U. S. 'Over Hump' In Production, Says Donald M. Nelson

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—Donald M. Nelson, the war production chief, testified today that the United States was "over the hump" on military production and in a few months would offset the equipment reserves built up by Axis nations.

"I believe we are over the hump on production," he continued. "Everything we have in production and we are getting increased quantities."

Nelson complained, however, that congressional criticism of dollar-a-year men was handicapping the WPB in its efforts to obtain the services of trained business executives.

Board Re-Hires 112 Teachers; Building Leaks

The Pampa school board in special session last night re-hired 112 teachers and set their salaries at the present level, which is $10 a month above the contract price set last September.

The administrative staff of 16 members, including the superintendent, principals, heads of departments and coaches, was re-employed last month.

Supt. L. L. Sone announced at the meeting that J. L. Lester, one of the oldest teachers in the system, in point of service, was retiring at the end of this school term under the Texas State Teachers' Retirement plan.

Water is seeping through the brick at the new high school building and the board instructed Business Manager Roy McMillen to notify O. L. Boyington, construction supervisor, Townes and Park, architects, and bondsmen that immediate action should be taken to correct the fault.

Board members agreed that the Junior High school and the High School auditorium would not be available to individuals desiring to present programs.

Announcement was made that O. L. Boyington, construction supervisor, on the school building, had secured the school board, Page 6

FBI Celebrates Adolf's Birthday By Seizing Aliens

NEWARK, N. J., April 21 (AP)—E. E. Conroy, New Jersey head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said today that the FBI celebrated Adolf Hitler's birthday with the largest state-wide raid since Pearl Harbor, arresting a score of enemy aliens, questioning more than 100 persons and seizing much contraband.

More than 150 agents and local police struck at 62 places last night. Conroy said.

Of those detained as aliens, 11 were sent to Ellis Island and others were being held pending action to be advised by the United States attorney general.

Found at what Conroy called the largest Hitler celebration in the state, at the City Hall Tavern, Union City, were August Klapprott, eastern leader of the disbanded German-American Bund, and the Rev. John C. Fitting, Hudson county bond official. Both are naturalized citizens and they were released after questioning.

As the raiders entered the Union City hall, celebrants continued singing to the last bar songs in praise of Nazism. Eight German nations were found among the group, it was said, all of them without alien registration or selective service registration cards.

Japs Hear New Raid Alarms; Fake Axis Peace Drive Seen

U. S. Planes To Join RAF In Offensive

(By The Associated Press) United States warplanes, now blasting the Axis on many fronts, are already being ferried to British operational bases to join the RAF's great aerial offensive against the continent, sources reported today.

At the same time, a British spokesman disclosed that Prime Minister Winston Churchill has approved a plan to organize a combined operations staff, linking Britain's army, navy and air force into a single gigantic combat team.

The move to coordinate the three British fighting services—perhaps as a prelude to an Allied invasion of Nazi-dominated Europe—closely followed conferences by Gen. George Marshall, U. S. army chief of staff, and Harry Hopkins, President Roosevelt's representative, with British military and political leaders.

London observers said they expected to see the red, white and blue insignia of U. S. bombers in the sky any day now, and the London Daily Sketch declared:

"Soon at airbases all over Britain there will be gathered the force of planes that will make this country the world's greatest air base."

Other developments: Sea warfare—A Berlin radio broadcast asserted that more than 2,000,000 tons of shipping had been sunk by Axis submarines operating off the American Atlantic and Pacific coasts in the last three weeks.

Vichy crisis—Admiral Jean Darlan, commander of all France's armed forces, told his fighting men that "You can rely on me as I rely on you to proceed further along the path of honor and to defend the empire."

With this enigmatic expression, Darlan left open the all-important question of how far the "path of honor" would lead toward active military aid to Germany, now that the new pro-Nazi premier, Pierre Laval, has pledged the conquered republic to solidarity with the Reich.

Russian campaign—Soviet parachute troops, described as strong enough to free German-occupied villages and "hold them against all counterattacks," were reported landing behind Nazi lines, while the Red army also reported gains on the Moscow and Leningrad fronts.

Reserve officers, who have been permitted by the war department to resign their commissions upon the basis of being necessary men in a civilian capacity in most cases, subject to selective service act and are required to immediately present themselves for registration. Reserve officers of the regular army or navy are not subject to the act, nor are retired enlisted men.

Questionnaires Mailed To 94

An additional 94 questionnaires were mailed yesterday from the office of the Gray County Selective Service board office making a total of 294 men to date to whom questionnaires have been sent for the registrants of February 16, this year.

Included in the list today were the names of Carl Forbes Benefield, theater manager, Otis Richard Pumphrey, food wholesaler, George Beussor Cree, Jr., son of City Commissioner G. B. Cree.

Meanwhile, plans for the fourth registration are nearly complete. Registration will be held on April 27 of men between the ages of 45 and 65.

They are Maj. Gen. Richard K. Sutherland, 48, the chief of staff, and Brig. Gen. Richard J. Marshall, 46, the ranking officers of an administrative organization made up of Australians, Dutch and Americans.

MacArthur Issues First Communique

By VERN HAUGLAND U. S. ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, April 21 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur signaled the establishment of his new southwestern Pacific headquarters and completion of his staff today by issuing his first daily communique which embraced operations in the Philippines, Dutch East Indies and Australia.

With a staff composed largely of his aides who were in the Philippines, he also highlighted the attention he is devoting to that sector of his command by announcing that Japanese artillery firing upon Corregidor fortress in Manila bay was abating.

The big American guns firing from the island had registered telling hits upon enemy troops, his communique said, and enemy shelling and bombing was having negligible effect.

Announcing a new raid yesterday on Salamaua, Japanese foothold on New Guinea, north of Australia, General MacArthur said the Japanese headquarters buildings were smashed along with some hangars, and a fuel dump was destroyed.

MacArthur's headquarters, which said its communique will supplant henceforth those which have been issued by the Australian government, also told of Allied air attacks upon Koepong in Dutch Timor and Rabaul in New Britain.

A previously announced Japanese attack on Port Moresby in New Guinea, also was mentioned. Unofficial reports from Port Moresby, said that nine heavy Japanese bombers escorted by six fighters made the 26th attack on that island outpost today, but that the formations were broken up by anti-aircraft fire and Australian fighters.

