 (AP)—Jump the army private's salary $150 monthly!

That's Dr. Arthur Smith's program and he isn't kidding.

But don't make any commitments for immediate cash outlays, boys—there'll be strings to it even if the Southern Methodist university economics professor's proposal is adopted.

Dr. Smith wants to prevent a future bonus march on Washington, a post war depression and boost purchasing power when the army is demobilized.

Here's how he would go about it: "Let us continue to pay our soldiers the $21 a month (basic army pay for privates) in greenbacks. But let us also give them yellow money of perhaps $150 a month which can be redeemed gradually after the war is over.

"The longer they're in the war, the more money they will have when it is done."

Dr. Smith said he had seen the army tackle the bonus marchers back in the depression.

"I never want to see that sort of thing happening again. Heaven knows they deserved those bonuses when they got them. This system of paying them later will eliminate any such riots.

"A system of forced savings will go a long way toward saving this country after the war. You can put it down as nearly certain that if we don't buy United States defense bonds voluntarily out of our salaries the government will make us take our pay partly in bonds which will be negotiable only after the war is over and then on a spread-out period."

Deputies From Waxahachie Here For Prisoner

W. O. Gibson and David Pearis, deputy sheriffs from Waxahachie, came to Pampa yesterday to return M. L. Hawkins to that city for trial on charges of forgery and passing worthless checks. Hawkins gave up to city police officers Monday morning.

Yesterday afternoon Deputy Sheriff O. T. Lindsey of Sudan, former Gray county deputy sheriff, came to Pampa on business. While talking to Police Chief Ray Dudley he said he had been covering a lot ground looking for a forger. Dudley said he had turned a man over to Waxahachie officers earlier in the afternoon and Lindsey drew a warrant out of his pocket for an M. L. Hawkins, wanted in Sudan.

Lindsey said he would ask for Hawkins to be tried in Sudan, after his trial in Waxahachie.

Congressmen Arguing Over Pension Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—Congressmen already are disputing among themselves over whether they want the two-weeks-old law providing pensions for retired senators and representatives.

Several members of the senate say the law is a blunder and ought to be repealed. In the house there was both support and criticism of the measure which has become the butt of bundles-for-congress ridicule.

Chairman Ramspeck (D-Ga.) of the house civil service committee said he wrote the provision into the bill which the president signed Jan. 26 "at the request of numerous members" and had no apologies to make.

The law opens federal retirement benefits to members of congress. Ramspeck declared there was no reason legislators should not be allowed pensions the same as other government employees.

Senator Capper (R-Kan.), who is 76 years old and has been a congressman for 26 years, said he would never ask nor accept a government pension. Capper would be among those eligible to retire next January 1, under terms of the bill.

Calling pensions for elective officials "socially immoral," Capper told reporters he was convinced that the measure would not have passed congress "if a majority of the members had been watching the provisions of the 10-page bill closely."

Senator Byrd (D-Va.) said he planned to ask the senate civil service committee for an early hearing on a repeal measure he introduced. He said that if action was not forthcoming soon, he would offer his repeal as a rider to some other measure brought before the senate.

Rep. Nichols (D-Ola.) attacked the procedure under which the law was approved by unanimous consent. He said few members knew the pension provision was in the bill.

Seniors Ask Spies Not Sign Diplomas

AUSTIN, Feb. 6 (AP)—The board of regents of the University of Texas has declined to grant a petition of certain senior students of the medical school at Galveston, asking that Dean John W. Spies' name not be placed on their diplomas.

Dr. Homer F. Rainey, university president, made the disclosure today, affirming:

"After consideration of the petition the board has declined to change its usual procedure."

He did not expand on this statement.

Purportedly 67 per cent of the seniors signed the petition. The reason for their request was not made public here.

One informed source said the university governing board did not act formally on the petition but simply ignored it on grounds Dr. Spies was the duly elected dean of the medical branch and therefore was required to sign diplomas.

Their view, it was said, was that the student request was "out of court."

Nazis Call On Italian Air Force For Aid

(By The Associated Press)

Germany's famed air force, the instrument which pulverized resistance in Belgium, Holland and France, has asked an Italian war-planes for help in the battle with Russia, it was disclosed today by the Nazi high command.

The disclosure coincided with an announcement that Helmhanshelm Hermann, Wilhelm Goering, chief of the German air force, had just completed a visit to Italy.

"In fighting yesterday against the Soviet air force, in which the Italian air force took part, 28 enemy planes were shot down or destroyed on the ground," a bulletin from Adolf Hitler's field headquarters said.

It was the first time Italian planes had been mentioned in action on the Soviet front.

Whether the Germans are suffering a shortage in planes or pilots was not disclosed, but recent Soviet communiques have emphasized heavy German air losses.

Today's report, however, said planes were shot down or destroyed on the ground," a bulletin from Adolf Hitler's field headquarters said.

On the fighting front, Marshal Smeon Timoshenko's Ukraine army reported to have captured Petropavlovka, 70 miles of Dnieperopetrovsk, and the Moscow radio said "violent fighting" was raging in the Kursk-Khar'kov sector and also northwest of Moscow.

The Soviet broadcast said Russian troops were battling at the approaches to a town designated only as "V," on the northwest Kalinin front—which might be Velikie Luki, 90 miles from the Latvian frontier.

Velikie Luki has been the target of Red army troops driving down from Kalinin through the Valdai hills.

The Kubyshev radio said a big battle was in progress in the Valdai hills, south of Leningrad.

In North Africa, Premier Mussolini's high command reported Axis troops had occupied the Libyan coastal town of Tmimi, 60 miles west of Tobruk and 40 miles east of the Jebel Akdar mountain region.

British headquarters said that there was "no change" in the land situation and that RAF fliers had "particularly successful day" blasting Axis communication lines around Jebel El Akdar.

DKG Society To Sponsor Review Of "The Sun Is My Undoing" Saturday

Marguerite Steen's "The Sun Is My Undoing" will be reviewed by Miss Mildred Matteson of LeFors, in the city club rooms at 2:30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon. Delta Kappa Gamma National Honorary society is sponsoring the review.

Since the first edition of "The Sun Is My Undoing" in August, 1941, it has gone through five editions and has ranked on the list of best sellers for the past five months.

Starting with a scandal that echoed all over the world for a hundred years, this breathless book carries the reader bodily into the great days of sailing ships at the height of African slave trade which was the mainstay of the great flood fortune.

The wild, roistering, black-bowed young Matthew Flood is the kind of hero who never takes "No" from a woman or a situation. A headstrong, but fascinating youth, forever at odds with authority. Because he refused to give up that horrible commerce in human lives, Matthew's adored one, the aristocratic Pallas Burmester, said "No" and sent him off aboard one of his slave-ships to cover half the globe for half a century—and tangle the destinies of three generations of women.

Margaret Wallace in the New York Times Book Review says "Only the art of a superb story-teller could have leaped together so intricately the story of the Bristol Floods and those who mingled in their veins the dark, imperious blood sheba from the Combre River Country in Africa."

Rose Feld of the New York Herald-Tribune Books says "A magnificent book with characters which move with clarity and force against the backgrounds of their time in history and their place on the globe."

Critics in general say it has all the action of "Anthony Adverse" and all the thrills of "Gone With the Wind."

Special music will be given with Mrs. John I. Bradley in charge. Elizabeth Ann Sturgeon will sing "Sympathy" with Joella Shelton as accompanist.

Panhandle audiences, as well as those of Pampa, recognize Miss Matteson as a competent and efficient critic and reviewer.

Proceeds from the small admission charge to the public will benefit the society's scholarship fund.

Study Group Of Sam Houston P-TA Has 4-Hour Course

Sam Houston P. T. A. study group met this week in the home of Mrs. Lee Harrah for a four-hour study course.

Mrs. Carl Boston, who spoke on "Citizenship," told of the three ways to teach citizenship to children, through homes, schools, and community. She mentioned the four essential freedoms that we want to protect: Freedom from want, freedom from fear, freedom of speech, and freedom of religion. She also said that our citizenship is bound up in liberty based on law.

Mrs. C. C. Cockerill discussed briefly "Citizenship in the Home." She said that we are teaching citizenship in the home through such things as learning to share and accept criticism, cultivating a sense of humor, teaching good manners and learning to adjust ourselves to others.

Mrs. Jess Beard, president of B. M. Baker P. T. A., discussed the topic, "What Shall We Do Next?" In speaking of the recreation needs of the community, she said that we all need some type of recreation in order to relax and quiet our nerves, particularly at this time. She discussed the problem of providing good clean recreation for our soldiers. She also suggested hobbies as a good means of recreation for both children and adults.

Mrs. J. R. Spearman's topic was "Measuring Your Child's Abilities." She discussed the intelligence, aptitude, and ability tests which are recommended to be given to children to help in choosing a vocation for which they are truly fitted and one in which they are most likely to succeed. However, she stressed the fact that these tests should always be given by an expert and not by the parents.

Mrs. Harrah had the topic "What is the Home For?" She said the home is a training center where we learn to live well. The home must furnish food and shelter, a place for fun, physical comfort, and the teaching of regular habits.

A discussion period followed each talk and a covered dish luncheon was served at noon.

Eleven members were present at this meeting.

Americanism Taught By "Mrs. Wiggs" Comedy

"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," to be seen here by children in stage version, teaches true Americanism, says Clare Tree Major.

