

French Fleet Turned Over To Admiral Darlan, Arch Foe Of Britain

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
The United States recalled Ambassador Admiral William D. Leahy from France today "for consultation" as the Vichy government resigned and Marshal Petain, apparently putting a brake on the resurgence of pro-Nazi Pierre Laval to power, named Admiral Jean Darlan as commander of French land, sea, and air forces.

Vichy dispatches said Ambassador Leahy had been ordered home to consult with the government—not necessarily meaning an open break in Washington-Vichy relations—and that he was expected to leave within two or three weeks.

Admiral Darlan was also designated Petain's chief-of-staff, and neutral observers saw in this the possibility that the 85-year-old marshal, in a final anti-collaboration gesture, sought to prevent Laval from assuming complete dictatorial powers.

As the Vichy drama sped toward a climax, bristling with the likelihood of world-wide repercussions, fresh outbreaks of terrorism were reported against the German occupation armies in France.

Nazi authorities in Vichy announced that 35 more hostages had been shot in Occupied France in reprisal for attacks on German troops, and anti-collaboration demonstrators were said to be marching again in Paris.

London heard Vichy reports by way of Switzerland that Laval would attempt to maintain "friendly relations with the United States" and might even try to re-establish peace between Germany and the United States.

The crisis remained acute, however, with Washington ready to take swift action in the event Laval discloses any program of French-German solidarity hostile to the Allies.

Admiral Darlan also was designated as heir to 85-year-old Marshal Philippe Petain as chief of state, a Vichy communique announced.

Lamesa-Oiler Game To Benefit Navy

A preview of the 1942 baseball season in Pampa and the second event in Pampa's observance of Navy Appreciation week, April 19 to 25, will be jointly held at Road Runner park in Pampa at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

In the exhibition game, the Lamesa Dodgers will play against Pampa Oilers, giving Pampa fans an opportunity to "clock" their team and get advance "dope" on what they may expect when the season officially opens on April 28.

Proceeds of the game will go into the Navy Relief society fund, as did the proceeds from the benefit dance held last night at the Southern club and attended by more than 200 couples.

Adding color and interest to the baseball game Sunday will be the appearance of the Pampa Defense band and their playing of a 45-minute patriotic concert preceding the game.

Chet Henry, band director, has called for members to report at the park, ready to play, at 2:15 p. m. Sunday.

Nautical Floor Show
A hit was scored at the dance last night by the clever floor show, arranged by June Marie Amick. Acts consisted of patriotic songs, and special dances, one a tap dance to the tune of "Over There," by Miss Amick; the other the "Sailor's Hornpipe," by Joan Stroup.

White navy suits were worn by the girls taking part in the show, with Joan Stroup wearing a navy blue costume complete with regulation navy hat, a gift of her brother, Jerry, who is serving in the navy.

There were three additions to the cast of the show: Eddie Zane Gray and Geneva Nichols, and Dale Walker. The latter was in the deck-swinging act and also was one of the flag-bearers. Tex DeWeese was master of ceremonies.

Music for the dance was played by Pinky Powell, George Casey, Ernestine Holmes, Bob Daugherty, Bob Morris, Bob Burns, Bob Hirsch, Ray Nielson, Mike Sheple, and Billy Mills.

They donated their services without cost. Management of the Southern club also helped with the dance by allowing use of the place for only a nominal charge. Sale of sandwiches and of table reservations supplanted proceeds from the sale of dance tickets.

Committee Meets Today
Heading the dance committee was M. F. Roche.

Members of the Goblets, composed of girls with relatives in the naval forces, and of the Marineettes, and corresponding auxiliary for the marine corps, helped in the sale of tickets for the dance and in putting on the floor show.

E. B. Tracey, secretary-treasurer of the Gray County Navy Relief society committee, said today that the dance had not been made and was expected to be done in a short time, following a committee meeting early this afternoon.

Committee members were highly pleased with the fine response given by the public to the dance.

In conjunction with Navy Appreciation week, proclaimed by Governor Coke Stevenson, a set of photographs of U. S. battleships and destroyers, including the U. S. S. Texas, a photograph of Admiral Chester M. Nimitz, native Texan, and charts of naval insignia, has been put on display at Zale's Jewelry store.

Tyler Gets Flying
WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Representative Beckworth (D-Tex.) said today he had received notice from the commerce department that it would set up an experimental non-college pilot training unit at Tyler, Texas, with Tyler Junior college giving ground instruction.

A quota of 30 flight scholarships sponsored by the government and 10 sponsored locally has been allocated to the new unit. Beckworth was informed.

British Reported To Have Destroyed 6,000 Oil Wells

Ralph Royce Once Headed Brooks Field
SAN ANTONIO, April 17 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Ralph Royce, who led the flight of 13 United States bombers in raids on Japanese bases in the Philippines, is another of the long list of army officers formerly stationed here who are taking leading parts in the present war.

He commanded Brooks Field several years during the early '20s when the primary flying school was conducted here.

Born in Marquette, Wis., June 28, 1890, Royce was graduated from West Point June 12, 1914, and his first appointment was as a second lieutenant in the infantry.

Royce served as a pilot during the punitive expedition into Mexico in 1916, and a year later went to France as commanding officer and pilot of the first ace squadron.

He served in the defensive sector near Toul, France, during May and June, 1918, and was awarded the Croix de Guerre for bravery while commanding the first squadron in this sector. He also was engaged with the first and second army corps at Chateau-Thierry and during the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne offensives.

Royce returned to the United States in June, 1919, and was assigned to the 1st Cavalry Division. He was appointed Philippine department air officer with headquarters at Manila on July 1, 1937.

Royce returned to the United States in 1939 as commanding officer of the 7th bombardment group at Hamilton Field, and a year later moved his group to Fort Douglas, Utah.

