

Today's War Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Wide World War Analyst
If this means the end of the gallant defense by the men who have been fighting our battle from the fox-holes on the Bataan peninsula...

So salute to a great bunch of fighters! And good luck to them in reaching the harbor fortresses and holding them!

The unexpected and therefore sensational arrival of American Chief of Staff Marshall and Harry Hopkins in London rather obviously has to do with coordination of the Allied effort in the great offensives which already are getting under way...

Probably we are justified in believing that something of the sort might develop in due course, but we have no facts which justify us in jumping to conclusions.

Meanwhile, Hitler's spring song of hate is taking the old, familiar form of his already blood-drenched project for gaining control of the Caucasus and the whole Middle East by a huge pincer movement.

The fierce Nazi bombing of the British key naval bases at Malta and Alexandria, and the way in which that wily desert fighter German Field Marshal Rommel, is feeling out the British lines in Libya, would seem to presage an Axis offensive there.

At the same time the Nazis are flinging themselves against the Russian southern flank in a sanguinary effort to get strategically set for another attempt to break into the Caucasus.

Hitler's calculation is that the two offensives will crush the Allies between them as mill-stones crush grain, making him lord of the resources which will enable him to replenish his shrunken supplies and carry on the war indefinitely.

New Rotary Officers To Be Elected

New officers of the Pampa Rotary club will be elected at a meeting of the directors to be held at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night...

Walter E. Rogers, president, will automatically become a member of the board of directors and vice-president of the club, when the new officers take over on July 1.

Principal speaker at the regular weekly luncheon was Dr. R. M. Bellamy, who made a talk on cancer in conjunction with the designation of this month as being set aside for the campaign of the American Society for the Control of Cancer.

Attendance at the luncheon was 38. Guests were Dick Peppin, former Pampa city engineer, now a civil engineer on federal defense projects...

Contract Let To Chemical Company

Announcement was made yesterday of the war department award of a contract to Chemical Construction company of New York for the architect, engineering, management services, procurement of production equipment, and training of key personnel...

Cost of the construction will be in excess of $5,000,000 and supervision will be by the corps of engineers from the Denison district.

Announcement of the contract was contained in a telegram received by The Pampa News from Atlanta, Ga. Secretary to Rep. Eugene Worley.

tempting an invasion of India, to form a junction with Hitler in the Middle East, thereby making a triple squeeze on the Allies. Actually the Japs have increased their activity in this theater until London naval reporters today forecast the possibility of the biggest naval battle of history in the Bay of Bengal between the Nipponese and British fleets.

Hitler's trick is a grand one if he can do it and, as the stage jugger would remark, it's a grand trick if he can't. The fuhrer's persistence in this strategy isn't due to any lack of ingenuity but rather to far-sighted realization of the uncomfortable fact that victory for him can lie only in this direction, barring some wholly unforeseen long-shot.

This is true, as I have kept insisting, because he has no hope of winning the war unless he breaks through to new fields of supply. There is only one garden of Eden available to him—the Cornucopian Caucasus and the Middle Eastern countries.

Heart Attack Fatal To Seven In Los Angeles Blackout

LOS ANGELES, April 8 (AP)—Seven persons died of heart attacks and an air raid warden fell off a two-story building as the Los Angeles area blacked out an hour and 51 minutes last night.

The blackout was ordered because of the presence in the Los Angeles area of unidentified planes which later were identified as friendly, reported Lieut. Gen. John L. DeWitt of the western defense command, at San Francisco.

There was no gunfire, as in Los Angeles' last blackout, Feb. 25. Los Angeles and Orange counties, the only ones blacked out, doused their lights quickly and nearly 100 per cent.

Pampa Editor Will Preside At Convention

For the first time in 24 years, publishers and editors of the Panhandle and Eastern New Mexico will hold their first war-time convention when the 33rd annual meeting of the Panhandle Press association is held in Amarillo tomorrow and Saturday.

Headquarters will be the Herring hotel where registration will begin at 9:30 tomorrow morning. Annual address of the president will be made by Tex DeWeese, managing editor of The Pampa News.

Other speakers at the opening meeting will be Maj. William B. Ruggles, public relations officer from Camp Barkeley and associate editor in chief of The Dallas News; Sen. Marshall Formby, publisher of The Plainview Tribune; and Norton Dowd, Wichita, Kas., Western Newspaper Union manager.

Barbecue At Noon At noon tomorrow the visitors will be treated to a barbecue in the municipal auditorium, compliments of the Kerr Paper company, McCormick company, Amarillo Gas company and other firms.

Friday afternoon will be ladies afternoon at the convention. Mrs. Seth B. Holman of Hereford, past president and first woman president of the association, will preside for this program.

Dinner Dance At Herring A visit to the Paramount theater tomorrow afternoon and a cabaret dinner dance and floor show will provide entertainment for the convention visitors.

Saturday morning will be devoted to a discussion session, and the annual News-Globe luncheon at noon, election of officers, and committee reports, will close the convention.

Clyde Warwick of Canyon is secretary of the association.

Sulphur Springs Hears Rayburn At Political Rally

By DAVE CHEAVENS SULPHUR SPRINGS, April 9 (AP)—Thousands of unity-minded Texans bent on hearing from congressional leaders a direct report on arms production gathered here today at a rally designed to weld public opinion of the state solidly behind the war effort.

The principal speakers were Rep. Sam Rayburn of Bonham, speaker of the National House of Representatives, and Rep. Wright Patman of Texarkana, both of whom are in the state during the congressional Easter recess.

Special trains and buses from North and Northeast Texas cities braved high water and adverse weather to converge here for the rally, scheduled to start at 2 p. m. with a parade. Several hundred came from Dallas in a special train carrying political and business leaders from Central and North Texas.

The unity rally was called several weeks ago after a meeting of 27 business and professional men here. They passed a resolution calling for unity instead of indignation and for full support of congress and the president in the war effort.

Prime movers behind the win-the-war gathering were J. K. Brim, Texas Democratic party leader; County Judge W. B. Kitts; and Charles E. Ashcroft, Hopkins county chairman of war savings stamps and bond sale.

Expected for the rally were Attorney General Gerald Mann; Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson; Myron Blalock, national Democratic committeeman from Texas; Frank Scofield, state director of war stamps and bond sales; and other political and business leaders.

Stores and schools here and in other Northeast Texas cities closed for the occasion.

BUY VICTORY BONDS—Revival Meeting At Central Baptist Church Continues

The revival meeting at the Central Baptist church, under direction of the pastor, the Rev. T. D. Sumrall, and Evangelistic Singer Johnnie Cohen of Palestine, continues to grow in interest and spirit.

Notwithstanding weather conditions, the congregations have been large and helpful. The morning services have been conducted by Rev. Cohen, who not only sings but preaches here in warm messages. He is a graduate of Moody Bible institute and received his early experiences in Chicago.

The evening services are evangelistic. The song service is inspiring and helpful to all. Mr. Cohen prepares the people in song and spirit for the gospel messages of Rev. Sumrall.

The church invites everyone to attend. Sunday is expected to be a great day in camp and spirit.

BUY VICTORY BONDS—Wheat Farmer's Old Dream Nearly True

KANSAS CITY, April 9 (AP)—The wheat farmer's dream of a bumper crop with quotations well above a dollar a bushel seems about to materialize.

But that rosy dream of a few years ago has turned into just another nightmare. There is no place in the wheat belt to store the crop. A record carry-over of 630,000,000 bushels is taking up all the elevator space, and the railroads, already working overtime to meet wartime demands, can offer little encouragement to grain shippers seeking elevator accommodations elsewhere.

Grainmen from Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, and Oklahoma, meeting in Kansas City yesterday could offer only one solution—the grower, himself, it just goes to have to provide his own storage space for the largest crop in 10 years, a crop expected to equal the amount of the carryover.

Frank A. Theis, member of the joint terminal committee of the Kansas City grain market, said that only about 8,000,000 of the listed 53,000,000 bushel elevator capacity of this key center was available. Similar conditions prevail elsewhere.

As a rule, temperatures rise before a storm and drop after one, in both winter and summer.

Spring Rains Cause Four Texas Deaths

(By The Associated Press) Texas spring rainstorms which began as a blessing to farmers and ranchers, then caused four deaths and brought about damage in some sections, threatened the state with floods today (Thursday).

Two inches of rain fell at Tyler yesterday, bringing the three-day total to six inches. The precipitation continued last night, though slackening.

Highways in the East Texas areas were closed and two lakes near Tyler reached their highest recorded levels.

Highway 110 between Tyler and Frong was closed at Mud creek. Frongmen slowed traffic on Highway 15 between Tyler and Dallas where the Neches river was rising rapidly. Cypress creek left its banks to flood the Tyler-Mount Pleasant road near Gilmer.

Tyler city lake and the Tyler state park lake continued rising. County Agent C. R. Heaton said the danger to crops was negligible so far because erosion was not far advanced.

The danger of flood at Wichita Falls lessened. Holliday creek and the Wichita Falls river apparently had reached their crests and were falling. Water Superintendent G. M. Norris said little additional rise, if any, was expected for the creek, and Wichita river was still in its banks. Rainfall since Monday in the Wichita Falls area was 4.25 inches.

Cold rain and snow fell alternately over the South Plains yesterday. At Lubbock, there was 1.58 inches of moisture within 24 hours, and it continued snowing and raining last night.

Electra had 3.65 inches of rain since Sunday night. The city lake rose 38 inches in 18 hours.

Amarillo's communications with the outside world were partially cut off by unusual spring weather disturbances which sent streams out of their banks and disrupted rail and highway traffic.

More than 100 telephone circuits to the Panhandle city were out of service. Emergency short wave radio transmitters and receivers were rushed by the company from Dallas and Kansas City.

Four men working on a Stano-line lease near Nocona, marooned a day and a half by high waters, were rescued. Fred Schell, company superintendent, and two other men effected the rescue by means of a motorboat which approached the rig through eight feet of water.

The lower Colorado river authority in Austin predicted a two to three-foot rise in Lakes Buchanan and Marshall Ford from rainfall of one to four inches in the river's watershed.

Below the dams, the authority said, the river had risen 12.8 feet at Columbus, 14 feet at Paint Rock and 13.5 feet at Winchell.

Four privately-owned planes were damaged last night when high winds ripped them loose from their moorings at the municipal airport in Fort Worth.