English by birth but an American citizen by choice, Clare Tree Major, founder-director of Children's theater, which will appear at Junior High auditorium next Thursday in Alice Hegon Rice's "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," says that in 18 years of selecting and producing stage entertainment for the young, she has never found a story which surpasses this one in concretizing for children the ideals and spirit which are truly American.

"The first purpose of a play," declares this pioneer in theater for youngsters, "is, of course, to entertain, but since children are always learning—whether we wish them to or not—the plays best suited for them are those which depict incidents built around the ideals being taught at home and in the classroom."

"We are always delighted," continues Mrs. Major, whose patrons include such leaders as Dr. Edna Dean Baker, president of National Council of Education, Evanston, Ill.; Dr. Bess Goddoykootz, assistant U. S. commissioner of education; Helen Hayes, William Lyon Phelps, Ruth Bryan Owen Rhode, and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, "when Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" is sent out to be seen by children throughout the country, because we know that while they gleefully laugh at the comedy, they will at the same time be seeing in a way understandable to even the youngest in the audience the everyday workings of democracy."

Mrs. Major, who came here during the last World War to find refuge for her four-year-old American-born daughter and then stayed on to pursue her own work as one, says that the instinctive faith of the Wiggs family that they will not always remain in dire straits, as well as their complete lack of bitterness and of any sense of inferiority, are fundamental American qualities which have never ceased to impress her.

Both the entertainment and inspirational value of Alice Hegon Rice's story, Mrs. Major feels, spring largely from the fact that Mrs. Rice is herself a superb American in spirit and action, and that when she wrote about the Cabbage Patch she was portraying the life of people she knew and affectionately understood.

At 16, Alice Hegon—sheltered only daughter of a wealthy and distinguished Kentucky family—made her first trip "across the tracks" where, with a friend, she attended a mission Sunday school in the Cabbage Patch, that squalid section of Louisville which had no streets, sewers, or lights.

Captivated at once by the inhabitants, who—unlike those of her own environs—wore no masks, "shared their emotions, and expressed themselves with spice and originality"—young Alice began making regular trips to the Cabbage Patch to help out in any way she could.

Indicative of her intuitive understanding of these earthy people is the fact that Miss Hegon realized quickly: "One must be democratic without being familiar, sympathetic without being condescending."

Today the Cabbage Patch has sidewalks, sewers, and lights, as well as a $5,000 settlement house which includes health clinics, cooking and sewing classes, a wholesale grocery, an employment agency, and a second-hand clothing and furniture department.

It was Alice Hegon Rice who, back about 1903, inspired the nucleus group which raised the initial funds for this lasting project of human brotherhood. The phenomenal success of the Cabbage Patch settlement, records Mrs. Rice, is due largely to the work of Louise Marshall, great-great-granddaughter of Chief Justice John Marshall.

Mrs. Major's stage adaptation of this internationally famous story, which in 40 years has not diminished in popularity, is being brought here by the American Association of University Women, with Mrs. V. P. Sheldon heading the committee in charge, assisted by A. A. U. W. members.

Performances will begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and 8 o'clock in the evening.

They Were First

Patriotic matrons at Edgerton, N. C., met and resolved to give up their tea until the British tax was removed, before the "Boston Tea Party" incident.

Mrs. Harrah had the topic "What is the Home For?" She said the home is a training center where we learn to live well. The home must furnish food and shelter, a place for fun, physical comfort, and the teaching of regular habits.

A discussion period followed each talk and a covered dish luncheon was served at noon.

Eleven members were present at this meeting.

Spirit To Be Topic Of Lesson-Sermon
"Spirit" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Feb. 8.

The Gold Text is: "I have poured out my spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord God." (Ezekiel 39:29). Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Thou compassed my path and my lying down; and art acquainted with all my ways. . . . Whither shall I go from thy spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?" (Psalms 139:3, 7).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit is not separate from God. Spirit is God." (Page 192).

LEE R. BLACKMON is with the "eyes of the air corps." He is a radio mechanic with a pursuit squadron located at March Field, Calif., having returned from a special technical school at Scott Field, Ill. Lee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. ## Phillips Envies Texans' 'Cocky' State Loyalty

HOUSTON, Feb. 6. (AP)—Gov. Leon (Red) Phillips of Oklahoma wants to know more about Texans' "cocky loyalty to their state," so he can try to build the same kind of spirit in Oklahoma.

Governor Phillips arrived here yesterday on a good will visit and to participate in Elks lodge affairs. The trip was made by plane with his secretary, Carl Remund; Foster Estes, special state officer and Jim Garibaldi, Oklahoma highway patrolman. Bill Hettle was the pilot.

The governor declared he would like to promote fellowship between Texans and Oklahomans.

Oklahoma, he asserted, is now on a cash basis.

"When I went in four years ago," he asserted, "the state was $40,000,000 in debt. Now, by economies and new taxes, we are retiring that debt at the rate of $4,000,000 a year and we don't spend anything on the state unless we have the cash in the treasury."

Texas, he said, ought to do the same thing. He added that Texas is "an empire of wonderful people."

Governor Phillips said he is opposed to federal oil price fixing and limiting of new wells to one to 40 acres because such policies "could lead to unjust curtailment of the industry."

Widower To Get His Share Of Estate

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 6 (AP)—Samuel Pick, contesting the will in which Mrs. Ida Maude Ryman Pick cut him off with $1, told Superior Judge Charles S. Burnell that his wife, before her death in June, had:

Required him to remove the wheels from automobiles and place them in the house overnight. . . .

Timed his errands and required her nurse to check mileage on the car to learn if he had gone joy riding.

Slashed his best hat with scissors and had given away his best suits.

Judge Burnell ruled that Mrs. Pick died intestate, voided the will and declared her $12,000 estate to be community property. Pick will receive a widower's 50 per cent.

'People Getting Pudding' Should Give To Party, Declares Germany

(By The Associated Press) A Texas Democratic dinner at Fort Worth February 23 will replace Jackson Day dinners of peacetime years, Myron Black, Texas national committeeman, announced in Washington after consulting with Mrs. Clara Driscoll, state national committeewoman.

The Fort Worth dinner will be for the whole state, it was announced. Raymond E. Buck, Fort Worth attorney, accepted chairmanship of the dinner. He said Democrats will be asked to contribute towards the national fund, and those contributing $25 or more will be issued invitations to the dinner.

State Democratic Chairman E. B. Germany, commenting on the dinner, said he opposed a fund-raising campaign. "The people are engaged in positive charities having to do with the war," Germany said. "This is no time to ask them to contribute to their party to wipe out a deficit. If anyone is to be called on to contribute it should be those holding war contracts. They are the people getting the pudding."

Other Texas war developments: Maj. Gen. Innis P. Swift of Fort Bliss, Maj. Gen. George V. Strong of Camp Bowie and Brig. Gen. Harry Johnson of Fort McIntosh discussed mutual defense problems of the U. S. Mexican border with Brig. Gen. Silvestre Pinal Villanueva, commander of the Mexican garrison at Nuevo Laredo.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Prince of Gladewater, both expert shots, began organizing classes to train marksmen for national defense. Prince, an oil man, said they had authority from the war department to teach shooting. Training grounds will be the family's rifle range near Gladewater.

The instruction and use of firearms from their large collection will be "our contribution to the defense effort," Prince said. Mrs. Prince, holder of 74 medals and eight trophies, received an instructor's certificate from the war department at a national tournament at Camp Perry, Ohio. Prince holds 85 medals and eight trophies. Members of the Laster Lange detachment of marines of Waco, organized in the World War, have organized and are prepared to function again in any way possible.

Baker Given Three-Year Prison Term

A verdict of guilty was returned by a jury in 31st district court yesterday in the case of State of Texas vs. Roland Baker, and a sentence of three years in the penitentiary assessed the defendant.

Baker was charged with theft in alleged connection with the removal of a quantity of jewelry from the Diamond Shop window here on the night of January 9.

The case went to the jury at 3:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon and Foreman G. C. Prusler reported the verdict at 3:55, 40 minutes later. Trial of Ray Bell, who had been jointly indicted on January 28 by the grand jury on the same charge, has been set for the eighth week, which begins February 23.

There will be no panel of petit jurors reporting next Monday morning in district court as no jury cases are to be heard.

Free Insurance For Men Who Fight Demanded WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—Senate passage of the $1,000,000,000 war damage bill giving property owners free insurance up to $15,000 damage has raised the question of providing free life insurance for members of the armed forces.

Although such a proposal has not been presented to congress, Senator La Follette (Prog.-Wis.) told the senate Wednesday during debate on the war damage corporation bill congress might as well face the "next logical step"—free insurance for men who fight.

"I merely wish to point out," he said, "that if we are to accept the principle that damages sustained to property through war, up to a limit of $15,000, are to be shared equally by payments in restitution from the treasury of the United States without any contributory premiums, we ought to be prepared to take the next logical step—and I do not see how we can escape it—and that is to provide insurance to the men in the armed services, many of whom are under fire, without extracting a premium from them."

Men in the armed services already are provided government war risk insurance, but they must pay premiums in relation to the amount of insurance they obtain. The new war damage bill would not require premiums from property owners until a damage ceiling of $15,000 had been reached. Above this point, insurance would require premium payments to be established later by the war damage corporation.

Senator Taft (R.-Ohio) told the senate the British system required compulsory premiums of every British property owner for war damage insurance. American constitutional provisions, he said, prohibit such compulsory levies because they would be considered a federal tax upon property.

Man Saves Dogs But Suffers Leg Burns HILLSBORO, Feb. 6 (AP)—Usually you hear about the dog that saved the man from the fire.