On May 3, 1941, he was assigned to duty in the war department in preparation for his next post as military attaché for air in London, England, where he served from July 25, 1941, until he returned for active duty following the outbreak of the Pacific conflict.

Denomination Wants FDR To Ban Liquor
HOUSTON, April 17 (AP)—Delegates to the Disciples of Christ convention here want President Roosevelt to ban liquor during the war.

A resolution adopted yesterday urged prohibition on the grounds that large quantities of food materials are used in its manufacture, that liquor is responsible for a large proportion of highway accidents, and that it contributes to all other vices.

Ray H. Biser of Beaumont was elected president and Fort Worth was selected as the 1943 meeting place.

Other officers include Joe H. Berry of Palestine, vice president.

DuPont Patent Aided Hitler, Hurt Allies
WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—A justice department attorney told the senate patents committee today that an international cartel agreement between German interests and the Remington Arms company, controlled by E. I. DuPont de Nemours and company, has "operated to date as a serious impediment to the Allied war effort."

Allen Doherty, special assistant to the attorney general in the anti-trust division, testified that the agreement involving German patents on tetracene, used in priming compositions for firearm ammunition, caused these results:

1. Prevented sales of tetracene-primed ammunition to the British Purchasing commission until recently.

2. Gave a German company access to military information through Remington Arms company representatives.

3. A German company may collect royalty on ammunition sold to the United States army.

Doherty's charges surprised members of the senate committee and Senators Lucas (D-Ill.), La Follette (Prog.-Wis.) and Bone (D-Wash.) asked if the agreement still was operating.

The anti-trust lawyer said counsel for Remington Arms informed him they had broken the agreement not to sell to England and other parts of the British empire in recent days.

Earlier Chairman Bone of the committee had said: "We're going to blow the lid off, if we have to, to get all industries to work winning the war."

He said that was his answer to "suggestions" that the committee drop its investigation of American tie-ups with Axis-controlled business interests.

Mrs. Tom Rose Dies, Funeral Conducted Today

Funeral services were to be conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the First Baptist church for Mrs. Tom E. Rose Sr., 52, who died yesterday afternoon at the family home. The Rev. C. E. Lancaster of San Saba, formerly of Pampa, and the Rev. Paul Briggs, assistant pastor of First Baptist church, were officiate. Burial was to be in Fairview cemetery under direction of Dukenel-Carmichael Funeral home.

Mrs. Rose died following an illness of several months. She had resided in Pampa for 21 years and was prominent in church and musical circles.

In Pampa she was music teacher, pianist at the First Baptist church and pianist for the Rotary club. She was a member and outstanding worker in the Baptist church and in the Order of Eastern Star. She was a charter member of the Twentieth Century club and one of its past presidents.

Mrs. Rose came to Texas with her parents in 1909. She was married in 1912 and settled in Chillicothe, where she resided until coming to Pampa in 1921. Mr. Rose has been in the automobile business here since that time.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Rose is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Eustie Turner of Borger; two sons, Tom E. Rose, Jr., and Rex Rose, both of Pampa; six grand children, Don and Tommie Turner; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Barnes of LaPorte; three brothers, Winifred Barnes of Houston, Renfro Barnes of Niagara Falls, and Dewey Barnes of Norman, Okla.; and three sisters, Mrs. W. E. Murrell and Miss Rose.

Bill Would Make Unions Subject To Prosecution
WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—A move to subject labor unions to prosecution under the anti-trust law and to prevent them from forcing employers to hire "unnecessary" workers was laid before congress today in the midst of a controversy over war profits and overtime pay.

The house judiciary committee opened hearings on the new proposal as Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the naval affairs committee called for a showdown on a measure setting a percentage limitation on profits, restricting union activities, and suspending the 40-hour week.

The measure to bring labor unions under jurisdiction of the anti-trust law was offered by Rep. Monroney (D-Okla.). Unlike the profits-labor legislation pending before the naval committee, it was designed to extend beyond the war as permanent legislation.

On the senate side, a subcommittee drafted legislation giving the government veto power over wage and salary increases and restricting the extension of closed shop agreements.

The measure, a modified version of a bill by Senator Ball (R-Minn.) will be referred to the full labor committee on Monday and, if approved, placed immediately before the senate.

Chairman Thomas (D-Utah) said committee members felt they should offer a "more constructive" bill than one by Senator Connally (D-Tex.) which provides for government seizure of strike-bound plants and which also is due to come up Monday.

Great RAF Force Sweeps Over France

LONDON, April 17 (AP)—Clearing weather unleashed wave upon wave of RAF planes today for their virtually ceaseless offensive against the German-dominated continent, and Nazi bombers struck back savagely at a south coast town which they said was Southampton.

A great force swept northern France and returned across the strait, preceded by the angry onslaught of German anti-aircraft barrages on the occupied mainland coast. Spitfires blanketed a great area as they continued the shuttles of destructions across the waters at 20,000 feet. The first wave was followed inland over France by a second force.

The German high command said 11 British planes were destroyed over the channel and English south coast yesterday in violent combats. The Germans said installations were attacked "with good results" at Southampton with high explosive and incendiary bombs.

Early this morning enemy planes dropped bombs also at a west country town and roared away before ground guns could come into action.

The two waves of RAF raiders were followed in the afternoon by a strong mixed force of bombers and fighters who headed southeast over the sea from Deal.

The night attack kept alive a virtual non-stop aerial assault which had been going on for more than 70 hours when the day raiders hammered northern France this morning.

The Nazi submarine base at Lorient and the docks at Le Harve were the targets of the night bombers, and enemy airfields in Holland and France, the air ministry said.

Two bombers were lost, it said, but the Germans also lost a bomber which was intercepted in the attack on one of their airfields.