Elsewhere in the Philippines, it was announced that American-Filipino forces were continuing their aggressive patrol action against the Japanese occupying a fringe of Mindanao island, and that the Japanese had not yet been able to over-land the defenders in Gabu and Panay islands. At San Jose, in southwestern Panay, the Japanese have made a new landing, it was said.

Dispatches from an advanced base said American planes started fires in a raid on Rabaul, and, in addition to scoring one direct hit on a Japanese plane, straddled others with bombs.

Some United States aircraft received slight damage from machine gun bullets and shrapnel but all returned safely.

The American pilots, a spokesman said, were youngsters of remarkable keenness, a young American captain who probably has more operations against the Japanese to his credit than any other of the Americans said.

"I had taken it in the Philippines, I had taken it in Java. And now it was a real pleasure to dish it out."

Two United States army officers who helped General MacArthur formulate and execute the plans for defense of the Philippines were named chief and deputy chief of staff in his southwest Pacific command today.

They are Maj. Gen. Richard K. Sutherland, 48, the chief of staff, and Brig. Gen. Richard J. Marshall, 46, the ranking officers of an administrative organization made up of Australians, Dutch and Americans.

Shelling Of Corregidor Slows Down

Famous Japanese Methodists Quoted In Peace Talk

By ROGER D. GREENE Associated Press War Editor

Japan launched an apparent "peace offensive" today as new air-raid alarms were reported to have been sounded in central and western Japan and the Japanese cabinet received details on the damage inflicted by American bombers in Saturday's historic assaults on Tokyo, Yokohama, Nagoya and Kobe.

While warning of the propaganda danger, American officials have already discouraged such an Axis peace drive with the declaration that the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo bloc could not be trusted in a negotiated peace.

The new air-raid alarms in Japan were the second since planes with the U. S. insignia spread flaming destruction and terror across a 1,000-mile trail on Saturday.

A Berlin broadcast said the alarm sounded in the afternoon and was lifted in Central Japan by an all-clear at 5 p. m., Japanese time (4 a. m. eastern war time).

Japan's west coast faces, China, indicating that the planes may have come from the Chinese mainland. Imperial Tokyo headquarters said yesterday that some of the U. S. bombers which took part in the raids Saturday had "escaped" to bases in China.

The German broadcast did not say whether any bombs were dropped. In Tokyo, the Japanese cabinet minister belittled the damage inflicted in Saturday's raids, asserting that the transportation system was "hardly disturbed," that the postal service was fully resumed soon after the planes left, and that Japanese life was affected only in a few instances.

While Japan thus minimized the first aerial attack in her history, three days after the initial shock had worn off, Australia's Army Minister Francis M. Forde declared in Brisbane that "The war has turned in our favor" and that the approaching Allied offensive "will be a staggering spectacle."

"The day has not yet to be unleashed is not yet here," Forde said, "but it is not too far off."

Forde warned that a Japanese attempt to invade Australia may come within the next few weeks, declaring:

"To think the Japanese will concentrate on India is sheer foolishness. We must be prepared for the worst."

Signs of a possible Japanese "peace offensive" cropped up in a Tokyo broadcast quoting Toyohiko Kagawa, Japan's best-known Christian leader, as declaring:

"Prayers are being said daily for an early conclusion of the war and restoration of peace throughout the world."

In this connection, authoritative observers have forecast a Japanese peace drive as soon as she had conquered the territories desired in her "greater East Asia co-prosperity sphere."

With the rise of Allied offensive power, Japan may now feel ready to call quits.

Meanwhile, Chinese reports said the Japanese were speeding preparations for possible war against Russia, heavily reinforcing their garrisons in inner Mongolia, which borders Soviet Russia west of Manchukuo.

On the Burma war front, a furious battle was reported in the heart of Burma's ruined oil fields. As British tank-led infantry and a Chinese rifle regiment sought to annihilate isolated Japanese troops.

British military quarters said the situation was "confused" and that confirmation was lacking on a Chungking report that Chinese reinforcements, commanded by Lieut. See CORREGIDOR, Page 6

Venado Blanco Club Hears A. K. Baracat Speak On Jerusalem

Special To The NEWS WHITE DEER, April 21—A. K. Baracat, Amarillo business man, who lived in Jerusalem until he was 16 and had frequent visits there since he came to America, spoke to an open meeting of the Venado Blanco club at the high school.

Jerusalem has changed little in the nearly 2,000 years since the birth of Christ, he said. Its 250,000 inhabitants represent 33 nationalities, each of which retains its own customs.

"These however, may be considered in three great groups, Mohammedans, Jews and Christians. These groups observed Friday, Saturday and Sunday as the Sabbath, and none would change its custom.

Therefore, the three days are observed, leaving little time for work. This is very agreeable to the people since they naturally have little desire for work.

Besides the city dwellers, two other great groups exist in Palestine, the nomads, a roving group, and the government, education, and soldiers have made no change since the time of Christ; they use no money, but live by trade. Each village has a guest house in which a person may stay for three days without money and with no questions asked. They believe that God sometimes appears in the guise of a guest, and they may be entertaining Him unaware.

"Americans have done more missionary work in Palestine than any other people," Mr. Baracat said. "This work began when Eli Smith started an Arabic school in Jerusalem and translated the Bible into Arabic."

Program On Yards Presented At Bell H. D. Club Meeting

Bell Home Demonstration club met recently in the home of Mrs. Roland Dauer when Mrs. Conner O'Neal presided.

Roll call was answered by each member telling "how she was cooperating in club goal or yard work."

Mrs. Julia E. Kelley, Gray county home demonstration agent, with the assistance of Mrs. H. H. Keahey and Mrs. Jess Morris, conducted the lesson on "Yards."

Mrs. Morris spoke on "Sanitation of Premises."

"Lawns carefully planned will give joy to anyone for years to come," Mrs. H. H. Keahey said. "Trees planted in groups may be used for windbreaks, to screen unsightly places or machinery, walks curved and made of native stone or gravel with flowers planted in the curves are far more attractive than straight cement ones," continued Mrs. Keahey as she spoke on "Lawn Planning."

