

Interesting Broadcast To Feature USO Rally in Courthouse Tonight

Parents of boys in the armed forces will endorse the USO in a 30-minute KFDN broadcast at 8 o'clock tonight in the district courtroom on the third floor of the courthouse. The public is invited.

Letters from boys in the service endorsing the USO will be read, and parents will also give their opinion of the organization which provides recreation and entertainment needs of the soldiers, sailors and marines.

Our armed forces want the USO and let's give it to them bigger and better," said Jack Hanna, general chairman of the drive. "The least we can do in this war is give money and time—our sacrifices compared with those being made by the men in uniforms is negligible. It's not a question of whether we will give to the USO, but how much, and how soon."

NO DONATIONS WILL BE TAKEN AT THE RALLY TONIGHT. The chief purpose of the rally will be to line up parents behind the drive, get them talking USO and to get the county USO-minded.

R. Franks will endorse the USO. Postmaster C. H. Walker and C. P. Buckler, both members of the draft board, will make an appeal for the USO. Chairman Hanna will explain the plan for this year's drive, estimating that the Gray county quota will be $4,800. He will also stress the importance of the entire county contributing their share to the fund.

Dick Hughes will emphasize the importance of large contributions in the drive.

R. G. Allen, industrial chairman, will outline plans for the industrial campaign, and will cite endorsements. M. C. Johnson, city chairman, will state plans for conducting the drive in the city. D. J. Gribben who has two sons in the armed forces will read an interesting endorsement.

Other endorsements will include that of a sister of Lt. Lucian Youngblood, native-born Pampa, who was one of the 14 Texans who helped bomb Tokyo.

Vegetables In Diet Discussed By Mrs. Kelley At Wayside

"Do you eat at least one green vegetable every day--more if possible?" Mrs. Julia E. Kelley asked at a recent meeting of Wayside Home Demonstration club in the home of Mrs. P. J. Stalls.

"Green vegetables have their place, too, in meals that taste good and look good. With their pretty green color and their fine fresh flavor, they are perfect side partners for meat and potatoes.

"Use your green vegetables as soon as you can after they come from market or garden. Salad greens keep crisp and crunchy if washed, wrapped in a clean cloth, and kept covered in a cold place.

"Use little water slightly salted, cook a short time, and never add soda to the cooking water. Soda destroys vitamins. Have the water boiling when you put green vegetables on to cook. Serve all the juice with the cooked vegetables or use it in soup or sauce. That's being thrifty with the vitamins," she added.

Mrs. Kelley prepared turnip greens by the panfried vegetable method as follows:

2 qts. prepared vegetable greens
6 bacon slices
1 small onion, chopped
Salt and pepper to taste
Fry bacon until crisp, drain and dice. Add chopped onion to fat and fry until it turns yellow. Add vegetable greens and cover to hold in the steam. Cook slowly until tender, but not mushy. Now and then give it a stir to keep from sticking, and when ready to serve season with salt and pepper and add the diced bacon.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. L. R. Taylor, Lowell Osborne, J. W. Condo, Wood Osborne, W. F. Taylor, R. R. House, Harold Osborne, Julia E. Kelley, J. S. Fuqua, and the hostess.

Plans for the County Defense picnic on June 12 will be announced at a later date.

Girl Scout Day Camp Fees Due By Tomorrow

Mrs. Clarence Barrett, chairman, has announced that registration fees for the Girl Scout day camp must be in not later than Tuesday.

The fee for the 10 days is 40 cents, and everyone who attended the day camp last year agreed that it was 10 days of fun and learning.

The Brownies will meet at the scout house and the intermediates at Harvester park. Day camp begins June 22 and continues through July 3. Courses will be conducted in cooking, hiking, first aid, nature study, crafts, dramatics, and many other topics.

The scouts will assemble at 9 o'clock each morning, bringing a nosebag lunch with them. The singing, games, and crafts will continue until noon and after lunch the girls will leave at 1 o'clock.

Every interested Girl Scout is asked to take her fee to her troop leader or to the Girl Scout office on second floor of the city hall by tomorrow.

Preparation Of Fresh Vegetables Topic Of Kingsmill HD Club

"The wise cook prepares vegetables for the table so that they keep the fresh garden look and taste, along with the vitamins and minerals," Mrs. Carl Emerson stated in her talk recently on "Food Value Plus" at a meeting of Kingsmill Home Demonstration club in the home of Mrs. Harold Baer with Mrs. Nat Lunsford as hostess.

Mrs. J. C. Payne pointed out in her talk on "Vegetables" that green vegetables should be used as soon as possible after they come from the market or garden.

"If you must keep them a day or two, store them in a cool place away from dust and flies," she added.

Mrs. D. L. Lunsford gave rules for cooking. "Use a little water slightly salted; cook a short time; put the water boiling when you put green vegetables on to cook; leaving off the lid helps to keep the green color."

"For different flavor add chopped parsley, chives, or herbs just before serving of vegetables," Mrs. C. F. Bastion stated in her talk on "Many Ways to Serve and Season."

NTSTC CO-EDS FAVOR COOL COTTON STYLES--Anne Calhoun of Dallas makes a saucy gardener as she leans against a wheelbarrow and shows off her crisp cotton pinflore, a star of the annual Cotton Pique style show held at North Texas State Teachers college at Denton this week.

The parade of cool cotton styles is sponsored by the NTSTC Girls' Forum to make the campus cotton-conscious and to stimulate purchase of clothes manufactured from Texas cotton. At the style exhibit, co-ed models showed 1942 cottons in play clothes, street dresses, and formal wear as a climax to the week-long campus Cotton Week.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By ALICIA HART

An oblong face often goes with a beauty-loving nature and a quick alert mind. Yet somehow this type of woman often overlooks her rather special need to use cosmetics artfully in order to avoid looking rather severe.

First thing most experts say to her is, don't part your hair in the middle because that makes the face look longer. That's not necessarily so, as you can check for yourself by studying the coils of a lovely long-haired movie star like Loretta Young.

She often wears the center-coif. However, it's subtly adapted. Her locks are not merely parted and combed up or combed down--either or both. As part of her education in wartime participation in the family's commissary department, allow her to bake a regal cake to send to the boys in camp. The army votes chocolate as its favorite flavor.

Chocolate Orange Cake
Two and one-quarter cups sifted cake flour, 2 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup butter or other shortening, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, 1 cup light corn syrup, 2 eggs (unbeaten), 1/2 cup milk, 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening with orange rind; add syrup gradually, beating well after each addition. Add 1/4 of flour and beat until smooth.

Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Add remaining flour in thirds, alternately with milk in halves, beating very well after each addition. Add vanilla.

Bake in two greased layer pans in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 30 minutes, or until done; or greased 9x9x2-inch pan in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 4 minutes, or until done. Spread and decorate chocolate frosting on top and sides.

Bittersweet Frosting
Eight squares unsweetened chocolate, 1 cup sugar, 3/4 cup water.

Melt chocolate in double boiler. Bring sugar and water to a boil. Cut into lukewarm. Add gradually to chocolate, stirring until blended and cool.

Chocolate Nut Squares
(Makes 20 Squares)
Three-quarter package semi-sweet chocolate, 1/4 cup sifted flour, 1/4 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 egg (well beaten), 1 teaspoon melted butter or other shortening, 2 teaspoons hot water, 3/4 cup broken walnut meats.

Cut each square of chocolate into several pieces. Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Add sugar gradually to egg, beating thoroughly. Add butter and water; then add nuts and chocolate, mixing thoroughly. Mix flour gradually.

