

Sugar Dealers Register Today

Only 15 persons had appeared before registrars early today as registration of sugar dealers for applications to purchase sugar was held in the Lamar building...

Today and tomorrow have been designated as registration days for institutions using sugar, for all eating places using the commodity, food stores, candy kitchens, cafes, bakeries, and similar places.

Members of the county rationing board asked the speedy cooperation of all persons affected and asked that registration be made at once.

A surprisingly large number of the registrars did not have ready for the registrars the vital information on their business necessary to properly fill in the forms.

Advice to that effect was contained in releases from the Gray County Rationing board last Wednesday.

Another error found is that persons are confusing the sugar dealer registration with that for individuals—the application for war ration books—which is to be held May 4, 5, 6, and 7.

Purpose of the registration is to enable sugar dealers to secure sugar to sell and to determine the amount they will be allowed to purchase.

Acting as registrars at the Lamar building today was a group of teachers, headed by Supt. L. L. Sone.

One table was set aside for the registration of sugar wholesalers and retailers, another for institutions.

Registration hours tomorrow will be the same as for today, from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.

While the listing of the dealers was underway here, a similar registration was in progress at the high schools in Albrecht, McLean, and LeFors.

Indefinite wording of an office of price administration order freezing retail stocks of sugar caused confusion among Pampa retail sugar dealers yesterday.

As stated by the OPA, sugar sales were to stop on April 27. No time was stated. Later the OPA gave the time as midnight, Monday, April 27.

Removal of the freezing order is set for May 5. James B. Massa, chairman of the county board, said this meant that as soon as a person secured his ration book, he would become eligible as a possible purchaser of sugar.

Waco river might rise again after it had slowly receded from its high point of last week. No immediate reports of damage were received, however.

Three Bosque rivers emptying into Lake Waco, which feeds the Brazos, rose from five to 16 feet after one and one-half inches of rain fell in the Waco vicinity yesterday afternoon.

Towns in the Waco area reported rains varying from one to two inches. The Brazos had risen to 21.4 feet by 7 p. m. and kept rising.

Bell and Milam counties had downpours which swelled the Leon and Little rivers, thereby menacing low-lying crops.

WT-NM LEAGUE OPENER TO BEGIN AT 5:30 THIS AFTERNOON

Oilers To Be Wearing New 'V' Uniforms

This is the day that tired businessmen have pressing engagements away from the office and office boys have to attend funeral services for "grandmother."

It's the day of days for every baseball fan in this section—the opening of the West Texas-New Mexico league. Pampa will again be in the thick of battle and the Oilers will be at home for opening game at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon, with the Lamesa Dodgers providing the opposition.

Everybody's going to the game. Pampa merchants have been asked, by proclamation of Mayor Fred Thompson, to close their places of business at 5 o'clock so that their clerks can see the opening game and help Pampa win the attendance trophy. And they won't have to go home for supper because sandwiches and cold drinks will be available at the park.

Pampa got a "break" in the umpiring assignment for the opening game with Ned Pettigrew, the grand old man in blue, will be here along with rough, tough but likeable Ben Levin and a newcomer to the league, Kinch McClain.

"Little" Levin is the type who leans to bedline for a while and then he wiggles a thumb and somebody leaves the game. McClain is unknown in this section.

When the Oilers take the field they'll be wearing new uniforms of army grey and red with "Pampa" across the front and a large number on the back. On one sleeve will be a "V" for victory while on the other sleeve will be a health emblem. Caps will be red with the letter "P" on the front.

Bernard Schmitt, 20-year-old righthander from Washington, Mo., will be on the mound for the Oilers, probably opposed by Mohrlock, ace of the Lamesa squad. The big righthander showed plenty of promise in three-innings Sunday. He is the possessor of a tricky slider that should carry him far—if Uncle Sam doesn't get him. He got his questionnaire yesterday.

The West Texas-New Mexico league, classed a hitter's paradise, may be just that again this year. With the exception of Borger and Clovis, every team in the league is having pitcher trouble.

However, there may be a number of surprises in store for the heavy hitters. The Oilers will pin their hitting hopes on the big bats of Manager Dick Ratliff, Lloyd Summers, Bob Bailey, Marshall Brown, Walter Buckel, Don Lang and a promising bunch of rookie hopefuls.