Mrs. Kelley gave a planting demonstration of 21 new shrubs added to Mrs. Dauer's yard and told how to care for them after planting. Bell club members have added 64 new shrubs and 32 rose bushes to their yards this year.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. C. McKnight, Conner O'Neal, Melvin Whitechurch, H. H. Keahey, Hershel Kelley, Ernest McKnight, Jess Morris, Julia Kelley, and one visitor, Mrs. Jeff Kay.

Circle one met with Mrs. Edwin Vicars when 11 members were present. After Mrs. John Skelley told the story of the song, "The Sweet Hour," by Mrs. Jeanna Luke, Mrs. W. Purviance taught the study, assisted by Mrs. Walter Daugherty and the hostess, Mrs. Purviance gave the group a written Bible test and a review of the book.

At the meeting of circle two in the church parlor, 11 members and one visitor, Mrs. Harold Wright, were present. The story of the song, "Stand Up for Jesus," was told by Mrs. Dan Leitch. Mrs. A. G. Averitt had charge of the lesson with Mrs. Art Hurst, Mrs. Clyde Blackwell, Mrs. Glenn Radcliff, Mrs. J. E. Kirchman, and Mrs. Dodson assisting.

Circle three met in the home of Mrs. W. R. Campbell with 11 members present. The group sang "Have Thine Own Way," and Mrs. R. K. Elkins gave the devotional from the Upper Room. Mrs. Campbell discussed the first part of chapter four in the study book, which included the Sermon on the Mount, the Last Supper, and the Prodigal Son. While Mrs. Grist spoke on "The New Fellowship of Social Action and the Mind of Christ," the group entered into a round-table discussion of the book as a review. Mrs. Frank Shotwell conducted a Bible quiz after the business session.

Eleven members of circle four met in the home of Mrs. John Hessey gave a written Bible test over the book which was followed with a general discussion. The devotional from The Upper Room was given by the study chairman to conclude the lesson.

Circle five met in the home of Mrs. John Hodge with 12 members present. The group answered the roll call with favorite Bible verses. Following the singing of "In the World," after which Mrs. Croston presented, Mrs. Horace McBee told the song story of "In Christ There is No East or West," and Mrs. W. G. Crowson sang the hymn as a solo. Mrs. Carlion Nance gave the devotional from "The Light of the World," after which Mrs. Croston conducted the Bible study on the book of Revelations. A general discussion was held on a review of the book.

Nine members of circle six met in the home of Mrs. S. E. Enloe when Mrs. Brownlee led the opening prayer and the group sang "Beautiful Garden of Prayer." Mrs. R. W. Lane reviewed the final chapter of the study book which was followed with a general discussion.

The group gave the Lord's prayer in unison to conclude the study.

Circle seven met in the home of Mrs. D. A. Grundy with eight members and one visitor, Mrs. Patterson, present. Mrs. W. G. Croston presented the study of the fourth chapter of study book. Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Grundy, and Mrs. Lyles had parts for discussion on the chapter. A short business session was held and some-as-you-are breakfast was planned.

Ceiling On Wages Urged By Thomas

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—Expansion of labor's no-strike agreement in war industries to embrace a flexible ceiling in wages was proposed today by Chairman Thomas (D-Utah) of the senate labor committee. Thomas, who often expresses administration views, said he thought a voluntary stabilization of wages on an equitable basis would do much toward quieting the current congressional wrangling over the 40-hour week and overtime pay.

The committee chairman told reporters he believed a plan could be worked out to peg wages generally at present levels, with adjustments provided for low-pay groups or individuals. He suggested that a general board then could review war industry wages about every eight months, and order increases to compensate for any advance in living costs.

President Roosevelt has let it be known that he will discuss the whole problem of the cost of living in a message to congress, to be followed by a radio talk on the subject next Monday night. Congressional leaders, expecting no specific recommendations for new legislation, said they thought the President now had sufficient authority to order a general freezing of prices as a brake against inflation. While Mr. Roosevelt has said the question of wage controls also was under study, few expected any drastic proposals along this line.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.) told the senate yesterday, in obtaining consent to delay argument until April 28 on his war plant seizure bill, that the President had given assurances the forthcoming message would deal with all phases of the living cost problem, "including labor."

Expressing the hope that Mr. Roosevelt would advocate a program of over-all control of prices, wages, salaries and bonuses, Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) said anything short

Rubber Lung Demonstrated To Physicians

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
ST. PAUL, April 21 (AP)—A rubber lung, which does about everything except give a drowning person a drink of coffee, was demonstrated to the American College of Physicians today.

It looks good for reviving half-drowned or suffocated sailors and aviators, particularly if they have been injured in the fighting preceding immersion. The lung, in baby size, already has shown its potency by saving a number of blue babies, infants nearly suffocated and unable to breathe.

In man or baby size the lung looks like an exaggerated bustle on the wrong side. It covers abdomen and part of the chest. The rubber sides fit air tight over almost any clothing.

A pump alternately sucking out and pulling in the air, moves the abdomen up and down, inducing natural breathing. At the same time a rubber tube, attached to the lung, automatically sucks the water out of the half-drowned person's stomach.

Although the effects of this rubber lung are the same as those of Red Cross first aid, the lung is said to be safer for wounded men. First aid by the hands, puts pressure on broken bones and broken necks. The lung does not. Broken necks sometimes cut off brain centers controlling breathing.

The lung maintains normal breathing with a broken neck, a fact already demonstrated on an injured baby.

The lung is said to be useful for the respiratory troubles in carbon monoxide poisoning, tetanus, gas poisoning, electric shock, heat prostration and the paralyses in poliomyelitis, diphtheria and brain hemorrhage. It is an aid in surgery if there is risk of breathing trouble due to anesthesia.

FDR Calls Connally To White House

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt called Senator Connally (D-Tex.) to the white house today for a conference expected to result in agreement by Connally to delay for a week his effort to bring a labor bill before the senate.

Connally, whose consent would be necessary to postpone action on a motion to take up a bill authorizing the government to seize strike-bound industrial plants, told reporters he would insist on assurances that the president planned early action on the labor question before he agreed to any delay. There have been indications that the president would outline his war labor policies in a message this week asking inflationary controls.