Lake Bridgeport and Eagle Mountain lake were rising slowly but water still was under the spillway level. Lake Worth was dropping slightly and the Trinity was falling slowly at Fort Worth but creeks were bank full.

Collin county dirt roads were quagmires, creeks were overflowing and farmhands gave the appearance of big lakes of water, but the farmers were not complaining. Rains, which began early Monday, broke a drought that had begun to appear serious. Close to 4 1/2 inches of rain had fallen in McKinney.

Skies were clearing at Houston after rainfall of the past 24 hours totaled 52 of an inch. There were no flood conditions reported. Brownwood had 32 of an inch rain during the past 24 hours.

BUY VICTORY BONDS—Malta Subjected To Worst Raid Of Year

LONDON, April 9 (AP)—Axis efforts to knock out the British island of Malta with mass raids appeared today to have reached their peak coincident with the resumption of activity in Libya by the forces of German Field Marshal Erwin Rommel.

The German-Italian raids on Malta, staunch bar to Axis plans, for domination of the Mediterranean have been on the increase for 16 days and nights, ever since the last British convoy eluded the Italian fleet and sailed into port on the island.

The city of Valletta and its suburbs were said to show acres of dust-strewn ruins—but still the island forces fought back against the endless shattering bombing assaults.

The Germans subjected Malta to its worst raid of the year Tuesday and were back in mass formations again yesterday for raids on the harbor and airbases.

The Malta communique last night said RAF fighters destroyed or damaged 12 planes yesterday while anti-aircraft batteries accounted for eight planes destroyed or damaged.

Meanwhile, the British and the Axis were ready to hurl their big middle east forces into the next round of the battle for Libya—even now the action may have started—and there was evidence on both sides of determination to make the fight decisive this time.

British imperial forces, with tanks and planes, were reported in considerable force southward from Ain El Gazala, 40 miles west of Tobruk.

MacArthur Alert in France—1918

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, then a colonel, cast a wary eye skyward as he stood with members of his staff to watch Rainbow (42nd) Division maneuvers at Baccarat, France, in May, 1918. Today, a quarter-century later, he is maneuvering for an offensive from Australia.

High Schools To Be Geared To Elementary Training Of Pilots

By FRANCIS M. LEMAY WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—The nation's high schools soon will be geared to the elementary training of pilots to fly America's great air armada.

J. W. Studebaker, U. S. commissioner of education, disclosed today that the plan contemplates the teaching of aeronautics in all high schools where 15 or more prospective air cadets can be enrolled.

"It is expected," Studebaker said, "that recommendations for pre-pilot refresher courses in physics and mathematics soon will be sent to all school systems of the country—these recommendations to be followed soon thereafter by the publication of detailed suggestions emanating from the army and navy as to the course outlines and instructional materials."

The office of education and representatives of the army, navy and civil aeronautics administration now are conferring to determine what the high schools can do immediately to speed the pilot training program, in view of the president's goal to produce 60,000 planes this year and 125,000 in 1943.

Studebaker outlined tentative plans agreed upon as follows: 1. For the present semester, mathematics and physics applicable to the work of pilots might be handled as extra subjects in the boys' schedules, or taught before and after regular school hours.

2. Intensive refresher and pre-pilot training courses might be given in the summer schools of the larger communities and boys from nearby communities permitted to attend, tuition-free.

3. Next September a full semester's work in Aeronautics should be offered in every high school in which as many as 15 prospective physically qualified air cadets can be enrolled. Boys who have taken such courses will be enabled, upon their induction into air cadet training, to devote more time to flying. Fewer boys will be "washed out" in the ground school phases of their first three months' training period.

32 Policemen Named In Gambling Racket

NEW YORK, April 9 (AP)—Stripped of their shields and facing possible loss of their jobs and pension rights, 32 policemen charged with condoning at a 1 per cent fee a $100,000,000-a-year gambling racket were under suspension today.

In one of New York's biggest and most sensational exposes of alleged graft and corruption, two Kings county grand juries named 49 policemen yesterday in presentations.

Further investigation on three of them—an inspector, a deputy inspector, and a lieutenant who had applied for retirement previously—was being made, while no action was taken on the remaining 14 because they already had retired before the case was broken.

THE BROTHERS COONS, Jack, left, and Bill, right, got so mad on Dec. 7, the day the Japs made their cowardly attack on Pearl Harbor, that both quit their jobs in Pampa and went to the home of their parents at Mena, Ark., to join the navy. They entered training at the Great Lakes training station, at Chicago, Jan. 1. Both boys were born in Oklahoma, near Clinton. They lived in Pampa off and on for 10 years. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Coons of Mena, Ark., where both boys were graduated from high school. Both boys received most of their schooling in Pampa, attending ward school, Junior high and high school. Bill played in the Junior high and high school band. They have a brother, Raymond Coons, living in Pampa now. Another brother, Bud Coons, former employe of The News lives in Tennessee, and another brother, Russ Coons, also formerly employed in the composing department of The News, died about a year ago in Tennessee. The father of the boys was a veteran engineer on the Santa Fe when he retired two years ago. He operated the motor car, familiarly referred to as "the bug," between Pampa and Clinton for 10 years. At the time Bill left Pampa to enlist he was operating a taxicab; Jack was living in Pampa at the same time. Jack is stationed at present at San Diego, Calif., and Bill is stationed on the U. S. S. Nevada at Pearl Harbor. The reason they did not stay together is because Jack was ill and in the hospital when Bill was shipped out.

Efforts Made To Control Pork Prices

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO, April 9 (P)—Efforts to control wholesale pork prices while purchasing large quantities of pork for lend-lease export appeared today to have brought government agencies face-to-face with one of the knottiest problems yet to confront the anti-inflation program.

Arroused by what they termed an inequitable situation, representatives of small meat packers convening here have sent a delegation to Washington to see if some changes can be made in wholesale pork ceilings or in Agricultural Market Administration buying policies.

Trade circles said smaller packers were caught between rising hog prices, which are at 16-year peaks, and the frozen wholesale pork price structure. Some of the smaller packers even might be confronted with the possibility of closing their businesses.

The plight of the smaller packers, as they presented it at their meetings, is the result of the following aspects of the pork situation:

1. The Office of Price Administration has placed "temporary" ceilings on 90 per cent of all wholesale pork products. This was done to protect consumers from higher pork meat costs.
2. The Agricultural Marketing Administration is buying large quantities of pork for lend-lease shipment to Allied nations, and their purchases may be made at 2 cents a pound above the OPA's ceilings.
3. The AMA, however, buys only from federally inspected plants, and many small packers are state inspected. This means the federally inspected plants can sell about 40 per cent of their pork products at higher prices than those plants not federally inspected.
4. Federally inspected plants, therefore, have more leeway in buying hogs, and are able to bid up prices. If they are to get any hogs, smaller plants also must pay higher prices, but must sell all their output under wholesale ceilings.

Tax On War Profits, Proposed By George

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—A special tax on the income from military production contracts was proposed today by Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the state finance committee to supplement congressional efforts to limit war profits.

He termed such a special levy "a just and proper step." To include an increase in tax on non-military orders, he said, would be unfair.

A joint senate-house conference committee will take up the profit question later this month when it meets to consider amendments to a $19,212,000,000 military appropriation bill but George said it was his opinion that a practical curb on excessive earnings could be accomplished only through taxation.

Inclining to agree with George, Senator Nye (R-N. D.) said the conference committee, of which he is a member, was likely to be hampered in its work by fear lest too drastic curbs on profits slow down industrial production.

"I for one, am not going to agree to anything that will impede production," he said, "and there is some conclusive evidence that production officials believe a profit limitation would do just that."

HOLLYWOOD, April 9 (P)—The once mighty Babe Ruth, stricken critically ill yesterday, is improving slowly, but still not out of danger.

Ruth's nurse made that report twice during the night as the former home run king of major league baseball lay wrapped in a heavy jacket because of recurring chills. Alternately, his temperature soared.

Babe, 48, had had a tremendous picture-making, war bond-selling, military camp-entertaining two months here. Previously, he died away 40 pounds to get in trim for the picture, about his late New York Yankee teammate, Lou Gehrig.

CORREGIDOR

fectives in the final stage of the struggle because he anticipated there would be "great exaggeration by the Japanese of the number of men who have gone down."

Stimson declined to estimate the numerical odds against which the defenders fought. Earlier reports had indicated the invaders had at least six divisions on the peninsula. The total enemy strength on Luzon Island has been estimated at from 200,000 to 300,000.

The defenders had no air support, Stimson said, adding, "that is what made the outcome practically a foregone conclusion."

The secretary said the efforts to aid the defenders from outside were undertaken as soon as General MacArthur had taken his position on the peninsula in early January, when "we began to take steps to make his stay as long as possible."

The American army officers who set up their base in Australia had as part of their duty the assignment to attempt to break up the Japanese blockade.

"To make sure that special efforts were put to task, former Secretary of War Hurley was put in charge and authorized and directed to make every effort possible," Stimson continued.

"Very large sums of money were placed to his credit and also to the credit of General MacArthur. It was proposed that MacArthur put in the Philippines what he could."

"General Hurley was very successful. He secured several ship loads of supplies which went into the Philippines and part of which reached Corregidor and Bataan. But for every ship that arrived, we lost nearly two ships."

"I am glad to say the defenders were never short of ammunition, owing to these efforts. Up until the last word from them, they had plenty of small arms and artillery ammunition."

"But they had been on short rations since MacArthur said them to effect January 11. This fact and the long strain were a very potent factor in wearing down our troops, making them unable to rebound to the counter attack as at first."

Stimson told questioners that no casualty totals were yet available. He made it clear that Filipinos comprised the bulk of the peninsula defenders, the Americans being made up largely of the 31st infantry regiment, crews of two tank battalions and units of self-propelled artillery sent to the islands last summer and fall, plus air force ground crews and sailors and marines from the abandoned Cavite naval base.

The air force personnel numbered about 5,000 men at the start of the invasion, Stimson said. Of these, some 1,000 fought as infantrymen in the latter stages, after their planes had been put out of action or transferred to the Netherlands Indies and Australia as were a number of long range bombers.

American air losses were very heavy the first day of the invasion, the secretary remarked.

Overwhelming Japanese forces in the Philippines, a war department communique said today, have made advances which indicated "the probability that the defense of Bataan had been overcome" despite a heroic counter-attack attempt by physically exhausted defenders.

Informed quarters here expressed a growing belief that the stubborn resistance of the American-Filipino troops, who had held part of the peninsula since early January against all Japanese attacks, had virtually ceased.