The numbers in the morning raids indicated that the sweeps were as large as yesterday's assault by more than 400 British planes.

The British communique said heavy Japanese pressure on the British right flank had forced the withdrawal, but said other British troops in the Taunggying sector were still "successfully protecting the right flank of the Chinese expeditionary force."

The main Chinese army, commanded by the American Lieutenant Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, is under heavy attack by Japanese columns striking from the south and threatened with being cut off by other Japanese invaders driving down from the northeast out of Thailand.

The warning by British Cabinet Minister Casey that Japan was strong enough to invade India and Australia at the same time was not elaborated but on a more cheering note he declared that United States production was moving at "a great pace" and would soon "make itself felt in more than one theater of the war."

In the battle for the approaches to Australia, Japanese warplanes again raided Port Moresby, New Guinea, 300 miles across the Torres strait from Australia, and dropped 50 bombs.

In the Philippines, a Tokyo broadcast asserted that 50,000 Filipino and United States soldiers, including 9,000 Americans, had been captured.

Troops Retreat Under Fiercest Japanese Assault

By The Associated Press
War Secretary Stimson announced today that "so far as the army is concerned we are getting pretty near to the stage of being ready for an offensive, however difficult it may be," while on the action front, the Allies suffered a grave reverse in Burma.

Cutting off China's main source of oil supplies, British engineers applying the "scorched earth" policy were forced to destroy 6,000 oil wells in the Yenangyaung fields in western Burma as outnumbered British troops retreated anew under the fiercest Japanese assault of the campaign.

In Washington, Stimson disclosed preparations for a mighty United Nations offensive with the declaration: "Things are beginning to move in the right direction."

"I am now more than ever convinced that we are going to get on the offensive and to do so at the earliest practicable moment."

Stimson also declared that Gen. Douglas MacArthur is in complete "over-all strategic command" of the Allied war effort in the Southwest Pacific and in charge of "practical coordination" in that area to defeat the Japanese invaders.

The war secretary described confusion over Gen. MacArthur's exact status as "a tempest in a teapot" and said he had the same type of command as formerly was held by the British Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell.

In the Philippine theater, a war department bulletin announced that more than 65,000 American-Filipino troops and civilians, including 16 generals, had been unreported for more than a week on Bataan peninsula and were "presumably in the hands of the enemy."

The figure included 35,000 combat troops, 5,500 sick and wounded, supply and other noncombatant troops, and 25,000 civilians.

All 68 army nurses on Bataan were evacuated to Corregidor island on April 9, the communique said.

In Burma, latest reports indicated that the situation was critical in the extreme.

Simultaneously, British Minister Richard G. Casey warned that the Allies must assume Japan can strike in "major offensives" against Assam and India "at the same time."

Burma is the eastern approach to India. British headquarters acknowledged that battle-worn British troops, fighting a desperate holding action against Japan's invasion armies in the Irrawaddy river valley, had withdrawn at least 15 miles to a line north of Magwe.

Magwe is the gateway to the Yenangyaung oil fields, China's chief source of oil supplies.

The British communique said heavy Japanese pressure on the British right flank had forced the withdrawal, but said other British troops in the Taunggying sector were still "successfully protecting the right flank of the Chinese expeditionary force."

Many Commando Raids On Nazis Never Reported

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—Many commando raids along the Nazi-occupied coast are never reported, a British army major told the American Society of Newspaper Editors today in describing the work of the war's most famous daredevils.

"Many raids take place about which the Germans say nothing," Major R. V. Boyle said, "but merely because they dare not broadcast either in Germany or England does not stop the stories and rumors spreading throughout the German troops in France. I would like to add that many more small raids used to take place than ever appeared in the papers."

Declaring that the commandos "have got to be tough—really tough," Major Boyle said the most important characteristic of the men was their ability to meet any situation and if necessary to meet it alone.

Of the personnel, 99 per cent come from England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland with the others from Canada and Australia.

"These men," he said, "sleep where they can, eat what they can get, and are never tired."

BERLIN'S BOY—With Pierre Laval, longtime friend of Hitler, back in the picture as vice premier, Vichy has moved closer to the Nazi conquerors of France.

AP Raw Material Totals 100,000 Words Daily

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—Kent Cooper, general manager of the Associated Press, said today in his annual report to the board of directors that the AP foreign staff "continued to acquit itself brilliantly, often in the face of great personal danger, and always in the midst of serious obstacles."

He said the constantly spreading word configuration set the tempo in 1941 for every department of the Associated Press, a cooperative news gathering association of 1,400 newspapers.

"The membership should never forget the heroic and effective service rendered by this splendid corps of foreign correspondents and photographers from their beleaguered posts around the world," he said.

"It would be possible to cite many specific cases of accomplishment, above and beyond the line of duty. I refrain from doing so . . . only because cheerful sacrifice and courageous conduct were so widespread."

Interest Growing At Brethren Church Revival Meeting

Interest continues to grow at the Church of the Brethren revival, the Rev. F. G. West, pastor, stated today. The attendance which was small at the beginning, has practically doubled each evening over the night before.

With the arrival yesterday of Mrs. C. C. Beery, who joined her husband as director of singing, attendance has been added. Increased attendance, Rev. West added.

Last night the evangelist spoke on "The Cross of Discipline," pointing out that "Whom the Lord Loveth He Chasteneth." Tonight the message will be "The Cross of Love."

These services open promptly at 8:15. There will also be services on Saturday evening. Those who are seeking a church home in this community are especially invited. Those who accept Christ and prefer membership in another church will be reported immediately to the pastor concerned.

Attonement To Be Subject Of Sermon

"Doctrine of Attonement" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 19, 1942.