Meanwhile, union leaders were conducting a vigorous fight against inclusion of wage controls in such a program.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE—"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Feminine Soldiers

There is talk now of an approaching shortage of men, as eligible males are drawn off to fill the expanding army ranks. There will be several millions drafted; some estimates are as high as 10,000,000.

But there might also be a shortage of women. Already they are pouring into the war industries and many other unaccustomed occupations, in surprising numbers. Thousands take semi-military jobs of various kinds, linking them more and more closely with the armed forces.

Public opinion and biological prejudice will doubtless keep women out of the fighting ranks, except in extreme emergencies. There comes a time in great wars when racial defense, in the form of motherhood, becomes as important as military defense.

Halting Population

Our population is reaching its limit. The last census showed an addition of only 7 per cent, less than half that in the years from 1920 to 1930.

Census officials and students of population trends think that in the future increases will be slower and slower, and that in 1980, well within the life-time of many of us, the growth of the nation will come to a standstill.

We shall have fewer people. We shall also have older ones. People over 65 years increased in number 35 per cent between 1930 and 1940. They were then nearly 7 per cent of the population.

What does that mean? More interest in pensions for the aged, for one thing. Greater conservatism in politics and economics, for another.

The Nation's Press

40-HOUR WEEK (The Indianapolis News)

The campaign for the forty-hour week was based on deception, and now that the forty-hour week must endure the test of public opinion in an emergency, the advocates of the plan are forced to deception again in order to defend it.

The forty-hour week was lobbied through Congress on the plea that it would spread work and help to relieve distress caused by unemployment. That seemed to be fair enough. But it was not the truth.

Now the diligent authors of this deception are denying that there is a forty-hour week law. They maintain that there is no legal limit to the work week.

All defense of the forty-hour week fails to shake the conviction of the average American that as a measure of a man's work capacity it is a fraud and, in time of war, a direct help to the enemy.

Congress is trying to stifle public demand for a longer week by running away from the issue. Its retreat under fire is a pitiable exhibition of political cowardice.

RIGHTS OR PRIVILEGES?

(Newport-Balboa, Calif., Press)

Former Governor Henry W. Allen of Kansas still takes a lively interest in public affairs, and occasionally sets forth his views in a "letter to the editor."

"The statement of labor leaders and others that 'rights' gained by labor unions should not be taken away at this time is not well founded. Members of labor unions enjoy the rights guaranteed by the first 10 Amendments to the Constitution the same as all of us.

But there is a question that persists in raising. What if peaceful means fail to prevent strikes and lockouts? What if war industry is paralyzed by repeated strikes in spite of a public willingness to settle the issue by voluntary agreement?

Racketeering is going on ruthlessly and brutally regardless of the war and its perils. The men who pay tribute seem to be unable to terminate the racket. The labor leaders are either unable or unwilling to bring it to an end.

Common Ground

"I speak the plain-word principle. I give the sign of democracy. By God I will accept nothing which all cannot have their counterpart of on the same terms."

IF THERE WERE 64,500,000 CHRISTIANS

A recent lesson in the International Sunday School Lessons was on the subject of personal evangelism. One of the commentators pointed out that the census showed there were over 64,500,000 members of churches in the United States; that this was nearly 50 per cent of the total population.

But the lesson did not seem to emphasize the importance of evangelistic work among members of the church. If all church members were really Christians and stood for Christian principles, this country certainly would not be in the shape it is in today.

In fact, many of the higher-ups in some of the churches, like the Methodist, are anything but Christian. For instance, such men as Roy Smith, editor of the Christian Advocate, E. Stanley Jones, missionary, Harold Lucecock, Bishop Francis McConnell are all the friends of Caesar rather than of God's.

So, it is little wonder that we are in the predicament we are in when we have this type church leadership in high authority.

If we really had 64,000,000 Christians, we would have few, if any, discriminatory laws either in our own country or against men of other countries.

But do we hear the leaders of the church pointing out the eventual results of the state passing class legislation? If we do, it is very, very seldom.

As for example, do we hear from the leaders in the church any warning of the eventual results of tariffs; as to tax laws that tax one man at one rate and another at another rate; as to labor laws that take away from the individual his inherent right to exchange his services; as to immigration laws and laws that discriminate against certain races as to becoming citizens?

No. They are against sin, but do not seem to oppose collective sin. At least they seldom if ever point out these most dangerous sins.

The present tendency of church members is to be socialistic, rather than democratic and Christian. Too many of the church members want their will, or the bare majority's will, to prevail rather than the natural law of all men being equally free to pursue happiness on the same terms.

There is no man who is of greater service to his fellowman than a true Christian who stands for the brotherhood of all mankind; but there is no man who does more harm than the man who uses the church as a cloak to promote his will or the will of the bare majority, as opposed to the uniform rule and the brotherhood of man, as advocated by Jesus.

WHAT PER CENT OF INFLATION?

The New Dealers who contend that the government can spend and spend and spend and inflation can be controlled, might answer this question: what per cent of inflation is there on an article that the consumer cannot buy?

An individual not being able to get the things he wants and needs in exchange for his labor, is being subjected to the worst and most tyrannical kind of inflation.

There is nothing accomplished by keeping prices down, when the man cannot buy the article at the lower price. This kind of inflation is worse than increased prices.

But the politicians will not do the thing that will prevent inflation; namely, tax consumption on a uniform basis and pay our bills as we go along.

But, instead, these dreamers, socialists and New Dealers tax the man who adds to the wealth of the world rather than the man who consumes the wealth. And if there is anything that will cause inflation and prevent people from getting the things that they need, if there is anything that will keep wages down and lower the standard of living, it is taxing the man who furnishes the tools and, thus, makes it possible for people to produce more with a given amount of energy and, thus, get more.

unit that the termination of strikes and racketeering by voluntary action would be far better for country and people than their prohibition by written law. But voluntary action has failed to stop either strikes or racketeering; we still have both of these evils. Are we to confess that there has arisen in this country a force that is stronger than government and people and written law?

FEAR BRONX CHEERS

Studios have advised all younger male stars to avoid appearances at army camp or navy base entertainments for fear they might be hooded for not being in uniform. Any day, now, these same players will have to be justified on the screen, perhaps with a forward on each picture saying in effect that all the men in the cast are fulfilling their military obligations or have been exempted.