Army men expressed doubt that large numbers of surviving troops could be evacuated under fire across the two miles of open water between the southern tip of the peninsula and the island fortress of Corregidor, which was still held by American forces.

Such an evacuation operation for a defeated force, they noted, was notoriously one of the most difficult of all actions, and they pointed to Lieutenant General Jonathan M. Wainwright's report that a counter-attack by his first corps "failed due to complete physical exhaustion of the troops," as another factor militating against evacuation of many soldiers.

Heavy Japanese bombers also have attacked the areas near the southern extremity of Bataan, nearest point to Corregidor, almost continuously in the last few days.

The entire Japanese army on Luzon, of which Bataan is a part, has been estimated variously at from 200,000 to 300,000 men, and as long ago as February 10 the war department was able to identify five Japanese divisions as being on Bataan by their numerical designations, with a sixth back on the communications line and an additional force manning the siege guns on the Cavite shore.

Overwhelmingly outnumbered, American-Filipino defenders facing the Japs were estimated here not to have exceeded two skeleton divisions in recent days, though forced to fight continuously at day and night against an enemy able to throw fresh troops into the fray in relays.

One handicap suffered by General Wainwright was that a large proportion of the personnel behind the front lines was non-combatant, including wounded, supply troops and thousands of Filipinos who fled from their captured villages. All had to be fed from the defenders' limited food supplies.

The war department said General Wainwright had messages that the Japanese had enveloped the east flank of his defending line.

Don't Reveal Ships Position, Navy Says

WASHINGTON, April 9 (P)—Relatives and friends of officers and men in the navy were urged by the navy department today to avoid giving away information about location of ships when they write letters.

"Even if you know that a sea going ship of the U. S. navy is at a certain harbor don't address mail to her there," a navy statement said. "To do so may reveal her position to any person who sees or handles the letter, and this information may fall into the hands of the enemy."

Letters to personnel on sea duty or at posts overseas should be sent to the postmaster at New York City for those in the Atlantic area and to the postmaster at San Francisco for those in the Pacific area. Local addresses are proper, the navy said, for personnel assigned to shore stations or attached to naval district craft.

Oiler Directors To Interview Applicant For Business Manager

Directors of the Pampa Baseball club will meet tomorrow morning to interview an applicant for the position of business manager. President Ray McKernan would not release the man's name but said he had been connected with a big league club for several years.

"There are too many teams seeking men of his caliber and we don't want them to learn his name," President McKernan said today.

No manager has been named but several feelers have been sent out in case Grover Seitz cannot be secured.

Spring training, scheduled for yesterday, had to be postponed because of wet grounds but Acting Manager Dick Ratliff hopes to be able to send his prospects out to Road Runer park tomorrow. He plans to hold morning and afternoon practices for the first week.

Six rookies and a member of last year's Lamesa team arrived in Pampa yesterday and several others were expected today.

On hand are Ed Janekci, catcher with Lamesa last year; Robert "Pepper" Martin, rookie infielder from Big Spring; Louis Schlein, righthanded pitcher from Okmulgee, Okla.; Max McLearn, outfielder, also from Okmulgee; Donald Allen, infielder from Putnam, Tex.; Eddie Payne, outfielder from Royalty, Tex.; Arnold Davis, outfielder from Carnegie, Okla.

Andrew Ritchie, lefthanded pitcher from Stillwater, Okla., is the other rookie under contract. He was expected today.

Understanding Appears To Be At Hand In India

NEW DELHI, India, April 9. (AP)—A general understanding on the main points of the issue between the British and politically articulate Hindus appeared to be at hand today, with reported assent by leaders of the All-India Congress party and the Hindu Mahasabha to establishment of a national government for India.

Such government would serve India pending the post-war dominion status offered by Britain.

Britain's chief negotiator, Sir Stafford Cripps, was understood to have telegraphed Vinayak Damodar Savarkar, president of the Hindu Mahasabha, asking if that organization of political moderates had any objections to joining a national government.

Savarkar was understood to have replied through the governor of Bombay, Sir Roger Lumley, that his organization had no objections, even though it still opposed a clause in the British plan allowing provinces to remain outside the proposed Indian union.

It was reported that the Mahasabha would get two seats in the national government.

Reports on the status of the negotiations with the Congress party, the dominant political group, varied between statements that "A general understanding is nearly reached" and that it was "As good as reached."

separated from my unit," he said, "so I started ambulancing."

A thousands yards into the fire, at the corner of 80th street and 31st road, two wounded, staggering Chinese appeared. One held up the fingers of both his hands. He was telling me there were 10 more in the neighborhood.

Both floors of the American Baptist Mission's little memorial hospital were filled with victims, Indians, Burmese, and Chinese. More arrived in what seemed to be an unending procession of horror.

In the corridors and in every room lay unwhimpering rows of gray-bearded Indians, Coolies in dirty loin cloths, naked Burmese children, and pantalooned Chinese girls with seared faces and smashed heads and limbs.

D. O. Smith, a missionary teacher from Long Beach, Calif., lifted from a stretcher an Indian boy who had just died.

Gordon S. Jury and his wife, elderly medical volunteers from Hamilton, O., knelt on their knees sponging blood from the wounded.

The wounded driver of a Burma civil defense ambulance, whose own wife and child were killed in the raid, followed me into the hospital yard.

"One little bit of warning would have saved hundreds of lives," he stormed. "No real air raid shelters. . . . No planes to defend us. . . . We are left like cornered rats at the mercy of those Japanese. A handful of volunteers are about the only people standing between the wounded and death. Why is it that the poor and the helpless are the ones killed in this war?"

Carmichael Rites To Be Held Saturday

Funeral services for Leonard Lennox Floyd "Hawk" Carmichael, 28, will be conducted at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Assembly of God church with the Rev. Bruce Greer, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery under direction of Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral home.

Carmichael, an independent trucking contractor, was killed Monday night when pinned between the dump bed and frame of his truck. At the time of the accident he was employed at the Pan-Tex Ordnance plant north of St. Francis.

Survivors are the widow, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. D. L. Carmichael of Clifton, Colo., five sisters, Mrs. Bessie Thompson, living in California, Mrs. Cecil Dickson, Grand Junction, Colo., Mrs. Hazel Thompson, Sedalia, Mo., Misses Louise and Betty Lou Carmichael, Clifton and three brothers, Millard Carmichael of Clifton, and Willard Carmichael of Oelma, Kas., both former Pampa residents, and L. H. Carmichael of Pampa.

Pallbearers will be Claude Crane, Charles Flemming, A. L. Carter, Hawk Hawthorne, Wesley Flemming, and M. A. Graham.

All Construction Work, Private And Public, Halted

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—A drastic government order blocking virtually all new construction work, private and public, except for the war effort, went into effect today.

The War Production board's order, issued yesterday, prohibited any residential construction other than maintenance and repair work if the cost was $500 or more, forbade any new agricultural construction of $1,000 or more, and specified that no other types of construction—commercial, industrial, recreational, institutional, highway or utilities, whether publicly or privately financed—could be started if the cost was more than $5,000.

The only exceptions were in cases where specific government permission might be granted.

Fourth National NAVAL BATTLE R-Day To Be Held Monday, April 27

Gray county men between the ages of 45 and 65 will register for possible military service in the fourth national R-day to be held Monday, April 27, between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m.

Method of holding the fourth R-day here will be similar to that of the third, held on February 16, when men between the ages of 20 and 44 were listed.

There will possibly be more registration places in Pampa than in the last military nose-count in order to make it more convenient for the men in the advanced age brackets. No definite setup, however, has yet been made by the Gray County Selective Service board.

In the third registration, Gray county selectees totaled 1,710; for the fourth, it is estimated that the number will be 2,585.

General Regulations

President Roosevelt's proclamation sets forth the general regulations for the fourth registration:

"Pursuant to the selective training and service act of 1940, as amended, the registration of male citizens of the United States and other male persons who were born on or after April 23, 1877, and on or before February 16, 1897, shall take place in the United States and the territories of Alaska and Hawaii, and in Puerto Rico on Monday, the 27th day of April, 1942, between the hours of 7 a. m. and 9 p. m.

"Every male citizen of the United States, and every other male person residing in the continental United States or in the territory of Hawaii or in the territory of Puerto Rico, is required to and shall on April 27, 1942, present himself for and submit to registration before a duly designated registration official."

Exceptions to the registrations are the same as before, including such classes as men in the military and naval forces, U. S. M. A. and U. S. N. A. students.

U. S. Buys 57,539 Acres For Texas Dam

DENISON, April 9 (AP)—Denison district United States army engineers have purchased 57,539 acres of land for the Denison Dam reservoir, according to a report made today. Slightly more than one-third of the acreage needed for the reservoir has been acquired.

Acquisitions during March totaled 4,429 acres at a cost of $100,430. Of the total acreage, 41,524 acres are in Oklahoma with 16,015 acres located in Texas.

War Council Asks Synthetic Rubber For Civilian Use

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—The petroleum industry war council urged the government today to permit the production of at least 300,000 tons of synthetic rubber annually for civilian use.

A committee representing the industry immediately began to study the problem of making synthetic rubber, especially butyl rubber, "with a view of determining its practicability in meeting the tire shortage."

The council adopted a resolution yesterday urging that federal agencies take immediate steps to provide the money and allocate the construction materials necessary to provide a minimum of 300,000 tons of synthetic rubber for civilian use, over and above the 700,000 tons already planned for military and other necessary purposes.

Houston Pastor Elected Head Of Texas Baptists

HOUSTON, April 9 (AP)—Rev. M. L. Rhodes, pastor of the First Baptist church, Houston Heights, was elected president of the state Baptist Sunday school convention today, as the convention closed its three-day meeting here at the first Baptist church. Rev. Rhodes succeeds Rev. Troy Campbell of San Antonio.

More than 10,000 delegates from all over the state have attended the sessions of the convention, the largest Baptist Sunday school convention in the South.

Dr. G. S. Hopkins of Dallas was re-elected corresponding secretary and treasurer of the convention, and Mrs. Julia Mae Slaughter of Dallas and Mrs. A. C. Sewall of Fort Worth were re-elected recording secretaries. Because of the war, the convention decided to hold its next meeting in 1944, omitting its 1943 session.

March report made today by W. E. James, county treasurer. Disbursements totaled $30,610.00, receipts $35,798.38; March 1 balance, $520,737.71; April 1 balance, $525,928.09.