The Golden Text is: "Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us" (Hebrews 9:24).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Seeing then that we have a great high priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession" (Hebrews 4:14).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus' teaching and practice of truth involved such a sacrifice as makes us admit its principle to be love. This was the precious import of our Master's sinless career and of his demonstration of power over death" (page 26).

NOSE PICKING May be a Sign of WORMS

Don't blame your child! It looks like just a nasty habit, but it may mean that ugly, crawling roundworms are starting trouble inside the child right now. Other warning signs are: "icky" appetite, flatulent, uneasy stomach, itching seat.

Anybody, anywhere, can "catch" roundworms! If you even suspect your child has them, get Jayne's Vermifuge right away! It's America's leading proprietary worm medicine. Scientifically tested, and used by millions for over a century.

Jayne's excels stubborn worms, yet acts gently. If no worms are there, it is just a mild laxative. Demand Jayne's Vermifuge.

LET A WANT AD HELP YOU

YOU... Your Refrigerator and the WAR!

Ten to one you've never thought about what an important role YOU and Your Refrigerator can play in our all-out Fight for Victory!

In case you haven't—here's food for thought—

1. We must conserve foodstuffs! More and more we are going to feel the pinch of food shortages because our boys on the front must be fed, and fed well. It behooves you, as an American wife and mother, to use every scrap of food. You must use "left-overs." YOUR ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR will keep these "left-overs" fresh and healthfully safe for several days.
2. You can't get another New Refrigerator as easy as you could before the war because all materials are being used in the production of armaments. Consequently, you must keep your present Electric Refrigerator in good repair, so it can do an efficient job of preserving and keeping food fresh for you for a long time to come.
3. Your Electric Refrigerator will not only help to conserve much needed food for our boys on the front, but through its preservation capacities, it will save you money on your food bill. USE THE SAVINGS TO BUY MORE AND MORE VICTORY STAMPS AND BONDS!

Today's War Analysis

By DeWitt Mackenzie
Wide World War Analyst

Lieutenant General Breton B. Somervell, commanding general of the United States service of supply, says the outcome of the war will be determined on our production in the next 200 days—which is a life-or-death truth.

That's along the line of an inquiry I have received from schoolboy Edwin Peel of Honey Grove, Texas, who asks: "What America is doing to win this war." He is making a speech and has turned to your columnist for aid and comfort.

Edwin picked me because I led with my chin last week when I wrote a column answering the appeal of another high school lad—John Hunt of Philadelphia—for help on an essay about "why America must win this war." Having let myself in for this, the easiest way is to stand and deliver, although my Texas friend's query presents its difficulties in these days of censorship.

Of course, we might quote Speaker of the House Rayburn who has revealed that the United States now is making more than 3,300 airplanes a month, and that it already has on world-wide fighting fronts six times as many soldiers as General Pershing had after ten months of the last war. We might add that he said present production rates "indicate 125,000 planes in 1943."

Here we must interpolate General Somervell's declaration that "right now we must produce much more than we are." That's another vital truth. He says that we shall make the grade.

Still, it seems to me that the spirit underlying our vast production—the spirit which is going to increase it to winning proportions—is greater than the achievement itself. For the people of this country have dedicated themselves to a fight for the benefit of world-humankind. History records no other such gesture as that of Uncle Sam in making his country literally the arsenal of democracy, and supplying all Allied nations and sympathizers under the lease-lend program without debate about payment.

The battle already would have been lost had we not poured our resources into Allied hands.

Naturally our effort isn't wholly unselfish, since we are defending our own country and thinking only of his own interests he needs't have played Atlas by taking the world on his shoulders.

Because of her stand in this great upheaval, and because of her vast resources and strength, America has been thrust into the tactical leadership of the Allied effort, without seeking any such position. The whole world, outside the camp of the Hitlerian brigands, looks to this country for guidance and inspiration.

Thus the United States has become the chief coordinator of the Allied war effort. And that's as should be, because our favorable geographical position, apart from other factors, makes us the logical country for such work.

As Speaker Rayburn indicated, our commitments entwine the globe, and daily they are becoming greater. Despite the mountainous aid which we already have given, we have only started. Our boys already are in the battle lines, and before the year is over we shall have a great force in foreign fields, the while our arsenal pours out equipment for all the Allies.

On re-reading this article it seems pretty close to boasting. Still, schoolboy Peel asked me the question—and I'm not ashamed to be caught bragging about my country.

You Can Be Thankful For The Want Ad

No other advertising medium does its particular job as well as newspaper classified advertising.

To acquaint the public with the value of this type of advertising, The Pampa News is joining other newspapers over the nation in the observance of the tenth annual Want Ad Week, which begins Monday and extends through Sunday, April 26.

Classified advertising tells its story quickly, methodically. There is no aimless hunting for the special ad you are seeking. It's right there, in proper place, quickly found, quickly read, and quickly understood.

Besides the fundamental type of classified advertisement that helps you find a lost article, classified also give you up-to-the-minute information on many events with which you may not instantly be familiar.

Take Victory gardens, for example. Classified advertisements of the type you find in the classified columns of The Pampa News have of great value in bringing together the garden owner and those with seed, garden tools, or services to sell.

Increasing in use are the cards of thanks and memorial tributes published in the classified columns.

The Pampa News has had circulation in all of the five counties around Pampa and is the only daily circulated in Gray county that reaches more persons interested in local affairs than any other paper in the Panhandle.

Rural subscribers receive the same consideration as those residing in town. Your classified advertising page is as near as your telephone, and your ad in the morning's mail will be given prompt attention for that day's paper.

Market Briefs

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—The stock market today continued downward slide to low ground for the last nine years on a thin stream of selling in the industrial leaders.

The pattern of the retreat was not greatly different from that of Tuesday except that selling was lighter, but in each case the decline seemed generated by fears growing out of the selection of Pierre Laval as the chief of the Vichy government. Recall of Ambassador Leahy from the free French capital for "contact" at Washington accentuated the session somewhat.