Considering the importance attached by the government to movies as a force for building public morale, it seems likely that studios will be able to borrow key players from the armed services on one-picture furloigns. That system has worked in England.

"BOY! DID YOU SEE 'CAPTAIN EASY' TODAY?"

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, April 21—Behind the screen: Expecting the loss of most of their male technicians for the duration, studios are planning to start training schools to qualify women for jobs around the sound stages and in the shops and laboratories.

This doesn't mean that lady electricians will be climbing around among the big arc lamps under the rafters, or that powder-puff carpenters will be banging away, building massive sets. But there can be women camera operators, sound mixers, cutters, film handlers, set dressers, painters, and workers on precision machines.

The unions will have much to say against this unless the need is indisputably proved. Personally, I'm looking forward to the day when the feminine operator of a sound control board halts a scene under a tough director by announcing that the thingamajig seems to be disconnected from the watchamacallit.

At this writing, 107 prominent Hollywood people are touring training camps or playing war benefits all over the country. More than 300 Hollywood writers also are engaged in war assignments, mostly radio and government movie scripts, for which they get no pay.

Another angle on the screen colony's war effort is found in statistics from studio business offices. Almost 78 per cent of lower-salaried employees have authorized regular deductions from their checks for purchase of war bonds. Total amount is more than $75,000 a week, with an estimated additional $50,000 in bonds being bought by top-bracket stars, free-lance players, writers and directors.

Strip-teaser in a hideaway night club does an "All-out for Victory" number in which she appears clad in sheets of defense stamps which were sold to the customers.

Vernice Lake must be preparing to play Lady Godiva. That famous forelock has grown six more inches, and she refuses to cut it. "She looks," said a disapproving executive, "as if she had put a wig on backward."

As a precaution against invasion of southern California, there's a move to build studio facilities in Arizona. Immediate project involves $1,500,000 worth of buildings.

Next big sports biography will be "Million-Dollar Gate," a picture on the life of Tex Rickard.

The Marine Corps gets another glorification with "Stars and Stripes Forever," which will include some of the life of John Philip Sousa plus screen rights to some of his great compositions.

Mae West is preparing a skit for presentation at army camps. She also plans a screen come-back as a spy who goes to Berlin to take care of Hitler!

Next big sports biography will be "Million-Dollar Gate," a picture on the life of Tex Rickard.

Among these are restrictions of working hours to 40 per week, with a penalty to the employer should the worker be employed more than 40 hours. Then there is the National Labor Relations Act, which compels employers to accept closed shops wherein labor unions are given the power to tax every employee with heavy initiation and membership dues as a condition of employment.

Ed Chapman, the favorite grocery checker of a lot of people, and Mrs. Chapman, let yesterday for California for an extended stay. Mrs. Chapman is in poor health and it might help her out there.

Ed is not selling his house and other property and is expecting to come back here. He has lived in Pampa 13 years and has been a continuous subscriber to the paper all that time—and he still will be in California.

If things work out as they want them to, the Junior Chamber of Commerce may come up soon with an idea for the Fiesta that may turn out to be the biggest and most heart-felt idea they have ever developed.

There is not much flag waving in New York. One gets the feeling from the uniformed men that there is a big job to do and after that we'll get out the bands and the flags.

More French is spoken in the streets. It is not the lilting French of pre-war Paris. This is something a little shrill, and too loud. There is fury in the sound of it but no self defense.

One sees more foreign articles for sale in the hundreds of small shops run for the relief of suffering nations. These are mostly small things like handkerchiefs or dolls, or embroidery, hand made bags and pins with Allied flags interwoven.

We are accustomed now to the lack of marine news. Time was when we studied the sailings before writing letters for abroad. Now they are just posted with prayer.

Gene Worley is up to his ears in performing his duties in the Navy. A resident of Panhandle who saw him recently asked him something about politics, and Gene was quoted as saying that he had no time to talk politics, that he let the people take care of politics, that he had a job in the navy to do and that it was taking all his time.

And by the way, it begins to look as if Gene lined up everything he could for the Panhandle before he went. His district now has more government contracts than most districts in Texas, for instance, the Lubbock district, and there are prospects that the Panhandle will get more war contracts. Nobody yet has suffered because Gene joined the navy as he said he would.

No congressman could do more for the Panhandle, or for the country, than Gene is doing. His office in Washington and his friends in the capital are doing right well by his district. They are really going to bat for him in his absence and getting the job done, especially Senator Tom Connally, Sam Rayburn.

HIGH LIFE And low life in The BIG City

By Stella Holit

Although life goes on as before in New York there are changes which have come about quietly. In the old days there were no uniforms to be seen. Now they are everywhere. They go to shows, movies, parks, restaurants and they get in goodly numbers to church.

These men in uniform are all young, all serious. Many of them will refuse drinks even when offered and it is rare indeed to see a soldier or sailor who has had too many drinks. They never rough house. They all seem to have an inner quietness.

Behind The News In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON, April 21—The old ideal of how to be a success was that every small boy in this great country had the opportunity to grow up like Thomas A. Edison, invent an electric light or a talking machine, take out a patent and sit back to live off the royalty for 17 years, retiring gracefully into immortality and the history books after death.

And every genius or crackpot with an inventive frame of mind was supposed to add a little P.S. to his "Now-I-lay-me's" at night, giving thanks to the Founding Fathers, who, in their infinite wisdom, provided right in the Constitution that congress be given the power "to promote the progress of science and the useful arts . . . by securing for limited times to . . . inventors the exclusive right to their respective . . . discoveries." Amen.

But in these times of all-out, 100 per cent two-hemisphere global war for survival, it seems that this old stuff is all wrong. The patent law is presented as a curse, for certain wicked parties, particularly corporations, have conspired to inventors out of their just rewards and, far worse, to deprive the public of the benefits they might be enjoying if those patents were not held as a monopoly.

Still worse, many of these patents are held under hidden German control in such a way that the American war production effort is handicapped because the U. S. government cannot now legally obtain munitions manufactured under these patented processes.

That—in brief and oversimplified statement—is what's behind the current series of disclosures being unfolded before the Senate Committee on Patents. For years congressional patent committees have gone their routine ways, neglected and ignored, by the senate committee, which is revealing the most sensational stories in Washington.