It worked the other way here. Jim Tinsley, filling station operator, looked in the window of his office and saw that his bulldog, Queen, and her puppy, Pooch, were trapped in a corner by fire.

Tinsley waded through the flames, carried the dogs to safety and suffered severe leg burns.

Fugitive Abducts And Robs Nephew Of Judge Allred LONGVIEW, Feb. 6 (AP)—A fugitive from the Gatesville reform school successfully abducted and robbed Renne Allred, Jr., nephew of Federal Judge James V. Allred but he slipped up in a second robbery attempt and was captured last night.

That was the deduction officers made in tentatively identifying Allred's abductor as a 17-year-old reform school inmate captured when he tried to hold up a Van Zandt county grocery a few hours later.

District Attorney's Investigator Louis Grigsby said the youth was held in Canton, Van Zandt county seat, in connection with the second holdup attempt.

Young Allred told officers he and a companion, William Moore of Dallas, were forced at pistol point by a hitchhiker to drive over county roads and then were stripped and robbed of $24. The robber put them in a room of a house under construction and barred the door. He rode away in Allred's car.

A few hours later the suspect, Grigsby said, was caught in Van Zandt county.

apore they are already able to bomb such Dutch bases as Soerabaja, on which effective defense of the Indies depend.

5. Captured Moulmein and advanced toward the Burma road, threatening to cut the artery on which China depends for the lend-lease munitions she needs to continue the war.

6. Captured Hongkong.

Despite these spectacular successes, which have required the transportation of troops and supplies more than 2,000 miles from Japan, the enemy forces have shown no signs of slowing down or encountering opposition which their audacious strategy had not provided for.

The more pessimistic among Washington observers fear that this means various Allied strong points will be lost, the Indies jeopardized and possibly overrun, and even Australia directly and forcefully attacked.

Yet none doubts that in the long run the weaknesses inherent in Japan's military and naval position will crack under the growing power of Allied, and especially American, forces.

Japan's weaknesses are numerous. Japan's army of approximately 2,000,000 men is scattered from Russia's Siberian border to the island of Borneo. Her navy, split between the main fleet and convoy ships, is engaged in convoy duty all over the China Sea and western Pacific. To protect these far-flung communication lines her main fleet probably is based hundreds of miles south of the Japanese homeland, leaving it to some extent poorly protected.

Two recent incidents of successful Allied action already have sharply pointed to the weaknesses. The first was the U. S.-Dutch attack on a convoy in Macassar strait off Borneo. Although it was a 100-ship affair loaded with invasion troops and supplies, the Japanese apparently had provided the convoy with a relatively light escort. The Allies sank or damaged well over 50 ships of all types and casualties probably ran into the thousands.

The second incident was the raid by units of the Pacific fleet on Japanese bases in the Marshall and Gilbert Islands. The navy heavily damaged these enemy salients flanking American supply routes to the western Pacific, but it found no Japanese combatant ship in the area.

Texas Statehood Day To Be Feb. 19

AUSTIN, Feb. 6. (AP)—Commemorating the day the Lone Star flag of the republic of Texas was lowered and the flag of the United States raised in its stead over the capitol at Austin, Governor Coke Stevenson today proclaimed Feb. 19 Texas statehood day and Feb. 15 to 22 Texas statehood week.

In the proclamation, the governor said Feb. 19, 1942, would be the 96th anniversary of the installation of the state government and termination of the government of the Texas republic.

"On that date in the year 1846," Stevenson asserted, "Anson Jones, president of the republic of Texas, delivered his valedictory, and Governor J. Pinckney Henderson was inducted into office as the first governor of the state of Texas."

Portion Of Old Santa Fe Trail Found In Picture

By EDWARD CURTIS

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 6. (AP)—An aerial mapping plane 15,000 feet above the Oklahoma Panhandle has rediscovered a portion of the century old Santa Fe Trail—once the lifeline of southwestern traders and pioneers.

The route of about 50 miles of the historic trail—broken in the early 1800's—showed up as aerial photographs, taken for the department of agriculture, were fitted together.

"We found a faint but definite line," said Russell F. Hunt, vice president of the mapping company, "which started a mile and a half south of Mexhoma, on the Texas-Oklahoma line, and which coursed northeastward to cross the Cimarron river, into the corner of Colorado into Kansas."

Checking with key maps which still show the old route pioneers followed from Independence, Mo., to Dodge City, Kas., to Santa Fe, N. M., Hunt said the aerial map showed that in many instances the trail crossed the river where it was supposed to have been.

Carl W. Nicholson, map assembly and layout specialist, said that although some sections were overgrown with brush or trees and others had been farmed for years, the trail still could be traced easily.

"In some places you can see how the travelers had to detour around dry bottoms when they would be flooded in the rainy season; how they swung slightly to avoid parts of the Black mesa, Oklahoma's highest point. At intervals in the trail are small crosses. In Oklahoma there are wider spots where camps probably were made."

The trail was surveyed in 1826 years after it was broken. Government records show 1860 as its peak year when 3,000 wagons, 7,000 men and 60,000 head of livestock traveled it.

"After completion of the Santa Fe railroad through western Kansas into Colorado, the trail fell into disuse."

occupied Balikpapan on the east coast of Borneo.

Japanese planes renewed attacks on towns in East Java; others were slighted in southern Borneo and the east coast of Dutch Sumatra.

For the second straight day, the Dutch command made no mention of the critical situation on Amboina Island, site of the Indies' second biggest air-naval base, on the flank of the United Nations' supply line from Australia. The latest word, on Wednesday, said Dutch troops were still resisting sea-borne Japanese invasion forces in bitter fighting.

BURMA

Japanese bombers in seven waves blasted at Rangoon, the Burmese capital, setting fires in the suburban residential district, and Burma's home minister warned against further retreat in the land fighting.

"We now are so close to the heart of Burma that any further withdrawal will be dangerous," he said.

London military quarters said British defenders of Burma were standing firm on the Salween river line, 100 miles east of Rangoon, and that there had been no general change in the past 24 hours.

AUSTRALIA

A war communique said no new action had been reported from the Australian sphere of operations for 24 hours.

On the Singapore front, Sergeant Ian Fitchett, official Australian arm's correspondent, gave these dramatic highlights of the siege: "The sound of shell-fire has increased in intensity. . . The Japanese have brought forward artillery and keep up a fairly continuous fire. . . Our gunners are busy in counter battery work. . . The Japanese are also pounding away with their larger type Mortars. . . Our men are busy patrolling all the lonely creeks and estuaries and will deal swiftly with any Japanese attempt to steal small parties across in efforts to establish a bridgehead. . . The lessons of Crete had not been forgotten, and special attention is being paid to parachute danger."

Meanwhile, Burma officially called for a fight "to the last shot. . . to the last man" against the Japanese who have pushed patrols across the Salween river in their offensive designed to smash Burmese resistance, close the Burma supply road to China and open a passageway to India.

Appearing by radio to the nation, Burma's home minister, Maung aye, urged:

"Fight the Japanese on every inch of our soil, to the last shot and, if necessary, to the last man." As the minister spoke, British and Indian troops were fighting the Japanese along the Salween river 100 miles east of Rangoon, Burma's capital, and it was acknowledged officially that the invaders had put patrols across the Salween north of Japanese-held Moulmein.

Further withdrawal will be dangerous, the minister warned, and then he told the nation there was a silver lining in the overcast sky—the promise of help from Britain, the reinforcements from China and the "happy augury of American action."

Meanwhile, it was disclosed that western hemisphere defenses were being bolstered.

A new Panama Canal safeguard has been established—a 48-mile trans-Isthmian highway over which army machines can go from the Atlantic to the Pacific in two hours. In Montevideo, it was announced

Fred Thomas McCarty, 44, died in a local hospital this morning of burns suffered in an explosion and fire at the Shell Oil company's gasoline plant north of Skellytown the afternoon of January 27.

Also burned, but recovering in a local hospital, was Harry Frances. The explosion occurred while the men were doing some work on a pipeline in the plant yard. An explosion was followed by fire. Mr. McCarty suffered serious burns about the head and body.

Mr. McCarty was born in Pampa and attended school here. He moved with his parents to Gainesville 24 years ago but returned to Pampa in 1927 to become engineer at the Shell plant.

HARVESTERS LEAVE TO PLAY PLAINVIEW AND WESTERNERS

Sandies Lose To Tucumcari In 35-26 Tilt

Before they left on a week-end trip to play Plainview and Lubbock, the Harvesters this morning read of the defeat of Amarillo's Golden Sandstorm, hitherto unbeaten, at Amarillo last night.

They lost their first game of the season to Tucumcari 26 to 35. It was the first loss in 16 contests this year for the Sandies, but it did not affect their standing as leaders of the District 2-AA Interscholastic League race.

The Harvesters are hoped to beat Plainview, cellar-dwellers of the district race, tonight, but they are expected to have double trouble on their hands tomorrow night at Lubbock where they will tilt the strong Westerners. Lubbock beat Pampa here 18 to 15.

The Harvesters, favorites to win the district at the beginning of the season, are next to Plainview in the standings, having been edged by Borger, Amarillo and Lubbock. The Harvesters still have a chance to climb in the standings but not to win the district. They could tie Lubbock, but Amarillo has the crown almost clinched. The Sandies have only two more games to play, Pampa and Lubbock, and Pampa is out but Lubbock could beat Pampa tomorrow night and Amarillo later on the Sandie court and tie the Sandies.