Turn mixture into 8x8x3-inch pan which has been greased, lined with wax paper, and again greased. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Cool. Remove from pan. Cut in squares.

FRESH FLOWERS FOR YOUR BONNET
If you want to be sure that your spring bonnet has irresistible femininity that wins favor in masculine eyes, why not decorate it with a few sprigs of fresh flowers--especially if "he" sent them. Three fragrant gardenias pinned to a crocheted snood, a cluster of roses posed on a flaring broom, or an old-fashioned nosegay of romantic blossoms clipped to a crisp, fluttering veil is bound to add an extra plus of glamor to your spring ensemble. Remember these wartime days are a challenge to you to do your bit for morale by looking as charmingly feminine as possible.

SANDWICHES

Sandwiches are the backbone of lunches. Have one substantial sandwich made with meat, cheese, egg or fish and a second one with a sweet filling or made of nut or fruit bread with butter filling. Here is a week's ration of sandwiches:

- 1-Sliced cold roast meat or chicken with lettuce; raspberry jam on wholewheat bread.
- 2-Crumbed cooked bacon mixed with hard-cooked egg, diced celery and salad dressing; praline bread, spread with butter.
- 3-Sliced cheese, spread with salad dressing and chopped olives; grape jelly on enriched white bread.
- 4-Bologna or browned meat cakes and lettuce on wholewheat bread; peanut butter bread with apple butter filling.
- 5-Tuna or salmon salad on white bread; raisin nut bread with butter filling.

USE MAKEUP WISELY

Do not put rouge too low and if the nose is long, keep a reasonable distance between nose and rouge. Place the rouge in the center of the cheeks and blend it perfectly. A faint touch may be used on the chin in the evening. This has a tendency to shorten the face a bit.

When you apply lipstick, try to widen the upper lip and make the lower lip appear full at the corners. Do not use great quantities and take care lest you make the mouth look too wide. Cupid's bows, which also underline vertical contours, are not for you.

WOMEN'S PATRIOTIC PATCHES

Now is the time to get your mending basket and piece box in good working order. Of course you know patches are patriotic and today's youngsters wear them with pride. If you have mending material to patch with, it's probably best to do so as unobtrusive a job as possible.

But contrasting patches are amusing and tremendously popular with young fry--and if the colors can be wild and shapes come, it will probably add to the wearer's prestige. Leather patches for reinforcing elbows and knees on outer clothing that get rugged wear are available in most department stores together with materials for applying. Also new trouser pockets for replacing worn out ones, and new collars and cuffs for lengthening the life of shirts.

SHOE CONSERVATION

Keeping footwear in good order is not only economy but really good grooming, too. First of all, buy shoes that really fit; they'll retain their shape better. Keep them cleaned and polished--not only for good looks, but because cleaning and polishing helps preserve the leather. Place them on shoe trees as soon as you remove them. Have them repaired as soon as rips appear or heels become crooked. If you've been caught in the rain, dry them carefully and slowly--never close to artificial heat, and polish once or twice as soon as they are dry. Don't try to remove shoes or put them on without unlacing sufficiently. And don't wear the same shoes every day; having several pairs and wearing them alternately makes for longer shoe life and greater foot comfort.

Junior Sub Debs Name Betty Barrell As Club President

Members of Junior Sub Deb club met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Miller with Patsy Miller as hostess Saturday afternoon.

A constitution was written and adopted after which new officers were elected. They are Betty Barrell, president; Margaret Price, vice-president; Frankie Ann Studer, secretary; Carol Culbertson, treasurer; and Marjorie Dixon, reporter. The next meeting will be in the home of Barbara Carlson next Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Luncheon Given For Bethany Class At Baptist Church

Bethany class of First Baptist church and members in service were entertained at a covered dish luncheon in the church recently.

The luncheon table was decorated with roses and wisteria.

After Mrs. H. C. Wilkie gave the devotional, Mrs. E. W. Tucker made an inspirational talk and led in prayer.

Victory badges were mailed to absentees and prospective members. Those attending were Mrs. L. A. Baxter, Ella Brake, H. C. Wilkie, Charles Kentling, Jesse Reeves, R. W. Tucker, Ellen Chapman, T. L. Anderson, Lewis Davis, Bass Clay, and one visitor, Mrs. Datto.

Exemption Of Family Men First Sought

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—Congress considered today proposals to give President Roosevelt broad authority to revamp the selective service system by classifying family men into groups who would be called for army duty only after the rolls of those without dependents had been exhausted.

Explaining that the selective service law had to be set up on general classifications based on family relationship and economic dependency, Senator Johnson (D-Colo.) predicted that the senate military affairs committee would amend a pending family allowance bill tomorrow to vest such authority in the president.

Linked with reports that an effort soon would be made to make men of 18 and 20 subject to the draft, legislation of this nature was expected to clear up the status of older men and those with dependents, who are now subject to induction into active service at the discretion of local boards.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) who had opposed that specific classification, said he would be satisfied with an amendment authorizing the president to issue regulations classifying men according to age groups, family status, date of marriage and dependency.

Taft previously had suggested that seven classifications be set up under which younger men without dependents automatically would be taken into the army first and older men with several children would be the last to go, but Johnson said selective service officials opposed any rigid classification.

Food Growers Matching War Tool Makers

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—Despite shortages of labor, machinery, rubber tires, and other equipment, America's food growers and producers are matching industry's step in the production of war tools.

Many vital foods are moving from farm to processing plants in greater quantities than ever before at this season. All indications point to a further expansion of food production as the summer growing season advances.

Generally speaking, farmers have been favored with good weather this spring. For the country as a whole, moisture supplies are unusually abundant. In areas in the Midwest and South, a superabundance which will serve as insurance against possible droughts later in the season.

In every rural area farmers are humming with activity, as evidenced by agriculture department surveys showing that farmers are working an average of 13 hours a day. Thousands of women and children are joining the men in the fields and barns to do work that otherwise would be done by workers who have been called to military service or who have taken jobs in defense factories.

Secretary of Agriculture Wickard is confident that, barring a severe drought, food production this year will reach the record goals his department has set. The goal must be met, he says, if this country is to supply the needs of its own fighting forces and civilians as well as those of Great Britain, Russia, and the other United Nations.

The production of milk has been increased four per cent above last year's record level. More manufactured dairy products are being made than seemed possible a year ago. Egg production is at a record level.

When this year's bumper wheat crop is harvested, supplies are expected to be sufficient to meet the nation's needs for more than two years.

Slaughter supplies of hogs during the May-September period are expected to be 15 to 20 per cent larger than a year ago. Cattle marketings are larger than a year ago.

Truck crop production is averaging 6 per cent above a year ago. Record acreages are being planted to vegetable crops for processing. Fruit prospects are generally favorable.

Less favorable are supply prospects for fats and vegetables oils. Consumption is exceeding production and imports. Reserve stocks are expected to be materially reduced by the end of the year. Officials say it may become necessary to impose restrictions upon use of vegetable oils in order to prevent shortages.

4 Millions Voted For More Helium

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—The senate appropriations committee recommended today extensive research by the Bureau of Mines to develop untapped national resources in addition to approving a $4,000,000 outlay for construction and equipment of new helium production facilities.

The recommendations accompanied committee approval of a $185,762,998 bill to finance activities of the interior department during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

In all, the committee increased by $23,595,033 the amounts voted by the house. The total, however, was $52,348,292 less than the amount appropriated for this year and $4,144,978 less than budget estimates.