The little committee room on the first floor of the Senate office building is overcrowded to S.R.O. as one lawyer after another from the department of justice unfolds almost unbelievable stories on monopoly controls of patents on processes for increasing the production of machine tools, magnesium, aluminum, zinc, plastics, munitions—basic materials which the United States must have to win this war.

The purpose of all these disclosures is to build up a case for revision of the patent law of the land and permit the United States to secure full and unrestricted benefits from these monopoly-held patents. The assumption is that the country now has an octant patent law for an airplane civilization. Last revision on the basic patent laws were in 1910 and 1918.

REMEDYING THE WRONG To remedy what's wrong, there is proposed a new bill introduced by Senators Joseph O'Mahoney of Cheyenne, Wyo., Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., of Madison, Wis., and Senator Homer T. Bone of Tacoma, Wash. In its present form, what this proposed bill would do is briefly this:

Suppose the government wanted to use a patented, monopoly-held process for the manufacture of magnesium. The president would be authorized to declare the need of this material, then issue a license to anyone to produce magnesium by the patented process on payment of designated royalties, for specified times. Patent owners would be permitted to bring suit for payment of royalties, but not for injunction preventing use of the patented process during the emergency.

After such a declaration, no one would be prevented from going into the magnesium production business. In the case of patents held in such a way that alien ownership cannot be established, the government would still be able to take the patents by condemnation proceedings, making fair compensation.

All this is pretty drastic medicine in the eyes of patent holders and old-line patent attorneys. But it is a war measure. From some quarters, however, there may be charges that it is the first step toward socialization of the patent laws, or the seizure of private property or franchise for the use of the state.

THE uses of adversity still are sweet, in spite of the sugar shortage. Many of us, for instance, are almost looking forward to the rigors of a rationed future in which there will be no soap operas, pleated trousers, castor oil, Sunday drivers, and tapioca pudding.

What's more, the new style in men's clothes should finally satisfy our curiosity as to how Mr. Herbert Hoover would look in a single-breasted suit.

It's the little contributions, the almost insignificant efforts that add up to victory. We need the big bond purchases, the headlined war efforts, but the small, unsung, unnoticed co-operation of everyone is what will win this war.

They, and all the men they work with, take time to walk to a special box to save those empty cigarette packages. . . . Don't let anyone tell you those men saving tinfol are't helping fight the battle of the Atlantic and the Pacific.

TEX'S TOPICS

By Lex DeWeese

A PAMPA boy at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Chicago, should have had some good old-fashioned, home-baked cinnamon rolls and coffee cake for breakfast this morning. . . . It was sent to him air mail special delivery yesterday after having been baked for him by a woman he doesn't know.

She did it because she wanted to do something for a soldier boy. . . . And she did it because she happened to overhear this navy boy's mother remark that she wished she could bake old-fashioned, coffee cake because she had just had a letter from her son expressing a desire for some. . . . It so happened that Mrs. Abe Hockstein, wife of the men's department manager at Levine's, overheard Mrs. Jesse Stroup, mother of Jerry Stroup, the navy boy, talking the situation over in the store the other day. . . . She volunteered to do the baking and yesterday she brought the cakes, piping hot and ready for mailing, to Mrs. Stroup. . . . In ten minutes they were in the postoffice ready for their trip to Chicago. . . . There's an idea for some of the women folk who can't find anything to do these long afternoons.

Why is it that the drivers who never are going anywhere always want to get there quickest? . . . Spring is the season when lots of poets start writing—home for money. . . . Regardless of the big maple sap yield this year it's just a drop in the bucket. . . . Garters for men are as big as ten dollars. Sounds like a holdup!

Maybe spring is responsible for such queries as do drug store clerks conduct sundae schools? . . . PAMPA Jaycees are getting ready to break something really big as the theme for their annual summer observance. It no doubt will be the biggest thing of its kind ever staged in Texas, and that is not merely a publicity shot in the arm.

Pampa Kiwanians are going to finish out their year of inter-club relations meetings with other clubs in the district by the recording route. . . . Instead of burning up a lot of gas and wearing out tires going back and forth between cities, the Pampa civic club members will record programs at local inns instead to the respective clubs and mail them off. . . . The host clubs will play the recordings that day and get their message and entertainment on wax instead of in the flesh.

These recorded programs will be sent to Amarillo, Vega, Lubbock, Plainview, Wellington, Sanford, and Stinnett. . . . The Pampa club is believed to be one of the first in the nation to adopt the plan.

What you hear never sounds as important as what you overhear. . . . If scientists are still trying to break the atom, they might try letting cottages tax it. . . . Many a shoe that hurts a woman is merely a small matter. . . . Advance prediction: Too many flies are going to get through the summer without being swatted. . . . It's had luck to raise an umbrella indoors and worse luck to lay it down anywhere.

THE uses of adversity still are sweet, in spite of the sugar shortage. Many of us, for instance, are almost looking forward to the rigors of a rationed future in which there will be no soap operas, pleated trousers, castor oil, Sunday drivers, and tapioca pudding.

April showers may bring forth flowers but they don't bring forth good baseball players, who need sunshine and warm weather to come out and blossom into stars. Manager Dick Ratliff moaned today as the weather continued threatening.

The opening game of the season is just one week away—next Tuesday evening at 5:30 o'clock at Road Runner park here between the Oilers and the Lamesa Dodgers.

The Oilers have had only six days of real practice weather, which isn't nearly enough. Berger and Amarillo are in the same fix but other teams have had better luck with their weather.

Although team officials are still worrying over their pitchers—or rather their lack of pitchers—there was a bright spot in the gloom last night when Don Lane, who plays either shortstop or second base, arrived. Lane was with the Lamesa Lobes last season, playing at both positions. He is a classy fielder, a good double play man, and a good hitter. He's been working out at his home in Sioux City, Iowa, and is ready to go.

Announcement was made today that Vaden Noble, righthanded pitcher from Ada, Okla., was to arrive tomorrow.

Marshall Brown, big center fielder for Lamesa last season, has written that he'll be here for Sunday's game against Clovis if nothing happens.

"Just give us a week of decent weather and we'll be ready," Manager Ratliff said today.