From the initial free pitch tossed by the New Mexico All-State center, Daylon Chafin, to the final goal hooped by guard Pruet, the Rattlers made and held a lead the Sandies couldn't overcome. For the first four minutes of the game the Sandies seemed stunned by the quick-shooting Rattlers, as they connected for seven rapid-fire points. And by half-time the Rattlers had the Sandstorm anchored on the short end of a 20-to-11 count.

The Rattlers apparently caught the Sandies flatfooted, just as they did last year at Tucumcari, and grabbed such a commanding lead that the Sandstormers were continually on the defensive.

Top scoring honors for the night went to Chafin who hammered the hoops for a total of 11 points, and who was followed by teammate Bryant with a total of eight. James "Wimpy" Hill, diminutive substitute forward who relieved Charlie Hughes, took top scoring honors for the Sandies with a total of seven points. He was trailed by Hughes who accounted for five before being relieved, and by Dorman, guard.

By HUGH FULLERTON Jr. (Wide World Sports Columnist)
NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(Wide World)—In his high school days at New York's Monroe high, Hank Greenberg played on championship basketball and soccer teams but his baseball team was only the runner-up. . . . Chris Dundee has just added Lightweight Jose Basora to his stable by purchase from Angel Lopez. Four of Dundee's 11 fighters are in the armed services, and Chris explains: "As soon as I get 'em the government takes 'em away." . . . The Good Neighbor movement may take a severe setback in the Millrose track meet tomorrow unless Chile's Guillermo Huidobro and Brazil's Jose Bento Assis know how much running in these indoor scrambles is done with the elbows instead of the feet. . . . The Cleveland Indians may soon hire a press agent, whose first job will probably be censoring the word "cry babies."

CORPUS CHRISTI, Feb. 6.—For the past month the basketball team of the naval air station here has been meeting and beating opponents right and left. Two wins last week-end brought their victory score to 12 straight and proved them to be in top form for the Navy Relief Benefit game with the Pensacola Naval Air station squad in New Orleans on Feb. 14.

The "Little All-Americans" from "The University of the Air" ramed home a 46-29 victory over the San Houston State Teachers college team last Saturday night and polished off the U. S. Employment service quintet by a score of 65-36 Sunday afternoon.

Making up the squad scheduled to meet Pensacola on Feb. 14 are W. E. Biggestaff, former U. of Calif., all-coast star; Carl Reidel, a high scorer in the West Coast conference in '39; Gordon Spear, with three years of hardwood experience at Minnesota to his credit; Jasper Davis, a semi-pro ace for five years; Joe Mongogna, a three-year man from Tulane; Joe Salome, former Loyola guard; and Glen Schluick-eber, a University of Nebraska basketball and football star.

Autry Opens Super Rodeo At Houston

By WILLIAM T. RIVES
HOUSTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—Gene Autry was as nervous today as a cayuse or crooked before a camera.

Autry has a new idea in rodeo management which will spring into being tonight with the opening of the Houston Fat Stock show, and the singing cowboy has invested a big chunk of cash and personal pride in his branch.

Riding back to Hollywood from the Madison Square Garden rodeo in New York a year ago, Gene fell to reflecting that a rodeo could do with a little more color, a little more kick.

Gene's a fast man with a dollar bill, so he decided to produce rodeos along Hollywood lines—glamorized and streamlined. He has sunk $100,000, he estimates, into the Gene Autry Flying A Ranch Rodeo, which has its premiere tonight.

Stoically whittling on a stick while the cowboys were drawing the buckers they must ride, Gene said:

"I kinda figured on streamlining a rodeo, using blackouts, special lighting and a couple spectacles like we put on in Hollywood—a big cavalcade of the men who made America, like Sam Houston and Davy Crockett, and a square dance, genuine old-time western style."

The entire rodeo is Autry's—all the livestock, stage effects, costumes, saddles, and other accessories.

He brought the stock from his ranch near Gene Autry, Okla., the town named for him recently. He hired a staff of assistants, although some of his helpers are his own ranchhands.

Groom Undeclared In Conference
GROOM, Feb. 6.—The Groom High school basketball team has a clean slate in conference play in district 3B. The locals have played five conference games, winning all. For the season, they have played 13 games, losing only one. The one defeat went to White Deer early in the season, but the boys have a win over the same team to compensate for the loss.

The Tigers have only three more games to go before the winner of the west half of the district is decided. If they are successful in winning their half of the district, they will meet the winner of the east half during the week of Feb. 16-21. In the east half, Mobeetie and Quail are strong contenders.

Groom's three remaining conference games are with Goodnight, Lella Lake, and Hedley. They won from Alareed Monday night, 43-22. They play Lella Lake, there, tonight.

Members of the "A" squad that played against Alareed were Johnson Helm, Burns, Britten, Berry, Wilkerson, Davis, and Andrews. Members of the "B" squad are Major, Cornett, Stamps, Fredericks, Anglin, Chilton, and Schaffer.

LeFors Boy Fights Way To Golden Glove Finals

Kenneth Twigg of LeFors will meet Steve Self of Canyon in the final round of the middleweight division of the Amarillo Golden Gloves Boxing tournament tomorrow night. Both won close decisions last night, Twigg finally getting the nod over Dave Youck of Stinnett with Self getting the decision over Bert Deaver of Amarillo. Another winner from this section was Leo Graham of Miami who defeated Edward Bruce of Amarillo in the lightweight novice division. Biggest upset of the tournament was the defeat of Douglas Anderson of Panhandle, defending welterweight champion, who lost to Pat Lanford of Stinnett.

One of the youngest boys in the tournament, Donald McLaughlin, of LeFors High school, defeated

Glen Brown by the knockout route in a flyweight battle in the novice division.

Bud Yount of Borger defeated Pete Guana of Amarillo and Junior Hamby of Follett kayoed Earl Markham of Dumas in other bouts by boys well-known in Pampa.

There'll be no fights tonight, the finals being scheduled for tomorrow night.

Baylor To Meet Arkansas In Make Or Break Series

WACO, Feb. 6. (AP)—Baylor's battling Bears, clinging to championship hopes in the Southwest conference basketball race by the skin of their teeth, meet mighty Arkansas tonight in the first of a two-game make-or-break series.

The Razorbacks, dealt a blow when Otis Young, high-scoring sophomore, was ordered to report to the army, meet a rejuvenated Baylor quintet that rallied from two crushing losses to beat the Texas Aggies Tuesday night.

Arkansas is tied with Texas Christian for the lead, both a game ahead of Baylor.

Defeat for the Bears in either of the games would mean virtual elimination from the race.

Tomorrow night two conference tilts are on the schedule. In addition to the Baylor-Arkansas tussle, Texas Christian will meet hard-hit Texas at Austin. The Longhorns have been dealt sore blows through losses to the armed forces.

Rise plays Phillips Oilers tonight at Bartlesville, Okla., in a non-conference test. The Owls beat Phillips earlier in the season.

The Longhorns of the University of Texas last night shoved aside Sam Houston Teachers, 63 to 48. The proceeds went to the Red Cross War Relief fund and the March of Dimes.

John Hargis, Longhorn sophomore, scored 29 points, 23 of them in the first period. Murray Williams was high-point man for the Bearkats with 20.

HAD GOLD NOSE
The famous Danish astronomer, Tycho Brahe, lost his nose in a duel and thereafter wore one of gold. So that he might keep it securely fastened, he carried cement about with him.

Members receiving jackets beside the captains were Buster Wilkerson, Fern Berry, Rex Schaffer, G. C. Whitley, Mark Chilton, Perry Johnson, Art Britten, and Fred Brown. Senior members were Johnson, Whitley, and Britten. A jacket was also awarded to diminutive Bill Britten, team manager.

The Groom boys were winners of District I, six-man football. They will receive the Amarillo News-Globe trophy. This is the third year for Groom to win the trophy.

For the season, the Tigers lost a non-conference game to Booker and a bi-district game to bi-district II. They had six wins against two losses.

150 Golfers Competing In Western Open

By ROBERT MYERS
PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 6. (AP)—Golf's greatest array of players, nearly 150 strong, started out today on a long 72-hole march pointed toward cold cash and the championship of the Western Open.

For years ranked as one of the major tournaments on the nation's links schedule, this 1942 edition shapes up even larger on the sports calendar in view of the cancellation of the National Open.

Few top-notch professionals were missing as such strong contenders as Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson, Sam Snead, and Jimmy Demaret teed off over the Phoenix Country club course, a tree-treacherous, well-trapped flat layout with par figures of 36-35-71.

Six former winners of the event were entered—three-time champion Ralph Guldahl, Nelson, Demaret, Ed Dudley, Harry Cooper, and Johnny Revolta, but absent, and located somewhere in army service, was last year's victor, Ed (Porky) Oliver.

Over this same course Oliver stroked the 72 holes in 275, nine strokes under par, for an average of a point or so over 68 per round. His mark may be hard to beat, but many believe someone in this field can do just that.

Hogan, winner of two important events so far this year, and Nelson head man in another, tied for runner-up last year with 278, while another threat, Snead, finished nine shots back of the portly Porky. Snead is overdue to win.

Henry Picard, former P.G.A. kingpin, who rejoined his pro associates here, is another overdue star, and may be a threat. He was paired today in a threesome with Hogan and amateur Bob Walker of South Bend, Ind.

The featured pairing for gallery interest, however, centered on Demaret, Dudley, and Hollywood's champion amateur, Bing Crosby. Comedian Bob Hope was a possible added starter.

Forward—In The American Way

Those who are disappointed in the achievements of the recent Pan-American conference are usually those who, taking no account of obstacles, expect great things all at once.