BEING AN INSTRUCTOR

Doesn't fit into the plans of Duane Turcotte, above, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Turcotte, Route 2, Pampa. In a letter to his parents, Duane writes: "I would sure hate to be stuck here (Chanute Field, Ill.) as an instructor. I am studying instruments and nothing but instruments. The course covers all of the instruments in an airplane, such as the manifold pressure gauge, gasolene gauge, fuel pressure, oil pressure, temperature, pilots' compass, and navigator's compass. It is going to be pretty rough to learn all about them in 40 days but I believe I will go places when I get through school, that is, if they don't make an instructor out of me."

"I think I told you that I moved into another hangout, but anyway it is sure hard to get acquainted with a bunch of boys like I was with the boys in 160. There are four of us boys here together and we stick together like brothers; and go over and see the boys who haven't graduated yet. All the boys are out of 160 and a bunch of rookies is coming yesterday."

A native of Gray county, Duane attended school here, graduated here, then attended Texas A. & M. college, and enlisted in the air corps. He was stationed first at an airplane mechanics school at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., then to Chanute field, where he's taking an advanced course. His complete address is Pvt. David D. Tur-

He looked so funny (or should I say different) in a navy uniform, that I just had to laugh. It was a joke on both of us. He was the last guy I would have dreamed of seeing. Isn't it a small world?"

"I also saw Mr. Shelton (not Henry, any more, for he is my senior officer... still a small world) about a month ago. We talked for a long time. It was so funny to think about eight years ago we played in the same school band and cut-up-together, and now I'm saluting him. Still a small world. He asked me questions about the old 'burg' that I just ran out of soap."

was "safe and well" in Corregidor on April 2, according to a letter received recently by his mother, Mrs. Minnie Walker, 513 South Ballard street. Now Mrs. Walker's other son, Johnnie B. Parks, is in the army. He was received November 1, before war broke out. Young Brewton wrote his mother that he was "well and happy" and that when she failed to receive word from him she could consider it good news. The letter was dated April 2, the envelope was postmarked April 21, and the receiving date was yesterday. The letter is one of the first known to be received here from the Philippines since the island was besieged. Mrs. Walker has received word from the war department that her son was captured by the Japanese.

Johnnie, who is 28, has been in the army only a few months. He was transferred from Camp Haan, California, to Fort Lewis, recently. He worked in the oil fields here before enlisting. He attended Baker school and Junior High here and high school in Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Walker and her sons came to Pampa more than 15 years ago. Marvin was a Pampa News carrier boy before enlisting. He attended all schools here.

it, go back and re-take it.

"The Japanese are not supermen," said Stilwell, who is Chiang's chief of staff and command-in-chief of American forces in Burma, India and China.

"If we go back properly proportioned and properly equipped we can throw them out."

"The story of the Burma battle, as Stilwell put it, was one of out-numbered forces giving the best they had against a foe with more equipment as well as more men. SBH, he thought, the scales could have been tipped with 'just a little more strength.'"

He said the Japanese were tough, well-trained, well-equipped and used about 40,000 or 50,000 combat troops who didn't care whether they got killed or not.

"When you're fighting such an outfit," he added, "you need something more than a piece-meal, rag-tail, bob-tail affair."

One of the things that hurt worst was the Japanese air superiority. "They used to send over 40 to 50 planes daily and we couldn't retaliate because we didn't even have an anti-aircraft gun," he said.

ed good soldier when properly led," Stilwell asserted. "There are a hell of a lot of troops in China. I think a lot can be done with them."

He said the Flying Tigers of the American Volunteer Group, still in China, would be strengthened considerably in men and equipment and inducted into the U. S. air force July 4 as a regular pursuit group.

As for India, Stilwell thinks rains coming soon will hamper any Japanese try at an overland thrust, not only because of difficulties in transport but also because of malaria and other diseases.

In his view, the rains should halt the enemy on land until the dry season in November.

Stilwell looked remarkably fit after his 30-day trek which was made in closely-guarded secrecy. While he was still deep in Burma, it was announced that he had "reached a position of safety" and the Japanese apparently concluded that he had escaped them.

Planes were of little help. "This correspondent flew in an army plane looking for him over Northern Burma—a mission which could not be divulged then—but we could not find his party. Once a British plane dropped food but every can of milk and half the tins of beef burst."

An Indian civil servant, on pony back, found the party, however, while it still was some way from the India border. He gave his weary members much-needed food and also turned over some ponies to nurses and others who were near exhaustion.

Nineteen Burmese nurses were in the group of 104, which included Americans, Britons, Burmese, Chi-

... HERE'S A NEW OPPORTUNITY: CHOOSE YOUR OWN BRANCH OF ARMY SERVICE!

If you've passed your 18th birthday and aren't yet 20, here's where you get a break! A new Army ruling makes it possible for you to enlist at once and pick out any one of the eight combat branches in which you want to serve. After you're 20 you'll no longer have this choice.

You're getting this special opportunity because qualified men of your age are vitally needed now in America's fighting Army. You've got what it takes. Your mental alertness and adaptability will enable you to learn fast. You're built to take the bodily toughening of Army training and thrive on it. And, above all, you have the enthusiasm, the daring and love of adventure that is necessary in the making of fine soldiers.

Decide now whether you'd like to join the Air Force, Armored Force, Cavalry, Coast Artillery, Engineers, Field Artillery, Infantry or Signal Corps. Every branch will give you the finest mechanical equipment—thorough training—plenty of action—and a great chance for advancement.

Whichever one you choose, you'll enjoy the comradeship of a splendid group of men. American soldiers today are the healthiest, best equipped and best fed fighting men on earth.

Talk this over with your friends and with your parents. Then get full details at the nearest Army Recruiting and Induction Station. This is going to be your country one of these days—and your country needs you now!

veloped permitting the airacobras to make long hops. Britain's high-flying fighters knifed across the British southeast coast in mid-morning, headed for new daylight attacks on targets in German-occupied France.

Unfavorable weather had kept long-range RAF bombers at their bases during the night, but their German counter-parts, with the advantage of closer take-off points, bombed several places along the southern coast of England. One of them was downed.

The Germans said their night raiders effectively dropped high explosives and incendiaries on a British south coast base for light naval forces. There was no further detail.

Elsewhere the world conflict was marked by unconfirmed reports and hints of United States naval losses, a simmer of English Laborite discontent with the Churchill government and German dissatisfaction with Pierre Laval over his progress toward full French-German collaboration.

Mexico, meanwhile, moved steadily toward a formal declaration of war on the Axis, expected this week in an extraordinary session of congress.

Tokyo's imperial headquarters, harking back to the battle of the Coral sea, declared that in addition to previous claims against the United States fleet, a battleship of the 35,000-ton North Carolina type was damaged and a United States A-class cruiser of the Portland class sunk.

There was no evidence that such a battleship was anywhere near the Coral sea when a Japanese invasion force was iacked during the first week of May 23 or 24 of their ships sunk or hit in that engagement and subsequent air actions.

Rome attempted to back up its claims of last week that a United States battleship of the Maryland class had been sunk by an Italian submarine off the Brazilian coast. The Italians declared that a group of seamen being brought to shore

1917-18 Army A 'Rabble' Compared With 1942 Army, Says Reporter

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—The Thirty-sixth division of Texas National Guardsmen who cited in the second of a series of special articles currently published in the Washington Post as exemplifying the transition of the American army from a peace time to a war time standard.

The introductory article of the series, written by the Post's staff writer, Marshall Andrews, dealt with the present conditions of army camps throughout the country. Here's an excerpt from the first article of "Our New Army" series:

"This reporter, a veteran of the American Expeditionary Forces, has ranged across the country to see him (the 1942 soldier) under every condition and I can say, my vest buttons bursting with pride, that the American army of 1917-18, good as it was, was a rabble compared with this army."