At new bottoms for a year or more were Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Anaconda, Kennecott, Westinghouse, Johnsonville, Eastman Kodak and American Celanese. American Airlines entered the same category with a decline of about 2%.

Among stocks down a point or more at the worst were Douglas Aircraft, Sperry, U. S. Gypsum, Union Carbide, American Oil, DuPont, Philip Morris, and Southern Railway.

1942 Test For U. S. Papers, Says Price

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—Asserting that freedom of the press was on trial through wartime voluntary censorship, Director of Censorship Byron Price told the nation's newspaper editors today that it would be an unhappy day for "all of us" if it was found that the president's confidence in them had been misplaced.

"I personally do not believe such a day will come. Whether it does is up to you," the former executive news editor of the Associated Press, on leave time for the wartime post, said at the 20th annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

The American press has survived recurring crises such as wars and depressions, Price asserted, adding that "in spite of all they have endured and all that they are, the newspapers of the United States may well find the year 1942 a period of supreme trial and judgment."

He said the results of the experiment to make voluntary censorship work would not be determined in the office of censorship, but "by the publishers and editors.

"We are engaged in a desperate war—a war not only for existence but for that better existence for which we have yearned during long years of doubt and apprehension," he declared. "No industry and no individual can expect to escape the tribulations and the sacrifices of such a war. I have faith that you as editors, and the newspapers you represent, will not flinch or whimper on the firing line."

He outlined three "certain basic truths" regarding censorship:

- 1.—Editors will never like censorship. "Because you are Americans you resent this sort of interference."
- 2.—Voluntary censorship will never be an exact science.
- 3.—Some of the operations of censorship will always appear nonsensical to the individual, particularly if he is among the censored. "In short, censorship is God's gift to the dyspeptic editor and the lackadaisical columnist. Whenever all other inspiration fails, it takes no effort to attack censorship."

"I know of no editor," he continued, "who has deliberately attempted to sabotage the experiment, but

Landis Discusses War Effort With Baseball Leaders

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—A united, all-out war effort was baseball's goal today as Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis, the shaggy, white-haired czar of the national pastime, gathered the leaders of the sport in a hotel room here to confer with army and navy officers on a program that would extend from the major leagues down to the smallest minors.

"We want to get the minors in on this, we want to work out something everybody can help on," Landis said yesterday as he disclosed that he had asked William G. Brancham, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues, and Frank Shaughnessy, president of the International league and a member of the executive committee of the National association, to attend today's session.

Presidents Ford Frick of the National league and William Harridge of the American league have been conferring for two days with the 75-year-old commissioner, and yesterday this triumvirate was joined by two representatives of the army and navy.

PHILLIPS 66 MOTOR OIL

"...and put some teeth into it!"

ONCE UPON A TIME, car owners were merely urged to use good oil, to change it regularly when worn, to adopt a regular schedule of lubrication service.

Now, in the new era filled with priorities, with the manufacture of new automobiles absolutely cut off, real teeth have been put into the idea of caring for a car in order to lengthen its life.

One of the most useful precautions you can take to preserve and protect your motor is to use good oil. But which oil is good? The following facts should help you decide:

Phillips, one of the great independents of the petroleum industry, with a fine reputation for giving greater value, makes this simple, straightforward statement: If you want our best oil, remember we specify that Phillips 66 Motor Oil is our finest quality... the highest grade and greatest value... among all the oils we offer.

Every time a new 1,000-mile mark clicks up on your speedometer, play safe with your motor, and play fair with your budget, by draining and refilling with Phillips 66 Motor Oil.

Rig Builders And Others Donate Labor At Park

By HARRY E. HOARE
Hats off to a bunch of Pampa baseball fans, most of them rig builders, drillers, tool dressers and roughnecks, who donated their time to give Road Runner park a complete overhauling for this season. And it's hats off to a bunch of stockholders, especially the officers, who slipped out of their coats, rolled up their sleeves and went to work.

You're not going to recognize Road Runner park when you attend the big Navy Relief game Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock when the Oilers battle the Lamesa Lobos—although the work won't be finished. There's still plenty of work to be done before opening game on April 28, at 5:30 o'clock, when Pampa goes after the league attendance trophy by having every store and place of business in the city close at 5 o'clock and bosses and employes join the big parade to Road Runner park. Future games will begin at 7 p. m.

But back to the fellows who are really doing things. President Ray "Connie Mack" McKernan first managed to secure a huge 700 gallon capacity, 47 h. p. boiler, to give the boys plenty of water for a shower after every game and a whole bunch of lumber and repair material. Then Claude Jeffries and Henry Deutgers have volunteered to haul the boiler and lumber to the park.

Then came along E. B. Daley, Tom Sweatman, Sr., L. E. Willis, Dick Patton, Tom O'Rourke and possibly others who volunteered to set up the boiler, make all connections and install the showers. Now the boiler is in working order. Piles of scrap lumber from the grandstand and fence have been piled around the boiler for firewood.

After looking over the fence and grandstand, the directors decided that there was a lot of work to be done. So they bought and begged a whole stack of material. Before they could think about getting the work done Lewis Jones, Lute Wilson, Buck Ehrhard, Bob Henry, Jack Baker, E. M. Graham, Roy Rounsville and possibly others arrived at the park in work clothes, carrying their own tools, and went to work. They repaired the fence, pruned the grandstand, took up lumber and seats and laid new material.

They tore down the toilets and built new ones in different locations and moved the Knot Hole grandstand to the south side of the field and the negro stand to the old Knot Hole gang location.

The clubhouse and caretaker headquarters was remodeled and stockholders shed coats and went to work sweeping out the clubhouse, gathering up material, burning high grass around the fence and generally doing a bang-up job of working.