The meeting just closed at Rio de Janeiro marks another and very definite step forward in the integration of the western hemisphere. The accomplishments were not, perhaps, quite as great as many had hoped, nor even as great as at one moment in the conference seemed likely, but they are substantial. They have carried forward another step of the work that has been going on for 50 years, and have carried it forward on a solid basis. Unanimity, the keystone of Pan-American agreements, has been preserved. To have built the structure a little higher on solid stone masonry is better than to have shot it up five stories with rickety scaffolding.

The 21 American republics unanimously agreed that a common danger faces all the Americas. They recommended that each country in its own way and line break diplomatic relations with the Axis powers. Nineteen of the countries have done this, even before the conference closed; others may follow. The hundred-year border controversy between Peru and Ecuador, which has so often resulted in bloodshed, appears to have been settled. Consultation before any of the countries resume relations with the Axis is promised.

In short, the American republics face the world today united as never before.

These are no negligible achievements. It is true that Argentina and Chile have not yet seen fit to break with the Axis. That does not mean that Hitler and Hirohito control them. They stand where the United States stood two years ago, feeling secure in isolation, wary of "foreign entanglements," still hoping it won't happen. It will take time and events to show them the light, just as it took time and events to show it to Britain and then to the United States. In the meantime, we are assured many forms of co-operation from both countries denied to the Axis.

Things didn't just happen. They result from steadfast work and faith in the face of scepticism—work by devoted men who have never lost sight of hemisphere solidarity since Bolivar first dreamed of it 116 years ago.

On these foundations we must build yet higher and even more securely. Nothing in human relations is ever finished. Sumner Welles has good reason for saying that "this has been the most living thing yet to come out of the hemisphere."

We of the Americas are building a structure not only for the present, but for the future; not only for ourselves, but for humanity.

Up From the Ashes

Just 120 days after a disastrous fire largely destroyed its plant, the National Bronze and Aluminum Co., at Cleveland announced that it had tripled its pre-fire war production.

One week after the fire, the first castings were poured in temporarily roofed quarters. Four months afterward production had been tripled, and in another 120 days, the men promise to double it again. In view of what was accomplished after the fire, there is no reason to doubt that it will be done.

This is the American answer to disaster. The American people will return a similar answer to every disaster the war may have in store for them, for this is the spirit that cannot be licked because it will not be licked.

WE ARE ALL IN THE SAME BOAT (Automotive News—By George M. Slocum)

One nice thing about having a trade publication entirely dependent on the same industry as its readers, becomes apparent when calamity befalls. The same torpedo which hit the good ship U.S.S. "Auto-Dealer" right in the midriff, sent us flying as high as any dealer on our list and we are coming down just as fast, without the aid of any government parachutes which (so far) we have been able to discover. Brother, we're in the same boat with you!

Being in the same boat with the automobile dealer, insofar as the future outlook for our business is concerned, we can speak from an intimate sympathy which is only possible to one who is suffering in the same place. This bunk from Washington and some other oft-quoted sources, that the automobile dealers' present dilemma "hurts us just as much as it does you" would be more valuable if stuffed back of a dairy barn with the rest of the pile which is waiting for the manure-spreader.

As a matter of fact, the difficult thing these days is to separate the wheat from the chaff; the few facts from the piles of rumors, most of which

EVIDENCE OF THE ECONOMIC UNIFICATION OF MANKIND

I want to quote a few statements made by Harry Scherman in a recent brochure issued by him.

"Most of us are only dimly aware—many of us not at all—of the actuality of this Earthwide economic unification of mankind. The fascinating details of its organization are not taught, as they should be, to children in the schools. Nor is there any daily experience common to many men which would make good this deficiency of the schoolmen. Specialization of occupation has become so refined in the modern world that only the most inquiring—until a great crisis makes us all more inquiring—come to any deep awareness of how all the human inhabitants of the Earth lean upon one another, delicately, like two billion playing cards.

"There is a pertinent historic fact here which should be in all primers—and is probably in none. Since 1750, about the beginning of the Age of Steam, the human population of the Earth has more than tripled. It was then about 660,000,000; it is now well over 2,100,000,000. This increase has not been an evolutionary phenomenon with biological causes. Prior to it, the scholars find, for long centuries there was no such 'definite' population trend. Periods having an excess of births must have alternated with periods having an excess of deaths. Yet there was an evolution—it took place in the world's economic organization. Thus the true import of this great fact is plain: 1,500,000,000 more human beings can now remain alive on the Earth's surface, can support themselves by working for others who in turn work for them. This extraordinary tripling of human population in six short generations finds its final explanation in the speeded-up economic unification which took place during the same period."

He continues by saying: "If it were conceived that tomorrow the infinite variety of goods that men produce had to be confined within the national boundaries where they are produced, tens of millions of men, women and children would swiftly die of starvation. Hundreds of millions more would be in the last extremes of destitution and misery."

What he is saying is simply that if men freely exchange services and do not limit their exchanges to national boundary lines, millions more people can live than can live if they limit the exchanges to national boundary lines.

This leads to the conclusion that the state on the people in the state have no right to make arbitrary restrictions interfering with members in their group from exchanging with other people throughout the world. American people should begin to realize this, since we have been cut off from rubber. As our tires wear out, we will begin to understand it better.

The London Economist has the following to say on this subject:

"The absolute sovereignty of the state, operating on two different planes—the national and the international—has wrought more havoc in the recent life of man than any other single principle." And it makes no difference whether the exchanges be interfered with between people of different nations, or whether they be interfered with within our nations, as labor unions and discriminatory laws interfere with them. The results are always the same—lower wages for the workers as a whole.

"Modern human society is an economic whole."

CHANGING THE GERMAN MIND

Harry Scherman, in a little brochure, points out that the Germans believe the technical means are available whereby they can have final control for their prime benefit of all this economic world-union which human civilization has achieved. Scherman remarks: "One of their basic notions, Herr Rauschning revealed, is that the 'technical means' for such planetary control by a single people now exist. By 'technical means' they imply first, necessarily, the military subjugation of the entire globe."

"Moreover, Hitlerism—when its essence is so understood—must be destroyed inside Germany. To say this is impossible is obvious defeatism. Perhaps it is true that the peculiar quality of the German mind cannot be changed, but the ideas in that mind—as to what all other peoples will stand for—can certainly be changed."

The thing that the Germans will have to be taught, which they do not seem to understand, is that they can have no rights or privileges in the world that every other people in the world cannot have.

Of course, we ourselves must realize that we also can have no rights or privileges that every other people in the world cannot have. It would seem this is the only basis on which permanent world peace can be established. It is the only basis on which we can have a well established economic and cultural world-union. It limits the sovereignty of each and every nation in certain vital respects. (No nation has rights that other nations do not have.)

From Washington. You remember we said a couple of weeks ago in this column, that the rubber shortage must be as genuine as the government official said, because none of the tire companies had lifted their heads to take issue, as the petroleum industry did immediately and effectively with Czar Ickes. Now comes forward J. Penfield Seiberling, of the Seiberling Rubber Co., before the House Small-Business committee in Washington Thursday to say that in his humble opinion there is a supply of rubber on hand to fulfill all military and civilian needs for more than a year, by which time our production of ersatz rubber from other sources will take care of us.

Maybe you, like I, have smelled a rat in this rubber situation from the start. Maybe this drastic and dramatic announcement to our people, that even undertakers could not buy new tires for their hearses, is another of those bogymen put up by starchy-eyed psychiatrists to scare-the-daylights out of the American citizen when they seem to rate as having an average intelligence of about nine years.

No one questions but what we must take every precaution to see that we have an ample supply of rubber for our military needs, but only an ultra-conservative would insist that the whole American scheme of economy be upset in order to provide crude rubber for a tank that may be building two years from now! Either Uncle Sam will have won the war two years from now or you can bet your bottom dollar that our scientists will be turning out a stream of crude rubber in this country that will make the old-fashioned trickle of sap from the Malayan rubber-trees look like a zarden-sprinkler in a tropical rain-storm.

EPITAPH FOR THE AXIS

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 6.—The movies are full of villains who are in the habit of confiding ruefully they're really miscast comedians or that they ought to be playing romantic leads, and that they hate being typed as scoundrels. It's a pleasure, then, to be able to report the existence of a man who always has been a dramatic blackguard, who currently enjoys his work as a menace, and who hasn't the slightest ambition to be anything else.

This is Edmund MacDonald. As a youngster, enthralled by the perils of Pearl White and other serial queens, MacDonald's interest always was with the heavies. When he could persuade his neighborhood gang to help re-enact the thrillers, he always was the one who shot at the hero from ambush and tied the gal on the railroad track.

SOME SNEERER

As soon as he was old enough to get into a local stock company on Long Island, MacDonald began leering and sneering and plotting dramatically. He kept it up through a succession of melodramas with William Faversham, on Broadway, and in radio.

In the morning he might be a betrayer of womanhood, in the afternoon a fiendish scientist causing bodily harm, in the evening the listening kiddies, and at night a slick scoundrel removing one by one the more immediate heirs to an uncle's estate.

Hollywood called him almost five years ago, and he has been busy with treachery and evil ever since. Currently he is the bad man in "To the Shores of Tripoli." It would round out a picture of an enthusiastic villain of I could report that he perpetrates mean practical jokes, hates kids and kicks dogs. But that wouldn't be true. MacDonald is a thoroughly nice fellow, gracious and kindly as anything.