Representative Woodruff (R-Mich.) thought so much of the first article he inserted it in "The Congressional Record," saying on the house floor that he hoped he might have the "pleasure of putting into the record later these articles as they come along."

The second article was datelined "a southeastern training base" and began with the assertion that in the story of the first and 36th divisions training there "side by side, hard, competent and sure of themselves, is the story of all the army in the last 18 months of making ready for war."

Early in the story Andrews pointed out that the 36th division was from the Texas National Guard. The first division, he explained later, was made up of old regiments of the regular army, brought together as a division for the first time since the first World War at Fort Benning, Ga., in October, 1930.

Referring to the First and 36th, he said there was the story "of transition from one state of mind to another and from one state of being to another. It reveals how they have got the feel of themselves, how they have made themselves strong and capable and proud and how they have given a great deal more to their country's army than the 30,000 fighting men now in their ranks."

Clarifying this statement, he wrote: "Above all, these two divisions are visible evidence of the continuing process of dilution through which the little peacetime army has gone on growing into a great fighting machine while keeping itself ready to go back to the drop of a hat if need be. Time and time again both divisions have reached war strength, stroyer's bridge as they manned a machine gun in blazing oil on water covering the ship.

"They just stood there firing away with that machine gun until they dropped in flames," Roberts said.

It was Dec. 8, 1941, in China—where Samuel was stationed aboard a gunboat—that two Japanese cruisers ranged themselves on each side of the U. S. vessel.

A Japanese officer boarded it, said Roberts, and demanded that the United States flag be lowered and that of the rising sun be raised. The American commander curtly refused, and the Japs performed the act themselves as the outnumbered Americans looked helplessly on.

The 25 men and officers were removed from the gunboat and taken to a camp ashore where brutal treatment was the law and dried fish heads, rice and contaminated river water was the menu, Roberts related.

Sam and a fireman spied a manhole over a sewer line in the camp one day and made for it. They got down into the sewer—disposing of a Jap sentry on the way and crawling 400 yards to a dirty but wide river, he said.

From there on his account of the flight ran like this: "A Chinese junk ferried the two men across the river and the crew of a Dutch barge smuggled them to the Philippines where they joined the American forces fighting there."

He said he saw men emancipated and Japanese soldiers using human beings for bayonet practice. He and others were evacuated on a destroyer which remained in the combat area with a sub tender and another destroyer for six days, during which his ship lost 72 men. They went to the Dutch East Indies and Australia, fighting engagements after engagement at sea.

It was in Australian waters that the destroyer was sunk by Jap aircraft, he said. Roberts said he was blown from the ship's engine room into the flaming sea and was later picked up by a hospital ship after suffering serious burns about his back, abdomen and arms in burning oil which covered the sea.

A month and seven days was spent in an Australian hospital before he was taken aboard a transport for the West coast. "When his leave is up next week, the sailor said, 'I am going back at them.'"

JESUS AS A THINKER AND A PHILOSOPHER

I have just been reading a new book on the subject of the world view of Jesus or an interpretation of Jesus as a thinker and a philosopher. The book was written by Elmer Mould, professor of biblical history and literature of Elmira College. It is certainly a modern, rational interpretation of the way Jesus looked at the world of his time.

Of course, the author discussed the conflicting opinions among many people as to whether Jesus was simply a philosopher and a teacher of ethics or whether he was an eschatologist; that is, whether his main purpose was to foretell final things, such as death, resurrection, immortality, the end of the age, the second advent of Christ, judgment and future state. The author says, "His ethics is the basal thing in the world-view and his world-view did include eschatology."

He quotes C. W. Votaw of the University of Chicago, as saying that "Jesus was the most eminent teacher of wisdom in the first century. That was his occupation."

The author says, "the most certain fact we know about Jesus is that He was a teacher."

In another place, he says, "Jesus is concerned not with what man does but with what man gives God a chance to do through man's right religious attitude. This is basic to his exhortations to repentance and moral endeavor."

The author believes the Tenth Commandment on covetousness is the climax of Jesus' teaching. He says, "It is the most searching of all; the others can be watched as they are broken, but not the tenth. This principle of inwardness is of enduring value. Certainly it is of central significance in the present-day philosophy of values."

The spiritual values which Jesus stressed are of significance for present-day religious thought. He exalted purity of heart, sincerity, humility, forgiveness, love toward enemies, self-sacrifice and generous service on behalf of others, especially the needy, and above all unworried trust in God."

The book as a whole is a very intelligent, rational interpretation of the view that Jesus had of the world at that time.

OUR OBJECTIVES HAVE BEEN WRONG

The more we have wars, poverty, misery and strife, the plainer it becomes that the reason we have so much of these troubles is that we have used the wrong star, the wrong norm, the wrong objective, as a guide of social relations. Our guide has been whatever will add to the wealth of the world and make it possible for all people to get more with a given amount of work. When we have this as a guide, we lose sight of the most important thing in life—the right of choice—or freedom, or the sanctity and importance of every human soul. So, instead of striving that all men may be equally free and have an equal opportunity to pursue happiness on the same terms, we have been striving to produce wealth, wealth and more wealth.

Of course, wealth is very important if properly used. We cannot support a big population and have time for reflection and growth and development of our intellect and our conscience and soul unless we have the tools with which to make it possible to produce and have time to do these things. But the strange part about the relationship between physical and spiritual things is that the physical attainments are a by-product of spiritual beliefs. It is for this reason that this column is constantly stressing the importance of properly understanding the spiritual, or religious or Christian concepts of human relations.

When we, as a people, have the proper spiritual concepts as a guide, then, as Jesus said, all these material things will be added unto us.

"GREAT AXIS VICTORY" IN THE MAKING

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, May 25 — Blond Ilona Massey, elegant and shapely in a cloth-of-gold gown, sat at a richly laden table for two and winked her pretty nose with faint amusement and distaste. She and the rest of the company were watching her companion of the moment—a roughly-dressed property man who had dipped a hand in the bowl of mayonnaise and now was smearing the tablecloth on the side that hung over his lap.

He then went over to J. Edward Bromberg, resident in Nazi uniform, and wiped some mayonnaise on the lower front of the blue coat. He was still dabbling, and then standing back and critically eyeing his work, when Director Edwin Marin said, "Okay, let's shoot it."

Two prop men lay under the table and gripped its legs. Bromberg sat down so that the smeared part of his uniform wasn't visible to the camera. As he raised a forkful of salad an unseen force seemed to strike his hand and wash it against his face. With sullen murmurs, Miss Massey went to his aid with a napkin, and a moment later Bromberg grew amorous and tried to paw her. At this, the table rose into the air and spilled its contents all over the actor, who stood there sputtering in a shower of champagne, lobster, dressing, and steaming vegetables.

JON HALL HERO The title of the picture is "Invisible Agent," and that will explain a lot to fans who recall Universal's previous comic melodramas based on the fantastic assumption of invisibility. Jon Hall is the person who has been granted the phantom powers.

They fail in love, of course, and she rescues him when the Messrs. Bromberg, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, and Peter Lorre are hot on his trail. Lore, a Japanese, is aware of Hall's presence, and in one sequence he captures the invisible agent in a big net from which dangle hundreds of fish hooks! All this sounds pretty silly, but the movies dealing with invisibility make a lot of money. Partly, of course, they represent dream-fulfillment for imaginative fans, and the customers are interested in the startling ray effects obtained by the camera wizards. All sorts of things are shown happening without apparent human aid.