Mother-Daughter Banquet Set For Next Tuesday

Woman's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist church met in circles for regular weekly meetings Wednesday afternoon, when announcements were made of the prayer service held each Wednesday evening in the church.

The mother and daughter banquet will be held Tuesday evening of next week and tickets may be obtained by contacting the circle chairman or the church office. Mrs. Dan Leitch, ticket chairman, will deliver tickets to those calling telephone number 1194 or 694-W. The ticket sale will close Monday afternoon of next week.

Circle one met in the home of Mrs. L. Robinson with seven members present and one new member, Mrs. John K. Sweet. Mrs. John Skelly told the story of Katherine Hankey, who wrote "I Love to Tell the Story," after which the group sang the song, "Mrs. W. R. Ewing led in prayer and Mrs. Raeburn

Thompson gave the devotional. Mrs. W. Purviance directed the Bible study from the study book, "Our Times." The third chapter was taught with the lesson on "Old Testament Milestones on the Way of Love." Mrs. Skelly, Mrs. Ewing, and Mrs. Joe Shelton assisted with the lesson. Mrs. Purviance concluded the study and Mrs. Shelton dismissed the group with prayer.

The circle will meet with Mrs. Shelton next Monday at 2:30 o'clock.

Circle three met in the home of Mrs. F. Shotwell with eight members present. The meeting opened with group singing and Mrs. C. E. Ward gave the devotional from The Upper Room. The roll call was answered with a social service report by each member. Mrs. Ward led the study with the group entering into the discussion. The circle will meet with Mrs. H. P. Snyder next Monday.

A meeting of circle four was conducted in the home of Mrs. Lee Harrah with seven members present. Mrs. John Hesse, Mrs. Harrah, and Mrs. John Knox presented the program on the Bible lesson. The circle will meet next Monday in the home of Mrs. H. J. Davis.

Circle five met in the home of Mrs. Foster with seven members present. Mrs. Luther Pierson led the group in prayer, and Mrs. John Hodge gave the devotional from The Upper Room. Mrs. Hodge then directed the Bible study with Mrs. Carlton Nance and Mrs. J. B. Massa assisting. The lesson was concluded with a Bible quiz from the quiz book. The circle will meet with Mrs. C. W. Hill next Monday.

Eight members of circle six met in the home of Mrs. Homer Lively when the group sang "Where He Leads Me I Will Follow." Mrs. W. D. Waters led in prayer after which Mrs. R. W. Lane directed the study with the members taking part in the round-table discussion. Mrs. Lane will be hostess to the group in her home next Monday afternoon.

FIRST AID FOR FURNITURE
If your fine mahogany table has become marred with heat, alcohol or fruit juice stains, a little first aid may remedy the disaster. Buy a little rubbing oil at the paint store and just rub. If the mar is not too deep, chances are pretty good that you can remove the blemish yourself. If, however, the stain has penetrated too far, the job is one for a professional refinisher.

Health Discussed By Physician At Holy Souls P-TA

Holy Souls Parochial Parent-Teacher Association held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday in the school hall, when Ernest Cabe, Jr., supervisor of education in the Pampa schools, led the group in prayer, after which he gave a talk to the unit on the teaching of Spanish in the elementary grades in the city schools.

"Beginning next year, Spanish will be taught in all elementary grades where the schools are at all large. It is a progressive step, and a fine thing the school can see fit to handle it," Mr. Cabe said.

"The third, fourth, and fifth grades take Spanish 15 minutes a day and the sixth and seventh grades spend 30 minutes three times a week on the subject and use a slightly more advanced text. In the eighth and ninth grades, the subject is elective. The children in the lower grades show much interest and enthusiasm in learning the use of the Spanish words and acquire a speaking knowledge of the language more readily than at an older age."

Mr. Cabe stressed the teaching of conversational Spanish a step in the right direction in our relations with our Latin American neighbors.

In keeping with the program topic of the month, "Family and Community Health," Dr. R. M. Bellamy, local physician, addressed the association on "Home and School Cooperation." The speaker pointed out the importance of the summer round-up work which requires the physical examination of all preschool children and immunization certificates showing the child has been immunized against diphtheria and smallpox.

"In the matter of hygiene, the school makes it easier for the parents. By contests, talks, etc., the school often times teaches cleanliness and oral hygiene with better results than obtained in the home. Parents can cooperate in keeping the child physically fit by seeing that he acquires correct eating and elimination habits at an early age. The school child should get an adequate amount of rest and when the weather is cold, be warmly wrapped as a protection against the cold. Common sense rules can be relied on in the care of the child," the speaker said.

"If the child shows any symptoms of a contagious disease, especially when epidemics of childhood diseases are prevalent in the community, keep the child at home and in bed. Childhood diseases are more contagious during the early stages of the disease when the nose is running and the throat sore, than at a little later on," Dr. Bellamy concluded.

During the business session, delegates were elected to the district conference in Panhandle April 9 and 10. They were Mmes. M. F. Roche, D. C. Kennedy, J. P. Brown, C. A. Husted, V. E. Schmidt, C. M. Blymiller, and E. J. Kiser.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Mrs. J. P. Brown, president; Mrs. E. B. Daley, vice-president; Mrs. C. M. Blymiller, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. D. C. Kennedy, historian; and Mrs. M. F. Roche and Mrs. T. J. O'Rourke, Jr., City Council representatives.

The attendance award was won by the fifth and sixth grade rooms. The next meeting will be May 13 at 2:30 p. m., at which time installation of officers will take place.

Honesty In Children Discussed By Parent Education Members

Telling ways to encourage honesty in their children, members of Parent Education club met Tuesday afternoon in the city club rooms with Mrs. Jerry Boston as hostess.

Mrs. Foster Fletcher spoke to the group on the topic, "When Children Fail to Tell the Truth." She pointed out that parents who are concerned about the truth are the ones who will teach it.

"When Children are Dishonest," was the subject discussed by Mrs. R. G. Herring, who told that when a child does a known wrong, he deserves all the love and understanding ing his parents can possibly give him and try to help him to want to be honest.

A round-table discussion followed. The meeting opened with the president, Mrs. W. A. Rankin, in charge. Mrs. Carlton Nance, who gave the Council of Clubs' report, told that the cancer control drive is to be the third week of this month and the money is to be turned in by April 20.

Mrs. Fletcher reported on the district convention which she attended in Lubbock recently. She told that 15 new clubs, including the Parent Education club, had been added to this district.

The hostess served vanilla ice cream with pineapple sauce, and cake, to the Mmes. M. E. Lamb, Perry Galt, R. H. Menstiel, Frank Smith, R. K. Ethenborough, Joe Gordon, Fred Thompson, Fred Radcliff, L. N. Atchison, Hugh Anderson,

Duties Of American Citizens Discussed by Venado Blanco
 WHITE DEER, April 9.—"Rights and Duties of An American Citizen" was the topic of study at a meeting of the Venado Blanco club Tuesday evening at the high school cafeteria. Mrs. E. C. Morris emmerated some of the "Duties and Obligations of the People to the Government," and Mrs. Bill Watson conducted a quiz on "I Know My Rights." This was followed by short motion pictures: "Sling America," "Sea of Strife," "Germany Under Hitler," and "The American Way." Miss Virginia Martin conducted a Time magazine quiz on current events. In the business session plans were made for an open meeting on April 16, at which A. K. Baracet of Amarillo will be the speaker. Mrs. Gladys Holley, president, requested that the donation of books for the training camps be continued, and Mrs. E. R. Weeks reported that a marker was being made for the park. Mrs. Holt Barber then gave a report of the district meeting of the Federated clubs held at Lubbock. She said that Mrs. J. W. Walker, state president, in her keynote address on "Education for Democracy's Victory," urged the women to carry on their educational programs along with their defense work; to serve in every place possible, whether little or big; to teach hatred of a system but not of a people; and to return to practical religion. Mrs. Barber reported that Venado Blanco club scored 95 points on its year's work and was commended especially for its contests on current events. She also stated that with more than one-half million dollars invested, seventh district was the leading district in purchase of Victory Bonds and Stamps. Following the program, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Misses Vivian Hammack and Virginia Martin, to Meses, Elton Beene, E. C. Morris, Bob McNeely, Bill Watson, B. R. Weeks, Ronald Davis, Holt Barber, and Misses Mary Lee Davis, Claudia Everly, Gladys Holley, Evelyn Mayfield, Dorothy Wittliff, Ola Mae Roberts, and Mary Dee Mershon.

Changes Due In U. S. Life, Says OPA Chief

DALLAS, April 9 (AP)—A warning that the nation may be facing gi-

gant changes in the way of American life was made today by Dr. Bruce L. Melvin, region consumer representative of the OPA, in an address before the convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

"This war, to be successful, must be fought on the economic front in your own home, your neighbor's home, your club, your town, as well as in torpedo boats and in airplanes in Australia," he pointed out. Dr. Melvin explained that the Office of Price Administration exists now for one purpose—to prevent inflation; and added the consumer division has as its function the job of helping consumers to help themselves in the midst of the unstable conditions involving consumer goods.

OUR ARMY AND NAVY

Yours, by Right, is the Highest Priority Rating of Them All!

As Uncle Sam's MOST ACTIVE PARTNER, you logically receive a Priority Rating second to none. Yours is first choice of all the vast stock of merchandise Wards sells!

Mr. FARMER . . .

You Can Buy Tools and Equipment to Repair Your Farm Machinery!