Track Meet Scheduled For Thursday

Because of continued heavy rain, the district track and field meet, originally scheduled for last Saturday in Shamrock, will not be held until Thursday. Shamrock officials notified Coach Buck Prejean of the Pampa Harvesters this morning.

The battle of thinclads was set for today, after being rained out Saturday, but Shamrock had another heavy rain yesterday and there was no chance of the track drying out in time for competition today.

Coach Prejean is keeping his boys limbered up by letting them jog around the gymnasium.

Spring football practice for the Harvesters was scheduled to have started yesterday but rain spoiled the workout.

"We'll start when the weather gets right," Coach Prejean announced.

J. C. McWright's Junior High Reapers were supposed to have played an intra-quad game yesterday, to close the season, but it was postponed until Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, weather permitting.

SPORTS IN WARTIME

Paul Boesch, professional wrestler who is teaching soldiers at Camp Wallace, near Galveston, how to handle the enemy when it gets to a man-to-man proposition, has a "sleeper hold."

It seems a captain at the camp expressed skepticism despite the visible effect it was having when applied to the soldiers. But a lieutenant dared to disagree. "I think I've got the hang of it, sir, and if you'd care for me to show you—"

The captain agreed and they retired to a secluded spot for dignity's sake. But the lieutenant, applying what he thought to be the sleeper hold, really put on a struggle—one so strong it prevented the captain making an outcry.

When finally the lieutenant did release the hold the captain said: "But that's a military secret. Suffice it to say that officers believe the captain is convinced of the usefulness of wrestling in close combat."

Monty Stratton Expects To Hurl In Lubbock Game

LUBBOCK, April 21 (AP)—Monty Stratton is expected to make his second appearance of the season today, this time for a little serious hurling as he attempts to show that a man with an artificial leg can do something in baseball except direct the team from the bench.

The former Chicago White Sox pitcher, whose big league career was cut short several years ago when he lost the leg in a hunting accident, tied his hurling last week but mostly for the benefit of photographers.

He started cold and didn't do so well against the North American Aviation team of Dallas but today as his Lubbock Hubbers play the Amarillo Gold Sox Monty is due to really put himself to the test.

Against North American Aviation Stratton struck out the first batter and the next grounded out but the next three got his and scored twice. Monty finished the inning, then retired.

Observers said he looked natural in the box and pitched well, with fine control.

Stratton, who announced as soon as he was named manager of the Lubbock club in the West Texas-New Mexico league this year that he would make a pitching comeback, has been working in batting practice daily. The league campaign does not open until April 28.

Stratton says he won't be able to run much and that he may be handicapped in the field but that he thinks he can win ball games. He did not take his turn at bat against North American.

SERIAL STORY

FRANTIC WEEKEND

BY EDMUND FANCOFF

COPYRIGHT, 1942, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Two cars of week-end guests en route to Ferdy's...

and her escort in the expressive statement. Fay looked cool and devilishly beautiful...

"Yes," smiled Peggy with a pleased air, holding out grimy fingers. She looked down at her hand and drew it back...

THE GUESTS ARRIVE

TO compensate for his awkwardness, Nigel drove as fast as his concern for his precious freight would allow...

After leaving Montreal the car sped through the farmlands and villages of the plain beyond the island...

Nigel became uncertain of their destination. He consulted a rough map drawn on paper with an air of doubt...

"You are sure you know the way?" asked Fay with an amused smile.

"Well... er... I think we're all right. We'll ask if we pass anyone."

The first people they saw were three, all peered around a fairly ancient model. One girl leaned with detached patience against the door of the car...

Nigel pulled up. "Could you tell me if we're on the right road to..."

Then he stopped and his voice took on a note of relief. "Well if it isn't you!"

"Is it?" Myra Mack smiled. Michael and his younger sister straightened and turned expectantly toward the other car...

"Well," said Myra. "To think of meeting you, Miss Ransom, my sister..."

"My!" she murmured, gazing at the other car and the other girl. "What a sweet outfit!"

and her escort in the expressive statement. Fay looked cool and devilishly beautiful in blue linen, her hair gleaming copper gold in the sun and blowing free...

Peggy, on the other hand, looked decidedly hot. Her hands were grimed from helping her brother and she had forgotten that she had wiped the heat from her face with dirty fingers...

Everyone laughed. Introductions were completed but somehow Peggy's entrance had stolen the show...

Peggy had given two days of careful thought to this weekend. She had ransacked the wardrobes of her best friends to decide what she should borrow to wear...

"Want any help?" asked Nigel, jumping out. "We're almost through," said Michael Mack. "Practically set to go."

Peggy was already examining the other car. She flipped open the rumble and climbed in. "Come out of there," said Myra. "Nothing doing," said Peggy with a pleased grin...

"If we are all going the same way, I'm going in style. O.K. folks, let's go."

The car drew away from Myra, whose lips were set in a stern, thin line. Nigel Monkhouse was even more uncomfortable, but Peggy was blissfully happy...

ODDLY enough, as at all Ferdy's parties, the haphazard mixture of guests turned out well. There was just time for a swim before dinner and the whole party drifted down a pine-needle path through the cool woods to the lake below Ferdy's cottage...

The men stared with appreciative eyes as Peggy and Fay came out of the boathouse and out to the wharf.

Myra whispered to her sister in ominous tones: "Where in the name of decency did you get those two pieces of string you're wrapped around yourself?"

Peggy grinned like a pleased child. "Straight from Vogue," she replied. "Wait until your father sees you!"

"He won't," laughed Peggy. Then she walked onto the wharf, lithe and lovely as a native princess. Which was what she felt like.

Fay, in contrast, was comparatively modest in white latest, but was quite pleased when the eyes of Nigel and Michael followed her as she walked slowly to the wharf.

"Yes," smiled Peggy with a pleased air, holding out grimy fingers. She looked down at her hand and drew it back. "Dirty, isn't it? Pure white spirit beneath, though."

ODDLY enough, as at all Ferdy's parties, the haphazard mixture of guests turned out well. There was just time for a swim before dinner and the whole party drifted down a pine-needle path through the cool woods to the lake below Ferdy's cottage...

The men stared with appreciative eyes as Peggy and Fay came out of the boathouse and out to the wharf.

Myra whispered to her sister in ominous tones: "Where in the name of decency did you get those two pieces of string you're wrapped around yourself?"