People You Know

Sgt. Mickey Ledrick still retains that laugh-builing sense of humor that still makes him the life of every party—even in the U. S. Army. Last week, Mickey, who was a senior in West Texas State college at Canyon when he enlisted in the army air corps, received a $5 tax dunt from the school board on "Lots 63 and W. 29 3/4, block 2, Central addition," meaning the Ledrick home at 505 E. Kingsmill. At the time Mickey received the "inventory of property," he was preparing to board a troop train at Sarasota, Fla., and sail with his four-motored bombing squadron to a foreign base. Mickey's sense of humor was in high gear when he made a notation on the form and returned it. Below a red pencilled notation, "Please sign and return," Mickey, who collected taxes for the school board, wrote: "This place is valued two damn high. It ain't tore to no junk yard and it ain't a real party place nobow. Hit seems to me that they's too much buildin goin on in yore skool distrik anyhow. I ain't got no chilren in skool so why shud I pay fer a new buildin ever fey months? Pears like to me they's graft somehwars in the skool sistem. Anyhow, come later-diggittin times next yar I don't want to git no notice of how you air raisin my taxes. Efen I dew, I'll come up thar and pay Mr. Mushmanen a visit."

Under "personal property," after a later-diggittin time, Mickey listed "1 brown mule, no value."

Supt. L. L. Sone, who likes a joke as well as the next man, brought the tax form to The News. "Oh, yes, Mickey signed his name with waverin' 'X,'" Mickey has been in the "army" four months and he's now a sergeant; he had an opportunity to attend officers' training school but he turned it down to stay with his bombing squadron. Mickey is with the personnel division of the air corps. Mickey worked in the school office here in summer and in week-ends up to the time he joined the army, and his farcical comment on his own taxes had headlined in.

Behind The News In Washington

By PETER EDSON

This is supposed to be "Foreign Trade Week" and if in the same breath you ask "What foreign trade?" or "Why?" at first they might seem natural though leading questions. Exports and Imports are now under strict government control and licensing. The dollar volume of exports for this year is estimated at $7 billion as against $5 billion for 1941, giving the United States a $4 billion favorable trade balance, but the only stuff going out is lease-lend aid and the only stuff coming in is raw materials for war production. Priorities are over everything. Shipping space is practically unobtainable. Freedom of the sea doesn't live here any more. Foreign trade in its usual meaning is knocked out for and by the war and no one knows when she will come to. So why celebrate? But there is life in the old girl yet and while there's life there's hope, and it's the future, post-war world's commercial wars his year's observation of Foreign Trade Week more than a mere weeping at the bier.

World trade analysts in the U. S. Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce who have watched foreign trade rise and fall ever since before the last war sep in the present world situation, lousy and messed up as it is, the makings of some real business. And they are realistic enough to believe that they are not just whistling in the dark to keep their jobs.

Foundation of the whole thing is the fact that trade agreements under Secretary of State Cordell Hull's program are still being made with those nations which with the U. S. still maintains diplomatic relations. This long-range U. S. policy, which is Hull's pet idea for solving the world's commercial wars his year's plan for the free flow of international trade, is also set forth in principle in the Atlantic Charter of war aims and it is therefore the declared basis on which business between nations will be re-established after the war.

But aside from this matter of principle a number of economic changes are taking place during this war and they all point to expanding markets for good merchandise, which is the making of bargains that are good for the buyer as well as the seller. Among them, these:

Nations that were once largely colonies, producing raw materials, have been forced into increased industrialization. Australia, India, even China, have had to start manufacturing some of their own war supplies. As these industries grow, in a post-war period they will be capable of absorbing a larger part of their labor force. They will shift from war to the production of consumer goods for their own people, and this expanding business at home will become an increasingly large market for American machinery. Any increase in the standard of living of these countries which before the war were largely agricultural means an increased market for American goods.

Furthermore, in all these countries, a d particularly in Latin America, a huge post-war purchasing power is being built up through credits advanced for their own internal development and through U. S. buying of strategic materials. That money can't be spent now because of shipping shortages. It will be loosed for buying American-made goods the minute the war is over. What it points to, what it should be directed toward, is the maintenance of full employment in the U. S. after the war, to produce goods for this big world demand.

The shipping will be there, too, to haul the goods. The huge increase in American merchant marine to haul war supplies will leave this country with the greatest cargo fleet in the world. The United States will be needing huge quantities of raw materials like rubber and tin and fibers not produced in this country. All the elements are there for plenty of deals.

Today's War Analysis

By DeWitt MacKenzie, Wide World analyst, is being written in his absence for a fortnight by Fred Vandoren (mlt.)

The main reason that talk about a short war has a hollow ring is because of the gravity of the situation at sea, all around our own shores, where the Axis submarines, with sinister exultancy, are still sinking many American ships.

We cannot win the war without fighting it many thousands of miles away; we cannot fight it without the ships to carry men, tanks, guns, supplies, and some of the planes.

In great measure these ships, for both our Allies and ourselves, must come from the United States, and for the building them on a scale never known before. But the Axis is also sinking the ships we already have, in a fashion we were hardly prepared to expect.

Americans know this is true; it is making some important changes in their lives, and will make a great many more. For various reasons, however, they are not getting enough information to realize the effect of the present Axis campaign having on the day-to-day fighting on every front, from Kharkov to Free China, and on the long-range pressure of the best offensives which must win the war for the United States.

The fact that a ship or ships are sunk, the number of men lost or missing, the number of survivors, are announced from day to day; very little more.

Official announcements for last week, for instance, said 19 U. S. and Allied ships were sunk on our shores of the Atlantic, in the Caribbean and in the Gulf of Mexico, with 286 dead or missing and 425 survivors.

These are serious figures, but they are not very graphic; they do not convey to the reader very much of what the week's toll meant in fighting power lost and fighting time stolen.

To tell these things, the authorities feel, would give information to the enemy which might aid him. Meanwhile, the enemy is grinding out boastful figures on the tonnage of U. S. and Allied ships sunk in the Atlantic, and sending out sly fishing expeditions in the form of claims to the sinking of large U. S. warships.

These claims are not answered for the same reason; lest the enemy be told something he does not know.

Nobody has yet settled this problem; the British, with two years more of war and sea disaster than we have had, have finally abandoned altogether the reporting of merchant ship sinkings at regular periods.

KANSAS CITY, May 25 (AP)—Dan Cupid still rides the airlines. Miss Jennie Kingslover showed up for her sorority's spring formal wearing all the orchids the law allows.

A Better Plan

A very unjust, as well as highly embarrassing, article of the selective service plan will pass away on June 15—the procedure of immediately inducting men into the forces after they passed their army physical examination.

Many men quit their jobs, sold their cars, clothes, books at terrific losses—only to find that they failed to pass. Others received expensive watches and radios from their friends at work. Parties, and even banquets, were held in their honor—only to have them rejected.

Under the new plan, the draftee will have a two-week furlough to clear up his affairs. However, the navy and marine corps will not be able to sift off the best men by holding out enlistment advantages to men already all but in the army—for they will have been already sworn into the army.

With this change in the time of induction, patriotic groups, it is hoped, will save their rousing send-offs until the men leave for service after the duration of their furloughs.

Gas In Canada

The Canadian gas ration announced previously this spring, of 100 imperial gallons per car, was going to make it necessary for tourists to drive wisely and thriftily, but it was enough to get from a border gate to an accustomed place of sure delight and home again, including a certain moderate amount of going to the village center for mail, marketing and ice.