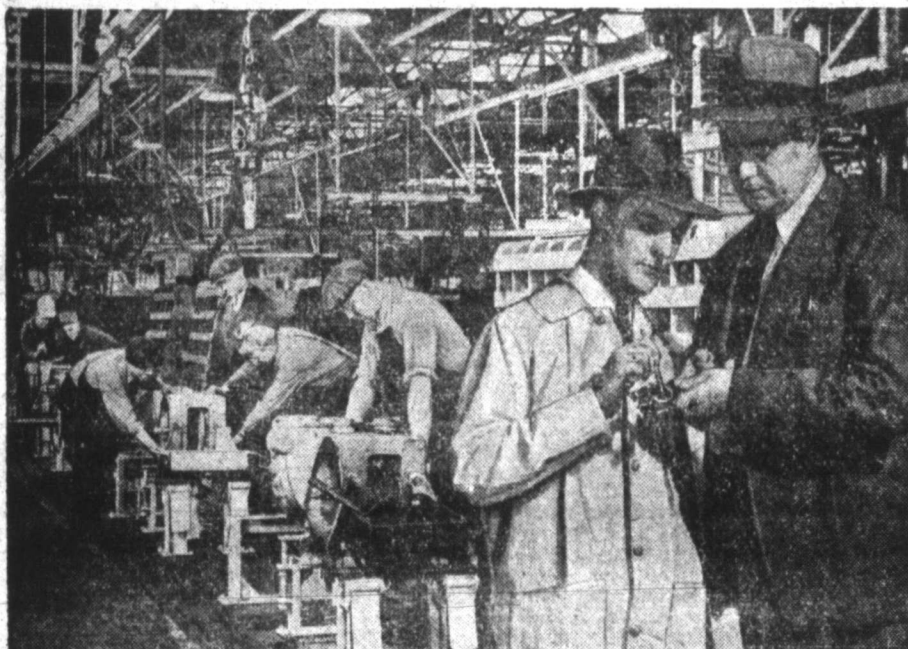

You are Uncle Sam's partner . . . in supplying our nation (and our Allies) with food! That's why he's given you an "upkeep" Priority for your farm. "Vittles for Victory!"

Mr. DEFENSE WORKER

Uncle Sam Has Given You the Priority to Buy the "Tools of Your Trade."

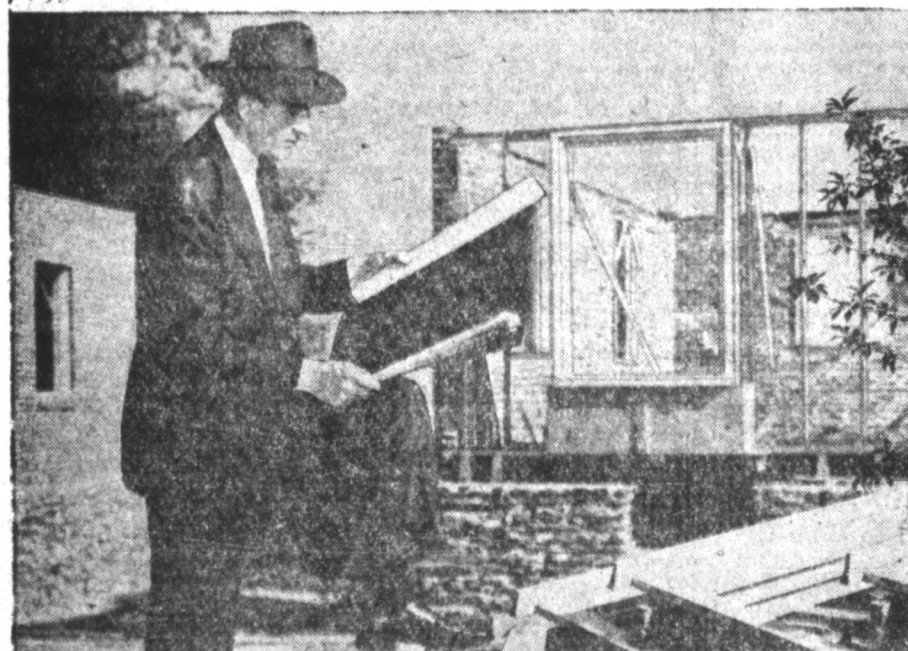

You're the partner of the man behind the gun! That's why you still can buy the tools you use so well . . . to turn the wheels that soon will turn the tide! (Keep 'em turning!)

Mr. FACTORY OWNER

You Have the Priority to Purchase Tools, and Maintenance Equipment

You are Uncle Sam's leader of "the men behind the guns." That's why he has given you Priority to buy the equipment you need, to keep your factory humming.

Mr. CONTRACTOR . . .

You Have the Right to Buy What You Need for Defense Housing and Remodeling Jobs.

Whether your defense-work is a single new room, or a whole new housing project, Uncle Sam says you're a highly privileged customer—gives you Priority to buy what you need!

Mr. HOUSEHOLDER . . .

You're the Uncomplaining "Silent Partner"! You Sacrifice, But You Still Can Buy Plenty!

In the restricted fields, you can buy plumbing and heating equipment, for replacement and repair. In the hundreds of unrestricted fields, you can buy everything you need!

Uncle Sam is now putting

in the RIGHT HANDS

In This Great "Priorities" System

YOU are Uncle Sam's Partner!

"What are Priorities?" "Why do we have them?" "What do they mean to me?" We hear these questions asked, today, everywhere. And the answers are really simple. On many important products and materials, today, the demand exceeds the supply. That's because Uncle Sam is providing the necessities for America's armed forces, as well as for our Allies. PRIORITIES are Uncle Sam's system for seeing that these vital products and materials are employed WHERE THEY'LL DO THE MOST GOOD FOR AMERICA! In making this system work, each and every one of us is a partner. In varying ways. If your job is vital to our nation, you're entitled to buy, on Priorities, the "tools" you require. If your need for these scarcities is not so vital, you still play your part . . . in temporary sacrifice . . . helping make sure these necessities go WHERE THEY DO UNCLE SAM THE MOST GOOD!

MAKE WARDS YOUR HEADQUARTERS FOR PRIORITIES INFORMATION . . . WE'LL BE HAPPY TO HELP YOU!

The latest Priorities rulings, and the correct interpretations of them, are sent to us here every day. If you aren't certain whether or not you are entitled to a Priority . . . or if you are puzzled by any Priorities problem . . . come in to Montgomery Ward, and let us help you. We believe we have the answers to your questions . . . and to your merchandise-requirements as well. You will find at Wards stores, as always, a wide selection of merchandise on hand . . . many thousands of additional items you can order through our Catalog . . . all at the money-saving prices traditional at Wards for seventy years.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE—"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Coming Events Cast Their Shadows . . .

"We have been asked for the impossible. Let us do it, as usual." That's what the president of one big company said to the employees; that's what he told them about the enormous war production job that his firm must do. He's right about it, too. Like thousands of other companies, this one has done the impossible in peacetime. That's been the history of American industry—doing things that couldn't be done. Radios, airplanes, movies—every one of the modern inventions that we accept so casually now was "impossible" at one time. Yet we Americans did them.

And now in wartime we're still doing things that couldn't be done. We've got a long way to go. It's true, but we're off to a flying start. Since Pearl Harbor airplane production has gone up more than 50 per cent, and that's only the beginning. One plant reports that it is now building huge bombers in the same kind of moving assembly line that made it possible for our automobile companies to turn out millions of cars a year. Steel production has reached an all-time high. Daily production of crude oil is about 20 per cent over what it was a year ago. One company is making more cartridges in one year than all the American plants together did in the World War. Another is already doing everything Donald Nelson asked for recently—and more—in its war production program.

In the grim news that fills our papers today facts like these are important. They're straws in the wind—the production wind that's growing into a hurricane that will smash the Axis. There's a lot of "impossible" work that we must do before that happens. No matter. We're used to "impossible" work. When we Americans make up our minds, pitch in and work together, nothing in the world can stop us.

America For All

Seemingly, this nation remains infested with that obnoxious breed who assert that the Almighty handed them and their brothers and cousins a self-perpetuating, 99-year lease upon the U. S. A. Complaints of discrimination against certain minority groups in the war effort have piled up so high that the President's committee on fair employment practice will make a special investigation. The best answer to this absurd abuse because of race, color or creed came from an Ohio editor. Asked in the question-and-answer column to state the nationality and religion of General MacArthur, this editor replied: "I can think of nothing of less consequence right now than the nationality and religion of General MacArthur. He is an American and that's what counts." Would-be Goebbels among us please paste over your big mouths.

Situation Wanted

Just as a reminder of what it means to lose a war these days make a note of this: Many Britons, mostly retired rubber planters, had their life savings invested in Malayan rubber. Then the Japs took Malaya. Today those investors are looking around for jobs. Most of them are too old and never expected to work again. That's not as bad as a bullet through your heart, but it's still pretty tough.

The Nation's Press

MR. DIES FINDS A NUDEST (Chicago Tribune) The Dies committee has found an apostle of nudism holding a well paid job on the Board of Economic Warfare. This is startling and perhaps amusing. More significantly, the Dies committee has found that many members of the board's staff are sympathetic with communism. They have been members of fellow-traveler societies or contributors to periodicals which serve the communist cause. Mr. Dies has written a letter to Vice President Wallace, who heads the Board of Economic Warfare, calling his attention to the facts.

The Board of Economic Warfare is concerned not only with economic measures against the enemy but also and more especially with reconstruction after the war. In his reply Mr. Wallace offered no explanation of why he had surrounded himself with men of communist sympathies. He said Mr. Dies was fomenting discord in this country though he did not explain how. Perhaps the Dies revelation did offend the nudists and communists in the United States, but if all of them joined the Japanese army the loss to our country could be borne.

What Mr. Wallace conspicuously failed to do was to justify the selection of his assistants on any other grounds than the ones of which Mr. Dies complained. An exception must be made for the nudist, Mr. Wallace defended him as a man experienced in economic warfare. Evidently it has not occurred to Mr. Wallace that the American people might prefer to have their after-war economy planned by men who are not obsessed with the communist Utopia, and can keep their shirts on, to mention their pants. There is nothing in Mr. Wallace's statement to warrant any dissatisfaction with the work of the Dies committee. It has been performing a most useful service to the American people in exposing revolutionary tendencies within the government as well as in investigating the activities of the Nazis and the Japs in this country. There is another important job awaiting the committee and that is to investigate the influence

Common Ground

By E. G. HOILES

"I speak the gas-word principle, I give the sign of democracy. By God! I will accept nothing which all cannot have their counterpart of on the same terms." WALT WHITMAN. THE OKLAHOMA "PRAIRIE FIRE" The Daily Oklahoman, in a series of editorials starting the first of March, has raised so much resentment on the part of the voters of the state of Oklahoma, that their congressmen have received over 100,000 letters and telegrams protesting the present labor laws. They describe the tide of resentment as being like a "prairie fire."

The Daily Oklahoman and the Times, owned and operated by the same owners, have been running the following pledge in their papers. I quote: "I solemnly pledge that I will refuse to vote for the re-election of any United States senator or any United States congressman who does not consistently vote for a law outlawing all strikes in every industry connected with defense and who does not vote to abolish the limitation of 40 hours a week labor in defense industries for the remainder of the war."