"Those fellows saved the club seven hundred dollars and we certainly appreciate their swell work," President McKernan said today. "They're the kind of fellows who like to do things and I want to thank every one of them."

The eleventh to defeat Beaumont in the series finale. Buff batsmen had been scoreless for 28 consecutive innings before Harvey Riebe dropped a throw to the plate that permitted Dain Clay to score.

That run was enough to match an unearned Shippert tag and carry the ball game into extra innings. Doyle Lade hurled the Shreveport Sports to their first shutout win of the season, limiting the San Antonio Missions to five scattered hits.

Tony York, Sports shortstop, homered in the second with Murrell Jones about to send the Sports into a two-run lead.

Schmitt With Salina Club Last Season

By HARRY E. HOARE
Bernard Schmitt, big right-handed pitcher with Salina in the Western Association last season, wired Business Manager Hugh Alexander of the Pampa Oilers yesterday that he would accept terms and leave his home in Washington, Mo., immediately.

The chunker is only 19 years old, stands 6 feet 2 inches, and weighs an even 200 pounds. Alexander saw him in action last year and was impressed with his work. The Western Association, Class C league, disbanded this spring and players were made free agents.

Another newcomer reported to the Oilers yesterday. He was Wilbert Earl of Perryton, an infielder, who looked as if he knew how to handle himself both at the plate and in the field. Also on hand were Joe Isaacs of Ada, Okla., an outfielder, and James Slay of Seminole, Okla., an infielder. Both showed up nicely in the field and looked promising at the plate.

Scheduled to arrive today or tomorrow is Robert Carroll of Dilley, big left-handed first baseman or outfielder.

Manager Dick Ratliff and Alexander are still pulling a bunch of strings to secure pitching strength which is the only big worry at the present time.

Harvesters To Compete In District Meet Tomorrow

Pampa High school athletic contestants will move to Shamrock tomorrow to participate in the District 2 Interscholastic League meet.

Coach Buck Prejean will take a full track team and Coach B. G. Gordon will have the boys tennis team while Miss Maxine Richardson will have the girls tennis team and the girls volleyball team.

Track and field competition is expected to be close. Not a single favorite has been established. Wheeler is known to be strong in the south half while Darrouzett and Pollett are usually tough in the north half.

The Harvesters have a pretty fair team, according to Coach Prejean, but he doesn't believe he can handle some of the other schools which have had more time to practice and which stresses track and field.

National League Swept By Fantastic Hitting Thursday

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
Fantastic things happen during the first few days of every baseball season when the major league clubs are trying to shake out their spring kinks.

Take a day like yesterday. The Boston Red Sox scored 19 runs for what may stand all season as the largest score by one club. The Brooklyn Dodgers were victorious in every turn at bat except Athletics, who scored four runs just for exercise, certainly not for competition.

Dallas Wins First Victory Over Indians

(By The Associated Press)
Dallas uncorked a revised batting order to defeat Oklahoma City 6-3 last night in the Rebels' first victory of the new Texas league race.

Houston broke its rumpless streak, defeating the Beaumont Exporters 2-1. Tulsa scored a 1-0 victory to square the short series with Fort Worth, and Shreveport clubbed out a 5-0 win over San Antonio.

At Dallas, Merv Connors and Earl Bolyard smacked home runs. Bolyard's round-tripper in the eighth with Connors on base bringing victory to the Rebel line.

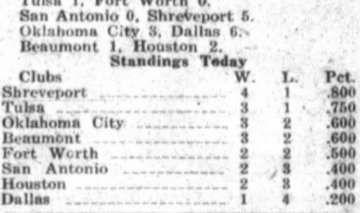

Glenn Gardner stopped the Fort Worth Cats with two hits, besting Claude Horton, young Cat right-hander, who gave five hits.

The Oilers started the winning rally with two out in the ninth. Frank Jelincik tripled and Whitney Platt brought him home with a single.

Scoring an unearned run in the sixth inning, Houston went through

SERIAL STORY

FRANTIC WEEKEND

BY EDMUND FANCOTT

Copyright, 1942, NEA Service, Inc.

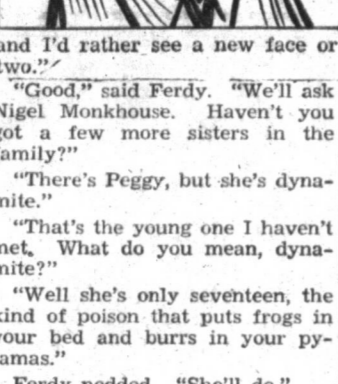

THE STORY: Returning to Montreal from a summer resort, Myra Mack shares a train seat with Lieut. Nigel Monkhouse. They discover a mutual friend in Ferdie Lorton, artist, and a mutual admiration of a pretty girl aboard the train. Back at her steno-grapher's job Myra makes a business call, sees the pretty girl behind a desk.

Peggy Mack, 17, made the weekend frantic. It was her first house party, but she landed like the Marines and took over.

Ferdie Lorton, artist, issued the invitations, then went out to paint pictures and missed half the fun at his own weekend party.

Michael Mack, on leave from the Army, learned a little strategy from the kid strategist and decided she wasn't so bad after all.

CHAPTER III
THAT evening Myra dropped in to see Ferdie Lorton on his way home. It was a peculiar friendship that drew the two together, a friendship that owed more to frankness than to good looks. Ferdie had an amused cynical outlook towards the world and knew everybody in town. Myra had an outspoken bluntness and was thoroughly capable at everything she undertook. Ferdie was a confirmed bachelor who seemed to be particularly attractive to attractive females, whereas Myra was more or less resigned to the fact that her face was not her fortune and that she was by necessity a career girl.