THEY WANT ROMANCE

Conrad Veidt is an actor almost in the same category except that in England and Germany he didn't play heavies exclusively, and with the further exception that he may not be allowed to continue in the roles which have established him as a villain in this country.

Personally, he doesn't care as long as the parts are substantial, but it seems that a great many fans, especially women, are very much interested in seeing Veidt in romantic roles.

He recently finished playing a high-ranking Nazi party member in "Out of the Past," and that's one department in which he doesn't wish to be typed. Mere villainy is all right, but not just one phase of it. Veidt was born in Germany, was a Max Reinhardt pupil, and became a star on the continent before going to London. He became a British subject 11 years ago.

Some months ago a prominent agent sold a client's story to a major studio. Then he sold the services of a writing team to make the yarn into a screen play. The talent pool then was persuaded them to hire still another client as a consultant. Finally the scenario got a grudging acceptance, and the studio asked the agent for his top client for the leading role. The agent fumed: "Don't be absurd. I wouldn't let her play in that stupid stinker for a million dollars!"

So They Say

With this belly? Mayor LA GUARDIA'S reply to the suggestion that he might be made a major general.

We have been singing that we did not want to set the world on fire while others have been doing it.

People You Know

A song that seems to please both my swing and hillbilly addicts is Deep In The Heart Of Texas. You can sing it anyway you want to, as do Kay Kyser and Ish Biddle, and you can make up verses and choruses and it still sounds good.

And by the way, White Cliffs Of Dover was the favorite radio song by actual times played the last week in January, and that should please Mrs. Ewing Leech who also likes the song. Did you read that part of yesterday's column in this space which said that Senator W. Lee O'Daniel furnished a sauce made of wine for venison dinner for the congressional delegation? Well, I quoted Pearson and Allen's column, and the more I think about it the more I believe that O'Daniel didn't know that sauce was going to be made with port and sherry wine. Nobody has jumped on me about this, but it's my conviction that surely O'Daniel must be innocent of that wine sauce deal.

A local tire dealer says that many people are going down into Old Mexico to buy tires where there are no restrictions on selling them. They may be true, but if they bring any back in addition to those on their cars, the U. S. government is ready to pounce on them at the border and seize them. I remember I priced tires way down in Old Mexico last summer and they cost a small fortune, even more than they do now.

Notes on the younger generation: Bill Rice daily plagues his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Rice, to let him join the navy. He has a brother, Otto, in the army.

Clifton Walker, who worked for Moses, is now in training for the marine corps at San Diego. He writes, "The marines are okay in my books and talk about potatoes, we usually have them three times a day."

DEDUCTIONS FOR BUSINESS EXPENSES

Deductions for business expenses form a large item in the return of many taxpayers and must have certain qualities to be allowed. Such deduction must be for an expenditure in connection with the maintenance and operation of the taxpayer's business or business properties; it must be an ordinary expense, and it must be a necessary expense. In insisting upon the latter qualifications, the Bureau of Internal Revenue is upheld by the Board of Tax Appeals and the courts. Ordinary and necessary expenses are only those which are usual and essential in the case of similar taxpayers, and do not include extraordinary and nonessential expenses.

Typical business expenses of a mercantile establishment are amounts paid for advertising, hire of clerks and other employees, rent, light, heat, water, stationery, stamps, telephone, property insurance, and delivery expenses.

The expenses of a manufacturing business include labor, supplies, repairs, light and heat, power, selling cost, administration, and other similar charges.

A taxpayer conducting more than one business may claim the business deductions of each.

Sunday School Lesson

JESUS PRESENTED SPIRITUAL SALVATION AS HIS GREATEST BLESSING TO MANKIND Text: Mark 1: 21-34.

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D. Editor of Advance

Capernaum was a small town on the inland Sea of Galilee. A busy place in fishing and commerce, it was situated in a small area of country that was one of the most thickly populated that the world has known. It has been estimated that there were about two million people living in Galilee. Dr. Franz Delitzsch in his little book, "Artisan Life in the Time of Jesus," has given a very vivid picture of the teeming multitudes of Galilee as they plied their various trades and occupations. Fishing was evidently one of the main industries.

Here, to this city of Capernaum, Jesus came on a Sabbath day, and as the title of our lesson indicates, it was a busy Sabbath in Capernaum. He went, as was His custom, into the synagogue and there He taught the people. Those in the synagogue were astonished at His teaching, for His words bore an authority that was something more than formal in contrast with that of their accustomed teachers, the scribes.

There was more in Capernaum that day than the ministry of Jesus in teaching. Our lesson has to do with the ministry of healing, and those present were even more astonished at the wonder-working power of the Master than they were at His words.

We must remember that it was a day without hospitals or asylums, without modern knowledge of medicine, when disease was often associated with the possession or influence of evil spirits. This must have been true, particularly, of cases of epilepsy or of various forms of insanity, which probably were as relatively numerous as they are today. We have, here and there in the New Testament record, vivid glimpses of dangerous maniacs or of poor human creatures wracked and torn in the throes of some epileptic or similar seizure. Jesus healed these, and His healing ministry was manifested in various other ways.

Many questions and problems are associated with the whole question of divine healing, and particularly with the instances of miraculous healing that are often reported today as they were reported in ancient times. Did Jesus manifest some rare power of healing which His followers could exercise if they attained more nearly to His purity of life and consecration to God and to the service of man? Or has God ordained in our modern day the miracles of medicine and surgery that certainly would have been profound wonders in the ancient world, as a means of bestowing wider and greater blessing upon mankind? Should divine agency accompany human agency in the healing of diseases? Is there a work for the saints to perform when the doctor or the surgeon has done his best? Or should there be larger co-operation between the agencies that represent the wonder-working power of Christianity and the agencies that represent the wonder-working power of science? These and similar questions arise in connection with the whole subject of healing in the New Testament, as it is emphasized in our lesson.

Considering the prominence given to healing in a sick world and how quickly the stories of wonder-working power would spread in a thickly populated region, the marvel is that the New Testament is not filled with the stories of miracle healing to the exclusion of everything else. Yet, we have the clear emphasis of Jesus, not upon His power to heal the body, but upon His power to heal the soul.

He taught constantly that, far worse than anything that could har-

Behind The News In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Your capital has a new diplomat this week in the person of the Hon. Mr. Walter Nash, first minister to Washington from New Zealand, which, being 8000 miles southwest of San Francisco, might be considered well out of the war but is in it right up to the hilt.

This Minister Nash is quite a person. It isn't his first visit to the United States—it's his fifth—but the other four were en route to and from England, where he was born. Nevertheless the Hon. Mr. Nash knows a lot more about the United States than many Americans, the principal reason being that in New Zealand he is known as a New Dealer, a student of social reform and one of the ablest men in a labor government administration so advanced that it makes the first two terms of the Roosevelt administration look reactionary.

Walter Nash began his career as a tailor, and, a young man in New Zealand he took an active part in liberal politics. At one point in his career he was under suspicion of bringing Communist literature into the country.

The New Zealand new deal didn't get organized until 1935, two years after the original model got going, but when the New Zealand Labor Party did take over the government under the leadership of Michael Joseph Savage, now dead, Walter Nash was in on the ground floor.

He became minister of finance, minister of markets and minister of several other things in addition to being deputy prime minister. This is the importance of the man New Zealand is sending to Washington, where his job will undoubtedly be the task of seeing that his little island dominion gets the supplies it needs.

POOLED SALARIES

One story is told in New Zealand to illustrate Mr. Nash's honesty as a politician and his methods. When he was first called into the cabinet after his election to parliament, he was entitled by law to an increase in salary. Nevertheless he proposed to his fellow cabinet members that since all the members of parliament in his party were in this reform government to show how a reform government could succeed, all the cabinet members should pool their salaries with that of the ordinary members of parliament, dividing up the total so that each would get an equal share. He put it over and he made it stick.

The reforms which the labor government has put into effect, we know, many ways far more sweeping than the social reforms of the Scandinavian countries, which have received so much more study and attention in the United States.

Social security taxes in New Zealand are 10 per cent of all wages. In return for that, all hospitals are free and all doctors are paid by the state—even for operations and maternity cases. That was the last link in the labor party's chain of social reforms and it was achieved only last fall. After the medical profession gave up its fight to maintain private practice, under the New Zealand plan, the doctor gets the equivalent of about $1 for office calls and $1.25 for residence calls. The fees are paid by the state and it's against the law for a doctor to charge more or for a patient to pay more.

AHEAD IN HOUSING

Housing reform under the management of the government has been carried further than in any other country of the world. Though the islands have a population of only a little over a million and half in an area about the size of Colorado, the state has built nearly 10,000 new homes, mostly four- and five-room cottages on an eighth of an acre. They rent for the equivalent of $3 a week with a 50-cent refund to the tenants who keep their places in good repair.

All labor is unionized and there are even unions of agricultural workers. The country is largely agricultural, specializing in dairy products and lambs, and the government is to aid agriculture to the extent of making loans for farm implements and fertilizing pasture and co-operative marketing arrangements are managed by the state through a ministry of markets. Practically all of its electric power is government-generated, sold directly to the people at low rates.