The above pledge is good, as far as it goes. There seems to be no reason why the repeal of the 40-hour week should be limited to defense industries. If non-defense industries are permitted to work more than 40 hours a week, then they will require so many workers to produce the same amount of our consumable goods and some of these workers then can be transferred to defense industries to help produce equipment to bring more safety to our soldiers and to ourselves.

If people want to help win the war against our enemies, as well as the war against our trend towards socialism and the loss of our liberty, they can do nothing better than to show to their congressmen or senators their disapproval of the closed shop and the 40-hour week resulting from the Wagner Law and the Wage and Hour law. Both the Wagner Law and the Wage and Hour law are absolutely the antithesis of liberty and the principles on which this government was formed.

THE DOUBLE PROFIT MOTIVE

What people, who believe in socialism New Dealism and collectivism, fail to understand about the profit motive is that it is a double profit motive. There cannot be such a thing as a single profit. Under the profit system, both parties to a transaction must be benefited, if there is to be an exchange of goods or services. The entrepreneur recognizes the fact that before he can have a profit he must benefit or make a profit for those who buy his product. With this idea in mind, he does everything he can to reduce the cost of the service he sells so that he can make more profit for others. He knows the more profit he makes for his services or his product; and thus, the more profits he will have. He knows, in short, that he profits most who serves best.

But New Dealers and dreamers who do not understand laissez faire, free enterprise, or the competitive system think that only one party to a transaction makes a profit. And if this were true, of course, it would not be desirable. The real profit motive recognizes that any man who can benefit another more—that is make another more profit—is the man who should have the business.

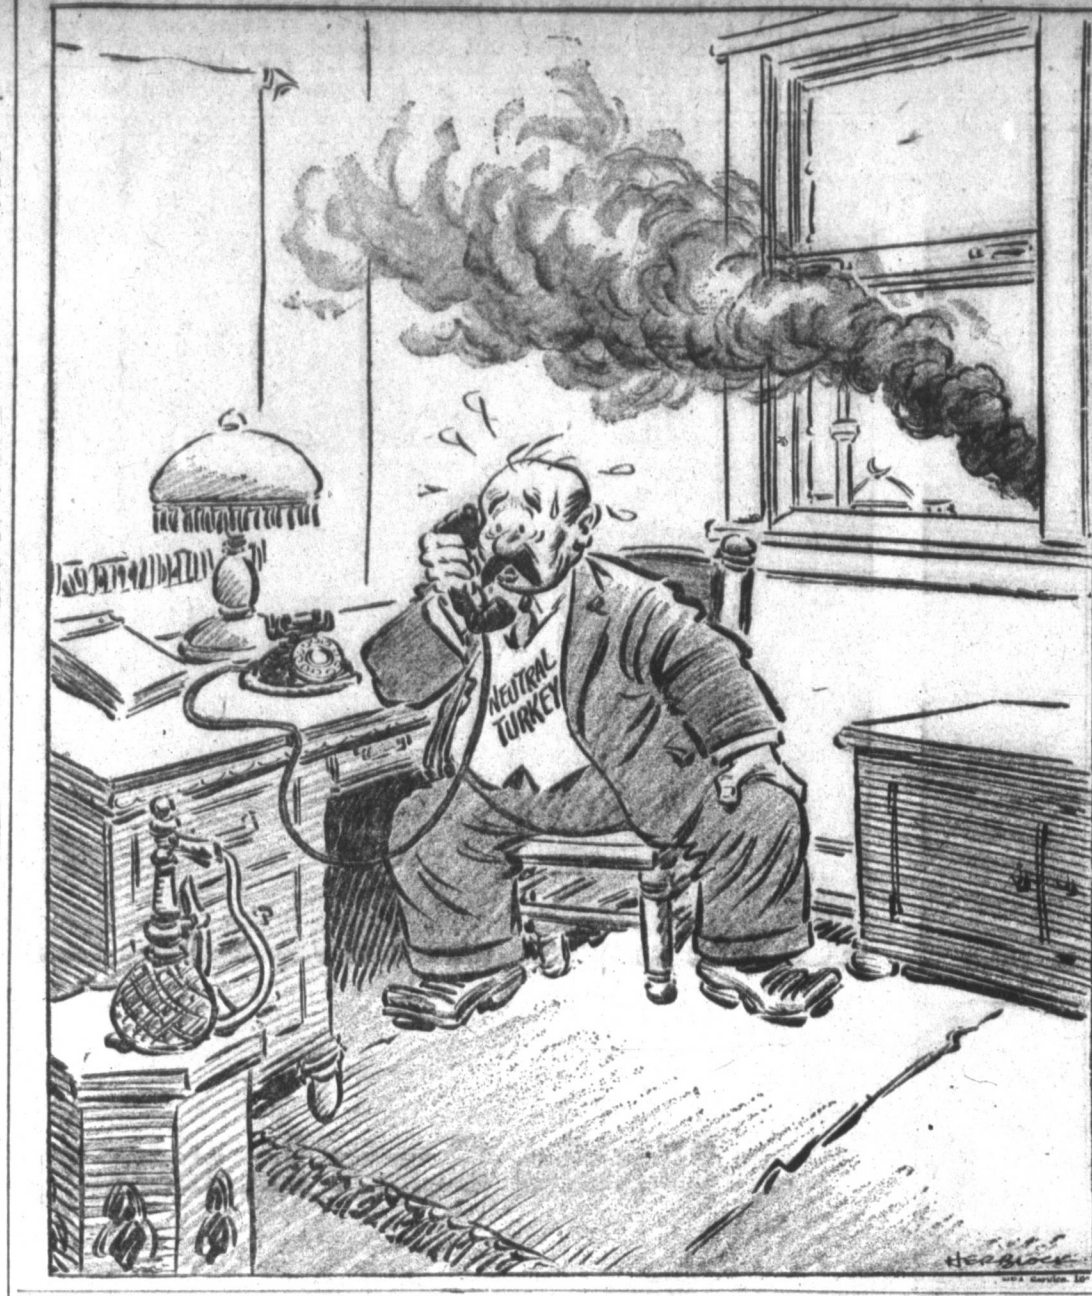

The double profit motive is a mathematical, impersonal, impartial method of determining human relations. It is not subject to the arbitrary will of any man or any group of men. All men, not just some men, are considered under the double profit, or the free enterprise, or the laissez faire, or the capitalistic, system. Not so, however, under the New Deal, collectivist, labor party program. They only think of just enough of the people to have a bare majority, not all of the people. They only think of those who keep them in power, not of the minority.

It is for this reason that laissez faire, the double profit motive or free enterprise, is the system that is most just, most democratic and most Christian. This is true in spite of the fact that many of the so-called Christian groups, who are theists rather than deists and thus believe that they are entitled to rule their neighbors, are opposed to the profit motive.

WILL IT BE EASY TO RETURN?

(The Christian Century) When one of Great Britain's most distinguished economists declares that to win the war his country must scrap the profit system, deprive trade union of their autonomy and do away with party government for the duration, a vast change is under way in British thinking. When the staid London Times publishes that declaration on its authoritative leader page, that change begins to look as if a revolution of some kind were in sight. On March 17 the Times carried such a article by Sir William Beveridge, master of University College, Oxford, and chairman of numerous economic bodies of empire importance. In the most outspoken attack upon the system of free enterprise in total war that has been uttered by a responsible Briton since the war began, Sir William declared that "individual capitalism," its accompanying machinery of wage bargaining, left "vital production in the hands of individuals whose duty it was to consider not solely the needs of the nation but the interests of stockholders." Affirming his belief that "bribery by price or wage is often an ineffective spur to output," the former director of the London School of Economics said that "the time calls for two changes—first, for the state to take direct responsibility for the control of vital industries and for the distribution of income and, second, for the assertion of the principle that service rather than personal gain should be the mainspring for the war effort in industry as in fighting. . . To treat private gain as a dominant motive in the war effort is to slander our people. . . In war, the most effective spur to heroic efforts is an idea, not hope of personal gain." His solution is for trade unions, "in the war and for the war only," to become, "after the Russian model, conscious agents of national policy," and for the present coalition government to drop party lines and become a national government. "To blame business men for conducting their businesses in war with an eye to post-war advantage and at the same time to leave the government and the country in the hands of men who should feel—a duty to their parties, is to strain at gnats and swallow camels whole and kicking." Perhaps. But Sir William adequately considered the post-war difficulty of reversing the forces he seems ready to set in motion?

"HELLO—SWEDEN? HOW'S THINGS WITH YOU?"

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON HOLLYWOOD, April 9—It's spring in Movietown. This has nothing to do with the vernal equinox or the secret findings of the weather man, since the days lately have been almost alike. In Hollywood, spring is an inner awareness, a quickening of pulses, a surge of confidence, a reassurance—come war or pestilence—of the essential fecundity and richness and goodness of a patient world.

JAPS LOSE GARDENS

Everything seems quite verdant as in other springs. Mexican gardeners took over where the Japanese were left off, and their chattering jalloppies are creating the same diversities and nuances in city traffic. Bela Lugosi, the horror man, has bred a novel variety of dahlia, and broken-nosed Victor McLaglen is using a new kind of fragrant spray on his roses. Marlene Dietrich has a Victory garden (full of chives) in a window box. Wild poppies blanket the San Fernando valley.

Gophers, which are old hands at building air-raid shelters, blink sleepily from their burrows at the bombers overhead. Low-flying songbirds have been quick to learn and rejoice that the thundering but aloof monsters are friendly, since they have driven hawks from the sky. Linda Darnell has bought a horse and buggy. Bob Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck have a tandem bike. Yacht owners still spend Sundays on their boats, even though the craft are immobilized by navy order. Fishermen who are city-bound by the tire shortage find solace at a cotelette pond on Ventura boulevard, where for $1 you can catch three trout and have 'em cooked in the adjoining restaurant.

It's spring in Hollywood, and oompy dummies in the windows of the little shops are wearing the skimpiest bathing suits ever seen. Skirts on the boulevards seem to have shrunk a couple more inches, the cuties baring their knees for conservation of materials and enhancement of the scenery. The trim little waitresses at the drive-in sandwich stands have changed from slacks to shorts.

BALD AS AN EGG When Guy Kibbee fell asleep on a sound stage, somebody put an Easter egg transfer on his bald pate. Women who were supposed to be doing the war are going first to department stores, inspecting the various kinds of uniforms, and then joining the outfits which are most fetchingly costumed. Lam Turner is nursing an all-over case of sunburn. Somebody says Dorothy Lamour is nursing an Easter sarong made of bunny fur—and apparently of only one bunny.