She found Ferdie alone buried in a book. "Hello," he said, pleasure registering under his casual tone. "Have a cocktail. You've been neglecting me." Myra looked around the studio. "Not painting?" she asked. Ferdie rummaged in his cupboard for the makings of a cocktail. "No," he answered over his shoulder. "The weather is too good. I'm thinking of packing up and heading me to the hills."

"Some frivolous people get all the luck," sighed Myra, throwing a hat that she disliked onto the comfortable settee. Ferdie grinned. "All work and no play?" "Too much work. By the way, I had a weekend on the lake shore and met a friend of yours."

Ferdie shook up the cocktail with a professional vigor. "Name?" "Nigel Monkhouse." "Thought he was up in Petawawa." "So he was," said Myra. "But now he's on leave before going overseas."

"Nice chap," said Ferdie. "I must give him a call." "Is he married?" asked Myra. Ferdie poured out a cocktail and looked at her with a suspicious grin. "No. You haven't any designs?" Myra granted. "I'd have as much chance there as I would with a plaster statue. Besides, he was looking pretty hard at a peaches and cream something on the train."

"Poor Nigel," said Ferdie. "Plenty of money. Charm. But he had a bad time with one of our Montreal debs a year or so ago." "Then he's recovering nicely," said Myra. "Not thinking of doing more matchmaking?" asked Ferdie. He sat down by her side on the settee and disposed himself in lazy comfort.

"Not me. I'm tired of fixing up other people's love affairs and leaving myself on the shelf. Every time I go down to the office these days I think what a blessing a nice comfortable husband would be. You know the kind—no flowers and chocolates, just good honest bread and butter. Then I could sit at home and read a book for a change."

Ferdie grinned. "You need a holiday. So do I. I'm going to try to make it to the Laurentians this weekend. Why not come up? We'll make a small party of it. Let's see—what about your father?" "Cut Danny out. I love him, I obey him when he isn't unreasonable, I respect him, but I see him every weekend in the year."

and I'd rather see a new face of two." "Good," said Ferdie. "We'll ask Nigel Monkhouse. Haven't you got a few more sisters in the family?" "There's Peggy, but she's dynamite." "That's the young one I haven't met. What do you mean, dynamite?" "Well she's only seventeen, the kind of poison that puts frogs in your bed and burrs in your pyjamas."

Ferdie nodded. "She'll do." "No," said Myra. "My brother has just come home from overseas. We can't go." "Ask him too. That's three men, two girls. I'll find another girl."

"No," said Myra firmly. "No more weekends for me at your place with any of your social friends. Remember the last time. Society and Myra Mack are like oil and water. They don't mix, even at high temperatures."

"All right," said Ferdie. "We'll take peaches and cream. Has she a face worth painting?" Myra sat up. "If you think I am going to go and pick up a strange female to make a Lorton weekend, you're mistaken."

"But think of Nigel!" "Sorry," said Myra firmly. "Peaches and cream is wrong. I should have said, mascara and lipstick."

"I like them both," said Ferdie. "That is, at the proper place and time." "Exactly," agreed Myra. "That's just what I meant."

THAT night at the Mack household in Notre Dame de Grace it was an evening of celebration. Michael Mack, the eldest son, had been overseas for more than a year, and it was not likely that he would have many more leaves before going overseas again with the Third Division. Something had happened to him in that year of absence. He had filled out. There was new firmness to the set of his lips and his eyes were thoughtful. Some of the things he had seen had matured him more than his twenty-three years in Canada. Michael had lost none of the hardening ways and happy-go-lucky carelessness that his father had tried vainly to cure him of, but he had with it a clear cut self-possession. His dark hair waved thickly from his brow just as gently as it had always done but there was a fine line drawn across his forehead, and bronzed cheeks now hollowed slightly gave him a lean, hard look.

Myra, when she first saw him, realized at once that the boy she had always regarded as "kid brother" had suddenly, swiftly grown up. Peggy, her younger sister, had been not quite sixteen when he had gone overseas, and Michael was obviously just as surprised to see what changes eighteen months had made in her as she was apt with brother-worship over the changed young man who had come back again.

MYRA made no mention of the projected weekend. She had had enough experience with her family to suggest things quietly to each member separately rather than drop any proposal, mild or bombshell, into the family circle. She took her sister aside quietly later in the evening and told her what was proposed. Peggy was delighted. She had heard so much about Myra's friend Ferdie Lorton, and knew his reputation as an artist, but she had never yet met him and was consumed with curiosity.

More important, she had not yet had much opportunity to escape from the family circle. Peggy, as Myra had told Ferdie, was "dynamite." She yearned to meet interesting people and see something of the world beyond school and home and teen-aged friends. She had a healthy curiosity, an idle young lady's penchant for intrigue, irrepresible energy, and a gay beauty that was just the piquant touch that these spirited traits needed to set them off.

"Fun!" Peggy exclaimed to Myra. And I'll see that it's exciting, too, she added to herself. (To Be Continued)

Butcher Drives Army Ambulance

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
LUBBOCK, April 17—They're beginning to call it a "Believe It or Not" place, the Lubbock Army Flying school here. First people talked about a recruit whose mother's name is Raye Barber. Then it was aviation cadet U. S. Bond. Later it was this strange-sounding combination in the post hospital—Dr. Will Hurt, dentist, working on Corporal Dan Crye with the assistance of dental hygienist Eleanor Ruth Hertz.

Now it's a medical corps private from Cleveland named Adelbert P. Butcher who's popped up, and the folks are at it again. For Pvt. Butcher, ironically enough, it's an ambulance driver. Yes, believe it or not.

A marriage license was issued here Wednesday to Edward Lee McCormack and Miss Washington declared the United States was ready for swift action and would not hesitate to act—especially if Laval's plans involved French possessions in the western hemisphere, including Martinique, Guadeloupe and French Guiana.