The present tourist ration, that of 20 gallons per car per year, is not enough. It is true that it amounts to 24 American gallons, but that is still not enough. Canada needs the tourist trade so much that only a really serious shortage could cause the new restriction. But if severe rationing helps to lick the Axis, Canadians and Americans both will take it on the chin. They will put the Canadian vacations on the shelf for this summer, to be taken out and enjoyed all the more when peace comes. Fish not caught this season will grow bigger for next year.

Is He Or Ain't He?

Now Leon Henderson says he didn't let a congressional committee he favors freezing wages as a part of the anti-inflationary plan. He merely urged "stabilization."

Mr. Henderson's boss and mentor, the President, also stops short with "stabilization," whatever that may mean. The price czar's disclaimer came after there had been speculation whether he was exceeding Mr. Roosevelt's speed limit.

They must have been a dumb lot of congressmen who understood that Mr. Henderson was for freezing, when really he was talking about "stabilization." Or weren't they? What does Leon really think, among us girls?

One Man's Eyes

Perhaps never has a surgeon's scalpel carried responsibility greater than will rest upon that of the ophthalmologist who, very soon, will operate upon the eyes of President Roberto M. Ortiz of Argentina. Because of his eyes Ortiz has had to permit his vice president to govern one of the great Latin-American republics. Ortiz is pro-American and anti-Axis. His acting substitute is, charitably speaking, isolationist. In Ortiz's absence, Argentina has declined to co-operate in Pan-American unity against Hitler. If Ortiz's eyes can be restored, we may expect full support from Argentina when he resumes active office.

Here's How Dalhart Got War Project

EDITOR'S NOTE:—Every town in the Panhandle wants to know how to get a government war project. Most citizens erroneously think Congressman Gene Worley "tells" the army and navy what he wants for his district and in what town he wants it located. Ed Bishop, publisher of the Dalhart Texas, was of the same opinion until a group of government engineers dropped in at Dalhart recently. Last week official announcement was made Dalhart would get an air corps project costing more than $3,000,000. In the following column Publisher Bishop gives the low-down on how Dalhart got its big war project.

By ED BISHOP

Publisher, THE DALHART TEXAN Well it's here! The thing we've been talking about. The thing we've been wondering about, has at last been confirmed. Senator Tom Connally and Congressman Eugene Worley's office authorized the public confirmation of the location of an air school near Dalhart, to cost in excess of $3,000,000. Now that we know definitely the school is to be located here, the past history may be of interest to many, who of a necessity, never heard a great deal about it. Perhaps some think that politics brought it about. Others may feel that some of our "big" friends brought it about. Both assumptions are incorrect.

In the basement of the Central Methodist church, following a banquet in his honor, Gene Worley told several interested citizens that government army projects were in no way connected with politics. "All I can do for you is to present your bill, showing the location, etc. of Dalhart" was the way he put it. I was first to disagree with him. I firmly believed that the "big shots" decided the location, etc. of these projects. Today, I am just as firm in my opinion that if the politicians have had no more to do with other projects than the one located in Dalhart, Gene was 100 per cent correct.

Out of a clear sky, nine government army officials dropped into Dalhart one Sunday night. For almost a week they kept Herbert Peoples, Elmer Elliott, Herman Steele, L. L. Swim, and perhaps a few other local citizens busy. They investigated and when I say investigated, I mean it in all that it implies. They said very little. In fact hardly anyone knew what they were particularly interested in until they had been here several days. Every courtesy was shown them. They wanted no publicity and they received none. They neither asked for nor sought entertainment, any recognition—nothing except the co-operation of local citizens, in getting the information they wanted. This was given them as near 100 per cent as possible.

When they left they said neither "yeh" nor "nay." Then anxious days of waiting took place. We had specific instructions not to take it up with Washington, yet every friend in nearby towns said we were foolish not to follow it up. When the committee went to Chicago to see Rock Island officials several of them thought it might be well to go on to Washington, but Worley's office advised against it. In the meantime Herb Peoples' telephone kept busy. Calls from various government officers in numerous towns and cities came in day and night, asking more information, seeking title to land, wanting briefs, statistics and still more information. They got it as promptly as Herb could deliver. Then silence! Not a word from anyone. A lot of local talk. The news reached other communities. They sent committees to Washington and were told the school would be located at Dalhart. Still no confirmation. We called Washington. Still no soap. We were told to be patient, but it was a trying job. The confirmation came in a confidential call to the mayor. But no public announcement was permitted. In the meantime announcements came from Del Rio, Childress, Pampa, Ardmore, Okla., and other towns. We felt safe, but not quite safe enough. Then yesterday public announcement came, and despite the "I-knew-it-all-the-time" folks, there was a sigh of relief.

The above is written so the public may understand that politics played no part in securing this project for Dalhart, and that no matter what is told you by the contrary, that is the truth. Gene Worley's office did everything it could in keeping us posted and to Mrs. Alavene Clark, secretary, we are deeply grateful. Senator Connally wired confirmation, which was appreciated. Several local parties inform us that the same announcement was received from Senator W. Lee O'Daniel.

Dalhart was selected for this school due to its geographical location, available transportation facilities, etc., and I feel that the friendly attitude of local citizens and the splendid cooperation given officials had some bearing upon the final decision.

Dulled By Travel, Oilers Lose To Lubbock 6 To 4

LUBBOCK, May 25—The Pampa Oilers rode 375 miles from Albuquerque, N. M., to Lubbock after playing until midnight Saturday night and they looked and acted tired and worn out here Sunday afternoon in losing to the Lubbock Hubbers 6 to 4.

Ray Surratt, who worked in left field and at shortstop, made three errors and Buckel added one, while Powell Pickering gave up 10 hits. He hurled good ball but errors and timely hits proved costly. He didn't walk a single man during the game.

Bob Bailey, first baseman, led the Oilers at the plate with a triple and two singles. Lloyd Summers was next in line with a pair of singles. The Hubbers peaked away at Pickering's offerings for one run in each of the first four innings. They missed in the fifth but came back in the sixth and seventh. The Oilers didn't get to Froese until the sixth when they bagged two runs. They added one in the seventh and another in the ninth but couldn't tie the score.

The Oilers will return home tomorrow night from Lubbock for a three-game series with the Lamesa Dodgers, now tied with Clovis and Borger for the league lead.

Losses for the Oilers Saturday night and yesterday dropped them back to 13 wins and 13 losses.

The Oilers are without Marshall Brown, stellar center fielder, who left them at Clovis Friday to enlist in the air corps.

Marleau Spends Practically All Of His Time In Bullpen

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF DALLAS, May 25 (AP)—Buried deep in the heart of the Texas league box scores—and you'll find his name there most any day if you read that far—is the story of the guy who does not thrill to the roar of the crowd because there just isn't any room.

Baseball's glory road closed for Eddie Marleau six years ago. But the work is steady, he's a handy fellow to have around and the war may bring him his greatest opportunity, although that, too, would be without frills.

His domain is that vale of forgotten men—the bullpen. He spends more time there than all the other pitchers on the Dallas club combined. But he's been doing this kind of job since 1937 and has grown to like it.

Eddie explains his last six seasons like this: 1936 2-3 innings—683 2-3 in the pitcher's box, 683 1-3 in the bullpen.

This week-end was just a sample of what he's been doing. Dallas played three games and Eddie was in two of them. The only publicity he got was the mumble of the umpire: "Marleau pitching for so-and-so."

Dallas has played 38 games to date and Eddie has pitched in 18. During 13 other games he warmed up in the bullpen. At the rate he's going he should set some kind of record.

He was in 55 games at Oklahoma City last year but this time ought to approach the 70 mark.

Marleau never got a chance in the big leagues. But he's only 32 and now he may have his day. With the youngsters going off to war some of the major league clubs might like a fellow as valuable as he is to fill in.