The Oilers have been handicapped through lack of practice. Instead of giving his hopefuls a rest yesterday, Manager Ratliff put them through a long, stiff workout.

The Oilers will also be at home tomorrow night, again facing the Dodgers. Game time tomorrow will be 7 p. m. If it gets dark before the end of the game, the lights will be turned on.

Manager Ratliff announced today that a new pitcher is enroute from California and that he is hopeful that he will aid the weak hurling staff. His name is Boal and he won three straight for Big Spring last season before a sore arm hit him. He was traded to Borger but was ineffective. He wired Ratliff that his arm is OK and that he's ready to go.

Manager Jodie Tate of Lamesa, last year the Big Spring franchise owner, is backed by the Brooklyn Dodgers and he's sure to come up with a strong nine. He'll have only four boys back from last year, Drake, Haney, Stevens and Mohrlock.

Other games in the league today will see Borger at Amarillo, Albuquerque, the former Pampa Oilers, at Clovis, and Wichita Falls at Lubbock.

17 Pin Boys Strike For More Pay At Pampa Bowl

Pampa's first strike occurred last night when 17 pin boys at the Pampa Bowl walked out in the middle of the first game being rolled in the Class C league. The boys asked for an additional one and one-half cents a line—but they didn't get it.

The strike came as a surprise to Stanley Brake and Hugh Ellis, owners of the Bowl. They said that the boys asked for more than the set price when the alleys were opened, but that no mention had been made of more pay since that time.

Brake, and several boys who were bowling, volunteered to set pins so that teams could finish their games.

The striking boys, all 17 of them, were paid off and owners said they would have a full crew on hand today. Three reported back today. The boys refused to name the ringleader in the strike. City Recorder C. E. McGrew and W. C. Dillman, city officer, who were bowling at the time of the strike, talked with the boys and suggested that they return to work and later discuss the matter with owners of the alleys. But the boys refused and hung around the front of the alleys until a late hour.

There was no rowdysim.

Alsab Remains Favorite In Derby Despite Cut On Hock

By SID FEDER

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 28 (P)—After giving his boosters a dozen hours of worry, Alsab breezed down Churchill Downs' stretch early today to end all fears that his cut right leg would bother him either in the derby trial this afternoon or the Kentucky Derby Saturday.

The flying little horse of Al Sabbath of Chicago, who caught a nail from his left hind shoe in his right hind leg yesterday, took over the track and dashed a quarter of a mile in 25 2-4 seconds as his final workout for the trial in which he tangles with Warren Wright's Sun Again, Emerson Woodward's pair—Valdina Orphan and Hollywood—and several others.

With the Alsab matter settled, Sun Again once more took over his share of the interest in the derby trial. On his work in that trial depended his chances of getting to the post in the big race Saturday.

At the same time, Trainer Ben Jones said he was strictly picking a number out of a hat when it came to Sun Again's chances in either of these two gallops. Ben told you that Sun Teddy's son was a couple of weeks behind in his training and would be better for the Preakness a week from Saturday than for the run for the roses.

But after a snappy six-furlong blowout yesterday, even the Missouri magician wasn't going to go out on a limb with any doubt about his horse.

The ups and downs of these two Derby babies stole the show from all other developments today, despite the accepted possibility that the Texas-owned Hollywood and Valdina Orphan might upset both of them in the trial, and the long-looked-for arrival of Ben Whitaker's Requested and Bill Woodward's Apache from New York.

Requested and Apache came down with Mrs. Ed Murenan's First Fiddle and Mrs. Barclay Douglas's Fair Call to fill out a list of 17 possibilities still given a chance to get to the post when the band pours out "My Old Kentucky Home" along about 5:30 p. m. Saturday.

'Why Don't You Join Army?' Camp Wolters Catcher Heckles Umpires

CAMP WOLTERS, April 28 (P)—The Camp Wolters team may be playing a baseball game but that's just incidental.

Who cares about the score so long as Phil (Geeka) Sahara is around? Phil made his start in baseball by stealing second with the bases loaded.

During his first professional campaign he was fined for eating too many peanuts in the dug-out.