George Raft has changed his hair oil to a heavier, summer weight. Pretty girls are queuing up at soldiers in rumbly truck convoys. Hedy Lamour has found love with a Montana cowboy. It's spring in Hollywood, and this reporter wants to remind you that the donation of a pint of plasma for wounded soldiers is a much better blood-thinner than sulphur and molasses.

People You Know

By Arch Fullingim It's probably as true in the army as elsewhere that it's not what you know but how good a politician you are that counts a great deal, but there were four sergeants in the second battalion of the 180th infantry who I'm convinced got their stripes by what they knew. Those four soldiers, Hoyt Adams, Charles Bennett, Ralph Berrhill, and Joe Cromwell, showed us around at the camp and how they learned all they did in 18 months is a mystery to me. What they didn't know about guns and other equipment wasn't in the books.

Joe Cromwell showed us around at the camp and how they learned all they did in 18 months is a mystery to me. What they didn't know about guns and other equipment wasn't in the books. Ruth—I can't think why I didn't accept Ronnie the first time he proposed. Agnes—That's easy. You weren't there. Jerry—My uncles left over 500 clocks. Harry—Indeed! It must have taken a long time to wind up his estate.

On the ninth stroke of the clock Simpson awoke with a start. "Gosh," he groaned, "what a head I've got. I can't go to the office today." He reached for the telephone and called his boss's private number. "It's no use wrapping things up," he confessed. "Last night I was out with some pals and I'm ashamed to say I overdid it. I wonder if I could take the day off, sir?" "Well," came the boss's voice over the phone, "I admire your candor, Simpson, and I shall expect you at nine tomorrow. As for the day off, it's yours. He was very rich, and he spent most of his time trying to impress the people he met with what a fine sort of chap he was. One day he rushed up to the railway station and threw a $20 bill on the counter. "Give me a ticket." Clerk—Where to? He—Anywhere, anywhere. I've got business all over the place.

The old man looked dazed and scratched his head for a minute before replying. Witness—You want to know how the stairs run?

Lawyer—Yes, if you please, how do the stairs run? Witness—Well, ven I am upstairs dey run down, and ven I am downstairs dey run oop.

Clarice—Jack is awfully clever. He's got brains enough for two. Rachael—Congratulations, dear! He's just the man for you! Grandma had too many babies to worry about their getting mixed up in the hospital.

Behind The News In Washington

By PETER EDSON WASHINGTON, April 9—Behind the opening of the newest U. S. legation at Jiddah, Saudi Arabia, there is one of those unbelievable stories reminiscent of "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court." Only the Yankee in this case is from Vermont.

Real and principal reason for this diplomatic move is that King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia is interested in taking his three million Bedouins, whose principal source of income has been from pilgrims to Mecca, and doing for them what our Office of Indian Affairs has done for the American Indians on their reservations in Arizona and New Mexico.

The story begins some ten years ago when the Institute of World Affairs, the private foundation established by the late plumbing king and practical philanthropist, Charles R. Crane, sent a young scholar and engineer, K. S. Twitchell of Burlington, Vt., to Yemen, Arabia, to study the ways of the people and see what he could learn from them or do for them. Twitchell soon had them building roads and digging wells. And he promoted native arts and crafts.

He traveled around Arabia a good bit and in neighboring Saudi he struck up a friendship with the old king, Ibn Saud. Twitchell began to act as an informal adviser to the king and in one of their many talks they hit the subject of what might be done to improve the Arabian desert and the Bedouin people. Where in the history of the world there has been a similar civilization in a similar climate and what had been done to improve it?

THE KING LISTENS Twitchell had an idea. He thought that the work of improving the lot of the American Indians of the semi-arid southwest might offer a parallel. The idea was presented to Ibn Saud, who thereupon asked Twitchell to return to the United States, make a study of the situation, and bring him back a report.

The Vermont returned to the United States in February, 1941. He spent some time in Washington studying the work of the Office of Indian Affairs in the Department of the Interior. Then he went on a tour of the Navajo, Pueblo, Apache, Papago, and Pima reservations in Arizona and New Mexico studying conservation of land and water, irrigation and the development of Indian arts and crafts as a source of income. He took a lot of pictures and wrote a big long report. On his return to Arabia, he presented the whole thing to the king, who was enthusiastic. Why couldn't similar things be done for his Bedouin tribesmen?

With that beginning and a lot of subsequent diplomatic dickering, a plan was finally worked out whereby a couple of experts could be loaned to the Saudi Arabian government to see what could be developed. A mission was created with state department blessing. Twitchell is its chief, the other members being Albert L. Walther, acting chief of the engineering branch of the Indian Bureau, and James G. Hamilton of Albuquerque, an agronomist in the Soil Conservation service of the Department of Agriculture. They have arrived safely at Jiddah, so news of the expedition can now be given.

MAN FROM SOUTH GETS JOB With an official mission in Saudi Arabia, it became advantageous to have a U. S. legation on the job. Theoretically, Alexander C. Kirk has been accredited as minister to both Cairo and Jiddah, but with Kirk spending most of his time in the increasingly important Egyptian post, the legation at Jiddah will be manned by James Sayle Moore, Jr., of Morrilton, Ark., as secretary and charge d'affaires. Moore goes to Jiddah after service at other Near Eastern posts.

All this is Lawrence of Arabia stuff, with a 1942 American twist. Lawrence went into Arabia in the last war as a political and military organizer. The Americans go in now as an economic and agricultural mission, trying to do something constructive in helping the people of Arabia to a better way of living.

Keeping Arabia as a friendly nation is just as important in this war as it was in the last. From the American point of view, more so. The American supply lines now go up the Red sea and the Persian gulf, carrying munitions to the British in Africa and the Soviet in Asia. Let Arabia fall under Axis domination and plenty might happen.

MEXICAN MASQUERADE

ENTER THE COLONEL

CHAPTER XIV
 "ASIA!" uttered Sargent, and Allan could sense a shiver passing through the frail old body. "Man, be careful of her! She's evil incarnate! She appears to have considerable authority over the Japanese, and it was she who was going to torture Kay!"
 "Really?" exclaimed Allan softly. "You mentioned it, Doctor! Now listen to my yarn!" In quick, whispered phrases he gave a summary of his experiences to date. He ended with a subject of peculiar interest to himself, the story of Harry Bishop's ghastly fate. "Have you any notion what they could have done to me?"
 "I know what they did! They explained the trick to me in detail because it was one they threatened to do to Kay. They inject a preparation of rattlesnake venom into the victim's spinal fluid. If you'll tell that to your doctors, in case I don't get out of here myself—they'll know what to do for your friend. He can be cured."
 "Thank God!" breathed Allan fervently. "If only—"
 The passage was suddenly flooded with light. Somebody had stolen up behind him unheeded and pressed the button of a powerful electric torch. A harsh, guttural voice he recognized only too well snapped an order pitched to a note of malicious satisfaction.
 "Hands up! This time there'll be no nonsense, understand? Follow me as I back out. A false move will be your last!"

Allan heard a gasp of dismay from Sargent, and found no word of hope to leave with the old man. He moved forward slowly as the torch retreated. He quite believed the ugly man's statement; on this occasion there'd be no nonsense. His number was up.
 Now they were outside. Beyond the circle of light from the torch, something white moved in the darkness. A voice spoke in a queer tongue utterly foreign to his knowledge of languages, but it was a woman's voice and he recognized it with a start. Asia!

There was a brief exchange between servant and mistress. He sounded sullen; she was peremptory, and the argument ended when she stamped her foot.
 "Come, señor—Allan! I fear you must return as you came if you wish to get back unseen." She walked toward the shore, Allan at her elbow and silent while he tried to adapt himself to this change in his fortunes. "You were brave to come here tonight—but you'd have been a dead man at dawn if I hadn't interfered! You realize that?"

 "Yes. Why did you do it, Asia?"
 "Why? Just for the moment, let us agree to call it a woman's whim." Her voice was very soft, very alluring and provocative. Her body brushed against his in the dark, and he felt—a most unromantic simile—as if an electric eel had touched him with all its juicy tentacles. Now they were at the water's edge. "I must hurry away," whispered the lady, "and so must you. Good night—dear Allan!"
 "Good night, Asia—and thanks!"
 Then it happened. Her arms were welded to his, her warm lips were pressed hard against his mouth. A second she clung there—laughed tremulously—and was gone!

Allan swam back to prison rather slowly, and never once thought about sharks on the way. Kay Sargent was waiting on the dock, and he heard her quick breath of relief as he slithered on to the pier at her feet. As they stroled up to the bungalow he told her about her father, and also explained the meaning of the lights she had seen flashing on the main island. While he talked to Kay, Allan regained most of the equilibrium he had lost to Asia's potent charm. He regained the rest of it in the lighted foyer of the house when she stared at him, drew away slightly, and remarked on what a pity it was the waters of the Gulf didn't wash off lipstick. Her good night was chilly, and his disgruntled.

Miss Sargent's coolness lasted for nearly four days, but at dusk on the fourth she came bursting into the small patio where he was restlessly pacing the tiled walk. "Why, the idiot knew perfectly well—"
 "Oh, Allan, guess what's happened! I was looking toward the island from my room window just now and I saw a man I met at Ensenada! A Colonel Escobar was the rurales! In charge of this district, he told me! He was staring straight at me, and what do you think I did?"
 "I threw him a kiss," suggested Allan moodily.
 "No," said Kay, too excited to be indignant. "I raised and lowered the window shade several times in code! I sent him SOS! Father made me learn it once. The Colonel didn't make any sign, but I know he must have seen me. He was looking right at me!"
 "That's odd," muttered Allan. "You'd think he might have thrown a kiss at least, huh?"
 "We'll," replied Kay a bit bleakly, "just at that moment the Asia creature came up and they went off arm-in-arm. I suppose she's got him, too."

Allan now understood why he'd heard nothing from Asia since their one-sided embrace; she had finally got Escobar where she wanted him, on terms of such intimacy she dared bring him to the sacred precincts of the "cannery," and she'd put aside her new victim until she had bled the old one dry!

It would have been brutal to tell Kay what a broken reed she was leaning upon in the person of Colonel Alfredo Escobar y Carvajal. Instead, he snapped out of his reverie and showered her with praises for her ingenuity and wit, and made them sound so convincing. Kay was human, and the shower left her purring like a cream-fed kitten.