SPORTS IN WARTIME

By HUGH WILLIAMSON Associated Press Staff Maybe you could blame the war and maybe not, but the West Texas-New Mexico league is having bus trouble.

Monty Stratton, resigning his manager's job, called it the "bus league" and confessed it was too strenuous for him. A couple of days later a scheduled Lubbock-at-Amarillo game was postponed.

The recent man vs. fish incident at Brownsville started the anglers off on a tale-telling spree. Like this, from a usually reliable source:

At Palacios, a fellow landed a giant jewfish weighing more than 400 pounds. A very dignified organization was in convention there at the time.

Of course, the fisherman had to have his picture taken with the prize. Well, along came the convention delegates, who had just heard a lot of speeches on truth and honesty and similar virtues.

But anyhow, they wanted their picture taken with the big fish, too, and the angler said that would be all right provided he received a dollar per pose.

Reds Knock Cards Out Of Second With Double Win

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR Associated Press Sports Writer If you're one of those skeptical citizens who figured the Cincinnati Reds were in for a rough summer because their pitching had gone to seventh place in the National League...

With seven, you'd be in the National league starting them in the face, the Reds called on Johnny Vander Meer and Ray Starr for a bit of hurling against the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday and what they did to the pre-season favorites was enough to make future opponents shudder.

Vander Meer tossed a five-hitter in the opening game and singled in the deciding run for a 3-2 decision. Then Starr blanked the Red Birds on three hits for a 2-0 win in the nightcap.

The double triumph failed by three percentage points to get the Reds out of sixth place in the standings, but it knocked the Cards out of second place and hoisted Cincinnati into the thick of a battle royal that now finds five teams clustered within three games of the runner-up spot.

The Boston Red Sox finally beat the Philadelphia Athletics, 6-5, after dropping the first game of the afternoon by the same score, but slipped into fourth place in the American league as the Detroit Tigers whipped the Chicago White Sox twice, 6-2 and 14-0, and took over third place.

The Boston Braves divided their bargain bill with the Philadelphia Phils, but regained the National league's No. 2 berth and the Chicago Cubs surprised everybody, including themselves, by winning a double defeat on the Pittsburgh Pirates.

While all that was going on, the Brooklyn Dodgers—apparently tired of losing at the Polo Grounds—handed the New York Giants their first shutout of the year, 6-0, to salvage the final game of the series and snap a three-game losing streak.

It took the Phils 11 innings to turn back the Braves, 3-2, on Mickey Livingston's single with the bases loaded, but Boston squared accounts with a 6-3 triumph in the afterpiece on a three-run homer by Eddie Miller.

A Rip Sewell's wild pitch in the tenth inning helped the Cubs beat the Pirates, 7-5, and Phil Cavaretta and Lennie Merullo led a 14-hit attack that made it unannounced for Chicago, 11-4.

McGinnis And Maguire In Greenbelt Golf Tournament

C. F. McGinnis and Haskell Maguire are representing the Pampa Country club in the Greenbelt Golf tournament now in progress over the Quannah Country club course, one of the toughest in the state.

McGinnis qualified with a 78 and got in the championship flight while Maguire's 85 put him in the first flight. Marvin Harris, other Pampa player to qualify, returned home last night and didn't register his 81.

Ninety-two Texas and Oklahoma golfers qualified yesterday with O. B. Smith of Memphis, a former champion in the Top O' Texas tournament here, and T. S. Haney of Crowley tying for medalist honors with 74's.

L. S. "City" Walker of Quannah, turned in a 75. H. C. Johnson of Altus, Okla., a 76. Dale Oswald of Vernon and J. D. Michle of Childress a 77, and C. F. McGinnis of Pampa an 85.

Play will continue today and tomorrow, ending tomorrow afternoon with 18 holes.

Grover Austin, Jr. of Pampa, was not present to defend the championship he won by defeating H. C. Johnson of Altus last year in Childress. Young Austin is in the army.

Others from Pampa attending the tournament yesterday were Mrs. Marvin Harris and Harry E. Hoare.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Haslam have returned from a 10-day vacation trip to Corpus Christi where they visited with their son, Naval Aviation Cadet Harold H. Haslam, who will receive his wings in two more months, and with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bratton, former Pampanos. Mr. and Mrs. Haslam went on to Brownsville and Mexico, D. F., before returning to Pampa.

Mrs. E. A. Davis and Mrs. J. V. New will leave Tuesday for Mason, Michigan, where they will attend the wedding of Miss Grace Pruin, niece of Mrs. Davis. They will visit at Crystal Lake. They will be gone for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kelley are visiting in Fort Worth where Mr. Kelley is transacting business. For Sale—6 ft. 1941 Frigidaire. Almost new. 1307 Charles St. Ph. 1957-W—Adv.

Mrs. Claude Pullen of Brownfield, is convalescing in the Pampa hospital following an operation. Mrs. Pullen became ill while visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Conner, of Pampa.

Cadets J. M. H. and J. W. Garmann, sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Garmann, 108 W. Browning, Pampa, were hosts when the cadets of Kemper Military school, Booneville, Mo., who are sons of Rotarians entertained the Booneville Rotarians for their 40th anniversary.

Second lesson for Pampa's auxiliary firemen will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at the Foster street fire station. Use of nozzles and hoses will be demonstrated. Auxiliary firemen are advised to wear work clothes to the class.

A donation of $50 by the Humble Oil and Refining Company for the Navy Relief Fund was announced today by Reno Stinson, general chairman of the drive in Gray county.

Mr. Stinson reports that this donation pushed the county's total contribution to more than $1,100. The original goal was slightly less than $800.

Meeting of the Pampa school board tonight has been changed from 8:30 o'clock to 7:30 o'clock in the city commission room in the city hall.

Four men, two charged with being intoxicated and two held on investigation charges, were arrested by city police last night. They are Lawrence Flaherty, until recently a Pampa city officer, until recently the week-end with his family here. He is attending a Santa Fe Railway officers training school at Clovis.

Upon completion of the course he will be stationed in Clovis. He was scheduled to have been sent to Belen but instead will remain at Clovis where he will be joined by Mrs. Flaherty and family.

Mrs. Ode Stubblefield and daughter, Joan, of Bristow, Oklahoma, are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Stubblefield of Pampa.

20 Arrests Made During Week-End

There was no "rationing" on the job of peace officers in Pampa this week-end. City and county officers made a total of 20 arrests. Police arrested seven, four men and three women. Two of the men were charged with intoxication, two were held for investigation. The women were arrested for intoxication and vagrancy.

County officers arrested 13. In the court of D. R. Henry, justice of the peace, fines totaling $80 were paid by six men and three women with gaming in alleged connection with a crap and poker game broken up by county officers early Sunday morning, and three charged with intoxication.

JAPS CLAIM

Japanese offensive also bore the earmarks of an all-out attempt to force the Chungking government to its knees. Japan's strategic position had been tremendously improved by the success in Burma, at the Chinese back door, through which supplies had moved to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's forces. Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, Chiang's American chief of staff, arriving in Burma, was typically blunt about the battle of Burma, in which he led Chinese forces cooperating with the British Imperial forces in the defense.

"I claim we got a hell of a beating," said this tough 59-year-old fighting man in an interview. "We got run out of Burma. It is humiliating as hell. I think we ought to find out what caused it, go back and retake it. The Japanese are not supermen. If we go back properly proportioned and properly equipped we can throw them out."

In his opinion, the rainy season now under way will immobilize the Japanese land forces until the ground dries in November, fostering malaria among the enemy's troops as well as impairing his transport.