WASHINGTON ODDMENTS

The railroads haul nine tons of freight for each pound of fuel consumed. . . . Elimination of brass shoe eyelets provides enough metal for a million artillery shell cases. . . . Ninety thousand private flyers are to be organized into a civil air patrol, including some flyers. . . . Sandbags will be made of canvas, cotton substitute for burlap. . . . New ornaments for next year's Christmas trees will be reduced 50 per cent to save metal. . . . It takes 100 pounds of wool to keep a soldier going a year. . . . Say this real pen to the body, even death, was what could happen to the soul. He came to bring to man, first of all, moral and spiritual salvation, and the miracles of healing were always associated with the power of Jesus to save. In fact, it is hardly too much to say that the miracles of feeding, healing, and restoring to life on the material side, were always symbols of that deeper, richer, and more powerful healing that Jesus brought on the spiritual side.

ARE you all set to move your clock ahead one hour when you go to bed Sunday night—or, to be more technical, at 2 a. m. Monday—when the nation officially switches over to War Time? . . . For those of you who feel you may have some difficulty in getting up at the regular time Monday morning, we have invented a new and special model alarm clock. . . . It works like this:

SPECIAL DAYLIGHT SAVING MODEL ALARM CLOCK

That right-hook spring on the clock, you will note, is padded somewhat like a boxing glove and is designed to tap you not too gently on the noggin. . . . At the same time, the especially-patented left-hand spring sidarm DeWeese 3-rivet grip will yank the covers off you and shake the bed all in one operation. . . . We'll be glad to furnish further details upon personal inquiry.

Life, which appears from the German point of view to be very cheap in France, is even less valuable to Axis forces occupying former Yugoslavia. In reprisal for the killing of German soldiers the current quotation for the exchange in France is one hundred French for one German officer. In Yugoslavia the quotation is two hundred Czechs for one German soldier. It's doubtful that the thousands of French men and women who are still being held as hostages appreciate to any extent this left-handed comparative compliment.

The question before the house is where to get the money to buy it. . . . Washington doctor finds that slow moving people live the longest. Comforting item for plumbers. . . . If we still had parlors as expected, the doctor would lead to parlor dates, if there were any boys at home to date. . . . Looks like a freeze-out for the Axis in Chile.

The housewife who boasted to her friends at a little informal party the other night that she had "put away a few 25 cent bags of sugar—just in case of emergency" must have had quite a set-back when one of her friends, who failed to see any cause for boasting, remarked "I sure hope you get a house full of ants."

The nation is literally crying for a good, peppy marching song, something with plenty of zip, ginger and fire. . . . Something like "Over There." "Keep the Home Fires Burning." "Pack Up Your Troubles" and some of those good old songs, definite ideas pushed by strong feeling out into words. And to be a really good and lasting song, the writer must have some knowledge of how to construct a poem and the composer some basic knowledge of the structure of music. A good song is like an iceberg—only a small fraction of it shows above the surface, but the big base has to be there, unseen, perhaps unguessed, to support the top. Public feeling is an array of that unseen base. America awails eagerly the new song with ginger.

High School Journalists Convene At West Texas

Mickey Rafferty of Pampa will preside at the annual meeting of the Panhandle High School Press Association tomorrow at West Texas State college, Canyon.

Fourteen delegates, representing the Little Harvester and The Harvester, will attend from Pampa. Advance registration, according to Sam Johnson, Canyon, secretary, has already reached almost 200.

Intramural Sports

Boys in the sophomore division played the winning game of the sophomore volleyball tournament Tuesday. Room 100 and 301 played off a tie for the championship game with Room 100 winning.

In the junior-senior division Room 217 is leading in the junior-senior volleyball tournament, having played four and won four. Home Room 106 is the runner-up of this tournament having played three and won three. These two leading teams have not tangled in a game yet, Coach Oscar Hinger said.

The boys began this week learning how to build their bodies during physical education periods by going through many of the army calisthenics and many are learning how badly they need these exercises, Coach Hinger said.

Next week the physical education boys will take up boxing, Coach Hinger began this week teaching the fundamental principles of boxing. Classes will be divided into two divisions, one for the experienced, Coach Hinger said.

Student Council Is To Sponsor Sports Dance In School Gym

An all-school sport dance will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the high school gymnasium as was previously planned by the Student Council. The dance was at first to have been postponed because of the conflicting senior class theater, but the council voted to have it for the benefit of the juniors, sophomores, and freshmen.

Any informal apparel will be appropriate for the dance. Glen Dawson's record player will furnish the music. Candy, cokes, and gum may be purchased in the gym.

Miss Anne Louise Jones, A. L. Steele, Council sponsors, and Tom Herod, assistant principal, will be chaperons.

Admission will be 25 cents for couples and 30 cents for stags.

Sandstorm Headed For District Title; Lubbock Is Second

By SCOTT RAFFERTY
To the high-flying Amarillo Sandies, undefeated in six conference starts, the outcome of the remaining games does not make a lot of difference.

The Sandies are one of the best teams that has ever hit Amarillo. At this printing they have won a total of 16 games without a defeat and have their eyes on the state title now in the hands of the El Paso Tigers.

The second-place Lubbock West-erners, whose only loss came at the hands of the Sandies also have their eyes on the district title but must win their remaining games, including a game each with Amarillo and Pampa.

Pampa's slightly defeated Harvesters, with only one conference win in four starts, have almost knocked themselves out of a chance for the title after their 18-15 loss to Lubbock last Saturday. They were also the losers in games with Amarillo and Borger.

The unpredictable Borger Bulldogs have won two out of five games and seem to be headed for a third place tie with Pampa.

Last and probably the least are the Plainview Bulldogs with no wins and five losses.

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Amarillo	6	0	1.000
Lubbock	3	1	.750
Borger	2	3	.400
Pampa	1	3	.250
Plainview	0	5	.000

Typing, Shorthand Are Taught In High School Night Classes

Typing and shorthand are being taught at Pampa High school from 7 to 9 o'clock each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday nights by Mrs. Lou Roberts and Mrs. Tom Clark.

Mrs. Clark is teaching two classes of shorthand—a beginners' class with 55 members, and an advanced class with 15. Mrs. Clark attended Mary Hardin-Baylor College for Women at Belton, Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene, and the University of Texas. She formerly taught at Shamrock.

Mrs. Roberts, registrar, is the typing teacher. She has two typing classes with about 55 in the combined classes. Mrs. Roberts received her B. A. degree from Blue Mountain college of Blue Mountain, Mo., and taught in five different schools in Oklahoma before coming to Pampa.

Policies Of Teachers Are Decided Monday

Future policies of the teachers in Gray and Roberts counties were decided at a meeting, which was held at 6 o'clock Monday in the First Methodist church, Miss Anne Louise Jones, English teacher, announced.

The high school string ensemble under the direction of Carl Adams, orchestra teacher, played two numbers. A violin and piano sonata was played by Miss Evelyn Thoma, music director in B. M. Baker school, and Mr. Adams.

Hi-Y Convention To Be Held Here March 13, 14, 15

Banquet To Be
On February 28

Plans for the coming Hi-Y convention to be held in Pampa March 13, 14, and 15 were discussed at the last Hi-Y meeting. This year the conference is to be held in Pampa for the first time. Hi-Y members from as far as Tucuman, New Mexico are planning to attend this convention.

The delegates are to lodge in homes of Pampa high students. About 225 or more members are expected to come. Any students wishing to provide accommodations for Hi-Y members are asked to leave names with Billy Waters, club president, or Jacques Fartum, sponsor. If arrangements cannot be made for the convention in Pampa, it will have to be moved to Amarillo, said Mr. Nicholl, director of Hi-Y activities in this section.

The Hi-Y banquet will be held February 24.

New members for the Hi-Y club will be selected at the next meeting on February 10, and will be inducted at the meeting on February 17.

Dust Means Work To Colorful Figures In High School Halls

"Totin' a rag" is not only the vocation but the avocation of Roberta Davis, one of the Negro maids in Pampa High school, who dusts industriously every school day.

"If I haven't got a rag, I try to find one," said Roberta. The other maid is Katie Nickles.

They clean the auditorium, sewing room, cooking room, rest rooms, gymnasium, dressing room, and the windows and lockers in the front hall.

Katie and Roberta like this type of work. They said their most difficult problem was keeping the rest rooms clean.

While the students would cooperate in keeping the rest rooms and building clean," said Katie. The maids clean the rest rooms and home economics room after every period.

"The students should try to keep clean a wonderful new building which the maids said."

Roberta and Katie appear trim in their neat blue uniforms with white aprons and caps.

Washington, Lincoln Are Favorite Past Statesmen

In this world of changeable events, advancing ahead of the past seems to be all important but many students of Pampa High school look back to February 12, 1809 and February 22, 1732, in reverence as they remember Abraham Lincoln and George Washington as the fathers of their country.

Various students, questioned as to their favorite statesmen, agreed that Washington and Lincoln were among their favorites. Although we know Washington as a general and president, we know little of Washington the man. Characterized by a mystic greatness which held men aloof, it was difficult to know the real Washington. He wrote many letters, speeches and messages but scarcely one reveals the true man.

Perhaps all agrees with Byron who said: "Washington's watchword, such as he'er Shall sink while there's an echo left to air."

No less loved is tall, "lanky" Abraham Lincoln who laid his life on the altar of service in order to preserve the Union in 1865 but he gave it ungrudgingly.

Whether from the north or south, Americans can remember and love the words uttered by Lincoln in regard to the south!

"If I have a sword toward none, with charity for all with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow, and for his orphan—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."

High School Band To Play In Concert

The Pampa High school band will present its first public concert on Feb. 6 at 7:30 o'clock in the Junior High auditorium, Director Jacques Fartum, newly appointed.

A variety of numbers will be presented. Included will be marches, patriotic numbers, a solo, quintet, and dance numbers.