Accordingly, at 10 o'clock that evening, while the three of them were playing rummy in the living room and listening to the radio, Allan was startled by the noise of a spurred boot crossing the foyer. The cards he was holding fell from his fingers a moment after when he saw the slim figure of Escobar, trim and immaculate as ever, standing in the doorway. The officer looked at Kay Sargent and saluted politely. He was about to address her when his gaze wandered to Allan. His eyes widened.
 "The devil! Is this where you are!"
 "It is indeed. Where did you think I was, Colonel?"
 "Sun Su told me you had suddenly packed your belongings and driven off to Palo Seco, on the mainland, where you expected to get better pictures than here. Of course, I shouldn't have believed him."

"Why, the idiot knew perfectly well—"
 "Oh, Allan, guess what's happened! I was looking toward the island from my room window just now and I saw a man I met at Ensenada! A Colonel Escobar was the rurales! In charge of this district, he told me! He was staring straight at me, and what do you think I did?"
 "I threw him a kiss," suggested Allan moodily.
 "No," said Kay, too excited to be indignant. "I raised and lowered the window shade several times in code! I sent him SOS! Father made me learn it once. The Colonel didn't make any sign, but I know he must have seen me. He was looking right at me!"
 "That's odd," muttered Allan. "You'd think he might have thrown a kiss at least, huh?"
 "We'll," replied Kay a bit bleakly, "just at that moment the

AUSTIN, April 9 (AP)—One more step was completed today toward the establishment of a pig iron plant near Daingerfield. Morris County has granted a lease for the site. A state charter was granted yesterday to the Lone Star Steel company, destined to become one of the nation's largest and most modern pig iron blast furnaces. The duct will emerge from the East Texas plant, according to plans, at rate of 1,200 tons daily.

Final approval of the pig iron plant, which will use East Texas ore, was recently given by the War Production Board. The Defense Plant corporation will finance the $14,850,000 undertaking and lease it to Lone Star Steel, which was capitalized yesterday for $1,000,000.

Original incorporators of the company included John W. Carpenter, Nathan Adams, Charles R. Moore, W. W. Lynch, E. B. Germany, R. L. Thornton, and Fred Florence, all of Dallas, and W. O. Irvin of Daingerfield. Directors are Carpenter, Adams, Moore, Lynch, Germany, Thornton, Florence, L. T. Carpenter, G. H. Anderson, Raleigh Hortensine, all of Dallas; George M. Sonfield of Beaumont, J. N. Edens of Corsicana, C. L. Bransford of Birmingham, Ala.; E. L. Kurth and W. C. Trout of Juffkin; John V. W. Reynolds of New York, W. O. Irvin of Daingerfield, Guf P. Taylor of Tyler, Wright Morrow of Houston, Walter Wortham of Paris, Gus S. Blankenship of Jacksonville, and R. M. Kelly of Longview.

DALLAS, Texas, April 9 (AP)—Col. O. A. Dougherty of the Greater Dallas R.O.T.C. says that when Lieut. Gen. Jonathan Wainwright received orders to go to the Philippines he was disgusted because he thought he'd miss the war.

Dougherty last saw Wainwright at Fort Clark on the Mexican border just before Wainwright, now leading the American-Philippine forces in Bataan, received orders to go to the islands.

SEGUIN, April 9 (AP)—Captain Alva J. Mueller of Seguin, who received the distinguished service cross and the distinguished flying cross for heroism in aerial warfare in the Far Eastern campaign, will be honored at a mass rally tomorrow night.

50 RESERVED SEATS WILL GO ON SALE HERE TONIGHT

100 Sent To Schools In Ring League

Fifty reserved seat tickets for the Tournament of Champions boxing tournament to be staged here tomorrow night will be placed on sale tonight at Harvester Drug and the first to get there will get the tickets. Only 150 ringside reserved seats are available, the other 100 tickets having been sent to member schools. Tickets are 50 cents, tax included. General admission will be 30 cents for students and 45 cents for adults, tax included.

The tournament, final gathering of teams in the North Plains School Boxing League, will be held in the Junior High school gymnasium beginning at 8:30 o'clock. Pampa is not a member of the league this year but was chosen as the tournament city because of being centrally located and having largest seating capacity. The tournament is being sponsored by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce who will receive nothing for its efforts.

"We are happy to put on the tournament," President Jack Johnson said. Thirteen weight champions from the north and south divisions of the league will meet and when the smoke of battle clears away 13 champions will have been crowned. Every boy who won a district title is really a champion which means that fans will see champs and champs in action.

Picking the outstanding fight of the night would be like hunting for a needle in a haystack. Take the 65 pound classic, for instance, where Rice of LeFors and Howard of Miami tangle. Each has won eight fights this season which means there is no favorite in that weight. And the same is true all the way to the heavyweight division.

Another fight that is sure to be a rip-snorting affair will be the meeting between Dare Locke of Miami and Don McLaughlin at 115 pounds. Both boys are undefeated in nine fights in their weight this season. And still another cinch headliner will be the battle between Junior Montague of Wellington and Langford of Stinnett at 145 pounds. Both are undefeated in league bouts while Montague has won seven out of eight fights outside the league.

A Kivlehen from Miami will be in the tournament again this year. He is Norris "Chink" Kivlehen, who was a beginner but a sensation last year. He is a brother of Keith Kivlehen, a winner in last year's tournament and a boy who went to the finals in the state Golden Gloves tournament in Fort Worth in February. Keith is attending Texas Tech college.

Fans will see a possible heavyweight "white hope" when Noel Gudd of Wellington steps into the ring. He weighs 250 pounds. He'll battle Sisk of Pollett, who weighs slightly over the 200 pound mark.

Wellington To Send Five Fighters Here

WELLINGTON, April 9 (NS)—Wellington high school will send five fighters to Pampa Friday night to represent the south half of the North Plains School Boxing League in the annual Tournament of Champions. Wellington boys will fight in the 105, 135, 145, 165 and heavyweight divisions.

Two boys, Don Smith and Junior Montague, will be making their second appearance in a Tournament of Champions at Pampa. Smith will be remembered as the stocky little blond, with short hair, who had only two fights, winning others by forfeits.

Cummings has won 16 straight this season, seven by knockouts and four out of six. Fighting at 145 pounds will be Junior Montague who has won 17 and lost one this season. He has seven knockouts to his credit.

The 165-pound champion from the south will be Nathan Watson who has had only two fights, winning others by forfeits.

Giant of the tournament will be Noel Gudd, 250 pounds who has had to fight only twice this season and he won both easily.

Stinnett Kiwanians Beat Independents

Pampa's Independent basketball team went to the finals in the Stinnett Invitation tournament but bowed out before the superior marksmanship of the Stinnett Kiwanians last night, 45 to 29.

The Pampa quiet went into the finals by defeating the strong Skellytown Truckers Tuesday night by a 52 to 44 score.

Moorehead and Curry were scoring aces for the Pampans, each bagging 12 points. Castleberry and McWright followed with Cobb, the fifth man in the starting lineup. Enloe and Christopher were reserves.

The Pampa team was composed of men who have been attending gym classes during the winter months.

Fans are supposed to find time to refill their pocketbooks? . . . It's our idea that all sports seasons run too long. There would be more fun and just as many customers if they'd start later and end earlier so the fans could get a breathing spell and get cleaned up about each new sport as its season came along.

Another suggestion: If Leon Rain's peace conference between the army and the A. A. U. doesn't smooth things out today, why not have an arrangement whereby the armed forces could "certify" athletes as being okay the way colleges do?

Latest interpretation of the California boxing rules, sent out by Chief Inspector Willie Ritchie: If a fighter who is well in front in a fight sustains a cut and is unable to continue he will get credit for winning. If the guy who is hurt is behind at the time, the match is called no contest. Old ruling was that if the guy who was winning got out they called it a technical draw.

NEW YORK, April 9 (AP)—By a 2 to 1 margin, the experts picked St. Louis Cardinals to overthrow Brooklyn's Dodgers and win the 1942 National league pennant.

In a surprisingly one-sided vote, 46 of the 74 baseball writers balloting in the annual Associated Press pennant poll tabbed the Cards to finish on top. One other writer, Jim Gould of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, couldn't make up his mind between the Cards and Cincinnati Reds, and split his ballot.

Only 23 picked the Dodgers to repeat their 1941 triumph in the senior circuit. Four forecast a return of the Reds to the top spot they held in 1939 and '40. No one could see the Cards worse than third, while four writers picked Brooklyn as low as fourth.

Those were the only three clubs drawing ballots for first place and the voting wound up in that order, with St. Louis piling up 563 1/2 points on a basis of 8 for a first-place vote, 7 for a second, 6 for a third, etc. Brooklyn had 515 and Cincinnati 434 1/2. The Pittsburgh Pirates, who brought up the rear of the first division in last year's pennant parade, were tabbed to do that again this time. Frank Frisch's frolics were selected on three second-place ballots, 21 third and 32 fourth and compiled 375 points.

The second division voting wound up with New York, Chicago, Boston and (you guessed it) Philadelphia's Phillies in that order. There was quite a scramble for fifth place, with the Giants, under Mel Ott's brand of management, winning out, 290 to 284.

Naturally, there was no argument for the cellar. In fact, only four of the 74 writers had the Phils in seventh place. One hardy citizen, however, saw them as high as fifth in his crystal ball.

MIAMI, April 9 (NS)—Miami high school will send four boys to the North Plains School Boxing League Tournament of Champions tomorrow night at the Pampa Junior High school gymnasium. Fights will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Miami fighters look second place in the north half tournament, falling one win behind Pollett who got three forfeits.

Battlers wearing Warrior colors will be Leo "Cotton" Graham, Dare Locke, Norris Kivlehen and Pee Wee Howard. All four are doped on their season record to be on the winning end of bouts even though they'll meet the strongest boys from the south half.

SHOTS ABOUT BOWLING

The Shell Oil team took two out of three games from Danciger Refineries last night at the Pampa Bowl while a team representing the ing in the 110-pound weight, has won nine fights with no losses. This boy is a heady, hard hitting left hander, throwing them from all sides.

Norris "Chink" Kivlehen, fighting the 95-pound weight, has not lost a fight all season. He is an exceptionally clever defensive fighter, seldom taking a blow, but dealing out plenty. He is a virtual whirlwind on the offensive and is quick as a cat. This boy is a brother to Keith who went to the finals in the state Golden Gloves.