In the Australian theater, the long-range air duel between the Japanese in their island bases facing Australia on the north and American-Australian airmen continued over the week end.

On Saturday the Allies bombed Ambonia in the Dutch East Indies—a 1,300-mile roundtrip—and either by luck or suicide a Jap-

Market Briets

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP)—Stock market buyers generally stood aside today and permitted sellers to rest on a slightly lower territory. A half-hearted attempt to rally the list with stocks backing away, the majority of quotations were edged into the minus column. While a modest assortment of plus marks was present in the final hour, fractional declines were widespread. There were scattered losses of a point or so.

Lack of any real selling pressure was the one encouraging feature of the proceedings. Bethlehem Steel dipped to a new bottom for 1942, off nearly 2 points at the time. U. S. Steel, Chrysler, J. I. Case, Westinghouse, American Can, Great Northern, Anaconda, Texas Co., and General Electric.

Among resistant shares were N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania, Southern Railway, Consolidated Edison, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, American Smelting, Boeing, and United Aircraft.

Sheriff Rose Presiding At Convention

With Sheriff Cal Rose of Pampa presiding, the 29th semi-annual convention of the North Texas and Southern Oklahoma Peace Officer Association opened a two-day meeting today in Wichita Falls.

Sheriff Rose, association president, gave his message to the convention in a speech delivered this forenoon, following a talk by John E. Osborn, agent in charge of the U. S. Secret Service, Oklahoma City. This afternoon the Goblets, group of juvenile law boosters formed here during the Navy Relief Society campaign last month, presented their show.

Attending the convention from Pampa are Sheriff and Mrs. Rose, the Goblets, and Deputy Sheriff Roy Pearce. They left here early this morning for Wichita Falls.

On today's program was the address of welcome by W. P. (Bill) Hood, Wichita Falls mayor, speech, "Cooperation Kills Crime," by Forest V. Sorrels, supervising agent of the U. S. Secret Service, Dallas; a talk by Z. D. Allen, Wichita district attorney; and a talk on "Plant Protection" by Sidney A. Williams, chief of plant protection, of a Dallas firm.

Tonight's program will include a banquet, featured by the addresses of Mac Q. Williamson, Oklahoma attorney general, and Sidney King, Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce manager; and a ball at the Hotel Hot ballroom, with floor show and special entertainment.

Tuesday's program: 9:30 a. m., invocation by the Rev. Fred C. Easthum, pastor of the Wichita Falls First Baptist church; "President's Morning Message" by Sheriff Cal Rose of Pampa; Charles P. McCham, Wichita Falls officer of the "National Defense and Oil Production."

10 a. m., speech by State Senator John Lee Smith of district 24; Temple Shell, Wichita county attorney, "Unity Between Peace Officers and the Public"; Bryan Bradburn, liquor control board, Austin, "Transportation of Liquor"; E. A. Gornley, manager Auto Theft bureau, Dallas, "Auto Theft and Arson," speech illustrated with motion picture.

Speech by B. D. Donnell, president of Times Publishing company, Wichita Falls, special entertainment, with Garland Franks as master of ceremonies; Jim Line, Texas Highway patrol captain of Wichita Falls, formerly of Amarillo, "Traffic Van Convoys."

Pampa Merchants To Join In July 1 War Bond Sales Drive

Pampa business men have been asked to join in a nationwide "Retailers for Victory" sale of war bonds and stamps on July 1 between 12 noon and 12:15 p. m. The plan was outlined in a telegram from Benjamin H. Gann, chairman of the retail advisory committee of the treasury department, to the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

M. C. Johnson, chairman of the trade promotion committee, contacted members of his committee and several business men after which he wired Mr. Gann that "Pampa merchants are ready to cooperate 100 per cent in the sale plan."

The plan as outlined by Mr. Gann is for every retail merchant in the United States to refuse to sell anything but war bonds and stamps during the 15-minute period on July 1. So, if anyone wants to buy groceries, a suit, furniture, gasoline or anything else during those 15 minutes he will just be out of luck.

The telegram from Mr. Gann read: "All retailers are being asked to cooperate in nationwide tribute to America's war effort on July first at twelve noon by suspending all sales of merchandise for fifteen minutes and devoting this brief period to sale of war savings stamps and bonds exclusively. We are counting upon your personal cooperation so that we may report one hundred per cent unity in this vital program to launch nationwide July campaign of 'Retailers for Victory.' Will you advise how many of your local merchants will participate. Please wire as soon as possible so that I may advise Secretary Morgenthau and President Roosevelt."

California Blocked Out

LOS ANGELES, May 25 (AP)—For the fourth time since the United States entered the war Southern California had a blackout last night for 45 minutes. The military said the blackout was ordered because of "an unidentified flight of planes" that later proved to be friendly.

An air raid warden, John H. Arnold, 57, of South Gate, was killed in line of duty in the blackout. He was struck by a hit-and-run driver he tried to flag down.

30-Year Resident Of County Dies Of Heart Attack

Jess William Morris, 46, resident of Gray county for nearly 30 years, died unexpectedly of a heart attack early this morning in a local hospital. Mr. Morris, who has been residing on the A. A. Tiemann farm southwest of Pampa for some time, came to Pampa yesterday and stayed with friends. He was taken to the hospital about three hours before his death.

Mr. Morris drove a bus for the Pampa Independent School district from 1924 until six weeks ago when he resigned. It was Mr. Morris who drove the well known "Number Three" bus during the 1938 blizzard in which he successfully took every child home, or to his home, despite drifts and cold. His bus was believed lost for several hours and it wasn't until a tractor broke a path to his home that it was learned everyone was safe.

He was a veteran of the First World War, serving in France with the U. S. Engineer corps.

Surviving Mr. Morris are the widow, the former Grace Lard of Pampa, three sons, Jack and Wilbur of Pampa, and J. C. in the U. S. army, four sisters, Mrs. Wade Williamson and Mrs. Norman Walberg, both of Pampa, Mrs. Louis Holmes, Phoenix, Ariz., and Mrs. Francis Oliver, Los Angeles, and two brothers, O. L. Morris, Pampa, and E. O. Morris, Dewey, Okla.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the First Christian church with the Rev. B. A. Norris, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery under direction of Duenkel-Carmichael home.

Palbearers will be Charlie Thomas, Tom Smith, Joe Sheldon, A. A. Tiemann, Carl Smith, Emmett Osborne, Bill Jarvis and Ralph Glascock.

This Smart Man's War Says Nelson

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP)—War Production Chief Donald M. Nelson said today that this "is a smart man's war" and that due to the co-operation of American industry and labor "production is coming better than most of us expected," but not yet fast enough.

"We are up against smart enemies, and they are keen," he told 2,000 delegates to the opening session of the National Association of Purchasing Agents. "We've got to be smarter and keener than they are."

Nelson named scarcity of materials, scarcity of time, and waste, as the principal enemies of production.

"Before the end of this year," he added, "I confidently expect that there will be nothing in this country that won't be produced for either civilian economy or for the war effort."

PENNEY'S
WE WORK TOGETHER AT PENNEY'S
An interesting thing about this company is that we employees are called "Associates." We don't work for the store manager or his assistant; we work with them. That was Mr. Penney's idea when he started his first store... everybody in the business worked co-operatively. Our Employees' Days are a good example of this spirit!

This is the time when we boss the boss! When we run things... when we can tell you about this storeful of wonderful values. (For who should know better than we who sell them?) Here styles, the things we know you'll like best! Compare our special favorites of the new vacation and see them, see how we're doing!