The program follows: "Proudly We Hail" (Gline); "Circles" (Gline); "Lady of Spains" (Evans); dance by Frankie Lou Keehn; "The Whistling Farmer Boy" (Fillmore); novelty: "Memories of Stephen Foster" (Holmes); by the brass quintet, Frankie Yates and Jimmie Lunsford, cornets; Neely Joe Ellis, baritone; Wilbur Wells, French horn; and Doyle Rogers, trombone; "Moreau de Concert" (Saint-Saens); horn solo, Wilbur Wells; "Kom Suser Tod" (Bach); "Little Brown Jug Goes to Town" (Bergum); novelty: "Herald of Killdare" (Holmes); "American Patrol" (Mecham); and "Star Spangled Banner" (Key).

Commercial Classes Receive Typewriter

The commercial department of Pampa High school, under the supervision of Mrs. Russell Holloway, received a new Remington typewriter at the beginning of the second semester. The typewriter was necessary because of the enlargement of the commercial classes.

According to the Buffaloes, "What does losing a game matter, anyway? We had a lot of fun."

1942 Celebrates Golden Anniversary Of Basketball

Nineteen hundred and forty-two marks the 50th anniversary of basketball, which was invented in 1891 by James Naismith of the Y. M. C. A. college, Springfield, Mass.

Basketball was invented to fill the winter season since the baseball and football seasons began in the spring and fall.

The game was first played with an undersized football than a more tapering ball was used.

Parents preferred basketball to football for their sons. It being played indoors was not nearly so rough because it involved no tackling or bory interference.

Enrollment This Year Is Greatest, Mrs. Roberts Says

A total of 588 students were enrolled at the end of the third six weeks this year, Mrs. Lou Roberts, registrar, said Monday, with a total of 672 enrolled during the entire first semester. A sum of 106 have dropped out.

January 22, 1941, totaled 714 students with a total of 797 enrolling during the entire semester. Ninety-nine were reported to have dropped.

This enrollment is the largest Pampa High school has had during the past six years.

A sum of 723 students were enrolled in the year 1939 with an entire total of 782, which is next to the highest in recent years.

The lowest enrollment since 1936 was in the year 1937 with an enrollment of 616. Students totaled 682 during the year with 80 dropping.

Frashier, Baxter Are New Library Helpers

Two new library assistants, Betty Jo Frashier and Louise Baxter, sophomores, have been chosen for the second semester, said Miss Frances Munson, high school librarian.

Leonard Brummett, junior, and Betty Jo Frashier are the assistants in the first period; Gracie Hines, junior, second period; Martha Brummett, junior, third period; Louise Baxter, fourth period; Imogene Owens, senior, fifth period.

Ava Chesher, junior, is the librarian during the noon hour, and Esther June Mullinax, junior, from three until four o'clock.

Bufs Return To Clean Up On Border Conference

With more publicity than any movie star could ever hope for, the "lowering Texans" completed their swing in the East and returned home this week to finish cleaning up on Border conference competition.

Principal Denies Rumors Of Six Day School Week

Rumors to the effect that Pampa High school would adopt a six-day week in keeping with the war time program were denied by Principal D. F. Osborne, who explained that school would be continued as usual with the exception of the change to War Time, which will delay the schedule one hour.

Due to the delaying of the schedule, you need not worry about going to school in the dark.

Effective Monday, Feb. 9, classes will begin at 9:45 o'clock and close at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Lunch hour will be from 1 o'clock until 2 o'clock. Students who go home for lunch may inconvenience their mothers due to the fact that they may have to prepare two lunches, as only the schools will run on delayed schedule.

The decision to run on a delayed schedule was made after a lengthy discussion by the school board meeting Monday afternoon.

The conservation of lights was another important factor in the adoption of the delayed schedules as light would have to be burned if school began at an earlier hour.

Thirty Students Listed On Semester Honor Roll

Shades, Shadows
Dominate Junior
Play Rehearsals

Comedy Date Set
February 26, 27

Shades, shadows, and scripts continue to dominate the stage of the Junior High school auditorium every night from 7 o'clock until 10 o'clock as rehearsals for the junior play, "Death Takes a Holiday," go into full swing.

Presented Feb. 26 and 27, which will be the play, which will be presented by Elaine Carlson as Grazia and Bob Clasy as Death.

Jake Fade, who is the Duke, host to Death, is the brother of former Harvester, Wayne Fade. Jack has never acted before, but has an outstanding voice. His role is a difficult one as he has to portray the action of trying to keep his other guests from finding out who Death is.

Stephanie, the Duke's wife, Joyce Turner, is an interesting woman. Joyce has been in several plays before and has always had a yen for acting. She is a member of the capella choir which shows that she, too, has an excellent voice.

Mme. Aida, Evelyn Auld, is a young woman who feels she has a dramatic sensation. Like Joyce, Evelyn, too, has been in many plays and has a yen for acting. Many people have remarked on her likeness to Anne Sheridan.

Corrado, John Tom McCoy, the son of the Duke and Stephanie, is assembly chairman. John Tom is a member of the debate team and has a record of being a good orator, but this is his first appearance as an actor on the stage.

Rhoda Fenton, Betty Fletcher, is a young English girl having a holiday in Italy. Betty is athletically-minded and loves all sorts of sports.

Eric Fenton, Glenn Stafford, is a close friend of Corrado's. He is in love with Mme. Aida, however. Glen is a member of the debate team also, and is president of Room 105.

Virginia Windsor is the Princess of San Lucia, Grazia's mother. She is eager for Corrado, who loves Grazia, to become her son-in-law. Virginia is a newcomer to Pampa.

Her one ambition, at the present, is to become a good tennis player. Baron Coester is the school's funny man, Flint Berlin. He has been a comic all his life, but now he has decided to become serious and play the role of the Baron, Mme. Aida's father-in-law. During the play he continues to rave about how young he feels.

Major Whitehead, Erian Eller, is a well-known militarist and loves to talk about his affairs. Erian is the guy who led all those fans in the year at the football games last year. He likes acting and thinks it is a great art. At present he is banking on being an artist.

Colleen O'Grady will play the part of Cora, the maid. Colleen is a member of the Little Harvester staff and president of Quill and Scroll. As yet, the part of Fedele has not been cast.

Junior class sponsors met Tuesday afternoon to discuss plans for sale of tickets and publicity.

Waste Paper Saved For National Defense

Boxes for waste paper have been placed in the English, mathematics, and typing rooms to collect paper for national defense, Miss Anne Louise Jones, English teacher, said Thursday.

The paper will be turned over to the Boy Scouts, who are in charge of selling the paper. Ray Evans, Scoutmaster, urges that students fold their paper instead of wadding it, because a box of folded paper weighs much more than a box of crumpled paper. The baskets are not intended as receptacles for peanut shells or gum, as some students think, Miss Jones said.

"If you have articles such as this, dispose of it by means of the regular basket," she requested students.

"THE FLAG SPEAKS"

By BILL BELL
From basely soil my emblem rose,
And charged the just to vanquish foes.

For me the hearts of men grow bold
And endure pain, death, and cold,
For 'neath my stars the blood I hide
Of heroes who for me have died.

My shadow falls on countless foes
Whose false allegiance to me poses.
Within this shade there thrives the greed
Of countless souls who hate my creed.

And should the chance and time arise
They'd rend my colors from the sky,
But I am just; I am right;
They should finally win the fight.

Let all that come; yes come what may
I know there'll be another day
When once again some soul shall rise
And lift my folds into the sky.

Pampa High school is erecting a 60-foot flagpole and each morning the flag is to be hoisted high and at sunset it is to be lowered. Each of us should learn the proper respects to the flag and put them into practice every day.

Clare Dehnert has an odd intelligence. He knows where a lot of girl's boyfriend's live.

Senior Play Ticket Dividends Are Paid In Defense Stamps

Seniors who sold tickets for the senior class play received dividends in Defense Stamps for their efforts. Mrs. Russell Holloway, a sponsor of the senior class, announced this week.

Approximately $79, which was to have been contributed to the Carlsbad trip, which had been cancelled, were turned into Defense Stamps, and seniors who sold tickets received half of their total sales in stamps.

Two boys, Gene Alford and Harold Mitchell, led the selling field with $20.80 each. Runners-up were Billie Kram with $11.17, and Raymond Hall with $11.12.

From $242 in total sales, more than $162 was cleared when the final figures were tabulated. Mrs. Holloway said.

Mechanical Drawing Class Studies Lines Woodwork Drawing

Many boys hopeful of some day becoming engineers, draftsmen, or architects are taking Phil Gruber's mechanical drawing course in this class, principles of machine drawing, aircraft design, architectural plans, and woodworking drawings are taught.

Last semester, students learned to make lettering plates; how to show position and shapes of objects, symbols for materials, and different kinds of lines for different uses. At the beginning of school in September, the boys practiced making hexagons, squares, circles, arcs, octagons, and other plane figures.

This semester students will take up more advanced drawing. At present, machine sketching and drawing is being taught. Later, aircraft and architectural design will be studied. All plates are to be inked this semester, says Mr. Gruber.

Students taking this class are furnished with drawing boards, T-squares and triangles. Instruments, paper, ink, and rules must be purchased by the students. Sets of drawing instruments are becoming scarce now, since most sets were formerly imported from Germany.

The course teaches accuracy, neatness, and straight-thinking. It is a good preparatory course because draftsmen and aircraft designers are badly needed now. Mr. Gruber said.

Why not help the Sage out. He doesn't get in on all the gossip. There is a box in the office, so drop your suggestions there. Please.