He clowned his way through four seasons of pretty fast baseball-play-

Freshman Rule Due To Be Suspended

TEMPE, Ariz., April 28 (P)—Interested Arizona State Teachers college at Tempe officials, after a quiet

The vote as they see it will be New Mexico Aggies, Texas Mines, Tempe, Arizona State Teachers college at Plagstaff, Hardin-Simmons and West Texas State in favor of the rule's suspension, with the University of Arizona and Texas Tech as the dissenters.

New Mexico university is regarded as "on the fence."

Another matter scheduled for consideration is the proposed split of

THE STORY: Peggy Mack, 17, is the busiest girl in Canada on her first weekend party. Invited with her sister Myra and brother Michael to the country place of...

business maybe I'd have married a nice homey girl like you, maybe I'd have had a nice cozy job and a home and a couple of kids."

the boys think you're on the way out and after a touch, and you can't get near 'em."

PEGGY TAKES OVER

MYRA yawned, stretched her arms toward the sun, feigning casualness. Baldy, preoccupied though he might be with the problem of getting Fay back on his bread and butter list, was a shrewd customer, Myra decided.

"Plenty of pretty girls around," said Myra. "Why worry about losing one, even if her reputation is built up in show business? The woods are full of talent. Look at Peggy, for instance."

Baldy, his cigar chewed to pulp, sputtered as he jerked it from his mouth to speak. "Listen, sister. I see so many pretty faces in my time it gives me a positive pleasure to look at yours."

Myra looked at him with a doubtful expression. "Easy on the compliments, brother. 'Them's not compliments, them's facts. If I'd kept out of show

Baldy glanced around at the serenity of the tree-bounded lake in the sunlit morning. "I wouldn't give you two cents for this in a picture postcard," said Baldy.

Myra looked at him with a doubtful expression. "Easy on the compliments, brother. 'Them's not compliments, them's facts. If I'd kept out of show

It was the blue canoe that Peggy and Nigel had taken. It drifted slowly from an island that lay at the far end of the lake, and had it been occupied by anyone except her sister and the capable Nigel she might have been worried. As it was her eyes narrowed slightly as she wondered what prankish trick Peggy was up to now.

Peggy, as Myra suspected, had worked out her plot as carefully as any teen-aged strategist. As Nigel guided the canoe up the lake, flicking his stern paddle against Peggy's bow strokes to scan the wooded shore for any sign of Fay Ransom, she studied him with a calculating air.

WD Senior Play To Be Staged Thursday

Special To THE NEWS WHITE DEER, April 28.—Promptly at 8:45 o'clock on Thursday evening, April 30, in the grade school auditorium, the curtain will rise on the three-act comedy, "Don't Take My Penny," presented by the senior class of White Deer High school.

Penny, played by Dallen Kotara, has a feeling in her heart that she will be chosen for the role of "Dimitry West" in a Hollywood play, but her boy friend, Willis Aubert as Greg, has Gene Harlan dress as a young model "with a slender figure and small feet," to keep Penny from winning the part.

Other members of the cast are W. D. Seals, Madeline Roman, Mary Ruth Stevens, Herbert Rapstine, Lynn Brister, Max Helen Pickens, Irma Raye Smith, Ollie Henshaw, Pauline Darnell, David Collis, and La Velle Horton.

Texas Firm Donates Cancer Study Fund

AUSTIN, April 28 (AP)—President Homer P. Rainey of the University of Texas today announced that the Clayton-Anderson foundation had, through him, placed orders for $55,000 laboratory equipment for a $1,000,000 state-wide cancer research project.

The announcement came after a Houston X-Ray firm had protested to university regents regarding methods of purchasing the equipment. Firm representatives contended there had been secrecy and favoritism.

Baseball-Size Hail Falls Near Abilene

ABILENE, April 28 (AP)—Hailstones as large as baseballs fell in the Ovalo-Tusula section of southern Taylor county during a violent storm Sunday, causing damage estimated unofficially at several thousand dollars.

Miami Seniors Back From Carlsbad Trip

MIAMI, April 28.—Miami High school seniors will return today from their trip to Carlsbad Caverns. It has been the custom of this school, in common with many high schools of Texas, to allow the seniors the privilege of making an annual tour to the caverns. For sometime it was doubtful whether the trip could be made this year because of the rubber shortage, but the seniors crossed the hurdle and left early Saturday morning. They will return by way of Lubbock, where they will visit