Peggy grinned like a pleased child. "Straight from Vogue," she replied. "Wait until your father sees you!"

"He won't," laughed Peggy. Then she walked onto the wharf, lithe and lovely as a native princess. Which was what she felt like.

Fay, in contrast, was comparatively modest in white latest, but was quite pleased when the eyes of Nigel and Michael followed her as she walked slowly to the wharf.

The world-wide mystery which has developed out of the bombing of Japan by warplanes which the Japanese identify as American...

Even our own people have been dependent on Japan for such news as we have had on this sensational event...

London newspapers have thought the planes might have come from the Aleutian Islands...

More to the point, so long as the enemy doesn't learn how this coup was executed, the same plan can be used again...

From the military standpoint this raid is likely to have the effect of tying up warplanes and warships for home protection at a crucial moment...

What with this sensation and General MacArthur's surprise raid on the Philippines the other day, it probably isn't strange that many of my readers have gone air-minded...

All sorts of inquiries are rolling in, and not a few relate to the possibility of using Alaska as a base for bombing Japan.

One World War veteran in Duluth writes "it has been pretty well known by everybody here that bombers were flown northward over the city all winter, and he says it wasn't difficult to guess that they were headed for Alaskan bases."

Field Maneuvers In Panama Largest Since Start Of War

U. S. ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Panama Canal Zone, April 21 (AP)—The largest field maneuvers conducted in Panama since the start of the war have just ended with the theoretical repulse of an invading "yellow" army employing tactics used by the Japanese in their Pacific conquests.
Thousands of men in the United States army's Panama mobile force, together with air corps and marine detachments, participated in operations staged in defense jungles and along rugged shores as a further move in strengthening the defenses of this strategically vital zone.
Despite numerical superiority and the advantage of operating from special beachheads within 30 to 80 miles of the canal itself, the invading "yellows" failed to penetrate to the canal zone in four days of action featuring night attacks, infiltration tactics, forced marches and assault boat landings in the rear of the "blue" defenders.

Army Vigorously Seeks Recruits In Pampa Area

Uncle Sam is missing no chance to call attention to the opportunities offered young men in the army.

Copies of a booklet describing the U. S. Army Aviation cadets, and of a letter, reminding men that it is now possible for a man with proper qualifications to become a commissioned officer in the army of the United States as early as the age of 18, have been mailed to prospective recruits here.

In a circular letter, signed by Sgt. Robert D. Short, D. E. M. L. R. S., stationed at the U. S. Army Recruiting station, Pampa, it is stated:

"Men may now enlist at 18. If they do they may easily be corporals, sergeants or even lieutenants before they are 20, the earliest age at which they are now subject to the draft."

Enlistments of men who are 20 and over, and are therefore of draft age, are welcome in the army of the United States, unassigned. Their preferences are followed in assignment whenever possible, but only men of 18 and 19 years of age are allowed the preference of enlisting direct into the branch in which they wish to serve.

The army is directing attention of men between 18 and less than 20, to opportunities for enlistment in the armored forces, coast artillery, as well as in the air corps.

Tip To Air Corps Test
Young Pampans who want to become aviation cadets can profit from this timely tip from Major Perry E. Buchner, aviation cadet procurement officer, stationed at Lubbock, which is headquarters for the West Texas Recruiting & Induction district.

"As you know, young men 18 to 27 can now qualify for training as aviation cadets (aircrew)—that means pilots, bombardiers, navigators, very quickly.

"A cadet files his application with us and then takes a three-hour examination known as the aviation cadet qualifying examination or "mental screening test." If he passes this, he takes a physical examination. If he passes that, he is qualified and both mental test and physical examination can be accomplished in one or two days.

"After giving this mental test to hundreds of young men, both high school and college students, I find that the greatest deficiency is a limited vocabulary, and a lack of precision and exactitude in the use of words.

"This means frankly, that lots of young men who would pass this mental examination easily, if they had read substantial things after they stopped going to school, and also when they were in school. For example, a boy who reads "Readers Digest," "News-week," "Time," or other current good magazines as well as newspapers, and who has enough initiative to look up in the dictionary the words he does not understand will acquire a vocabulary and knowledge of geography and current history, and be much better prepared than the young man who reads only the sporting page, the "comics" and other such literature."

COUGHLIN TAKES RESPONSIBILITY FOR 'SOCIAL JUSTICE'
ROYAL OAK, Mich., April 21 (AP)—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, Royal Oak priest, in a public statement today assumed personal responsibility for control of the magazine "Social Justice," its policies and its contents.

The attorney general's action following an order from the postmaster general barring the periodical from the mails for alleged seditious statements.
Father Coughlin has stated that "Social Justice" is owned by his parents, Thomas J. and Amelia Coughlin of Royal Oak. E. Perrin Schwartz is its editor.

B-24s Rolling Off Lines At Fort Worth
FORT WORTH, April 21 (AP)—The B-24s are coming!
Southwest-assembled long range bombers are rolling off elongated assembly lines and winging their way to the world's battlefronts.

Commemorating completion two months ahead of schedule of the Consolidated Aircraft corporation's bomber plant, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram Sunday issued an 188-page special edition.

In a front-page Washington-dated story, the newspaper reported that the war department hailed the achievement as an outstanding job, resulting from the accelerated war production program.
Consolidated turns out four-motored B-24 bombers.

Prefabricated Food For Wounded Soldiers Invented
By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
ST. PAUL, April 21 (AP)—A prefabricated food, which may be a new aid for wounded soldiers, was exhibited to the American College of Physicians annual convention here today.

This food is in shape for immediate assimilation by blood and tissues, without the usual digestion. It is made of a score of amino acids, the building stones of living tissues, which are products of ordinary digestion of proteins. It lacks the calories of proteins.

The food is made from meat, cereals, skim milk and yeast. These are treated with digestive enzymes, so that the acids are the products of robot digestion.
Twenty-two medical and nutritional studies indicating the value of prefabricated food were reported by Dr. J. H. Frazer, of the Arlington Chemical Co., Yonkers, N. Y. The studies were made by authorities in colleges and medical institutions and the U. S. department of agriculture.

The material has proved useful for burns, hemorrhages, wounds of all sorts and infections. These comprise the main ailments of soldiers.