In Vichy, Marshal Petain, the old "hero of Verdun" in the 1914-18 World war, who surrendered France to Adolf Hitler's conquering legions in June, 1940, presided at a half-hour final session of his cabinet and delivered actual rule of France to Laval.

Dispatches from Bern, Switzerland, said anti-collaborationists were on the march again in Paris; violence was reported, and three mysterious fires were said to have broken out, one of them raging through the historic Fontainebleau forest near Paris.

Other major developments: Adolf Hitler's field headquarters acknowledged that the Red armies had launched a powerful attack on the central (Moscow) front, while Berlin broadcast complained that "German troops have to fight in a sea of mire... wading up to their belts in mud."

The Germans have now ceased to speak of the long-heralded Nazi "spring offensive," and London commentators said the big German push would probably not come until mid-June.

The Russians also conceded that the Russians were attacking on the northern front where Soviet dispatches said the Russians had captured a large fortified position in the vicinity of Staraya Russa.

Staraya Russa, 140 miles south of Leningrad, is a key Nazi base in the general battle area where the German 16th army has been bottled up for weeks.

The Russians further declared they had captured a fortified German position on the highway between Dorogobuzh and Smolensk, some 200 miles west of Moscow.

Military analysts said Laval might attempt to drive the Free French and British out of Syria in a campaign synchronized with Hitler's heralded thrust into the Middle East, or send warships and troop transports to the West African coast in an attempt to wrest control of Equatorial Africa from Gen. De Gaulle's followers.

Washington expected an announcement today on how far the United States would go in breaking off relations with the new Vichy regime, with speculation centering on the chances of a complete rupture.

Emphasizing the United States' firm stand, Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles already has rejected the latest communication from Vichy—a verbal notice refusing to accept an American note which condemned "that small handful of Frenchmen" playing Hitler's game.

Whatever may happen, high quarters in Washington declared the United States was ready for swift action and would not hesitate to act—especially if Laval's plans involved French possessions in the western hemisphere, including Martinique, Guadeloupe and French Guiana.

Album Presented To Ralph Thomas

To Ralph R. Thomas, county farm agent, who is to report Sunday at Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls, as a second lieutenant in the air corps, the Pampa Lions club presented a photograph album filled with pictures of 59 members of the club, at the Lions regular weekly luncheon at noon yesterday.

With each photograph was a card in which members signed their names and expressed good wishes for Mr. Thomas, who has been a Lion for 10 1/2 years and has a perfect attendance record, never missing a meeting of the club in that period.

In recognition of this record, Mr. Thomas was recently presented with a perfect attendance pin.

Pictures in the album were taken by Crawford Atkinson, club president, who went around town photographing Lion members at their homes or jobs.

Attendance at the luncheon was 56. Guests were H. C. Powell of Amarillo, and B. S. Via and Ivy Duncan of Pampa. The latter made a talk on the war.

AERIAL WARFARE

Vast armadas of RAF fighters and bombers streaked across the English Channel today, pressing a non-stop offensive against the German-occupied French "invasion coast" in the first big-scale attack in several months.

British daylight raids on northern France in the morning capped overnight thrusts in which the RAF attacked the German U-boat base at Lorient, docks at Le Havre, and Nazi airfields in Holland and occupied France.

The British air ministry said more than 1,500,000 German soldiers and civilians were "fully engaged in defense" against the RAF's tempestuous blows, and that the offensive was "compelling the enemy to maintain a long and purely defensive western front."

Picture coverage was broadened, and there were many notable "firsts," he said, adding that participation in the newsphoto and wirephoto services reached a new high.

By mid-December last year, 81 employees had been inducted or volunteered for active duty with the armed forces.

"The members gave their full support so wholeheartedly," he added, "that Associated Press foreign dispatches gained an even greater margin of play over dispatches of all competing agencies combined."

Cooper noted that to balance the heavy war ration, "systematic efforts were made to stimulate new domestic material and to bring into the news report more of the more-bright human elements, recording the every-day life of a nation under deep national stress."

Picture coverage was broadened, and there were many notable "firsts," he said, adding that participation in the newsphoto and wirephoto services reached a new high.

Transportation Bottlenecks To Be Investigated

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Declaring that both shipping and domestic transportation facilities "apparently are on the point of bogging down," Chairman Truman (D-Mo) said today the senate defense investigating committee would begin an inquiry soon into bottlenecks in the maritime, rail and truck industries.

Truman said the committee had asked the maritime commission for a progress report on ship building but he added that inability to obtain trained crews for merchant vessels appeared to be one of the great obstacles.

"As for land transportation," he told reporters, "the chief difficulty now seems to be the lack of rubber for trucks."

Senator Downey (D-Calif) proposed in the senate yesterday that the government be authorized to seize privately-owned automobiles and use them for taking war workers to their jobs, carrying the mails and other essential services.

Although Price Administrator Leon Henderson indicated he had no present intention of commanding private cars, he supported Downey's contention that fewer than 10,000,000 of the nation's 30,000,000 cars could be equipped with tires from the natural rubber on hand and from the synthetic program that is just starting.

Senator George (D-Oa) said he was informed that Mid-Continent oil wells, particularly those in Texas, were being operated at only about one-third capacity because of a shortage of ship tankers and railroad tank cars.

Jap Wants Unit Of Japs In U. S. Army

BEAUMONT, April 17 (AP)—Shunji Kondo, 27-year-old Japanese farmer living near here, wants a unit made up of men and officers of Japanese ancestry within the U. S. armed forces.

Kondo, whose attempts to volunteer for army service this week were rejected by the army because of his race, believes such a unit would give this group a chance to show their loyalty to the United States.
